Marshall Says Affairs Critical In Manchuria

Americans, Chinese Move to Put Peace Formula in Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall disclosed yesterday that urgent measures are being taken jointly by American and Chinese officers to extend into Manchuria a peace formula consistently successful so far in other parts of China.

The General, here to report to President Truman on his efforts as the chief executive's personal troubleshooter in the far east, called the situation in Manchuria, "a critical state of affairs."

Throughout a long news conference, however, the military leader-turned diplomat took a tone of general optimism conditioned by two requirements which he said were elementary: that the United States give assistance to the Chinese and that other nations not scheme deliberately against reincorporation of the rich Manchurian territory into a unified, peaceful China.

Here are the high points of the Manchurian-Chinese situation and other points which Marshall emphasized:

1. An army of American-trained Chinese troops, the best in China, is "now embarking for Manchuria," presumably on American ships in order to take over control there. Meanwhile, minor clashes involving Communist groups are going on in that country and there is much restlessness moving about.

2. Meanwhile United States marine and army forces, the latter being all non-combatant are being cut to a minimum as fast as possible. Marshall estimated 12,000 marines would be released by the last reduction he approved, and said that force now is down to about 30,000. The army units are being reduced to the number essential to carry on air transport and supply operations.

3. While the Chinese are carrying forward a peace effort in their own country "almost without precedent," Marshall warned that the accomplishments may still be wrecked "if China is ignored or if there is scheming to thwart the development of unity and present aspirations."

4. He appealed for American assistance to China, describing financial help as very necessary along with supplies of railroad equipment, cotton and factory machinery. He said that he felt certain of the "sympathetic interest" of American people in China, but "not quite so certain" whether the American people and "their political leaders" understand the vital importance of Chinese unity.

"The next few months," he said, "are of tremendous importance to the Chinese people and to the future peace of the world."

Attlee Speech Draws Rebuke

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee's statement that India had the right to choose independence from the British empire was welcomed, with some reserve, in congress party quarters here yesterday, but Moslems sharply criticized it.

Nationalist party leaders here and in Bombay hailed the assertion by Attlee that a minority should not be permitted to veto the advance of a majority. But this portion of Attlee's speech in commonsense drew the fire of Mahomed Ali Jinnah, president of the Moslem league and leader of the Pakistan movement for a separate Moslem state.

"I regret that Mr. Attlee, though in a guarded and qualified manner, has done rope walking when he said on the other hand we cannot allow a minority to place a veto on the advance of a majority," Jinnah said. "He has fallen into a trap of false propaganda which has been carried on for some time."

Reconversion Outlook Brightens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
That post-war automobile, radio and refrigerator moved a lot closer to the homes of America's waiting millions last week.

Settlement of the General Motors and General Electric disputes broke the back of reconversion-impending strikes and opened the gates for the return of nearly 300,000 workers to the production job.

If the strikers ratify the agreements—and labor and industry leaders expect they will—the workers will begin returning to their benches and assembly lines in a matter of days.

General Motors
General Motors, for example, expects to have its assembly lines turning out finished cars by April 1, although some automotive sources expect that parts shortages will continue to plague full-blast production in the industry.

The General Electric company is one of the nation's major producers of home and industrial electrical appliances, employing 100,000. A strike of 25,000 employees in General Motors' electrical division was settled several weeks ago. However, another 75,000 still are on strike against Westinghouse Electric Corp. and federal mediators will resume efforts Tuesday to settle this dispute.

Settlement Approved
Both the GM strike settlement involving 175,000 CIO United Auto workers have been approved by the councils of the respective unions and ratification action by the various locals was expected this weekend.

The first final ratification of the GE settlement was voted Saturday by 16,000 employees of the company's main plant in Schenectady and the plant, which also employs 12,000 non-production workers, will reopen Monday.

Ratification Announced
Early ratification was announced at GM's Cadillac local in Detroit, representing 3,000 workers, and at GE plants in Schenectady, N. Y.; Syracuse, N. Y., and Pittsfield, Mass. The Schenectady plant employs 28,000, of which 16,000 are production workers, and will reopen tomorrow. Two Syracuse plants employing 1,500 will reopen tomorrow. Ten thousand workers were involved at Pittsfield.

Two Scientists Issue Statement to Dispel Fear of Atom Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Scientists assured the folks last night that while the water around the undersurface atomic bomb may heat up to a trifling million degrees the ocean won't evaporate or the world blow up in chain reaction.

Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, commander of the project which produces the bombs, handed to the joint army-navy task force conducting the Pacific tests the statement of two scientists which, said the general, should "dispel the fear which is growing in the minds of many Americans." The explosions will be "completely localized," the general said.

The scientists are Dr. Edward Teller of the University of Chicago and Dr. H. A. Bethe of Cornell university, both former members of the bomb development project and now serving as consultants.

This is what they think: "The explosion of an atomic bomb near the surface, on the surface or under the surface (these are the three experiments against warships) will cause only local disturbance such as we might expect from an ordinary charge of great magnitude. It is impossible that such an explosion can cause progressive disintegration of the sea water which would perpetuate itself and result in the atomic explosion of the globe."

MacArthur's Economic Chief Denies Soviet Report

TOKYO (AP)—General MacArthur's economic chief today flatly denied Russian press reports that the United States army is moving valuable metals from Japan to America.

"The millions of dollars worth of gold, silver, platinum and jewelry are still under military guard in the vaults of the bank of Japan," said Maj. Gen. W. F. Marquat, chief of the economic and scientific section of SCAP (supreme commander, Allied powers).

A further denial of the Moscow newspaper Pravda's Vladivostok dispatch came from General Marquat's civilian financial aide, C. F. Thomas, of New York, who said "Not a single thing has been moved."

"Disposition of this wealth is not a matter for our section and

Izvestia Says Treaty Broken

Paper Charges Iran Discriminated in Oil Supply Concessions

MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Izvestia declared yesterday that northern Iran oil fields were of "primary significance" to Russian security, and charged that Iran four times broke the Soviet-Iranian treaty of 1921 by granting to United States and British firms oil concessions held by Russia.

The government newspaper accused Iran of discriminating against seeking to investigate conflicts between the Soviet Union and other great powers. The latter charge was made in another article in Izvestia Thursday.

Proposed Renewal
Izvestia asserted that when Russia in 1944 proposed renewal of her former oil concessions in the north, the proposal met "raving resistance from the Iranian ruling upper crusts."

"It is not permissible," said Izvestia, "to forget about all these facts which have serious meaning in the development of relations between the Soviet Union and Iran."

The 1921 treaty, it said, stipulated that Iran would not give concessions to foreign interests in northern Iran, but that Iran had granted them to three American and one Dutch-British firm in this area adjacent to the southern Soviet frontier and close to Russian oil bases in Baku and Turkmen.

These concessions, said Izvestia, were threats to Russian security.

Treaty Violations
The newspaper said the violations of the treaty were a concession to Standard Oil in November, 1921; to Sinclair Oil in December, 1923; to Delaware Oil in January, 1937, and to the Anglo-Dutch company, said to be a subsidiary of Royal Dutch Shell, in March, 1939.

All were cancelled later, but only after Soviet protests, it added. Iran, it continued, granted the concessions on grounds she did not have the financial and industrial means of self-development. Simultaneously, the magazine New Times declared British and American "oil trusts" were waging "an especially fierce battle for Iraq oil."

Byrnes Rejects Idea Of Military Alliance With Britain, Russia

Secretary Requests Continuance of Draft Law Beyond May 15

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes rejected last night any idea of an alliance with Russia against Britain or Britain against Russia. He declared the United States bases its hopes for security on the United Nations organization "as the path to enduring peace."

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the "Society of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick" at the Hotel Astor, Byrnes called for extension of the selective service act beyond the expiration date of May 15.

Even now, he said, the leaders of the government "are alarmed" at the lack of physically fit men to keep the army up to strength and unless the draft law is renewed "the situation will become critical."

Byrnes expressed his "wholehearted and unequivocal endorsement of the proposal for universal military training" as a long-term assurance of trained reserves.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly," he declared, "that the United States looks to the United Nations as the path to enduring peace."

"We do not propose to seek security in an alliance with the Soviet Union against Great Britain or in an alliance with Great Britain against the Soviet Union," Byrnes described, without specifying any particular issues, present world difficulties as "serious" but said they could be solved "if all of us approach those difficulties in a spirit of conciliation and good will."

Accidental Explosions Shatter Berlin Buildin

BERLIN (AP)—A series of accidental ammunition explosions shattered the Alexander Kaserne building, Midtown headquarters of German civilian and Russian military police yesterday, killing at least three persons and injuring 130.

Police continued to search the wreckage and it was feared the casualties would go higher. A police announcement said the explosions were accidental. The building is in the Soviet sector of the city.

The dead included one German policeman and two civilian women. The injured included 45 seriously hurt and 85 others requiring treatment. In addition there were dozens who suffered cuts and lacerations from shattered glass and debris.

