Jap War Crimes Suspect Found Guilty

Guard Given Life Sentence At Hard Labor

Nip Unmercifully Beat, Killed American Survivor of Bataan

YOKOHAMA, Thursday (AP)—Tatsuo Tsuchiya, a prison camp guard who was the first war crimes suspect to be tried in Japan, was convicted today of killing an American prisoner of war and was sentenced to hard labor for life.

The United States war crimes commission adjudged that Tsuchiya, known as "Little Glass Eye," along with other Japanese "WILFULLY UNLAWFULLY AND UNMERCIFULLY BEAT AND KILLED PFC. ROBERT GORDON TEAS" of Streator, Ill., a survivor of the Bataan death march.

The prosecution had asked the death sentence for Tsuchiya.

The commission also convicted Tsuchiya on other specifications. One was that he and another guard "brutally beat and tortured one Sgt. G. J. Lundquist," another prisoner of war. Another was that on numerous occasions Tsuchiya abused and mistreated American and British prisoners of war by forcing them to form two ranks and slap each other.

He was acquitted on charges that he beat Pfc. Fred L. Kollis and Pvt. Vincente P. Virgil.

Stood Impassive
Tsuchiya stood impassive before the commission as the sentence was repeated to him by an interpreter after it was announced in English.

The commission reached its decision by a secret, written ballot on each specification and on the sentence. The defense counsel gave no indication of an appeal.

The commission adjourned until this afternoon to meet again for the trial of First Lt. Ken Yuri, charged with directing guards to BAYONET AN AMERICAN SOLDIER TO DEATH IN FRONT OF A GROUP OF AMERICAN OFFICERS.

A second commission will begin trial tomorrow morning of Lt. Chotora Furushima, charged with beating prisoners and denying them clothing. Capt. Beverly Coleman, USNR, of McClean, W. Va., will be president of this second commission.

To Select Prison
Tsuchiya's sentence provides for imprisonment in a prison selected by the reviewing authority who presumably will be Lt. Gen. Charles P. Hall, acting commander of the eighth army. The case automatically will go to him for review.

Appreciation for a "fair trial" was expressed after the verdict by Jiro Watanabe, Japanese civilian of the defense counsel.

"As a Japanese, I feel very sorry for Tsuchiya," he said.

"I feel very sorry for Tsuchiya's family. BUT I BELIEVE THE TRIAL WAS CONDUCTED VERY FAIRLY AND JUSTLY."

"I feel very much gratified by the effort made by the American defense counsel. I feel gratified enough to have tears in my eyes. I wish to express my deepest thanks for the kindness of the United States defense counsel."

Court Sentences Japs To Hang for Murders

KWAJALEIN, Marshall Islands (AP)—The hangman's noose on Kwajalein awaits eleven Japanese convicted of mass murders of American prisoners of war on mid-Pacific islands.

Dates of execution have not been set. The verdicts are being reviewed by higher authority than the military commission which passed the death sentence.

Nine Nipponese were sentenced to be hanged for killing American airmen on Mili and Jaluit atolls in the Marshalls in 1943. Five other Japanese were sentenced to prison.

The last pair to hear the court pronounce the death sentence were Rear Adm. Shigemasa Sakaibara and Lt. Cmdr. Soichi Tachibana, held responsible for ordering the mass slaughter of 96 civilian prisoners on Wake island.

Turkish Press Brands Reports of Russian Annexation 'Crazy'

Territorial Demand Published in Soviet Paper by Georgians

ISTANBUL (Delayed) (AP)—The semi-official news agency Anatolia said yesterday that "for one inch of Turkish territory all Turkey is ready to throw itself into the fire." It also branded as "crazy" recent Georgian demands, prominently displayed in the Soviet press, that Russia annex a strategic 180-mile stretch of the Black sea coast.

Anatolia's declaration reflects local sentiment growing out of an opinion expressed recently by Istanbul's conservative newspaper, Tasvir, which said "Turkey will answer no to all territorial demands and, if she is told that there will be war, she will answer 'all right we will fight.'"

The "territorial demand," published in the form of a letter from two intellectuals of the Georgian Soviet Socialist republic, Stalin's birthplace, appeared in the Moscow press as the big three foreign ministers prepared to convene.

An area reaching 180 miles southwest of the Russian oil port of Batumi to Giresun, stretching inland as deep as 75 miles, and defined as "our ancient land taken by Turkey," was sought.

Earlier this week Turkish Gen. Kazim Karabekir told the Turkish national assembly that unless relations between Turkey and Russia were friendly, "great wounds" could follow.

Karabekir's words and a statement by Foreign Minister Hassan Saka that Turkey wanted nothing and would give nothing, were repetitions of similar recent declarations that Turkey would fight before yielding either land or rights.

Native Dutch Soldiers Fire On Car of Indonesian Premier

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—Native Dutch troops fired a volley of bullets yesterday at a car in which Sutan Sjahrir, premier of the unrecognized republic, was a passenger, but Sjahrir was uninjured.

British authorities said it was established that the native troops—Eurasians and Surinamese—did not know the identity of the car's occupant, and had sought only to confiscate an Indonesian car.

Another unidentified Indonesian passenger in Sjahrir's car also escaped injury.

Sjahrir, who returned Tuesday from a tour of Java, said an automobile containing five young men in Dutch uniforms approached the car in which he was riding. One man opened fire. The bullets struck the radiator of Sjahrir's car.

One of the Eurasians leaped from the attack car and aimed his pistol at Sjahrir, the premier said. The weapon jammed.

Fifteen other Eurasians, all in Dutch uniforms, approached, but fled when the British military patrol car reached the scene. The five occupants of the attack car were arrested.

Sjahrir is a key figure in the negotiations to restore order in strife-torn Java, and such an attack could have thrown the delicate political situation into confusion.

