Dr. C. F. Jacobsen Appointed Dean of SUI Graduate College

Appointment of Dr. Carlyle F. Jacobsen as dean of the University of Iowa graduate college was announced Monday afternoon by President Virgil M. Hancher.

Dr. Jacobsen will take up his duties here on or before July 1 and will succeed Dr. Carl E. Seashore, for 30 years dean of the graduate college and in recent years dean pro tempore.

Dean Jacobsen has a distinguished record in the field of psychology and is also regarded as an authority in neurology and physiology. He is listed with a star as an outstanding psychologist in the current edition of American Men of Science.

The new dean has studied and taught at Minnesota, Yale, Cornell and Washington university of St. Louis. Since 1938 he has been professor of medical psychology in the Washington university school of medicine and for the last three years assistant dean of that school.

Born in Minneapolis
Dr. Jacobsen was born in Minneapolis in 1902. At the University of Minnesota he received his B.S. degree in 1924 and his Ph.D. in 1928, with a major in psychology and minors in neurology and physiology.

After teaching at Minnesota for several years, he went to Yale university, first as a research associate and later as assistant professor of comparative psychology.

Research Fellowships
He also held foremost research fellowships at the University of Chicago and at Harvard and was an assistant professor of psychology at Cornell university.

He is active in many learned societies and has written extensively for leading periodicals in his field.

Dean Jacobsen is married and has one daughter, age nine.

GI's Petition Sec. Patterson

SHANGHAI (AP)—A thousand army enlisted men met Secretary of War Patterson at the airport yesterday and petitioned an opportunity to discuss demands for a more clear-cut policy on discharges.

There were indications that such a meeting might be held today as Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, China theater commander, met a GI committee earlier in the day and helped them draft questions to submit to Patterson. He promised to help obtain an interview with the touring cabinet member.

When Patterson landed here, the petitioning soldiers were massed behind a rope barrier. The only visible indications of dissatisfaction were placards on a few army vehicles reading "Uncle Sam's forgotten men welcome you."

Pfc. David M. Miller, former school teacher of Gulfport, Miss., himself a 28-point man, presented the petition. Patterson replied over a public address system, telling the soldiers, mostly air force men, that he was not worried about their conduct, which he was sure would be orderly.

At about the same time, several thousand Chinese students were marching through Shanghai's streets, waving placards and shouting to American troops along the route, "Why don't you go home?"

GI Wives, Babies Suffer Hardships In Voyage to U. S. A.
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Crowded into a converted freighter on a 45-day voyage from New Zealand, 75 babies—20 of them just getting over the measles—reached San Francisco yesterday at last.

All of them children of American servicemen, they suffered from food shortages and overcrowded conditions, their wives and mothers complained upon docking from Auckland aboard the SS Permanente, a one-time merchant freighter.

With some 600 diapers needing a daily wash, laundering was limited to one washroom, one small tub, and a small pantry equipped with two electric plates on which to boil water, said Mrs. Brenda Murphy, wife of a former Rhode Island corporal, and mother of a nine-month-old son. She added she had no idea the trip would be 45 days duration.

Argentine Law To Guarantee People Food

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's military government said last night it would invoke a wartime law to assure the population sufficient food, as the nation's business and commercial leaders clamped a blackout on business activity in defiance of the regime's labor policies.

Not a wheel turned in any factory throughout Argentina and scarcely any store of importance opened its doors as small merchants, including grocers and bakers, joined industrial firms in the three-day lockout protesting wage increases and year-end bonuses decreed by the government of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell.

Government agents swore out warrants against some retail store owners, and the ministry of industry and commerce warned in a statement that "the government from this moment is taking steps necessary to assure a supply of needed articles to the people."

The ministry said the wartime law against speculation was broad enough to make refusal to sell goods a crime, and that warrants already were being sworn out under that law. It said that if owners persisted in their refusal to sell, the government would take possession of their stores. The statement added, that the combined action of employers in closing their business should not deprive the population, "particularly the humble classes," of necessary articles.

5 Year Old Answers Call to Jury Duty

NEW YORK (AP)—Five-year-old Freddy Fisbach trudged obediently into supreme court yesterday in answer to a summons calling him for jury duty.

James Mc Gurrin, commissioner of jurors, took one look at the brown-eyed "prospective juror," and immediately vacated the summons, while Freddy amused himself by sailing a paper airplane. The lad's wavering "X" on the document officially relieved him of his jury call.

How did it happen? McGurrin's explanation was that the names were chosen from a list of registered voters issued by the board of elections and nothing is known about the person summoned.

Freddy's father, Allen, had no explanation. A 15th airforce flyer, he said he hadn't registered as a voter since he joined the army in 1942.

Disband Division CAMP PENDLETON, Calif.

(AP)—Disbanding of the famed Guam-capturing third marine division which first saw action at Bougainville in September, 1943, has been completed at this camp, marine officials announced yesterday.

Quiet Settles Over China

Government Forces Withdraw From Coal Mining Districts

CHUNGKING, Tuesday (AP)—Quiet is settling over China's erstwhile fighting fronts, an official dispatch said today.

At many points, fighting stopped immediately on receipt of the cease-fire order, designed to become effective Sunday night. On other fronts, firing subsided more gradually, the dispatch said.

The dispatch added that National government forces which had been rushed last month into coal mining areas of western Hopeh province withdrew Saturday to their original positions.

It also reported that Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, commander of the 12th war zone, Sunday had withdrawn his troops from the borders of Chahar province, and that they were observing the truce strictly. Fu reportedly had distributed 100,000 copies of the truce order among his men, and had radioed the executive headquarters at Peiping to send investigators to the inner Mongolian province of Suiyuan to observe the situation there.

Earlier, charges and countercharges had followed in the wake of the truce.

A Chinese government spokesman accused the Communists yesterday of "enlarging rather than ceasing their military operations" and of putting the torch to many villages in violation of the truce which became effective at midnight Sunday.

The Communists Monday made similar charges against the government forces, and added today that the Communist regions of north China still under a doubling blockade strengthened by hundreds of newly-constructed government block-houses.

The government has denied the specific accusation of continued advances into Jehol province, and although observers at the current political unity conference here expressed some misgivings about the charges and countercharges, hope persisted that all remaining clashes would cease soon.

Woman Suspect Held, Charged With Torso Murder of Girl Victim

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Sonia Leggett, 58, charged with the torso murder of pretty, 20-year-old Louise De Chants, was held in Saratoga county jail yesterday after a plea of innocent was entered for her on arraignment before City Judge Anthony J. Labelle.

District Attorney John F. Doyle said the Saratoga county grand jury, in session at nearby Ballston Spa, probably would report before Friday on the first degree murder charge.

The nude, headless and armless torso of the De Chants girl, missing from her Saratoga Springs home since last Wednesday, was found Sunday, partly buried in a shallow grave near a chicken house on the farm seven miles from here where Mrs. Leggett lives with her husband Clarence. The head, arms and one leg, also severed from the torso, have not been found.

In a statement, Doyle said, Mrs. Leggett related that Miss De Chants died at the Leggett farm home following an altercation during which she struck the girl, who fell and struck her head on a dresser. Doyle said Mrs. Leggett stated that she drove Miss De Chants to the Leggett home from Saratoga Springs last Wednesday to perform an abortion on her.

The next day, Doyle added, the nurse said she dragged the body behind a chicken coop, dismembered it with a carving knife and buried the torso. She put the other parts in a box and left them near the Saratoga Springs railway, Doyle said.

Byrnes Asks Action From United Nations On Atomic Problem

New Security Council Requested to Set Up International Army

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes asked cheering members of the United Nations assembly yesterday for immediate action to insure that atomic energy shall be used "for human welfare and not for more deadly human warfare."

Byrnes urged "prompt approval" of a British-United States-Russian plan for an atomic commission—a proposal which the assembly a few minutes earlier decided to consider at this first meeting.

Pledging his country's "whole-hearted cooperation" with the 50 other United Nations, the chief United States delegate also urged that the powerful new security council begin "immediately" its task of building an international armed force to put down aggression.

