MacArthur Asks Nations To Abolish Right to War

Renunciation Key to Peace Aims of UNO

General Makes Appeal Before Initial Session Of Jap Allied Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur called last night for all nations to renounce their sovereign right to wage war. Unless they do, he asserted, the United Nations must fail in its aim for peace and its international police force will be "at best but a temporary expedient."

This appeal from one of history's most renowned professional soldiers was delivered before the allied council for Japan at its initial session in Tokyo.

Council Established
The council, with representatives of Russia, Britain, China and the United States, was established as the result of an agreement made by Secretary of State Byrnes with the other foreign ministers at Moscow last December.

While pledging full cooperation with the council, MacArthur made it clear at the outset of his speech that its functions "will be advisory and consultative."

"I will not," he declared, divide the heavy administrative responsibility of the supreme commander as the sole executive authority for the allied powers in Japan."

Open to Press
MacArthur also held it "advisable" that all council sessions be open to the press and public, as the first one was.

MacArthur's proposal for universal renunciation of the right to make war was delivered as he referred to the proposed new constitution for Japan, which would make such a renunciation. The constitution is to be voted on later this month.

Miners Strike In Fourth Day

Washington Contract Negotiations Devoted To Safety Measures

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New tieups in steel mills and fuel carrying railroads were reported yesterday as the nationwide strike of 400,000 united mine workers went through its fourth day with little prospects of early settlement.

Government Conciliator Paul W. Fuller said yesterday's contract negotiations in Washington were devoted largely to a discussion of safety measures and that he had blocked a suggestion of some conferees that the bargaining be recessed until Monday. Another session was scheduled for today.

The Carnegie-Illinois steel corporation announced 5,000 employees had been made idle when operations were curtailed to conserve fuel. Eight companies reported layoffs of railroad employees because of the strike.

Developments elsewhere along the labor front, where the number of strike idle remained at 770,000 included:
Transit strikes continued to leave residents of Detroit, Mich., and Akron, Ohio, without public transportation for the fourth day. Gov. Walter E. Edge of New Jersey announced he would seize and operate gas facilities if 1,200 employees carried out their threat to strike last midnight against the Public Service Electric and Gas Co. The governor said leaders of the independent unions involved had assured him they would work for the state.

UNO Accepts Pledge Of Iran Withdrawal

Action Over Objection Of Col. W. Hodgson And Russian Delegate

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Nations security council, spurred by United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, accepted yesterday Russia's unconditional pledge to withdraw from Iran and voted to defer consideration of the Iranian case until May 6.

The council action was taken over the vigorous objection of Lt. Col. William Roy Hodgson, the Australian delegate, and in the absence of the Russian delegate, who walked out last week in protest against hearing the Iranian case.

Secretary Byrnes presented the resolution by which further proceedings on Iran's appeal to the United Nations for action against Russia was held up until May 6—and Chairman Quo Tai-Chi voiced the hope that developments before that date might make unnecessary any further consideration of the case by the council.

After the vote the Iranian envoy expressed his government's acceptance of the council action. The council knew where he had stood on the proposition for he had nodded his head affirmatively as Byrnes read his resolution.

Government Outlaws Nylon Hosiery Export

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government yesterday banned further export of nylon hosiery except by permission of the commerce department's office of international trade.

The commerce department said the export controls had been established "to prevent undue drain upon the limited domestic supplies."

It is necessary that people at home and abroad pay attention to the fact that these decisions have not been implemented.

There was no immediate government reply to Chou's statement, which underlined the rift between the government and the Communists.

Reiterating that the Communists would refuse to join a new unified government if the Kuomintang broke unity decisions reached at last January's all-party political consultation conference, Chou told a two-and-a-half-hour news conference:

"At first I was very suspicious of the cordiality of the Japanese," Professor McCloy explained, "but after talking with hundreds of people from common laborers to university presidents I became convinced that the Japanese are

'Mad Monster' Slated to Die

French Doctor Guilty Of 27 Paris Murders During Nazi Invasion

PARIS (AP)—Dr. Marcel Petiot, "The monster of the Rue la Suer," who was charged with killing 27 persons, was found guilty of murder last night and condemned to death.

Already a legendary figure in France, the little 55-year-old physician rose as he heard the verdict read in the crowded Palais de Justice, turned to his brother, Maurice, and shouted:

"I MUST BE AVENGED."
Guards led him from the courtroom. Then the lawyers representing families of the persons he was accused of having slain flocked to the judges' bench to present claims for damages.

In a tired voice presiding magistrate Marcel Leser told the court would deliberate on those matters at a later date.

Petiot—referred to by French newspapers as the "Bluebeard of Paris"—was found guilty by 12 jurors and three judges who deliberated two and a half hours. He was charged with killing the 27 persons, most of them Jews, in the operation of an alleged fake ring for smuggling refugees out of Nazi-occupied France. The defendant claimed those slain were "gestapo decoys" done away with by his underground organization.

