BEGINNING OF MINNESOTA'S DOWNFALL

Minnesota Blasted From Lead By Iowa's 63-61 Overtime Win

Great Rally, Wier's Shot Knot Score, Let Hawkeyes Triumph in Extra Period

By GUS SCHRADER
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Iowa's Hawkeyes lived up to a tradition and a title last night as they frantically clawed past Minnesota, 63-61, in a furious overtime victory that shot them back atop the Big Ten standings. The tradition was one of Hawkeye fight and guts. The title was their role as defending basketball champions of the Western conference.

That championship spark kindled when 14,400 frenzied fans thought all was lost last night, and it flared into a blaze that caught the Gophers from behind in the dying seconds of the regular 40-minute playing time.

Piery Murray Wier, true to his reputation as a game-breaker, touched off the flash and administered the coup de grace almost single-handedly. It was his incredible one-handed shot just two seconds before the final gun that tied the score at 59-59 and forced the battle into a heart-stopping overtime period.

But it was the undying fight of an entire Iowa team that made the impossible a reality in those last agonizing seconds and in the extra five-minute period that seemed a century long.

Iowa's giant reserve center, Noble Jorgensen, tipped in the first field goal in that last stretch and All-American guard Herb Wilkinson froze the issue with a long one-hander that left Minnesota's desperate efforts two-points short of staying undefeated.

The victory knocked the smooth-working Gophers from their prideful pinnacle as the Big Ten's only unbeaten team. Iowa now holds the whip hand in the conference by percentage points, having won five of six loop starts. Minnesota's loss was her first in five games.

There weren't many present in the turn-away house last night who wouldn't have sold Iowa's victory chances for the hole in a Chinese penny about nine minutes before the end. At that point the score was 44-36. The Gophers were ahead, their swift pace showed no sign of slackening, their fancy screen plays were clicking like clockwork—they would win by at least 10 points.

Then Dave Danner blew a set-up. Iowa stock hit a rock-bottom low.

However, even as the crowd was moaning its despair, the inevitable rally started. Dick Ives launched it with a pair of incredible long shots, one of them more than half the length of the Iowa floor. That cut the lead to 44-40.

But Minnesota wasn't through. Two brilliant plays, ending with buckets by Mattson and Carlson made the score 48-40 until Murray Wier banged in a long one and Ives hit again from far out. Iowa hopes went up and down like a teeter-totter during the final six minutes and once the score was 52-45 against the home team.

During the last eight minutes of Iowa rally, Wier scored 10 points. With but five minutes left he became a veritable demon. He tossed two perfect free throws and the count closed to 52-49. Ned Postels, playing one of basketball's greatest defensive games, exchanged long shots with Mattson of the Gophers; then Jorgensen tipped in Postels' second long one to close the gulf to 54-51.

Wier's field goal from under the basket started a mad rush of both teams up and down the court with the Big Ten's lead hanging in the balance. Wier hit again. Carlson hit for the Gophers. The score was 56-55. Dick Ives fouled out of the game. Two and a half minutes remained.

With the score 59-55 against them, Iowa tried desperately to break up the Gopher's smooth stalling game. Kernan fouled Wier, and the little red-head popped the net twice again from charity lane, completing his mark of six in six attempts.

Then Kernan traveled and Iowa took possession of the ball with eight seconds left. Postels passed to Wier. The little forward took one dribble, ducked under Don Carlson and let the ball go. When the net stopped rustling there were precisely two seconds remaining and the score was tied at 59-59.

Then came that overtime, Jorgensen's great tip-in, Herb's perfect long shot and Iowa's memorable victory.

The scoring chart revealed Iowa's three terrific forwards—Ives, Wier and Danner—tied for the lead with 14 points each, and (See HAWKEYES, page 5)

Misunderstanding Causes City Protests on Control Removal

DES MOINES (AP)—Walter D. Kline, Iowa OPA director, reported yesterday a deluge of protests from Iowa Citizens against eliminating rent control there while D. C. Nolan, president of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce said the whole affair was a misunderstanding and the chamber hadn't asked any such thing.

Nolan declared at Iowa City that the chamber at no time had asked for the removal of rent control or even talked to local rent control officials.

It all started because the United States Chamber of Commerce had asked what should be done to solve the housing problem permanently and Nolan said the board replied it considered "immediate removal of all governmental regulations and restrictions on rentals, materials and construction was the only apparent solution."

"Our reply to Eric Johnston was as to what should be done for a permanent solution to the housing problem," Nolan said.

"In Iowa City the situation will be a 'present situation' for many months and even years unless materials, construction and services are loosened throughout the United States. Loosening these services cannot be complete without removal of all governmental restrictions," Nolan declared.

"Persons doing wishful thinking complained that we asked for removal of rent control. They ignored our inclusion of 'materials and construction' in the same sentence," he said.

Kline cited as typical of the telegrams reaching him one from the State University of Iowa veterans association. Signed by Benjamin Ellsworth, president, it read: "State University Veterans association urges that rent control in Iowa City be considered as the last regulation to be lifted."

Kline said he had received many telegrams from groups of students. One read: "We vigorously protest lifting rental ceilings. Renters are having financial difficulties now. Higher rentals, inevitable result, would disrupt standard of living."

The OPA director, commenting on the request to lift the control, declared "this incident seems to demonstrate once again that the vast majority of citizens are keenly aware of the necessity for continuing controls at this time. There always will be a few selfish persons who will readily refuse to consider the welfare of the people in their own community."

Kline suggested the action of the Iowa City chamber might be part of a nation-wide move to discredit rent controls.

"Many letters received at the district office the past two days tend to confirm this suspicion," he said.