"We have first," he declared, "to provide the security council with the military force it needs to retain peace."

Opening general debate on the preparatory commission's report, Byrnes spoke slowly. He said great as well as small nations "must come to view their power as a sacred trust"—the words President Truman used to describe America's possession of the atom bomb—and asserted "the future of humanity" depended upon the meeting of national responsibilities in this atomic age.

Another speaker, former Foreign Minister L. M. De Souza Dantas of Brazil, told the assembly the bomb secret might be kept for some time but added:

"As scientific discoveries are not the privilege of any people, there is no way out of the dangers of atomic energy but human fraternity through the world."

Again the Weather Is Clear and Cold

It's going to be clear and cold again today. That's about all we can say about the weather today. There is a sneaking rumor creeping around that it is going to cloud over tonight and we'll get some snow. To repeat, this is just a rumor; take it for what it's worth.

It seemed rather chilly yesterday but the mercury did manage to ooze up to 43 but dropped down to 19. It probably got colder than that last figure this morning and won't get quite that warm today.

WOMAN 'LOST' IN PRISON FOR MONTH

MRS. BERNADETTE VALENTINE, 21, smiles as she leaves supreme court building in New York yesterday with her lawyer, Samuel Bonon, after her release from the women's house of detention on a writ of habeas corpus. Court Martial Finds Quarles Not Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy announced yesterday Cmdr. Samuel F. Quarles of Nathalie, Va., was "fully acquitted" by a court martial which tried him on charge of inefficiency in the loss of the destroyer Warrington.

The ship foundered in a hurricane off the east coast Sept. 13, 1944, with a loss of 251 officers and men. Only 68 were rescued. She was en route from Chesapeake Bay to Trinidad, West Indies, escorting the refrigerator ship Hyades.

The court martial was convened at the naval operating base, Norfolk, Va., in July, 1945. Commander Quarles was released from arrest and restored to duty Aug. 13, the navy said.

Neighbors of Veteran Condemned to Death Appeal to President

WALLINGTON, N. J. (AP)—Appeals to President Truman were made yesterday by civic leaders, veterans, and neighbors of Pfc. Joseph E. Hicswa, 20-year-old Wallington soldier under death sentence in Japan for the murder of two Japanese.

In his home here, where a gaily-decorated Christmas tree laden with gifts for "Joe" still stood for the soldier's expected homecoming, his mother sobbed:

"It can't be true. It can't be true. Joseph is a good boy." Mayors of this borough and adjoining Lodi, where Hicswa was born and went to school, appealed to the president to save the youth's life and called protest meetings of neighbors and veterans.

UNRA CLOTHING DRIVE BEGINS

The campus clothing drive in behalf of United Nations Rehabilitation and Relief association will be carried out through fraternity and sorority presidents and the proctors of dormitories and independent housing units, according to Hugh Ames, C3 of Columbus, Ohio, chairman of the student division of the drive.

Each housing unit is asked to collect its clothing and hold it until the close of the drive Saturday, Jan. 26, when members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will pick up the contributions.

Students are requested to include notes, saying anything he or she would like, along with donations. The clothing does not necessarily have to be clean or in perfect condition, for it will be packed, cleaned and mended by UNRA. Any sort of clothing will be welcome.

"The cooperation of all students is urged at this critical time to promote further the good will of the American people as recognized 'big brothers' to the world," Ames stated.

New Walkout Begins Today

200,000 Electrical Workers to Strike; Total Idle 606,000

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The CIO United Auto workers said last night it was willing to settle its 30 percent wage increase demand on the automotive big three—Ford, General Motors and Chrysler on the basis of a 17½ percent boost.

Richard Leonard, the union's Ford director, said a presidential fact-finding board, which last week had recommended the smaller figure to apply specifically to the General Motors dispute, "had set the pattern for the entire industry."

Settle Deadlock
Leonard said he will offer today to settle the union's wage deadlock with the Ford company for a 17½ percent increase. Both Ford and General Motors have offered the UAW-CIO an approximate 12 percent boost. Previously, the UAW-CIO announced it was ready to settle with General Motors also for the 17½ percent increase.

However, since General Motors rejected a fact-finding board's previous recommendation, the union reserved the right to revert to the 30 percent demand if the corporation does not reconsider by Jan. 21.

More Negotiations
Chrysler corporation is not now negotiating with the union, bargaining having been suspended with the expiration of the 1945 contract.

The union's executive board approved the recently negotiated Kaiser-Frazier Corp. contract providing a bonus plan, $1.19 average hourly wage and a wage increase matching that granted General Motors workers.

To Walkout Today
The UAW-CIO Big Three development came as some 200,000 CIO United Electrical workers completed plans for a walkout today which would run the number of strike idle in the nation to 605,000—the highest in recent years.

The mounting labor strife brought quick response from congress which has returned from the long Christmas recess. Demands for quick action to end strikes were heard—but from other quarters in congress came predictions that labor legislation was headed for rough passage.

President Truman's fact-finding legislation ran into probable committee delay when "extensive hearings" on it were suggested.

212 Gallant WACs Return to States Aboard the Enterprise

NEW YORK (AP)—Two hundred and twelve gallant WACs who served as human ballast in an attempt to prevent the transport Athos II from sinking in an Atlantic gale were among the 3,557 passengers aboard the carrier Enterprise when it docked here yesterday.

The "Big E," seven days out of Ponta Del Gada in the Azores and two days late because of rough weather, also brought in 566 troops from the liberty ship John S. Hood which lost a propeller in a storm on new year's eve about 300 miles southwest of the Azores.

The Athos II left La Havre last Dec. 14, bound for New York. She ran into a terrific storm on Dec. 21. The passengers said the French captain gave up the ship for lost.

WAC Maj. Katherine L. St. John, a native of Frankfort, Ky., was the senior officer in charge of the WACs.

"Soldiers and WACs and furniture were thrown all over the place," Maj. St. John said. "There was no hysteria at all when the WACs were ordered below as ballast. One girl fainted and one suffered a broken bone. Another had all her front teeth knocked out."

The Enterprise carried 15 litter cases and 18 walking patients from the Athos II and the Hood,

Are Iowa Men Unchivalrous?

TO THE EDITOR: All right fellows, snap out of it! Get on the beam. Your prewar manners need a little brushing up. You're no longer the fair-haired boys the war made you. It's all over, and a large majority of your sex are coming home and back to the campus.

with the term "hard up" unless you do something about your repulsive selves in a hurry. You used to be able to call at 8 o'clock for a date at 8:30 and get it. If you felt like standing a date up, you did it and your conscience doesn't seem to take the initiative to bother you. But now, just try it.

They're Not Helping America Now

The United States' redeployment problem—and with it our peace problem—is becoming more and more muddled. And we are coming closer and closer to the brink of disaster.

for the military services and its continual interference has added to the confusion and disorderliness of demobilization. The demobilization problem can not be reduced to the simple matter of bringing men home, as some congressmen think.

A Bow to Dick Yoakam

Newspaper usually aren't given to saying kind words about radio stations because the radio is considered our competitor. But the remarkable performance of WSUL, and especially of Dick Yoakam, in the broadcast of the Iowa-Indiana basketball game demands attention.

Laski knows that the key to world peace is EQUAL solidarity and understanding among the Allies. And solidarity and understanding can not be obtained by the utterance of statements which seem intended to enhance the political prestige of an individual at the expense of the majority.

Laski's Error

The recent wave of misunderstanding and ill-feeling between the British and American peoples over terms of the four billion dollar loan increased last week when Harold Laski, chairman of the British labor party executive council, charged that "the America of big business is reactionary" in international relations.

Whether veterans can get in on the next batch of surplus quonsets still is undetermined. The huts will go to somewhere around $1,000 each before reconversion.

THE DAILY IOWAN

Entered as second class mail matter at the post office at Iowa City, Iowa, under the act of congress of March 2, 1879.