(Prime Minister Wilhelm Schermerhorn of the Netherlands and acting Governor General Hubertus J. Van Mook of the Netherlands East Indies were in London yesterday for conferences with Prime Minister Attlee, who is portrayed by diplomatic observers as most anxious to withdraw British troops from the Dutch islands. Attlee was believed to have made it clear he had asked the Dutch to state specifically their intentions in Indonesia.)

(Van Mook was said to have told the Schermerhorn cabinet the Indonesian Nationalists would accept nothing less than recognition of the government of President Soekarno.)

Hopes for Agreement In China's Civil War Receive Setback

Communists Fail To Deliver Truce Proposal at Meeting

CHUNGKING (AP)—Hopes of an early truce in China's undeclared civil war received another setback tonight when a scheduled formal resumption of negotiations between government and Communist leaders was postponed.

Representatives of the two sides met, but their encounter was described as an "informal social occasion," and a truce proposal which Communists earlier had said they would deliver in writing yesterday was not presented.

A government spokesman, minister of information K. C. Wu, commented that the Communist truce offer, described as "unconditional" when it was first mentioned Dec. 19, actually had strings to it. He said it was conditioned on withdrawal of government forces from the railroads.

Leaders of the Democratic league, third largest political group in China, laid before Gen. George C. Marshall their organization's view of the troubled situation. The league delegation of seven persons—including one woman, hour with the special American Mrs. Herman Liu—spent half an evening.

Far from all this talk in Chungking, central government troops in cotton quilted uniforms braved sub-zero weather in their wintry march toward Mukden. A dispatch by Spencer Davis, Associated Press correspondent at Peiping, said Gen. Tu Li-Ming's forces had established liaison with Russian troops for entry into Sianmin, 37 miles from the key Manchurian city.

No Communist opposition was reported.

Weather Bureau Says Less Snow, Sleet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation may have a respite from sleet, snow and cold waves at least until the week-end.

The United States weather bureau said the weather would be "fairly good" over most of the country for the next few days.

Lowest official reading in the last 24 hours was eight below zero at Minot, N. D., which the bureau described as seasonal for that locality.

Explosion Kills Five Persons

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Five persons were killed and five were injured, none seriously, in an unexplained explosion which destroyed a warehouse-apartment building here early yesterday.

Five bodies were recovered from the ruins. They were identified tentatively as Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Caroline Sue Stovall, 10; Mrs. Francis Watson McClain, 26, and her sister, Miss Mildred Watson, 21, of Huntington Park, Calif.

First theory that the building was destroyed by a butane gas tank explosion was discarded by Fire Chief C. L. Tenney said, when the tank was found intact. He added it was believed accumulated heating gas from a leaking pipe may have been exploded by the exhaust from a truck.

Anthony Berta, a truck driver who was among the injured, said the explosion occurred when he stepped on the starter of his machine.

Work on Communique
The three foreign ministers began work at 2:30 p. m. and still were in session more than three hours later, putting the finishing touches to their communique.

Molotov and his two visitors HAVE COME TO KNOW ONE ANOTHER MORE INTIMATELY than ever before and it is said, a real measure of mutual admiration exists among them.

Hope Fades for Coal Miners

Burning Coal, Debris Slow Rescue Squads

PINEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Although rescue workers late last night had dug their way to a point approximately 4,000 feet from where 30 to 50 coal miners were entombed, workers and relatives alike held little hope that any of the men would be found alive.

Trained mine rescue squads were balked at every step of the way by flames, gas fumes and fallen debris. A spokesman for the Kentucky Straight Creek Coal company said, at 10:30 p. m. (CST) however, that the latest rescue team to report had penetrated one and one-half miles from the mine entrance. Hope was expressed that the area where the miners are believed to be trapped could be reached today.

Indications were that the explosion was a violent one. Daniel Harrington, of the bureau of mines at Washington, said it was probable that all the trapped men were killed.

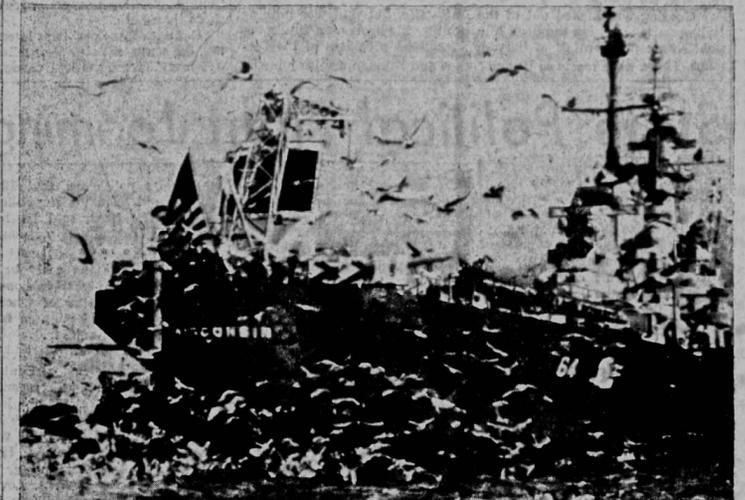

Highway Patrolman Austin Hall, who reported the latest developments, said the miners were believed to be trapped at the dead-end of the two and one-half mile deep mine.

All available means were being employed to combat the flame, which apparently had been burning since the explosion occurred about 8:30 a. m.

Rescuers had been in the mine seven hours, digging through piled flaming, dislodged coal, smoke and gas fumes, when they came upon the fire.

Hall said it appeared unlikely that the explosion area could be reached short of "two or three days," and that there appeared little hope for this reason that the men could be reached in time.

Mine Operator W. E. Lewis said he believed there were "not less than 30 nor more than 50" men in the mine.

At Washington, Daniel Harrington, of the bureau of mines, said indications were the explosion was a violent one and that it was probable that all the entrapped men were killed.

Rescue crews were summoned from several mines in the southeastern Kentucky coal fields, squads entered the mine's lone exit shortly before noon, Lewis said, while clouds of smoke still boiled from the pit opening.