Worms Leave Home As Rain Soaks City

Last night worms left their cozy homes in the ground under Iowa City to keep from being drowned while the more intelligent human residents stayed inside their homes for the same reason. Worms are crazy.

Yes, during the 24-hour period before midnight this morning a total of .83 inches of rain fell here, .64 of that total fell after 6 o'clock last night. The forecast for today is the same thing, partly cloudy with occasional rain.

2,000 Russian Troops Arrive Near Tehran

Observers Declare Tanks, Ammunition Moved in by Train

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
KARAJ, Iran (AP)—Approximately 2,000 Russian troops, including women soldiers, have arrived at this gateway to Tehran during the past three nights.

Nightly trains from Kazvin, Russian headquarters in northern Iran, have brought ammunition and mechanized supplies, including tanks.

Residents of Karaj, police officials, railway workers and foreign military observers say 60 carloads of troops and equipment in three nights have increased the previous number in the garrison to nearly 3,000.

Guard Doubled
The guard at the check post south of the town has been doubled and supporting troops with officers have moved into the mud-walled compound beside the road.

Armed troops walk through the streets and gather in shops. At the town's one hotel I saw four officers, one wearing a bright campaign medal on a colored ribbon. Three young officers and a girl in uniform left a ten-ton truck to enter the building, once used as a Turkish bath.

Yesterday my "Americanism" was insufficient as a passport. In fact, it caused a ten-minute delay and repeated questioning before my friends and I were permitted to enter the town.

Attitude Expressed
The attitude of the local people toward the new Soviet arrivals was expressed by a town policeman on the road near the main Russian camp in which I counted 14 Sherman tanks during a flight over the area last week.

"They move in by hundreds in the night," the policeman said. "If there is one, there are thousands, but I'm not one to stick my nose in the business of others."

Told by a Persian-speaking American that "they come as guests to your country. It would be neighborly to visit them," the officer replied:

Uninvited Guests
"But they are uninvited guests in our house. Persians do not act so."

Merchants and men in the streets of Karaj, which is 25 miles west of Tehran, confirmed stories of Russian troop movements and said their rest was disturbed every night by vehicles.

Earlier yesterday, War Minister Ahmed Sepehrood Amir Ahmedi denied he told a news conference Thursday that the Iranian army would fight "to the last man" if Soviet troops moved on Tehran. He said his remarks were "completely misinterpreted."

MECCA QUEEN CHOICE

JUNE MUHL, A2 of Oskaloosa, was chosen Mecca queen last night at the annual engineer's ball in Iowa Union. Miss Muhl was presented and crowned by Don Bachman, E4 of Manly, and Robert Bell, E3 of Council Bluffs. She received a gold bracelet engraved "Mecca Queen."

Food Chief's Visit to Russia Still Uncertain

Soviet's Need of Food Questioned After Grant Of Wheat to France

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amid reports that Russia has been removed from the list of countries which Herbert Hoover will visit on his famine-inspection tour, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said last night the former president will decide his own itinerary.

"We don't know which countries Mr. Hoover will visit," said Anderson. "He is making his own itinerary and his own decisions on which countries he will visit."

In New York Hoover's office said his itinerary had not yet been determined but will be decided after Hoover reaches Paris. The former president is to leave New York by plane today to begin a check on what President Truman has called the worst food crisis in modern times.

Anderson declared that "No effort was made to tell Hoover which countries he should include on his itinerary."

When he accepted President Truman's invitation to make a survey of food needs of war-torn and famine-stricken countries, Hoover and government food officials included Russia in his itinerary. Russia, along with most of Europe, has asked for American assistance.

But when it became known here this week that Russia had offered to supply France with 250,000 tons of wheat, the government scratched the Soviet Union from Hoover's visiting list. Officials ex-

National Legion Commander Stelle Urges Quick Revision of Surplus Property Laws

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—National Commander John Stelle of the American Legion urged last night that the surplus property laws be amended quickly to give veterans of World War II a better break in the disposal of surplus war material.

In an address prepared for delivery on a nationwide (Columbia) radio broadcast Stelle said in part: "After the last war large quantities of surplus goods found their way quickly into the market. Retail merchants complained that their sales for a long period thereafter were seriously affected. As a result congress provided in the present surplus property law, for the protection of retailers, that goods be distributed through dealers only. We (the Legion) believe, as do most Americans, that the veteran is entitled to the greatest protection and consideration instead of dealers and speculators."