As a result, the whole military court martial procedure may get an overhauling. It is estimated that discharged veterans this year will get about five billion dollars in various cash benefits. Is it any wonder that the con-men, gyms, racketeers, shysters, mail frauders and blue sky operators are giving them their almost undivided attention?

From All Around The State

DES MOINES (AP)—A 95-year-old widow of a Civil war veteran, Mrs. Rebecca A. Smith, is serving on the jury panel in Polk county district court.

MT. PLEASANT (AP)—Peter R. Graber, 64, Wyland farmer, died at Memorial hospital here Sunday from a hip fracture, pelvis injury and shock suffered in a 12-foot fall from a pile of straw at his farm Friday.

DES MOINES (AP)—Voluntary closing of a large number of taverns in Des Moines and Polk county is under consideration by the operators as a result of the current campaign against liquor violations, it was reported yesterday.

About 30 tavern operators met here Sunday night, discussed the situation faced by operators, and formed an organization.

Mrs. Gladys Rand, owner of the property and former operator of the club with her husband, Pete Rand, said Kennelley had surrendered his lease and turned in his keys. The club employed approximately 60 persons.

The Hands closed the club last June following a raid by Constable Basil Grossnickle, and Rand has since been convicted of keeping a gambling house and of contempt of court for violation of a 1928 liquor injunction.

Rand declared taverns have been placed at an unfair disadvantage as a result of alleged illegal raiding procedure followed by the vigorous prosecution of liquor cases.

DES MOINES (AP)—The city council ordered the Des Moines Railway Co. yesterday to comply with any requirements not being met as to heating of street cars and busses, provision of on-the-line sanitary facilities for operators and prevention of passenger-crowding.

Members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach employees (AFL) union, who had complained of alleged faulty conditions, applauded after the 4-0 council vote.

The railway has answered that temperatures generally were above the average for such vehicles, that toilet facilities had been provided in an automobile service station on each route and that crowding of vehicles resulted from the company's inability to obtain additional ones, which had been ordered.

DES MOINES (AP)—The Des Moines city council declined yesterday to support a landlords' proposal that Washington be asked to permit increased rentals here.

Representatives of organized labor, both American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations, spoke emphatically against relaxation of rent controls at present.

THE REMAINDER OF THE PROGRAM will consist of request numbers.

SIDNEY (AP)—The attempt of James A. Reed Jr., a discharged Salem, Mass., Seabee, to be reunited with his daughter was delayed again yesterday when the hearing on Reed's petition for her custody was continued to Feb. 6.

Reed testified yesterday that he had traveled thousands of miles after his discharge searching for Mary Martha, 8, who had been in the custody of his divorced wife.

He said he learned she was staying in Waterloo, but when he got there was told the girl and her mother had gone to Kansas City. He arrived in Kansas City a few weeks after the two had moved but finally caught up with them in Sidney, trailing them through an address on a trunk.

Holcomb to Address Camera Club Tonight

Prof. Richard L. Holcomb of the bureau of public affairs will address the Camera Club on "Legal Photography" at 7:30 p. m. today in room 314 of the chemistry building.

Professor Holcomb, formerly a lieutenant in the Kansas City police department, was at one time in charge of detectives at Montgomery Ward in Chicago.

Legal photography concerns recording evidence photographically. Professor Holcomb has been working in cooperation with the Iowa City police school in its training program.

In addition to the lecture on photography, Jack Young of Iowa City, vice-president of the club announces that a print competition is scheduled. Members of the club will do their own judging, awarding three firsts and five honorable mentions.

Prints must be at least 8x10 inches and should be mounted vertically. As many as four prints may be submitted. Prize prints may not be re-entered.

Brody Elected Officer In Clothiers Group

Steve Brody, president of Bremer's, was elected vice-president of the Iowa Retail Clothiers association, at its convention in Des Moines yesterday.

Floyd L. Whittington, state price officer for the Iowa office of price administration, speaking to delegates yesterday, told them of the tremendous demand for men's suits.

Other officers elected included Walter Riepe, Burlington, president; M. T. Grogan, Corydon, the other vice-president, and C. H. Grove, Clarion, secretary-treasurer.

Unit Music Hour Selections Announced

"Concerto in E Flat" by Liszt, "La Valse" by Ravel, "Polonaise" by Tchaikovsky, "Piano Concerto in C Minor" by Field, "Carnival in Paris Overture" by Svendsen and "Concerto in D Major" by Paganini will be among the recorded selections played on the planned program in Iowa Union music room from 8:45 to 9:45 p. m. tomorrow.

The remainder of the program will consist of request numbers.

DES MOINES (AP)—The attempt of James A. Reed Jr., a discharged Salem, Mass., Seabee, to be reunited with his daughter was delayed again yesterday when the hearing on Reed's petition for her custody was continued to Feb. 6.

Reed testified yesterday that he had traveled thousands of miles after his discharge searching for Mary Martha, 8, who had been in the custody of his divorced wife.

He said he learned she was staying in Waterloo, but when he got there was told the girl and her mother had gone to Kansas City. He arrived in Kansas City a few weeks after the two had moved but finally caught up with them in Sidney, trailing them through an address on a trunk.

Mary Martha was brought into court on a writ of habeas corpus Jan. 7, and since that time has been in the custody of Fremont County Sheriff A. S. Christopher. The sheriff testified that Mary Martha was a "well behaved" child.

Roosevelt Memorial Stamp to Go on Sale Here January 31

A five-cent stamp of the Roosevelt memorial series will be placed on sale at the Washington, D. C. postoffice Jan. 30 and will be available at the local postoffice on or after Jan. 31, postal authorities said yesterday.

The central design, which will conform with preceding denominations of the series, is a portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt appearing in an oval to the left of the blue field. The name, dates and denominational number are in white.

Amid scattered clouds to the right is a large terrestrial globe with the words, "Freedom of Speech and Religion, from Want and Fear" in five lines across the face. Above the globe in dark Roman letters are the words, "United States Postage."

First-day covers will be available at the postoffice, Washington, 13, D. C. on Jan. 30. Collectors should send a money order, postal note or cash to cover cost of the stamps. Personal checks will not be accepted. Covers should be of ordinary size, properly addressed and should contain an enclosure of medium weight. The envelope flap should be sealed or turned in. Orders must not include requests for uncancelled stamps.

Collectors desiring stamps of selected quality may obtain them from the Philatelic agency, Washington, 25, D. C. on or after Jan. 30. To facilitate prompt filling of orders, collectors should request only this denomination. No first-day covers are available.

Home Ec Members Nominate Delegates To February Confabs

Nominations of delegates to the Chicago Home Economics convention, The Province Workshop, and to the Des Moines Home Economics convention to be held Feb. 1 were selected preceding the Home Ec. fashion show yesterday.

The Province Workshop includes representatives from Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. Those chosen to represent the Home Ec club here were: Jean Daurer, A2 of Stockton; Martha Burney, A3 of Iowa City; Alice Mae Donham, A3 of Iowa City; Mrs. Bea Kemp, and Ann Gilman, A3 of Ames.

Nominations for the Des Moines convention included Polly Baumgarten, A4 of Bloomfield; Marie McCalley, A4 of Waterloo, and Sara Nickell, A4 of Iowa City.

Refreshments were served after the fashion show.

Centennial Committee To Meet Wednesday

Ethyl E. Martin, superintendent of the State Historical society and William Petersen, resident associate of the society, will attend the first meeting of the Iowa centennial committee in Gov. Robert Blue's office in Des Moines tomorrow.

Miss Martin is an ex officio member of the committee, representing the State Historical society. Petersen is a member of the regular committee appointed by Governor Blue late in December.

Hydraulic Models Tested by Engineers

One of a series of studies completed by the American Society of Engineers to verify the accuracy of model tests of hydraulic structures was made at the university.

A comparison was made between the action of models of two stilling basins of the Miami Conservancy district and conditions observed on the actual structures, according to Prof. E. W. Lane of the engineering college.

This was one of the few actual comparisons of performance of models and their prototypes.