A member of the Iowa university faculty wrote: "From an article in the newspaper and by word of mouth I have learned that the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce has asked for an abrogation of OPA rent control in Iowa City."

Says PH Commanders—'Amplly Warned'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts testified yesterday that his Pearl Harbor investigating commission knew the Hawaii army and navy commanders did not get intercepted Japanese code messages but felt they were amply warned.

Roberts said the presidentially appointed group which he headed did not itself see the "magic" messages by means of which top Washington officials got advance knowledge of many Tokyo moves.

Amid frequent clashes with Republican members of the senate-house committee currently inquiring into the Dec. 7, 1941, disaster he added that he "wouldn't have bothered" to read the messages if they had been made available.

The former justice led his investigators to Pearl Harbor shortly after the attack. The commission accused both Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, the army commander, and Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, Pacific fleet chief, of "dereliction of duty."

Roberts also told the committee yesterday:

1. The White House made public the Roberts commission's full report without any omissions.

2. The commission never located any "winds" message, or pre-Pearl Harbor Tokyo broadcast in the "winds" code to indicate a break with the United States. Tokyo had arranged to make such a broadcast in event communications with agents abroad were disrupted.

Russia Asks Council To Drop Iran Dispute

Reds Say Charges Raised by Government No Longer in Power

LONDON (AP)—Russia asked the United Nations Security council last night to shelve Iran's appeal to the United Nations organization and let the two nations solve their dispute by negotiation after Iran's chief delegate had charged the Soviet Union with interference in the internal affairs of his country.

Without reaching a decision, the 11-nation council adjourned a three-hour debate on its first major issue until 3 p. m. (9:00 a. m. CST) Wednesday.

The Soviet vice-commissioner of foreign affairs, Andrei V. Vishinsky, declared that Iran charges had been "raised by a government no longer in power, and the claims have not sufficient grounds for action by the council."

"I ask the security council," he said, "to leave the matter aside and open for solution by negotiations by both parties. This would be more just and fair and would be in the spirit of good neighbors. We want cordial relations in all parts of the world."

Vishinsky repeatedly asserted there were "no grounds on which the council should concern itself with questions pending between Iran and Russia."

"It is much too early," he declared, "to say that the parties to the dispute cannot come to terms between themselves. The refusal to continue negotiations came from the Iranian side and not the Soviet side. We were and are prepared to continue these negotiations."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson said yesterday that continuation of the draft is "of vital concern to men overseas."

It ends May 15 unless congress acts. President Truman recommended it be renewed if enlistments do not meet the needs of the services.

Reporting to a news conference on his four-week world tour, Patterson said he found that most soldiers with two years' service or more are eager to get home but "there are very few who are not willing to do their duties as soldiers."

VIENNA, Mo. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Gene Westerman, who said he "shot pa down just like I would a hog," was sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary yesterday shortly after his mother, Mrs. Henry Westerman and Ben French, a neighboring farmer, received life terms for the slaying of Henry Westerman, 45.

All three had pleaded guilty. Mrs. Westerman, widow of the slain man, and French admitted planning the bizarre murder and young Gene said in a signed statement that he shot his father after calling him downstairs to the porch. The youth's original charge of first degree murder was changed to second degree murder because of his age.

Father of Ex-Saboteur Tries Suicide Attempt

CHICAGO (AP)—Warden Frank J. Sain of Cook county jail said last night that Hans Max Haupt, father of the executed Nazi saboteur and himself convicted of treason, had stabbed himself 12 times in the abdomen and left wrist with a barber's shears.

Doctors at the county jail, where Haupt was treated, said his condition was only "fair," but indicated it was not critical.

Once before, in July, 1942, Haupt tried to end his life by biting his wrists, Warden Sain related.

At the county jail, the elder Haupt was placed under guard of two deputy federal marshals.

19,000 Ford Workers Get Wage Boost

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A special government mediator appointed by Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach last night flew to Detroit and promptly summoned General Motors corporation and United Auto Workers (CIO) officials to a joint meeting to take place today.

James Dewey, the mediator, a former member of the united labor department conciliation service, predicted the 69-day-old strike would be settled within this week.

Other major developments were: Ford Boosts Wages

Henry Ford II announced yesterday his company had boosted wages for 19,000 salaried and hourly employees 15 percent, following up an 18-cent hourly increase negotiated with the United Auto Workers, (CIO) last week for production workers.

The new group was not covered in the UAW contract, Ford noted, adding the raise will be retroactive to Jan. 1 and will include 4,335 foremen of the company transferred from an hourly to a salary basis.

Ford's action was the latest in a day during which meat industry workers began sending out supplies to fill empty butcher shop shelves, the CIO-UAW announced it planned to press wage demands against Hudson, Packard, Continental Motors, and Briggs Manufacturing companies comparable to the Ford and Chrysler increases negotiated last week.

Steel Strike May End
And though no specific action was apparent in the steel strike, which sent 750,000 United Steelworkers of America (CIO) members off their jobs and has now made some 40,000 more idle for lack of steel supplies, at least one Washington source indicated the strike might end soon.

Editorials:

Rent Controls Must Be Continued Here

Happily the discussion of the removal of rent controls in Iowa City was based on a misunderstanding. The Iowa City Chamber of Commerce did NOT ask OPA to take price ceilings off here.

But the misunderstanding created a furor before it was cleared up. Walter D. Kline, district OPA director in Des Moines, said he had received a "barrage" of letters and telegrams urging that rent controls be continued.

It would have been unfortunate, indeed, to have removed rent ceilings. And in the long run, Iowa City's loss of students probably would have more than wiped out the few dollars home owners would have gained.

A rise in rents, even if only $10 a month, would in many cases have made it financially impossible for married students to remain in the university.

