Truman Shifts Bowles From OPA

A. Harriman Quits as Red Ambassador

Pres. Truman Names Lt. Gen. W. B. Smith To Succeed Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman announced last night that he had accepted the resignation of Averell Harriman as ambassador to Russia and named Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as his successor.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, who made public the president's announcement, said that legislation would be asked today to permit Smith to take the post without affecting his military status. The nomination will be formally submitted later.

Smith served as chief of staff for Eisenhower in Europe.

The announcement marked the second time the chief executive had turned to the military for an important diplomatic appointment. Recently he named Gen. George C. Marshall as ambassador to China.

Legislation similar to that proposed for Smith's army status was passed when Gen. Omar Bradley was named veterans administrator.

The White House made public a letter to Harriman in which President Truman expressed his "great reluctance" to accept the resignation. Mr. Truman said he was agreeing to it because of the "understanding you had with President Roosevelt that with the end of the war you should be permitted to resign."

"During the war," the president wrote, "you were called upon to perform many missions of great importance and on every occasion you discharged your duty in a manner that contributed to our victory and reflected credit upon your government."

"In accepting your resignation I want you to know that I am satisfied all thoughtful Americans will share my feeling of gratitude to you for the services which you have rendered your country."

The letter disclosed that Harriman first submitted his resignation in April of last year, but was persuaded by Mr. Truman "to remain for a while longer."

General Smith served as General Eisenhower's chief of staff from September, 1942, two months before the Allied invasion of North Africa, through the end of the European war. He signed both the Italian and German surrender documents for the United States.

Eisenhower describes him as his "ideal chief of staff" and as his "shadow commander."

Galvin Testifies Against Nelson

FORT DODGE (AP)—James Patrick Galvin, 17, testified in district court here yesterday that Harold Nelson, former guard at the Eldora state training school for boys, struck him nine times with a pick ax handle last summer while he was an inmate at the school.

Nelson is being tried on a charge of assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury. The charge was filed in connection with an alleged beating of Galvin last Aug. 28.

Galvin testified that after the ninth blow, he (Galvin) fell unconscious. The former inmate was brought here from Boys Town, Neb., where he has been since last November, to testify for the state.

Galvin said he received a cut on the head from one of the blows and was bleeding about his head and face.

Bratton Denies 'Tip' In Decoded Japanese Messages of Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Col. Rufus S. Bratton told Pearl Harbor investigators yesterday there was nothing in decoded Japanese messages to give a tip of intended attack until the morning of Dec. 7, 1941.

Bratton was chief of the far eastern section, military intelligence, in 1941. In that post, he was one of the first to see intercepted and decoded Japanese messages, known as "magic."

He told a senate-house investigating committee he never saw a pre-Pearl Harbor "winds" code message signifying Japan's intention to break with the United States. If the war department ever had one, he believed he would have seen it, Bratton added.

From him, the committee heard, too, fresh details of the delay in acting on the messages the day the Japanese struck.

The witness related that he went to his office early that morning and shortly after 9 a. m. had the last part of the communication at hand.

Bratton said he immediately called the quarters of Gen. George C. Marshall, then army chief of staff, at nearby Ft. Myer, Va.

"We both thought they meant Japan intended to attack us somewhere in the Pacific at or about 1 o'clock this afternoon," Bratton recounted.

Army Court Martial Begins Deliberation On Mistreatment Case

LONDON (AP)—A United States army general court martial began deliberation last night on the case of Sgt. Judson H. Smith, accused of mistreatment of GI prisoners.

A wartime provost sergeant at the stockade in Lichfield, England, the former Cumberland, Ky., coal miner was the first of ten guards and two officers to be tried on similar charges.

All Nations Requested To Take Complete Action on Famine

LONDON (AP)—The first assembly of the United Nations completed the business of its historic first session last night by approving unanimously the Westchester-Fairfield area of New York and Connecticut as the new permanent world peace capital and calling upon all nations to take swift action against global famine.

By acclamation, the assembly in the closing minutes of its meeting in Central Hall also voted for New York City as the temporary headquarters of the world's peace agency.

The assembly adopted an American resolution admitting the World Federation of Trade unions, international cooperative alliance and the American Federation of Labor to consultative status within the United Nations organization.

Representing a victory for United States Senator Tom Connally, (D., Tex.), the American proposal was accepted by a vote of 32 to 6, with 11 abstentions and two absences. It will let all non-governmental organizations who so desire to take part in the work of the United Nations' economic and social council.

One of the final actions of the delegates was to call upon member nations of the organization for "immediate and drastic" action to head off starvation in the world. The assembly asked the nations to conserve food supplies and grow all the grain possible.

The action on the sites cleared the agenda except for formal ceremonies closing the first assembly.

The United States had argued that the AFL should have equal status with the Congress of Industrial Organization, which is a subsidiary of the WFTU.

Strong Winds Knock Temperatures to Zero

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Strong north and northwest winds whipped Iowa last night as temperatures headed toward below zero readings throughout the state.

The weather bureau forecast minimum readings of 20 below in the extreme north and 10 below in the extreme south.

In the eastern part of the state there was a blowing and drifting snow and where there was no snow the strong winds, ranging up to 43 miles per hour at Iowa City, whipped up dust. The visibility at the Iowa City airport was three miles compared with a normal 15.

Peron Calls U. S. Officials Spies

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Col. Juan D. Peron in a published statement last night asserted that Spruille Braden was "chief of a vast spy network" throughout South America while he served as United States ambassador to Argentina and that a former United States military attache had been expelled from Argentina for espionage.

Peron also charged that Braden while ambassador collected money from Argentine firms under the threat of blacklisting them.

Published Statement

His statement, published in the newspaper La Epoca which is supporting him for the presidency of Argentina, flatly denied charges made earlier this week by the United States state department that Peron conspired to aid the Nazis and demanded that the United States give proof of its charges.

Brig. Gen. John Lang, former military attache at the United States embassy, the statement said, "had to be expelled for proven espionage against Argentina and other friendly countries," and added:

"I could tell how Braden financed his political campaigns inside the country with money obtained by extortion from Argentine merchants. The blacklist served for this."

