Big Ten Athletic Committee Set Up

Iowa Hands Wisconsin 44-39 Defeat Group Adopts Sportsmanship Code for Western Conference

Last Half Spurt Keeps Hawks At Top of Western Conference

By GUS SCHRADER Daily Iowan Sports Editor

MADISON (Special)—Pulling out of an opening tailspin with some masterful second half play that proved why they still head the Big Ten wolf pack, Iowa's Hawkeyes handed Wisconsin a 44-39 lesson here last night before a capacity throng of 14,000. The game, which was the roughest and most unruly of Iowa victories to date, supplied a finish to one of the most dismal home conference seasons in Badger history. The loss was Wisconsin's 10th in 11 loop starts.

But it hiked Iowa's league leading record to eight victories against one defeat and set the stage for the final three-game drive—only one of which will be at home.

The boastful Badgers, who drew a capacity house that actually expected to see Iowa humbled, did set the pace all through the first 20 minutes. The Hawks couldn't get steamed up for consistent rebounding and missed shots that would have been dead ducks at home. The score at half time was 21-20, Iowa getting the lead on a technical foul shot just before the gun.

It was leadership and inspiration of all-American Herb Wilkinson that paced the better showing in the final stint. Displaying superb ball handling, shooting long shots with amazingly accurate aim and rebounding like a harpie on defense, big Herb showed the way as the Hawks piled up a 13-point lead at one point and staved off repeated Badger thrusts before the end.

Both players and crowd were tense after a referee's decision awarded Iowa a technical foul shot just before the half. Second period fouls were booed loudly by Wisconsin's largest home crowd of the season. Just a minute before the final gun, the players mixed on the floor and the spectators started in from the side lines as Noble Jorgensen tangled with Art Rizzi of Wisconsin. The victory margin probably would have been greater had not Dick Ives and Tommy Thomsen fouled out during the last two crucial minutes.

In the first half the Badgers looked like the team which might upset Iowa by 10 points—that's what Roundy Coughlin and other Madison sports writers were peddling Saturday morning. The Hawks didn't get a lead until Herb Wilkinson's technical foul shot just before the half gun. A Wisconsin player delayed giving the ball to the referee as the last seconds ticked off and was charged with a technical. Little Bobby Cook, Wisconsin's deadly forward, whipped in the first score and the Badgers took off on their 20-minute lead. Danner, Ives and Jorgensen all missed close-in shots for Iowa and Rogers' one-hander made it 4-0 before Dick Ives notched a free throw. But Iowa went without a field goal for seven minutes, then Herb potted one to bring the Hawks up to a 10-5 advantage. Clayton Wilkinson came into the lineup for Jorgensen and banged a free throw as Iowa's catching-up drive started in earnest. Brother Herb clocked at the charity lane, then hit a field goal as Iowa closed the gap to 16-12 with six minutes left.

Big Jack Wise, alternating at center with Bob Haarlow, scored underneath the basket. But now Iowa came creeping abreast on a free throw by Danner, and a perfect arching long shot by Theron Thomsen, starting his first game for the Hawks this season. Clayton Wilkinson's free throw tied the count at 18-18 with 2 minutes left. Then Clayton exchanged field goal punches with the Badgers' Cook during the last minute and Herb's shot on the technical finished up the scoring only two seconds before the end.

Successive buckets by Bloor, Stricklet and Rogers marched the gulf to 39-34. Slip-shod refereeing at that point let the game get a little out of control and the final wild and woolly phase began. Once Dave Danner was flattened by Exner Menzel's diving foul and again Herb Wilkinson was almost forced out of the game after getting the wind knocked out of him on a player collision.

In the final two minutes, Jorgensen scored a free throw, Dick Ives banged in a rebound and another charity toss, and Tommy Thomsen ended Iowa's scoring with another gift shot.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A key witness in the controversy over whether the navy got a war-tipping "winds" message before Pearl Harbor denied yesterday that one was received. He was Rear Admiral Leigh Noyes, the 1941 naval chief of communications. He told the senate-house committee investigating the Dec. 7, 1941, attack that several messages which were first thought to be in Japan's "winds" code were brought to him, but all turned out to be "false alarms."

"I never saw one which checked out to be an authentic winds message," Noyes added. The admiral's testimony virtually wound up the "winds" phase of the committee's investigation. Before Noyes took the witness chair, Capt. Joseph J. Rochefort, a naval intelligence officer in Hawaii at the time of Pearl Harbor, testified his men never intercepted a Japanese "winds" broadcast.

