GOOD MORNING, IOWA CITY!

It will be fair and warmer in Iowa City today with increasing cloudiness and colder Monday.

Hawkeyes Check Purdue Rally, 43-41; Retain Lead

By GUS SCHRADER
Daily Iowan Sports Editor
Deadly Paul Hoffman and a gang of hell-for-leather Purdue Boilermakers hurled a chilling second half scare into Iowa last night, but at the gun the Hawkeyes were still supremely atop the Big Ten basketball heap with a 43-41 triumph.
For the last 20 minutes of break-neck action, the capacity throng of 14,400 was beside itself with anxiety. Iowa's 29-14 halftime advantage disappeared like a July snowball as Hoffman's remarkable one-handed pusher tied the score at 38-38 with only four minutes left.

Then Tony Guzowski, doing a whale of a pinch-hitting job for Ned Postels, exchanged long shots with the incredible Hoffman and Herb Wilkinson. Notched a charity toss as the game roared down the last minute and a half. Southpaw Dick Ives, 20-degrees cooler than the average Iowa fan, tucked the victory in the icebox a minute before the end with a handy little hook shot, making Trump's final free throw just two points short.
During the happier first half, the fans had to look twice to make sure they hadn't arrived a week late to the Iowa-Chicago debacle. Purdue was that lousy. The Boilermakers made only five field goals—three of those by this guy Hoffman—and treated the Hawks to easy goals like long-lost cousins.

Jorgy Proves Himself
Noble Jorgensen was head and shoulders above every man on the court during that first half, and this wasn't only because of his six-foot, eight-inch height. The giant rammed in 13 of Iowa's 20 points during the first 11 minutes of hectic action and managed to get his big shoulders into almost every play.
Jorgy really came into his own. Once he pegged five straight free tosses. He treated the Boilermakers guards like so many grade school players, and when he left the floor in favor of Clayton Wilkinson in the first half, he received the largest ovation given a Hawkeye this season.

Purdue hung on to their lead—leading hosts for the first few minutes, but soon Jorgy's jolts chased the Hawkeyes out to an 11-5 lead and they weren't headed until late in the second half. Herb Wilkinson, who gave his family its money's worth in coming all the way from Salt Lake City for the game, joined Jorgensen in the scoring column with three field goals of his own.
Those who paid scalpers' prices for seats must have lamented the lack of competition when Anderson's sneak-in left the half score at a gaping 29-14.

But the hot streaks changed benches during the intermission and the Hawkeyes looked as cold as they were torrid in the first 20 minutes. Jorgensen was willing to take up where he left off as he started Iowa's scoring with a tip in, but then the basket banging was all Purdue until eight minutes were gone in the last period.
Purdue Leads Only Once
Meantime, the fast-breaking Boilermakers had bounced back with a 15-point barrage. Then they snatched the lead, 33-32, on a typical Hoffman bucket, but that edge was the only one they were to enjoy during the game.

It was at that point that the icy Ives, playing his customary floor game, took charge to lead the winning stretch drive. He punched in two fielders and a charity toss during the last eight minutes and topped off the evening by craftily cuddling the ball as the frantic Riveters watched their last second chances ebb and die.
The scary victory was Iowa's seventh in eight Big Ten starts. It left the defending kings just out of reach of Ohio State's Buckeyes, who emerged with a 53-52 overtime verdict in their second-place battle against Indiana. For the unpredictable Boilermakers, it was the seventh loss in 11 loop starts.

The win also stretched Iowa's home skein to 22. Only one game in the fieldhouse remains; the Feb. 25 battle with Indiana. Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota are left to be faced on the road.
Percentages Poor
Neither side had much of a break in field goal percentages last night. The Hawks made .144, the same as the night they lost their only game to Indiana.
Iowa missed 14 free throws in 29 attempts and was outflung from the field, 15 field goals to 14. Jorgensen ended up with 17 points to trail Hoffman for individual honors. The Purdue forward hit 24 points, and the rest of his mates made just four field

PLACES WAR BLAME ON CAPITALISTS

Officer Altered PH Testimony
Modified Statements After Conversation With Admiral Stark
WASHINGTON (AP)—Naval Captain A. D. Kramer testified yesterday he had modified his Pearl Harbor recollections "partly because" of conversations with Admiral Harold R. Stark.
But he was emphatic that Stark, 1941 chief of naval operations, did not suggest changes. He said they merely discussed what had happened in Washington on the day the Japanese struck.
The point came up before the senate-house committee investigating the Dec. 7, 1941 disaster in connection with a memorandum Kramer prepared in May of 1941. This memo was drafted as a result of questions sent him by Capt. L. F. Safford in a secret code letter and also sent to him through Admiral William F. Halsey, by Admiral Husband E. Kimmel.
Safford has told the committee he was active in a campaign to clear Kimmel, 1941 Pacific fleet commander, of Pearl Harbor blame.
"One of the reasons I did not reply to Safford," Kramer testified yesterday, "was because Safford was apparently putting me on some sort of team. I proposed to be on no team."
He said that he shown the memorandum to Halsey but had never made any use of it, nor sent to Kimmel or Safford.
Safford wrote that, according to his recollection, Kramer had told him of seeing Admiral Stark about 9 a. m. Pearl Harbor day and delivering intercepted Japanese messages which prompted Stark to exclaim, "My God, this means war."
Rep. Keefe (R., Wis.), brought out that Kramer now recalls he did not see Stark at 9 o'clock and that the delivery of the messages actually came at 9:30, and to Commander A. H. McCollum instead of Stark.

Filibustering Southerners Triumph
WASHINGTON (AP)—Filibustering southerners won their fight against the bill for a permanent fair employment practices commission yesterday and the senate laid it aside for other business. Backers of the measure said they will try again periodically.
It would take a majority vote of the chamber to get the FEPC measure back on the floor, where it has been since Jan. 17.
48 For, 26 Against
The decision came on a senate roll call, 48 for and 26 against a motion to limit debate on the bill to set up a regular agency to police industry and government against discrimination on account of race or creed.
This was six votes short of the two-thirds required to invoke cloture and thus insure a final vote. Under cloture each senator is limited to an hour's talk, but the rule is seldom invoked.
As soon as veteran Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), regular presiding officer and an FEPC opponent, announced the cloture attempt had failed Senator Chavez (N. M.), jumped up and moved to take up an appropriations bill.
Only a Start
"It took the crucifixion of Christ to redeem the world," Chavez, floor leader for the FEPC bill, said with emotion. "I'm satisfied with the vote. This is only a start, believe me."

