BYRNES REBUKES RUSSIA

Red Troops Leaving Iran Before Deadline

Soviet Policy In Manchuria Disapproved

Firouz Terms Move 'Results'

British Army Moved From Tehran; Staffs Remain in Missions

TEHRAN (AP)—Russian troops began pulling out of some Iranian towns yesterday just 24 hours before the deadline for them to leave Iran under terms of a Big Three agreement with the Iranian government.

(Russia announced the withdrawal of Soviet troops would start today from those parts of Iran "which are undisturbed," Moscow radio said. The broadcast said Red Army forces would remain in the northwestern area, which includes "autonomous" Azerbaijan province, until "the clearance of the situation.")

Started Evacuating
Red army forces started evacuating the village of Karaj, 30 miles north of Tehran, at noon and a short time later Prince Firouz, Iranian director of propaganda and political undersecretary of state, said withdrawal from Samnan, 100 miles east of the capital, would begin today.

Correspondents Saw
Foreign correspondents at Karaj saw one truck load of troops, carrying light packs, drive off to the north. Other troops stood in the road awaiting transportation. Correspondents counted 38 uniformed Russians waiting in the small village square.

Prince Firouz said in a radio broadcast that he had been notified by officials at Samnan that the Soviet commandant had "received orders to begin the evacuation of the city Mar. 2" and that he would hand over Soviet installations to the Iranians on that date.

The prince termed the Russian move "one of the good results" of negotiations now in progress in Moscow between Iranian Premier Ahmed Quavam Es Saltaneh and Soviet officials.

Troops Withdraw
The last United States troops were withdrawn from Iran at the end of December. Six hundred British troops moved from Tehran Thursday and the last 200 of them were crossing southern Iran into Iraq yesterday.

In Tehran, the only foreign military personnel remaining were the staffs of military attaches and military missions (American) to train the Iranian army and national police.

Mother Admits Shooting Son

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Frank Hermann was charged with manslaughter last night in the shooting of her son James Marsh, 24-year-old overseas war veteran, after a breakfast table quarrel, Police Chief William Murphy reported.

The police chief said Mrs. Hermann, wife of a suburban St. Bernard, Ohio, councilman, admitted shooting her son, who was awarded a Silver Star while serving with the 339th infantry regiment in Italy, but insisted it was in self-defense after the veteran had threatened her at the breakfast table. He was hit in the arm and chest.

She was released on $1,000 bond Murphy reported.

Chief Murphy said Mrs. Hermann gave this account of yesterday's fatal shooting:
She and her son, employed as a bottler by a brewing company, argued about where he and his 17-year-old wife, Dorothy, had spent Thursday evening. The son went into another room and returned with a souvenir German automatic pistol in his pocket.

The mother said she went to a bedroom, returned with a pistol and fired twice at her son, who slumped to the floor crying, "Oh, Mom!"

Runs for School Board

OPPOSITION TO THE PROPOSED $300,000 bond issue for improvement of Iowa City schools was voiced yesterday by Lowell L. Kriel who filed his nomination papers for the school board Thursday afternoon. (See story on page 6)

Truman Asks Subsidy For Building Materials In Message to House

Plan for Price Ceilings On Existing Houses Voted Down, 154-68

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman rushed a last-minute plea of the house yesterday in an effort to save vital phases of his housing program.

It arrived too late to affect the decision on price ceilings for existing houses. Just minutes before, the house overwhelmingly voted down this feature, 154 to 68.

But the president's chief concern was the plan for $600,000,000 of government subsidies to promote the manufacture of building materials where necessary.

Speaker Rayburn
His message to Speaker Rayburn asserted that legislative authority is needed for these payments. Opponents have contended that the government already has the authority under wartime laws.

Mr. Truman declared that the housing measure is not a party issue, "It is an American issue."

The bill, he said, is of "supreme importance" in making it possible for veterans and their families to move from trailers and shacks into decent homes they can afford—"the kind of homes they fought and risked their lives to defend."

Price Ceilings
The plan for price ceilings on existing houses which the house defeated would have permitted those who own them now to sell them for any price they could get. But that price then would become the ceiling in event of subsequent resale.