Argentine Government Submits Blue Book Charges to UNO

Meets Between Stelle, Omar Bradley Looms

Indianapolis (AP)—A showdown meeting face-to-face was in prospect last night between General Omar N. Bradley, chief of the veterans administration, and National Commander John Stelle of the American Legion, who charges neglect of ex-servicemen by the agency.

Stelle said he would ask the Legion's powerful executive committee today to name a group for a trip to Washington since Bradley has refused to go before the committee.

Bradley told a news conference at Washington he did not think he "should be put on trial by any one group." He has told Stelle he would receive him or Legion committeemen at any time.

Russian Delegation— Vetoes Proposal

LONDON (AP)—Russia invoked the power of veto for the first time last night in the United Nations security council, overruling a proposal for negotiation of the demand by Syria and Lebanon that French and British troops be withdrawn immediately from the Levant.

The Soviet veto took the Levantine dispute out of the security council's hands, but British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin pledged that Britain and France would carry out the American plan.

Seven Members

Seven members of the council—a majority—had voted for the American proposal submitted by Edward R. Stettinius Jr. It would have permitted direct negotiations among Britain, France and the Levant for withdrawal of British and French troops from Syria and Lebanon.

Soviet Foreign Vice-Commissar Andrei Vishinsky then invoked the power of veto. Bevin and the French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who had voluntarily abstained from voting, upheld the Russian's contention that under provisions of the world charter he had the right to use the veto. Both said, however, they agreed with the American proposal.

Council Majority

Then Bevin explained that "as a party to this dispute we will operate the decision of the majority of the security council." Thus he pledged that the British, in concert with France, would carry out the provisions of the American proposal even though it was vetoed by Russia and taken out of the hands of the council.

Yesterday's action cleared the last major political item from the security council's agenda.

Argentine Government Submits Blue Book Charges to UNO

Buenos Aires (AP)—The Argentine government offered last night to submit its case to the other American countries or to the United Nations in answer to the United States Blue Book which charged that prominent Argentines were linked with the Nazis.

The Blue Book, a government communique said, was causing worry over the United States' intervention in Argentina's internal affairs. The communique accused the United States of a violation of international law and the good neighbor policy in making the charges public.

Foreign Minister Juan Cooke stated the government's official answer to the Blue Book in the communique.

Prepares Plans to Promote School Spirit; First Such Organization in Major Loop

CHICAGO—A permanent Big Ten student committee on athletics was established here yesterday at the meeting of student representatives from conference universities.

An outgrowth of a proposal made by The Daily Iowan, the new committee is the first such student group in a major conference. It already has been requested to make a report of its formation to two other large conferences which have indicated a desire to set up a student body.

First steps by the committee were the adoption of a code of sportsmanship for the Big Ten and the preparation of plans to promote school spirit in individual universities.

Termed by Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson a "great and important step ahead in athletics in this country," the committee plans to discuss other athletic matters of student interest at future meetings.

"We want you student representatives to tell us and the directors, frankly and honestly, what you think will improve the Big Ten," Wilson told the representatives. "You now have a big job, the job of bringing greater student participation in conference affairs."

The formation of the student committee was a result of a proposal by The Daily Iowan for the recognition of good sportsmanship in the Big Ten.

The committee's functions were extended to all athletic matters of student interest after the adoption of a resolution offered by John Stichnoth, editor of The Daily Iowan. The resolution changed the name of the group from "Big Ten student committee on sportsmanship and school spirit," to "Big Ten student committee on athletics."

An interim committee of Stichnoth, chairman, and Bob Burtis, University of Minnesota, and Gene Wyman, Northwestern university will continue the study of athletic and sportsmanship matters and will make recommendations to the Big Ten directors at their May meeting.

The representatives also decided to take immediate steps to promote sportsmanship and school spirit on their individual campuses. They spent two days exchanging and discussing methods of creating greater student interest in athletics.

McCloy Named On Jap Board

Charles H. McCloy, research professor in the physical education department, received a telegram from the state department last night, requesting him to go to Japan with a group of distinguished educators to serve as advisers to the supreme commander for the Allied powers.

The proposal for this advisory commission was originally made by General MacArthur on matters relating to changes in the Japanese educational system.

Professor McCloy taught physical education many years ago at the National Southeastern university in Nanking, China, and served as chairman of the rules committee for far eastern olympics. He also visited Japan on numerous occasions.

The advisory group will assemble in San Francisco Feb. 20 and will be flown to Tokyo as soon as transportation is available. It is expected that the party will remain in Japan for about one month, returning to the United States by the end of March.

Professor McCloy resides at 1 Oak Ridge and has three sons and two daughters, all graduates of the University of Iowa.