Called upon to speak just before the jurors retired, Petiot said:

"I wanted to speak but I am unable. You are French and you know I have liquidated gestapo members. You know what to do."

Reds Charge Loan Misuse

CHUNGKING (AP)—China's second ranking Communist charged yesterday that Chiang Kai-Shek's government had not yet put a single unity decision into force, and that huge foreign loans now would only serve to perpetuate dictatorship by the Generalissimo's Kuomintang.

Medley, sentenced to be electrocuted for the fatal shooting of red-haired Mrs. Nancy Boyer after a card party in her swank apartment here a year ago, was found hiding in a sewer pipe in the northeastern section of Washington, where the jail is located.

Postpone Conference

PARIS (AP)—Russia has suggested postponement of the European peace conference, set for May 1 in Paris, until a big three argument is reached on treaties, it was reported officially today.

All books used in Japan must be written by that ministry and even athletic games between schools must be scheduled through them. The ministry endeavored to show us the bright side of the system but we discovered the truth.

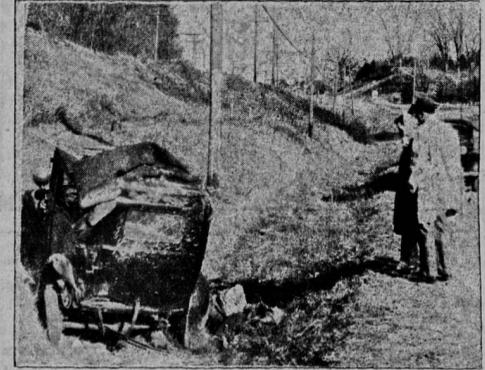

Professor McCloy served on committees studying curriculum, Japanese language and health and physical education.

"The Japanese have completely abandoned all types of war games including judo in their physical education set-up," explained Professor McCloy. "They have, however, a more specialized type of physical training because the instructors know their subject thoroughly and a great deal of time is spent in the training."

"I was quite amazed," Professor McCloy said, "that I didn't get a dirty look while I was in Japan. The American forces are very popular with the Japanese and I believe they'd elect General MacArthur emperor if he'd accept the position. The Japanese blame the militarists for the war. They are

ONE MAN INJURED IN SMASHUP WEST OF IOWA CITY

FOUR PERSONS escaped serious injury in a collision between these badly smashed cars at 4 p. m. yesterday a mile west of Iowa City on highway 6. H. Z. Brown, route 1, the lone occupant of the Model A shown on the left, was released from University hospital with minor bruises. The Ford club coupe on the right, driven by James K. Richardson of Burlington and carrying two other men, hit the rear of the other car when its brakes failed to hold as both cars were traveling west.

Manhunt for Slayer Continues From Ohio To Southern Virginia

Information Reward By Washington Police For McFarland—$300

WASHINGTON (AP)—The manhunt for Earl McFarland, convicted rape-killer who fled the District of Columbia death house yesterday morning, spread today from northern Ohio to southern Virginia.

Men resembling the 24-year old ex-marine were reported seen last night in both Cleveland and Richmond.

Washington police, offering a $300 reward for information resulting in McFarland's recapture, expressed belief he had left the vicinity where his partner in flight, Joseph D. Medley, was re-taken eight hours after the sensational break.

FBI agents in Cleveland hunted McFarland in northern Ohio after Dewitt Whittaker, 20, informed police he believed a hitch-hiker he let out in a Cleveland suburb last night to be the fugitive. Whittaker, who picked up the hatless and coatless rider in Jamestown, N. Y., said he noticed a close resemblance between his passenger.

In Richmond, a policeman reported that a man answering McFarland's description fled when the officer started to question him.

Medley was quoted today in a story copyrighted by the Washington Times-Herald as saying he and McFarland planned the escape on impulse after one of the two guards with whom they were playing cards complained of illness.

New Premier

ATHENS (AP)—Panayotis Poulitsas, 60-year-old career jurist, was sworn in last night as new premier of Greece, heading a coalition cabinet of populists and national bloc leaders who dominated Sunday's election.

The government is the seventh in 18 months.

Sheriff Koser Issues Appeal For More Boats, Volunteers

Despite a cold wind and rough water, authorities and volunteers yesterday renewed efforts to recover the body of John Rothlisberger, 23-year-old victim of a canoeing accident Monday night, from the bottom of the Iowa river.

County Sheriff Preston Koser issued an appeal last night for additional boats and volunteers in order that the search may be renewed today.

Koser stated that if the river is calm today, an attempt will be made to extend a line of boats across the river which will slowly work their way down from above the spot where the accident is believed to have occurred.

Searchers dragged a quarter mile section of the river for 10 hours yesterday, aided by conservation officers from Muscatine and Davenport, and equipment provided by the Burlington coast guard station in answer to an appeal from the UVA.

Two representatives of the state conservation commission, Dan Nichols and Mr. Adamson, spent most of the day on the river using a drag line and an eight foot axle type device with grappling hooks attached, brought along to supplement the local equipment.