The debate ranged far and wide. At one point Representative Smith (R., Ohio) asserted that Housing Administrator Wilson Wyatt had profiteered on his own home in Louisville, Ky. He said the house had cost $10,000 eight years ago and that Wyatt sold it for $25,000 when he came to Washington recently.

The house adjourned again without disposing of the housing issue, putting off final action to Monday.

Nursemaid to Face Charge of Abducting Four-Year-Old Girl

WASHINGTON (AP)—While four-year-old Terry Taylor shopped for a new hat and her weary parents rested, a young nursemaid waited at police headquarters here for removal to Charlotte, N. C., to face charges of abducting the child.

Allies Accept U. S.-Proposed Franco Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced yesterday that both Britain and France have now accepted "in principle" United States proposals for three-power action regarding Franco Spain.

The American proposals never have been officially announced but diplomatic officials have said they call for a declaration that the three governments:

1. Are utterly opposed to the regime of Generalissimo Franco and hope for its early replacement by the Spanish people themselves.

2. Are willing to grant recognition to any broadly-representative interim government which might be established following Franco's ouster, and which would promise manesty for political prisoners, and free elections.

Michael J. McDermott, state department press officer, told a news conference of the British and French agreements "in principle."

McDermott said however, that both the British and French wanted to discuss a few matters regarding the wording of the proposed three-power declaration.

U. S. Planes Fired On Twice by Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy disclosed last night that American planes twice had been chased out of the Port Arthur-Dairen area in Manchuria with gunfire from Russian aircraft, and that it had protested to Russia that one incident was a "hostile act" and the other "unjustifiable."

The announcement pointed out that Dairen had been declared a free port, open to the commerce of all nations, in the Russian-Chinese treaty of August 14, 1945. After the protest over the first encounter, the report recounted, the Russian navy replied that since the defense of Port Arthur was a Russian responsibility under the treaty with China, American planes must not approach within 12 miles of the coast there without permission from the Soviet command.

"The navy department pointed out to the Russians," the announcement went on, "that they had not informed the United States of an intent to apply a 12-mile limit to Soviet-occupied territory, as distinguished from actual Soviet territory, and that the Russian answer did not explain why an American plane had been fired upon 25 miles at sea."

Starr Labels Pauley As 'Spy' in Oil Deal

Previous Testimony Repeated in Inquiry On Cabinet Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP)—E. G. Starr, Los Angeles oil man, told senators yesterday that Edwin W. Pauley either acted as "a spy" for major oil interests or "sold out" on independent producers by switching his stand in a 1939 California oil law referendum.

He told the senate naval affairs committee that which part Pauley played depends on the date when the deal for sale of his petrol corporation's assets to Standard Oil Company of California was worked out.

Official Said
An official, whose name cannot be used, said Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, conferred with senate party leaders during the day and was told again that Pauley could not be confirmed.

Hannegan also talked with the nominee, and afterward Pauley said he still believed he could win, that "It looks better than it ever did."

However, the obvious hope of senate Democratic leaders was that he would pull out and save them from the embarrassment of a divided vote and possible defeat.

Withdrawal Talk
The new withdrawal talk came at the end of a day in which the Los Angeles oil man testified.

He brought up the previous testimony of John A. Smith, another independent west coast oil operator, that Pauley suddenly deserted the independents who had been fighting the oil control bill and began siding with the Standard Oil Company of California and other large petroleum companies.

Pauley has denied that he made a switch.

Senator Saltonstall (R., Mass.) asked Starr if he didn't think a man had a right to change his mind.

Starr Replied
"I know nothing improper about that," Starr replied. "But if the deal was consummated in 1938, and he was on our side until he deserted, he was planted there and was a spy."

"If he sold out to Standard, or to some subsidiary, or to the Signal Oil company, he was a spy for the purchaser."

