Shipment of 260 Trailers Begins

FPHA Okays Quick Action

Contractors Transport Equipment to Iowa Field for Installation

The university has received government permission to start shipping 260 house-trailers to Iowa City, and work to transport and install the units will begin today, President Virgil M. Hancher announced yesterday.

Contractors began moving equipment to old Iowa field, site of the first trailer camp, yesterday afternoon. The first group will be moved at the rate of at least eight a day as soon as shipping arrangements are completed.

Dismantling at Lima Begins

Dismantling of the trailers at Lima will begin at once, President Hancher said.

Trailers also will be received from Akron, Ohio, and Center Line, Mich. Contracts for transporting the trailers from all three cities and for erecting them here already have been made.

Permission to start moving the trailers immediately was obtained from the federal public housing authority in Chicago yesterday by Fred M. Ambrose, university business manager.

As soon as shipping schedules are available and rental rates are completed, the office of student affairs will begin assigning applicants to the trailers, Dean C. Woody Thompson said.

Liaison men to help arrangement of the shipping schedules and to represent the university in the transportation operations have been sent to Lima, Akron and Center Line, Gerge L. Horner, superintendent of the division of planning and construction of the physical plant, said.

The trailers in all three cities were used to house defense plant workers. All are equipped with standard furnishings—bed, table, chairs, heating and cooking stoves, ice box and lighting fixtures. Occupants will supply bedding, kitchen ware and silver ware, President Hancher said.

170 Trailers from Lima

One hundred and seventy trailers will be received from Lima, O.

Attention: Veterans, Wives of Veterans

Here is your chance to help yourselves and others to find housing. The Iowa City League of Women Voters and the University Veterans association need your help in conducting a housing canvass of this community, Jan. 24, 25 and 26.

If you are interested in making it possible for many additional veterans to attend the university next semester—possibly including yourself—contact Mrs. Carrie Miller at the Chamber of Commerce office on the second floor of the Iowa State Bank and Trust building, phone 9637. Such arrangements may be made today or tomorrow by calling 3543, 6750 or 6706.

Leave your name with her and report to the Elks lodge Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., to receive your instructions.

This may be your opportunity to locate housing for not only yourselves but for hundreds of others.

Some More Lousy Good Weather Today

It doesn't make sense. It just doesn't, that's all.

We're going to have another day of this disgustingly good weather. Some high clouds, maybe some rain showers later on, and temperatures just about the same as they were yesterday.

Wouldn't it be grand just to have some bitter winter weather, just to remind us that we are living in Iowa? And this is January?

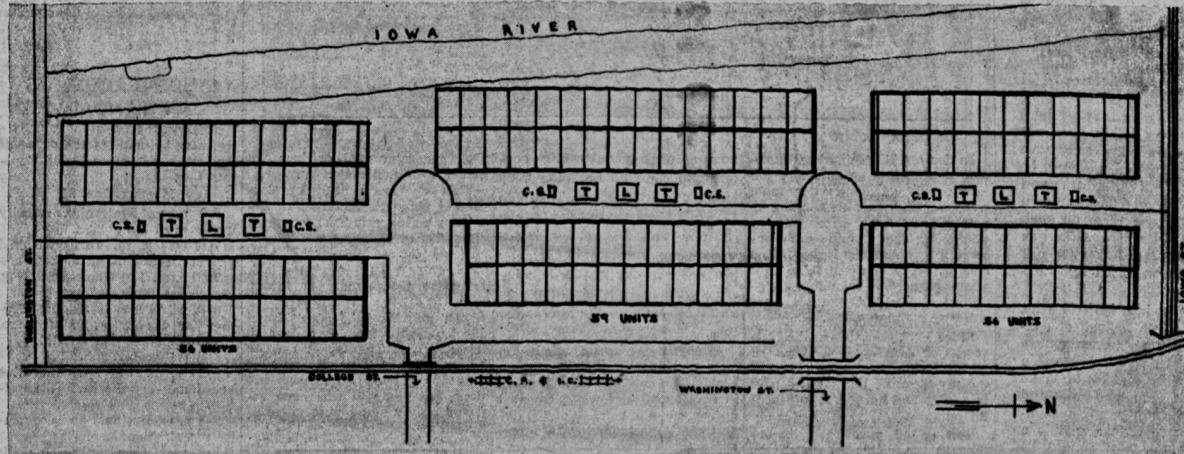

Yesterday's high temperature in Iowa City was 50, which is ridiculous. And the lowest point that the mercury reached was 31.

Filibuster Halts Senate Action on FEPC

WASHINGTON (AP)—An anti-FEPC filibuster by southern senators halted legislative action in the senate yesterday with a prospect this may continue indefinitely.

Senator Overton (D., La.), co-leader of southern opposition establishment of a permanent fair employment practices commission, held the senate floor for three and a half hours and promised to keep on "at least 30 days."

