Three-Hour Blaze Destroys Portion of East Hall

Fire Damage To Structure Set at $15,000

Flames Gut Third Floor of Non-Fireproof Section of Building

All 11 Iowa City firemen worked three hours yesterday morning to extinguish a fire of unknown origin which destroyed the roof, attic and part of the third floor of the middle section of non-fireproof East hall on the university campus.

University officials estimated $15,000 structural damage late yesterday. An accurate estimate on damaged contents could not be made, but will run into thousands of dollars.

The sections of the building damaged are occupied by units of the language, psychology and extension departments at the university. The north part of the roof in the middle section was burned away. The attic, empty at the time, was completely charred by fire. Two rooms in the north end of the third floor, containing equipment and recordings of the language phonetics laboratory were destroyed.

At the height of the fire, flames shot 20 feet into the air and billows of black smoke, caused by burning tar paper beneath the tile roof, clouded the sky.

Water Damage Extension

Water damage was extensive as waves of water rolled down the stairs and seeped into rooms on each floor of the building. Workmen were engaged in sweeping offices and halls clear of water until after 10 a. m. Water leaked through the ceiling floor by floor, damaging calculators, adding machines and other office equipment.

The fire was discovered about 5:30 a. m. by Glenn Schnoebelen, 1908 G street, as he was passing in a truck. He notified police who mustered the firemen.

The night watchman had walked through the building about 4 a. m. and had seen no indication of fire.

Use Tallest Ladder

Firemen erected their tallest ladder, one 45 feet in length, to reach a point where they could fight the blaze. They used three lines of hose, and two booster pumps, in pouring 1,800 gallons of water per minute on the fire. They had it under control by 6:15 a. m., but it was not extinguished completely until 8:30.

The fire started in room 314 on the third floor. This room was used as a recording laboratory by the language department. Besides recording equipment, many valuable phonograms were destroyed.

President Merges Government Welfare Activities Under FSA

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday merged the government's far flung welfare activities under the federal security agency and announced he will ask congress soon to make it a regular department headed by a cabinet secretary.

Large Department

The agency, headed by Watson B. Miller as administrator, already has more employees and spends more money than "several" of the ten regular departments, Mr. Truman noted. He added that "the importance of its functions clearly call for departmental status and a permanent place in the president's cabinet."

The president acted under the reorganization law which congress passed last year at his request. At the same time he established the national housing agency, originally created in wartime, on a permanent basis and ordered other changes, most of which are in effect now by virtue of temporary wartime powers.

Congress may veto any of the

Fire Fighters Attack East Hall Blaze

POURING 1,800 GALLONS of water per minute into the flame-swept top of the middle section of East hall yesterday morning was the job of Iowa City firemen. They extinguished the fire after three hours of fire fighting. Discovered at 5:30 a. m., the blaze was held to the roof, attic and top floor. University officials estimated structural damage at $15,000. Damage to contents of the building could not be estimated accurately but will reach thousands of dollars. Water seeped through ceilings to damage equipment on lower floors and rushed down the stairs in a steady stream. This section of the building is used by units of the language, psychology and extension departments. (Daily Iowan photo by H. Ingham.)

27 Killed in Plane Crash

Participants in Food Discussion Stricken With Food Poisoning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An assembly talk stressing the "conservancy of food" was interrupted yesterday at University school when 37 pupils and seven teachers were stricken with food poisoning.

A city health department bacteriologist traced the cause to a salad served in the school's dining room. The ill were taken to University hospital where it was reported they will "all be out in a day or so."

Truman Asks Soviet Aid in Food Crisis

Appeal Based on Idea Of Full United Nation Help During Famine

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said yesterday he has been in touch with Generalissimo Stalin on the world food crisis and diplomats said later that he had made a direct appeal for Soviet cooperation.

Liner Develops Engine Trouble In Virginia

RICHMOND Va. (AP)—A twin-engine airliner with engine trouble, groping through the mist and fog for a return landing at Byrd airport, crashed and burned in a pine forest six miles southwest of Richmond yesterday killing 25 passengers and its crew of two.