Committee Resolutions Resolutions unanimously adopted by the committee:

- I. Name We resolve that this committee be called the Big Ten Student Committee on Athletics.
- II. Purpose The purpose of this committee is to sponsor high standards of athletic relations among the members of the Western Conference by the promotion of sportsmanship, and school spirit, and by the recognition of the vital role of athletics in education. In order to further this purpose, awards should be given to recognize outstanding achievements. In order to commemorate the life-long dedication of the late Major John L. Griffith to these purposes, one or more of these awards should be made in his name.
- III. Membership The membership of the committee shall consist of a student representative from each Western Conference university, these representatives to be selected in cooperation with the respective athletic directors. It is expected that these representatives will be members of, or function with, committees of similar purposes at the individual universities.
- IV. Function Recognizing vigor without rancor as a cardinal principle of sportsmanship, we endorse the following code for Western Conference athletic competition: A true sportsman, athlete or spectator, 1. Will consider all opponents as guests and treat them with all of the courtesy due friends and guests. 2. Will accept all decisions of officials without question. 3. Will never hiss or boo a player or official. 4. Will never utter abusive or irritating remarks from the sidelines. 5. Will applaud players who make good plays or show good sportsmanship. 6. Will never attempt to rattle an opposing player, such as a pitcher in a baseball game, or a player attempting a free throw in a basketball game. 7. Will seek to win by fair and lawful means, according to the rules of the game. 8. Will love the game for its own sake and not for what winning may bring. 9. Will "do unto others as he would have them do unto him." 10. Will "win without boasting and lose without excuse."

Editorials:

Bring Athletics Closer to the Student Body

The formation yesterday of the Big Ten student committee on athletics marks a significant step forward in athletics. And it is an action of which the University of Iowa can be proud, because the success of Iowa's school spirit campaign last fall was the evidence that convinced conference officials that a student committee would be valuable.

The establishment of the committee grew out of a proposal made to the conference last summer by The Daily Iowan. The Iowan suggested that the conference set up awards to recognize outstanding sportsmanship in the Big Ten.

But now the matter has carried far past just sportsmanship. Students can do much to strengthen the conference in many other fields, and Big Ten officials are anxious to get that added strength.

Especially heartening is the liberty given the committee. The conference wants frank, direct criticism and suggestions from the committee—and if necessary, it wants those criticisms and suggestions made in no uncertain terms.

Behind it all is a sincere desire on the part of Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, commissioner of athletics, and the directors of the conference to bring athletics closer to the students. They realize that athletics in the last decade or two have drifted farther and farther away from the student body and the campus. They see this trend away from the campus as dangerous, and they want it stopped.

Every action taken by the student representatives at the two-day meeting in Chicago was their own. They advanced their own suggestions, made their own decisions.

Only once did the conference officials make a request of the committee. They asked that the representatives find out what the students want and then tell the directors, firmly and flatly, without any hedging.

The conference, by its policy of non-interference with the student committee, thus threw the matter squarely up to the students. If the students want action from the athletics directors, they need only make a concrete, workable proposal.

If, for instance, Iowa students would like to see Ohio State and Michigan play their share of games in Iowa stadium, it is up to them to make themselves heard before the Iowa Student Council. The Council then would instruct Iowa's representative on the Big Ten committee to carry the matter directly to the directors.

If Iowa students believe the conference should be giving more aid to promoting sportsmanship and school spirit, they need only say so.

Athletics will truly be closer to the students in the coming years—if the students so desire.

Bowles Expected to Hold Inflation Front

We were glad to see President Truman elevate former OPA Administrator Chester Bowles to the higher post of economic stabilization administrator. Bowles has consistently been firm in his stand against inflation—especially on the question of raising prices.

Many people may not wholly approve of the president's or Bowles' methods in regard to holding prices to a minimum, but at least they should approve of the basic idea.

Price controls are a very definite necessity at the present time in this country. We can learn a lesson from France where these controls are non-existent. In ordinary times, the natural economic law of supply and demand constitute effective price control. In abnormal times when there is a large demand and a small supply, prices go up. France is faced with that situation right now.

All through the successive stages from manufacturer to consumer goods are handled by a series of middlemen who add their own exorbitant profit to the eventual selling price. This can be seen in Paris where such prices as these are standard. Women's shoes cost from $30 to $60 a pair and cheap paper bound books sell up to $2 a volume.

The results of this system are evident. A minority of the French people live in luxury by dealing with the "black market" where anything can be purchased for a price. The majority of the population are ill-clothed, underfed and lack heat for their homes.

The release of price controls and restrictions in this country could result in a situation similar to that in France.

