Russia Yields In Two Point Treaty Dispute

Great Britain, Soviet Disagree Over Rule Of Cyrenaica Colony

PARIS (AP)—Russia yielded last night on two disputed points in the Italian treaty before the four-power foreign ministers council, indicating, American sources said, a possible opening wedge in the week-long stalemate between the Soviet Union and the western powers.

V. M. Molotov, Soviet foreign minister, agreed to give Italy sole trusteeship of her colonies won in pre-Fascist days and to consent to an allied war criminals commission inside Italy—two points he previously opposed.

Although, American sources said, Secretary of State James F. Byrnes agreed to both points, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the council he maintained "reservations" concerning the colonies.

Bevin Consents
British sources said Bevin consented to designate Italy as sole trustee of Tripolitania and other portions of her former African empire only if the council agreed to name Great Britain as trustee of Cyrenaica, a colony adjoining Tripolitania on the Mediterranean.

Molotov's new statement concerning the Italian treaty followed a British charge that Russian opposition to calling a European peace conference before "Big Four" agreement on all treaties constituted a veto against hearing the other Allies.

British sources said that Bevin, in asking for trusteeship of Cyrenaica, cited Great Britain's wartime promise to the tribesmen of that colony that they never again would be placed under Italian rule.

Definite Date
Concerning Russia's stand on the European peace conference, American and British sources said Byrnes pleaded with the council to set a definite date for the peace conference.

Molotov concurred with all such proposals, it was said, but always on the condition that the United States, Britain, France and Russia must agree first on the essential points in all the treaties to be considered before invitations are sent out.

U. S. Attacks Polish Actions

Loan to Poles Halted Despite Official Denial Of Political Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson accused the Polish government yesterday of failing to live up to the political commitments it made in obtaining a $90,000,000 loan and credit here last month.

He based his charge, made at a news conference, on two points. Dr. Stefan Litauer, Polish embassy counselor here, promptly denied one of these and said the other was due to a technicality without political significance.

Meanwhile the loan and credit are being suspended while the United States investigates further. Acheson's first point was that an Associated Press dispatch filed in Warsaw on a speech made by a Polish leader there failed to get out of the country because of censorship.

Litauer's statement said he "categorically deny" that there is any censorship in Poland.

Acheson's second point was that the Polish government had failed to publish in Poland the text of the agreement showing the Polish people the commitments to the United States to uphold political freedom in Poland. Dr. Litauer said the reason for this was that a courier delivering the text to Warsaw had arrived there only two days ago.

28 Die as Two Four Engined Navy Bombers Crash in Flames

MUNSON, FLA. (AP)—Twenty-eight airmen were killed yesterday when two big four engined navy planes crashed in flames in a remote wooded area eight miles north of here.

Officers at the Pensacola naval air station, where the planes were based, said they collided in flight during an air maneuver. Fourteen bodies were recovered from the wreckage of one ship and 13 from the other, an announcement said. One other body with an unopened parachute was found nearby.

The planes, identified as PB-4Y's, were engaged in training maneuvers and were accompanied by an F6F Hellcat fighter. The fighter craft landed safely later.

Naval officers said the names of the victims would not be announced until the next of kin had been notified.

Senate Votes to Take Up Labor Legislation Despite Lewis' Offer

Representative Moves To Penalize Walkouts Against Public Utilities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate voted 66 to 9 yesterday to take up labor legislation despite John L. Lewis' "truce" offer but the trend of debate indicated there would be no action until late next week at the earliest.

In the house, Rep. Hoffman (R., Mich.) sought immediate consideration of a bill to penalize strikes against public utilities or interstate commerce without 60 days' notice but Speaker Rayburn withheld recognition. Members of a house judiciary subcommittee agreed to support legislation outlawing royalty payments to unions and seek action on the floor next week.

As the senate plunged into debate which may go on for many days, Senators McMahon (D., Conn.) and Morse (R., Ore.) introduced resolutions calling for investigations. McMahon proposed a senate-house inquiry into working conditions in the mines. Morse urged "nationwide hearings" on the whole problem of labor relations.

A resolution identical with McMahon's was introduced in the house by Rep. Gore (D., Tenn.).

McMahon asked immediate senate action on his resolution but withdrew the request when Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) objected.

Backers of restraints on labor unions left the initial talking largely to those who opposed labor measures until the senate recessed late in the afternoon until Monday.

Okay $4 Billion Loan to Britain

Bill Approves Funds According to Terms Of British Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 50-year loan of $3,750,000,000 to prime Great Britain's economic pump was approved by the senate yesterday and sent to an uncertain fate in the house.

By a 46 to 34 vote the chamber approved, without changing any of its terms, legislation authorizing the advance of funds under an agreement signed with the British last December.

Passage came after the administration, in full command of the situation, beat down amendments which democratic leader Barkley (Ky.) contended would have forced re-negotiation of the agreement with resultant delays.