Truman Okays Plan To Draft Men, 26-29

WASHINGTON (AP)—Drafting of childless men who are 26 through 29 years of age was authorized yesterday by President Truman to "save what we can from the near wreckage of the selective service system."

Conscription of men in that age group was stopped by the president shortly after the fall of Japan. Mr. Truman announced in a news conference statement that he was authorizing the war and navy secretaries to call upon selective service for the induction of such men.

Bodies of War Dead To Be Returned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation directing the war department to return for burial in this country the bodies of approximately 300,000 Americans who died abroad since September, 1939, was signed yesterday by President Truman.

Engine Trouble

The civil aeronautics authority said the plane took off shortly after midnight for Atlanta. It was 40 miles southwest of Richmond when it radioed that engine trouble had developed and requested permission to return.

British Propose— Union Of India

LONDON (AP)—Britain proposed yesterday an independent union of all India and rejected Moslem league demands for separate Moslem states in the north-east and northwest.

The union would link British India and the princely states into a federation for common conduct of foreign affairs, defense and communications and give the federal government authority to levy taxes for all three purposes.

The proposals were prepared by the three-man British cabinet mission to India after fruitless efforts to bring the major Indian factions into agreement on methods of framing a constitution and achieving political independence. Failure to establish a constitution soon, the mission said, will risk the "grave danger of violence, chaos and civil war."

The mission refused Moslem demands for Pakistan, creation of a separate state, because "it would not solve the communal minority problem," and the areas involved "contain the two most vulnerable frontiers in India," Prime Minister Clement Attlee told commons.

In New Delhi, Moslem league headquarters declared the proposals "would not find widespread acceptance among the Moslems."

Big 4 Foreign Ministers Vote To Adjourn

PARIS (AP)—The four-power foreign ministers conference recessed yesterday to June 15 after more than three weeks of discord between Russia and the western nations over major issues in the peace treaties with Italy and the Balkans.

Despite the fact that the conference ended in a deadlock, United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes said he was not discouraged.

Just before adjournment, the ministers initiated a revised armistice for Italy liberalizing controls over the former Axis partner to aid her reconstruction.

Terms of the armistice will not be published until approved by the supreme Allied commander for Italy, American sources said, but it was believed to include abolition of the Allied control.

The ministers failed, however, to reach an agreement on the question of a peace treaty for Germany. There was not even an agreement on appointment of a special commission to study German problems.

CPA Chief Asks for Legislation Banning Strikes for Six Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis and coal operators last night rejected a presidential proposal that they submit their dispute to binding arbitration.

President Truman immediately canceled a weekend trip to Missouri in order to seek some new method of averting another walk-out of soft coal miners when the present truce expires May 25.

Emerging from the president's office later, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach told reporters that the "only legal power the government has" in the event of a complete breakdown is seizure of the mines. But he added that "we haven't yet reached a point of deciding on seizure."

Truman Plans Seizure Of Nation's Railroads In Strike Emergency

Wage Disagreements May Be Ironed Out By Saturday Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman plans to seize the nation's railroads if no agreement is reached in time to keep them running after the Saturday strike deadline, he told his news conference yesterday.

He stated his intentions amid indications that the administration will keep up unrelenting pressure to head off such a need.

Efforts Continue

Mr. Truman himself said he hoped seizure would not be necessary and a White House official said later that the president may ask carrier and union representatives to confer with him tomorrow in an effort to break the wage deadlock ahead of the 4 p. m. Saturday deadline.

Representatives of the carriers and the brotherhoods of railroad trainmen and engineers reported to the White House earlier in the day their inability to agree on a modified wage proposal by the unions. They talked to Dr. John R. Steelman, presidential special assistant in labor matters.

Steelman said after the president's news conference that he had not been able to communicate the development to the president, but that he had been in touch with both sides and asked them to stand by.

