CHIEF JUSTICE HARLAN STONE DIES

HARLAN F. STONE

Supreme Court Jurist Suffers Massive Cerebral Hemorrhage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone, 73, of the United States, died last night of a cerebral hemorrhage a few hours after he had been stricken ill on the bench of the supreme court.

His ailment had been originally diagnosed as a "small attack of indigestion" and complete rest for a few days at home was ordered for him by a doctor. A few hours later his death was announced.

Mrs. Stone and their two sons, Marshall Stone of Cambridge, Mass., and Lauson Stone, of New York City, were at the bedside when death came.

First word of the chief justice's passing came in a telephone call from his secretary, Miss Getrude Jenkins.

In a tense voice, she said: "The chief justice died of a massive cerebral hemorrhage at 6:45 p.m."

She gave no further details.

Stricken on Bench

The justice's illness dramatically interrupted the court session yesterday. It was the first time the court had convened after a three-week recess during which the opinions handed down yesterday were prepared.

Stone had worked hard during the recess, Elmore Cropley, clerk of the court, told a reporter, and probably had "over-taxed himself."

He was born Oct. 11, 1872, on a farm near Chesterfield, N. H.

President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, a Democrat, appointed Stone, a Republican, chief justice after the jurist became widely known in judicial circles as a "liberal."

He had been an associate justice for 16 years.

Seven on Bench

The death of Justice Stone left the court with only seven of its nine justices available. The work of presiding over the court now devolves upon Justice Hugh F. Black, pending the appointment by President Truman of a new chief justice.

When it became obvious during yesterday's session of the supreme court that Justice Stone was ailing, he was assisted from his chair at the center of the bench by the two justices who sit alongside him—Stanley F. Reed and Justice Black.

They supported him by the arms as he walked into the chambers behind the bench 15 minutes before the usual half-hour recess at 2 o'clock for lunch.

Stone had delivered two dissenting opinions in the hour and 45 minutes before his illness forced the recess.

Somewhat Pale

He was somewhat pale and his voice faltered a few times as he spoke, but neither of these matters was so unusual as to attract special notice.

More noticeable to persons familiar with him was a look of gray hair hanging over his forehead almost to his heavy horn-rimmed glasses. The slight disarray seemed odd for Stone.

The break-off of the session came after Reed had delivered an opinion, during which Stone had been seemingly engrossed in a sheaf of typewritten or printed pages held together by a paper clip.

There was a protracted silence after Reed finished. Several justices on both sides of Stone leaned forward and whispered in his direction.

Makes Remark

Then Stone spoke up loudly enough to be heard in the forefront of the room. His audible words included a remark that "the case should be stayed for investigation."

At this point the other justices seemed to realize that something was wrong. None spoke but all arose, bring everyone in the courtroom to his feet. Then the black-robed justices walked through the curtains behind the bench into privacy.

No explanation was given the crowd seated in the courtroom until all the judges except Stone filed back to the bench 45 minutes later and Justice Black said he would announce the remaining opinions "in the temporary absence and indisposition of the chief justice."

There were but three opinions, two of which Stone had prepared. Black disposed of them in less than five minutes.

With the Eighth fleet in the Atlantic (AP)—President Truman said last night he was "terribly shocked" to learn of the death of Chief Justice Stone.

Sen. Vandenberg Gives Support To $3 Billion Loan Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) yesterday placed his influence behind the $3,750,000,000 British loan proposal, without amendments.

He expressed dislike of some details. But he found "a final balance in favor of the bill in terms of intelligent American self-interest, which ought to be the determining factor."

The influential Republican stated his position for the first time in a major senate speech, delivered to a crowded chamber on the eve of his departure for the Paris foreign ministers meeting with Secretary of State Byrnes.

Rejection of the credit, he warned, might lead to an "economic war." In that case, he continued, the world would be forced into bilateral bartering, and that, "in this new age, is linked with state regimentation, the direct antithesis of what we hold dear."

Vandenberg gave the following reasons why he said the loan should be made:

"1. I cannot ignore the fact that our experienced leaders in trade and commerce, with a few significant exceptions, almost invariably recommend this loan.

"2. Without this loan Bretton Woods is all but nullified.

"3. We need not fear added imports to balance these new export accounts because the historical record discloses that, except for war periods, and restrictionist thirties, a nation's imports (even of manufacturers) have increased on an absolute basis as its home industry grew.

"4. Contrary to much fear that the loan will encourage the socialist regime in Britain, the fact is that a failure of the loan can force—to put it mildly—unintended socialization at emergency speed.

"5. Despite persistent prophecy to the contrary, I know of no reason why the loan should not be paid—unless the English speaking world is going to collapse.

"6. I do not consider that I am voting a precedent for any other loan because there is no other loan which could involve the factors embraced in this one.

"7. I think American labor has been wise to endorse this loan because stabilized world trade spells jobs.

Marshall Demands Proof of Warplane Attack on Communists

U. S. Headquarters Say No American Planes In Manchurian Area

CHUNGKING (AP)—General Marshall bluntly demanded of Chinese Communists yesterday that they prove, or publicly admit as a falsehood, their unconfirmed charges that U. S. warplanes twice attacked Communist forces in Manchuria and that they shot down an American flier.

A Chinese government military spokesman said the Communist accusation against the Americans was "a complete fabrication."

American army, navy and marine headquarters all reiterated that none of their planes had been in the Szepeingai area where the Communists alleged they were strafed last Wednesday and Friday.

Marshall's demand was made in a formal letter to Gen. Chou En-Lai, chief Communist negotiator. Chou said he knew nothing about it but had wireless his field commanders for information.

Pro-government dispatches from the Manchurian theater of warfare said Communist troops have "gathered like clouds" in the area of Changchun. The government's first army was making slow progress towards Kunchuling, with Changchun as its goal.

UNRRA Needs Coal Supply

La Guardia Appeals For Production to Aid Starving Countries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fiorello La Guardia, director general of UNRRA, yesterday asked idle coal miners and operators to produce 500,000 tons a month for countries being aided by his organization. He made his request "in the name of suffering humanity."

The former New York mayor said shipments of food for starving peoples are increasing. But many of these live far inland, he said, and coal is needed to power the trains which will carry the life-saving food to them.

No Delay

"The situation does not permit any further delay," he said in a letter to Ezra Van Horn, chairman of the national bituminous coal conference, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine workers.

He released the text of his appeal at a news conference.

La Guardia added: "UNRRA would of course be ready to pay any additional costs which might result from an adjustment in the price of coal following your present discussions."

Further Developments

La Guardia's request for a truce in the coal strike highlighted a day which saw the following UNRRA developments:

1. President Truman calling for continuing and increasing support of UNRRA in the names of conscience, prudence and self-interest.

2. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson saying that it would be impossible to supply UNRRA's request for 700,000 tons of wheat and flour a month.

3. La Guardia praising Argentina, often in the state department's doghouse, for its part in helping to reduce famine abroad.

Truman Sees Naval Practice

WITH THE EIGHTH FLEET OFF THE VIRGINIA CAPES (AP)—President Truman witnessed a demonstration of naval air warfare yesterday by a task group made up largely of "green" hands.

The simulated attack came about an hour and a half after the President was piped aboard Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's flagship, the Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mr. Truman boarded the 45,000-ton carrier at 7:10 a. m. (CST) from the presidential yacht Williamsburg. He and his party will remain aboard until tomorrow afternoon watching Eighth Fleet maneuvers, and the return to the Williamsburg for a week's cruise in the Chesapeake bay area.