As approved by the senate, the loan bill authorized the treasury to advance up to $3,750,000,000 to the British during the next five years. They would pay no interest during that time, but would begin paying 2 per cent in 1951.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told his colleagues that $2,200,000,000 would be needed by Britain to meet her immediate financial obligations and $1,300,000,000 to bring British troops back home from all over the world. An opponent of the loan, Taft said that would leave little for long-range financial help.

On the final test, 17 Republicans joined 29 Democrats in supporting the loan proposal. Registered against it were 18 Republicans, 15 Democrats and one Progressive.

Lewis' Offer Of Two Week Truce Taken

Operators, Miners Agree to Principle Of Welfare Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 40-day soft coal strike was temporarily halted last night as operators accepted John L. Lewis' proposal for a two week truce.

The White House announced that both sides to the conflict crippling the American economy had agreed to the principle of a health and welfare fund, but they were still far from accord on the details of a new contract. President Truman told them to reach one and bring it to him by next Wednesday.

One jump ahead of expected action by a congress alarmed over the industrial crisis, Lewis ordered his 400,000 bituminous miners to dig coal until May 25 if the operators would agree to make any pay increase retroactive to yesterday.

Captive Mines
The "captive" mines—which are owned by the steel companies and the output of which goes into steel production—quickly agreed.

The spokesmen for the other operators went into a huddle and announced that they accepted also, adding that they had received assurance of price rises corresponding to the increased costs.

Pledging that they will try to carry out Mr. Truman's mandate for quick peace, the operators' statement said:

"Whether Mr. Lewis' proposal is a sincere effort to solve this tremendously important problem or is a move to appease public opinion and delay impending legislation the next five days will tell."

Plans call for crews to enter the mines today to prepare them for production, which is scheduled to get under way Monday.

Reach Agreement
Summoned to the White House for a 4 p. m. conference, Lewis and Charles O'Neill, operators' spokesman, told reporters that the president had called upon them to reach a contract in four or five days.

Lewis has stressed his demand for a health and welfare fund. Operators have said he wants a union-controlled fund financed by a royalty on each ton of coal.

Only in Principle
Yesterday's reported agreement on it was only in principle, Ross said. Lewis and O'Neill differed as to how the money should be raised and how it should be administered.

Ross pictured the White House conference as one in which both sides laid their differences on the table, after which the president told them to get together and come back to him with a contract next Wednesday.

Ross quoted the chief executive as saying "there wasn't any sense in the whole economic system of the country being tied up by those differences."

Topic of GOP Forum Altered

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa Young Republicans changed their minds yesterday about holding an open forum discussion here today on the United States policy toward Russia, as suggested by former Gov. Harold E. Stassen.

Instead, those attending a statewide organization rally will deal with "what shall our national labor policy be?" as suggested by the Republican national committee.

John E. Budd, of Atlantic, state chairman of the young Republicans, explained the switch was "recommended because our labor policy seems more important and of greater concern at the moment."

He made no comment on the fact that Stassen had proposed the nationwide forums on Russian policy before the party's national headquarters substituted their topic for Stassen's.

Hula Brassieres Figure in—Fraudulent Dealings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hula girl brassieres, navy-supervised crap games, and a $2,430 kick-back on a carload of cold storage eggs figured yesterday in an official account of wartime corruption at the navy's Pearl Harbor base.

A naval committee heard first about the navy-sanctioned gambling which was said to be carried on in 1943 and 1944 at the recreation hall of civilian housing area No. 3.

Testimony revealed that the responsible navy officials, pestered by complaints of "round-the-clock gambling in the workers' quarters, decided to permit supervised, penny-ante gambling in the recreation hall. Penny-ante didn't last long with the hard-boiled, well-paid navy yard crowd.

Directly in charge of the civilian housing area was Capt. (then Lt. Comdr.) John H. Kangerter, now under indictment along with another officer and two civilians for conspiracy.

Kangerter and the other three—Lt. John E. Carter, William S. Mitchell and A. L. Kilgo—organized the American Pacific Trading company and enjoyed some highly profitable dealings with concessions.

Kilgo acted on his own hook, however, in a lucrative operation in hula brassieres. As civilian manager of the messing clubs at the housing development, he paid one Dorothy Oka 20 or 25 cents apiece for doing the needlework on them. Stiekney said Doyle boosted the price to $1 when he delivered them to the Hawaiian gift shop at the housing center.

While Mitchell was on the mainland, drawing $460 a month

Man Finds 2 Bodies In Shallow Grave

GRANT, Mich. (AP)—Coroner John McKinley disclosed late yesterday that the bodies of a young woman and a 10-year-old girl had been found in a rough grave in Bridgeton township and that police "suspect murder."

McKinley said the "woman's skull had been crushed and that preliminary examination showed the pair had been buried about two weeks.

Their bodies were found in a shallow grave, about three-quarters of a mile off a state highway. McKinley said a caretaker at some nearby property found a white shoe early yesterday and upon further search came upon the grave. The feet of the two women were partially uncovered.

