GOOD MORNING, IOWA CITY!

Light showers with moderate winds are forecast for Iowa City today, with rain changing to snow tonight.

Yamashita Granted Execution Stay

Capt. Kramer Denies Being 'Pressured'

Contradicts Testimony Made by Officer In P. H. Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capt. A. D. Kramer contradicted points of a fellow naval officer's Pearl Harbor testimony yesterday and heatedly denied that anyone had "pressured" him to do so.

Kramer also denied Republican assertions made at the outset of the congressional investigation that he was "beleaguered" in a hospital in effort to influence his story.

Kramer contradicted two statements of Capt. L. F. Safford.

1. That Washington had a three-day tip-off that Japan meant war through interception of a "winds" code message on Dec. 4, 1941.

2. That after the attack orders went through the navy department to destroy any personal memoranda relating to it.

Kramer said he never heard the order.

No Mention of U. S. As for the "winds" message, Kramer said there was an "apartheid one" on Dec. 5, but its meaning was that relations between Japan and Great Britain were endangered and there was no mention of the United States.

Rep. Gearhart (R., Calif.) recalled that Safford testified orders were dispatched Dec. 4 for destruction of American naval codes at Guam because of the "winds" message. He asked whether some one had "pointed out" to Kramer that in view of this testimony he "had better say" the winds message he saw was on the 5th.

"Nobody has pointed out anything to me," the slim, greying officer replied heatedly.

Did Not Hear Order

Kramer declared he never heard anyone say there was an order to destroy memoranda until Safford testified of it last week.

Safford said an order for destruction of personal memoranda came from Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, and was passed around verbally. He said he passed the word to Krammer.

At the time, Safford said, officers were told such memoranda might fall into the hands of persons who would use it in a "whispering campaign" against Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, then Pacific fleet commander.

Safford said the order seemed logical then, but he later suspected a conspiracy to cover up what he declared was the fact that the navy had intercepted a Japanese "winds" code message giving a three-day tip-off that war was coming.

Psychologists to Begin Study Of Transferees From Eldora

ANAMOSA (AP)—For 85 boys segregated in the annex at the men's reformatory at Anamosa, yesterday marked the beginning of a study which may result in some sort of change for them.

Dr. Harold Skeels, psychologist for the state board of control, arrived yesterday to begin a series of examinations on the boys who were transferred here from the Eldora state training school for boys because they were too difficult to handle there.

One 13-year-old boy, a short blond lad, smiled as the doctor walked along a row of cells with Warden Foss David. When the warden stopped to ask about a boil on his neck the lad said, "It's okay. My neck was getting dirty because I hadn't been washing over the boil, but finally I just went ahead and washed it anyhow."

An older boy in the next cell merely gave an expressionless "Hello, sir," to the warden's greetings. A Negro boy sat at a desk reading a Bible. A slender, dark-haired lad was lying on his bed reading a magazine.

One boy stood with his hands on the bars of his cell which contained only a mattress lying on the floor. He had thrown out all of the other furniture and torn out the light fixture. He did not smile.

F. W. Carlsen, board member who came from Des Moines for the beginning tests, said they were being given because, "we don't want to just forget these boys. Through such tests we will be in a better position to know what to do for them."

Skeels said the first step would be to give a personality inventory to each boy.

He said he then would pool the information of questionnaires, interviews and personal records on each boy with that gathered from institution superintendents and make his recommendations.

Some may be recommended for return to Eldora, Skeels said, and some probably will be so far out of line that they will be recommended for study by a psychiatrist. In the latter case, these boys will be sent to the psychiatric hospital at Iowa City or for study by a psychiatrist of one of the mental hospitals.

OPA Turns Down Des Moines Request To End Rent Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman yesterday solidly backed Edwin W. Pauley over the criticism of Secretary Ickes, and said he would not withdraw Pauley's nomination to be undersecretary of the navy.

"Such use of Japanese enemy troops against the national movement in Indonesia undermines the authority of the United Nations and should not be permitted," he said.

Court Rules Veteran Entitled to Promotion To Police Captain

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—District Judge Harold Davidson ruled yesterday that acting Police Captain Herbert Mace was holding his position illegally, and that Detective Frank Altrock was entitled to promotion to captain.

The decision came in a suit brought by Altrock against Chief of Police Earl Miller and Mayor William Byers. Altrock alleged that the chief, with the mayor's knowledge, had promoted Mace two ranks, although Altrock held seniority.

Mr. Truman's firm endorsement of Pauley, wealthy California oil operator and former Democratic treasurer, made it clear that he fully credits Pauley's denials of the statements made by Ickes at hearings of the Senate naval committee. The hearings, sitting Pauley's qualifications for the No. 2 post in the navy, are in recess now until Monday.

Vardaman Faces Examination

Still a third presidential appointment, that of Commodore James K. Vardaman Jr., White House naval aide, to a 14-year term on the federal reserve board, faces examination in secret session by a banking subcommittee.

Train Wreck Causes Minor Injury to Four

NILES, Mich. (AP) — Several persons were reported injured last night when a section of the New York Central's twilight limited was derailed a short distance northeast of Niles.

The army sixth service command withheld identification of the dead men, pending notification of next of kin.

One wing of the plane was within two feet of the back porch of the house occupied by Louis Hubbard and another wing was four feet from a residence occupied by his mother.

Two Army Fliers Die in Crash of Trainer

CHICAGO (AP) — Two army fliers were killed yesterday when their small training plane crashed and burned in the back yard of a residence on Chicago's south side.

The AT-6 plane, based at army hangars at Chicago Municipal airport, narrowly missed an elementary school filled with children about a block away. Flames rose 50 feet high after it exploded, witnesses told police, but wind blew the fire away from the two-story frame house. Firemen quickly put out the blaze.

Board Advises 16 Cent Raise

Officials Predict Steel Price Boost; House Passes Case Bill

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The federal fact-finding board in the nation's meat packing wage dispute last night recommended a general wage increase of 16 cents an hour for 90,000 production employees of five major packing companies.

AFL Meatcutters union officials said they would ask their members to accept the proposal "at this time."

There was no immediate reaction from the CIO packinghouse workers.

The house passed the Case bill 258 to 155 and sent it to the Senate where opponents claimed it was in for tough sledging. Despite bitter opposition from friends of organized labor, the bill passed with only minor modifications.

At almost the same time, officials close to economic planning predicted steel prices would be boosted to $3.25 a ton to offset proposed wage increases in the strike-ridden steel industry.

The new strike control bill by Representative Case (R., S. D.) sets up a federal mediation board and forbids strikes and lockouts for 30 days. It also provides for court injunctions, civil suits, outlaw violence and bans boycotts. Opponents predicted the Senate would greatly modify or perhaps reject the measure, which goes beyond President Truman's request for fact-finding legislation.

Although no progress was reported in settling the General Motors strike, the CIO United Auto workers announced agreement on a contract with the Champion Spark Plug Co. in Detroit providing wage boosts from 18 to 26 cents hourly for 800 workers.

Scattered Fighting Continues in Indonesia

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—A British communiqué said today that Indonesian artillery, machineguns and mortars were hammering British positions at Gombel Hill, just south of Semarang in north central Java.

