Short Presents New Evidence To Committee

Preliminary Messages Failed to Show Jap Attack Imminent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short surprised the Pearl Harbor investigating committee yesterday with documentary evidence that:

1. Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, 1941 assistant chief of staff for military intelligence, sent a message to Panama two days before Pearl Harbor indicating he did not believe a break with Japan was then imminent;

2. Maj. Gen. Hayes A. Kroner, chief of the intelligence branch under Miles, did not have access to decoded Japanese messages although he helped prepare estimates of probable military developments.

Kroner testified at a previous inquiry that from his point of view a Nov. 29, 1941, estimate made no mention of "Japan's capability against Pearl Harbor" because he and an army colonel, who worked with him on it, had no information "which would lead us to believe that they were capable of or planned to do so." (Attack the Hawaiian base.)

Sent to Panama
The Miles message which Short said was sent to Panama on Dec. 5 read:

"United States Japanese relations strained. Will inform you if and when severance of diplomatic relations are imminent."

In his testimony, Miles said an attack on Hawaii always had been considered a possibility and was not mentioned in the military estimates because it was "inherent in the situation."

It was in rebuttal to that statement that Short brought out the Kroner document. This was a partial transcript of testimony Kroner gave Sept. 13, 1944, at a secret investigation conducted by Col. Carter W. Clarke under orders from Secretary of War Stimson.

During the day, the committee reached a decision aimed at shortening its hearings. It agreed not to call as witnesses members of the staffs of Short and Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, 1941 Pacific fleet commanders.

Never Told Kimmel
He never "specifically" told Admiral Kimmel that the army forces were alerted only against sabotage.

Short declared there was no doubt in his mind, however, that navy liaison officers had informed Kimmel's staff of the army's alert status.

Short argued that the Nov. 27 message was "indefinite" and added little to what already was known in Hawaii.

Southern Democrats Continue Filibuster Against FEPC Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate filibuster by southern Democrats opposed to legislation for a fair employment practices commission was deplored last night by Harold E. Stassen and Secretary of Labor Schwollenbach.

Stassen, former Minnesota governor who has been mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate in 1948, said it raises "an issue which should be decided by the people in the elections that are before us."

Schwollenbach said the FEPC bill "is a test of our willingness to practice democracy as well as preach it."

"I'd filibuster against the confirmation of anybody appointed to this commission. Anybody!" asserted Maybank (D., S. C.), taking his turn in the five-day word marathon blocking the legislation.

The senator referred to membership of a fair-employment practices commission which would administer the law, if adopted.

The filibuster was where it started, the southerners still in control when the senate recessed until noon today. Republicans, who asked they not be named, said a cloture petition would be circulated in an effort to limit debate. A two-thirds majority is needed.

Gouin New French Head

PARIS (AP)—Felix Guoin, 61, Socialist chief of the constituent assembly, tonight succeeded General De Gaulle as president of the provisional government of France.

The interim president will serve until the constituent assembly finishes its work in May.

There were 55 votes cast for other candidates, with some abstentions.

Gouin's election was greeted with cheers from all sides except the section occupied by the popular Republican movement (MRP), one of France's three major parties.

The MRP at the last moment had requested an agreement that the Socialists and Communists join with the MRP in recognizing "the necessity of a tri-partite government."

The Communists bluntly repudiated MRP efforts to get a three-party harmony pledge on record before the voting.

Better Weather Is Coming Our Way

We'll have one more day of rather miserable weather and then things will get better. For the most part today it will be cloudy but the clouds will be moving out sometime tonight. That gusty northwest wind will continue rather strong until tonight. And it will be somewhat colder.

But no more snow is in sight for the immediate future. Just enough snow fell to make things slippery underfoot and under wheel. Yesterday's high reading was 39 and the low was 24.

Company Not Guilty

FT. WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—A federal court jury last night acquitted the Durham manufacturing company of Ft. Wayne and the nine remaining individual defendants in the government's suit on charges of conspiring to defraud through concealment of defects in war materials.

Housing Survey Starts Today

Over 200 Iowa City women, veterans and their wives and university students start a city-wide search today for housing for veterans and their families.

Armed with questionnaires designed to show not only the immediate living space available, but also to indicate what remodeling and building can provide in the future, the canvassers will cover approximately 6,000 homes in the three day survey.

The city has been divided into 400 districts, and 17 supervisors have been appointed.

Streicher Collapses During Trial Recess; Blame Heart Attack

Postpone Hess Trial; Open Individual Cases Against High Nazis

NUERNBERG (AP)—Julius Streicher, sadistic Jew-baiter who preached fanatical racial hatred and violence, collapsed from a heart attack yesterday during the noon recess of the international military tribunal trying him and 21 other Nazis as war criminals.

Only 19 defendants of the 22 on trial were in the courtroom in the afternoon session at which the British pressed their case against Franz von Papen, Hitler's one-time top diplomat. Von Papen listened attentively as the prosecution charged him with subversion to Hitler's objectives and duplicity in assisting their attainment.

Streicher bedridden
Streicher was confined to bed. Col. B. C. Andrus, the jail commandant, reported late yesterday afternoon that Streicher still was resting under effects of a sedative. Andrus said the prisoner probably would not be able to return to court before Friday.

The British also opened their individual case against Baron Konstantin von Neurath, former Nazi foreign minister, presenting documents and quotations designed to show that the defendant participated in a deliberate conspiracy to break international treaties.

Hess Case Postponed
Earlier yesterday the case of Rudolf Hess was postponed because Hess' attorney had suffered a fractured ankle in a fall. Hess asked the court's permission to undertake his own defense. His request was taken under advisement.

The American prosecutors presented their individual case against Hans Fritzsche, head of the German press division of the Goebbels propaganda ministry. He was the last of the defendants against whom the Americans will present individual evidence.

Discharges Stepped-Up

HONOLULU (AP)—All army enlisted men in the mid-Pacific theater who would have 45 points or 30 months service by April 30 will be on their way home by Feb. 28, headquarters of Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson Jr., announced yesterday.

UNO Splits On Candidate

Elect Indian President Of Economic Council; Adopt Remedial Plans

LONDON (AP)—Members of the United Nations security council met informally last night but again failed to agree on a candidate for the key post of UNO secretary-general.

The stumbling block was said to be Russian insistence that since the headquarters of the new peace organization are to be in the United States, the secretary should be from some nation in eastern Europe.

While this deadlock continued, the UNO speedily and unanimously set up its economic and social council. By acclamation, the 18 members of the council elected Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar of India as president, and then adopted procedures under which they can tackle the assigned task of raising world living standards and removing economic causes of war.

Ambassador John G. Winant, American representative on the council, declared that "seldom before in human history has an organization been created with greater opportunity to serve mankind than has been given the economic and social council."

