Hurley to Tell China Policy To Congress

Prefers to Testify Before Senate First; Seeks Public Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley readily agreed to take on all comers yesterday as three congressional committees invited him to shoot.

The senate foreign relations committee which put in its bid first, appeared to have the inside track. Chairman Connally (D., Texas) called a hearing for Wednesday and Hurley told reporters he preferred to testify there first—but he sought a public and not a private session, as Connally had planned.

Two House committees—on military affairs and un-American activities—also want to hear more about the charges Hurley made against certain career diplomats and the state department in a press release Tuesday which announced his resignation as ambassador to China.

Hurley Asserted
Hurley asserted that "a considerable section of our state department is endeavoring to support communism generally as well as specifically in China." Chairman Wood (D., Ga.) of the un-American activities committee saw in this "a direct challenge to our group" and proposed a hearing for Monday. Committee Counsel Ernest Adamson said later, however, that the matter would not be pressed if Hurley preferred to talk to the senate committee first.

The Hurley statement continued to bring repercussions from both sides of the Capitol. One of these yesterday was the first criticism yet uttered there of President Truman's appointment of Gen. George C. Marshall to succeed Hurley in China.

Poor Appointment
Rep. Patterson (D., Calif.) said it was a "poor appointment" because Marshall "doesn't know anything about China" and "because he is a soldier."

Senator Willis (R., Ind.) called in a speech for "some explaining and housecleaning" by the state department. He declared the department should explain why American troops "are being kept in China" and why materials "are being flown by American pilots to supply the nationalist government and why are American lives being sacrificed in this endeavor."

Jap Leaders To Be Tried

WASHINGTON (AP) — One hundred or more Japanese will be tried on charges of starting an illegal war, Joseph B. Keenan said yesterday.

Keenan, chief prosecutor of major Japanese war crimes, added at a news conference that no decision had been made on trying Emperor Hirohito, so far as he knows.

The prosecutor, who will leave for Tokyo Sunday, said indictments are being drawn charging 100 Japanese with major war crimes between July, 1937, and Pearl Harbor. He declined to identify them.

"We plan to try these men before an international tribunal," Keenan said. "The members will be nominated by the nations interested and named by General MacArthur. The procedure will conform generally to the pattern of the European theater."

And for $100,000?

ACCORDING to reports in New York, Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, who retires from that job Dec. 31, will soon sign a contract as a commentator for the American Broadcasting company at (another report) $100,000 a year.

Planes Attack Central Java

BATAVIA, Java (AP) — Ten British planes struck with rockets and bombs yesterday to silence Indonesian artillery which shelled internment camps and British positions at Ambarawa in central Java, and Indian troops opened a land attack.

The Dutch news agency Aneta said the Indonesian guns had killed 30 persons, including five British artillerymen. Thirty four were wounded by the shelling Thursday.

Four Mosquito bombers, four Mosquito rocket carriers and two Thunderbolts attacked the Indonesian gun positions on a lake adjoining Ambarawa. The Indonesians pumped at least 100 shells into British positions and internment camps Thursday.

Immediately after the air assault, British Indian troops began a ground offensive which was reported proceeding well at the outset.

Chinese Forces Each Declare Other Uses Jap Aid in Civil War

CHUNGKING (AP) — Chinese Communists and Nationalists accused each other yesterday of using Japanese troops in the continuing civil strife.

A Nationalist dispatch said Japanese artillerymen commanded by a Japanese officer were aiding the Communists in a new attack on Kweisi, capital of Suiyan province, inner Mongolia, where a Nationalist force has been besieged for weeks.

The Communists issued a statement asserting that more than 1,000 Japanese troops with armored cars had been sent by the Nationalists to reinforce Miyun, on the Peiping-Jehol railway 35 miles northeast of Peiping, and that this meant the Nationalists were preparing to attack Jehol.

In the race for possession of Manchuria, the Nationalists were notably strengthened by confirmation from Moscow that Russian forces would remain in occupation of that rich state until Chungking's troops were able to arrive in controlling strength.

ATTENTION STUDENTS

The entire north side of the fieldhouse will be reserved for students at basketball games. Admission will be by identification card presented at doors in the north end of the fieldhouse lobby, Charles Galther, business manager of athletics, announced.

Students only will be admitted to the lower bleachers. Each student is entitled to take one guest (who will purchase ticket at regular admission price), but the student and guest can sit only in the first and second north balconies.

Wilson Asks UAW To Resume Production

Strike Holding Up Accessories Needed By Other Companies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
General Motors asked the striking CIO United Auto Workers union last night to resume production in the corporation's parts and accessories division for the benefit of other automobile manufacturers.

C. E. Wilson, GM president, said he made the proposal in a letter to R. J. Thomas, UAW president. Wilson's announcement came after a deadlock of a conference between corporation and union officials on the vital issue of picketing.

The meeting was the first between the two sides since the strike call of 11 days ago that shut off nearly half the industry's new motorcar production, idling 225,000.

Harry W. Anderson, GM vice-president, said "no progress" was made but that another meeting was scheduled for Wednesday—a day after company representatives have agreed to discuss the strike with federal conciliators in Washington.

The company's charge of "illegal picketing" which it contends has prevented non striking supervisory employes from entering or leaving plants is a major stumbling block to resumption of negotiations.