"We can say to Mr. Braden . . . that he had been here in Argentina chief of a vast spy network, not limited to Argentina, but in all South America."

(The state department in Washington declined immediate comment on these charges.)

Argentina's "strong man" and former vice-president declared that Lang, who left here in 1943, "was not able to defend himself against the accusations (of espionage) which were completely proven."

"He did not even try to," Peron added. "He left Argentina with his tail between his legs and his chief Braden was not able to justify him with certainty."

Peron said the charges were "part of the well known Braden plan which disturbs not only the good relations between the two countries, but also the tranquility of the American republics which see their dignity and sovereignty threatened by untimely interference."

Braden now is assistant secretary of state in charge of Latin-American affairs.

Service Reductions In Discharge Scores

WASHINGTON (AP)—The marine corps and the navy yesterday ordered further reductions in discharge scores, making an estimated 183,300 eligible for release.

The marine score for male officers and enlisted men will drop from 45 to 42 on Mar. 1, opening the way for the discharge of 16,000. No change was announced for women marines.

Effective April 15 and May 2, navy point requirements will be lowered to let out 13,800 officers and 153,500 enlisted personnel.

Vice Admiral Louis Denfeld (CQ) chief of naval personnel, said in a statement this would mean that by May 2 approximately 70 percent of personnel subject to demobilization would be back in civilian life.

Physical Standards for Army Lowered to Catch More Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army yesterday lowered its physical standards for draftees and asked for 125,000 in April.

The regular monthly draft call has been 50,000 but that rate has not been met since V-J day.

The army asked draft boards to induct immediately those 4-F's—men previously disqualified for physical reasons—who can meet the lowered standards. About 35,000 men are being accepted each month under present standards.

The army said it is necessary to take men below previous minimum physical standards although it may considerably reduce efficiency and eventually increase the number of discharges for physical disability.

The army now will accept men with the following defects who previously were deemed unqualified for military service.

Lateral deviation of the spine from the midline of more than an inch and less than two inches; history of thyroidectomy for toxic goiter with complete absence of active manifestations for two years.

Hernia, inguinal, which has not descended into the scrotum; hernia, femoral; individuals with local paralysis, such as those due to poliomyelitis or non-progressive disease of the peripheral nerves, of such a degree that they disqualify for general military service, if the paralysis have not interfered with walking and have not prevented the individual from working.

Stuttering or stammering of a degree disqualifying for general military service, but which has not prevented the man from working; mild chronic neurosis; moderate transient psychoneurotic reaction, and mild mental deficiencies.

Age limits will remain 18 to 25 years inclusive. Men 26 through 34 may volunteer and be used in filling selective service calls.

Selective service officials expressed confidence that, with the lower standards, army demands could be met.

Red Cross Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday proclaimed March as Red Cross month and called upon the American public to aid it as an "indispensable humanitarian cause."

Wages, Prices Raised to End Steel Strikes

President Confident Of Settlement Soon; Porter Gets Key Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced last night a shakeup of President Truman's economic top command and establishment of a new and higher wage-price policy.

President Truman shifted OPA Administrator Chester Bowles to the post of economic stabilization administrator with a broadened field of authority, and moved Chairman Paul A. Porter of the federal communication commission into the OPA post.

In a statement he announced modification of existing wage-price policy to permit wage increases within certain limitations and allow any industry placed in hardship position by approved increases in wages to seek price adjustments immediately, without the present six months test period.

Acting Chairman

The president designated Charles E. Denny Jr. as acting chairman of the FCC, to serve in the absence of Porter in his new assignment.

The announcements, released by Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, were made shortly before 8:30 p. m. (CST) after an afternoon conference of the president in his cabinet room with every top government official dealing with either wage or price stabilization.

The new policy, Ross said, provides a "basis" for settlement of the strike of 750,000 steel workers. A settlement was expected soon by all top officials, but hopes that it could be announced along with the new policy were not borne out.

Ross told his hurriedly summoned news conference that the steel strike "has not yet been settled" and he did not anticipate a settlement last night.

Negotiations Progressing

He told reporters, however, that negotiations for an agreement between the CIO United Steelworkers and the steel companies have been going forward and are still going forward.

The president's executive order reconstitutes the economic stabilization administration under Bowles with the same broad authority it had during the war under former Economic Stabilizer William H. Davis.

Ross said the president was confident that the new setup will work. He said it was established with the approval of all the recently contending factions.

Truman Begins Hunt For Ickes' Successor To Interior Position

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman started hunting yesterday for the "right man" to run the interior department while the capital still shook from the blast of Secretary Ickes' dynamite, charged resignation.

Mr. Truman went over a list of possible successors in separate conferences with several western congressmen. He was reported to be looking for one with sufficient stature to take some of the sting out of Ickes' abrupt, snorting departure.

Senator O'Mahoney, Wyoming Democrat, was one White House visitor. He has been mentioned as a prospect. Several senate colleagues named factors which they said point to O'Mahoney as the leading possibility.

But O'Mahoney himself offered White House reporters no hint whether he had been offered the assignment or would take it.

Ickes set off a political earthquake when he quit Wednesday with a declaration that he could not "retain my self respect and stay in the cabinet of President Truman."

His spectacular exit from a post he has held 13 years grew directly from Mr. Truman's nomination of Edwin W. Pauley, California oil man, to be undersecretary of the navy.

The U. S. 'Blue Book' and Col. Peron

For the first time since the days of Cordell Hull, the United States is playing its diplomatic cards face up in the Argentina situation. The state department's new 40,000-word "Blue Book" brings out into the open what Americans have thought about Col. Juan D. Peron's government all along.

John Stelle, commander of the American Legion, seems bent on adding blunder to blunder. The first was his attack on General Bradley, head of the veterans administration, in such unmeasured terms that anyone knew Stelle was venting his wrath instead of being sensible.

