

Eisenhower, Nimitz to Appear Before Senate, House Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army and navy agreed yesterday to send Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz to a senate-house meeting Tuesday in the demobilization furor.

The army reacted, too, by cutting the training period for troops to replace veterans overseas and deciding to let some long-service men out of the air force regardless of the need for specially qualified personnel.

The army Times, unofficial service publication, reported that Eisenhower has issued orders to all army commands against giving basic and other elementary training to combat veterans. The newspaper quoted him as saying that "a schedule prepared primarily to keep such men busy for the required number of hours has no place in the army." Some veterans have complained they are compelled to undergo basic training repeatedly as a make-work device.

Congressmen hit on the idea of the joint session this morning. By mid-afternoon the appearance of the army chief of staff and the navy chief of operations was set. A senator who didn't want his name used said the arrangements had the full support of President Truman.

Related to the demobilization situation were these developments:

The army ordered the training of replacement troops cut from 17 to 13 weeks. That will make these troops available four weeks sooner for replacing veterans overseas.

Army air forces announced that some soldiers with long service will be released automatically without respect to the need for specially qualified men. Any AAF enlisted man with 50 points and 42 months of service can get out. Some with fewer points and shorter service also can get out.

The marine corps ordered all marines eligible for discharge under the point system returned home immediately from Pacific transient centers. Men in transient centers are enroute from one assignment to another. The order means that eligible men need not wait to reach new assignments before starting home.

Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Terry, Burma-India army commander, announced in New Delhi that starting next month men not needed in his theater would be sent to the United States regardless of whether they are eligible for discharge. That complies with a directive issued this week by Eisenhower.

Army, Navy Plan Jointly For Activities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Navy Forrestal disclosed yesterday that the army and navy, in advance of any eventual merger, are jointly whipping into shape plans to mesh more than a score of activities.

Detailed arrangements, he said, are now ready for consideration by top commanders.

Among major projects are consolidation of the army's air transport service and the naval air transport service, establishment of a joint intelligence service and common use of shipping and port facilities.

Forrestal made the disclosures at a news conference, in which Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, and all of Nimitz' deputies participated.

The work, Forrestal said, was the outgrowth of a conference he held several weeks ago with Secretary of War Patterson, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, and Nimitz.

Other subjects on which agreements have already been reached by the planners, Forrestal said, include:

Joint recruiting and training of men; joint purchases; coordination of dispersing and contracts, communications and ordnance procurement; development of new weapons; coordination of sea and air transportation and control of land transportation.

Joint use and operation of hospitals and hospital ships and medical services; research; personnel and education policies; postal service, and handling of war prisoners.

Earlier Senator Hill (D., Ala.) said that many ideas advanced by the navy in opposing merger with the army will become part of the plan for a single armed forces department.

The new agency would be called the "department of common defense."

Postwar Economy

CHICAGO (AP)—A sound national postwar economy is possible only if agriculture, industry and labor are able to exchange goods and services on an equal basis, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives asserted yesterday.

Quentin Reynolds, West Springfield, Mass., was elected president of the council.

Chicago Civil Liberties Committee Protests Treatment of Janitors

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago civil liberties committee yesterday protested—and Detective Sgt. Jack Hanrahan denied—that police mistreated two janitors held for 48 hours for questioning in the Degnan kidnap case.

Police Commissioner John C. Prendergast told reporters he had asked Chief of Detectives Walter Storms for a report on the matter.

The janitors, Hector Verburgh, 65, and Desere Smet, 35, were released Thursday on habeas corpus writs after the state's attorney's office told the court the state had no evidence to warrant filing any charges.

A telegram to Prendergast signed by Ira Latimer, executive secretary of the committee, said:

"The Chicago civil liberties committee protests the brutality and third degree torture which both Hector Verburgh and Desere Smet, AFL union janitors, claim they suffered at the hands of police officers under your command."

Steel Wage Talks To Continue Today

Growing Paralysis Cripples Telephone Communications

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Truman arranged for continuation of the steel wage talks at the White House today as attempts to settle or avert major labor walkouts collapsed on several fronts.

The White House announced last night that top leaders of the CIO Steelworkers union and the United Steel corporation had accepted the presidential invitation.

These were other major developments as labor controversies kept 416,000 idle, not counting an estimated several thousand telephone workers whose exact number was not immediately determined:

1—The nation's long distance and some local telephone communications were crippled by a growing paralysis.

2—CIO President Philip Murray announced failure of negotiations to avert a strike of 800,000 steel workers Monday.

3—General Motors corporation announced rejection of a presidential fact-finding board's recommendation for a 17 1/2 percent wage increase to 175,000 striking CIO United Auto workers.

Generally only emergency calls were accepted on long distance lines and through some manually-operated local exchanges as most telephone workers refused to cross picket lines thrown around key long distance exchanges by 8,000 striking installation workers early yesterday.

Labor Secretary Schwelmbach summoned representatives of the striking Association of Communications Equipment workers and their employer, the Western Electric company, to a conference and a labor department spokesman who declined to permit use of his name said government seizure might be recommended to President Truman if the tieup became nationwide.

Czech Doctor Accuses Nazis

NUERNBERG, GERMANY (AP)—A Czech doctor who spent four years at Dachau told the international tribunal trying 22 ranking Nazis yesterday that five of the defendants had visited the notorious concentration camp and he dramatically pointed out four of them.

The reaction was swift. Wilhelm Frick, former minister of the interior and one of the men pointed out by the Czech, Dr. Franz Blaha, shook his fist and angrily demanded through his counsel that he be given a chance to take the stand immediately to "confront" his accuser.

Another defendant pointed out by Blaha was Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi party philosopher. His counsel joined with Frick's lawyer in denying that Rosenberg and Frick had been at the camp.

