Bowles Hits Lobbying Against OPA

Chiang Makes Concession On Assembly

Reds' Armed Strength In Manchuria Helps In Quick Settlement

CHUNGKING (AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek made a major concession to the Communists yesterday by postponing the national assembly, and he was reported ready to compromise as well on embattled Manchuria. "The Generalissimo appears to be in a mood for compromise," declared a source high in the Kuomintang (Chiang's party) who declined the use of his name. "I am very hopeful of getting this (Manchurian) situation settled soon."

Surprising Show
The surprising show of Communist armed strength in Manchuria was given as one factor prompting quick settlement. Seasoned government armies had expected the Communists to be a push over.

Furthermore, the Communist New China Daily News asserted that the Communist garrison of Szepeingai held firm up to Monday against repeated assaults by four First Army divisions trying to reduce this threat to the rear of their positions before Kung-chuling.

Postpone Assembly
The Generalissimo announced the government's decision to postpone the national assembly at a tea party given for leaders of the Communist and other minority parties.

Chiang announced the government would report on a new date later and that meanwhile the steering committee of the all-party political consultation conference would try to reach an agreement on all political issues.

Attorneys Refute Motion To Dismiss Eldora Trial

Flight Fails—Day Old Baby Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Sheryl Beth Cannell, one-day old baby flown here early yesterday in an oxygen tank for an operation in an effort to save her life, died last night immediately following the operation.

Delicate Operation
Dr. Conrad Lamb performed a delicate operation on the child who was brought here from Rockford, Ill., on a Pennsylvania Central airliner.

The baby, born Tuesday at St. Anthony's hospital in Rockford, had an incomplete entrance to her stomach which prevented her from taking nourishment.

Dr. Lamb was one of eight doctors in the country familiar with the technique required for the operation. He explained the child had no connection between the esophagus and the stomach and that it was necessary to attempt to "hook things up."

Rare Operation
The operation has been performed only a few times in the past, Dr. Lamb said. Accompanied by a nurse, the child was rushed to Henry Ford hospital immediately upon arrival here. The father, Robert Cannell, is a farmer in Rockford.

BULLETIN
CHUNGKING, Thursday (AP)—Semi-official dispatches from Mukden today said the last remaining Central government officials were abandoning Harbin as Soviet occupation troops were withdrawn.

Counsel Claims He Was Told To Keep Quiet

FORT DODGE (AP)—District Judge H. E. Fry took under advisement last yesterday afternoon a motion to dismiss conspiracy charges against five former officials and employees of the Eldora boys training school.

Attorneys spent more than three hours in arguments on the motion, filed by Hardin County Attorney D. W. Dickinson, who asked dismissal of the cases on grounds of "lack of evidence."

Vigorous Objection
The state, through special assistants Attorney General J. S. Grothe of Des Moines and Dwight Rider of Fort Dodge, vigorously resisted the motion and asked that the court overrule it and list the cases for trial.

Rider urged the court to overrule the Dickinson motion and try the cases because the state had ordered its legal force to spare no expense in getting to the bottom of what he termed "the Eldora mess."

Case Expense
"I dislike Dickinson's argument about the expense of the cases, which to me is unusual," Rider said. "If a man is charged with a crime we do not ordinarily call off the prosecution because of money involved. For that reason, I urge the court to go on with the trial of these conspiracy cases and let the chips fall where they may."

"I have never failed to prosecute anyone indicted by a Hardin county grand jury," Dickinson declared, "and I consider counsel's statement an insult to me. I came to this court last year expecting to help prosecute these cases, but was told by the Attorney General's office through Grothe to keep my mouth shut."

Rumors Fly in Search For Mussolini's Body

MILAN (AP)—An anonymous telephone caller today declared the stolen body of Benito Mussolini had been taken south across the Po river and police guarded roads to prevent the dictator's remains from being brought to Rome.

Authorities intensified their search for the persons who dug Mussolini's body from its unmarked grave here Monday night. Press reports said a note was found at the grave signed by the "Democratic Fascist Party" declaring the corpse was taken to give it "a grave worthy of your person and all you accomplished."

A Milan dispatch to Il Giornale Della Sera asserted yesterday that Mussolini's stolen body had been taken to Predappio, his birthplace, and buried.

The Milan newspaper Corriere Lombardo received a telephone call from an unidentified person who declared "this night at three o'clock Mussolini's body passed the Po river at Casorso," a town near Piacenza.

In Rome, a police guard was placed about the palazzo Venezia, once the dictator's headquarters there. During last night, police stopped every automobile approaching the palace.