Very little has been said about it, but nearly 50 percent of the half million men and women marines have been discharged. On a percentage basis, this isn't ahead of the army or navy discharges. But it is interesting because this is one branch of the armed forces from which there has been no major complaint about post-war service.

Letters to the Editor:

The Iowan's Readers Forum

(Editor's Note: The Daily Iowan invites letters to the editor. They must bear the writer's name and address, but the writer's name will not be published if so requested. No attention will be paid unsigned letters.)

TO THE EDITOR: When I first came to this university, one of the things that impressed me immediately was the News Daily Iowan. Besides the news coverage, your editorials and articles have done credit to the school as a whole.

I wish to point out particularly your expose of Bilbo. I think that today the American people will not accept a Bilbo as easily as they would have before the war. But how do you reconcile your attack on Bilbo with "Old Home Town" by Stanley on the comic strip page? Bilbo has adopted outright a Nazi philosophy of race superiority. The "Old Home Town" is a subtle way of putting over the race superiority idea.

Dialect humor, humor that is based on foreign or different cultures, is to my mind the lowest type of humor possible. It has as its basis a sense of superiority. People laugh at it because it may be funny, but like it so well because it bolsters them up to unconsciously observe "I'm better than they are." Ordinary American reading, unfortunately for Americans, has exploited this vulgar humor to its limits. The result is that Americans are among the most prejudiced people of the world.

I do not believe that you and many others consciously realize this when you print such things. A line from Gogol occurs to me. This from a man who has been the butt of perpetual and savage humor: "Leave me alone! Why do you insult me?" In these moving words, other words resounded—"I am thy brother."

A good maxim to follow is to think of your brother and how he feels at the perpetual taking end of such "humor." I also feel very strongly about this point because through insidious ways as well as through small-time Hitler, the world has come to its present serious dilemma. Why do people look so fatalistically at the atomic bomb? Because they hate other peoples and fear them. In turn these hated people hate just as strongly. People are to be feared, not the atomic bomb.

To live at peace in an atomic era, we must make a total effort not to tolerate other peoples but to appreciate, like and cooperate with them. Tolerance means "I don't like you but you have your rights as well as I." The result of tolerance is social segregation and discrimination and dialect humor. Tolerance has a sad habit of absorbing various prejudices unaware.

I think we must begin seriously to ponder the merits of loving our fellow men. And the first step toward exhibiting some love if you were on the short end of the line for dance tickets and didn't quite get there in time, dial in Jerry Wald and his orchestra playing from the main lounge at Iowa Union. WSUI is your station, 9 p. m. is the time and Dick Baxter will hold up the emceeing end of things.

TO THE EDITOR: Gus Schrader, in his sports column in Tuesday's Daily Iowan, made some interesting remarks about Charlie Johnson of the Minneapolis Star-Journal and about the Minnesota basketball team. While Schrader's neck is still out, I'd like to take a crack at it. I have no axe to grind for Charlie Johnson, but I think Gus' view of Minnesota's basketball team is slightly distorted.

TO THE EDITOR: I quote from "Gassin' With Gus": "Both the football and basketball teams of Minnesota were vastly overrated because they had been piling up victories against comparatively weak foes." Now, really, does Gus think that the fans, whether students or not, who saw Iowa slaughter Minnesota, 63-61, were conscious that "overrated" Minnesota had suddenly come up against a smoother-working, better-performing basketball team in Iowa?

Does Mr. Schrader really think that Charlie Johnson is on the wrong track when he places the beginning of Minnesota's basketball decline in the last few seconds of that game? And doesn't Mr. Schrader think that it would make our Iowa team look a lot better to admit that the Minnesota team of that exciting Monday night was one of the better teams in the country, whatever they may be now?

In concluding his remarks, Mr. Schrader gives himself a good "out" in case the Gophers win at Minneapolis—"If ever a team will want vengeance, that will be the night." Since it's being done, now I'll make a rash statement. I predict that Iowa will win that game. On Iowa! Bob Day

(A Minneapolis writer said the other day "We thought we had a championship team until we met Iowa, but Iowa took the starch out of us and we haven't been the same since."—Editor.) TO THE EDITOR: If Mr. Frink prefers foreign styles in women's clothes, may we suggest that the army is only too happy to receive re-enlistments. Should it be that he has had enough of travel, he'll have to accept the co-ed for what she is today—a young woman who has learned what it is to be comfortably dressed for the first time since she wore rompers. In slacks she needn't worry that her skirt is too high, that her slip is showing;

Malczuzynski To Present Concert Here

Witold Malczuzynski, former pupil of the Polish pianist Paderewski, will play compositions by Franck, Beethoven, Szymanowski and Chopin, when he presents a piano concert Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Iowa Union. His performance is sponsored by the university concert series.

Malczuzynski, although practically unknown in the middle west, has been described as already one of the greatest living pianists. He is a graduate of the Warsaw conservatory and is the only pupil Paderewski has consented to teach.

His European tours were interrupted by the outbreak of the war, and he succeeded in escaping from occupied France through Spain to South America. It was there that he was "discovered" by the violinist, Yehudi Menuhin, and induced to come to New York.

In 1944 Malczuzynski appeared with the New York Philharmonic orchestra at Carnegie hall, and his season is appearing as soloist with practically every major symphony orchestra. His performance Wednesday will be his first in Iowa.

Tickets for the Malczuzynski concert will be available beginning Monday at the Union. University students may obtain general admission tickets by presenting their identification cards. Reserved seats and general admission tickets will be available to the general public.

Pearl grey is the color Jeanne Bowlin, A4 of Des Moines has designed to wear. The silk dress is designed with a high round neckline and cap sleeves. Pearl accessories and black shoes complete the ensemble.

Chloe Anne Schutte, A3 of Kirkwood, Mo., will wear a black dress designed with a sweetheart neckline style. The straight skirt accents the drape lines and gold accessories complete the ensemble.

G. I. Students at British University Proved To Be Serious, Sincere, Professor Declares

"Ninety-five percent of the soldiers who registered at Shrivenerham American university proved to be sincere and serious students," declared Prof. E. T. Peterson of the college of education in his Information First lecture yesterday afternoon.