A truce recess over the weekend, with the southerners still in control, finally was agreed upon at 2:30 p. m. (CST) as a mark of respect to the late Representative

HERE IS HAWKEYE VILLAGE, university sponsored trailer project to be erected on the old Iowa field, as it looks on the draftsman's designing board. Plans have been completed for the installation of 170 trailer units on the playing fields on the west side of the Iowa river between Iowa and Burlington streets. Construction equipment was moved in yesterday and ditching for water lines and sewer installations will begin today. The trailer units are expected to start arriving in about a week, according to university officials. The university has been allotted a total of 250 standard trailers and expandable housing units, and 10 utility trailers. Hawkeye Village will contain 170 units, and the remaining 80 units will form Riverdale, a similar project located north of the Fine Arts campus on the west side of the Iowa river. Construction of Riverdale will not begin until Hawkeye Village is finished. Rent and assignment schedules will be announced at a later date by the office of student affairs. The scale of the drawing is 1 inch equals 100 feet. The squares each represent one living unit, and the utility trailers, washrooms and laundries, are designated by "T" and "L". The small squares are garbage and trash disposal units.

New Zealand Attacks Veto

LONDON (AP)—New Zealand sharply assailed the veto privilege in the United Nations council last night shortly after Russia had warned against any effort to cut down on the authority of principal powers in the new Security league.

Addressing the general assembly, Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand also differed with the big three on the proposed atomic energy commission. He held it should report to the 51-nation assembly rather than to the 11-nation Security council as decided by the Russian, United States and British foreign ministers at Moscow last month.

Simultaneously, the Iran delegation held a long meeting to discuss the best way of presenting its complaints against Russia to the United Nations. Nasrullah Entezam, a delegate, said the Iran appeal was being drafted. He said it "might possibly" be submitted to the Security council today but more likely would be postponed until Monday.

Fraser declared that the veto voting privilege in the Security council was "so bad that it will not conceivably be used except as a last desperate throw of one of the large powers laboring under a sense of guilt."

Train Derailed

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—Eighteen cars of No. 97, a west bound Baltimore and Ohio freight train on the New York to St. Louis run, were derailed and caught fire near Rawlings, about 15 miles from here last night. No one was injured according to first reports and the cause of the accident was not determined.

Edwin Pauley Named Navy Undersecretary

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday selected Edwin W. Pauley, oil operator and former secretary-treasurer of the Democratic national committee, to be undersecretary of the navy.

The action immediately aroused speculation as to whether the president had tabbed Pauley to succeed Secretary James V. Forrestal when the latter quits, as he has said he wants to do soon.

In addition to Allen's nomination, the president sent to the senate those of Charles B. Henderson, Harvey J. Gunderson, Henry A. Mulligan and Henry T. Bodman to be directors of the RFC.

Easier Rail Travel Promised to Civilians By Middle of March

WASHINGTON (AP)—The office of defense transportation yesterday announced two actions which should make civilian travel on railroads easier, after March 15.

It disclosed that the ban on the use of sleeping cars on runs of 450 miles or less would be progressively eased, with final lifting set for March 15.

The ban against making reservations for railroad accommodations more than 14 days in advance also will be lifted on that date.

The ban on extended reservations has been in effect since Sept. 9. Before that, the reservation limit was five days.

In announcing the sleeping car restriction easing, the ODT outlined this schedule for progressive elimination of the ban:

Runs of from 351 to 450 miles will be restored Feb. 15. This will return to commercial service 334 of the 895 Pullman-sleeping cars set aside for troop movement last July, ODT said.

March 1 runs of from 251 to 350 miles will be restored, returning 372 cars.

Restoration of runs of 250 miles or less will be permitted March 15. This will return 189 cars and complete removal of restrictions.

Col. J. Monroe Johnson, ODT director, cited two reasons which he said made it "possible to take this action."

"1. Troop movements, which reached their all-time peak in December, 1945, will decrease during the coming months.

"2. Troop sleepers will be available to replace standard Pullmans for military use."

17 Dead as Eastern Air Liner Burns in Mid-Air, Crashes

CHESHIRE, Conn. (AP)—Seventeen persons, including a baby flying for a reunion with its serviceman father, perished yesterday in a wrecked Miami-to-Boston Eastern Airlines plane which burst into flames in mid-air and crashed into heavy brush land.

The body of the baby, child of Mrs. Charlotte Sturman, and a serviceman apparently just returned from overseas, was the last to be removed from the crumpled remains of the plane which figured in Connecticut's worst air disaster. Mrs. Sturman was among the victims.

So furious were the flames that it was hours before the air liner which served as a pyre for the Boston-bound travelers cooled sufficiently to allow rescuers to remove the bodies. Until the sad task had been completed, officials had been in doubt about the exact number of dead.

Witnesses, among them Horace Cogle, Cheshire farmer, said they first saw flames shooting from the twin-motored plane, reported by state police to have been an Army C47 converted into a commercial transport, as it passed over the center of Cheshire.

Said Cogle: "The fire quickly shot back along the fuselage and one wing of the plane crumpled. It then tipped over and crashed."

Spectators agreed that the big transport was in difficulty when first seen here about two miles from the state reformatory grounds.

Flames were spurting from its left motor, raced quickly back along the fuselage; one wing fell off and the other crumpled as the ship turned on its side and plummeted down to earth.

The accident occurred not far from a main highway and state police cars, ambulances and fire engines were quickly on the scene.

The liner had started its northward trip from Miami, Fla., and had stopped at Charleston, S. C., and Washington, D. C., before reaching New York.

Three Die in Train Wreck
MYERSTOWN, Pa., (AP)—At least three persons were reported killed last night and 17 injured in the collision of a westbound troops train carrying 192 soldiers from Camp Kilmer, N. J., to Camp Shelby, Miss.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A selective service recommendation for continuation of the draft collided yesterday with a senatorial prediction that it would "be out of the window" May 15.