C. E. Wilson, GM president, said management would not resume negotiations with the union until the law modifies its picketing practices and its "30 percent or else" wage demands.

Steel Workers Vote In Favor of Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The tally on the steel strike yesterday showed 400,977 workers voting in favor of a strike and 83,990 opposing it as a measure to enforce the CIO-United Steel workers demands for a $2-a-day wage increase.

Final returns from Michigan, announced by the union there, gave 10,749 "yes" votes and 1,779 "no" votes. Approximately 15,000 workers were eligible to vote in Michigan.

The total figures are unofficial, based largely on reports gathered by national labor relations board offices in the 29 states affected.

Hess Admits Faking Loss Of Memory

NUERNBERG (AP) — Rudolf Hess sardonically told the international military tribunal yesterday that he had faked amnesia, fooling Allied medical experts and his own attorney, but that now he was prepared to stand trial and "bear full responsibility for anything I have done."

The gaunt, crafty former deputy to Adolf Hitler leaped to his feet and read a short, astonishing speech into a microphone when British Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence declared, at a special hearing on Hess' sanity, that the tribunal would like to hear from the defendant himself.

Hess told the court "My memory is again in order," and that he simulated amnesia for "tactical" reasons. Afterward he remarked that "I feel unburdened, I feel better." His German attorney was flabbergasted; a British attorney said Hess either "is off his rocker, or is completely recovered."

The court adjourned without announcing any decision, but the line of questioning by Lawrence and other justices indicated they were inclined to believe Hess is in condition to be tried.

Hess' statement followed a regular court session at which a German counter intelligence chief accused Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, Hitler's fashion plate chief of the German supreme command, with being the instigator of a plot to assassinate French military leaders Gen. Maxime Weygand and Gen. Henri Giraud.

Maj. Gen. Erwin Lahousen, first witness to testify since the opening of the trials, linked Keitel and the entire German army general staff with wholesale killings of Russian prisoners of war and mass starvation of thousands of others.

Hess, with an occasional grin on his face, had watched Dr. Gunther von Rohrscheidt, his defense attorney, fight back at the Russian, American and British prosecution contention that Hess should stand trial even if he suffered temporarily from amnesia.

Eldora Murder Trial in Sixth Day

Witness Tells of Fatal Beating

FORT DODGE (AP) — A wild melee in the discipline room of the Eldora state training school for boys, in which Ronald Miller, 17 year old inmate, fought off a group of other inmates as he sought to avoid punishment for joining six other boys in an alleged escape plot, was described for a district court jury yesterday by Bernard Ryan, former squad boy, an inmate-supervisor. Ryan is the twelfth witness called by the state in the five days of testimony thus far.

Miller ran about the room while beaten with a harness tug and an over-sized billy-club, and broke at least one chair on Carl Klatt, 33, former guard, the witness said.

Klatt was in his sixth day on trial on a second degree murder charge in connection with Miller's death. The alleged beating took place the night of August 27. The next day Miller was assigned to carry coal on the run under a hot sun. He collapsed there, and died in the school hospital August 29.

Once while Miller was threatening, with a chair, anyone who came near him, Ryan said, Klatt remarked, "You are going to be one dead kid." Ryan said he saw broken pieces of one chair on the floor, saw Miller break another over Klatt's arms, ribs and leg and that a third chair was taken away from Miller by other inmates.

Although he said Miller was a struck by Klatt with a metal-weighted harness tug and the club, the only blows which seemed to stagger Miller was one with the tug which struck Miller behind the ear, and one of the 30 strokes Miller took from the tug while being held by several boys at a whipping post, Ryan said. He added that use of the club didn't seem to bother Miller much, although he said Miller was a

PAPER DRIVE TODAY

According to Owen B. Thjel, Boy Scout executive, the Scouts will collect waste paper today. Iowa Citizens are requested to put their paper on the curb this morning.

though the youth was hit on the head. When he went to the disciplining room during the alleged beating, the witness said, he asked Klatt if he needed any help. Although Klatt replied that he did, Ryan did nothing for the time being, he said. Later he hit Miller a solid blow in the mouth, which staggered Miller, Ryan said. Miller then asked Klatt for permission to fight back, the witness said, adding this was refused by Klatt, who he said replied, "That's Ryan's job."

George Clayton, another inmate, also hit Miller, but Miller fought him off, Ryan testified. Once Miller fought with two boys, and later four or five of them made several attempts to get him to the whipping post before they succeeded, the witness said.

Nazi Internees Riot in Sweden

By ROBERT N. STURDEVANT
STOCKHOLM (AP) — About 600 German military internees, including 100 who attempted suicide, were hospitalized last night after a day of violence as the Swedish government started extradition of 2,700 former Wehrmacht soldiers to Soviet territory.

Swedish authorities said that two succeeded in taking their own lives in wild struggles with Swedish military forces and police who had the task of transporting the internees to a waiting Russian ship at Trelleborg. Many attempted self-mutilation.

About 500 were hospitalized because of weakness from a hunger strike begun a week ago in protest against an order turning them over to the Russians.

Wild and bloody scenes, in which club-wielding Swedish police and soldiers tried to halt repeated acts of violence by internees, were enacted in two of four camps from which the Germans were being removed.

As many as 1,000 suffered serious self-inflicted wounds, early reports said.

