White Collar Workers Picket Labor Management Confab

President Truman Warns Industrial Heads To Furnish Permanent Peace Foundation

WASHINGTON (AP)—While white collar pickets paraded outside the labor-management conference yesterday, President Truman gravely warned delegates they must find a formula for industrial peace among themselves or else the people of the United States will find the answer "some place else."

The president did not raise his voice when he made this statement at the conclusion of his talk, but no one present missed the implications as he called on leaders of labor and industry to "furnish a broad and permanent foundation for industrial peace and progress."

"For these answers must and will be found," the president said, "the whole system of private enterprise and individual opportunity depends upon finding them."

With these words the president set the task of the conference which got away smoothly with only the parading pickets adding a discordant note. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, walked through the picket line twice to attend the morning and afternoon sessions and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, passed through once.

The pickets appeared on Constitution avenue shortly before the conference convened, protesting that independent unions had not been invited to the conference.

Yamashita Angered At War Crime Trial

Refused to Reject 'Kill All Filipinos' Order, Says Witness

MANILA (AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita showed great anger when a collaborationist leader asked him to revoke his order to "kill all Filipinos," a prosecution witness testified yesterday at the general's trial on war crime charges.

The witness, Joaquin Galang—himself under detention as a suspected collaborator—said he was present when Yamashita rejected a plea by Gen. Artemio Ricarte, Filipino politico-militarist, to "revoke your general order to kill all Filipinos and destroy all their cities."

Yamashita leaped to his feet, Galang testified, clenched his hands and shouted:

"An order is an order! It is my order, and therefore should not be disobeyed!"

Galang said Ricarte has made a fervent plea for revocation of the ruthless order, even going so far as to tell Yamashita that "nobody is to fault for the Filipinos' turning guerrilla, except that the Japanese are taking their food and torturing them."

Yamashita's reply to this reference to Japanese brutality, the witness related, was:

"Let's not talk about this any longer. The Filipinos are treacherous, hence they are our enemies."

Defense counsel strongly attacked the credibility of the witness and asked him why, since he had been in protective custody for nearly eight months, he had only now seen him to tell his story.

Galang replied that it was his duty to bring the ex-commander of Japanese forces in the Philippines to justice, and that he wanted to tell his story only when it would do the most good.

Yamashita, one-time "Tiger of Malaya," sat placidly through the session. Only once did the eyes behind his horn-rimmed spectacles betray sudden interest in the proceedings.

Stop Induction Of Fathers

WASHINGTON (AP)—

Induction of fathers with three or more children under 18 was halted yesterday.

Selective service put the ban in effect at the request of the army and navy.

In practice the order affects only qualified registrants 18 through 25, since drafting of older men was discontinued when the war ended.

Draft boards have been under orders to give preference to fathers in granting deferments, but heretofore there have been no outright exemptions of younger men.

The selective service order applies to volunteers as well as non-volunteers.

20,000 CIO Workers Walkout in Ontario

Almost All Industrial Operations Cease In City of Windsor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Almost all Windsor, Ont., industrial operations ceased yesterday in a general strike of nearly 20,000 CIO-organized workers climbing the eight-week-old walkout at the Ford Motor company of Canada, Ltd.

An estimated 6,500 pickets and sympathizers set up a blockade of the Riverfront plant of the Ford company, tying up part of the city's municipal transportation system, and the city sought the assistance of the dominion government in an effort to break the impasse in a contract dispute.

Then thousand members of the CIO's United Automobile Workers union went on strike at the Ford company Sept. 7. Chief union demands were for a union shop and check-off system, like that in Ford's American plants.

Another 4,500 auto workers employed in more than a score of other plants walked out yesterday, and many were said to have taken part in the picketing and blockading of the Ford company.

As each new car ran into the jam, it was pulled bumper-to-bumper with its predecessor. Police said there were 850 to 1,000 cars, buses and trucks in the jam. Drivers left their cars and walked, as did passengers.

As leaders of business and labor convened in Washington to find, President Truman said, "a broad and permanent foundation for industrial peace and progress," an unofficial tabulation showed more than 261,000 persons away from work over the nation because of labor disputes.

Other important developments in the labor field included:

1. The Greyhound AFL bus strike spread across the Mississippi river to involve seven more states.
2. The General Cable company closed its Perth Amboy, N. J., plant indefinitely because of AFL picketing where no dispute existed.
3. The U. S. conciliation service planned a meeting aimed at ending the seven-state strike of 15,000 CIO glass workers, out two weeks.

Year of Universal Training Approved By Mrs. Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (AP)—

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said yesterday she favored a year of universal training and added: "boys and girls should spend that year in learning the meaning of democracy."

"I would like to see the camps established near great centers of learning," she said at a meeting of Dutchess county school teachers.

She did not elaborate on training for girls.

Referring to scholarships, Mrs. Roosevelt said "we could learn from Russia, where able young people who pass required examinations have both their tuition and their living paid by the state. Aid to good students should never count as a debt."

Votes to Be Cast in Some U. S. Cities— First Postwar Elections Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

American voters today will let off their first political steam since the war.

Most politicians will analyze the sizzle for just one thing—1946 and 1948 noises.

Principal interest centers on mayor elections today in such big towns as New York, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Boston, Cleveland, Louisville, Albany, Syracuse, and Buffalo.

Here in brief is the election picture:

New York—national considerations have overshadowed local issues in three-way contest between William O'Dwyer, Democrat; American labor candidate for mayor to succeed Fiorello La Guardia; Judge Jonah Goldstein, Republican-Liberal-Fusion candidate, and Newbold Morris, Republican Independent running on "no deal" ticket.

Democrat says an O'Dwyer victory would be to the disadvantage

DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY IN UPSET

HAROLD MOELLER WAS THE DRIVER of this car, shown after it had been righted by police, when it rolled over on its side after colliding with an auto driven by Mrs. George Tomlin, 812 E. Bloomington street. The accident occurred at Market and Dubuque streets about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Tomlin was going east on Market street and Moeller was traveling north on Dubuque street. The front end of Mrs. Tomlin's car was smashed, and the top and sides of Moeller's car were damaged. Neither Mrs. Tomlin nor Moeller was injured.

Senate Committee To Attend Classes On Atomic Energy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The subject of the atom bomb has become so perplexing on capitol hill that lawmakers decided yesterday they need more schooling before they can legislate properly.

The senate's special atomic committee will start night school classes Thursday to hear scientists unravel some of the mysteries of cracking the atom.

Over in the house, 18 representatives arranged a discussion for Thursday afternoon, to hear the views of four physicists.

The senators got their work started by borrowing Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the bureau of standards, as their principal advisor. They also announced employment of James R. Newman, Washington, D. C., author on mathematics, as a special aide.

The night school classes will be at the bureau where Condon and others will give the senate committee some scientific background.

Earlier in the day, the house military committee made public the formal report on its bill setting up a part-time commission to supervise atomic energy research, and to guard the nation's interests.

The group said this legislation is "entirely neutral" on the question of international use of the bomb, that it should be moved through quickly to settle domestic control alone.

"There is no provision in the bill which will prevent or hinder the United States from adopting any international policy which is hereafter deemed proper," the committee said.

High Court Silent on Seizure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The supreme court refused yesterday to rule whether the government was right or wrong in seizing Montgomery Ward properties in seven cities last Dec. 28.

The government gave the properties back Oct. 18. Next day it asked the court to hold that no cause of action now exists. This was done, the court vacating a United States circuit court decision which favored the government, and dismissing the original complaint.

The company had pressed for a supreme court decision on the ground that the properties might be seized again.

The seizure followed an outbreak of strikes at some of the properties on the heels of a dispute over validity of five war labor board orders against Wards, including maintenance of union membership and the checkoff system.

The case, instituted by the government, was disposed of by simple court order, without opinions.

This was the first opinion day of the new term. The court handed down a series of decisions in which no flat dissent was registered. This is in sharp contrast to the 1944 start. Justice Jackson, absent for the Nazi criminal trials, in which he is chief United States prosecutor took no part. Justice Burton, new member of the court, did not write any of today's opinions.

It was the second time Montgomery Ward saw a contest over seizure of its property ended as moot, meaning there was no question to be decided. The first died in district court when the government gave up possession May 9, 1944.

"Labor is restive in general," the company pleaded in pressing for a decision in the supreme court; "Wards has not abandoned its position on the unsoundness and illegality of the checkoff and the closed shop. It believes these practices incompatible with the liberties of the American people. The unions are discontented because of the government's inability to pay certain back wages 'ordered' by the War Labor Board.

The government, however, noted that it had brought the original complaint seeking to force Wards to comply with seizure orders. Return of the properties wiped out the suit's foundation, it said.

Londoners Get Boot Conductors Protest Overcrowding Buses

LONDON (AP)—Londoners were booted off buses yesterday by conductors—about half of them women—in a demonstration protesting overcrowding of their vehicles.

Defying company rules, which permit eight standees on the lower deck of double-decker buses, the conductors gave a curt "off you get" to those attempting to squeeze into the aisles. The conductors said the crowds made the collecting of fares too difficult.