"Congress today must amend the laws governing the sale of surplus property. They must act speedily and decisively. For with the passing of each day our stockpiles are dwindling—they are dwindling at the expense of the veteran."

Stelle said the veterans' priority placed him in the third category but actually placed his name fifth on the list—after federal, state, city and county government and tax-supported institutions.

"More than just congressional action is needed in this problem," Stelle said. "Even the priority which the veteran has been given today is not exercised. I have received letters from veterans which clearly indicate subterfuge on the part of those responsible for the sale of surplus property and the administration of their duties."

Stelle said the Legion recommended that the veteran be placed first on the priority list in the purchasing of surplus property and be permitted to buy such property for his personal use instead of only for business purposes. He said the Legion recommended also that surplus lands be opened to veterans for homesteading and for farms.

Goering Attempts to Shoulder Crimes Charged Against Fellow Defendants in Nazi War Trial

Reichsmarshal Says Keitel, Funk Lacked Authority, Influence

NURENBERG (AP)—Hermann Goering declared yesterday Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel was a Hitler "yes man" without authority, and attempted to shoulder responsibility for some of the actions charged against his fellow defendants in the Nazi war crimes trial.

Shows Irritation
But at times Goering, on the witness stand for the fourth day, showed irritation and disgust when defense attorneys tried to prove it was Goering and not other ranking Nazis who initiated certain programs.

Attorneys for others of the 22 defendants on trial before the international military tribunal questioned the former reichsmarshal yesterday, eliciting this testimony: Signed Everything That Keitel, signed everything, plained that the inspection trip had been intended to include only those countries asking for and needing American food.

They said Russia's action in offering aid to France—an action which Hoover lauded at a news conference here this week—led to the assumption that Russia is no longer in need of grain from this country's limited supplies.

This decision to skip Russia came to light amid Washington reports that the selection of Hoover to make the hunger survey had been opposed by some top-ranking administration officials.

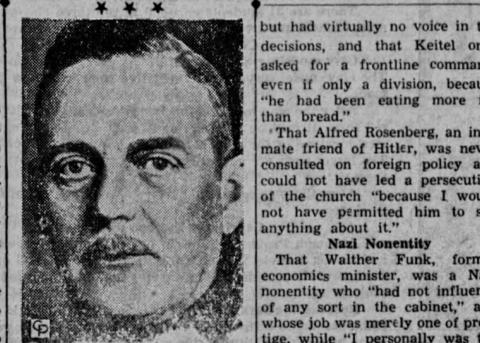

Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace was named as one of those who opposed Hoover. Wallace would not comment personally on the report but close friends said he is critical of the voluntary food conservation program sponsored by the government's famine emergency committee which Hoover heads. They said the secretary does not believe it will save enough food to meet the urgent need.

To carry out the recommendation of the famine emergency committee that the weight of bread loaves and other bakery products be reduced by 10 percent, Secretary Anderson asked governors of all states yesterday to eliminate if possible any restrictions that would prevent marketing of smaller loaves.

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert Hoover said last night he feared it was too late to save all the persons threatened with starvation throughout the world.

"Our purpose is to save the last one possible," he said in a broadcast (ABC) on "world famine."

"The number of lives that we can save depends upon the extent to which the American people will comply with the emergency committee's appeal," he declared on the eve of his departure for France to survey food needs in Europe.

WILHELM KEITEL "Ate More Rot Than Bread"

but had virtually no voice in the decisions, and that Keitel once asked for a front-line command, even if only a division, because "he had been eating more rot than bread."

"That Alfred Rosenberg, an intimate friend of Hitler, was never consulted on foreign policy and could not have led a persecution of the church "because I would not have permitted him to say anything about it."

Nazi Nonentity
That Walther Funk, former economics minister, was a Nazi nonentity who "had no influence of any sort in the cabinet," and whose job was merely one of prestige, while "I personally was the real plenipotentiary for economy."

Editorials:

Approval of the British Loan Is Still a 'Must'

The proposed multi-billion dollar loan to Britain is daily encountering more and more opposition in congressional circles.

Much of this increasing congressional opposition has been stimulated by a small group of write-your-congressman enthusiasts.

But despite this rising tide of opposition, the British loan remains a "must."

Winston Churchill indirectly emphasized a reason for the loan when he hinted at a military alliance between the United States and Great Britain.

With the help of a loan, Britain may be able to enter into world free trade.

One of the reasons we said "no" to a military alliance was our reluctance to do anything that would look like an act of approval of Britain's colonial system.