Poisoning Total Reaches 2,283

Plot Against 15,000 Former S S Men Hits German POW'S

NERNBERG (AP)—Army authorities said last night that additional German prisoners of war have been stricken with arsenic poisoning, bringing to 2,283 the number taken ill in a mysterious plot against 15,000 former S.S. men confined in a camp near Nuernberg.

No deaths have resulted from the poisonings and none are expected, authorities said. Those most affected were the ones who ate most of their bread ration at one sitting last week, and 207 of them are in the hospital, seriously ill.

Col. Samuel T. Williams, commanding officer of the 26th infantry regiment, which guards the regiment of German prisoners in Stalag 13, seven miles from here, said the arsenic had been painted, presumably with a brush, on the bottoms of the loaves marked for delivery to the camp.

Four full bottles of arsenic and two empty bottles were discovered under the floor of the local bakery which made the delivery. The bread had been obtained under contract, in accordance with normal procedure in the occupation zone.

Russian Fighter Planes Fire on American C-47

VIENNA (AP)—In full view of a large crowd of American correspondents and army personnel at Tulln airport just outside Vienna, four Russian fighter planes fired shots yesterday off the wing of a United States army C-47 transport plane as it came in for a landing.

The incident occurred just a half hour before another plane bearing the party of 14 touring American publishers and editors landed at the field, which is in the Russian occupation zone.

Prisoners Threaten To Hang 10 Guards

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Holding army and police units at bay with light machine guns and grenades, 2,500 rioting prisoners in Milan's huge San Vittore jail threatened tonight to hang 10 guards captured as hostages during the 24-hour-old revolt.

Prisoners set fire to the jail and smoke curled from the roof as soldiers and police patrolled the area in light tanks and armored cars. During the day, scattered shots were fired by the police against the barricades thrown up by the rioters, who were reported to have seized enough ammunition and food to hold out for several days.

La Guardia said three ships have left Argentina already, three more are being filled, and 11 additional ships will be ready soon.

U. S. Launches 3-Way Program To Increase Output of Clothing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government last night launched a new three-way program designed to help achieve its goal of a 50 percent increase in output of inexpensive clothing.

The civilian production administration and the OPA announced: 1. An order effective May 1 which "freezes" for essential production the spindles turning out over 20 percent of the nation's cotton yarn.

2. A set-aside regulation intended to stem "the serious diversion of yarn deliveries away from essential clothing. CPA said this will assure yarn supplies to most important users.

3. A five percent increase in price ceilings for cotton yarn needed for low and moderately-priced garments.

CPA's spindle freeze order restores a wartime control which had been dropped last August. It is being revived, the agency said, "to check a 13 percent drop in yarn output during the past year."

CPA said its new yarn freeze will assure fabrics for such cotton items as shirts, shorts, pajamas, dresses and work clothing. In addition, the agency said, it is designed to help provide cotton materials used in men's suits, and in hosiery, underwear, shoe fabrics, zipper tapes, furniture fabrics, webbing, fish nets, tire cord, tobacco cord, cotton duck, corduroy, dewing thread, toweling, laundry nets, rubberized fabrics and shoe laces.

Under the freeze regulations, cotton spindles which produced certain yarns on Dec. 31, 1945, must be returned to manufacture of such yarns.

Porter Claims Public Wants Price Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Price Administrator Paul Porter expressed confidence yesterday that the opposition to his embattled agency "has reached its high point" and that "there is widespread public support for continued strong price control."

As he addressed a mass meeting of OPA workers, the senate banking committee was in an uproar over a remark by Arthur Besse, president of the national association of wool manufacturers, that OPA supporters have uttered "hokum of the highest order."

Senators Barkley (Dem., Ky.) and Tobey (Rep., N.H.) shouted protests against the language while Senators Millikin (Rep., Colo.) and Capehart (Rep., Ind.) defended the witness.

The committee, considering the senate's version of a bill to extend the OPA beyond its June 30 expiration date, also heard opposition to existing price controls from Douglas Whitlock, chairman of the advisory board.

Closing Argument

Prosecutor Norman Elkington, in his closing argument at Cline's forgery trial, made the charge in connection with the mysterious deaths of several women, who married the erstwhile choirmaster and subsequently died.

Mrs. Lewis, who came from Oakland, Calif., was one of two women whose estates Cline is charged with attempting to obtain by means of forgery. The other was the late Mrs. Eva Delora Krebs Cline, wealthy Chicago widow.

Japanese Seek Status Of Premier Candidate

TOKYO, Tuesday (AP)—The Japanese government will ask allied headquarters today to define the present status of liberal party President Ichiro Hatoyama as a prelude to conversations on formation of a new coalition government, Cabinet Secretary Wataru Narahashi said.

Hatoyama, under investigation for alleged pro-Fascist leanings, is the principal opponent of Kiijuro Shidehara who seeks to retain—or regain—the post of premier. The Shidehara cabinet resigned last night under pressure of opposition parties, but is serving until successors are named.

Narahashi said Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida would ask headquarters if it were permissible to invite Hatoyama to a conference of party leaders for selection of a new premier.

General MacArthur already had been informed by Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida of the cabinet's decision to resign.

Spurned Lover Shoots Sweetheart; Kills Self

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—A 26-year-old Wells county man shot and critically wounded his 19-year-old former sweetheart last night and then killed himself, Sheriff Samuel Gray of Delaware county reported.

Sheriff Gray identified the dead man as Kenneth Fear of Nottingham, and the wounded girl as Betty Jean Tatman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tatman of near Selma.

The sheriff said the girl's father gave him this account of the shooting:

Fear, with whom the girl broke off a four-year friendship last December, came to the Tatman home two miles south of Selma last night.

He told the family he had something he wanted to give the

"Cleaned Out"

Elkington charged that Cline "cleaned out" Mrs. Carpenter's bank account by writing two checks—one on the Florida National bank and the other on the First Federal Savings and Loan bank—both of St. Petersburg.

His voice bristling, Elkington said that those "women who registered with Cline in a hotel room, one day were ill on the second day, died on the third day and were cremated on the fourth day on Cline's signature."

Alma Carter and Alice Carpenter were the same woman, Elkington asserted.

Students and Iowa City Can't Afford to let OPA Be Killed

Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles has called for an uprising of public opinion against the house's curtailment of OPA. And unless we want to add the awful costs of inflation to the tremendous costs of war, that uprising must be quick in coming.

Many congressmen who were home for the Easter holidays are back in Washington today wondering if they weren't too hasty in removing price controls. They found that their constituents just plain don't like their action.

But if the public is to escape becoming the victim of the powerful lobbyists also in Washington today, the nation is going to have to protest loudly. If Iowa City residents and University of Iowa students want to escape, they must join the public's uprising by writing their congressmen.

Inflation would hit Iowa City particularly cruel blow.

The 3,000 student-veterans who bring Iowa City a sizeable part of its income would find it extremely difficult to make their G. I. subsistence checks stretch to meet their needs. They already find the $60 or $90 a month desperately little. If prices go up—as they will without OPA—many are likely to leave the university.

The argument for removing price controls seems to be that production is the most effective check to inflation. But production wards off inflation only when the supply can fill the demand, and congressmen apparently have forgotten that this is the year of our greatest demand.

Production can not possibly match the consumers' demands in time to stabilize our economy.

Where, for instance, are we going to get more food? The farmer already is producing at capacity. But the demand in the United States is greater than ever. And we also have the tremendous job of feeding Europe.

Recently, when the price ceilings on strawberries was removed, the price jumped from $7.50 a crate to $10.50 a crate in a single day and continued rising.

