Chinese Drive Through Wall

Nationalists Invade Manchuria as Reds Withdraw From City

CHINWANGTAO (AP)—Chinese Nationalist troops punched through the Great Wall of China into Manchuria yesterday, Nationalist army headquarters announced.

Headquarters said this first ground penetration of Manchuria by the Nationalists followed withdrawal of the Communist Eighth army forces from the city of Shanhaikwan, coastal terminus of the wall.

The report added there had been no heavy fighting at any time, (earlier there had been reports the communists were massed in strength at Shanhaikwan and were prepared to wage a large scale battle.)

The announcement came from Gen. Tu Li-Ming, commander of Nationalist forces.

Abrupt End

The abrupt end of the armed stalemate along the Great Wall came three days after it had been reported in Chungking that Shanhaikwan had fallen to the Nationalists. Actually at that time, the Communists had pushed down from the gate city and had reached within seven miles of Nationalist headquarters at Chinwangtao, the Nationalist commander said.

Tu explained that his forces recovered their former positions after one division was sent on a wide enveloping movement, passing through the wall at the virtually undefended town of Chiuman, six miles west of Shanhaikwan, and then sliced down to threaten the rear of the Communists.

Shots Fired

Shots fired from a Communist-United States marine general brought a stern marine threat of punitive air attack yesterday as Chinese Communists and government forces maneuvered for possession of Manchuria and the rich northern provinces.

Three hundred yards of track and roadbed were destroyed by land mines which caused several casualties among Chinese workers. No American injuries were reported.

Court Convicts Belsen's Beast

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP)—A British military court yesterday convicted Josef Kramer, the "Beast of Belsen," and 29 of his specialists in human misery of committing atrocities at the Belsen and Oswiecim concentration camps, but acquitted 14 defendants, including five women.

Sixteen of the convicted were women. Last night the 30 sullenly awaited sentences of death by hanging or shooting, or of imprisonment and fines, to be announced this afternoon after defense lawyers finish pleas.

Major defendants convicted with the brute-faced, 29-year-old Kramer were Irma Grese, 22, the blonde "queen" of the Belsen gang, and Dr. Fritz Klein, gray-haired physician who, witnesses said, picked victims for the Oswiecim gas chamber.

Acquittal of such a large number as 14 was the only surprise. The court said that, after making an impartial survey of the evidence, it was obliged to rule in their favor.

Byrnes Speaks on Atomic Energy—

Predicts Control Board Soon

CHARLESTON, S. C., (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes declared last night that the Anglo-American atomic control program is the first step "in an effort to rescue the world from a desperate armament race."

He predicted that the United Nations atomic energy commission proposed in the program could be set up within 60 days, and he denied any suggestion that an attempt was being made to use the atomic bomb as a "diplomatic or military threat against any nation."

The secretary spoke at "the mayor's dinner" in celebration of Charleston's "Jimmie Byrnes' homecoming day." His speech was broadcast nationally (NBC).

Byrnes summed up the program announced Thursday by President

Truman, Prime Minister Attlee of Britain and Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada by saying: "It is our purpose and grave duty to act in our relations with other nations with the boldness and generosity that the atomic age demands of us."

"No officials of government have ever been called upon to make a decision fraught with more serious consequences. We must act. But we will act in a manner that will not undermine our safety or the safety of the world."

"Our declarations of willingness to exchange immediately the basic scientific information and our plans for the setting up of a commission under United Nations sponsorship have been sent by me to members of the United Nations organization. We look forward to their cooperation."

Byrnes said the decision to release the production know-how of atomic materials only after "effective safeguards" can be set up was in line with President Truman's previously declared policy of holding the atomic bomb as a "sacred trust—a trust in the exercise of which we are already under 'definite international obligation.'"

While it is necessary, in the Anglo-American-Canadian view, to hold atomic production secrets for a time, Byrnes said that "this period need not be unnecessarily prolonged."

"We must banish war. To that great goal of humanity we must ever rededicate our hearts and strength."

Communists Force Action

DeGaulle, Strong French Reds Clash Over New Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—A political crisis stirred France last night after General De Gaulle's office announced he had decided to resign as interim president due to a deadlock with the powerful Communist party over his new cabinet.

Sources close to the French leader, however, said his letter of resignation, as yet not made public, indicated a willingness to continue efforts to form a government. There was an immediate flurry of political conferences through the day.

The Communist party, which won the most seats in the constituent assembly in the last election, had demanded "political posts," including one of the three top ministries—foreign affairs, war or interior—as its price for participating in a coalition government.

Letter Delivered to Gouin
De Gaulle's letter was delivered last night to Felix Gouin, president of the constituent assembly, which elected De Gaulle Tuesday to serve as president during creation of the fourth republic.

The decision whether to accept or reject the resignation rests in the hands of the assembly, which will convene again Monday.

Gouin received the letter at 6:30 p. m., G. M. T. (1:30 p. m., C. S. T., read it, and announced immediately that the text would not be made public until it is placed before the assembly.

De Gaulle Requests Debate
One source, who said he heard the letter read, reported De Gaulle said in it that he was unable to form a government, and had requested a full-dress assembly debate on the Communist demands, with the assembly then to decide whether De Gaulle or someone else should try to form a government.

An announcement by the ministry of information said: "Negotiations are under way between the president of the constituent assembly. The text of this letter will not be published."

Intimates of De Gaulle said he had failed to agree with the Communists on organization of a cabinet, but added that he stated in the letter that if the assembly wishes him to try further, he is ready to undertake the risk.

Navy Unprepared For Big Battle—King

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ranking officer of the United States navy says it has been so weakened by demobilization that it couldn't fight a major battle now.

This remark was made on Capitol Hill today by Admiral of the Fleet Ernest J. King, who went there to endorse peacetime training for all youths of 18.

Questioning about demobilization by members of the house military committee led to the admiral's appraisal of the navy's situation as of now.

The chief of naval operations was talking about how fast the navy is releasing key men, breaking up combat teams and disintegrating the units that smashed the Japanese fleet.

700 Workers Strike At La Plant-Choate

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Approximately 700 workers at the La Plant-Choate manufacturing company here went out on strike at 8:45 p. m. Friday. 300 office workers were not affected.

Union officials said the strike was called after the company had refused to agree to the union's demands on wages.

Roy E. Choate, president of the company said a five-cents per hour increase had been offered by the company. The union turned it down flatly.

"The union wants a guarantee from the company that wages will be raised when the hours of work are reduced below the present 48-hour week," a statement issued by the union said.

'Kill All Yank Prisoners!'