The recommendation came from Major General Lewis B. Hershey, the draft director; the prediction from Senator Johnson (D., Col.), chairman of a military subcommittee inquiring into the army's demobilization troubles.

Johnson declared the public hearings ended yesterday, the third day of the proceedings. The two other members of the committee, Senator Revercomb (R., W. Va.) and Briggs (D., Mo.), objected asserting that only army and draft leaders had been heard.

They wanted the committee to go into telegraphed and cabled complaints from GI's, which Revercomb said were "voluminous."

The committee spent the final day questioning Hershey about why the draft failed to provide enough replacements, thus forcing a slowdown of demobilization.

General Eisenhower Assures GI's, Parents Of Prompt Shipments

Half of U. S. Forces In China to Be Home In April—Wedemeyer

WASHINGTON (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower promised homesick GI's and their families last night that the revised demobilization schedule will be "carried out to the letter."

The chief of staff said, however, in an address prepared for broadcast to the nation and by short-wave to posts all over the world, that the army will have to abandon some of its present occupation and liquidation tasks if it fails to retain 1,500,000 men July 1.

Eisenhower advised that "this is a time when maturity and wisdom must assert themselves for the safety of this nation's future."

"I know how homesickness and boredom may fill a soldier's letters with a disturbing sense of his own unimportance in the pattern of army life," he went on. "But our army is playing a great role in a troubled world. As each of us comes to understand this truth, then he will take pride in the part he is playing."

"The fighting has stopped. The urgency of war has gone. But we have a new urgency—the necessity of building a secure peace—a peace purchased with the lives of our comrades." The army's mission is to do its part in establishing and assuring this peace and to support our country in the great cooperative venture of nations, the general said.

SHANGHAI (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said last night in a special message to his troops that the new war department directives on demobilization would effect the return of more than 5,000 officers and men to the United States for discharge during the period from February through April.

The commanding general of United States forces in China said more than half of all present army personnel in the China theater would be home or on the way by April 30.

"It's my intention that those who become eligible for discharge April 30 are to be started home in three approximately equal groups during the months of February, March and April," the general said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Admiral Husband E. Kimmel declared yesterday that the tragic loss of men and ships in the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor stemmed from no neglect of his job as 1941 commander of the Pacific fleet.

"I was commander in chief," Kimmel solemnly told the senate-house committee investigating the disaster. "I cannot escape that responsibility. But I have no responsibility that presumes dereliction on my part."

"You did all that any prudent commander could do?" asked Senator Lucas (D., Ill.).

"I think that is a fair statement," Kimmel replied the white-haired admiral.

Kimmel was relieved of his command soon after the Dec. 7, 1941, attack. Subsequently Secretary of the Navy Forrestal ruled that he should not be assigned to any post requiring superior judgment.

The admiral has laid the blame for the Pearl Harbor disaster largely at the door of Washington officials, who he said had withheld from him critical information. He also has stressed that it was the army's job to defend Pearl Harbor base, and the fleet's task was offensive.

Government Efforts Fail

Walkout of 750,000 Workers Scheduled For Noon Tomorrow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Direct government efforts to settle the nation's two biggest labor controversies failed yesterday.

The threatened strike of 750,000 CIO steel workers—excluding iron ore miner members in Minnesota—was "on" again for 12:01 a. m. Monday, after the United States Steel corporation rejected President Truman's union-accepted wage proposal.

Efforts to settle the three-day nationwide strike of 263,000 AFL and CIO meat workers reached a stalemate in Washington and the meat fact-finding board arranged to start public hearings in Chicago Tuesday.

President Truman, declaring that a steel strike would "stall our attempts to establish a sound economy to which our veterans can return," appealed to United States Steel to reconsider its rejection.

"A strike in the steel industry will be felt in practically every major industry in the United States," the president said in a statement. "It will hamper our reconversion effort."

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the president had no plans for seizing the industry and no further steps for averting the strike were under consideration.

The steelworkers union headquarters in Pittsburgh announced that on orders of CIO President Philip Murray instructions had been sent to all district and local directors ordering the strike call in the industry "into full force and effect at 12:01 a. m., Jan. 21."

District Director Joseph Goney of the USW at Pittsburgh said "We're all set to go. The rank and filers are mad and if it's called off now, they'll be madder."

Meanwhile, a United States Steel Corp. spokesman at Pittsburgh said the company was taking "precautionary measures" for an orderly shutdown with some curtailments going into effect immediately.

The civilian production administration in Washington announced that in event of a general steel strike, a program of voluntary rationing of steel supplies would be put into effect. This would protect "essential needs" such as emergency repairs and maintenance required by hospitals, transportation, public utilities, food processing, police and fire departments and public health and safety.

After direct negotiations in the White House broke down Thursday between Philip Murray, CIO president, and Benjamin F. Fairless, United States Steel corporation president, Mr. Truman submitted his proposal for an 18 1/2 cent hourly wage boost. This was one cent less than the union's once-lowered demands but three and one-half cents above the industry's once-increased offer.

Adm. Kimmel Denies Guilt, Neglect of Duty In Pearl Harbor Loss

Graduation To Be Jan. 31

Commencement has been set ahead to Jan. 31, Prof. F. G. Higbee, director of convocations, announced yesterday. Because of the suspension of classes Feb. 1 and 2, mid-year convocation exercises have been changed from the originally scheduled time of 2 p. m. Feb. 2, to 8 p. m. Jan. 31.