Prof. C. E. Strother Talks on Education Of Handicapped Child

"Our responsibility in a democracy is to provide every child with all the education from which he can profit," said Prof. Charles R. Strother of the university psychology and speech departments in a talk to the League of Women Voters yesterday at their luncheon meeting.

Speaking on "The Education of the Handicapped Child" Professor Strother said that the expenditure of a relatively small amount during the education period of the child could save the state a larger amount of money at a later date.

"Facilities in Iowa for the education and rehabilitation of the handicapped child are very inadequate," said Professor Strother.

The orthopedically handicapped child who has the difficulty of motor coordination needs a long term special program of physiotherapy and special education. Suggested procedures possible would be (1) to provide special classes in local schools, (2) to develop special day schools providing for the children of a certain area, and (3) to establish boarding schools sponsored by the state.

The hard of hearing child and the partially blind show the need for early detection and medical care. There is a need for a state-wide program for periodic hearing tests with resultant medical attention and a similar program for those with impaired vision. Some provision is now made in some communities.

The mentally retarded child who falls in a class above the mentally deficient and below that of the normal child needs a special class in which he can regain his confidence with children possessing ability similar to his. Professor Strother said that if we should provide a program of special classes under trained teachers we could take care of a large percent of these children.

Children with educational deficiencies need classes in remedial reading or writing such as the case may be.

"Although some work is being accomplished for the education of the handicapped children in Iowa, there is need for a much more extensive program," Professor Strother said.

Prof. Harold Skeels To Address AAUW At Union, Saturday

Prof. Harold M. Skeels of the child welfare department will address the American Association of University Women at their general meeting Saturday afternoon in the University clubrooms of Iowa Union. His subject will be "Substitute Homes for Iowa Children."

Dr. Skeels, who received his Ph. D. from the University of Iowa, has returned here recently after four years in England, where he studied psychological aspects of war problems. At the time of his discharge he was a major in the army air corps.

Before he entered the service, Dr. Skeels had been engaged in research connected with child welfare, specializing in the psychological and social aspects of dependent, mentally retarded and delinquent children. He is state psychologist for Iowa at the present time.

Following his address Dick Baxter, news editor of WSUI, will present records of various types of broadcasts which represent a cross-section of midwest interests, and A. A. U. W. members will be given an opportunity to express themselves concerning the kinds of programs they prefer.

Hostesses for the luncheon are Mrs. H. Dabney Kerr, chairman, and Mrs. Theodore Jahn, Mrs. John C. Gerber, Mrs. Willis Brown, Mrs. Herman Erlanger, Mrs. Lloyd Knowler, Mrs. Robert M. Featherstone, Elizabeth A. Hunter, Mrs. John Russ and Lucille Dahlgren.

Reservations for the 12:15 luncheon must be made before 9 p. m. Thursday with Mrs. Featherstone (9797) or with Mrs. Russ (9132).

Phi Beta Kappas Plan Initiation, Banquet For New Members

Initiation of newly elected members into Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity for men and women in the college of liberal arts, will take place at 5 p. m. tomorrow in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. An initiation banquet will be in Iowa Union at 6:15.

Prof. E. C. Mable, head of the speech and dramatic arts departments, will be guest speaker. His subject is "The Superior Student in the New Curriculum." The address of welcome to new members will be delivered by Dr. H. Dabney Kerr, head of radiology. Mary Drew, A4 of Dexter, who has the highest grade point average of the new members, will respond in behalf of the initiates.

TO WED IN SPRING

MR. AND MRS. Fred Smith of Cedar Rapids announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Martha Lou, to Dr. Russell W. Conkling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark L. Conkling of Des Moines. Miss Smith was graduated from Franklin high school in Cedar Rapids and is a junior in the college of liberal arts at the University of Iowa where she is affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority. Dr. Conkling was graduated from Roosevelt high school in Des Moines and the University of Iowa, where he was affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi social fraternity, and Nu Sigma Nu professional fraternity. He is now at the receiving hospital in Detroit, Mich. The wedding will take place this spring.

Gates-Sarten Wedding Dec. 7 Announced At Reception at Chi Omega House Sunday

Announcement of the marriage of Betty L. Sarten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Sarten of Wichita, Kan., to Walter B. Gates, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gates of Kansas City, Mo., was made at a reception and tea at the Chi Omega house from 3 to 5 p. m. Sunday. Members of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and their house mother were guests. A wedding gift from the members of Chi Omega was presented the couple.

The single ring ceremony took place Dec. 7 at 11 a. m. in Sigourney. Music was provided by La Vonn Gordon, sorority sister of the bride, who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Maid of honor was Miss Gordon and attendants were Ann Canedy and Meredith Raney, also sorority sisters of the bride. Best man was Lloyd Coomes, fraternity brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was attired in a straight cut, blue wool suit designed with a high neckline. Her suit was accented with black accessories and she carried a white Bible. Her only jewelry was her Chi Omega pin. Her flowers were of roses and gardenias.

The maid of honor chose a tailored grey wool suit, fashioned with a round neckline. She wore brown accessories and her flowers were carnations. The attendants also wore wool suits and brown accessories.

World Photographers To Give Illustrated Talk to Mountaineers

"The River of No Return" will be the subject of a mountaineers-sponsored lecture and color film to be presented by Frederick and Sylvia Christian Sunday evening in the chemistry auditorium at 8 o'clock.

In 1943, unable to travel abroad to continue their photographic recordings of their tours in foreign countries, the Christians decided to explore and photograph the least known and most utterly remote section of the United States, a great primitive wilderness in Idaho.

To do this, it was necessary to travel in a home-made boat down the Salmon river, better known as the "River of No Return." It is impossible to navigate this river upstream, and downstream only at great risk and under expert guidance. They returned with the first complete set of color motion pictures ever made in this land.

Before the war, the Christians had made and exhibited films of England, Ireland, Scotland, Norway, Syria, Palestine, Africa, the Hawaiian Islands and South America.

MARRIED SATURDAY

Lt. and Mrs. John Allender

In St. Joseph's Catholic church in Rock Island, Ill., Corinne Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hayes of Chicago, became the bride of Lt. John S. Allender, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Allender of Boone, Saturday at 10 a. m. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. P. H. Durkin offered the nuptial mass.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Mary Shepherd of Chicago. Robert Allender, brother of the bridegroom and student at the University of Iowa, was best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white satin gown, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves edged with lace. The full skirt was held with a small hoop. Her tulle veil fell from a seed-pearl Juliet cap and she wore a necklace of pearl and gold. Her bouquet was of white roses.

Miss Shepherd chose a lace gown of aqua and wore tiny aqua plumes in her hair. She carried red roses. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to members of the families and a few guests at the Ft. Armstrong hotel. During the afternoon the couple left on a motor trip. The bride wore for traveling a brown gabardine suit with a gray topcoat and brown straw hat.

Mrs. Allender was graduated from Central high school in Sioux City and the University of Iowa where she majored in journalism. She was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta social sorority, Theta Sigma Phi, honorary fraternity for women in journalism, and was society editor of The Daily Iowan. She has been employed in the editorial department of the Rock Island Argus, and for the last several years has been woman's editor of the employees' magazines of the International Harvester company in Chicago. She is a Chicago member of the Glamour magazine council.

Lieutenant Allender was graduated from the college of dentistry at the University of Iowa and is a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity and Psi Omega dental fraternity. He entered navy service in 1943 and has served 19 months in the Pacific. At the conclusion of his leave he will return to Great Lakes.

By GUS SCHRADER

THEY TOOK it on the button Saturday night all right, but then Hawkeyes are still our Big Ten champs—and will be unless and until some other team has a better record when the shouting is over in March. . . . Opinions of those who watched the Hawks freeze at Bloomington are interesting if you'd like to see a little light shed on Iowa's first defeat in 16 games. . . . Bert McGrane of the Des Moines Register pointed to the lowly shot average: 14 buckets in 95 attempts for a percentage of .147. . . . (Iowa's eight-game average up till then had been .262). . . . The Associated Press in its dispatch said: "It was the Indiana defense that was most responsible for Iowa's first defeat. . . . The Hoosiers swarmed over Dick Ives, Dave Danner and the Wilkinsons from the start and held that usually prolific quartet to a total of only 18 points."