The source of the smoke was not determined immediately and

President to Deliver Message in January

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman probably will deliver his annual message to congress in person next month. If so, there may be history's first television broadcast of a presidential address at the capitol.

This was confirmed by White House officials yesterday, along with word that Mr. Truman will speak to the nation by radio sometime before the Jan. 14 reconvening of congress. Charles G. Ross, press secretary, said the radio address will be shortly after Jan. 2.

Secret Service Guard For Six Presidents Dies of Heart Attack

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—James Sloan Jr., who was known to thousands of White House callers for 32 years as "Jimmie of the Secret Service," died here late yesterday of heart disease. He was 69 years old.

Sloan served presidents as a secret service man from Theodore Roosevelt to Truman before returning last July 1 in retirement to reside with his mother at Danville, where he was born. He apparently suffered a sudden heart attack while seated in an automobile, and died within a few minutes. He had been in ill health recently, members of the family said.

In addition to his mother, two brothers and four sisters survive. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Sloan boxed, wrestled, rode horseback and hiked 15 miles a day with Theodore Roosevelt. He recalled their association in an interview with D. Harold Oliver, Associated Press White House reporter, last summer.

"We got to be pretty good friends," Sloan mused. "We used to wrestle on a mat on the second floor of the White House. He was pretty rough—rough about everything. He was a hard rider, but took very good care of his horses."

"We used to walk through Rock Creek park averaging 15 to 18 miles on a Sunday. T. R. would walk through water and mud and come back to the White House looking a mess. Me too."

Sloan served under presidents Taft, Wilson, Harding as a nominee, Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman.

He was in business from 1920 to 1931 and missed serving under Harding as president and under President Coolidge.

British War Bride Stowaway Awaits Legal Entry Into U. S.

BALTIMORE (AP)—A British war bride who cut red tape by stowing away on a freighter reached her objective—the United States—yesterday but after several hours ashore went back to the freighter, Empire Shamois.

There the girl, Brenda Morgan, 19, must await in the custody of Capt. Harold Sapsworth for the removal of the last legal barriers between her and her husband, ex-GI Jimmy Morgan, of Wichita Falls, Tex.

American Nips Board Ship for Japan

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Two trainloads of silent Japanese arrived yesterday from the Tulelake, Calif., came to board a ship that will take them back to Japan.

Most of the 1,800 men, women and children, bound for Japan by their own request or by deportation orders, stood expressionless as customs officials examined their baggage in the embarkation depot.

Only one boy of many questioned by reporters said he would rather have remained here. He stared quickly down at his sports shoes when the question came. "No, no," he muttered, "I don't want to go to Japan." He walked quickly away.

Reports Claim Secretaries In Agreement

Diplomatic Observers Predict Announcement Of Important Results

MOSCOW (AP)—The foreign ministers of the United States, Russia and Great Britain were said late last night to have reached an agreement on all points of their discussions and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin were making arrangements for an early departure.

(The Moscow radio in a broadcast heard in London said that the conference had ended and that Byrnes would hold a press conference at 7:30 a. m. Thursday (10:30 p. m. CST Wednesday).)

Diplomatic observers forecast a prompt announcement of "IMPORTANT AND DEFINITE RESULTS" concerning the conference.

Unquestionably agreement has been achieved on many main issues, these observers said, adding that the conference has gone well beyond anything that had been expected even by Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Soviet Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov themselves.

All the world ills have not been solved, these informants said, "but progress, and great progress has been made."

Officials Called Back
(In London, foreign office officials were called back from holiday vacations to be at their posts for an expected release of the conference communique.)

(London diplomatic observers felt it was SAFE TO ASSUME THAT THE MAJOR PART OF THE CONFERENCE HAD BEEN DEVOTED TO CURRENT PRESSING PROBLEMS and that problems with long-range significance were discussed for the purpose of an exchange of views, with final settlement put off.)

The air of optimism persisted here right up to the closing hours of the conference. Observers pointed out that the rapidly with which the three statesmen reached an agreement on peace treaty procedure indicated considerable progress.

Work on Communique
The three foreign ministers began work at 2:30 p. m. and still were in session more than three hours later, putting the finishing touches to their communique.

Molotov and his two visitors HAVE COME TO KNOW ONE ANOTHER MORE INTIMATELY than ever before and it is said, a real measure of mutual admiration exists among them.

She came ashore at noon with all her luggage, a little bag containing lipstick, powder and a change of clothes, for a preliminary hearing before immigration officials.

The hearing was suspended, Inspector John P. Ryan said, pending the expected arrival of her husband. Then the girl, technically barred from this country, went back to the ship.

Her stowing away solved a lot of her legalistic problems and a bill now on President Truman's desk might fix the rest, immigration officials told her. The bill would make it unnecessary for GI brides to have the usual immigration documents, which she doesn't have.

If it isn't signed, a little legal maneuvering probably will accomplish the same result, Ryan said. However, her husband must be on hand. Ryan added that Red Cross officials told him that husband Jimmy was leaving Wichita Falls today for Baltimore.

Six hours after the freighter sailed from Avonmouth, England, Dec. 7, the girl was found. Then Captain Sapsworth installed the brown-haired girl in a cabin. William Scarlett, a steamship agent, said he had been told she won a beauty contest in England.

Gwen D. Loan Weds V. Burnett Yesterday In Double Ring Service

In a setting of Christmas decorations at the Zion Lutheran church, Gwen Darlene Loan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loan of Oxford, became the bride of Virgil Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Burnett, 1110 N. DuBuque street, Christmas night at 7 o'clock. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. A. C. Proehl.

Preceding the ceremony, Phyllis Wyjack of Iowa City sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. A. C. Proehl, organist, who played the traditional wedding marches.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Don Walton of Iowa City, sister of the bridegroom. Joan Burnett, niece of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, and Darrel Loan of Oxford, brother of the bride, was best man. Ossie Nortman of Coralville served as witness.