Most of the 2,700 held in the four camps are Germans. The rest are Austrians, Poles, Lithuanians, Estonians and Latvians.

One group of 60 Germans formed a tightly packed ring as their leader, a Captain Huhn, plunged a knife into his breast. Several others followed suit. Police beat some internees with clubs to prevent further self-injury. In one group, Germans shouted: "Stab me. Stab me here."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has sent a diplomatic mission to northern Iran to obtain an on-the-spot report on the Russian-Iran tension there, the state department disclosed yesterday.

The department dispatched three attaches from its Tehran embassy by plane and jeep to the trouble spot, Tabriz, in Azerbaijan province.

In his publication of Moscow's note refusing passage of Iranian government troops to the northern Iran area where a separatist movement is reported, Hussein Ala, Iranian ambassador, described the note as "weasel worded" and said it flatly rejected all 10 points in his government's protest against Russian action.

The United States is still awaiting a reply from Russia and Great Britain to its proposal that troops of all three countries withdraw from Iran by Jan. 1. Secretary of State James Byrnes has long contended that these terms, only recently announced for the first time, are harsh and obsolete.

Russia denied Soviet nationals were participating in political activities in Azerbaijan province. She said Iran government troops and gendarmes en route to northern Iran were stopped by the Russians to avoid "disturbance and bloodshed."

In event of such disturbances, the note declared, Russia would be forced "reluctantly" to increase her military strength in the north to promote "tranquility."

Cooperation "Complete"
Miles read to the committee a letter from Lt. Col. Kendall Fielder of the Hawaiian department, dated Sept. 6, 1941, saying cooperation among army, navy and federal bureau of investigation "is most complete."

Miles also told the committee: He instructed military attaches in Tokyo Dec. 3, 1941, to destroy their codes.

No warning messages were sent to Hawaii between Nov. 27 and Dec. 7 when Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, dispatched one which was not delivered until three hours after the attack began.

Recess Till Monday
Miles was still in the witness chair when the committee recessed until Monday. He is to be followed by Vice-Admiral Theodore S. Wilkinson, former director of naval intelligence.

In anticipation of Wilkinson's appearance, Gesell entered as exhibits a batch of navy documents. One disclosed that the navy Aug. 28, 1941, directed that warship patrols sink any raiders which threatened or attacked American vessels in areas around the Pacific side of the Panama canal.

General Says Army Feared Blow at Canal

Pearl Harbor Forces Thought to Be Alert Month Before Dec. 7

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles said yesterday the army high command always had considered attacks on Hawaii and the Panama canal about "equally likely" in case of war with Japan.

That was so "inherent in the situation," he declared, that he had never thought for a moment before Dec. 7, 1941, that Pearl Harbor's defenders were not fully on the alert.

Miles acknowledged before the senate-house investigating committee, however, that Hawaii was not mentioned in any of the evaluations and forecasts he prepared as head of military intelligence. Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, army commander at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck, sat at a nearby table as Miles testified. He leaned forward and listened carefully as Miles related that he had served under four commanding generals in Hawaii and all had always been conscious that Hawaii might be attacked if trouble developed with Japan.

Destroyed Records
In response to questions from Gerhard Gesell, assistant committee counsel, Miles said he knew Dec. 6 that the Japanese counsel in Hawaii was destroying his records but did not inform Short.

Such secret information ordinarily was handled by the navy because its code was regarded as "more secure," he explained, and "we had every reason to believe that any navy message to Hawaii would be promptly given to the army."

Court Rejects Jap's Motion

MANILA (AP) — The military commission trying Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita on war crimes charges yesterday rejected a "not guilty" motion which defense counsel asked on concluding its case. The trial has been in progress since Oct. 29.

Yamashita yesterday testified in a 45-minute guttural speech he neither ordered nor condoned Japanese atrocities in the Philippines.

Today a written statement by Yamashita, giving his views on a commander's responsibility, was entered in the record.

Yamashita contended that if the order of a commanding officer made it possible for a subordinate to permit or condone atrocities then the commanding officer should receive criminal punishment. But he argued that if a commanding officer took all means possible against atrocities, and a subordinate condoned them at a time and place not known to the commanding officer, then the commanding officer should not be held accountable.

Editorials:

Revenge at Hand for Iowa Sports Fans

The giddy whirl of the athletic roulette wheel spins to another climax tonight and the little marble drops into a slot marked "Basketball Opener."

Like gamblers who have been down on their luck, Iowa fans tonight look forward to a change of fortune so they can be paid back all they lost during a disastrous football season.

They lost the thrill of pride that comes when their team wins consistently... the excited admiration for the players who won... the keen sense of rivalry for each new foe.

But what they didn't lose was the hope that it wouldn't always be so. Fans smarted under the merciless lashing of 56-0, 42-0 and 40-0 scores, gritted their teeth and cried "Wait till the basketball season!"

Revenge is at hand. Iowa's basketball team, the Big Ten's best last season, is ready to try its mightiest to repeat the sensational victories over conference and non-conference foes in an 18-game schedule.

Tonight's action is against Augustana college of Rock Island. According to Pops Harrison, colorful coach of the Hawkeyes, this is the only game he's letting himself or his squad think about until after it's over.

"We're taking them one at a time," he told students at a pep rally Thursday night, "and we can't win games or a championship in December, January and February with a lot of talk in November."