Bomb Ticks Near Palace

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—A 1,000-pound German time bomb buried in St. James park a few hundred yards from Buckingham palace ticked today as members of a bomb disposal squad waited hopefully for it to explode.

The bomb, nicknamed "Annie," showed signs that it was preparing to detonate last night. Police immediately closed the Mall to traffic and cordoned off the area.

A warning was flashed to Buckingham palace and nearby Marlborough house but Queen Mary apparently was unimpressed.

As the bomb disposal men waited they wished the bomb would let go and save one of them the risk of handling it. The officer in charge of the squad said: "It has a delayed action fuse and can run for four days but we are hoping it will go off within the next 24 hours. If it has not gone off by 7 p. m. Friday (12 noon C. S. T.) one of the men will take the risk of putting a charge to it and blowing it up."

The bomb was one of three dropped by the Germans in the same area late in 1941. The other two already have been dealt with.

OPA Increases Price Ceilings On Cigarettes

Hike Multiple-Pack, Carton, Vending Machine Sales

WASHINGTON (AP)—OPA last night announced an increase in retail price ceilings for multiple-pack, carton and vending machine sales of cigarettes.

The increases, granted because of a jump in manufacturing costs, are:
A half cent a pack on sales of two packs, four, six and so on.
One cent a pack on vending machine sales.
Five cents on a carton of 10 packs.

There will be no increase, OPA said, for single packs.

OPA Brings Charges Against Iowa Packers
DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa office of price administration yesterday took action against the current black market in meat buying by charging three slaughtermen in federal court actions with buying live cattle at more than ceiling prices.

Injunctions against all three were signed by Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey.

The slaughtermen are Budd Chamberlain, Bedford; W. B. Davis, Indianola, and Garry de Reus, Eddyville.

These are the first of a number of similar actions to be filed by OPA, X. C. Nady, enforcement attorney said.

"The big packers are not buying," Nady said. "If they would buy cattle and supply the markets, the demand would not be so great for the small slaughtermen to furnish meat at over-ceiling prices."

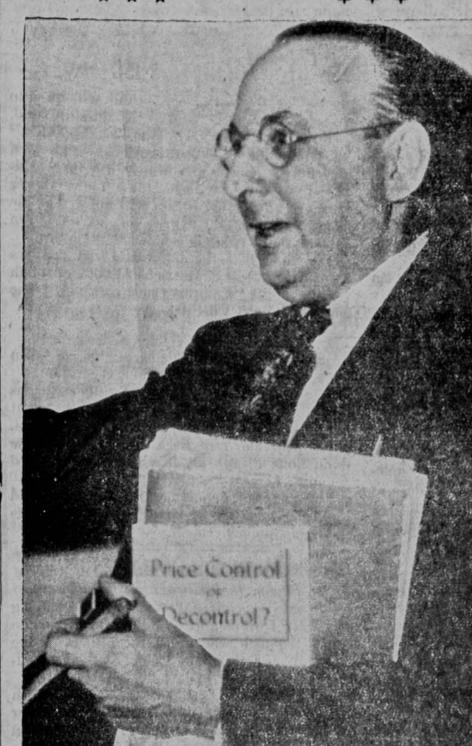

Bread Supply Short Of 'Desperate Needs' Claims LaGuardia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The combined food board yesterday provided thicker bread slices for famine-threatened countries fed by UNRRA, but Director General Fiorenzo H. LaGuardia said the allowance still was far short of "desperate needs."

The board, made up of members from the United States, Great Britain and Canada, increased UNRRA's April share of the world's pool of wheat and other cereals from 363,000 to 460,000 tons.

LaGuardia, who had estimated the lowest needs of the hungry peoples fed by his agency at 700,000 tons, expressed disappointment at the board's decision, but said he was reconciled to the fact that supplies are not great enough to permit granting a larger share.

The combined food board, which administers a grain pool made up largely of supplies from the three member countries together with Argentina and Australia, delayed until Monday an announcement of what portions would be granted countries other than those being supplied by UNRRA.

U. S. Chamber Of Commerce Asks Repeal

Stabilization Director Calls for Repudiation Of Control Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stabilization Director Chester Bowles called upon businessmen last night to repudiate "the lobbying which various minority groups who claim they speak for other businessmen have been carrying on" against price control.

Declaring "I strongly suspect they are not speaking for you and the majority of American businessmen," Bowles urged them "to make your own views clear and to do so without delay."