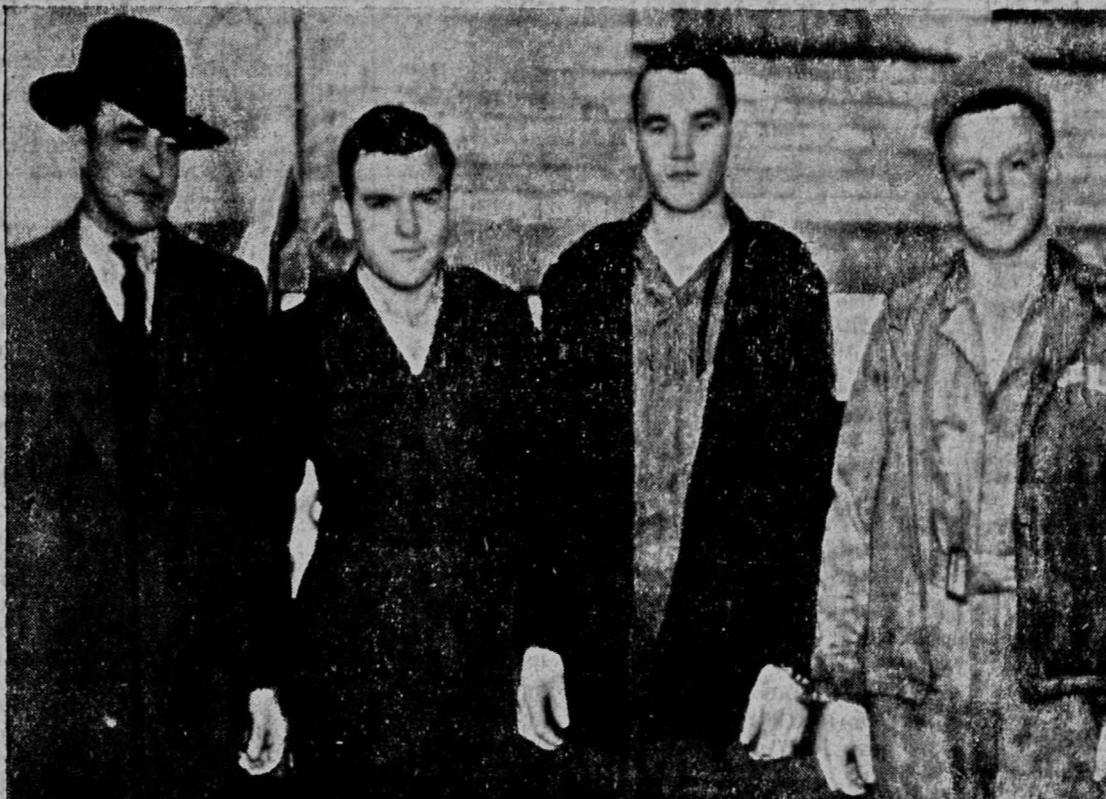

To the east, RAF Thunderbolt fighters knocked out a gun emplacement from which Indonesians had been shelling Allied positions near Soerabaja.

The real estate board resolution declared the rental home market is drying up as hundreds of landlords are refusing to rent houses under present OPA rent ceilings. It pointed out that, as a result, returned service men and home seekers in general are being forced to purchase homes at inflationary prices.

It also was argued that Des Moines no longer needs rent control now that the ordnance plant is closed, Fort Des Moines virtually is inactivated, and emergency conditions no longer exist.

The president, answering questions at his news conference, said meat rationing would be resumed if needed.

White House Receives Plea For Clemency

MacArthur Cabled To Hold Death Penalty Until Truman Acts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plea for clemency by Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, Japanese general condemned to hang as a war criminal, has been delivered to the White House, the war department announced last night.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who had affirmed the Manila court martial sentence after the United States supreme court had declined Yamashita's appeal, was cabled not to execute the death sentence until further advised.

The war department announcement by Undersecretary of War Kenneth C. Royall said that Yamashita's counsel had filed with the department a plea for clemency for transmission to the president.

"This plea," said Royall's statement, "together with an opposing statement, by the prosecuting counsel, has been delivered to the White House.

The war department has cabled General MacArthur not to execute the death sentence until further advised.

TOKYO, Friday (AP)—A spokesman for General MacArthur announced today that the United States secretary of war has ordered a stay of execution for Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita pending action by President Truman on a clemency plea.

Only yesterday MacArthur had affirmed the court martial finding in Manila against his former adversary in the Philippines.

The text of the announcement: "The secretary of war has ordered a stay of execution in the case of General Yamashita pending action by the president on a defense."

Col. A. C. Carpenter, chief of headquarters' legal prosecution section, emphasized:

"It is purely a clemency matter—not a review of the case. He (Truman) can grant clemency if he desires, just as in the case of an American citizen."

MacArthur had ordered the hanging of Yamashita to be carried out secretly at Manila after he had been stripped of his uniform and all military appurtenances.

In Japan, where the manner of death is more important than the loss of life itself, two top-ranking generals immediately said the country felt deeply the disgraceful end decreed.

"I thought and prayed that the sentence would be lessened (by General MacArthur) or at least Yamashita would be given a soldier's death," said Lt. Gen. Yoshio Kozui.

"This is brutal."

Steamship Company Announces Recount; 15 Missing off Yukon

SEATTLE (AP)—The Alaska Steamship Co., recapitulating crew and passenger lists on the wrecked liner Yukon, announced yesterday afternoon that 15 were unaccounted for. They listed them as eight military personnel, five civilians and two crew members. Those unreported previously totalled 32.

The company, which operated the Yukon for the war shipping administration, withheld the names of the 15, pending further verification.

Its recapitulation of 484 survivors and 15 unaccounted for raised the total originally aboard the Yukon to 499 instead of the 497, last reported.

The company said it compared survivor lists furnished by the coast guard with its own master list of those aboard the Yukon when it left Seward Sunday, and was wrecked in the heavy storm that night in Johnstone Bay.

Editorials:Fun and Culture at New Union—and in That Order

The projected expansion of Iowa Union will fill two of the university's most pressing needs—more dining service and better recreational facilities for students.

But to university officials who so far have done a commendable job in laying out plans for the expansion, we hasten to express a word of caution: Don't make the union too formal.

A student union is designed to be a place where students can relax. To put it simply and directly, it should be a place where students can have fun.

At Wednesday night's meeting at which President Hancher explained the proposed additions to the union, the words "culture, beauty, architectural perfection, sanctity" were mentioned many times. But the word "fun" was never spoken by President Hancher or Dr. Harper.

Obviously, the complete absence of the word "fun" was only an error of omission. We feel certain that President Hancher and Dr. Harper both intended to say "fun." Their remarks indicated as much.

But the mistake of not saying in specific words that the union is to be a center of "fun" for students is not to be passed over lightly. It is that word, more than any other, that will attract students to the union. And it is to be hoped that in future explanations of the union's function, the word "fun" will be conspicuous by its repetition, not by its absence.

Of course, the sole function of the union is not to provide fun for students. It also must provide the environment that is so desperately lacking in the cold, bare classrooms of the university—it must provide a cultural environment.

There are too many students who, in their academic careers, cherish only wisdom and superficiality. Few look for the humanness and warmth that makes living joyous, and still fewer find it.

If the Iowa Union can help stimulate the human, warm components of our lives, the role it will play on this campus will be second to none.

But adding warmth to wisdom is no easy undertaking. There is no formula, no common ground. Warmth exists just as gloriously in the "uncultured" farm town as it does in the magnificent halls of great cities.

Part of humanness and warmth comes from the literature and art and music that reflect the heritages of all the people of a whole world. Part of it lies, walled by superficiality, within each man himself.

But from wherever it may arise, to enter men's lives, the real warmth must flow like a stream flows from a spring—quietly, without restraint, moving because of what it is, not because of what men might try to make of it.

Art and literature and music in the new union? Most assuredly, and more—much more—than now.

But if it is stilted, if it is normal and cold, if its presentation prevents absorption by those who are relaxed and at ease, then it will be useless.

Fun and culture. These, then, are the two functions of a student union. And again we hasten to suggest that fun be emphasized slightly more than culture.

