Verbal Battle On 21-Nation Peace Confab

Meeting of Foreign Ministers Adjourned Without Agreement

PARIS, (AP)—James F. Byrnes, United States secretary of state, and Russia's foreign minister, V. M. Molotov, battled verbally for two hours yesterday on an American proposal to call a 21-nation peace conference June 15. Without agreement, the foreign ministers conference finally adjourned until today.

Against vigorous American opposition, Molotov sought to require a four-power accord on all treaties as preliminary to opening a peace conference, American sources said.

The American secretary of state countered with a proposal to amend the Russian amendment, inserting the words, "as far as possible," after the word "agreed."

He argued that otherwise the ministers by their disagreements would be preventing the governments of the world from going ahead on treaty making.

At this point Molotov, British sources said, accused the United States of backtracking on the Moscow agreement of three foreign ministers last December. He said, according to these sources, that the United States, Britain and Russia had decided then that the ministers would have to draft and agree on the treaties before submitting them to a general peace parley.

Byrnes' proposal, he contended, "emasculated" the Moscow accord and was unacceptable to the Soviet Union.

Earlier the deputy foreign ministers presented their report on their chief's results to date. These included, it was reported, 19 agreements, including seven on Italy, three on Romania, three on Bulgaria, four on Hungary and two on Finland.

They did not enumerate the items of disagreement.

Most of the agreements concerned minor points of treaties.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A stop-gap resolution to continue the draft 45 days beyond May 15 was dashed off with a pencil by Senator Johnson (D., Colo.) yesterday and passed unanimously by the senate in five minutes.

House leaders immediately made plans to pass it quickly to the president for his signature. It would continue the draft, just as it is, until July 1 pending congressional action on a longer extension.

Aids Army Paradoxically, the hurried action puts the armed services in better shape than they might have been if considered legislation were adopted, for draft boards now will continue their present induction practices until July 1 at least.

The house, in voting a nine-month extension, had ordered inductions suspended for a five-month "holiday" to give the recruiting program a trial. The senate military committee, proposing a full year's extension, recommended that inductions be restricted to numbers not supplied by volunteers.

Angry Debate An angry senate argument over what congress should do about John L. Lewis and the paralyzing coal strike resulted in the speedy draft act extension.

Democratic leader Barkley (Ky.) was pleading with senators to complete passage of the British loan and then take up draft extension legislation before turning to any labor disputes measures.

Drop Charges Against Eldora Officials

Dr. Anderson Bound Over to Grand Jury Tells of Argument Over Body Disposal Of Marian Blyth

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—Dr. James C. Anderson was bound over to the grand jury yesterday on second degree murder charges after a preliminary municipal court hearing in which he told the tale of a ghastly drive through Omaha and Council Bluffs with occupants of his car arguing over the disposal of the body of Marian Blyth crammed into the rear compartment.

The physician, charged with Dr. Phillip Campbell of Omaha following the April 25 death of Miss Blyth, in his testimony:

Maintained that he started the drive with intentions of delivering the body to Pottawattamie County Coroner H. Stanley Woodring at the Woodring funeral home.

Declared that Doctor Campbell insisted on throwing the body into the river.

Denied that he helped throw the body off the south Omaha bridge into the Missouri river.

Meanwhile, a hearing to extradite Doctor Campbell to Iowa is scheduled at Lincoln today.

Municipal Judge Allan Ardell bound Doctor Anderson to the grand jury after overruling a motion to dismiss the charges. Bond was set at $20,000, the same under which the physician has been at liberty.

Vittorio Emanuele III Drops Italy's Crown

NAPLES (AP)—Vittorio Emanuele III, tired, little king of Italy, formally abdicated in favor of his son Umberto the throne he has held for almost 46 years and sailed last night with his queen, Elena, into voluntary exile.

Once idolized by his people, the 76-year-old monarch was blamed with the downfall of Mussolini, for Italy's woes, and many Italians long have demanded his abdication.

He had succeeded to the throne July 29, 1900, when his father, Umberto I, was assassinated near Milan.

Crown Prince Umberto, who was appointed lieutenant-general of the realm by his father nearly two years ago, was expected to assume the title of King Umberto II.

The abdication act was signed at 3:15 p. m., and four hours later the king and queen boarded the cruiser Duke of Abruzzi. It sailed escorted by two destroyers, with the king's destination reported by a minister of the royal house as Cairo.