One blonde young conductress evicted 15 standing passengers from her bus at Waterloo station, then laughed and stuck out her tongue when two or three elderly men among them shook their fists in her face.

The conductors hope their non-standing rule, unique among Britain's labor disputes, will force the company to put more buses into service.

Move to Enlarge Navy Officer Training

Program Will Double Present Enrollment At Naval Academy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A far-reaching plan to obtain and educate thousands of officers for the powerful postwar navy has been approved by Secretary Forrestal, the navy announced last night.

Officials said that the plan would assure equality of opportunity to officers who have not graduated from the naval academy at Annapolis.

The plan, as drafted by a board headed by Rear Admiral James L. Holloway, assistant chief of naval personnel for demobilization, is subject to congressional approval. Legislation to carry it out will be introduced shortly.

The program calls for doubling the present output of the naval academy, the capacity of which is now about 3,000 students. Overall, however, the postwar navy officers strength would compromise not more than 50 percent academy graduates, officials said.

The second source of officer candidates would be the nation's 52 naval R. O. T. C. units, which now have an authorized maximum enrollment of 14,000 men. They would receive federal aid in financing their college course, including courses in naval sciences. Graduates would receive commissions as ensigns and would obligate themselves to serve on active duty for 15 months to three years.

The third source would be graduates of accredited colleges. They would be sent to an orientation school. There they would get the same training given R. O. T. C. students during their college course. Such officers would be obligated to serve at least two years.

The fourth factor in the program is the specialized plan set up for naval aviators.

Under that plan, any student in an accredited school could apply for flight training at the end of his second year. After one year of such training, he would be assigned to the fleet. After a year's fleet service he would win his ensign commission, and then would serve another year at sea. Then, if he chose to remain in the navy, he would go to the naval academy to complete his college education.

Reds Claim Yank Marines Join in Fight

Both White House and Chungking Reject Communist Accusation

CHUNGKING (AP)—Both Washington and Chungking denied yesterday a Communist charge that United States marines had gone into action in China's civil war, now reported blazing with renewed violence in the north.

The White House in Washington declared flatly there had been no clashes between Chinese Communists and any American forces, as alleged by dispatches from the Red stronghold of Yen-an.

K. S. Wu, minister of information, declared the Communists deliberately spread the report "to fan up feeling between China and America and provoke American public opinion to demand the suspension of whatever aid the United States is giving the Chinese government."

Newspaper Charges

The Communist New China Daily News had leveled a barrage of charges, alleging that 14 United States planes had strafed a Red-held town, that marines fired on the Communists, led an attack north of Peiping and had threatened to attack strongholds with the might of the fleet.

While Chungking awaited a reply from Yen-an to its peace offer made over the weekend, the tide of violence was reported rising in the north.

The Communists were said to be attacking or destroying vital railroads in north China and fears were expressed they might try to beat Chung's troops into Manchuria, with its all-important heavy industry.

An official dispatch declared the badly outnumbered Nationalist garrison at Kweisui, previously reported seized by the Reds, still held out, but the position of that capital of Suiyan province in inner Mongolia was grave.

The Communist's new fourth army, 40,000 strong, had launched assaults on both the Peiping-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow railroads, two of the most important arteries leading into north China, a government source claimed.

Rails Destroyed

Gen. Yen Fei-Ping, minister of communications, told correspondents yesterday after a tour of inspection that Communists had destroyed 880 miles of north China railroads, particularly along the Peiping-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow lines.

He declared the Communists blew up steel bridges, burned cross ties and hauled the rails off to their arsenals to make weapons. The government has put 30,000 Japanese transportation corps troops to work making repairs and some stretches now are back in operation.

The Central News agency declared Communist forces, on the offensive northwest of Hankow since mid-October, were trying to prevent repair of the lines and check the northward advance of the Chungking forces from central areas of China.

Indian Summer Returns—Briefly

The mercury got itself stretched out of shape over the weekend but should be back in shape today. From a low of 10 Saturday night it was yanked all the way up to 74 yesterday afternoon, which is something which shouldn't happen even to mercury. But things should be pretty well stabilized today.

In fact, it looks like today should be rather nice: clear and fairly warm. Perhaps not as warm as yesterday but still comfortable.

3-Year-Old Boy Still Missing in Sierras

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—A storm was brewing tonight over the rugged high sierra as searching parties returned in small groups—still with no word of the fate of three-year-old Dickie tum Suden.

The child has been missing since Thursday morning from the tum Suden home at Goodyear Bar, in the mother lode mining country.

Men with long poles to which grappling hooks were fixed, probed the north fork of the Yuba river, to see if eddies or deep holes would yield the little body.

Other searchers sought through ravines and thickets. All returned empty-handed.

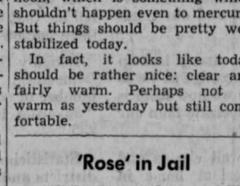

At San Francisco yesterday police said they received a telephone call from a deep-voiced man who said only "I've got the kid—unless you send me some dough, I'll chop the kid's head and legs off." Police during the war. Los Angeles-born of Jap ancestry, the 29-year-old girl is shown looking out through the barred window of her cell as she awaits trial for treason against the United States.

Jerome Kern, 60, Famous Song Writer Collapses of Stroke

NEW YORK (AP)—Jerome Kern, 60-year-old composer of "Show Boat" and many of America's best loved songs, collapsed on Park avenue yesterday and was taken to City hospital.

Dr. Henry Greenburg, the hospital superintendent, said Kern had suffered an apoplectic stroke. Pronounced in critical condition when admitted, Kern later was said by Dr. Greenburg to be "slightly improved," and to have regained consciousness.

The dapper, white-haired Kern, who wrote "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Ol' Man River," and other musical hits, was stricken shortly after noon and did not regain consciousness for nearly three hours.

TIME FOR REFLECTION on her crimes is given Iva Toguri, the "Tokyo Rose" of the Jap propaganda "Zero Hour" broadcasts during the war. Los Angeles-born of Jap ancestry, the 29-year-old girl is shown looking out through the barred window of her cell as she awaits trial for treason against the United States.

Editorials:

Labor-Management Picture Brighter Than After First World War

The restlessness of a nation which has just come safely through its greatest war, and the consequent wave of strikes among labor, is causing too many to view our economic situation with a spirit of despair.

There is, of course, real seriousness in our economic condition. We must fight harder than ever against inflation, we must speed reconversion, and we must find some way to replace the deductions in the worker's paycheck.

But the strike wave, for instance, shouldn't be cause for muddled thinking. On the contrary we should keep our minds clear and our shirts on.

After the first world war, there were 4,000,000 striking workers. Now there are only a quarter of that number. In 1920, the price level was two and a half times above what it was when the war started.

In 1920, prices went so high people couldn't buy. Goods piled up in stores, and retailers and wholesalers cancelled orders.

So let's not cover everything with a dark blanket. A little light shows some sparkling sides to the current situation. But just because we have learned by experience and improved upon performance after the first World War, we can't stop working for more improvement.

Instead of a circle which leads to a collapse of buying power, let's set up a circle that looks like this: higher wages, steady buying at prices people can pay, more orders from the retailer and wholesaler to the producer, full production, and full employment with increased buying power.

Undiminished purchasing power is the goal of labor in its present struggle. Labor wants a real increase in real wages—which will give the working man the power to buy better food, better clothing, better housing and better education.

If labor is to have increased purchasing power—and this will result in full production and full employment—the working man must be able to buy more things with the paycheck he takes home. That means raising wages and holding the line on prices.

To raise wages and boost prices at the same time would mean that labor could not buy more, and that labor's increase would not be real. It would mean that we would be no better off.

So if labor is to have a real increase in "take-home" pay, the increase must come out of industry's profits. Can industry give up part of its profit?

Figures by the bureau of internal revenue and the department of commerce would indicate that industry CAN share its profits with labor. In 1939, corporation profits, after taxes had been deducted, were four billion dollars. Last year they were almost 10 billion dollars. The estimate for next year is 10 and a half billion dollars.

On the other hand, if industry doesn't share its increasing profits and insists instead that prices be lifted, we can not expect as great a demand for industry's products. The workers' paychecks simply won't be large enough.

But the over-all situation isn't as bad as it sometimes is pictured. We've certainly seen worse times.

The point is that the fact we've made this much progress is a good indication we can progress even further. The coming labor-management conference, called by President Truman, can accomplish a great amount of good if the conferees direct their best thinking toward the interests of the nation.

From All Around The State

DES MOINES (AP) — Series E bond sales in Iowa through Saturday totalled $4,500,000, or approximately $2,000,000 behind the schedule set for the Victory Loan drive in the first week, the state war finance committee announced yesterday.

It said E bond sales should average about $900,000 a day if the state's $46,000,000 quota in that security is to be reached by Dec. 31. Sales hit that figure for the first time Saturday.

Bright spots in the drive, meanwhile, were Lansing with a sign-up of $45,000 against a $24,880 quota; Postville with a pledge of $72,880 against a $48,986 quota, and Waukon with a promise of $79,049.50 against a $70,701 quota.

DES MOINES (AP) — Ninety-nine criminal cases pending in Polk county district court will be called for trial assignment Wednesday, County Attorney Vernon R. Seeburger announced yesterday.