Fun without culture would not be fulfilling an educational demand. But culture without fun would be even worse.

Culture without fun in a student union would drive students to other places of recreation with a frequency that would be harmful. And it would prejudge students against culture because now they are unwilling to break down walls of formality and such a reluctance is apt to linger for years.

Fun at the union can be creative and healthy and relaxing. It can offset overpatronage of taverns and night clubs.

And culture at the union should only be in amounts so that it flows to students "by osmosis" (as President Hancher said) and not be forced injection.

one would protest to spring coming a little sooner this year.

And the wetness of the ground Tuesday was a reminder that the earth soon will be defrosting. The thaw always means messy footing, but we'll be happy to see a little mud because it will be a sure sign that spring isn't too far off.

Then again, this may be all just wishful thinking. But we can dream.

Filibustering Is Senate's Own 'Atomic Bomb'

WASHINGTON—Despite its general public unpopularity, there is NO doubt about the effectiveness of the filibuster in shaping legislation.

It has been recognized as such for a century. As a matter of fact, as far back as 1853 there is a recorded use of the word (it comes from a Dutch word meaning freebooter or buccaneer) in its political sense in congress. One worthy member whose opponents were using delaying tactics in blocking a vote on legislation, charged them with "filibustering against the United States."

However, the filibuster is like the atomic bomb. The threat of its devastating result is almost as effective as the use of the weapon itself.

Roland Young, in his book, "This Is Congress," records an instance in 1938 when a house-passed amendment to the food, drug and cosmetic act, regarding whisky, was thrown out in conference merely because the late Senator Copeland of New York told the conference "some of the most able filibusters in the senate were so opposed to it that we could not accept it."

This also is an example of where the filibuster (or threat of it) had direct bearing on house legislation. A filibuster itself is impossible in the house simply because debate there is limited.

Why, it may well be asked, do senators so fear a filibuster, if it is recognized as a practical legislative weapon?

Because it does and even recently has upset the apple-cart of a legislative program which a majority of the senators were eager to get action on.

The last great filibuster—the one on the anti-lynching bill in 1938—lasted 29 days. This meant that for 29 days, even though the senate was in session, not one piece of important legislation could be considered.

In that instance, the anti-lynch bill proponents finally had to give up. The filibusters won. Why? Because they were blocking consideration of the then vitally important $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation bill, as well as the government reorganization bill which the administration was eager to get passed.

2. There is the secondary reason that frequent use, or misuse, of the filibuster might lead to further curb on unlimited debate in the senate.

While numerous senators might be mad as hops at the southern senators for launching a filibuster against Sen. Dennis Chavez's bill for establishing a statutory fair employment practice commission at a time when congress has been criticized for dilatory tactics, there are very few who would like to see anything done about it.

Why? Because they realize that if the tables were turned, that is, if they were in a minority on some proposed bill vitally important to their state or section, further limitations on debate would make them powerless to do anything about it.

Darker Bread, Less Beer

President Truman's restrictions on the use of grains for beer and liquors and his order for millers to make better use of all the wheat kernel in making flour won't be received happily by any stretch of the imagination. But most Americans will recognize the orders as measures that are essential.

Certainly less beer and whisky and darker bread won't be harmful to anyone. As a matter of fact, it probably will aid the health of some.

Of course many may not be able to get as much beer and whisky as they would like. But that could have its advantages, too. A few social evenings without intoxicants might bring back memories of how much fun we used to have when we weren't "drinking" so much. Just as much fun as when we did have something to drink.

And then there will be fewer hangovers and upset stomachs. Oh, happy day!

All in all, President Truman can be sure he has the American people staunchly behind him in his action to help feed the starving peoples of Europe. There will be little whimpering from us. Some moans were heard yesterday, but nearly all of them were made jokingly.

The Varga Girls

The victory of the Varga girls in the supreme court is a victory for freedom of the press. We have been reassured that the likes and dislikes of Washington officials won't be imposed on us by governmental decree.

The court was of the opinion that denying Esquire the right to second-class mail privileges on account of the standard of its art work would be to "sanction withdrawal tomorrow of the second-class rate from another periodical whose social or economic views seemed hateful to another official."

Whether the Varga girls, with their scanty dresses, are harmful to public morals was left unanswered. Also unanswered was the question of whether Esquire could have been banned from second-class mail by the express action of congress. But at least an official can't censor arbitrarily.

Early Spring?

Perhaps spring isn't so far off after all. The forecast for Wednesday was colder, with the temperatures predicted to drop to five degrees above zero, but the cold wave didn't materialize.

Maybe the reason that cold front didn't stick around is because spring is working its way northward to us. Sure, it's still pretty early to be thinking about spring. But no

Stalin Wanted 17; FDR Argued—How Russia Got 3 UNO Votes

By NEAL STANFORD
(In the Christian Science Monitor)

Just to prove that the much-tapped Yalta well of secret diplomacy is far from running dry, let me give you the heretofore unrecorded story of how one of the Big Three's Yalta secret agreements was made—or better watered down.

This concerns that promise Roosevelt made to Premier Stalin that Byelorussia and the Ukraine, as well as the Soviet Union proper, should be full-fledged members of the United Nations organization.

In return, Stalin agreed the United States should have three votes in the general assembly, though when the American people got wind of this completely illogical deal, the president dropped the scheme.

The result was that at San Francisco the Soviet Union came up with three votes in the assembly and the United States with one.

Wanted 17 Votes

However, Stalin had originally wanted 17 votes. This story is how that 17 was cut sharp bargaining to 16, then to four, then to three.

When it got down to three, Roosevelt was unable to budge the generalissimo another Soviet republic, and so the deal ended with Stalin getting representation for the over-all Soviet states plus two of its constituent republics—Byelorussia and the Ukraine. That was no minor victory, though, for by it he won recognition of the principle that the 16 Soviet republics, as well as the Soviet Union, had a claim on seats in UNO.

Because this story deals with the past, it will make no prophecy on whether or not the Russians will before long be climbing the road back, from three to four, to five, to 16, to 17.

Today's story confines itself to what happened at Yalta in February of 1945, when Roosevelt and Churchill took up what they expected to be a thoroughly routine matter of deciding what nations should be charter members of UNO.

Russia Is Federal State

It is necessary at the beginning to understand something of the Soviet political setup. As article 13 of their constitution says, there is over all the Soviet Union, a federal state to which belong at the moment 16 Soviet republics.

It started off in 1922 with six republics, by addition and division reaching 16 in 1940.

But to get back to the felt-covered table at Yalta. There was never any question that the Soviet Union, as one of the Big Three, would have an assembly seat.

Strange Politics—

Communists in Reich

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
AP Newfeatures

BERLIN—Numerous interpretations can be placed on the German Communist party's acceptance, apparently approved by Moscow, of some former members of the Nazi party.

It might mean that the Communists, after the election beating they took in southern Germany, are anxious to recoup their forces.

It might mean an admission that Communists and Nazis are really "brothers under the skin" in that both are totalitarian and both oppose monachism on principle, whereas Socialists in many countries including England, Denmark and Sweden find constitutional monarchism compatible with Socialism.

It might mean that Communists are angered at Americans for permitting a Royalist party to be created in Bavaria.

May Be Challenge

Finally, it might mean an out-and-out challenge to western powers who deny a vote to Nazis but also have been none too anxious for the Communist party to spread.

Whatever interpretation Wilhelm Pieck, Berlin Communist leader, has extended the invitation to "nominal" Nazis, and it is clear he has made it with Moscow's approval.

Groteskoh also believes that to try to impose the American or Russian system of government on Germany would result in a political caricature and Don Quixotery. All Germans who love their fatherland must see to it, he says, that the Junkers, militarists and war-bent industrialists do not again seize control of the state as they did of the Weimar republic.