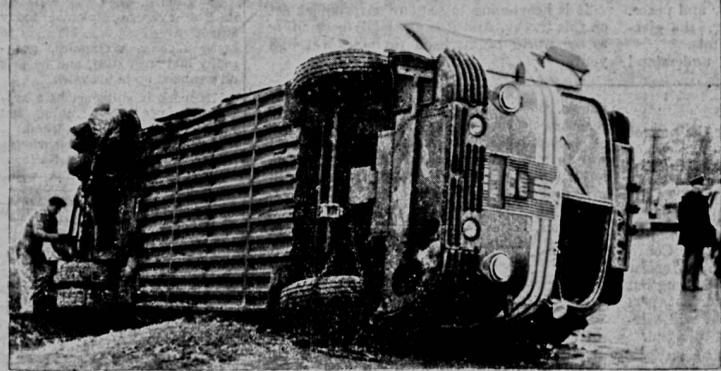

"If he did not sell out until June 1, then he sold out on us, for he had been with us from the start."

Grinnell to Buy Organ

GRINNELL (AP)—President Samuel N. Stevens announced yesterday that Grinnell college will purchase a new organ, for Herrick chapel at an approximate cost, including installation, of $40,000.

The organ, which will be paid for with gifts, will be ready for

FOUR HOSPITALIZED IN IOWA CITY BUS WRECK

WORKMEN ARE SHOWN examining the Chicago-bound Greyhound bus lying on its side in a ditch 12 miles east of Iowa City on highway 6. It overturned completely when one wheel struck the soft shoulder of the highway yesterday afternoon. Passengers escaped through the front window of the bus on to the pavement and were returned to Iowa City in another bus. Four of the 44 passengers have been admitted to Iowa City hospitals. Others were treated for minor injuries at West Liberty.

Union Rejects Terms Offered In GM Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The CIO United Auto Workers rejected yesterday General Motors' terms for settling the 101-day-old automotive strike and called for a "policy of pressure" by CIO unions in related industries to force an "early and victorious" end of the costly dispute.

The door to possible settlement was left open, however, as the council directed the union's negotiating committee to resume parleys with the company at 9 a. m. (CST) today. The council reported until today to receive reports on the scheduled negotiations.

In Detroit Lloyd L. Chapelle, local chairman of the National Federation of Telephone workers, said that 2,000 Michigan Bell Telephone company workers had voted almost unanimously to join the NFWA nation-wide walkout on March 17 if wage demands of $2 more a day are not met.

At the same time another Detroit strike, a 10 day work stoppage of CIO dairy workers which shut off 60 percent of the city's milk supply, was settled, subject to ratification of the strikers. Union representatives agreed to accept an 18 cents an hour wage increase for the 1,000 strikers. Some 2,400 drivers had joined in a sympathy walkout.

At Philadelphia, comparative industrial serenity prevailed for the first time in three days when striking CIO General Electric company employes abandoned plans for a mass demonstration in the face of a city edict against parading without a permit.

R. Brown Announces Plans for Formation Of Campus AMVETS

Plans for the formation of an AMVETS post on the Iowa campus were announced yesterday by Robert J. Brown, commander of Iowa City AMVETS post No. 22.

Post Commander Brown said that many applications for membership in the city post have been received from university veterans. Because of the interest shown and because of the problems of the veterans on the campus differ from those of the veterans in the city, it was felt that two posts would be of greater benefit to all the members.

Applications from more than the 10 men required to secure a charter have been received and a charter is being requested from state headquarters in Atlantic. When the charter has been obtained, expansion and organization of the campus post will begin.

The two posts will work in close cooperation and both will have access to the club's newly-opened facilities in the old El Paso club behind the Berkeley hotel.

'Continue OPA'—Kaiser Pleads

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser told congress yesterday that if price controls were abolished immediately, he would have "to raise prices as high as I could" in his 25 industries.

But the next step, after a year or two, he added, "would be retrenchment" with curtailed production, discharge of labor.

Appearing before the house banking committee to plead for a year's continuation of OPA, he said he had had no difficulty with the agency that could not be solved satisfactorily. He added:

"The reason we are not going ahead faster is fear. We are afraid of inflation."

OPA's continuation is essential, he asserted, "to take the fear out of our souls."

The industrialist's talk of fear brought on a sharp clash with Representative Sumner (R., Ill.) who broke in to shout to Kaiser:

"The biggest fear in the building industry is of people like you. You must have an in with the government."

With a chuckle, Kaiser replied: "If I have an in with the government, I'd like for you to find it for me. I'd like to use it."