Courtesy Prevents Accidents

Iowa City has a well deserved reputation for safety and an equally deserved reputation for friendliness. It's Chamber of Commerce and various civic and fraternal organizations strive to keep this reputation intact. But they cannot do this alone. The responsibility for maintaining this record also falls on the citizenry of Iowa City.

Last week an accident came close to being staged on the corner of Dubuque and Washington streets, the hub of Iowa City. The time was 5:30 p. m. Many people were hurrying to and fro across the busy intersection. Cars, trucks and busses were driving in a blaze of traffic. On the corner, stood one of Iowa City's blind men. He was hesitantly preparing to cross the congested street; but not one of the students or townspeople crossing took time to assist him. No one that is until he walked into the side of a stopped car. Then ten or twelve persons ran to his assistance. Fortunately he wasn't injured but even if he had been, the damage would have been done and the assistance would have been needless.

The blind of Iowa City or any other city don't want sympathy. They do, however, want to know that a pedestrian who is crossing the street will assist them. Iowa City cannot afford to let this episode happen again. Remember, it's been 375 days since a traffic fatality has taken place in the city. Let's all assume our responsibility and keep up this splendid record.

Zadok Dunkopf, too, has picked his "ten best" of 1945. And he doesn't mean books, movies and the like. His "ten best" was the sawbuck he found he had left on New Year's day.

Utopia will really be here when some brainy scientist discovers a means of extracting coal from snow.

A Stone age bath tub has been discovered. How should it be classified—as the world's oldest piece of furniture or the first musical instrument?

SEEDS OF HATE

An Unsettled Continent

Wanted: 15 Million Immigrants Down Under

SYDNEY—Australia is resigned to waiting decades for the 15,000,000 people needed to fill her great empty spaces and commonwealth government officials frankly admit that many of the hundreds of thousands of Britons and Europeans who want to come here would probably be disappointed.

The hope of absorbing enough people and boosting heavy industries sufficiently to support a seven-figure army is fading. In its place is the new hope among government officials and the public alike that the advent of the atomic age may give Australia a chance to defend herself without an enormous army.

Estimates of the number desiring to leave war-torn Europe for Australia vary, but D. F. H. Packer, managing director of Consolidated Press, Ltd., publishers of the Sydney "Daily Telegraph," asserted on his return from a trip to England that as many as 3,000,000 British people were prepared to come to Australia.

However, Australia's present immigration plan, announced by the immigration minister, Arthur Calwell, places a ceiling of 70,000 a year on immigrants—and that assuming the commonwealth's economy is sufficiently expanded to take that number. The stream of immigrants, too, is not expected to begin for another two years after Australia has solved its problems of demobilization, rehabilitation, and housing shortages in the capital cities.

Australia believes that the best immigrants are young children who will grow up as Australians, but in the changing economy skilled men for rapidly expanding secondary industries will be welcome in addition to countrymen to tend the nation's 125,000,000 sheep and 13,000,000 cattle and grow its millions of bushels of wheat and other crops.

Final agreement is expected to be reached soon between the British and Australian governments on details of two draft proposals made by Australia providing: Free passages to Australia for British ex-servicemen and women and their dependents or dependents of British personnel demobilized in Australia.

Assisted passages for approved British civilians who are ineligible for free passages. Agreement in principle has already been reached on these points.

The Australian government has similarly approved in principle a plan to bring to Australia in the first three post-war years 50,000 orphans from Britain and other war devastated countries. The possibility of bringing from Norway the illegitimate children of the German army of occupation is also being considered.

Still another plan for populating Australia and welding the potential war strength of the British empire provides for the transfer of great sections of essential wartime industries—such as airplane manufacture and shipbuilding—from the home country to Australia. The workers would come as well as the factories.

Australia is also encouraging British sailors to take their discharges in this island continent where the capital cities average from six to eight hours' sunbathing a day throughout the year. About 1,000 such applicants have already been received. A sailor who is demobilized here has his steamer passage to the United Kingdom guaranteed by the Australian government if he doesn't like the country after two years.

One of the big causes for the likely two-year lag in the start of Australia's immigration plan is the current shortage of 250,000 houses and flats. Few homes have been built since the war began, but the net natural increase in population is about 70,000 a year.

Australia's population now is 7,400,000 or about 2.5 persons to each square mile. (Before the war there were 121 persons to the square mile in Europe, 506.4 in Britain, and 43 in the United States.)

Chinese Government To Eliminate Ricksha

If the Shanghai Herald is right, the Chinese government is sponsoring a small economic revolution.

This paper says that the government plans to eliminate the ricksha by May, 1949, to make way for motorized traffic.