It might mean that Communists are angered at Americans for permitting a Royalist party to be created in Bavaria.

Hit Production Quotas

Jacob Kaiser, leader of the Christian Democratic party, which fared best in the local elections in the American zone, has asked the victors to consider whether it is wise to limit German production too sharply, in view of the crying need for goods all over Europe. He says he hopes all Europe will be united in common, peaceful endeavors and welcomed what he considered the victor's policy "not to annex any territory that is distinctly German."

Kaiser finds it "quite understandable" that foreign powers be concerned about the Rhine, Ruhr and Saar and admits the Allies might justifiably desire to internationalize these regions. He says he hoped, however, this would be done only by participation of other countries in German industry, not in lopping these regions of the Reich. He warns, however, that German workers demand that in the event of internationalization, "international capitalists or capitalistic interests won't reap the benefits of what German labor produced."

Make Nazis Harmless

The Communists apparently figure that quadruplicate regulations are taking care of ardent Nazis, making them innocuous, but these regulations leave nominal Nazis in a political vacuum.

They also appear confident enough of the effectiveness of their political training methods to guarantee making real Communists of former Nazis.

Professor Hickman has recently returned to the campus after serving with the army air force contract termination program.

Those who do not wish to attend the luncheon but wish to hear the speaker are reminded that the talk will begin at 12:45 p.m.

D. A. R.'s to Feature Vocalist, Composers On Radio Program

Two Iowa composers and a vocalist will be featured on the Daughters of the American Revolution regular monthly program over WSUI Saturday at 9 a.m.

Mitchell Andrews will play compositions by Addison Alsop entitled "Six Short Pieces for Piano."

Joyce Wilton, university student, will sing four songs by Marshall Barnes, who will also accompany her. The songs include "Autumn," "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes," "The Lonely Hunter," and an arrangement of "Devonshire Tune."

Mr. Barnes will also play one of his own compositions, "Two Preludes on Motif."

Mrs. Paul B. Shaw, a member of the Pilgrim chapter of D.A.R. arranged the program.

Deanna Durbin Mother

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A girl, weighing six pounds and five ounces, was born to Deanna Durbin at Cedars of Lebanon hospital just before noon yesterday.

Felix Jackson, Miss Durbin's husband and the producer of her pictures, said the baby would be named Jessica Louise.

'Rain or Shine, Suits' Say SUI Women

Now Is Time to Display Versatile Wardrobe

"What shall I wear today?" Jean Wilson, A3 of Traer, selects a wool suit of creamy beige for special campus occasions. V-shaped insets of black on the back of the long jacket accentuate the waistline and similar insets in the shoulders emphasize the width. Jean finds black most desirable for matching accessories.

Elli, A1 of Marengo, wears a trim fitting suit of soft gray wool styled with a narrow skirt. The jacket features clear, melon-colored buttons and with it Jean wears a dressy white blouse.

Jane Herstein, C3 of Waverly, has found her light green dressmaker suit very practical on the Iowa campus. Large silver buttons adorn the jacket which is trimmed with stitching. For accessories Jane chooses a green hat with fuchsia trimming, a fuchsia dickey, and black gloves and a pearl gray cardigan.

Cadet blue is the color selection of Marge Barr, A3 of Ft. Madison. Her suit is designed with single front pleat in the skirt. The single-button jacket is collarless. A delicate fuchsia-colored blouse with high neckline completes her ensemble.

Rella Powne Weds Henry Koss of Solon

In a ceremony yesterday at high noon, Rella May Powne, daughter of Mrs. Bertha P. Babbit, 1117 E. Church street, became the bride of Henry Frank Koss of Solon. The Rev. Donovan G. Hart read the nuptial vows in the parsonage of the First Christian church.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Novy of Iowa City. Clarence G. Meek was best man.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of powder blue wool and wore a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Novy selected a dress of green and her corsage was of white roses.

SUI Graduate Works In China for UNRRA

Dr. Leland E. Powers, who received his M.D. degree from the university in 1933, has been in China for the last year acting as chief medical officer of UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.)

Dr. Powers, who formerly served as director of health for Washington state for two years, was director of UNRRA medical activities last summer when the organization cooperated with Chinese health officials in stamping out the cholera epidemic in Chungking and other parts of China.

Suits are ideal for classroom wear, too. A strictly tailored plaid of black and white with a thin royal blue stripe is worn by Pat Wolfe, A2 of Logan. She couples this with a pearl gray cardigan and for comfort, saddles or loafers!

A white wool plaid with a wide stripe of deep purple and undertones of kelly green, maize and rose is a favorite casual outfit in the wardrobe of Pat Wells, A1 of Sioux City. The skirt is styled with four pleats in both front and back and, as an added touch, Pat wears a topper hat and carries a drawstring bag of identical plaid.

Alfred Hitchcock's mystery, "Thirty-Nine Steps," will be presented at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. today in the auditorium of the art building. The movie is the third in the 1946 University film series.

Tickets for the matinee and evening performances will be sold at the door for 50 cents.

Prof. Maxwell Will Speak In Old Capitol

Prof. Baldwin Maxwell, head of the English department, will speak to the Humanities Society Monday night at 8 o'clock in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

His topic will be "Thomas Middleton's 'The Puritan' or 'The Widow of Watling Street.'" Published in 1608, the play was printed as by W.S. and attributed to Shakespeare, and appears in the third, and fourth folios of Shakespeare. However, present day scholars agree that Middleton is the authentic author.

The address is part of a projected book on Thomas Middleton written by Professor Maxwell. Among other plays and articles he has written are "A Note on the Date of Middleton's 'Family of Love' with a Query on the Porters Hall Theater" which was published in the University of Colorado Studies, "Middleton's 'Michaelmas Term'" and "The Date of Middleton's 'Women Beware Women,'" both published in the Philosophical Quarterly.

Bridge K. Mehra To Speak Sunday At Vesper-Forum

Bridge K. Mehra of Kotah, India, a graduate student in engineering at the university, will speak to the Methodist student Vesper-Forum next Sunday at 7 p.m. on "My Religion."

A Hindu, Mehra is a graduate of Agra college in India and is particularly interested in the liberal aspects of his religion.

Two other students here on scholarships from the government of India, M. V. Verne and B. Behara, will take part in the discussion period.

Annicie Hurley is worship chairman and will be assisted in services by Betty Chan, Jean Beemen, John Goss, B. Jo Victor, Don Houts and Jerry Reichman.

Pat Kinney is chairman for the supper which will be served at 6:30 p.m. After the dinner will be a special social hour under the direction of Ethel Miller.

Regional Head to Talk

"Can Lutheranism Win America?" will be the topic of the Rev. Dean Kilgust of Appleton, Wis., president of the Iowa region of the Lutheran student association at the meeting of the L. S. A. Sunday at 6:30 p.m. in the English Lutheran church.

Team captains will be Louise Koch and Blondina Steinbrink. Supper will be served at 5:30 p.m., before the talk by the Rev. Kilgust.

Konigsmark-Ayers Nuptial Vows Repeated In Little Chapel of Congregational Chapel

In a double ring ceremony last evening, Betty Ruth Konigsmark, daughter of Mrs. Ann L. Konigsmark of Cedar Rapids, became the bride of Byron Wilton Ayers, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ayers of Dew, Tex., in the Little Chapel of the Congregational church at 6 o'clock. The Rev. James Waery read the nuptial vows.

Mrs. Gerald Buxton, organist, played "Because" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony, and the traditional wedding marches during the service.

Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Howard L. Jones of Cedar Rapids. Jacqueline Jones, niece of the bride, was ringbearer and Howard L. Jones acted as best man.