"There was no problem of motivation whatsoever as most of the staff expected. The problem was the other way around—the heat was on the professors!"

Competent Staff

The staff, which in Professor Peterson's judgment was more competent than any one single faculty in the United States, testified that the Shrivenerham program was the greatest teaching experience they had ever had.

He reported that enrollment in liberal arts courses was tremendous, and registration in psychology and philosophy classes had to be closed.

British Cooperation

"It is impossible to estimate the total number of contacts made between Americans and British through the G. I. university program," Professor Peterson stated. He emphasized how cooperative the British had been in helping the university to be a success. He pointed out that Oxford university offered the use of its library resources and laboratory equipment, and that there were 92 lectures by visiting English lecturers and professors. Peterson was deputy director of the academic division.

4 Local Boxers Win Gloves Finals Iowa Cagers Seek Repeat Win

The winners:
 112 Lyle Seydell, Iowa City, decided Keith Carder, North English.
 115 Mike Bites, Ottumwa navy, scored TKO over Iver Wells, Iowa City 43 third round.
 126 Paul McNally, Iowa City, decided Wally Siegel, Ottumwa navy.
 136 Bill Belford, Ottumwa navy scored TKO over Duke Duquette, Ottumwa navy, end of second round.
 147 Howard Skjei, Ottumwa navy decided Bob Rossie, Iowa City.
 160 Bob Berens, Iowa City, decided H. J. Sullivan, Ottumwa navy.
 175 Ronnie Wulf, Iowa City, decided Bob Feeheley, Ottumwa navy.
 Heavyweight Phil Huss, Ottumwa navy KO'd Bill O'Bannon, Cedar Rapids, 1:39 second round.

By JACK SCHROEDER
 Four Iowa City boxers, along with four Ottumwa naval air base pugilists were crowned champions in last night's finals in the Golden Gloves tournament in the Community building, before a packed house of some 1,400 fans.

Lyle Seydell, Paul McNally, Bob Berens, and Ronnie Wulf are the local members who will go to Cedar Rapids for the Golden Gloves meet next week.

In the initial bout of the evening Lyle Seydell, local entry, took a clean-cut decision from Keith Carder of North English. Seydell was the more aggressive of the two and won the judge's unanimous decision in the 112-pound group.

Ottumwa grabbed the 118-pound championship when Mike Bites plucky navy battler, scored a TKO over Iver Wells of Iowa City with 43 seconds gone in the third round.

Iowa City bounced right back when Paul McNally easily decided Wally Siegel of Ottumwa in the 126-pound class. McNally, a cool-headed and clever boxer, led all the way and had Siegel in trouble in the second and third rounds.

In an all-Ottumwa scrap Bill Belford smashed his mate Duke Duquette to the canvas and earned a TKO at the end of the second round in the 136-pound class.

Bob Rossie, the crowd favorite, was on the short end of the decision in his scrap with hard-swinging Howard Skjei of Ottumwa at 147 pounds. Skjei had Rossie in trouble throughout the three rounds and landed several solid blows that rocked the local contender in the third round.

Bob Berens continued his winning ways in the 160-pound bracket by smothering H. J. Sullivan of Ottumwa with ripping rights and lefts to give Iowa City its third champion. Berens got off to a slow start but outswung his rival in the closing rounds to get the judge's nod.

In the closest decision of the evening, which was loudly booted by the audience, Ronnie Wulf, reserve center on Iowa's football team, received a split decision over hard-swinging Bob Feeheley of Ottumwa. The battle was nip and tuck for the first two rounds but Feeheley definitely landed the hardest blows in the closing stanza.

The only knockout of the evening was scored by burly Phil Huss of the Ottumwa naval base in the heavyweight battle. Huss laid Bill O'Bannon of Cedar Rapids half way out of the ring with a terrific right hand smash in one minute and 59 seconds of the second round. However, O'Bannon, bobbing and weaving out of a low crouch, caught Huss with two right uppercuts that buckled the sailor's knees.

Sigma Nu Five Rock Sigma Chi's, 46-15; SAE, Gables Victors

In a game that really burned up the floor, Sigma Nu plowed the Sigma Chi team way down under last night with the final score reading 46-15. The Sigma Nu's, who used the same five men throughout the fast play, were led by Bob Knarr with 17 markers and Bob Marshall with 15. George Cebuhar chalked up seven and Bob Wayland, six. Credit is also given to Chuck Uknes who really got that ball down the floor for the other four to toss in. Last night's win gives the lead in Section B of the intramurals to the Sigma Nu's who were tied with the Sigma Chi's for first place. Jack Shay was high man for the Sigma Chi's with five markers. Sigma Nu led 19-0 at the end of the first half.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon topped the Sigma Phi Epsilon five, 22-18, with Gene Blair making the nets sing with his 14 counters. Dale Burkett of the Sig Ep's tied him, making 14 out of the 18.

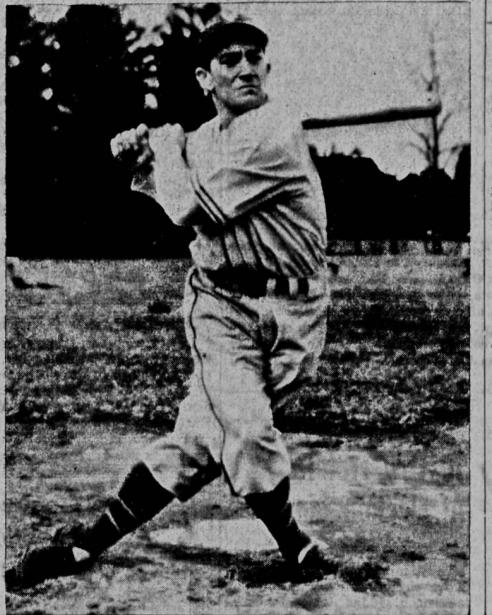

In a play-off game, the Behemoths overtop the Gables to the tune of 52-19. Derrill Klinzman sank five field goals for the Gables. Glen Oltman threw in 13 for the Behemoths with Skip Herwig close on his heels for 10. Bryan Creighton and Bud Taylor marked up eight apiece helping to run the score up.