Filipino Witness Charges Yamashita Gave Blunt Kill Order

MANILA (AP)—A blunt order to "kill all prisoners of war in the Philippines" was attributed to Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita yesterday at his war crimes trial by a Filipino witness.

The witness said he was told by a Japanese captain that such an order from Yamashita to General Tajima, commanding the Japanese garrison on Bataan island, figured in the execution of three American airmen.

In cross-examination, the witness repeated the alleged order in Japanese and the interpreter said the wording included "American Soldiers."

Prior to testimony on the airmen, the case of a tortured soldier was detailed.

Statements presented the military commission hearing the case described torture marks found on the body of Pvt. Wade Gensemer, of San Francisco, First cavalry division trooper captured Nov. 1, 1944, while on patrol near Carabara.

A medical officer's report said the body bore bayonet wounds, a left-hand fingernail had been removed and the feet showed evidence they had been burned. The officer believed Gensemer died of torture.

Rafael Pune, a Filipino, said he saw a downed American airman, Capt. William Burch, blindfolded, tied to a tree and bayoneted to death after he was captured about Nov. 20, 1944, on Bataan island, northernmost island of the Philippines.

A Japanese prisoner of war, interpreter on the island, told the commission Burch pleaded with the Japanese lieutenant who was in charge of the execution party, but was brave and made no sound when the soldiers thrust their bayonets into his body.

Pune testified that the captain was still moving when the Japanese dragged him to a shallow grave and kicked dirt over him.

The prosecution said three American fliers were executed at about the same time.

A Japanese admiral Thursday placed the responsibility for alleged atrocities committed against Filipinos and American civilians in the Philippines, in the hands of the Japanese army—not the navy.

Soldiers With Three Or More Children Win Release Dec. 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The soldier with a big family will be eligible to get out of the army after Dec. 1, regardless of his point score.

Men with three or more dependent children under 18 years of age will be eligible for release. Length of service doesn't matter.

The new point score for enlisted men will be 55, instead of the present 60. In addition, a soldier with four years of honorable service can ask for discharge regardless of his age. This will add 783,000 men and women to the number eligible for release.

Later, the navy announced point revisions for officers and enlisted men in previously "frozen" classifications which it said would qualify nearly 10,000 for release by Jan. 1.

Hancher Airs Stadium Issue

In referring to naming the stadium, President Hancher said yesterday, "There's no adequate time for consideration and presentation of the matter during the current football season."

President Hancher received the resolution recommending naming the stadium Nile Kinnick stadium from the Student Council yesterday afternoon.

"Due consideration will be given now that the resolution is on my desk," President Hancher continued.

A recommendation for naming the stadium would have to be presented to the state board of education by the university administration, according to Prof. Karl Lieb, chairman of the board of control of athletics. The board of control has no jurisdiction over the naming of university buildings.

The next meeting of the state board of education is scheduled for some time in December.

Occasional Light Rain In Iowa City Today

You had better carry your raincoats and umbrellas to the football game today because thunderstorms all over the country are moving in for the kill on Iowa City. Broken clouds with occasional light showers might dampen the local area somewhat, but never the Hawkeye spirit.

The temperature stood at 49 degrees at midnight last night and the outlook for fairly warm weather today is good. High yesterday was 61 degrees and low was 36 degrees.

Cheap Atomic Bombs Seen

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Atomic bombs cheap enough so that tens of thousands of them may be dropped in the next war were predicted yesterday by Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the scientist who headed the making of atomic bombs at Los Alamos, N. M.

Dr. Oppenheimer spoke at the first postwar atomic energy conference held jointly by the American philosophical society and the National Academy of Sciences.

"Because it is known that the project cost two billion dollars, and we dropped just two bombs, it is easy to think that they must be expensive," he added, "but for any serious undertaking in atomic armament—and without any elements of technical novelty whatever, just doing things that have already been done, that estimate of cost would be high by something like a factor of one thousand. Atomic weapons, even with what we know today, can be cheap."

New medical discoveries from the atomic bomb were reported by Dr. Robert S. Stone, University of California. They were made in studying the rays emitted by 30 common chemical elements which are transformed into substances like radium.

New York Central Sleeper Sideswipes Freight; 22 Injured

LYDICK, Ind. (AP)—The New York-bound Advance Commodore Vanderbilt sideswiped a freight train yesterday and seven passenger cars tipped over, injuring 22 persons.

State police, hospitals and newspaper men had no reports of fatalities aboard the 15-car all Pullman train of the New York Central system.

The seven cars that tipped over were five sleepers, a dormitory car and a lounge car. Six cars which were derailed but remained upright were four sleepers, a diner and a second lounge car. Two hundred and fourteen passengers were aboard, railroad headquarters in Chicago reported.

The collision occurred about three and a quarter miles west of Lydick which is six miles west of Southbend. As the Commodore approached a west bound freight train, several freight cars were derailed and spilled in the path of the oncoming passenger train.

A quarter mile of track was torn up by the impact and ten freight cars were demolished. Physicians and ambulances from surrounding cities were summoned and the injured were taken to hospitals in South Bend, Mishawaka and Laporte.

Relief trains were dispatched from Chicago and Cleveland to remove passengers aboard the damaged cars. Traffic was rerouted over the Michigan Central lines through Niles, Mich.

No fatalities were reported; immediately to the police department in South Bend, officers said.

Army to Use B-36 In Atom Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army air forces hopes to use the gigantic B-36 in tests of the atomic bomb on such targets as naval vessels.

The B-36, which will dwarf any aircraft now flying, is now well along in construction. It is described as having range and bomb carrying capacity far greater than the B-29 superfortress.

Air force officials told newsmen yesterday they believe their organization is the logical group to make tests with the atomic bomb. Their argument is this: The only two atomic bombs used so far—on Hiroshima and Nagasaki—were carried by B-29's; The experience gained and the planes used, the superfortresses, are ready for immediate tests; The B-36 and other world-ranging types of giant bombers are on the way.

The air force wants to test both its new aircraft and the bombs.

Brewster Says Navy Report Needs Proof

Investigation of Pearl Harbor Attack Goes Into Third Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Brewster (R., Me.) declared last night a navy-prepared summary giving the Japanese story of the Pearl Harbor attack was designed to show that former Secretary of State Hull "was not responsible for the war."

Brewster made this statement at a news conference held by the four Republican members after a senate-house investigation committee completed its second day of testimony on the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) and Representatives Gearhart (R., Calif.) and Keefe (R., Wis.) joined Brewster in complaining that the summary—to be presented to the committee today by Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis—offered navy conclusions without any supporting proof.

Confidential copies of the summary have been in the hands of the committee members since Thursday afternoon.