But if congress extends the price control act—and it must extend the act for the good of the nation—manufacturers and builders probably will swing right into full production in order to get what profits are available now.

The profits ARE available now. Henry Kaiser, for instance, is willing even to raise wages in order to get what profits he can.

As for the future, we can take our lessons from the past. Price and rent controls saved us from disastrous inflation during the war when there were shortages of goods and housing. The shortages still exist, and price controls still are our chief bulwark against inflation.

Price controls must be maintained until the supply more nearly approaches the demand. The Chamber of Commerce, which in effect advocates relying on the natural forces in economics, is taking an illogical stand because this is not a natural period.

It is true, as is often claimed by opponents of the OPA, that many manufacturers and builders are not anxious to produce now. They would rather wait until price controls have been removed in hopes of getting higher profits.

But if congress extends the price control act—and it must extend the act for the good of the nation—manufacturers and builders probably will swing right into full production in order to get what profits are available now.

Welcome Tension

It's good to feel tension of the kind that was in the air yesterday. The nation was tense about an uncertain future for so many years that it's a relief to be able to work up "steam" and know when and how you can let it off again.

The thousands of expectant, anxious, excited basketball fans who jammed the fieldhouse for the Iowa-Minnesota game brought back another part of the many components that make a peaceful nation.

For a few hours everything else was forgotten — forgotten without the subconscious dread of being remembered again. It was a happy, carefree excitement. It was real relaxation. It was truly part of the American way of life.

Do Grades Count?

And now comes the time of the year when the expression "grades don't count anyway" is thrown out in a gesture of self defense. And we'll be the first to agree that grades do not count for everything. Neither do production and sales records.

Production figures may be high, for instance, but the costs may be correspondingly higher, too. And sales may be way up, but due only to a fluke.

No, grades do not count for everything. But they are important because they are measuring sticks, just like production figures and sales records.

The only way to determine how much a student got out of a course is by examining his grades. Grades are what the student holds out for the public to see and to judge by.

Grades are unfair, it is true, but they can be defended as the best system yet devised for a prospective employer to estimate the capabilities of an applicant. Rationalization toward any other conclusion is harmful only to the student.

Letters to the Editor: Reader Upholds Rent Control

(Editor's Note: The Daily Iowan invites letters to the editor. The letter must bear the writer's name and address, but his name will not be published if so requested.)

Rent Control

TO THE EDITOR: To anyone who has recently apartment-hunted, the possibility of a removal of rent control in Iowa City is shocking.

Not quite as shocking or surprising is the statement of Mr. Nolan, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Nolan expresses the belief that the "quickest way back to normalcy is to remove all governmental restriction on prices, rentals, materials and construction. Free enterprise and laws of supply and demand will adjust conditions sooner than any other factor."

Several of Mr. Nolan's statements need analyzing. Eliminating a critical estimate of the cliches involved, one can only conclude that the Chamber of Commerce needs a brushing-up course in the economics department. Whenever demand is great and supply negligible, prices may be expected to rise, unless price controls exist.

Is there a critical shortage of housing in Iowa City? Can Mr. Nolan answer "No" to that question? If he can, then why did the Chamber of Commerce agree to assist in the housing survey? If a housing shortage is a figment of student imagination, then why did the university and community groups feel the need to make their survey? Why the ads for apartments that daily appear in our papers? Why trailer camps or conversion of university buildings into dormitories?

The answer is that Iowa City does have a critical housing shortage and the situation is not expected to improve during this year.

Is there a possibility that the action of Iowa City's Chamber of Commerce is a local manifestation of a national drive to destroy price control? Throughout the country the chambers of commerce aligned with the National Association of Manufacturers, reactionary newspaper publishers and a certain segment of congress are engaged in an all-out war to crack the price structure. Their rallying cry is a faith in the ability of "free enterprise" to keep prices down. But "free enterprise" sent citrus fruit prices soaring when controls were removed at Christmas time.

The fight is on. On one hand we have the well organized chambers of commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers. On the other side stand the millions of American consumers who stand to lose all in the spiraling inflation that will follow the removal of OPA restrictions.

The issue is clear cut. No price control and greater profits versus price control and an equal "break" for manufacturers and consumers. There isn't a more worthy or important fight than this. If we all join in it, the consumers and the nation can be the victors.

Norman Garmezy 611 N. Johnson street (It was learned yesterday that neither the Chamber of Commerce nor D. C. Nolan, president of the chamber, asked that rent controls in Iowa City be removed immediately. The chamber merely suggested in response to a nationwide survey that the removal of ALL wartime government restrictions (rent, price, etc., controls) would speed reconversion. We agree with Mr. Garmezy that complete removal must not come for some time.—Editor.)

Labor's Wage Needs

TO THE EDITOR: Through advertising and various other methods, management is trying to convince the public they are eager to cooperate with labor and that, through labor's efforts, they are a much maligned group. But how much, if any, of this criticism of management by the worker is deserved?

The department of labor has figured the "break even" income of a city family at $1,950. This means a city family must have such an income to provide the bare decencies of life.

Let us take, as an example, the meat packing industry, which is now striking for a wage increase. The average hourly wage in the industry is 82 cents an hour with a minimum of 72 cents. Thus, the yearly income of an employee in the industry is $1,705 for a 42-week year. It means he is getting $245 less than the "break even" figure unless he works overtime. If he is paid the minimum wage he gets approximately $1,500 a year, or $450 less than is needed to support his family.

These figures show that meat packing company employees need a raise to 93 cents an hour, an increase of 13 1/4 percent. This applies only to those earning the average wage; those earning the minimum wage are in an even worse position financially.