He took to the radio on a Mutual broadcast after the United States Chamber of Commerce had joined its appeal for abandonment of price control to that of the National Association of Manufacturers before the senate banking committee. The chamber called for an end of price controls by Oct. 31 and of rent controls by March 31.

Bowles addressed his appeal "directly to our businessmen," as a former businessman himself rather than a government official. He renewed his warning that the OPA bill, which the house had passed, would bring inflation and said that the suffering it would entail for businessmen along with others "would be overlooked" by the public.

"But the fact that the kind of catastrophe I have described could be traced directly to the lobbying of various minority business organizations," he continued, "would be neither forgotten nor overlooked. And unless the rank and file of business—the great majority of responsible businessmen who know the need for continued price and rent control in this inflationary emergency—speak up now in unmistakable terms, Mr. and Mrs. Average citizen may not distinguish between the minority business groups who whooped it up for inflation and all business."

Bowles did not name any of the organizations to which he referred.

McNarney Orders European Unit Officials To Tighten Discipline Among U. S. Troops

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney yesterday ordered swift action to tighten discipline among United States troops in Europe, asserting that black market sales, drunkenness and a "complaining attitude" were causing loss of respect for American soldiers.

All unit commanders were directed to take immediate steps to remedy the low state of discipline which "leads to loss of respect for American authority by enemy people and injures our reputation among our allies."

Conditions within the occupation forces which have been apparent for months were frankly summarized by McNarney, United States commander in Europe. He called for an end to black market activities, desertion, drunkenness and other infractions of discipline.

McNarney assailed "the complaining attitude toward constituted military authority and those duties essential to maintain high standards of soldierly efficiency."

"All commanders and their subordinates must now devote themselves to the reestablishment of discipline, esprit de corps and pride in fulfilling our mission as indicated in all phases of military performance. This becomes their most important immediate function."

On the eve of his departure for Java, Soedarsarno said he could not divulge any details of the discussion before he reported to Premier Sutan Sjahrir.

He declared, however, that "both in form and contents the negotiations had no results."

Truman, Adm. Leahy To Attend Stone Rites

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN ON CHESAPEAKE BAY (AP)—President Truman will attend the funeral of Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone today, interrupting his vacation cruise for a few hours.

The presidential yacht Williamsburg, cruising today in Chesapeake Bay, will put in at Quantico, Va., today. From there the president will motor to the capital for the service at the Washington cathedral at 1 p. m. (CST) returning afterwards to his yacht.

With Mr. Truman will be Admiral William D. Leahy, his chief of staff, and Brig. Gen. Harry M. Vaughan and Capt. Clark Clifford, his military and naval aides.

In Washington, it was announced that Stone will be buried in Rock Creek cemetery there.

Lewis Hints New Demands for Anthracite Coal Miners; Nationwide Express Strike Averted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A threatened nationwide strike of 65,000 AFL railway express agency workers was sidetracked yesterday but John L. Lewis gave broad hints he would make demands for the nation's anthracite miners similar to those that led to the soft coal shutdown.

These were the major developments on the labor front, where the number on strike or idle in allied industries stood at about 725,000.

1. President Truman set up an emergency board, under provisions of the railway labor act, to investigate a wage dispute between the Railway Express Agency, Inc., and 65,000 members of the AFL Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship workers who had set a strike for 12:01 a. m. tomorrow.

2. John L. Lewis told an anthracite scale convention at Hazleton, Pa., that contract negotiations for 75,000 AFL United Mine workers would be successful only if the operators did not assume "the same attitude" already taken by "allied financial interests" in the bituminous fields.

The UMW chief asserted the U. S. Steel corporation was the principal opponent of the union's demand for mine safety and welfare provisions for the soft coal miners and said "no ordinary coal producer dares to defy it to settle the stoppage." He said the UMW had accepted the "challenge of U. S. Steel to see which of us yields."

3. General chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Locomotive engineers convened at Cleveland to decide whether to accept a presidential fact-finding board recommendation for a 16 cents hourly wage boost and changes in certain working rules or to call their 293,000 members out on strike. The unions had sought daily wage hikes of $2.50 and more sweeping rules changes.

4. CIO pickets hurled rocks, stones and spikes damaging 14 automobiles when 50 carloads of supervisory and clerical employees sought to penetrate a picket line at the strikebound Stinson aircraft plant near Detroit. State police and deputy sheriffs were rushed to the plant but no injuries were reported.

U. S. Protests Second Russian Attack on American Aircraft

VIENNA (AP)—A second attack by Soviet planes on United States transport aircraft was disclosed yesterday with another protest to Russian authorities by Gen. Mark W. Clark.