The program, in Iowa Union lounge, will be the same as previously announced, he said. Instructions to candidates for degrees will be mailed on or about Jan. 25.

Teeters Puts Responsibility on Townspeople

The urgent need of more rooms and apartments has to be recognized by Iowa City residents if the housing shortage is going to be overcome here.

Mayor Wilber Teeters asked the conferees at Thursday night's meeting to impress the "tremendous urgency and responsibility on the citizens of Iowa City."

Before the war home owners welcomed that additional revenue because it was obtained without much effort or expenditure.

however, many of those same home owners are making more money than ever, and they are not as much interested in renting rooms.

So the financial consideration of renting rooms to students has decreased in importance. But the problem itself is nonetheless vital.

Many Iowa Citizens who open their homes to students—married or single—will have to be persuaded to do so by appealing to their senses of fairness to the veterans and of civic pride.

It is becoming increasingly evident that Iowa City townspeople do recognize the responsibilities that Mayor Teeters pointed out to them.

Fraternities Are Threat

TO THE EDITOR: The recent editorials on the fraternity-sorority system have been helpful but not basic.

"I was a member of a sorority while in college and became deeply convinced that much of the fraternity system is opposed to democratic and Christian principles.

"Since one of the ever-increasing threats to our democracy is the rise of Fascism, I believe Christian students should be rising in protest against the fraternity system on college campuses—a system which inherently has in it many elements of Fascism.

"I do not believe the conscience of Christian students can rest easily while sororities and fraternities are practicing discrimination against Jews, Japanese-Americans, Negroes and other students who are members of a minority group.

"The government of national fraternities and sororities is the antithesis of democracy. A not uncommon phrase in a frat meeting is, 'But the national says we can't do that!'

"The fraternity system is a paradox within itself. Many fraternities and sororities claim to base their ideals and goals on the Christian faith, with the Christian doctrine incorporated in their ritual.

"One cannot but feel the urgency of the cause of world peace and brotherhood which students of this generation are called upon to champion.

SUI Scientists Experiment Since 1937—

Jacobs Explains Atom Smasher

In far off Hiroshima last summer a new type of weapon, the most deadly yet conceived by man, was dropped by a B-29 winging its way across the war-shred country of Japan.

Since 1937, scientists at the University of Iowa have experimented with the atom in an effort to solve the mysteries of this great source of energy and harness it to peaceful pursuits.

Ten or 15 years ago it was thought impossible to smash the atom. In 1937 a machine for smashing atoms was installed on the top floor of the physics building on the campus, and university professors delved into the problems dealing with nuclear physics.

"The idea," explained Professor Jacobs, "in breaking up the nucleus, is to project nuclei against a target nuclei at a very high velocity. (The nucleus is the heavy, small, central part or core of the atom.)"

"It was thought impossible several years ago to break the nucleus," he continued, "but now we know it consists of protons and neutrons and can be broken."

Professor Jacobs gave an illustration of the method employed. If hydrogen gas is used, an electric arc is created with the gas at a low temperature. This arc is similar to the electric charge in a neon sign.

The nuclei are sucked out of the arc and shot down an accelerating tube to which a high voltage is applied. At the bottom of the tube, in a small chamber, the projectile nuclei hits the target nuclei.

Any nuclei can break another nuclei if shot fast enough through the accelerating tube, but the reactions depend on the nuclei involved.

These reactions are studied for distribution, energy, angle, quantity and type by means of various detecting devices. These tests prove what held the target nuclei together.

One of the problems involved in smashing the atom is producing high voltage. In 1937 a Cockcroft-Walton plant was constructed in the physics building to produce the voltage required. The plant takes an ordinary alternating current and steps up the voltage by means of a transformer. This high voltage alternating current is then rectified, and the voltage is increased by a factor of four by means of an electric quadrupling circuit. The machine can supply up to 500,000 volts to the alternating tube.

In 1941 construction was begun on a more effective type of generator. The construction and work in nuclear physics was postponed during the war because of the department's participation in secret war work in other fields.

The second machine is a pressure-type electrostatic generator. It consists of a central insulated electrode (a terminal of electric source) in a large pressure tank.

"The biggest secret of the bomb was that it could be produced," he said. "I don't believe Russia has a super atomic bomb as is claimed because she wasn't as far along as we were."

Professor Jacobs concluded the interview, saying, "Any country will have enough to do to develop an atomic bomb as good as ours. We're a step ahead now and I think we always will be."

This generator will produce six or seven million volts.

This generator is located underground about 20 feet east of the physics building. It is 50 feet long, eight feet in diameter and is constructed of seven-eighths inch steel. The pressure inside the tank is 100 to 125 pounds per square inch.

"An experiment," commented Jacobs, "takes from two days to three weeks. The target can be bombarded for a great length of time and get many nuclear reactions, but you still will have affected only a small percentage of nuclei on the target."

In commenting on the contradictory opinions concerning other nations' progress in atomic bomb development, Jacobs said, "I believe the United States is far ahead of any other nation. However, any nation with enough money can develop an atomic bomb within a few years."

"The biggest secret of the bomb was that it could be produced," he said. "I don't believe Russia has a super atomic bomb as is claimed because she wasn't as far along as we were."

Professor Jacobs concluded the interview, saying, "Any country will have enough to do to develop an atomic bomb as good as ours. We're a step ahead now and I think we always will be."

