Herb Olson First Candidate For Council

Town Women Fail To Present Nominee Pending 'Organization'

The first candidate for Student Council—Herb Olson, A2 of Winfield—appeared officially yesterday, but the race for representative of town women became generally confused.

Olson filed his petition yesterday and announced that Roy Luce, G of McGregor, would replace Dick Yoakam, G of Pittsburgh, Pa., as his campaign manager.

But Doris Goldman, A3 of Madison, S. D., who was expected to file as a candidate for town women's representative did not do so. It was reported she decided to wait to see how the movement to organize town women shapes up.

Olson's platform, which was attached to his petition, called for a more representative Student Council, more "elective offices" in the Council and suggested six "improvements to campus living."

"The Student Council is a dynamic force, representative of the students," Olson said. "I believe the Student Council should be more representative. . . . If I am elected I shall campaign vigorously for wider representation and the expansion of elective offices."

Student Interest

He also pledged himself to work for greater student interest and support of the Council and declared: "The strength of the Student Council is directly proportionate to the amount of interest the students have and show in it."

Olson said he will "work for the following improvements to campus living" if elected:

1. A liberal course in sex education in the curriculum.
2. More organized activities for married veterans.
3. More emphasis placed on intramural sports.
4. Creation of a permanent "pep club."
5. Creation and stimulation of discussion groups and "information societies."
6. More and better university parties. . . "Social functions other than dances should be included in the year's party program." Meanwhile, town women said they wanted it made clear they are seeking to avoid a fight between Tau Gamma and the independents. A meeting of all town women—including independents and Tau Gamma members—is scheduled for Monday night in 221A, Schaeffer hall.

Helen Zimmerman, A3 of Waterloo, said she hopes two more candidates will be added to the one endorsed by Tau Gamma. Miss Goldman was endorsed by Tau Gamma last Monday, but has not yet filed her petition papers.

The effort to avoid a Greek-independent split was also evident in Olson's appointment of Luce, a Greek, as his campaign manager. Olson is an independent.

"The ties of coalition are running strong," Luce declared.

Quad Candidates
Members of the Quadrangle council said the council would announce a statement—probably announcing one or more candidates. (See COUNCIL, page 6)

Army Refuses Admission of 18-Month-Old Girl to U. S.; GI Adoption Proves Illegal

LONDON (AP)—The United States army ruled yesterday that 18-month-old Kathleen Logan had not been legally adopted by her GI uncle, Pfc. Frank Tilley of Burlington, Vt., who once told the army he was her father. Consequently she can not be taken to the United States as a service man's dependent.

Army authorities said the matter was ended as far as they were concerned, since James Logan, the baby's father and Tilley's brother-in-law just discharged from the RAF, would not authorize adoption of Kathleen.

The baby's travels already include a junket to Paris with her uncle in February, after he had spent a 90-day furlough with his wife in England and Scotland. He kept the child for two days at his barracks, saying that she was his daughter and that he was unable to find quarters for his family in England. Army authorities intervened and gave Tilley a five-day extension of furlough to take the child back to Dundee, Scotland, where the Logans live.

British Capture 30 Saboteurs

JERUSALEM (AP)—One Jew was killed and 30 were captured yesterday after a running gun battle with a combined police and military force searching southern Palestine for saboteurs who blew up three railroad bridges an official announcement said last night.

The group, which included one woman, was spotted by aerial reconnaissance in the vicinity of rail installations attacked Tuesday night. The announcements said the Jews opened fire first when police detachments closed in.

Unofficial reports said one Arab policeman was killed and several soldiers were injured in widespread disorders Tuesday night.

Coroner's Jury Holds Rockford, Iowa Man In Street-Fight Death

CHARLES CITY (AP)—A coroner's jury held last night that Estell Kammaeier of Sheffield died early today in a hospital here "as a direct result of an unlawful and felonious act having been committed by one Henry Reams."

Reams, Rockford man, was held in the Floyd county jail without charge following Kammaeier's death which followed an alleged altercation Tuesday night between the two men at Rockford.

The jury, in findings announced by Coroner Carl Hauser at Mason City where the jury went to view Kammaeier's body, held that death resulted from the man's head striking the paved street during the altercation with Reams.

During Card Game—

Two Killers Escape Death House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sociable card game between two condemned killers and two policemen in the capital's death house led early yesterday to the slayers' sensational escape—with the aid of a can opener.

Joseph D. Medley, convicted of the murder of one red-haired woman and implicated by police in the deaths of two others, was retaken eight hours later in a sewer pipe where he was hiding.

Earl McFarland, ex-marine convicted of strangling a young girl government worker with her own snood, remained at large.

A congressional investigation of the prison system here was immediately launched as legislators complained sarcastically that Washington felons have a motto: "everybody home by Christmas."