Brewster told reporters that just as the Republicans demanded at yesterday's hearing the producing of United States ships' logs and the calling of on-the-scene witnesses, they would insist that the navy's summary be supported by first hand evidence of captured Japanese documents.

Brewster said the report had been quoted from by Secretary of State Byrnes recently to show that long before Hull made the final American proposal to Japanese "peace" envoys on November 25, 1941, the Japanese had made plans for the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Congress Okays Plan For Flood Protection Along Missouri River

DES MOINES (AP)—Congress here approved a plan for flood protection for 1,500,000 acres of fertile land along the Missouri river, Lt. Col. Delbert B. Freeman, army district engineer at Omaha, yesterday told the Iowa section of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

He said the plan called for eventual construction of 105 reservoirs and levees to control high waters.

"It will also provide a steady flow of water for navigation," Freeman said. "The channel was six feet until this spring, and we now have authority under the rivers and harbors act to make it a nine-foot channel."

The Iowa section elected as its officers Prof. E. W. Lane, Iowa City, president; L. W. Mahone, Clear Lake, vice president, and L. O. Stewart, Ames, secretary-treasurer.

Krupp Plants Seized

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP)—The huge, once-powerful Krupp munitions dynasty was seized by the British yesterday, and an official declared this kingpin of German armed might would "cease to exist."

Three Confess To Robbery At Shenandoah

DES MOINES (AP)—Two men and a woman, arrested Thursday night at San Antonio, Texas, have confessed to the $6,000 diamond robbery of a Shenandoah jewelry store, E. E. Kuhn, federal bureau of investigation agent in Iowa, said last night he had been advised.

None of the loot obtained by the trio in the robbery at the Anshutz Jewelry store was recovered, Kuhn was told. The trio was quoted as saying the stones had been disposed of at filling stations and drug stores as they traveled into the southwest.

The trio was identified by San Antonio police as William Saling and his wife, Norma, and a Mexican known as "Butch." Both men, Kuhn said, were released from the Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., federal penitentiary this spring.

Two men robbed the Shenandoah store just before closing time Oct. 31, and escaped in a car driven by a woman.

Kuhn said it was not known whether the three would be returned to Iowa for prosecution as it was believed "several other states" wanted them on armed robbery charges.

San Antonio police arrested them for questioning in connection with an armed robbery there, Kuhn was told.

Eisenhower Declares Proposed Unification Of Forces Essential

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared yesterday that "the era of atomic weapons" makes unification of the armed forces a must.

Not only is "unity of concept, indoctrination and training more necessary than ever," he told the senate military committee. But "only through a single department can coordinated development of new weapon be assured."

Unless unification is achieved, and quickly, the general foresaw separate army, navy and air forces going their separate ways.

"They will no more fit together than a bulldog and a tomcat on a team," he added.

Acting Chairman Johnson (D., Col.) announced that Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who flew here from his Pacific command, would testify this forenoon in an unusual Saturday session. Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal supplied names of more than twenty admirals and civilian navy leaders to testify against the unification proposal.

Eisenhower drew frequently from his experiences in directing 5,000,000 fighters assembled from several nations to crush Nazism in Europe to argue for two hours for unified command.

His first example was the capture of the tiny island of Pantelleria, in the jumpoff from Africa to Italy.

Steps Taken To Save Java From Starvation

Van Mook Summons Indonesian Cabinet To Discuss Situation

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—Acting Governor Hubertus Van Mook last night summoned the new Indonesian Nationalist cabinet to meet with him in an effort to save Java from economic ruin and starvation, and cabinet leaders indicated they would comply, perhaps by tonight.

A government survey released at the same time said 2,000,000 persons in western Java were in danger of starvation because of lack of transportation facilities for food.

While the British reported they were extending their control in embattled Soerabaja against diminishing Indonesian resistance, Van Mook told newsmen that further delay in attempting to end strife in Java "would be most harmful."

"On our side we have been trying to make contact with Nationalist leaders for some time, because we believe cooperation between the Dutch and Indonesians is the only way out of the present difficulty," Von Mook added. "Java by itself cannot come out of the economic spiral it is in."

The new nationalist premier, Sutan Sjahrir, and his minister of information, Amir Sjarifuddin, "moderate" leaders of the unrecognized Indonesian Republic, said they hoped members of the new cabinet would arrive in Batavia from the interior tomorrow in time to hold their first cabinet meeting.

Van Mook declared it was imperative that both sides cooperate to solve the pressing problems of keeping law and order and forestalling economic disaster. He said the safety of thousands of people in the interior was at stake and "the economic situation is deteriorating rapidly."

Leaves No Will

BUSTER, the tom cat which was willed $40,000 last year to care for him in his declining years, is dead, leaving a problem for lawyers to settle, for Buster left no will. Woodbury Rand, Boston attorney who died in July, 1944, left the sum to Buster, at the same time cutting off several of his relatives.

Bad Weather Driving—Hints to Motorists

With bad weather conditions just around the corner, the national safety council has these hints for automobile drivers:

- 1. Drive slowly on slippery roadways; stop, turn and use brakes with caution.
2. Approach curves, hills, bridges, railroad tracks, danger and caution signs with reduced speed and extra care.
3. Before descending steep or slippery grades, shift into second or low speed.
4. Make sure the windshield wiper operates effectively.
5. Sleet on the windshield may be avoided by wiping the glass with glycerine and by raising or blocking up the rear end of the hood to let the engine heat help melt the ice.
6. In heavy mist or fog use the headlights with depressed beam; the upper beam or a spotlight will glare back at you.
7. In night driving wipe the mud or snow from headlamps frequently; also clean the entire windshield often.
8. Keep out of ruts in mud, snow and frozen ground. Beware of soft shoulders. If off the pavement, slow down and turn back with great care to avoid a skid or a lurch into another traffic lane.
9. Spinning the rear wheels only digs deeper into mud or snow. Rock the car forward and back a few inches repeatedly until you can pull or back out.

These hints, tested and re-tested by the safety council, have been found the best safeguards against winter accidents. The council points to skidding as one of the big dangers and says it can be avoided by being sure the car brakes are in good condition and by following a few rules.

Travel at moderate speed; reduce speed slowly; slow down before stopping or turning, and keep out of ruts. The council has found that tires grip the road better if inflated moderately. Hard tires skid more easily. Chains may help stop a skid, but they won't prevent skidding if the car is being driven recklessly. And the council adds:

'If you do skid, do not instantly slam on the brakes in a panic. Release the throttle, but leave the clutch engaged so that the engine will help to slow your car. Touch the brakes lightly, alternately exerting a little pressure and releasing them; and turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid.'