Blaha testified that he personally had seen Rosenberg and Frick at Dachau and that he had been told three other defendants, Walter Funk, former Reichsbank president, in charge of slave labor, and Ernst Kaltenbrunner, one-time security police chief, had made inspection visits there. He pointed to Funk and Sauckel also. Kaltenbrunner was not in court because of a cranial hemorrhage.

The Czech doctor, whose wrist tendons were cut so he could not continue as a surgeon, described how some murder victims were chosen for perfect teeth and smooth skins.

"Orders frequently were received at Dachau for skulls," Blaha said, "and teeth counted a great deal. When these orders came, the camp commandant would remark on the necessity of finding men with perfect teeth. It was dangerous to have a soft skin or good teeth at Dachau. Soft human skin," he said, "was prized for leather."

Submarine, Cruiser Collide in Atlantic

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The navy disclosed last night that the submarine Argonaut and the cruiser Honolulu had collided early this week in a heavy fog off the Atlantic coast between New York and Philadelphia.

The navy said there was one casualty, shipfitter third class Earl D. Johnson, Rockford, Ill., attached to the Honolulu, who was killed.

Child Kidnap Victim Buried

Vital Clue to Identity Of Maniac Killer Sought by Detectives

CHICAGO (AP)—James and Helen Degnan buried the dismembered body of their little daughter, Suzanne, yesterday without vengeance, a priest declared, for the maniac who wreaked ghastly tragedy on their happy home.

Last Sunday six-year-old Suzanne played with her dolls and her sister, Betty, 10, in their north side home. Yesterday in a sad, graveside ritual all the mortal remains of the little girl that could be found in four days were laid to rest in All Saints cemetery.

Sometime Monday morning a murderer crept into her darkened bedroom, carried her off after leaving a $20,000 ransom note and strangled her to death. Then he dismembered her body with a sharp knife, investigators said, and hid parts of it in sewers about her home.

Neither the maniac nor any vital clue to his identity has been found.

But in the hearts of the Deganans "there is no room for vengeance," the Rev. Neil Donahue, S. J., of Boston told the throng that crowded St. Gertrude's church to stand room for the last service.

The 36-year-old parents, Father Donahue continued, have "only a prayer for you mothers and fathers and the people throughout this nation, who have been so kind, that you may be spared any tragedy such as theirs."

The sub-deacon at the service was the Rev. George Kearney, assistant pastor of St. Gertrude's, who on Monday night volunteered the sad assignment of telling the panic-stricken, yet hopeful mother she never would see her baby again.

White-faced and trudging like sleepwalkers, the grieving mother and father went to the side of the grave and looked at the small white casket, a cross of pink camellias and forget-me-nots in its lid.

Trailer Units Expected Soon

"We are exerting every effort to begin getting trailer units to the campus, and we hope to clear obstacles within the next week," commented Fred W. Ambrose, university business manager, after returning yesterday from Chicago where he conferred with officials of the federal public housing administration.

Details of when the trailers will be brought to the university campus have not been made. The contract for the 250 trailer units was made by the university several weeks ago in an effort to ease the housing problem of married students.

The university has also filed a request with the housing administration for pre-fabricated houses for married students and barracks-type houses for single students. The application is now being considered by federal housing authorities, according to Ambrose.

Plans are now being made to set up two camps for the trailer units. One of these will be Old Iowa field, just west of reserve library. The other camp has not yet been decided upon. Several sites are being considered.

Snow-Spitting, Colder Weather for City Today

It will probably keep right on spitting snow here all day. But Iowa Citizens are so used to bad weather that they don't mind being expectorated upon by the elements.

By tonight it will probably be quite a bit colder than it has been. But yesterday and most of today the temperature has been and will be just cold enough to snow. If it were any warmer, the snow wouldn't be snow; it would be rain.

Yesterday's high was 32 and the low was 25.

State Executive Council Adopts Pay Boost Resolution

DES MOINES (AP)—The State Executive Council yesterday adopted a resolution terming a proposed new pay scale for the employment security commission, the state social welfare board and for some employees in the state health department as being "not out of line" with other state salaries.

The resolution affecting 1,000 employees, is to be forwarded to the federal social security board in Washington. The federal government pays all the salaries of employment security commission employees and probably half the salaries of the other two departments. Thus, federal permission is needed before salaries may be changed.

The employment security commission with about 100 office employees needs workers badly. If the proposed raises go through, the commission payroll will rise accordingly.

The 709 on the payroll of the state social welfare board, however, cannot get any such boost. The department's state budget will not stand it.

The legislature, which meets in January, 1947, determines the social welfare board's budget.

Police Capture Iowa Man After Two-Hour Battle; Officer Injured

CENTERVILLE (AP)—A 58-year-old bachelor was recovering last night in the county jail from the effects of tear gas after he was dragged unconscious from a Cincinnati, Iowa, house where he held five officers and aides at bay for two hours.

Sheriff Jack Bailey said Henry Bailey (no relation) fired two blasts from a shotgun, twice wounding Cincinnati Town Marshal George Ross who came to the house in response to a call for help, then barricaded himself in the house and held off officers until felled by a tear gas barrage. The man was not wounded.

The sheriff said no charges had been filed.

Ross was being attended by a physician, but his condition was not considered critical, the sheriff said, although "at least 50 pellets" were lodged in his body, some of them deeply.

The trouble arose when Mrs. Wilma Van Blarican reported to Ross that her life had been threatened by Henry Bailey during a quarrel.

Haiti President Resigns

PORT-AU-PRINCE (AP)—A three-man military Junta took over the reins of the Haitian government last night after President Elie Lescot was forced to resign in a climax to day-long demonstrations in which four to six persons were killed and 100 injured.

Central Iowa Roads Slippery

DES MOINES (AP)—Heavy snows falling last night in central Iowa were making road conditions hazardous and in some other sections highways were slushy and becoming slippery.