Bride Wears Suit

Given in marriage by her brother, William Konigsmark of Cedar Rapids, the bride was attired in a pale green spring suit of wool, tailored with a sweetheart neckline, boxy sleeves and accented with a floral motif on the shoulder. She wore a white batiste blouse trimmed in lace and red accessories. The bride wore a rose in her hair and carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

Reception at Hotel

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was held in the Hotel Jefferson for members of the family. The table was decorated with carnations and a two-tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom.

The couple left on a brief wedding trip to Chicago. For traveling the bride wore a brown and white checked wool suit with brown accessories and a red rose corsage.

Mrs. Ayers was graduated from Woodrow Wilson high school in Cedar Rapids and attended the University of Iowa. She has been employed by Armstrong's department store and the Terry-Durin company in Cedar Rapids.

Postels to Head Engineering Group

The student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers elected Ned Postels, E4 of Mankato, Minn., president at a meeting Wednesday afternoon in the engineering building.

Other officers elected were:

Everett A. Phillips, E4 of Iowa City, vice-president; Margaret Petersen, E3 of Rock Island, Ill., secretary, and Irene Miller, E3 of Iowa City, treasurer.

Postels appointed Robert Bell, E3 of Council Bluffs; Jim Barton, G of San Francisco, Calif., and Phillips to serve as a program committee.

M. Robert Carstens will speak at the next meeting of the society Wednesday.

Students, Faculty Display Art Work

Exhibits by students and faculty members and a step-by-step lithography display are featured at the art building. In the main gallery an exhibition of paintings and prints by members of the faculty is being shown.

Graphic art of Mexico and Argentina is the subject of the exhibits in the art auditorium, and the process of color lithography is being displayed in cases in the east foyer.

Four Women Join Seals

Four university women passed tests in technique of strokes, diving and speed Wednesday night to become members of Seals, women's honorary swimming club.

Those passing the probate tests were: Lois Long, A3 of Cedar Rapids; Pat Holloway, A3 of Evanston, Ill.; Joan Carter, A1 of Des Moines, and Jay Bowers, A1 of Princeton, N. J. The organization now includes 38 members.

Women of Iowa State college at Ames have been invited to participate in the National Telegraphic swimming meet here Feb. 23.

The club is also completing plans for the annual water show, March 8-9.

SUI Placement Office Seeking High School, University Teachers

Employment officials are already looking for administrative and supervisory officers and teachers for universities and high schools for the 1946-47 academic year, Frances M. Camp of the educational placement office said yesterday.

The teacher shortage continues to be a real problem for employing officials in public schools and colleges throughout the country, she continued. Though returning servicemen and women will ease the situation to some small degree, the supply of good teachers for educational institutions will still be far below the demand.

"Excellent positions in both fields are opening daily and are being filled as fast as suitable personnel can be found. There are many opportunities available, and the salaries have increased with the demand," she said.

The placement office, whose work extends throughout the United States, has facilities available to any university student who is interested and qualified to accept such a position.

Prof. Pelzer Elected To Nominating Group

Prof. Louis Pelzer of the history department has been elected a member of the nominating committee of the American Historical Association for the current year.

Members of the association elected the committee by ballots sent through the mail.

Professor Pelzer is also editor of the Mississippi Valley Historical Review, a quarterly publication issued at the university.

Police Judge Fines 2 on Traffic Charges

Among Iowa Citizens

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Steindler, 103 Melrose avenue, are vacationing in Los Angeles for a few weeks. Dr. Steindler is returning to Iowa City next week, while Mrs. Steindler is continuing on to San Francisco for two weeks to visit her sister, Mrs. Sam Johnson, and her brother, Ray Junk.

Phoebe Johnston of Kewanee, Ill., is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Johnston, 524 Iowa avenue.

Maj. and Mrs. M. W. Lindquist and Judith Ann are spending a few days with Mrs. Lindquist's mother, Mrs. Edith H. Williams, at the Woodlawn apartments. They are from Buffalo, N. Y., and are both graduates of the University of Iowa.

Mrs. Parke Dickey and her three children of Bradcliffe, Pa., have been visiting with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Woods, 1100 N. Dubuque street. Mr. Dickey joined his family here and returned home with them.

Jay and Barbara Hansen, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hansen of Cedar Falls, arrived Wednesday to spend two weeks visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dane, route 4.

Mrs. H. W. Vestermark, 1607 E. Court street, will have as a guest this weekend her brother, John Allen of Cedar Falls.

High School, Community Players to Participate In 18th Annual Iowa Play Production Festival

March 27-April 2 Set As Program Dates By General Committee

The 18th annual Iowa Play Production festival will be held at the university from March 27 to April 2. High school players will participate March 27-30 and community players Mar. 31-April 2.

The festival program includes demonstrations and roundtable discussions on problems of acting, directing, staging, playwriting and the educational aspects of drama.

Any group of players from Iowa high schools, little theaters, church groups, women's clubs and community organizations, participants in county contests, authors of new plays, and all others interested in the writing and production of one-act plays are eligible to enter the festival.

New Scenery

The dramatic art department and the extension division of the university are providing a new set of scenery to be used by all the participating groups.

Design of the scenery has been governed by two factors: to provide those physical features of a setting that are necessary for the acting of a great number of plays and, at the same time to provide a set of scenery that may be rearranged into varied forms able to be shifted easily with a minimum of time and effort.

The scenery is not intended to create a realistic environment for each individual play, but must be looked upon as a device that will provide a neutral background much in the same manner as a drapery setting.

Small properties and incidental material for stage decorations must be furnished by each individual director. Costumes and makeup must also be furnished by each group.

Groups wishing to participate in the festival must enroll on or before Mar. 1. A fee of one dollar will be charged with each play entered. Due to the crowded living conditions in Iowa City, the general committee cannot make definite promises for free lodging for participants and directors.

Committee Members

Members of the general committee include: Prof. Edward C. Mabie, director of the university theater; chairman; Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division; Mrs. W. R. Armstrong, Cedar Rapids, chairman of the drama division, Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs; Prof. A. Craig Baird, speech department; Dr. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts.

Prof. Vance M. Morton, associate director of the university theater; Prof. Hunton D. Sellman, technical director of the university theater; Prof. Arnold S. Gillette, art director of the university theater, and Mrs. Paul Sonner, Spencer, vice-chairman of drama division, Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs.

Ames Pastor to Talk At Vespers Sunday

Dr. Walter Barlow, pastor of the Collegiate Presbyterian church at Ames and director of the Westminster Foundation there, will speak on "Our Mutual Task" at the Westminster Fellowship vespers in the Presbyterian church at 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

Dr. Barlow was born and educated in England, where he held his first pastorate, in Manchester, during World War I. Immediately before coming to Ames, he was a professor in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Dubuque. For the past 15 years he has been pastor of the Presbyterian church in Ames.

In addition to his church duties at Ames, he has taught courses in philosophy and psychology for several years at Iowa State college. He has also been in great demand as a leader of pastor's seminars all over the country.

Student chairman of the vespers will be Eldon Johnson, G of Mt. Vernon. Barbara Hook, G of Wayne, Neb., will be in charge of the supper, which will be served immediately after the vesper service.

University Authorities Spend Six Years Planning Iowa Union Expansion Program

Tentative plans for the expansion of Iowa Union as announced by President Virgil M. Hancher Wednesday night have been in the process of formulation for more than six years. As early as 1938, when Dr. Earl E. Harper became director of the Union, university authorities realized that use of the union and its facilities had increased to the point that present space would be inadequate for all projected further needs.

In September, 1938, a series of conferences was arranged in which the question of additional facilities and services with respect to staff, building and equipment was discussed.

