74 Jews Killed As Arabs Riot In Tripolitania

British Stifle Revolt With Strict Curfew, Shoot-to-Kill Order

CAIRO (AP)—Seventy-four Jews and one Arab were killed in bloody anti-Jewish rioting the past three days in Tripolitania, but a curfew and stern shoot-to-kill orders to troops last night had suppressed disorders in most of the Mediterranean colony.

Arab mobs looted and gutted Jewish quarters and assaulted Jews in Tripoli, Souk el Juma, and Tagiura "in a serious outbreak of rioting, violence and arson" started Sunday night, British headquarters declared.

Tripoli itself was under heavy guard yesterday and "the provinces remained generally quiet except for the eastern provinces where disturbances were reported from Cusabab and Zliten," a communique said.

Many Injured

The rioting, blamed by the British on "irresponsible elements who in a large majority of cases came from the Arab section of the population," hospitalized 183 Jews, 36 Arabs, and two Italians.

The new Arab-Jewish clashes followed rioting last week in Egypt, in protest of a national home in Palestine for Jews, in which 10 persons were reported killed and 520 injured.

Palestine police yesterday announced one Arab was knifed in a minor clash between Jews and Arabs in the northern part of the Holy land.

Troops and police in Tripoli were ordered to "shoot all loiterers and to fire if necessary to disperse groups of more than five persons." A 9 p. m. to 5 a. m. curfew was imposed there Monday, and then extended from 5 p. m. to 6 a. m. throughout all of Tripolitania, the Italian colony where Allied and Axis armies battled in the North African campaigns.

Start in Tripoli

The riots started in Tripoli when "an Arab mob attacked the Jewish quarter" there, the communique said, and despite heavy guards looting, incendiarism and "isolated brutal assaults of Arabs upon Jews" flared again Monday morning. Rumors were spread charging Jews with crimes against Arabs, the British said.

On Monday, "undisciplined Arab mobs looted and gutted the Jewish quarter at Souk el Juma and Tagiura," the communique said, adding that it was now known "that the Jews suffered 36 killed at Souk El Juma and four killed at Tagiura," five miles east of Tripoli, with many more injured.

U. S. Reveals Plan Decreasing Turkish Rights in Dardanelles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States yesterday unveiled a four-point program for decreasing Turkish authority over the Dardanelles and giving the United Nations a voice in its military use.

The program would result in greater rights for Russia in the use of the vital straits between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea, but would not give Russia all she wants. Particularly, it withdraws American approval from a Russian proposal for Soviet military bases on the straits.

The disclosure came from Secretary of State Byrnes on the very day when Russia's long-standing treaty of friendship and non-aggression with Turkey expired after being denounced several months ago.

There was a general assumption at the state department that one of Russia's primary objectives in knocking this treaty on the head was to bring psychological pressure on Turkey in order to win concessions over the Dardanelles. On the straits question, the United States, Russia and Britain are all making separate approaches to the government at Ankara.

The straits at present are governed by a treaty made at Montreux, Switzerland, a decade ago,

CIO, NAM Clash On Wage Question

Philip Murray Favors Settlement by Labor, Management Confab

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top spokesmen for the CIO and the National Association of Manufacturers clashed publicly last night on whether President Truman's labor-management conference should consider the question of national wage levels.

A few hours after CIO President Philip Murray succeeded in getting a wage resolution before the conference's powerful executive committee—which would have to clear it before it reached the conference floor—NAM President Ira Mosher declared his opposition.

"The labor-management conference is not itself a collective bargaining conference," Mosher said in a public statement.

Mosher said it would be putting "the cart before the horse" to take up the wage question without first having found agreement on the collective bargaining principles by which wage and other questions are to be settled by unions and management.

His stand, understood to represent the opinion of the management delegates generally, was believed to have virtually removed any chance that the wage question would reach the conference, since the AFL also opposed its consideration.

Murray's resolution, mildly phrased but calling attention to President Truman's broadcast statement last week that wage increases are "imperative," has not been acted upon by the 16-member executive committee.

Mosher's statement—which a NAM spokesman said was intended as a reply to the Murray proposal—noted that Mr. Truman called upon the parley to set "long-term policies which will make possible better human relations in American industry."

"This can only be interpreted as the president's hope that this conference will devise the machinery of free collective bargaining by which the wage issue and other issues can be resolved satisfactorily to both labor and management at those levels where they should be considered and settled," the NAM leader went on. "It would be unfortunate if we were to be diverted from that primary purpose."

British Meteor Plane Sets Speed Record

HERNE BAY, England (AP)—The British claimed a new world air speed record last night after the National Physical Laboratory had verified that a jet-propelled Gloster Meteor flashed over a measured course four times yesterday at an average speed of 606 miles an hour.

The new mark, unofficially establishing the Meteor as the world's fastest plane, was set by Capt. H. J. Wilson who in one of his four trips over the 1.86-mile course attained a speed of 611 miles an hour. He was clocked at 604, 602 and 608 miles an hour in his other three runs. Official records are based upon the average time in four flights.

The previous officially recognized air speed record of 484.84 miles an hour was set in 1939 by Capt. Fritz Wendel of the German air force.

Bevin, in Speech to Commons, Hints Britain Suspects Russia

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, hinting that Britain was suspicious of Russia's territorial demands, appealed last night to the great powers to "reality put the cards on the table face upwards."

Bevin spoke in a full-dress debate in commons on foreign affairs after Winston Churchill had urged that Britain support the United States in refusing Russia the secret of atomic bomb production.

Russia, Churchill argued, would not share the secret if she alone possessed it.

While Bevin did not name Russia, he said:

"You cannot help our being a little bit suspicious if a great power wants to go right across the throat of the British commonwealth."

He apparently was referring to reported Soviet demands for sole trusteeship of Tripolitania, former Italian colony on the Mediterranean's southern shore, and a base in Eritrea—two steps which would leave Russia straddling British communications to the middle and Far East.

Churchill and Bevin both endorsed President Truman's 12-point foreign policy program and said if this plan had existed in 1914 or in 1939 neither World war would have occurred.

Churchill urged the labor government not to put "pressure" on the United States, in Prime Minister Attlee's forthcoming Washington talks, to make the secrets of atomic bomb production available to Moscow.

He said the Russians would have to be taken into American arsenals in order to understand how the bomb is produced.

"I am sure," he asserted, "if the circumstances were reversed and we or the Americans asked for similar access to the Russian arsenals it would not be granted."

"During the war we imparted many secrets to the Russians, especially in connection with radar, but we were not conscious of any adequate reciprocity."

GI's in U. S. With 50 Points to Be Released

New Plan Benefits Soldiers Who Returned After Jap Surrender

WASHINGTON (AP)—The war department last night announced that enlisted men who have 50 or more discharge points and are now on furlough in this country will be released as they report back to the army this month.

The new ruling also applies to enlisted men now on temporary duty in the United States. They will be classed as surplus and discharged upon their return to a reception center.

Chief beneficiaries of the action, the war department said, are men who returned from Europe with units originally earmarked for duty in the Pacific. Orders for shipment of these units were cancelled following Japan's surrender and they are now scheduled for deactivation.