Included on the list will be the liquor conspiracy, third liquor law violation and gambling cases against Pete Rand, former operator of the Mainliner night club, and conspiracy and gambling house charges against Robert Knote, former employe at the club.

Richard H. (Rich) Kenneley, manager of the Club 100 when it was raided July 5, is also scheduled to face trial in the new term of court on a charge of violating the state liquor law.

Accused in the September term on a charge of conspiring with Johnnie Critteli and others to violate the liquor laws, Lester Snell, Chicago, will face prosecution for illegal sale of liquor to a Des Moines club.

On the list of cases for trial also are the conspiracy cases against Mrs. Carmella Critteli, whose husband was convicted in May, Grace Porter, Frank Fatimo, Don Maderox and William Walters.

Charges of illegal possession of gambling devices and a third violation of the liquor laws are still on file against Critteli, who has appealed his conspiracy conviction to the state supreme court.

The county attorney said he intended to assign several assistants to a cleanup of pending municipal court cases.

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa employment security commission reported yesterday that more than half of the 6,900 workers laid off at the Des Moines ordnance plant between July 16 and Aug. 25 filed claims for unemployment compensation before Oct. 13. Approximately 36 percent did not draw benefits, which commission officials said indicated that portion of the workers involved found new employment before drawing payments.

WATERLOO (AP)—Onno Klostertoeber, 48, one of two Grundy Center men who were burned severely in a fire and explosion Sunday on the Ed Fink farm near Grundy Center, died yesterday in a Waterloo hospital. John Brown, 48, also was hospitalized. Nine others were burned, but less seriously. A 100-gallon gasoline tank exploded during a fire which spread from a garage to a fuel shed.

WATERLOO (AP)—Cpl. Richard Casteel, 20, of Waterloo, was injured fatally and eight other persons suffered less serious injuries in an automobile collision near here Sunday night.

OTTUMWA (AP) — Employees of the Dain Manufacturing company of Ottumwa voted Sunday night to return to work. Approximately 600 workers were affected in the five-week strike. The company is a subsidiary of Deere and Co. The strike, union officials said, was called because of unsatisfactory progress in wage negotiations. The strikers accepted an agreement.

BOONE (AP)—The Iowa High School Athletic association's board of control will inspect the Hippodrome building at the Waterloo dairy cattle congress grounds Nov. 23 as a possible site for the 1946 high school basketball tournament. Lyle Quinn, association secretary, said yesterday. The Waterloo Junior Chamber of Commerce has invited the association to hold the next tourney there.

AMES (AP)—R. K. Bliss, director of the agricultural extension service at Iowa State college, said yesterday a survey showed Iowa farmers out-distanced the rest of the nation in producing food during the war years. Yields of corn, the value of livestock on farms, production of hogs, poultry, eggs and milk showed increases in 1943 and 1944 over 1938-40 figures.

Council Discloses Facts to Aid Voters in Naming SUI Stadium

Information to aid students in voting on a new name for Iowa's stadium was released yesterday by the Student Council.

The council feels that students should be given some background information before casting their ballots in the straw vote to be conducted in Iowa Union Thursday from 7:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Many who are of the opinion that the stadium should be dedicated to the 14 athletes who died in World War II feel that Nile Kinnick—as the most outstanding of these—should have the stadium bear his name. They feel that the stadium which is 15 years old has gone nameless for too long a time and that no better dedication could be made than to Kinnick, the outstanding man of the 1939 Iron Men team.

Kinnick, the all-American, "all everything" as a gentleman, scholar and athlete of the University of Iowa, died in June, 1943, when the engine of his plane failed and he could not land on the crowded carrier deck.

Phi Beta Kappa He was a rare combination of athlete and scholar and one of the few athletes to become a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity. Kinnick was the United States number one athlete of 1939 and captain of the All-American honor team. He was also a basketball star and a member of the Order of Artus, honorary commerce organization.

Kinnick was a modest man with a great zest for living. Of Kinnick, Maj. Eddie Anderson, coach of the 1939 football team, said: "In the uniform of his country, Nile Kinnick gave everything. That was the only way he knew how to play the game."

Lt. Bill Green, U. S. N. R., who caught Kinnick's touchdown pass to beat Minnesota, said of him, "We who are left will always think of Nile when we do our part to end this war. He was as humble as a fellow you knew would never let you down. He was of the few athletes who could rise to the top without making enemies while so doing."

Measuring Stick "Men like Ens. Nile Kinnick do not die. For in year to come, Iowans will use him as a measuring stick. He doesn't come up to Kinnick. He's still the best of them all." Watch for that expression. Those were the words of John E. O'Donnell, sports editor of the Davenport Democrat.

Already a scholarship fund has been set up in honor of Kinnick and other students who gave their lives in World War II. Those who favor naming the stadium for Kinnick feel that no better ideal could be chosen for them than Kinnick, that no man deserves the honor more, or that any other name could mean so much to so many as would Nile Kinnick stadium.

Students opposed to naming the stadium for Kinnick think no one man should be singled out for the honor and that the scholarship fund in Kinnick's name is honor enough for him. "Why name the stadium at all?" Students who oppose naming the stadium hold that it is a structure now 15 years old and since it has stood that long without a name, there is no need to name it now.

Some of those opposed to naming it are of the opinion that none of the suggested names are suitable and have no others. Others feel that the campaign which is included in the postwar building plans of the university, to be dedicated to all university World War II dead, is sufficient honor. Many approve the idea of erecting a bronze plaque on the side of the stadium with the names of the 14 major "I" winners who gave their lives but are not in favor of naming the stadium.

Aid Administration The result of Thursday's ballot will aid the university's administration in making a final decision on the matter. (Information on naming the stadium for Robert Jones, the first athlete to lose his life in World War II, or Memorial stadium for all 14 athletes, will appear in tomorrow's paper.)

Industrialists Enroll In University Course On Quality Control

Enrolled in the University of Iowa's ten day course on quality control by statistical methods are representatives of industries in 12 states and Canada.

Although the course beginning today is the third of its type offered here within the last 14 months, it is the first sponsored entirely by the university. The previous courses were in co-operation with government agencies.

Quality control methods applied to industry have resulted in the improvement in quality of purchased materials and final products, economies in the use of labor and materials, and have aided in the conversion of one type of product or another, according to Dean F. M. Dawson of the college of engineering.

Instructors for the new course are Nile Barnard, University of Nebraska; John Henry, University of Illinois; E. G. Olds, Carnegie Institute of Technology; Mason E. Wescott, Northwestern University, and Edward Schrock, ordnance research and development center, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.

Microfilm for V-Mail To Be Discontinued

Postoffice officials said yesterday that microfilm service for V-mail has been discontinued. From now on, letters written on regular V-mail blanks will be transmitted in their original form instead of being sent in reduced size.

V-letters will now be given air transportation throughout the United States at the regular cost of six cents for one-half ounce. Letters bearing this postage will be given the usual air mail service at ports of embarkation but those bearing three-cent stamps will be collected at ports to await shipping space.

While the microfilming process is no longer available, it is still advisable to use the forms to save space. Free sheets will be distributed at postoffices until the existing supplies are exhausted.

Officials also said that it is advisable that Christmas greeting cards to soldiers and sailors overseas, sent in sealed envelopes and prepaid in first class rate, should be mailed at once in order to reach their destinations before Dec. 25.

VFW Clubrooms Open to Veterans

Paul Smith of the Leroy E. Weekes post No. 3949 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is inviting returned veterans now enrolled in the university to visit top without making enemies while so doing."

Students opposed to naming the stadium for Kinnick think no one man should be singled out for the honor and that the scholarship fund in Kinnick's name is honor enough for him.

"Why name the stadium at all?" Students who oppose naming the stadium hold that it is a structure now 15 years old and since it has stood that long without a name, there is no need to name it now.

Many approve the idea of erecting a bronze plaque on the side of the stadium with the names of the 14 major "I" winners who gave their lives but are not in favor of naming the stadium.

Aid Administration The result of Thursday's ballot will aid the university's administration in making a final decision on the matter.

(Information on naming the stadium for Robert Jones, the first athlete to lose his life in World War II, or Memorial stadium for all 14 athletes, will appear in tomorrow's paper.)

Exclusive Vet Club Four Local Men Belong to PVO

Four men from Iowa City are members of the one of the most exclusive veterans clubs ever conceived, the Panthers Veterans organization. These men include: Pfc. Donald P. Scannell, 721 Washington street; Cpl. Robert W. Merriam, 1225 Muscatine avenue; Pfc. Emory L. Stagg Jr., 114 N. Gilbert street and Pvt. Thomas D. Martin, 436 S. Governor street.

The membership is made up entirely of men who trained and fought with the 69th Black Panther infantry division.

Pfc. Donald H. Rivkin of Davenport and former University of Iowa debating man, was elected as the first president at the activation meeting in Arkansas in April of 1944, where the present constitution was drafted.

The southern France community of Salon was the scene of the first post-war meeting of the Iowa P. V. O. and the first to be held on foreign soil. It was a reunion for the Iowans who hadn't met together in nearly 18 months. There these men laid the foundation for the organization.