The attacks came a day apart—last Monday over the Tulln airport, Austria. Clark already had protested concerning the Monday attack, when four Soviet planes fired off the wings of a C-47, but no reply has been received.

Clark's headquarters announced yesterday that four

Reds Release Finns From Any Additional Property Restitution

HELSINKI (AP)—A joint Finnish-Russian communique released last night said the Soviet Union "has considered it possible to free Finland from further restriction of property taken from Russia during the war."

It was further agreed, the communique added, that the Russians should obtain a concession on a power station on the Pasvik river near the Finnish-Norwegian border "for exploitation of the Petsamo nickel mines." This is the largest power station in the far north.

The communique was issued after the return of an official Finnish delegation headed by Premier Mauno Pekkala from a visit to Moscow.

City Takes Step Toward Better Fire Protection

The city council of Iowa City will soon have an opportunity to do something definite about the lack of adequate fire protection in this city.

The Chamber of Commerce, showing commendable initiative, is investigating the possibilities of obtaining the services of a state expert to make a survey of the city and to recommend necessary changes in fire equipment and manpower.

In the near future the Chamber will tell the city council whether or not a fire prevention expert can be obtained and how much the survey will cost.

A survey is the logical first step in planning for the future fire protection of Iowa City; and we are sure the council will recognize the value of it.

We hope the council decides to conduct a survey to determine as accurately as possible what changes in the city fire department are needed.

The need for some changes is obvious. A recent inspection of business establishments, schools and churches showed that 72 percent contained fire hazards. An inspection of apartments and private homes undoubtedly would produce more dangers. The recently established trailer camps constitute another possible source of fire.

It is plain that Iowa City, with a population of 23,000 residents and students, needs more than 11 men, two antiquated fire trucks and a "chief's car" to give even minimum fire protection.

SUI Women to Give Up Corsages for Worthy Cause

University of Iowa women this weekend will substitute "Campus Chest corsages" in place of the usual flowers. Men will buy the special corsages at the Union Friday night for the Senior ball.

Because women have always had a very special fondness for flowers, it is particularly appropriate that they should forgo them Friday night as a means of contributing to the Campus Chest.

The money that would otherwise have been spent for flowers will buy books for needy foreign students, help pay for cancer treatments for diseased persons and will go into the Nile Kinnick Memorial Scholarship fund.

Best of all, this technique is a "painless" way of obtaining contributions. The men will not be "out" anything, since they ordinarily would have sent their dates flower corsages. And the women will know that the same sentimental expression exists, even though the corsage is somewhat different.

We hope that the Campus Chest receives a goodly sum—it ought to be $1,000—through the sale of its "Campus Chest corsages." The cause is indeed worthy.

Now—'Smellivision'

The advertising writers have added another colloquialism to our much battered English language. This time it's "smellivision."

The word is supposed to describe a newly invented gadget—fitted inside a regular television cabinet—which will transmit odors.

When a rose appears on the television screen, for example, you push a button and you smell a rose! It's all done with an electronic instrument which is synchronized with the image on the screen. It's merely a matter of tuning in your nose as well as your eyes.

But in these times of good shortages, such a gadget could drive a hungry John Q. Public wild. Think of tuning in on "Dinner at Eight" just as a juicy steak was being served.

With "smellivision" you could see it, hear it sizzle and smell the delicious aroma that would be wafted into the room.

But to prevent maddened bean and egg eaters from smashing television sets, we think the gadget should be kept off the market until the food shortage is over.

New Dandelion Killer

The S. U. I. campus is beautiful at this time of the year. A walk past Old Capitol, down by the Union, across the footbridge and along the river to the University theater is truly pleasurable. The lush greens of the lawns and the luxuriant grass topped with whole fields of golden yellow dandelions were never more beautiful.

Some, however, feel a little lusher green and a little less golden yellow would be more attractive. Especially since dandelions soon seed and lose their first flush of beauty.

Perhaps the days of the dandelion on the S. U. I. campus are numbered. A new weed-killing preparation called 24-D is on sale, and the Iowa State college experimental station vouches for its effectiveness.

The compound has very few disadvantages. When sprayed on lawns it kills weeds but does not affect the grass. It will not harm animal life, but vegetables and trees will perish if sprayed. Thus, it is ideal for long stretches of lawn though care must be taken when it is used close to other vegetation.

The preparation is marketed under various trade names, but the principal ingredient of 24-D is dichloro-phenoxyacetic acid. Within three or four weeks after spraying the dandelions disappear, leaving only withered remains.