During the day, the department also:

- 1—Authorized the immediate discharge of soldiers who were prisoners of the enemy for at least 60 days.
- 2—Put new restrictions on overseas duty for enlisted men and officers.

The department announced that, with a few exceptions, no enlisted man with 21 or more points of honorable service since Sept. 16, 1940, will be sent overseas for permanent duty.

The exceptions are those who are graduates of the military intelligence language school, regular army enlisted men and volunteers for foreign duty.

Officers who have 33 or more months of honorable service, or 30 months in case of medical department officers, likewise will not be sent overseas for permanent assignment. This will not apply to reserve officers who have chosen to remain on active duty, to regular army officers or to those classed as scarce specialists.

The scarce specialists include military government officers, contract termination and property disposal officers, renegotiation officers, legal officers with admiralty law experience, highway traffic engineer officers, and officers classified as superintendent of water division in transportation corps.

Army nurses will not be sent overseas if they have 12 points or are 30 years of age. No WAC officers are being sent on permanent assignment.

Hearing for Baby Abandoned in City Set for Nov. 16

The hearing on "Mary Sue," six-weeks-old baby girl abandoned in downtown Iowa City Oct. 24, has been set for 9 a. m., Nov. 16, in district court.

The parents of the baby, believed by police to be transients who arrived in Iowa City by bus, have not been located. They left the child in a buggy in front of McNamara's Furniture store, where it was discovered by Mrs. Roy Gruwell, matron for the city restroom.

The baby was clothed only in a shirt and had a man's handkerchief for a diaper when it was found and neglect. City firemen fed her some milk, and she was later taken to Mercy hospital where she has been cared for since.

Attendants at the hospital gave the infant the name "Mary Sue," and she has completely recovered from exposure and is in good health.

Many couples have written asking to adopt "Mary Sue," but according to Judge James P. Gaffney, she must first be declared a ward of the court and then committed to a foundlings home before such action could be taken.

The court has appointed William R. Hart as guardian ad litem, and he will represent "Mary Sue" at the hearing.

Auto Workers Refuse 'Living Wage' Boost

General Motors Offers 8 to 10% Increase; Rejects CIO Demand

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors corporation yesterday offered a cost of living wage increase to its workers, and the CIO United Auto Workers union promptly rejected the proposal.

The corporation had formally and flatly scorned the union's demand for a 30 percent wage rate boost, terming the demand "excessive." Instead the corporation offered increases in classifications where, since 1941, wages have not been raised in proportion to the cost of living.

H. W. Anderson, GM vice president, said the cost of living wage increase would amount to an average of eight to ten percent for the corporation's 180,000 hourly-rated employees.

In computing the amount which each worker is entitled, he said, the corporation would accept a government finding that living costs have gone up 30 percent since Jan. 1, 1941.

Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the UAW-CIO, declared that the union "flatly rejects the corporation's bribe offer because we will not be a party to sandbagging the American consumer."

Reuther, who heads the UAW-CIO delegation at union-corporation wage meetings, asserted at a press conference:

"The General Motors corporation, which has been on strike since V-J day against labor, government and the American consumer, yesterday put in writing its previous oral offers to the union that we conspire with the corporation to sandbag the car-hungry public with inexcusable price increases."

At negotiation sessions yesterday, Reuther said he asked corporation representatives "if they would offer us any increase—even one percent—with the agreement that they would not seek price increases on the basis of the wage raise, and the corporation's answer was 'no'."

The corporation's position was stated in a 34-page brief. The exact amount of increases would be determined through future negotiations with the UAW-CIO, General Motors said.

General Motors accused the union of "distorting the facts" in arriving at the conclusion that the corporation was able to pay increased wages, and added that "prices and past and future profits are out of place in these wage negotiations."

Doggone Bad Stuff In Local Weather

It was a balmy night in Iowa City last night but when you go out this morning, you had better be dressed for cold, rainy weather.

At midnight the mercury was at the highest point for the day: 67. The low yesterday morning was a warm 42.

But bad weather is definitely coming our way. Out north and west of here there are lots of clouds, rain, snow and doggone cold weather. All of which, except for the snow and the worst of the cold, is going to arrive here today.

Yamashita Has Last Birthday

MANILA, Thursday (AP)—This was a grim sixtieth birthday anniversary for Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, on trial for his life on war criminal charges.

A deposition introduced by the prosecution quoted a former prisoner of war, Maj. Ralph Scheibler, that while he was on a work detail in Yamashita's headquarters he saw Red Cross packages opened and looted.

Previously, witnesses had testified they received only three Red Cross packages at Santo Tomas civilian internees camp—the last on Christmas, 1943.

Yamashita, as commander of the Philippines, is charged with responsibility for mass atrocities, including theft of food packages as well as brutalities, by his troops.

Witnesses yesterday testified that systematic starvation was the Japanese program at Santo Tomas.

One American survivor of the brutal regime at Santo Tomas interment camp, magazine editor A. V. H. Hartendorp, said that Filipino friends brought many packages of food to the camp last Christmas but that Japanese guards prevented even such Yuletide offerings from reaching the hungry men, women and children inside.

DETROIT, NEW YORK RACES SHARE SPOTLIGHT— Election Results Comfort Parties

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrats and Republicans analyzed Tuesday's municipal elections yesterday and found comfort in them for both major parties.

Republicans challenged Democratic assertions that Democrat William O'Dwyer's election as mayor of New York by a record-breaking plurality carried national or state political significance.

Detroit's slam-bang mayoralty race shared interest among politicians generally. Final unofficial returns showed Mayor Edward J. Jeffries Jr., to have been reelected by 57,518 over Richard T. Frankenstein, a CIO union official who had the endorsement of that organization's political action committee. Frankenstein lost his home precinct.

O'Dwyer had the support of the ALP as well as the Democratic organization. Judge Jonah J. Goldstein, his Dewey-supported Republican opponent, also wore the liberal and fusion labels. Newbold Morris ran third on a "no deal" ticket backed by retiring Mayor LaGuardia.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had no comment on the results. Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan said it had a "direct and important" bearing on the next congressional and presidential elections. New York Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick asserted it marked the "beginning of the end" of Dewey's political career.

Thomas J. Curran, Chairman of the New York County Republican committee, charged the Democratic-ALP high command with deliberately introducing national and state issues into the campaign, but that "this strategy fooled no one."

Complete unofficial returns gave O'Dwyer 1,119,225 votes; Goldstein 434,050; Morris 399,437. Important election results in-

SUI Classes Recess On Thanksgiving Day, 15 Days at Christmas

University students will have a one-day holiday Thanksgiving day, Nov. 22, according to official announcement.

The Christmas and New Year's recess, however, will be the longest in years, lasting 15 1/2 days. It will continue from noon Saturday, Dec. 22, to 8 a. m. Monday, Jan. 7. During the accelerated wartime program four days were cut off the usual vacation time, but this plan has been discontinued.