THE CEDAR RAPIDS Gazette's Tait Cummins blamed the real damage on the first five minutes of each half. . . . In those 10 minutes, Indiana outscored Iowa by an 18-2 margin. . . . If those disastrous periods had been omitted, the Hawks would have notched conference win No. 3 with no strain. . . . But Tait reminds us that they still play regular 40-minute games, even in Indiana. . . . "They won't lose another one," was the opinion WSU's Dick Yoakam brought back from the game. "They got all the cold shooting and bad passing out of their system and should go from now on." . . . Dick claims the Hoosiers weren't so hot themselves and quoted Bloomington observers as saying Indiana had played better in losing to Minnesota the week before.

THE PLAYERS were amazed at their own inability to hit and lamented the way their set plays failed to click. . . . From bending a sympathetic ear to all accounts, I've come up with the same conclusion I had while listening to the game's broadcast: THE HAWKS SIMPLY HAD A MIGHTY COLD NIGHT. . . . Further, they couldn't find the basket at the start, Herb Wilkinsons' bad ankle weakened Iowa's rebounding game enough to let Indiana race off to an early lead, and the boys got a little despondent with their shooting and passing thereafter, a factor which didn't help the final shot percentage. . . . But the "unbeaten" stress is off now and you'll watch a more relaxed, smooth-working Hawkeye team from now on.

AND THE FAT isn't completely in the fire, you know. . . . By comparing the records and schedules of the title contenders, it's obvious that only five teams have an inside chance of winning the pennant: Ohio State (4-0), Minnesota (3-0), Northwestern (2-1), Indiana (3-1) and Iowa (2-1). . . . The rest all have lost at least two. . . . The big end of the season still favors the Hawks, if you consider as an advantage the fact that they don't have to play Northwestern and Ohio State. . . . People are hopping off the Old Gold wagon right and left, choosing the Wildcats and the Buckeyes as the best probabilities to try on Iowa's crown. . . . Well, here's the games left on the schedules of the five stretch candidates. . . . Look 'em over and place your bets:

- IOWA—Purdue (2), Chicago (2), Minnesota (2), Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois.
- OHIO STATE—Indiana (2), Northwestern (2), Chicago (2), Purdue, Michigan.
- NORTHWESTERN—Wisconsin (2), Ohio State (2), Minnesota (2), Michigan, Purdue, Illinois.
- MINNESOTA—Purdue (2), Iowa (2), Northwestern (2), Chicago, Indiana, Wisconsin.
- INDIANA—Ohio State (2), Purdue (2), Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Chicago.

PASS THE HASH
ONE OF THE AMAZING improvement stories about the Iowa basketball squad is that of Ed Marsh, gangling 6-8 sub-center. . . . Ed never played high school ball at Cedar Falls, came to Iowa last season to win a major. . . . Pops says he's proud of the improvement the 19-year-old sophomore has made this season. . . . KADERA'S CLUB in the City Basketball league grew in might when Tom Stahle quit the Iowa squad and joined them last night. . . . Clay Colbert, Jack Shay, Don Sehr, Kennedy, Farnsworth, Clem and Lemons already make it one of the league's toughest. . . . THERE IS A POSSIBILITY that Noble Jorgensen, 6-9 Iowa center, may try out for the Iowa grid squad next season as an end. . . . A KNEE OPERATION will keep Ronald Wolf, Iowa grid center, from entering Iowa City's Golden Gloves Feb. 11, 12 and 14. . . . A former Golden Glover from Kentucky, Ronnie hurt the knee in the Ohio State game last night and a recent operation has put him on crutches temporarily.

50 Additional Seats For Gloves Tourney

The addition of 50 more ringside seats to those previously available for the Golden Gloves boxing show to be held in Iowa City Feb. 11, 12 and 14 was announced by the tourney committee yesterday.

The ringside seats and general admission tickets may be purchased at Kadera's, Racines, and Kinneys in Iowa City.

Regular training got underway last night at the city recreational center as fighters settled down to a steady routine in preparation for the February bouts.

Inquiries about the tournament are pouring in every day, backers of the show report, and there is a possibility that teams from Des Moines and Moline, Ill., as well as a service team may be entered.

Loss Drops Purple From Unbeaten List; Doster Paces Illini

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The University of Illinois' almost all-freshman basketball squad last night turned in one of the Big Ten's outstanding basketball upsets of the season by defeating previously unbeaten Northwestern, 45 to 38. The Illini led all the way, and were ahead 26-18 at the half.

Only once was Northwestern ahead and that was on the first play of the game. After that, the Illini sped to the front and kept the crowd of 6,310 in an uproar during a fast and furious first half.

At the start of the second half, the Illini offense, paced by Bob Doster, the Big Ten's leading scorer, slashed the Northwestern defense to ribbons and grabbed a 36 to 24 lead. Then the tempo of the game slowed, and while the Wildcats' offense became a bit more effective, Illinois was able to coast for the next ten minutes.

During the last few minutes of play, the Illini froze the ball to insure their second conference victory against four defeats—and Northwestern's FIRST LOSS IN EIGHT GAMES this year, including two Big Ten wins.

The lid came off the university's intramural basketball season last night with four hot games starting the action in the small dormitories section.

The Teeloxes, Byington, Delta Tau Delta and Pi Kappa Alpha came out on top in their games. Other intramural games are scheduled for this week in the social fraternities and professional fraternities sections of the league.

Big Bill Kay, Iowa football tackle, paced the Teeloxes to a 64-29 win over Kellogg, despite the 19 points poured in by Lorin Hamman of the losers. Byington found an easy opener in trouncing the Irregulars, 61-19, as Larson hit 17 and Morrison 14 for the winning quiet.

In the 8 o'clock games, Delta Tau Delta, following Keith Walker's 19-point lead, spanked West Lambert house, 50-24. The last game proved to be the most exciting, Pi Kappa Alpha eventually emerging victorious by a 24-23 count. Bernard Woodke's seven points were best for the losing Gables team.

Tonight, tomorrow night and Thursday night will see both sections of the social fraternities league and the professional fraternities swinging into action. The schedule for this week:

Tonight
7 o'clock—Delta Chi vs. Phi Gamma Delta; Delta Upsilon vs. Phi Epsilon Pi.
8 o'clock—Alpha Tau Omega vs. Beta Theta Pi.
Tomorrow Night
7 o'clock—Nu Sigma Nu vs. War Vets; Phi Beta Pi vs. Psi Omega.
8 o'clock—Delta Sigma Delta vs. Alpha Kappa Kappa.
Thursday Night
7 o'clock—Sigma Chi vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon; Sigma Nu vs. Theta Xi.
8 o'clock—Phi Kappa Psi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Dempsey Calls Mike Jacobs 'Ticket Man'

DES MOINES (AP)—Jack Dempsey threw some verbal punches at Mike Jacobs' "dictatorial methods" yesterday and said he is thinking of getting into fight promotion in opposition to the New York promoter.

"I have in mind getting hold of an arena," said the former heavyweight champion, here to referee a wrestling match, "and I think New York is the place. When I get back I'm going to see what we can find."

Dempsey scored an interviewing reporter's mention of Jacobs along with the late Tex Rickard. "Tex was a good judge of fighters," he went on. "JACOBS IS ONLY A TICKET MAN."

"The boxing game is in bad shape now because of Jacobs' dictatorial methods in handling the champions. Don't misunderstand me, I have nothing personal against Mike—it's just his methods and I resent any comparison between Mike and Rickard."

"Mike is making most of the money while 90 percent of the other promoters around the nation are going broke, Jacobs was lucky in picking up Joe Louis."

Irish Bow to C. R. Foe, 39-36

CEDAR RAPIDS (Special)—The Irish of St. Patrick's of Iowa City bowed to the Shamrocks of Cedar Rapids St. Patrick's in a red hot ball game there last night 39-36.