From All Around The State

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa supreme court yesterday afternoon granted a writ of certiorari to Al (Babe) Bisignano, Des Moines tavern operator, and stayed his six-month jail sentence and $500 fine assessed earlier yesterday by Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund who found Bisignano guilty of contempt of court.

The high court set bond at $2,000, ordered Judge Grund to make a return in the case by Feb. 4 and set the appeal for hearing during the week beginning May 14.

The writ of stay was issued after a half-hour hearing before three members of the supreme court—Chief Justice William L. Bliss and justices Oscar Hale and Frederic Miller.

Frank Comfort and Walter E. Maley, Des Moines attorneys, represented Bisignano.

Judge Grund filed the contempt action against the tavern and restaurant owner as a result of an altercation last Saturday at the YMCA, here during which the judge claimed the former boxer attacked him, cursed and threatened him. Bisignano apologized to Judge Grund's court yesterday when he was called to answer the contempt citation. Then the judge found the tavern man guilty and assessed the sentence.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Vincent Wesley Hunt, 17, a redhead who the Federal Bureau of Investigation said confessed setting $200,000 worth of fires because he liked to see the flames matching his hair, was in jail here yesterday.

FBI Head Howard I. Bobbit said the boy admitted setting the most costly of 12 incendiary blazes occurring during the last five weeks at Vanport City housing project where he lives, and confessed he set others, but can't remember the details.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Hunt, who came here two years ago from Sibley. The United States district attorney was studying the signed confessions to determine the action to be taken.

DES MOINES (AP)—Kenneth Redrick, 25, Negro, being tried in district court on a first-degree murder indictment, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to a charge of second-degree murder, and was sentenced to not more than 50 years' imprisonment.

Redrick was charged with murder in the fatal beating of Dorothy Bell, 25, a Negro last September.

OMAHA (AP)—Discontinuance of the German prisoner of war camps at Scottsbluff, Neb.; Douglas, Wyo.; Greeley and Trinidad, Col., and Algona, Iowa, was announced yesterday by Seventh Service command headquarters.

Officials said shipment of 5,000 German prisoners began at Scottsbluff and 2,000 at Trinidad. They are being sent to the west coast for shipment to Europe by way of the Panama Canal, officials explained, so no rail or water delays will be caused for returning United States servicemen being demobilized.

Panel Discussion of Labor-Management Conflicts Featured at Masonic Luncheon

Three different views on the conflict between labor and management as it affects the public interest were aired in a panel discussion at the Masonic service club luncheon yesterday noon.

Prof. Walter Daykin and Karl E. Leib of the college of commerce and Dr. L. L. Dunnington were the speakers on the panel.

Defending industrial workers in their demand for higher wages, one member of the panel pointed out that laborers are essentially concerned with a degree of security, which is their philosophy of life. Workers argue that increased wages provide better living conditions, greater efficiency on the job, and ultimately greater production, creating more opportunities for employment.

Labor is essentially interested in increasing its purchasing power, recognizing the ever-present danger of inflation and deflation. Workers contend that if too much of industry's profit returns to management, business equilibrium will be disturbed and an overbalance of production and buying will result.

Furthermore, labor is striving for a legal settlement of its disagreements with management. Although workers do not advocate 'opening the books,' they do seek an economic equilibrium.

Employers, on the other hand, are mainly interested in selling for a profit, another panel speaker contended. Agreeing that labor fears inflation and a possible depression, he said that workers today are striving to keep the high wages which were possible during the war's increased production.

He presented the principal issue stated by General Motors. Labor is demanding excessive wages which are discriminatory against certain companies and the determination of ability to pay and of wage rates are set up by a provisional bureaucracy, according to a pamphlet distributed by that corporation.

Because of this competition between labor and management, the public is suffering, the third speaker pointed out. He said that the cause of depression was that management and the investor want all the profits. They siphon off the earnings and make labor take what it will accept.

If labor cannot buy back its produce, an economic instability results and soon there is unemployment and another depression. To avoid this depression, a greater amount of wages, deemed fair after capital and investment have taken their shares, must flow into the pockets of the masses of labor.

The only way to determine what are fair wages is to 'open the books' and give everyone a square deal. By this method, another depression can be avoided.

After no persuasion, Miss DeVaul decided to go. However, at the last minute, Reddy found that he couldn't make it, so it was up to her.

She met Haymes and didn't recognize him at first because he was wearing horn rimmed glasses. But it didn't take long. Miss DeVaul doesn't remember the luncheon menu, but says that they talked about how the singer was started on his career, and also of his wife and children.

Now when Sinatra's name is mentioned, Miss DeVaul sudders, but when the name Haymes is uttered, she beams.

Iowa Hits Purdue Tonight

SPORTS

The Daily Iowan SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1946 PAGE FOUR

Still convinced that all is not lost in their Big Ten title defense, Iowa's rejuvenated Hawkeyes invade Indiana's "cradle of basketball" again tonight. This time Purdue's improved Boilermakers provide the test to Iowa's comeback try in a midwestern headliner.

Iowans can get their account of the game from Lafayette over radio station WSUL. The tipoff is at 7:30 p. m. and Dick Yoakam's play-by-play broadcast starts at 7:25.

A revised starting lineup is expected to start for Iowa. Coach Pops Harrison intimated yesterday before the team left for their only two-game road trip of the season that all three of the Hawkeyes greatest basket hounds — Wier, Danner and Ives—would start against the Boilermakers.