If OPA is abolished, Kaiser said he would be forced to boost his own prices because he would have to "bid at auction" for the materials he uses in these industries.

This process of spiraling prices all through the economy, he argued, would spell inflation of disastrous proportions and "ruin for the great mass of mankind which has only limited purchasing power."

Truman Forms Food Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Hoover called yesterday for "a real food administrator" to save American food for foreign relief as President Truman formed a committee to attack the problem.

Hoover accepted the post of honorary chairman of the "Famine Emergency committee," which will map a drive to get Americans to eat less and waste less, particularly of wheat and fats.

4 Hospitalized In Iowa City Bus Accident

Four persons have been admitted to Iowa City hospitals after a Chicago-bound Greyhound bus overturned at 1:05 p. m. yesterday 12 miles east of Iowa City on highway No. 6.

The injured include: Mildred M. Lawrence, 20, A3 of Springfield, Ill., in Mercy hospital with a broken collarbone.

Mrs. Kate Peterson, 49, Freeport, Ill., in Mercy hospital with a broken collarbone and several broken ribs.

Arthur Townley, 71, Rock Island, Ill., in University hospital, diagnosis undetermined.

Edna Rodine, 26, Des Moines, wife of the driver, in University hospital, under observation.

Others examined in hospitals here have been released.

Some of the 44 passengers, which included six standees, were treated for minor injuries in West Liberty.

The bus driver, K. C. Rodine, said that one wheel of the bus caught the soft shoulder of the highway and pulled the vehicle into the ditch. The bus overturned completely and landed on its side.

Passengers escaped from the overturned bus by climbing through the front window. They boarded another bus and were returned to Iowa City. According to Greyhound officials, the uninjured members continued to Chicago last night on a special bus following individual registering of claims at the local bus depot.

The accident occurred during the heavy snowfall yesterday. The highway shoulders had been softened considerably by the rain and snow. Gasoline which leaked from the tank of the wrecked bus lay several inches deep in the ditch alongside the highway.

Removal of Industrial Equipment Draws State Department Assertion

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a speedy development of Secretary Byrnes' new policy of plain speaking, the state department declared yesterday that Russia had no right under any allied agreement to remove industrial equipment from former Japanese-held Manchuria.

The action appeared tantamount to a rebuke to Russia. A Soviet commander had announced at Mukden earlier this week that machinery had been removed in accordance with what he called a Big Three agreement, though he said he could not remember when or where it was made.

Department's Statement
The department's statement came close on the heels of Byrnes' speech in New York Thursday night in which he declared that "No power had a right to help itself to such property prior to a reparations pact among the interested allied nations."

The statement regarding Japanese assets in Manchuria follows: "The United States has no agreement, secret or otherwise, with the Soviet government in regard to war booty in Manchuria. "This government does not accept any interpretation of 'war booty' to include industrial enterprises or the components thereof such as Japanese industry and equipment in Manchuria."

Japanese External Assets
"Some time ago we informed the Soviet government that disposal of Japanese external assets, such as the industries in Manchuria, was a matter of common interest and concern to those allies who bore the major burden in defeating Japan and that it would be most inappropriate at this time to make any final disposition of Japanese external assets as 'war booty' or by agreement between the Soviet and Chinese governments for the control of those assets."

"This government has recently initiated discussions with other governments principally concerned with reparations from Japan with respect to final disposition of Japanese external assets."

Further American Action
A basis for further American action was seen by some authorities in Secretary Byrnes' statement Thursday night that the United States believes no nation has a right to maintain its forces in another country without the freely given consent of that country. Byrnes also asserted that the United States intends to use its influence to put an end to the use of force and threats of force for purposes other than those of maintaining peace and security as set forth in the United Nations charter.

There is growing concern here over the lack of speed of Russian troop withdrawals from Manchuria. Some apprehension is also brought out over possible Russian moves against Turkey.

Truman Forms Food Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Hoover called yesterday for "a real food administrator" to save American food for foreign relief as President Truman formed a committee to attack the problem.

Hoover accepted the post of honorary chairman of the "Famine Emergency committee," which will map a drive to get Americans to eat less and waste less, particularly of wheat and fats.