Wears White Satin

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of white satin, designed with bridal point sleeves and a full skirt which extended into a junior train. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and her bridal bouquet was of chrysanthemums.

The matron of honor wore a floor-length gown of light blue chiffon over pink satin, fashioned with a high round neck-line and long full sleeves. Her veil of matching pink net was shoulder-length, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Burnett's gown was of blue taffeta, and she wore a short veil of matching blue net.

Mrs. Loan selected for her daughter's wedding a blue ensemble. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress, complemented with black accessories, and each wore a gardenia corsage.

Reception at Home

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception took place in the home of the bride's parents. Centerpiece of the serving table was a wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The bride, a graduate of Cosgrove high school, is employed by Bremer's Clothing store. Mr. Burnett attended Iowa City high school and is now employed by Wilson and company in Cedar Rapids.

The couple will reside at 821 E. Church street in Iowa City.

SHE'S BEST-DRESSED WOMAN

BEST-DRESSED WOMAN in the world, according to the fashion critics of the New York Dress Institute, is Socialite Mrs. Stanley Mortimer of New York, above. Shown in an evening gown, Mrs. Mortimer won the honor last year.

CONRAD NAGEL WEDS STARLET

CONRAD NAGEL, 45-year-old star of the screen and radio, and his bride, Lynn Merrick, 23-year-old starlet, are honeymooning after their marriage at Ft. Lee, N. J. The bride's real name is Marilyn Llewellyn and she is a native of Dallas, Tex.

Ann Canedy Recalls—

Excitement of Meeting Windsors

"I was so excited I don't quite remember what I said when the duchess handed me one of the three prizes!"

The drawing of a lucky number, the winning of a bottle of Jamaica rum and a bottle of Kimmell at an RAF dance was the first introduction Ann Canedy, 41 of Lewis-town, Pa., had to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

Last Spring Miss Canedy visited for three months with relatives in Nassau, the central city of New Providence island. The former king of England, governor of the Bahama islands for five years, was often seen in the city. Many dances were given "under the distinguished patronage of His Royal Highness the Duke and the Duchess of Windsor," but seldom was a young American woman given a gift directly from the duchess.

As the duke appeared in the ballroom that evening, dressed in a tuxedo and a white coat, "God Save the King" was played and the dancers, most of whom were under the British crown, bowed.

"I shook hands with them," Miss Canedy said.

"The duke is known for his ability to remember names, but I was never-the-less surprised and pleased to hear him say 'Hello, Miss Canedy' when I met him days later on the street."

At the time of President Roosevelt's death a special service was held in the immense cathedral. The council representatives from many lands, who are in charge of passports, wore uniforms as they marched in a solemn procession in compliance with the occasion.

Explaining that all government officials wore, and also always wear at trials, floor length red velvet robes, Miss Canedy described the scene. Each official wore a powdered wig with shoulder length curls. The duke wore a navy and white uniform. She added that he is qualified to wear any rank but always, when entertaining a guest, wears a corresponding uniform.

"I have seldom been so deeply touched as I was to hear that crowd of English people, honoring our dead president, sing 'The Star Spangled Banner,' Miss Canedy reported.

The duke, who resigned his office last spring, lived in the government house which is situated on a hill overlooking the island. His American car, displaying a crown in place of a license plate, was often seen speeding along the streets.

Giving an instance of a little money making plan, the Iowa student related the story of a barber who charged extra for anyone wishing to have his hair cut in the same chair in which the Duke of Windsor had sat.

Continuing to relate her experiences, she told of meeting Lady Oakes, widow of Sir Harry Oakes who was murdered several years ago. Lady Oakes owns the greater part of the island. "She gave me a pass to her salt water swimming pool at the British Colonial hotel," Miss Canedy said. The pool is about a mile long.

Giving a little insight into activities on the island, she stated that polo is the favorite sport. Everyone rides a bicycle and many hacks are used. The water, no matter how deep, is distinctly clear, and much spear fishing is done.

Catherine Burke to Wed Claire T. Hanrahan This Morning at St. Wenceslaus Church

This morning at 9 o'clock in St. Wenceslaus church, Catherine A. Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burke, 1007 E. Bloomington street, will become the bride of Claire T. Hanrahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Linus Hanrahan of Delmar. The Rev. Edward W. Neuzil will read the vows of the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with Christmas flowers.

Mrs. Philip Englert will present nuptial organ selections and will accompany Duane Smith of Iowa City, who will sing "Ave Maria" (Schubert), "Panis Angelicus" (Franck) and "Dominus Non Sum Dignus."

Mrs. James Starr of Iowa City will attend her sister as matron of honor and serving as best man will be Francis Hanrahan of Delmar, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers will be Joseph Hanrahan of Iowa City, cousin of the bridegroom, and Edward Beers of Delmar.

White Satin and Net

The bride will be attired in a floor-length gown of white satin and net, designed with a sweetheart neckline and bracelet sleeves. Her fingertip veil is edged in lace and will fall from a tiara of seed pearls. Her only jewelry will be a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and she will carry a colonial bouquet of white gardenias and white carnations. The matron of honor will wear a floor-length gown of blue net over taffeta, fashioned with a

Pre-Flights To Continue Major Sports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy announced yesterday that it planned to carry out peacetime intercollegiate athletic programs at preflight schools at Ottumwa, Iowa, and St. Mary's, Calif.

The programs will be in charge of Cmdr. J. E. Dougherty, who succeeds Cmdr. William R. ("Killer") Kane as head of navy's preflight physical training. Kane recently was named assistant director of athletics at the United States Naval Academy.

"We intend to continue football and other forms of athletics at Ottumwa and St. Mary's on the same basis as during wartime, except that some reinforcement will be effected," Dougherty told a reporter.

Many college coaches who served in the pre-flight program as specialists during wartime have returned to civilian life, Dougherty said. Athletic instruction in the future will be under veteran pilots with overseas experience.