Men from Burlington coast guard station brought two drag nets to the city yesterday morning and a life raft was also furnished by Harold A. Sheesley and Jay D. Strong, Iowa City residents who aided in the search.

Sheriff Koser said that Nichols and Adamson told him that they would try to return to Iowa City with their equipment today before they left last night to attend a meeting elsewhere.

The local Red Cross chapter set up canteen headquarters in the Mayflower Nite club, near the scene of the search. Hot coffee and sandwiches were served to the workers.

Charged With Raping, Murdering Housewife, 2 Youths Try Suicide

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—One man charged with murdering a 49-year-old Chester housewife committed suicide and a second slashed his throat with a razor, Police Chief Andrew Desmond reported today.

Partially-clad Mrs. Rose Lyons Reynolds was found fatally beaten in a lonely park yesterday. She had been raped, Fred Jack, chief of Delaware county detectives, said an autopsy disclosed.

Chester Youths Sought
Police charged Grant Tyler, 23-year-old war veteran, and Frederick Morris, 24, both of Chester, with the slaying and launched a search for them.

Morris was captured by Delaware State police today, he was searched and questioned and placed in a jail cell, Desmond said, then whipped a razor from his pocket and slashed his throat. Hospital attaches said he "probably will live."

Veteran Kills Self
Earlier, detectives entered Tyler's home and found him sprawled across a gas stove in the kitchen, dead of gas fumes. Police had been waiting outside to arrest him. Desmond said a note was found in Tyler's room saying "I have not been good and it looks like I never will be now."

The Chester police official said Morris admitted complicity in the slaying before slashing himself.

'Jinxed' Movie Ends With Extra's Death

Edward Gray Found Dying of Mysterious Beating; No Arrests

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A movie dealing with murder and fantasy, which the heroine said had been "jinxed" from the start, ended in a real-life tragedy yesterday with the mysterious death of a studio employe on the film's set.

Two hours after the cast and crew had left a gay party celebrating the film's completion, a studio watchman found Edward W. Gray, 31, a studio set carpenter, dying, his body lying behind a mammoth drop depicting the entrance to hell.

Det. Sgt. Stanley W. Johnson said his skull was fractured, his jaw broken and his palate pierced. Gray died at a hospital early yesterday.

No arrests were made but another studio employe was questioned and detectives said all who attended the gay party at the conclusion of filming "Angel On My Shoulder" would be interrogated.

Paul Muni, star of the gangster film, was host. Others attending included Anne Baxter, the leading lady and supporting players Kurt Kreuger and Joan Blair, officials at the studio said. However all departed by 10 p. m., almost two hours before the dying man was found, studio sources said.

Miss Baxter said the slaying climaxed several mishaps during filming of the picture.

"This is fantastic," she said. "More things have happened during this picture than during any I have ever been in before. It almost seems as though it were jinxed."

First Jack Sullivan, assistant director, died of a heart attack. Then Paul (Muni) was sick. Claude Rains was sick and I was sick. Production had to be held up time after time for some reason. It was just one thing after another.

Gray, found lying in a pool of blood, was rushed to Hollywood receiving hospital. He died shortly after midnight without regaining consciousness.

14 Persons Injured In Indiana Collision

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—At least 14 persons were injured, one seriously, late yesterday in a collision of the Erie railroad's New York to Chicago "Midlander" passenger train and a switch engine in the railroad's Hammond yards.

St. Margaret's hospital, where 12 persons remained for treatment, reported the switch engine train's engineer, Frank Hepper of Hammond, was seriously hurt.

Six Candidates Elected to Run For Vacancies

All Nominees Pledged Support of Panhellenic, Interfraternity Councils

The fraternities and sororities yesterday made a strong bid to capture all six positions in the Student Council elections.

At an unannounced and secret joint meeting of the Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils yesterday afternoon, the Greeks nominated six candidates—one for each of the vacancies—and pledged to support them in the voting April 16.

The Greek candidates were Dick Ives, A3 of Diagonal, and Bill Boswell, A2 of Marshalltown, for men delegates-at-large; Claire Ferguson, A2 of Des Moines and Joan Holt, A3 of Highland Park, Ill., women delegates-at-large; Bill Sangster, A2 of Iowa City, town men's representative and Eleanor Pownall, A3 of Iowa City, town women's representative.

Jim French, A2 of Des Moines, one of the leaders of the coalition, told the representatives at the meeting that the solid Greek alignment was necessary because of the recent spurt of activity among the Independents.

Secret Meeting
But even as reports of the supposedly secret meeting spread around campus yesterday, there was talk among both fraternity men and sorority women of bolting the coalition because of dissatisfaction with the slate of candidates.

And Independents were saying that unless more Independent candidates appeared, many of the Indies would support the Greek candidates.

So this was the way the Student Council election scene looked yesterday: The Independents were considerably active in discussions, but the Greeks were preparing to supplement their organization with action of their own.

The sudden coalition movement put an abrupt end to plans of some fraternity and sorority chapters to nominate candidates individually. Whether the halt is temporary or permanent remains to be seen.