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) arose to say he regretted the outcome but the senate must turn to other matters because he had not the "slightest hope we can ever reach a final vote on this."
Barkley joined Chavez in asking that the senate put aside the controversial measure to take up an appropriations bill.
Returns to Calendar
Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.) wanted to know what would then happen to the FEPC bill. He was told it would go back on the senate calendar.
Senator Mead (D-N. Y.), ardent FEPC supporter, demanded a roll call on this. With obvious relief 71 senators voted to put the measure aside with only 12 opposing.

GM Settles With 25,000 CIO Workers
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Another major break in the logjam of strikes tying up reconversion came yesterday when the General Motors Corp. announced a strike of 25,000 CIO electrical workers in its five electrical division plants had been settled on the basis of 18 1-2 cents an hour wage increase.
A few hours earlier some 7,000 CIO members voted to end their strike against Western Union in New York City, and White House spokesmen reported good progress in attempts to end the steel strike.
General Motors made its announcement in a joint statement with James Matles, director of organization for the United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers.
Both parties reported the agreement was reached "through collective bargaining" and was being submitted to local unions for ratification.
With striking CIO steelworkers and the United States Steel corporation reported "not very far apart," government officials renewed efforts to bring quick settlement of the biggest barrier blocking reconversion.
A White House official said President Truman was "quite hopeful" that the strike would end soon and White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told his news conference yesterday good progress was being made.
CIO President Philip Murray reported the two sides were in substantial agreement.

'CURRIER SWEETHEART'
DELL JACKSON, A2 of Mechanicsville, was crowned "Currier Sweetheart" last night at the annual Currier Hall Sweetheart ball in the main lounge of Iowa Union. Attendants to the queen were Helen Klahn, A4 of Marshalltown; Merle Winter, A4 of Dysart; Evelyn Kalliban, A1 of Lisbon, and Dolores Olsen, A2 of Newton. Before an enlarged white dance program accented with red cupid, the queen was presented by the president of Currier hall, Kay Keller, A4 of Sioux City.

Stalin Reveals Five-Year Plan
Claims Red Scientists Will Catch Up, Surpass Foreigners
LONDON (AP)—Generalissimo Stalin, declaring the last two wars resulted from the development of capitalistic world economy, last night announced a new five-year plan for Soviet Russia and stupendous production goals "to guarantee our country against any eventual-ity."
He predicted, too, that Soviet scientists could "not only catch up with but surpass those abroad." He did not mention atomic research specifically.
Stalin said the new five-year plan—Russia's fourth including the one interrupted by German invasion in 1941—would be inaugurated soon, and "for the further future" set goals for steel, pig iron, coal and oil production close to the output of the United States.
Pre-election Speech
In a pre-election speech broadcast by the Moscow radio, the Soviet chieftain promised that "soon rationing will end," and that the Russian worker's standard of living would be raised.
Declaring that the war was "the inevitable result of the development of the world economic and political forces on the basis of monopoly capitalism," Stalin asserted:
"Perhaps the catastrophe of war could have been avoided if the possibility of periodic redistribution of raw materials and markets between the countries existed in accordance with their economic needs, in the way of coordinated and peaceful decisions."
"But this is impossible under the present capitalistic development of world economy. Thus as a result of the first crisis in the development of the capitalistic world economy, the first war arose. The second world war arose as a result of the second crisis."
Speaks 56 Minutes
Stalin, making his first speech since last Sept. 2, spoke for 56 minutes on the eve of elections for the Supreme Soviet.
When these goals are reached, "only then can we consider our country guaranteed against any eventual-ity," he said.
LONDON (AP)—Generalissimo Stalin, in the first official statement of Russian figures, declared last night that Soviet industry during the war produced 40,000 planes and 120,000 artillery pieces annually.
"Our tank industry, in the last three years at least, produced on the average over 30,000 tanks, self-propelled guns and armored cars a year."
"It is also known that our aircraft industry produced in the same period about 40,000 planes per year."
Pineapple for Sale
STERLING, Col. (AP)—A woman grocery customer spied two clerks lugging a crate.
"Pineapple!" she shouted, and a crowd surged toward the two men.
After $20 in damage to counters and glassware was cleared away, the bewildered clerks announced the crate was only the first of 89 ready for sale.

Trial of Eldora Guard Charged With Beating 17-Year-Old Starts Monday at Fort Dodge
FT. DODGE (AP)—About 30 persons have been called to testify for the state in the trial opening here Monday afternoon of Harold Nelson, 48, former guard at the Eldora state training school for boys, Jens Grothe, special prosecutor for the state, said yesterday.
Nelson, now employed at Decora, is charged with assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury. Specifically, he is accused of beating James Patrick Galvin, 17, former inmate, with a pick ax handle last Aug. 28. Galvin now is a resident at Father Flanagan's home near Omaha.
The prosecutor said he believed the trial would last about 10 days. Grothe will be assisted in the prosecution by Dwight Rider of Ft. Dodge, former district judge, and Hardin County Attorney D. W. Dickinson. The case was transferred from Eldora to Fort Dodge on a charge of venue. Counsel for the defense will be E. H. Lundy of Eldora and Thomas Healy of Ft. Dodge. There has been no indication as to how many persons will be called to testify for the defense.
Asked what he thought the result of the Nelson trial would be, Grothe said, "We'll try it, and let the chips fall where they may."
Immediately following the Klatt trial, a second degree murder charge which had been filed against Nelson was dismissed because of what Grothe said was "insufficient evidence."
Klatt, Nelson and three others still face charges of conspiracy and are to have separate trials. The others are O. S. von Krog, superintendent for 23 years; Darrell T. Brown, former assistant superintendent, and H. J. Martin, former dean of the boys. The charges grew out of alleged beatings of inmates.

Former Iowa State Senator Dies When Gun Accidentally Discharges
FORT DODGE (AP)—Emmett E. Cavanaugh, 64, former Iowa state senator and former Webster county attorney, was fatally injured last night when he fell on the basement steps at his home and a shotgun he was carrying discharged.
Cavanaugh had gone to the basement to get a small shotgun with which he said he was going to shoot a bluejay. As he was coming up the steps, he stumbled and J. B. Cross, acting coroner, said he accidentally shot himself in the side of his face.
Cavanaugh served in the Iowa senate from 1927 to 1931. He was a past grand commander of the Iowa Knights Templar and was a widely known sportsman.
He is survived by his widow; a son, Capt. Dean Cavanaugh, an ocean pilot for Pan American airways now in Florida; and a daughter, Lt. Vyva Kerr of the Marine Corps Womens Reserve, stationed in North Carolina.