Other interest focused on whether the security council would act immediately on Soviet charges that Britain's policies in Greece and Indonesia were threatening world peace and security.

Official British quarters said investigation of British policy in Greece would make known the "true record" of her actions and allay Russian suspicions.

Clerk Identifies Body As Missing Wife

SAN BERNADINO, Calif. (AP)—A 52-year-old suspect, Arthur L. Eggers, yesterday virtually identified as that of his missing wife the nude headless, handless body of a woman found Jan. 2 in a mountain canyon near here.

"If you were not under suspicion for murder, would you claim this body as that of your wife?" Undersheriff Harry R. Heap asked Eggers as he viewed the body in a morgue.

"Yes, I would," Eggers replied. Eggers was booked on suspicion of murder after he reported his wife, Dorothy, 42, as missing on the same day the body was found.

Shay said that Eggers, for 22 years a clerk in the Los Angeles county sheriff's substitution in Temple City, steadfastly has maintained his innocence.

Rebukes Tass Agency For 'Discrediting Plan' Against MacArthur

TOKYO (AP)—General MacArthur's headquarters spokesman rebuked the Russian Tass news agency yesterday for lending itself to what he termed "a definite program to discredit" the supreme commander.

He referred specifically to a Tass dispatch from Heijo, Korea, which said:

"The behavior of the American command in southern Korea astonishes one. It has assumed a position of inspiring reactionary demonstrations against the decisions of the Moscow conference of foreign ministers in which, as is known, the government of the United States participated."

Sentenced to Death

PARIS (AP)—Jean Luchoire, leading newspaper editor and press official during German occupation, was sentenced to death yesterday for intelligence with the enemy and damage to the security of France.

STUDENT REGISTRATION NOTICE

The attention of students and prospective students registering for the second semester is called to a typographical error in the instruction sheet accompanying the registration materials. Step 6 of the registration instructions should read: "Pay tuition in full at the office of the treasurer, University Hall, between Tuesday, Feb. 5, and Saturday noon Feb. 9. Those who fail to pay tuition before noon Feb. 9 (instead of Feb. 4 as printed) are subject to a late registration fee which is assessed automatically by the treasurer."

Marine Chokes Wife After Quarrel About Entering Ministry

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 24-year-old overseas marine veteran, yesterday strangled the wife he had twice married, after a quarrel involving his desire to enter the ministry and the attentions other men paid to her, Fritz said Dunn told him.

Fritz said Edward Lee Dunn Jr., who served 14 months overseas with a marine air corps unit, confessed strangling his wife, Mrs. Hazel Dunn, 27, and was charged with murder.

The couple quarreled Tuesday when Dunn suggested he enter the ministry and rebuked his wife because of attentions other men paid to her, Fritz said Dunn told him.

Fritz added the former marine confessed he choked Mrs. Dunn with his hands until she was unconscious and then wrapped a stocking tightly around her neck.

Dunn recently expressed the wish to become a minister and "move to California," but Mrs. Dunn objected, Fritz declared.

Souers Appointed To Direct Central Unit of New System

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday appointed Rear Admiral Sidney W. Souers of St. Louis as director of central intelligence, one of three units of the nation's new foreign intelligence system.

Souers is deputy chief of naval intelligence.

Mr. Truman also designated Admiral William D. Leahy, the president's chief of staff, to represent him on the national intelligence authority which will formulate broad policies for Souers to carry out.

The third organization in the setup is an intelligence advisory board composed of representatives of several government departments.

The appointments were announced by White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, who said that Leahy would retain his post as the president's chief of staff.

Full Time Post
Souers, who holds his rear admiral's commission in the naval reserve, will occupy a full-time post.

Leahy will sit with the secretaries of state, war and navy to plan, develop and coordinate foreign intelligence activities bearing on national security and foreign policy.

Souers said he did not know precisely the size of the staff he will assemble—although he remarked it would be "relatively small."

Army Appointment
Meanwhile the army announced last night the appointment of Lt. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg to be chief of the army intelligence division.

He succeeds Maj. Gen. Clayton L. Bissell, whose new assignment has not yet been announced. The appointment is effective Jan. 26.

Vandenberg, a native of Milwaukee, has been in charge of airforce training.

Chinese Reds Violate Truce

CHUNGKING, Thursday (AP)—The national military council today accused Chinese Communists of "continuing large-scale attacks" against government forces as late as yesterday, 10 days after the cease-fire deadline, in five provinces.

Listed were Shantung, Shansi, Kiangsu, Honan and Hopei provinces. The council said the Communists had launched "a new offensive" against the northern Honan town of Sinsiang, on the Peiping-Hankow railroad north of the Yellow river, and in Shansi were keeping up attacks against national garrisons along the Tatung-Puchow railroad.

(Previously, reports from the armistice commission's executive headquarters had indicated that fighting was diminishing on most fronts.)

China's military committee was reported to have taken the first step today toward welding government and Communist forces into one national army shortly after it was announced that General Marshall had become the committee's adviser.

A spokesman for the Democratic league said the committee reached an agreement whereby the Communists would cut their army to 20 divisions within three months, while the government would reduce its forces to 90 divisions within six months.

11 Killed in Riot

BOMBAY, Thursday (AP)—Police reported today that 11 persons had been killed and more than 400 wounded in yesterday's rioting in Bombay's native section during a bloody celebration of the birthday of Subhas Chandra Bose, former leader of the Japanese-sponsored Indian national army.

Rates Announced for SUI Housing Units Following Meeting of Finance Committee

New rates for students in university housing units were disclosed late yesterday by Fred W. Ambrose, university business manager, after a meeting of the finance committee of the state board of education. The following rates are figured on a yearly basis. Cost for rooms on a semester basis may be computed by dividing the cost by two.

The finance committee is composed of: William R. Boyd, chairman; David A. Dancer, secretary, and William G. Noth.

Executive Asks For Meeting With Truman

CIO Union Committee Wants Kaiser to Run Federal Steel Plants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A conference of executives of strike-bound companies with President Truman was proposed last night by Benjamin F. Fairless as the steel and General Motors strikes remained in a deadlock and the White House made plans to seize the nation's meat packing plants Saturday.

The president of United States Steel corporation called upon the president to call the all-management conference of experienced executives to get their advice "on what kind of a wage increase the economy of this country can endure without incurring the danger of an inflationary spiral."

Might Pave Way
He asserted such a national conference might pave the way for settlement of the steel walkout and "other strikes that now plague the country."

Another proposal regarding the steel strike came from the CIO steelworkers' 175-man wage policy committee, in a statement also addressed to the president.

The committee declared that the billion dollars worth of government-owned steel plant facilities should be made available for private operations "by individuals such as Henry J. Kaiser" or should be operated by the government.