The tilt between Phi Kappa Psi and Theta Xi, scheduled for last night was postponed and will be played at a later date.

Hawklets Play Cedar Rapids Team Tonight

The Hawklets of City high, seeking to raise their conference standing, move to Cedar Rapids tonight to take on the Rough Riders of Roosevelt in the opening game of a doubleheader in the Coe college gymnasium at 7:30.

In the Rough Riders the Little Hawks meet the toughest of the Cedar Rapids quintets. The Roosevelt team has piled up an especially impressive record in the city. Currently ranked the top team in Cedar Rapids, the Rough Riders are at the present time tied with Davenport for second place in the Mississippi Valley loop, with five wins and three losses.

Light practice was held last night as the Hawklets tapered off for the invasion of the Parlor City. After the drills coach Gil Wilson said that no lineup changes were slated when the Little Hawks open against the Rough Riders.

Bob Freeman, number two scorer in the conference, and Bob Krall, who chases Freeman on the Hawklet scoring column, are slated to team on the front court while big Jim VanDeusen will get the nod at the center position. Jim Sangster and Sonny Dean are scheduled to fill the starting guard slots.

The Rough Riders are meeting a big capable team that employs a tight zone defense and a fast break to subdue its foes. Paced by Schamberger and Muir the Roosevelt team has piled up one of the top offensive records in the conference this season.

Swimmers Favored Over Purdue Squad

Iowa's strong swimming team, holding one win and a loss in Big Ten competition, will attempt to better their record tomorrow night when they meet the Purdue splashers at Lafayette. Recent winners over Wisconsin and Nebraska, the latter by a smashing 63-21 score, the Iowans are slight favorites to make their third straight win.

The Boiler-makers have strength in the relays and distance events and evidence points to a close meet. The Hawkeyes are favored in the sprints, breast stroke and back stroke.

Coach Armbruster named 12 swimmers on the traveling squad. They are Co-Captains Bill Boswell and Jonas Halldorsson, Ralph Katz, Kenny Marsh, Bernie Walters, Gilbert Shecker, Dick Maine, Wayne Cady, Chester Cole, Al Stanley, Frank Howland and Arthur Van Haven.

1948 Olympics To Be Held In London

By ED CREAHER
 LONDON (AP)—International amateur athletic competition received a shot in the arm yesterday with the announcement that the Olympic games, cancelled in 1940 and 1944 because of war, will be revived in 1948 in London.

Award of the normally quadrennial sports festival to the capital of the British Isles was announced by Lord David Burghley, chairman of the British Olympic committee, after he was notified of the selection of the site by J. Sigfrid Edstrom of Sweden, acting president of the international Olympic council. Lord David said the games had the full approval of "His Majesty's government."

Dates of the winter and summer competition will be announced later by the international committee. St. Moritz, Switzerland, bid for the winter games at a meeting of the IOC last September.

"Having received an official invitation from the lord mayor of London asking that London may be awarded the Olympic games of 1948, and including assurance that the games will be organized in accordance with the highest traditions of the Olympic ideal, I decided on behalf of the International Olympic committee to accept the Lord Mayor's invitation," Edstrom said in a telegram to Burghley.

"This is done in accordance with votes cast by the members of the IOC, which resulted in a great majority in favor of London," Edstrom said.

While London will be host to the competing nations, the IOC will determine which countries should be invited. This was looked upon as a delicate task in view of the global war's effect upon international relations.

In this connection, the IOC will have a ticklish time deciding in the cases of Japan and Germany. The 11th Olympiad in 1936—the last since the ancient Greek athletic carnival was revived in 1896—was held in Berlin. The 1940 games were awarded to Tokyo, Japan, but cancelled because of the Sino-Japanese war. Then the games were assigned to Finland and again they were cancelled because of the European war, which together with the war in the Pacific, took the toll of the 1944 games planned for London.

Wembley stadium, on London's outskirts, was suggested as a likely site although A. J. Elvin, an official, said it had not yet been booked. The stadium presently has a seating capacity of 42,000 and standing room 58,000.

Hawk Matmen Tangle With Northwestern

Coach Mike Howard plans no change in the wrestling lineup for the Northwestern meet tomorrow. He named the same traveling squad of eight men who downed Nebraska last Monday 19-9, for the Evanston trip.

The Wildcats have a better than average team and will provide a stiff test for the Hawkeye grapplers. In the Hawks' favor will be the fact Northwestern is strong in the weights manned by the more experienced Iowa matmen. This factor will not only provide a more exciting meet but will give the Hawkeye freshmen a better chance for card wins.

Tourney Play Starts Feb. 26

Iowa City cage interest will be centered on three local quintets, University high, St. Mary's and St. Patrick's, when 16 of the area's teams take up the chase of the state high school basketball crown Feb. 26, in sectional play at the City high school gym.

In all, 220 class A teams and 640 B quintets will see sectional action between Feb. 26 and Mar. 2, while the state's AA teams, including Coach Gil Wilson's Iowa City Little Hawks, await opening of district competition on Mar. 5.

Only four teams have entered the Iowa City class A play, with University high, seeded number one, meeting West Liberty, and Kalona tangling with Tipton. The winners of both these games will advance to district play under the system inaugurated this year of advancing two quintets from each tournament.

In class B play, St. Mary's has been given top seeding and paired with Tiffin, Springdale, Solon and Riverside in the upper bracket, with St. Patrick's, second seeded West Branch, Cosgrove, Atalasia, Oxford, Nichols and Lone Tree in the lower bracket.

The chances of the two Iowa City quintets, finalists in the Davenport Diocese tournament, meeting in sectional play were removed by the two team advance system that will send both bracket winners to the district.

Eleven Iowa Schools Enter Annual State A. A. U. Track Meet

DES MOINES (AP)—With six new entries yesterday, 11 Iowa high schools have entered the fifth annual state A.A.U. track meet scheduled for the Drake fieldhouse tomorrow afternoon. Bill Easton, Drake track coach and meet director, reported.