Judge Fry added that he believed the verdicts in the cases were justified and right.

From reading the evidence in the previous cases and the minutes of grand jury testimony, Judge Fry said, he was convinced there was an abundance of testimony that boys were mistreated at the training school. The judge said also he believed von Krog knew of these mistreatments and acquiesced in them.

Discharge Defendants As a result of the ruling, Judge Fry said, the defendants are discharged immediately.

The defendants were O. S. von Krog, former superintendent of the school; Carl Klatt and Harold Nelson, former guards; Darrell T. Brown, former assistant superintendent, and H. J. Martin, former dean of boys.

State Attorneys Protest Action Of Judge Fry

Trial Dismissal Made On Grounds of Lack Of Sufficient Evidence

FORT DODGE (AP)—District Judge H. E. Fry yesterday sustained the motion of Hardin County Attorney D. W. Dickinson and dismissed conspiracy charges against five former officials and employees of the Eldora state training school for boys.

The dismissal was granted over the protests of the state attorney general's office, which had taken the prosecution of the case out of Dickinson's hands.

Dismissal was made on the grounds of lack of evidence to support the crime charged or to make a jury question.

As a result of the ruling, Judge Fry said, the defendants are discharged immediately.

The defendants were O. S. von Krog, former superintendent of the school; Carl Klatt and Harold Nelson, former guards; Darrell T. Brown, former assistant superintendent, and H. J. Martin, former dean of boys.

After announcing his decision, Judge Fry commented generally on the Eldora cases and particularly praised the character and integrity of Webster county juries. Criticism against these juries for the verdicts returned in the trials of Klatt and Nelson was unjustified, the court said.

Klatt tried on a second degree murder charge and convicted of assault and battery. A second degree murder charge against Nelson was dismissed before his trial and he was tried on a charge of assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury. He also was convicted of assault and battery. Both drew 30-day jail sentences.

Judge Fry added that he believed the verdicts in the cases were justified and right.

Studies Spanish at 91—Today's Oldster

ST. LOUIS (AP)—She interrupted her Spanish studies to do it, but Mrs. Lillian H. Gist, 91, flew from Tampa, Fla., yesterday enroute to nearby Jacksonville, Ill., to attend commencement exercises on the campus where she was graduated 71 years ago.

Fifth Language Spanish, incidentally, is her fifth foreign language. She was teaching French and Spanish when she got her degree in 1875 from Illinois Female Seminary, now MacMurray college. She has mastered Greek and Latin. The fact she is studying Spanish now despite her years illustrates her one sentence of advice on keeping young:

"Never let your mind go to seed."

She hasn't. She was a grandmother in 1908 when she received her A. B. degree from Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Ia., her Illinois degree having been mistress of arts because women weren't recognized as "bachelors of art" in those days. She received her master's degree when 81 and her doctor's when 82.

Often Substituted Despite that and the fact she often substituted on the faculty while her husband was a professor at Iowa State Teachers college at Cedar Falls, her whole life hasn't been academic.

She has reared 11 children. The youngest, Mrs. C. W. Sward, of Chicago, met her at the airport yesterday and motored on with her to Jacksonville. She has 12 grandchildren and six great grandchildren. During world war II she knitted 22 sweaters for the Red Cross.

And yesterday was her seventh airplane trip.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate agreed last night after a stormy debate to vote at 3 p. m. (CDT) today on final passage of the $3,750,000,000 British loan bill.

The unanimous agreement came after Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) previously had failed to obtain such a pact and had urged senators to remain in session in an attempt to pass the measure last night.

Senator Morse (R., Ore.), who blocked the first attempt, later withdrew his objection and the hour was fixed.

With the administration in complete control, the senate voted down one opposition amendment to the loan bill after another until it ran into a snag at 6 p. m. (CDT).

Senator Lanzer (R., N. D.) took the floor then and held it for nearly four hours. When he had subsided, Barkley tried to get an agreement for the vote today.

Morse objected at that time, but later withdrew his protest after Barkley indicated the senate might spend the rest of the night on the bill.

Little Rock Ruckus Raised by One Bee

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bee stung Mrs. Bennie G. Standridge while she was driving an automobile on a Little Rock street yesterday.