The highways in central Iowa were reported to be wet and very slippery, in southern counties slushy and slippery and in the vicinity of Fort Dodge becoming slushy as snows continued.

To southeastern Iowans the snows were adding to difficulties they were experiencing as they cleaned up after flood waters had swirled over 40,000 to 60,000 acres of land.

The flood emergency was believed to be over there with loss estimated between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000.

Greece Obtains Loan From United States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hungry Greece yesterday obtained a $25,000,000 loan from the United States.

Along with it she received a stern admonition that she must put her house in order—economically and politically—immediately if she hopes for additional help.

The type of action which the United States would like to see the Greeks take was outlined in a note to the Greek foreign office. Its chief points were these:

1. "Elections accurately reflecting the wishes of the Greek people should bring about an improved political situation which should contribute substantially to long-run economic recovery and to future stability."

2. "Greece can accomplish little toward economic recovery unless the Greek government itself undertakes vigorous measures."

Groundhog Club Insists on Peace—Grants UNO Secret

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The United Nations organization will be granted the "secret forecasting system" of the slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs if it uses the system for "peace purposes only."

Charles F. Hess, hibernating governor of the lodge which is preparing for its annual groundhog observing ritual Feb. 2, said UNO could settle its "troubles in selecting a site for the United Nations capital" if the capitol were set up in this eastern Pennsylvania section.

"That," said Hess, "is a tremendous concession made in the interests of world peace and harmony."

The lodge, which Hess described in a telegram to Dr. Stoyan Garvilovic, chairman of UNO's site-selecting committee, as "world

Admiral Kimmel Says Army, Navy Friendly Before Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Admiral Husband E. Kimmel told a navy court in 1944 that he believed there was "a deliberate campaign to 'smear' him and Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short."

He described as "malicious lies" reports that he and Short failed to cooperate for defense of Pearl Harbor, where they were in command when the Japanese struck.

Kimmel's testimony at previous inquiries has been distributed to members of the senate-house committee investigating the disaster. He is to be the witness when the group resumes public hearings Tuesday.

Short also denied there was failure to cooperate. A transcript board of inquiry was received by the committee.

"Admiral Kimmel and Admiral Bloch and I were on extremely friendly terms personally as well as having very frequent conferences officially," Short declared.

Admiral C. C. Bloch was commandant of the naval district embracing Hawaii.

Kimmel's testimony did not go into the origin of the alleged "smear campaign."

However, he said the Roberts commission appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate Pearl Harbor gave the public "misstatements" about army-navy relations in Hawaii.

AAC Opposes Training

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Association of American Colleges, winding up its 32nd annual convention yesterday, went on record as opposing immediate enactment of compulsory peacetime military training.

In other resolutions the association called on all elements of the building industry to expedite production of permanent low-priced housing units.

famous," asked the committee to join it when it regales itself in prewar splendor next month to make its determination of the weather.

According to tradition, if the groundhog sees its shadow when it creeps from his hole, there'll be six more weeks of winter. If not, warmer days are on their way.

The lodge would be willing to pool its knowledge with UNO, even to the point of telling UNO its secret of long-range weather predictions, Hess said, adding: "The predictions must not be used in waging war. We'll give them up for peace purposes only."

Hess disclosed that Generals Douglas MacArthur and Dwight Eisenhower have been elected to honorary membership in the lodge.

Major Powers Disagree

Two Security Council Seats Still Unfilled; Session Meets Today

LONDON (AP)—The five major UNO powers were reported last night to have agreed upon Canada, Brazil, Egypt and Poland for non-permanent membership on the United Nations' all-powerful security council which will control the new "world police force."

Reliable sources said, however, that there was disagreement on the remaining two council seats to be filled and that the council elections, scheduled for today at the assembly meeting, either would be postponed or the differences between Russia and other key powers would be aired in discussion on the floor.

Conference of Major Delegations

Andrei Gromyko, acting chief Soviet delegate, asked at a conference of the five major delegations last night that the election be deferred while the Soviet delegation sought instructions from Moscow, informants said.

For a time there was uncertainty, in view of developments, whether today's session would be held at all; but late last night conference officials said they would convene at 10:30 a. m. (5:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time) as planned.

Social and Economic Council

They said the powers had reached an agreement on 16 or 17 of the 18 nations to be chosen for membership on the UNO's social and economic council.

The key powers—United States, Russia, Britain, China and France—were elected with Venezuela and South Africa yesterday to vice-presidencies of the general assembly. Each of the delegations representing these nations will meet soon to choose the person to serve as its vice-president.

Form Steering Committee

The assembly, without dissent, also elected nations supported by the Big Five to chairmanships of the assembly's six committees. These chairmen, with President Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium and the vice-presidents will form the steering committee which will direct the assembly's work.

On the security council question, it was reported that Britain and America supported Mexico and The Netherlands for the remaining two unassigned seats over which there is disagreement, with Russia objecting to both.

The assembly, accepting the big power recommendations, assigned its committee chairmanships to Ukraine, Poland, Panama, Uruguay, Syria and New Zealand.

Kaiser-Frazer Rewards Labor for Production

The Kaiser-Frazer bargain with labor may be setting a trend in wage policy for the automotive industry.

Negotiators say that the new contract will mean wages about 20 percent higher than are paid at Ford's River Rouge plant.

Kaiser-Frazer has agreed to put into the bonus pool $5 for each car produced.

The company also agreed to give the union an increase in wages parallel to any increase the union may win in its strike against General Motors.

Just how much Kaiser-Frazer's production bonus will mean is difficult to say.

At the present, of course, the automotive industry wants to produce as many cars as possible, because it will be able to sell all the cars it makes. But in a few years, production schedules may have to be reduced to conform to a slack in demand.

It is to be hoped, of course, that labor's wages will be based on a more equitable standard in a few years—or whenever it becomes necessary to adjust production.