And that's the way Iowa fans will have to get their vengeance this season—one game at a time. As great as basketball material is reputed to be at Iowa this year, remember that the rules limit Pops to placing only five men on the floor at one time. The same rules allow the opponents to have the same number. Lots can—and usually does—happen in 40 minutes of midwestern basketball, so Coach Harrison's cautiousness is not unfounded.

The thing Harrison will not have to worry about, however, is the loyalty of the team's supporters. That was proven last season and the team rewarded the crowds with some stirring exhibitions of great basketball.

The same fans wanted to yell at the football games the worst way this fall, but found little to be happy about. Through consecutive Saturdays of lopsided defeats they came to the pep rallies to show their enthusiasm. Each weekend when the team left town they gave them an appreciative sendoff. And when the beaten football warriors returned on Sunday, the fans met them at the trains in attempts to show that all was not lost—not the spirit to win the next week.

Iowa athletic games will have the best student backing in the Big Ten if they can have the material to build teams to give the crowds something to yell about. The fans tonight and every night of Hawkeye basketball will verify this.

Other sports, take notice. —Gus Schrader

Japanese Illiteracy

(The Milwaukee Journal) There is something almost pathetic in the discovery that the Japanese were such chronic falsifiers that even their long repeated 99.6 percent literacy was just another fabrication.

Somewhat, no one thought to question the figure before the war. Why should anybody? One would not expect a nation to delude itself, just for the sheer fun of delusion, when there was nothing to gain.

In retrospect, it seems, however, that this was part of the whole foolish business of pretending, perhaps to honor the emperor. The Japanese had to be supermen—in everything—even in literacy. They had to lead the world—even in literacy. What if the overwhelming majority could not read? The world was to be told that the country was 99.6 percent literate, anyway.

Actually, it now appears from surveys made by United States army and reliable Japanese authorities that only about 14 percent could read popular newspapers. Others had possessed rudimentary literacy which they gradually had lost through disuse.

More and more it appears that Japan had a colossal ego, a great determination and an unlimited ability to lie—even to herself. It wasn't a winning combination.

Interpreting the News—

By JAMES D. WHITE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Chinese Communists may see the tide running superficially against them, but they are not giving up.

This much is clear from the first Associated Press dispatch to be filed from the Communist capital in something like a year. AP Correspondent John Roderick is among the first foreign newsmen to get up to the dusty little town of Yanan from Chungking in that length of time.

The Communists have appeared quiet and glum the last few days, particularly since reports got around that the Russians are facilitating the return of central government troops to Manchuria, and after it was announced that Gen. George C. Marshall would go to China as our new ambassador in an obvious strengthening of United States policy there.

Roderick's dispatch quotes an interview with General Yeh Chien-Ying, commander-in-chief of the Chinese Communist armies. He said that as a military man he would welcome General Marshall, if he visits Yanan.

He reiterated Communist charges that "United States forces in China, under the pretext of aiding China to accept Japanese surrender, are actually hindering it with planes, war vessels and guns." Yeh claimed the process could be completed in ten days.

The importance of this statement lies partly in its insistence upon the authority which the Communists have claimed to accept Japanese surrender. Chungking claims

Covering The Capital

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—When Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian minister of external affairs, came out flat-footed the other day for San Francisco as permanent seat of the United Nations Organization, the Golden Gate city's chances of being so designated were given a boost.

Dr. Evatt emerged as leader and principal spokesman for the smaller nations at the San Francisco conference and as such became one of the strong men of UNO.

Location of the permanent capital of UNO may be settled in the general assembly meeting in January.

With most of the smaller nations rallying behind Evatt's banner and the United States' votes naturally for locating in this country (although not specifically for any of the several cities bidding for the new world capital), a powerful bloc would be formed against Great Britain and those countries seeking to spot the seat in Europe. If Russia and the nations in her sphere of influence would give the nod to San Francisco, the matter would be settled.

British sources here say England has no intention now of abandoning her fight to locate the capital in Europe, and England, of course, won't stand alone.

Respectable, scholarly, but athletic, Dr. Evatt has been well-known in the United States since early in 1942 when he came here as special envoy from Australia. Three weeks after his arrival, he became minister to the United States, when popular Richard G. Casey moved over to the British War Council.

The San Francisco conference wasn't his first sortie into international affairs but he still was considered pretty much of a tyro when the conference convened. Vigorously outspoken and independent in his views on what UNO should be, he was the unofficial spokesman for the smaller nations on several occasions.

His main arguments for San Francisco are simply that city has the facilities; is "a city of progress"; is located in a nation in which "nowhere else in the world is freedom more secure."

There are several cities in the United States which could lay claim to those qualifications.

Location of the world capital site is certain to become one of the big fights in the assembly. Dr. Evatt says any effort to obtain unanimity on the question should be abandoned. He also thinks it shouldn't in any way be bound up with selection of the secretary general. (Under present plans, the secretary general would come from the continent or zone not selected for the permanent site.)

Majority of Diseases Partly Psychological' Dr. Huston Believes

"About one-third of all patients in general practice are suffering from an emotional rather than a physical disorder," said Dr. Paul E. Huston in a Baconian lecture last night. "It is further estimated that at least three-quarters of all diseases have important psychological components."