Startled, Mrs. Standridge lost control of the car, which bounded across the street and knocked an unoccupied automobile about 90 feet.

The injury which bothered Mrs. Standridge most, said her attendants at Baptist State hospital, was the bee sting.

House Approves $400 Million for Truman Construction Program of 2 Million Homes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reversing its position, the house yesterday approved $400,000,000 in housing subsidies, giving President Truman a victory in his program for construction of 2,700,000 houses by private enterprise in two years.

Wilson W. Wyatt, housing administrator, immediately declared: "This throws the veterans housing program into high gear."

Chairman Spence (D., Ky.) of the house banking committee said this means the housing bill will be on Mr. Truman's desk "in a day or two." Today's action broke a month's old stalemate on housing legislation.

The house a month ago rejected 161 to 92 a proposal for $600,000,000 in housing subsidies, but some southern Democrats who teamed with Republicans in the earlier vote sided today with the administration.

In today's roll call vote, 155 Democrats were joined by 30 Republicans and two minor party members in support of the subsidy program—described by Mr. Truman as the "very heart" of the housing program. Opposing were 25 Democrats and 133 Republicans.

Million Persons Out of Work; Senate Plans Labor Legislation

Senate Forces Barkley To Set Aside $4 Billion British Loan Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rebellious senate, angry and alarmed about the coal strike, forced labor disputes legislation to the top of its calendar yesterday—ahead of the administration's legislative program.

Against the upsurge of sentiment to "do something about John L. Lewis," Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) was forced to agree to give a labor bill right-of-way behind the proposed $3,750,000,000 British loan.

He did so when it became apparent that otherwise the senate was in a mood to drop the loan and everything else in order to talk about the coal strike and what could be done to stop it.

Going Ahead Senator Taft (R., Ohio) told the senate late in the day that he was glad it was going ahead with labor legislation, but that in his opinion the coal strike problem "is primarily up to the president."

"I object to the theory that congress is in any way delinquent in this strike," he said. "We could not pass a more extreme law than the Smith-Connelly act. The president has not chosen to act under the Smith-Connelly act."

The bill the senate has on its calendar and expects to take up today is its labor committee's rewritten version of the house-approved case strike control act.

As it stands, it provides simply for a strengthened federal conciliation service and a ban on union interference with farmers delivering farm products to market.

Framing Amendments Half a dozen senators, however, were framing amendments to deal with the present coal strike and to impose long-range restrictions on unions.

Senator Lucas (D., Ill.) prepared an amendment aimed directly at the coal strike. It would provide this machinery:

When the president found a work stoppage was impairing services essential to the public health, safety or security, he would so proclaim and request the parties to the dispute to resume work. If work was not resumed, the president would be authorized to seize the struck properties and operate them.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official navy report alleging wholesale thefts and mismanagement of naval property in the 14th (Hawaiian) naval district was turned over today to the senate war investigating committee.

It charged that "a large amount of money and merchandise" had been stolen from the ships' store at the Pearl Harbor submarine base, that merchandise from the store was sold to Honolulu merchants, that goods for Honolulu merchants were brought from the mainland in navy ships, and that lumber enough to build a house for an officer was purloined from a salvage dump.

The allegations were made in a report by Rear Admiral Austin K. Doyle, deputy inspector general of the navy. Doyle was ordered into the case after Comdr. Laurence H. Blodgett was acquitted by a court martial on a charge of diverting a large quantity of navy meat and butter to his private use.

High navy officers, ranging up to vice admiral, were criticized for alleged negligence and inefficiency in Doyle's report.

They included Vice Admiral D. W. Bagley, Rear Admiral William R. Furlong, Rear Admiral E. W. Hanson, Rear Admiral (then Captain) R. W. Paine, Rear Admiral C. O. Kell, and Captain John H. Kangeter.

Government Orders Companies to Ration Manufactured Gas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civilian Production Chief John D. Small called last night for government seizure of the coal mines, reporting that 1,000,000 persons have been thrown out of work and that the wheels of American industry will shortly "grind to a rude stop."

Simultaneously a far-reaching system of rationing manufactured gas was ordered by the civilian production administration. It decreed that companies selling manufactured or mixed gas shall begin rationing supplies to consumers when their coal stocks fall below a three-week supply.

