GM Mediator Works to Settle 113-Day Strike

4,300 Brass Workers Out in Connecticut Announce Agreement

DETROIT (Wednesday)—(AP)—After three and a half hours of steady deliberation, negotiators seeking to settle the General Motors strike paused briefly shortly after midnight for a recess before continuing their sessions early today.

Federal mediator James F. Dewey and GM representatives emerged from the conference room but UAW-CIO delegates remained inside. There was no indication of how long the negotiations would continue, nor what progress was being made in settling the 113-day-old strike.

Session Follows
The night session followed a three-hour meeting yesterday afternoon.

As the negotiators entered the meeting room, where they held a three and a half hour session yesterday afternoon, special federal labor mediator James F. Dewey declared, "We might work all night."

Asked what significance the night session held, Dewey replied crisply, "We're trying to settle the strike."
Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice-president and leader of the GM strikers, asserted in answer to a question that he saw no special significance to last night's meeting.

Willing to Meet
"They were willing to meet and so were we," Reuther said.

Meanwhile, the first break in strike which have curtailed brass production came when the Scoville Manufacturing company at Waterbury, Conn., announced agreement had been reached with 4,300 strikers.

Scoville, one of the "big three" of the brass industry, said it had agreed to an 18 1/2 cent hourly pay boost for its CIO workers who struck Feb. 6, and that the plant probably would reopen Monday. The international mine, mill and smelter workers union said a mass meeting had been called for Wednesday to ratify the agreement.

There was no indication immediately, that the agreement affected similar strikes at the American Brass company and the Chase Brass and Copper Co.
The General Electric company resumed negotiations in New York with representatives of 100,000 CIO electrical workers who have been on strike since Jan. 15.

Postponed Strike
Two railroad brotherhoods, which postponed a nationwide strike set for last Monday until their dispute over wages and working rules could be reviewed by a fact-finding board, demanded swift action in the dispute. As the board opened its hearing in Chicago, representatives of the brotherhoods demanded that the panel complete its hearings in the 30 days provided in the railway labor act.

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors corporation and the United Automobile workers, CIO, said last night the department of labor had requested them to cancel a broadcast (ABC) scheduled for tonight, and at which strike issues were to be discussed.

Four Nazi Leaders Of Hungary Executed Before Shouting Mob

BUDAPEST (AP)—Ferenc Szalasi, prime minister during the Nazi occupation, and three other Hungarian Nazi leaders were executed yesterday by strangulation, Hungarian form of hanging, as a hysterical crowd shouted for an even slower death.

Approximately 8,000 persons watched the strangulations—in which the face is left bare and the contortions of death can be witnessed. Four thousand others who could not get into Marko jail screamed, pushed and broke down two doors in an effort to witness the event. They were dispersed only after Hungarian police fired rifles into the air.

Izvestia Says Russia Will Not Yield to Force

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia will not yield to any threat of force, and any attempt to frighten Russia leads down "a fatal road," a special article in Izvestia asserted today in a second Soviet press attack in two days on Winston Churchill's proposal for British-American military cooperation.

British Backing
The article implied that Churchill's March 5 speech at Fulton, Mo., had the backing of the British government, and said he hoped the United States would take the primary role "in the future struggle which he is trying to inflame with all his strength."

The blunt, plain spoken definition of Russia's present position, written by Eugene Tarie, one of the Soviet Union's best known historians, was described by foreign observers as one of the most important commentaries in recent years of Soviet journalism.

Secure Frontiers
Tarie declared that Russia was not seeking "world domination," but that she intended to "secure all of her frontiers."

"She will not yield to any kind of threat, any kind of cunning, any kind of one-sided or many-sided weapons," he said, "but will continue on her way, not turning aside, not making attempts on foreign interests and not yielding ours."

The author said that Russia would not allow a repetition of 1941 and would "not permit even a most modest preparation for an attack on our borders." He described as "dangerous" the advice of some British newspapers that the way to deal with Russia is to "show them we are strong."

Nations which have tried to show force to Russia have always lost, Tarie declared.

Touching on the atomic bomb, which he referred to only as the world's "newest weapon," Tarie said Churchill wants very much to convince his audience that there is still a monopoly of this weapon.

Insinuation
Insinuating that the British government was behind Churchill, he declared that Churchill and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin were encouraging Russia's southern neighbors into hostility toward the U. S. S. R., and said that a "bad impasse" was being formed at the southern frontier.

Supported Franco
He declared that Generalissimo Francisco Franco was able to maintain his regime in Spain "only because Churchill supported him with a firm hand."

He accused Churchill of imposing "the hated regime of the fascist monarchy on the Greek people" only because Greece was important "for Britain's Mediterranean position."

U. S. Requests Explanation Of Movements

Russian Government Asked to Confirm Or Deny Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state department last night disclosed it has received reports that Russian armed forces and "heavy military combat equipment" have been moving south from the Soviet frontier toward Tehran and the western border of Iran.

