Britain Offers to Withdraw Military Force From Egypt

Labor Party, Conservatives Dispute Policy

Leader Calls Troop Removal Alternative To Riots, Revolution

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons last night backed up the Labor government's suddenly announced proposal to withdraw Britain's entire military establishment from Egypt by giving the government a 327 to 158 vote of confidence.

For the first time since the Labor government came to power last August the Conservative party minority split openly with the government on a foreign policy issue.

Up to last night the Conservatives had repeatedly praised Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's brusque and determined handling of overseas relations.

In a stormy debate on the proposal, Prime Minister Attlee described the plan as the best method "to calm rising Egyptian nationalism."

The vote of confidence came quickly after Herbert Morrison, Laborite floor leader, declared that the alternative to getting all British forces out of Egypt was "almost certain disturbance, riot and possibly even revolution."

Earlier opposition leader Winston Churchill had charged the labor government with a policy which would lead to destruction of the British Empire, asserting that "after 60 years of diplomacy and administration, things built up with great labor are cast away with great shame and folly."

Attlee retorted to this by saying that the Egyptian decision was agreed to by chiefs of staffs and dominion prime ministers.

But Conservative member Ian Fraser accused the government of beginning "to unbutton the British Empire" and said there would be "great distress in the colonies at the news."

Attlee defended the proposal as a measure to allay Egyptian suspicions "that we want to occupy Egypt," adding that the labor government was "as concerned as anyone else with the security of the communications of the British Commonwealth and Empire and with the security of the Suez canal."

The British proposal, a foreign office spokesman said, envisioned building up of the Egyptian army to assume protection of the Suez and Britain's vital link to her Pacific and Asiatic empire, but Anthony Eden, conservative member and Churchill's wartime foreign secretary, disputed the ability of Egyptian forces to protect the canal.

Conservative Brigadier A. H. Head, recently returned from a parliamentary mission to Iran, said he wanted assurance the withdrawal decision was reached "with full knowledge of the repercussions."

"Around Egypt," he said, "there are great British interests—Iraq with the oil, the Sudan and Palestine. If you leave those interests lying about, they will be picked up."

Churchill, terming the proposal "one of the most momentous I have heard in the House," had backed solidly by his Conservative party in his challenge for an immediate debate on the decision, which may foreshadow a world-wide trimming of British Empire commitments.

Churchill had charged in the House that the government decision to step out of Egypt reached during negotiations with an Egyptian delegation in Cairo and announced there by the British embassy, was taken without consultation with anybody else in the country, and that full responsibility therefore must rest upon the Labor cabinet.

VE Day Scene Appears Dark

Ministers Continue Efforts to Lay Plan For Permanent Peace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A year ago today (Wednesday) President Truman proclaimed in Washington the end of hostilities in Europe.

The day, for which little ceremony had been planned, found the world still battling—this time to make secure the peace that began with Germany's surrender.

In Paris the foreign ministers of France, Great Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States continued their efforts, with little success to date, to draw up formal European peace terms.

To the east, the French city of Rheims preserved in completeness the school house where German representatives put their signatures to the Allied victory.

War maps, the surrender communique, a list of airforce missions for the next day and all other details are intact in the school room.

A BIRTHDAY SMILE

STANDING ON the porch just outside his office, President Truman smiled broadly for his birthday picture made yesterday on the eve of his 62nd anniversary which is today.

Molotov Claims Right to Keep Red Troops in Balkan Countries

Bevin, Byrnes Assert Previous Agreement Calls for Withdrawal

PARIS (AP)—American sources said yesterday that V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, had refused to withdraw Soviet troops from Bulgaria on the ground they were needed there to protect communication lines into the Russian zone of Austria.

Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, asserted that if the foreign ministers adopted an American proposal for adding an Austrian settlement to the conference agenda, Red army troops would not be needed to safeguard the communication lines.

London Agreement
"We are not now discussing Austria," the American sources said Molotov retorted.

Molotov then added that the ministers had agreed last September in London that Russia could retain troops in the Balkans and that all the ministers needed to do now was to decide the language of the Balkan treaties.

Both Bevin and Byrnes challenged Molotov's statement on the London agreement, declaring that the agreement stated precisely that all Allied occupation troops were to be withdrawn upon signature of the treaties.

Communication Troops

Molotov explained his refusal further by stating the Russian army was using the Danube river, which forms part of Bulgaria's northern frontier, for sending supplies to its garrisons in Austria. He then contended that the London agreement terms allowed communications troops to remain in Balkan countries.

U.S. to Ask Nations To Atom Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson announced yesterday that the United States would invite all countries having membership on the United Nations atomic energy commission to send governmental and press observers to the atomic bomb tests in the Pacific.

Acheson said the invitations were being extended by authority of President Truman. They will go to Russia, Britain, France, China, Canada, Australia, Brazil, Egypt, Mexico, The Netherlands and Poland.

The tests are scheduled to be held during July and August at Bikini atoll in the Marshall Islands.

CEILINGS REMOVED

WASHINGTON (AP) — OPA yesterday removed price ceilings on fresh apricots, sweet cherries, plums and Italian prunes.

It also suspended ceilings on watermelons for an indefinite period. Both actions are effective immediately.

Council Awaits Iranian Report

Evidence of Russian Withdrawal Expected To Conclude Clashes

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Nations security council last night awaited a new report from Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala which delegates hoped might avert another clash on the explosive Iranian case today.

The only way such a clash might be avoided, most delegates believed, was by the receipt of new evidence before the council meets at 2 p. m., (CDT) tomorrow, showing that the withdrawal of Russian troops from Iran was complete or virtually complete.

Delayed Dispatch
A delayed dispatch from Tehran quoted Prince Mozaffar Firouz, Iranian propaganda director, as saying Monday night: "Reports we have received indicate that the evacuation of Persia has been completed."

Ala, however, said he had received no information later than that in his report of Monday night, which some of the delegates found to be inconclusive.

Controls Air Travel

A later dispatch from Tehran said the Soviet government still controls air travel to Azerbaijan province, since passage on the Russian Intourist airline to Tabriz must be booked through the Russian consulate.

When informed of Firouz's statement, a British spokesman said such a report, if officially submitted to the council and corroborated by information from other sources, might form a basis for dropping the case.