One non-social fraternity—actually an organization of both Greeks and Independents—made plans to endorse a candidate today. Another non-social fraternity was talking about calling a special meeting to back a candidate.

Candidates from both these non-social groups would pull votes from both the Independents and Greeks, and thus reduce the effectiveness of any "party" moves.

Olson Gaining Strength
Meanwhile, Herb Olson, A2 of Winfield, the only candidate who has filed officially, seemed to be gaining strength. His platform received wide approval yesterday—among both Greeks and Independents—and there was little serious criticism of it.

It was learned that the town women are attempting to join forces, and there was talk that at Monday night's meeting as many women as possible will be enrolled in an organization.

Either the women will become members of Tau Gamma, town women's sorority, or they will form an entirely new association and disband Tau Gamma, it was reported.

The group will endorse one or two other candidates in addition to Doris Goldman, A2 of Madison, S. D., who was endorsed last Monday by Tau Gamma but has not yet filed.

Professor McCloy Says Japs Want Democracy

"The Japanese people want democracy to be democratic," commented Prof. C. H. McCloy, of the men's physical education department, yesterday after returning from a four weeks tour of Japan with the American Educational Mission.

Professor McCloy was one of 24 educators chosen by the state department to go to Japan to study the Japanese educational system before leaving for Japan. After arriving in Tokyo, the group was divided into committees to study educational problems. Japanese educators worked with the American mission.

"In the beginning the Japanese who worked with us were just 'yes men' but as soon as we convinced them that we wanted their opinions they spoke up and helped us a great deal. We had to be careful in our talks with them, however, because they were afraid of being spied upon by bureaucrats of the Ministry of Education who completely control the Japanese educational system.

All books used in Japan must be written by that ministry and even athletic games between schools must be scheduled through them. The ministry endeavored to show us the bright side of the system but we discovered the truth.

"The Japanese have completely abandoned all types of war games including judo in their physical education set-up," explained Professor McCloy. "They have, however, a more specialized type of physical training because the instructors know their subject thoroughly and a great deal of time is spent in the training."

"Their health education is sadly lacking. The only teaching they get along that line is to clean themselves thoroughly and rub their skin. There isn't anything else to it.

"I was quite amazed," Professor McCloy said, "that I didn't get a dirty look while I was in Japan. The American forces are very popular with the Japanese and I believe they'd elect General MacArthur emperor if he'd accept the position. The Japanese blame the militarists for the war. They are

The Student Council's Success Rests With the Student Body

Members of the Student Council have a better opportunity than any other students to view at close range the multi-barbed problems of university life.

But how much the Student Council does to improve student living depends as heavily on the student body as on the members of the Council.

We often say that Senator Bilbo is not representative of the people of Mississippi because too many Mississippians are not permitted to vote.

There are no "Mississippi-like" restrictions on the students at the University of Iowa. Every student has the chance to make himself heard and to vote.

Therefore, the Student Council will be just as representative as the student body wants to make it.

It is as much a responsibility of the student body to go to the Student Council as it is of the Council members to come to the students.

If the students believe the Student Council is not representative enough because it is too far removed from the student body, that fault, is to be blamed on the students as much as on the Council.

Few, very few, students have ever come to the Council with suggestions or requests for action. And none of the few students who have attended Council meetings was ever denied a chance to speak and be heard.

Yet the Student Council can not operate effectively unless it does hear from the student body.

If the Student Council hasn't been as successful this year as some had hoped, it is not alone the fault of the members. It is also the fault of the student body which showed little interest in the Council and gave the Council little support.

The Student Council can be only as strong as the student support which is behind it. The 17 members of the Council can not lift campus living to a higher plane or make campus improvements by themselves.

Now is the time for the students to show how much they want to support the Student Council, but if they don't, then they must come forth with a program of their own.

But where are all those students who wanted to "make something out of this council"? Where are those students who were clamoring so loudly that the Council was not representative? Up until noon yesterday, only one of them had appeared.

The Student Council now is facing its first major test. And there is nothing the members can do to help the Council through that test.

The future success of the Council lies in the hands of the student body. That success will be measured in how many students are interested enough in the Council to become candidates for it, and how many students will vote at the elections.

If the student body wants a better Student Council, it is up to the students to act—now!

Education vs. Intolerance

Daily, the Chicago Tribune and its sister organs, the New York Daily News and the Washington Times-Herald, exhort their readers to hate Russia, hate Britain, hate Roosevelt, oppose relief to the starving and generally trumpet the cause of isolationism and irresponsible individualism.

The existence of these newspapers is not surprising. What is disturbing, however, is their large circulation—the fact they are read so extensively. Some of this can be explained by the content of the papers. All three have very complete comic sections, carry many pictures, have full feature departments and strongly play up appeals to the baser emotions in sensational stories of sex, crime and scandal.

But part of their popularity is due also to their pernicious editorials and one-sided presentation of the news.

These papers appeal to very human desires. The need for simplicity is one. The hope that individual selfishness leads to the common good is another. Irresponsible nationalism, the belief that ones own people are motivated by good desires and all other peoples by bad, is still another.