"Militant" action by President Truman was reported in the offering if other means fail to bring quick peace. After a conference with the chief executive, Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago said Mr. Truman is working on a program and if it does not bring a settlement he is "going to become militant."

No Details Declining to give any details of the Truman plans, Kelley said: "The president said he had a program he hoped would work out in a comparatively short time."

Earlier in the day, Mr. Truman had told a news conference that the crisis was approaching the status of a strike against the government. He said he was considering, among other things, calling John L. Lewis and the operators to a White House conference.

Small told reporters he had suggested government seizure to Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder last Saturday.

Asked whether it had been rejected, Small replied: "It has not been accepted nor rejected."

When a reporter asked Small if he favored seizure, the CPA chief said briskly:

"Yes, I have so recommended. We have reached a juncture where the mines should be seized. Then the government should appeal to miners to go back to work."

"It would be tragic if gas plants were forced to shut down."

A reporter asked Small what would happen if seizure fails and the miners refuse to return to their jobs.

"I can't conceive of people striking against the government," Small said.

"I think we would get enough miners back to work."

Larry Wolters of the Chicago Tribune summed up the case against the current type of radio programs very neatly the other day. He said: "Night after night major comedians try to get away with off-color jokes. James D. White's Interpreting The News... Two important strings are attached to the British labor government's offer to get out of Egypt. One is the matter of the British dominions, which must agree. The other is the condition attached that a mutual defense pact with Egypt supplant the present British military occupation. As to the agreement of the dominions, Australia and South Africa already are reported to be objecting. Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, Aussie war-time commander who fought in the middle east, finds the whole thing somewhat incredible. "I find it impossible to believe that Britain really intends to abandon control of the eastern Mediterranean," he says, expressing fear that it would have a "disintegrating effect" on the empire. Which brings up the question of future defense and the defense pact which the British ask with Egypt. It remains to be seen how this works out, but usually such defense pacts provide for bases and military facilities to become available in case of attack. Could Egypt defend the canal herself? The Egyptian army is not known as a highly developed striking force. Observers who have watched it on its own ground recall that besides its limited armament one item of standard equipment is an elaborate brass contraption for steam-blocking the tarboosh (or fez). The latter is the Egyptian GI headgear shaped like a truncated cone with a tassel on top. Disparaging remarks also have been made about the Egyptian army's fighting spirit, which, it is well-known, has had to develop in an atmosphere of British occupation. Such an abrupt withdrawal, under present circumstances, seems hardly in the cards.

Quonset Huts Expected Soon; Officials Plan for FPHA Units

Twenty five Quonset huts will be shipped here from Spokane, Wash., by the first of next week, university officials said yesterday.

George L. Horner, university architect, said the Kucharo Construction Co. of Des Moines will have charge of setting up the units. Work will probably begin about June 1, he said.

Horner explained that 16 of the huts will be located in Parkside addition facing Halley street while the other nine units will be located north of the Riverdale trailer project on the west side of Iowa river near the university theater.

The huts will be divided into two apartments, each having a combination living room-kitchen, bathroom and probably two bedrooms.

Horner said the units will arrive in about two weeks.

Meanwhile, the university has received notice that an engineer from the federal public housing authority office in Chicago will arrive in Iowa City within the next few days to go over proposed sites for the 645 housing units allocated by the FPHA last week.

After the sites are inspected, Horner and Fred W. Ambrose, university business manager, will go to formulate further plans with the FPHA concerning the units.

Horner said that no further word has been received from the FPHA about the type of units to be shipped here. University officials expressed the belief, however, that most of the units would be of the barracks-type along with a few trailers and Quonset huts.

Trailers in Hawkeye Village and Riverdale, university trailer camps, will receive 350 gallons of paint, according to J. L. Taylor, university painter foreman.

Taylor said the roofs of the units will be painted aluminum to keep interiors cooler during the summer. The sides of the smaller units will be painted "Kentucky green" while expandable units will be coated "pearl gray."

Painting will begin within two days.

SUI Sun Bathers Iowa Students Use Many Methods

The heat's on again! With the return of spring weather, Iowa students are taking to the open air. Their objective—a glowing sultan.

Just about noon every day, ambitious students begin streaming out of doors, stripped of most of their encumbering clothes. Scanning a practiced eye at the clouds, they go each in search of his own favorite broiling spot.