Suggest Kaiser
The committee asserted that Kaiser, the west coast steelmaker, who has accepted the president's 18 1/2 cent wage increase recommendation, or the government should continue operating these federally-owned steel plants "until the steel corporations accept the president's decision."

In the General Motors strike, the company and the CIO Auto Workers union were reported farther apart than ever, with both sides waiting and neither showing any disposition to resume contract negotiations.

Conferences Resumed
Conference were resumed yesterday, however, between the union and representatives of the Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

Also added to the country's labor strife yesterday was threat of a nationwide railroad tieup, possibly within four weeks.

The Brotherhood of railroad trainmen announced preparations for a countrywide strike vote of its 215,000 members and the Brotherhood of locomotive engineers, with 78,000, indicated it might follow suit.

Prinz Eugen Sank Hood

BOSTON (AP)—The 42,100-ton British Battleship Hood was sunk midway between Greenland and Iceland in 1941 not by the German pocket battleship Bismarck, as generally supposed, but by the cruiser Prinz Eugen, the navy said yesterday upon the Eugen's arrival here.

"The Prinz Eugen placed a direct shot on the Hood, blowing up her magazines and thus sinking her in one of the major losses of the British sea forces," a history of the 19,553-ton cruiser said.

The "history," a typewritten affair furnished by the United States navy, gave statistics of the German vessel with an account of her career.

Arrival of the Prinz Eugen also disclosed that the German naval high command to the end of the war never understood why the Bismarck, after the battle with the Hood May 24, 1941, swung south toward the coast of France and into the guns of the British fleet.

Three days later, unmaneuverable after a 1,750-mile running fight with three battleships, two carriers, five cruisers and seven destroyers—in which all got a shot at her—she was sunk by a torpedo from the British cruiser Dorsetshire.

Iowa City Needs Better Fire-Fighting Equipment

Iowa City's No. 1 pumper fire engine will have its 23rd birthday this year, according to Fire Chief J. J. Clark. The No. 2 engine, a "quad" or four purpose fire truck is a mere stripling of 13 years. Add a 1933 Dodge pickup truck which doubles as the "chief's car," and you have the total mechanized fire-fighting equipment of a city of some 23,000 residents and students.

"We are just plain lucky," said Chief Clark, "that we haven't had to fight a major fire with this equipment."

In his annual report to the city council Jan. 14, Chief Clark pointed out that Iowa City is ranked in the sixth class by fire insurance companies, but that the city could easily fall into the seventh or eighth class, with a subsequent increase in insurance rates, unless better equipment is obtained.

New equipment needed, according to the report, is:

- 1. One aerial ladder truck with a 100-foot aerial ladder and other ladders of the latest type.
2. One 1,000 gallon pumper truck.
3. 500 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose and 200 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose.
4. Two gas masks of the oxygen breather type.
5. Another two-way radio set to work with the police radio transmitter.
6. A new fire station large enough to house six fire trucks and with a repair shop in the basement.

The new fire station should be located at Burlington and Gilbert streets, Chief Clark said.

At the present time, he added, the No. 2 truck, due to its length, is not able to turn left out of the fire station at Linn and Washington streets, and on calls to the north part of town must circle the block.

Five additional men are needed for the department, Chief Clark stated, and a change should be made from the two-platoon system to the three-platoon system. Under the present system, the ten men in the department are divided into two shifts and are on duty 24 hours and off 24 hours.

This means that the men work 84 hours per week, and in addition are on call during their off duty hours.

Under the three-platoon system, there would be three shifts, and the men would have 24 hours on and 48 off. This adds up to 56 working hours per week, an improvement which would certainly lead to greater personnel efficiency.

Chief Clark's recommendations have been referred to the city council's fire committee. If Iowa City is to provide adequate protection for the lives and property of its residents, it must improve its fire department, and the time to act is now.

Already there is an influx of trailers and other temporary housing. In the future there will be new houses, new commercial buildings and new university buildings.

It is up to Iowa City to see that a first rate community is not protected by a second rate, inadequate fire department.—H. I.

Reader Makes Housing Suggestion; Occupation Policy Rapped

(Editor's Note: The Daily Iowan invites letters to the editor. They must bear the writer's name and address, but the writer's name will not be published if so requested.)

TO THE EDITOR:

The Burkley hotel was at one time used to house men students in aviation at the University of Iowa. Why can't it be used again to house veterans? Or is the University of Iowa more concerned in gaining a governmental subsidy than in seeing to it that its students are comfortably housed? The Burkley hotel would hold a maximum of 100 veterans and a minimum of 75.

T. M.

TO THE EDITOR:

Possibly it is a bit irregular, but I hope that I may have this published in this space as a "letter within a letter." I have copied below, in part, a letter written to me from a private first class who is serving with the army of occupation in Germany.

I believe that it should be read for three reasons: First, the writer, with good reason I think, asked me to try to publish it; second, it is admittedly a "gripe" session, but it shows rather clearly just what men overseas are objecting to. Some may not know just what the complaints are. Third, it expresses the feelings of a great many G.I.'s and it is written by a man of much higher than average intelligence.

In some places I have altered, to some extent, the wording of the original, although the meaning has not been changed. I have made these changes to avoid what I shall call a certain amount of youthful exuberance. The writer, although he has two battle stars, has only some 35 points toward discharge.

The letter follows, as of Jan. 7, 1946:

"You keep asking me if there is any occupation trouble here in Germany. The answer is emphatically 'No!' And I mean it. The latest news from USFET and General MacFarney is that we have plenty of ships but no replacements. So it's just too bad for us low pointers. Selective service refuses to draft its monthly quota of 50,000, so the war department isn't sending half the replacements that it promised.

"This, coupled with the brass hats' desire for a ridiculously large occupation force (300,000) is the reason that we may have to stay here a lot longer than is necessary. We are guarding road blocks, D. P. camps and German owned and operated factories. You figure it out, I can't.

"This job could be done with 40,000 men plus M. G. or, for that matter, with a couple of atom bombs. And that is a truth which your brass will never admit. Now, to cap it all, we read that... Patterson did not even know that points after V-J day did not count. "A couple of fellows I know want you to publish this story in one of your papers. Could you do this?"

"Recently, we learned that war brides will

From All Around The State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert A. Lavender, formerly of Rockwell City, yesterday was presented the Legion of Merit for "outstanding service" as a patent officer of the atomic bomb project.

Lavender was a navy captain. Rear Admiral Oswald S. Colclough who presented the award to Lavender credited him with directing the processing in record time of thousands of patents for inventions and discoveries in development of the atomic bomb. All required strict secrecy. Lavender's home now is in Washington.

DES MOINES (AP)—A wage schedule has been agreed to by the Iowa Power and Light Co. and the Electrical Workers union, it was announced yesterday.