What effect the wage increase will have on Kaiser-Frazer prices and on inflation also remains to be seen.

Since the company has had no price history, there is no way of forcing it to conform to the national policy by not raising prices just because it has granted a wage increase.

It is reasonable to believe that Kaiser-Frazer prices will not be too much higher.

Truman Makes a Risky Move in Inflation Battle

President Truman's new policy toward steel prices may be an indication of a new over-all price program—a program that has much at stake.

The price increase granted the steel industry might be termed a "withdrawal" in the fight against inflation.

The step President Truman has taken is risky, however, because of the dangers that other "withdrawals" will follow.

President Truman's allowance of higher steel prices was prompted by a desire to get the industry into full production.

'We Want Spencer'

The boys around the sports desk were talking about Jack Spencer the other day.

We remember Jack playing alongside all-Americans like Dick Ives and Herb Wilkinson.

We always thought Jack was as good a basketball player as ever put on an Iowa uniform.

Jack would be a valuable addition to the Iowa team in February.

We're hoping Jack will decide to rejoin his old mates. He'd do us a lot of good in the Big Ten race, and we'd sure enjoy chucking over the amazing things he can do with such a deceptive looking body.

WASHINGTON—President Truman has been criticized for a number of his important governmental appointments.

Rarely, if ever, has a new chief executive had to sit by while so many ace executives and advisers have left his staff nor has a president had more difficulty persuading top-notchers to come into the government.

United Nations' Success Depends Upon Public Opinion—

U.S., Britain Bulwark of UNO

The United Nations, second great world organization in our time to undertake the task of keeping the peace, hopes to profit from the errors of its predecessor.

Like the League of Nations, the UNO is by no means as perfect as the wartime peace planners once hoped for, but it is an instrument through which world opinion can find the means to keep the peace.

Behind the high-flying hopes of the UNO founders, behind their public expressions of optimism, lies the conviction that the UNO's main strength lies in the support of the United States and Britain.

In both of these countries public opinion can be expressed freely. In both countless organizations are striving to activate public interest in the only existing defense between them and the "last war."

For since the development and use of the atom bomb, few doubt that the next one would be the last.

Three Powers Quit In three of the great powers which quit the league of their own volition to continue the way of the aggressor—Germany, Italy and Japan—public opinion could not be freely expressed.

The league's greatest errors contributed much less to the defeat of the purposes for which it was established than the error of public failure to support the machinery for the peaceful settlement of international disputes.

The machinery of the UNO, it is generally agreed, is superior in many respects to the machinery of the league. The world may have found the league little help in keeping the peace, but has now found some profit in knowing the league's weaknesses.

The great absentees of 1920—United States and Russia—are in the UNO and have undertaken to use force "if necessary to maintain or restore peace and security."

Unanimity of all members of the league was necessary to action vital to the maintenance of world peace. In the UNO only the five states with permanent seats on the security council have a veto power.

This was a concession to the fact that even after another great war the big powers did not have sufficient trust in each other to abandon that part of their national sovereignty necessary to make the world organization all-powerful in international disputes.

Both Truman and Attlee have made various public statements in recent months indicating their willingness to abandon the Big Three talks like those at Yalta and Potsdam, taking such discussions into the security council within the UNO.

That probably has the overwhelming support of those who watched the old league die. Few developments inspired greater lack of confidence in the league than the actions of the powers who frequently presented the league with accomplished facts for ratification instead of suggestions for discussion.

The league lived in constant hope that something might awaken United States public opinion and bring it into the fold, but the league also lived in constant hope that the big powers in its membership would settle their differences and reach a plane of mutual trust sufficiently sound to enable them to strengthen the league.

UNO is not worrying much now about United States public opinion, but it is worried very much indeed by the evident differences between the western democracies and Soviet Russia.

Small nations spokesmen charge that the new setup makes Soviet Russia, Britain and the United States both the guardians and the dictators of the peace.

World Opinion Here again world opinion is the best guarantor of the peace. Conceivably, should one big power break the peace, the other members of the council would have such overwhelming support from the entire membership that that nation's veto power could be ignored in a united application of force.

This was the best that the smaller nations could obtain in an eight week battle at San Francisco. The United Nations is far more flexible than the league, whose machinery ground slowly even normally and still more slowly when certain members desired to impede its progress, which was frequently the case.

Members of the new security council have wide discretionary powers to determine what constitutes any "threat to the peace, breach of the peace, or act of aggression." There are now no hair-splitting efforts to define aggression such as those famous in the league.

In the final analysis, however, the success or failure of the UNO now and in the future depends on the same factor which failed the league—the interest and active cooperation of the peoples of the world.

DES MOINES (AP)—The state board of parole announced yesterday that Jerry Schomier, 34, of Chicago, has been paroled from the Fort Madison penitentiary, where he was serving a term on a charge of entering a bank with intent to rob.

Records of the office showed Schomier was one of a group which attempted to rob the Farmers and Merchants Bank at Manchester Nov. 22, 1933. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. Former Gov. B. B. Hickenlooper, in 1944, commuted the sentence to 50 years.

Floyd Neal, 46, Sioux City, serving a 40-year term in Fort Madison on a second degree murder charge, also has been paroled. He was sentenced in connection with the slaying of a night watchman at Sioux City in July of 1932.

OTLEY (AP)—Mrs. A. O. Van Houweling of Monroe, was killed when the automobile she was driving and a truck collided three miles east of here yesterday.

Sheriff Jim Van Hemert said the truck was driven by Ben Jensen of Des Moines and that the collision occurred after Mrs. Van Houweling apparently lost control of the car as she came over a hill. She was alone.

Both vehicles were badly wrecked, but Jensen was not injured.