Then National P. V. O., with a membership of more than 30,000, chose not to enter any political activity. Instead they voted to express opinion on vital public policy and move toward the peaceful working together of all races, creeds and colors, as well as the benevolent aid of all members and their families.

Police Charge Lumpa With Careless Driving

Arrested after the car which he was driving struck and knocked down four pedestrians at Washington and Linn streets last night about 8:30, Robert Lumpa, route 5, was charged, by Iowa City police with driving without a driver's license and having a windshield which does not permit clear vision.

Lumpa's car hit Laurence E. Hunter, United States navy, who suffered a bruised left elbow; Mrs. Hunter, who suffered leg bruises, and Mrs. Chester Bell, 516 E. Benton, who suffered a skinned right hand. Mrs. Bell was carrying her baby son, who was not hurt.

Lumpa was picked up by state highway patrolmen Saturday night about three miles east of Iowa City. He was wearing the stolen suit. The car was found in a clump of bushes nearby. He told patrolmen that he had swallowed the ring.

Taylor told police that he had been hitchhiking from Des Moines to Ann Arbor, Mich., before his stop here.

Helen N. Hale Dies Funeral services for Helen N. Hale, 69, who died in a local hospital at 8:45 a. m. yesterday after an illness of three months, will be held in Albuquerque, N. M. The body will be shipped tonight from the Oathout funeral home.

Taylor Pleads Guilty To Larceny Charge

Charged by Iowa City police with larceny from a building in the nighttime, Warren Lee Taylor, 20, of Des Moines, pleaded guilty today in a police court hearing and is being held in the Johnson county jail on $5,000 bond. He waived to district court.

He is accused of entering the home of Prof. Hubert H. Hoelje of the English department, 1610 Center avenue, Saturday night and stealing a clarinet, a suit of clothes, a shirt and a ring.

Letter to the Editor

(Editor's Note: Letters to the editor must bear the name and address of the writer. The writer's name will not be printed if so requested, however.)

TO THE EDITOR:

Tuesday's Daily Iowan contained an editorial concerning the veterans organization on the campus. It was implied that the absence of a strong organization was due to lack of interest on the part of the veterans. Having attended the smoker held by the present veterans organization early this semester, I am sure that interest was high at that time. Quite a number were in attendance, but a large majority soon lost their interest when the character of the organization became so apparent.

One of the main reasons the average ex-G. I. was very happy to be out of the service was to leave a system so undemocratically controlled by a minority so often unqualified for leadership.

Now that we are back in civilian life, one of our most cherished possessions is our equality with each other and we certainly do not intend to voluntarily enter another system in which the same class continues to exercise prerogatives over others because of an imagined superiority.

Of course, we realize that to be strong a veterans organization needs a strong governing body, but this body should be selected democratically if it is to be representative. As it is now set up, it can not obtain the membership to accurately claim to represent the veterans. It is only too evident that the present organization doesn't want us but desires the support of our dues and our numbers.

I do not intend to pay dues merely to help this group to maintain their prestige as we so often did in the past. What we now have is no more representative or democratic than our so-called "Student Council."

There should be room for all classes and branches of the service to feel at home in order for it to serve its proper function. I think that until this organization becomes well established, all veterans, irrespective of membership, should be allowed to vote in some convenient manner. A little intelligent publicity, a more favorable meeting time with more warning, and a less formal atmosphere would help to produce a group we would be willing to support and which could serve our needs in other ways as well as social.

Covering The Capital

By JACK STINNET (First of two Articles)

WASHINGTON—Mathematically, it would be easy as pie for the Republicans to take over control of the house of representatives in next year's elections.

In fact, the Republicans haven't had a more golden opportunity—on paper—in a good many off-election years.

In 1944, they needed to pick up only 10 seats to have things all their own way in organization of the house, but don't forget that that was a presidential election year with President Roosevelt still firmly in the saddle. It's almost always only the off-election years, when there is no presidential ticket, that one party can steal the house from the party in power.

As things stand now, the Republicans, with 190 house seats, need 28 to take over but several more than that to have a comfortable working majority. Going no deeper than the surface, picking up that many seats is far from an improbability.

In the last non-presidential election year, 1942, the Republicans picked up 45 seats and only lost 18 back to the Democrats in 1944 when the Roosevelt-Truman ticket was sweeping to an easy victory.

The crux of the matter now is what is generally referred to as "the hundred doubtful districts." These are the congressional districts in which either the Republican or Democrat won by 10 percent or less of the total vote. Political graybeards around here tell me that there will always be about 100 of these narrow-escape districts.

Roughly there are about 100 consistently Democratic districts and about the same number of solidly Republican districts. The "wavering 100" come out of the remaining 235.

Statisticians of both parties have listed 93 districts and five "at-large" seats where the margin of victory in 1944 was 10 percent or less. Forty-two of the districts and three "at large" seats were won by Democrats, 51 districts and two "at-large" seats by Republicans.

In other words, in 45 instances the GOP would only have to change six percent or less of the voters (one out of 16 at most and in some cases as few as one out of 100) to win those seats. In the remaining 53 cases, they have to hold seats won by narrow margins and prevent the Democrats from doing the same thing they seek to do in the 45.

Republican strategists, of course, don't expect to pick up all of the 45 Democratic seats involved or even to hold all of the 53 Republican seats, but they argue that it would be no trick at all to win at least 28 more seats. The way they figure it is simply that without having to buck a popular (or at least successful) presidential ticket, many of the Republican representatives who just squeaked by in 1944 will win by substantial majorities next year.

On the other hand, a great many of those Democrats who won their seats in the House by very slight margins will see those margins vanish without the help of a popular presidential slate.

There is nothing wrong with that political logic of course—except that it just doesn't always work out that way. On paper, it looks like a sure bet, but I haven't heard of any one around Republican national committee headquarters offering odds on it.

Students Plan Coffee Hour for Faculty

A student-administration coffee hour in honor of Dean Earl J. McGrath of the college of liberal arts and Mrs. McGrath will be given tomorrow from 4 to 5:30 p. m. in the River room of Iowa Union. The purpose of the informal coffee hour, to which all university students are invited, is that students may have an opportunity to become better acquainted with faculty members.

As special guests, the deans and directors in the colleges of liberal arts, commerce and pharmacy and their wives have been invited, along with other faculty representatives from the three colleges.

The student committee planning the coffee hour includes Frances Marshall, A2 of Cedar Rapids, chairman; Joyce Duschl, A4 of Mapleton; Jean Overholser, A4 of Red Oak, and Bonnie Lansing, A4 of Iowa City. The coffee hour is sponsored by the University Women's association. Assisting the planning committee are Edna Herbst, A4 of Newton, president, and Helen Pocht, adviser.

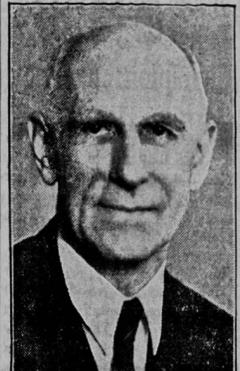

Members of the Mortar Board who will pour are: Margaret Browning Huey, A4 of Iowa City; Miss Overholser; Helen Kutler, A4 of Davenport; Miss Duschl; Louise Hiltman, A4 of Bettendorf; Margaret Shuttleworth, A4 of New York City; Margaret Walk, A4 of Grafton, and Wanda Siebels, A4 of Amber.

Hostesses will be: Dorothy Kottmann, A3 of Burlington; Nancy Greene, A2 of Cedar Rapids; Joan Holt, A3 of Highland Park, Ill.; Gloria Wakefield, A4 of Ames; Dorothy Magill, A4 of Atlantic; Kay Keller, A4 of Sioux City; Dorothy Klein, instructor in the school of journalism, and Mary Osborne, A4 of Ottumwa.

Hosts will be: Bill Boswell, A2 of Marshalltown; John Stichnot, A4 of Sioux City; Gordon Christensen, L3 of Iowa City; Dick Baxter, G of Mt. Pleasant; Ralph Clave, M4 of Webster City; Bob Ray, G of Davenport; Gary Chinn, L4 of Des Moines; Ken Carter, A2 of Colesburg; Dick Nazette, L4 of Iowa City, and Dick Yoakam, A4 of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Piano music will be provided by Ann Keating, A1 of Yankton, S. D.

Dr. Laubach to Talk On 'Answer to Atomic Bomb' at Vespers

Dr. Frank C. Laubach, known through his work for the illiterate peoples of the world, will speak at university vespers Sunday at 8 p. m. in Macbride auditorium. His subject will be "The Only Answer to the Atomic Bomb."

Born in Pennsylvania and educated at Princeton university, Union seminary and Columbia university, Dr. Laubach began his career as a Congregational missionary in 1915 under the American board of foreign missions in the Philippines. He worked first with the Filipinos, but in 1930 went up to Mindanao among the Moslem Moros.

Dr. Laubach's system of teaching illiterates has been applied to more than 80 languages and dialects in East Asia, Africa, India and the Near East, as well as Latin America. He has conferred with government, educational and church leaders, both Protestant and Catholic, on the literacy problem.