If proof can be given that the company, in granting such an increase, will operate at a loss then it is time to raise the price ceilings. Certainly the workers need a wage increase, even if price adjustments are necessary.

The meat packing industry is not the only one in which this situation exists. The steel, mining and auto industries have workers drawing less than enough in their pay envelopes to provide the bare necessities of life. As long as there are persons in this country earning less than enough to provide them with these necessities the phrase, "the dignity of man," is an empty one. When men are forced to exist in such a manner it certainly is time to re-evaluate the situation and place the blame where it belongs.

Iowa Play Festival To Resume Prewar Productions in March

The Iowa play production festival for community and high school groups will take place this year in March for the first time since 1941, having been discontinued during wartime, it was announced yesterday.

This will be the 18th festival of one-act plays, and as in the past will be under the sponsorship of the university's speech and dramatic arts department, the extension division, and the community drama committee of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs.

The high school division is set for March 27-30, and the community section from March 31 to April 2. The program will include demonstrations and a round table discussion on problems of acting, directing, staging, playwriting and the educational aspects of dramatic art.

All Iowa high schools are eligible to enroll, and the divisions are classes A, B and C according to each school's enrollment. The community division has classes A, B, C and D for little theater groups, community drama groups, first production of original one-act plays, and church groups.

Groups rated superior or excellent by the judges will receive certificates of awards. Entrance deadline for all groups will be March 1 and must be made with the extension division.

Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the department of speech and dramatic art, is chairman of the festival committee, and W. A. Dozier, Jr. of the speech department is festival secretary.

From All Around The State

DES MOINES (AP)—Housing for new students at Drake university, which had threatened to become a major problem, yesterday appeared to be the lesser educational crisis.

"We have the housing shortage under control," declared George S. Beery, dean of students. "I am much encouraged over the way things have turned out."

Which leaves the big new question: where to find staff and facilities to educate the now housed veterans?

Registrars pondered the question during second semester freshmen and sophomore enrollment yesterday. English and math sections were reported "filled to capacity" by late afternoon.

President Henry Harmon said the classroom and laboratory setup had been balanced with the anticipated new enrollment, but that an unprecedented number of new applications had been received.

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Strong futurity classes yesterday featured the annual Iowa Hereford association pre-sale show here. Nominations cost $25 a head, and Iowa breeders brought out their best. Champion futurity bull was shown by Letts and Turkington of Letts, with reserve championship going to Hillandale Farms, Muscatine. Female futurity championship was won by McMahon brothers, Graf, and reserve championship by Letts and Turkington.

DES MOINES (AP)—The second examination for candidates for real estate dealer licenses was conducted yesterday by the Iowa real estate commission. Commission officials said it could not be determined until today how many completed the test.

Of the 25 who took the first examination earlier this month, 18 won licenses. The test will be given the second and fourth Monday of each month hereafter. Fifty applications for licenses now are on file.

DES MOINES (AP)—Nearly twice as many applications for education benefits and on-the-job training were made in the first four weeks of January in Iowa veterans administration offices as in the prior 18 months during which the servicemen's readjustment act was in effect.

Ralph H. Klinesilver, chief of the registration and research section of the vocational rehabilitation and education division, said that since Jan. 1 a total of 10,794 applications have been received compared with 5,871 since June 22, 1944.

Applications are coming in at the rate of 250 to 300 a day, Klinesilver said.

DES MOINES (AP)—Mrs. Florence B. Carpenter, former teacher in Sioux City and Des Moines schools, died yesterday at her home here after a brief illness.

The widow of Timothy E. Carpenter, she had resided in Des Moines since 1918.

She was an active worker in the DAR and the Democratic party organization in Polk county.

DES MOINES (AP)—The minister who fails to be an evangelist is a failure, Dr. Ernest E. Smith declared here last night.

"Some of us fear evangelism, as it has been vulgarized and even financialized," Dr. Smith stated. "But we ought to restore it to its proper place and usage and realize that we are anemic in the ministry unless we have it."

Dr. Smith, president of Sioux Falls college at Sioux Falls, S. D., spoke at the Iowa Baptist ministers' retreat, sponsored by the ministers' council.

University to Follow Present Building Plan, H. C. Shull Reports

In regard to hiring architects for university building, Henry C. Shull of Sioux City, president of the state board of education, said "the university plans to go along on the present basis" yesterday in a report to the interim committee of the Iowa state legislature.

The committee, meeting in the senate chamber of Old Capitol, was called to hear the report on the architect proposal and the critical housing shortage.

The proposal would limit the university to one architect who would handle all building plans. At present the university has one architect, George L. Horner, who makes preliminary investigations of building. The university then employs a firm of independent architects to complete plans for the building.

A report on the acute housing shortage for married students was given to the interim committee, and the committee discussed the trailer units which are now to be set up on Old Iowa field, west of reserve library.

Members of the interim committee present were: Senator Irving Long, Manchester, president; Representative Carroll Lane, secretary, Carroll; Senator Jans T. Dykhouse, Rock Rapids; Senator Robert C. Riley, Dubuque; Senator Leroy S. Mercer, Iowa City; Representative George Farmer, Cedar Rapids; Representative E. E. Poston, Corydon, and Representative Frank Less, Cascade.

Veterans to Live In Fieldhouse

With all other men's housing facilities filled, student housing authorities started yesterday assigning veterans to quarters in the top floor of the fieldhouse, according to Fred W. Ambrose, university business manager.

Single men will be housed in barrack-type quarters in the fieldhouse, and they may eat at the quadrangle cafeteria.

"We are using whatever is available in the way of furniture now," Ambrose said. "Until the arrival of the new double decked beds, the men will sleep on cots and single and double decked beds."