MISSOURI VALLEY (AP)—Beavers are posing a new drainage problem in Harrison county where their river dens are forcing the Boyer river to flood farm lands, officials said yesterday.

Engineer Bud Thomas said the Iowa Conservation office in Council Bluffs has granted permits for trappers to take 100 beavers this winter, but doubted if this would end the animals' destruction.

Thomas said that unless something "drastic" is done, county employers will be instructed to use dynamite in destroying the animals and their dens.

CENTERVILLE (AP)—Mrs. Lloyd Thurston of Osceola was selected by fourth district Republican committee Thursday night to represent the district on the Iowa Republican central-committee, subject to the central committee's approval.

She will succeed Mrs. Maude Hickman of Centerville, who resigned following her selection as a national committeewoman.

CARROLL (AP)—Henry J. Heider, 66, president of the Heider Manufacturing company here for 42 years, died of a heart attack at his home yesterday.

Sportsmen Protest Firearm Legislation Pending in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sportsmen yesterday took dead aim on recently-introduced legislation providing for registration of almost every individually-owned firearm in the country.

Their protests brought clarification of the measure and a promised amendment.

The bill, introduced by Senator Hawkes (R., N. J.) calls for registration with the Federal Bureau of Investigation of rifles, shotguns and pistols of more than .25 caliber manufactured since 1900.

It carries a penalty of $2,000 or imprisonment for one year, or both, for failure to comply. No fee is involved.

Sportsmen, complaining generally against the bill, said in letters to Hawkes they would be required to register "ornamental relics." The office of the senate administrative task would be tremendous with upwards of 25,000,000 firearms owned by sportsmen.

"What Senator Hawkes wants to do is to require the registration of souvenir weapons brought into this country from Japan and Germany by servicemen," these aides explained.

Senator Hawkes will amend the bill to specifically apply to "souvenir" and other firearms in the unregistered category.

High Bond Demand Set in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the highest bond demands ever made in San Francisco was set yesterday for Alfred Leonard Cline, elderly mystery man who has been questioned by police of four states as they investigate the deaths of several elderly women.

The total bail set was $300,000 bond or $150,000 cash.

'Major in Marriage' Talks Cover All Marital Problems

Designed to fit the college woman's need from trousseau to budgeting days, Major in Marriage I, Y. W. C. A. discussion group, features a lecture series which touches on all aspects of marriage.

Originating as a part of the "Y" program three years ago, the series then under the leadership of Marilyn Nesper, G of Toledo, Ohio, was called, "So Your Man is in the Service Now." The next year the name Major in Marriage was chosen to fit the series into the permanent "Y" program.

Margaret Walk, A4 of Grafton, this year's president of "Y", served as chairman of Major in Marriage last year, and Helen Kuttler, A4 of Davenport, was appointed as head for the current year.

Meetings of the group are held twice monthly. The first meetings were held in the chemistry auditorium, but present groups are meeting in studio E of the radio building.

"Major in Marriage is a series of lectures and discussion groups devised to give college women information on the religious, social, economic, and domestic aspects of married life," said Miss Kuttler.

A unique feature of "Y" campus programs, the series fills the need for a marriage course in the University of Iowa curriculum. More than 300 women registered for the lectures during the "Y" membership drive this fall, but non-members may also attend the meetings.

The Rev. L. L. Dunnington, minister of the First Methodist church, opened this year's series with a lecture on "Emotional Maturity." The next speaker was Prof. C. E. Buxton of the psychology department. His subject was "Personality Matching." At the third meeting Professor Buxton answered questions turned in concerning his previous lecture.

"The Religious Aspect in Marriage" was the topic discussed by the Rev. Fred Putnam, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church in the fourth program of the series. The last meeting before vacation featured a talk by Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher on "What is a Home?"

Prof. G. Else to Talk To Humanities Group Monday in Old Capitol

Prof. G. F. Else, head of the department of classical languages, will address the Humanities society Monday night at 8 o'clock in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. His topic will be "The Classical Principle of the Uncommon Man."

Professor Else has recently been discharged from the marine corps. This is his first public lecture since his return to academic life. At present he is writing a book, "Poetica," which discusses the history of poetry contained in the first part of Aristotle's "Poetica." In addition to this book, Professor Else has written a number of articles which have been published in the "Harvard Studies in Classical Philology" and "Transactions of the American Philological Association."

These articles have concerned Plato, Aristotle, and Lucretius. Professor Else's honor thesis, "Lucretius and the Aesthetic Attitude," was the first honor thesis to be published in the "Harvard Studies" and was widely acclaimed.

In his talk Monday night Professor Else plans to discuss problems of general educational and political significance from the point of view of a classical scholar. After the address there will be an opportunity for the audience to participate in an open discussion.

Twenty-five points are given for the first team a housing unit enters in intramural contests, 30 points for the second team and 35 for a third team. The final tournament winners receive 50 points, runners-up, 35 points, and 20 points for those placing third.

Bonuses amounting to 25 points are given to units where 25 percent of the residents participate in intramurals, and 65 points where 40 percent participate. These points are accumulated throughout the year. The winning housing unit is announced on recognition day in the spring.

Communication Skills Comprehensive Exams Will Start Monday

Approximately 600 of the 1,200 students enrolled in communication skills classes Monday will start to take two weeks of comprehensive examinations by which they may be exempted from communication skills. The tests will be comparable to those taken by beginning freshmen in September, 1945, so that students now may be exempted on the same standards as others were last fall, according to Prof. John C. Gerber, coordinator of communication skills.

All tests except the argumentative and expository themes, which will be written in the physics, chemistry and geology auditoriums from 2 to 5 p. m. Jan. 15 and 22, will be taken during regular class periods.

To compensate for the time spent taking tests outside of classes, all communication skills classes for the week of Jan. 28 are cancelled, Professor Gerber announced. During that week the communication skills department will be testing approximately 600 incoming freshmen who are enrolling second semester, he said.