If price controls on food are removed the result will be curtailed diets for millions. As one senator put it: "Yes, there will be plenty of meat in butcher stores because few people will be able to afford to buy it. There won't be any shortages in the meat market, perhaps, but there will be shortages on the family dinner table."

And how about housing? One reason for the shortage today is that many families now can afford something better than the slums they were jammed into in the 1930's. But if controls are removed and prices soar, those families will be forced back into the dingy, dirty tenements. Two families will be living in a place large enough for one because of the high costs—and the shortage will be eased. But future profits will be sacrificed for the slight gain of today.

Nor will there be any low-cost housing within reach of veterans if prices on materials are permitted to climb.

The "supply" of the automobile industry already is many hundreds of thousands of cars behind the "demand." Will the supply catch up to the demand overnight after OPA is killed? No. Hence, prices will go sky high.

If OPA in its present form isn't continued, prices are sure to begin spiraling. And wages, despite all efforts, will lag behind, increasing only fast enough to stimulate the rush to "get rid of your money and get something tangible, some goods, for it."

Hoarding at every level would be encouraged, for tomorrow's prices would certainly be better than today's. The country would be handed over to "smart entrepreneurs" and to the more scheming consumers. Eventually nobody would want to hold money even overnight—we would have frantic buyers bargaining with reluctant sellers.

Already some so-called foresighted people are planning a "hedge" against the time when money will be useless and only goods will have value. Some of these have begun to turn their cash into assets for barter when the crash comes.

Iowa City and University of Iowa students can not afford inflation. To save themselves, we must make the public's voice heard—now—by congress! Write your congressman today.

MORE RARE AMERICAN BIRDS FACING EXTINCTION

Paul Mallon's News Behind the News...

WASHINGTON—The leading article a few weeks back in the "Art Digest", a trade bi-weekly, presented "George Inness Re-evaluated"—which is to say, a great American landscapist of the middle nineteenth century has been revalued upward in appreciation by his profession.

More than that, the article was a reaction to a show of 47 oils of Inness exhibited in the emergent Springfield, Mass., museum. I fear to be shown in Brooklyn and Montreal.

Re-Discover Ryder Two weeks afterward, the same publication rediscovered Albert Ryder, whom it hails as "America's great romantic who found that 'something beyond'—as he superiorly did. It points out Ryder, who composed 150 works, never had a one-man show during his lifetime.

A leading photographic weekly, a few weeks back, furnished a representative group of George W. Bellows, advertising the presentation as "an American master of realistic painting comes into his own with big memorial show." The always realistic Chicago Art Institute made the collection for an exhibition.

This is all American art needs, a fair showing and a hearing which has been denied it. There are other numerous incidents of similar promotional nature which show the people who can do the job are taking hold, as this column started demanding some months ago.

But the trend must expand and continue for several years before our art can get its proper place in the popular mind, which has been confronted for so many generations with European and lately our own thought-environment, to non-existent beauty—surrealism, non-objectivity and such popular metaphysical attacks upon our realistic senses.

Exposure of Art An exposure of this delusive metaphysical art has now been published by the New York Times artist, S. J. Woolf, in an article asking: "Is it art or is it double talk?"

He likens our recent art status to that of the nation in the famous Anderson fairy tale, where two foreign fakirs came in and deluded an entire nation by getting the people to bring them gold from which they were to weave gold garments, and they succeeded in getting the emperor to dress first in non-existent clothing and all the people to go into rapture over it for fear they would be considered stupid, but finally a little child who saw the surreal parade shouted: "Why, the emperor has no clothes on." Whereupon the people shook off their hypnotized state of thought-control and saw the child was right.

Woolf blames the art dealers mostly, and does not mention the Communist psychological inspiration for our stupidity, which I think any philosopher not clothed in imaginary gold raiment himself, can realize after investigation.

If Woolf does not realize the political inspirations of this art, the believers in it do. The problem and the remedy is greater than Mr. Woolf suspected. It is more than a fault of the dealers. They will sell what the public wants and unless the public is hoodwinked by metaphysical means—it will not buy such delusions.

Must Break Control The problem, then, is to break up such metaphysical controls over the people and the way to do it is not only by direct realism, but by metaphysical means to establish the normal senses and common sense.

We must not only show our own real art and establish its proper place to the open minds of our people, but break the controls from the totalistically deluded.

I do not think this is needed in art as much in politics, because in art people are confronted with a visible object and under any normal circumstances can, in bulk, and as a people, protect themselves such an imposition upon their normal intelligence and imagination.

But in politics, world politics, there is dire and critical need for realism, and a necessity for exposure of those who have established unrealistic politics to dupe the people. They should always be required to face the facts in UN and elsewhere, upon all printed pages, through all microphones.

Do not let our people fall for any non-existent beauties of politics or art. Make the fakirs prove their case before the bar of common public with their controls off—in UN or in art museums—or better yet, break up their metaphysical controls. In any way possible, save the people from the delusions of surrealism in metaphysical politics.

Interpreting The News...

What do Chinese Communists hope to achieve in accusing American pilots of strafing them?

Perhaps no one but a Chinese Communist could answer that, but the accusation seems to emphasize such a possibly grave switch in their attitude toward the United States that it needs to be examined.

That attitude, long fairly open-minded, seems growing more hostile.

Assuming, as our own army people tell us, that there were no American war planes anywhere near Szejingka, the report is either:

- (1) A propaganda dream-up, or
(2) A rumor picked up for propaganda purposes.

In considering the rumor angle, keep in mind that rumors arise and spread in China—as elsewhere—in direct proportion to the lack of news and communications, the temper of the people, and what they would like to believe.

China thus has fertile soil for rumors. And Communist China, professedly fearing unqualified American help to Chungking, may welcome any real or fancied ground for such fear—as propaganda material.

The lurid detail about shooting down an American aviator in one of the planes is just a matter of making a good story better.

However, when the Communists say the wings of the planes bore "white stars," one should remember that the Chinese word for star is no more precise than the English. It could mean either the 12-pointed Kuomintang star or the 5-pointed star of the AAF.

If the intent to propagandize was deliberate, it may be noted that the report was circulated by the Communist news agency, not by the Communist government, which leaves the government a way out if it wants one.

What the accusation seems to mean is that extremists in the Communist camp have gained the upper hand and are pressing their advantage—not only to achieve the physical occupation of Manchuria, but also to create as much public indignation in America as possible over this alleged American intervention on the Chungking side of an internal Chinese dispute.

If this latter purpose is real, the Communists probably don't understand the American people.

Danger at Hawkeye Village

Motorists and residents of Hawkeye Village must be doubly careful these days to avoid death or injury to the children of students living in the trailer camp.

Yesterday, a young boy stood in Iowa avenue by the driveway to the Village and watched, fascinated, as the cars drove by him. A careless driver might have brought tragedy to that young child.

The university has erected fences and other safety measures around the trailer camp. But children somehow have a knack for getting through fences.

Mothers should be certain that their children don't stray out of the driveway into the street. Motorists are inclined to accelerate as they go down Iowa avenue and across the bridge, and in those narrow lanes it would be difficult to avoid a child who had suddenly stepped into the traffic.

Safe at South Pole

It's small comfort to know that about the only place in the world a person would be safe in event of an atomic war is at the South Pole. And he would be safe there only if he could tunnel deep enough into the ice cap.

The Antarctic ice cap, says a professor of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, is 1,800 feet thick. It would take 100,000 years to produce enough uranium-235 to destroy the cake. That would cost $660,000 billion, about 2,500 times the national debt.