The council urges, above all, that drivers check their brakes. One car in seven in the United States has defective brakes—and those cars lead to accidents.

Europe's Dreaded Winter

(New York Times) In this newspaper yesterday reports were printed from the chief capitals of Europe and the Middle East which presented, as summed up from London by C. L. Sulzberger, a prospect of one of Europe's "blackest, saddest winters since the chaos of the Thirty Years war." It is a picture of cold, famine, misery and disease; a picture of more than 20,000,000 desperate and homeless people milling east and west, north and south across the continent; a picture of 800,000 Poles living in dugouts and in holes in the ground, with 10,000 dying each month of tuberculosis alone; a picture of 5,000 dying monthly in Vienna; a picture of coal shortage and food shortage almost everywhere. Our correspondent in Berlin declares that "this will be a winter of cold, hunger and idleness in all of Germany."

This is a desperate situation in all of Europe which urgently demands American aid. But outside aid alone will not be enough. The senate is being urged to appropriate $550,000,000 more for UNRRA for the rest of this year. It is expected that the president will shortly call upon congress for $1,350,000,000 to cover the requirements of next year. But these two sums together would make less than $2,000,000,000. It requires only a little elementary arithmetic to see that in a European population of more than 400,000,000 this means an average of only a few dollars a person if it had to be spread evenly. Urgent as outside help is, the real need, the primary need is the restoration of Europe's own production.

The main blow to that production has been, of course, the frightful devastation of war—the gutted cities, the demolished factories, the systematic destruction of bridges, railways, locomotives and motor transport, the killing of cattle, the neglect of farms. But only a little less important are the postwar political chaos and the economic policies in so many of these countries which discourage or prevent a revival of production. On the one hand chronically unbalanced budgets and resort to the printing press have brought about inflations of various degrees of violence. In Hungary, to take but a single instance, the contents of housewives' shopping baskets are reported to cost 400 times as much now as before the war, while "food prices are rising almost from minute to minute." On the other hand, most governments are seeking to deal with this situation by price fixing. The result of these combined policies has been in many cases to make speculation far more profitable than production; to discourage or prevent production by honest manufacturers and honest farmers, and to breed black markets and lawlessness everywhere.

In some countries hasty socialization plans are paralyzing production at this point or that. In many countries armies remain mobilized while manpower is desperately needed to relieve shortages. The breakdown of law at many points has encouraged looting, and still further discouraged production. There are daily reports that the Russian armies have been removing plants and machines, cattle and men, from eastern Germany and other countries. There is no assurance that the production thus made impossible at one point will be compensated by increased output at another.

On top of all this we have followed or permitted reparations policies which discourage and reduce production. Instead of putting the emphasis on the amount of reparations to be paid, and so trying to give the maximum help to the countries that were despoiled, the emphasis has been put on preventing the living standards of the countries which pay reparations from rising. If an individual is told that he must work to pay off a certain definite sum of money, but that he can keep whatever he earns above that for himself, he is likely to work as hard as he can to increase the total income he earns.

But if he is told that he will not in any case be allowed to keep for himself more than a certain fixed sum, he will tend to earn that fixed sum and no more. A similar result is likely if reparations are indefinite in amount or are likely to be raised indefinitely as income is increased.

All this does not mean that Americans can refuse to do less for Europe than they are able to do. What it does mean is that we must try to make our help count for as much as possible by doing everything in our power to see that it is accompanied by reforms that will restore the internal production that can be the only real and permanent salvation for Europe.

Covering The Capital

WASHINGTON — President Truman's universal military training message to congress takes its place with the September 21-point message as his most important public statement, and easily his most important speech.

Only a few days ago I passed along the question of whether the president might not have to abandon his back-slapping of congress and take his issues to the people if he wanted to get any part of his legislative program enacted.

The universal military training message was the first time he publicly has abandoned the glad-handing of congress. What he did was put the cat squarely on the lap of the legislators. He left no loopholes for compromise. And although it was, in name, a "message to congress," it was President Truman's first direct appeal to the people since the hour after he took office.

It's no secret on the hill that a good many members of congress are sore as all get out about it. Universal military training is political dynamite. Congress felt that it had stamped out the fuse and that it wouldn't need to be relighted before next spring at least—perhaps not until after the 1946 elections.

But with no equivocating whatever President Truman said that, in his opinion, a year of military training for all of the male youth of America is necessary to the safety of the nation for some years to come and that legislation to put that into effect should be forthcoming immediately.

President Roosevelt, in the bitterest days of his contentions with congress, never stated his case more clearly. President Truman was serving notice on the legislative body that he was four-square on one side and one side only of this most controversial issue. The rest of his half-hour address was to you and you. He outlined his ideas on the issue as clearly as if he were writing the legislation. And he explained the reasons for them.

He side-tracked all the secondary pro and con arguments that have been put forward about universal military training. He made it clear that these had nothing to do with his arriving at his decision—that the only thing he considered important was the future safety of the United States. His only mention of the secondary issues was the almost passing comment that the year of training would, in his opinion, not be lost, either educationally, morally or physically.

Regardless of the merits of the proposal, no stand on a much-debated issue could be stated with any more clarity. For the first time in his more than half-year in office, President Truman has put it squarely up to congress and the people, but leaving not a trace of doubt how he and his administration feel about it.

Even at this early date, it's becoming pretty clear that congress will try to continue its policy of doing nothing until forced to. Whether the people who heard and read the president's message will force congress to do something one way or another will be the first real test of the president's leadership of the nation.

From All Around The State

DES MOINES, (AP) — Iowa's mayors were asked yesterday whether their communities were interested in having aviation subjects taught in their high schools and colleges. Lester G. Orcutt, director of the Iowa aeronautics commission, made the query.

BURLINGTON, (AP) — School officials and student council leaders of Burlington and Ottumwa high schools issued a statement yesterday expressing alarm at an alleged increase in gambling on prep football games in those cities. The statement said the wagering constituted "a growing danger to the athletic relationship of the two schools."

MT. VERNON, (AP) — More than 100 delegates from Iowa colleges and universities heard Richard Wright, negro author and lecturer, declare that America's "negro problem" may lead "directly to fascism." Wright spoke Thursday night at the opening session of a racial relations conference at Cornell college.

ATLANTIC, (AP) — Cole's jewelry store was robbed of diamonds valued at $5,000 Thursday by two men and a woman whose descriptions, police said, fitted those of a similar trio who obtained $8-10,000 in diamonds at a Shenandoah jewelry store Oct. 30.

CHICAGO, (AP) — Mason City and Marshalltown were Iowa cities included in a list of midwestern communities allocated a total of 2,700 temporary dwellings for veterans, the federal public housing authority regional office announced yesterday. The accommodations consist mostly of trailers and some portable family dwellings. The number allotted to each city was not announced.