Examinations to be given in class include objective tests on reading, correctness and effectiveness of expression, organization and library usage. Argumentative speeches and oral readings will also be delivered in classes.

All objective tests will be corrected and scored by the university examinations service. The themes, which will be identified by numbers rather than names, will be read and graded by at least two and possibly three members of the communication skills department. Similarly, at least two people will rate each speech.

Engineering School History Written For Ph.D. Thesis

Engineering study began 89 years ago as a course in the mathematics department and later was a course in the school of science before it attained the rank of a college in 1905. This information was given by Norbert C. Barrett, who set forth the historical facts of the development of engineering education at the university in a requirement for the Ph.D. degree.

Electrical engineering was the first branch to have a special curriculum, adopted in 1890. After the establishment of the college, there was a generous enlargement of the engineering curricula.

In 1904, 1912 and 1939, instruction in engineering at the university was threatened when attempts to eliminate duplication in state-supported higher educational institutions were made in the interest of economy.

Fourth Faculty Recital To Be Wednesday

Professor A. McKee Discusses Penicillin At Pharmacy Dinner

"Although the presence of antibiotics has been known since three centuries ago, there wasn't much done about it until recently," Prof. Albert McKee of the bacteriology department told members of the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical association last night in the River room of Iowa Union.

"In 1929, Dr. Alexander Fleming noticed a mold on some slides he had been working on in experiments with anti-biotics. Instead of throwing them out because they ruined the experiments he was conducting, he inoculated a mouse with the stuff he called penicillin."

He became interested in it because it killed harmful bacteria and inhibited the growth of pathogenic bacteria. Upon taking it to a mycologist, he was told it was a form of penicillin. He published some work on this mold but it wasn't a very complete undertaking, leaving him dissatisfied with it.

Nothing more was done with it, however, even after he had identified it as penicillin notatum, until 1939. The British were hard-pressed for antiseptics and they started research on this penicillin discovered by Fleming in London.

After much persuasion on the part of the experimenters, they were permitted to try this wonder drug on patients who were expected to die anyway. The results were almost miraculous—in almost every case the temperatures dropped to near normal and the patients showed decided improvement.

In the treatment of diseases, penicillin is invaluable. One of the disadvantages is that treatment must be repeated within relatively short periods of time due to the rapid absorption and rapid excretion of it by the body.

"The change in ordinary bacteria after the injection of penicillin is tremendous," Professor McKee said. "It is almost impossible to recognize it."

To Probate Will

The will of Edith F. Sommerhauser, who died Dec. 19, was admitted to probate in district court yesterday. Florence A. Sommerhauser is executrix without bond, and F. B. Olsen is the attorney.

CHICAGO (AP)—The University of Michigan racked up its second Western Conference basketball victory last night, 81-23, as the Wolverines overpowered the University of Chicago, back in competition after a year's layoff.

There never was a doubt concerning the lop-sided outcome after the first two minutes of play. Michigan, its first team in the game only 11 minutes, swept into a 23-0 lead in the first nine minutes. Then, as first-stringers were withdrawn, the Maroons began to score.

Irish Ramble Over Bluejackets, 72-50

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—Notre Dame's Ramblers started slowly, but once they got their offense underway smashed ahead to defeat the Bluejackets of Great Lakes, 72-50, for their eighth straight basketball victory of the season here last night.

The Ramblers, who scored in the last two seconds to defeat DePaul last week, didn't move into the lead until after 13 minutes of play last night when Leo Klier dumped in a one-hander, making the count 20-18.

Hawklets Triumph Over Dubuque, 47-32, Freeman Gets 20

By Pat McPartland
City high rolled over Dubuque here last night by an impressive 47-32 margin. Paced by Bob Freeman and Sonny Dean, the Little Hawks got off to a 10-0 lead in the first period before the visitors ever found the basket, and were never headed.

The work of two new men on the starting five, Kirk Carson and Bob Beals, was that of veterans. Carson swished the net for seven points and made the opening marker. Beals played a fine floor game, aiding materially in the Hawklet defense, and pushed four points through the hoop on offense. Again, as has been the case all season, Bob Freeman led the local scoring column with an even 20 points. Freeman played his first game at center, and his smooth ball handling was an asset to the Hawklets all evening.

After jumping to an early lead, the Little Hawks held a 16-5 quarter margin, and held the Rams to a scant nine points at the half, garnering 26 for themselves. The third period score was 40-17, the Hawklets still holding a big lead, with everyone contributing.

Dubuque was stopped from the beginning, with the one exception of Jotham who poured 14 of his team's points through the hoop. A cat on defense, Jotham was the Rams outstanding man. The visitors had trouble stopping the City high offense, and the locals handed the ball in rare fashion.

The Little Hawk defense was clicking tonight for the first time in many weeks. They broke up the set Ram offense time after time, and ruined many of the visitors, scoring chances. Jim Sangster's rebounding, backed up by that of Freeman's, was also timely.

Del Dickerhoof, Hawkeye guard on 1940, 41 and 42 teams, may return to the university the second semester to obtain his B.A. degree. Just released from the army air corps, Dickerhoof last night wired Tommy Hand, veteran Iowa center and a former teammate of his, that he planned to return here. The Cleveland Browns in the new All-America Football league announced yesterday that they had signed Dickerhoof to a contract for next season.

Scores End in 17 or 7
Peculiar coincidence department: all of Iowa's basketball scores have ended either in 1 or 7... the series is 87, 91, 67, 71, 61, 41, 51, and 57. Maybe a numerologist could figure something about Iowa's chances of retaining the title.

Dungan Back at Iowa
Clarence (Doc) Dungan, star shortstop on Iowa's Big Ten title-sharing baseball team of 1942, has returned to the university after service as a marine. Dungan also was a member of the 1941 team. He will play more baseball next spring.