But of course the first bomb might hit the tunnel opening to the Antarctic's underground shelter and close it. That would be as deadly as destroying the whole ice cap.

And besides, who could live at the South Pole? So there really isn't anyplace that will be safe from an atomic bomb.

Illinois police nabbed a vagrant a man who was wearing 10 shirts, 10 coats, 10 pairs of pants and four caps, and carrying a whisk-broom and a Chinese newspaper. The newspaper was the clue—the whole thing was a Chinese puzzle to the cops.

"The folk who used to brag about the mileage they got out of their old car now boast of how much they had to pay for the new one.

A highly elastic nylon has been produced. However, don't get your hopes up, girls—even with the new fabric you can't stretch one pair into two.

Covering The Capital

By Jack Stinnett

A Woman Is Official Guardian Of Our 20 Billions in Gold

(By VIRGINIA VAN DER VEER)

(For Jack Stinnett)

WASHINGTON—The small, white-haired woman walking toward the White House looked like someone's favorite grandmother out for a stroll.

She wore a lavender-flowered blouse and a spring hat. She was bringing a small, square package to President Truman.

You might not guess it but Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross is the official guardian of 20 billion dollars in neat gold and silver bricks. "Of course it's out in Ft. Knox and Denver," says Mrs. Ross stoutly, "but it's my job to see that it stays there."

The sprightly little director of the United States mint had a present for the president—his likeness on the traditional bronze medal made, since George Washington, in honor of each chief executive.

In her big office, a baseball pith from the treasury department, Mrs. Ross handles her man-sized swivel chair with dignity and ease. She's used to this throne of an executive. Her first was the governor's chair of Wyoming, where in 1925 she made news as the country's first woman governor.

Mrs. Ross became the first woman to hold the nation's purse-strings when President Roosevelt moved her to the mint in 1933 from vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Wartime found Mrs. Ross up to her ears in business. "Everybody wanted coins," she reminisces, "for pay envelopes, stamp machines, telephones, chewing gum, the latest song—all those nickel-in-the-slot affairs."

"The army and navy wanted medals. Foreign countries asked us to make their coins. It kept our mints going 24 hours, seven days a week. Why last year we turned out 45 tons of coins every day."

Mrs. Ross said this meant many more tons of metal were being tossed around daily. "Like making biscuits," she explained, "You have to put the scraps together and roll it all out again."

In four years, says Mrs. Ross, her china-blue eyes wide at the thought, she's directed the making of one-third as many coins as have been turned out in the country's history.

Though she doesn't think international robbers are likely to make a stab at it, alert Mrs. Ross isn't taking any chances with the gold and silver of which she is legal guardian. Patrolmen at the depositories are in daily contact with her Washington office, ready to call out the army, navy and marines in case of bigtime burglars.

An early Roosevelt appointee, Mrs. Ross is one of the few to weather 13 years at her post. Though she confesses she first thought the mint would be a "cold, impersonal place," she's since decided it's her favorite working spot.

On the little finger of her left hand, Mrs. Ross wears a United States dime mounted on a silver band.

"In case," twinkles the lady who keeps a nation's change, "I forget my bus fare."

SUI Wife Specializes In— Home Made Bread

—Tells Baking Recipes

By LEE ANDERSON

In an age of modern bakeries it is news when one university woman declares she bakes all her own bread for a family of four hungry people. She is Mrs. Sidney Winter, 517 Templin road, whose husband is an instructor in the commerce department.

"I guess I was just inspired about three years ago when I began making my own bread," Mrs. Winter said. She baked all the family bread and rolls regularly for several years; then, with the return of the school year, began to use store bread again. "But," she smiled, "that didn't last long, for my family started complaining, so now I bake about twice a week."

Doing all the baking does not mean too much extra work, she explained, but it does have to be done on a day when you are going to be home, for it involves watching and timing. Mrs. Winter uses a fairly standardized bread recipe but has added and developed several tricks of her own. Her recipe is as follows:

- 2 cups scalded milk
- Add 3 tablespoons shortening
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 yeast cake
- 1 tablespoon salt

Mrs. Winter uses half lard and half butter for shortening and prefers compressed yeast to the granulated type for its speed. She puts the mixture of milk, water, shortening and sugar and salt in a mixing bowl and beats in four cups of flour. She uses an electric beater and lets it run until the dough has lots of air bubbles in it. Then she adds three cups of additional flour, stirred in by hand, and divided into loaves and put in pans. She lets it rise two hours and bakes 15 minutes at 425 degrees F., then reduces the heat to 375 degrees and bakes an additional 30 minutes. This makes three standard size loaves of bread.

Often Mrs. Winter sets aside a little dough and puts it in the refrigerator for fry cakes or bread sticks. If pushed down every day, dough stored in this way will keep almost a week.

The Winter family likes these bread sticks with strong cheese or just butter and jam for a late afternoon or evening snack. Mrs. Winter rolls the chilled dough very thin—almost as thin as pie crust—and cuts strips half an inch wide and about seven inches long. The dough should rise about an hour then bake at 300 degrees F. until brown and crisp.

Fry cakes are an old family dish, Mrs. Winter said. "Mr. Winter's mother's mother made them, and his mother taught me," she explained. The chilled dough is rolled thin and cut in strips about two inches wide and five inches long. They are dropped about three at a time into a kettle of hot fat and fried like doughnuts. They are sprinkled with powdered or granulated sugar and eaten immediately. They must be eaten while hot and the Winters like them for breakfast.

BUSILY DEVOURING a slice of his mother's fresh home-baked bread is Joe Winter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Winter, 517 Templin road. Joe can give ample testimony that home-baked products far surpass the store variety in tastiness and freshness.

Pan-America Invites Good Eating

With emphasis on Latin and Pan-American relations many cooks find an exchange of recipes with our southern neighbors is interesting as well as an adventure in good eating.

Chicken Miramar, which comes from Cuba, is a particularly succulent dish and provides main dish goodness for a tempting meal.

- Chicken Miramar
- 1 frying chicken, disjointed
 - 1/2 cup fat or salad oil
 - 2 cups water
 - 1 can button mushrooms
 - 1/4 cup diced pimento
 - 3 cups rice
 - 2 cups cooked peas

Brown chicken on all sides in hot fat or salad oil. Add water, simmer one hour, or until tender. Sauté mushrooms and pimento in a little butter or margarine until mushrooms are golden brown. Place chicken in rice on platter. Surround with mixture of peas, mushrooms or pimento. Make gravy from stock in which chicken was cooked. Serves four.

Mexico's Pollo Con Naranja or chicken with orange juice, is a close rival in tastiness with chicken miramar.

- Pollo Con Naranja
(Chicken with Orange Juice)
- 1 frying chicken, disjointed
 - Salt and cayenne
 - 1/2 cup fat or salad oil
 - 1/2 cup blanched almonds
 - 1/2 cup seedless raisins
 - 1/4 cup water
 - 1 cup grated pineapple, optional
 - 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/4 teaspoon cloves
 - 2 cups orange juice
 - 2 tablespoons flour
- Season chicken with salt and cayenne; brown on all sides in fat or oil. Add almonds, raisins, pineapple, spices and orange juice. Cover, simmer one hour or until chicken is tender. Make a smooth paste of flour and water; add gradually, stirring in with fork. Simmer 10 minutes longer or until gravy thickens. Serves four.