The settlement, it was said, averts any danger of the actual calling of a strike authorized by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local No. 449, (AFL). The strike vote was taken early in December before the agreement on wages.

DES MOINES (AP)—Melvin Ristrim, 38, Des Moines musician, yesterday was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and failure to give aid to the injured. The charges were filed in connection with the injury of Mrs. Ellen May Ayers, 49, of Perry, who was found unconscious on Highway 6 west of Des Moines early Monday, Deputy Sheriff Ed Stebbins, announced.

Ristrim, who was being held in jail last night, was arrested for questioning at his home earlier yesterday by deputy sheriffs. His bond was set at $1,000.

Mrs. Ayers, who suffered head injuries, reportedly was in "fair" condition at a Des Moines hospital.

DES MOINES (AP)—Al (Babe Carnera) Bisignano yesterday asked the Iowa supreme court to name a special master in chancery to investigate his contempt conviction.

Bisignano, operator of a downtown restaurant and taproom, was sentenced to pay a $500 fine and serve six months in jail Friday in a contempt case before Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund.

He is free on $2,000 appeal bond, pending hearing set for the week of May 14.

Bisignano contended he was "deceived, humiliated and embarrassed" by broadcast of the court hearing over radio station KRNT.

A 45-minute transcription of parts of the hearing Friday morning was broadcast by KRNT that evening.

OMAHA (AP)—Directors of the Farm Credit Administration of Omaha yesterday reelected all officers of the Omaha Federal Land bank, the Federal Intermediate Credit bank, the Production Credit corporation and the Omaha Bank for Cooperatives.

The group also retained Nelson G. Kraschel, former Iowa governor, as FCA general agent, and L. W. Bichnell as general counsel.

DES MOINES (AP)—Basil Grossnickle and three of his raiding constables urged yesterday that district court ouster actions against them be dismissed.

Their motion contended that five Des Moines men who filed the original petitions asking removal of the constables were "not qualified electors" in the townships the constables represent.

Defendants with Grossnickle, Allen township constable, are Constables Robert Barton, Altoona; A. F. Kempton, Saylor township, and L. C. Smith, Delaware township.

News From Home SUI Bulletins Sent To Servicemen

At the desk in the alumni office names and addresses are written on thousands of large manila envelopes each month. And to the thousands of university men and women in the armed services such a procedure has meant a news bulletin "almost like a letter from home."

During the first years of the war the alumni office, through the military file it had been building up, attempted to send all alumni service personnel the monthly publication. Ordinarily such bulletins are stamped with addressograph plates.

It soon became impossible to keep pace with the rapidly changing addresses of those in service, since by the time a new plate was made, another change had occurred.

In the fall of 1943 the office, confronted with a file of nearly 6,000 names, presented the problem to the University Women's association, which at that time was sponsoring the "Double V" program. Immediately women

Cooperative Dormitories Take Pride In Actual Home Living Experiences

THREE FAIRCHILD HOUSE residents, Jean Sprott, Al of Grand Haven, left, Cynthia Johnston, A4 of New York City, house proctor, middle, and Helen Pappas, A1 of Mason City, try out a new cooking recipe.

Priding themselves on the fact that they more nearly represent actual home life than any other housing units on campus, the cooperative dormitories—Fairchild, Dean and Russell houses—may by rights be called a small democracy. Washing dishes, planning meals, cooking, and cleaning house are all in the day's work for students living in them.

Each house is under the supervision of a proctor, appointed by the office of student affairs. She is usually an upperclassman and her duties are comparable to that of a housemother in other units.

Household Duties Each student within a cooperative dormitory is assigned a specific task throughout the semester. She may be queen of the dish crew or chief cleaner of the living room. In this way, all household duties are done by the students.

Crews for dishes, meals and cleaning are organized to keep the house running smoothly. That's where the cooperation comes in. They find that as a dish crew they work more efficiently and quickly. An hour a day is not required to do each task—only so long as it takes to finish the job properly.

Menus for meals in a cooperative dorm are planned by the cooking crews, usually once a week. All the food they order comes through the university general stores. Serving of meals each day is the work of one breakfast cook, two lunch cooks, and four dinner chefs divided into two crews. As dinner requires more time and effort, each dinner crew works every other day, alternating Sundays.

Judiciary Council Within each house officers of the cooperative dormitories are elected and they make up each dorm's judiciary council. Duties of the council center in discussing and solving all problems that arise within the house, checking on late leaves, and locking up each night.

The Cooperative Dormitory association is made up of the presidents and proctors from all three houses. It takes care of inter-house activities.

Last year the one cooperative dormitory on campus for men was Kellogg house. At present it is being converted into a housing unit for married veterans and their families.

"Before the war, there were nine men's and three women's cooperatives, but as the men were called into the service, all of their houses were closed," said Harold L. Franklin, adviser to the Cooperative Dormitory association.

Most of the university women living at Dean, Fairchild and Russell houses have other jobs outside their regular duties within the dormitory. Many of them work part-time jobs and carry full schedules. At the present time, as a unit, the cooperatives have a higher grade point average than any other unit on the campus, according to Franklin.

Candlelight Dinner Served by Home Ec Class Last Night

A formal, six-course dinner was served by candlelight in Macbride dining room yesterday, planned, prepared and decorated by the advanced-foods class and the textile design class of the home economics department.

A huge Swedish glass bowl filled with silver-sprayed plant stalks served as the centerpiece of the U-shaped banquet table. Pale green and silver colored bulbs supported on the silvery stalks lent color to the white damask and crystal background. Glass-blown swans were placed on each side of the centerpiece.

"Decorations for such dinners are done on a minimum budget in order to spend more money for food," Prof. Lula E. Smith said. With textile design class students assisting her, Professor Smith sprayed the plant stalks for the centerpiece. Tall white candles, set in stair-step glass holders furnished the side decorations.

"We used glassware for our table patterns because it serves as a striking design against a white background," Professor Smith said.

Tiny candles set in opened pastel roses were placed before each plate. Students made the flowers by remoulding wax into various flower designs.

Each course of the dinner was selected and planned by the advanced foods class, and the cooking of the food was also done by them. Such dinners are given in the home economics department primarily to give students practice in the art of preparing and serving meals properly. Twenty-four guests attended the dinner.

Students volunteered to spend two hours each week writing name after name by hand. The group adopted the slogan "Two hours a week with U.W.A. keeps bulletins going the G.I. way." About 9,700 names are listed in the file at present.

Recently a great number of addresses on file have undergone another change, this time because of the rapid rate of discharges. Alumni bulletins are now being sent only to those who have a permanent home address registered with the alumni office.

Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the alumni service, declared that this is one of the finest services performed by the university women, with its dividends in the hundreds of letters of appreciation and thanks from alumni in every theater of war.