(4) Recreational facilities desired and needed by students of SUU (5) need for and probable use of guest rooms in Iowa Union, and (6) the plant, facilities and function of unions on other campuses throughout the United States.

Present plans, which are tentative and flexible, have been approved by university authorities and are divided into three parts: (1) student service unit, (2) food service unit and (3) guest house.

When plans for the food service unit were approved in July, 1945, an expert kitchen engineer was retained to supplement these plans with specific drawings locating kitchen equipment, cafeteria and soda fountain equipment and private dining room furnishings.

The plans are regarded only as preliminary ones and Horner has been authorized to continue his studies of the food service unit in cooperation with Dr. Harper and Rehder.

Symphony Concert Program to Feature Brahms' Concerto

Johannes Brahms' "Concerto in D Minor" with Norma Cross of the music department at the piano will be a highlight of the university symphony orchestra's program in Iowa Union lounge Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Included on the program are Schumann's "First Symphony" and Felix Mendelssohn's overture to "Midsummer Night's Dream."

The Brahms concerto had its first performance in 1859 in Leipzig with the composer as pianist and Rietz conducting.

The audience, a conservative musical group, greeted the work with loud hisses of disapproval. Newspaper critics added more thorns to young Brahms' crown with long paragraphs of caustic criticism.

Today's audiences place Brahms well toward the top in their list of musical favorites.

Free tickets for the concert may be obtained at the Union desk beginning tomorrow.

Scouting Fraternity To Conduct Waste Paper Salvage Drive

A city-wide waste paper salvage drive will be conducted during February by Alpha Phi Omega, honorary scouting fraternity, beginning Saturday, Feb. 16. Plans for the drive were announced Thursday night at a meeting of Alpha Phi Omega actives and pledges.

The collection of waste paper, with the cooperation of Iowa City Boy Scouts, will be conducted as in previous salvage drives with a salvage depot at every university housing unit. Iowa City residents are urged to leave their waste paper on a street corner to be collected.

Plans also have been completed for the initiation ceremony Feb. 21.

An open meeting for all new and prospective members of Alpha Phi Omega will be held Feb. 28, Carroll Schneider, president, announced. He added that service plans have been completed for the new semester and that all interested individuals are invited to the open meeting.

Quadrangle Houses 675 Men Students

Approximately 675 men are now living in newly painted and refinished rooms at the Quadrangle, C. A. Bowman, director, said yesterday.

The Quad, vacated by the navy pre-flight cadets last December, has been furnished again with standard university equipment and was opened to civilian men Jan. 25.

Election of dormitory officers will be held Feb. 20, according to Bob Ray, G of Davenport, chief proctor.

Other proctors at the Quad are Glen Dyer, C3 of Ledyard; Don Shaw, G of Oelwein; Art Fippinger, A1 of Maywood, Ill.; Everett McCulloch, G of Morrison, Ill.; Emerson Peterson of Morrison; Harold Ladwig, M3 of Denison; Frank Park, E4 of Sloan, and John E. Phillips, A3 of Maquoketa.

Funmakers Will Honor Associates at Dance

The Fun-Makers club of the local I.O.O.F. will sponsor a phonograph record dance Saturday evening, Feb. 9, honoring the members of the various Odd Fellows organizations and their families. Dancing will be from 7 until 10 p. m. in the I.O.O.F. hall.

Board Announces Details for Expansion Of School's Athletic, Classroom Facilities

Voters to Decide Construction Issue In March Election

Further details of the improvements for Iowa City schools asked for by school district voters in a petition and accepted by the school board were released yesterday by school board officials.

Plans for expansion of athletic and classroom facilities in City high school and Longfellow, Horace Mann and Henry Sabin grade schools will go forward if Iowa City voters decide at the regular school board election March 11 whether $300,000 in bonds shall be issued for the construction projects.

Girls' Gym

Building and equipping of a girls' gymnasium, swimming pool and stadium, and acoustical treatment to the present cafeteria and gymnasium at City high, and auditorium-gymnasium additions to the three grade schools were called for in a petition to the city school board. Monday night board members unanimously approved a resolution that the special bond election be held.

By constructing a girls' gym, the conflict between boys' and girls' physical education classes would be eliminated and the program could be increased. Under the present arrangement, the classes alternate, necessitating a meeting of each only twice a week.

"More and better types of physical training could be taught if City high had the pool and gym," commented Earl Sangster, board president.

Jack Kelly, board president, said in regard to the proposed additions, "Today we should be taking better care of the physical condition of our students. At present the facilities are not adequate for the best body conditioning."

New Pool

Estimated to cost about $180,000, the gym and pool would be built at the east end of the present gym. School officials hope to provide a pool at least 75 feet long and from 35 to 42 feet wide. The new gym would be built above the pool. Heating would be provided by pipes which extend through the east wall.

Neither the pool nor the gym was included in the plans when City high was constructed in 1939.

New Stadium

City high's new stadium, estimated to cost between $30,000 and $40,000, would be a concrete structure located about one block east of the school. A field and track have already been laid out.

in a natural amphitheater on the grounds, and the stadium would be built on its west side, extending from the track to the top of the bank. It should seat 6,000 to 7,000 spectators.

At present the school uses a wooden stadium on Shrader field near Longfellow school, and teams dress in a converted classroom of the school.

Acoustic treatment to be given the ceilings of the cafeteria and present gym at an estimated expense of from $5,000 to $10,000 would eliminate much of the noise and echo in those rooms, neither of which has ever been treated.

Grade Schools

Auditorium-gymnasium additions to the three grade schools, included in the original plans but eliminated because of lack of funds in 1917, would alleviate the present crowded classroom facilities. Each school now uses two classrooms for this purpose. The additions would cost from $20,000 to $30,000 apiece.

Longfellow school, an 18-room building, is the most crowded. By completing the school with the auditorium-gym addition, two much-needed rooms can be released for classes, and a third would be freed if the City high stadium was built, because players now shower and dress in another Longfellow room.

The additions to Henry Sabin and Horace Mann schools are not needed to free classrooms, however. Gymnasium and auditorium facilities provided by the converted classrooms are very unsatisfactory because the rooms are located in the basements and have low ceilings and narrow spaces.

The affirmative votes of 60 percent of the total cast will be needed for approval of the bond issue. Any federal funds and aid available would also be used for the proposed improvements.

About 14,000,000 pounds of lamp black, used chiefly as paint, lacquer and ink pigment, are produced annually in the United States.

Hawklets Try For 6th Place Here Tonight

City high's Little Hawks, attempting to break a three-game losing string and with a very good chance to move into sixth place in the Mississippi Valley conference, will tangle with Franklin of Cedar Rapids here tonight.

The Iowa City quintet is now in the depths of seventh place in the league with a record of only two wins in eight starts; but can move into a sixth place tie with Dubuque by winning tonight, providing Dubuque takes its expected licking at the hands of the league-leading Clinton quintet.

Every indication is that tonight will see the end of the Little Hawks' victory famine. They pushed the powerful Clinton team all the way last weekend and are now considered a greatly improved team over the Iowa City quintet that lost to Franklin by two points earlier in the year.

Bob Freeman, Little Hawks' top point maker, will move to the front court tonight, after playing in the pivot position previously. He will resume his chase of the league's leading scorer, Dean Burridge. Burridge, Clinton forward, has piled up a total of 110 points in his eight games, with Freeman in second place with 98.

Other Hawk starters tonight will include Jim Van Deusen at center, Bob Krall teamed with Freeman at the forwards, and Jim Sangster and Bob Beals in the back court.