Dougherty, a native of Philadelphia, graduated from the Naval Academy in 1935. He captained wrestling and soccer teams. During the war he saw action on destroyers and as commanding officer of patrol bombing squadrons in the Pacific.

Underdog Role Puzzles Mentor Of Holy Cross

WORCESTER, Mass.—Not that they mind, for Coach "Ox" DaGross and his Holy Cross Crusaders like the role, but they are wondering why they rate as underdogs for the Orange Bowl football classic against the University of Miami's homebred Hurricanes.

"It must be those comparative scores again," the Crusaders agree. "But they had to go a long way to reach such a conclusion. Miami beat Michigan State, 21-7, Michigan State beat Penn State, 33-0, Penn State beat Temple, 27-0, and Temple beat us, 14-6."

And that Temple upset still irks the Crusaders, for it was their only setback of the regular season, and, for a time, it threatened to blight their post-season game hopes.

Looking back, DaGross cites the Owls' victory as a blessing in disguise, for it revealed several unsuspected weaknesses in his squad chiefly his replacements.

"There is much too much spread between our regulars and our substitutes," he explained. "And we're going to need every member of our squad in the Orange Bowl game's heat."

"It's going to be very difficult getting our players in condition for a game in hot Miami, for we'll have less than a week there to get acclimated for a rival hardened to such playing conditions."

Although Stan Koslowski, the

Hawks End Christmas Vacation

A three-day Christmas vacation for seven Iowa basketball players ended last night when Coach Pops Morrison called a short cage practice, setting the team's sights on the Jan. 1 non-conference date with St. Louis U. in the fieldhouse. The rest of the squad was due back today and will practice at 7 o'clock tonight.

Dick Ives was the only first team member missing from last night's drills, but Noble Jorgensen, Tony Guzowski, Tommy Thomsen and Charlie Mason were second stringers who had not returned.

Pops sent the boys through strenuous fast-break drills the length of the floor, but promised a resumption of full fledged practice tonight.

The Hawks can be assured of plenty of competition when they collide with St. Louis University's Billikins here New Year's night. Meeting most of the Midwest's powerhouses this season, St. Louis extended Illinois into an overtime before losing a thriller last Dec. 5. Taking Iowa's bare two-point victory over the Illini here last Saturday as an indication, the Hawks and the Billikins should make a close one of it next Tuesday night.

A check of Iowa statistics revealed that the team's shot average had slipped a little, now marking 25 percent. Opponents have averaged 19 percent of their shots. An interesting note is the fact that Iowa has attempted almost twice as many shots as its six foes—630 to 355.

Murray Wier, whose severe charlie horse bothered him in last week's Illini game, still is the most accurate Hawk basket hanger according to the statistics. He has made 29 field goals in 82 attempts for a 35 percent average.

Pops said last night that Murray's leg was much better and should be back to normal by next Tuesday.

Ives came close to overtaking the hot little Muscatine forward with the 14 points he bagged against Illinois. Ives now has 72 points, trailing Wier's total by four.

Other members of the team who were on hand for last night's practice were: Ned Postels and Herb Wilkinson, first string guards; Clayton Wilkinson, varsity center; Dave Danner, forward, "Dutch" Wischmeier, guard, and Ed Marsh, center.

Barbara Wilkin Moves Ahead in Tennis Meet

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Barbara Wilkins of New Rochelle, N. Y., defending champion in the 1946 National Girls' Indoor Singles tennis tournament, yesterday gained the third round without effort at Longwood.

After drawing a first-round bye, Miss Wilkins, seeded third on the list of four, advanced on the default posted by Kitty Hill, her townswoman.

Among the second-round victors were the top-seeded Sylvia Knowles of Newport, R. I., Nina Irwin of New York, seeded second, and the fourth-ranked Lois Felix of Meriden, Conn.

Oh Me, Oh My!

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Five husky firemen answered an alarm at the C. C. Plumb home, quickly raised a ladder to rescue a kitten from a tree.

But they had to thaw out the spots where its paws and tail had frozen to the limb before bringing it to safety.

Tigers Discuss Cotton Bowl Strategy

Phelan Signs New Contract At St. Mary's

EDGEWATER PARK, Miss. (AP)—Coach Jimmy Phelan of St. Mary's yesterday said he and assistant football coach Marty Kordick had signed new five-year contracts to coach the Gaels.

Phelan said his new contract also made him Athletic Director, a new post, and that the school would add track to its athletic program.

No announcement was made of the salaries to be paid.

A Notre Dame star before World War I, Phelan coached the University of Missouri, Purdue and the University of Washington before coming to St. Mary's in June, 1942.

Kordick was an All-Pacific coast guard at St. Mary's where he was graduated in 1936.

The St. Mary's team is here practicing for the Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans.

Schwartz Advances In Tennis Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—Second-seeded Sidney Schwartz of Brookline advanced to the quarter final round of the National Indoor Junior Tennis championships yesterday without losing a single game.

After drawing a first round bye, Schwartz disposed of William Stucki of Cliffside Park, N. J., and Lawrence Laiks of Brooklyn in love sets as play opened in both the Junior and National Boys title tourney.

Tulsa Has Habit Of Setting Records In Bowl Appearances

By HOWARD BRISCO

TULSA, Okla.—The University of Tulsa's Golden Hurricanes, Georgia's opponents in the forthcoming Oil Bowl clash, have a habit of setting records of individual performance in New Year's classics.

And if they fail to hang up some new mark against the Bulldogs Jan. 1 at Houston it will be the first time in five consecutive bowl appearances.

In the last Orange Bowl game at Miami, Camp Wilson, the Hurricanes' 200-pound fullback, grabbed a kickoff and rambled 90 yards through Georgia Tech tacklers for a touchdown. It was the longest Orange Bowl kickoff return on record. Perry Moss, Tulsa's freshman tailback, added another such record by punting 69 yards. Tulsa won the game, 26-12.