Police Fire on Arabs During Cairo Strike Over Jewish Question

CAIRO (AP)—Egyptian police fired at rioting Arabs with shotguns and wielded clubs yesterday as violence flared in Cairo during the one-day Arab general strike called in all chief cities of the middle east to protest American-British recommendations on Palestine.

At least 40 persons were injured and more than 200 arrested in an outbreak at the ancient Azhar mosque in the heart of Cairo's bazaar district, scene of previous riots.

In Jerusalem the Arab higher committee dispatched cables to the heads of the British, Russian and United States governments declaring that the recommendations of the British-American inquiry committee would "enable the Jews of the world to invade our country under the protection of the armed forces of Britain and America."

BULLETINS

DES MOINES (AP)—A man who gave his name as George Chase Baron and his home as Providence, R. I., was being held last night for investigation at Marshalltown, in connection with assault, robbery and car theft in Providence last month, R. W. Nebergall, chief of the state bureau of criminal investigation said.

DUBLIN, Saturday (AP)—The British Press Association said today that John McCaughey, 32-year-old former Irish Republican army "adjutant general," died shortly after 1 a. m., following his 23-day hunger strike and 17-day thirst strike in Dublin prison.

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister A. J. A. Macdonald said last night the Prime Minister was "highly gratified" by the United States senate's approval of the British loan.

Junior Patrol Gives Sheriff Support; Also Job When Elected

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sheriff Allan G. Falby of El Paso, Tex., told the national sheriff's association convention here yesterday that, while he was seeking election, members of a "junior patrol" he had organized painted signs on their cars endorsing his candidacy.

When he offered to show his gratitude by buying the children's grade, the sheriff said they replied: "Oh, that's all right, Mr. Falby. We've got plenty of gasoline. We siphon it out of other cars."

Trustees to Nominate Candidates at Meeting

The board of trustees of the school of religion will hold its annual meeting Monday at Hotel Jefferson. The nominating committee will meet at 11 a. m. to select candidates for the board of trustees, class of 1949, to replace the retiring members of the class of 1946.

Guest speaker at the noon luncheon will be Dr. William Young, vice-president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Faculty members of the school of religion will also speak.

In addition to the board, 50 guests will be present. The regular business meeting will be held at 1:30 p. m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. The board for the class of 1949 will be elected.

V-2 Rocket Shoots 75 Miles Above Earth

WHITE SANDS, N. M. (AP)—A remade giant German V-2 rocket roared to an estimated 75 miles above the earth yesterday at the start of awesome tests by the army of a type of missile which promises to be a major weapon of the atomic age.

American and British officials and scientists, including the commander of the forthcoming atom bomb test in the Pacific, looked on from a safe distance as the 46-foot, 14-ton rocket soared into the Ionosphere.

Italy to Hold June Election

ROME (AP)—The Italian cabinet approved yesterday the assumption of the throne by Crown Prince Umberto, but stipulated that he could rule only with limited powers until June 2, when the Italians will decide whether they want a monarchy or a republic.

The cabinet decided at an extraordinary session that Umberto could approve decrees up until the referendum date with the signature "Umberto II, King of Italy," but ordered eliminated the traditional following phrase, "by the Grace of God and the will of the people."

Recognition of Umberto was decided upon over the objection of Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti.

While the Communist and Socialist press was hostile to Umberto, the monarchist newspaper Italia Nuova hailed him as "the king of the Italians" and the "only one who can work in defense of the permanent interests of the people."

In a proclamation issued last night, Umberto called upon his people to "gather about the flag under which the fatherland was unified and four generations of Italians have known how to live laboriously and die heroically."

Sheridan's Objection Delays Passage of Bill

Administration's Hopes Of Getting Emergency Draft Extension Die

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration hopes of getting an emergency 45-day draft extension through the house as speedily as it passed the senate were shattered yesterday and the fate of the act expiring next Wednesday reverted to uncertainty.

The military committee quickly approved the resolution and leaders called it up in the house under procedure requiring unanimous consent for its consideration. An objection by Representative Sheridan (D., Pa.) of the military committee, however, forced a postponement until Monday. The house unanimously agreed to debate it two hours then and vote.

Continue Draft

The resolution as passed by the senate in five minutes Thursday would continue the draft from May 15 to July 1 as it now operates. With the delay in house action, however, several representatives indicated they would offer amendments to prevent the drafting of 18 and 19-year-olds.

If the house makes any changes, the measure would have to return to the senate for further consideration and it might not be enacted before the present law expires.

Questions Motives

Sheridan told the house he questions the motives behind the stop-gap proposal. He wonders, he said, whether the administration intends to use the draft law as a club against striking coal miners.

Dazed Motorists Get $1 Refund on Fines

CLAREMONT, N. H. (AP)—Some 38 dazed motorists in surrounding towns yesterday received one dollar checks from the Claremont Chamber of Commerce—refunds of parking fines.