DES MOINES, (AP) — E. Lee Keyser, Des Moines area director of the war manpower commission, Monday will become acting state director of the United States employment service, formerly the WMC. He will succeed George Haskell, formerly University of Iowa instructor who has accepted a position as personnel director of a Chicago wholesale food concern.

'Golden Gophers To Be Tarnished' Says Fagerlind

"The student body has been behind us all year, we know that," said Paul Fagerlind, A2 of Waterloo, spokesman for the team, at the Dad's day pep rally last night, "and the team appreciates it. We aren't going to apologize for our past mistakes and when we walk off the field tomorrow, the 'Golden Gophers' will be tarnished—maybe."

Del Donahoe, A4 of Moravia, student body representative, said, "We're proud of our Hawkeyes and they know it. Tomorrow is our day to win, and I predict Iowa's victory bell will ring."

Introducing Harold Gillespie, U of Akron, master of ceremonies, was Everett Phillips, E4 of Iowa City, representative of the Student Council, sponsors of the rally. "I win or lose it's how you play the game," said Gillespie, and with a toast to sportsmanship, he gave the signal saying, "light the fire of sportsmanship," and the bonfire burst into flame.

Words of the Iowa Victory Chant, to be given it's first try at the game this afternoon, were read by Gillespie and the band under the direction of Prof. C. B. Righter.

Organized cheering was led by Rudy Bauer, A2 of Harlan; Snappy Arnold, A3 of Valparaiso, Ind.; Mickey Hawthorne, A3 of Creston, and Pat Kirby, A4 of Greenville.

The grid team was called up to the platform at the beginning of the rally and Fagerlind introduced Paul Golden, A2 of Minatare, Neb., team captain for tomorrow's game.

'Mary Sue' to Stay In Mercy Hospital; Named Court Ward

"Mary Sue," six-week old baby girl abandoned in downtown Iowa City Oct. 24, will remain at the Mercy hospital at least another six months, Judge James P. Gaffney of the district court ordered yesterday after declaring the child a ward of the court.

The baby, blue from cold and wearing only a shirt and a handkerchief for a diaper when she was found in a buggy in front of McNamara's furniture store, is in good health now and has gained two pounds and six ounces while at Mercy hospital.

Judge Gaffney ordered that at the end of the six-month period,

De Molays, Rainbow Girls Sponsor Joint Prom at Iowa Union

Plans are now being completed for the Rainolay prom to be given Saturday, Nov. 24, in the River room of Iowa Union.

Under the joint sponsorship of the De Molays and the Rainbow girls, the dance will be semi-formal. Russell Sapp and his orchestra will provide the music and hours for the dance are from 8:30 p. m. until 11:30 p. m.

Dale Godbey, master counselor of the De Molays, and Mary Belle Miles, worthy advisor of the Rainbow girls, are acting as co-chairmen of the various dance committees.

Serving on the planning committee are Mary Belle Miles, Marian Kirby, Margaret Goodnow, Ann Fenton, Dale Godbey, Evan Smith, Dick Emmert and Lenard Strasburg.

Members of the decoration committee are Bob Willheit, Dick Duncan, Dick Emmert, Bob Duncan, Marj Miller, Ann Fenton, June Schmidt and Patty Ricketts. Marian Kirby and Di Hornbabin are in charge of tickets for the dance. Dick Emmert will supervise the advertising and Dale

Mary Sue, represented at the hearing by William R. Hart as guardian ad litem, will be committed to the Bureau of Catholic Charities, a child placing agency in Davenport.

It was also ruled in the order that no one from Johnson county would be permitted to adopt the baby. The many letters that were received by the court asking to adopt the child will be sent to the child-placing agency in Davenport, Judge Gaffney said.

Godbey will be in charge of the program. Chaperoning the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kringle, Mr. and Mrs. G. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Godbey and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilson. Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Oathout, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith will also be chaperones.

Surveying the modern trends in four representative fields of applied art, Prof. L. D. Longman, in a Baconian lecture last night, drew these conclusions: "First, that the machine is here to stay but must be made to serve human needs; second, that each year sees evidence of progress in technology and the esthetic factor of design; third, that engineering and design are being fused into a single concept of functional expression, and fourth, that our major deficiency at present is the failure to socialize the applied arts."

First discussing advertising design, Professor Longman said, "The only requirement of a good design is that it should sell a product. All forms of sensationalism, sentimentality, and artistic vulgarity are permissible if this aim is accomplished."

"America leads the world in industrial design, and our taste is at its best," he declared. "Manufacturers know that sales are made not only on the basis of functional superiority, but also on design appeal."

Professor Longman anticipates within the next decade the establishment of graduate schools of design in the universities, to teach students both the technology and the art of industrial design.

"Architecture is perhaps the most conservative of the arts. Once erected, houses last so long that we are hesitant to experiment with new forms," he said. However, there is an increasing willingness to "go modern."

Iowa Seahawk School Closes Here Dec. 4

The Navy Pre-Flight training school will close here Dec. 4 and be transferred to Ottumwa, it was officially announced yesterday.

All navy cadets, student pilots and training personnel, with the exception of officers eligible for release by Feb. 1, will be sent to the new pre-flight base at Ottumwa.

All non-training officer personnel not transferred to Ottumwa will be assigned to the naval aviation reserve training command at Glenview, Ill.

Instructors among the enlisted personnel at the base will be transferred to Ottumwa, while non-instructors will be sent either to the Ottumwa base, or to Glenview for further duty. This assignment will be made by the commanding officer of the local base on the basis of the possible need at the new base.

Enlisted personnel eligible for release at the time of the decommissioning of the school will remain at the station, pending release.

With the bulletin announcing the end of the school, which has been in operation since its commissioning in April, 1942, the navy has made public the last of the arrangements for its withdrawal from the university program. Yesterday's notice was preceded last week by the announcement of the suspension of the V-12 medical and dental units here Dec. 15.

Band, Students to Give 'Iowa Victory Chant' Trial at Game Today

The new "Iowa Victory Chant" will be given a trial performance during the half-time routine of the Dad's day game this afternoon, according to Prof. C. B. Righter, band director. Plans for its use at the Homecoming game were frustrated by cold weather and short timing between quarters by the game officials.
Two thousand copies of the chant were distributed in the student cheering section, and it is likely that many of these copies were preserved for later use. The words of the chant will appear in the official game program and, weather conditions permitting, the band will play the number during the first half to familiarize the crowd with the melody.
At the end of the intermission routine the Iowa band will form the traditional block "I" and in this pattern will play the new chant.