Although the Hurricane lost the 1944 Sugar Bowl game to Georgia Tech, 18-20, a substitute tailback, Jimmy Ford, ripped off the longest scrimmage run of record there, a 76-yard touchdown dash.

The year before Sugar Bowl fans saw Tulsa's All-America Glenn Dobbs complete eight consecutive forward passes, the seventh for the Hurricanes' lone score as it lost to Tennessee, 7-14. Dobbs also set a Sugar Bowl punting record of 78 yards.

Tulsa's first Bowl appearance, against Texas Tech in the 1942 Sun Bowl at El Paso, produced one of the most brilliant passing performances on record anywhere. The Hurricane defeated one of Tech's best teams that day, 6-0, with less than three minutes to play, but in the course of the game Dobbs completed 22 of 29 forward passes, most of them to his favorite receiver, Sax Judd.

Of the record holders only Wilson remains on the Hurricane squad, but there are other backs to replace Dobbs, Ford and company and the Tulsans remain an active threat to existing records.

Tulsa Arrives At Oil Bowl

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Coach Henry Franka and 39 of his Tulsa university football players boarded a train yesterday on the first leg of their trip to Houston, Tex., and the New Year's Day game with Georgia university in the Oil Bowl.

Several additional players vacationing over Christmas, were to join the team at Dallas where they were to spend the night, arriving in Houston this afternoon. A workout was scheduled upon arrival.

At Houston, plans have been made to take the players by fire trucks from the railway station to their hotel. A similar welcome is planned for the Georgia team which will arrive Friday.

Rams Resign Quartet Who Helped Win Title

CLEVELAND (AP)—Halfbacks Fred Gehrke and Jim Gillette, end Steve Pritko and fullback Pat West have signed 1946 contracts with the Cleveland Rams, 1945 champions of the National Professional Football League.

General Manager Charles F. Walsh announced signing of the quartet, all of whom played with the Rams this season.

Texas Gridders Old Veterans At Bowl Tilts

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—If bowl experience means anything, Texas has it all over Missouri in their approaching battle at Dallas in the Cotton Bowl.

The Longhorns boast five bowl veterans, all of them with post-season experience in the Dallas saucer. One of them goes back as far as Jan. 1, 1943, when the Texans met Georgia Tech.

Ed Head was one of two freshmen selected to join the varsity after first-year men were made eligible in December, 1942. He appeared briefly in Texas' 14-7 victory.

In 1944 Texas went to the Cotton Bowl against Randolph field and, in cold rain and on a slippery gridiron, soon found itself trailing the Ramblers, 0-7. The Longhorns tied it up on a pass and the game ended, 7-7. On the throwing end of that important 35-yard play was Ralph Ellsworth, starting Texas tailback then and now. The San Antonio speedster sandwiched a year at the United States naval academy between championship seasons at Texas.

Jim Plyler and Harlan Wetz, massive Texas tackles, have played together for three seasons. The other Longhorn with previous Cotton Bowl experience is Ransom Jackson.

Missouri doesn't have anyone on the squad who ever appeared in a bowl game.

Crimson Tide In California

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Alabama's Crimson Tide—34 players strong—arrived at nearby Alhambra last night after a 72-hour train trip from Tuscaloosa and Coach Frank Thomas immediately arranged for a night workout to start limbering up for the Rose Bowl football game New Year's day with Southern California Trojans.

"The boys came through the long trip in good shape," said Thomas as he hustled his players into buses. He said that after supper they would work out under the lamps at South Pasadena high school.

Approximately 500 welcomers were on hand at the depot, including film actor Johnny Mack Brown, one of the heroes of Alabama's first Rose Bowl appearance Jan. 1, 1926.

Thomas said nine of his players who were suffering with flu when they left appeared to be over it. He was worried about Lowell Tew, regular right halfback, who broke his jaw in the last scrimmage before they left Alabama. Tew has the jaw wired and is on a liquid diet.

Filchock, Baugh's Understudy, May Be Traded to Pro Giants

By BUS HAM

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frankie Filchock's six-year wish—to be No. 1 quarterback on a big-league professional football team—is nearing realization.

The Washington Redskins plan to trade Filchock, one of the game's better passers, to the New York Giants. In return, they want two players still in the army, Tommy Mont, a back, and Paul Stenn, a tackle.

Redskins officials declined to comment on the trade. But it was learned that as soon as Mont and Stenn indicate they are willing to play with the Tribe, the deal will be closed. Mont formerly played at Maryland university.

Stenn started for March field in the army air-forces league.

Reports have been current that Filchock might jump to the New York Yankees of the All-America conference, which makes its start next season.

Filchock, 29, recently told a reporter that he certainly would like to "get a crack" at a regular assignment before the best years of his career are used up.

Ever since Filchock came out of Indiana university to join the Redskins, he has been in the shadow of Sammy Baugh.

After receiving a medical discharge from service, Filchock got a break early in the 1941 season when wartime regulations kept Baugh on his Texas ranch much of the time.

Filchock guided the Redskins to a string of victories. But late in the campaign with Filchock back in his understudy role, the fast-finishing Giants knocked the Redskins out of the eastern division title in the National league race.

This year, Filchock saw only occasional action until the championship game with the Cleveland Rams. With Baugh injured, Filchock threw two touchdowns passes although the Rams won, 15-14.

Court Action May Decide Sinkwich Case

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions of the National Football league said yesterday they "would go into court" if the newly-formed All-American conference attempted to sign the Lions' backfield ace, Frankie Sinkwich, to a 1946 contract.

Sinkwich, recently discharged from the army, reportedly has been contacted by representatives of the new league. A Lions spokesman said yesterday he had heard such rumors but added that Sinkwich's contract has another year to run.

The Lions said they "would go into court to prove the validity of the contract if the All-American conference attempted to sign the former Lions star back in 1946."