The fines assessed by the municipal court during a recent police drive to enforce a war-lapsed overtime parking ordinance, were returned as a goodwill gesture, the chamber said.

Editorials:

Re-Education of Germans Still Long Way Off

Apoll of 134 German youths has shown that more than a third of them still express "unmistakably Nazi" attitudes, according to a recent report from American occupied Germany. The poll was conducted by occupation authorities.

A year of occupation apparently has failed to destroy the Hitler ideology in the minds of German school children.

Although only a part of those polled did show positive adherence to the Nazi system, it can be assumed that many more of them still retain the ideals of national socialism, but are astute enough to disguise real feelings from the enemy.

According to the report, democratic line of thinking were exhibited by only 29 of the group.

Needless to say, it would be foolish to expect that a single year of occupation could destroy the tenets of a system that has been inculcated into German youth since 1933.

That job will require years—perhaps even more years than the 25 that our statesmen believe will be necessary. It must be recalled that the German people have lived for centuries under a brutalistic system, installed by the Teutonic knights 1,000 years ago.

To bring about a democratic and peace-loving German people, it will be necessary to destroy customs, traditions and beliefs that are centuries old and to substitute for them sound and lasting ideals of democracy that will be acceptable to the German mind.

A program of this type will take many years to complete. It will be resisted staunchly by a people who will view the occupation forces as vicious oppressors of their natural right to government and to educate themselves according to their own desires.

The American people, if they are to fulfill their pledge of creating a democratic and peaceful Germany, must prepare for a long and arduous occupation period and continued commitments of troops and supplies.

That the American people may be unwilling to make such commitments is indicated by repeated calls for the return of American troops, the reluctance to maintain an adequate selective service law and the continuous activities designed to reduce military appropriations.

The choice lies before us now. Either we continue our efforts to create a democratic Germany by providing the means with which it may be accomplished, or we withdraw and wait the time when a resurgent Nazi state will challenge the world again.

Our Highlanders

A bouquet, if you please, to the Scottish Highlanders.

We don't know how others feel about the Highlanders, but to us the sound of a bagpipe will always carry with it memories of the University of Iowa.

We first saw the Highlanders in action back in 1939. During that year and again the following year we, and thousands of other young Iowans, watched the Highlanders swing jauntily across the gridiron in pre-game maneuvers. Well might they swagger, for those were the golden days when Kinnick, Prasse, Walker and Enich helped lead Iowa to football glory.

Then came the war. Overseas Iowa servicemen sometimes heard Scottish music on BBC. To many the bagpipes reproduced in their minds scenes of when the Iowa Highlanders played and marched so proudly.

One veteran recalls particularly seeing the Highlanders on a furlough in Iowa City. One night he went to the Community building USO. As he stood there talking, the lights dimmed and the Scottish Highlanders came into the room. It was the sweetest music he'd ever heard, he declares.

The Highlanders have been playing at high schools and at veterans hospitals around the state this spring. It is with pride that we read of the esteem with which our Highlanders are received.

Next fall the Scottish Highlanders will come marching across the gridiron again. The Old Gold will march to new football glory, and the Highlanders once again will be piping the Hawkeyes to victory.

He Sat on His Hands

It is to be hoped that another sad epic of history came to a conclusion with the abdication of Italy's sad "Little King," Vittorio Emanuele.

For 46 years, the Little King reigned in his strife-ridden and quixotic nation. For a time he had the love and respect of his people. But he got his hands dirty.

Vittorio Emanuele could have put a stop to Mussolini at least three times in that gangster's early career. A word from the king and the army could have squeaked it due.

Instead, the Little King sat back and watched, while the Black Shirts committed a few choice murders which even gave Il Duce pause for thought. When the king did nothing, Mussolini saw that the way for him was clear.

The Little King stands as a lesson for those who would wonder how to stop Fascism. The way NOT to stop it is to sit on your hands.

Vittorio and his wife have gone to Cairo for their voluntary exile. It may be said that they will be something less of a puzzle than the Sphinx.

The Case of the Panda

Apparently Americans are not the only people who become aroused when the shipment of animals by airplane cheats them out of their transportation priorities.

Both Nations Revert to Disaster Prewar Policies—

Anglo-Soviet Duel in Germany!

—Each Attempting to Build a Barrier Against the Other

By WALTER LIPPMAN In the Chicago Sun

The European reaction to his disarmament treaty should be enough to convince Secretary of State Byrnes that his advisers have not supplied him with a true picture of the German situation.

The proposal still was a top secret when I left Paris. When I read the text in the New York newspapers the next morning, I would have bet right then and there that the Russians would be rude and angry and the British would brush it off with frigid politeness.

For the proposal, which would have been well received in 1944, is based on a radical misunderstanding of what is happening in Germany.