Court Settles 64 Cases in Last Term

Sixty-four cases were disposed of by trial, judgment, or settlement during the September term of the Johnson county court adjourned by Judge James P. Gaffney yesterday.
During the term Judge Gaffney issued 484 court orders, 14 divorces were granted and actions were taken on two separate maintenance cases.
Judge Harold D. Evans will preside during the next term.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Frances Bowman, daughter of Brig. Gen. Francis B. Bowman of New York City, to Lt. Robert J. Knoepfler, U. S. N. R., son of Mrs. Corinne R. Knoepfler, 1617 Wilson street, Oct. 26 at 5 p. m. in the Little Church Around the Corner in New York City. The single ring ceremony was read in the presence of a few intimate relatives and friends.
The bride is a graduate of Smith college in Northampton, Mass., and received her M.A. in journalism from Columbia university in New York City.
Lieutenant Knoepfler was graduated from Central high school in Sioux City and attended Oberlin college in Oberlin, Ohio. He was graduated from the University of Iowa college of law in 1942, and is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and Phi Delta Phi law fraternity. He entered the service in January, 1942, and was commissioned in May, 1942, in Chicago. He returned to the states last spring after 33 months at sea, and was stationed as an instructor at the midshipman school at Columbia university. Recently he was transferred to the R. O. T. C. school in connection with the University of South Carolina at Columbia, where the couple now resides.
The manufacture of basic chemicals now ranks as a major industry in Canada.

GASSIN' with GUS

By GUS SCHRADER

I CAN'T SEE how the Big Ten can seriously consider re-instatement of the rule against freshman participation in intercollegiate sports and still expect to have a high standard of competition next year. . . Lots of talk along this line is in the air, and the question is bound to come up at the December meeting of Western conference athletic directors in Chicago. . . Unofficial "soundings" taken at various conference members indicate sentiment for and against bringing back the old pre-war rule. . . H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, Michigan football coach and athletic director, has come out publicly in favoring the ban against frosh participation. . . He claims it is essential, now that the war is over, to bar recruiting football players just for the fall season.

MY BET is that the directors won't put the rule back just yet—and maybe not for another year. . . Things aren't back to normal yet in athletics by a long shot. . . Iowa's athletic director, "Dad" Schroeder, hasn't expressed himself on the official Iowa position, but it is known that Dr. Eddie Anderson recently told reporters that Iowa could not have a football team next season if freshmen were barred. . . There are several other league schools in the same boat: Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota. . . And more will be included if the navy units are taken from them.

Some quarters have the opinion that returning veterans will furnish enough material for 1946 teams. . . This is absurd. . . Take Minnesota's plight for example. . . Bernie Bierman built this season's team on ex-servicemen and look what happened. . . It will be even worse next season if freshmen are ruled out because not enough new men broke into the Gopher lineup this year to add experience for 1946. . . All this doesn't take into account the strong probability that lots of the incoming freshmen will be whisked off for a year or two of military service. . . So if we shoot enough good freshmen into Dr. Eddie's hands next year it's a fair guess that no rule will be re-established to keep them from contributing something toward reviving Iowa's football plight.

PASS THE HASH

TODAY'S CROWD of 15,000 (estimate) represents a substantial increase over war-time crowds of comparable situations. . . Last year 11,200 attended the Dad's day game. . . This shows the effect of lifting gas rationing, more freedom from important war work, and more interested GIs home to watch the games. . . But we're still some reviving to do in an attendance way to get back to the days of 1941 when the Minnesota dad's day crowd counted 43,000. . . Even in 1942 it was 26,500. . . Homecoming this year attracted 25,300, the Indiana game 15,800 and the Bergstrom opener, 9,200.

"BOUNDING BILL" Green, who will be in the stands today to see if there's any possibility that the Hawks might repeat the 1939 upset when he caught Nile Kinnick's touchdown pass, will go to work in Chicago for Marshall Field's giant store. . . J. A. (JUDGE) GRIMSELY, who coached Mason City's Mohawks to several state titles, is in town and on terminal leave from the navy. . . The Judge won't go back to Mason City and is awaiting word from Washington to see whether or not he'll stay in the navy as a lieutenant commander, according to his pretty daughter, Sue, who works over at the pre-flight school.

Byrd Ahead At Mobile

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Sam Byrd, the former major league ball player of Detroit, Mich., swept into a one-stroke lead at the half-way point in Mobile's inaugural $10,000 Azalea open golf tournament yesterday. He put together two sub-par rounds of 69 and 70 for a 139.

Close on his heels with a 140 was the veteran Denny Shute of Akron, Ohio, who added a one-under-par 71 to his first-round 69. One stroke behind Shute with 141's were Ben Hogan, the mighty mite from Hershey, Pa., and Stan Horne of Montreal, Canada.

Joe Kirkwood of Philadelphia, who set the pace at the end of the first round with a 68, slipped to a 74 yesterday and a fifth place tie with Arthur Doering of Denver at 142.

Purdue or Michigan To Remain in Race

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Purdue and Michigan, both still mathematically in the running for the Big Ten football championship, collide here today before an anticipated 60,000 fans in an expected wide open, free-scoring duel.

Either the Boiler-makers or Wolverines still could win the Western conference crown outright providing the other records an assist by taking its Big Ten finale next week, Purdue from undefeated Indiana or Michigan from once-beaten Ohio State.

Purdue's two ex-marine ends, Bob Heck and Norman Maloney, were expected to start despite leg injuries and Michigan's leading scorer, freshman halfback Wally Teninga, was believed sufficiently recovered from a shoulder injury to play though Pete Elliott drew the starting assignment. Three of Purdue's top six guards also were ailing.

21 Major Grid Tilts on Docket In Semi-Finish

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
NEW YORK (AP)—College football, moving rapidly through that section of the season some folks call the home stretch, reaches the showdown stage today with several conference titlists and bowl opponents expected to emerge among the day's survivors.

Powerful Army moves into Philadelphia with every intention of stretching its two-year winning streak to 17 games against a Pennsylvania team that has lost only to Navy.

The unbeaten but once-tied Middies, who finally hit their stride against Michigan, make their final Baltimore appearance of the year against their second straight Big Ten opponent, a Wisconsin eleven with a record of two wins, two ties and three defeats.

Both service clubs will be enjoying their usual open dates the following week as they rest for their all-important finale and plot ways of knocking each other's blocks off in Philadelphia Dec. 1.

Navy has eliminated itself from the bowl picture by choice, but Army, hasn't said "no." Undeclared Holy Cross will be at home against Temple today.