Indonesians Present Peace Plan to British

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—Indonesian leaders yesterday submitted to the British a plan to preserve peace in strike-torn Java while British troops finish disarming the Japanese and rescuing thousands of European internees menaced by extreme Nationalists.

President Soekarno and Foreign Minister Soebardjo of the "Indonesian Republic" proposed the plan during a meeting yesterday morning with Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, Allied commander in the Dutch East Indies.

The two Indonesian leaders were expected to confer again yesterday with acting Governor General Hubertus J. Van Mook on the deadlocked Dutch-Indonesian dispute over long-range plans for the Indies. Late in the day there was no word of such a conference.

Communists Capture Two Army Generals

CHUNGKING, Thursday (AP)—Chinese Communists have captured two central government army commanders—one reportedly committed suicide—in Southern Hopeh province and forced the government armies to retreat, a military spokesman acknowledged yesterday.

The scene of this reversal in China's undeclared Civil War is the same one where the Communists claim they have routed 70,000 government troops.

The spokesman said one of the captured generals was Ma Fah Wu, commander of the 41st army. He is understood to have committed suicide. The other was Kao Shu Hsun, commander of the eighth army.

The spokesman accused the Communists of circulating unfounded rumors about the generals "in an effort to throw dust in the eyes of the public."

Troops Surrender

The Communists had claimed a number of generals and the bulk of their troops had surrendered. The spokesman's version was that the eighth and 41st armies were attacked north of Tzhsien in Hopeh by several tens of thousands of Communists, were "taken unawares and were unable to concentrate in time to ward off the assault."

The dispatch said Communists attacking Tangho, Sinyeh, Siangyang and Fangcheng, all in Honan northwest of Hankow, were driven into the mountains where the Reds "say they will make a first stand."

The dispatch said about 30,000 Communists are concentrated at Tsaohow in western Shantung province, preparing to attack the Lunghai railroad.

Intensified fighting flared on several fronts and both Chinese and foreign quarters in Chungking agreed that the situation is nearly beyond repair and full-scale war is almost inevitable.

The Communists claimed:

1. Decisive defeat of eight government divisions, totalling 70,000 men, during which the Reds tightened their grip on the Peiping-Hankow rail line and recaptured the Hopeh province rail junction of Tzhsien on Oct. 25—blocking the northward movement of Chiang's troops along that route.
2. Under able Gen. Ho Lung, the Communists drew their fiery siege ring tighter around Kweisui, capital of inner-Mongolian Suiyuan province.
3. To the south, Communists attacked in force several points along the Tatung-Puchow railroad, including Hwohsien in southern Shansi province. (The central government admitted loss of several towns west of the railroad but said it had beaten off more than 30 attacks on the railway itself in four days.)
4. Large Communist reinforcements are pouring into Suiyuan province, and surrender of many of the 70,000 nationalists along the Peiping-Hankow railroad brought the Reds new weapons.

Communist Claims

Asked for comment on the Communist claims on victory, K. C. Wu, minister of information, declared: "Communists have circulated so many fabrications that it's no use denying one after another."

The government claimed:

1. Communists had breached dikes and flooded hundreds of square miles near the highway junction of Taikang in eastern Honan province.
2. Communists' operations west of Kweisui have left 100,000 Chinese homeless; the Reds, said nationalist Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, have burned villages in all directions around Kweisui, as well as destroyed most of the Peiping-Suiyuan railroad between Paotow (west of Kweisui) and Tatung (east of Kweisui).
3. Communists are planning a drive on Taiyan, capital of Shansi province (east and south of Suiyuan) if they capture the Suiyuan capital, Kweisui.

Communist headquarters at Yenmen meanwhile made no reply to the government's week-old proposals—a fact viewed here as ominous.

Editorials:

Students Divided on Question of Stadium Name

Campus opinion on the proposed re-dedication and re-naming of Iowa's football stadium has crystallized into two segments—one favoring "Nile Kinnick Stadium" and the other supporting "Memorial Stadium."

The campus seems almost overwhelmingly in favor of re-dedicating the stadium as a tribute to the University of Iowa athletes who were killed in the war.

So that leaves the name the real question to be decided in today's voting. Yesterday it appeared that "Nile Kinnick Field" would receive a decided majority in the balloting.

Many are supporting the Kinnick selection because he is probably the best known, today, of all Iowa athletes and his name would be recognized from coast to coast.

Letter to the Editor

(Editor's Note: Letters to the editor must bear the name and address of the writer. The writer's name will not be printed if so requested, however.)

TO THE EDITOR:

There have appeared in The Daily Iowan many comments on the character of the veteran's association on campus. But it seems to us that the fundamental problem hasn't been touched.

Although we returned to the university but two months ago, it seems quite apparent to us that the veteran's association here is not in the least representative of the ex-servicemen on campus.

Mr. Christensen stated that less than one hundred veterans have been attending the meetings of the organization. This is indeed a glorious showing since there are 750 veterans on campus.

Very, very few of the veterans who returned to campus this semester—the first peacetime semester—have ever gone near the association. They've heard of a veteran's group on campus, but apparently it doesn't do anything or mean anything, and so they shun it.

Typical example of the lack of aggressiveness of the organization is its failure to take any noticeable action in the housing shortage situation. To the married veterans at Iowa this is indeed a serious problem; and the lack of foresight and initiative shown by the veteran's association, the Student Council and the university administration as a whole in solving the problem is bound to leave wounds that will not quickly heal.

It is ironic to note that while the veteran's association was twiddling its thumbs and the Student Council was bickering about pep rallies, new cheers and other such trivia, two veterans' wives were actually attempting to do something about the situation.

Mr. Christensen claims that adequate publicity has been given in advance of meetings and other programs of the association in the columns of this newspaper. He said further that notices were posted on the bulletin board in the veteran's advisory office.

Does Mr. Christensen believe that mere notification of scheduled meetings will attract the new veterans to attend? The association with its "do-nothing" program just doesn't appeal to the new men. The veterans who returned to the campus this semester—and they comprise the majority—feel the need for an organization. We're certain of that.

The veterans at Iowa need a strong organization—an organization which could go to bat for us in situations such as the current housing shortage. But if the association insists upon bypassing issues vital to veterans, we doubt if it will ever include a representative majority in its membership.

For this reason, we challenge the steering nick should be singled out for this honor?

By what yardstick can anyone determine that one man has given more in death than any of 13 other men? And is it fair to be content with paying indirect tribute to the 13 other dead athletes by singling out one of their number for recognition?

These questions can not be answered, and because they can't we believe "Memorial Stadium" would be a more appropriate name for the Iowa football field.

However, there is merit in the reasons advanced in favor of naming the stadium after Kinnick. He is better known; the name would be distinctive, and "Kinnick Field" is a phrase which should catch on rapidly with sportswriters and fans.

More important, Kinnick was symbolic, even when living, of the fighting spirit of Iowans. His athletic and scholastic records were pointed to by all as representative of what Iowa athletes can achieve.

We'll leave the choice up to the student body—with this plea: We earnestly urge every student to vote today.

committee, Mr. Christensen and other executives of the association to alter the character of the present veteran's organization to such a degree that it will appeal to the new veterans. We challenge you to prove to us that you sincerely intend to make the association a mighty and constructive force on campus.