Explaining that the fieldhouse can eventually house approximately 660 men, Ambrose said that, except for a few cancellations of contracts in other housing units for men, all men students will hereafter be assigned to the fieldhouse quarters.

The last men's dormitory to be filled, the south quadrangle, formerly the naval administration building, had a full quota several days ago, according to William Coder, director of the university veterans service. The plans have always been that as soon as other housing units were filled, the fieldhouse would be used to house the overflow, Coder said.

'One Man Army' Sued For Divorce in Manila

MANILA, Tuesday (AP)—A petition asking annulment of her marriage to Maj. Arthur Wermuth, "one-man army" of Bataan, was filed in the Manila courts today, signed by Mrs. Olivia Josephine Oswald Wermuth.

She was a nurse on Bataan, and said in her petition that she married Wermuth in Manila Dec. 7, 1941, not knowing that he had a wife in the United States.

(Wermuth was married June 1, 1945, to Jean Wilkins of Chicago.) Manila newspapers Sept. 11 carried pictures of Mrs. Olivia Wermuth of Manila, who had been informed of Wermuth's liberation. In an accompanying interview, she said she had been "praying and hoping" for his safe return.

Her petition stated that Wermuth was ordered to rejoin his regiment less than 24 hours after the marriage, when Japanese attacked the Philippines. She said she joined Wermuth in the last desperate days on Bataan, where she acted as a civilian nurse until the surrender.

Peace Tasks Vets to Total Half Of Population

Citizens of Johnson county are not yet fully aware of the gigantic task ahead when veterans of World War II return to civilian life in large numbers, according to Prof. Harold W. Saunders, chairman of the Johnson county Red Cross chapter.

"Veterans of the second World War and of previous wars may total almost as many as twenty million," Dr. Saunders said, "a figure equal to almost half the population of the United States will be made up of veterans and their families."

Red Cross is ready to help the veteran and his family in obtaining government benefits where the veteran is entitled to them, to aid with financial assistance if needed until his claim is settled, and to offer consultation and guidance on individual and family problems, Professor Saunders said.

Urging veterans with claims to file them now, Professor Saunders said, "Our home service department is ready to aid in the prompt presentation of claims."

"In the first World War," Professor Saunders continued, "no attempt was made to obtain routine filing of claims for benefits at the time of discharge. As a result, some veterans of that war today—just 27 years later—are filing claims for the first time. In many cases it is impossible to obtain the necessary evidence of service connection so long after discharge from the service. I urge veterans who have claims to take advantage of the machinery Red Cross has set up for them."

Iowa Debaters Win Tourney

Iowa women debaters, Ruth Koch, A4 of Rock Island, Ill.; Jean Collier, A3 of Freeport, Ill.; Virginia Rosenberg, A2 of Burlington, and Betty Ann Erickson, A3 of Spencer, won the annual Big Ten debate-discussion tournament at Northwestern university Friday and Saturday with victories in six contests. The subject was, "Resolved, That the federal government should substantially extend social security."

Indiana university placed second in the contests. Trying for first among forty contestants in three rounds of discussion on "What shall be done about social security?" were Miss Rosenberg and Miss Erickson.

In a similar tournament last year, Iowa tied with Northwestern for first place.

Marilyn Nesper, G of Toledo, Ohio, director of women's discussion-debate programs, accompanied the teams.

The Western conference tournament scheduled for next year will be held in November at the University of Minnesota.

The men's division of the Western Conference Debating league has scheduled its tournament for April 4-5 at Northwestern university.

MISS WOHLNER ENGAGED

MR. AND MRS. Albert L. Wohlner of Omaha, Neb., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Corinne, to Ansel Chapman, son of Mrs. Dora Chapman of Iowa City. The wedding will be an event of April. Miss Wohlner was graduated from Central high school in Omaha and the University of Iowa, where she was affiliated with Sigma Delta Tau social sorority. Mr. Chapman was graduated from the University of Iowa and Yale law school in New Haven, Conn. He is affiliated with Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity. The couple will reside in Iowa City.

Students Cooperate In Clothing Drive

Enough clothing to fill a trunk about eight feet by four feet was collected from university housing units Saturday by members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Chief articles included bedding, shoes, skirts, trousers, sweaters and "an overcoat I should have kept myself," according to Hugh Ames, A2 of Iowa City, chairman of the student division of the Victory clothing drive for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation association.

All the clothing was in good condition, Ames reported. After a collection is made at Currier hall this afternoon the clothing will be turned in at the local UNRRA headquarters in City hall.

Friendly Newcomers To Meet Thursday

The Friendly Newcomers, club for young Methodist wives, will meet at the Wesley Foundation annex Thursday from 2 to 5 p. m. to continue the work in crafts.

Wives of Methodist men who are entering the university the second semester are urged to come to the meeting. Children may be left in the church kindergarten.

married students not to bring their wives to Iowa City unless they have previously obtained adequate living quarters. Unmarried students were advised to arrange for living quarters before planning to enter the university.

"In brief," said President Hancher, "all prospective students are cautioned to defer their attempts to register until they have assurance that housing and other facilities are available for their needs."

Preliminary registration for the second semester has been in progress here since Jan. 15. Hence, the ban on out-of-state registrants will affect only those who had not contacted the university before Saturday concerning their desire to register.

SUI Registration Temporarily Closed to Out-of-State Students

The university temporarily closed registration in four undergraduate colleges yesterday to out-of-state students.

The ruling, announced by President Virgil M. Hancher, provides that non-residents of Iowa will not be permitted to enroll in the colleges of liberal arts, commerce, engineering and pharmacy for the second semester, beginning Feb. 4, unless they applied for admission to the registrar's office prior to noon Saturday, Jan. 26. The ruling was approved by the Iowa state board of education in session here yesterday.