Perhaps the department of grounds and buildings can use 24-D to give us a dandelion-less Commencement.

Means More Than Medals

(From the Milwaukee Journal) We must do our part to feed the starving people of Europe and Asia "if we ever are to repay the men who faced the bullets of the Germans and the Japs." Gen. Dwight Eisenhower told a national radio audience.

On first thought, the two things may seem to be unrelated. But General Eisenhower made the connection clear enough. Our goal in World War II was not alone to save the world from Axis terrorism, aggression and subjugation; it was also to establish better understanding among peoples, world order, lasting peace. The first objective—beating down the military power of the Axis—was won by the men who faced the German and Jap bullets. The second—permanent and just peace that would make a repetition of their sacrifices unnecessary, that would save their sons and their sons' sons, from even more terrible armed conflict—has yet to be won.

Unrest—revolution—world disorder—war! These are the dire consequences we invite if we Americans do not do our utmost to feed the starving peoples who look to us with pleading eyes. We would invite their bitter animosity for failing to share our plenty. We would fail to live up to all our high principles and our solemn promises to the liberated and the conquered peoples. Worst of all, we would betray our own veterans, the dead and the living, by periling the peace they won in order to satiate our own desires.

If we mean half of what we have said about how much we owe the men who fought for us, we shall demonstrate it at the dinner table for the next few months. It is there that we can all help promote the success of their great mission.

Reader Writes Letter Disputing Chamber of Commerce Secretary—

Calls Opposition to Price Control 'Shortsighted'

—Says Prices Will Go Up and Stay Up Unless OPA Is Continued

TO THE EDITOR:

In reply to the letter of Mr. Robert L. Gage of the Chamber of Commerce, which expressed amazement at the "short-sightedness" of the people who favor price control, I should like to ask Mr. Gage just one question: "Who is calling whom 'shortsighted'?"

In the first place, Mr. Gage quotes from the National Association of Manufacturers which represents the only people who would seem to profit by a rise in prices—a small body of people who have things to sell, things they have been holding back in hope of higher prices and increased profits.

Baruch, Kaiser Stands Why does not Mr. Gage quote such people as Mr. Bernard Baruch and Mr. Henry Kaiser, men we've learned to trust as good citizens and wise leaders, and who came out flatly for the OPA and price control?

Or why doesn't he quote the president of the United States, beleaguered by criticism though he now may be? Or why not Mr. Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker corporation as well as spokesman and chairman for the non-partisan Committee on Economic Development which has repeatedly warned the nation to continue the OPA?

Or, if Mr. Gage would like to quote somebody right here in Iowa City, why not any one of the members of the League of Women Voters who sponsored that commendable drive for the OPA here in town.

No, they all favor the OPA, and that's "shortsighted."

In the second place, I should like to examine Mr. Gage's argument. He says that the manufacturers believe that the housewife will keep a tight rein on the family purse and force prices down.

Well, Mr. Gage, if prices on groceries multiply by four (as did the nylons you mentioned) my family is still going to need food because we get hungry every day, and we can't wait until next month to feed ourselves. And that goes for more than half of the things we buy.

Right now I need a suit. When I find one that's satisfactory, I'm going to have to buy it no matter what the price, or start looking for a barrel.

The thing is, people have to buy now, so I question how an unorganized mass of people who buy daily is going to exercise the voluntary control the NAM seems to expect.

Remember, the NAM is organized and rather a small group, while the buying public is vast and unwieldy and definitely not organized.

Public to Lose If anyone stands to gain or lose when government regulation is gone, the public will come out at the short end. Actually, I am a bit puzzled by the argument that the NAM advances. If they sincerely believe that "the housewife" will keep prices down, why are they lobbying so loudly to remove the method we now have for price control?

But I think we have been missing the point of the whole discussion. Recently there has been a decided trend for increased wages for most people. Also, many people in the United States have sizeable savings accounts.

Theoretically we are all in for better times. People can buy automobiles, electrical appliances, radios, homes on a scale unprecedented even in lavish America.

But that's not the way it's working out. Under the system Mr. Gage and the NAM propose, prices will go up. According to Mr. Gage the auto goes up to $10,000, the nylons to $6, and the shirt to $10 as long as people will pay those prices.

The question is, how long will people pay those prices? The answer, I think, is that they will pay those prices as long as they have the money.

Traveling salesmen and delivery companies need automobiles right now. If they have to pay exorbitant prices for them, they will have to dip into their savings, just like most other people will have to dip into their savings for the prices of food, clothing, and the like.