Yesterday's entrants included three Des Moines schools—North Roosevelt and Tech, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln high schools of Council Bluffs and Mount Pleasant high were the other new entrants.

Byrd, Hogan Lead

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Sam Byrd of Detroit, Mich., and Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., the only men to equal or lick par yesterday on the windswept City Park course, led the first round of the $7,500 New Orleans Open golf tournament with 71 apiece, one under regulation figures.

St. Mary's Ramblers Seek Eighteenth Win Against Keokuk Five

St. Mary's Pos. St. Peter's Chuekalas F. Roan Suelpell F. Tigre Toohy C. Bartz Shrader G. Nelson Rocca G. Breheny

St. Mary's Ramblers will be seeking their 18th win of the season and the second this week when they invade St. Peter's of Keokuk tonight.

Wednesday the Ramblers knocked off Immaculate Conception of Cedar Rapids in a rough and tumble contest that may leave them tired in their effort at Keokuk. Another factor in the crucial tilt may be the small St. Peter's floor which will hamper the Rambler fast break.

Coach Frank Suelpell will use the same starting five that he has sent onto the court for the past two months. Only change made is that Bill Suelpell was shifted to forward and Eddie Rocca to guard.

Chief problem for the Rambler defense will be stopping the smooth passing attack of the Keokuk quintet. Recent darkhorse of the diocese tourney the river town school boasts a taller team under the basket than the Ramblers. Top men in their offense are Tigre, clever little forward, and Bob Bartz, towering center who is a constant sore under the basket for Keokuk opposition.

Irish Seek 12th Victory

St. Patrick's Immaculate Conception M. Hoyer F. Nilles Sullivan F. Stramel Seemuth C. Bader Belger G. Callen T. Hoyer G. Morris

Coach Cliff Kritt chided his St. Patrick's Irish through final drills for tonight's invasion of Immaculate Conception Academy of Cedar Rapids with full confidence that his kids could produce a win.

With no lineup changes apparent the Irish worked hard in smoothing out their passing attack which balked in spots in their 41-27 win over St. Patrick's of Cedar Rapids Monday.

Big problem for the Irish defense will be in stopping Al Morris, forward, and Ray Bader, guard, who combined for 17 points in the Greyhounds' loss to St. Mary's Wednesday.

St. Patrick's will be after their ninth win in 16 starts in regular season play. The Shamrock's also have a record of three wins and one loss in the Davenport Diocesan Catholic tourney held at this month.

Track Squad Drills For Saturday Opener

Iowa's track team is putting the finishing touches to their preparations for the coming meet with Chicago tomorrow. Not until this week have they been able to obtain the full use of the track.

Many of the ex-servicemen who haven't been on spikes for some time are having trouble getting into shape. Time trials to determine entrants in the Chicago meet have been completed.

LAST "Priorities on Parade" DAY! "The Lady Confesses"

Box Office Open 1:15-10:00

STRAND STARTS SATURDAY 2 First Run Hits!

THE Love OF A Boy FOR HIS Dog!

Iowa's Hawkeyes, hoping for a repeat of last season's welcome at Madison, Wis., when they romped to a 68-38 win over the Badgers, will leave for the Badger stronghold early this afternoon by automobile. The Hawks, previous conquerors of Wisconsin on the Iowa floor in their second Big Ten game this year expect rough opposition from the improving club at Madison.

Strengthened by the addition of a strong center since the start of the new semester Wisconsin would like nothing better than to start the Hawks on another losing streak that plagued the Iowa team over 12 games with the Badgers until last year's resounding trouncing administered by Dick Ives, Jack Spencer and company.

Coach Pops Harrison had "the coaches' blues" when he learned that his stellar three-year veteran Ned Postels would be able to see only limited action because he has not yet fully recovered from a severe cold that forced him out of the Purdue game last week.

In place of the ailing Postels Harrison indicated that he would start Tom Guzowski, 6-1 freshman guard from Iron River, Mich. Guzowski has started on other games for the Hawks when he opened against South Dakota State in one of the early home games.

No changes were slated for the rest of the Iowa starters from the club that opened against Purdue Boiler-makers in the Iowa fieldhouse. Dick Ives and Dave Danneberg will get the call for the front court posts while towering Noble Jorgenson is slated for the center slot. Herb Wilkinson will team with Guzowski on the Iowa rear court.

Clayton Wilkinson, the long end of Iowa's brother act, has been drilled extensively at the guard post all week and Harrison indicated that the big center would see plenty of action in the game, either teamed with his brother on the Iowa defensive line or as a relief man for Noble Jorgenson at center.

The Badgers will be led by diminutive Bob Cook, who slipped through the Iowa defense for 10 points in the first outing of the two teams this year. His chief ally will come from Exner Menzel, running mate on the Wisconsin forward line.

If the Hawks lose tomorrow night they will drop into the number two place in the conference, temporarily at least, behind the Buckeyes of Ohio State. The idle Bucks have played more loop games than Iowa and would stand 22 percent points ahead of Iowa if the Badgers are victorious.

State Final Debate Tourney to Be Here

High School Students Arrive Next Month; Vie for Scholarships

Eight 4-year scholarships to the University of Iowa will be awarded after the Iowa High School Forensic League contest in Iowa City March 28-30. District tournaments covering the entire state will be completed by March 15, and the winners will compete in the contest for scholarships here.

Debate on the 1945-46 proposition, "Resolved: That every able-bodied male citizen of the United States should have one year of full time military training before attaining the age of 24," is divided into two divisions.

District Final
Class A schools, with an attendance of over 300, will hold district finals at the following schools: Central high school, Sioux City, northwestern district; West Waterloo, northeastern district; Abraham Lincoln high school, Council Bluffs, southwestern district; and University high school, Iowa City, southeastern district.

Class B schools will compete at Emmetsburg high school, northwestern district; St. Patrick's high school, Waukon, northeastern district; University high school, Iowa City, southeastern district. No school has been selected as yet for the southwestern district contest.