Wyatt Declares Price Control Bill Damages Emergency Housing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Wilson Wyatt testified yesterday that the veterans emergency housing program "could not survive" under the price control voted by the house.

At the same time, Wyatt told the senate banking committee, he favors "reasonable price adjustments and price increases where necessary as a stimulant to production."

Price Increase
The committee also was told by Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson that business men clearly are entitled to price increases if needed for a "fair and equitable margin" of profit.

Both administration officials asked for a year's extension of OPA beyond June 30 "without crippling amendments."

Vinson tossed the remark into a vigorous appeal to the senate banking committee for "really effective" price controls for another year.

"When you have increased costs, I certainly think you should have a price increase unless you can have price absorption—a fair absorption," Vinson continued.

Price Controls
"If we keep price controls a little longer—and keep them really effective—the accumulated savings of the public can result in a sustained demand for houses, automobiles, refrigerators and other goods for many years to come.

"But if we remove price controls too soon, these same savings will be used to bid up prices before goods have been produced to match the demand."

Veteran, 2 Daughters Perish in Iowa Fire

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — A World War II veteran and two of his small daughters died yesterday of burns suffered in a fire at their home. A third daughter was in critical condition.

The dead were Richard P. Watson, 36, who was separated from his wife, Janette, 5, and Sharon, 3, Rochelle, 6, in University hospital here in Iowa City.

Fire Chief E. P. Kohout said the victims were burned by radiated heat in the tightly closed house.

Campaign Closes Today

Tag Day Sale To End Drive

Campus Chest solicitors were organized at a meeting last night to wind up the campaign today with a Tag Day drive. With the campaign total now standing at $3,323.91, drive officials are contacting all organizations not already covered to assure full solicitation by the deadline at 5 p. m. today.

Members of Alpha Delta Pi became members of the 200 percent club as they turned in a 100 percent donation yesterday in addition to the 100 percent they had previously contributed. Half of the Alpha Delta Pi contribution will be earmarked for the Cancer Prevention fund in honor of Mrs. Alta McClenahan, their house mother who died recently.

Currier Collection Not In
Collections yesterday included donations from small dormitories—Fairchild, Russell and Dean house—but among the larger housing units, Currier hall has not yet turned in any of its contributions.

Student Council members at a meeting last night unanimously endorsed a resolution favoring a policy whereby all university students regardless of race, creed or color should have use of all university facilities extended to students.

Anti Discrimination Policy
The Council pledged its support to the present and future maintenance of such a policy. The resolution included a provision for the appointment of a standing committee to make a continuous study of interracial and interreligious problems and contacts on campus.

The committee is to report to the council from time to time on its findings and recommend action. Five students who are not council members but who have done outstanding work in promoting Council activities will receive merit awards at the Council dinner, May 20, it was decided last night.

Annual Awards
Council members approved a motion to make such awards an annual event. The executive committee will draw up for Council approval a list of students they consider eligible for the awards.

Lack of Labor Causes Men's Suit Shortage

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Sidney Hillman yesterday blamed the men's suit shortage to a lack of clothing workers and called on his own and other industries to provide jobs for disabled veterans.

Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (CIO), said a scarcity of fabrics and lining materials is causing but 100,000 additional workers are needed to overcome "the terrific backlog" of orders for men's clothes.

The union leader made public a letter to Raymond H. Reiss of New York City, president of the Clothing Manufacturers of the United States, asking for an early conference to map plans for employment of 100,000 veterans.

The convention adopted a resolution calling for emphasis on training and finding jobs for veterans in the clothing business and a waiver for them of union initiation fees.

Hillman told reporters that the clothing industry, though highly specialized, was making "real effort" to train disabled veterans.

Dutch Traitor Dies Before Firing Squad

THE HAGUE (AP)—Diminutive Anton Adriaan Mussert, Fuehrer of The Netherlands Nazis, died before a firing squad yesterday after bidding farewell to his imprisoned followers, who clicked their heels, stood at attention and addressed him solemnly as "leader" (leader).

The man whom Hitler appointed in December, 1942, as "leader of The Netherlands people," went to his death in a little village outside The Hague—the second person since 1854 to be executed in Holland during peacetime. The first was Max Bloksijl, radio commentator for the Germans during the war, who was shot last March.

Ford Motors, Railroads Hit In Fuel Crisis

More Cities Observe 'Brownout' Measures As Supplies Dwindle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unemployment resulting from the 38-day soft coal strike skyrocketed past 800,000 today as the fuel shortage put a tight stranglehold on the nation's industries.

The Association of American railroads reported about 51,000 railroad men had been laid off because of the strike and estimated industries served by the railroads have laid off another 250,000.

The Ford Motor company announced a shutdown tonight of "virtually all operations" will affect an estimated 100,000 workers. In Washington, the United Mine workers announced it stood pat on John L. Lewis' demand for a welfare fund and other concessions as the price of settling the strike.

An emergency office was set up by the Civilian Production Administration to "avoid collapse of utilities services essential to public health and safety during the coal strike."

Meanwhile, death joined the 400,000 AFL-United Mine workers in their walkout for the first time in a fanfare of gunfire which claimed one life and wounded six others in Harlan county, Ky. The casualties were members of a "BMW" picket party heading for a mine being worked by non-striking members of the Independent Progressive Miners union.

A growing list of cities invoked war-like "brownout" measures to conserve melting reserves of utility-feeding coal with smaller urban centers following the lead of such major population centers as Chicago, Detroit and Washington. Philadelphia, threatened with a complete "brownout" was saved temporarily by a revised estimate of coal reserves which will carry the nation's third city along another four weeks.

But elsewhere in the national picture the outlook was as dark as the conservation-inspired gloom over some of its normally light-sprayed cities.

Soft coal deliveries were banned to domestic consumers by the solid fuels administration unless the customer had less than five days supply based on actual needs.

In Detroit, Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace described the coal strike as rapidly nearing a point where it "transgresses general welfare."

The Ann Arbor, Mich., council authorized the city's mayor to draft a resolution calling on President Truman to seize the mines. Ann Arbor, Port Huron and Monroe joined Detroit in acting on "brownout" ordinances. Forty-four cities served by Detroit Edison company were asked to voluntarily adopt wartime "brownout" measures.

In New Jersey, the state board of public utility commissioners announced that if the strike continues beyond May 13 Gov. Walter E. Edge would be asked to proclaim a state of emergency.