Official Statement
An official statement issued by District of Columbia jail officials said Medley, 44, and McFarland, 24, were playing cards with two policemen—guards, Hubert C. Davis and Oscar C. Sanderlin. Sanderlin "complained of illness" and went into Medley's cell to lie on the bunk, the statement related.

"One of the inmates closed the cell door on officer Sanderlin and then both inmates overpowered officer Davis. After this they locked Officer Davis in McFarland's cell. The inmates took the clothing and all keys of the officers."

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, announced later that Sanderlin and Davis had been taken into custody by the FBI on charges of permitting prisoners to escape through negligence. He said the two guards would be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Needham C. Turnage.

Donning the uniforms, the slayers reached the roof by prying a ventilator open with a can opener. They then let themselves down 60 feet to the ground with a rope made of bedsheets.

The escape took place at 5 a. m. After a morning of intensive search in which FBI took part, police seized Medley in a sewer near the Anacostia river. He

Mine Owners Charge UMW Uncooperative

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Operators of soft coal mines, whose shafts went through their third day of idleness, charged yesterday that the united mine workers union was blocking negotiations of a new contract. The union declined comment.

The operators charged in a statement at Washington, where the bituminous coal conferences are being held, that "there has been no evidence of real intent to collectively bargain by the miners through this entire conference."

The coal shutdown spread idleness to segments of the railroad and steel industries and brought a statement from President Truman that any prolongation of the dispute would stall the reconversion machine.

The president told his news conference that production of civilian goods had reached the highest peak in the nation's history and was still on the upgrade but that a prolonged strike of the 400,000 united mine workers could quickly change the picture.

Meanwhile, no progress was reported in efforts to settle strikes of transit workers which have paralyzed public transportation services in Detroit and Akron, Ohio.

The Ford Motor company announced a one week shutdown starting last night because of a shortage of steel supplies.

was still wearing remnants of the policeman's uniform, bedraggled and grimy.

Police quoted him as saying: "You can't blame a guy for trying and I'm going to try again. I'm glad nobody was hurt."

The two guards were suspended. Medley was a fugitive from the Michigan penitentiary when, according to jury's findings, he shot and killed Mrs. Nancy Boyer, attractive red-head, after a poker game in her luxurious apartment here March 6, 1945. He already was under indictment in the slaying of another red-haired woman in New Orleans and Chicago police sought him for questioning in the death of a third. The women's nude bodies were found in hotel bathrooms in both the New Orleans and Chicago cases.

McFarland, veteran of Guadalcanal, was convicted in the rape-killing of 18-year old Dorothy Berrum. The garroted body of the tiny girl who came to Washington from her home in Chippewa Falls, Wis., was found in a Potomac River park Oct. 5, 1944.

Nationalist Liberation Party Attacks Validity Of Grecian Election

Balloting Sunday Called Bogus, Unfair By EAM Communists

ATHENS (AP)—The Communists and other parties in the left-wing EAM (national liberation front) attacked the validity of Sunday's election and called on Archbishop Damaskinos, the regent, last night to prepare the way for new balloting.

A statement signed by four leftist parties including the Communists described as "bogus" the parliament selected by the voters and asked the "great allies to rectify" the situation. These four parties had boycotted the election and had declined to put up candidates.

Soviets Oppose Voting
An American-British-French mission observed the election. Russia had opposed holding the balloting Sunday and had refused to send observers.

The leftists' statement was issued as virtually complete official returns showed that slightly more than 50 percent of Greece's registered voters had gone to the polls.

Seizing on this figure, leftwing leaders declared the size of the turnout showed the success of the four-party boycott.

Rightwing leaders, however, said the normal vote in Greece is only 65 percent and added that at least 10 percent of the current registration was of persons who had died since 1936 when the last election lists were prepared.

Royalists Leading
With only 295 voting stations of the entire 3,400 in Greece to be counted, the dominantly royalist populist party received 557,903 votes; the national bloc, 203,850; the liberals, 142,038, and the zervas party, 52,051. Communist and leftwing parties had refused to participate.

This source said British Ambassador Sir Clifford Norton told Greek leaders that Britain wanted regent Archbishop Damaskinos to remain as normal head of the government, and that Britain opposed any immediate plebiscite on the return of exiled King George II.

Survivor Describes Tidal Wave Horrors

Ohio Teacher Saw Friends, Children Swept Out to Sea

HONOLULU (AP)—Hopes dwindled yesterday for the safety of 81 persons—including 50 children—missing in the wake of Monday's tidal wave disaster from which possibly 176 persons were dead or missing in the Pacific ocean areas.

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—A tragic story of school teachers and children swept out to sea by Monday's gigantic tidal waves was told yesterday by Miss Marsue McGuinnis of Oxford, O., as she lay on a hospital cot at Laupahoehoe.