This lineup would leave All-American Herb Wilkinson, still bothered slightly by his ankle injury, on the bench. But it would be in line with the fast-breaking offensive instruction that Pops has drilled into the Hawkeyes all week in practice.

Clayton Wilkinson, due for a good night after Iowa's letdown against the Hoosiers last Saturday night, will start at center and Ned Postels will man the other guard post opposite Danner.

Ned, Herb and Dick Culbertson are due to leave Iowa City by plane this morning. The squad will return to Chicago and await Monday night's battle with the Maroons.

Iowans dreaded to think of another Hawkeye defeat tonight. A loss probably would eliminate Iowa from championship consideration and leave the title to be contested between Ohio State, Northwestern and Minnesota.

Big problem facing the Hawks tonight will be that of stopping big Bob Miller, Riveter center, and Capt. "Red" Anderson, the enemy's leading scorer. Paul Hoffman, hurt several weeks ago, probably will be back in stride and may be shifted to forward for the contest.

Gophers Seek Big Ten Lead This Weekend

By Jerry Liska CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota's surprising Gophers have ripped the Big Ten basketball form sheet to shreds, setting almost a 60-point pace as they rolled unbeaten through their first three conference starts.

Official league statistics released yesterday revealed that the dark-horse Gophers are the strongest offensive unit in the conference, while the best defensive team is Ohio State (4-0) which currently shares the lead with Minnesota.

In four games, the Buckeyes have yielded an average of 42.75 points.

The Gophers, credited with a three-game scoring average of 58.7 points, may "back" into undisputed leadership tonight, when they tackle Great Lakes in non-league play, and Ohio State invades Indiana (3-2) for one of four conference scraps.

Other league skirmishing finds Illinois (2-4) at Chicago (0-3); Iowa (2-1) at Purdue (2-2), and Northwestern (2-1) at Michigan (2-3).

Jim McIntyre Helps The Gophers became a "sleeper" when 6-foot, 8-inch Jim McIntyre and a couple of other rugged sharpshooters suddenly upset the dope bucket on New Year's eve by downing powerful De Paul.

Since then, Minnesota defeated Wisconsin, Indiana and Chicago, and in the process freshman McIntyre averaged 15 points to tie Northwestern's Max Morris, 1945 champion, for the Big Ten scoring lead.

By a schedule quirk, Minnesota and Ohio State will not meet this season, but the Gophers must tangle twice with defending champion Iowa, while the Buckeyes and Hawkeyes do not collide.

Buckeyes Tested on Road Ohio State, favored in pre-season reckoning to battle it out with Iowa for the title, gets a stiff test as a road contender this weekend.

After engaging the hot-and-cold Hoosiers at Bloomington tonight, the Buckeyes, who annexed three of their four wins to date at home, must tackle dangerous Purdue at Lafayette Monday night.

Hawkeyes Seek Win In Swimming Opener Against 'Cats Tonight

Shooting for a win in the season opener Coach Dave Armbruster's array of swimming talent goes into action tonight at 7:30 against Northwestern. The Wildcats have competed in three meets, losing two and taking a 44-40 win from Purdue.

Interesting competition can be expected in the 200-yard breast stroke, according to Coach Armbruster. Bernie Walters, improved over last year when he was a major I winner, and Gilbert Shecker, fine freshman prospect, will compete in this event for the Hawks.

Other especially interesting events will be the 60 and 100 yard free style swims where Kenny Marsh, Chester Cole, Wayne Cady, and Bill Boswell (c-c) will compete. Marsh has been close to the American record recently in the 60-yard free style over the 20-yard course.

Johas Halldorsson, the Icelandic co-captain, will renew a rivalry with Davis of the Wildcats in the 220 and 440-yard free style events. He lost by a narrow margin to Davis last year at Northwestern.

U High Belts Maroons, 35-23

The most exciting event of last night's University high victory over the Mt. Vernon Maroons was the 45 fouls called by the officials during the contest. University high scored 17 to the visitors' 11 and went on to win, 35-23.

Last night's win gave the Rivermen three victories in three conference starts and keeps them in the lead of the Eastern Iowa conference.

All in all, Steve Nusser of U. high was the high point man of the evening, with 10 points, but the scoring was very evenly divided among all the men who participated in the event.

University high assumed a 5-0 lead in the first minute of the game on field goals by Nusser and Anderson and a free throw by Helm, and the Blue Hawks were never headed, although the first period count was 10-9. In the second frame the Maroons were able to count but two free throws, and the Rivermen stretched their lead to 17-11.

Mt. Vernon made what looked to be a promising comeback in the final period, the count at one time being 30-22, but the locals put on the pressure and pulled away.

Degrott Quits in Redskin Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—A long-smoldering coaching disagreement in the Washington Redskins tepee suddenly flamed up yesterday with the resignation of Head Coach Dudley Degrott.

Albert Glenn (Turk) Edwards, 38, was named Degrott's successor. Edwards has been with the Redskins 14 years as player, assistant coach and now head coach.

Clark Shaughnessy, University of Pittsburgh coach, will continue to head an advisory board with Wayne Milner, Larry Weidon and "Tiger" Walton as aides.

Degrott was out of town, considering one of a number of coaching offers, but persons close to him said he simply tired of interference by the Redskins' well-manned board of strategy and decided to quit.

Little Hawks Stopped, 64-32 By River Kings

CLINTON (Special)—Iowa City's Little Hawks dropped a 64-32 decision to the River Kings of Clinton here last night in a ball game marked by the uncanny accuracy of the River Kings throughout the first half.