Of even greater importance, of course, is our responsibility of helping out the rest of the world—the British in this case—whenever possible.

The loan is a step on the road to peace—a road on which we have committed ourselves to pointing the way.

The American public must raise its voice above the voices of lobbying and minority groups.

Students Favor Asking Nebraska to Join Big 10

The Daily Iowan's 'Survey of Student Opinion'

More University of Iowa students want Nebraska to fill the Big Ten vacancy created by the withdrawal of Chicago than want any other school.

The Daily Iowan's new SURVEY OF STUDENT OPINION shows that 34 percent of the students favor Nebraska, with 28 percent favoring Michigan State and 19 percent favoring Iowa State.

What school do you think should be asked to join the Big Ten to replace Chicago?

Table showing survey results: Nebraska 34%, Michigan State 28%, Iowa State 19%, Missouri 7%, Pittsburgh 5%, Other School 6%, No Opinion 1%.

(The Iowa SURVEY, based on the same measurement standards which have made the Gallup poll amazingly accurate, was conducted last week.)

Favor Midwest School: Students favor Nebraska because it has good athletic teams and because it is a midwestern school.

Notre Dame Eliminated: Iowa students apparently believe its eastern location would be a disadvantage.

Broken down on the basis of male and female votes, the SURVEY'S results were:

Table showing survey results by gender: Nebraska 35% (Men), 33% (Women); Michigan St. 31.7% (Men), 23.1% (Women); Iowa State 15% (Men), 25.6% (Women).

Among the other schools which were mentioned in answer to the SURVEY question were Marquette, Kansas State, DePaul, Tulsa and Oklahoma.

Answers to specific questions indicate that Iowa's favor toward Nebraska may partly be attributed to SU's long athletic association with the Cornhusker school.

Chicago, which has been in the process of "de-emphasizing" athletics for several years, recently withdrew entirely from the Big Ten.

to compete in conference basketball, baseball and the minor sports up until now.

The Big Ten athletic director presumably will extend an invitation to another school to replace Chicago after their May meeting at Champaign, Ill.

(Editor's Note: The Daily Iowan SURVEY OF STUDENT OPINION follows a pattern that has been scientifically outlined and tested. Questions are asked of a special number of students in each class in the various colleges in the university.

Interpreting the News....

Mankind seeks a principled world but still sticks to power to settle its disputes, says a recent editorial in the Chungking Ta Kung Pao, China's most influential newspaper.

Its unnamed editorial writer surveys the world and doesn't like what he sees.

"World War II started with China's war of resistance which was a principled war against aggression."

"Honestly, such a world is not in sight. The secret Yalta agreement is a production of power politics and the series of international disputes stretching from Europe to the far East shows that power politics is still alive."

Sculpture a Matter of Thinking Plus Hands

BETTY LAYLAND, A4 OF HAMLIN, is retouching and finishing the plaster cast. The plaster cast was made from a clay model, which is the first step in the procedure. The cast is in permanent form.

"Sculpturing is a matter of thinking, not only a matter of working with your hands," according to Prof. Humbert Albrizio of the art department.

Almost any time Tuesdays and Thursdays, university men and women are seriously at work modeling, chiseling and casting figures and forms in the sculpture studio at the art building.

There are 31 students enrolled in the three classes offered. While most of them are art majors, several of the students are in other fields.

Clay Modeling Is Easy First Step

Clay modeling, familiar to almost everyone, is an easy first step. The clay model serves as the negative from which a plaster cast is made.

After the clay model is finished, it is cast in plaster for a permanent form. It may be in pieces or it may be solid, depending on the size and type of the model.

After the plaster cast is hardened, retouching and finishing is the final step.

Carving Is Essence of Sculpturing

Although Professor Albrizio has many students working on clay and plaster models, it is only the first step to the full appreciation of sculpture.

Because the form must be chiseled from a block of solid stone, stone carving is difficult. The type of stone used may vary from limestone to alabaster with marble a very popular medium.

In wood carving, hard woods are preferred although soft woods are easier to carve for beginners.

To aid in the difficult task of "blocking in" stone forms, Professor Albrizio's studio is equipped with a pneumatic hammer, a great improvement over the old hand method.

CARL ROSBERG, G OF VINTON, puts the finishing touches on his clay model before a plaster cast is made of the form. Clay is an easy medium in which to work, therefore the originals are worked in clay.

BARBARA LEKBERG, A4 OF INDIANOLA, is casting. After the figure is modeled in clay, it is cast in plaster. In this picture, Miss Lekberg is fitting the pieces of the cast together. The size and type of model decides whether or not it will be cast in one piece or several.