But the former president declared that Secretary of Agriculture Anderson needed broader powers than he had now which would give him controls over food now lodged in the OPA and other agencies.

One Illustration
He asserted as one illustration that "incorrect price differentials" led to the feeding of wheat to livestock to the extent of 100,000,000 or 150,000,000 bushels more than normal out of the current crop.

The "Famine Emergency committee" is headed by Chester Davis, St. Louis banker and former war food administrator, as chairman. It was organized at a White House conference of a dozen private citizens and several government officials.

More than two hours after the committee had finished its session, Anderson issued a statement of its purposes. He said that it was to be "a continuing committee to aid him in formulating a detailed program through which the American public by voluntary cooperation can meet this crisis."

Held Conference
Hoover, who held a news conference at his Mayflower hotel suite as soon as the meeting concluded, said that the committee was not intended to be an administrative body or to originate methods.

Hoover told a news conference at his hotel later that he was confident the public would cooperate.

A Step Toward International Understanding

A recent project of the United States department of state which has received little publicity seems a laudable step in the direction of international understanding. It should be broadened.

Krug Good Appointment

The selection of J. A. Krug for the post of secretary of the interior came as a pleasant surprise to most of the senate. President Truman referred to Krug as an "able administrator" and a majority of the senators seem to agree with the president.

McGrath Calls Nomination Convention

Committee to Select Candidates for Senior L. A. Class Election

A convention to select a committee for the nomination of candidates for the officers of the senior liberal arts class will be held at 4 p. m. Tuesday in Macbride auditorium.

Called by Dean Earl J. McGrath, the convention is the first at the University of Iowa in several years.

Nominating Committee

The date of the election will be set by the nominating committee, which is to be composed of seven persons. Under the rules of the convention, membership on the committee must be split among men and women students—either three men and four women, or four men and three women. Nominations for the committee are to be made from the floor.

The announcement of the convention was made in a letter released yesterday by Dean McGrath. The letter was addressed to presidents and chairmen of university men's and women's housing units, and it extended an invitation to all students of the senior class in liberal arts to attend.

Four Officers

The nominating committee will pick a slate of candidates for the four class officers—president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. Date of the election probably will depend on how quickly the nominating committee can draft a slate of candidates. Nominating committees in the University Women's association have required as long as six weeks to select candidates.

A copy of Dean McGrath's letter follows: "ALL PRESIDENTS AND CHAIRMEN OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S AND MEN'S HOUSING UNITS,

"On Tuesday, March 5, at 4 o'clock I should like to meet with the members of the senior class in the college of liberal arts to discuss plans for the selection of class officers.

"Earlier discussions with representatives of the senior class suggest that at least four officers should be elected; namely, presi-

What's around the corner, MISTER?

YOU'RE a mighty smart man if you can answer that one!

But you can be almost as smart if you fix things so no matter what happens around that corner, you're all set financially.

Ask anyone you want—doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief—they'll all tell you there's no better way to save for a rainy day than by the U. S. Payroll Savings Plan.

The Savings Bonds you buy are exactly the same as your War Bonds were—the same fine investment, too.

If you have a youngster like the kid above, the money you lend your country now will help pay for his college when the time comes.

Or give you a real vacation someday. Or let you buy the worth-while things you'll really want in a few years.

Yes, sir—there's no wiser way to plan, no better way to save, than through your Payroll Savings Plan. Remember—four dollars for every three in just ten short years!

Stick to it!

Buy all the Bonds you can... keep all the Bonds you buy!

Hawks in Finale Tonight

MEREMEN FORTIFY FOR LONG TRIP

Wrestling, Track Meets Today

Iowa trackmen play host to Minnesota and Wisconsin in a triangular meet in the fieldhouse today at 2 o'clock. The Badgers are in a crippled condition following their meet at Notre Dame last week. Coach Tom Jones has been forced to revamp his squad considerably.

Three men are definitely out of action. John Towle, top sprinter pulled a muscle in the 60-yard dash at South Bend; Roger Foster, one of the best pole vaulters in the Big Ten, has an injured foot; George Kallias, the second-best broad jumper on the squad, wrenched his back in the Notre Dame meet.