"It was a horrible thing," said Miss McGuinnis, who taught at Laupahoehoe school, where 25 children and three other teachers have been listed as missing since the raging water engulfed them.

Miss McGuinnis lived in a beach cottage with her three colleagues, Faye Johnson of Vinton, Va.; Dorothy Drake of Columbus, O., and Helen Kingsed of Sidney, O. They saw the waves approaching as they prepared to go to school.

"The first wave came up over the edge of the peninsula," she said. "The second wave came nearer, and then the big wave hit the house and knocked it around."

"I remember seeing some children playing on the playground before the wave struck."

"Helen, Faye, Dorothy and I were swirled around by the water and the cottage collapsed. The last I saw of Dorothy she was naked and trying to climb on the roof of the house, which was being carried to sea."

Ike Demands Lichfield Facts

News Dispatch Claims Prosecutor Resigned Because of Favoritism

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday called for prompt information on reports that the Lichfield brutalities court-martial in England is being mishandled to shield high army officers.

The chief of staff followed up a London news dispatch which said Capt. Earl J. Carroll, assistant prosecutor, resigned on the eve of new trials with the assertion that conditions suggested deliberate efforts to clear higher officers.

A war department spokesman said the headquarters of Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, commander of American occupation forces in Europe, had been asked to investigate. Eisenhower was confident, the spokesman said, that McNarney already had taken steps to assure justice.

The court-martial involves cases against ten men accused of mistreating U. S. soldiers who were prisoners during the war at the Lichfield, England, detention camp. Two of those on trial are officers. Carroll was reported in England to have submitted a seven-page letter of resignation detailing conditions he found objectionable.

The letter was quoted as saying that separate trials for the enlisted men would extend the period of the trial and "must necessarily impair the government's case against the higher ranking officers."

SENTENCED

ELEANOR MAE PIERSALL

MARSHALLTOWN (AP)—Eleanor Mae Piersall, 19, pleaded guilty yesterday to assault with intent to maim and was sentenced to five years in prison for running a hot stove poker through the arm of 12-year-old Joyce Buffett.

Joyce is the eldest of eight children of Glenn Buffett, a farmer west of Marshalltown with whom Miss Piersall testified she had been living and who was the father of her own 10-month-old baby.

Joyce also had been beaten by the Piersall woman and handfuls of her hair had been pulled out, the information said. Miss Piersall gave no clear reason for her actions.

Miss Piersall worked for the Buffetts at Rome, N. Y., and said Mrs. Buffett left her husband. She said there was some trouble with authorities at Rome and they came here last June.

UVA Issues Call for Volunteers To Search for Drowning Victim

A call for volunteers to assist in the search for the body of John Rothlisberger, A2 of Washington, who drowned Monday in Iowa river, was issued last night by the University Veterans' association.

Volunteers are asked to report by 10 o'clock this morning to the office of Dr. William D. Coder, director of veterans' service, 109 Schaeffer hall.

The Association, using dragging equipment secured from the U. S. Coast Guard station at Burlington, has organized an extensive search of the river to begin this morning.

The State Conservation commission, contacted by Ben Ellsworth, L1 of Ottumwa, UVA president, is sending two representatives by plane from Burlington and another with boats and other equipment from Muscatine by truck. The county sheriff's office and city departments will continue to assist in the search as will university swimming coach Dave Armbruster.

The action of the association is the result of a request made at a UVA meeting last night by Dr. Coder in behalf of Rothlisberger's family.

Three veteran friends of Rothlisberger, Don Voorhees, A3 of Washington, and Ralph Anderson, A2, and Don Regan, P1, both of Waukon, were appointed as a committee to assist the UVA executive board in its efforts to recover the body.

Voting on the new UVA constitution, original purpose of last night's meeting, resulted in its unanimous adoption.

Ala Informs UNO Officials Of Acceptance

Recognizes Russian Unconditional Promise Of Troop Withdrawal

BULLETIN

TEHRAN (AP)—Prince Mozaffar Firouz, Iranian propaganda minister, told a news conference yesterday that the Iranian government has been "advised that two or three shiploads of Russian troops have left Iran through the port of Pahlevi." Pahlevi, on the Caspian sea, is 165 miles northwest of Tehran.

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Nations crisis over Iran collapsed last night when it was learned that Iranian ambassador Hussein Ala had informed officials he was prepared to accept a Soviet statement to the security council as an unconditional guarantee of the withdrawal of Russian troops from Iran.

Virtually complete settlement of the Iranian case was forecast by top United Nations delegates for today's session.

The key statement was contained in a letter from Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko to the council. Gromyko stated flatly that Russian troops would be out of Iran within six weeks. Ala was reported by persons fully informed of his actions to have told United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie that he considered that this assurance met Iran's requirements.