Dr. Laubach's Latin-American tours, mostly by air, took him to Columbia, Peru, Ecuador, Bolivia, Paraguay, Brazil, Venezuela, Guatemala, Mexico, Cuba and Haiti, where he was decorated by the president.

Not only is Dr. Laubach a teacher and psychologist, but also a mystic. Those who have worked closest with him describe him as "an unbeatable combination of realist and idealist." He believes that the missionary program of the Christian church is the only sure hope for lasting peace. A prolific writer, Dr. Laubach is the author of books on the Philippines, literacy and religion. His latest book is "The Silent Billion Speak."

University students and townspeople are invited to the vespers Sunday evening. No tickets are required.

Eddy Howard To Play Here

Eddy Howard and his orchestra will play for the Dad's Day Dance Friday, Nov. 16, Dr. Earl E. Harper, adviser to the central party committee, has announced. The annual dance, which will be semi-formal, is under the sponsorship of the central party committee.

Those on the dance committee include Dorothy Kottmann, A3 of Burlington, chairman; Charlotte Fuerst, A4 of Clarinda, and Abbie Morrison, A4 of Onawa.

Tickets for the dance are $2.75 per couple and will go on sale at 8 a. m. Monday. The dance will be held in the main lounge of Iowa Union from 9 p. m. to 12 m.

City Craft Guild Sale To Benefit Soldiers At Schick Hospital

The Iowa City Craft guild will sponsor a "victory sale" Nov. 12 and 13, at the Judy Hat shop, 126 E. Washington street, for the benefit of the occupational therapy program at Schick hospital in Clinton.

All articles to be sold have been made by a group of Iowa City women who meet regularly to weave, make candles, paint textiles, tool leather and create toys for children. Handwoven luncheon sets, towels and bibs, handpainted handkerchiefs and aprons, leather belts, painted boxes, handmade candles and clever toys will be on sale Monday, Nov. 12, from 6:30 to 9 p. m., and Tuesday, Nov. 13, through the regular store hours, opening at 9 a. m. In previous sales, the guild has donated funds to the Red Cross, Schick hospital, Y. W. C. A., and the university Phoenix fund. A check for $250 was sent to Schick hospital following the guild's Christmas sale.

Mrs. George Glockler, president of the guild, was its founder. Members, numbering about 60, meet regularly in the craft rooms of the women's gymnasium, to work on their chosen projects.

NOV. 21, 1945

AN IMPORTANT DATE FOR THOUSANDS OF ARMY VETERANS NOW IN CIVILIAN LIFE

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NEW ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

- Enlistments for 1 1/2, 2 or 3 years. (One-year enlistments permitted for men who have been in the Army six months.)
- Enlistment age from 17 to 34 years inclusive, except for men now in the Army, who may reenlist at any age, and for former service men, depending on length of service.
- Men reenlisting within 20 days after discharge and before February 1, 1946, retain their present grades. The same applies to men discharged between May 12 and November 1, 1945, who reenlist before November 21, 1945.
- The best pay scale, medical care, food, quarters and clothing of any army.
- An increase in the reenlistment bonus to $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.
- 20% extra pay for overseas service.
- A paid furlough (up to 90 days depending on length of service) with furlough travel paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who enlist.
- A 30-day furlough every year at full pay.
- Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.
- An increase of 5% in pay for every 3 years of service—in addition to the many other promotions possible.
- Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—or three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. (Retirement income in grade of Master Sergeant up to $155.25 per month for life.) All active federal military service counts toward retirement.

"BEST JOB IN THE WORLD"

Can you think of any other job that gives you good pay, food, clothing, quarters, medical and dental care, world-wide travel, 30 days' furlough every year, education and training in any of 200 skills or trades, and enables you to retire with a life income any time after 20 years' service?

There isn't any! That's why a job in the new peacetime Regular Army has been called "The Best Job in the World."

These are only highlights of the new Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act of 1945. Every American should know the full story. Stop at your Army Recruiting Station and get all the facts.

GASSIN' with GUS

By GUS SCHRADER

SEEMS AS THOUGH Iowa and Notre Dame have something in common about last weekend's gripes on unscored touchdowns. Of course, the Irish would have beaten Navy if the officials had agreed with Hugh Devore when he maintained that Halfback Phil Colella actually crossed the goal line after catching a last-minute pass. And the touchdown that the Iowa players insist they scored in the dying seconds of the Wisconsin game would have given the Hawks much more honor in defeat.

JIMMY SANGSTER
Key Man in Hawklet Magic

Officials say he didn't make it across before the whistle blew and the Iowa players say the ref tooted too soon because the forward motion hadn't stopped. There's the argument; take your pick. I'll take Iowa's side: "We were robbed."

THURSDAY IS THE DAY to cast your ballot to decide what the new name of Iowa's stadium should be. The Student Council is going to a lot of effort to give all university students a say in the matter and it really deserves a great turnout. We've got to get enough votes cast to convince the university that the name decided upon is really the choice of the majority of the students, and that the students do feel strongly about honoring our athletic war dead with this dedication. So if you want our stadium to have a name that will remind people that we DID remember those who DIDN'T come back, get the gang together and have your say on what the name should be.

HERE'S AN INSIDE story that may help explain the success of City High's powerful "T" formation this fall. We're not taking one bit of credit away from Hawklet Coach Wally Schwank because he's built one of the best ball clubs in the state. But last year when Schwank was starting the "T," he had the help of one of the game's greatest masterminds—Cmdr. Jack Meagher, then coach of the mighty Seahawks. Meagher took Jimmy Sangster, the inside man on the Little Hawk magic. Chugger Wilson and some of the other City high comers aside about a month before the season started and taught them the finer points of the "T" business. Coach Schwank took it from there and if you haven't seen the result this fall, you've missed the best show in prep football.

"THE CITY HIGH kids handle the 'T' the best I've ever seen it worked," says the amiable Meagher. And he's not alone. Folks up Marshalltown way who saw the Little Hawks dump the Bobcats, 19-7, were amazed. "The only time I saw what Iowa City was doing with the ball was when they were kicking points after touchdowns," commented one observer, according to Ike Skelley, state sports editor of the AP. While Sangster is the kingpin of the outfit, the credit should go to the whole City high game for a perfect bit of time and speed in making the thing work.

WITH U. HIGH done with its schedule and City high due to wind-up this week against Wilson of Cedar Rapids, we're coming out with a bald announcement of our candidates for the honor teams which will be announced shortly. If Evan Smith, City high's star end, doesn't make the first state team, you come around and tell us why not. And Coach Don Barnhart's star back, Bill Greene, won't take a backseat to any runner in the state. We're also high on Bob Krall of the Little Hawks and Steve Nusser from the Rivermen. And if the honor team needs a quarterback, don't look any further than this Sangster kid from City high.

ALL THIS RECENT huba-huba about Jackie Robinson, the Negro shortstop who was signed by the Brooklyn Dodgers for their Montreal farm club, brings to mind the fact that he's not a stranger to Iowa in the way of athletics. In the 1940 all-star game in Chicago, Robinson, just out of UCLA, caught a pass from Iowa's immortal Nile Kinnick and scored a touchdown against the Packers as the all-stars got licked, 45-28.

Cline Leading In Conference

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—A flock of Big Ten footballers are prancing in the footsteps of Chicago's famed "five-yards" McCarthy, but the statistical hero of the week is Ohio State's Ollie Cline.

The burly Buckeye fullback slashed Northwestern's defense for 174 yards in 30 tries to set a season one-game high as his team squeezed by the under-rated Wildcats, 16-14.

Cline's five-game total is 431 yards, largest individual gain in the conference, but his average on 97 thrusts leaves him with a 16th-place rating of 4.4.

Mel Groomes, Indiana halfback who was romping in non-conference competition last Saturday, has the best average, 6.5 yards, but has carried the ball only 21 times in four games. Eight other backs have averaged five yards or better which is what McCarthy used to do back in the days when the Maroons spoke of football in the present tense.

Of these, only three have carried the ball 45 or more times. Tom Cates, Minnesota halfback and erstwhile ground-gaining leader, is third behind Groomes and Michigan's Dan Dworsky with a 5.9 average of 45 attempts. Dworsky has 6.4 in only 14 tries.

Northwestern's Dick Connors is fourth with 5.7 in 59 attempts while the next most impressive ground-gainer is Ed Cody of Purdue, who ranks seventh with 5.1 in 75 hauls.

Cline also loosened Purdue's grip on individual scoring laurels with two touchdowns for a 24-point total to deadlock Cody for second place. The leader, however, still is the Bojermakers' Bill Canfield with 36 markers. Purdue played a non-league game last Saturday.

Purdue's Bob De Moss continued to hold the passing spotlight with his 560 percentage on 28 completions in 50 tosses, although technically he trails four players.

Tackle Rex John of Wisconsin kept the punting lead with a four-game average of 41.2 yards on 20 kicks. Canfield stayed in front of conference pass receivers with 14 catches for 208 yards, but was threatened by end Max Morris of Northwestern, who has snagged 10 in five games for 198 yards.