The Hawkeye entries: 60 yard dash—Lee Johnson, Dick Washington, Ois Finney, Gene Freels, Jack Legie, Jack Ketsio; 70-yard low hurdles—Freels, Johnson, LEGE; One-mile run—Bob Carpenter, Harold Eakes, Kaiser; 440-yard dash—Bob Hartsack, John Hunter, Jim Sommers, Eric Wilson, Finney; Two-mile run—Carpenter, Bernard Lewis, Leonard Jaworski; 880-yard run—Eakes, Pete Schwinn, Nelson Smith; Mile relay—To be picked from 440-yard dash men; Shot put—Del Bartels, Keith Gotthardt, Jack Hammond, Paul Zagreling, Dan Sheehan; Pole vault—P. K. Franceson, Dick Storey, Walter Thorpe, Sheehan.

Hawkeye Swimmers Seek Fifth Victory Against Illini Today

A slightly juggled Iowa tank lineup will go into action in the Illinois swimming pool tonight as the Hawkeyes seek their fifth straight win of the season. The Hawks will be minus the services of three swimmers, Chester Cole, Wayne Cady and Malory Mitchell who are out of action because of injuries and illness.

The Iowa lineup will be the same as that which defeated Minnesota last week except in the 136-pound division where John Nyberg has replaced Lloyd Messeri. The three undefeated Hawkeye wrestlers are "Rummy" Macias at 128 pounds, Lynn Gray, team captain, at 165 pounds and Bob Johnson in the 175-pound class.

Toughest competition for the three is expected in the 128-pound class where Macias will tackle Chicago's Palmer. Both men are undefeated this season with Macias having never lost a Big Ten match in three years of competition. Palmer had a fine record at Oklahoma A & M before coming to Chicago.

High jump—Freels, Johnson, Sheehan, John Taylor, Clode Ridgeway; Broad jump—Louie Wilson, Johnson, Sheehan.

Second Place Put on Block In Gopher Tilt

Starting Lineups
Iowa Po. Minnesota

Time: 8:15
Place: Minneapolis
Broadcast: WSUI, starting at 8:10.

Bent on revitalizing their shattered Western Conference standing, Iowa's Hawkeyes are determined to salvage a second place tie with Indiana tonight when they tangle with Minnesota's revengeful Gophers, as the curtain falls on the Hawks basketball season.

Following their two straight defeats by Illinois and Indiana, Coach Pops Harrison's squad got in tough drills to iron out some of the rough spots in their offense and defense.

Minnesota has hit the downward trail since their last encounter with the Hawkeyes when they dropped a 63-61 overtime heart-breaker to Iowa. The Gophers were able only to get past Chicago as they were jugged down by Purdue, Indiana and Northwestern twice.

The Gophers will have added incentive to lick the Hawkeyes tonight. Iowa toppled Bernie Bieeman's grid squad by a single point last fall and then blasted the Gopher's dream in the cage race with their sensational victory Jan. 38.

And then, too, Minnesota's Tony Jaros will be attempting to overtake Max Morris of the Wildcats for the individual scoring honors in the Big Ten. Jaros needs an aggregate total of 44 points in their two remaining games to become the first Gopher to grab that honor since 1917. That was 29 years ago and it is certain that Minnesota would be willing to take what little honors they can from their dismal season.

Besides Walters and Maine the traveling squad included: Co-capt. Bill Boswell and Jonas Halldorsson, Gilbert Sheckler, Kenny Marsh, Arthur Van Havren, William Metier, Ralph Katz, Dennis Hoffnagle, Francis Gilchrist and Ernie Strangler.

Willie Pep Flattens McCallister in 2nd

NEW YORK (AP)—Walloping Willie Pep, owner of half the world's featherweight championship, cleared the slate on one of the two non-winning fights of his career last night by knocking out Jimmy McCallister, speedy Baltimore Negro, in the second round of a scheduled 20-rounder in Madison Square Garden. Pep weighed 129½; McCallister 128.