A survey taken among typical sun-bathers revealed that (1) clothing should be light, preferably shorts or bathing attire, but above all at a minimum, (2) tanning aids are of a wide variety, and (3) resulting complexions range from dark brown, through pale white, to a bright sensitive red.

Tanning aids endorsed by some of the sun bathers include: cocoa butter, pure undiluted vinegar, baby oil, wind and weather lotion, olive oil, a mixture of iodine and water, a mixture of iodine and mineral oil, and just plain water, liberally applied.

Judging from the articles carried outdoors by the browner of the bathers, for a completely successful stay in the sun you need: a blanket, a portable radio, magazines, books or notebooks, stationery, ink, sun glasses, cards, Bombs, bobby pins, and make-up (for the girls), a pillow, cokes or something to drink, and incidentally, a very hot sun.

Maybe you've thought of the Bell Telephone System as using only wires. It uses and pioneers in radio too.

Radio waves are used to carry your voice across the seas to telephones in other lands... across water barriers here at home... to vessels plying inland waters and to ships out at sea. And before too long, radio links will provide telephone service for cars and trucks.

Radio relay systems that will carry long distance messages from city to city are now in the advanced experimental stage.

In every case the Bell System uses the kind of transmission, wire or radio, that provides the best service for the most people.

AVC Endorses Social Action Group's Stand

The Johnson county chapter of the American Veterans committee last night pledged active support to the Social Action committee after unanimously endorsing that group's position on Negro patronage in Iowa City barber shops, at a meeting in the Unitarian church.

President Virgil M. Hancher, in a letter answering an AVC question as to why Negroes are not served in the Quadrangle shop, said: "The University of Iowa expects that any service it offers in a dormitory will be equally available to all residents of that dormitory."

"I have examined the lease under which this service is offered by the private operator of that shop and I find nothing in it that permits us as the landlord to dictate his service policies. Hereafter, we shall see that all such leases will require the lessee to offer his services equally to all residents within the area of his operations."

Negro service is being refused by the present operator of the Quadrangle barber shop, according to a statement made yesterday to AVC by a representative of the Quadrangle student governing body. There are four Negro students living in the Quadrangle.

Lawrence Dennis was unanimously named chairman in an election of permanent chapter officers.

The feeling among most Iowa City barbers seems to be that no shop will consent to cut Negroes' hair, it was found in a survey yesterday.

"My shop has never served a Negro customer," stated a local barber. "We have always served white students and children and will continue to be a white barber shop."

"Why can't people continue as they have for the last 200 years?" one barber asked. "There's a part time Negro shop on South Capitol street that the Negroes can go to."

This shop, according to a Negro customer, is run by a Negro student who is seldom in the shop and very hard to contact.

Several objections to cutting Negroes' hair as stated by different barbers are: (1) They might lose their employees; (2) They might lose their white customers; (3) Negro hair is hard to wash out of towels.

Marvin Frees Sues For $15,000 Damages, Charges Negligence

Marvin Frees filed suit in district court yesterday for $15,000 damages from F. W. Reimer and Walter Sorenson, charging them with negligence in an auto accident which he claimed permanently disabled him.

The accident occurred near Oxford on March 30 when a Chevrolet pickup driven by Frees collided with a tractor-trailer driven by Sorenson and owned by Reimer. According to Frees, the defendant's truck was on the wrong side of the road.

The plaintiff received a crushed and mangled left arm, hand and shoulder, and lost his left thumb. William H. Bartley and Messer, Hamilton and Cahil, are attorneys for Frees.

South Americans—

Don't Single-Date, Eat Hastily!

Five-cent chocolate bars, hastily eaten meals, and complete belief in the "common man" are but a few of the differences between American and Peruvian life, according to Nilda Castro-Perea, G of Lima, Peru.

Miss Castro, who arrived in the United States in 1942, was graduated from the University of Texas and is now working on her master's degree in sociology at Iowa. She plans to return to Peru and assist in teen-age recreation there. Educated in a Peruvian-American school, she learned English, Spanish and French almost simultaneously. She is one of 14 native drillmasters assisting in the Romance languages department.

Dates in Peru
"Girls have much more independence in America, and there are many more things for girls and boys to do together," she commented.