"About five percent of the civilian population suffers from psychoneurosis through the hospital rate for psychoneurosis is only five-hundredths of one percent," Huston said. "The psychoneurotic rate in the army is 30 times that of the civilian rate and psychoneurosis accounts for nearly one-half of all medical discharges."

Brief types of therapy have been developed in treating psychiatric military casualties. These new types including group therapy, hypnosis, and drug therapy, will revitalize the treatment of civilian psychoneurosis.

"Because of the large number of neurotic individuals, in the war and elsewhere, interest in group therapy has grown," Huston said. "Various clinics have brought neurotic patients together where they are taught exercises in relaxation. Often some emotional problem is discussed indicating how emotions affect the body and general behavior. Patients are permitted to ask questions. In this situation they frequently bring out problems of their own, which are discussed by the therapist. In such a setting the patient realizes that others have like problems."

Huston spoke of a new global trend—the recording of the electrical activity of the brain in the hope that this instrument might be used as a means of selecting military personnel. However, since the basic psychology of this is still not understood, it has not been of great value.

"In the past decade a trend in medicine has emerged which has psychiatric origins," he said. "This is psychosomatic medicine. It attempts to establish correlations between personality and various disease entities from a dynamic point of view. In order to accomplish this aim it makes use of some type of personality study. The psychosomatic movement emphasizes what is so often forgotten: that one does not treat diseases, but persons. The personality factor must be taken into consideration not only in treatment but also in diagnosis."

"It is toward the ordinary life of men that psychiatry is oriented and is making its greatest contribution," concluded Huston.

Benny Strong to Provide Music—'Spinsters' Spree' to Be Dec. 14

University women will once again have a chance to upset Emily Post's etiquette rules when university men are escorted to the revived all-university party, "Spinsters' Spree" sponsored by the University Women's association Friday, Dec. 14.

Benny Strong and his band of Chicago will provide music for the informal party in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Each men's organized housing unit has been contacted to nominate its choice for "The Most Eligible Bachelor" and two attendants, who will be chosen by the party committee. Monday night committee members for the dance will again contact each unit for their nomination. The "Bachelor" and his attendants will be announced at the party and an appropriate gift will be presented to the winner.

"Dance Along With Benny Strong" is the tagline of Benny Strong and his band. The dance organization features sweet music with a light swing tempo. Strong's musicians are versatile and he knows the value of entertainment features such as comedy, trio, ensemble singing and novelty numbers.

Strong started as a master of ceremonies and took up band-leading on the advice of Kay Kyser with whom he worked for four months at the Blackhawk restaurant in Chicago. His first engagement as a bandleader at the Brown hotel in Louisville, Ky., lasted three years.

From the minute they ring the doorbell to the time they bid you goodnight, the entire "Spinsters' Spree" evening is in the hands of campus women. The men may receive a corsage of vegetables or victory stamps and everything from jukebox music to after-dance snacks will be "on the women."

Committee members for the party include Dorothy Kottemann, A3 of Burlington, chairman; Harriet Arnold, A3 of Valparaiso, Ind.; Marion Mayes, A3 of Waterloo; Charlotte Penningroth, A3 of Cedar Rapids; Audrey Ross, A3 of Des Moines, and Joanne Seip, A3 of Plymouth, Ind.

BENNY STRONG AND his band of Chicago will play for the all-university informal "Spinsters' Spree" Dec. 14 in the main lounge of Iowa Union. At the age of 16 Benny Strong was a featured solo soprano at the Oriental theater in Chicago. A year later he made a comeback as the youngest master of ceremonies ever to head shows in public theaters.

Presbyterian Group From West Liberty On Morning Chapel

Members of the Presbyterian church of West Liberty will present four of next week's Morning Chapel programs broadcast over WSUI each week-day morning at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. L. L. DeFlon, pastor of the church, will be the guest speaker Monday. Music will be presented by Andrea Lea Johnson and Ruth Ann DeFlon, both of West Liberty.

Tuesday morning's speaker will be Fred L. Watters, elder of the church. Gerald Spitsenberger will give the musical selections for the morning.

Dr. Myrtle J. Kinkhouse will be the speaker Wednesday morning, and the music will be presented by Marilyn Fry. Both are members of the Presbyterian congregation.

Thursday's Morning Chapel will feature Robert Watters, also a member of the congregation, as speaker, and Helen Jean Lewis, president of the Endeavor Society of the church, will read the scripture. The church choir will present musical selections.

Prof. F. L. Fehling of the German department will be the guest speaker Friday and Saturday mornings. Music for Friday includes "From the Messiah" and "And the Glory of the Lord." Saturday's music will feature "Sun of My Soul" and the "Twenty-Third Psalm."

Montgomery Ward Walkout in Twenty Cities to End Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—A week-long demonstration walkout against Montgomery Ward and Company units in 20 cities will end "as scheduled" tonight, Samuel Wolchok, international president of the union, said last night.

In a statement made in New York and issued in Chicago, Wolchok declared, "the work stoppage, carried on in 20 cities stretching from the east coast to Denver, Col., has been eminently successful."

Earlier, representatives of the company and the CIO united retail, wholesale and department store employees union agreed to meet Monday night to discuss application of wage increases offered by the company to unionized Chicago employees.

Wolchok declared, "It (the walkout) has been an unparalleled demonstration of the economic strength of union employees who are determined to free themselves from slavery and win their legal rights to bargain collectively with their employer for their economic advancement."