The United States government, the department said, has asked the Russian government to confirm or deny the reports and if they are true to explain the reason for the troop movements.

Includes Tanks
While the official announcement did not go into details of the Russian forces involved, diplomatic authorities said the forces were reported to include tanks and cavalry in considerable strength.

The new American note on this situation is in addition to a note sent earlier this month protesting the failure of the Soviet government to withdraw its troops from Iran completely by March 2 in accordance with an Anglo-Soviet-American agreement made with the Tehran government during the war.

Diplomatic officials said that they did not know exactly the significance of troop movements toward the western border of Iran which fronts on both Turkey and Iraq with its rich Mosul oil fields, but they said the development, if true, might be connected with Russian pressure on Turkey for possession of the Turkish provinces of Kars and Ardahan and for special rights in control of the Dardanelles.

Official Statement
The official statement given out on the situation said:

"The department of state has received reports to the effect that during the last week additional Soviet armed forces and heavy military combat equipment have been moving southward from the direction of the Soviet frontier through Tabriz toward Tehran and toward the western border of Iran. This government has inquired of the Soviet government whether such movements have taken place and if so the reasons therefor."

There is some speculation here that leftist forces in Iran may try a coup d'etat soon to put into power a government more favored by Moscow. The leftist Tudeh party, according to reports from Tehran, Monday prevented a quorum of members from reaching the Iranian parliament chamber with the result that the parliament has been forced to dissolve.

A news dispatch from Tehran told of mobs of demonstrators. It said that since the Tudeh party members began gathering in protest to a proposal to extend the life of parliament, many rightist deputies stayed away.

John L. Lewis Makes Demand For Better Working Conditions

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis yesterday demanded creation of a health and welfare fund for mine workers by the nation's soft coal operators, and asked for higher pay and shorter working hours.

The United Mine Workers' president, threatening a strike of his 400,000 bituminous coal miners April 1, laid down his demands at a conference of producers and UMW officials.

His formal proposals did not refer to the demand which he made upon the operators last year for a 10 cent per ton participation royalty on coal for the health and welfare fund.

His generalized demands follow in the form of proposals:
"That a health and welfare fund for mine workers be created; adjustment of controversy affecting supervisory, technical and clerical employees; increases of wages and reduction of daily and weekly working hours, affecting all classifications of inside and outside employees; adjustment of vacation, holiday and severance compensation; improved safety and compliance with mining, compensation and occupational disease laws.

Inequalities
"Adjustment of intra-district differentials and local inequalities affecting classification and compensation; elimination of inequalities and abuses of existing mining and penalty provisions of basic and collateral agreements; amendment of rules and practices to promote mutual accord, increased efficiency and elimination of the small tyrannies of management; adjustment of controversy incident to unilateral interpretation of existing agreement of operators."

Lewis did not immediately cite specific amounts of wage increases he wanted, or elaborate on other demands. He continued, however, to speak to the conference after presenting the summary of his proposals.

The demands, Lewis said were "submitted constructively and in good faith, and each and all of them are negotiable suggestions."

A United Mine Workers' spokesman explained the procedure of submitting general demands had

U. S. Appeals For Economy Of All Cereals

Entire Western World Asked to Join Efforts Toward Conservation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's famine emergency committee yesterday appealed to the rest of the western hemisphere to join the United States in eating less cereals to feed the hungry.

The appeal was made by former President Herbert Hoover, honorary chairman of the committee created by President Truman to campaign for a 40 percent reduction in domestic consumption of wheat and 20 percent in fats and oils between now and June 30. Looking beyond the present emergency, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson issued a statement calling upon manufacturers and labor to cooperate to speed output of farm machinery and equipment. Some machinery plants are tied up by labor disputes.

Hoover told a news conference he believes this country and its Latin American neighbors can save upwards of 7,000,000 tons of cereals during the next 120 days to help fill a "famine gap" of about 9,000,000 tons.

"At suggestion of famine emergency committee, I am asking you as citizen and leader in a field concerned with food relief prices to serve as member of national famine emergency council. Council members will be asked to take the lead in their organizations or areas in promoting understanding of the facts about the danger of starvation of people in the war zones abroad and about the necessity to conserve food at home to meet those needs. General meeting of the council is not to be called but you will be asked to serve in your community and organization to further objectives of emergency food program, and to submit your suggestions and recommendations. Please wire me promptly of your acceptance. Letter from Chester C. Davis, chairman of committee, will follow.

Boys Saw Him
The detective said the three boys, Bert, 12, George, 10, and Douglas, 7, told him they saw their father pour kerosene on papers on the floor and set them afire.

Leach also said Longnecker told him the couple had been quarreling about a divorce. She filed suit for divorce some time ago, but later withdrew the action.

Lehman Asks UNRRA To Accept Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert H. Lehman announced last night he is resigning as director general of UNRRA on account of his health.

He made public a letter to the central committee of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration for submission to the council meeting in Atlantic City, N. J., Friday.

The letter asked that his resignation be presented to the council so that it may choose a successor.