Will Keep Prices Up When the savings that have been accumulated by the American public disappear, then the demand will go down and prices will have to follow. I predict that two factors will keep these prices from coming down immediately as Mr. Gage seems to think.

First, the savings I have mentioned and, secondly, the lack of supply to meet the demand.

It will be this balance of supply and demand that will set the prices if we are to believe some rather strongly substantiated economic theory.

Mr. Gage says that "next month" after the price of nylons was at $6, the price will go down. According to Mr. Warren A. Ben, head of the nylon sales division of DuPont company which sells every thread of nylon yarn in America, it will be a year and a half before the supply of nylons meets its demands. (Incidentally, he does not blame OPA for the slowness, but rather the reticence of manufacturers to enter their efforts in a small profit trade.)

Auto Supply Mr. Gage further says that prices of automobiles will go down in three to six months. I wonder on the basis of what economic postulate Mr. Gage and the NAM make that prediction, since the head of Chrysler Motor company, who should be pretty well versed on the automobile market, says that it will be five years before the supply will meet the demand.

If the NAM's predictions are as subject to doubt as the above, and if prices are determined in the future as they always have been in the past, it is highly probable, if not certain, that prices are going to be up for a long time.

Finally, when supply does meet demand after the savings of the "common man" have been transferred to the pockets of the manufacturer who already has been doing rather nicely during the war, and after the veteran and his wife who didn't have any savings to start out with have had a rough time of it, then competition will probably start for the markets and prices will finally start down.

But I think there's even a hedge to that. If we are to assume that the supply-demand balance will work out as it did when, for example, Mr. Jones who made $1,500 in 1938 would spend $30 a month for food, buy a $600 automobile every four or five years, a radio whenever the old one wore out, but who couldn't afford an electric refrigerator or that extra suit of clothes he needed to feel really well dressed, nothing much will be gained by the rise in wages that has been brought about at such a cost.

No Gain in Standard Mr. Jones will now be making $1,800 a year but the car will cost $1,000 (as in Mr. Gage's example) and his food will cost about 30 percent more as will his clothing and everything else. So what will we have gained?

Mr. Jones still won't have that electric refrigerator, especially since his savings will be gone, and that suit will be just as far away as ever. The American standard of living won't be one iota better than it was before this all started.

So that's why I am for price control. I look forward to the OPA's getting us through this period when supply won't meet the demand.

If the control were kept till then I look forward to the time when the manufacturers could apply all those marvelous new systems of production they've told us about. They could manufacture more cheaply and sell more cheaply.

And what if the rise in the cost of labor has cut the profits in a man's suit from $20 to $15? If prices stay down, and Mr. Jones buying power stays up, Mr. Jones is going to buy another suit. In the long run, the manufacturer is going to sell a lot more suits and really cash in.

And that's why I object to Mr. Gage's use of the word "short-sighted." I think it could be used on another class of people than those who support price control. Harry H. Crosby 1818 N. Dubuque street

GRADUATE RECORD EXAMINATION

This national standard qualifying examination for graduate work has been developed during the past eight years under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation for Advancement of Teaching. The University of Iowa has cooperated in this project from the beginning and plans to continue its use. About 100 graduate and professional schools now require or invite applicants to submit examination results as an auxiliary credential for admission. Many others provide opportunities for their students to take the examination. Purpose—This examination represents a national standard designed for use: (a) As a means of self-analysis and self-guidance on the part of mature students and as an aid to the faculty in guidance of students throughout their graduate careers. (b) As a qualifying examination for admission to a rapidly increasing number of graduate colleges and professional schools. (c) As a supplementary basis and condition for the award of graduate appointments and promotions and the award of honors and recommendations. Nature—The examination does not measure attainment in any specific courses at any specific institution, but is a functional test designed to give a general profile of the educational status in liberal education. No preparation is required and it is very unlikely that cramming would produce any change in the scores received. There are two parts of the examination: (a) A specific examination chosen by the student from any one of a selected number of areas, and (b) The general examination covering mathematics, physics, chemistry, biology, social studies, literature, fine arts and general vocabulary. It is not assumed that the student has had training in all of these areas. The scores present an inventory of knowledge, regardless of where or how obtained. They permit a student to know accurately his relative strength or weakness in the various basic fields of knowledge. They also present a comparison of his performance with that of thousands of other students like himself in length of schooling, field of study, type of institution and in region of country. This information will be helpful in the planning of future study programs. Requirements and Options—It is at present required of these graduate students, unless they have already taken it: (a) All graduate students now registered in the University who

Clarifies Statement On Student's Handbills

TO THE EDITOR: Your issue of April 23 carried an article in which a statement I made relative to the distribution of handbills on campus was quoted.