For instance, once a person believes that England (or Russia or France or Timbuctoo—as long as it is not the United States) is at the bottom of world troubles, everything is simple. He need never think of his own responsibility—he can blame everything through some remote connection with a foreign power. And if stories of starving in Europe and Asia are merely Communistic or British or New Deal propaganda, why can we not continue to stuff our own bodies?

Suppression is not the answer to a pernicious newspaper. Education is.

A university education, if it is successful, will do much to combat rabid socialism, New Dealism, Communism, republicanism, reaction, or any other one-sided view of a panacea to the world's ills. The spirit of free enquiry is opposed to any program that must suppress the evidence from the other side.

Thus few answers are learned in a university education. But there is acquired a humbleness that breeds not cynicism but a healthy scepticism which is the best guarantee against intolerance of any sort.

just a public servant, he declared; he didn't comment about what went on here.

And the Moscow delegate is a champion stayer-away. No, he didn't intend to go to the dinner at the Astor, where Winston Churchill was to speak. He'd stay home, but if he wasn't too busy and if his radio was working, he'd listen to the broadcast.

Gromyko stays away from many other functions which other nations' officials attend. He even stayed away from the security council meeting.

The day after Mr. Gromyko walked out of the security council, he played what might have been a trick on newsmen. He suddenly told them he "definitely was" going to the council meeting. Promptly on the hour, he stepped from the Russian consulate into his waiting limousine. Downtown in Manhattan, other reporters waited to see if the Soviet representative would show up. Council members waited too. Finally, they sighted the Russian's car as it approached the meeting place. It drove past.

Well, perhaps Mr. Gromyko was going to mail a letter. In a moment he drove by again. The waiting group gaped. Back at the Russian consulate, the reporters who saw Mr. Gromyko off to the meeting were just leaving. But back came the limousine with Gromyko still in it. Well, perhaps he had forgotten his wallet.

The reporters stood by to see the Russian delegate on his way again. Gromyko trotted into the building, looking very busy. The doors closed behind him. He didn't come out again that afternoon. The reporters were VERY bewildered.

The American press is likely to get the wrong kind of an impression from that kind of behavior. And, unfortunately, the Soviet delegate is identified with the official attitude of Russia.

If the delegate is cross-tempered, we get the impression that the whole U. S. S. R. is muttering under its breath. If Gromyko is furtive and suspicious, we feel that the entire Soviet is presenting an obstinate, surly attitude. We forget there never was a jollier fellow at a Big Three conference than Joe Stalin.

Beautiful Little Hilo

The destruction that befell the little town of Hilo on the island of Hawaii recently made many a tourist and Pacific veteran wince. Hilo was one of those places that the publicity agents could never overrate in tropical beauty.

Nestled cozily in a small bay at the foot of the moss-covered, black-rocked cliffs, the town was a postcard example of the much talked-about island beauty. From the tops of the cliffs, large and small water falls cascade down to the sea, while sugar cane and pineapple fields spread upward from the cliffs on the lower slopes of the island's two giant volcanoes. Everywhere there is beauty in the lush tropical vegetation, and it is one of those rare places where one can literally reach out the window and pick orchids from a tree.

To most, the word Hawaii always meant hulas, romantic nights, Waikiki beach, the Royal Hawaiian hotel and internationally populated Honolulu, but visitors were too often disappointed on Oahu to the north. The capital city was much like a small town on the mainland. Waikiki was vastly over-publicized. And army and navy installations stretching in all directions robbed the smaller island of much of its beauty.

More fortunate sight-seers often discovered after their initial disappointment that the real beauty of the Hawaiian area lies in the rural and little populated southern islands of Maui and big Hawaii with its picturesque town of Hilo.

Here was the tropical beauty and romantic setting of books and movies. Here were the romantic nights, where the days were peaceful and pleasant and where the scenery was beyond expectation.

When the news of Hilo's destruction reached the ears of former visitors, many expressed feelings of regret, and they tried to remember the little town at the foot of the waterfalls as they had last seen her.

News Behind the News...

WASHINGTON—While the Soviet threat to us, but now they are beginning to wonder if it is not a sign of Russian weakness at home.

Nearly 2,000,000 Russian troops were recently reported in this line of defense-in-depth—500,000 in Austria where no more than 50,000 could be used, if that many; 1,200,000 in back-up positions across Hungary and 250,000 Russian and Yugoslav troops facing the British a few miles back from the border of that nation.

Large Soviet Force (How many additional millions the Russians have in Germany, Poland, Rumania and Bulgaria, no one knows, but our whole army around the world is probably now half the total Russian force.)

Turks Helpless The Turks could not stop such a move without naval assistance from the British or us. Their frontier armies could easily be bypassed by Russian amphibious landings in their rear.

A late grapevine report to trustworthy authorities here indicates Russia is in no condition to try this, or any other major venture.

Her casualty list from the war has not yet been published and no one knows how many she lost, although military men start their guesses at the astonishing total of 10,000,000 killed and their estimates run up to 20,000,000.