Representative Says Hunger Undermining Integrity of People

"Hunger is undermining the moral and spiritual integrity of a whole people," said Mrs. Lucille Fristoe, Red Cross field representative recently returned from 16 months service in Italy, in an address on the need for food conservation, at the Community building last night.

"We cannot talk to those people about our way of life if they are too hungry to listen," she stated, after describing food production hardships in Europe.

A demonstration was held showing how to substitute fresh vegetables and fruits for fats, oils and wheat products.

The meeting was sponsored by the Red Cross, the League of Woman Voters and the Woman's club.

Hillel Group Names Head

Louise Milstein, A2 of Rochester, N. Y., yesterday was named president of the Hillel foundation in an executive committee election.

Other officers elected to serve during the 1946-1947 academic year are: Dave Schneek, C3 of New York, vice-president; Esther Klein, A2 of Council Bluffs, recording secretary; Bernadine Greenberg, A2 of Waterloo, corresponding secretary, and Harlan Wittenstein, C3 of Des Moines, treasurer.

Lt. James B. Stronks Arrives in Iowa City

First Lt. James B. Stronks, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stronks, 351 Hutchinson avenue, arrived in Iowa City last week from the South Pacific. He returned aboard the S.S. General Langfitt which docked at San Francisco.

Lieutenant Stronks has been stationed on Luzon at the headquarters of the 14th anti-aircraft command at Manila. He was graduated in July, 1942, from the University of Iowa where he majored in English. He left for the army in September, 1942.

"While the chaperone system is not so strict as it once was, single-dating in Peru is practically unheard of unless the couple is engaged."

Students in Peru are much more explosive than in the States, she added. Here, when one disagrees with the professor, little or nothing is done by the student to make his position known.

"The Peruvian meals are eaten in leisure, and the entire family is always present for them," Miss Castro said. "It is unheard of, if members of the family are working in the business district or in a nearby town, for them to eat alone in a restaurant. In meals there is not the ever-conscious emphasis on speed that I found here."

"The thing that impressed me most," she asserted, "is the misconception most people in the United States have about the people in South American countries. Many think that the typical South American dresses in primitive costumes, eats strange food, and plays continually. Actually, there is not too much difference between life in the cities there and in the cities here."

Pan-American Understanding
She believes the present Pan-American films and publications are doing much to help the two continents reach a more accurate and complete understanding of each other.

Miss Castro likes the United States' belief in democracy and in the common man. It is present in South America too, she explained, but the people do not discuss it as much or become so defensive if this belief is challenged.

Russians Think Like Americans—Except— Professor Jack Johnson Tells Rotarians

"Russia and America are the only two major nations who have consistently worked for peace, and never fought each other," Prof. Jack T. Johnson of the political science department told Rotarians yesterday during a talk on Russian and American relationships.

The major misunderstandings between the two countries are based on language and temperamental differences, he went on to say. The average Russian thinks like Americans except in the field of politics. Here he firmly believes in unanimous decisions, and has no faith in majority rule in a vote or discussion.

"Their close integration of foreign and domestic affairs presents a situation difficult for us to understand," Johnson added. "You cannot analyze their actions by a study of either policy, rather an over all picture of the two must be considered."

"International competition in the field of goodwill is inevitable"

he said, "I believe it may be a good thing, for competition in any field results in higher standards for all concerned."

Braves' Wallace Beats Cubs in 12th Frame, 5-2

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Jim Wallace, rookie up from Indianapolis, held the Chicago Cubs hitless in eight of 12 innings yesterday to pitch the Boston Braves to a 5-2 victory before 13,632 fans in Wrigley field.

Wallace was in trouble but twice during the entire 12 innings as he handcuffed the Cubs, giving them but eight hits all the way. In the fourth inning, after Peanuts Lowrey had led off with a home run—his second of the season—Wallace gave up three straight singles, with Andy Pafko driving Eddie Waitkus home with the second run.

Johnny Hopp and Tommy Holmes engineered a double steal in the twelfth, with Hopp scoring. Then, with the bases loaded, Stu Hofferth lined a single to center to drive in two more runs.

Reds Edue Dodgers, 8-7
CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds nosed out the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-7 yesterday, to drop the Dodgers one full game behind the pace-setting National league St. Louis Cardinals.