Republican Senators Claim Committee Vote Against Pauley
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican strategists last night claimed a naval committee majority against the nomination of Edwin W. Pauley for undersecretary of the navy as the senate put off until Feb. 18 action on two other presidential appointments.
A Republican lieutenant who declined use of his name said opponents of Pauley had received assurances that at least three Democrats, and possibly more, would join with a solid bank of seven Republicans against a favorable committee recommendation.
Administration leaders had conceded previously that a test might bring a tie vote, which also would bring an unfavorable report to the senate.
But there seemed little doubt that when the senate gets around to it, it will give substantial approval to President Truman's appointment of jovial George E. Allen for a two-year term as a director of the reconstruction finance corporation.
Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) who had tried unsuccessfully to get consideration of the Allen appointment during the day, told reporters it probably will come up Feb. 18.

Orders Seizure of Buildings Necessary for Use as Hospitals
NEW YORK (AP)—The board of health yesterday ordered the seizure of any building in New York necessary for use as a hospital in a move to meet what it said was "a state of great, imminent and increasing peril" to the health of the city's millions.
The action came as persons seeking priorities to purchase fuel oil, cut off from the city by the six-day-old tugboat strike, thronged police headquarters where an emergency ration board began operations at noon.
Rigid rationing of existing stockpiles of fuel oil was ordered by Mayor William O'Dwyer to avoid what he called a possible "epidemic of respiratory illness and disease."
Board of health members said that if the fuel shortage were not relieved, there would be "discomfort, distress and suffering and an increase in illness and deaths, particularly among infants, the infirm and the aged."
Insufficient light—the city was "browned out" Wednesday when O'Dwyer declared a state of emergency—and disruption of transportation because of a lack of fuel might result in civil disorder adding further danger to life and health, the board members said.
The city's government-seized fleet of 400 tugboats lay idle for the sixth day despite O'Dwyer's call on the office of defense transportation to man them immediately "regardless of consequences."
Forty-four government tugs labored to bring emergency supplies by barge from New Jersey terminals during the day. An ODT spokesman said seven additional navy tugs arrived from Boston, Philadelphia and Norfolk, Va.
Squads of police and city fuel inspectors were stationed at bridges, tunnels and ferries to divert incoming oil trucks to top priority consumers.
Users of heavy fuel oils only were required to get certificates of delivery from the ration board at police headquarters or at any of the city's 81 police stations, City Fuel Administrator Albert Pleydell said in a broadcast.

Gillette Says Hebrews Held Without Charges
CHICAGO (AP)—Guy M. Gillette, president of the American League for a free Palestine, claimed last night that thousands of Palestinian Hebrews have been arrested and are being held in concentration camps without charges.
Gillette, former Democratic senator from Iowa, told a meeting sponsored by the midwestern division of the league that in Palestine "one is considered guilty under law, even where the death sentence is involved, unless he proves himself to be innocent."

Asked to Drop Soviet Request
LONDON (AP)—Great Britain and the Netherlands topped a full day of United Nations activity with a demand last night that the security council reject a Soviet Ukraine request for a commission to investigate conditions in the strife-torn Netherlands East Indies.
The other main highlights of yesterday's decisions:
1. The general assembly, in a move sparked by the United States delegation, called on colonial powers to carry out the United Nations charter provisions for developing self-government and free political institutions in their dependencies.
2. Assembly delegates adopted a resolution, proposed by Panama, to keep Franco's Spain out of the United Nations and to treat his government as a virtual outcast. The proposal won 45 votes with El Salvador and Nicaragua abstaining and four nations not present.

Little Hope for Indonesians in Dutch Proposal

The announcement by a member of the Dutch delegation to the United Nations organization that a "liberal" proposal for a solution to the Indonesian problem will be submitted soon offers little cause for optimism. The past record of the Dutch and the known attitudes of the Indonesian leaders prompt belief that a compromise will not be forthcoming unless one side should unexpectedly yield.

The new proposal probably will not embody much more than Queen Wilhelmina's 1942 pledge of eventual dominion status in a Dutch commonwealth of nations. Most of the officials of the Netherlands government—which has exploited the rich resources of the East Indies for 350 years to the utmost—have long been unwilling to abandon the great income that flows from the Indies.

Before the war, the profits from investments in the Indies accounted for more than a fifth of the Netherlands' national income—an understandable reason why the Dutch would like to maintain some ties with the colony.

But it is likely that a promise of eventual dominion status will be coldly received by the Indonesians. They turned down the 1942 offer—chiefly because they want complete independence. And they are reluctant about the 20 to 30 year "transition" period which even the most sympathetic Dutch officials say the Indonesians will need, before they can run the country themselves.

Moreover, the Indonesians feel that under a dominion status, they still would be subjected to exploitation by the home government.

The history of Dutch imperialism is a far from spotless record. After three and a half centuries, the illiteracy rate is a deplorable 92 percent, and the 72,000,000 inhabitants are poorly fed and poorly housed. The average daily wage of the Indonesian is approximately 20 cents.

It is this record, more than anything else, which makes the Indonesians suspicious of Dutch proposals.

Is it obvious that complete and immediate independence would not be to the best interest of the Indonesian people. Much guidance and aid will be needed before the gigantic task for preparing the country for self-government is accomplished.

Thus, the logical solution to the Indonesian problems seems to be a trusteeship, either directly by UNO or at least subject to the control of UNO. It is unlikely that the Dutch contemplate a trusteeship in their "liberal solution." Whether UNO will take such action, perhaps at the suggestion of some other nation, remains to be seen.

Teaching the Japanese About Democracy

Several Japanese civilians, accused of stealing from a United States army warehouse recently, pleaded innocent with the explanation that they thought they were being "democratic." They said they believed their actions were fully in accord with MacArthur's policy of democratization of Japan.

The incident naturally makes Americans wonder whether the Japanese are being taught democracy. We recognize, of course, that the average Nipponese can not comprehend democratic practices as readily as we would like. But still we are anxious to know if we are taking adequate steps to teach them.

Apparently General MacArthur and his staff are getting much more done in Japan than the Allies are accomplishing in Europe. But the fact remains that MacArthur is facing a problem that affords many more complications than exist in Europe, and he must be doubly wary of stumbling blocks.