Sinkwich recently indicated he might quit pro football. Coach Gus Dorais of the Lions expects to confer with him after the new year.

The Lions yesterday also announced the signing of Elmer (Tippy) Madarik for 1946. Madarik, former halfback star of the University of Detroit and who played with army airforce teams in 1944 and 1945, performed for the Lions in the latter part of the 1945 season.

North-South Squads Drill

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Northern and Southern All-Stars began ironing out the rough spots yesterday in practice for Saturday's Blue-Gray football encounter.

The Blue squad elected Morton Hochheiser, 190-pound center from Temple, as captain for the eighth annual contest.

The Northerners will enter the game minus one of the three members of their coaching staff. Blue-Gray headquarter said yesterday Bo McMillin of Indiana still was suffering from influenza and would not arrive here.

That left Northwestern's Lynn Waldorf and Ray Morrison of Temple to handle the coaching duties against a Gray squad tutored by Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, Matty Bell of Southern Methodist and Bernie Moore of Louisiana State.

Racing Roundup

NEW YORK (AP)—Carmel Town, a four-year-old filly that had won only two of 13 previous starts in 1945, captured the $3,000 Sarasota purse at Gulfstream park yesterday in a driving finish.

The daughter of Hadagal ran the six furlongs over fast track in 1:12 1/5 with apprentice Frank Truschka in the saddle. Carrying the Blue and Red silks of Mrs. E. L. Hopkins, Carmel Town paid $19.40 for the one-length triumph over Tedious Miss, the early pace setter. Legislator barely came the show in a disappointing performance. Reply Paid, making his first start since a successful New Year season, trailed all the way.

Job Dean Jessop, leading jockey of the year who is aiming at Jack Westop's modern win mark of $301, picked up two more victories, boosting his total to 287. Jessop scored on Wild Agent at $40 in the second and Snowline at $7.30 in the eighth.

Jockey H. Wallace rode five winners on the eight-race card at the New Orleans fair grounds, including W. G. Hells' miles in the featured New Iberia purse. The three-year-old filly toured the mile and one sixteenth in 1:54 and paid $6.20.

Wallace's other triumphs came on Break Thru ($4.40) in the third, Umbrago ($7.80) in the fourth, Three Bangs ($8.20) and in the seventh Vestibula ($5.00) in the eighth.

1945 Great Year for City High

With reviews of this year's sports activities falling around like so many 1945 calendars, the Little Hawks of Iowa City high school can take a look over their shoulders at a year of great interscholastic competition and puff up with pride.

City high has become noted for its potent athletic teams, not only in its own Mississippi Valley conference, but throughout the state as well. The past year was no exception. If anything, the record was even higher.

The football team's prominence is still foremost in the minds of many sports fans. Under the skillful direction of Wally Schwank, the Little Hawks emerged from a tough schedule with an enviable mark.

After dropping their opening game to Clinton by one touchdown, the City high men swept through the rest of their season undefeated. A freak 7-7 tie with McKinley of Cedar Rapids was the only blemish as the Hawklets bumped off such powerhouses as Davenport, Marshalltown, Burlington, Franklin and Wilson in Cedar Rapids and Dubuque.

Formation Clicks
With the able assistance of Gil Wilson, Schwank moulded one of the best T formations in the state and coached a line equalled by few. City high's tricky T was handled by Jimmy Sangster at quarterback and was helped out by an eleven that packed plenty of power in every department.

Sangster's passing and field generalship spelled defeat directly for several major foes. Bob Krall, now playing regularly on the basketball team, was a standout runner and defensive man. The fullbacking of Chug Wilson and halfbacking of Bill Olson left nothing to be desired.

Clearing the path for the backs were linemen who seldom got relief—or much publicity. Stand-out lineman as Evan Smith, who was chosen all-state end. Smith was a reliable defensive bulwark and the target for many of Sangster's left-handed pitches.

Cormack Comes Back
This fall, just after the grid season ended, City high's regular coach returned from the wars. He is Herb Cormack, crafty mentor who has tutored five Little Hawk football machines to conference titles. Herb will take up where Wally left off by coaching the 1946 eleven.

Gil Wilson found two regulars returning from last season's conference championship basketball team when he came to Iowa City as head cage coach. Bob Freeman and Jim Van Deusen, ranking one-two in league scoring last season, formed the nucleus of the present quintet, backed by Bob Krall, Sonny Dean, Kirk Carson, Evan Smith, Jim Sangster and Bob Crowe.

The Hawklets' start in defense of their Mississippi Valley crown has not been too auspicious this year. After whipping McKinley in the conference opener they closed the 1945 end of the season by losing to Davenport and then to Dubuque. Before that however, they whipped West Branch, Burlington and Washington, losing a one-pointer to Muscatine.

City high was represented for the first time by a baseball team in 1945. Coached by Earl Sangster, father of Jim and Bill Sangster and one of Iowa City's most interested sports backers, the Little Hawk diamondmen did not fair too well in their debut, but gave plenty promise for better teams to come.

Curiosity—the same curiosity that killed the cat—gets George Burns and Gracie Allen into a peek of trouble on their broadcast tonight at 7 o'clock when they decided to find out what sort of wife their postman has.

Gracie's "Mr. Postman," the cheerful soul who never fails to sob out a tearful "Keep smiling, Mrs. Burns," has been in the hospital for the past several weeks.
It seems his wife lost her temper.
George and Gracie have heard so much about the postman's wife that they are curious about her and want to know exactly what type of person she is. The Burns decide to throw a masquerade party, and invite the postman to "bring Mamie."

Everything goes well at the masquerade except with Mr. Postman. But then if everything went as scheduled, it wouldn't be in the typical George and Gracie tradition.
Incidentally, that mink coat that Gracie has been coveting will no longer provide her with grisly proof of George and Gracie's campaign and gave her one for Christmas.