His decision was said to have been based on Gromyko's omission of the possibility that "unforeseen circumstances" might halt the evacuation as well as on his positive statement that the evacuation was not conditional on current negotiation between Iran and Russia over oil concessions and other matters.

The settlement is expected to provide that the case should be kept on the council's agenda at least until all Russian forces are out of Iran.

Leadership
Whether Secretary of State James F. Byrnes will take the lead in proposing that the issue now be in effect shelved, though kept on the agenda, could not be definitely learned. However, it is known that American officials feel that the Iranian crisis substantially ended yesterday and that the security council had survived with heightened prestige.

The basis of today's settlement was described as contained in the assurance given in Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko's letter to the council yesterday that Soviet force will be withdrawn from Iran within six weeks and that the removal is not connected with any negotiations over oil and other subjects.

Coupled with this is the fact that Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala, after vigorously restating his country's complaints against Russia, said that if Iran could have unconditional assurances of the withdrawal of Russian forces—by May 6—it would headily agree to having the council halt proceedings on the case, though he would like to see it kept on the agenda. By that device he seeks to keep the council's influence behind Iran.

Speculations among top council delegates is that a settlement will clear the way for the prompt return of Gromyko to the council's meetings, which he has boycotted for a week under instructions from Moscow not to take part in discussions on Iran.

After yesterday's mid-day public meeting, members of the security council met privately and informally in a conference room of the United Nations in Rockefeller center.

An official announcement given out last night stated that the Iranian case had been discussed.

General Recognition
While indications were that there was general recognition that the crisis was over and a settlement was at hand, the best available information was that this meeting had not resulted in any hard and fast agreement on the procedure to be followed today.

Editorials:

Pupils Oppose, Not Favor, U. S.-Britain Alliance

It is encouraging to learn that the high school pupils who were here last week for the annual forensic contests did not approve of a military alliance with Great Britain. They are opposed to it.

Other readers wrote similar letters, which Iowans is not printing because it is now known that the high school pupils hold the same sentiments as the rest of the nation. And it ought to be an aid to the peace of mind of Mr. Goodwin and the others to know that the "error" was not one committed by the pupils.

Iowa City Needs Better Fire Protection Quickly

Once again the problem of inadequate fire protection in Iowa City has raised its ugly head. A survey completed last week by the Iowa State Fire Prevention association showed that 72 percent of the business houses, schools and churches inspected contained fire hazards.

The local fire department will conduct a survey later this month of outlying business establishments and apartments. Undoubtedly, more dangers will be uncovered.

Many of these dangers are due to wartime shortages. Such things as steel fire escapes and new electrical wiring have been hard to get, and the labor to install them also is scarce.

Balance these hazards against the present Iowa City fire department, and it is obvious that action must be taken.

The first step is for every property owner and user to see that all possible hazards are eliminated. That means cleaning up rubbish littered in cellars and attics, repairing or replacing defective wiring, providing adequate fire exits, checking fire extinguishers and hoses and knowing what to do when a fire starts.

The second step is to bring the Iowa City fire department up to date. At present, this city of some 23,000 residents and students is being protected by a 23-year-old pumper engine, a 13-year-old ladder truck and a 13-year-old pick-up truck that doubles as the "chief's car."

There are only 11 men on the force. Only four have been added since 1922.

It's easy to see why Fire Chief J. J. Clark says: "We've just been plain lucky."

What's more, the fire department now has more to protect than ever before. The new trailer camps—with their oil stoves and oil supply drums in each trailer—are a new possible hazard. The one-quart fire extinguisher in each trailer would not be very effective against an oil-fed fire.

It all adds up to the fact that Iowa City must enlarge its fire department. Fire Chief Clark says the addition of three or four men to the force would be a big help. The city council could obtain these additional men by increasing the budget allocation to the department.

But more than three or four men are needed. In his annual report, the fire chief listed as necessary an aerial ladder truck and other equipment for minimum adequate protection. And new equipment would mean a larger fire station. The present one is large enough to hold only the equipment now on hand.

A larger fire station would lead to a new city hall, which every one admits has long been needed. Yet no one has acted.

A new city hall would provide space for the badly needed addition to the fire station and would enable the police department and other city offices to be housed properly. If the new buildings were located on city property south of the community building, the present valuable downtown location could be opened up for business expansion.

We are sure the city council is considering these matters now. We only urge them to speed their action. An increase in the fire department's budget and a vote on a bond issue for a new city hall are called for.

Letters to the Editor:

The Iowan's Readers Forum

(Editor's Note: The Daily Iowan invites letters to the Editor. They must bear the writer's name and address, but the writer's name will not be published if so requested. No attention will be paid unsigned letters.)

Urges Student Action

TO THE EDITOR: Your editorial pages provide some mighty stimulating reading material. Among the many issues brought to the front recently are two which might well be tied together. They are the imbalance of power between Greeks and independents and the forthcoming Student Council election with all that they imply.