In addition to utilities, railroads and steel were the worst plagued by the coal shortage. The nation's major rail lines, faced with a government order to curtail passenger service 25 percent by May 10 and 50 percent by May 15, broke out in a rash of schedule suspensions.

Among the latest railroads announcing cancellations were the Chicago and Northwestern which canceled 10 trains and suspended weekend operations of four others effective at midnight Thursday, and the Erie railroad which suspended two baggage-express trains, two passenger trains and 38 commuter trains.

Vote in Union, Publications Elections & Help Campus Chest

Editorials:

Two Important Responsibilities—Vote and Contribute

University of Iowa students have two responsibilities to discharge today—vote in the Union board and Student Publications, Inc., elections and contribute to the Campus Chest drive.

Both of these ventures must be successful. On them hinges much in the coming year—the university's 100th and greatest year.

All-out student support in today's elections means better student activities next year. And support of the Campus Chest drive indicates students are willing to give as well as receive in their campus activities.

The importance of voting in today's elections is the same kind of importance that was attached to voting in the Student Council elections and will be attached to voting in the primaries next month and the general elections next fall.

Both Union board and the student representatives of the board of trustees of Student Publications, Inc., represent an integral part of student government at the University of Iowa.

And although Union board and Student Publications, Inc., both are older organizations than Student Council, they need the same kind of continual and active student support.

The importance of meeting the goal—or at least coming much closer to it—of the Campus Chest drive needs little comment. The failure to date could be a serious indictment of the student body.

Covering The Capital

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—"If I had to pick one of the so-called doubtful congressional districts that the Republicans are certain to win in November, I couldn't do it; and don't let anybody in the Democratic camp tell you he could either."

This was an honest statement, off the record of course, from a man close to the G.O.P. top campaign strategists. Moreover, he's a close personal friend—as politicians often are—of a political enemy equally close to the Democratic strategists.

I come this near to violation of a confidence only because I want to emphasize how close veterans on the political front feel the elections will be this fall—the elections which will determine if the house retains its narrow Democratic margin or goes Republican.

Anybody who has paid the slightest attention to elections knows that no candidate ever admits defeat in advance. It's politically axiomatic that confidence breeds votes.

Nevertheless, bigwigs in both parties know that the balance of power in November could well swing either way.

Since the administration's legislative program already is bogged down by the varying coalitions of Republicans and Democratic fence jumpers, it's fair to ask "What difference will it make?"

Politicians will brush the question off as stupid. It is and it isn't. From a legislative standpoint, the administration could hardly have fared worse even if the Republicans had been in control of the house this past year.

But outside of that, the difference would be tremendous.

In the first place, never in the history of our congress has the anti-administration party captured control of the house in a congressional election year but what it hasn't captured the White House two years later.

In the second place, the shakeup in committees would make stalling the administration legislative program elementary.

The house (and senate, too) operates through committees. The party in power, the majority, elects its committee chairmen and has the privilege of naming a majority on the committees. The powerful rules committee, for example, schedules practically all legislation (tax and appropriation bills excepted). It now has eight Democrats and four Republicans. Reverse this situation and virtually any Democratic administration measure could be withheld from the calendar—even if it had cleared the hurdle of being reported favorably by the committee to which it had been assigned.

What would happen in the matter of prestige, important patronage, etc., is a story by itself.

Plastic rakes and hoes in pastel shades are promised. They can't fool us—wielding them will still be hard work.

Need Senate Action

The senate, which had some strong words to say about the house's dilly-dallying not long ago, now seems to be doing a little of its own.

With the expiration of the selective service law only a week away, there still has been no floor discussion of the extension measure.

And approval of the loan to Britain is being held up by nothing more than "semifilibuster" tactics. Now it is in danger of being sidetracked, not only temporarily but possibly for the summer.

Still facing the senate—although the deadline is comparatively far off (all of six weeks)—is the price control extension bill.

If it were merely a matter of the senate approving good house draft and OPA bills, we might not be so concerned about the delays. But the senate, if it is going to give the nation the kind of leadership some senators promised a few weeks ago, must pass entirely different—and better—legislation.

The senators may feel that their vote-getting actions of the last couple months are extremely important, but they can't deny that good, sound legislation for the nation is even more important. It is time they got busy.

'Charm School' Features New Styles

Iowa City Woman's Club Given Beauty Hints

Hints on beauty and charm ranging from the importance of inner thoughts to the newest styles in hats and frocks were given Iowa City women yesterday at the "Charm School" sponsored by the home department of the Iowa City Woman's club in the Community building.

Mrs. L. L. Dunnington opened the program with a talk on "Beauty from Within." She emphasized the importance of age and experience in true beauty. Mrs. Laurance Ham discussed the use of cosmetics, advising against both too little and too much makeup.

The style show, narrated by Chris Yetter, began with Mrs. W. J. Jackson modeling a green cotton eyelet dress styled with cap sleeves, a sweetheart neckline and peplum.

An audience favorite was the Spanish style dress worn by Mrs. Herb Cameron. Fashion features of the dress were a high neck and full sleeves fitted from just below the elbow to the wrist. A flashing red sash tied in a large bow at the waist.

A black and white bemberg sheer, a standard summer favorite, was modeled by Mrs. Frank Burger. Three-quarter-length sleeves with a turn back cuff and knife pleats in the skirt front added fashion highlights to this attractive summer afternoon dress. A dress with a daring large bow bustle was worn by Mrs. Gil Wilson. The blouse featured the new large-hole neckline. Worn with a large coolie type straw-hat, this outfit was one of the outstanding new styles shown.

Mrs. Herb Cormack modeled a smart two-piece dressmaker suit of aqua wool crepe. The jacket was fashioned with a tie belt and an interesting flared peplum. A black hair braid hat topped her ensemble.

A new style in formals was shown by Mrs. Jackson. The gown was of pink and black rayon check, designed with a high tied neckline and full cape sleeves. Its style enables it to be worn either as a dinner or dance dress.

Mrs. Joe Broveman in a three piece bare midriff play suit modeled what is new in sun wear. The top was of white print on a black background and was secured at the waist by a sash laced through button holes.

Other models were Mrs. Eric Wilson, Mrs. Iver Opstad, Mrs. P. E. Peckman, Mrs. Charles Beckman, Mrs. W. C. Wheeler, Mrs. Joe Bruner, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Charles Morganstern, Mrs. A. M. Ewers and Mrs. Fred Clark.