Purdue and Michigan, both still in the running for the Big Ten crown, go at each other in Ann Arbor with the loser retiring from the role of challenger. Second-place Ohio State will be entertaining Illinois and high hopes of retaining its chance at the flag.

Indiana, the unbeaten but once-tied Big Ten leader, steps out of the conference to invade Pittsburgh, while Northwestern and Notre Dame clash at Evanston in a non-conference battle.

Oklahoma and Missouri play for the Big Six title at Columbia, Kansas State will be at Kansas in the only other Big Six game.

Alabama, smashing steadily toward the southeastern conference crown and one of the better bowl bids, will go to Vanderbilt. Louisiana State will be at Georgia Tech and Auburn at Georgia.

A full slate in the southwest conference, which may untangle the deadlock for the lead, sends Texas A. and M. to Rice, Arkansas to Southern Methodist and Texas Christian to Texas.

Baylor will be at Tulsa and Texas Tech to Oklahoma A. and M. in an attempt to knock the cowboys out of the all-victorious ranks.

A non-conference battle between the unbeaten, untied Gaels of St. Mary's and U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles headlines the play on the Pacific coast.

Awards Given To 20 Athletes

Athletic awards were presented to 20 University high school athletes at an award assembly yesterday. Guest speaker at the assembly was Dr. Eddie Anderson and John Miller, president of the student council, was master of ceremonies.

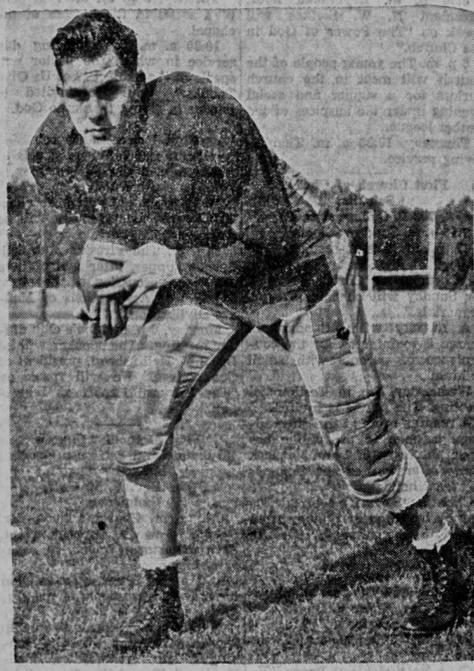

Football awards were presented to Don Follett, captain; Steve Nusser, John Miller, William Greene, Donald Helm, Craig Harper, Robert Ojemann, Joe Carlstrom, Ralph Donovan, Nick Anderson, James Spear, Richard Briceland and John Carson.

Those receiving cross country awards were Richard Terrell, captain; Maurice Martin, Glen Kasper, Robert Lovetinsky and Vincent Horney.

The managers, Bill Hittler and Don Briceland, also received letters and certificates.

A basketball "preview" was presented by Steve Nusser and the program was closed with musical selections by the school band.

GOPHERS BANK ON HIS RUNNING

TOM GATES, hard running Minnesota halfback, will be Iowa's chief worry on the ground today. The shifty Gopher has averaged 5.7 yards per rush in conference games.

St. Mary's Quintet Wins Opener, 53-31

Iowa City basketball fans got their first glimpse of Coach Francis Suplee's 1945 St. Mary's quintet last night, and what they saw was a hard-charging Rambler aggregation literally run a much taller St. Peter's outfit off the floor in piling up a top-sided victory, 53-31.

The contest was even more one-sided than the score indicates. The Ramblers jumped off into an early lead and were never headed as the Keokuk quintet was unable to stop the Mariani offense which was led by big Bart Toohy and Game Captain Bill Suplee.

The Suplee men controlled the ball through most of the first three quarters, mostly due to the excellent floor play of Jack Shrader, stellar guard, and Toohy who grabbed innumerable rebounds off both baskets.

Toohy capped scoring honors for the evening by pouring 15 markers through from his center position. He was closely followed by Bill Suplee who counted 14. Roan led the visitor's attack with 11 points. It was evident from last night's game that the Ramblers have a defense to compare with their offensive power.

During the entire third period the St. Peter's quintet was held to one field goal while the Mariani connected for 10 points. It was not until the fourth quarter, when Suplee began substituting freely, that the visitors' could get the ball under the St. Mary's basket.

Simons Starts at Left Half, Golden at Right, in Late Change

Two once-proud leviathans of the gridiron who currently are feasting on humble pie in Big Ten dungeons will collide this afternoon in Iowa stadium in a football contest that promises to decide nothing but who won the 1945 installment of the midwest's oldest pigskin feud.

Iowa's Hawkeyes, stricken all season with a victory famine like few others in Old Gold history, will play their final game before their home folks as a part of the university's Dad's day feature. Their foe is Minnesota, an arch-rival who only recently joined the Hawks in the straits of football despair.

Bernie Bierman's Gophers are the favorites, as usual. They hold a wide edge in victories over Iowa teams in the 39 times the two schools have met since the series began in 1891.

In fact, Iowa has tumbled Minnesota only once in the last 16 years, and then it took two miraculous last-minute passes by Nile Kinnick, supported by the rest of Dr. Eddie Anderson's 1939 Iron Men, to turn the trick.

But this time Bierman's Gophers aren't heralded into Iowa City with all the fanfare that goes with a team that is shooting for a Big Ten or national title. They've won only one game in the conference and dropped three by lop-sided margins that have increased each time.

Latest news from the Hawks' gridiron camp was Coach Clem Crowe's disclosure that Ozzie Simons will start at left halfback and Game Captain Paul Golden will be moved back to his regular right half position. Aside from this no other lineup changes were announced by Crowe.

It has been next to impossible to get a definite starting lineup from the Gopher camp since Bierman has done considerable juggling in his lineup during the past week. However, it can be expected that a vastly different Minnesota lineup from that which started the Indiana tilt will be thrown against the Hawkeyes today.

There has been no official word as to the condition of Louis Ginsberg, Iowa left guard, who was stricken earlier in the week with a strep throat, and it is believed that he will not see any action this afternoon.

4 Hawklet Cage Posts Named; Open Nov. 23

A tentative basketball lineup at City high has been picked by Coach Gil Wilson as the squad goes through its first regular season drills. Veterans Jim VanDeusen and Bob Freeman, first stringers last year, are working at forwards, with Bob Krall and Jim Sangster at guards on the team. The center position is wide open with Sonny Dean, Evan Smith, and Jerry Cannon the leading contenders for the pivot post.

With only a week to go in preparation for the season's opener with Muscatine Nov. 23, the Hawklets are short on time and have plenty of work to do. Wilson said the squad would be cut the early part of next week to get down to a workable number.