The proposal assumes, quite mistakenly, that the paramount objective of our two allies is to keep Germany disarmed. In fact, they are maneuvering for position in anticipation of a war which they regard not necessarily as inevitable but as probable.

In such a war Germany would be not only a battlefield. The Germans would play an enormous part. Though battered, the Germans still are by all odds the strongest nation in Europe.

A duel in progress between London and Moscow for the control of the German population and its high military potential.

The grim reality of this Anglo-Soviet duel is not altogether hidden from the Americans. But it is obscured from them even in Germany and apparently its significance has not been appreciated at all in Washington.

Why U. S. Misinformed There is an important reason why the American government is basically misinformed, why it has lost touch with the realities.

In the division of the zones of occupation the United States got that part of Germany where nothing that really matters is happening, or can be made to happen.

The more revealing way to describe that division is to say that the Soviet Union and Britain have divided Prussia between them, leaving the South German states to be divided between France and the United States.

Now since 1866, when Bismarck defeated the South German states, Prussia has dominated Germany. Prussia contains all the essential elements of the German power.

Prussia Is Key Whoever rules Prussia, has, for the last 80 years, ruled Germany. The Americans are not ruling in Prussia. The British and the Russians have divided it between them.

The outcome of that contest is bound to determine the destiny of the whole of Germany and of Europe and of the world.

If the reader now asks how all this is to be reconciled with the spirit of the Allied pledges to disarm and demilitarize Germany, I am afraid that the answer is that only among the Americans and the French is the wronged policy the real policy.

The real policies of the British and of the Russians may be described, I think, as a reversion to their prewar illusions about Germany—namely, to the notion that each can find a way to use a united Germany.

The British are reverting to the notion of Neville Chamberlain that Britain can turn Germany against Russia. The Soviets are reverting towards the basic conception which produced the Molotov-Ribbentrop pact of 1939 that Germany can be turned away from Russia against the West.

Where Are Nazi Officers? Much of this Anglo-Soviet duel is hidden from view, yet not so much but that we know that much is hidden. The German officers who were captured at Stalingrad, and were for a time used to make propaganda against Hitler, have disappeared behind the famous iron curtain.

But it would be naive to suppose that they do not continue to form an important connection with important elements of the German army.

There is also a German army, a large and good one, which surrendered to the British. The story of that surrender still has to be told in detail. The story of what happened to that German army after the surrender still is hidden behind a silken curtain.

Enough is known, however, to warrant the statement that the corps of officers in this particular army were treated with exceptional consideration and with enough chivalry to justify them in feeling that their careers as professional soldiers were not necessarily and finally terminated.

Their treatment may have been in fact merely sportsmanship to a loser and chivalry to the vanquished.

Use Political Parties What is happening on the surface confirms in every way what only can be inferred about what is happening under the surface. In the open the Anglo-Soviet duel is being fought out through the German political parties.

The Russians, of course, are sponsoring and promoting the Communist party. The object of the Communist party is to swallow the Socialist party, and thus to unite under one command the whole German working class. In the Soviet zone and in Berlin, this has been accomplished.

The most noteworthy fact about this political contest is that it is turning into an auction to gain the favor of patriotic German nationalists.

The Russians, bidding among the Germans for popular support of the Communists, are having to take the position that Germany should not be dismembered, certainly not in the West, and that the unity of Germany must be restored.

This is, of course, a bit difficult to reconcile with the annexation of German territory by Poland. But the German Communists, who are now as always German nationalists, have a very good private answer to this anomaly. It is that in the end a Soviet Germany and a Soviet Russia once again will partition Poland.

Offers German Unity The British, bidding for German support of their Social Democrats, also are having to offer unity to the Germans.

As a result the political "re-education" of Germany now consists in teaching the Germans that by exploiting the competition between Britain and Russia, making the two rivals bid against each other, they can recover the unity of Germany and make themselves the derivative military factor in the European and world balance in power!

The walls of Berlin are covered with Communist posters, ostensibly calling for the unity of the Socialists and Communists, which have as their slogan, "Durch Einheit Zum Sieg" (through unity to victory). These are the very words, and were chosen because they were the very words—the trumpets and the banners—of German nationalism, Pan-Germanism and, indeed, of Nazism.

Our friends in Moscow and in London are acting as if they had learned nothing about Germany. For here they are, returning to the very policies which brought them to the very edge of disaster.

Forgotten Lesson One would think that the British Foreign Office would know by this time that in a contest with the Russians for Germany, the Germans will play one against the other till Germany has recovered her power; but then Germany will turn first against the west because the western powers are weaker.

And one would think that the Russians would have realized by this time that German Communists are Germans, and that after they have turned against the west, they will turn against Russia.

After all, if London and Moscow revert to their prewar policies, they are foolish indeed if they do not realize that the Germans will also revert to their prewar policies.

And we shall commit the greatest folly of all, instead of exposing and denouncing this mad Anglo-Soviet contest—and intervening to liquidate it—we let ourselves be sucked into it, blindly following the leadership of the blind.