Man Strike Ended Here

A five day old strike of six employees of the Iowa City branch of Lagomarcino-Grube Co. was ended in Cedar Rapids Friday night after company and union officials reached an agreement over dispute involving seven Iowa men.

The six drivers and warehousemen, who were conducting a sympathy strike reportedly at the request of local No. 238 of Cedar Rapids, were awarded a 15 cents per hour wage increase under the agreement. They are scheduled to return to work Monday.

The increase will raise the hourly wage of the employees from 62 1/2 cents to 77 1/2 cents. Similar increases, varying from 10 cents to 15 cents an hour, were won by employees in Burlington, Cedar Rapids, Creston, Hart Madison, Keokuk and Ottumwa.

Negro Forum to Hear John W. Smith Talk On Stage Productions

John W. Smith, A4 of Des Moines, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Negro forum tonight at 7 o'clock in conference room 2 of the Iowa Union.

Smith will give an analysis of current Negro stage productions, as well as some facts concerning prominent Negro actors on the legitimate stage today.

A veteran of military service in Italy, Smith was wounded while serving with the 41st Engineers and the 384th Engineer heavy pontoon battalion.

Prior to his entry into the service, Smith participated in various stage productions in New York and other eastern cities. He was a member of the cast in the original production of "Emperor Jones" at the Mansfield theater in New York. Other appearances include parts in "Porgy" at the Mansfield theater and "Green Pastures," at the Illinois theater in Chicago.

C. Woods to Appear In University Concert Program as Soloist

Also included in the program will be selections by Gornz, Debussy, Tschalkowsky, Grainger and Vaughn Williams. "Allegretto" from Shostakovich's "Fifth Symphony" will be played for the first time by the band. Prof. C. B. Righter of the music department will direct the concert.

Student Senate Meets Tuesday

The student senate of reconversion policies of the United States, sponsored by the Forensic association, will assemble as a committee of the whole Tuesday and Wednesday to present resolutions drawn during a series of weekly group discussions. Prof. A. Craig Baird, director of debate, said yesterday.

Senate co-managers are Marilyn Nesper, G of Toledo, Ohio, and Bob Ray, G of Davenport.

Modeled on the senate of the United States, the conference will provide university students with an opportunity for further research in the problems of domestic relations and social-political problems.

The opening session will be from 3 to 5 p. m. Tuesday. WSUI will broadcast a portion of the assembly Tuesday between 7:45 and 8:45 p. m.

Faculty and student senate judges will rate the participants as discussion and public speakers. Each registered delegate shall be entitled to one vote in the general assembly.

4-H Box Social Nets $115.16 to Red Cross

Personal donations to the current Johnson county Red Cross Fund campaign weren't enough to satisfy 18 4-H girls.

In the West Branch community building Friday night, the Graham township girls' 4-H club, known as the "Graham Crackers", held a box social for residents of that community. Headed by their president, Eunice Lacin, the girls made box lunches and presented an evening of entertainment. The lunches sold for 75c to $4.25 and the money received totaled $115.16. The club donated the proceeds to the Red Cross drive.

Business men donated the use of the community building and the local telephone company donated line calls to advertise the event.

Two years ago, the same 4-H club raised and donated over $100 to the Red Cross War Funds campaign.

This is the theme about which the 3rd in our series of Lenten Vesper services is built. Especially for students, the service is 30 minutes in length.

OPA Window Display Shows Price Ceilings

An OPA window display at 115 College street shows the difference in the quantity of groceries one can buy today and what could be purchased with the same money in 1920. The display was planned and created by Jane Conroy of the Information Panel to show the benefit of ceiling prices to the cost of living.

Red Cross Reaches $11,000 in Drive

Over $11,145 has been reached in the current Johnson County Red Cross Fund campaign according to Mrs. M. E. Taylor, publicity chairman.

This constitutes slightly more than one-third of the goal of $30,350.

Local Group to Boost City for First Sale Of Centennial Stamp

A committee of Iowa City stamp collectors and Chamber of Commerce members, headed by D. C. Nolan, C. of C. president, will attend a meeting in Cedar Rapids as the point of first-day sale of the forthcoming Iowa Centennial commemorative stamp.

The special stamp will be issued next Dec. 28 to honor the admission of Iowa to the union in 1846. The Cedar Rapids and Waterloo stamp clubs first proposed the idea of naming the Iowa City postoffice for original sale of the stamp.