At FDR's Grave—Churchill Tribute

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (AP)—A wreath of white carnations was placed on the rose-garden grave of Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday by his friend and ally of the war years, Winston Churchill.

The stocky former British prime-minister, who had motored from New York with his wife and daughter, stood with head down-cast, a slight frown on his face, for two minutes beside the grave of the man whose name and destiny history has linked with his.

Nearby, dressed in black, was the widow of the late president, and beside her stood Mrs. Churchill.

In addition to Mrs. Churchill and their daughter, Mrs. Sarah Churchill Oliver, the former British head of state was accompanied by John G. Winant, ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Mrs. Roosevelt's son, Elliot, and his wife, the former actress Faye Emerson, also were present.

Churchill and his party were Mrs. Roosevelt's guests at a luncheon.

Mr. Churchill motored to Albany to spend the night with Governor Dewey. They conferred last night in the historic executive mansion.

The agenda of their meeting was not disclosed but speculation was rife at the capitol that Britain's wartime prime minister came to discuss with Dewey, titular leader of the Republican party, his advocacy of an Anglo-American military alliance.

James C. Hagerly, Dewey's executive assistant, said that Lord Halifax, retiring British ambassador to Washington, had requested the conference last month in behalf of Churchill.

Soviet Assures Mukden Troops Leaving China

CHUNGKING (AP)—Official Russian assurance was given yesterday that Soviet troops evacuated from Mukden were slated for shipment out of Manchuria, but the precise situation in and around Mukden was obscured by conflicting reports.

It was taken for granted here, however, that central government forces would be able to hold the city despite reported incursions of Chinese Communists.

Taking Control
From northeast China command headquarters in Chinchow, 150 miles southwest of Mukden, Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Davis reported that Chinese government troops inside Mukden were taking control of the city in an orderly fashion. They were being steadily reinforced by well equipped units moving in over the Mukden-Peiping railroad.

Davis said there was no confirmation whatever, in telephoned messages from Mukden, of earlier reports of street clashes inside the city between Chinese Communists and government troops, nor was there any evidence of previously reported large fires there.

Have Pulled Out
Maj. Robert Ring of Chicago, United States army assistant military attache in Mukden, was quoted as saying that all complete units of Maj. Gen. Kovtoun Stankevitch's Red army garrison had been pulled out Mar. 7 and 11, and that only rear echelon elements remained in the city.

The Soviet officer replied that, inasmuch as the Chinese government had announced its readiness to take over garrison duties in Mukden, Soviet forces had begun to leave the city for Changchun.

Meanwhile, he asserted, "All nations must await their execution. No unilateral action should be taken toward anticipating what may result."

'Unqualified Success'
The senator called the first assembly of the United Nations "an unqualified success," while declaring that the organization would not win world peace "automatically."

Connally delivered his accounting on the London sessions, to which he was a delegate, and praised the work of every member of the American delegation. In speaking of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's "splendid record," he expressed a "sincere hope that every delegation we send to the assembly in the future will include at least one representative of the women of our country."

Fundamental Issues
Discussing differences with Russia, Connally acknowledged that the Americans and Russians differed on "fundamental issues" and declared:

"Russia has a right to any form of government which it sanctions. It has the right to adopt its own system without the interference or intervention of any foreign nation. "These rights do not extend beyond her boundaries."

Connally Suggests Big-3 Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Connally (D, Tex.) took notes yesterday of "disquieting and disturbing" Soviet conduct but held that "mutual understanding and cooperation with Russia are not insuperable."

The chairman of the senate foreign relations committee suggested in a senate speech that Big Three or Big Five meetings be held from time to time to thrash out dangerous differences "eye to eye, in language clear and plain and if need be blunt."

Keep Army
Peering into "the troubled years ahead," he held it "imperative that the United States maintain an adequate army, a superior navy and a superlative air force" for defense and for sustaining "our international rights and obligations."

But he said that so long as Russia, Britain and the United States "adjust differences as they arise, there will be peace. Those who want peace must not commit acts that tend to provoke war."

No Right
No nation, he said, "has a right by the exertion of tremendous economic or political pressure to subordinate other nations to its will."

Meanwhile, he asserted, "All nations must await their execution. No unilateral action should be taken toward anticipating what may result."

Putting Into Effect a 'Sensible' Aid, Scholarship Program

The University's new student aid and student scholarship program is "sensible"—as one official put it—because it now recognizes financial aid and scholastic reward as separate and distinct.

For the first time the university will have a real scholarship program—with scholarships being awarded solely on the basis of academic merit.

And at the same time, efforts will be made to provide more adequate student aid than the $30 a semester tuition exemption which was of little actual worth and which was too many times abused.

The Merit scholarships, which will be worth $100 a year, will recognize true scholastic achievement. The promising students, who should be rewarded for their work, will receive the scholarships. No consideration of whether or not the student needs the scholarship will be made.