This, as I was able to observe it, is the German drama today.

The first Crusaders established the Latin Kingdom of Jerusalem, a feudal monarchy, 1100-1291. One of their leaders was Peter the Hermit.

an incident similar to the one in which Elliott Roosevelt's pooch, Blaze, recently irked this country's public. The English version, however, involves a nine-month-old panda instead of a Great Dane dog.

The baby panda is being transported from the wilds of China to the London zoo as a gift to Britain from the Chinese government. A Chinese student in charge of the little fellow. They left Calcutta in a flying boat with top priorities.

It was the high priority that aroused the Britons, who thought the action might cause the "bumping" of some soldier on emergency furlough.

The panda rode in a sedan chair from a remote mountain village in Szechwan province to Chengtu, where a plane picked him up. There, however, he was afflicted with a weak stomach, a malady for which all pandas are universally famous.

The last report said the top priority traveler was resting for a continuance of his journey after a supper of tender bamboo shoots.

At any rate, the British—like Americans—can't quite see the humor in an animal being given a priority rating over a serviceman.

Covering The Capital

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—Not since before the war has Washington seen such an exhibition of democracy at work as in the fight over extension of OPA.

Give the American people a bone of contention and they'll put on the snarlingest dogfight you ever heard. Generally, when it's all over, each contender takes a piece of the bone and trots off without any serious wounds to lick.

I'd like to bet that when the Senate and House conferees have finished ironing the wrinkles out of the OPA extension, that's the way it will be once more.

At the outset, OPA was earmarked for immediate postwar opposition. Living from year to year through the war, it had hurdles to clear every time its continuance came up in Congress. As its deadline neared this time, V-J day was virtually three-fourths of a year behind.

Roughly speaking, the battle lines had already been drawn. (I say "roughly speaking" because it must be understood that the opposing armies often are in each other's camps because of other issues involved—politics for example.)

In a general way, business, big and little, was opposed to extension of any price controls. Still generally speaking, the consumer elements, including organized labor, favored them. The farm groups were gee-ing and haw-ing between a desire to avoid controls over farm product prices and a desire to retain them on other consumer goods.

The stage was set for a grand melee when the OPA extension bill came up in the house. The divisions led by the manufacturers got in the first lick. Out of the house came the bill that would knock the props out from under OPA.

It wasn't until the question was raised in the senate that the real storm broke. PRO-OPA elements, alarmed at what the house had done to their price control baby, really marshaled their forces.

I couldn't begin to list the organizations that jumped into the fray—parent-teachers, university women, more labor groups, farm, industrial and consumer groups, and some of who just labeled themselves "leagues of voters."

In the meantime, the senators began to get the greatest avalanche of mail that has descended on the capitol since the days of pre-war draft. In many cases, it far exceeds that. A senator who wasn't getting a thousand letters a day was accused of representing constituents who couldn't write.

Democracy at work.

Both house and senate now know that they have had hold of just what they have been trying to dodge in this election year—a very hot potato. Get the folks at home riled up and they'll toss one over every time.

Red Sox Edge Yanks, 5-4, For Fifteenth Straight

64,000 Fans Witness Battle In Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest crowd of the young season, 64,183 hot-eyed enthusiasts packed Yankee stadium yesterday to watch the Boston Red Sox edge out the New York Yankees, 5-4, in the opener of their vital three-game series and extend their winning streak to 15 straight, within four games of the American league record.

Dom DiMaggio, Sox centerfielder and youngest of the three ball-playing brothers, decided the tense contest in the seventh inning with a clean single to right that scored Rudy York from third with the winning run. Big Rudy just had knotted the score with a terrific triple to left-center that drove across Bobby Doerr.

Little Dom's pay-off blow off lefthander Joe Page, second Yankee pitcher, took all the frosting off the homeric feat of his big brother, Joe, who had propelled across all four Yankee runs in the fifth with a grand slam homer into the right field stands off Joe Dobson.

Earl Johnson, who relieved the tiring Dobson after Joe's smash with none out in the fifth, throttled the Bronx Bombers with a single hit the rest of the way to gain credit for the victory and extend the Red Sox lead over the Yankees to an impressive five and one-half games.

Manager Joe Cronin announced he would throw righthander Tex Hughson against the Yankees today, while Joe McCarthy named Floyd Bevens to try to halt the Bostoners' phenomenal streak.

Dodgers Rally, 4-2
BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers staged a three-run eighth inning rally to defeat the Boston Braves 4-2 last night in the first arc-light contest of the season at Ebbets' field.

The Dodgers scored the winning runs on singles by Billy Herman, Augie Galan and Pee Wee Reese, a pass to Pete Reiser and an error by pitcher Mort Cooper. A run scored on the error and hits by Galan and Reese produced the other markers.