Dempsey Takes It Easy in 'Twin's' Bed

FORMER HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION Jack Dempsey chats with Pinkie George, Des Moines promoter who has often been mistaken as his double. Jack, resting in George's home after arriving in Des Moines, refereed the wrestling matches there last night and loosed a blast at Promoter Mike Jacobs in New York. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Played before a packed house that was on edge over the entire route of the fracas, the game was won and lost in the final minute and a half when the Irish of Iowa City missed a half dozen tough luck shots that rolled in and out of the basket.

For Iowa City it was Merle Hoye, swinging back into his scoring stride after a lapse against West Branch, who was high man with 14 points and Charlie Belger, at guard, that paced the scoring attack.

Special honor came to Tom Hoye, however, for he held the Cedar Rapids star forward, Naughton, to the lowest number of points that he snared all season: 13 on four buckets and five charity tosses.

For the Cedar Rapids club, Naughton at forward with 13 points and Strouse at guard were the individual standouts.

St. Patrick's next game is a return contest Friday with St. Ambrose in Davenport to whom they lost an earlier decision.

Coach Pops Harrison shouted stern orders from the bench and kept the pace swift and the let-ups few and far between.

One lineup shift loomed. Dave Danner was used at guard on one team before all the players had reported for practice. Pops hinted he might switch the fast-shooting Iowa City forward to the backcourt if any more injuries whittled his supply of good guards.

Even Herb Wilkinson joined in the scrimmages and Pops admitted that Herb's sprained ankle was much better after Sunday's rest. The injury did hamper the tall guard in Saturday night's loss, however.

Also figuring importantly in last night's practice for this weekend was towering Noble Jorgensen. He alternated at center with Clayton Wilkinson and seemed to rate plenty of attention after leading the Hawks' scoring with 10 points against Indiana. It is unlikely that the starting lineup will be changed from that which started Saturday night's game: Danner and Ives at forward, Clay Wilkinson at center, and Ned Postels and Herb at the guards.

Iowa's individual scoring leader again became Murray Wier with the seven points he scored at Bloomington. He now has 94 points at the season's halfway mark, trailed by Dick Ives with 92, and Herb and Clay Wilkinson with 76 and 75 respectively. Clayton is the leading scorer in conference games with 36 points.

Danner May Be Moved to Guard

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football league club owners, intent on drawing up the strongest possible schedule to combat the All-America conference for fan interest—particularly in the key cities of New York, Chicago and Los Angeles—wrestled unsuccessfully throughout the day on their pairings for the 1946 campaign.

After some seven hours of locked-door discussions—their second straight day of a futile schedule-making effort—the magnates gave it up temporarily in order to hold their player draft last night. Just how extensive this draft will be was not announced.

although it was reported that each of the 10 clubs would pick as many as 30 players for a total of 300 graduating seniors or players in service whose classes are graduating.

However the identity of most of these as well as the dates and sites for next season's games will remain secret since the magnates believed announcement of either of these would give the young All-America information that might prove helpful to it in preparing for its first season.

It was virtually certain however that the championship Rams, transferred to Los Angeles from Cleveland, would entertain six of their new home grounds next fall whether they play in the 100,000-seat coliseum or Gilmore stadium. Four of these opponents, of course, would be the other clubs in the National League's Western division, the Chicago Bears and Cardinals, Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers.

The player draft figured to be a five or six-hour process. Ordinarily the clubs pick in direct inverse order from their playing finish of the previous season. However this time the lowly Chicago Cardinals waived their first choice spot to the Boston Yanks who made an early selection of Boley Dancerwick, the Notre Dame quarter back, three days ago and signed him up. That was considered first pick for last night's draft so when the moguls got together the Cardinals led off anyway.

Still stinging from the first defeat given an Iowa basketball team in 16 games, the Hawkeyes returned to the practice court yesterday with a display of savage eagerness that boded ill for Purdue and Chicago next Saturday and Monday nights.

The whole squad ripped through a rough two-hour drill. Fast breaking offensive scrimmage, the full length of the floor, was the order of the afternoon.

One lineup shift loomed. Dave Danner was used at guard on one team before all the players had reported for practice. Pops hinted he might switch the fast-shooting Iowa City forward to the backcourt if any more injuries whittled his supply of good guards.

Even Herb Wilkinson joined in the scrimmages and Pops admitted that Herb's sprained ankle was much better after Sunday's rest. The injury did hamper the tall guard in Saturday night's loss, however.

Also figuring importantly in last night's practice for this weekend was towering Noble Jorgensen. He alternated at center with Clayton Wilkinson and seemed to rate plenty of attention after leading the Hawks' scoring with 10 points against Indiana. It is unlikely that the starting lineup will be changed from that which started Saturday night's game: Danner and Ives at forward, Clay Wilkinson at center, and Ned Postels and Herb at the guards.

Iowa's individual scoring leader again became Murray Wier with the seven points he scored at Bloomington. He now has 94 points at the season's halfway mark, trailed by Dick Ives with 92, and Herb and Clay Wilkinson with 76 and 75 respectively. Clayton is the leading scorer in conference games with 36 points.

Bremers Whip Franks Service, 65-52, Hold Share of Loop Lead

With Howard hitting for 23 points, Bremers tacked a 65-52 defeat on Franks Service in a fast, bruising tilt last night in the City basketball league. Bremers, holding a slim 33-29 lead at the intermission, spurred in the open minutes of the second half to build a safe lead. Kay made 17 markers for Bremers and Bowman hit for 14 points to lead the Franks Service scorers.

The Press-Citizen five took their second straight win, nipping the Moose team, 42-31. Both teams were cold in the first two quarters, the score at the half reading 12-10 with the Press quintet ahead. Lehman connected for 14 points for the Moose squad.

Kadera's won on a forfeit from Westside, 2-0, to remain at the top of the league standings. They have a record of six victories and no defeats.

Ray Robinson Wins on TKO

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ray (Sugar) Robinson of New York scored a technical knockout over Dave Clark of Cincinnati in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout at the Gardens last night. Robinson weighed 148 and Clark 152.

The heavily favored Robinson had Clark down three times for the count of nine, one of these coming in the first round, before referee Ernie Sesto halted the fight at 2:22 of the second frame.

After an impressive 47-32 win over Dubuque last Friday, City high's Little Hawks look ahead to their encounter with Clinton Friday, on the latter's court.

Lineup changes made by Coach Gil Wilson before last weekend seemed to add to the Hawks' strength both offensively and defensively. The Rams had beaten them by five points in the previous encounter at Dubuque. The two additions to the local lineup, Bob Beals and Kirk Carson, made an impressive showing against the Rams.

The Clinton squad, led by Dean Burridge, an all state football player, is hoped to be one of the cage powerhouses in the state this year, and will offer potent opposition to the rejuvenated Little Hawks.

Ramblers Play St. Joe Again

Tomorrow night in the old City high gym, St. Mary's Ramblers will try for their tenth victory of the season when they meet St. Joseph's of Rock Island.

After a couple days rest after their win over St. Paul's Hilltoppers of Burlington by a score 43-18, the Ramblers should be ready for their 12th tilt of the year.

In Sunday's game, Bart Toohy led the local cage with a total of 16 points. Bill Suplee was able to garner 12 points in their last game to keep his individual scoring lead.

The Ramblers scored an earlier win over the St. Joseph's crew by a score 54-37 on the Rock Island court in December, and are favored again tomorrow night.

Winston Churchill Arrives in U. S.
NEW YORK (AP)—Winston Churchill, former prime minister of Great Britain, arrived in the United States on the Queen Elizabeth last night.

The big cigar as usual was in his mouth. Attired in the uniform of the royal yacht squadron, he appeared rested and in fine spirits as he talked with newsmen. Mrs. Churchill was with him.

Churchill said he hoped to see President Truman March 5 in Fulton, Mo., where Churchill will speak at Westminster college.