Prospective students who are residents of Iowa are not affected by the ruling. Also specifically excepted from the ban are:

1. Non-resident students whose fathers or mothers are alumni of the University of Iowa.
2. All former students of this university, including those in the army specialized training program and similar military education programs of college grade, who are otherwise qualified on academic grounds, and
3. The spouse of any veteran student eligible for admission to the university for the session beginning Feb. 4.

The colleges of medicine, dentistry, education, law and the graduate college are not affected by the ban.

The shortage of housing and instructional facilities in some areas of the undergraduate colleges were listed as causes for the interim regulation.

President Hancher also announced that plans for admitting all students, resident and non-resident, for periods of study beginning March 4 and April 1, have been suspended pending review to the university's admission policy.

Causes Listed
The acute housing situation and the shortage of instructional facilities in some areas of the undergraduate colleges were listed as causes for the interim regulation.

"The university cannot undertake to provide housing and instructional facilities for an unlimited number of eligible and qualified students," the announcement said.

Purdue Rallies To Overcome Badgers 59-46

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers gave acting Coach Mel Taube his first Western conference basketball victory last night as they came from behind in the second half to whip Wisconsin, 59 to 46.

The Boilermaker comeback that produced their third conference victory in eight contests, was a one-man show staged by forward Paul Hoffman.

With Purdue trailing, 31 to 23, five minutes after the opening of the second half, Taube's hard-dribbling senior ace found the cords with three consecutive shots from close in. Freshman Norman McCool then knotted the count at 31-all with a field goal from the side.

Bob Cook pulled the Badgers out of their tailspin temporarily, but with the score 41 to 40 for Wisconsin, Hoffman broke loose again for two field goals and two free throws. Wisconsin crumpled quickly after that and absorbed its fifth straight Big Ten beating.

In all, Hoffman collected nine field goals and seven free tosses for 25 points—and all but three free throws came in the final 15 minutes of the ball game. He connected on half his 18 attempts from the field.

The first half was a loosely-played 20 minutes. Both teams threw the ball away consistently and experienced difficulty in locating the hoop. Wisconsin ended the half on the long end of a 23-to-18 count.

Little Bob Cook, the ace point-getter for Coach Bud Foster's Wisconsin quintet all season, took the Badger offensive on his shoulders again, getting seven field goals and five free throws.

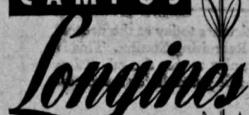

Purdue hit 20 of their 66 shots from the field en route to Taube's first success after taking over the coaching reins from Ward Lambert last week. Purdue lost to Minnesota last Saturday in Taube's debut.

Wisconsin connected 15 times from the field in 58 attempts.

Sauer New Kansas Grid Coach

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY (AP)—The appointment yesterday of George Sauer, former All-American full-back at Nebraska, as head football coach at the University of Kansas completed a general face-changing job in Big Six conference grid mentors for the 1946 season.

Only at Iowa State, where big Mike Michalek has been in charge for three years, will Big Six gridders report for spring practice to their coach of a season ago.

Athletic Director E. C. Quigley of Kansas said that Sauer will come to the Jayhawk institution on a three-year contract and be given a free hand in choosing his own assistants.

Sauer was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1934 after playing three years for Dana X. Bible, now athletic director at the University of Texas. He served as freshman football and basketball coach of Nebraska for one season, then joined the Green Bay Packers of the National Professional football league where he played in 1935 and '36.

In 1937, Sauer assumed head football coaching duties at the University of New Hampshire and remained there until he entered the navy in April, 1942. A lieutenant commander, he was discharged from the navy Oct. 8, 1945.

The coaching picture at other Big Six schools: Missouri—Don Faurot, whose Missouri teams won three conference titles in eight years before he went into the navy early in 1943, is back at his alma mater as head coach and director of athletics.

Faurot succeeds Chauncey Simpson, a long-time Faurot assistant who coached Missouri to a Big Six title last fall. Simpson will remain at Missouri as chief football assistant and head track coach.

Oklahoma—Jim Tatum, ex-University of North Carolina star athlete and later head coach, has succeeded Dewey Luster as head football coach. Tatum, while in the navy, assisted Don Faurot in coaching the Jacksonville (Fla.) Naval Air Station team.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ike Williams, the NBA lightweight champion of Trenton, N. J., and Freddie Dawson, Chicago, fought to a disputed ten-round draw last night in a non-title scrap at the arena before a sell-out crowd of 9,519 who paid a gross of $27,136.

A chorus of boos greeted the decision as many ringers thought that Dawson, knocked out in four rounds by Williams in September, 1944, had earned a clean-cut victory over the champion.

Buckeyes Smash 'Cats Hopes In Conference With 47-41 Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's Bucks kept their Western Conference title hopes alive last night with a last-half surge which produced a 47 to 41 victory over Northwestern before 2,100 fans.

It was Ohio State's sixth victory in eight conference games and for Northwestern the defeat, its third, virtually wiped out all Big Ten championship hopes.

Ohio State had to make up a four point deficit in the last half to take the decision. So closely fought was the encounter that the score was tied seven times and the lead changed hands on six occasions.

Northwestern had a 25-21 lead at halftime but the Bucks rallied sharply at the start of the second half and took the lead in the first few minutes never to be headed thereafter.

Amazing accuracy at the free throw line contributed largely to Ohio State's victory, the Bucks hitting 15 out of 18 charity tosses.

Improvement Heps Hawklets

Vast improvement was shown by Coach Gil Wilson's City high quintet last Friday night when they almost beat a Davenport team that had humbled the local cagers earlier in the season.