The Braves threatened in the ninth with three successive singles that loaded the bases, with only one out. Joe Hatten, southpaw rushed to the mound to relieve Art Herring, fanned Johnny Hopp and got rid of Tommy Holmes on an outfield fly to end the game.

Even the Pitchers Score When Bosox Slug

JOE DOBSON, Red Sox pitcher, slides into home plate with a second-inning score on George Metkovich's double to left field as the rampaging Boston nine squeezed out a one-run win over New York's Yankees yesterday. At right is Yankee catcher Bill Dickey. The umpire is Hal Weaver. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Assault Preakness Favorite

Simpson Track Team Paces Qualifiers In Iowa Loop Meet
BALTIMORE (AP)—The richest race in turf history—today's 56th running of the Preakness stakes—drew a field of 11 three-year-olds, with Assault the horse to beat and three of the four gallopers closest to him in the Kentucky Derby the only ones who might do it.

Actually, of course, there was nothing very close to the Texas terror last week in the run for the roses, because he was eight lengths in front at the wire.

Assault will be shooting at the big end of a $140,620 bankroll—largest pot of gold ever put up for a horse race. The gallopers go to the post at 4:55 p. m. (CDT) before an expected crowd of 40,000.

There'll be more than $100,000 of this waiting at the wire for the gee-gee who gets home quickest in the mile-and-three-sixteenths scramble.

Last night the betting was very little better than even money that Assault would make his Derby decision stick. But three swiftness are given what chance there is of pulling a rabbit out of the hat.

Hampden was rated best of these mostly because he'll be piloted by heady Eddie Arcaro, who moves over from Lord Boswell's saddle.

Lord Boswell will be ridden this time by Doug Dodson, the hot-potato from Idaho, and Knockdown will have Bobby Permane in the drivers seat.

Tennis Meet
City high's tennis matches scheduled for Ft. Madison yesterday afternoon were postponed because of wet grounds. This is the second time this year that the meet has been canceled by wet weather.

Kirby, Page Tangle For Women's Crown
DALLAS (AP)—Dorothy Kirby of Alanta and Mrs. Julius Page, Jr., of Greensboro, N. C., will clash today for the championship of women's Southern golf—a replay of nine years ago.

Emerging into the 36-hole finals, Miss Kirby yesterday eliminated Margaret Gunther of Memphis 4 and 2 while Mrs. Page, who never took a golfing lesson in her life but has won the National Championship, trimmed the tournament's last remaining Texan in the top flight—Polly Riley of Fort Worth—3 and 2.

Rogler Tops College Rifle Mark With 292
Charles Rogler of Iowa City is unofficially the new intercollegiate rifle record holder.

The national intercollegiate match, which is being conducted by mail, is still minus some results but Rogler has the distinction of breaking the record set by a member of the University of Pittsburgh squad in 1943. Rogler fired a 292 which was four points better than the old mark.

Track Squad Enters Triangular Battle At Evanston Today

Iowa's track crew will be after their first triangular title of the season today when they meet Chicago and Northwestern at Evanston, Ill.

Coach George Bresnahan's squad grabbed two seconds and a third in triangular indoor meets and on the outdoor schedule have competed in the Kansas relays, Drake relays and last week slugged Chicago in a dual meet, 89-28.

Most successful of Hawk entries in the outdoor trials has been the mile relay team composed of Otis Finney, Rex Ploen, Dick Washington and Ike Johnson. The quartet took fourths in the Drake and Kansas meets.

However, for the meet today Eric Wilson, Jr. and John Hunter will be substituted for Johnson and Washington.

Washington is out with an injury and Johnson, top Hawk performer to-date, will compete in the broad jump, low, and high hurdles.

Last week Northwestern was trounced by Indiana in a dual affair, but is expected to give the Hawkeyes strong opposition today.

John Adams of Chicago will furnish tough competition to any milers and two milers. The Chicago runner last week copped both events against Iowa and recorded fair times in consideration of the rain soaked track and stiff wind.

Dad's Day to Feature Purdue Grid Contest

Dad's Day at the University of Iowa will be Sept. 28 when Purdue plays the Hawkeye football team in the first conference contest of 1946 season, Director E. G. Schroeder said yesterday.

It will be the 24th Iowa Dad's Day and the sixth time that Purdue has been the gridiron opponent. The contest is the earliest at home with a conference team in Iowa history.

Iowa has never beaten the Boilermakers at a Dad's Day game, losing in 1930, 1932, 1934 and 1936 but earning a scoreless tie in 1938.

In the all-time series with Purdue it will be the 25th game, with the Boilermakers leading, 14 wins to 9, with one deadlock. The 1945 Dad's Day game resulted in a 20-19 Iowa victory over Minnesota.

Varsity Starts TODAY!

Varsity starts today at 1:15 P. M. on Tuesday.