I have no desire to join the invective hurling contests. I see nothing to be gained from pitting independent against Greek. My chief concern is that we achieve adequate and democratic representation on campus, not only in Student Council, but in all phases of our common university life.

Granted that the letters jumping on Greek monopoly may have served some good propaganda purpose, it's high time we start setting the independent house in order—or rather, we must have an independent structure.

So I second your suggestions, Mr. Editor, that we bestir ourselves this election time. Student Council provides the ideal vehicle for constructive student action. And we all know that there's plenty of field for that group to plow. There's no reason why representatives at large should not be truly representative, and to that line of operation I commend independents.

As I've read other letters to you, I've looked in each for some specific plan of attack on the evil it deplored. I haven't found many suggested plans. But this time there is an obvious line of action. To get down to cases, I urge town women who may well be considered "university orphans," to action.

article appeared the issue seems to have become, "Are fraternities and sororities worthwhile?" and "Why don't the independents organize?"

It is not my intention to discuss the worthiness of the social organizations. The right of those organizations to exist and the good they have done on the campus has been proved time after time. The fact that they are not doing all the good they can is a problem for those organizations to solve.

The second issue is more important. It is important because any remark by an independent about the fraternity and sorority domination of student affairs is met by the answer, "Why don't the independents organize if they don't like the existing conditions?"

Are the independents waiting for an act of God to give them power in student affairs? I don't think so. Are the independents content to sit back and take pot shots at the social organizations without having the nerve to place themselves in positions where they will be exposed to the blasts of malcontents? The answer is a definite "no."

The social organizations say, "Why don't you organize?" They don't want us to organize. You and I both know that is true. If we, the independents, organize it will mean the end of their dominance in student affairs.

We will organize. Perhaps not this year, maybe not next year, but soon. The social organizations know it is going to happen. Every year we delay they are becoming more firmly entrenched, by custom and other methods, in positions of authority in student affairs. The sooner we organize, the easier will be our task of placing our leaders in those positions.

We have been accused of prejudice, of mud-slinging, of being bigoted and anti-social and of envy. Is that really the cause of our griping? You and I know it isn't so. If we attempt to organize the name-calling will become even more vitriolic. Are we afraid to face the battle ahead? Are we going to retire to our holes again? Guy Keller

Education Fraternity Initiates 8; Peterson Speaks at Ceremony

Eight men were initiated by Phi Delta Kappa, honorary educational fraternity for university graduates, at Iowa Union Monday night.

The initiates are Harold E. Nelson, Northwood; Albert N. Hieronymus, Iowa City; Thomas D. Horn, Iowa City; Donald G. Emery, Indianapolis, Ind.; Frederick E. Green, Taylorville, Ind.; W. Dale Chismore, Ft. Madison; D. W. Githens, Crawfordville, and Karl Neufeldt, Cedar Rapids.

A dinner preceded the initiation ceremonies. Prof. E. T. Peterson of the college of education spoke on his experiences at the G. I. university at Shrivenham, England.

Calls for Organization

TO THE EDITOR: Since my original letter to the editor some days ago, construed by almost everyone as an attack on fraternities and sororities, a variety of opinions have been published on the subject.

As a matter of fact, the letter was not intended to minimize the good accomplished by those organizations or to attack the methods they use to assert their will on the majority of students. Rather, it was a plea that we recognize the abilities of many independents whose talents lie fallow because they have no drum beaters.

However, since the time that

Covering The Capital

By Jack Stannett

WASHINGTON—Something is going to be done about the streamlining of congress—something at least to the extent of introducing legislation.

Will that be as far as it goes? Probably the first measure to reach the hopper since report of the LaFollette-Monroney joint committee on reorganization of congress will be that upping congressional salaries and providing for $8,000-a-year or so administrative assistants for each member.

The chances of this coming to a vote before the November elections are slim. The house members and those senators up for reelection want no more of that "bundles for congress" stuff. They are afraid of it in spite of the fact that almost everybody whose word counts for anything has agreed that members of congress need higher salaries and administrative assistants to take the load of detail off their shoulders.

With a few exceptions on specific points, it's agreed by an overwhelming majority of experts on government and the members themselves that congress needs overhauling.

Then who will block these congressional reforms? Who's opposed to them? (1) Scores and scores of members of congress themselves. In many instances they will give lip service to the whole program, but do everything in their power to block any tidal wave of reform.

Aside from those who want to go home to their voters and say they never, never voted themselves a salary increase, most would be ready and willing to get more money and more help in getting their complex jobs done. That is, they would if it weren't for fear of the voters this November or the weapons they will place in the hands of the men and women who are going to campaign against them.