The Reds narrowly averted a duplication of Wednesday's late inning defeat, for the Dodgers, trailing 8-3, after seven innings bounced back with three runs in the eighth and one in the ninth before being checked.

Lowrey Steals Second

Boston Slams White Sox Again, 7-5

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's red hot Red Sox yesterday won their 14th consecutive game, defeating the Chicago White Sox 7-5 in nine innings.

The Bostonians, out-hit 15-11 by the White Sox, open a weekend series with the Yankees in New York today.

A fourth inning, two-run homer by Bobby Doerr gave the victors their final two runs and the ultimate margin of victory.

Doerr's drive, a high smash, cleared fence and screen in left field and it was the only hit made off Johnny Rigney, who pitched three innings after he replaced starter Ed Lopat.

The winners got only one more hit after that, a single in the eighth by Leon Culberson. The game ended in an alternately heavy and light rain which was accompanied by a gusty wind.

Potter Stuns Yanks, 6-1
NEW YORK (AP)—Nelson Potter's stingy four-hit pitching and home runs by Chuck Stevens and Frank Mancuso brought the St. Louis Browns a 6-1 victory over the New York Yankees yesterday before a paid attendance of 13,251.

Charley Keller's second inning homer accounted for the Yankees' lone tally. Stevens belted starter Allan Gettel for a 380-foot four-master with Mark Christman on base in the second inning and Mancuso followed with a blast into the left field pavilion to give the Browns a quick 3-0 lead. St. Louis collected its other three tallies in the eighth on three hits coupled with two errors by centerfielder Joe DiMaggio.

Hawkeyes Face Maroons Today

Hawk Batting Slumps; Ebner, Diehl Only Regulars Over .300

In order to snap a five-game losing streak, Iowa's slumping baseball team will have to pick up Chicago's tired old Maroons, now rounding out the last Western conference season for the one powerful institution, today and tomorrow in a two-game series in Chicago.

The Hawkeyes can't be too sure of their victims, however. The Maroons have dropped eight straight Big Ten games, but have shown occasional flashes of life in beating several non-conference foes.

And after the double loss to Notre Dame Tuesday and Wednesday, statistics of Iowa's team appear none too reassuring for the resumption of loop action. Only two members of the regular batting order—Lyle Ebner and Bill Diehl—are hitting above .300 and the team average has skidded to .244.

Especially noticeable is the drop of third baseman Keith Kafer and shortstop "Doc" Dunagan, both of whom were among the leaders earlier in the season. Of more concern to Coach Otto Vogel are the fielding lapses his team suffered in bowing twice to the Irish.

Big Bob Faber, the workhorse of Iowa's mound, is expected to get the starting call in this afternoon's game. Tomorrow's assignment probably will go to Lefty Jack Bruner, who leads the Hawkeye chuckers with three victories and one defeat. Faber has worked in six of Iowa's 16 games, being credited with two victories and charged with three defeats.

In Big Ten games—in which Iowa has a 2-3 record—only four hitters are clearing the .300 mark: catcher Lyle Ebner .350; shortstop "Doc" Dunagan and third baseman Keith Kafer each .316; and right fielder Jack Wishmier .300.

Coach Bresnahan Has Named Sixteen Thinculds to Compete in the Triangular Meet with Chicago and Northwestern at Evanston, Ill. Saturday

Iowa's mile relay team, composed of Ike Johnson, Rex Ploen, Otis Finney and Eric Wilson Jr., which ran third in the Kansas relays and fifth in the Drake relays, will be the Hawks main threat but split up the four men will offer stiff opposition in the dash events.

Ploen will enter the 100, an event he ran in 10 seconds flat over a wet track last week against Chicago. Finney will go in the 200, and Wilson will compete in the half mile run.

Another entrant in the half mile will be John Hunter, who ran a dead heat with Wilson last week in the dual meet with Chicago. Johnson, top Iowa scorer to date, will run his specialty, the low hurdles, and will compete in the high hurdles and broad jump.

Topping the field event men will be Herb Wilkinson, second in the Drake meet with a leap of 6-2, Keith Gotthardt, who has tossed the shot 45 feet, and Dan Sheehan, discus man who has a practice heave of 130 feet to his credit.