Basketball in Living Room
The Wilkinson brothers of Iowa like their basketball—even though it's a new game played on a board in the living room. One of their Christmas presents was this basketball game, and Herb and Clay have staged some lively battles aside from their performances as stars of the Hawkeye quintet.

Two-Game Road Trip
It's unusual that the 1946 Iowa basketball team has only one road trip with two games. That's the Purdue and Chicago jaunt of Jan. 19 and 21. All other road games are played on Saturday nights and in only one case does the team have to hasten back for a Monday night home game.

Iowa Tankmen Aim for First Meet Jan. 19

With the season opener less than a week away Coach Dave Ambruster has intensified the drills for his swimming squad members as they round into shape for the Northwestern meet here Jan. 19. The visitors will have a fairly strong team and will provide a good test for the Hawklets.

The return to school of Al Stanley, former all-state swimmer from Clinton, has given the team added strength. He will compete in the 220 free style and the backstroke.

Two of the other swimmers on the squad are also from Clinton. They are Wayne Cady and Chester Cole, both freshmen in engineering. The two men will see considerable action in the Northwestern meet. Cady swims the crawl and Cole is a sprinter and probable relay man.

Also in action against Northwestern will be the Icelander, Jonas Hallidorsson. He won a major I last year and is a distance swimmer. A sidelight of the meet is the fact Hallidorsson will be attempting to better his Iceland records when he competes.

St. Mary's Ramblers journey to Burlington tomorrow afternoon to take on St. Paul's Hilltoppers. The Ramblers hold an earlier 59-21 decision over the Hilltoppers in a game that was played on the local court.

Coach Frank Suplee indicated that the Loras contest would open against the Burlington club. The starters will be headed by Bill Suplee, who has picked up 134 points in ten games this season, at guard.

Bart Toohy, the team's number two scorer, who has averaged more than ten points a game over He holds most of the free style and backstroke Icelandic records. Other dependable performers will be Co-Captain Bill Boswell, Kenneth Marsh, Gilbert Sheckler and Bernie Walters. Steve Nusser was all over the floor last night as the University high Blue Hawks took a 31-17 Eastern Iowa conference win over the Monticello Panthers there last night. Nusser dropped in 19 markers.

The Rivermen showed themselves to be decidedly the better team all through the game, and jumped into an immediate though small lead. At halftime the count was 13-7 in favor of the Blue Hawks.

An interesting feature of Nusser's fine game last night was the fact that his 19 points was more than the total of 17 made by the host club and assured a second victory on U high's road to a second consecutive conference championship. Also outstanding for the Rivermen was Bill Greene, who was playing center last night. Usually a guard, Greene also turned in another of his good floor games.

Seehusen, substitute guard for the Panthers, was the best Monticello player all through the contest, scoring six points and leading his team's defense. Fitzsimmons made eight markers and also played a fine game.

Coach Don Barnhart juggled his regular lineup in a rather drastic fashion as he moved Nusser from a center post which he has held all season to the forward spot from which he led the league's

Shamrocks Upset By Bears, 21-20; Belger Hits Dozen

The Irish of St. Patrick's lost a heartbreaker in the final 50 seconds of play at West Branch last night, 21-20.

The Shamrocks were ahead all the way until the game-winning basket by A. Hoffman outscored the Bears from the field but it was lack of chances from the free-throw line that cost them the victory.

The game was a rough affair throughout and the usually potent Irish offense failed to function. Charlie Belger was the only south sider that was able to connect from the field, and he picked up an even dozen points, two more than the Bears were able to glean.

Belger, whose 12 points was high for the evening, was the outstanding Shamrock on the floor as he grabbed off a majority of the rebounds that his team garnered.

For the Bears it was Eden, giant center, who was the star as he gathered 11 points and was a demon under the basket.

Road Trip, Herb's Bad Ankle Cut Hawks' Chances, However

Although several important facts seem to tip the scales in Indiana's favor, the smart boys who decide odds on basketball games maintain that Iowa's Hawkeyes still will be undefeated when the hootin' and hollerin' is over in Bloomington, Ind., tonight.

In fact, they say the Hawks will be five points or more ahead of the Hurryin' Hoosiers after 40 minutes of rugged Big Ten basketball.

You'd have had a hard time convincing Pops Harrison of this, however, when he and a 12-man squad began traveling eastward on the squad's first road trip of the season. Pops would disagree for these reasons:

1) It is Iowa's first road trip and the boys are unused to traveling before tough games.
2) The Hoosiers are always tough at home (Iowa has won but four games of the last 15 at Bloomington).
3) Herb Wilkinson, Iowa's star guard who always contributes liberally to Iowa's scoring total, won't be in top shape. Although he may start, Herb won't be at his best because of the sprained ankle he suffered Thursday night in practice.

4) The Hoosiers, who have won eight, lost only to Minnesota this season, definitely will be the toughest club to face the Big Ten champions.

BUT, the Hawks still possess the stiffest and most experienced punch in the conference. This week Dunkel's survey ranked them the nation's No. 1 team. They're undefeated in eight games this season, including two victories over league foes.

All week Pops was devising ways of stopping Wallace, high-scoring Hoosier forward, and Capt. Dick Wittenbraker, guard. The Hawks' own defense probably will be spearheaded by the two who paced the Wisconsin triumph—Clayton Wilkinson and Dave Danner. Danner has won the starting nod over Murray Wier and will team with Dick Ives at forward.

Behind the Mikes. . .

By Helen Huber

Will there be a postwar crime wave? What can we do to prevent it? These are basic questions to be considered in a new series of Mutual programs, "I Was a Convict," to be heard each Saturday at 6:45 p. m. starting today. Produced in cooperation with the Society for the Prevention of Crime, these broadcasts will be in the form of interviews with men who have recently been released from prison. They will tell of the crimes for which they were sent to penitentiaries and will give full details of the series of circumstances and events which led up to their acts.