Attending the meeting will be: Jack White, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Dr. W. J. Petersen; Prof. Edward Bartow; Postmaster Walter J. Barrow; Dean Ewan MacEwan; Jack Lechty; Fred Kent; Prof. H. A. Matill; Frank Meacham and Charles Mott.

A sure sign of spring... diamond rings are in great demand. Yes, at last the young man's fancy is turning to the romantic thoughts his girl has been thinking all winter; but now that the young Romeo has finally proposed to his Juliet he will want to do it up right with the very finest diamond ring his money can buy. Of course he will immediately consult FUIKS JEWELRY where the very finest cuts and mountings can always be found and where Mr. Fuiks will always be glad to help make the choice. A lovely diamond is waiting to be chosen as the lucky ring for your Spring engagement. When you think of diamonds, think of FUIKS.

Say... these Thetas have really been getting pinned right and left these last couple of weeks... just for instance... Barbara Bygrave and Chuck Finch, Sigma Nu, thought it was a pretty good idea, and so did Ginny Buns and Jim Donahue, Delta Sig. We're real sorry, dear public, that we didn't get this news in quicker, but let's have some more pinnings and we'll show 'ya.

Morris Named Most Valuable

CHICAGO (AP)—Max Morris, Northwestern university's most versatile athlete in a decade, last night was named the Big Ten's most valuable basketball player in the 1945-46 season.

Morris, nominated by his teammates as the Wildcats' most valuable player, beat out players from the circuit's other nine schools that had been accorded similar honors.

The Chicago Tribune, which conducts the annual poll for most valuable player, announced Morris polled 33 of 62 votes cast by conference coaches, officials, Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, and two Tribune sports writers, Wilfred Smith and sports editor Arch Ward.

Morris played forward on defense and center on offense, scoring 198 points to win the conference title in that department.

Paul Huston, guard on Ohio State's championship team, and Tony Jaros, Minnesota, tied for second place in the balloting. Behind them, also tied, were HERB WILKINSON OF IOWA; John Wallace, Indiana, and Bob Cook, Wisconsin.

Muhlenberg Upsets Favored Syracuse

NEW YORK (AP)—Muhlenberg sprang the third upset of the national invitational basketball tournament by defeating favored Syracuse 47-41 in the second game of last night's Madison Square Garden doubleheader before a record crowd of 18,483.

In eliminating the upstate quintet, Muhlenberg joined top-seeded Kentucky, which earlier had beaten Arizona, in the semi-final round. The Allentown, Pa., five will tangle with Rhode Island State in Monday's opener with Kentucky opposing West Virginia.

In last night's opening clash, Kentucky was much too strong for Arizona, piling up a tremendous lead over the border conference champion and never letting up to win by a one-sided 77-53 score.

Attendance at University of Iowa home basketball games during the past two seasons has totalled more than 214,000 for the 23 games in the fieldhouse.

Ramblers Bow, 41-40; Clinton Triumphs

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS
 B—Crawfordsville 41, St. Mary's 40
 A—Clinton 41, Franklin (Cedar Rapids) 36

One of the season's top records in prep cage circles came to an abrupt end in the fieldhouse last night when St. Mary's 17 game victory string fell by one point to a powerful Crawfordsville quintet in the sub-state finals.

The Ramblers' loss, by a 41-40 margin, eliminated Coach Frank Suplee's cagers from state championship running and shattered a St. Mary's dream of a second trip

Heartbreaker Ends St. Mary's Bid

Coon Rapids New Girls Champ

DES MOINES (AP)—Undefeated Coon Rapids won the girls' state high school basketball championship last night with a 48 to 40 victory over New Providence before a Drake fieldhouse crowd estimated at 6,800.

New Providence, participating in a title tournament for the first time, played an almost flawless game but in the end the experience of Coon Rapids' veterans told the story.

Sammy Snead Fires 66 for 6 Stroke Lead in Jacksonville Open

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Sam Snead, who concedes "playing pretty good golf these days," fired a six-under-par 66 yesterday to pull six strokes ahead at the half-way mark of the $10,000 Jacksonville open golf tournament.

The long-driving pro from Hot Springs, Va., defending champion in the local meet, went out in 31 and took a 35 coming back to put his 36-hole total at 130.

Intramural Crown Decided Next Week

Two playoff games are scheduled in the intramural leagues Monday night. Sigma Nu meets Delta Upsilon at 7 p. m. and Nu Sigma Nu takes on the Teoeluxes five in an 8 p. m. battle.