This scholarship plan is similar in many respects to the scholarships of other universities. The University of Nebraska, for instance, awards Regents scholarships to students who have outstanding academic and activity records. At Harvard, where it is possible to make more satisfactory arrangements than in a state-supported school like Iowa, the scholarship is first awarded, and then officials decide how much the scholarship should be worth—$200 to $1,200—depending on the neediness of the recipient.

The new Merit scholarships have been made worth striving for, not only because they are carrying $100, but also because they are in recognition for outstanding work.

In scrapping the partial tuition exemption—which wasn't worth much but which sometimes was acquired by dishonest methods—the university is turning its efforts to aiding the student by assuring him that he can obtain a job.

If a student needs employment and can not find it either in the city or in the regular work areas in the various university departments, the university will create a job.

Presumably this "creation" of jobs—the work project program as it is officially known—won't be necessary except in periods coinciding to a national depression. The state of Iowa, and along with it Iowa City and the university, generally is about as equally well-off as the nation.

Budget funds won't be expended unnecessarily in the work project program—only when there is a real need. The improvement in the student aid program is in the effort to give the student an opportunity to obtain almost as much aid as he desires, without the illogical tie to scholarship.

Under the old partial tuition exemption, a student was required to have a specific grade average before he could apply for the exemption. But when the grade average dropped to 1.7, the program became ridiculous.

The new program puts the premiums where they belong—on academic records, in the one instance, and on the student's willingness to help himself with worthwhile benefits, in the other.

What You Can Do to Help Feed the Hungry Abroad— 39 Ways for Saving Food--Prevent Waste Is No. 1

—Truman's Committee Suggests Adjustments in Diet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 39 ways suggested by President Truman's famine emergency committee by which Americans can save food for the hungry abroad included:

Recommendations To Consumers:

- 1. Prevent waste of bread. It is estimated that five percent or one slice out of every loaf baked every day goes into garbage.
2. Use less bread at each meal. Use potatoes for example as alternates for bread. One small serving of potatoes replaces a slice of bread, nutritionally. Use oats more often. A serving of oatmeal equals two slices of bread in food value. Use fruits and other desserts for pastries and cakes.
3. Use less wheat cereals and other wheat products.

For Hotels, Cafes, Public Dining Places:

- 1. Discontinue during the emergency abroad the use of toast as a garniture with meat, poultry, egg and other entrees.
2. Discontinue the practice of placing baskets of rolls and bread on dining room tables. A single roll or slice of bread should be served with the entree, and later as requested.

3. Eliminate the custom of trimming toast and sandwich crust.

4. Substitute open sandwiches for many closed or two-bread slice sandwiches in hotels.

5. Use potatoes in place of certain wheat and rice garnitures.

6. Use single crust or open pies in place of two-crust pies whenever practicable.

7. Serve corn and buckwheat cakes in place of wheat cakes where possible.

8. Serve oatmeal bread, cakes and cookies as alternates for products made from wheat.

9. Reduce Size of Bread. The size of rolls and the thickness of toast and bread should be reduced. Bread size could be reduced by not filling the pans as deeply as at present.

10. Substitute fruits and other desserts for pastries and cakes whenever practicable.

11. Limit the number of crackers in individual packages or served with soups, cheeses, and so forth.

12. Eliminate three-layer cakes.

13. Wherever possible induce customers to order only what is needed. Wherever side dishes are included in a meal, the customer should request those side dishes and salads which he will eat.

14. Use boiled dressings instead of oil dressings on salads wherever possible.

15. Use alternates for wheat cereal wherever possible.

16. Encourage re-use of food fats and grease salvage.

17. Develop methods for saving and use of bread ends, many of which are wasted at the present time.

18. Carry back all economies to employees' meals. Employees should cooperate to the same extent customers are asked to cooperate.

19. Boil or broil rather than fry fish so as to save fats.

20. Eliminate serving of extra dressing or salads already prepared with oil or dressing.

Recommendations For Baking Industry:

1. Reduce by at least 10 percent the weight of bread and bakery products.

2. Wherever practicable bakers should feature smaller weight and size loaves.

3. Bread should be sliced thinner to provide more slices per loaf.

4. Partial loaves of bread should be offered for sale as a waste preventing measure.

5. Save flour and fats and oils by avoiding spoilage and waste.

Recommendations To Food Distributors:

1. Promote the use of alternate and more plentiful foods in the diet, such as—currently—potatoes, fish, eggs, poultry, citrus fruits, and seasonal vegetables.

2. Assist customers by providing recipes using the more plentiful foods.

3. Adopt measures for greater conservation and prevention of waste in food distribution channels.

4. Encourage consumers to conserve and prevent waste of food and to re-use food fats and salvage waste fats.

5. In the manufacture of food items use alternate ingredients wherever possible in lieu of ingredients in short supply.

Ways for Saving Fats, Oils at Home:

1. Make better use of meat drippings for cooking and seasoning food.

2. Save and re-use fats and oils for cooking purposes.

3. Render excess fats on meats and save bacon grease for cooking purposes.

4. Salvage all fats that cannot be re-used and turn them in to your butcher or grocer.

5. Go easy on oils and salad dressings. A teaspoon of fat a day saved by every person in the United States will mean a total saving of at least one million pounds of fat daily.