Hawk Cagers In Daily Drill

Coach Pops Harrison lopped off his Hawkeyes basketball squad to "about 25 or 30 men" last night and started heavy drills in preparation for the Augustana game here Dec. 1 which will launch an 18-game schedule in defense of the 1944-45 Big Ten title.

The basketball Hawks have been practicing on alternate days for about a month, but will go on a daily routine from now on. Pops said he planned no immediate stress on fine training condition "because the season ahead is a long one and it's hard to keep the boys on an edge all the way."

"I haven't even thought about a first five yet," Pops said, no doubt with a bit of exaggeration. "I haven't had enough time to look over all the new boys and we can't do much along that line until we see how they stack up beside our returning players."

But it was obvious in last night's first full-length scrimmage that Herb and Clay Wilkinson, Ned Postels, Dick Ives, Murray Weir, Dave Danner, Dick Culbertson, Noble Jorgenson and "Tommy" Thompson would be among leading contenders of the wealth of material which Pops terms "pretty good."

Mullins Santa Clara Grid Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lawrence A. (Larry) Mullins, former Notre Dame backfield star, was named yesterday as head football coach of the University of Santa Clara. The announcement was made by the Rev. Father William C. Gianera, S. J., president of the school.

Mullins, now a navy lieutenant commander stationed at Corpus Christi, Tex., directing the physical training program as well as coaching the navy air station football team, will report to Santa Clara, Dec. 1. He succeeds Lawrence T. "Buck" Shaw, now coaching at the University of California.

Until a few months ago, Mullins was athletic director at the Navy Pre-Flight school here and was backfield coach of the Seahawks in 1943. He also coached at Loyola of the South, St. Ambrose and Florida U.

NOTRE-DAME, NAVY STILL UNBEATEN IN 6-6 TIE

THE GRANDSTAND QUARTERBACKS are still talking about this Navy-Notre Dame game in Cleveland. Irish Coach Hugh Devore maintains that movies of the contest will prove that his boys actually scored a winning touchdown against the Middies. In this play, Frank Danczewicz, Notre Dame quarterback (right), intercepts a pass from Navy's Hoernschemeyer that was intended for Steve Duden (extreme right) and the Irish went on to a touchdown. But the Middies bounced back to tie the score and the game ended, 6-6.

Hawks Get Monday Rest

Coaches Express Satisfaction In Talk With Old Professor

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The Old Professor put the broom in a corner after sweeping out the room, and mopped his perspiring brow wearily as he addressed his Monday morning class of football coaches.

Hugh Devore, Notre Dame—The officials said it wasn't over, professor. I mean when Phil Colella caught that pass in the last minute, I would be willing to wager everything I have that the camera will prove, he was over. It was a tough game, and I'm prouder than ever of my boys.

Rip Miller, Navy line coach—Our boys hope the game will prove to the world that our morale is high.

Rip Miller, Navy line coach—Hagberg has been the victim of a lot of very unfavorable publicity this past week and all of us on the team think it's a shame. He's too fine a gentleman and a coach to deserve the raps. I hope the game will prove to the world that our morale is high.

Old Professor—And that's a high note of praise.

Jimmy Phelan, St. Mary's—Speaking of high, professor, I'm high on my boys. Right now these kids are the best offensive bunch I've ever had. Isn't that Wedemeyer great? And Cordeiro really gives them the slip, doesn't he? Jeff had a good line, there, but I was proud of the way our little fellers charged.

Jeff Cravath, U. S. C.—Wedemeyer is everything they said he was, but the whole St. Mary's team is fast and hard-hitting. Don't ask about us.

Old Professor—Mr. Crisler, you seem pleased.

Friz Crisler, Michigan—Yes

Badgers in Shape

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The usual Monday rest period was abandoned in the University of Wisconsin football camp today as Coach Harry Stuhldreher pushed his charges in hopes of attaining peak condition for Saturday's homecoming game with Northwestern.

The Badgers came out of the Iowa game—which marked their first western conference victory of the season—in good shape. Guards George Urbanis and Wray George suffered leg injuries.

Widowes denied that Sarringhaus had ever quit the squad.

He added that Sarringhaus was excused from yesterday's light practice because of classroom work and said, "As far as I know he'll be out tomorrow."

In summing up Saturday's defeat, Coach Crowe said: "The boys did the best they could against Wisconsin. They were trying all the time. Now if we can eliminate the tendency toward making costly mistakes which set up touchdowns for the opposition and also boost our running attack, we may make a strong finish against Illinois, Minnesota and Nebraska."

Lou Agase, Bingaman Back for Iowa Game

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Lou Agase, tackle, and Les Bingaman, guard, injured two weeks ago in the Michigan game, returned to the University of Illinois football lineup yesterday as the squad made preparations for Saturday's game with Iowa. Coach Ray Efiot promoted Gene Kwastewski to a first string berth at right halfback, and Bill Vutkovich, who played both fullback and quarterback against Great Lakes last week, was returned to quarter, with Bill Krall going to the fullback spot.

The last game of the year, the Wilson tussle will be the finale for the seniors on the squad, and the end of one of the best seasons in City High's grid history.

Wilson was defeated, 20-0, by Clinton Friday, but has been impressive all through the current campaign. They hold the 1945 city championship in Cedar Rapids.

'May Make Strong Finish,' Says Crowe; Better Running Sought

Granted a second successive Monday holiday from football drills, Iowa's Hawkeyes will resume practice drudgery again tonight, still pointing for a break in their dearth of Big Ten victories when they hit Illinois Saturday at Champaign.

Coach Clem Crowe, who didn't seem too discouraged by the team's 27-7 loss to Wisconsin in Iowa's Homecoming Saturday, said this week's drills would be aimed at the creation of a running attack, a problem that has ruined the Hawks' offense all fall. Although Iowa gained 117 yards by Jerry Niles' passing Saturday, only 60 yards were covered on the ground.

Weekend "re-hash" discussions among the Iowa players still featured the claim that Iowa actually had scored another touchdown against the Badgers. Both Danny Sheehan and Jerry Niles maintained they had scored during the hectic last seconds on a goal line pass and subsequent quarterback sneak, although the officials ruled against Iowa on both plays.

For the first time in five weeks, the Hawks emerged from a Saturday licking in good physical shape. Harry Loehlein, left end who was praised by the coaches for a good game against the Badgers, suffered a leg injury but was expected to be ready for practice tonight.

Nelson Smith, whose injured back allowed him to play most of Saturday's game, still leads the Hawk ground gainers, but his average slipped to 4.4 yards per trial, 147 yards in 31 carries.

Other leaders include Walt Thorpe, who has not played in the past two games because of injury, 61 for a five-yard average; Art Johnson, 54 for 24; and Obern Simons, 41 for two.

The coaches said that the halfback combination of Paul Golden at left and Nelson Smith at right was effective and will be even more so when Golden works into the job. He has been at right half in previous games, but played 60 minutes at left half against the Badgers. Smith is back in form and did not injure his back again.

In summing up Saturday's defeat, Coach Crowe said: "The boys did the best they could against Wisconsin. They were trying all the time. Now if we can eliminate the tendency toward making costly mistakes which set up touchdowns for the opposition and also boost our running attack, we may make a strong finish against Illinois, Minnesota and Nebraska."

Lou Agase, Bingaman Back for Iowa Game

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Lou Agase, tackle, and Les Bingaman, guard, injured two weeks ago in the Michigan game, returned to the University of Illinois football lineup yesterday as the squad made preparations for Saturday's game with Iowa. Coach Ray Efiot promoted Gene Kwastewski to a first string berth at right halfback, and Bill Vutkovich, who played both fullback and quarterback against Great Lakes last week, was returned to quarter, with Bill Krall going to the fullback spot.

Four Hawklets Hurt; Team Has Light Drill

A light signal drill was all the Little Hawks took yesterday in preparation for their Friday night game here with Wilson of Cedar Rapids. Injuries to Tommy Miller, reserve halfback, and Evan Smith, Lenard Strausberg and Don Fryauf, all linemen put a crimp in the practice session. Coach Wally Schwank, however, felt they would be in shape for the Rambler tilt.

The last game of the year, the Wilson tussle will be the finale for the seniors on the squad, and the end of one of the best seasons in City High's grid history.

Wilson was defeated, 20-0, by Clinton Friday, but has been impressive all through the current campaign. They hold the 1945 city championship in Cedar Rapids.

Sigma Nu's, Phi Ep's Battle for Section 1 Championship Today

The only two undefeated teams in section 1 of the intra-mural touch football league, Phi Epsilon Pi and Sigma Nu, clash this afternoon in the contest which, in all probability, will decide the championship of that section.

Sigma Nu is heavily favored, due largely to the presence of Chuck Uknes, former Old Gold star, on the squad. Injuries still hamper the Phi Eps, with their star passer, Mark Ravraby, a possible spectator at today's battle. Since Ravraby is the league's leading passer, his loss would prove to be a serious blow to the small, but aggressive west side squad.

A victory for the Sigma Nus would give them undisputed first place in the final standings of the section, as they will have completed their schedule. The Phi Eps, on the other hand, have a postponed game with Sigma Phi Epsilon yet to be played.