MacArthur's record of accomplishments is a feather in his hat. But forcing democracy on the Japanese is an undertaking that could have serious repercussions if it were carried out too abruptly and got out of hand.

Teaching democracy to the Jap is no easy task. Veterans of the Pacific can testify that the Japanese mind is capable of traveling in one direction only. Their war tactics and their fanaticism for the emperor are further proof of one-way minds. Therefore, education to democracy will have to be slow, for a hurried change in the Jap's train of thought often produces bewildering results.

There is no recorded case in history in which a country has been democratized without a revolution or a stormy political period, followed by a long term of orientation and reconversion. We are anxious that Japan avoid internal eruption in her transition, and we are willing that she have all the time necessary to make changes.

The solution, for the most part, rests in the hands of MacArthur. He has done a commendable job so far, but now that the occupation forces are delving deeper into the matter of democracy, they must proceed slowly and uniformly. And they must teach the Jap what democracy is.

Plans for Union Additions

Plans outlining the new additions to Iowa Union are printed on page five of The Iowan today. The plans are not detailed, because nothing of a very detailed nature has yet been permanently approved.

The plans on page five show the general location of the new facilities that have been proposed. They were released by President Hancher because he and Dr. Harper want to know what suggestions students have.

Students are urged to consider these plans carefully, and then to make suggestions for the kind of student center they want.

Brazilian Future

A world that is beginning to wonder just where is the prize for which it fought nearly six years of bloody war, cast expectant glances at Brazil last week. There an allegedly popular government has succeeded the "benevolent dictatorship of Getulio Dornelles Vargas.

The world is watching Brazil as a test case to determine the direction of its new government, headed by Eurico Gaspar Dutra. Will the newly inaugurated president follow the totalitarian footsteps of his predecessor or will Brazilians enjoy true democracy under a federal government of their own choosing and best interest?

The shape of things to come in Brazil may predict in some degree the future course of other nations recently liberated from absolute governmental systems. True, the political, social and economic situations are different in each country. But the general pattern is the same: people released from years of dictator rule and presented with the chance to govern themselves.

Will they know how? Will they realize the value of having such democracy? Are they willing to struggle to keep that system against the insidious efforts of future candidates in the dictator derby?

Watch Brazil. A real victory for democracy

Fun at Union

Whoever wrote the editorial "Fun and Culture in the New Union" hit the nail on the head. That is just exactly what we students will be looking for when the new additions are built.

I'm inclined to think, however, that the word "fun" should be used a little more advisedly. Maybe "relaxation" would be a better word. We don't want to be too noisy or energetic. We just want to sit around and take it easy.

We'd like to listen to good music and look at good pictures—especially if they had a booklet to tell us something about the pictures. And we would like to be able to just sit in an easy chair and smoke and sip a coke. Or maybe play bridge.

Of course we'd like to have some place where we could get a little exercise along with our recreation. Do you suppose we could have a handball court in addition to the bowling alleys? Also some place to play chess, which some of my friends say is quite the game.

Keeping playing for more fun or relaxation—whichever you may want to call it—in the Union. You will have the entire student body with you.

"Lounge Lizard"

TO THE EDITOR:

How does it happen that the students in the United States are not an articulate force? Little of importance is heard from college students in the United States, while students in other countries are leading powerful social and political movements; students can be leaders of national scope. In Argentina, Russia and China (to mention but a few examples) students are forming and forcing a progressive national policy. The United States is one of the few nations that has never felt the surge of a progressive student movement of national importance.

What would happen if the American students became a dynamic national force; if American students could unitedly present their stand on proposed national policy? What if American students were to picket for FEPC, feeding of Europe, a new G. I. bill, or complete American support of UNO?

While students of other countries are unitedly moving for progressive causes, why are American students again consolidating their positions as lounge lizards?

Need Nurses' Aides

TO THE EDITOR:

Since 1942, a lot of women in Johnson county have been trained as volunteer nurses' aides, agreeing to serve a minimum of 150 hours and to be prepared to serve "in time of emergency." Many of these women have served faithfully—as much as 850 hours. Some have given little or nothing.

There seems to be an idea that the war is over, the nurses are back, and the need for volunteer nurses' aides in the local hospital has become minimal. This is not true.

Sister Philomena at Mercy, Miss Corder at University hospital and Miss Weber at Children's each tell me they need and desire assistance with the nursing care of their patients. There is much need, and assistance from volunteer nurses' aides now as there was any time during the war months.

Five aides served in December and only four in January—total less than 100 hours. Would you be kind enough to print the following "appeal"? I believe with your help we can get some of these indifferent nurses' aides back where they are needed.

Call for Nurses' Aides
The war may be over, and many graduate nurses back home again, but the local hospitals are still very much in need of help in nursing care of patients. Why? Because some of the trained nurses returning from battle areas and veterans' hospitals are tired, exhausted and in need of a change and rest. Some of them are married and have taken up the duties of a housewife and mother; others are reporting for duty in the community and in the hospitals, but they are not sufficient in number to fill the need.

So many patients require the "little services"—a drink of water, a bedpan, help in moving, a word of encouragement, assistance in feeding himself—and they call in vain, for there are not enough hands to go around.

The staff members are busy taking care of the "musts" that only those properly trained can do—medications, casts, dressing and the critically ill. They are too

Prof. Peterson To Head Series

National Problems To Be Discussed During 2nd Semester

Prof. E. T. Peterson of the college of education will open the second semester Information First lecture series at 4:10 p. m. Thursday in the senate chamber of Old Capitol discussing "The G. I. University in England."

Before he joined the staff of the college for American servicemen in June last year, Professor Peterson was acting dean of the college of education here and acting director of the summer session in the absence of Dean P. C. Packer, who has since returned to the university.

Last semester's Information First lectures dealt mainly with topics of international concern and featured lecturers on the control of the atomic bomb, the problems we, as citizens of the United States, face in the rehabilitation of the people of devastated European countries and discussions of the United Nations organization.

National Problems
"The second half of this year's program will be devoted to the difficulties in our own national backyard, and skeletons in the American closet," stated Eleanor Pownall, A3 of Iowa City, chairman of the Information First central committee. "We hope to cover the labor problem, juvenile delinquency, inter-racial understanding and other vital, if controversial, topics."

Other members of the central committee include: Betty Lou Schmidt, A2 of Davenport, publicity; Miki Levitt, A4 of Des Moines, program; Betty Dickinson, A2 of Newton, contact, and Topsy Carberry, A2 of Cedar Rapids, hostesses. Helen Focht, assistant director in the office of student affairs, is adviser.