MODELING at the Iowa City Woman's club home department "Charm School" yesterday afternoon were left to right: Mrs. Eric Wilson, Mrs. W. J. Jackson, Mrs. Fred Clark and Mrs. J. B. Braverman.

Flower-Like Whirligig Coffee Cake Creates Holiday Air for May Breakfasts, Lunches

INTERCHANGEABLE as a breakfast or luncheon treat, this Whirligig coffee cake, with its flower-like resemblance, will be featured in May menus.

This flower-like Whirligig coffee cake will add a holiday note to May breakfast.

It is made by rolling out sweet yeast dough, spreading with the desired filling, rolling up and sealing, just like a jelly-roll. Thick swirled slices stand on end in a round baking dish to form the petals, so that when baked, this unusual coffee cake looks like a lovely spring flower. Confectioners' sugar icing gives a satiny flower-petal look.

Combined with a salad and a tart sauce of fresh rhubarb or cold meat platter and a beverage, the breakfast coffee cake turns into a tempting luncheon.

Whirligig Coffee Cake

- 1 package yeast, compressed or dry granular
- 1/4 cup lukewarm water
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 tablespoons melted shortening
- 3 cups sifted enriched flour
- Melted margarine or butter
- Cinnamon sugar
- Confectioners' sugar icing
- Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add one cup flour. Mix well. Add softened yeast and egg. Beat well, add shortening. Mix well and add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny.

Place in greased bowl cover and let rise until doubled.

Punch down, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Roll out to rectangular sheet 20 inches long and eight inches wide. Brush with melted margarine or butter and sprinkle with cinnamon sugar. Roll up like jelly-roll and seal edge. Cut in one and one-fourth inch slices. Place slices on end against side of greased eight-inch round baking dish. Make second circle in center. If space still remains in center, fill in with one or more slices. Let rise until doubled. Bake in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes. When cool, frost with confectioners' sugar icing.

Water Colors Shown In Art Exhibit Here

Twenty-five water color paintings by De Hirsch Margules, New York artist, are now on exhibition in the main gallery of the art building.

This showing, a national circulating exhibition, includes works done from 1939 to 1941. This is the first time that Mr. Margules' works have been shown in the western and middle western states.

The paintings will be displayed in the art building until June 7. The building is open to the public daily from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m., and on Sunday from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m.

Subject matter in the exhibit includes boat scenes, still life subjects and landscapes.

One of the most peculiar fishes known is the leaf fish, so called from its leaf-shaped body. It is native of the tropical fresh waters of South America.

DONALD E. MGINNIS

SUI to Present— A New Comedy

A new comedy, "Father was President," based on the life of Theodore Roosevelt, to be presented in the university theater May 20-25, was written by Malvin Wald and Walter Doniger while they were both sergeants in the army air forces.

The play, to be presented this year for the first time on any stage, has received nationwide awards in playwriting contests. Current plans see the possibility of a summer tryout of the play at the Phoenix theater in Los Angeles, with Albert Dekker, motion picture star, playing the title role.

Both Doniger and Wald have received college degrees and have spent considerable time studying playwriting. They are now under contract to Paramount Pictures in Hollywood as screen writers.

"Father Was President" is under the direction of Prof. E. C. Mable, head of the dramatic art department, and stars Henderson Forsythe, G of Monroe City, Mo., as Theodore Roosevelt.

Prof. George Davies Sees Need for Aid To Small Business

Small business and its serious problems in the reconversion period needs the same attention given to large firms, according to Prof. George Davies of the university bureau of business research.

"Many firms are caught between the demands of labor on one hand and the advantages of research and cooperation accruing to very large firms on the other," Professor Davies said.

He pointed out that before the war small business made up more than 90 percent of the business establishments, employed nearly half of the personnel, and produced a third of the total output. A small business, Davies said, is one with unspecialized management and factories with less than 100 employees.

In manufacturing, however, 40 percent of the product came from very large firms, employing one-fourth of the factory workers.

"But on the whole, small business is invaluable in a democratic economy, in respect to both employment and service," Davies declared.

He believes that reconverted industry will soon regain its peace-time status in spite of strikes. Employment is higher than last fall's forecasts, and the output of consumer goods is at high levels in comparison with prewar production.

Bread Substitutes— Conserve Wheat Products

—During Shortage

With emphasis on saving flour and wheat products to help alleviate the world food shortage, recipes using potatoes are especially timely. Potatoes can be appetizing as well as nutritious for breakfast, lunch or Sunday dinner.

Mashed potatoes can pinch-hit, in part, for crumbs in stuffing for poultry; can act as a crust for meat pie; assume the role of toast as a cup for baked eggs, or they can be converted into griddle cakes.

Eggs Baked in Potato Cups

Shape seasoned mashed potatoes into balls, using about one-third cup for each ball. Place on a greased baking sheet and with a spoon press center of balls to form a cup. Drop an egg in each. Season with salt and pepper and make in a slow oven, 325 degrees F., for 20 minutes or until egg is firm. This is an appetizing substitute at breakfast for poached eggs on toast.

Potato Griddle Cakes

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg, beaten
1 cup cold mashed potatoes
2 tablespoons melted fat
1 cup milk

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Mix remaining ingredients and stir into flour mixture.

Combine all ingredients and pile lightly into a roasting chicken. This may also be used in place of regular bread stuffing for meat roasts.

One potato contains a greater number of important nutrients than found in one slice of enriched bread, so neither appetite appeal or food value need be lost in serving these wheat substitute dishes.

May Frolic to Feature Spring Theme

Decorations for the revived traditional May Frolic turnabout party sponsored by a Mortar Board May 10 will follow a spring theme.

The semi-formal dance is the first event of Mother's Day weekend and the last all-university party of the semester. Sam Campbell and his Omaha orchestra will play for dancing from 9 p. m. to 12 m. in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

During the intermission, a reception will be given in the adjoining private dining room for active Mortar Board members and their guests, guests of honor and mothers and fathers attending the dance.

Guests of honor will include Dr. and Mrs. Earl E. Harper, Dr. and Mrs. Bartholow V. Crawford, Prof. Sybil Woodruff, Nona Seeburg, Helen Focht, Mrs. Adelaide Burge, Mrs. John Greenleaf, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rehder and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cutler.