(2) Committee members and committee chairmen in both chambers. The LaFollette-Monroney report suggests cutting the 33 senate standing committees to 16; the 48 in the house to 18.

That means that 47 committee chairmen would lose their jobs, the prestige that goes with them and in almost every instance, the privilege of hiring and paying committee "employees." Often, these committee employees work so little that they are nothing more than errand boys for the men who appoint them, but the jobs are juicy patronage posts.

There is some sincere opposition to consolidation of committees. Twenty-odd years ago, several house committees were consolidated into the house committee on appropriations. Opponents of committee reform argue that under the New Deal, the appropriations committee, dominated by the administration, went completely off the deep end in approving expenditures. They claim that several committees, occupied with appropriations in various fields, never could have been persuaded to give approval to what they feel was wholesale, wasteful spending.

Trouble in China

Tensions in China right now appear almost as critical as in the brawling days that followed Japan's surrender.

The underlying factors are these: The two sides (the Kuomintang government and the Communists) have not overcome their mutual suspicions. While some progress has been made toward reconciliation, the Russian withdrawal from Manchuria is creating another political vacuum into which both sides want to establish themselves first. Tactics on the part of both have been mutually irritating.

The Chungking government, unable to move its troops into Manchuria without American help, has been forced to ask the Russians to notify it in advance of each withdrawal lest the Communists already on the scene take over.

The natural Communist strategy is therefore to delay the advance and consolidation of government troops by any device possible.

One of these devices is in Chungking, where the Communist negotiators are said to be holding back in efforts to form an interim state council slated to govern China until coalition government can be popularly elected.

Meanwhile the government is answerable for two things, which in recent days may have set back all efforts to patch things up.

On all-fool's day eight government fighter-planes "buzzed" Yenan, the capital of Communist China which has no planes. And early yesterday morning government gendarmes and plainclothesmen arrested 46 Chinese Communists in Peiping.

Whatever the explanation and actual significance of both these incidents, they are likely to serve largely to confirm the Communists in two old suspicions:

1. That the Kuomintang government will, if necessary, rely upon its military superiority (which includes planes) in achieving political "unity."

2. That Chinese Communists still are the objects of special attention by the government's secret police system, which is sup-

Vogel Names Starting Lineup

Coach Otto Vogel hunched his big shoulders as a shield against the wind which swept across Iowa's baseball field and admitted that he had his starting lineup pretty well figured out for tomorrow's opening game.

It will be the 19th time a team under his direction has launched a varsity season here, and early prospects indicate it shouldn't be far below prewar level. Only two positions still worried the veteran coach, plus the fact that his boys weren't hitting the ball quite as hard as they should.

Vogel has a right to expect at least fair results from this season's team. In his last four years at Iowa before he went to the navy, his teams won 76 games while losing only 16 for a percentage of 83.

When the Hawkeyes take the field against the navy Seahawks at Ottumwa tomorrow afternoon at 4:30, they will lineup in this batting order:

Ebner, catcher, and Bob Faber, pitcher. Lefty Jack Brunner is expected to start in Saturday's game.

IOWA CATCHERS SWAP SHOP TALK—Lyle Ebner (right), Iowa's No. 1 backstopper, and Johnny Tedore talk things over as the Hawkeye team finishes preparations for its opening game at Ottumwa tomorrow. Tedore was Coach Vogel's No. 2 catcher until he split open his hand (notice the bandage) catching a ball in practice this week.

Vogel indicated that the number three and four pitchers would be John Cries and Al Kolarik and that these men would be used in relief roles if one of the starters faltered.

Johnny Tedore was scheduled to handle some of the catching assignments, but he split his hand in practice and will be missing from the squad for about two weeks.

The occupants of the right and left field berths will not be decided until game time.

A squad of 18 men will make the two day trip to Ottumwa and will spend the night in the Packer city.

Veterans of other Hawkeye diamond squads are Rinkema, Dunagan, Diehl, Thompson, Wisniewski, Ebner and Faber. Four of these, Rinkema, Faber, Thompson and Dunagan played on Vogel's last team before he entered the navy in 1942. That year Iowa tied for the Big Ten championship.

The Hawkeyes played Ottumwa navy twice in 1945 splitting even in the two attempts. The Hawks triumphed in Iowa City, 14-5, and lost at Ottumwa, 15-12, in a game played in a high wind storm. Jack Brunner who stopped the Hawks in the second game in 1945 will be on the mound for Iowa in the Saturday tilt.

26 Schools Enter Track Meet Saturday

The state's first Class A high school indoor track and field title meet since 1942 has attracted an entry list of 26 schools and 459 athletes, it was announced yesterday at the University of Iowa following receipt of entries from the Iowa State High School Athletic association.

The large entry roster will make necessary six preliminary heats in the dash and both hurdles, as well as two semi-final races to reduce the fields to six-man finals.