Virgil, Gables' Mascot, Dies in Accident

Virgil is dead, the victim yesterday of a hit-and-run driver.

Virgil, named for the famed Latin poet, was a spirited young dog of dubious parentage and breeding.

Virgil's most recent home was the Gables, university rooming house for men students at 27 N. Dubuque street. Virgil followed one of the Gables' men home one day last week, looked over the house, met most of the fellows and decided to make his home there.

The older residents of the house soon discovered that Virgil had not been brought up in the proper manner but because of his undaunted good humor and high spirits, Virgil was named mascot of the Gables.

At 6:20 p. m. yesterday Virgil was struck by a car while romping in the street in front of the house and killed.

Dean Dakin Speaks, Harper Awards Keys At Union Board Party

"One of the missions of Iowa Union, in addition to honoring the glorious deeds of the men from the University of Iowa who had fallen in the Civil war, Spanish-American war and World war I, was to be a hearthstone of the university, the center of social life for the students, faculty, alumni and their friends."

The idea of a memorial hall to serve as a student social center was conceived by Walter Jessup, president of the university from 1916 to 1934, when he was president of the University of Iowa Alumni association.

"It was the one event during the year that brought together the whole student body in such a manner as no other event did," Dean Dakin declared.

First social event to take place in the new building was the military ball. Dean Dakin recalled that, as colonel of the ROTC, he led the grand march, followed by the governors of Iowa and Illinois.

At the formal dedication of the Union, President Jessup emphasized that one of the particular values it was expected students would gain from the building was the development of individual personalities.

In 1929, the first exhibition of paintings took place; the exhibitions were carried on annually ever since. The library was installed in 1931. The "Silver Shadow," a student night club, was started in 1938 where the cafeteria now is located.

Dr. Earl E. Harper, director of Iowa Union, presented to all members the traditional Union board keys on which were engraved their names and the year, 1945-1946. Those who received keys are: Richard Nazette, L4 of Iowa City; President, Jayne Livingston, A4 of Fort Dodge, vice-president; Bette Jo Phelan, A3 of Mason City, secretary; Don Emery, G of Indianapolis, Ind., treasurer; Margaret Allen, P4 of Cedar Rapids; Lewis Carter, D; Dave Danner, A3 of Iowa City; Martha Garrett, C4 of Des Moines; LaVerne Grimes, M4 of Iowa City; Marybeth Hartman, P4 of Vinton.

New Secretary Of YMCA to Start Work Here Feb. 4

Richard E. Sweitzer of Cedar Rapids will assume his duties as secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Feb. 4. Prof. Alexander Kern of the English department, co-chairman of the Y.M.C.A. advisory board, announced yesterday.

Graduating from Washington school in Cedar Rapids in 1931, Sweitzer received a B. S. degree in economic history from Iowa State college. He attended summer sessions at Columbia university and Union Theological seminary, taking courses in personnel, group work and philosophy.

Working for the Y.M.C.A. is not new to Sweitzer, having started as leader and counselor in Cedar Rapids "Y" camps from 1933-1935. He was general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. at North Dakota State college from 1936 to 1942.

Sweitzer was recently discharged from the army where he was attached to a weather unit. He served 30 months in the Aleutians, and for one summer was the non-commissioned officer in charge of a seven-man weather station on St. Paul Island in the Pribilof group.

While attending the college at Ames, Sweitzer played inter-collegiate basketball, intramural football, volley ball, tennis and went out for track. He was proctor in a dormitory there.

Among his secretarial duties will be planning and directing programs of a social, religious, educational and service nature. Because of the housing shortage, Sweitzer plans to commute from Cedar Rapids daily until some other arrangement can be made.

Registration Deadline Set for January 31

"The deadline for registration of liberal arts and graduate students now on campus is Jan. 31, but registration materials have been coming back slowly," Registrar Paul E. Blommers said yesterday. Commerce students, originally scheduled to register in the college of commerce, will now register in Iowa Union.

Three thousand four hundred and seventy-eight students have called for registration materials, Blommers said. Of that number, 1,783 are liberal arts freshmen and sophomores; 1,039, juniors and seniors; 198, commerce students, and 458, graduate students. From these, 822 have completed and returned their materials to the office of the registrar.

Vets in Prewar Band Assured Places Now

Returned service men who were members of the university band before joining the armed forces are assured of places in the band upon their return, according to Prof. C. B. Righter, director of bands. In outlining this policy, he declared that any former member who wishes to play will not be rejected on the basis of present technical deficiency.

In anticipation of the return of service men within the year, the second band was reactivated at the beginning of the first semester. The concert band now includes 85 players and the varsity band about 40. Ten veterans are now members of the band, and an equal number have indicated their desire to join the organization at the beginning of second semester, Professor Righter stated. Veterans who were members of other university or college bands, or who have had experience in high school bands, may obtain further information by calling at room 15, music studio building.

Back to Tradition January Convocation On Prewar Basis

Convocation ceremonies Thursday will mark the return of the traditional June and late January or early February commencement dates. The last commencement on the regular schedule was Feb. 3, 1942.

From the second semester 1941-42 until the summer session of 1945, the university was on an accelerated schedule of three complete semesters a year. Second semester graduation dates were moved back to April, summer sessions lasted for 14 weeks and mid-term graduation took place before the Christmas holidays.

Still on the wartime schedule are the colleges of medicine and dentistry, which will have a special convocation March 23. At that time 66 students are expected to receive M.D. degrees and 22 D.D.S. degrees.

Approximately 132 students will receive degrees at next week's convocation. Topping the list are 66 candidates for the B.A. degree in the college of liberal arts. Two will receive B.F.A. degrees; one a B.M. degree; four, B.S. in physical education; three, the F.D. degree of the college of law; two the B. S. in pharmacy; three the B.S. in electrical engineering; seven the B. S. in commerce; one the M. D.; 22 the M.A.; 12 M.S., and nine Ph.D. degrees.

Annual Founder's Day To Celebrate SUI's 99th Anniversary

Various University of Iowa alumni groups will celebrate Founder's day and the university's 99th anniversary next month with a series of luncheon and dinner meetings, announced Dr. Bruce Mahan, secretary of the alumni association.

Most of the rallies will be held on or close to Feb. 25, the date on which the university was founded in 1847.

Dr. Mahan said he expected that many alumni groups which were inactive during the war will reorganize this year in preparation for the university's centennial celebration in 1947.

A Founder's day program will be broadcast over WSUI Feb. 25 from 9:30 to 10 p. m., immediately after the broadcast of the Indiana-Iowa basketball game.

Irish Hopes on Their Shoulders

Belger, Sueppel to Captain Irish, Ramblers Tomorrow

Captains were named last night as they ironed out final knots in their defensive strategy for the Rambler tilt.