'Bloody 100th'

8 of Famed Group Attend SUI

By KATHY LARSON

The complete overseas history of the "Bloody 100th," the bomb group that suffered the highest losses of any other in the war, is the subject of a book published recently in California. Entitled "The Story of the Century," the book packs a terrific meaning for eight veterans here on the university campus, for their story is a very real part of it.

The heavy casualties suffered by the 100th helped create the famous "jinx" legend—but even more fantastic is the fact that there are eight survivors of the "jinx" now attending class at Iowa.

The formidable reputation of the 100th got its start Aug. 17, 1943, on a shuttle mission from England to North Africa, bombing Regensburg, Bavaria. The 100th was flying last group in the Third Air division under General Curtis LeMay. Twenty minutes after leaving the target, General LeMay called back to the lead ship of the 100th, in which Harry H. Crosby, G of Oskaloosa, was navigator.

"Where is the 100th Bomb group?" From the single lead ship came the message, "General, we are the 100th Bomb group."

Three Returned Of the 21 ships on that flight, actually three got back—the other two had crash-landed in the Mediterranean and their crews were picked up.

Within three months after arriving overseas, all but two B-17 crews had been shot down. Only four of the original slate of officers assigned to the 100th were still flying.

All B-17 crews reported at Stone, England, the reception center from which they were assigned to their bomb groups. When Harry Jolliff, A1 of Chariton, arrived there, the legend of the 100th was famous, and assignment to that group the equivalent of a death sentence.

Jolliff flew his complete tour and got back, but he didn't think he would until he finished his last mission, quite convinced that the "jinx" was true. He narrowly escaped death over Dresden and Frankfurt.

Donald Lee Thompson, A2 of Waterloo, was on his final mission when his damaged ship peeled away from formation to land in Kharkov, Russia. Crosby, in the lead ship, had seen him go down. Months later, he returned to the States, after being feted by the Russians and shuttled back through Italy.

Participated in Shuttle Mission A winner of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Beryl King, A1 of Hazelton, squadron navigator in England, participated in the first England - to - Russia - to - Italy - to - England shuttle mission. His plane was so badly damaged on his second run that the bomb group left the crew behind in Italy, and they had to return across France alone.

At times the bombers were so shot up that they had to limp back to England "on the deck." This means that the plane flies back at such a low altitude that a fighter plane cannot attack from below, and cannot risk diving on the crippled bomber from above, for fear of not being able to pull out of the dive, Ivan Champion, C2 of Britt, brought his damaged plane home from a raid over Hanover in this fashion.

These five veterans, all completed a full combat tour with the 100th, but two other Iowa airmen were not so lucky.

Herb Olson, A2 of Winfield, had seven raids to his credit when he was shot down over Germany and became a prisoner of war. The story is told that when he and his crew entered the prison camp one of the crew members asked a disconsolate looking group of prisoners if any of them were from the 100th. One of them lifted his head slowly and said, "We all are."

Captured by Luftwaffe Robert Carpenter, A1 of Cedar Rapids, after being shot down over Germany and evading German civilians, was picked up by the Luftwaffe. They identified him as a member of the 100th Bomb group, and told him sarcastically, in perfect English, "You'll like it in prison camp—so many of your friends are here."

The only one of the eight not from Iowa is Robert L. Frederick, G of Sparta, Wis., who is working on his Ph.D. in dramatic arts at the university. A member of the ground echelon, he served as squadron and later station armament inspector during the whole period of operations.

For anyone who knows the history of the 100th, the most remarkable thing is that any of the fellows survived. As Beryl King said, "I'm darned tired of people saying 'How did you ever get through?' when they find out I was with the 100th." But it's still a good question—how did they ever get through?

Cards in First Rung in National

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Driving Johnny Sain from the mound with a five-run spree in the first inning, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Boston Braves 6-4 last night to take over undisputed first place in the National League.

The first night contest of the young season here drew 14,824 paying customers.

The versatile Red Schoendienst, currently playing second base in the Cardinals revamped infield, led the assault on four Boston pitchers with four safeties, including a double, in five trips.

The Braves started a rally in the seventh, but Charley Workman struck out to end the inning after Tommy Holmes had driven in two runs with a double to right field.

Pesky Leads Junior Circuit

BOSTON (AP) — Gritty little Johnny Pesky, who should be on the bench resting a painful groin injury, is wielding the hottest bat in the majors to spark the drive of the fast traveling Red Sox.

Always a team player, the speedy shortstop declined the offer of Manager Joe Cronin to rest up and daily ignores discomfort to lend his potent stick to the cause of keeping the Sockers out front.

A club house boy in Portland, Ore., only a few years ago, Johnny has come out of the navy ready to resume his habit of leading all others in number of hits. He did it in 1942—his first year with the Red Sox—and also in 1941 in the American Association, and the year previously in the Piedmont league.

Before yesterday's game, he had collected 34 safeties in 74 times at bat for a .430 average to lead both leagues. He also has scored the most runs—23.

Johnny used to scrub the shoes of Pinky Higgins out on the west coast and Monday he passed up a chance to equal the Tiger third sacker's record of 12 consecutive hits. Pesky already had 11 in a row when he went after a bad ball and grounded out when the hit and run sign was up.

Little Hawks, Dean Best Martelle, 4-1; Meet Solon Today

SOLON (Special) — City high took its second sectional tournament victory yesterday afternoon when the Little Hawks dropped Martelle, 4-1, here. Sonny Dean made his second mound appearance in two days and won his second victory.

In addition to his fine work on the mound, Dean smashed out a sixth-inning double that drove in a pair of runs to clinch the victory.

The Hawks jumped out to an early lead when a squeeze play brought home a run in the first and added another in the third. The pair that clattered across in the sixth put the finishing touches on the win.

Solon won the other half of the semi-final windup in the sectional tournament when it turned back Mechanics easily.

The Hawks meet Solon in the finals this afternoon at 3:00.

Solon topped Iowa City earlier this season when a pair of unearned runs scored in the bottom half of the seventh to let the host school win, 5-4.

Either Sonny Dean or Jim Vandusen will get the call for mound duty for the Little Hawks this afternoon.

Luther Loses to Tutors

DECORAH (AP) — Two successive four-run innings enabled the Plattville (Wis.) Teachers College to defeat Luther College 10-5 in a baseball game here yesterday.