Week-Long University Campus Chest Drive Begins Monday

Three Groups Will Benefit From Collection

Student Council Plans To Set Up Campaign As Yearly Institution

The Student Council-sponsored Campus chest drive will begin Monday and continue through Friday of next week, Howard Hensleigh, L2 of Iowa City, chairman, said yesterday.

Pattered after the Community chest, the campaign was adopted by the Council to provide a way for students to give to worthy causes without being harassed by collections throughout the year. Hensleigh said that the Council plans to eliminate needless duplication of various drives and make Campus Chest a permanent Iowa institution.

Three Beneficiaries

Beneficiaries of the Campus Chest are the Nile Kinnick Scholarship fund, the World Student Service fund and the Cancer Prevention association, which will receive a smaller portion of the total collection.

These funds were chosen, Hensleigh said, because they seemed to be causes to which students would like to give. "The W.S.S.F. will help students all over the world attend schools, the Nile Kinnick Scholarship fund will help students go to school here at Iowa, and the Cancer Prevention fund provides research money to help battle one of our worst and least understood diseases," he explained.

Kept Schools Open

The W.S.S.F., providing the essentials of life for both students and professors, kept schools in China open even though they were constantly on the move inland to avoid war-torn areas. Now working in Europe for uninterrupted fostering of educational systems, Hensleigh said, the W.S.S.F. needs twice the amount in contributions they have in past years.

The purpose of the Nile Kinnick Scholarship fund is to bring worthy students of the Kinnick type to the University of Iowa. To qualify for the scholarship, men must have all the qualities Kinnick himself had—scholastic ability, a strong character and athletic ability.

Living Memorial

Explaining that the scholarship is not to honor Kinnick alone, Hensleigh added that the founders of the fund decided that rather than present the university with a stone and mortar remembrance

Senior Ball Theme Decorations to Show Huge Diploma

Decorations for the senior ball Friday night, first since 1944, will carry out a commencement theme and will feature a huge diploma tied with the traditional Old Gold ribbon against a black velvet backdrop. Novelty programs will be in the shape of miniature diplomas also tied with Old Gold ribbon and will certify the bearer as a senior ball graduate.

Jimmy Caton and his ten-piece orchestra will provide the music from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the main lounge of Iowa union. Tickets will go on sale at the main desk this morning.

Previously, the ball, one of the big four of the year, has been strictly formal but this year, due to the clothing shortage, the dance will be semi-formal. Friday night will be a special 1:30 night for university women attending the dance.

Members of the committee in charge of the dance are George Phetteplace, L4 of Iowa City, chairman; Martha Garrett, C4 of Des Moines; Edna Herbst, A4 of Newton; Marilyn Nesper, G of Toledo, Ohio; Shyree Cole, N4 of Orion, Ill.; Kathleen Jungman, P4, Pat Schloesser, A4, and Frank Park, E4, all of West Branch.

of university students who died in World War II, they would create a living memorial to help carry on the contributions these students and alumni would have made had they lived.

Donors who contribute $1 or more will be entitled to wear a small gold and black campaign badge. The drive will be conducted through housing units and several collection points on the campus and at Iowa Union.

Charlotte Vannice Marries Joseph Cuba In Ceremony at Catholic Student Center

In the presence of 50 guests, Charlotte Vannice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vannice of West Liberty, became the bride of Joseph F. Cuba, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cuba of St. Louis, Mo., at 10:30 yesterday morning in the St. Thomas More chapel of the Catholic student center here.

The Rev. J. Ryan Beiser officiated at the double ring ceremony at an altar banked with lilies and spring flowers. Leo Cortimiglia played organ music and Thomas Fitzpatrick of Reynolds Ill., sang "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy."

Patricia Vannice, sister of the bride, who came from Mt. St. Clare academy in Clinton, was maid of honor. John Judge of St. Louis, Mo., was best man and ushers were Louis Cuba of St. Louis, and James Kimball of Al-ledo, Ill. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She designed her white gown made of silk sent from Tokyo by her brother, Robert Vannice. It was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline edged in white lace, draped shoulders, shirred bodice, short draped sleeves and full skirt. With it she wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and net gloves. Her three-tiered, lace-edged veil was held in place by a chaplet half-hat and her bouquet was a white nosegay of gladioli centered with a gardenia.

Her maid of honor wore a gown of pale blue, styled like that of the bride. Seed pearls were scattered over her shoulder length veil of blue net and her cap was edged in pearls. She carried a nosegay of spring flowers. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hageboeck, 437 Hutchinson avenue, with whom Miss Vannice had been making her home while a student in the university. A white centerpiece, pink tapers, and a two-tiered wedding cake decorated the bride's table. Dining room hostesses were Mrs. Robert E. Vannice of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and Margaret Fitzpatrick of Reynolds, Ill.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Minneapolis. For traveling, Mrs. Cuba chose a brown suit with a yellow blouse and a belted flannel topper. Her outfit was completed with brown gloves and shoes, and a white hat with a gray veil. The couple will be at home after April 30 at 437 Hutchinson avenue.

Mr. Cupp was graduated from Tipton high school and is a student at the University of Iowa. He recently was discharged after completing three years of service.

DICKIE PICKS HIS EASTER BASKET

RICHARD ROLING, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Roling of Early, was having a difficult time trying to decide which Easter favor he would most like to have from the selection of baskets, colored eggs and candy donated by over fifteen units of the American Legion Auxiliary in this part of Iowa. Dickie, who has been a patient in Childrens' hospital in Iowa City for some time, was well pleased with his final selection of a chocolate egg and devoured it immediately. The hospital staff, on behalf of the children, wish to thank all donors for the Easter gifts.

Johnson County American Veterans Committee To Launch Campaign for Continuance of OPA

Meeting Set Thursday To Frame Resolution, Plan Local Petition

The Johnson county chapter of the American Veterans committee this week will launch a campaign for the continuance of OPA, Chairman Lawrence Dennis said yesterday.

A special meeting to map out plans for the campaign has been scheduled by the veterans group for 7:30 p. m. Thursday, at the Unitarian church.

John Bradbury, chairman of the AVC housing and OPA sub-committee, will lead the discussion of ways and means of creating public support in the city and county for extension of price controls.

"In line with our motto of 'Citizens first, and Veterans second,' we feel that the AVC should take the lead in the fight for extension of the OPA," Norman Garmezy, chairman of the Johnson county chapter's legislative committee, stated yesterday.

A resolution expressing the chapter's sentiment on the price control question will be framed at the meeting, Dennis said. The resolution will be sent to the national office of the AVC where action reflecting the opinions of the local chapters will be taken.

It will be proposed at the meeting that the chapter frame a petition in support of the OPA to circulate among citizens, Garmezy Johnson county citizens, Garmezy said.

Plans are being completed for the constitutional convention of the AVC which will be held in June at Des Moines.

Speakers who will address the convention include: Henry Wallace, secretary of commerce; Harold Stassen; Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers; CIO; Senator Wayne Morse; Congressman Mike Monroney; Mrs. Anna Rosenberg; and Will Rogers Jr.

The organization has been operating on a temporary committee basis since its beginning in 1943. A permanent constitution and permanent officers will be voted upon at the June convention.

THEY'RE LAWYERS—YOU CAN TELL BY THE CANES

Old Custom Resumed As SUI Law Students Carry Canes Again

With the war over and university life rapidly returning to normal, traditions temporarily discontinued are being resumed. In this line falls the practice of cane-carrying by senior law students.

According to Dean Mason Ladd of the law college, the custom goes back so far "that the memory of man knoweth not to the contrary." The tradition stems from the English barristers practice of carrying canes to distinguish them from the solicitors.