Northwestern will be the main threat to a Hawk win—Iowa beat Chicago last weekend, 89-28 in a dual meet—because the Wildcat roster includes such outstanding performers as Porter, fourth in the Drake relays high hurdles; Moore, Big Ten, Drake relay; and Chicago relays pole vault champion with a 13-8 mark; Thompson, 220 star; Norman, discus thrower, half miler, and Mastain, miler.

Schwank Lists 16 Men For District Meet

Coach Wally Schwank has announced the names of 16 thinculds to represent Iowa City high school in the district track meet at Davenport Friday night. Coach Schwank expects to enter at least one man in every event.

In the relays the Hawkeyes expect to be strongest in the 440, 880 and medley. Main point getters to date in the individual events are Don Fryauf in the sprints, Bill Olson in the hurdles and discus, Chan Coulter in the 440-yard dash and Chug Wilson in the broad jump.

Preliminaries will be run starting at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. The evening action will start at 7 o'clock.

Chandler Lists 13 'Jumpers'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler's official bulletin No. 7 yesterday listed 13 ex-major league players as "ineligible" for five years.

His office said the players "jumped" to the Mexican league. "The commissioner said several weeks ago that players deserting organized ball for the south-of-the-border circuit would be "out" and could not apply for reinstatement for five years.

Murray Franklin, late of Detroit, was the only former American leaguer listed. Named from the National league were Arnold (Mickey) Owen, Louis Olmo and Roland Gladu, formerly of Brooklyn; Rene Montegudo, Philadelphia, and George Hausmann, Roy Zimmerman, Napoleon Reyes, Harry Feldman, Salvatore A. Maglie, Adria Zambala, Daniel Gardella and Ace T. Adams, who played with New York.

NAAU Mat King Enrolls Here

Mike DiBiase, Navy Star, Realizes Dream of Four Years Ago

Fulfilling an ambition which he set out for football at Iowa this year, Mike DiBiase, 1946 National AAU heavyweight wrestling champion, has enrolled at the University of Iowa yesterday morning. The 230-pound DiBiase, who was discharged from the navy April 17 after three and a half years service, will enter school this fall. Mike created a sensation last month when he swept to a title in the National AAU wrestling meet in Brooklyn as a representative of the Alameda (Calif.) air base team. While in service, he was a teammate of Del Bartels, Hawkeye backfield candidate, at the Norman (Okla.) navy team, and one season was a tackle on the famed St. Mary's pre-flight eleven in California. A week after winning the AAU mat crown, Mike was married to the former Quetta Shipman of Concord, Calif.

ON DOTTED LINE—Mike DiBiase, 1946 National AAU heavyweight wrestling champion, is shown completing his registration in the university yesterday morning. The former Omaha prep star expects to wrestle for Iowa and play football this fall.

Included in the new program that will go into effect with the new post will be an extended athletic program that will reach into the lower grades of the city. Football, basketball and track competition will be extended to the junior high school with a schedule of contests arranged for the teams.

Embargo Will Not Affect Rock Island

The Rock Island railroad will continue to accept all freight carload and less than carload shipments to and from any point located on the Rock Island line, despite the embargo on freight which will become effective today on other railroad lines, J. J. Deninger, freight agent here, said yesterday.

Shipment will be possible because the line will operate only diesel and oil burning locomotives starting today. As a result of the shortage of coal due to the strike, other railroads cannot accept carload or less than carload freight for any destination in the United States, Mexico and Canada.

For information on exceptions to the embargo, shippers should contact the freight office.

Although passenger service on the Rock Island line will be curtailed, trains through Iowa City will not be affected. Only two of the Rock Island's 10 passenger trains scheduled here daily are now burning coal.

Kloos Petitions 11 Objectors

Faced with the necessity of moving from his present home at 712 Second avenue by May 15, Henry Kloos yesterday began circulating a petition to 11 objectors who opposed construction of a partially-completed dwelling a few doors from his present residence.

The city council voted April 29 to revoke the building permit given Kloos, after receiving a petition objecting to the construction.

In a preliminary hearing Wednesday, Kloos was charged with failing to comply with the city building code and with continuing to build after being ordered to stop. City Engineer Fred Gartzke said the height of the dwelling failed to meet the specifications of the building code.

Kloos' petition asked for withdrawal of the objections placed with the city council, and asked for terms under which the objectors would permit the construction.

The city engineer said if the petition were successful, the matter would be referred to the city