He claimed "the union compelled Ward's" to offer a 5 cents an hour raise to all hourly paid employees in Chicago.

Busy December Days, Nights

Does time hang heavily on your hands? Have you finished your Christmas shopping? Perhaps you've decided to use "the more I study, the less I know" theory for your pre-vacation exams.

In any event, so you will not have too much time to brood over that white handkerchief Aunt Minnie invariably sends you, some happy little gremlins have scheduled extra-curricular activities to fill the void between now and Dec. 22. (Or so indicates the calendar in the basement of Old Capitol.)

The good looking strangers you notice around campus today, (and they were here yesterday too) are representatives of the 21 other schools participating in the intercollegiate debate conference. You can hear them in action in the senate chamber of Old Capitol any time today after 8:15 a. m. and before 5 p. m.

Rah! Yeh! IOWA! Don't miss the opening basketball game between your alma mater and Rock Island's Augustana college quintet. Be in that north bleacher section by 8 p. m. tonight.

As soon as the team has rested up, and your throat is no longer hoarse, there's another game... Dec. 3, with South Dakota university. You've a date with these north bleachers at 8.

If you wish to be in the know, don't fail to hear Information First, same time, same place as usual, on Dec. 6. The speaker and his subject are a secret.

For the individual with the stout heart and sturdy constitution... that individual who has weathered the storm of sorority dances and parties the night before... there is the Inter-Fraternity dance Saturday night, the 8th. A problem now presents itself. As of 8 p. m. that same evening, our basketball quintet meets the University of Denver team in our field house, the formal dance begins at 9.

As the curtain goes up on the first public performance of "The Hasty Heart" at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 11, our basketball team will go into action, this time for a tilt with South Dakota State. Try the theater for the former; the field-house for the game.

After three shows on the three ensuing nights, and a Saturday matinee at 2 o'clock, the final curtain will be pulled on "The Hasty Heart."

Radio aspirants are offered a golden opportunity at the Student Radio Forum Tuesday, the 11th. After walking up two flights of stairs in the radio building and locating Studio E, (all before 7:45 p. m.), and after listening to some well informed debaters, you, as audience, are encouraged to participate... to express your opinions over the air.

This suggestion is one of diplomacy. Presumably, you are attending this institution of learning for that purpose. Don't give the folks

Party Line

Phi Delta Theta fraternity will hold a post-game record party tonight at the chapter house.

Pledges of Sigma Delta Tau will entertain the actives at a pledge prom tonight from 8:30 to 12:30 in the chapter house. Harriet Robbins, A1 of Denver, Col., is social chairman.

Alpha Delta Pi sorority will honor Prof. Clara Daley of the history department tomorrow afternoon at a tea from 2 to 5 o'clock in the chapter house.

No, no more basketball this December. Just passing comment on an experimental play in Macbride auditorium at 7:30 p. m., the 17th and 18th. Despite a trip to Mr. Mabie's office, information available limited itself to the title, "Girl With Green Eyes."

Through it all, the orchestra has been practicing from 7:15 to 9:15 every Tuesday and Thursday night. Results may be heard Wednesday night, the 19th, at their 8 o'clock concert in the Union.

All of which leaves Thursday and Friday and 12 hours of Saturday before we go to the station, back to civilization, etc. The activity calendar failed to mention it, but MERRY CHRISTMAS any way! (That's Dec. 25, all day.)

D. J. Rodabaugh's Visit in Iowa City

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer J. Rodabaugh of Milwaukee, Wis., visited friends in Iowa City this week.

Mr. Rodabaugh was recently discharged from the navy after serving 18 months in the Pacific theater. He received his M.A. degree from the university in 1938.

Mrs. Rodabaugh, the former Edna Harlan, was librarian of the foreign language library here from 1938 to 1940.

C. B. Righter Sr., who resides with his son, Prof. C. B. Righter Jr. at 419 Ferson avenue, has left to spend a few months in Phoenix, Ariz., with another son, E. M. Righter.

George L. Mosse, instructor in the history department, will spend the weekend visiting friends in Madison, Wis.

Program Outlined For New Library

Ralph E. Ellsworth, director of university libraries, has outlined four major points of the library program that will go into effect upon completion of the new building, first of the post-war structures.

The program will offer new ways of helping students to learn and to understand the nature of their heritage and to identify the critical problems of current importance.

A personal and individual approach to the student learning process will be made possible through the development of a student-faculty working relationship. The plan will also aid in placing responsibility on the students for educating themselves.

At the chapter meeting of Moose Haven Tuesday, 16 new members of the Women of the Moose will be initiated. Mrs. Jesse Torrance is the chairman for the event and Mrs. Sara Dahl of Chicago Heights, Ill., grand dean of the academy of Friendship will be the official visitor. Refreshments will be served.

102,000 to See Cadets, Middies Battle Today; Army Favored

By GAYLE TALBOT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Undeclared Army and Navy put in their final practice ticks on the spongy turf of Municipal stadium yesterday and fell back to await the kick-off of their climactic football duel at 12:30 (CST) today.

First the underdog Middies and then the powerful crew from West Point limbered up and took "wind sprints", and at the conclusion each coach announced that he would start his strongest eleven in the championship tussle.