Proof of the fact that lawyers keep their canes is President Virgil M. Hancher who still has the one he carried as a student in law in 1924. Dean Ladd lost his at a football game but the cane he has now was purchased by his father in London about 30 years ago and is a real barrister's cane.

Before the war, each class had a distinctive cane and every member of the class carried the same kind. Because of the shortage of canes that exists today, it is not possible to get many of the same kind but the tradition is being revived with full color.

Classes to Resume At 8 This Morning

Classes will resume at 8 o'clock this morning after a five day holiday, the first Easter vacation at the university in five years.

Students in medicine and dentistry, still on an accelerated schedule, attended class as usual while the rest of the university was on vacation.

Dr. Gustav Egloff Predicts New Synthetic Tires Using Butyl Rubber Will Be Safer

"Tires using butyl rubber, the new synthetic development of the war, will ensure safer driving than ever before," Dr. Gustav Egloff of the Universal Oil Products company, Chicago, told the Iowa section of the American Chemical society last night at the chemistry building.

"During the war, butyl rubber was used in airplane, truck and jeep innertubes and proved to be far safer than natural rubber. At 18 cents a pound, synthetic rubber is now competing with natural rubber and due to wartime experiments and research, the United States is 100 percent independent of natural rubber.

"Tires can now be constructed with greater safety and life through the use of different types of rubber for different parts of the tire. It is possible to build a formula tire using a certain type of rubber for the inner tube, a certain type for the tread, and another type for a different section of the tire," Egloff said.

Great strides have also been made in lubricating oils during the war. Most oils used previously were not adequate for extreme temperatures. At high altitudes guns jammed because lubricating oils caked. New developments remedied this defect.

Egloff believes automobile engines for the next few years will use 1942 motors instead of advancing with the developments in associated industries.

There is a definite trend in mission charge.

petroleum refining towards high market value products, he said. To industries developing newer chemical techniques using petroleum and natural gas in place of coal tar, a greater number of products are available. Coal tar products are aromatic in character, whereas varied petroleum and natural gas products are opening new vistas in chemical research.

Methods of decreasing the knock ratings of automobile gasoline and of cracking gasoline to produce high octane gasolines were described.

In the postwar era, Egloff said, there will be an enormous development of special petroleum products to benefit the consumer.

56 High Schools Enter Relays

DES MOINES (AP)—Three more additions in the high school field of the Drake relays to be staged this weekend arrived yesterday, after being delayed in the mails.

Latest entrants were East Waterloo, Dallas Center and Pleasantville. This raised to 56 the number of prep schools enrolled in this year's 37th annual meet.

It is the largest total since 1938 when the same number of teams were at Drake. A total of 653 individual performers have been entered by high schools.

Crosby Sells Del Mar Club

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby has sold his nearly half million dollar interest in Del Mar turf club, but he's not out of the racing game.

A syndicate represented by I. H. Prinzmetal and Arnold M. Grant announced yesterday that it had acquired controlling interest—1,100 of the 2,500 shares—in Del Mar for $640,000.

Prinzmetal said it had given Bing $481,250 for his 875 shares. Small blocks were bought from other Hollywood figures, Prinzmetal said.

Larry Crosby, Bing's brother-business manager, said Bing still retained his interest in Binglin Stables, which the crooner operates jointly with Gin Howard. "Only a few horses," Larry said, are currently on the Binglin string.

Grant said Charles H. Carr, U. S. attorney here, had been named president of the turf club.

New directors include Jerry Geisler, Los Angeles attorney and former chairman of the California horse racing board; Donald B. Smith, San Diego business man, and Michael Todd, movie and stage producer.

Bing's disposal of his track interest does not mean he is going into baseball, Larry said. Bing has been mentioned as possible buyer of the Boston Red Sox. Larry said Bing sold because he had too many other interests.

Hawks Can't Hit?—Neither Can Opponents

As Iowa heads into its second big week of Big Ten baseball competition, Coach Otto Vogel has several things to be happy about to balance out his worries.

Maybe his Hawkeys aren't hitting the old apple the way they used to in the prewar days, but then, NEITHER ARE THE OPPOSING TEAMS. Iowa has tallied 42 runs in eight games so far and garnered 70 hits off enemy pitchers.

They call that weak hitting. Yet, the eight opposing teams have been mighty glad to get a total of 10 runs through their combined efforts, and only 42 hits. That's an average of 5.25 hits per game, and 1.25 runs.

Last Friday and Saturday the Hawks slipped the surprise to lots of folks—including a bunch of ball players from Purdue—with a double win over a team that had a terrific slugging reputation before hitting Iowa City. The Boiler-makers had beaten Butler, 21-2, and Illinois Normal, 25-0.

Iowa averages .264 as a team—not bad, but not too high with teams like Notre Dame, Wisconsin and Illinois still on the slate. Only three regulars—Lyle Ebner, Keith Kafer and Doc Dunagan—are clearing the .300 mark, and pitchers Bob Faber and Jack Bruno boast averages that help the team's total along.

Because the game originally scheduled with Upper Iowa for today has been cancelled, the Minnesota series Friday and Saturday will be Iowa's next outing. Friday the Gophers fell before our Iowa State cousins, 12-1, but Saturday the shoe was on the other foot as Minnesota won, 11-4.

This weekend will see all of the Big Ten teams in action in conference play. Five of the schools are slated for these games today:

Butler at Indiana; Notre Dame at Purdue; St. Thomas at Minnesota; Michigan State at Michigan and Valparaiso at Northwestern.

This weekend's schedule, which promises to separate the men from the boys, looks like this:

Friday and Saturday—Chicago at Michigan, Illinois at Ohio State, Indiana at Northwestern, Minnesota at Iowa.

Saturday Wisconsin will play at Purdue in a doubleheader. Following is the complete summary of Iowa hitting to date.

'Leo The Lip's' Assault Trial Gets Underway

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and known to millions of baseball fans as "Leo the Lip," was a meek observer yesterday as his trial on charges of assaulting a fan last June 9 got under way in Kings county court.

But there were fireworks—this time by Durocher's counsel, Hyman Barshay—who shouted a denial that money had been paid in a civil action to "beat the rap."

Assistant District Attorney John E. Cone referred to payment of $6,750 which John Christian, 22, a war veteran, said he was paid out of court after a civil action had been brought.

Youngsters Replace Old Hands

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers are discovering that when you send a boy out on a man's errand the kid sometimes gets lost and you have to send the old man out to fetch him home.

Manager Leo Durocher had to call on a couple of these human St. Bernards last Saturday when the kids he has playing in his outfield as part of Branch Rickey's youth movement began to stumble and sag in the game with the Giants. The old men brought the boys home in front.

The old men in this case were Dixie Walker, the "people's choice," and Augie Galan, another veteran whose sin seems to be not that he can't play winning baseball, but that he was born too soon. Mr. Rickey is picking his team by the calendar this year.

Walker and Galan have been riding the bench this season while less-experienced, and probably less capable, players have been cavorting in the outfield on the theory that today's losses are tomorrow's victories and the kids getting their practical schooling will in future years more than make up for their mistakes now.

Galan, pinch hitting in the seventh, singled to drive in two runs and put the buns in the lead, and Walker, pinch hitting in the eighth, blasted the first pitch for a home run to tie the

Mrs. Connie Mack Discloses Separation From A's Manager

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Cornelius McGillicuddy, wife of the owner-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics baseball club, yesterday disclosed that she and Connie Mack have separated.