It is our hope that you who have assumed the leadership of our veteran's association will shape it into a totally representative organization which will be an asset to veterans, the university and society.

Covering The Capital

By JACK STINNETT; By ROWLAND EVANS JR. (Substituting for Jack Stinnett)

WASHINGTON — There's a peculiar wrinkle in the GI bill of rights of which a smart veteran might want to take advantage. As the law is now written, a high school graduate veteran who can lay claim to the full amount of free education can get through four years of college and to within one year or less of a law degree, all within the allowed time limit.

Here's why and how: Four years is the maximum time any veteran may get free schooling under the GI bill. Four years is four years . . . or is it? A school year is only eight or nine months. A calendar year is 12. But the four years allowed under the law are calendar years.

Now then — for each "ordinary school year" the government will pay up to $500 for tuition and other essential fees. That raises the question: How long is an "ordinary school year"? Veterans administration has decreed that an ordinary school year is from 30 to 38 weeks.

Before the war few colleges or universities allowed students to complete more than one school year in one calendar year. But wartime lack of doctors, engineers and other specialists forced many schools to give year-around training.

Some schools which tried the heavy duty curriculum may retain it. So, instead of using up his four allowance calendar years, the veteran can zoom through a four-year course in about two and a half years by cramming "normal school years" into that time.

After the last war American educators endorsed a program which gave a certain amount of blanket credit to all veterans. In many cases too much credit was given, and 42 percent of all veterans who went back to duty with the books were forced to quit. They had been allowed to get in over their heads.

Another item, interesting to school-bound vets is the fact that credit for at least one semester's work will go to the average ex-GI. After the last war American educators endorsed a program which gave a certain amount of blanket credit to all veterans.

Existing stocks of the holiday covers will be distributed, but only bank and non-governmental agencies will be equipped to supply the large demands already made on the treasury department in Washington.

Solon Boy Receives State 4-H Club Prize In Soil Conservation

Claire Yeggy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yeggy of Solon, recently was awarded a $50 war bond by the state boys' 4-H club department at Ames for his high record in soil conservation in Iowa this year. The award was offered by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Yeggy, who has completed nine years of 4-H club work, was responsible for much of the conservation on his father's farm, which included the planting of 50 acres of row-crops on the contour, 26 acres of strip cropping and the liming of 22 acres of crop land.

Vivian Yeggy, his sister, was awarded a $25 war bond by the state 4-H club department for her victory garden record in 1942, and her sister Margery won the same honor in 1944. These bonds were presented by Sears Roebuck & Co.

Dwindling Supply Of Bond Gift Covers

Christmas gift covers for savings bonds will probably not be available at the Iowa City postoffice this year because they have not been produced since 1943 and no further printing is contemplated, local officials said yesterday.

Existing stocks of the holiday covers will be distributed, but only bank and non-governmental agencies will be equipped to supply the large demands already made on the treasury department in Washington.

Students Allowed Five Choices In Naming SUI Stadium Today

Voting began at 7:30 this morning in Iowa Union to determine student opinion on naming the Iowa stadium. Students may cast ballots until 7:30 tonight for one of the five choices provided.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the straw vote will be an indication of student opinion for the university's administration who will make the choice.

The Council has presented information on (1) why the stadium should not be named, (2) why the stadium should be named Nile Kinnick stadium, (3) why the stadium should be named Iowa Memorial stadium, (4) why the stadium should be named Robert Jones stadium, and (5) a name of the student's own choosing.

Because the stadium is already 15 years old many feel that since it has gone that long without a name there is no need to name it now. There are some people of the opinion that no suitable names have been suggested and they can suggest none of their own.

Too Long Unnamed: Those in favor of naming the stadium feel that 15 years is too long a time for a stadium to go nameless, and they believe that no better purpose for dedication could be found than to the 14 major "World War II" winners who died in World War II.

The student council has gone on record as favoring a bronze plaque with the names of the 14 athletes to be put on the stadium wall whether or not the stadium is named.

Nile Kinnick stadium is the choice of many students because Kinnick was not only an outstanding athlete but an outstanding scholar and leader. He was captain of the All-American honor team and the United States number one athlete of 1939. He was also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

Those opposed to naming the stadium for Kinnick feel no one individual should be singled out for the honor and they take into consideration that a Kinnick scholarship fund has already been established.

Honor 14 "T" Men: Those who feel the stadium should be called Iowa Memorial stadium favor this name because it would honor all of the 14 athletes directly, rather than singling out any one athlete.

Those who oppose this name do so because they consider the name too common, and feel that it wouldn't stick and that people would continue calling it Iowa stadium. They are also opposed to the name because the campanile, which will be part of post war building plans, will be dedicated to all the university war dead. Also the Iowa Memorial Union is a dedication to the dead of World War I.

Because Robert Jones was the first major "T" winner to die in World War II, some students feel that his name should be the logical choice for the stadium, for as the first to die, he would be representative of the rest. Jones was a swimmer and a member of the Dolphin fraternity, honorary swimming organization.

There is some opposition to naming the stadium Jones because many feel that no single individual should be awarded the honor. They also feel that the name is too common and not well enough known to stick.

If the student marks the fifth choice he will be able to write on the ballot his preference for a name for the stadium.

Members of the Student Council will be in charge of the voting. Those on the committee for naming the stadium were: Dick Baxter, G of Mt. Pleasant; Wanda Siebels, A4 of Amber; Mary Osborne, A4 of Ottumwa; Robert Wilson, L4 of Iowa City; Bill Boswell, A2 of Marshalltown, and Gordon Christensen, L3 of Iowa City.

From All Around The State

DES MOINES, (AP) — G. L. Joe's penchant for fresh milk upon his return from the service and greater consumption of dairy products by members of his family have resulted in a severe milk shortage throughout the state, Frank Barker, manager of the Iowa dairy industry commission, said yesterday. The situation, he added, now is as bad as it will get.

DES MOINES, (AP) — Although approximately 475,000 quail have been shot by Iowa hunters in the last two years, there still are plenty of them available for the current open season, the state conservation commission said yesterday. DES MOINES, (AP) — An appeal for badly needed workers at state institutions will be made through advertisements in 40 Iowa daily newspapers, the board of control announced yesterday. David R. McCreery, board chairman, declined to estimate the number of employees needed. The needs are greatest at the Eldora boys' training school and the Mt. Pleasant and Independence hospitals, he said.

DUBUQUE, (AP) — Approximately 900 metal workers in three Dubuque plants ended yesterday a 72-day strike. W. Mueller said yesterday. Dutka was taken to a Dubuque hospital. The sheriff said the youths apparently got into the car of Harold Grot, 24, Elkport, without Grot knowing it and fell out of the uncovered trunk compartment of the car as Grot drove into the country. Grot found the bodies in the road after turning around to return to Garber. The sheriff said no charges were planned.