Little Relief in M.D. Shortage

Little immediate relief is likely in the shortage of civilian doctors, despite the fact 40,000 have now been discharged from the armed forces.

Three out of four discharged M. D.'s either are taking or plan to take additional courses of medical study before returning to civilian practice, according to a survey by the Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

The refresher and specialized studies being taken up by discharged doctors run from six to nine months, meaning that it will be at least that long before the doctors resume their practices. A heavy majority of medical graduates—now totaling 5,000 annually—also are taking additional courses of one to three years with the intention of becoming specialists.

The additional schooling will benefit the public in the long run, but in the meantime the public will have to wait another year before medical service is back to normal.

Dutch Policy in Indies

An important Allied shift in handling the potentially explosive situation in the Dutch East Indies has emerged during the past week.

This is the decision to withdraw British Indian troops and replace them with Dutch. The Dutch say this decision was reached on the "highest level" of the Allied command, which presumably refers to the combined chiefs of staff in Washington and presumably has the sanction of American policy.

The immediate problem goes back to a few days after Japan surrendered last August, when Japanese militarists told the Indonesians to go ahead and set up an independent republic.

As there were not enough Dutch troops available to reconquer this great empire of 70,000,000 people, the job was assigned to the British, who met serious resistance from armed Indonesians.

From the beginning, the Dutch privately have criticized the British for not entering in the same decisive strength with which they returned to their own colonial outposts like Malaya. They also said that the use of Indian troops—"just more colonial natives"—didn't impress the Indonesians.

A few Dutch troops came in too, but the British commandant stopped that when the Indonesians used their arrival as reason for further outbursts of violence. Part of some 200,000 Allied internees were rescued and repatriated, but about 35,000 still remain in the interior in Indonesian hands.

The situation remains: The Japanese continue armed, some of them working with the Allies, some with the Indonesian extremists whose violence the unrecognized government cannot control. Thousands of Allied internees, mostly Dutch, are still somewhere inland. And over the weekend fighting flared again near Medan on Sumatra, Bandong on Java, and Menado on Celebes.—(AP).

Small Colleges May Help Take Veterans Education Overflow

WASHINGTON—This month the veterans administration, with the help of the office of education, is conducting a survey which may go a long way toward solving the critical problem of higher education for veterans under the G. I. bill of rights next fall.

Nearly 2,000 senior and junior colleges will be surveyed for educational and housing facilities for veterans.

The idea is to channel veterans seeking college educations into these smaller schools. More than 40 percent of the veterans now getting higher education under the bill are attending 38 of the larger and better known colleges and universities. Many smaller schools have so few that they aren't even tabulated. Several larger universities are already so overcrowded that they have refused to take any more students until accommodation can be enlarged and faculties increased.

At the same time, the Veterans of Foreign Wars are opening a campaign to expand the nation's educational system through federal subsidies. Presumably a large portion of the funds would go to smaller colleges.

The "name" institutions, already crowded to overflowing, are looking forward with some distress to what will happen when the postwar flood ebbs. Caught with vastly increased facilities and enlarged staffs, they would face bankruptcy. Sixty to 80 students added to each of the 1,500 to 2,000 smaller colleges probably could take care of the additional veterans above normal enrollment next autumn, and even take some of the load off the big schools.

FWF points out that by the end of this year, 13,000,000 veterans will have been discharged. Certain it is that hundreds of thousands of these have become college-conscious.

The increasing number of unemployed veterans (now estimated at more than 1,000,000) is another factor. Many of these are bound to want to take education grants in the hope that they will lead to security.

The report of the VA survey of smaller colleges will be interesting if it ever is made public. The survey might show just how much of the higher-education system has survived the war to carry on in the emergency ahead.

Speaking of higher education, Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz has so many invitations to deliver commencement addresses that he can't fill them all. Nearly a dozen of them fall within date and geographical limitations that make only a few of them possible. The problem: how to accept any invitation without offending all the rest of the schools.

New Soviet Parliament Convenes

The new Supreme Soviet (parliament) convened yesterday with the first speaker, Deputy Alexander A. Vykov, declaring that Russia had taken her place as one of the great nations of the world.

Generalissimo Stalin, on the dias with other members of the politburo and the presidium of the Supreme Soviet, participated in the applause which lasted five minutes.

The two houses—the council of the union and the council of nationalities—met at different hours and Stalin attended both sessions. Yesterday's action was confined to the election of officers and the adoption of an eight-point agenda, which included the new five-year plan announced by Stalin in a speech to the nation Feb. 9.

(The Moscow radio heard in London last night quoted Vykov, in a speech to the council of the union, as declaring that Russia must "strengthen the Red army, since the secure existence of the Soviet state wholly depends on our armed forces.")

March Lion

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—It took four men and eight shots to kill a ten-foot lion that had been creating havoc among cattle in northern Rhodesia.