At a news conference shortly after he stepped off the big British liner, Churchill said he had no immediate thought of retiring from politics or ceasing "to lead the Conservative party until they can make arrangements for other leadership."

The wartime premier said he thought the problem of a national Jewish home in Palestine was "too difficult to be handled by one single nation alone."

"I am strongly in favor of a joint inquiry by the United States and Great Britain," he said, adding "—as you probably know, I am a Zionist from the beginning."

Questioned about the atomic bomb, Churchill said "I think it would be a great mistake to share the secret of the atomic bomb unless proper controls are established."

He declined to discuss British politics, commenting: "I very rarely like to criticize the British government abroad."

SOCIETY NOTE
MR. AND MRS. HERBERT PLATO PEEVY OF WEST RHUBARB AVENUE ARE ENTERTAINING WEEK-END GUESTS—

City Council Votes to Pave Park Road

Roosevelt Street Included in Plans

Petition Submitted To Re-Route Kirkwood, East College Buses

The city council last night officially approved plans for paving Park road from Riverside drive to a point 160 feet west of Lexington street and Roosevelt street from Kirkwood avenue to the Rock Island railroad tracks.

The resolution passed by the council last night approved the plans and specifications for the project, overruled all objections and authorized the issuance of bonds and the assessment of the final cost against the abutting property owners.

There were no objectors to the paving of Park road but the ticklish problem of how to grade the Lexington street intersection will have to be ironed out by a committee of councilmen and the city engineer. A resolution directing the city clerk to advertise for construction bids will be presented to the council at its next meeting, Jan. 30.

Lexington Street Problem

The Lexington street intersection complicates the problem because the grade on Lexington is about five feet higher than the grade on Park road at that point. The proposed paving is to extend 160 feet beyond the intersection.

Special contracts will have to be made with property owners living on the north side of the road because they are outside the city limits and the city council has no power to assess them for the costs of the paving.

There was only one objector to paving Roosevelt street.

Ask Re-Routing Buses

A petition asking that the city council urge the Iowa City Coach company to re-route its Kirkwood-East College buses to serve residents of the south part of the city was presented last night.

The 136 persons who signed the petition asked that the bus route be changed so that buses would go down South Capitol street from the business district, go east on Benton street to Van Buren street and then south to Kirkwood avenue and on around the present route.

A committee composed of Alderman-at-Large I. J. Barron and Aldermen James M. Callahan, first ward, and Carl S. Kringel, fourth ward, will investigate the petition.

New Fire Station Urged

A new fire station, new equipment including two trucks and a force half again as large as its present strength was recommended by Fire Chief J. J. Clark in his annual report to the city council presented last night.

Here are the improvements which are needed to protect lives and property in Iowa City from fires, according to Fire Chief Clark:

- One aerial ladder truck equipped with a 100-foot ladder and other ladders of the latest types.
- One triple combination pumper engine with a 100 gallon booster tank.
- 500 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose.
- 200 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose.
- Two gas masks of the oxygen breather type.
- One two-way radio set to work with the police radio transmitter.
- That the present fire district be enlarged.
- The personnel of the fire department should be increased by five men.

The department should be placed on a three platoon system of 56 hours a week for each platoon instead of the present two-platoon system.

And that a new fire station be built large enough to house six trucks and with a repair shop in the basement. This new station

STUDENTS COLLECT REGISTRATION MATERIALS

THE LOWER HALL of University hall was crowded yesterday with liberal arts and commerce students eager to obtain second semester registration materials from the office of the registrar. A total of 1,402 students called for their materials yesterday. Topping the list of applicants were liberal arts freshmen and sophomores, with 719 receiving materials. Next were liberal arts juniors and seniors, 476; commerce graduates, 127, and commerce juniors and seniors, 80. This semester's enrollment is not expected to top the 1940-41 first semester record registration of 6,670, according to Registrar Paul Blommers. Due to mechanical difficulties in printing service, the supply of second semester schedules was depleted at noon yesterday. A new supply will be available Thursday. Students may still obtain their registration materials and call for schedules later.

should be located at Burlington and Gilbert streets.

Fire Chief Clark pointed out that Iowa City is now ranked in the sixth class by fire insurance companies but that the city could easily fall into seventh or eighth class, with a subsequent increase in insurance rates, unless better equipment is obtained.

His recommendations were referred to the council's fire committee.

Want Rundell Sewer Fixed

Last week's flood in the eastern part of the city has aroused pressure for improvements in the Rundell street sewer. Fifty homes in that section had water in their basements because of the flooding of Ralston creek and backing up of water in the sewers.

$9,000 has been appropriated to remove the present nine-inch sewer and lay a 12-inch sewer in its place. Plans for the improvement have been drawn up and approved by the state department of health.

The city attorney was directed to prepare a resolution approving the plans and authorizing the advertising for bids for the work. The resolution will be presented at the next meeting.

Teacher to Address Congregationalists

Frances Rogers, former teacher of high school English in Los Angeles, will speak at a meeting of the Women's Association of the Congregational church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the church parlors. Her topic will be "The Literary Qualities of the Opening Chapters of Genesis, as Would be Taught to a Sixteen-year-old Class."

Mrs. Hayes Fry and Miss Rogers will serve as co-chairmen for the meeting. Other committee members are Mrs. John Cornwall, Mrs. D. N. Cudaback, Mrs. Edith Harris, Mrs. George Jensen, Mrs. John McNoun, Mrs. W. Z. Pearson, Mrs. Will Rowland, Mrs. Fred Spayde, Mrs. Hal Stewart, Mrs. C. M. Updegraff, Mrs. Grace Uban and Mrs. Andrew H. Woods. A business meeting will precede the program. Members are asked to bring their Bibles as the program will include reading scripture verses.

The committee will serve refreshments.

Two Wills Admitted To Probate in Court

The wills of Harriet H. Mercer, who died Jan. 1, and John Otis Osborne will, Earl Y. Sangster was admitted to probate in the district court yesterday.

Willis W. Mercer and Leroy S. Mercer are the executors without bond for the Mercer will. Swisher and Swisher are the attorneys.

Edward L. B. Osborne is the executor without bond of the Osborne will. Earl Y. Sangster was appointed administrator of the estate with the will annexed; bond $3,000. W. R. Hart is the attorney.

'India's Basic Problems Are Economic, Not Political,' Says Dean Everton of Grinnell

"The basic problem in India today is economic, not political," Dr. John Scott Everton, Dean of the Chapel at Grinnell college, told the Methodist Vesper-Forum Sunday night.

Last fall Dr. Everton returned from India, where he, as general administrator of American funds, supplies and personnel for the American Friends Service Committee, had intimate contact with the urgent need for relief, rehabilitation and economic development.

Dr. Everton traveled extensively in the districts of Bengal, Travancore, Cochin and Malabar in South India to estimate the needs of the peasants and people in slum areas, whom the American Friends try to aid. Dr. Everton lived with the village people and said they were all very friendly and hospitable. In one village he found that he was the first white person to visit it in the memory of all the living inhabitants. The people followed him around as if he were "Exhibit A."

When Dr. Everton went to India in 1943 the first task of the American Friends committee was to feed hungry people. That was the year of the great famine, when one million persons starved in Bengal. Disease followed the famine, so the next task was to distribute medical supplies. At that time there were ten thousand hospital beds in Bengal for sixty million people, and there were practically no trained nurses. Dr. Everton said that one of the basic needs of India is for the services of foreign doctors and nurses in training Indians in their profession.

Other services of the American Friends committee included a clothing program, reconciliation between the British and Indians, and the establishment of cooperative Indian industrial centers.

During his tour Dr. Everton visited three days with Mahatma Ghandi, who leads an advancement program for the people of India, discussed with Dr. Everton the relief work done by the committee and approved it. He was especially pleased that the committee was trying to help the Indians to help themselves, as in the industrial centers and cooperative farms sponsored by the Friends.