Hughes Gives Atomic Report At Lecture

"Report on the Atomic Bomb" will be presented by Dr. Donald J. Hughes of the University of Chicago on the Information First program at 4:10 p. m. today in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Dr. Hughes received his Ph.D. in physics from the University of Chicago and is a member of the physics department staff there. Before his war work began, Hughes studied cosmic rays with Arthur H. Compton, a well-known scientist in physics circles, and traveled to South America to continue his studies.

He worked on atomic power for the Manhattan district project in Hanford, Wash., and at the University of Chicago. He also was present at the preliminary trials of the atomic bomb at Albuquerque, N. M.

In order that he might carry on nuclear physics research in connection with atomic energy, Dr. Hughes is on leave from the University of Chicago.

"Since atomic energy is one of the foremost in the world today, Dr. Hughes' lecture should be of great importance and interest to everyone," Eleanor Pownall, A3 of Iowa City, chairman of the Information First committee, stated. Dr. Hughes, who is an amateur airplane pilot, will fly here from Chicago in his own plane. His appearance here as an Information First lecturer was made through the speakers' committee of the Atomic Scientists of Chicago organization.

A special invitation to the program has been extended by Miss Pownall to the staff of the university physics department. All university students and faculty members are welcome.

Dr. Hughes will be introduced by Gordon Christensen, L3 of Iowa City. For the minutes after his talk, the physicist will answer any queries the audience may have concerning atomic energy.

THE ROAD OF PLANNED PROGRESS

St. Mary's Opens Cage Card Nov. 16

Francis Sueppel, who has begun his twentieth year as coach of St. Mary's Ramblers basketball team, asserted yesterday that the prospects for this season's quintet "don't look too good."

A quick glance at the roster will confirm the successful mentor's assertion. The Ramblers have but three returning lettermen in Toohy, Bill Sueppel and Jack Shrader. The remainder of the squad is composed of four juniors, five sophomores and four freshmen.

However, Sueppel has always been pessimistic at the beginning of a cage season, and the results that he has produced in the past leads one to believe that this season may not be greatly different from other years.

The St. Mary's quintet opens the season against St. Peter's of Keokuk Nov. 16, which is part of their heavy 19-game schedule. Diocesan champs of the 1944-45 season, the Ramblers lost most of last year's squad through induction in the armed forces and due to graduation.

Sueppel announced that the starting lineup for the St. Peter's clash will probably be Eddie Rocco and Charles Mottet at forwards, Toohy at center and Shrader and Sueppel at the guard posts. In commenting on the interest that his team displays, Coach Sueppel added that his squad members "take their basketball as serious as Notre Dame does its football."

The following is the complete St. Mary's roster: Toohy, Bill Sueppel, Jack Shrader, Bernard Brodie, Ted Rittenmeyer, John Sueppel, Eddie Rocco, Paul Flannery, Harold Black, John Bauer, John Stockman, Charles Boyd, John Milder, Dale Seydel, Peter Lench and Charles Mottet.

Listed below is the Ramblers' schedule for the 1945-46 season: Nov. 16, St. Peter's, Keokuk, here; Nov. 21, St. Mathias, Muscatine, here; Nov. 31, St. Wenceslaus, Cedar Rapids, there; Dec. 5, St. Paul's, Burlington, here; Dec. 7, St. Joseph's, Rock Island, there; Dec. 14, Loras, Dubuque, there; Dec. 19, St. Patrick's, Cedar Rapids, here; Dec. 21, Immaculate Conception, Cedar Rapids, there; Jan. 2, St. Wenceslaus, Cedar Rapids, here; Jan. 4, St. Patrick's, Cedar Rapids, there; Jan. 9, Loras, Dubuque, here; Jan. 13, St. Paul's, Burlington, there; Jan. 16, St. Joseph's, Rock Island, here; Jan. 25, St. Patrick's, Iowa City, there; Jan. 30, Grinnell, here; Feb. 4, Diocesan Tournament; Feb. 8, St. Mathias, Muscatine, there; Feb. 13, Immaculate Conception, Cedar Rapids, here; Feb. 15, St. Peter's, Keokuk, there; Feb. 20, St. Patrick's, Iowa City, here.

Jurges Freed by Giants NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Jurges, 37, infielder for the New York Giants, said yesterday he had received his unconditional release. He played with the Chicago Cubs before coming to the Giants eight years ago.

Injuries, Colds Cut Little Hawk Chances For Win Over Wilson

Injuries still plague the Iowa City Little Hawks as they prepare for the final tilt of the season Friday evening with Wilson of Cedar Rapids. Bob Krall, Chug Wilson and Lenard Staubsburg are ailing, and several other squad members are suffering from colds.

The Wilson Ramblers were also hampered by disabilities with three regulars out of the lineup last Friday when the powerful Clinton eleven defeated them 20-0. This loss dropped Wilson to sixth place in Mississippi Valley conference standings.

The Hawkslets now hold third position in league play with three victories and one defeat. A win over Wilson Friday would boost their chances of finishing in second place.

Wilson is strong opposition for the Little Hawks and boasts a fast, tricky backfield. Led by Tom Gaines, the Ramblers backs have been a serious running threat to opposition all season, and have proven their ability to score through the air on several occasions.

Hawklet Coach Wally Schwank expressed some concern over recent sickness of certain squad members and was not sure who would be available for Friday's final encounter. Light workouts were prescribed for the entire squad this afternoon, and no contact work was done yesterday.

Amateur Shames Pros In Pinehurst Meet

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — An unsung amateur, Lt. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, scored his second sub-par round yesterday to lead the professional aces at the half-way post in the North and South Open golf tournament with 139. While the first day leaders, Benny Hogan and Denny Shute, blew themselves off the pace with 74's, the 24-year-old Tennessee fired a three-under-par 69 to go with his 70 of Tuesday and grab a one-shot lead.

The soft-spoken lieutenant, an army dentist and a recent patient at the Valley Forge army hospital, played all his shots well but it was his artistry on the greens that counted most—he required only 22 putts. Hogan from Hershey, Pa., and Shute from Akron, O., who exploded Tuesday, had their troubles with the rugged No. 2 layout yesterday and wound up with two-round totals of 140 to tie for second position.

Notre Dame Squad In Last Hard Drill

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Coach Hugh Devore gave the Notre Dame football squad a final tough workout yesterday in preparation for Saturday's game with undefeated Army. He sent the squad through lengthy defensive drills against Army plays and formations.

Jack Fallon, who only two weeks ago was switched from guard to tackle, was moved up to second string right tackle behind Pete Berenzey, and Devore indicated Fallon would see considerable action against the cadets' rugged forward wall.

'Opportunity of Career,' Says Southworth of Braves' Contract

BOSTON (AP) — A three year contract, which he described today as "the opportunity that comes to a baseball manager only once in his career," has tempted Billy Southworth to leave the highly successful St. Louis Cardinals to direct the rebuildings of the lowly Boston Braves.

Neither Southworth nor the Braves officials would divulge the salary terms but it is likely that he will draw around $30,000 a season. His St. Louis salary was said to have been $20,000.

"I'm going to work 24 hours a day to give Boston a winning ball club," Southworth, one of the major leagues' most successful managers, promised. "There is a big job to be done here but the club has many able players and it is up to me to get the best out of them."