Interviewing the ex-prisoners will be Edwin J. Lukas, the noted lawyer and criminologist who is executive director of the society. The men to be interviewed will remain anonymous in order that they may speak more freely of the experiences which resulted in their ultimate convictions.

"Miss America" herself, otherwise known as Bes Myerson of the Bronx, N. Y., and Gloria Dalton, beauty consultant to Harry Conover, model-maker, will sit in as guest members of the glamorous panel on Mutual's "Leave It to the Girls" tonight at 8. On hand to defend the men of America against the withering wit of the women will be William Bradford Huie, the foreign correspondent author of "Can Do" and "From Omaha to Okinawa." Huie's return to the show is the result of a repeat engagement by popular request; in three previous appearances he has proved to the girls that his tongue is as terrific as his typewriter. Paula Stone poses the questions sent in by the radio audience and referees the free-for-all discussion.

Featured on the Daughters of the American Revolution program this morning at 9 over WSUI will be Symphony No. 5 in D major by Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the department of music. This will be a recording of the selection made when it was presented for the first time on July 26, 1944, at Iowa Union in honor of Professor Clapp's 25th year at the university. This symphony was composed at Berkeley, Calif., during the summer of 1926 with later revisions from time to time.

City Pool Building Date Still Uncertain

Iowa City's municipal swimming pool in city park may not be constructed this year, according to H. S. Ivie, chairman of the recreation committee.

The architect for the pool, Howard Green of Cedar Rapids, advised Ivie that lump sum bids can not be secured on construction contracts at the present, and the material and labor situation for the future is none too bright. Most jobs are going on a cost plus basis now, he said, and contractors won't take the risk of a lump sum bid.

The people of Iowa City voted $62,500 in bonds in September, 1941, to finance the construction of the pool in City park.

Oration Manuscripts Accepted Until Jan. 21

Manuscripts for the annual Hancher Oratorical contest will be accepted until Jan. 21, Prof. Franklin H. Knowler of the speech department announced today. Consultations on tentative manuscripts may be made at anytime, he said. No date has been set for the contest.

Winning contestant will receive a $25 prize and will represent Iowa at the Northern Oratorical league contest to be held at the University of Indiana May 3. Lowden testimonials to be awarded at this contest include a $100 first prize and $50 for second place.

Gordon Christensen, L3 of Iowa City, winner of the Hancher competition, represented Iowa last year and placed third in the contest.

At UNO Meeting

Attending the current meeting of the U. N. O. assembly in London is a university alumnus, Francis O. Wilcox, who is furnishing reference service for senatorial members of the United States delegation.

As head of the international section of the legislative reference service, Wilcox has worked closely for more than a year with chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, Senator Tom Connally, and attended the San Francisco conference with the delegation Connally headed.

Prior to his work with the legislative reference service, Wilcox served in the state department from the time the war started until early in 1944 when he was commissioned a lieutenant (j.g.) in the navy. While with the state department he specialized in development of cultural relations with Latin America.

After he had served in the intelligence department of the navy for about a year, Wilcox was appointed to his post in the legislative reference service at the suggestion of Senator Connally, who wanted him to do preliminary research work for his committee before the San Francisco conference.

A political science major at the university and described by Prof. Kirk Porter, head of the political science department, as an "absolutely top-flight student," Wilcox received his B. A. degree here in 1930, M. A. in 1931 and Ph. D. in 1933. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, A. F. I., and Sigma Chi, social fraternity, Wilcox was voted one of the most representative students on the campus in 1931. His Ph. D. thesis was "The Financial Administration of a Typical Iowa County."

SUI Artists' Work Displayed at Wichita

In national competition with other artists, prints by Wilford Benny, G of Alberta, Canada; Malcolm Meyers, G of Wichita, Kan., and Mauricio Lasansky, artist-teacher at the university, were selected out of 400 entries by the Wichita Art association for the 15th annual Graphic Arts exhibition. The exhibition will be on display in Wichita until Feb. 3.

The selected prints are "Hysteria at Dawn" by Benny, "Dog" by Meyers and "Doma" by Lasansky.

Prints by these two students and of the instructor were chosen along with 127 others to be exhibited.

Mexican, Argentine Art to Be on Display

An exhibition, "The Graphic Arts of Mexico and Argentina," will open in the auditorium of the art building tomorrow and will be on display throughout January.

The major part of the exhibition has been selected from the permanent collection of modern Latin-American art of New York's Museum of Modern Art.

This exhibition will afford the first opportunity to see a comprehensive selection of graphic art, exclusively produced by Mexican and Argentine artists, leaders in Latin-American print making.

The department of circulating exhibitions of the New York museum arranged this exhibition, which also will be sent to other museums and galleries throughout the country.

Works by Jose Guadalupe Posada, Leopoldo Mendez, Jose Clemente Orozco, Diego Rivera and David Alfaro-Siqueiros are included.

Oh, what they'd give to be in YOUR shoes!

Oh, what most of the human race would give to be in your shoes!

Clothing that you may consider old can bring new life to some suffering person to whom war brought despair and destitution. Goal of the Victory Clothing Collection is 100,000,000 garments, plus shoes and bedding. If your contribution seems negligible, bear this in mind: Every garment you give means one more human being saved from cold or sickness or possibly death.

About 25,000,000 people overseas received clothing collected from Americans last spring. But for every person clothed so far, a dozen more remain virtually threadbare. Your spare clothing will be distributed free, without discrimination, to victims of Nazi and Jap oppression in Europe, the Philippines, and the Far East.

Dig into your attics, trunks, and closets today . . . dig out all the serviceable clothing you can possibly spare . . . take it to your local collection depot now. If you doubt the need for it overseas, ask the boys who've been there!