J. Valentine spotted the lion busby with a kill just before sunset. His first shot missed and he fired a second one but only wounded the animal. The next day he set out with three friends to track it down. The lion suddenly charged from the bush and all four men fired at once.

The beast fell almost at Valentine's feet, and he put another shot into it. As he jumped back to reload, the dying animal sprang forward and clawed the leg of another member of the party just as he, too, fired into its body. The two other members of the party ran up and put two more final shots into one of the toughest lions on record.

Paradise Irks Expatriates in South Seas

PAPEETE, Tahiti—Many Americans and Europeans who came to this storied Paradise of the Pacific to escape the cares of a workaday of warring world are vying with one another these days in their efforts to return to the lands they left.

Stranded here throughout the war, they found that Tahiti was much the same as any place else, but quieter and more isolated than most. Transportation is hard to obtain.

More than a score recently rowed out and booked passage on a tramp steamer which had been refused permission to land because of measles aboard.

Each gave his reason for leaving in a word: "monotony."

WHY RELIGION

Scientific Reasoning Explains God

In a talk to Catholics and non-Catholics Monday night at the St. Mary's church, Msgr. Carl Meinberg used scientific reasoning to explain the question: "Why should a man have religion?"

"Many persons outside of the Catholic church have either no religious convictions or no strong ones," said Msgr. Meinberg. "My series of Lenten talks, which begins tonight, is especially for them, as well as for Catholics and all others interested."

"Does God exist by reason?" began Msgr. Meinberg. "Belief in God is not a feeling, an emotion, for God is a fact."

"First, the universe must have had a maker. It is not common sense to say no one made it—nothing brings itself into existence. The universe must have a maker, therefore, and as there has never been a time when nothing existed, that must be an eternal being."

"The second step is," continued Msgr. Meinberg, "that there must be a law of nature for bringing the universe into existence, freely and intelligently. Matter is not intelligent, nor could it create the universe of its own will."

"Thus there must be an intelligent Maker that created the universe out of free will—the Spirit which we call God."

As God is the Creator of all things, Msgr. Meinberg explained we all are made by God and belong to Him.

"The relationship with God is something that cannot be destroyed," said Msgr. Meinberg, "just as child is tied to its parents." Recognition of this fact is the first step in religion.

"Our relationship with God requires certain duties. They are duties to God, to society and to ourselves. Religion is the sum of these duties based on our relationship to God.

"Religion is necessary to man because of God's revelations," concluded Msgr. Meinberg. "Most people won't have the time or ability to reason out the fundamental facts of religion, so God guides them with His revelations."

Applicants May Get Blanks at Graduate College Office Now

Scholarships, fellowships and assistant instructorships available to students enrolling in the graduate college for the 1946-47 academic year were announced yesterday by Dean Carl E. Seashore. Providing for tuition, matriculation and graduation fees, library and laboratory privileges, student health and hospital service, the scholarships also include admission to athletic events, lectures and concerts and subscription to The Daily Iowan.

Application blanks for these appointments may be obtained from the graduate college office, room 215 in University hall. Applicants must furnish evidence of preparation, health, personal and professional qualifications.

A complete official transcript under graduate and graduate credits from each school attended must be submitted to the registrar's office.

Scholarships also cover a two-thirds reduction in expenses for the summer sessions adjacent to the academic year for which the appointment is made.

Fellowships will include the same expenses plus $20 a month for the nine months of the academic year. Recipients of scholarships and fellowships must carry full schedule of study.

Students who qualify for research assistantships will receive the same tuition privileges, plus a monthly cash stipend based on qualifications and service. These appointments are for the academic year, but may include the summer session, if the service is needed, Dean Seashore said.

Sioux City East's powerhouse rolled into the semi-finals by pounding Spencer, Lakes conference champions, 40-24, in a class A feature at LeMars. Sioux City, loser of several early season games, has come up fast and is favored to move into the state finals with a victory over the winner of the Radcliffe-Manson tilt which will be played tonight.

Little Wiota, which hasn't much more population than horses on a merry-go-round, blasted Prescott, 41-19, to advance to the semi-finals in the Atlantic tourney.

Other prominent class B winners were Livermore and Montour which won games at LeMars and Cedar Falls, respectively.

Intramural Playoffs Start Monday Night

Semi-finals in intramural basketball will be held next Monday night in the fieldhouse. Delta Upsilon with one loss and six wins, will tangle with Sigma Nu who have five wins to their credit, while Nu Sigma Nu, also with five wins, will fight it out with the Teeloxes who hold the enviable record of eight straight wins.

The powerful Sigma Nu's will be led by Bob Marshall, Bob Knarr, Art O'Neill and Bob Wayland with Chuck Uknes doing his usual excellent job of guarding. Former all-state basketball player Larry Cole will have a hand in the DU's defense with George Keister, Wayne Lacina and Mel Hecht also doing their share.