Hawks Rained-Out at Chicago; Hope to Play Maroons Today

Chicago (Special)—A steady drizzle of rain on the University of Chicago's soggy baseball diamond yesterday afternoon leaked more cold water on Iowa's hopes for a higher ranking in the conference standings. The Hawkeyes were kept from playing the first of their two game series with the shattered Maroons, but hoped for the leaden skies to clear and permit today's contest.

Because rained-out games are not re-played in the Big Ten, the Hawks were robbed of an almost sure victory that would have given them a 3-3 record in loop play. There are two schools of thought on the assurance of an Iowa win, however. The Maroons showed remarkable strength this week in holding Northwestern to a 7-2 victory. Chicago led, 2-1, going into the seventh frame.

If today's game is washed out, too, Iowa can't possibly finish out its season with a record better than six wins and three losses. Northwestern and Illinois, both offering formidable competition, are left on the Old Gold schedule on the next two weekends. The Illini, especially, are potent this season.

Coach Otto Vogel was undecided last night whether Bob Faber or Jack Bruner would draw today's starting mound assignment. Both pitched in the Notre Dame series Tuesday and Wednesday, and it probably will hinge on the situation at game time today.

The Hawkeye squad sought amusements last night in a town which is suffering heavily from the "brown-out" order by the Illinois Commerce Commission, due to the soft coal strike. Movie theaters were open last night for the first time in several days and will operate on a three nights a week basis.

Bars and restaurants are finding the order particularly annoying. Store hours are either one to five p. m. or one to six p. m., but many of the 970 licensed bars in Chicago used lanterns or battery lights to stay open longer.

One of the night clubs here features a dance routine in which its girl chorus carries lanterns, the only illumination in the place, onto the stage with them.

Loop Leading Badgers Win

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Wisconsin defeated Minnesota, 6-1, yesterday, to remain unbeaten in western conference baseball play.

Gene Jaroch, on the mound for the Badgers, held Minnesota to five hits. Third baseman Cook of Wisconsin hit a homer and two singles, and first baseman Granitz got four singles.

The teams meet again today.

Bucks Win, 2-1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dick Bokelman lost an otherwise smoothly pitched game for Northwestern yesterday by hitting the first two batters at Ohio State university defeated the Wildcats, 2 to 1.

The Bucks got their two runs, after Bokelman struck Dick Colburn and Keith Phelps on a sacrifice and an error. But the rest of the game, Bokelman fanned 10 and limited Ohio State to three hits.

Kansas Tops Tigers

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Scoring in the high jump, shot put, and broad jump, the University of Kansas track team yesterday defeated the University of Missouri Tigers in a dual track meet here, 85-45.

College Baseball

Ohio State 2, Northwestern 1
Wisconsin 6, Minnesota 1
Iowa at Chicago, Rain.
Michigan at Indiana 7-0
Illinois at Purdue, Rain.

SUI to Award Honors, Prizes At Convocation

Joint Baccalaureate, Honors Convocation Set for First Time

Prizes, honors and awards to undergraduate students and seniors previously announced at Commencement exercises will be presented this year at a joint Honors Convocation and baccalaureate service at 8 p. m., June 2, in the fieldhouse, Prof. F. G. Higbee, director of Convocations, announced yesterday.

The June 2 ceremonies will mark the first time these awards have been announced before undergraduates leave for summer vacation. Only the graduation honors in liberal arts, English, engineering and commerce will continue to be a part of the commencement exercise, Professor Higbee explained.

Approximately 500 candidates for degrees and 400 honor students will be seated in a reserved section on the fieldhouse basketball court for the ceremonies. Baccalaureate speaker will be Joseph F. Newton, minister and author, formerly pastor of the Liberal Christian church in Cedar Rapids.

University Representatives

The university will be represented on the speaker's platform by President Virgil Hancher, who will award the honors and introduce the speaker; Dr. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, who will serve as baccalaureate chaplain; Dr. William D. Coder, director of the university veterans service, master of ceremonies, and the deans and directors of the colleges and schools.

The senior association has approved renewing traditional practice of candidates dressed in their caps and gowns, marching in groups from their various colleges to the ceremonies, Professor Higbee said.

Immediately before the formal Honors Convocations, the university band, directed by Prof. Charles B. Righter of the school of music, will play concert numbers.

Among the awards to be announced at the Honors Convocation are the Brewer-Torch Press Key in Journalism, the Ernest R. Johnson Memorial prize for the liberal arts senior ranking highest academically, the Frank O. Lowden prizes for outstanding students in various departments, the Omicron Nu Scholarship award for the sophomore in home economics ranking highest scholastically and the Phi Gamma Nu Key, awarded to the senior woman in the college of commerce who is highest in scholarship.

This year's baccalaureate services are the first to be held separately from Convocation exercises since before the war. During the war, Commencement and baccalaureate services were combined into one program because of traveling conditions and smaller graduating classes.

In Fieldhouse With the prewar Commencement week program being gradually resumed, the Convocation ceremonies will be held this year in the fieldhouse.