This would be revolutionary because many millions of orientals make what passes for a living by pulling a ricksha, and many millions more find it a handy way of getting about. Nowhere is the ricksha more widely used than in China. It is a social and economic factor of considerable importance there.

Ricksha is a contraction of a Japanese word, jim-riki-sha, which means "man-stretch-cart." The story goes that an American missionary in Japan had a crippled wife, and devised this way for her to get out and about.

The idea of one human being pulling another around came as no shock to the Orient, where for centuries the wealthy and power-

Increase Expected in ROTC Enrollments

The University of Iowa's R. O. T. C. department has suffered from the war. In 1941 the department had some 1,600 men in uniform including about 200 who were advanced students. Today the enrollment reaches about 150 and they are all basic students.

Things are looking up for the department, however, since the war department recently announced it plans to reactivate the advanced training program here next fall.

Designed to produce college trained junior reserve officers to meet the needs of the army during the postwar period and also to strengthen the R. O. T. C. organization, the course will be open to both veterans and non-veterans.

Qualifications for the advanced course to be offered this fall are these: applicants must be between the ages of 19 and 27 at the time of admission; they must have at least two academic years of university work remaining, whether undergraduate or graduate, and they must pass the prescribed physical examination. Due allowance will be made for correctable physical defects.

All formally enrolled members of the advanced course will be exempt from selective service. Veterans with one or more years of active service will be given credit for the entire R. O. T. C. basic course and can go directly into advanced training if they have honorable discharges. All veterans with less than a year's service but not less than six months will receive credit for one year of the basic course.

Attractive Features
One of the most attractive features of the advanced course is the financial benefit to enrollees, according to W. L. Adamson, chief clerk at the university R. O. T. C. office.

"Under the present set-up," he said, "members will be paid a monthly allowance in lieu of subsistence of about $19 per month over a period of two calendar years. In the old course the trainee was paid approximately $23 once every three months.

"When he goes to camp next summer to receive six weeks' training, the member will receive seventh grade enlisted man's pay which at present is $50 per month plus subsistence and quarters. In addition to that he will receive five cents a mile to and from camp and a complete officer's uniform including overcoat and shoes."

Plus G. I. Bill
"These allowances," he continued, "will be paid in addition to the benefits authorized by the G. I. bill of rights."

Under the contract he makes with the government, the student must agree to:

(1) Complete the advanced course and attend the advanced training camp, unless sooner discharged at the convenience of the government. If the course is interrupted for two calendar years, the contract will be canceled.

(2) Accept an appointment as second lieutenant in the officers' reserve corps, if offered.

The advanced course will consist of five hours of instruction a week for a minimum total period of 64 weeks or 32 weeks a year.

Iowa Wins Track Opener, 59-40

Chicago Takes Only 2 Events

By LARRY TANNER

Scoring heavily in field events, Iowa took a dual meet from Chicago in the first indoor meet of the season in the fieldhouse yesterday afternoon. The Hawkeyes won all the track events except the mile and two mile runs.

High scorer for the Hawkeyes was Ike Johnson who contributed 10 points, winning the 70-yard low hurdles and the broad jump. Dan Sheehan scored eight points by winning the high jump and placing second in the pole vault.

The Maroons had an iron man in W. Francke who competed in five events and scored 10 points. Francke placed second in the high and low hurdles, second in the broad jump and third in the 60-yard dash.

Lee Farmer served notice that

Mile run: First, Adams (C); second, Mulcahy (C); third, Eakes (I). Time 4:53.9.

60-yard dash: First, Farmer (I); second, Washington (I); third, Francke (C). Time 1:13.3.

440-yard dash: First, Hunter (I); second, Tourtelotte (C); third, Beatty (C). Time 3:33.3.

70-yard high hurdles: First, Freels (I); second, Francke (C); third, Fischer (C). Time 2:8.5.

Two-mile run: First, Smith (I); second, Adams (C); third, Lewis (I). Time 10:39.2.

800-yard run: First, Smith (I); second, Adams (C); third, Jung (C). Time 2:04.2.

70-yard low hurdles: First, Johnson (I); second, W. Francke (C); third, Freels (I). Time 1:11.6.

Pole vault: First, Thorpe (I); second, Hammond (I); third, Franceson (I). Height 11' 6".

Shot put: First, Gotthardt (I); second, Hammond (I); third, G. Barile (I). Distance 42' four and one half in.

High jump: First, Sheehan (I); second, Weaver (C); third, Cleaves (C). Height 5 ft. 10 in.