The two winners will meet Tuesday night to decide this year's intramural champion.

to the state finals in the five years that the Iowa City school has been a member of the Iowa athletic association.

In the evening's class A finale, highly favored Clinton had to come from behind with a second half spurt to nose Franklin high of Cedar Rapids, 41-36, after the Parlor City quintet had taken a 25-18 edge at the intermission.

The combination of a sharp-shooting Crawfordsville guard, Roger Davey, and a cold Rambler first half proved too much for St. Mary's, as a determined second half victory bid fell just one point

Big Ten Discusses Revised Athletic Code

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten faculty representatives will meet in commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson's office today to discuss the revised athletic code the conference adopted last December.

The meeting was called last week by the faculty eligibility committee which said the new "reconversion" code needed clarification and in some instances conflicted with the pre-war rule regarding retroactive eligibility aspects.

The faculty representatives officially are scheduled to act on the Maroons' resignation and also study the prospects of a successor at their spring meeting in Champaign, Ill., May 30-31.

The University of Illinois track squad has never lost a dual meet to the University of Iowa thinclads in 15 clashes between the two schools.

short when Davey dropped in a gift loss with 50 seconds left to play.

Davey's free throw, the last of his 18 points for the evening, climaxed a hectic second half that saw the lead change hands seven times before the same troublesome Mr. Davey drilled in a fast break goal to tie the count at 38-38 with four minutes left to play.

Bart Toohy hooked one in 30 seconds later to give the Ramblers their last edge, at 40-38, but reserve guard Bob Graber countered with a long push shot with two minutes left.

Forward Joe Martin of Crawfordsville and Toohy both had chances to break the tie with gift losses before Davey finally turned the trick.

Clinton won their class A battle from Franklin when they turned on the championship form in the closing seconds after the Thunderbolts had pushed them all the way through the final period, training only 38-36 with 25 seconds left to play. Forward Dean Burridge was the big gun for the River Kings with 12 points.

GASSIN' with GUS

By GUS SCHRADER

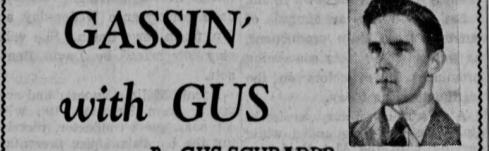

MAYBE YOU BELIEVE in coincidence; probably you don't... Anyway, a man called The Daily Iowan last night to report that at 8:15 p. m. lightning had struck the steeple of St. Mary's church... Less than a half hour later, lightning—in the form of a heart-breaking 41-40 loss—struck St. Mary's high school basketball team out of the finals of the sub-state tournament in the fieldhouse... That one-point bolt shattered a cherished hope for Coach Francis Suplee and his valiant Rambler crew... With typical St. Mary's speed and grit, the Ramblers had built up a record of 25 victories in 27 games and amassed a 17-game winning streak.

Segura Wins Singles Title From McNeill

NEW YORK (AP)—Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Guayaquil, Ecuador, won the United States indoor tennis singles championship yesterday, defeating former title-holder Don McNeill of Orange, N. J., in the tournament final at the seventh regiment armory, 14-6-3, 6-4 7-5.

Canadians Trip Hawks

MONTREAL (AP)—The champion Montreal Canadians dampened Chicago's second place hopes last night by walloping the Hawks, 6-3, in the last regular meeting of the two national hockey league clubs this season.

THEY ALSO had built up the fierce determination to return to the state tournament, goal of all high school quintets and particular target of St. Mary's because Suplee took a team there before—in 1941 when parochial schools first were admitted to the state competition... A free throw in the final minute let Crawfordsville win last night, but the unbelieving Marians fought tooth and nail until the final gun convinced them their dream really had ended... Tears—bitter, disappointing tears—fell unashamed after it was over... The players who had tried so unflinchingly were crying before they reached the seclusion of their dressing room, and many rabid Rambler rooters felt their emotions too much for them.

AS WE walked out of the fieldhouse into the downpouring rain, a pretty little high school girl stood against the side of the building and sobbed like her heart would break... It was a great disappointment, but St. Mary's can be proud of one of the greatest teams in the history of a long line of great teams... They caught several bad breaks last night, and met a team that couldn't have been hotter... The Ramblers were sensational in defeat... Billy Suplee, Bart Toohy, Jack Shrader, Eddie Rocca, Andy Chukkalas, their plucky reserves—they constitute one of the most courageous, sportsmanlike teams we've ever watched... Congratulations, St. Mary's.