There will be four quarter and half mile races, with points scored in two sections; three heats of the half mile, one mile, and medley relays, with place winners decided on a time basis; and two sections of the two mile run and two mile relay.

Mexicans Can't Buy Kurowski

But Cardinals' Star Third Baseman Would Like to Join Phillies

READING, Pa. (AP)—Holdout George (Whitey) Kurowski would like to join the cellar-monopolizing Phillies if the St. Louis Cardinals put him on the trading block but definitely isn't interested in the outlaw Mexican league.

However, the possibility of the Red Birds turning loose their blond third baseman seemed remote yesterday as he made ready to depart for St. Louis to talk contract with the Cards' Sam Breadon. He's reported aiming at a $12,500 salary.

"Sure I'd like to play for the Phils if the Cards were going to trade me," said Whitey while training near his home. "The Phils are an up-and-coming organization and the way the Carpenters have spent money for players, they show they are eager to have a winning team—and better still, willing to pay for it."

The 27-year-old infielder added: "The Mexican league may be okay for those older guys who don't have too many playing years left but I expect to be in baseball a long time and don't intend having my name on any barred list."

Drake Relays Honor War Dead

DES MOINES (AP)—Competitors in former Drake relays who died in World War II will be honored in a special gold star section of the 1946 Drake relays program April 26-27, Director Bill Easton announced yesterday.

Copies of the 1946 program will be mailed to next of kin of those listed in the special section. Reports from 35 of the 147 colleges and universities which competed in the relays between 1934 and 1945 show that 31 men representing 17 schools lost their lives in the recent war. The universities of Kansas and Wisconsin reported the loss of four men each.

Oldest casualty yet reported was Major Vince Montgomery, who competed on Morningside college mile and two-mile relay teams of 1911-13. Among the former headliners of previous Drake carnivals who died in war service were Bush Lamb, all-round athlete from Newton, Iowa, who starred at Iowa; Bob Cassels of Chicago U., who tied for first in the pole vault in 1939; Coleman Pack, member of the Texas U. 480-yard shuttle hurdle relay team when it broke the Drake mark in 1940; Bob Moser, Texas Aggie track and football star who tied Bill Dudley, Virginia's all-American for ground gaining honors one season, and Welles Hodgson, Minnesota's Big Ten broad jump champion in 1940.

Zollners Whip Baltimore CHICAGO (AP)—The Ft. Wayne Zollners, defending champions, won their way into the finals of the world professional basketball championships last night when they outlasted the Baltimore Bullets to eke out a 50-49 victory, before 12,325 fans in Chicago stadium.

Conn Strategy Board Figures Bill's Speed Will Beat Joe Louis

By SID FEDER GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J. (AP)—Johnny Ray's pet way of telling of anyone bothering him is to "back up like a horse," but Johnny is practically forgetting how it goes for the next ten weeks.

Johnny is the little blond warrior who operates as Billy Conn's board of strategy. And the reason he has wiped anything resembling "back up" out of the dictionary now is that there are only forward gears in operation up here where the Pittsburgh pretty boy is getting ready for his June 19 assault on Joe Louis' heavyweight championship.

Johnny lifted the lid today on enough of the "top secret" stuff he and Billy are getting ready to let you know that "Junior" is going to carry the fight to Louis all the way—just like he did the last time, in 1941, for 12 rounds, before he got his "Irish" up and was knocked out in the 13th.

"Only this time it's going to be tougher for Joe," Johnny went on, "Bill has more punching power and more weight now. His mental condition is better—remember he was worrying about his marriage the night before the last night. And he has just as much speed as ever."

Johnny wasn't kidding about this last. Billy went through his first full day's work today, boxing three rounds and doing five more of floor-work. And he appeared to have just as much of the rubber bounce in them as he always had, which is enough to spring around in an especially sprightly manner.

DRAKE ENTERS RELAYS

DES MOINES (AP)—Coach Bill Easton and five Drake trackmen will leave today for Austin to compete Saturday in the 19th annual Texas relays. It will be the first outdoor competition for the Bulldogs.

Injury Hits Nelson in Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Except for Byron Nelson's ailing right wrist, everything appeared to be in readiness last night for the opening of the first postwar masters golf tournament.

Nelson, winner of the last masters played in 1942 and co-favorite with Ben Hogan to win the $2,500 first prize in the current event, did not practice yesterday. He spent an hour with an osteopath getting the aches rubbed out of his wrist upon which he slept inadvertently two nights ago. He said he thought it would be okay by the time he tees off in the feature twosome with Bobby Jones at 2:18 p. m. today.

The bookmakers, frankly making no effort to choose between the two former Texas caddies, Nelson and Hogan, in the 72-hole test, bracketed them at 3-1 against Sammy Snead, who arrived only yesterday in time for a brief practice session. He was held at 4-1. Jimmy Demaret, a former winner, was offered at 6-1.