Broad jump: First, Johnson (I); second, Francke (C); third, Dinkelacker (C). Distance 22 ft. two and one-half in.

he is still in the running for the 60-yard dash championship in the Big Ten, winning that event in the comparatively slow time of :06.5. Probably the best race of the day was in the 880-yard run. In that race Iowa's Nelson Smith overtook Bokman of Chicago on the backstretch to win going away. John Hunter turned in good time in the 440 with :53.3. He led all the way and was never seriously threatened.

In the pole vault, the Hawks had things pretty much their own way. They won all three places with Walter Thorpe soaring to 11 feet six inches. Iowa filled all three places in the shot put event. Keith Gotthardt, who placed second in the indoor conference meet last spring, came out on top in this event with Jack Hammond and Bartels following in that order.

The most one-sided race of the day was the two mile run. Mulcahy of Chicago went ahead early in the event and gradually stretched his lead. He came across the finish line over a hundred yards ahead of his running-mate Adams, who had previously beaten him in the mile run.

In the high school half mile relay City high nosed out University high's Bluehaws. The winning time was 1:41.9.

Up and Over

WALTER THORPE who won the pole vault in the dual track meet between the University of Iowa and Chicago yesterday in the Iowa fieldhouse with a vault of 11-6 is shown clearing the bar. Iowa captured all three places in the event and went on to win the meet handily 59-40.

Wolves Sink Lakes, 56-50

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan ended its basketball season last night by defeating Great Lakes, 56-50, to mark the Wolverines' second victory over the Blue-jackets this year. The win gave Michigan a season record of 12 wins and seven losses with a .500 rating at six wins and six defeats in Big Ten play.

The Wolverines could not find their shooting eyes in the first period and had to be satisfied with a 21-all deadlock at half time. But they began to hit from all angles in the final stanza and won going away.

Wildcats Down Illini in Close Battle, 48-43

CHICAGO (AP)—Northwestern university's Wildcats last night turned in an upset by defeating the University of Illinois, 48-43, before a crowd of 20,442 in Chicago stadium.

For ten minutes the two teams were unable to get an offense clicking, and played raggedly. Both missed shot after shot until, with 12 minutes of play gone and Northwestern ahead, 12-8, Max Morris began to hit. He scored 11 straight points to put the 'Cats in front 28-15, at the intermission.

The Northwestern offense was almost all Morris. And he scored 20 points to boost his Big Ten total to 167 points while Bob Doster of Illinois, second in the scoring race, made but eight. Doster, who led all other Big Ten scorers most of the season until a week ago, now has 144 points.

Illinois never was ahead in the game after six minutes of play, but Coach Doug Mills' players threatened repeatedly all through the second half. In the slow first ten minutes, the Illini were ahead 1-0 and 3-2, all their points on free throws, but that was the last time they were able to push in front.

The Illini sunk but 17 of 95 shots while Northwestern dropped 18 of 70 attempts from the field through the hoop.

Little Hawks Rally To Topple Grayhounds In Final Half, 39-29

City high took a one point lead late in the first half last night and forged away in the final periods to top the Grayhounds of Burlington, 39-29.

The Hawkiets, puzzled by the Burlington defense throughout most of the first two stanzas, were held to four baskets from the field in the opening periods and had to rely on the accurate work of Bob Freeman from the charity lane to give them their half time lead. Freeman carried the burden of the Little Hawk scoring as he racked up eight free throws in as many attempts and added three baskets.

Big Gene Hettrick who paced the Hawkiet sophomores to a 32-24 victory over the Burlington yearlings, entered the varsity contest and piled up seven points before he was relieved and was the big factor for the control of the rebound by the Little Hawks.

The contest was decided by free throws with the Little Hawks making 17 in 22 attempts while the Grayhounds were missing 15 out of 24 shots from the charity line.

Two Records Set at Drake

DES MOINES (AP)—Roosevelt of Des Moines won the junior division of the state A. U. track meet at the Drake fieldhouse yesterday while the host school, without any team opposition, scored 62 points in the senior division.

Jess Palmer, representing the Iowa Teachers, finished second in the senior division pole vault to count three points for his school.

Roosevelt totaled 34 points to easily win the junior show. North Des Moines and Ames tied for second with 17 and East Des Moines, long a ruler of high school track circles here, was fourth with 12 1/2. Other high school scoring: Spencer 10, Mt. Pleasant 8, Knoxville 7, Council Bluffs (Thomas Jefferson) 6, Council Bluffs (Abraham Lincoln) 4, Des Moines Tech 1, Audubon 1, Hampton 1.

In the senior division Fred Feiler romped over the two-mile course in nine minutes and 35 seconds nearly a lap and a half ahead of his Drake teammate Dave Griffith who formerly held the state mark of 9:38.1.