At minimum, she is suffering a manpower shortage, made acute by critical shortages of farm tractors, locomotives and trucks to an extent where she cannot hope to supply her people with food and necessities.

Sets Lower Goals Economists noted Stalin's goals for the fourth five-year plan, to end in 1950, were lower than his 1942 goals in pig iron, steel, oil, locomotives, freightcars, paper, leather and some other phases. In short, his figures suggest he will fall short of pre-war production after four more years—if figures can be trusted.

The formidable military line he is maintaining against us through western Hungary and northern Yugoslavia with an advance outpost at Vienna, has been considered by American military authorities to be a

Urges Against Split

TO THE EDITOR: It has come to my attention that there are some factions on this campus agitating for a complete split between Greeks and independents. Because I am running for the position of delegate-at-large to the Student Council, I should like to clarify my own position on this important issue.

I believe that this campaign should not be a bitter fight between Greeks and independents. That would ultimately be extremely detrimental to both groups. Instead, we must decide whether there is enough student interest to justify the continued existence of the Student Council as such. Your vote in the coming election is the only way you can endorse the students' own organization.

I also believe that in voting, you have a second responsibility—to vote wisely. Voting for a coalition representing any group is risky business, because you are voting for an entire slate of candidates with one vote. You really have endorsed a political bloc. When you vote for an individual, however, you have your finger on him during his period of office. He is responsible to you, and he knows it. How easy it is for members of a coalition to follow the old army game of "passing the buck." The man elected alone can not.

Put the strength of your own convictions on your ballot. Herb Olson

Time for Action

TO THE EDITOR: After the comparatively quiet war years on the campus of S. U. I., this year's protests and counter-protests strike me as a welcome sign that a peacetime student body is beginning to "sit up and take notice." Some of the protests have been biased, some immature, but the fact that they are being written and read seems to me something worth shouting about.

In the '20's, serious contemplation of student responsibilities was not considered "sophisticated." In the '30's a far-reaching depression occupied most minds. In the early '40's global chaos reflected its horror even into quiet midwestern college towns.

Now, in 1946, we have a student body large in number and powerful in opportunity. To disregard the obligations of that opportunity to forfeit our right to the education we so often take for granted.

If there was ever a need for a united student body on this curiously disunited Big Ten campus, today sees it. With so much to do, we must work together in as efficient a common organization as can be formed. If the sororities and fraternities are not acting as agents for democracy and purposeful activity on this campus, the unorganized independents had better organize and do what they can to demobilize her armies and return her men to work.

In addition to organizing as one large group, SUIowans can help by supporting the smaller groups which are striving for a better university and a better world. This includes several young organizations newly begun or about to be started. The Student Council and the veterans' groups are examples. Another group recently formed and soon to hold its first meeting is the World Affairs Forum organized to acquaint us with foreign and domestic implications, so we may think and act wisely as citizens of the world.

The political ignorance of most college students is deplorable when we remember that these are the men and women whose vote will influence the future of all our lives. Shall it be an educated vote or an echo of lobbyist propaganda? Membership in such organizations can decide the answer.

Robert St. John tells us that thinking is actually becoming popular in some universities. Iowa—rich in its land, rich in its people, rich in its democratic thought—supports a university worthy of a thinking student body. These are not the times to shirk our responsibilities. The misery which stalks Europe's millions might have been ours, but for geography. Now that we alone of all nations have everything with which to do, what are we going to do with it? The answer to that

ENROLLMENT FOR FALL TERM, 1946-1947

Due to the great demand for admission for the fall term of the 1946-1947 school year, all candidates for enrollment in the colleges of liberal arts and commerce are urged by the University of Iowa to file their applications before Saturday noon, June 22. Admission to the professional schools and the graduate college will follow the same general pattern as in recent years. At the present time former University of Iowa students, students now enrolled in the university, all war veterans who are residents of Iowa, and other students with at least average scholarship ratings are being accepted for the fall term. A limited number of non-resident students are also being accepted on a highly selective basis. A definite preference is extended to residents of Iowa. While every effort will be made to accommodate the maximum number of students in the colleges of liberal arts and commerce, some restrictions may be required later on account of limitations of existing physical facilities. There will be a special registration period from May 8 to June 7 for students now enrolled who plan to attend either the summer session or the first semester, 1946-47.

Difficult Mr. Gromyko

Little Andrei Gromyko is a very earnest man. He tries hard to be a convincing representative of the Russian bear.

But Gromyko has an aversion toward newsmen. They bother him as much as the so-called Communists in this country bother us. So when reporters asked the Soviet envoy what he thought of Churchill's speech at Fulton, Mo., the ambassador blurted a nervous reply that he had nothing to say. He was

Darkhorses Lead in Masters

By GAYLE TALBOT
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio, and Chick Harbert of Detroit, a couple of long shots who played around strictly to the applause of their caddies, slipped in with a brace of very fine 69's yesterday to take a two-stroke lead over the nation's best golfers in the first round of the $10,000 Masters golf tournament.