Luther took a 4-2 lead in the fourth when McDowell homered with one on.

Wartburg, Simpson Split

WAVERLY (AP) — Wartburg and Simpson split a doubleheader yesterday with Wartburg winning the first game 7-0 and the Redmen taking the nightcap, 4-1.

Iowa Sports Late

In addition to the Notre Dame baseball games today and tomorrow, Iowa athletes will compete in four other events this week. The track team goes to Evanston, Ill., to meet Northwestern and Chicago, and the golf team is host to Wisconsin—all on Saturday. Friday and Saturday the baseball nine plays Chicago, here.

Byington Tips PIKA In Softball, 13-6

Byington house beat Pi Kappa Alpha, 13-6, yesterday in an intramural softball game which had been postponed earlier. Omar Lett pitched winning ball for the Byington boys with Ray Sissel behind the bat. Bill Yuppe and Sheldon Sabath composed the losing battery.

Bosox Win No. 12, Tip Browns in 14th

BOSTON (AP)—After coming from behind to knot the score at six runs each, the Boston Red Sox yesterday outlasted the St. Louis Browns and in the 14th inning a four run homer by Leon Culberson gave them a 10-6 victory and their 12th consecutive success.

Culberson entered the game in the fourth inning as a pinch hitter for third baseman Eddie Pellagrini, who hasn't been hitting, and he remained in the lineup at third base.

The game winning clout, his first of the year, was drilled into the screen after Rudy York had walked, Dom DiMaggio had singled and Hal Wagner was given an intentional walk.

Culberson swung on the first pitch that came his way, ending the game that lasted three hours and 17 minutes.

The Browns outbit the Sox, getting 19 to Boston's six, and should have won the game in regulation distance.

Jimmy Johnston 'Fight Promoter' Dies in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—James Joy Johnston, the little man with the derby and the indomitable spirit, died of a heart ailment early yesterday at his home here, and chances are that the boxing world never will see his like again.

The Peter Pan of the fight game, whose rasping tongue and ebullient spirit belied his 70 years, collapsed in the arms of his wife while dressing to keep an appointment in connection with his final fistic venture, the promotion of outdoor programs at Ebbe's field.

When the word of Jimmy's death flashed around Broadway the mourning in the sports world was genuine. For 50 years, more or less, the little sprite from Liverpool has been one of the most colorful characters in Manhattan. As a manager of prizefighters—good, bad and indifferent—he will run always with the greatest.

Jimmy imported and managed such good British fighters as Ted (Kid) Lewis, Jim Driscoll and Owen Moran. He landed Bob Pastor two bouts with Joe Louis and then wangled a shot at the champion for big Abe Simon just before the war.

Two Teams Play Here Again Today

By JACK SCHROEDER
Assistant Sports Editor

Jack Barrett set down Iowa's impotent batting order with just six hits yesterday afternoon as Notre Dame took the first game of a two-game series from the Hawks, 3-0. Three of the Hawk-eye hits were scratchy infield bluffs.

Although the Irish nicked Lefty Jack Bruner for just eight blows, they made good use of them by collecting a run in the first inning and a pair of tallies in the sixth. Bruner was in trouble only once, when in the sixth the Irish put together three consecutive hits before Elmer Raba was cut down trying to steal second and Barrett hit into a fast double play.

Big Bill Diehl was the most efficient of the Iowa sluggers garnering two hits in four trips at bat. Notre Dame got plenty of support from their catcher, Tom Sheehan, who got three blows in four official trips to the plate. Sheehan tagged the only extra-base blow of the game, a screaming double in the sixth inning.

In the first inning George Schneider drew a free pass from Bruner, stole second and scored on a single to center by Jack Mayo. Ray Petzelka led off the sixth with a sharp single to right field. Sheehan sent the runner home with his double to center. Sheehan scored when Raba lined to left.

The Hawks biggest chance came in the seventh frame. After Diehl had beat out an infield hit, Pete Everett was hit by a pitched ball putting runners on first and second. Iowa failed to take advantage of the opportunity when Keith Kafer popped out to Schneider at third, and Lyle Ebner, batting for Larry Gernuska, sent an infield fly to the second baseman. John Tedore walked to fill the bases but Bruner grounded out from second to first ending the threat.

Although Bruner whiffed six Irish batters, the Iowa batting lineup couldn't give him any support. The portside's curve ball was working to perfection and many times had Notre

University Vets Plan Softball Loop Entry

Plans are under way to enter a University Veterans association baseball team in the city league this summer. Rosters of teams entering must be turned into J. Edgar Frame at the Recreation Center in the near future. All members of the veterans group who wish to participate in the softball program are urged to contact Bill Ruxlow or one of the other officers of the University Veterans association.

Play in the league will begin in early June and will continue during the summer. Fifteen members are allowed on each team. Team managers and the recreation center director will form a board of directors for the league.

Coach Otto Vogel juggled his lineup for the encounter sending John Tedore behind the plate to replace Lyle Ebner, Iowa's leading hitter. Larry Gernuska was in centerfield and Pete Everett started in right.

Ty Cobb to Manage Boys Diamond Team

CHICAGO (AP) — Ty Cobb, baseball's famed "Georgia Peach," again will manage the west team against the East in the third annual All-American boys' baseball game at Wrigley field, Aug. 10, the sponsor, Esquire magazine, announced yesterday.

Cobb, now residing at Menlo Park, Calif., dropped last year's game to Babe Ruth's East squad 5-4, at the Polo grounds. Manager of the 1946 eastern team has not yet been announced.

Cubs Release Glossop To Los Angeles Club

CHICAGO (AP)—Infielder Albin Glossop yesterday was released on option by the Chicago Cubs to their Los Angeles farm club in the Pacific coast league.

Glossop returned from the navy this season to the Cubs, who obtained him on waivers from the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1942. With Glossop gone, Lou Stringer is the only Cub replacement at second base for injured Don Johnson.

Little Hawks, Blues Place In Relays

MT. PLEASANT (Special) — Iowa City high's Hawklets clicked to bring home two first places, three seconds, and a third in the first Panther Relays at Mt. Pleasant last night, while University high claimed three second place berths and a fifth in relays, and a fourth in individual events.