The junior division pole vault was broken when Jim Dilliner of North Des Moines cleared the bar at 10 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

"Is Radio Here to Stay?", the discussion topic for tomorrow night's 8 o'clock session of "Speak Up" over WSUI, will center on television's threat to regular broadcasting. Participating in the discussion will be Betty McDonald, Charles McNamee, Jake Benson, Dan Schuffman, and Bill Dempsey, moderator.

A fantastic tale of a syndicate specializing in the killing of husbands and wives unwanted by their respective spouses, is the thriller which "The Shadow" will seek to unravel during the dramatization of "Murder for Money" to be heard today at 4 over Mutual.

"Hour of Charm" music follows a traditional American pattern of spirituals and nostalgic melodies as Phil Spitalny and his all girl orchestra prematurely celebrate George Washington's birthday on their broadcast tonight at 9 over NBC. Evelyn and her magic violin play the old favorite "Home Sweet Home," Jeannie sings "Listen to the Mocking Bird," and Francine and the choir do a group of spirituals.

Orson Welles will star in "The Battle That Never Ends," a drama of man's fight against insect plagues, on "Exploring the Unknown" tonight at 8 over MBS. Welles will play two roles—that of Matthew, a Dakota farmer who loses his life fighting a grasshopper invasion, and that of his son Jim, who migrates to the south, becomes a newspaper man, and leads the battle of the cotton farmers against the ravages of the boll weevil.

Vets Eligible for Flight, Ground Training Under New Set-Up at Iowa City Airport

Shaw Obtains Okay For Plan; Inspectors To Check Facilities

Veterans, eligible under the GI bill of rights, will soon be able to take pilot training and mechanic's courses under a new GI program to be established in Iowa City, Paul B. Shaw of the Shaw Aircraft Co. said yesterday.

The program has been approved for Iowa City, Shaw said, and an inspector from the veterans' bureau is expected next week to inspect the airport. The flying program may be in effect next week, he said.

Under the new program, veterans may take an aircraft mechanic's instruction course, as well as flying courses leading to private, commercial and instructor's licenses.

Only 40 men can be handled in the initial flight training program, Shaw said, but if the class expands, more planes will be bought to meet the student demand.

Student veterans at the university are eligible if they can meet the CAA physical requirements, and will probably be able to fit the flying training in with their regular work, Shaw said, but the mechanic's training requires eight hours work per day, and a veteran would probably not be able to attend the university at the same time.

Local Steel Shortage Forces 18-Man Layoff

A shortage of structural steel forced the layoff Friday of 18 men employed by the Putnam Welding Machine and Foundry service, 319 S. Gilbert street, it was announced by W. S. Putnam yesterday.

No shipments of steel are expected immediately, but it is hoped that as many men as possible can soon be re-employed in reworking and manufacturing electric motors, Putnam stated.

Since the beginning of a project building drag-line units for a Cedar Rapids corporation in August, 1945, the men have been working a 44 hour week.

Firemen extinguished a fire in a car belonging to Jay F. McNamara, 532 S. Dodge street, about 3:25 p. m. yesterday. Damage was estimated at $50. The fire started from a short in the battery.

Sparks from the chimney caused slight damage to the roof of the C. E. Homewood home, 214 S. Madison street, about 12:20 p. m.

No damage resulted when a piece of wood was ignited from hot clinkers in the basement of the Christian church about 9:25 a. m.

C. O. Ingersoll Rites To Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Charles O. Ingersoll, 72, 100 Koser avenue, will be held at Beckman's at 2 o'clock tomorrow, with Dr. L. L. Dunnington officiating. Mr. Ingersoll died at his home at 11:25 p. m. Friday.

Mr. Ingersoll was a past president of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the Kiwanis club.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. John B. Klopstad of Sioux City; one son, Lt. Charles C. Ingersoll in Germany, and three grandchildren. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery in Sioux City.

County Conservation Meet to Be Tomorrow For Tenants, Owners

Johnson county landowners and tenants will have a chance to demonstrate their interest in a local soil conservation district at a public hearing tomorrow afternoon at 1:15 in the community building.

Members of the state soil conservation committee will be there from 1:15 on to talk with farmers and determine if the county desires a district.

If one is established, Johnson county could be supplied with a technical farm soil expert who would work with both local farmers and the department of agriculture. Together they would prepare a soil building plan for each farm in the county. They would be assisted by three commissioners elected from the county.

First move after a successful hearing Monday afternoon would be to call a county wide referendum, which in turn must show 65 percent of votes cast in favor of the district.

Considerable interest has already been displayed; more than 20 percent of the county landowners, 517, petitioned for Monday's hearing.

An $89,400 fund for soil building practices in the county was announced this week by the AAA office.