Southworth then explained that president Lou Perini of the Braves, first approached him to succeed Del Bissonette as his club's manager during the world series in Detroit.

"I told Mr. Perini that my contract with the Cardinals did not expire until after 1946 and I could not discuss the matter," Southworth said. "I understand that Mr. Perini talked to Sam Breadon, the Cardinals' president in Chicago and that the latter, convinced that I would be improving myself, granted permission for me to accept the Braves' offer."

"I always will be grateful to Mr. Breadon."

Dyer Named Cards' Pilot

ST. LOUIS (AP) — President Sam Breadon put his finger yesterday on 45-year-old Eddie Dyer, who is without previous major league managerial experience in 24 years with the St. Louis Cardinals organization, to steer the Redbirds through their next two seasons.

The 45-year-old former director of the Cardinals' farm clubs succeeds Billy Southworth who after four and one-half seasons has left for more money as manager of the Boston Braves.

Breadon, who has exploded more "baseball bombshells" than any other major league owner during his 26 years of directing the St. Louis Cardinals, yesterday summarized his "David Harum" career in two brief sentences: "I've been a very lucky man. I hope I can continue to be."

Surprisingly jovial for a man who has just lost "the best manager in baseball," the Cardinal owner beamed as he talked of the 1946 season. "Eddie Dyer is a fine man with a splendid record. I'll have no worries about my manager next year. When Billy (Southworth) told me he wanted to leave, I didn't know what I was going to do. I was left high and dry. But we're all set now."

Surprising announcements such as Southworth's release, have been coming from Breadon's office ever since he fired Branch Rickey as manager in 1925 and then set him up as director of what was to become baseball's first and most extensive farm system.

"Some of those deals were good for us and some weren't," Breadon recalled. "They're all history now and I don't like to talk about them. I've tried to forget the bad ones."

What about all the Cardinal stars returning from the armed forces for 1946? Would any be sold, and who? Which members of the 1945 club are assured of jobs? Breadon brushed away the questions with a broad smile.

"It's too early to answer any of those," he said.

New Card Manager Pleased With Position

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Drawing Eddie Dyer, expressing pleasant surprise at being named manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, said yesterday "If all the kids come back and we don't make any mistakes in placing them, we'll be the club to beat next season in the National League."

The 45-year-old Dyer, former Cardinals minor league executive and once manager of the Houston Buffs in the Texas league where he led the club home first three times in three seasons, declared "It was a big surprise to me although I always have wanted to manage a big league club. I certainly am glad to get back into baseball."

Dyer succeeded Billy Southworth, who resigned to become manager of the Boston Braves. "Since Southworth had a contract with another year to run I was surprised at his leaving the Cardinals," Dyer said. "I made certain he hadn't taken the step because of any disagreement with the club before I accepted the managership. I wouldn't have taken the job under such a circumstance."

Mastrangelo of Irish Named Best Lineman Of Week by AP Poll

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK (AP) — It was general agreed after last week's Notre Dame-Navy game that the outstanding feature of the battle — not counting the daffy finish — had been the magnificent play of Notre Dame's two guards, Fred Rovai and John Mastrangelo.

So it came as no great surprise when the country's sports-writers, doing a great job of splitting hairs, decided that Mastrangelo, a 19-year-old, 200-pound sophomore, had won the week's Associated Press award as "Lineman of the Week."

The youngster not only did much to pile up Navy's running game, but supplied many of the holes through which the Irish backs plunged for their touchdown on straight running plays in the opening period.

Another lineman upon whom much praise was heaped by coast observers was Ed Ryan, an end for the unbeaten, untied St. Mary's Gaels, who played a big part in routing U. S. C.

Southern writers voted early and often for Kelley Mote, Duke end; Knox Ramsey, William and Mary tackle, and Gaston Bourgeois, Tulane guard.

Mid-west observers said Max Morris, Northwestern end, played an outstanding game against victorious Ohio State. R. E. Blount, Texas end, caught a 33-yard pass for the game winner against S. M. U.

Other linemen who received at least one vote for sectional honors included: Ends: Leonard Ford, Michigan; Bill Leonard, Notre Dame. Tackles: Max Schnittker, Ohio State; Ed Mieszkowski, Notre Dame. Guards: Warren Amling, Ohio State.

Wisconsin Prepares For Wildcat Game

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Coach Harry Stuhldreher's university of Wisconsin gridder's staged one of their best drills of the season yesterday as they stopped Northwestern plays in a tune up for the Badger homecoming Saturday against the Wildcats.

Stuhldreher said that guard George Urbanis would be out for the rest of the season because of injuries but two other Badger cripples, tackle Martin Meter and guard Wray George, rejoined the squad Tuesday.

LOST FOR SEASON

Just when Coach Clem Crowe thought he'd found a happy prescription for his backfield headaches, Old Man Injury bobbed up and handed him a pain that makes the former one look anemic by comparison.

The problem now settles at left halfback and fullback. Last week the coaches shifted Paul Golden from right to left halfback and were satisfied by the result in the Wisconsin game. Now Golden can't hit full stride because of a painful rib injury and may not be able to start Saturday against the Illini at Champaign.

And Obern Simons, No. 1 left half replacement, is still limping with a pulled tendon in his knee, and can't be counted on

Fagerlind Captain

Paul Fagerlind will be Iowa's game captain for the third time this season when he leads the Hawks against Illinois Saturday at Champaign. The rough little right guard also was captain against Ohio State and Wisconsin.

for much help. It looks like a heavy portion of the burden may fall on Jack Kelso and Johnny Hunter.

The fullback situation isn't much better. Of course, big Art Johnson will be ready for his third starting assignment and has been improving with every game. But replacements this week will include only Herb Braun, who has been playing halfback the past few weeks.

Carl Bowen, No. 2 fullback, may be lost to the squad for the rest of the season, due to an injury received in practice.

Not very quieting to Coach Crowe's frame of mind are the continuing reports of Illinois lineup shifts to make room for returning regulars who have missed games because of injuries.

But practice for the Illinois Dad's day game Saturday went ahead according to schedule last night with the first string working hard against Illini defensive formations. No other lineup shifts seemed likely, except that Danny Sheehan again seemed likely to start at right end in place of veteran Bob Gustafson.

The rest of Iowa's lineup looked like this: Loehlein at left end, Kay and Hammond at tackles, Fagerlind and Ginsberg at guards and Lund at center. Jerry Niles was quarterbacking as usual and the backfield combinations varied to relieve injured first stringers.

Illinois Sets Lineup For Game With Hawks

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Coach Ray Eliot put the University of Illinois football squad through a two hour drill yesterday as the squad sets its sights on at least one Big Ten victory over last place Iowa here Saturday.

Eliot indicated that Bill Krall will start at fullback, Bill Butkovich at quarterback and Gene Kwasniewski and Stan Stasica at the halves. The rest of the lineup: Bill Heiss and Ray Cizek, ends; Bill Kolens and Buker Jones, tackles; Les Bingaman and Bob Lunn, guards; Mac Wenskunas, center.