U. V. A. Project
Information First, a project of the University Women's association, was organized in 1943 as a part of the campus-wide Double V war program. Victory in War and Victory in Peace.

"It was conceived with the idea that war activities are only a beginning toward the end of lasting peace," Miss Pownall declared. "That serious, straightforward and common sense thinking must underlie action; that planning for peace must be based on the solid foundation of open-minded investigation and a careful weighing of the facts."

"We are concerned now with our part in winning the war against economic, social and political insecurity. We are eager to learn the role of all of us, as students, and as the younger generation, in uniting the world in a guarantee of the Four Freedoms. We feel today that we must know that the peace is being well formulated and as well executed."

Advises Wise Control of Nuclear Energy

"The atomic bomb has dramatized nuclear physics and made it clear that if nuclear energy is not wisely controlled it may do more harm than good in the long run," Prof. Louis A. Turner of Princeton university and the radiation laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., said yesterday. Professor Turner will succeed Prof. George W. Stewart as head of the physics department in July.

Our own good there seem to be enough to use our knowledge for our own good there seems to be unlimited possibilities in the use of radioactive substance produced by nuclear reactions in the unravelling of many problems of biology and medicine that have hitherto been too difficult to attack," he continued.

New Era
"Physics has entered upon a new era in the rapid development of nuclear physics," Professor Turner stated. "Physicists have been surprised and pleased at the interest shown in their work by the public and legislators."

Professor Turner has an especial interest in nuclear physics and hopes to carry out research in that field next year. "It is too early to announce any new plans for the curriculum next fall," he said.

His work in the radiation laboratory in Cambridge was in the development of radar at extremely short wave lengths. Such radar equipment is capable of giving highly directed narrow beams of radiation so that it serves as a radio search light that can penetrate cloud, fog, and smoke. For several years he worked principally with the receivers of the radar sets and then with responding beacons and other identification devices.

At present he is technical editor for four of the volumes that will set forth the principal scientific and technological developments of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Authoritative Article
Prof. G. W. Stewart, retiring head of the department, states that Professor Turner's article on nuclear physics in 1940 became the best authoritative statement of the knowledge on that subject up to that time. It recorded the fundamental facts upon which atom bomb construction depends. Professor Turner was one of the first to point out that, as a consequence of existing theory, one should be able to obtain what is now called plutonium, and that these atoms should be susceptible to the remarkable property of fission similar to that in uranium 235.

Professor Turner is married and has a daughter and a son. He will return to Cambridge today.

LET'S TAKE STOCK NOW

Everybody wants goods:

Manufacturers want to make them for you;

Yet months after the war's end, you still find it difficult to get many of the things you want and should have.

So, isn't this the time for all of us to take stock ; ; ; to learn a lesson ; ; ; to find out, if we can, what will cure the troubles we are having and prevent their recurrence?

Let's look ahead and agree on a program that will insure the full production everybody agrees is the real answer to most of our problems.

Suppose we begin by taking a good look at three roadblocks to prosperity. ; ;

STRIKES

Whatever their justice or injustice, strikes paralyze production, force people to use up their savings, and result in losses that can never be made up.

PRICE CEILINGS

Full production isn't possible when industry suffers losses because of rising costs and frozen prices. Price ceilings limit production — goods just don't get made.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

Continued huge government spending means continued high taxes. High taxes discourage production, hinder the creation of jobs, and leave you less to spend.

ISN'T THIS THE WAY?

The people, through Congress, can remove these roadblocks in the long-range interests of all ; ; ;

By establishing a labor policy that will treat labor and management exactly alike, and above all be fair to the public;

By removing the shackles of price control on manufactured goods;

By cutting down on government spending now and balancing the Federal budget by the 1947 fiscal year at a level of income and outgo that taxpayers can stand.

Do you believe this program is in the public interest?

Your Representatives in Congress are the only ones that can put it into effect. Tell them how you feel about it.

Former Student Affairs Assistant Director Gets New Position

Lt. (j. g.) Helen Reich, former assistant director of student affairs at the university, has been appointed civil readjustment officer at the United States coast guard separation center, Boston, Mass. Lieutenant Reich replaces Lt. Robert Rodman, who has been released from service.

Lieutenant Reich was formerly attached to the Boston separation center as assistant readjustment officer in charge of the educational and special college courses division.

Prior to her work in Boston, Lieutenant Reich was in charge of the processing center in Seattle, Wash. When the SPARS were authorized to serve in Alaska, she spent two weeks in Ketchikan, Alaska, to become acquainted with the basic requirements for SPARS who might serve in the north.

Lieutenant Reich was graduated from the Coast Guard academy in July, 1944. She has four brothers who served with the army overseas during World War II.

Upon her release from service, Lieutenant Reich will return to her former position at the university.

She is the daughter of Mrs. H. C. Reich, 1835 Second street, Cedar Rapids.

Thunder Over Mexico To Be Shown Friday

"Thunder Over Mexico," a documentary film sponsored by the art guild, will be shown in the auditorium of the art building Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The film concerns peasant uprisings in Mexico and suppression of the revolt by the land-owners. Sequences dealing with folk lore of the Mexican peasants, their religious celebrations and holidays are also included.

The film was made under the supervision of Sergei Eisenstein, a Russian director. One hundred thousand feet of film was used in recording the various documentary evidence. "Thunder Over Mexico" was compiled from many of these shots.

Fire Damages Roof, Attic of T. C. Loney Home Yesterday

Fire damaged the roof and attic of the Thomas C. Loney home, 823 Bowery street, yesterday afternoon.

The three rooms on the second floor were damaged by water and smoke. Most of the contents escaped injury from the water as it leaked through the ceilings, down the walls and over the floors.

Sparks from the chimney igniting the roof are believed to have caused the fire. There was some flame and much smoke as the blaze crept under the shingles and spread around the chimney in the center of the roof.

Firemen were busy from about 10:15 a. m. until afternoon. They had to tear away parts of the roof to get at the fire.

No immediate estimate could be made of the damage. The house and furnishings were insured.

Blues Spurt, Tilt Teachers

After trailing for most of the game, University high's Blue Hawks rallied in the fourth quarter to defeat Teachers high of Cedar Falls, 32-29, in a game played in the University field-house last night as a preliminary to the Iowa-Purdue bout.