No scrimmage was forthcoming as the Irish mentor also felt that the way to be sure that the squad would be at top mental form was to go easy on the heavy drills.

As a counter to the combined efforts of Sueppel and Toohy Kritt will place his main scoring hopes on Merle Hoyer, the city's top scorer, and Charlie Belger, the Irish captain whose average for the year is near 12 points a game.

Bob Sullivan will receive the call for the forward post opposite Hoyer while Bill Seemuth will remain his center position.

Tom Hoyer, the team's defense expert, will start across from Belger in the backcourt.

No fear of the Rambler fast break was expressed by Kritt. "Let them worry about our offense, we'll take care of theirs," was the comment of the Irish coach.

Final polishing work was the order of business in both camps. Frank Sueppel sent the Rambler cagers through a light workout that was designed to keep the sharp edge the team has developed in the weeks' preparation for the Irish tilt.

Top scoring threats for the Ramblers will be captain Bill Sueppel and Bart Toohy who have both broken the 100 point mark this season.

The lineup will find hotshot Andy Chuckalas and Eddie Rocca at the forward slots. Jack Shrader will team with Sueppel at the guard position and Toohy will be at center.

Rambler hopes for victory will be based on the fast break that has been the scourge of opposing teams all year and the main reason for the outstanding record of the Marions.

Former New York Boxing Head Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—The death of Maj. Gen. John J. Phean, former chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, saddened the boxing world yesterday almost a year to the day after he had been honored for "long and meritorious service" to the sport.

Phean had been in poor health since last April when he was notified that his son, Lt. Col. John J. Phean Jr., had been killed in action in Italy.

Coach Herb Cormack's seventh and eighth grade quintet nosed out the West Branch five, 18-15, yesterday afternoon in the old city high gym. The Bears squad was composed partly of freshmen.

Jerry White and Keith Fulton led the victors with seven and six points respectively. Norman Smith led the junior high quintet defeated by playing an outstanding floor game.

Donavan May Replace Helm For Rivermen

There may be one lineup change Friday when the University high school cagers meet West Liberty here, Coach Don Barnhart announced last night at practice.

Gus Helm has been ill the first part of the week, and although he reported for drills yesterday, it is expected that Ralph Donovan will start at forward.

The Rivermen are working hard in preparation for the Comet clash and are prepared for a tough game, although the West Liberty five has won but one game in the Eastern Iowa conference while U. high has won three in a row while losing none. The Comets feature a 6 feet, 2-inch center, Wilson, but otherwise they will average about 5'8", which is smaller than other Rivermen opponents have been.

In their last outing, Monday night, the Mt. Vernon Maroons topped the Comets, 36-18, to push them down near the cellar of the league.

Last Friday the Blue Hawks defeated Mt. Vernon, 35-23, which may give an idea of what to expect this week. But in Eastern Iowa games anything can happen, and more than once has a supposedly weak team risen to the heights to upset a favorite.

Cox, Ex-Phil Owner, Building Brooklyn Pro Grid Machine

NEW YORK (AP)—Eli Bill Cox is back in the sports business after his experience with the late Judge K. M. Landis and the Philadelphia Phillies, noisily piecing together an all-America football conference contender for his Brooklyn Dodgers.

Cox still has baseball on his mind and has formed some definite anti-farm system opinions, but he's a grid promoter now. "Do I ever want to get back in baseball?" Cox echoed a question. "Well, you see it keeps me pretty busy trying to sign up football players. I know if I did get back I wouldn't have any farm system, maybe two or three teams and at tops three scouts. But that's just conversation, now I'm more interested in fullbacks."

Equal partners with Gerald Smith of the Street and Smith magazine publishing firm, Cox officially is the general manager and vice-president of the Dodgers. His assistants include Coach Mal Stevens, business manager Freddy Fitzsimmons and Assistant Coach Hank Reese.

Cox, who bought the baseball Phillies in February, 1943 was declared "permanently ineligible" to hold any office or employment with the club in a ruling issued by Landis Nov. 23 of that year. Landis said Cox admitted placing bets on baseball games against the major league ruling. The owner later retracted his statement and then dropped the matter after a public hearing before Landis in New York.

Hawkeyes Seek Defense to Halt Gopher's No. 1 Scoring Punch

Iowa Ranks Second On Defense, Fourth In Offensive Play

An improved defense which can cope with the league's best offense to date is the aim of the University of Iowa basketball team in its drills for the game with Minnesota before a sell-out crowd of 14,400 here next Monday.

Iowa now ranks second on defense, holding opponents to an average of 40.1 points per game. Minnesota tops the league attack, with an average of 58.2 per game.

The Gopher attack, of course, was aided by the fact that two of the victims were Chicago and Wisconsin, cellar occupants. But Minnesota scored 59 points in beating fourth place Indiana, 59-48; whereas Iowa, on its cold night, lost to the Hoosiers, 45-39.

Iowa is fourth on offense, with 48.8 points per game and Minnesota is fifth on defense, for opponents averaged 45.2.

Figures are interesting but won't mean much as the game actually is played, Coach "Pops" Harrison told his players. It will be the job of the Iowans to hit their normal percentage of shots and grab more rebounds than the Gophers, in addition to keeping close guard on Jim McIntyre, Warren Ajax, Don Carlson and Tony Jaros.

Some of the speed with which Iowa surprised Purdue is being developed, for Minnesota, with its methodical and careful offense, does not like to be forced into a racing game.

Hawkeye Highlights

Indiana Tickets All Sold

The basketball game in the fieldhouse Feb. 25 is the latest Iowa contest to be announced as a sell-out, joining the Purdue and Minnesota games in this classification. Last of the tickets was sold Wednesday morning, one month and two days before the game. It's the first time in Hawkeye sports history that a basketball game has been sold out more than a month in advance.

Warning: If you do not have tickets for the Minnesota, Purdue and Indiana games, DO NOT COME TO IOWA CITY. No tickets will be on sale for the simple and definite reason that ALL TICKETS ALREADY HAVE BEEN SOLD. The warning is from Charles Galther, business manager of athletics.

Change Swim Date Iowa will swim Nebraska in the fieldhouse pool Friday, Feb. 8, at 7:30 p. m. instead of the afternoon of Feb. 9 as originally booked. It's the next home meet for the Hawkeyes. Iowa's team will be strengthened during the second semester by Dick Maine, formerly of Roosevelt high school of Des Moines, who has been close to the national interscholastic record in the back stroke.

Hawks Miss Free Throws The free throw situation is causing Coach "Pops" Harrison considerable concern, for his Hawkeyes have made only about 51 percent in the conference games, as compared with opponents' average of 58 percent. The players get lots of drill in the art but can't seem to hit well in games. Minnesota, the Monday opponent, has a 60 percent mark.