Those were the big four. As for the remainder of the select starting field of 51, they could be backed by prices ranging up to 100-1. Few of them boasted any backers.

Walker Cooper Gets Navy Discharge

CATCHER WALKER COOPER, sold by the St. Louis Cardinals for $175,000 in January to the New York Giants, was discharged yesterday at Lambert Field separation center after nearly a year in the navy. Carrying his discharge papers and two catcher's mitts, he became a civilian as a security officer checked him through the gate.

Pasquel Plans Bigger Grab

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican baseball league, said last night he expected to sign "about a dozen" more U. S. players within the next month and offered to bet $2,000,000 that his circuit will not collapse.

"Those who think we are throwing away money to pay salaries to these players (those leaving organized baseball) are totally mistaken," Pasquel said in an interview. "Those who run the monopoly of baseball in the United States are alarmed. We are paying justly what they are worth and for that reason they are coming to Mexico."

Cleveland Boxer Dies From Injuries in Bout

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Dave Mason, Cleveland Negro heavyweight, died last night in emergency hospital after suffering a brain hemorrhage and skull fracture in a bout with Joe Matisi of Endicott.

Cooper, Giant Buy, Gets Navy Discharge; To Join Team Soon

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Walker Cooper, the New York Giants' fourth straight game from the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday 6 to 2, with pitcher Johnny Rigney going the full nine innings for the Sox. He yielded six hits and missed a shutout on Ralph Kiner's fluke two run homer. The Sox collected ten hits.

The 31-year-old ex-St. Louis Cardinal backstop was discharged at Lambert field separation center after nearly a year of wearing bell bottom trousers. Mrs. Cooper and their 6-year-old daughter, Sara Ann, met him at the gate.

Cooper said he would get in touch with the Giants' manager Mel Ott by telephone to learn details of where and when he would join the team. The Giants broke training camp at Jacksonville, Fla., Tuesday.

"If manager Ott thinks I'm not quite ready I may go to Jacksonville for awhile and play with the Jersey Giants," Cooper said.

from the Quad—Friday or Saturday.

And a non-social fraternity was reported ready to put itself back of a candidate Friday or Saturday.

Although there has been little indication of what independent town men will do, it was becoming increasingly evident that the independents generally are more active than the Greeks.

No candidate has appeared yet from either the fraternities or sororities, and earlier talk that some individual chapters will endorse candidates has died.

Olson, who has a 3.67 grade point, was president of the freshman class at Augustana college in 1940 and president of the Winfield high school student council in 1939.

A first lieutenant in the army airforce, he was a prisoner of the Germans for six months. He has had the leads in "The Hasty Heart" and "Outward Bound" at the University theater and is a newscaster and announcer at WSUL.

Bali Java Dancers—

Enthrall Audience

By JANET M. CUMMING

Devi Dja and her Bali Java dancers presented an exciting and different program of dances in Macbride auditorium yesterday afternoon and evening.

Many of the patterns of movement in the dances were so beyond the range of our custom that just seeing them was startling. To one inclined to respond kinesthetically there was even danger of sympathetic strain from the tensing of one's own relatively unused muscles.

The dance language and movement is universal and so may be reacted to by anyone. The movement of the Bali Java dancers is for them particular and specific in meaning, but because of our lack of familiarity with it, we must rely on our appreciation of it as a spectacle and admit our limitations in responding to its full meaning.

The fluidity of motion is beautiful, the delicacy of hand and wrist movements of endless variety has been developed as a means of conveying meanings.

Rough Waters Hinder Search For SUI Man

A strong wind which roughed the surface of the Iowa river here yesterday halted temporarily the search for the body of John Rothlisberger, university student from Washington, Iowa, who is believed to have drowned in the river Monday night.

The 23-year-old war veteran and his companion, Joan Swanson, freshman from Chicago, were thrown into the river when the canoe in which they were riding overturned north of the city park bridge at approximately 8:30 p. m. Monday. Miss Swanson was saved when others came to her aid while she clung to the side of the canoe.

After continuing the search this morning, Preston Koser, Johnson county sheriff, and Harley McNabb, city fireman, were forced to abandon the work of dragging the bottom with grappling hooks about 3 p. m.

Koser stated last night that he and McNabb will resume the search tomorrow providing the river is calm.

The possibility that the body could not go over the power dam, should the search fail to locate it before it rose to the surface, was discounted by Prof. Hunter Rouse, director of the Iowa institute of hydraulic research.

Rouse stated that there are no hooks planted in the top of the dam which would catch the body, as had been rumored. Temporary steel pipes which are placed from eight to ten feet apart and which point down the river are the only projections.

County coroner Frank L. Love said earlier in the day that the length of time required for the body to rise to the surface depends upon the temperature of the water.