Jumping away to an early lead as a result of a half dozen quick baskets, the Clinton crew raced to an 18-7 advantage at the end of the first stanza and racked up a half time lead of 37-12.

The Hawks bounced back in the third period to outscore the River Kings 15 to 10, but the gap was too great and the River Kings pulled away in the final quarter to take their ninth win of the year.

Dean Burridge paced the winners with 23 points. Price at guard and Peterson at center were the other standouts for Clinton being especially tough under the basket.

For the Little Hawks it was Bob Freeman and Bob Krall who led the way with nine points each and Jim Van Deusen and Sonny Dean who did most of the work under the basket.

Card Roster Loaded With Baseball Talent; Bredon Casts Bait

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fisherman Sam Bredon of the St. Louis Cardinals hasn't had a nibble on his high-priced bait since the New York Giants forked over $175,000 for catcher Walker Cooper two weeks ago.

"All this talk of the million dollars or so worth of players I'm going to sell before the season opens has scared everybody away," he reflected yesterday.

"Or maybe that price of $175,000 for Cooper did it. Anyway I haven't had a bite recently."

He cast his eyes over the huge talent-laden winter roster of the Red Birds, then sighed as he came to the hurling department. "We have an awful lot of pitchers."

His roster showed 25 flingers expected to be available for the 1946 season, with at least 13 proved major league winners.

What about the reports from New York that owner Horace Stoneham of the Giants was practicing writing "$100,000" on blank checks in an attempt to line up a first rate pitching staff?

"I wouldn't know about that," Bredon replied, "but I'll repeat that I haven't had a bite."

GASSIN' with GUS

By GUS SCHRADER

THIS IS A PREDICTION . . . Because our good friend and colleague, Colonel-General Judas Fisteras, has been on the wagon for some time, the prophesying on this page has been at low ebb since the close of the football season . . . But get out the axe and stand by to chop the limb off, because I hereby predict that Iowa will beat the Boilermakers tonight and beat them bad . . . After watching the Iowa squad drive in practice all week following the loss to Indiana I am convinced that any team to beat Iowa from now on will have to catch the Hawks on an even colder night than the one at Bloomington last weekend.

THIS DEFIES the "home advantage" theory which has been discussed pro and con lately . . . Pops Harrison had some interesting observations on this the other day . . . He is not a great believer in the axiom that a visiting team is handicapped when it plays on a foreign court . . . Professional gamblers, you know, often grant as much as five, six or seven points to advantage for the home team . . . "The courts, baskets and backboards are all alike in size and any minor variations in lighting should not bother visiting teams," Pops declared when asked if the foreign Indiana court had affected his Hawks much at Bloomington last week . . . "What might upset a team's normal playing," the Iowa coach continued, "is the trip to the game—disturbance in the players, normal routine of meals and rest."

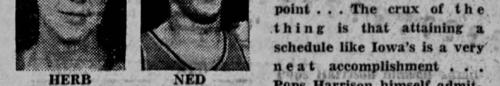

POPS HARRISON Strange Courts Don't Bother

THE EFFECT of a hostile crowd didn't seem to concern Pops much . . . I've always believed that a cheering mob of spectators might help the home team a little psychologically, especially at such crucial times when the home boys are behind and staging a stretch rally . . . Also, the strain on the leading team might be increased when their every move is boobyed by a crowd that is dead set on their favorites coming from behind . . . Obviously, an experienced team like Iowa's should not be bothered greatly by this disadvantage.

REPERCUSSION ON MINNESOTA

COMMENTS—both verbal and written—have followed in the wake of our recent reprinting of the Minneapolis paper's howl about Iowa's "easy schedule" . . . Some folks pointed out that the Gophers' own slate wasn't much to weep about and some others claimed that Iowa's wasn't such duck soup as it seemed . . . That's not the point . . . The crux of the thing is that attaining a schedule like Iowa's is a very neat accomplishment . . .

Iowa's Schedule Helps Them that way purposely . . . Not so much because he feared playing long two-game road trips each weekend . . . But mainly because two members of his first team—Herb Wilkinson and Ned Postels—can't spare the time from their studies in dentistry and engineering.

POPS IS INTERESTED—doggone interested—in winning basketball games . . . But he's even more interested that his players keep up their schoolwork and get something out of college beside another Big Ten title . . . Very much on purpose he arranged the schedule so Herb, Ned and the other squad members would not have to desert their books for long periods . . . The schedule was approved at the Big Ten meeting last year and if Minnesota had wanted to holler, they should have done it there instead of in the middle of the current season . . . They had the same chance as Iowa. And where else could Iowa play its six non-conference games and attract crowds like the ones which jammed the fieldhouse this season? . . . For conference games, the other schools are drawing anywhere from 900 to 7,000 spectators in comparison to the 14,200 average we have so far for loop games . . . Hmm, let's change the old expression "crocodile tears" to "GOPHER TEARS."

Watch the Iowan For the Opening Of The New JOE'S PLACE Within the Next Few Days.