The Little Hawks spurred to take first place in the 880 and mile medley relays, inching out Ottumwa in a close finish. Their quarter-mile and mile relay teams came in for a second place rating in the track events. Don Fryauf placed second in the 100-yard dash, while Bill Olson took a third place in the discus throw. Ottumwa finished first in the Panther meet for the class-A schools.

U. high's thicklads seemed to have had an off night, and showed the strain of the Eastern Iowa conference in their running. The Rivermen placed second in the quarter-mile, mile, and medley relays, while their usually strong half-mile team was forced back to a fifth. Swails was the only U. high contestant to place in the individual events, taking a fourth place in the pole vault. The Blue Hawks finished fourth in Class B competition.

No records were broken at the Mt. Pleasant events, and the track was slow.

Redlegs Edge Giants, 2-1

CINCINNATI (AP) — Catcher Ray Mueller's endurance streak of 233 consecutive games was broken yesterday as his Cincinnati Reds teammates nosed out the New York Giants, 2-1, behind the eight-hit tossing of Joe Beggs.

Mueller's is an all-time record for the National League although he still is 79 games shy of the American league mark held by Cleveland's Frankie Hayes who completed a string of 312 straight games two weeks ago.

Mueller was benched for light hitting and his successor, Ray LaManno, collected two singles in four trips to the plate. Neither hit figured in the Redleg storing.

Beggs, veteran righthander, chalked up his third victory with out a defeat and although touched for six hits in the first five rounds he never was in serious trouble as the Reds came up with five double plays.

Cincinnati hopped on Bob Carpenter who was making his first starting appearance since 1942, for a run in the first inning on doubles by Grady Hatton and Al Likke.

The Reds picked up their final tally in the fifth session when Lonnie Frey crossed the plate with a home run.

Johnny Mize homered in the seventh inning to account for the Giants' lone run.

Hawks List 22-14 Record in Big Ten

University of Iowa sports teams since last October have won 22 and lost 14 dual contests with Big Ten rivals.

With eight contests remaining, it appears that the overall picture of Iowa teams in league competition for 1945-46 will be one of the best in years. The current percentage is .611.

Here is the record with Big Ten rivals to date: Chicago, 5-0; Purdue, 5-1; Illinois, 3-2; Minnesota, 4-3; Wisconsin, 3-3; Northwestern, 1-1; Ohio State, 0-1; and Indiana, 0-3.

Local Barbers Fail to Appear For Negro Haircut Discussion

Social Action Group Issues Open Letter To Iowa City Barbers

The barbers of Iowa City failed to appear at a meeting with the Social Action sub-committee last night to which they had been invited to discuss the problem of the Negro haircut.

No reason was given by the barbers as to why they were not present. They were personally invited to the meeting by members of the Social Action committee and by letters from the Ministerial association, committee members said.

All barbers contacted last night after the meeting refused to comment.

After discussion of the group's failure to attend the meeting, the sub-committee issued the following open letter to the barbers of Iowa City:

"Yesterday, Tuesday, May 7th, you, the barbers of Iowa City were asked personally, and by letter to attend a meeting of the Social Action group which is concerned with the problem of the discrimination against Negroes in Iowa City barber shops, and you refused to attend.

"We do not know the reason why you ignored our invitation, but whatever the reason, we want you to know that we are still in hopes that you will in the near future meet with us, face to face, to discuss in a frank and friendly manner the problem now before our community.

"We in Iowa City are not facing this problem alone, and we know that ignoring the problem or trying to put off the evil day of reckoning will in no way bring about a solution which is fair and American and democratic.

"We do not intend to drop the matter, but shall continue in every friendly way possible to work it out and we plead with you as businessmen of our community and fellow-citizens to at least discuss the matter with us and attempt to work it out before more radical and ill-advised persons attempt to follow a more precipitate course."

About three weeks ago handbills calling students to act against the barbers' discrimination against Negroes were distributed by a university student.

The Social Action group also formed about that time, but not as a result of the handbill distribution, according to the group's statement. During the last two weeks the committee has circulated petitions which state the signers will not discontinue their patronage of barber shops that serve Negroes.

The sub-committee will present its report of last night's meeting at a meeting of the Social Action group tonight at 8 p. m. in the council rooms of the City hall.

I. C. Junior Chamber Elects Robert Forrest As 1946 President

Robert Forrest was elected president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce succeeding Jack C. White at the organization's annual election meeting at Hotel Jefferson last night.

Other newly elected officers are: William Grandrath and Maynard Meachum, vice-presidents; Cliff Hong, treasurer; Raymond Bywater and Charles Wagner, representatives to the Senior Chamber; Emil Trott, recorder; and Steve Darling, Adolph Boeye, Richard Cambridge, Harold Donnelly, Ray Thornberry and Olin Huth, board members.

The Chamber agreed to sponsor the sending of a member and a university sports personality to Des Moines for purposes of determining what might be done toward recreation for wounded veterans at the Veterans hospital there.

For their effort toward the Emergency Food campaign the organization decided to dine on a "starvation" meal at the next meeting, giving the difference of the meal price to the campaign. It was agreed that money which would otherwise be spent for refreshments would be contributed.

Mrs. Will Summerwill is the new president, Mrs. G. R. Hall, vice-president, Mrs. Dennis Maher, secretary, and George Bresnahan, treasurer.

A report of the P. T. A. conference held in Iowa City April 12 will be given and an open discussion concerning the food drive will conclude the meeting.

Food Collection Drive To Feature Program Of Talks on Saving

As part of the Emergency Food Collection campaign, a food conservation demonstration will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Community building ballroom.

A talk on "Famine Conditions in Europe" will be given by Mrs. Lucille Frisloe, Red Cross field director for southeastern Iowa, who has just returned from 16 months service in Italy.

Illustrating how wheat, fat and oil may be conserved and substituted, the "Save and Share" food demonstration will be conducted by Mrs. Ruth Johnston, Home Service director of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company.

The demonstration is being held in conjunction with the "food for Europe" collection drive to be launched May 12 under the chairmanship of Emil G. Trott. Five cans of food per person is the goal of the Johnson county drive being sponsored by Iowa City organizations.

The program has been arranged by a committee representing the Red Cross Nutrition committee, the Iowa City Woman's club and the League of Women Voters.

Members of the demonstration committee are: Mrs. Vern Bales from the Red Cross; Mrs. Charles A. Bowman from the Woman's club, and Mrs. Otto Skora from the voter's league.