66th Iowa-Minnesota Game As in football, Minnesota is Iowa's oldest opponent in basketball. The game next Monday here is the 66th in the series. Gophers have won 44 to Iowa's 21. Iowa, however, has won seven of the last 10, including five in succession, and two of the Minnesota wins were by one and two points.

Moss, Cabbies, Oxford Win

The last place Moss five came out of the cellar with a roar last night in the recreation center basketball games, whipping the University Vets by the decisive score of 52-34.

Trailing 16-13 at the intermission the Moss quintet staged a second half rally behind the sharpshooting of Coon and King to notch their first league victory. Yellow Cab was cold in the first half but warmed up enough in the last two quarters to down Ike Johnson and the Esquire team, 43-31. Ike hit for 26 of the Esquires 31 points.

Sheeketski Named Hawk Line Coach

The appointment of Joe Sheeketski as line coach of Iowa's 1946 football team became official last night when Athletic Director E. G. (Dad) Schroeder announced that the former Holy Cross mentor had been hired by the Iowa athletic board.

Rumors of Sheeketski's appointment had started Jan. 7 when he came to Iowa City to confer with Head Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson. At that time it was intimated that Sheeketski would replace Jim Harris, 1939-42 Hawkeye line coach, as football assistant.

The announcement completed Dr. Eddie Anderson's staff for the coming season. Frank Carideo, backfield coach from 1939 till he went to the navy in 1942, recently returned to Iowa City from the navy and will resume his duties under Anderson next fall.

Sheeketski, who was an assistant to Anderson at Holy Cross and later succeeded Dr. Eddie as head coach of the Crusaders when he came to Iowa in 1939, was in the Federal Bureau of Investigation for three years before returning to football last fall as an assistant coach to Hugh Devore at Notre Dame.

Psi O, Nu Sig Win Intramural Contests

The professional fraternities carried the load last night in the field house during intramural basketball play.

Psi Omega lost to Phi Rho, 37-15. There was little doubt about the outcome of the game from the opening whistle. Popp and Smith were the leading scorers, Popp scoring 14 and Smith 12. Hull was high for the losers with five.

Nu Sig edged out Delta Sig, 33-28. This puts the Nu Sig back in the running after losing a heart breaker to the Veterans last week. Gonder was the fair-haired boy for the Nu Sig by virtue of his 13 points. Shay scored eight for the losers.

Phi Beta Pi won over the University Veterans by means of a forfeit. The referees continued doing a good job taking care of the games.

Little Hawks Prep for Imps

Iowa City high worked last night on a smoother offense to match the power this Friday's opponent, Davenport, displayed in the first meeting of the two quintets.

Coach Gil Wilson indicated a favorable showing was expected from his charges in the Blue Devil tilt, since the performance of the locals has been greatly improved in the last two weeks. Wilson felt that his team did not suffer as great a loss at the hands of powerful Clinton last Friday as the score would indicate, pointing to the remarkable percentage of shots the Clinton quintet hit.

Bob Freeman, Hawket center and forward, now holds second position in conference scoring with 78 points in league play, headed only by Dean Burrigide of Clinton who has scored 88 markers. The Little Hawks are currently tied for fifth place in loop standing with Dubuque and Franklin, each team having a record of two wins and four losses. The loop leading Clinton cagers have a record of six wins and no losses.

The local freshman-sophomore team stands at the bottom of the list due to the ineligibility of Don Woods, reserve forward, who participated in games when not eligible. The Hawket juniors lost three games they won on the floor by forfeit.

Cubs Sign Gillespie

ATLANTA (AP)—Paul Gillespie, Chicago Cubs catcher, said yesterday he has signed his 1946 playing contract at a boost in salary.

GASSIN with GUS

By GUS SCHRADER

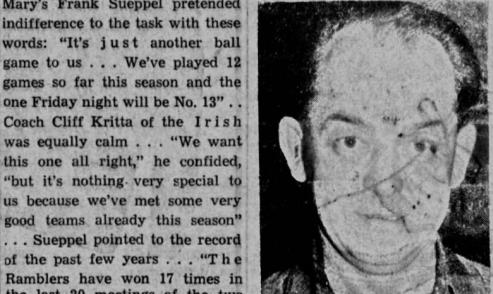

IF YOU'RE IN THE MARKET for unusual entertainment, don't miss tomorrow night's basketball encounter between St. Mary's and St. Patrick's high schools in the south side Irish gym. . . . This is the bi-annual sports feature which always attracts more interest in Iowa City than any game played by the University teams. . . . Just a casual glance at the records of the two parochial teams this season would make you believe that Coach Frank Sueppel's Ramblers are the odds-on favorites. . . . But don't let that fool you. . . . I've seen too many games in this intra-city series to let any paper advantage influence me in picking a winner in the feud. . . . Here's the dope: St. Mary's Ramblers have won 10 games in 12 starts this season against a record of six wins and five defeats for Cliff Kritt's Shamrock crew.

FRANCIS SUEPPEL "Just Another Ball Game"

and by tip-off time there isn't room enough left to play a basketball game. . . . The noise is always terrific and refereeing the fracas is like volunteering to save Daniel out of the den of the lions. . . . Asked recently if he would like the job of officiating, Assistant Iowa Coach Tommy Lind looked horrified and said he'd just as soon live a little longer for the sake of his wife and family.

FUNNY PART of the thing is which the two opposing coaches Mary's Frank Sueppel pretended indifference to the task with these words: "It's just another ball game to us. . . . We've played 12 games so far this season and the one Friday night will be No. 13. . . . Coach Cliff Kritt of the Irish was equally calm. . . . "We want this one all right," he confided, "but it's nothing very special to us because we've met some very good teams already this season" . . . Sueppel pointed to the record of the past few years. . . . "The Ramblers have won 17 times in the last 20 meetings of the two teams," he announced, "and that includes tournament games."

CLIFF KRITTA "We Want This One"

THE LEADING SCORERS of the two teams will be well cared for, according to pre-game guessing. . . . Because Merle Hoyer, Shamrock hotshot, usually does most of his scoring from the left side of the court, Sueppel is expecting to hang Jack Shrader onto him. . . . Eddie Rocca usually draws the assignment of watching enemy scorers but Friday night will be the exception. . . . On the other hand, Game Captain Charlie Belger is Kritt's choice to guard the Rambler's high point man, Billy Sueppel. . . . The game will be fast, the crowd delirious, and the outcome completely a guess until the shouting and shooting are over tomorrow night.

Mutual's unique dramatic series, "One Night Stand" tonight at 7. Maestro Meredith Willson is working on a collection of piano pieces built around radio. "Smoke Rings," a cleverly written comedy penned by Henry Spears will be WSUI's "Drama Hour" presentation tonight at 9. Harold Glaspey and Paul Pappas will star in the production which is under the direction of Jon P. Highlander of the WSUI staff. Dorothy Kotteman will interview Dean C. Woody Thompson on the present housing problem of veterans when "Views and Interviews" airs at 12:45 over WSUI today.