Other contests in section 1 include the Sigma Chi-Delta Chi contest and the game between Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Phi Delta Theta will be gunning for the year's biggest upset when they battle undefeated Phi Gamma Delta in the top game of section 2. Phi Kappa Psi, whose only defeat was at the hands of the Phi Gams, should have little trouble with Delta Upsilon. Sigma Alpha Epsilon versus Theta Xi completes the schedule in that section.

Gables should win the small dormitory championship today as they play an untried West Lambert six. The Dubuque street outfit has run up tremendous scores on every one of its opponents so far, and this game should be no exception. Phi Kappa Alpha will meet weak Byington in the final contest.

Probable starting lineups of the Phi Epsilon Pi-Sigma Nu clash:

Phi Epsilon Pi	Sigma Nu
Copple	LE
Robin	C
Friedman	RE
Raybray	QB
Lubin	LH
Siegel	RH
	Uknes

Wilson Defends Official Decision Against Irish

CHICAGO (AP)—Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson of the Western Conference, yesterday told the Herald-American's Quarterback club that two officials were "right on the spot" to call the disputed play that left Notre Dame inches away from a winning touchdown against Navy Saturday. The Big Ten office assigned the officials who handled the game.

"The officials concurred in the fact that Notre Dame player's legs dangled across the goal-line, but the ball did not go over," he said.

Middies Skid To 4th Place After Irish Tie

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—Army and Notre Dame again are one-two in the weekly Associated Press poll to determine the country's ten best college football teams and thus their meeting Saturday in Yankee stadium will be a virtual playoff for the national title.

The Cadets grabbed 86 of the first places among the 101 ball ballots counted and were listed no lower than third on any ticket. Notre Dame, held to a tie by Navy Saturday, snared only three first place votes but was high enough on the remainder of the ballots to hold a narrow margin for the runner-up slot.

On a basis of 10 votes for each first place vote, nine for second, etc., Army compiled 982 points while Notre Dame was second with 804 and Alabama bounded into third with 799.

The Tide was fourth a week ago but its 60 to 19 victory over Kentucky in a Southeast conference massacre Saturday lifted the Dixie club to third above Navy and almost brought it second place.

Alabama's climb was characteristic of the entire poll, only Army and Notre Dame retaining the position held a week ago.

Behind the Middies come St. Mary's of California, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio State, Pennsylvania and Columbia.

The Columbia Lions moved into the elite group as idle Oklahoma A & M skidded to 11th place.

Despite its easy victory over Princeton, Pennsylvania dropped from seventh to 10th. This weekend the Quakers are host to Columbia.

Michigan and Navy, two others in the ranking group, are carded for Saturday afternoon in Baltimore.

The leading teams, determined by 10 points for each first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc. (First place votes in parenthesis):

Team	Points
Army (86)	982
Notre Dame (3)	804
Alabama (4)	799
Navy (3)	702
St. Mary's (2)	486
Indiana (3)	445
Michigan	346
Ohio State	280
Pennsylvania	218
Columbia	167

Second ten: 11, Oklahoma A & M 109; 12, Purdue 99; 13, Holy Cross 62; 14, Louisiana State 42; 15, Virginia 24; 16, Duke 18; 17, Texas 15; 18, Washington 7; 19, Tulsa 6; 20, Minnesota 5.

Honorable mention, Penn State 3; Mississippi State, North Carolina State, Wake Forest, and Southern California all 2 each; Tulane, Georgia, South Carolina, Temple all 1 each.

For some reason or another, Tuesday is one of the best days of the week. Perhaps it's because when Tuesday arrives, it means that Monday is over and it's doubtful whether anyone will contest the fact that Monday is the bugaboo of the week. Another reason is definitely because Tuesday brings us Bob Hope and Fibber McGee and a host of other fine entertainment.

Wandering aimlessly around WSUI I discovered that Fred V. Johnson, commander of the Roy L. Chopek Post, no. 17, of the American Legion of Iowa will be interviewed on the 12:45 program "G. I.'s Come Marching Home" today. Friend Gene Stemmmons McLaughlin of the WSUI staff will do the honors on the interview, the subject of which will be "The Legion's Services for the Returned Veterans." I also found out that "The Family" will be discussed at 2:30 this afternoon when the "Radio Child Study Club" airs. "War's Lessons for Home" is the subject and Dr. Elisabeth Sutherland of Iowa State Teachers College will be the guest speaker. This program is under the direction of Dr. Ralph H. Ojemann, of the University of Iowa child psychology department.

Local Officials Discuss City Sanitation

Promise Active Enforcement Of Ordinances

A more aggressive enforcement of city health and sanitary ordinances was promised by local city officials at a semiannual meeting of the city board of health last night.

Matters of city cleanliness which the board of health feels ought to be improved include sanitary conditions in restaurants and grocery stores, fruit and vegetables placed on sidewalks by grocers, trash in alleys in the business district and trash blowing off trucks going to the city dump.

In his report to the board of health Dr. Paul Reed, city health physician, urged that the city cooperate with county officials toward the hiring of a new public health nurse.

The city board of health is composed of members of the city council and health department with Mayor Wilber J. Teeters presiding. The board is required to meet the first Mondays in April and November.

Meeting on New Ordinance
A representative of the state department of health is expected to come to Iowa City in the near future to confer with city officials and local restaurant operators on the drafting of a new city ordinance regulating places serving food and drinks.

The proposed ordinance would require the city inspector to grade each establishment on 17 points of sanitary practices. This grade of A, B or C would be posted in the window of each place. The grade could be raised if the operator corrected the unsanitary measures which warranted his receiving a lower grade.

Charles Schindler, city inspector of restaurants, grocery stores and taverns, said last night that grocery stores should come under the proposed ordinance especially as far as providing adequate washing facilities for use by employees.

"No Grade As"
Schindler remarked that if the grading system were to be put in effect at the present time, not one restaurant in the city could be given an A grading.

In stressing the need for a new public health nurse, Dr. Reed explained that the county nurse, Mrs. Mildred Johnson, had resigned. The only public nurse in the county now is the city school nurse, who is overworked, Dr. Reed said.

In the past the county and the Johnson County Tuberculosis association have cooperated to pay the salary of one county nurse. Dr. Reed said that he had always felt free to call on this nurse for help.

To Cover Loads of Trash
Members of the city council expressed the opinion that all persons who carry trash to the city dump should be required to cover their loads so that paper and other rubbish does not blow off and litter the streets.

The councilmen also declared that the police department should be urged to arrest such violators and also to "get rough" with bus drivers who are careless in the way they place trash and garbage in the alleys in the business district.

"I'm all in favor of cracking down on violators of any of the ordinances relating to sanitation," Mayor Teeters declared.

TB Cases Total 42 In Johnson County

Johnson county has estimated cases of active tuberculosis. Five Johnson county residents died of tuberculosis in 1942.

Twenty-eight cases were reported to health authorities in 1944.

Ten patients are receiving treatment in a tuberculosis sanatorium. The average county tuberculosis death rate for 1942, 1943 and 1944 is 4.7 for each 100,000 persons compared with the state three-year average of 14.7.

Citing these facts, Harold W. Vestermark, Johnson county Christmas Seal chairman, pointed out that many who have tuberculosis do not know it.

"Meanwhile these hidden cases spread the disease to family members and friends," he said.

Information Filed Against Taverns

Eight Owners Charged With Illegal Holding Of Gambling Devices

Informations charging illegal possession of liquor and gambling devices were filed in district court yesterday against eight tavern owners and operators by County Attorney Jack C. White.

The charges came as a result of raids in Solon and Hills Oct. 26 which were carried out by Sheriff Preston Koser, White, and nine special agents from the state bureau of criminal investigation. Twenty-two slot machines were seized in the raids which also netted other gambling devices and liquor.

Fourteen informations have been filed against the six men from Solon and two from Hills. The bond for each charge is set at $1,000.

The informations filed against the men are as follows: Clifford Hirt, Schmidt's City Club tavern, Hills — charged with illegal possession of gambling devices. Two slot machines, punchboards, and a ticket jar were found there.

D. M. Hill, The Red Rose tavern, Hills — charged with illegal possession of gambling devices and illegal possession of liquor. Three slot machines, a ticket jar, and whiskey were found there.

Charles Myers, Schlitz Beer tavern, Solon — charged with illegal possession of gambling devices (his second offense) and illegal possession of liquor. Three slot machines and both Illinois and Iowa whiskey were seized there.

Ray Krall, Ray's tavern, Solon — charged with illegal possession of both gambling devices and liquor. Illinois alcohol and three slot machines were found there.

H. H. Kessler, Country Club tavern, Solon — Liquor, money jars, dice, and three slot machines were seized there.

Harold Diehl, Budweiser Beer tavern, Solon — charged with illegal possession of both liquor and gambling devices. Whiskey, wine and gin, and three slot machines were found there.

Alta Scanlon, Hamm's tavern, Solon — charged with illegal possession of gambling devices and liquor. Three slot machines, ticket jars, gin, brandy, and Illinois whiskey were found there.

Roy Eastwood, Solon cafe — charged with illegal possession of gambling devices. Two slot machines were seized there.