The Little Hawk cagers have been working on fundamentals, but will begin oiling the machine Monday.

'Kiss and Tell' Critics Label Comedy 'Fresh, Funny'

"Kiss and Tell," a delightful comedy to be presented in the University theater Monday at 8 p. m., was written by F. Hugh Herbert and released in New York in 1943. First appearing in New York as a George Abbott production, it was taken to Hollywood where a movie was made starring Shirley Temple. The critics hailed the stage production as fresh, funny and a beguiling comedy. The play is a story of Corliss Archer, who vexes her parents by trying to act older than she actually is. When the Archers invite Private Earhart to their home, Corliss does the entertaining by acting as a young lady. Mildred Pringle and Corliss sell kisses at a charity ball. The Archers don't like this and think that Mildred is a bad influence on Corliss. Complications set in when Lt. Lenny Archer comes home from the air corps and secretly marries Mildred. Only Corliss knows of this marriage. When Mildred becomes pregnant, Corliss goes with her to see the doctor. The Pringles believe Corliss to be the one who will have the baby and tell the Archers. Corliss is questioned about this, but she won't speak because she is sworn to secrecy by Mildred and Lenny. As a result, both families think her guilty. Some interesting incidents take place during the course of the play, and it isn't until the very end that Corliss is cleared and the real truth told. The university production is under the direction of Prof. E. C. Mable, head of the dramatic arts department.

Nationally Known Artists Teach In University Art Department

By BOB FAWCETT
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

(This is the second in a series of three articles based on the teaching methods and instructors of the University of Iowa art department.)

The University of Iowa has, for some time, sponsored the most ambitious of the artist-in-residence plans of any college in the nation, and it has contributed to a remarkable awakening of interest in art at the university.

Two, three and sometimes four nationally known painters at a time have taught a few classes, done their own work and mingled with the students to an extent of their individual inclinations.

Prof. Lester Longman, head of the art department, is nationally famous for his experiments in instruction and method. Professor Longman received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from Oberlin college and his M.F.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton university. He holds the Carnegie fellowship in art and archaeology from Princeton university and the fellowship of American Council of Learned Society for research in Europe.

Lecturer

Prof. Longman's success with the art department here was fostered by many years of experience in lecturing and talking to numerous groups and organizations. Before coming to the university 10 years ago, Professor Longman taught art history at Ohio State university and was assistant professor of fine arts at McMaster's university in Ontario, Canada.

He is a member of the board of directors of the College Art association, board of trustees of the American Society for Esthetics, editorial board of the Journal of Aesthetics, former president of the Midwestern College Art conference and a Phi Beta Kappa.

Professor Longman has contributed articles to "Parnassus" and art bulletins, as well as writing numerous book reviews. Having decided that the new methods of teaching at the art department were sufficiently exciting to share with other parts of the country, he gathered an exhibition of students' work and sent it to the Wehye gallery in New York where it received wide acclaim from art critics.

One of the most famous of the department's instructors is Prof. Phillip Guston whose painting "Sentimental Moment" won first prize in the Carnegie annual show for contemporary painting. This is pressed by artists to be the top art prize in the country.

Native of Canada

Professor Guston was born in Montreal, Canada, and studied at the Otis Art institute. Professor Guston, an instructor in painting, is now on a one year leave of absence from the university. He became a member of the faculty here in 1942.

A member of the National Society of Mural Painters, he has executed a number of mural projects including: first prize in mural competition for the exterior of the Federal Works Agency building at the New York World's Fair; lobby of the community building, Queens, N. Y.; University of Michigan, Mex.; assembly room of the United States forestry building, Laconia, N. H., and the auditorium of the social security building in Washington, D. C.

Professor Guston composed a pictorial record of defense industries and army air training for Fortune magazine. He also did work for the Navy Pre-Flight school here.

He has had seven one-man shows, the most recent being held last winter at the Midtown gallery, New York City. Since 1939, Professor Guston has exhibited in all major shows including Toledo museum, Pennsylvania academy, Virginia museum, Brooklyn museum, Whitney museum, Corcoran gallery and the National gallery of Canada.

The art department opened up a new teaching field this year in engraving, etching, woodcuts, aquatints and other forms of print making. The new instructor in charge of this course is Mauricio Lasansky, a native Argentine who has been in this country two years on a Guggenheim fellowship.

Experimental Methods

Lasansky is perhaps the best craftsman in the print media in the United States. His technical methods are highly experimental and exploit the possibilities of engraving and etching with more resourcefulness than has been seen during the past few generations.

Lasansky has won several first prizes in national print exhibitions and has exhibited in various one-man shows, particularly in Washington and San Francisco.

During the short period he has been in this country, his work has been bought by the Metropolitan museum, Art Institute, Library of Congress, New York public library and the San Francisco museum of art.

Wins Prizes

Formerly a director of an art school in Argentina, Lasansky won many prizes before coming to the United States. He expects to return to Argentina after a more democratic government is established but feels it would not be safe to return earlier since he has been outspoken against the Peron government.

In an interview, Lasansky said, "I like very much the cleanliness, space and air of the Iowa campus, and am astonished at the excellent facilities for the teaching of art the university provides. I want to make our print shop the best in the country."

Judge Gaffney Grants Divorce Annulment

A marriage annulment was granted Donald E. Leoney and Doris Wage Leoney by Judge James P. Gaffney in district court yesterday.

The suit was filed by Leoney's father, Frank Leoney, who charged that the boy was not of legal age and did not have the consent of his parents when the couple was married in Olathe, Kan., April 27, 1945. The petition said that they did not live together as husband and wife after April 28.

Leoney was represented by Edward L. O'Conner.

THEY OPEN THE DOORS TO THE WESTERN PACIFIC

FROM Tokyo to the Tasman Sea, AP men have reopened old bureaus, started new ones and deployed their staffs to speed the news of half of the world's peoples to Associated Press newspapers everywhere.

The Western Pacific never again will be the Mysterious East. In Tokyo, Glenn Babb, AP's Foreign News Editor, is putting the finishing touches upon this extensive news coverage in the Western Pacific for this and hundreds of other AP member papers. Babb formerly was chief of bureau in Tokyo and Peiping. Richard Massock, pre-war chief in Rome, is directing developments in China. John Grover has taken charge in Manila. James Hutcheson in Hong Kong. Ralph Morton, Australasia chief of bureau, is expanding AP's new services "Downunder."

The entire AP staff—much larger than before the war—is especially recruited for its rich background in Asiatic and global affairs. A few of them are pictured here. Look for this staff's stories in this newspaper.