"Present Trends in Orthopedic Surgery," a talk written by Dr. P. J. Greveman of Charles City, will be read by Stuart Miller on the Iowa State Medical Society program at 9:30 this morning over WSUI.

"All of a Sudden My Heart Sings" and "Hawaiian War Chant" will be two of the musical highlights of the Fred Waring Show, in its broadcast today at 10 a. m. Joan Wheatley, mezzo soprano, is the soloist in "My Heart Sings," with the orchestra and glee club featured in the "Hawaiian War Chant." Other selections will be presented by Jane Wilson, Honey and the Bees, Gordon Goodman, Joe Sodja, Gordon Berger and Jimmy Atkins.

An elderly matron, who becomes a small-town newspaper reporter, is the central figure in "My Dear Niece," Dame May Whitty's starring vehicle on "Suspense," tonight at 7 over CBS. The story unfolds in the form of a letter written by the matron to her niece. She tells of answering an advertisement for a correspondent for a newspaper in a distant city, and of the news that begins breaking shortly after she takes the job. A mysterious visit from her publisher leads her to the belief that he is about to murder her. The story builds to a breath-taking climax.

Les Tremayne, veteran actor who has appeared in numerous daytime serials and other radio productions, will set feminine hearts aflutter when he plays the lead in the romantic comedy "Alias Romeo," second offering in MARYBETH HARTMAN Chairman Wolves Replace Bucks On Hawkeye Grid Card The University of Iowa's 1946 football schedule will include Michigan in the Oct. 3 date previously left open by the cancellation of the game with Ohio State, Athletic Director "Dad" Schroeder announced yesterday.

The Ohio State contest had been canceled last month so the Buckeyes could schedule a game with Southern California on that date. Schroeder also said that the athletic department was searching for a suitable non-conference opponent for an opening game Sept. 21.

Schedule Hockey Tourney DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa Amateur Athletic Association announced yesterday it would hold the state ice hockey tournament on Black Hawk lake at Lake View, Feb. 3.

The meet, suspended since 1942, will be under the sponsorship of the Lake View sports club. Teams entered include Le Mars, Waterloo, Webster City and Des Moines (2). Other possibilities are Council Bluffs and Lake View.

'Correctional Institutions Need Better Living Conditions to Succeed'—Dr. Andrew Woods

"Iowa's correctional institutions must have more skilled supervisory and technical employes, better sanitary and living conditions, and a great variety of mental and physical diversions if they are to succeed in their purpose of rebuilding their patients," said Dr. Andrew H. Woods in an address to the Lions club yesterday noon. For many years interested in the welfare of inmates of state institutions, Doctor Woods was professor and head of the psychiatry department of the University of Iowa from 1928 to 1941. Now professor emeritus of the university, he has studied conditions in these institutions with the hope of bringing them to public attention.

Psychiatric Treatment
Unfortunately the advances of medical science have not yet become a part of many of our state institutions," said Doctor Woods, "but the time will come when psychiatric treatment will replace present methods and all patients will be expertly examined for mental disorders. "Mental diseases are matters of emotional disturbances and not of intelligence," he said. "Curing a patient of mental unbalance consists of getting at the cause and removing it, and then giving the brain functional exercise to make it strong again."

Doctor Woods pointed out that curing a patient through psychiatry is not a quick process. He said that after the immediate symptoms of the disorder are diagnosed, the individual's personality must be studied and the plan for cure plotted from there.

Type of Workers
"The type of workers in our correctional and training schools has a great deal to do with patients' well-being and restoration," he said. "Men and women of high character and integrity must be employed in our institutions if growth and development are to result. "Hygiene and cheerful living conditions are equally as important," he said. "Another thing which is totally lacking at present is a feeling of happiness, caused by the patients' constant idleness. Men must attain a self-satisfaction and feeling of accomplishment if they are to be cured eventually."

Doctor Wood stressed the importance of hiring skilled supervisors who can organize their employes and patients, and men and women who can gain the confidence of the inmates. He especially advocated that a great variety of diversions, particularly music, be placed at the disposal of patients. "All of these changes and improvements must be made if the remaining mental factors of patients are to be left intact," he concluded.

American Colored Lights, Philosophy Fascinate Student of Iraq

From the warm climate of Iraq to the bitter winter of Iowa was quite a change for Bismat Theodorus, graduate student in biochemistry, who entered the university this fall.

"There seemed to be a psychological effect at the sight of snow," she said. "Even in a warm room, when I looked at the snow I felt cold. My friends all laughed at me because I wore a woolen dress and woolen stockings for some time."

Miss Theodorus was born in a small town on the southern border of Turkey. Shortly after her birth, her parents, with a group of several thousand Christians were forced to move because of the religious intolerance of the Turks and Moslems.

"My parents attended American schools in Iran, so I attended Protestant mission schools from grade school through college," Miss Theodorus said.

Lots of Lights
Arriving in the United States at Philadelphia, she went directly to New York. "It was enormous, majestic, crowded and beautiful with lots of lights. It was a sight I shall never forget. Our first night there we roared around on buses until midnight looking at the lights. You see, we don't have colored lights in Iraq," she said.

"While in New York on my birthday my friends took me to see Sonja Henie ice skate in Madison Square Garden. I had only seen ice skating before in movies, and throughout the performance I was scared. I just watched, holding my breath."

"America is so picturesque," she said. "Everyone here is so well dressed. It is a pleasure to look at the faces of the girls and women. They are all so beautiful. In Iraq they don't have such red cheeks and lips."

Different Philosophy
"Also here there is quite a difference in the philosophy of life," she added. "The younger people take pride in looking after themselves. In Iraq they take pride in having their parents look after them."

Questioned about Iraq, Miss Theodorus answered, "Approximately 94 per cent of the population is Moslem. The modern Moslem, in the minority group, is very much like the people here. There is no coeducation from kindergarten until college, however. The Moslem adolescent girl stays at home protected."

"Moslems in general love to talk and are not as business minded as the Americans. They are more philosophical and take things leisurely. They are a more romantic people. The land and the climate may be one cause of this as they live more by night than by day. They take siestas in the afternoon and stay up late in the evenings."

Friendly Moslems
"The Moslems are especially friendly and kind to strangers, but find it incredible that strangers do not speak Arabic."

"Yes, I like it here," Miss Theodorus concluded, "but I dream every night of home and the evenings in Bagdad and Shahrazad."

Because pasture feeding is so economical for the producer and adds nutritive value to meat, more beef in the future is likely to be grass-fed—or at least fed both grass and grain.