ATLANTA (AP) — Emory Ellsworth (Swede) Larson, 46-year-old colonel of Marines whose general leadership of football teams endeared him to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., died here yesterday.

Colonel Larson was stricken several days ago while in Atlanta in the course of his naval duties. As player and as coach at the Navy, Larson had the distinction of never having been beaten by the Army.

The arrival of one sports celebrity and the imminent departure of another was reported today by officials at the Navy Pre-Flight school. Arriving was Lt. Cmdr. Don Heap, star Northwestern fullback of several years ago, who returned to the station where he helped Bernie Bierman coach the 1942 Seahawks.

Scheduled for transfer to the Great Lakes discharge center next week is Lt. Mike Basiak, former Pittsburgh university center and later a mainstay of the Pittsburgh pro team. Pre-Flight officials said Heap would be assigned to coaching squad athletic teams until the base here is decommissioned and moved to Ottumwa — probably about the first of December.

U High to Begin Cage Drills In Defense of Conference Title

University high school, defending basketball champions of the Eastern Iowa conference, will begin court drills Monday under the direction of Coach Don Barnhart. Twelve games have been scheduled for the Rivermen, including eight league trays.

Co-captains Steve Nusser and John Miller are the only veterans returning from last year's champions, and Barnhart stated yesterday that prospects did not look too good. However, the Blue Hawks rarely fail to put out a tough basketball team, and a slate of good opponents has been arranged.

Nusser, highest scorer in the league at forward for the past two years, seems all set for another good year. John Miller, who became a regular guard last winter, has a full season's experience under his belt and should be an even better defensive ballplayer than last year, when he did a great job of holding opposing forwards away from the scoring zone.

New prospects for the team included Bill Greene, football star who will transfer his athletic abilities to the hardwood; Joe Carlstrom, a second-team player last winter, and Ralph Donovan, who played center for the reserves then. Other outstanding candidates will probably be Gus Helm and Dick Briceland.

Drills will start in earnest Monday after a one-week lay-off after the grid season. The first contest of the year will be played with Williamsburg here Nov. 30, and the Rivermen will have just three weeks of practice before the opener.

A list of tough opponents, all hoping to dethrone the champs, is waiting for the Blue Hawks this season. Such schools as West Branch, perennial competitor, West Liberty and Mt. Vernon will be out to stop the Rivermen.

A new addition to the University high schedule this winter is Teachers high school of Cedar Falls, which will be met in a home and home series. The game to be played in Iowa City is scheduled for Feb. 9, and the date for the return clash has not been set.

Hoosiers' McMillin Fears Gopher Vets

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Coach A. N. (Bo) McMillin of Indiana sometimes wishes he hadn't seen the performance put on by Minnesota's seniors at Ann Arbor last Saturday.

"My, my, my, my, what power they've got—and nine seniors—think of it—nine seniors in the starting lineup," wailed Bo, who left his team with assistants to see the game.

"It just as soon play Michigan next Saturday instead of Minnesota if Michigan did beat them," said McMillin.

Thus, McMillin's hopes for a victory at Minneapolis Saturday are none too high because the Hoosiers were able to turn back Michigan in the season's opener only by the margin of a lone touchdown.

"In Minnesota's starting lineup against Michigan there were 41 years of experience out of a possible 44," he figured. "Against that we'll have to start only 25 years of experience. That's a real difference."

Maybe Bo had in mind some of his youngsters—George Talaferro, for instance. The freshman from Gary is the Hoosiers' most spectacular ball carrier and also kicks. What the experience since the Michigan game has done to settle down Talaferro in kicking against a rushing line remains to be seen. Against Michigan's pressure, two of his kicks went less than 10 yards.

The Hoosiers, unbeaten and leading the Big Ten, will be in peak condition for the game Saturday after a breather against Cornell college from Iowa last week with no men hurt.

Former Navy Coach, Swede Larson, Dies

AKK's Win, Take 1st Place

Alpha Kappa Kappa received a serious scare last evening before narrowly squeezing by a rejuvenated Psi Omega sextet, 21 to 13, to remain unbeaten and in first place of the professional fraternity section of the touch football league.

The game was one of the best of the year, and the Dents surprised everyone with their fine showing against the highly favored A.K.K.'s. The victory gives the A.K.K. first place in the final league standings, and puts them into the play-off which will be held immediately after the other sections complete play.

Nu Sigma Nu, with only one defeat during the season, won again to end up with a 4-1 record. The Phi Chi's were the victims as they fell, 25 to 0. The Nu Sigma had no trouble scoring at will in an abbreviated contest. Phi Rho Sigma whipped Phi Beta Pi, 19 to 7, ending the year with only one loss.

Second place Delta Upsilon, still on the heels of Phi Gamma Delta, tackles Phi Delta Theta in tonight's feature attraction, while Phi Kappa Psi will play Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The final contest of section two pits Beta Theta Pi against Theta Xi. The Phi Gamma are idle, and a D.U. victory would put them in a precarious position. The same holds true for a Phi Psi defeat of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Billy Conn Appears In Poor Condition; Savold Wins Bout

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ex-Army Corporal Billy Conn, of Pittsburgh, Pa., challenger to heavyweight champion Joe Louis, waltzed through a three-round exhibition last night with Bearcat Jones, a Pittsburgh training mate specialist, before a crowd of approximately 4,000.

About 10 pounds over his pre-war fighting weight at 194, Conn appeared in poor condition, but gave the disappointed crowd a thrill in the third stanza when he drove a couple of sharp lefts to Jones' midsection.

Earlier last night, in the first bout on a double feature boxing card, Lee Savold, 199, veteran from Des Moines, Ia., knocked out Sunny Jim Williams, 185, Toledo, Ohio, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Dr. S. F. Singer of Ottumwa will give "A Memorial Address on the 50th Anniversary of the Discovery of X-Ray" when the Iowa State Medical society airs over WSUI at 9:30 this morning.

Pleasant surprise for Connie Haines, Abbott and Costello show songstress (Thursday at 9 p. m. via WHO), when she went to sing to an incoming transport at San Pedro harbor one dawn this week, was her unexpected meeting with a former schoolmate whom she hadn't seen in six years. Aboard the S. S. Alcoa Patriot, loaded with 3,000 returning veterans of the Pacific war theater, was her friend, Sgt. Jack Humphries, who attended high school with the radio singer in Jacksonville, Fla.

Lee J. Cobb, Broadway actor now portraying a role in the new 20th Century-Fox picture, "Queen of Siam," will star on the "Suspense" "theater of thrills" tonight as the first of a series of top-flight supporting actors to be featured on the program in coming months. The policy will be to star high-caliber dramatic players, such as Cobb, Henry Daniell, Ray Collins and other outstanding actors who have gained reputations for "stealing" scenes. Incidentally, "Suspense" is right up there in the race for fine mystery entertainment.

7 Plead Guilty To Charges In Court

Seven of the eight Solon and Hills men charged in the county attorney's information with illegal possession of liquor and gambling devices pleaded guilty in the district court yesterday.