In the first meeting in Davenport, the rival squad whipped the Hawklets by a decisive 47-22 margin. Friday evening the Little Hawks held a lead over the Blue Devils for more than half the game, and might have beaten the favored Imps had they been more consistent in their shots.

Next Friday the Little Hawks meet what has so far been the top team in the state in Clinton's River Kings. The river team has lost only one game all season, that being to Sterling, Ill., by one point. Dean Burridge, star King forward, is the Mississippi Valley scoring leader with two of his teammates following closely behind.

The Hawklets lost to Clinton on the rival floor two weeks ago by a 64-32 count, when Burridge hit the hoop for 23 markers. City high will have the slight advantage of meeting the powerful River Kings in Iowa City, but will still go into the tussle as the underdogs.

Williams, Dawson Battle to Ten-Round Lightweight Draw

Wier Hero in Iowa Lockerroom; Gopher Coach Bitter in Defeat

Quiet—contrasted to the bedlam that spread over the Iowa fieldhouse as the Hawkeyes grabbed the Big Ten basketball lead last night—settled over the Hawk dressing room. Here and there well wishers gathered around their favorites to congratulate them on their miraculous last period recovery to score Iowa's 19th straight win in the fieldhouse. . . . Clayt Wilkinson, Iowa center, proclaimed that the Minnesota offense was the "finest" he had ever seen. His brother Herb chimed in with the statement "Your man was in front of you one second and the next he disappeared" . . .

Autograph hounds clustered around big Noble Jorgensen as he tried to pull off his game clothes. The big boy had little to say about the game other than it was too close for comfort. . . . Little Murray Wier, who tied up the ball game in the last 15 seconds

Student Council should start at once to provide for a student trip to the Minnesota game March 2. . . . No one was allowed in the Gopher dressing room as all such attempts met with firm ejections. . . .

Pops Harrison paid off a bet on the free throws made in the ball game and said that he was never so glad to be "relieved" of his money. . . . He fretted from player to player to see if they were all right and forced Noble Jorgensen to dry his hair more carefully for fear that he would catch a cold. . . .

First family in the fieldhouse came from Winfield and arrived at two o'clock. . . . They brought their lunch and made a holiday of it. . . . By five there were over a thousand fans in the fieldhouse and an hour and a half later over 7,200 swarmed over the bleachers.

Students began to arrive at five and occupied themselves by playing bridge—eating or cramming for finals. . . . Fans from Minnesota found much to their dismay that once at Iowa City their worries were not over. . . . Scalpers demanded exorbitant prices and once tickets were gotten they did not assure a seat in the fieldhouse. . . .

Frequent demands for glass or polaroid bankbooks were heard from patrons who were forced to sit behind the baskets and the public address system. . . .

Ticket men proclaimed that there were more people present than when Iowa beat Illinois for its first Big Ten title a year ago. . . . No announcement was made though that a new record was set to better the 14,400 that piled in to see Iowa top Illinois. . . .

In the jubilation over the Iowa win many of the fans were prone to forget that a tough schedule still confronts the Hawks. . . . Those that did remember were inclined to laugh it off and say "that any team that can come back like Iowa did is a born bunch of champions. . . ."

Coach Dave Mac Millian of Minnesota maintained to the end that big Jim McIntyre should have been awarded two shots two seconds before the game closed because the big freshman had been deliberately fouled by Noble Jorgensen. . . . "A couple more bad decisions and a few mistakes — that we haven't made before and won't make again—cost us the ball game. IOWA DIDN'T BEAT US, WE BEAT OURSELVES."

There was a rumor present that one of the giant Swedes had pushed a Boy Scout after the battle was over last night, but none of the Scouts appeared in search of medical aid.

St. Pat's Seek Repeat Win In Riverside

Starting Lineups

Pos.	St. Patrick's	Riverside
M. Hoyer	F	Kiefer
Brown	F	Schneider
Seemuth	C	Draker
Belger	G	Droll
T. Hoyer	G	Muller

In an attempt to break a four game losing streak the Shamrocks of St. Patrick's take to the road tonight to engage St. Mary's of Riverside on the latter's floor.

While the starting lineup for the Irish was not decided last night, it appeared that Bob Brown had regained his starting berth on the front court.

Brown led the Shamrock scorers in the 36-34 loss to St. Mary's of Iowa City with 11 points.

The rest of the Irish lineup will remain the same. Merle Hoyer will pair with Brown on the Irish front court. Phil Seemuth will get the call at center while Charlie Belger and Tom Hoyer will share guard duties.

The Shamrocks hold an earlier win over the Riverside club and enter the contest decided favorites.

The Riverside chances for victory were hurt considerably with the injury of regular forward Louie Paillet in a game with St. Mathias of Muscatine last week.

The main hopes of the Marions will be placed on Draker at center and Droll at guard.

Because of their highly individualized comedy style, "Amos 'n' Andy" have done most of their own writing since the inception of their radio show many years ago. The boys "build" their programs from natural situations instead of jokes and the chuckles result from outlandish bits of dialogue such as the "Kingfish's" recent explanation of the human digestive processes.

"Kingfish" was telling "Andy" what happens when a person eats a meat ball. He explained, "De meat ball goes down de sophyaga an' flips up and down on dat, den makes a sharp turn left into your arm an' stops when it hits up against de cartidges. It blows de arm an' at night when you turn over in your sleep, de meat ball goes over in de other arm an' blows dat, too. When you gits up in de mornin' it leaves de arm, knocks over a few caputaries and heads for de appendicitis. Now de brain tips off de thyroid and de liver dat here's a meat ball on de loose, an' dey sends out red and white corpuscles with orders to 'git dat meat ball!' Den de fight starts. De meat ball banks off de floatin' red, sideswipes de kidney that's the way it should have been. All three were wonderful. Noble Jorgensen played his greatest game for Iowa and helped Clayton Wilkinson tether lofty Jim McIntyre to a mere seven points. Herb Wilkinson, Ned Postels, even Tony Guzowski who subbed for Herb at the end—all were true champions.