Coach Orville Rust will probably use the veteran Thunderbolt lineup that has split even in eight conference starts so far this year. Newell Pinch will pace the visitors' attack teaming with forward Phelan, center Ruth and guard Stanger Phillips and Kohn in the first five.

Irish Work Hard For IC Tilt Monday

Serious preparations for their Monday game with the number three team of the Dubuque diocese, Immaculate Conception of Cedar Rapids, was on tap for the Irish of St. Patrick's today as they returned from their local diocesan tourney losers only in the final round to their cross town foes St. Mary's in a heartbreaker after a great last half rally.

Cliff Kritta indicated that no lineup changes were in prospect for the battle with Cedar Rapids. Merle Hoye, the top forward at the diocesan tourney where he bagged 65 points in four games, will pair with Bob Sullivan at the forward posts. Sullivan is the most improved player on the Irish squad according to his coach.

Bill Seemuth will get the call at the center post while Tom Hoye and Charlie Belger, a guard on the second all-tournament team, will get the nod at the guard slots.

If one of the starters falters Kritta indicated that he would call on Bob Brown, diminutive trouble shooter, who helped pull the team through several tough games this season.

The strong University of Iowa swimming team will go after its second win of the season tonight at eight o'clock in the fieldhouse pool when the Hawkeyes meet Nebraska. It will be the first Iowa-Nebraska swimming meet in sixteen years.

The Hawkeyes, winner over Wisconsin last week, 53-31, will send a balanced team against the Huskers, headed by Kenny Marsh, Dick Maine, and Jonas Halldorsson. Marsh, almost completely recovered from the back strain he received in the Northwestern meet, will see plenty of action against the Huskers. In the Wisconsin meet he participated in only one event, winning the 100 yard sprint in the fast time of 53.4.

Coach Armbruster's two divers, Bernie Walters and Mallory

Mitchell, are both ailing but he has two capable replacements in William Metter and Dick Maine. Both men are second semester enrollees and recent additions to the squad. Also ailing is Bill Boswell, co-captain of the team.

Two swimmers who are expected to add greatly to the team strength have reported to Coach Armbruster in the past few days. They are Robert Leighton, sprinter, and Arthur Van Havern, breast stroke and distance man.

The Hawkeye swimmers have looked good in practice during the past week. Several of the men have been close to record times in their events. The strength of the Nebraska team is unknown but the Huskers usually have one of the better tank squads in the Big Six.

IT'S ALL HASH THIS MORNING

SEVEN MEMBERS of the H. H. Wilkinson family, Salt Lake City, Utah, will be in the Iowa fieldhouse for the Purdue game tomorrow evening . . . Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson and their three eldest sons, Oral, Harold and Finley, will arrive here today and watch Herb and Clayton in action together for the first time . . . Another brother and two sisters won't make the trip . . . All of the male members of the family are "over six feet," according to Clayton . . . ONE OF IOWA'S greatest baseball catchers, Bill Welp, is due back in the States shortly after two years flat top duty in the Pacific . . . A catcher for the Seahawks one season, big Bill also played a year with Brooklyn Dodger farm clubs and will rejoin their chain after being discharged.

BILLY WELP
From Pacific to Dodgers

In ANSWER to a couple of queries we've received about the present activity of Iowa's 1945 football coaching staff, Clem Crowe is the only member still in town . . . He isn't the "forgotten man" that you'd think because right now he's busy making the potatoes and gravy swing making speeches at the various banquets around the state. . . . "Dad" Schroeder says Clem will stay here next year "unless he accepts another job, and in that event he will be released from the rest of his two-year contract" . . . "Bud" Boeringer, who was hired for one season, has returned to his home in Minnesota to sweat out some attractive offers, and "Chuck" Jask which is pursuing business connections in Milwaukee.

THREE MEMBERS of old Seahawk football teams are on the campus now and expect to play for Iowa next fall . . . They are Reynolds, Sullivan, O'Connors, all three mighty sweet country ball players . . . BOB FABER, who won four of six conference games and led the Big Ten in strikeouts as Iowa won the 1942 baseball title share, will pitch for the Hawkeyes again this spring . . . "Moose" is back from the marines . . . In 1942 he fanned 48 batters in 51 innings, batted .550 himself, and hurled two four-hitters and a one-hitter in Big Ten . . . BOB BENDER, Iowa footballer from 1940-42, is back in school but won't rejoin the Hawks for the 1946 season.

ONCE WE THOUGHT we had Iowa's postwar backfield half figured out, but now—like Dr. Anderson says—we aren't so sure . . . A nifty nucleus would consist of Dick Hoerner, swift and mighty fullback of 1942; Duke Curran, phenomenal seat back of the same time; Sam Vancanti, passing specialist who quarterbacked both here and at Purdue; and maybe Bill Gallicher, powerhouse of Slip Madigan's first Old Gold team . . . Now Gallicher is back, Dick and Sam are reported to be coming back, but Duke may not make it . . . He's got a wife and baby now and may have changed his mind about football . . . THREE IOWA athletes left for the army Monday . . . They are Ralph Woodward, football end; Bruce (Red) Hamman, grid guard, and Tom Stahle, reserve forward on the basketball team.

WE DOFF our hats to a liberal among Big Ten athletic heads . . . He is Cecil Isbell, former Green Bay Packer great who now coaches Purdue's football team . . . His statement declaring that "in the not too distant future" champions of the Western and Pacific Coast conferences would be meeting in the Rose Bowl marks a milestone in mid-western football . . . It's time the Big Ten tries off its shackles forbidding post-season games and took part in the rejuvenated sports drive throughout the nation . . . Willis O. Hunter of the Pacific Coast conference says "the next move is up to the Big Ten" . . . That's right . . . It is up to the Western conference to let its champion prove that midwest football is the best in the nation.

Three Top Scorers Menace Iowa

Wildcats Can Knock Gophers Out of Race In Tonight's Action

Northwestern's Wildcats are in an enviable spot to knock Minnesota from the Big Ten title picture tonight when the Gophers invade the Cats' home grounds for a Western conference basketball clash.

Another loss for the Gophers would virtually eliminate them from sharing the coveted crown.

Still riding on the crest of their sensational 56-55 upset of Notre Dame, the Wildcats have a record of four victories and three losses in Big Ten competition thus far this season.

Minnesota, beaten by Iowa and Purdue, will have to throttle their high-gearred cage machine to get past Northwestern.

At least one potential title contender will be eliminated from competition this weekend when Indiana and Ohio State, presently tied for second place, will battle it out Saturday night for positions in the jumbled conference standings. The Hoosiers hold a slight edge having defeated the Buckeyes, 44-39, in an early season clash.

In other Big Ten games Saturday, Michigan will invade Illinois, Wisconsin will play host to Northwestern and Minnesota will trek to Chicago for an assured win.

Phi Psi's Tip Sig Ep's, 30-28

The fieldhouse was busy last night as five pairs of teams fought it out in the basketball intramurals. Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi won the three tilts scheduled for last night with Pi Kappa Alpha and Teeloxes coming out on top in make-up games.

Sigma Phi Epsilon gave the Phi Psi's a run for their money, losing the match, 30-28. Phi Psi Nelson Smith chalked up 13 markers while Sig Ep's Jack Percival and Don Carroll did most of the honors for their quintet. Percival with 14 and Carroll with 10.

For their third straight win, Sigma Nu ran up a lopsided score of 44 to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon's 25. Bob Knarr with 12 points and Bob Wayland with 10 starred for the Sigma Nu's. "Brownie" Otopalik was again high man for the SAE's with eight while Gene Blair and George Brooks each tripped on his heels with six.

An even more lopsided game was the tilt between Sigma Chi and Theta Xi with Sigma Chi's grabbing a 34-5 victory. High men for Sigma Chi were Gordon Ramsey with 10 and Jack Shay close behind with nine.