Administration Plan For Housing Criticized By Democrats, GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration handling of the nation's housing shortages, particularly with reference to veterans, drew criticism on capitol hill yesterday from the ranks of President Truman's own party.

Representatives Outland (D., Calif.) and Woodhouse (D., Conn.) usually staunch administration supporters, told newspapermen they believed housing conditions might be worsened rather than helped by the program intended to channel scarce material into houses costing $10,000 and less.

"Not many returning veterans can pay $10,000 for a home, or rent at $80 a month," Mrs. Woodhouse said. "What we need is houses to sell below $6,500 and to rent at $50 or less."

Both were commenting on a statement last week by John D. Small, civilian production administrator, that the government would see to it that "a fair share" of homes built next year will sell for less than $10,000.

Outland voiced the opinion that the administration program, announced last week to become effective Jan. 15, would mean that virtually all new housing would sell close to the $10,000 limit.

"Veterans can't pay anywhere near that," he said. "I would like to see $5,000 houses."

The two representatives, both members of the house banking committee which is considering housing legislation, said the government made a serious mistake last fall in repealing the wartime control that channelled scarce materials into low cost housing.

The banking group is studying a bill by Representative Patman (D., Tex.) that would restore rigid priority privileges for contractors building low and medium-priced houses, and provide price ceilings for new and old dwellings.

One Accident Reported During Holidays

Police reports yesterday showed only one accident over the holiday. Cars driven by Mrs. Leland, Nagle 715 McLean street, and Robert D. Mawdsley, route 7, collided at Gilbert and College streets Monday at 4:30 p. m.

Mrs. Nagle reported damages of $150 to the side of her car.

GI'S PUT UP HOWL AS SHIP IS CAUGHT IN ICE

EVEN A MINUTE'S DELAY is 60 seconds too long for these GI's returning to New York aboard a troopship. The ice jam caused a short delay in docking and the soldiers let their sentiments be known in loud and long boos. The ship plows its way through ice near New York pier here.

Funeral Rites Pending For William Morton

Funeral arrangements for William Delmar Morton, 20, fireman first class, U. S. N. R., Iowa City, who died at 3:45 a. m., Christmas day in the naval hospital in Norfolk, Va., are pending further notice from the navy.

Morton was injured when he reportedly leaped from a fifth story window of the Victoria hotel in Norfolk when flames swept the building Sunday, according to an Associated Press story.

His condition Monday was slightly improved, but a steady decline resulted in death Tuesday.

He was born in Cedar county, the son of Edwin H. and Katherine A. Morton. He served 15 months in the amphibious forces in the Mediterranean. At the time of his death he was stationed at the Little Creek amphibious base.

Surviving are his parents, who live at 538 S. Gilbert street; one brother, Duane, of North Liberty; and one sister, Mrs. Melvin Brown of Cedar Rapids.

Japs Transported In Ships Unsuitable For American Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only cargo ships considered unsuitable for transporting American servicemen are being used to move Japanese from the Philippines, Secretary of War Patterson declared in a letter made public yesterday.

The letter was to Senator Lucas (D., Ill.). Lucas had relayed to the cabinet officer complaints from American soldiers that Japanese were being moved in United States ships while American veterans were unable to get transportation home.

"One of the current missions of General MacArthur," Patterson wrote, "is to return to Japan the Japanese soldiers who were deployed throughout the Pacific at the close of hostilities."

"In order to eject the enemy from the Philippines the theater has been using empty cargo ships homeward bound from the Philippines. If this means were not used, the war department would have to provide troop ships to do the job."

Patterson told "Lucas that the ships used for Japanese were not equipped to carry troops long distances. All that the theater commander had to do to them, he said, was to provide life-saving equipment and rude sanitation facilities.

Lord J. Keyes Dies After Short Illness

LONDON (AP)—Admiral of the fleet Lord Roger John Brownlow Keyes, distinguished British naval hero who emerged from retirement to serve his nation in the second world war, died in his sleep yesterday after an illness of three weeks. He was 73.

Lord Keyes, who was given a large share of the credit for defeating the German U-boat menace in World War I, was famous as the hero of the spectacular Zeebrugge raid which sealed up the Bruges canal in 1918.

In 1940, after five years of retirement, Lord Keyes was made director of combined operations and was one of the sponsors of the daring British commandos.

A shrewd and audacious leader, Lord Keyes played a part in the attempt in May, 1940, to duplicate his feat of 1918 by blocking off Ostend and Zeebrugge. The attempt which failed, was made while he was in Brussels maintaining special liaison with King Leopold.

German Refugee Gia Meyer Tells Of Varied Life

Mix a German accent with a southern drawl, throw in a pinch of clipped British speech, stir until well blended—and you have Gia Meyer, A3 of Atlanta, Ga.

Born in Berlin nineteen years ago, Gia whose real name is Gisela, grew up under Hitler's rise to power. She mentioned an incident that occurred when she was about ten years old.

All the German boys and girls belonged to the Hitler Youth movement, but Gia didn't. One afternoon after school, as she was walking down the street, two little boys in uniform accosted her with a taunting, "Are you Jewish or do you just look Jewish?" Gia snapped back, "Are you dopey, or do you just look dopey?"

When asked her opinion of Nazi Germany, she replied, "I can't look at it in a rational way. They were so horrible, such beasts, such hypocrites."

The schools she has attended include public and private schools in Germany, a boarding school in Duffield, Derbyshire, (pronounced the English way) in England and high school and college in Atlanta.

Gia has an earnest desire to visit Palestine some day. She believes very firmly in having a home for the Jews, having witnessed wholesale destruction and trampling of them in her native Germany. She is intensely democratic and finds it hard to believe that people actually doubt the stories that have come out of Germany. Prejudice and discrimination seem to her to have no place in America, and she wonders how people can take their privileges and duties as citizens so lightly.

Bombings and gas masks are now far away, and much of the horror has passed. But she can't forget. Some of those things are printed indelibly in her memory.