Running up the highest score in the leagues, Larry Gernuska will have something to say about the final outcome as the Teeloxes meet the Nu Sigma Nu's, Dick Schmeden and Bob Gustafson will also toss the ball around a bit as they go up against Dave Ivie, Dick Goenne and Maurie Gordon, sure starters on the Nu Sig lineup.

Winners of Monday night's games will play the final tilt on Tuesday night which promises to be a thriller as it climaxes a season of intramural competition.

Iowa Track Quartet In Loop Match Race

A University of Iowa mile relay team will run a matched race with two other Big Ten quartets in the Chicago Relays in the Chicago stadium March 30.

Iowa has been represented in the event since the meet was started in the mid-thirties and between 1939 and 1942 was joint holder of the meet relay record of 3:20.4.

Among the men who will try for places on the 1946 squad are John Hunter, Eric Wilson Jr., Nelson Smith, Jim Sommers, Otis Finney and Pete Schwinn. The Iowa team of Finney, Schwinn, Hunter and Wilson ran 3:20.6 in the conference meet but finished one place outside the scoring.

Basket-Eye View of City High's Upset-Bound Little Hawks

Ottumwa, Springville, Preston Take Victories

Keokuk Falls In 1st Round

Results Last Night
 Springville 50, Wayland 44
 Preston 40, Mediapolis 27
 Ottumwa 43, Keokuk 28

An unheralded Ottumwa center, James Hillhouse, completely outplayed Keokuk's highly touted pivot man, Bob Vollers, last night to lead the Little Six conference champs to a 43-28 win over their league rivals in a class A sub-state battle. Other games on the fieldhouse court saw Springville outlast Wayland, 50-44, while Preston trounced Mediapolis, 40-27.

A dusky forward, Charlie (Zip) Clayvon, paced the Ottumwa scorers with 17 points, but it was Hillhouse, driving in 14 points, despite the fact he split pivot duties with Verle Burgason, and outbounding Vollers under both baskets, who gave the Bulldogs their victory spark. Hillhouse and Burgason combined to limit Vollers to 12 points for the evening.

The game was tight until the final period, with Ottumwa hard pressed to keep an eight to ten point margin. The final quarter, however, saw the Big Red cagers move away to their final total.

Tonight's games:
 A—Harlan vs. Des Moines (Tech)
 B—Diagonal vs. College Springs
AT CEDAR FALLS
 A—Newton vs. Mason City
 B—Lansing vs. Klamma

Preston Star Hits in 'B' Battle

WARNER (11), star of Preston's potent little class B quintet, nets one in the first night of sub-state action in the fieldhouse last night as Luden (15) of Mediapolis awaits a possible rebound. Yadoff (12) of Preston is at right. Preston won, 40-27.

Coon Rapids Favored in Girls Cage Meet

DES MOINES (AP)—Sixteen girls basketball teams will open play today for the state high school championship.

Popular pre-tournament choice for the title was Coon Rapids, a western Iowa challenger with a heavy-scoring front line and rugged defensive front. Undefeated in 24 games, Coon Rapids meets Callender in the first round.

Three other contenders have perfect records. Bradyville has won 23 straight, Nemaha 22 and Yarmouth 21. Nemaha's chances, however, were dimmed when Ruth White, who averaged 17 points in a game, underwent an appendectomy during the district tournaments.

Wesley Fesler Named Pittsburgh Coach

PITTSBURGH (AP)—For the second time in its 56-year gridiron history, the University of Pittsburgh yesterday appointed a non-Pitt man—former Ohio State star Wesley Fesler—as its football coach.

Fesler, now assistant football coach at Princeton, succeeds Clark D. Shaughnessy who resigned Feb. 4 to return to the University of Maryland.

Ripley to Georgetown
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Elmer Ripley, who coached Notre Dame's basketball squad to a record of 17 wins and four losses this season will return to Georgetown university next fall as head basketball coach.

Ripley coached at Georgetown twice previously.

Vogel Seeks Another Baseball Winner at Iowa

By GUS SCHRADER
 Daily Iowan Sports Editor
 Otto Vogel is a pretty conservative cuss as college baseball coaches go.

Normal this spring seems almost normal with "Otts" back at Iowa and just as noncommittal as in prewar years about his prospect for the season which starts April 5. But try as he might, the former major leaguer can't quite cover up thoughts that he's putting a pretty fair country ball club together again.

Of course, he'll tell you it's too early to tell on the basis of indoor drills, but Otto would have good reason to form such a premature opinion: (1) Vogel-coached teams have quite a winning habit, having snared one Big Ten title, two shares and a runnerup spot in the last five years before the war; and (2) quite a few luminaries of former Iowa teams have come home from the wars.

We caught up with the big coach yesterday afternoon as he directed indoor practice from a chair beside the batting cage. Be-

3 Mermen May Swim at Yale

Three University of Iowa swimmers are probable competitors in the National Collegiate A. A. championships in the Yale university pool in New Haven, Conn., March 29 and 30, Coach Dave Armbruster said Tuesday.

The eastern trip for the Hawkeyes is not yet definitely set, however, but indications are that the trio will be entered.