In the glow of victory, folks forgot that the victory was Iowa's 20th straight at home. No one cared much; they were too busy thinking about the tough road ahead in quest of another Big Ten title.

SUI Plans To Register 3,000 Students

Arrangements are being made to register 1,500 students Friday and 1,500 Saturday, stated Registrar Paul E. Blommers yesterday. "It is not anticipated that 3,000 or more new students will register for the second semester, but it seems wise under the circumstances to set up plans which will take care of the most extreme situation," Blommers said.

"We should know definitely by not later than 3 o'clock Friday afternoon how much time Saturday will be needed to complete registration," he continued.

Students entering or re-entering the college of liberal arts, commerce, education and the graduate college will register according to number at Iowa Union.

550 Freshmen
Five hundred fifty freshmen began tests yesterday morning in Macbride auditorium, directed by Robert Ebel of the examinations service office. Of that number, 45 were women, Ebel said. The freshmen met at 8 a. m. to receive instructions for their examinations and for the registration procedure.

Objective tests, speaking tests, general essay tests, and communication skills examinations will be given throughout the week to entering students. Objective tests will be finished by Wednesday noon, speaking practicals, by Thursday.

A basic skills test in mathematics to be given to entering freshmen Tuesday, Feb. 12, is separate from the tests now being taken. The mathematics examination will have no direct effect on freshman schedules for the new semester, but will be used in making up class lists for the regular course in basic skills in mathematics next fall.

Veterans Office Busy
At the office of the registrar, students streamed in constantly yesterday to secure registration materials and to hand in finished materials. The university veterans service office was also filled with students seeking registration information.

"Registration materials for students already on campus have been coming in much faster," Blommers said.

Friday and Saturday the Union will be marked off into sections, table signs indicating the places reserved for each department. Each department will have a table and instructors there to help students choose and register for courses. A staff of scheduling assistants will be on duty constantly to assist students in setting up schedules.

Engineering Registration
Students in the college of engineering who have registered in the university before will obtain registration materials and register in the office of Dean Francis M. Dawson Friday and Saturday. Beginning freshmen in the college of engineering are instructed to report to room 314, pharmacy-botany building, Thursday for examinations. There they will receive registration materials and complete registration in Dean Dawson's office.

Pharmacy students will obtain registration materials and register in the office of Dean R. A. Kuever Thursday and Friday. Beginning freshmen in the college of pharmacy will meet in the office of the dean at 8 a. m. Thursday for instructions concerning registration, which must be completed by them Friday.

Tuition for the second semester must be paid in full at the office of the treasurer, University hall, between Tuesday, Feb. 5, and Saturday, Feb. 9. Those failing to pay tuition before noon, Feb. 9, are subject to a late registration fine which is assessed automatically by the treasurer. The fine is two dollars for the first day and one dollar for each additional day of delay beyond the payment deadline.

Money Order Service
Money order service between the United States and Belgium will be resumed Feb. 1, in accordance with a request from the Belgian postal administration, it was announced yesterday.

ENTERING FRESHMEN STUDENTS ponder over essay examinations in Macbride hall. Objective tests, speaking examinations, general essay tests and communication skills tests will be taken by them throughout the week.

Candidates to Receive Degrees Thursday

Degree candidates from 23 states, 38 Iowa counties, and one foreign country are listed for the university's mid-year commencement Thursday evening.

One hundred thirty-one awards will be issued at the 8 p. m. ceremony in Iowa Union. The entire proceedings will be broadcast by WSUI.

Johnson, Linn and Polk counties have the greatest number of candidates, with Scott, Mahaska and Emmet ranking next, Illinois leads the out-state group, with Missouri and Pennsylvania next.

President Virgil Hancher will award the degrees and give the charge to the candidates. Russell D. Cole, president of Cornell college, will give the commencement address.

Checkup of Fraternities Shows Houses Above Average Condition

A checkup of all social fraternity houses last Saturday, made at the request of the Interfraternity council by Marion Huit, assistant director in the office of student affairs, and Graham Marshall, manager of the fraternity business service, showed that all houses were above average in condition, according to Bill Boswell, A2 of Marshalltown, president of the Interfraternity council.

The council asked that the survey be made, he said, because of complaints concerning plumbing, cleanliness and general condition of the houses.

Mowing pastures two or three times during the growing season will control weeds and bushes and improve grazing.

University to Show Full-Length Movie, 'Scarlet Pimpernel'

"The Scarlet Pimpernel," a full length movie produced by United Artists, will be shown as the third in the 1946 University Film series Friday, according to Prof. A. F. Megrew of the art department. The film will be shown at 4:15 p. m. and 8 p. m. in the art auditorium.

Starring Leslie Howard and Merle Oberon, the film is adapted from a novel written by Baroness d'Orcey, a writer of melodramatic historical tales during the first quarter of this century.

"The Scarlet Pimpernel" is a story of the revolutionary French underground and the part an English nobleman, Leslie Howard, plays, leaving only the mark of his signet ring as the Scarlet Pimpernel.

Series tickets are still available for six performances at two dollars. Single admissions may be purchased at the door for 50 cents. Series tickets may be used for attendance at the matinee, but matinee tickets will not be honored at the evening performance, Professor Megrew said.

Until the middle of the 1860's type was set by hand as in the days of Gutenberg and Caxton.