There had been extreme doubt that Army's clever quarterback, Arnold Tucker, would be in there to ramrod the Cadets' T-formation, as he had been bedded since Tuesday with a mild flu attack, but he made the trip and Coach Earl Blaik said he would start the game. How long he would be able to play was open to question, but he looked strong.

In a surprise move, Blaik announced that Bob Chabot, a fleet 180-pounder, would replace Tom McWilliams at right half in the starting backfield. Chabot, a senior, made several dazzling runs against Penn two weeks ago.

Coach Oscar Hagberg of Navy reported similar recovery of his several invalids who had brought alarm to Annapolis during the week. Best news for the future admirals was that their 205-pound guard, Jim Carrington, had recovered from the sniffles.

At best the field promised to be something less than dry by game time, possibly slippery enough to affect Army's tremendous running attack and to influence the score. The Cadets still were favored by the bookmakers to win by at least 27 points and run their victory string to 18. Cloudy, chilly weather was forecast for the tussle, with the temperature ranging around 40-43 at the kick-off.

Among the 102,000 expected to pack the big stadium were President Truman and a host of army and navy brass, including the top commanders. The president's special car was to be shunted on a special line to within a few yards of the arena. The corps of cadets from the Point and the brigade of midshipmen from Annapolis were to begin their colorful parade into the stadium at 11:15.

Attending strictly to logic, there still was no method by which Navy could be given even an outside chance of winning the game.

Iowa Cagers Make Test - Run Tonight

 THESE HAWKS START FIRING TONIGHT ***

Packed House To See Hawks Hit Augustana

Coach Pops Harrison will unveil his much talked about 1945-46 basketball team to an anticipated capacity crowd tonight in the Iowa fieldhouse as the Hawks oppose a much shorter and less potent Augustana quintet.

A record of 19 wins in the last 20 home games will be on the line as the Old Gold squad quintet begins its fourth year of competition under the skillful tutelage of Pops Harrison.

The starting lineup for the Hawkeyes is set except for the center position, but Clay Wilkinson will probably get the nod. The starting forwards are Murray Wier and Dick Ives and the guard posts will be held down by Herb Wilkinson and Ned Postels.

This Iowa quintet is the same starting five that clinched the Old Gold team its Big Ten championship last season with one exception. The only change is Wier's starting at forward and Ned Postels moving to a guard post in the absence of Jack Spencer.

Coach Harrison, who is not in the practice of running the score up on an opponent, will undoubtedly replace his first string cagers at the earliest possible moment in order that the remainder of his power-laden squad may see action.

Never has an Iowa cage coach had so much reserve power to draw from as this year. Twenty-four Hawks have been issued uniforms and it is possible that they all may see action tonight.

The Iowa quintet will average approximately six feet three inches whereas the Vikings have only one cager in their starting five that is six feet tall.

Harrison has not named a game captain and will not announce this until just before game time tonight.

Hampered by flu and injuries during the past week, it now appears that Dave Danner, rugged forward, will be the only cager affected for tonight's season opener. If the former City high star sees any action, it will be very limited.

It seems that the only place on the Hawkeye squad where replacements are not too plentiful is at the guard posts. But there Harrison has Herb Wilkinson, chosen last year as All-American, and Ned Postels in the starting five backed up by Tony Guzowski and Tommy Thomsen, both highly competent contenders.

At the forward posts, Wier and Ives will have ample support from Jack Wishmier and Charley Mason followed up by Tom Stahl, Leo Cabalka, Mike Semyan and John Kashlak.

The center post is probably the strongest fortified of all. Besides Wilkinson, Noble Jorgensen, six foot nine inch pivot man from Westminster college; Dick Culbertson, Ed Marsh and Bob Graham are capable handlers of the center slot.

Nusser, Miller Lead Rivermen To 36-22 Win

By JERRY BLOOM

Steve Nusser, Johnny Miller and Company dashed into an early lead last night and went on to win, as the University High Blue Hawks opened the new cage season with a 36-22 victory over a fighting Williamsburg quintet.

Nusser dropped 14 points through the hoops to lead the winners' scoring, and Winburn of the Raiders also countered 14 points. But the difference could be counted in the balance of the two teams, as Nick Anderson and Bill Green both made seven, with Miller scoring four and Hady two for the Rivermen.

The contest was a typical first-game fray, with both teams looking ragged through most of the four quarters. However, the Rivermen did show signs of becoming a good team. Teamwork on both offense and defense was one of the big points in the victory.

After Oakes had scored a free throw, Nusser, Greene and Anderson went to work to give the Blue Hawks a 13-6 first-period margin. In the second frame, it was increased to 22-11. After the half the two teams played evenly until the fourth quarter when U high tacked three more points onto the 11-point lead.

Defensive play on the part of both teams was especially ragged, with players being fooled out of position time and again. The Rivermen's man-for-man functioned quite tightly, with Miller and Greene showing up especially well. A height advantage also

Notre Dame Favored Over Great Lakes; Four Irish in Finale

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—Notre Dame, with four regulars closing their Irish careers, was heavily favored over injury-weakened Great Lakes in the midwestern football finale to be witnessed by 25,000 sailors here today.

Quarterback Frank Danczewicz, halfback Elmer Angsman, fullback Frank Ruggerio and tackle Pete Berezney all will make their collegiate farewell as the Irish seek their eighth victory against a 6-6 tie with Navy and a 48-0 defeat by Army.