During the first half of the game, the Tutors displayed a confident, smooth-working team, while U-high was unable to make their shots and appeared to be unsure of themselves. Bad passing accounted for much of the Rivermen's trouble plus the fact that they were unusually cold in their shooting.

Shortly after the beginning of the fourth quarter, the Blue Hawks started to find the range on the basket, and combined with some excellent rebounding and floor-play, they soon narrowed the margin and passed ahead of the Teachers on a basket by Nussler.

Once they had the lead, U-high never again lost it to the hard-fighting Teachers, who seemed to have hit a cold streak themselves.

At the end of the first quarter the score was 10-11 in favor of the Teachers, and at the half the visitors still led, 17-8. The third quarter saw U-high drawing closer when the score stood at 25-21 as that quarter ended.

Illinois Drops Wolves 49-44 In See-Saw Tilt

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The University of Illinois weathered a dazzling display of Michigan basketball shooting, and came back to defeat the Wolverine sharpshooters last night, 49-44.

The largest crowd of the year, 7,005, saw the lead change hands three times in the last half and on three occasions the score was knotted up.

The game marked the return of the first of Illinois' "Whiz Kids"—Jack Smiley—and he contributed six points to the victory. A pair of six-foot, seven-inch freshmen, Fred Green and Bob Rowe, shared the center job and contributed 19 points between them.

Dave Straack connected on four of his first five shots to give Michigan a lead which the Wolverines stretched to 20-9 before the Illinois started their comeback. The visitors' lead was pared to 22 to 20 at the half.

Iowa, Huskers Wrestle Monday

The lineups:

Coach Mike Howard's wrestling team is looking forward to the clash with Nebraska Monday night, hopeful of balancing the season's record after dropping a close battle to Wisconsin last week, 15-13.

The Nebraska squad is headed by the Coppel Brothers, Ed and Newt. The latter handles the duties in the 155-pound class and brother Ed is a rugged chore for the opposition in the 165-pound slot.

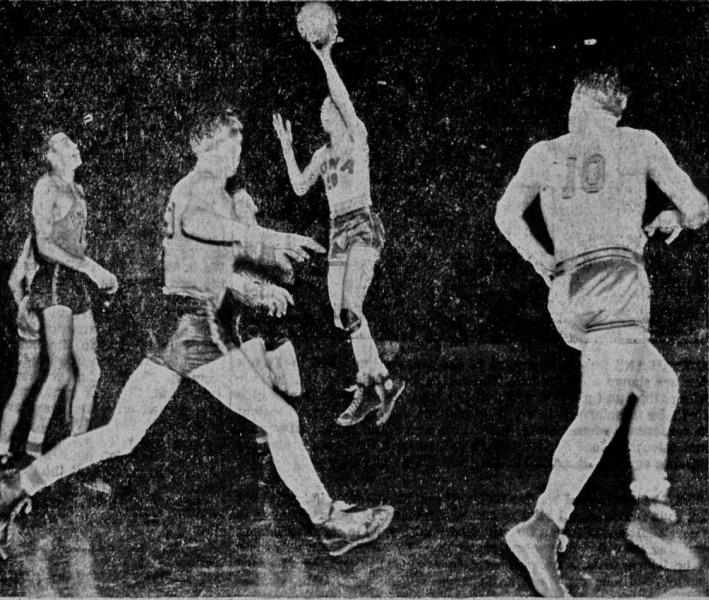

Two changes have been made in the Iowa lineup during the past week. Bob Johnson will wrestle for the Hawks in the 175-pound class and Leon George will be at the heavyweight position. Art Johnson, who handled the heavy-weight division against Wisconsin last week, fractured two bones in his left elbow during the match and will be out of action for most of the season.

Notre Dame Upset In Madison Square Garden by NYU, 62-58

NEW YORK (AP)—New York university's hard-driving basketball Violets held off a typical rally by Notre Dame's crack courtmen last night to score a 62-58 victory over the Irish before a crowd of 18,095 fans in Madison Square Garden.

In scoring their third triumph in 13 clashes with the Irish since 1934, the Violets boosted their national ranking with their 13th victory against one defeat this season. It was Notre Dame's second loss in 16 contests.

Herb's Goal Helps During First Half

CONFUSING the Boilermakers with a left-handed poke, Herb Wilkinson goes up to shoot as the first hectic half of the Iowa-Purdue game drew to a close last night. Ned Postels and Dave Danner (10) are the visible Hawks; Miller, Anderson and Haag are the Boilermakers. Iowa had more trouble in the second half but eventually won, 43-41.

I. D. Cards Boon to 'Crashers'

Amateur "gate crashers" are proving more of a headache to Iowa fieldhouse ticket takers than the more publicized experts.

Bob Ballantyne, university employment service director who doubles as supervisor of the field-house ticketmen, says his crew is bothered mostly by the "crashers" who try to work into the games on borrowed student identification cards.

"We get all kinds," confides general Bob as he displays a double handful of I. D. cards. "Here are about 25 or 30 and we'll have that many more before the game starts."

Bob is happy to report that his men are hep to all of the usual techniques: use of last year's cards, borrowed ones, cards without the second semester tuition-paid stamp on 'em. Easiest to spot at last night's Iowa-Purdue game were the two poker-faced gents who presented duets to the Iowa-Chicago game of the week before.

University authorities had decreed a two-dollar fine on persons who presented I. D. cards at the game without a second semester validating stamp.

Sob stories were also the vogue as insistent fans sought out the most tender-hearted ticket takers for a tale of woe on how Aunt Minnie locked the tickets in her grip and took off for Texas that afternoon, or how two deserving brothers were back after 97 months overseas and wanted to see the game worse than the fan did.

The ticket men were on the job bright and early Saturday afternoon. Mr. Ballantyne reported the first eager beavers elbowing in before 2 p. m. with their gin-rummy decks and box lunches. The U-high-Teachers game provided entertainment after 6 o'clock but the stands were nearly full before it was half over.

Track Team Gets Set For Opener Feb. 16

With the first dual meet coming up Saturday, Feb. 16, against Chicago, Coach George Bresnahan is readying his charges for the approaching track season. A squad of 46 men are working out daily.

Coach Bresnahan is building his team around two stalwart performers. They are Lee Farmer, Big Ten sprint and broadjump winner of 1943, and Keith Gottard, who placed second in the shot put in the indoor conference meet last year.

Other sprint men beside Farmer are Robert Dunkin, Alfred Grochowalski, Gus Hempstead, Robert Hodges, Norman Nelson, Rex Floer, Robert Reynolds, Obery Simmons, Richard Washington, and Eric Wilson Jr.