Joe Louis Broke, Says Jacobs

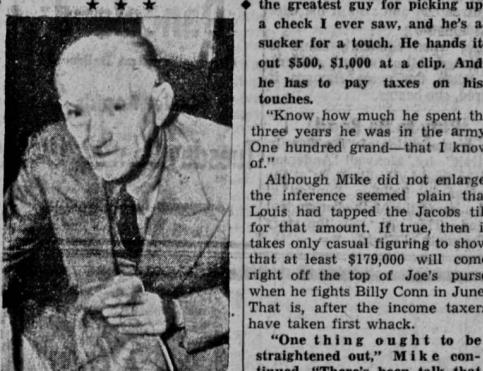

By Gayle Talbot NEW YORK (AP)—The great mystery of what happened to all the money Joe Louis has made in the prize ring is no mystery at all. Insists Promoter Mike Jacobs, who should know—Joe simply spent the dough.

"I've seen some pretty fast men with a dollar in my time," Mike reminisced, "but there's the champ. What he doesn't manage to spend he gives away. For a man who doesn't even drink, he's a wonder."

The topic arose, as it frequently has lately, over the fact that Louis, whose fists have beat out a total earnings of nearly $2,400,000 in the past 10 years, is forced at this stage to roam the provinces with a dance band to pick up a little ready cash.

The picture that Mike proceeded to give of the big, quiet Negro's spending qualifications seemed incongruous to those of us who had seen Joe during his ring career. On the surface, at least, Joe has looked less like a good time Charlie than almost any fighter you could name.

"There's a lot you don't know about that fellow," Jacobs grinned. "In the first place, of course, he hasn't actually made as much money as you think. By the time his purses were cut up he made less than a million for himself.

MIKE JACOBS "Joe Fast With Dollars" and Uncle Sam took a big slice of that. He still owes the government about $79,000, I think.

"But what he did get his hands on he spent. Joe knows how to have a good time. He's

Baby Disease Death Rate Now Decreasing

A disease which once produced high mortality among babies in the United States known as bacillary dysentery now is not fatal if early treatment is provided, according to Dr. P. C. Jeans, head of the pediatrics department. "With the advent of sulfonamide therapy, the duration of the disease was reduced from two or more weeks to a few days. No deaths should occur provided the treatment is given in the early stages," Dr. Jeans stated. The ailment was greatly reduced by better sanitation and care of milk supplies.

State Society Resumes Iowa History Series

The State Historical society at the university has resumed work on the Iowa centennial history, a series of volumes begun in 1940. Because of book paper shortage the work was suspended in 1943.

Prof. Fred E. Haynes of the college of commerce has completed work on a volume on the history of Iowa public institutions and Prof. Earle D. Ross of Iowa State college has finished a book on the history of agriculture in the state. Two books are now being edited, and several others are nearly finished. Seven completed volumes have already been issued.

The series of seven volumes includes: "Iowa through the Years," (Cyrenus Cole); "Iowa Pioneer Foundations" in two volumes, (George F. Parker); "Iowa-Land of Many Mills" (J. A. Swisher); "Iowa—The Rivers of Her Valleys" (William J. Peterson); "Iowa—Public Land Disposal" (Roscoe L. Lokken); and "Iowa in Times of War" (J. A. Swisher).

Belief in Scientific Research Increases

Because of the atomic bomb, belief in fundamental scientific research and willingness of the people to support it as such has grown tremendously in the past few months, Prof. George W. Stewart, head of the physics department, said in the current issue of the Iowa Transit, engineering publication.

"The study of the nucleus has led to the possibility of supplying new materials, or 'tracers' which will give unique aid in important research in plant and animal physiology, in addition to the bomb's contribution to power," Stewart reported.

Professor Stewart commented that the direct benefit to human beings will become immeasurable.

"The physicist always has desired that his findings would in the future become important to society, and experience has proved that the more fundamental the research, the greater its ultimate usefulness," he stated.

units and 10 utility units will be installed on old Iowa field, and the camp there will be known as Hawkeye Village. The remaining 80 units will be set up on the west bank of Iowa river, north of the fine arts campus. The camp will be named Riverdale.

Plans for Housing Survey Completed

Plans for a housing survey in Iowa City to find homes for veterans and their families before the beginning of the second semester at the university Feb. 4 are virtually completed.

The house-to-house canvass will be conducted Jan. 24, 25 and 26 by the University Veterans' association and the League of Women Voters.

Two hundred veterans and their wives and women of the league will question residents of the 6,000 homes in the city, seeking primarily immediate housing, but also determining the long range possibilities of living space.

The city has been divided into 400 districts with each solicitor canvassing two areas. Approximately 50 persons will be employed as supervisors. The offices of the Chamber of Commerce will be used to tabulate the results.

All that remains to be done after a meeting of the steering committee yesterday morning is to instruct the persons who will canvass the city and to appoint a counseling committee which will be available to answer technical questions concerning renting and remodeling.

The steering committee, presided over by Dean C. Woody Thompson of the office of student affairs, includes Mayor Wilber J. Teetery, Gene Goodwin, representing the university veterans; Mrs. O. E. Skora, Mrs. Lyman White and Mrs. Robert Sears, representing the League of Women Voters; S. Lynn Duncan, representing the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Imelda C. Murphy, university housing service, and Prof. Norman Meier of the psychology department, technical consultant.

The committee made the final revisions in the questionnaires to be used in the survey after a pre-test survey was made yesterday. Mayor Teetery will appoint the counseling committee sometime this weekend.

The solicitors will meet at the Elks club Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. for instructions. Professor Meier, Mrs. Sears, O. Clyde Southerland and Ralph Adams of the real estate board will explain the proper methods for making the survey.