The informations were filed Monday by County Attorney Jack C. White after raids made Oct. 28 by Sheriff Preston Koser, White, and nine special agents from the state bureau of criminal investigation netted 22 slot machines, other gambling devices and quantities of Iowa and Illinois liquor.

District Judge James P. Gaffney assessed fines totaling $2,476 against the seven tavern operators who pleaded guilty.

Charles Myers, operator of the Schlitz Beer tavern, Solon, was granted the statutory right of five days in which to file his pleas with Judge Gaffney. Myers is charged on both liquor and gambling counts. It is his second offense on the charge of possessing gambling devices.

Alta Scanlon, Hamm's tavern, Solon, was fined $330 and costs on the liquor charge and $100 and costs on a gambling charge.

Ray Krall, Ray's tavern, Solon, was fined $330 and costs on a liquor charge and $100 and costs for gambling devices.

Harold Diehl, Budweiser Beer tavern, Solon, paid $330 and costs for liquor and $100 and costs for gambling devices.

H. H. Kessler, Country Club tavern, Solon, paid $330 and costs for liquor and $100 and costs for gambling devices.

D. M. Hill, Red Rose tavern, Hills, was fined $330 and costs for liquor, and $100 and costs for gambling devices.

Roy Eastwood, Solon cafe, was fined $100 and costs for possession of gambling devices.

Clifford Hirt, Schmidt's City Club tavern, Hills, paid $100 and costs for gambling devices.

Forfeiture and condemnation of the confiscated evidence was waived by all the men except Diehl and Krall, who wanted the cabinets which held slot machines exempted. Judge Gaffney set Tuesday at 2 p. m. as the date for the hearing.

Judge Gaffney has ordered the gambling devices destroyed after all money in them has been turned over to the Johnson county school fund. Sheriff Koser and State Agent G. M. Strand have been directed to carry out the order. The liquor will be distributed to the three hospitals in Johnson county, the University hospital, Mercy hospital, and the state hospital at Oakdale.

New Postage Stamp Will Carry Portrait Of Alfred E. Smith

Alfred E. Smith, governor of New York from 1923 to 1928, will be honored on a three-cent stamp which will go on sale at the New York City postoffice Nov. 26 and be available here shortly afterwards, postoffice officials said yesterday.

A portrait of the former American political leader, who was democratic candidate for president in 1928, will be the central design of the stamp. The dates 1873-1944 appear near the bottom center and "Alfred E. Smith" is printed across the top.

This new issue will be of usual dimensions, printed in purple.

Stamp collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send more than ten addressed envelopes to the postmaster, New York City. Each cover should be ordinary letter size and contain an enclosure of medium weight. The flaps must be sealed or turned in.

Cash, money orders or postal note remittances to cover the cost of the stamps should accompany orders. Postage stamps and personal checks will not be accepted. Uncanceled stamps cannot be sent with the first-day covers.

The Philatelic agency, postoffice department, Washington, 25, D. C., will be ready to supply collectors with stamps of selected quality about Nov. 27. Mail orders should be restricted to one variety of stamp and no first-day covers are available.

The coast guard stamp, third in the armed forces series, will probably reach the Iowa City postoffice early next week. It goes on sale at the New York branch Nov. 10, where first-day cancellations are available.

Research Program to Help Determine Aerial Gunnery Training

A research program for all interested men who have had no previous aerial or anti-aircraft training in the armed forces will begin tomorrow in the psychology laboratory, where aerial gunnery training devices have recently been assembled.

This experimental project is to help determine the best way to put men through training. It is a continuation of a war research series first begun with the national research council and the army airforce.

Devices available are those secured through a contract between the university and the navy's office of research and inventions. They were used by the navy in the training of aerial gunners.

Each subject in the individual and group sessions will be paid 50c an hour.

Capt. Robert Moyer Relates Experiences In Greek Warfare

"I learned from the Greeks what it means to give everything for a cause you believe in," said Capt. Robert Moyer, 1942 graduate of the university college of dentistry, in a talk at a meeting of the Lions club yesterday noon.

Moyer, who served as medical administration and supply officer and liaison officer for the different bands of Greeks who were waging guerrilla warfare against the Germans, was one of five American soldiers parachuted into Greece in 1943.

Working with British officers and men left behind when the English forces withdrew from Greece, the Americans served to unify and coordinate the activities of the resistance bands. Many airmen who were shot down in Greece joined the bands, Moyer said.

"Even the children were fearless," he said, telling of one nine-year-old boy who cried "not because his hand was injured by a faulty grenade, but because he was unable to throw more bombs at the Germans."

Moyer also worked during the period of civil war between the E.D.E.S. and the E.L.A.S., he said, distributing medical supplies and transferring wounded to the hospitals.

Three young Greeks from the Athens university, who served with Moyer as interpreters, are coming to the University of Iowa to study, he said.

University Chorus Program Termed 'Varied, Successful'

By MERY LOUISE PALMER
The University Chorus presented a varied and interesting program made up of songs from many countries, including the United States, Russia, England and Norway, in their first concert of the season last night.

Handel's "Hallelujah, Amen" brought the concert to a powerful, yet almost reverent opening. In the rendition of Cesar Franck's "Kyrie Eleison" from "Mass in A," some of his greatest church music was presented by the chorus in an inspiring and truly fitting manner.

"Land-Sighting," which so aptly expresses the grandeur that is Greig's Norway, was performed with the excellent accompaniment work on the piano by Joyce Horton. Prof. Thomas Muir sang the tenor solo in rich and glowing tones. "The Well-Beloved" was presented with Ray Wallace, tenor, and Patricia Miller, soprano, singing the solo parts.

Brahms "Chorus of Homage" brought the rather somber program to a lighter plane. The song, buoyant and almost operatic in nature, was sung in a rollicking manner that left the listener in gayer spirits.

The second part of the program

Clothing Collection For Czechoslovakians Nets Over 800 Pounds

Between 800 to 1,000 pounds of clothing were contributed to the Czechoslovakian clothing drive, according to Topsy Carberry, A2 of Cedar Rapids, who was in charge of the drive. Seven drums, which will be sent to New York City for shipment to Europe, were filled. The drums are circular cases about three feet high with a diameter of almost two feet.

"The clothes were unusually fine, and everything was in good condition," Miss Carberry said. One whole drum was filled with shoes. There were from 150 to 200 sweaters and about 50 coats. Skirts and dresses also were predominant.

started as the first had, with religious music as its theme. Tcherpnin's "The Beatitudes" and the "Cherubim Song" by Gretchaninoff were performed with warmth and grace. Marenzio's "Lady, See on Every Side" represented the appeal of a lover to his lady.

Karl Schmidt presented a very believable policeman as the bass of Sir Arthur Sullivan's "When the Foeman Bares His Steel" from the unforgettable "Pirates of Penzance." This selection and "Rantin' Rovin' Robin," a Scotch folk song, were received enthusiastically by the audience.

The concluding number of the concert was Karl McDonald's "startling and dynamic." "The Breadth and Extent of a Man's Empire" which was a fitting climax for a thoroughly successful concert.