In the 440 and 880-yard runs the candidates are Walter Freitag, Robert Hartsock, John Hunter, George Patton, Melvin Pollard, Pete Schwinn, Nelson Smith Jr. and Donald Wandel. Distance men include Robert Carpenter, Harold Eakes, Lenard Jaworski, Bernard Lewis, Eugene Freels, Roger Hauson, Ike Johnson, Everett Jones, Jack Legg. In the field events Delbert Bartels, Larry Gernuska, Gotthard, Jack Hammond, Morris Kimmel and Dan Sheehan. High jumpers are Freels, Johnson, Paul Meadows, and Sheehan. Broadjump, Farber, Johnson, Louie Wilson. In the pole vault, Sheehan is the only candidate so far.

Hogan, Nelson Lead
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Bantam Ben Hogan raced in with a six-under-par 65 on wind-swept Braekendridge park course to tie Byron Nelson for the lead at the halfway mark in the Texas open. The two carded 132 for 36 holes.

Jaros Gets 18 Points As Gophers Rebound Past Chicago, 52-30

CHICAGO (AP)—Forward Tony Jaros provided the scoring spark for the University of Minnesota quintet as the Gophers overpowered the University of Chicago, 52-30, last night at the Maroon fieldhouse.

Jaros tossed in 18 points as the Gophers snapped a three-game losing streak and sent Chicago spinning to its 57th consecutive Big Ten loss.

The Maroons played their best game of the season, battling Minnesota on even terms during the first ten minutes. Then Minnesota's scoring power evidenced itself and Chicago swiftly fell behind. The Gophers led 28-13 at the half.

Hoosiers' Tying Rally in Vain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's basketball team blew a 12-point lead in the last 10 minutes of regular playing time last night and then had to battle through a five-minute overtime to nose out Indiana, 53-52, to keep its Big Ten basketball hopes intact.

The victory was Ohio State's seventh in nine conference games and the 20th in a row for the Bucks on their home court and never in that string have they been so close to defeat.

After leading the losers 28-17 at the half Ohio State dropped into a 44-32 margin, with 10 minutes and 10 seconds to go and it looked as if it was all over but the shouting.

But that was when the shouting began.

The Bucks elected to play it safe and Indiana coupled a pressing defense with some brilliant shooting by Jack Herron and John Wallace to trim the Ohio State margin to one point at 45-44 with a minute and 50 seconds remaining.

Bob Bowen picked up a free throw for Ohio State but Herron banged in a one-hander from the corner to knot the count at 46 all with a minute remaining. That's the way it stood when the regulation time ran out.

In the overtime Bowen quickly shot Ohio State out in front but Wallace tied it up again. Bowen broke under the basket to score once more and Wayne Wells added a free throw for the Bucks.

Wallace and Jack Underman traded field goals and Herron's final fielder left the Hoosiers one point in arrears.

A rejuvenated Irish team, back from their conquest of the number two position in the Davenport diocesan tourney, takes to the floor tomorrow night in the south side gym at eight o'clock in an attempt to avenge a mid-season three-point loss at the hands of St. Patrick's of Cedar Rapids.

The Irish, in fine mental and physical shape after the grueling tourney competition, expect a tough battle from the Parlor City crew that has piled up a fine record this year and advanced last week to the semi-finals of the Dubuque diocesan cage tourney. Built around two returning lettermen; Johnnie Naughton and Bob Strause, the Cedar Rapids version of the Irish turned back the locals, 39-36, in Cedar Rapids in the first meeting of the two squads.

Chamber of Commerce to Select Improvement Projects by Mail

New City Hall First On List of Proposed Iowa City Buildings

The Iowa City Chamber of Commerce, to select city improvement projects for chamber sponsorship, will submit by mail a list of 21 possibilities to its members to vote on.

Chief on the list of civic projects is the building of a new city hall, with improved facilities for the police and fire departments.

Also suggested was the sale of the present city hall as a building site for a new hotel.

Chamber of Commerce President D. C. Nolan, who submitted the propositions to the board of directors of the chamber, said last night that the projects planned will be both immediate and long range.

"The most important project for Iowa City right now," said Nolan, "is an immediate survey by an engineer of the fire insurance underwriters of the city fire fighting equipment and water supply."

Each member of the chamber will be asked to submit additional ideas as well as vote on the ones already suggested. Probably only two or three ideas will be worked on immediately, Nolan said, and some may be five years in the future.

- The 21 ideas to be voted on are:
1. A new city hall.
 2. A new hotel.
 3. A new office building.
 4. A plan for "face-lifting" the business district.
 5. Regular cleaning of the streets and sidewalks.
 6. Elimination of checking of out-of-town cars parked on city streets.
 7. Encouragement of the development of agricultural limestone and other bi-products.
 8. Encouragement of new industries in vicinity.
 9. Revision of zoning ordinances.
 10. Development of the 4-H program into a Johnson county fair, by providing grounds and buildings.
 11. Development of a mid-winter agricultural extension course.
 12. The Chamber of Commerce sponsoring a non-profit company for the construction of emergency housing units.
 13. Supervised playground for the children of Iowa City.
 14. Fire department and water survey.
 15. Development of the airport.
 16. Reopening of Linn street between Iowa avenue and Jefferson street.
 17. A new grade school for east Iowa City.
 18. Pave and widen College street in the business district.
 19. A downtown parking lot.
 20. The rebuilding of the Benton street bridge.
 21. An increase in the bond issue if necessary for completion

University Symphony Concert Wednesday

The "Midsummer Night's Dream Overture," which will be the first selection to be played by the university symphony orchestra at its concert Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Iowa Union, is regarded by many as Mendelssohn's greatest work.

Other compositions to be presented are Brahms' "Concerto in D Minor" for piano and orchestra with Norma Cross of the music department as soloist and Schuman's "First Symphony."

Free tickets for the concert may be obtained at the Union desk.

Coin Collection Exhibit In Union Tuesday

A coin collection which includes every bill issued in the United States since the American Revolution will be exhibited by Loyd B. Gettys in Iowa Union Tuesday, Feb. 19. At 7:30 that evening Gettys will speak on his collection in the Union library.

Anyone wishing to attend the lecture is asked to sign up at the information desk in the lobby of Iowa Union as the size of the library will limit the audience. The exhibit is sponsored by the house and library sub-committee.