Golden Past of Iowa's Mat Coach—

FROM THE dignitary-surrounded wrestling mats of Budapest, Prague and Vienna in the old world to the smoke-filled athletic arenas of San Francisco, Harold (Mike) Howard, Iowa's veteran wrestling coach, has tested his strength and wrestling skill against the best amateur and professional grapplers of the world. . . . For two full decades Mike stood at the top of the mat world and today you'll find him over in the Iowa fieldhouse, directing his 24th Iowa wrestling team in its last dual match of the season. . . . He spends plenty of time drilling and advising his men in practice, but when there's a lull he's glad to sit down and spin a few tales of his colorful past. . . . When Mike begins one of his stories of the "Golden Era" in athletics, enlivened by his clever wit and droll dramatizations, even the ambitious young wrestlers stop writhing around the mat and edge closer to listen.

BORN IN DENMARK some 59 years ago, Mike began wrestling at an early age and soon earned the right to represent his country in the world's wrestling championship meets which were attracting such wide attention at that time. . . . He came to America in 1907 and won the world's amateur light-heavyweight championship tourney held in Maine.

FOR THE NEXT several years a world title fell into Mike's strong arms each season. . . . Wrestling was the top sport on the continent, attended by all the dignitaries in Europe's capital cities: Budapest in 1908, Prague in 1909, Dresden in 1910 and Vienna in 1911. . . . Following this sensational string of successes, Howard made a second trip to the U.S. and barnstormed through the country, meeting and defeating the outstanding professional wrestlers of America's "Golden Age."

WHO WAS the best wrestler Mike ever met? . . . He's mixed with them all but promptly answers "Strangler Lewis," although he's ready to admit that he considers "Farmer" Burns the best wrestler he ever saw. . . . Mike never met Burns in a real match but used to work out with him in New York. . . . Coach Howard laments the lowly position of wrestling today: "A wrestler doesn't have to know anything about scientific wrestling now—HE'S JUST A COMEDIAN." . . . He tells of the huge crowds that paid large sums to watch his matches back in the days when the world's pro crown meant something beside the grunt and groan exhibitions that are staged today.

In 1922 MIKE accepted the coaching position at Iowa and has spent the last 23 years training young wrestlers with the benefit of his long experience on the mat. . . . Once in a while, during his early days here he used to slip out to engage in a match in Des Moines or nearby city. . . . Although his days of active wrestling are past, Mike still takes a daily workout with one of his boys, doesn't drink or smoke. . . . His greatest interest aside from wrestling is boxing, and he loves to tell of the bouts of Dempsey, Tunney, Willard, Johnson and the other ring greats of the time. . . .

THE GREATEST grappler produced by Howard is Wilbur Nead, National AAU heavyweight champ and Big Ten king in 1939 and 40, who has returned here to take graduate work. . . . None of Mike's teams has ever won a Big Ten title, but many of his wrestlers have taken individual championships. . . . How well Mike teaches mat tactics is revealed by the following facts:

FIFTEEN IOWA men have won 22 Big Ten individual titles—AND ONLY FIVE HAD HIGH SCHOOL EXPERIENCE before coming to Iowa. . . . Hawkeye teams have won 48, lost 35 and tied four in Big Ten competition, plus a host of non-conference victories. . . . One man, Leslie Beers, made the American Olympic team for the Amsterdam games in 1928. . . . Iowans (two different men) were voted the outstanding wrestlers in Big Ten championship meets in 1935 and 36. . . . His teams were undefeated in Big Ten dual meets in 1934, 35, 36 and to February of the 1937 season. . . . The 1926 squad was the first to win all matches. . . . The present squad has won three of four matches and is looking for a fourth straight this afternoon.

Three District Cage Qualifiers Decided Tonight at City Hi Gym

Three district qualifiers will be decided at the City high gym tonight with final sectional games scheduled for both the Class B brackets and the upper bracket of Class A. The fourth winner in the local tournament, Kalona, took one of the Class A titles Tuesday night with a 37-24 win over Tipton.

Two Iowa City quintets are on the evening's card, with University high's Eastern Iowa conference champions in action for the first time, meeting West Liberty in the 9:30 Class A game, while St. Mary's, top seeded team in the B competition, opens the program against Solon at 7 p. m. The third game of the evening will match West Liberty, 32-28 victors over Iowa City's St. Patrick's Thursday night, and Oxford at 8:15 p. m.