Mrs. McGillicuddy said the separation followed Mack's distribution of more than half of his stock in the ball club among his three sons, Earle, Roy and Connie Jr.

"I learned in October about his transfer of the stock," she said. "I went to St. Petersburg, Fla., in December and asked him about it. He said it would be all straightened out in two or three years. He is 83, and life is too uncertain to anticipate what may happen in the next two or three years."

"I returned here the first of January, and later he sent word that he was not returning and that he was sending for his clothes."

Both she and Mack are living apart at present, Mrs. McGillicuddy said. In New York with his teen, Connie Mack told reporters: "Things will be straightened out in a short time. I have no comment to make. This is a personal matter and I hope people will regard it as private and keep out of it."

Little Hawk Tennis Season Starts Today

City high's fourth spring sport gets underway this afternoon when the Little Hawk tennis team journeys to Ft. Madison to meet the Bloodhounds in the first dual of the year for both schools.

The Hawklet team under the tutelage of Herb Cormack expects strong competition from the river school.

Heading the efforts of the Hawklet netmen will be Bob Freeman and Lenard Strasburg.

Both singles and doubles matches will be played.

score after the Giants had again gone ahead.

In the ninth Galan again singled, and eventually scored the winning run, and Dodger fans who have been peeved by the absence of Dixie and Augie from the regular lineup were in a position to do a lot of finger pointing.

In most businesses a man keeps his job as long as he is better at it than a replacement might be. In baseball, it seems, the man is shoved aside to make room for a younger man who it is hoped eventually will be as good.

Somehow it doesn't make sense.

VanDeusen to Hurl For Hawklets Today

Jim VanDeusen will be Gil Wilson's choice to start on the mound for City high this afternoon when the Little Hawks meet Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids in the Parlor City at 3 o'clock.

The big right-hander holds one victory this year when he pitched a five-hitter to pace the Hawklets to a 14-3 win over Lone Tree in the season's opener.

The rest of the Iowa City lineup will remain the same as the one that started for the Hawklets against Lone Tree Friday. Leland Schindler will handle the catching duties while hard hitting Jim Sangster will reside on first. Bob Krall will be at second. Bill Reichardt at short and Charlie Snook will handle the duties at third.

Lanier Allows Only 6 Blows; Vandy Loses

CINCINNATI (AP)—Behind the effective six-hit pitching of Max Lanier, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Cincinnati Reds 4-1 yesterday to register their fifth straight triumph of the season.

Lanier handcuffed Cincinnati until the eighth inning when a single, two walks and an error by Marty Marion allowed the only Redleg score.

The Cardinals went to work on Johnny Vander Meer, the Reds' starter, in the first inning, scoring three runs on four hits and a walk. Vander Meer settled down during the next six frames but the Cards scored again in the eighth on Stan Musial's walk and two quick singles.

The Reds loaded the bases in their half of the eighth, after two were out, but catcher Del Rice caught Eddie Miller's pop fly to end the threat.

Dodgers Win 5th Straight

Brooklyn (AP)—Brooklyn swept to its fifth straight victory today, downing the Boston Braves, 5-4, in an uphill struggle climaxed by Billy Herman's tenth-inning single scoring Pee Wee Reese.

A banner crowd of 24,902 customers watched. After the Brooks had rallied to tie the score with two in the ninth, Reese singled, Goody Rosen followed suit and Herman came through with his winning wallop. Hugh Casey, who took over the pitching chores in the tenth was the victor over reliever Don Hendrickson.

Pete Reiser was the big gun of the Dodger attack with four hits, including two doubles.

Giants Edge Phils, 7-6

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Centerfielder Babe Young drove in three runs and scored two more in the New York Giants' 7-6 verdict over the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday as Rookie Bob Joyce staggered to his second straight big league win.

The 31-year-old pitcher, who formerly played with the Athletics, was not around at the finish, requiring relief help from Mike Budnick when the Phils rallied for two in the ninth, falling just one run short of a tie.

Yankees Stop Athletics, 2-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe McCarthy got a tight pitching job from Floyd Bevens, making his 1946 debut, yesterday and the New York Yankees edged out Philadelphia's Athletics, 2-1, with a two-run spurt in the sixth inning.

Bevens got the nod over Luther Knerr on a walk to George Stinnett, a triple by Joe DiMaggio and a single by Charley Keller in the sixth after the A's had taken a one-run lead in the first on Elmer Valo's walk. Jack Wallace's single followed by Sam Chapman's double. Chapman got a glove on DiMaggio's long drive in the sixth but dropped the ball after a long hard run.

Lost Items Collect In University Office
 Billfolds, keys, books, notebooks and a hat—a collection dating back to September, 1945, is piled up in a desk drawer in the office of student affairs. All the articles have been left by students in or around the office since last fall, and Mrs. Stanley Brandt of the office of student affairs has established a one-woman lost and found bureau.
 "I don't mind keeping the things for a while," commented Mrs. Brandt, "but I wish they would come in after some of them. The collection is beginning to crowd me away from my desk."

Approximately 140 City high school students will participate in the Iowa state high school music contest at Grinnell Thursday and Friday of this week.

The Iowa City contingent will be but a part of the 1,500 high school musicians taking part in contests at Grinnell, Atlantic, Sac City and Independence.

Back on full-footing after wartime streamlining, the meet will open at Grinnell Thursday morning at 9, and at Sac City at 1 p. m. the same day. Contests at Atlantic and Independence will begin Friday morning.

Authorities have announced that whenever possible contestants will complete their performances in a particular class in one day so they may return home that night, thus easing the housing problem.

S-I-D-E-S-H-O-W In American Life

BAYONNE, N. J. (AP)—Nylon stockings were used as bait in the army's recruiting campaign yesterday.

Thousands of recruiting circulars—about two dozen of them containing a certificate worth a pair of nylons at a local store—were dropped on the city from a plane by Lieut. Col. Septime S. Richard, area recruiting supervisor.

About a dozen persons, mostly women, had appeared at the store with certificates by late afternoon. The store donated the hosiery.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP)—The free haircut club, born when local barbers proposed to raise their price for hair razing from 75 cents to $1, was reported yesterday to be growing faster than the hair on the members' heads.

After the club announced it would rent equipment and a store, membership applications came in faster than "you can say 'shave and a haircut, two bits,'" reported a club spokesman who perferred to remain unidentified.

The members will cut each other's hair, explained the spokesman, and in silence.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Apparently unready to place complete faith in New York state's conservation program, one beaver family added to its protection by putting out a "No Trespassing" sign.

Forest Ranger George McDonnell reports the beavers cut down a poplar tree, removed the sign that was nailed to it, and hung it near the door of their house.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Paul Edward Hicks received a three-year penitentiary sentence in federal court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to stealing a car in Grand Rapids, Mich., and driving it to Jacksonville to answer charges connected with a previous auto theft.

"You mean you stole another car to get to Jacksonville to be tried for the first stealing?" asked Judge Louie Strum. Hicks nodded sadly.

A diopometer is an instrument used in measuring the accommodation and refraction of the eye.

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TO GIVE TWO CONCERTS TODAY

THE 90 piece Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos, will present two concerts today at Iowa Union. The matinee performance is scheduled for 3:15 and the evening concert will begin at 8 o'clock. Students planning to attend either the afternoon or evening concerts must present identification cards with their tickets before being admitted, Prof. Charles Righter, director of university bands, said yesterday. There are a very limited number of tickets available to students and townspeople for both performances. These tickets may be obtained at the Union desk before the afternoon concert.