While at Ghandi's home, Dr. Everton talked with Ghandi's 12 year old grandson, who expressed the attitude of many Indians in asking why America, a nation with Christian ideals of democracy, was engaged in a war which would not bring India freedom.

Ghandi himself said that he accepts Christ, a prophet who searched for the same truths as the Hindu prophets, but he cannot accept Christianity, for the Western world has turned away from the ideals of Christ. This, says Dr. Everton, is a challenge.

In closing, Dr. Everton said that there were three things that American students can do to help India. They are: become informed on India; help Indian students in America to feel at home here, and work as technicians or social workers in India.

Iowa state college, will be the principal speakers at a banquet in the Roosevelt hotel tomorrow at 6:15 p. m. Radio station WMT will carry the addresses.

Thursday's activities will center around discussion of proposed statewide corn borer control and educational programs.

Choir Entertained

Members of the Newman club choir were guests of the Catholic student center Sunday night. They were entertained at a dinner at Amana.

Afton Smith to Speak Today to PTA Group On Postwar Home

Afton Smith, an associate in parent education at the University of Iowa child welfare station, will speak this afternoon at 2 o'clock to members of the Parent-Teacher association in the lecture rooms of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company. Miss Smith, whose topic will be "The Home in the Postwar World," will be the first speaker in this year's series of lectures for the parent-education services sponsored by the P. T. A.

Mrs. Russell Fountain, former director of the Des Moines W. P. A. nursery school and parent education program, will be in charge of the meetings and will lead the discussion periods following. Mrs. George Petzel is president of the Parent-Teacher Association council.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the lecture includes Mrs. Lorna L. Mathes, parent education chairman of the council; Mrs. R. H. Reimers, Iowa City high school; Mrs. Edward Bryan, Roosevelt; Mrs. F. J. Crow, Junior high school; Mrs. P. A. Dooley, Horace Mann school; Mrs. D. K. Nagle, Coralville; Mrs. Helen Clark, Henry Sabin school; Mrs. J. M. Mariner, Longfellow school; Mrs. Katherine Walljasper, St. Mary's, and Mrs. Harold Franklin, St. Patrick's.

The next lecture is scheduled for Feb. 4.

French Publication Begins Second Year

The first edition of this year's "L'Atelier," university French publication, appeared on the campus last week. With this issue "L'Atelier" begins its second year. It is published three times a year by advanced French students of Henri Barzun of the Romance languages department and members of the French club.

"We try to make the contents of the paper as varied as possible," stated Rosemary Current, A2 of Peoria, Ill., associate editor of the four-page publication. She used the new issue as an illustration, explaining that it includes a poem, an editorial, news of former students, foreign film and book reviews, and various articles on campus activities, all written in French.

The editorial staff for this year includes: Rose-Marie Doty, A2 of Peoria, Ill., editor; Rosemary Current, A2 of Peoria, Ill., and Anne Crawford, A3 of Burlington, associate editors; Eileen Serschen, A2 of Cleveland, Ohio, art editor; Ellen Jeanes, A1 of Cedar Rapids, associate art editor, and Audrey Chase, A3 of Scotch Plains, N. Y., business manager.

Those fined were E. R. Williams, Edwin Hill, Betty Metts, Ray Rarey, Frank Condon, Mrs. Edward Meardon, John Cornwall, Les Rogers, M. D. Haydon, William Machovec, J. C. White, M. Duffy, E. Frantz, John Kennedy, R. C. Sasina, Oscar Stimmel, S. McGuire, J. M. Brady and Tom Byrnes.

Dorothy Brown was fined $1 for parking in front of a theater, and Otto John Klunder was fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

Prof. G. F. Else Speaks on Aristocracy To Humanities Society

Prof. G. F. Else, head of the department of classical languages, discussed the problem of aristocracy and how it relates to our present day at a meeting of the Humanities society in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Addressing his first public lecture since his discharge from the marine corps, Professor Else explained a prevalent idea among ordinary people: "The common man is all right if you leave him alone or else set him free. He is fair, just and humane."

Professor Else said the problem is how the tradition can be fruitful to the common man. He continued, "We need to break down all the barriers of common people of all centuries, thus breaking the chains of centuries of aristocracy."

"Democracy in one of the rarest forms of government and has always been based on aristocracy until the 20th century. It suggests that every man is as good as the other," he said.

Professor Else next explained the development of aristocracy in ancient Greece. "In Homer's age aristocracy developed in full bloom. Individual leaders were prevalent, and the common man stood on the side-lines and cheered," he remarked.

"The aristocracy age gave way at the end of the sixth century to the tyrant who was the first man to break the aristocracy crust; the age of democracy follows this," he continued.

Professor Else concluded by defining the platonic tradition which has been a part of the continuing tradition of western civilization. "Man has a great likeness to God. Man fights the beast in him, and the likening of oneself to God is a humanistic tradition," he said.

The next meeting of the Humanities society originally scheduled for Jan. 28 has been postponed to Jan. 29. President Virgil M. Hancher will address the group at this meeting.

To Address Kiwanians

Prof. H. J. Thornton of the university history department will speak today at the Kiwanis club luncheon meeting at Hotel Jefferson. Professor Thornton will discuss "The U. S. 100 years ago at the time Iowa became a state."

Marriage License

The clerk of the district court yesterday issued a marriage license to Leona Sedlicka and Lawrence Kessler of Iowa City.

Home Ec Club Presents Style Show—Model Bride's Wear

MAUREEN RATHMAN, A2 of Rock Island, Ill., models a light-weight crepe wedding gown with a layered lace trim skirt. Her veil is of fine net, matched to the high neckline.

Using as its theme "The Bride's Trousseau" the Home Economics club featured a complete wardrobe for the bride at its fashion show yesterday afternoon.

The bride, Maureen Rathman, A2 of Rock Island, Ill., modeled a light-weight crepe wedding gown with a skirt of layered lace trim. Her dress had a georgette crepe, high neckline, with a fine net veil.

A three-piece traveling suit of hard finish wool with a velvet trim was shown by model Marie McCalley, A4 of Waterloo. The small-check black and white suit was set off by a black cloche hat and a matching felt pouch purse with one-button gloves. Marie also modeled a basic black wool jersey dress featuring cap sleeves.

The full-gathered skirt was topped by a white leather girdled belt. A blue and white checked taffeta-quilted robe worn by Marie, displayed a tie belt.

Helen Pitz, A4 of Amana, modeled a pearl-gray street length wedding dress of light-weight crepe. Her modified cap sleeves were caught with a bow of the same material. The back of Helen's dress featured a tapered bustle with one-inch ruffles from the waist to the hemline. Her accessories were black.

She also modeled a black dress with a v-neckline, and three-quarter length sleeves. The front featured three-tiered flounces to the hemline. Helen's only jewelry consisted of a single strand of pearls.

A fluecia wool dress, suitable for all occasions, was modeled by Nadine Lindeman, A3 of Dysart. Its wing sleeves were separated from the neck by silver buttons. Her waist-line pockets featured matching lapels on a fly-front skirt.

Pat Chesbro, A1 of Davenport modeled a two-piece dress suit with a black velvet top and a raspberry wool straight-cut skirt. Her jacket buttons matched the skirt. Pat's half-hat of black felt featured a raspberry feather trim to match her suit.

The third wedding dress, modeled by Barbara Clinton, A3 of Menasha, Wis., was a powder blue gabardine suit dress with a cardigan neckline, and self-covered buttons. Barbara's gown skirt featured an inverted pleat in front. Her accessories were black.

Barbara also modeled a pair of powder pink and white lounging pajamas with a three-quarter length jacket trimmed in corded silk.

A three-piece tailored going away suit with a matching grey felt beret, was worn by Betty Jacobson, A3 of Britt. The suit jacket displayed English crest buttons, while the skirt had a single pleat in front and back. The matching fly front coat showed a belted back. Betty also modeled a three-piece casual sportswear suit of Scottish plaid. The safety pin skirt displayed side pleats around to the back. The large-fitting lumber jacket with its gathered full length sleeves completed the costume, with an alternate set of tailored slacks.