Your reporter omitted the reason I gave for considering such a program ineffective; to wit: "I do not believe that students of Iowa are sufficiently social minded to participate in a program of social action." The omission emasculated the statement and gave an entirely different color to the opinion expressed.

I wish to make it clear that I am in accord with constructive programs which have for their purpose the amelioration or elimination of discriminatory practices on or off the campus of Iowa. H. I. Fontello-Nanton

'Demo House Organ'

TO THE EDITOR: Your editorial page has consistently been heavily tinted with New Deal-CIO vote-getting propaganda. Your recent editorials on the OPA are an excellent example of how you repeat the false and misleading statements made by men who want to keep as much power in their Washington bureaucras as they possibly can—even if it is at the expense of the industry that made this country great.

I must say that I am glad to see Paul Mallon's column in The Iowan, even though it appears only infrequently. Otherwise, The Iowan would look like a Democratic house organ. Warren A. King

Need Fences Fixed At Hawkeye Village

TO THE EDITOR: May I add a postscript to your editorial of April 23, "Danger at Hawkeye Village?"

You say that parents and drivers must be doubly careful to avoid injury to the children by passing cars. That is very true at the present time. But this constant vigilance could be, and should be, utterly unnecessary.

McKinley Trips Hawklets, 5-1

By JOHN OOSTENDORP

McKinley's Golden Bears applied the same treatment to Iowa City high's baseball team yesterday afternoon that Roosevelt gave the day before and handed the Little Hawks their third loss of the year, 5-1, on the Hawklet diamond. Roy Sorenson allowed the losers just two singles.

Sonny Dean making his second appearance in as many days allowed the winners only six hits and was in control at all times except in the second and third innings when the visitors got all their hits and runs.

In the fatal second frame McKinley combined four hits, a walk, and Dean hit a batter with a pitched ball to gain four runs. After Jim Schaber had fouled out to Charlie Snook, Bob Broulik beat out a slow roller down the third base line for a hit. Sundberg grounded out short to first; Dean hit Kauzlauck with a pitch and Burlingham drove in Broulik with a single to left. Roy Sorenson then blasted a lustrous triple to center that took a bad hop over Bob Beales' head and drove in a pair of runs. Sorenson scored on Hilder's single through the box. Schindler then picked him off in an attempted steal.

In the third Jack Delbridge opened with a double and went to

Sewell Chokes Late Cub Rally, 4-3

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Rip Sewell pulled the Pittsburgh Pirates out of a three-game losing streak yesterday as he pitched and batted them to a 4-3 triumph over the Chicago Cubs before 6,287 paying customers. Sewell, notching his second victory of the season, drove in the winning tally in the eighth inning with a scorching drive off Albie Glossop's glove. The Cubs still had to choke off a Cubs' rally in the ninth to win, as Glossop, who had forced Stringer, tried to make it all the way home on Stan Hack's double off the rightfield screen. But a fine relay from Frank Colman enabled Frankie Gustine to cut him down at the plate. The Pirates broke away to a 3-0 lead but the Cubs gradually cut it down, Phil Cavarretta singling home one run, Bill Nicholson driving in another, and Don Johnson's knocking across the tying run in the seventh with a single.

Cardinals Win 7th Straight; Tip Reds, 3-2

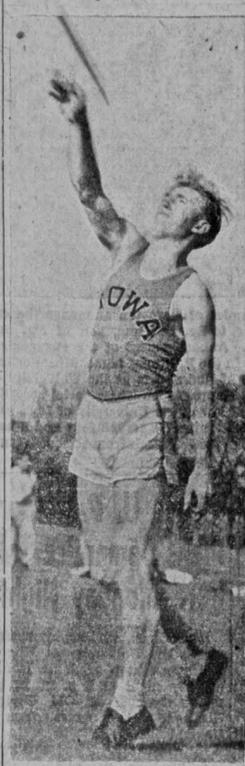

CINCINNATI (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals notched their seventh straight victory of the season yesterday as they defeated Cincinnati 3-2 before a ladies day crowd of 2,944.

In yesterday's game, Cincinnati out-hit St. Louis 9-6. Howie Pollet, the Cardinal pitcher, had three errors behind him and a bad eighth inning, but he came out on top. Cincinnati used four hurlers. Ewell Blackwell, the losing pitcher, made his first start of the season and was touched for a run in the opening inning. The Cardinals made two in the third on three singles, a wild pitch and a walk.