But for the exceptional performance of this pair—Keiser shot a sizzling 32 on the first nine—the tough 6,800-yard Augusta national course, plus a roaring west wind, scored an almost complete victory over the boys who have been ripping lesser links apart during the winter. Each scored 71.

Only three entrants besides Keiser and Harbert succeeded in beating the course's stiff par of 72. They were Toney Penna of Dayton, Ohio, Vic Ghezzi of Knoxville, and Freddie Haas of New Orleans, the former amateur star who turned professional during the winter. Each scored 71.

Bracketed with the great Byron Nelson at 72 were Johnny Bulla of Phoenix Ariz., Jimmy Thomson of Los Angeles, and the amateur, Carey Middlecoff of Memphis who still is in the army. At 73 were Jim Turnesa of New York City and George Schneider of Salt Lake City.

Steeplechase Run Today
LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—Rain arrived with the late crowd last night but Prince Regent—an all-weather horse—remained the outstanding choice to win the 103rd running of the Grand National steeplechase today and upset a jinx that has followed the favorites since 1934.

Ben Hogan, co-favorite with Nelson to win the $2,500 first prize, wound up in a tie with five others including Sammy Sneed and Lawson Little, at 74. Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., Jim Ferrier of Chicago and Chandler Harper of Portsmouth Va., shared this august company. Jimmy Demaret, another past winner, took a rousing 75 along with the immortal Bobby Jones, Harold McSpaden and Dutch Harrison.

Faber, Ebner Iowa's Battery; Navy Strength Still Uncertain

OTTUMWA—The Iowa Seahawks and the Iowa Hawkeyes will open their respective baseball seasons together here today. The opener, which is scheduled to start at 4:30, will be followed by a second game tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Even the navy coaches, Lts. Ed Kersenbrock and Frank Bates, are still in the dark about the power of their navy team. A giant squad of cadets, officers and enlisted men has turned out for drills, but few of them boast much previous experience.

20-Man Iowa Squad Leaves This Morning; Outfield Jobs Unsure

A 20-man squad will carry Iowa's hopes for victory in a two-game opener against the navy Seahawks at Ottumwa today. The squad will leave by car at 10 this morning, returning tomorrow afternoon after the second game of the series.

Vogel indicated yesterday that two of his outfield posts were still uncertain, but named the following lineup as the one which will start for Iowa:

Dale Erickson, third base; Harry Rinkema, centerfield; "Doc" Dunagan, shortstop; Bill Diehl, first base; Don Thompson, second base; Jack Wishmier, leftfield; Bob Mikalojezak, rightfield; Lyle Ebner, catcher, and Bob Faber, pitcher. Lefty Jack Bruner will draw tomorrow's starting mound nod, Vogel said.

The complete traveling roster: catchers—Lyle Ebner, Roger Jorgenson; infielders—Bill Diehl, Don Thompson, Clarence Dunagan, Dale Erickson, Leo Cabalka, Keith Kafer; outfielders—Jack Wishmier, Harry Rinkema, Bob Mikalojezak, Larry Germuska, Don Makeever, Claude Cypra; pitchers—Bob Faber, Jack Bruner, John Crees, Al Kolarick, Fred Smith, Wesley Demro, Del Dickerhoff, former Iowa football guard, will make the trip as team trainer.

AAU Wrestling Meet Starts in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—With a wide open scrap for team honors in prospect, the National AAU wrestling championships get under way at the west side YMCA today and at least eight new individual titlists will be crowned in the finals Saturday night.

The Oklahoma City YMCA, winner of the team title in the 1945 tournament at Dallas, Tex., is not entered and only two of last year's top men in the ten weight divisions will be back to defend their laurels.

They are Dr. M. A. Northrup of the San Francisco Olympic club, who won the 165-pound championship in 1944 and 1945 and will go after his fourth straight national AAU title in the 155-pound class which he topped in 1943, and Richard Vaughan of the Lancaster, Pa., YMCA, the heavyweight champ.

Strong contenders for the team title include Southwestern Oklahoma Tech, the winner in 1937, U. S. Naval Academy, Alameda, Calif., naval air station, New Orleans Athletic club, San Francisco Olympic club, Iowa State college, Yale university and YMCA's of Wilkesbarre, Pa., Bridgeport, Conn., Baltimore, Md., Worcester, Mass., and New York City.

Wilson Seeks Hitting Power

With the opening game with Davenport but a week away Coach Gil Wilson is spending long hours in an attempt to build hitting power in the City high baseball squad.

Main problem of the Hawket coach is to find an outfield that can hit. The infield is almost set and is made up of veterans of last year's squad and members of Iowa City's Junior Legion team last summer.

Left handed Jim Sangster appears to be a fixture at the in-field sack with Bob Krall another veteran of last year's team at second. Bill Reichardt appears set at short and Charley Snook will round out the infield at third.

The mound staff is headed by Jim VanDeusen a member of last year's team and Sonny Dean who gained his pitching knowledge in Legion ball last summer.