University facilities open to the league include faculty assistance, bibliography material and bulletins, radio speaking over WSUI and distribution of radio programs and transcriptions of films and speeches.

Scholarships are awarded by the university in the colleges of liberal arts, engineering and commerce to six members of the debating teams appearing in the final championship debates and to first place winners in extempore speaking and original oratory.

G. J. Mulherin Files District Court Suit

G. J. "Danny" Mulherin, former member of the Iowa City police department, filed suit in district court yesterday against the trustees of the Iowa City Police Retirement Fund in an effort to get a legal ruling on his claim for benefits.

Mulherin's claim for a pension had been granted by the trustees but an official opinion by the state attorney-general on the 1943 legislative act allowing cities to pay the pension payments of city employes-servicemen caused the trustees to revoke the pension.

Eligibility for a pension requires five years service with the department. Mulherin had four years service prior to his enlistment in military service.

Honorably discharged, Mulherin was totally and permanently disabled in the service and is unable to pass a required physical examination.

D. C. Nolan is attorney for Mulherin. City Attorney K. M. Dunlop will represent the defendants.

Unitarian Ministers From Iowa, Nebraska Meet Here Monday

The Iowa-Nebraska Unitarian association will hold a Ministers' conference at the Iowa City Unitarian church Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 18 and 19.

Dr. P. E. Huston, professor of psychiatry at the University of Iowa, will speak to the group. The secretary of the Western Unitarian conference, Dr. Randall Hilton of Chicago, Ill., will also be present.

The visiting ministers will meet with the local Unitarian Men's club Monday at 6 p. m. in the church. Prof. George Davies will speak on present economic trends.

Rev. Putnam to Head Council Board Again

The Rev. Frederick W. Putnam, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, was re-elected president of the advisory board to the Student Christian Council at a meeting of the student pastors Tuesday. Mrs. Brainerd Covert was re-elected secretary of the advisory board.

New pastors introduced at this meeting were Dr. P. Hewison Pollock, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and the Rev. John Choit, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran chapel. The new secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Richard Sweltzer, was also introduced to the board.

Will Attend Meeting
As a part of the Discipleship Movement, a deputation of six students from the Roger Williams Fellowship will go to Ft. Madison Sunday to have charge of the afternoon and Baptist Youth meetings at the First Baptist church there.

The team, led by Stacy Hall, will speak on "Invitation to Spiritual Adventure."

Saga of Smoke Eater From Horses to Horsepower

Retiring Iowa City Fireman Villhauer Recalls 22 Years of Vigilance

By BOB WIDMARK

Twenty-two years is a mighty long time to most people, but Louie J. Villhauer, 54, retiring local fireman, says that the time has passed swiftly for him. Completing 22 consecutive years of service with the Iowa City fire department, he will begin a two week vacation today prior to retiring from the force March 1.

He was born in Iowa City Sept. 14, 1891, and has spent his entire life in and around the city. He attended Iowa City schools and later worked for various firms, including an eight year period with the old street car company, before joining the fire department in 1924. He is a member of the Moose lodge.

The force consisted of six men when he joined it. He has seen it increased by five to a present total of 11 in that 22 year span. Of the six men available in 1924, four were stationed at the present location and two at the old horse barn near Market and N. Linn streets.

Vilhauer was stationed at the horse barn for a few years, and well remembers a team of spanking white horses which they had ready at all times to hitch to the old fire wagon.

"We would sleep upstairs," he explained. "On hearing the alarm, we'd pull a rope which released the horses from their stalls. We had the collars hung at a level with their heads and the rest of the harness above their positions alongside the tongue of the wagon. When we got down to the ground floor, the horses would be in their places, with collars on their necks, waiting for the suspended harness to be dropped from above them." His nearest approach to injury during these 22 years came in 1937 when the Reliable Electric building was razed by fire. Villhauer had gone into the choking smoke of the basement with a line of hose. Overcome with smoke, he remembered nothing until he woke up in the hospital the next day.

New Year's day, 1940, Villhauer and another fireman had just brought the two trucks back to the station from another fire when The Daily Iowan building began burning. The two of them drove the trucks to the location and had fire fighting equipment operating when the remainder of the force arrived. This was one of the five fires that day which resulted in damage of $12,812. This amount exceeded by over $300 the total losses incurred during the entire preceding year.

One of the outstanding reasons why the time has passed so swiftly for him is the family of seven boys and seven girls that he and his wife, Minnie, have raised. Their ages range from 31 to 10. One girl died at the age of 16. Six of the seven boys served in the navy during the war.

Vilhauer has not decided what to do in the future, but is certain about one thing. He emphatically said, "I want to take a short vacation—with no fire calls!"

New School Additions Would Cost $16,588 Over 20-Year Period

An average amount of $16,588 annually for 20 years would be required to cover the initial cost of the proposed additions and improvements to Iowa City schools, it was estimated Wednesday night by Iver A. Opstad, superintendent of city schools.

Opstad submitted his estimate, based on an interest rate of one percent on the $300,000 of bonds necessary to cover the project, at the regular meeting of the school board in the Junior high school.

The amount would require a tax of 1.26 mills for each $1 of assessed valuation of property, Opstad stated. Thus the tax on a home assessed at $2,000 would be $2.52 a year. This would not cover the costs of maintenance according to Opstad.

Plans for the regular school election to be held on March 11, the same day the $300,000 bond issue will be voted on, were turned over to a committee of the board, headed by Charles S. Gallher, board secretary. It will select the election officials.

Survey to Determine Veteran Preferences On Summer Session

Surveys will begin within a few weeks to determine how many veterans in the college of liberal arts wish to take advantage of the special four weeks summer session for veterans Aug. 7 to Sept. 4. The survey will also determine what courses will be offered.

Tuition for the four week session will be $25. A maximum of four hours credit will be allowed. The eight weeks summer session already scheduled from June 12 to Aug. 7 and the special four weeks program will be entirely separate. Veterans who do not attend the regular eight weeks session will not be permitted to enroll in the special one, which is for veterans only.