Present 'Pied Piper' At U-High Gymnasium Tomorrow Evening

Music for the operetta will be furnished by Sally Clearman and Letitia Dawson.

Toy dancers will be ten of Norma Thornton's dance pupils. Miss Thornton will dance the part of the "Night Wind Spirit." The musical production is under the supervision of Rita Hutcherson. The stage set was designed and constructed under the direction of Hugo Sipple, head of the industrial arts department.

Final Rites Tomorrow For Anna M. Liffing

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Oathout funeral chapel for Mrs. Anna Mae Liffing, 72, who died yesterday.

Dr. L. L. Dunnington and the Rev. Rudolph will officiate.

Mrs. Liffing had served as a state escort for the University hospital for 23 years.

Burial will be in Waverly.

Asking damages of $3,375, Jeannette Tofting, route 5, filed suit in district court yesterday against Ervin Jacobs, driver, and Clarence Swanson, owner, for damages incurred when a trailer truck driven by Jacobs collided with a car driven by Mrs. Tofting Wednesday afternoon. She charged Jacobs with negligence in handling the truck.

In the accident which occurred on Kirkwood avenue, Mrs. Tofting and her husband, George Tofting, both suffered broken ribs, cuts and bruises and shock.

A writ of attachment on the truck was also asked for in the petition. Jacobs and Swanson are non-residents of Iowa City.

Amid roses and candy and sentimental verse, the Zetas are suffering from Cupid's curse. But the prize Valentine was Roberta Harter's red shoes. Just wondering if Bob Davison, Delta Chi, knows of that old custom in Denmark where a fella instead of proposing brings his gal red shoes. Been in Denmark lately, Bob?

GIRLS... BREMERS have absolutely the latest in head scarfs and if you have school spirit of course you'll want one of these rayon scarfs with the Iowa Seal in the corner. These Iowa Scarfs are definitely a bargain for $1.69 especially when the creamy ivory color can be worn with anything. Show your enthusiasm for your Alma Mater by wearing an 'Iowa Scarf.'

An addition has been made to the Sigma Nu house. It is in the form of Bit Comfort who is joining us next week for a renewal of college life. Keep your eye on him, girls.

A most eligible bachelor has finally surrendered. Bob Clem, Sigma Chi, gave his pin to Diana Mills from Hillcrest.

You'll be proud as a peacock to wear the smartly framed glasses which FUKKS JEWELRY STORE is featuring. Whichever color is most flattering to your face Mr. Fuiks will suggest for you in one of his three latest styles... Harlequin Tactic Winger

If the lenses need changing in the glasses you are now wearing FUKKS will fix them promptly with new ones. Your eyes are important so take care of them now with FUKKS smart frames and reliable lenses.

Pat Jensen, Gamma Phi Beta, who has been seen with Bill Dimit, Phi Psi, around campus a lot recently is now wearing Bill's pin.

"Hall, hall the gang's all here" ... ya' know guys and gals that 'll phrase fits only one place... S.U.I.'s favorite place for that "pause that refreshes"... THE AIRLINER. Just stop in after those classes of yours and see what we mean. And... in case you'd really like some super steak dinners, spaghetti and meat balls, or pork chops, well you're in for a big treat the next time you stop at the AIRLINER. So don't forget the AIRLINER the next time you want lots of fun.

It is good to see the fraternities reopening on campus. The Delis are getting their house in shape and have several of their old boys back. When's the housewarming, fellas?

Where to Go...

Wherever you go in Iowa City you see YELLOW-CHECKER CABS. There's a reason... no other Cab Co. gives such fine service at such reasonable rates.

The YELLOW-CHECKER CAB CO., Iowa City's largest fleet of taxi cabs, is a favorite of students, such as Mary Alice Wareham and Al McLaughlin who really know how to get around, as well as townspeople and the traveling public.

And the lights went out—at the Delta Gamma house last Thursday night it seems that right in the midst of Sigma Nu Bill Tucker's mock proposal to Betty Bonowitz the fuse blew purposely or otherwise. How about it, Bill, what happened?

Why not stop in at the AIRPORT INN for lunch or dinner? They have delicious steaks and sandwiches which will satisfy any desires you have for tasty food. Yes, it's the AIRPORT INN for delicious food.

The Kappa pledges presented their "Kappa Follies" to the actives Thursday night. Thanks to the Phi Psi house, the costumes were unique. Had never realized before that Peggy Morrissey had such a versatile vocabulary, or that Jean Taylor could handle a cigar in such a manly fashion.

FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE is the place to satisfy your needs. They have a complete supply, in popular brands, of cosmetics and all lines of drugs.