The leading candidates for the backstop post are Corky Kelly and Bob Beales. Beales was originally an outfielder but the need for catchers caused the switch.

4-H Boys Play Cage Meet Here Tonight

Johnson county boys' 4-H clubs will play a basketball tournament in the University high school gym tonight starting at 7 o'clock.

The first game will place the Blue Ribbon winners from the east side of the county against the Cosgrove Hustlers. In the second contest the Victory 4-H club from west Johnson county plays the Hybrids, an all county team. The championship will be decided by these two winners.

Keith Wilson and Walter Geiger will referee. Thomas J. Davin and Frank Colony are timekeepers.

Seattle Chucker Hurls First No-Hitter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Seattle's Joe Demoran yesterday pitched the first no-hit, no-run game of 1946 in organized baseball to defeat the Los Angeles Angels, 3-0, in the Pacific Coast league.

Demoran, 30-year-old right-hander who won 20 games for the Rainiers last year, allowed only two batters to reach first base. Catcher Dewey Williams walked in the second and Bill Schuster was safe on George McDonald's error in the first. As both were quickly erased on double plays, Demoran faced only 27 batters.

19 Men to Represent Hawketts in Meet

Coach Wally Schwank tuned up City high indoor track drills and named a 19-man squad to represent the Little Hawks in the state class A indoor meet in the Iowa fieldhouse Saturday.

Heading the Hawketts in the meet will be the individual efforts of captain Bill Olson in the hurdles, Chug Wilson in the sprints and Tom Nichols in the 880-yard run.

Nichols will be forced to face the man who beat him in the Mississippi Valley meet two weeks ago, Dubuque's Dick Tupper. Tupper ran the 880 in that meet in 2:04.8 while Nichols turned a 2:09.5 time for his half. With the two weeks added training the race may prove to be the feature of the meet.

In addition coach Schwank will enter men in the high jump, pole vault, shot put and 440-yard dash. In the latter event Schwank will enter his sophomore letterman, Virgil Troyer who has been turning in .55 quarters this year.

Leo Zeithamel and Don Freyauf will bear the burden of the Hawketts in the shot put. In addition to the individual events City high will enter four relay events, the mile, the medley, the two mile and the 880.

459 Enter 'A' Meet Saturday

Two state high school outdoor champions and one title-sharer, in addition to several place-winners and stars of conference indoor meets, will be among the headliners in the state class A championship indoor track and field meet in the University of Iowa fieldhouse tomorrow afternoon and evening.

With 26 schools entering 459 men, the largest entry roster in years, the meet may produce some competition which should threaten several records.

Paul Sloan of Des Moines, East, will go after the mile record of 4:35.8, set in 1942 by Baxter of Davenport. He ran 4:32.3 in winning the state outdoor title last May.

In the shot put, Bob Nelson of Des Moines, North, will seek to add the indoor title to his outdoor crown and in the high jump Buford King of Des Moines, Roosevelt, sharer of the championship, will compete.

Most of the records, set over a period of many years, appear safe, but three athletes, on the basis of 1946 performances, may be capable of equaling marks. They are Tom Gaines of Cedar Rapids, Wilson, 60-yard low hurdles, who has run :07.2 (record :07); Jim Hayek of Davenport, 60-yard high hurdles, :07.7 (record :07.6); and Tom Priestner of Davenport, 50-yard dash, :05.5 (record :05.4).

Place-winners in the 1945 state outdoor meet who are entered here include: Keith Sanford, Cedar Rapids, Franklin, second in the mile; Bill Crow, East Waterlool, fifth in the mile; Jim McKinstrey, East Waterloo, second in the shot put and Harold Lutz of Clinton, second in the pole vault.

Browns Blast Bruins, 10-7

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns yesterday scored their eighth victory in 13 games with the Chicago Cubs, collecting 18 hits off four Cub pitchers to win, 10-7. The Cubs got 11 hits off Brown rookies John Miller and Chet Johnson.

Don Johnson sailed a 342-foot homer into left field in the third with a man on base to score the first two Cub runs.

Ohio State Favored In AAU Swim Meet

BAINBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Ohio State's strong swimming squad, with the Big Ten and NCCA titles already stowed away, faces a major hurdle starting today in its quest of a triple slam as contenders square away in the National AAU senior indoor championships.

With the great Bainbridge naval training center squad which captured 1945 honors broken up, the Great Lakes Bluejackets loom as the chief obstacle to the classy Buckeye aquatic aggregation.

In taking six out of 11 events in the NCCA last week, coach Mike Peppe's Ohio State stars headed by the double winners Jack Hill and Miller Anderson will face a big job against the national amateur tankmen. But Ohio State has an edge in team power.

Other team contenders will be the New York A. C. Ambassador Swimming club of Washington, United States naval training center, Newport, R. I., plus a wealth of individual club and unattached stars from all sections of the country.

Four of Ohio State's Big Ten championship basketball team have at least one year of eligibility left. Only senior is Captain Ray Snyder.