Licenses Issued

Six marriage licenses were issued by R. Nielson Miller, county clerk, yesterday.

Those receiving licenses were Robert Wagner Engel, Congerville, Ill., and Margaret Sewall Kerr, Iowa City; Lawrence Ray Clark and Maxine Mary Stimp, Beloit, Wis.; Truman Weaver and Lydia Ellen Miller, Kalona; Albert Paul Bogs and Lorraine Westfall Cox, Iowa City; Clifford Kinsinger of Sharon Center and Loretta M. Campbell of Iowa City; James W. Trent and Clara J. Furman of Wellman.

Red Cross Heads Named

Glenn R. Bowen and Edward W. Lucas, Iowa City attorneys, were named yesterday as co-chairmen of the professional committee for the 1946 Johnson County Red Cross fund campaign.

Dorvan Hudson will head the business committee, and Donald Seavy, principal of Longfellow school, is chairman of the public school committee.

Appointments were made by Lynn DeReu and Elwin Shain, co-chairmen for the campaign.

Quota for the drive, which will begin Mar. 1, has been set at $30,350.

Paper Salvage Drive Will Begin Tomorrow

Alpha Phi Omega, national-honorary scouting fraternity, will be in charge of the monthly city wide paper drive tomorrow. Members will be assisted by local Boy Scout troops.

Collection will begin at noon. Townspeople and university housing units are asked to leave scrap paper tied in bundles on the curbs. If bundles have not been collected by 5 p. m., contributors may call Iowa City Scales, 334 S. Gilbert street, for later pick-up service.

Masons to Meet

The Masonic Service club will have its weekly luncheon today at noon in the Masonic temple. Dr. P. Hewison Pollock of the First Presbyterian church will speak. His subject will be "Montana."

Trinity Open House

The Canterbury club of the Trinity Episcopal church will hold an open house for all new Episcopalian students on campus Sunday at 4 p. m. at the parish house, 320 E. College.

Speaks at Rotary Club

Dr. Smith spoke at a meeting of the Rotary club yesterday noon. He told of his experiences in Holland during German occupation, saying that although he was able to keep on practicing dentistry, material for dentures was almost impossible to get.

Gaffney to Speak

Catholic Home Week, Feb. 11-17, will be brought to a close at St. Patrick's high school this afternoon with an address to the students by District Judge James P. Gaffney. The senior class has been sponsoring Home Week and during this time they have made a special study of the "Encyclical on Christian Marriage" by Pope Pius XI.

Airline Representative Arrives for Survey Of Iowa City Airport

Charles J. Rausch of the United Airlines arrived from Chicago Wednesday night to make a general survey for the reestablishment of airline service to Iowa City. Although no exact date has been set yet for the new opening, Rausch said that it would be in a very short time.

Rausch said that the present equipment and runways are still in good condition and it shouldn't take long to find out what additional equipment is needed.

Other men here to assist Rausch in the survey are J. M. Pottenger and Eugene Mungler, Chicago, radio technicians and R. V. Schrader of Moline.

Service Men Returning From Pacific Duties

Returning to the United States aboard the S. S. Chanute is T/4 Ralph Tompkins of Iowa City. Tompkins left Yokohama, Japan, Jan. 24, and was scheduled to arrive in Seattle the first week in February.

Prof. Walter Daykin To Speak at Forum

Prof. Walter L. Daykin of the university department of commerce will speak on "Is Labor Reasonable?" at the Student Vesper-Forum in Fellowship hall of the Methodist church Sunday at 8 p. m.

Roger Williams Group Plans Valentine Party

"The Court of Hearts" will be the theme of the Valentine party given by the Roger Williams Fellowship tomorrow at the Roger Williams House from 7:30 to 12 p. m.

Guests will be greeted at the door by a King's Page and escorted to the social rooms, where progressive games will be played. After the games, the man and woman with the highest scores will be crowned King and Queen of Hearts.

Dutch Dentist Visits Iowa City

Realizing a dream nursed through German occupation, Dr. and Mrs. Frans H. Smith of Amersfoort, a railroad center in the heart of Holland, are now in Iowa City studying new methods and equipment at the University of Iowa's college of dentistry.

Dr. Smith and his wife, who is traveling with him as his assistant and secretary, arrived in the United States early in December, 1945, on a commission for the Dutch government. Before coming here, they studied at dental schools in New York City and Chicago.

All during the German occupation they planned to come to the United States, Dr. Smith said. "I especially wanted to come to the University of Iowa so that I could see at first hand the work being done on the way inadequate nutrition affects the development of children's teeth."

It is too soon to judge whether wartime malnutrition will have a definitely detrimental effect on the people's teeth, Dr. Smith said. "It is in the teeth of the young people that we will be able to tell in the next few years whether the lack of nourishment has caused much damage."

Dr. and Mrs. Smith plan to stay in Iowa City until Feb. 21 or 22. They are staying at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Homer V. Cherrington, 237 Ferson street.

From Iowa City they will go to Rochester, Minn., to visit the Mayo clinic. Their next stop will be the west coast, where they will study methods and improvements at dental schools in Los Angeles and San Francisco. They have just six months to stay in the United States and will leave in May.

Scout Leader Assumes Post

George R. Gragg, newly appointed scout executive of the Iowa River Valley council of the Boy Scouts of America, arrived in Iowa City yesterday to assume leadership of scout activities in Iowa, Johnson and Washington counties. He succeeds Owen B. Thiel.

Gragg comes to Iowa City from Kansas City, Kan., where he was assistant scout executive of the Kaw council, and, prior to that, field secretary of the Kaw council.

The new executive was checked into office yesterday by Earle K. Behrends of Kansas City, Mo., the deputy regional scout executive of region 8, who accompanied Gragg here. Behrends returned to Kansas City last night.

"An executive board meeting will be called early next week for the purpose of getting acquainted and organized," Gragg said yesterday from his new office at Boy Scout headquarters.