Valentine Greetings

Now that tests are over and there is plenty of time to think about hobbies, stop in at SPENCERS HARMONY HALL and get the latest records you need to build up your file and bring it up to date. By the way, records are ideal Valentine's day gifts so why not give your best friend the best gift possible . . . a record from SPENCERS HARMONY HALL.

Friendship is a wonderful thing, and sometimes it turns out to be more than friendship, so Rhea Crowder, Delta Gamma, and Ned Postels, Phi Delta, chained their pins. Congratulations to both of you.

Saturday was a day of celebration for the Sigma Nu's. We don't know why, but everyone will agree that they were the life of every party. Ask a Sigma Nu to sing their favorite song about eagles and watch him blush.

"Everything in music" . . . that's the motto of HUYETT'S AND WEST'S MUSIC STORE, and they certainly keep their word. That's right, you can find any of your music needs there. Just for instance . . . band and orchestra instruments, music supplies of all kinds, methods, and then of course sheet music to suit everybody's taste—both classical and popular.

And just in case you need some repair work done, HUYETT AND WEST do expert work. So just take your instruments in tomorrow and see what we mean. Just remember . . . for the best in music, it's HUYETT'S AND WEST'S MUSIC STORE.

We'd say Laurene Putman was really getting around fast . . . she's been here exactly one week and already has Vince Staples' ATO pin. But then they were old Ft. Madison buddies before that.

Dorothy Goldapp, Alpha Chi, announced her engagement last night to Mer Atkins who is back on campus to hit the books again. This is really the old-fashioned love 'cause they've been sweethearts since high-school days . . . the beautiful diamond must be a knock-out from all reports.

Super food . . . well, all you new SUI students, just take a tip from us ancient ones and try THE PRINCESS CAFE for quick service, friendly atmosphere, and best of all . . . Iowa City's most delicious food. Just in case you're interested, the prices are just right, too. Bet you think this combination adds up to "out-of-this-world" in your language too . . . so take us up on it tomorrow and try the PRINCESS CAFE.

If you noticed the 21 twinkling candles at the Mayflower a few Saturday nights ago we must tell you that they were attached to a light, fluffy, fine textured, even grained birthday cake baked by Jerry Niles ever a Bunsen burner to celebrate Ellen Garms' birthday . . . Jerry is sooooo versatile.

It looks as though the one spring day we had last week had its effect on turning man's thoughts to you know what for Bo Peep Hoerner, Delta Gamma pledge, is now wearing the Phi Gam pin of Larry Becklin.

Pattie Steadman and Marge Jacobson are two particularly happy Kappas, PFC Jim Kenworthy and Ens. Jim Fear arrived from California and New York respectively to make this week-end a memorable one.

Birthdays . . . anniversaries . . . holidays . . . weddings . . . well we can go on indefinitely and so can THE BOOKSHOP in their assortment of gifts for all occasions. You just name it, and they will have the answer to all your gift problems. Just to mention a few things . . . books, cards, prints, handkerchiefs, cosmetics, figurines, and on and on. So lads and lassies, just drop in at THE BOOKSHOP and see for yourself . . . know you'll find just what you're looking for.

Flash! Five pounds have just been passed in the ADPI house to celebrate the engagement of Delores McGonical to Bob Puffer, Sigma Nu. A very promising couple we'd say . . . much luck to you both.

The Waikiki Kid, otherwise known as Bill Madigan, has left the campus to join his father in Hawaii and enjoy the artistic sights there . . . We're sorry to see his leave but wish him lots of luck at the University of Hawaii.

Ya' want real sharp lookin' leather goods . . . well just stop worrying 'cause FRYAUF LEATHER GOODS STORE has your solution, but definitely. You can find the last word in leather goods there in the way of bill-folds, key holders, cosmetic kits, men's utility kits, diaries, picture frames, and well, practically anything you could possibly ask for. But get to FRYAUF LEATHER GOODS STORE and see for yourself what we mean.

Sue Penningroth, Pi Phi, is the proud wearer of a diamond, thanks to Bob Dee, Phi Delta. The big event happened Monday night—complete with ice cream, cake and a Phi Delta serenade.

The fact that so many new men on campus seems to be quite overwhelming to some of the coeds—one of them was so overwhelmed by the line of vets in U hall that she fell down the stairs—all goes to show that one should concentrate on one thing at a time. Pick your field of concentration 'cause it isn't much fun to wear a cast, is it Betty?

Where to Go

Bob Fawcett and his fiance, Joan Sayers, are enjoying the comfort of THE DELLS as you can tell by the pleased looks on their faces.

You'll be pleased, too, by the friendly service and fine food which THE DELLS are noted for. All you new students who haven't tried THE DELLS yet have a big treat in store. Fellows, give your girl a Valentine's day gift she'll long remember by taking her to dinner at THE DELLS.

When you are in need of prompt cab service call a HAWKEYE VARSITY. Their courteous drivers will take you to your destination quickly and carefully whether it's a trip to the fraternity house dormitory, a dinner date or a dash to an eight o'clock class. Remember HAWKEYE VARSITY when it's Johnny-on-the-spot service you want.

If you were in Joe's Wednesday afternoon, you couldn't help but notice the influx of customers around four o'clock. Yes, President Truman's fateful announcement created quite a dither.

Do you ever have a yen for crunchy camel corn. To satisfy it, why not stop in at the KAR-MEL KORN SHOP half a block from the campus? While you're there, try one of their delicious sandwiches or luscious sundaes. When you want something good to eat, remember the KAR-MEL KORN SHOP!

To people . . . and that goes especially for you new guys and gals on campus, do you want a tip on your clothes situation? Well DAVIS CLEANERS beside using their new post war solvents on your clothes, now have delivery service along with extra quick service and that's not hard to take. You'll want that handbox look for the thriving social life these days and that means frequent trips to the cleaners with those clothes. But you won't have to worry anymore as the DAVIS formula gives your clothes that chic look that you thought was gone forever. Make it DAVIS CLEANERS tomorrow.

One night the Phi Psi house was bulging with rushees. Beds were at a premium. But pledges Bob Curtiss and "Unc" Huppenbauer spent a most restful night on the floor in the chapter room.

Don't forget TOWNER'S jewelry department when selecting a Valentine for your favorite. Charms for her bracelet, earrings, chokers, Indian jewelry, and bangle bracelets all make exciting gifts. And ask to see the new line of Hummel pins popular with every age group!

And what's this we've heard about the big week-end involving a license and ring for a Beta and his ADPI?

Valentine suggestions from BREMERS which will be appreciated . . .