In the postponed games, Pi Kappa Alpha pulled a 25-15 victory over the Irregulars. Bob Wright rang up eight markers and Roy Ralson six for the Pi KA's. Jerry Pierce made seven and Herb Olsen six for the Irregulars.

The unbeaten Teeloxes ran away from the Gables to the tune of 57-32. Larry Germuska of the Teeloxes singed the nets with his 18 counters and was followed closely by Dick Schenedt with 15 and Bob Gustafson with 13. On the other side of the book, Derrill Klinzman slammed home nine and Jim Petersen seven for the Gables.

Two postponed games will be played Saturday afternoon in the fieldhouse. At 2 p.m., Alpha Kappa Alpha will play Phi Beta Pi and the tilt between Delta Sigma Delta and Phi Rho Sigma is scheduled for 3 p.m.

DTD Team Plays in C.R.

The DTD intramural basketball team will journey to Cedar Rapids tonight to play the Coe Independents, intramural team on the Coe campus. The game will be held in the Coe gym and will start at eight o'clock.

Three of the seven leading scorers in the Big Ten will be in the Purdue lineup tomorrow night when the giant-killing Boilermakers invade Iowa's camp for a return engagement with the Hawkeyes.

Bob Miller, Paul Hoffman and Mervyn Anderson rank second, fifth and seventh among the first seven in Western conference individual scoring with Miller trailing only Bob Doster of Illinois.

Fresh from their stunning upset of Minnesota last Saturday, Purdue is not rated a push-over by anyone. The Boilermakers have well-distributed scoring that is evidenced by the fact that there is only six points between their first three leaders.

Purdue has Coach Pops Harrison worrying again. Against the Gophers, the Boilermakers effected a tight zone defense that completely baffled the on-rushing Minnesota aggregation. The Riveters also connected on an amazing total of 37.5 percent of their shots, which is probably the best mark in the Big Ten this season.

The Boilermakers are in the habit of running up and down the court at breakneck speed. Iowa is prepared to "run" with Purdue. Against Minnesota, the Hawkeyes proved they could match the Gophers' fast-breaking game and still disrupt their own offensive tactics.

Purdue ranks sixth in the Big record will be on the block tomorrow night. The Hawks have won 21 straight games at home and 31 of the past 32. It will be the 40th game in the Iowa-Purdue series, with the Boilermakers leading, 22-17.

However, Iowa has won four straight games and six of the last ten in the Purdue series. The 61-34 defeat plastered on Purdue last year in the Iowa fieldhouse was the greatest Hawkeye triumph over the fast-stepping Boilermakers.

The Riveters have looked anything but good on road trips thus far this season. They have bagged only two in five attempts, those being Wisconsin and Louisville.

Gas Company Offers 6½ to 10 Percent Rate Reductions to District Consumers

Decrease to Become Effective When City Council Accepts Plan

Rate reductions of from 6½ to 10 percent for both residential and commercial natural gas consumers in the Iowa City district of the Iowa Illinois Gas and Electric Co. have been offered by the firm.

R. H. Lind, district manager of the company, said yesterday that the reduction will become effective as soon as the city council accepts it.

At the present rate of consumption, the annual saving will amount to $14,302. The company lists 5,200 customers, with the present revenue amounting to $251,674 annually.

Residential customers total 4,315; residential heating users, 547; commercial, 292, and commercial heating, 46.

All but $3,510 of the total reduction of $14,302 in revenue is a voluntary reduction on the part of the company, according to Lind. He said that the reduced rates are made possible by the increased use of natural gas in Iowa City for heating and other uses.

A reduction in purchase price of natural gas from the Natural Gas Pipeline Co., from which the company gets its gas, made possible the reduction of $3,510.

Natural gas first came to Iowa City in 1939 and the present rates were set up in a franchise ordinance.

University of Life To Show 2 Films

Two films on South America, "The Bridge" and "Argentine Primer," will be shown at the University of Life meeting Sunday at 7 p. m. in the Congregational church.

Mona Seburg and Ryland Crary, guest instructors, will speak in two of the classes. Miss Seburg will discuss dating and dining etiquette in Miss Mau McBroom's class, and Mr. Crary will tell stories of the life of Christ in Dr. Thornton's class.

Dr. Dunnington will continue to speak on "Why I Am a Protestant" in his class.

The discussions of all the classes will be tied in with the films on South America by Miss Ruth Galbraith, whose term topic will be "Christianity Building One World."

Classes will be from 8:15 to 8:45 p. m., due to the showing of the films. After the classes Miss Norma Thornton will entertain with dance routines during the recreation period.

Eggenberg Services To Be Held Today

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Fred D. Eggenberg, 80, who died Wednesday night in his home at 403 S. Lucas street after a long illness. A retired farmer, he was a life-long resident of Johnson county.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Alfred Bailey of Denver, Col., Mrs. Henry Herring and Mrs. Ronald Smith of Iowa City; a son, Marvin Eggenberg of Grand Junction, Col.; one sister, Mrs. Frank Stahle of North Liberty; two grandchildren, one great-grandchild and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Eggenberg was a member of Eureka lodge of I.O.O.F. since May 4, 1898, and of the local Odd Fellows encampment.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. at Beckman's funeral home under the direction of the Odd Fellows lodge. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

First Baptist Church Elects 1946 Officers

At the annual meeting last night, The First Baptist church of Iowa City elected officers for 1946.

New deacons are Dr. Roscoe Woods, E. L. Hagler, Harold Coldstone, Stacy Hull and Van M. Davis.

Deaconesses elected were Mrs. L. R. Morford, Mrs. Virgil Cope-land and Mrs. R. J. Machey.

Trustees for 1946 will be Prof. J. H. Potter, C. G. Mullinex and J. M. Sedlach.

The Rev. Elmer E. Dierks will be moderator for the church.

Student Center Plans Open House Tonight

The Catholic student center will welcome all new Catholic students to the campus with an open house at the center tonight at 8 p. m. The priests of the student center will be hosts.

Jack Schroeder and Eileen Doerfer, co-chairmen of the social committee will plan the entertainment which will include refreshments and dancing.

Plan Addition To Local Hotel

An all fireproof addition of 60 guest rooms to Hotel Jefferson will be constructed as soon as material and equipment are available, according to C. H. Hartnagle, operator of the hotel, and George W. Davis, manager.

The addition will be eight stories high and 25 feet wide on S. Dubuque street, and will cost more than $200,000. All the new rooms will have private baths.

Plans also call for increased dining room space to accommodate 300 to 350 guests for banquets.

The main kitchen will be moved to the first floor, although a service kitchen will be maintained on the second floor.

The 120 persons which will be accommodated by the additional 60 rooms should take care of the maximum needs of the hotel for the immediate future, Davis said, judging from records of guests during the last four years.

Owned by the Iowa City Hotel Co., the Hotel Jefferson was built in 1913. Originally only six stories high, two more floors were added in 1929.

M. Willard Lampe Will Speak Sunday

Brotherhood day will be observed at the Roger Williams vesper Sunday at 5:30 p. m., with Dr. M. Willard Lampe speaking on "The Current Meaning of Brotherhood." Supper will be served after the meeting.

After the Iowa-Purdue game there will be a party for Baptist students at the Roger Williams House, 230 N. Clinton street.

A class for university students will meet Sunday at 9:30 a. m. at the Roger Williams House. As last semester's topic, "Our Protestant Heritage," has been completed, a new subject will be chosen at that time.

Two or three million years ago, Tibet and neighboring regions were a well-watered and well-forested area only slightly elevated above the sea.

Paul Fulton, first district commander, will be the guest speaker.