Dick Maine of Des Moines, Big Ten 150-yard back stroke cham-peon with a time of 1:37.4, is unbeaten in his specialty. Kenny Marsh of Cedar Rapids, who placed third in the 50 and fifth in the 100-yard free style, is the second possible Iowa entrant and the third is Arthur Van Haven of Moline, Ill., 220 and 440-yard free style or 220-yard breast stroke.

The Iowans also would form a medley relay team of Maine, back stroke; Van Haven, breast stroke, and Marsh, free style, which might get under the 8-minute mark.

A powerful Davenport quint, number two prep five in the southeast corner of the state, will give Coach Gil Wilson's up-bent City high cagers their first big test in state tournament play at 9:30 tonight when the Little Hawks swing into sub-state action on the fieldhouse court.

Another local feature on evening's card will pit St. Mary's high flying Ramblers against Humeston at 7 p. m., as Coach Frank Suplel's Iowa City quint seeks its 17th straight victory.

Tonight's clash with Davenport will be the real test. City high's rejuvenated quint just another ball team as it stumbled their way through early part of the season, including two losses to the Imps, Little Hawks suddenly came alive for a late season spur.

Featuring a tight zone defense and a second half scoring attack, the Imps rolled to six wins in the Mississippi valley conference, starts, a record good enough for second place finish.

Wilson had a City high team consisting of forwards Bob Freeman and Bob Krahl, center Jim Van Deusen and guards Jim Sangster and Sonny Dean running through a spirited offensive drill yesterday afternoon, perfecting ways of breaking the Imps' famed zone.

St. Mary's will go against Humeston tonight as heavy favorites, riding on the crest of one of the state's best class B records. Their five straight tournament wins, all by two heavy margins, have climaxed a record of 24 wins for the season, including victories over such class A quintets as Grinnell, Immaculate Conception and St. Patrick's of Cedar Rapids and St. Joseph's of Rock Island, Ill.

The Ramblers have lost only to Loras academy, dropping two decisions to the powerful Dubuque five.

In sectional and district play the Ramblers have piled up 26 points, an average of nearly 4 per game, while limiting their opposition to a total of 102. A big factor in this spurt has been the potent point making of center Pat Tooney, the rangy sharpshooter who has accounted for 61 points in the five wins.

Humeston won their sub-state berth by topping St. Peter's of Keokuk (a team St. Mary's has romped over twice this year, by counts of 53-31 and 40-31) last Saturday, 35-32.

The evening's third game will match Crawfordville and Bussey with the winner moving into the class B bracket finals against the winner of the St. Mary's-Humeston battle.

COACH OTTO VOGEL
 "The Boys Are Improved"

would be Bob (Moose) Faber, star hurler of the 1941 and 42 teams; Al Kolarik, another returned veteran; Jack Bruner, southpaw who chucked for the Ottumwa navy, and John Cress, a fast right-hander from Audubon.

Lyle Ebner is back to resume his backstopping chores, and there'll be Roger Jorgenson and Johnny Tedore to help him. The infield probably will be picked from Bill Diehl, former Iron Man looking for a first base slot; Clarence (Doc) Dunagan, Big Ten batting king in 1941 as short; and the other two posts tossups among Don Thompson, Dale Erikson and Jack Wisniew. The outfield is a wide open race, and probably only Harry Rinkema is certain of a starting berth.

Yesterday a 10-game non-conference schedule was announced to bring the total number of games to 22.

Following is the complete squad roster ("inf" means infield and "out" means outfield): Frank Bonanno, Jr., inf-out; Jack Bruner, p; Warren Bebeck, inf; Leo Cabalka, inf; John Cress, p; Claude Cypria, inf; Wes Demro, p; William Diehl, inf; Clarence Dunagan, inf; Peter Eversett, inf; Larry Gernuska, inf-out; Wayne Grant, inf; Roy Huggen, inf; Wilmer Hokanson, p; Herb Holland, inf; Roger Jorgenson, c-inf; Keith Kater, inf; Albert Kolarik, p; Jack Klein, p; G. ## Purdue Adds Rankin To Coaching Staff

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Dave Rankin, one of Purdue's outstanding athletes of a few years ago, has returned to Purdue as instructor in physical education and assistant coach, Athletic Director Guy (Red) Mackey said last night.

Rankin was discharged recently as a captain in the marine flying corps. He won three major letters as an end on the Purdue football team and was named captain and most valuable player on the 1940 squad.

Dan Sheehan was finally beaten in the high jump, in the conference meet. However he scored the only point (or rather, part of a point) the Iowa team could muster in the meet.

Practice has been hampered this week by the condition of the track. Time trials are being run in various events.

Early solo spins made me nervous," Miss Reimers said, "but this didn't affect my confidence in my ability to fly." She says that sometime in the future she would like to fly heavier aircraft, but for the present, she is well satisfied with her Taylorcraft. Miss Reimers plans to apply the 75 solo hours toward the 200 hours required for a commercial license.