Copies of conservation recipes will be distributed at the demonstration.

TO ADDRESS CHEMISTS

DR. ALBERT L. ELDER, director of research, Corn Products Refining company, Argo, Ill., will address the Iowa section of the American Chemical society, on "Chemicals from Agricultural Products" Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in room 314, chemistry building. During the war Elder served as head chemical advisor to the war production board and as coordinator of the penicillin program.

Lodges Favor War Memorial

Representatives of nine Iowa City organizations and lodges in a meeting last night gave their support and approval for a Johnson county memorial to veterans and servicemen of all wars.

The meeting was called by the American War Dads with president Ernest E. Jacobs acting chairman. Mr. Jacobs said that the American War Dads felt that some type of permanent memorial should be erected to veterans of Johnson county as the one located at the corner of College and Clinton streets is temporary and does not represent servicemen of all wars.

Organizations represented at the meeting held at the LeRoy Wecker club of the V. F. W. were: American War Dads; LeRoy Wecker club of the V. F. W.; AmVets; American Legion; Eagles lodge; Moose lodge; Elks lodge; Knights of Columbus and the Knights of Pythias.

Another meeting will be held at a later date, with all organizations present and open to the public, to appoint committees for planning the kind of memorial and financing the program.

Mayor Teeters Speaks Before UVA Meeting; Urges Them to Vote

"I am all for the G. I. I am all for every man and woman who has the right to vote taking advantage of that opportunity," said Mayor Wilber J. Teeters, speaking before the University Veterans' association last night. He urged every eligible university student to register and vote in the coming Iowa City primaries.

Before Mayor Teeters spoke elections were held in which Paul Helmer, A4 of Carroll, was elected U. V. A. president. Other officers were Guy Keller, A4 of Iowa City, vice-president; Beverly Bain, A1 of Cedar Rapids, secretary, and William B. Ruxlow, A3 of Edina, Mo., treasurer.

The five executive board members elected are Emma Lou Davis, A3 of Iowa City; Harvey Ingham, III, A3 of Booneville; John Hughes, A3 of Washington; Gus Peterson, G of Rockwell City, and Jerry Jiricek, A2 of Chicago.

Mayor Teeters urged students to "get into the habit of voting" and warned them to register early so that any difficulties preventing them from voting might be corrected by their obtaining credentials from their home towns.

E. L. Marietta, G of Iowa City, was elected as faculty advisor and assistant liaison officer between U. V. A. and the University Veterans' administration office.

ORC Training Plans Explained by Oliphant

Col. Fred L. Oliphant, in charge of reserve officer affairs for this district, explained tentative plans for postwar officer reserve corps training and listed the requirements before a group of reserve officers and others interested in reserve status at a meeting last night.

Stating that the army has asked for funds to train officers, Col. Oliphant outlined four different units for which reserve officers might apply. This training will begin July 1, 1946. He also announced the activation of the army extension school program by which reserve officers might advance in grade through correspondence school work.

Maj. Glenn E. Hofto, commander of the university military unit, explained to applicants provisions of the advanced R. O. T. C. program to be reactivated this fall. Maj. Ben Summerwill, SUI graduate, talked on the advantages to be gained from R. O. T. C.

Army Searches For Lost Plane

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Bad weather forced searching planes down yesterday after 10 hours of fruitless hunting for an army transport which has been missing since Sunday afternoon, with six men aboard.

Capt. Jack Klinger of Franklin, Pa., in charge of the search, said army planes were unable, because of overcast, to check a report from Geyser, Mont., that a light was seen on a mountainside near that central Montana community.

He said in a report that a two-engine plane was seen Sunday afternoon, near Three Forks, 30 miles north of Bozeman, had been ditched. It was learned, he said, that the sighted plane was an army trainer.

Capt. Jack Klinger of Franklin, Pa., in charge of the search, said clouds were low over the crazy mountains, hampering the search in the rugged highlands where Sgt. Frank Avry of Youngstown, Ohio, parachuted to safety from the missing plane Sunday afternoon.

Boeing aircraft officials at Seattle, who said the plane was carrying army officers to Seattle to confer on contract terminations, listed Maj. D. L. VanFleet of Ottumwa as the plane's pilot.

Four Hillel Delegates To Attend Conference At U. of Minnesota

Four delegates of the Hillel Foundation of the State University of Iowa will participate in the midwestern regional Hillel conference at the University of Minnesota, May 10-12.

Other universities participating in the conference which will discuss Hillel problems are the University of Wisconsin and the University of Manitoba.

The four Iowa Hillel delegates are Esther Klein, A2 of Council Bluffs; Louise Milstein, A2 of Rochester, N. Y.; and Bernadine Greenberg, A2, and Julius Spivack, both A3 of Waterloo.

Carl Redenbaugh will speak to the United Youth Fellowship on

City Women to Hold 'Save and Share' Meeting in Community Building Thursday

A "Save and Share" meeting will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Community building. Sponsoring the city-wide nutrition conference are the Iowa City Woman's club, League of Women Voters and the Red Cross.

The program will include talks on Europe's need for food, suggestions for conserving food and demonstrations of economical cooking. Mimeographed recipes and other nutrition suggestions will be distributed.

Mrs. Lucille Frisloe, Red Cross field representative for southeastern Iowa, will describe famine conditions in Europe. Mrs. Frisloe recently returned from 16 months' duty with the Red Cross in Italy.

Political Club Elects Officers

The Young Democratic club of Johnson county elected officers at a meeting Monday night at the courthouse. Mrs. Jack C. White, 528 Rundell street, was re-elected president. Atty. William H. Bartley succeeded Joe Krall as vice-president. Mrs. John Ebert was re-named secretary-treasurer.

The president appointed an activities committee consisting of Atty. Jack C. White, chairman, Atty. Emil Trott, James Ryan and Ambrose Cooper. The Rev. D. G. Hart was named publicity chairman.

The Emergency Food Collection was endorsed and each member will contribute the cost of one meal for the collection. Also skip-a-meal day was planned for May 15.

All members were urged to help increase registration of voters for the June 3 primary election. The next meeting will be June 10, at which time activities will be planned for the coming political campaign.

"My Experiences in a Japanese Prison Camp" at the student luncheon Thursday noon.

The meeting will take place at 12 noon in the social rooms of the First Congregational church.