Fireworks are expected in the opening game, when St. Mary's, easy winners over Tiffin and Springdale in first and second round games, tangles with a rangy group of fast break experts from Solon.

Individual scoring honors for the tournament will also come up for decision tonight, with St. Mary's big Bart Toohy, present leader with 25 points in two games, trying to stay ahead of Oxford's Dick Schmidt, number two man with 22 points in one game.

Other leaders at the end of two rounds of play include Merle Hoyer (20) and Bob Brown (18), both of St. Patrick's and Jack Shrader (17), St. Mary's guard.

Spartans Tip Badger Cagers Again, 56-52

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State college closed its basketball season here last night by turning back the University of Wisconsin for the second time this season, 56-52.

The victory for the Spartans was their 12th in a 21-game season and marked the Badgers' 15th defeat in 19 games.

It was a close game through most of the first half with the lead changing hands a half dozen times. With three and a half minutes left Marv Schamberger, star Rough Rider forward, sprained his ankle in a battle for a rebound and the visitors lost half of their scoring punch.

A minute later Bob Krall entered the contest for the Hawks and proceeded to ring up six points in 90 seconds, and the Little Hawks were out in front to stay.

After the intermission it was simply a matter of stalling off the Roosevelt attack and piling up the margin of victory.

Bob Krall topped the Hawklet scorers with 10 points, but had to yield game scoring honors to Benson, Roosevelt center, who racked up nine.

Lowell Kriel Enters School Board Race

Lowell L. Kriel, the third candidate for a position on the school board in the Mar. 11 election, expressed opposition yesterday to the proposed $300,000 bond issue to improve Iowa City schools. His nomination papers were filed Thursday afternoon.

Stating that he was opposed to the bond issue because of the increased load on the taxpayer, Kriel described the improvements as "things which I do not think are necessary."

He said that he was not opposed to all the improvements listed, but since it must be taken as a whole, he could not support it.

Listed specifically as unnecessary by Kriel "were gymnasiums in the grade schools and an individual girls' gymnasium for the high school."

Mrs. H. L. Beye and John P. Kelly are the other two candidates for the two board positions. Both are running for re-election. Mrs. Beye disagreed that the gymnasiums were unnecessary. Kelly declined to comment on Kriel's statement.

Iowa City residents will vote on the bond issue at the same time they select the board members.

Plans for the national convention of the A. F. of L. affiliated American federation of state, county and municipal employees to be held in Chicago April 22 to 26 will be discussed at the meeting. Wagner and F. M. Miller are delegates to the convention.

FIRST I. C. PASSENGERS ON MAINLINER

The first three people to board an airliner at Iowa City since 1942 are shown entering a United Airlines Mainliner yesterday afternoon at the local airport after brief welcoming ceremonies had been conducted. On the ramp leading to the door of the plane are Etha S. Piper, F. A. Stuck and R. Blackford, all of Iowa City. Station Agent George Zumbstein looks on.

United Airlines service to Iowa City was resumed yesterday for the first time since it was discontinued May 29, 1942. Coming in under an overcast sky, the big Mainliner marked "Iowa City" touched its wheels to the runway exactly at the scheduled time of 3:31 p. m.

Miss Bonnie Wanamaker, Iowa City high school senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Wanamaker, filled in the unfinished "I" and "I" in the word "City" in a brief ceremony after the plane landed.

Mayor W. J. Teeters, representing Iowa City, said it was gratifying to know that United Airlines service had once again been re-established in Iowa City. Mayor Teeters also gave an account of the work that C. P. Graddock, director of air cargo for United, had done in promoting the use of air cargo and air mail.

In return, Graddock expressed his thanks on behalf of United for the splendid welcome Iowa City had given them.

Already Iowa Citizens have resumed traveling by air. Etha Stewart Piper, F. A. Stuck and G. Blackford were the first three Iowa City passengers to board the plane.

A reception for civic and public officials was held after the program at the Hotel Jefferson to celebrate the re-opening.

R. V. Shrader, station manager, and V. W. Bales, chairman of the airport committee spoke on the inauguration in an interview over radio station WSUI before the plane landed.