Fire Extinguished At Lucas School

A fire caused by an overheated stove pipe was extinguished by Iowa City firemen at the East Lucas school No. 3 at 9:40 a. m. yesterday.

Damage at the school, which is located just outside the city limits on Court street, was small, and was confined to the wall around the chimney.

Alfred E. Kretshmar Fined for Speeding

Alfred E. Kretshmar, Davenport, was fined $22.50 for speeding by Police Judge John Knox yesterday. Also fined for speeding was Donald Burgeson of North Carolina, who paid $17.50.

Lee Matzke, Minatore, Neb., paid $27.50 on a charge of disturbing the peace. Richard H. Broderson, 304 E. Davenport street, was fined $4.50 for running a red light. Ralph Wagoner paid $1 for double-parking.

Don't Jump Bud—Police Sell Tickets For Annual Ball

If an Iowa City policeman stops you and offers you a ticket when you think you're being behaving, relax — the annual Policeman's ball will take place Tuesday night, November 13, and tickets went on sale yesterday for a dollar, tax included.

Patrolman E. J. Ruppert, chairman of the event, said tickets may be purchased from any policeman.

Tuberculosis Authority To Speak at County Medical Meeting

Dr. Henry C. Sweany, medical director of research of the municipal tuberculosis sanatorium in Chicago, will speak at a meeting of the Johnson County Medical society Nov. 7. Dr. Sweany will discuss "Diagnostic Problems in a Chest Clinic."

Dinner will be served at 6 p. m. at Hotel Jefferson. After the business meeting and Dr. Sweany's talk, members of the society will be held in a discussion period by Dr. L. H. Plancher, director of the division of tuberculosis of the state department of health, Des Moines.

Divorce Petitions Filed in District Court Yesterday

Two petitions for divorce were filed in district court yesterday. Patsy Estel, represented by Jack C. White, charges Harry Estel with cruel and inhuman treatment and non-support. She asks custody of a minor child. They were married in Marysville, Kan., in January, 1944.

Clara Mawdsley, also represented by Jack C. White, charges Robert Mawdsley with cruel and inhuman treatment and non-support. Mrs. Mawdsley asks custody of the couple's five children and one-half of the property. They were married in Waterloo in August, 1929.

Students to Conduct Demonstration Debate

A demonstration debate, "Resolved: That the foreign policy of the United States should be directed toward establishment of free trade among nations of the world," will take place tonight in room 7, Schaeffer hall at 7:30, Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department has announced.

All students interested in the Forensics program are urged to attend the meeting.

Owen Peterson, A4 of Parker, S. D., and Jean Collier, A3 of Freeport, Ill., will take the affirmative while Carol Raymond, A4 of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and Dorothy Kottemann, A3 of Burlington, defend the negative side.

Part of the group will discuss the topic, "Shall congress adopt Truman's plan for compulsory military training?"

Marriage Licenses

The clerk of the district court yesterday issued marriage licenses to Eunice May Carruthers of Ottumwa and Dennis C. Newman Hudson of Davenport and Robert of Keosauqua, and to Cloneice L. Erickson of Rock Island, Ill.

Boerner's Pharmacy To Change Location

Boerner's Pharmacy will move into the building now occupied by the Kadginn photo studio 16 S. Clinton street, about the first of the year, Fred W. Boerner, manager of the pharmacy, said yesterday.

Plans are being made to remodel the location and Boerner said that a new front will also be added to the building.

Boerner will take possession of the studio on Jan. 1 and will open his store about Feb. 1.

Younkers department store of Des Moines will open a branch store in the building now occupied by Boerner's and the Three Sisters' clothing shop. Details of the new store will be announced later.

Hick Hawks to Meet In Women's Gymnasium

Hick Hawks, square dancing organization, will meet in the women's gymnasium tonight from 7 to 8.

All university men, women and townpeople are invited to attend. Membership is open to beginners as well as advanced square dancers. Later in the season Hick Hawks will give exhibitions to interested groups.

Art Library Exhibits Painting by Former SUJ Staff Member

"If This Be Not I" an oil painting by Philip Guston, formerly in charge of painting at the university art department, has been added to the art collection of Washington university, St. Louis, according to Dr. H. W. Janson, curator. Guston, an instructor in the Washington university school of fine arts, recently won the $1,000 first prize in Carnegie Institute's annual exhibition in Pittsburgh.

The painting is temporarily displayed in the library of the school of fine arts. The middle of November it will be shown at the Whitney museum's annual exhibition of American painting in New York City, after which it will be returned to St. Louis.

The first purchase of a contemporary work of art by the university in recent years, "If This Be Not I" was begun a year ago while Guston was teaching here. It was completed last May.

The title of the painting refers to the group of children that appear in a variety of costumes and disguises. Symbolically it deals with the problems of the modern world on the miniature stage of children's games.

Three Students to Be Soloists at Concert

Soloists in the concert to be presented by the university chorus tomorrow at 8 p. m. in Iowa Union will be three students and a member of the staff of the music department.

Soprano Patricia Miller, A4 of Iowa City, and Raymond Wallace, A1 of Ida Grove, tenor, will sing solos in "The Well Beloved," an Armenian folk song arranged for mixed voices by Deems Taylor.

Karl Schmidt, A2 of Davenport, will be the bass soloist in "When the Foeman Bares His Steel," a selection from "Pirates of Penzance" (Gilbert and Sullivan).

Featured in "Land - Sighting" from Bjornson's "Scenes from Olav Trygvason" will be Prof. Thomas Muir of the music department.

Free tickets for the concert are available at the Union desk.

Iowa Woman's Club To Meet Thursday

The Iowa Woman's club will meet at 12:30 p. m. Thursday at the Mary O. Coldren home, 602 Clark street, for a pot-luck luncheon. Members attending are asked to bring a covered dish and sandwiches, their own table service and a gift for the home. Roll call will be school day recollections.

Honorary will be Mrs. Molly Cranblett, Mrs. Earl Webster, Mrs. Vernon Rose and Mrs. Myrtle Lanning.

Pi Lambda Theta To Hear Dr. Reger

Dr. Scott Reger of the otolaryngology and psychology departments at University hospital, will speak at a meeting of Pi Lambda Theta, national honorary education fraternity for women, tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m.

"Conservation of the Hearing of School Children" will be Dr. Reger's topic. The group will meet at the home of Mrs. C. E. Cousins, 1030 E. College street.

'I' Club Members Vote to Raise Dues

In order to provide university scholarships for high school graduates, members of the University of Iowa "I" club voted to raise their annual dues from $1 to $10 at their annual homecoming meeting Saturday.

Dr. Max Kadesky of Dubuque, who was elected president at the meeting, suggested a county by county drive for membership, with a goal of 1,000 to 2,000 members. The club now has approximately 900 members.

Playing end on the Hawkeyes' 1921 Big Ten championship football team, Dr. Kadesky succeeded Mike Hyland of Tama, president for the past six terms, who was not a candidate for reelection.

Other officers include: Dr. Walter R. Fieseler of Ft. Dodge, Clyde Charlton of Des Moines, and L. M. B. Morrissey of Davenport, vice presidents, and Eric Wilson of Iowa City, secretary-treasurer.

'Y' Sells 1,328 Mums For Homecoming

A total of 1,328 chrysanthemums were sold in the annual Y. W. C. A. Homecoming mum sale. Of this number, 890 were advance orders.

The sale, sponsored by the sophomore "Y" was under the direction of Dorothea Davidson, A2 of Kirkwood, Mo., president of sophomore "Y", and Bonnie Lansing, A4 of Iowa City, second vice-president of "Y".

Proceeds go to help in financing the organization.

Tin was known to the Phoenicians and Romans.

"GREATEST FORD EVER BUILT"

Says Public from Coast to Coast!

"How Soon?" and "How Much?" Ask Throngs in Dealer Showrooms

On October 26 the new Fords for 1946 went on display in dealer showrooms the country over. In city after city, town after town; dealers reported that the crowds who came to view these fine new automobiles equalled those who greeted the introduction of the famous Ford Model "A" back in 1927—when showroom attendance passed the 10,000,000 mark.

The opening day throngs were matched by those who came Saturday and later. And their opinion has been unanimous. The words most frequently heard have been "The Greatest Ford Ever Built". They backed up their acclaim with orders—326,840 on "V-8 Day", October 26—and Saturday, October 27.

This advertisement is published to record the deep gratification of the entire Ford organization at this splendid public reception . . . and to answer, as directly as we possibly can, the two questions most often asked.

"How Soon Can I Get My New Ford?" We sincerely believe the answer is: "Sooner than you think!" And here's why—Ford, first with assembly line production of postwar cars, first to stock dealers for a nationwide display, is first in quantity production—1,000 units a day reached last week . . . 2,000 a day in prospect within 30 days.

"How Much Will My New Ford Cost?" We think the answer to this is found in Ford's unvarying policy through more than 40 years of operation: always the highest quality at the lowest possible cost.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE NOT YET SEEN THE NEW FORDS: All our dealers have them on display. Please make it a point to see if you, too, don't agree that these are the "Greatest Fords Ever Built".