Bert Has drove in all of Cincinnati's runs in the fourth with a double after Howard Moss and Eddie Miller singled.

Sigma Nu's, Phi Pi's Beta's, Sigma Chi's Win Softball Tilts

Summer skies greeted softball fans as five games opened the season yesterday. Scoring for the afternoon ran consistently lopsided as Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Epsilon Pi, Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Nu emerged victorious.

Scores were:
Sigma Chi 16, Sigma Phi Epsilon 8
Beta Theta Pi 17, Alpha Tau Omega 8
Phi Epsilon Pi 24, Delta Upsilon 10
Phi Kappa Psi 22, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 8
Sigma Nu 31, Theta Xi 16

At the end of the third inning, Sigma Nu led the Theta Xi nine, 29-2. The winners removed their first team for the remainder of the game permitting the Theta Xi scoring with no threat to themselves. George Cebuhar, Les Kluever and Bob Sandal pitched for the winners. Lew Larkin and John Drew pitched for the winning Beta's while Bill Krueger and Al Schenken allowed the hits that lost the game for the ATO's. Pitcher Ken Young bested D. Francis to win for the Sigma Chi's.

Phi Ep's Dick Podal pitched a shutout to the DU's in the last three periods of the game allowing no runs. Syd Lazere also threw for the winners against DU's George Keister and Dick Knudsen.

Max Eggleston and Dan Sheehan led the Phi Psi's to their easy win, while John Madden and Roger Strand allowed the Phi Psi hits.

40 Students, Religious Leaders Discuss Racial Discrimination

Group of 10 Members Appointed to Consider Suggestions for Action

"The Problem of Racial Discrimination in Iowa City" was discussed by 40 students and religious leaders at a meeting in Iowa Union last night.

The meeting was called after handbills attacking the policy of Iowa City barbers in refusing to cut hair of Negroes, were distributed Tuesday by Tom Olin, A2 of Springfield, Ohio.

Friendly Solution

Plans for a "friendly and constructive, but community-wide" solution of the problem were discussed. A committee of 10 members was appointed to meet tonight to consider the suggestions for action made at last night's meeting.

The committee will approach interested businessmen to include both student and civic support of the group, which will meet again next Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Affect Patronage

The barbers' objection to serving Negroes, it was pointed out at the meeting, is that it might affect white patronage. Previous efforts to solve Negro hair-cutting problems in Iowa City were made last year when the Inter-Racial Fellowship and the Ministerial association suggested that petitions be signed by businessmen guaranteeing barber shops their patronage. It was explained at the meeting that petitions were never circulated because of lack of organization.

Jean Collier, A3 of Freeport, Ill., was elected chairman of the group and presided over the meeting. Vicky Van Duzer, A3 of Waterloo, was appointed secretary. It was agreed that the organization be tentatively known as the Social Action committee until organization can be completed.

Housing Solution Factory-Built Homes Now Available

A possible speedy solution to Iowa City's housing shortage will be given to local builders, according to Robert L. Gage, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who yesterday received a telegram from the Strathmoor company of Detroit, Mich., offering small factory-built homes available for immediate delivery.

The homes mentioned are 24 by 20 feet in size.

Gage said Fred Ambrose, University of Iowa business manager, had been contacted, and that Ambrose said nothing will be done about this offer until the Parklawn apartment bids are settled, which would be in another week. Several Iowa City builders were notified of the telegram yesterday but declined to comment on the extent of their interest.

Further information about the Detroit firm is available at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Statement to Farmers Not Made by Gardner

The statement in Wednesday's Daily Iowan urging farmers to sell their corn and wheat was not made by Emmett C. Gardner, county extension director, as credited, Gardner informed The Daily Iowan yesterday.

Gardner reports he instead told a representative of the local American Veterans committee that "many farmers are badly in need of grain to bring their livestock to market weight," and that more than 100 farmers in Johnson county want to buy corn from everyone who has corn to sell.

Food Need—Critical Problem

"The most critical problem in the world today is food—the need for food for starving people," declared Prof. Jacob Van der Zee of the political science department as he explained the organization and work of UNRRA at a meeting of the World Affairs forum last night.

Over 500,000 people in the world are starving or near starvation, depending on the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) continued Professor Vander Zee. And the greatest contributor to UNRRA supplies must necessarily be the United States, since our national income approximately equals the income of all other nations combined.

"The purpose of the UNRRA is to preserve stability and peace," concluded Professor Van der Zee, since the most dangerous person is the one with the empty stomach."