The Bluejackets, ending their second war era competition, were in their poorest physical shape of the season with the entire first string backfield reported ailing. Great Lakes' chief offensive threat, fullback Marion Motley, was nursing a shoulder injury while quarterback George Terlep, former Notre Dame player, was benched all week by influenza.

Freeman Leads Little Hawks In 40-25 Win

Led by Bob Freeman, City high's Little Hawks jumped off into an early lead to hand Burlington's inexperienced Greyhounds a 40-25 defeat for the Red and White quintet's second consecutive victory of the season.

Freeman put on a one man scoring exhibition by pouring 17 points through the hoop as the Greyhounds' defense was no match for the high-scoring Hawklef forward. Burlington was using three sophomores in their starting lineup and the Greyhounds' inexperience was telling as they couldn't cope with the scoring aptitudes of Freeman or Bob Krall. The latter counted 15 markers, seven by virtue of the free throw lane.

The Little Hawks jumped off to a 12-4 first quarter lead and ran it up to 17-10 at halftime mostly through the work of Freeman and Krall. At the three-quarter mark the Hawklefs held a 31-19 advantage.

An interesting sidelight of the game was that only one field goal was counted by the Little Hawks aside from the collective 11 buckets dumped in by Freeman and Krall. Sonny Dean garnered this from his center post.

On the loser's side of the ledger, the scoring was evenly matched for the most part. Perry at center got 6, Fietl copped five and Staut, Morgan and Henry counted for four each.

In a preliminary contest, the Burlington freshman-sophomore team defeated City high's "B" squad 31-29. Hettrick was the outstanding cager for the Hawklefs while Hendricks received game honors for the Greyhounds.

St. Mary's Wallop St. Wens of C. R., 50-31, in Walkaway

Showing an amazing display of offensive and defensive strength, St. Mary's overwhelmed St. Wenceslaus in Cedar Rapids, 50-31, last night. Ten minutes and 20 seconds had gone by before St. Wens was able to score from the field. By that time the Marians had piled up a commanding 23-3 lead and the outcome was settled.

The second team took over then and continued to pull away from their outclassed opponents. The score at the half was 33-9.

The second half was a repetition of the first except for the fact that Suplest sent in his reserves sooner and they finished the game.

Bart Toohy and Bill Suplest led the Ramblers in scoring with 20 and 17 points respectively. Andy Chuklas played a fine game at his forward post, getting a majority of the rebounds off the offensive board.

Shrader and Mottet stood out with remarkable passing and rebounding work for the whole evening. It was their work on the rebounds that enabled the Rambler fast break to work repeatedly throughout the fray.

The St. Mary's offense reached such perfection that the team did not make a basket from back of the free throw circle.

For the losers Panek at center handled himself well and led his teammates in scoring with 14 points.

Former Miami Coach To Tutor Sailors

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—Appointment of Lt. Wilbur S. Ewbank, former basketball coach at Miami university (Ohio), as coach of the Great Lakes basketball team was announced yesterday by the athletic office at the naval training center.

Texas, Missouri Cotton Bowl Foes

DALLAS (AP)—A couple of teams that showed their metal in the stretch—Texas and Missouri—will meet in the tenth annual Cotton Bowl football game here Jan. 1.

Texas earned the right to be host in the New Year's classic by winning the Southwest conference championship with a 20-10 victory over Texas A. and M. Thursday.

Johnson Most Valuable

Art Johnson was the most valuable Iowa football player during the 1945 season in the opinion of his Hawkeye teammates, it was shown this week by a Daily Iowan poll.

The 220-pound Ft. Dodge fullback gained a wide margin over other Iowa gridders in the balloting. Bill Kay, tackle; Nelson Smith, halfback; Jerry Niles, quarterback; Ira Lund, center, and Louis Ginsberg, guard also drew votes from squad members.

It was three and a half years ago that Art hung up his football shoulder pads and went off to war. He thought he was saying goodbye to collegiate football forever as he joined the army air corps and trained to become a B-24 navigator.

They sent Art to Africa, where his plane joined the bomber task force that scored the first Allied raid on the Ploesti oil fields in Rumania. He had a close call there, left many brave comrades behind as victims of the deadly German ack-ack, but pulled through to pile up a war record that parallels the several steps to Allied invasion of the continent.

For many months Art was listed as missing in action when his plane was forced down in Portugal. Then he was released from internment and went to England to fly missions with the Eighth airforce over Germany.

After returning to the States last year, the big fullback married a mighty sweet little Texas gal and brought her with him to Iowa when he was discharged in September.

Art got a late start with the Hawkeyes and was plagued by an ankle injury until four defeats had slipped by. Then he hit the starting lineup and Iowa's running attack got a shot in the arm directly. His greatest game was against Minnesota when he scored two touchdowns and rolled up 97 yards in rushing.

He was the Hawks' best rusher this season with 290 yards gained in 65 tries for a 4.4 average and his 18 points was Iowa's best individual scoring mark.

IOWA'S MOST VALUABLE player enjoys an evening at home. Art and his pretty red-headed wife Ann demonstrate that the big Iowa fullback isn't the only talented member of the family. Here Art bribes Chipper, their dog, into showing off for the camera.