$3,204 Truck Damage Suit Filed Yesterday Against C. Slaughter

Two suits for damages were filed in district court yesterday.

Arlo Barnes filed suit for $3,204.72 against Clarence D. Slaughter. Barnes charged that on Sept. 24, 1944, Ray Dayton, driving a truck owned by Barnes, was forced off the highway by the carelessness and neglect of a car driven by Slaughter causing the truck to crash.

The plaintiff asks $1,799.72 for damage to the truck, trailer and cargo and compensation of $25 a day for the 57 days his equipment was out of operation.

D. C. Nolan, W. H. Bartley, and Hamilton and Cahill are his attorneys.

The Farmers Mutual Hail Insurance association of Iowa filed suit to recover a bad check of $121.28 from Edward J. Pechman. The check was given to the plaintiffs on March 23, 1936, and payment refused by the Hills Bank and Trust Co.

E. P. Korab is the attorney for the plaintiff.

The Student Council meeting has been changed to Wednesday, 7:15 p. m. at Iowa Union, according to Gordon Christensen, L3 of Iowa City, president. All newly elected members should attend. Agenda will be devoted to the Campus Chest drive.

The Iowa Women's club will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in Reich's Pine room. Hostesses will be Mrs. Vernon Roose, Mrs. E. E. Cline and Mrs. Mollie Cramblett.

In answering roll call, the women will give ideas for home decorations.

HOLDS LINCOLN'S UNTOLD SECRETS

WITHIN THIS LOCKED FILE in the Library of Congress rest the untold secrets of the final days of the American Civil war, with all its intrigues and disagreements between President Lincoln and certain cabinet members. Originally owned by the late Robert Todd Lincoln, son of the martyred president, the documents have been entrusted to the Library of Congress in Washington with the stipulation that they not be made public until July 26, 1947, in deference to certain sensational evidence contained therein. The papers may reveal hitherto unpublished information underlying the death of the great emancipator at the hands of John Wilkes Booth. (International) girl, and entered the kitchen where she was washing dishes. A few minutes later the family heard two shots from the kitchen.

They found the Tatman girl, lying on the kitchen floor. She had been shot in the back and neck. Fear's body was found outside the kitchen door.

The sheriff said a .32 caliber revolver was used in the shooting. The wounded girl was taken to the Ball Memorial hospital at Muncie where her condition was described as critical.

Coroner Gallon Stephens immediately began an investigation of the shooting.

Olmsted Hits Housing Action

The need for action in meeting the housing crisis in Iowa was emphasized by George Olmsted, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, in an interview in Iowa City last night.

Olmsted, who paused here briefly in a tour of Johnson county, said that the governor should call a special session of the state legislature to act on the housing problem.

"We must have that special session," Olmsted pointed out, "if we are going to enable our municipalities to finance housing projects. We must not spend another winter waiting for the legislature to act while 90,000 Iowa families are without homes of their own."

His visit was under the sponsorship of the local "Olmsted for Governor" committee headed by Hal Dane. Olmsted said he planned to revisit Iowa City during the campaign.

3 Suits for Divorce Filed Here Yesterday

Three suits for divorce were filed in district court yesterday. Gilbert Thomas charged adultery and cruel and inhuman treatment in asking for a divorce from Rose Ann Thomas.

They were married in Kahoka, Mo., on Sept. 7, 1939, and separated March 17, 1946.

Their attorneys are Albrecht and Knox.

Charging cruel and inhuman treatment, Frank J. Vana asks for a divorce from Mary L. Vana. Married at Iowa City March 23, 1943, they separated April 13, 1946.

Swisher and Swisher are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Deloris Mitchell filed a petition for a divorce from James A. Mitchell. They were married Oct. 9, 1937, in Cedar Rapids and separated March 29.

Swisher and Swisher are her attorneys.

Vets' Wives Urged To Attend Red Cross Home Nursing School

The Iowa City chapter of the Red Cross yesterday urged interested veterans' wives to attend a school in practical problems in home sickness now being held in the Red Cross rooms at 15 1/2 S. Dubuque street.

Designed especially for veterans' wives, the classes, limited to 10 people each, meet twice weekly for a period of three weeks. Reg-

Bernard Brogla Fined On Speeding Charge

Bernard J. Brogla, 530 Church street, was fined $25 and costs in police court yesterday for speeding.

Charged with driving through a red light, R. J. Elliott of Des Moines paid a fine of $3 and costs.

Nine Iowa City residents each paid a $1 fine for overtime parking. They were: Ella Ayers, Ruth Wicks, J. Carmean, Mrs. Art Williams, Frank Condon, Gale Parker, R. H. Reimers, George Thomas and J. J. Zeithamel.

G. H. Coleman, 343 Beldon avenue, was fined $1 for double parking.

Martin Says U. S. Military In Jeopardy

The national military training program is in jeopardy according to Rep. Thomas E. Martin, who told Legionnaires here last night that the chances are very slim for a compulsory military training bill to pass congress.

Martin, a member of the house military affairs committee and an Iowa Citizen, is "bitterly disappointed" that congress has not pushed through a military training program.

Believing that the controversy will carry over to the next session of congress, Martin criticized the action of congress in passing a momentary draft extension without laying down a broad outline of future military policy.

Martin spoke at a meeting of past commanders of the American legion in the community building.

Honored at the meeting was Carl Redenbaugh, an Iowa Citizen who spent four years as a prisoner of the Japanese.

Redenbaugh, who was captured on Guam in 1941 and liberated in Kivoto Sept. 10, 1945, was presented with a life-time membership by the legion.

George Olmsted, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor and former army general who helped in the repatriation of American prisoners in China, commended Redenbaugh for his part in the war.

ular classes meet at 2-4 p. m., or 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Any home organized classes of 10 people will be furnished an instructor by the Red Cross.

Any women who are interested are asked to call Mrs. C. K. Reger, 3738, for reservations. The school will continue as long as applications are received.

Mrs. W. D. Paul, the head instructor, has just completed a Red Cross school in Davenport covering the latest information on teaching the course.

Approval was also given Eve Swails to construct a $5,000 residence at 1853 Friendship street.

Payments to Jobless Here Lowest in State

The Iowa City office of the United States unemployment service paid the lowest unemployment compensation and service-men's readjustment allowance claims in the state both for the month of March and for the first quarter of 1946, Elbert E. Kline, director, revealed yesterday.

Only $1,855.42 in unemployment compensations was paid by the Iowa City office in the first quarter. Algona was next lowest, paying $4,395.01 in claims. Iowa City paid $14,103 in servicemen's readjustment allowances during the first quarter with Clinton, paying $23,373, the next lowest paying office.

A peak in the payments to servicemen in Iowa was reached in March with $2,289,429 paid, an increase of 28 percent over February. Nevertheless, the number of Iowa claimants decreased in number from 11,413 in February to 9,016 in March.

Veterans are becoming employed rapidly, however. While 38,000 filed applications for allowances in the first quarter, over 7,000 did not come back to file a second claim.

Of the amounts paid to veterans in Iowa, the payments to the self-employed shows the greatest increase. The $316,686 collected by the self-employed in March was an increase of 130 percent over February.

GRASS FIRE EXTINGUISHED Iowa City firemen extinguished a grass fire near the junction of Whiting avenue and Ridge road at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. Cause of the fire is unknown.

City Engineer Okays 2 Residence Permits

The application of J. Bradley Rust for permission to build a $9,000 residence at the corner of River and Lee streets was approved yesterday in the city engineer's office.

Approval was also given Eve Swails to construct a $5,000 residence at 1853 Friendship street.