Other Alternative

The next move appeared to be up to the White House, and Steelman said another alternative besides seizure or arbitration was a request by the president that the negotiators try again to agree.

The president told reporters he is still working on the rail strike threat, but could say nothing more at this time. He intervened Tuesday to get both sides to resume negotiations.

Reds Leave Manchuria

NANKING (AP)—The last Russian soldier has pulled out of Manchuria with the exception of Port Arthur naval base and possibly Dairen, the Chinese government was advised indirectly yesterday.

Liu Chieh, vice minister of foreign affairs, said information that the Red army had ended its nine-month occupation came from the Chinese military mission in Vladivostok.

Two Die in Flying Fortress Crash

REMAINS of a flying fortress which crashed near Fairfax, Calif., lay scattered on a hillside. The army clamped a cloak of secrecy around the accident, prompting rumors that it was an atom bomb plane flying to the Bikini operation. Two army men were killed and seven were injured. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Even before the twin rejections of arbitration were given to the president, his production administrator, John D. Small, speaking unofficially, demanded that congress require the parties to arbitrate by law and BAN ALL STRIKES FOR SIX MONTHS. Small denounced Lewis as a breeder of industrial "chaos."

As the latest presidential effort to gain a settlement came to nothing, Ross told reporters that "representatives of the mine workers and the operators were asked to stand by for further conversations." When these talks would be held was not indicated.

Broken Down

But the president, in announcing his arbitration proposal, had said the parties had told him their discussions "had completely broken down and that further negotiations would be useless."

The president advanced his suggestion for arbitration at a 10-minute conference with Lewis and Charles O'Neill of the operators this morning, and got his answer at 5:30 p. m. as the two returned for their third White House visit in two days.

Small, however, discounted in advance the idea that non-compulsory measures could bring industrial peace.

Senator Taft Raps Controls

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio) said last night that both labor and management erred in seeking too much regulation by government.

"Totalitarianism has infected every mind," he told the 30th anniversary meeting of the national industrial conference board.

"Labor leaders are violently opposed to the regulation of unions, but they are all in favor of price control for business and the farmer," the Ohio senator said.

"The very businessmen who declaim in favor of free enterprise are indignant against the congress because it opposes conscription of men and prohibition of strikes."

The Republican leader assailed the price-wage policy of the Truman administration, declaring, "It is just as bad to have the price level below a proper relation with wages as it is to have it too high."

The proposal to extend the subsidy program another year will "cost the taxpayer about two billion dollars," Taft said.

Oxford Man Killed In Nevada Fight

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Manslaughter charges were filed yesterday against Guido Diullo, 32, Reno bartender, after an early morning fight which police said resulted in the death of Joseph Vaughn Spratt, 31, of Oxford, Ia., who had come to Nevada to take the state's pharmacy examination.

Spratt, son of an Oxford druggist, had completed his studies in the profession at Denver.

Editorials:

Question Policy of Union Administration

Springing from the fundamental policy which is the basis for the operation of Iowa Union are two lines of thought. Eventually they should be expected to meet and join at a point which is a successful all-university campus center.

One of these lines of thought proceeds in the direction of the individual student's interests. The other line proceeds in the direction of the university administration's objectives.

Both lines, by accident or by design, are pointed toward a goal. Both presumably will eventually reach that goal. Will they reach it as soon as they should?

The administration's goal is a Union which makes the outer manifestations of our modern culture attractive and accessible to the men and women of the university.

The student's goal is a Union in which he can relax—completely—and enjoy himself in the companionship of good people, good books, good music.

When these two goals are reached—when both lines of thought are implemented—the university's purpose of providing a cultural atmosphere and the student's natural desire for relaxation and pleasure are compatibly adjusted. That is a successful student center.

Iowa Union today is not the student center of the University of Iowa. Students seek their routine enjoyments elsewhere—and they do so consistently.

Because it is not a student center in the real sense, it is not a cultural center in the real sense.

The Union needs to be a place where a student can have fun... where a freshman can learn how to find fun... where a senior has recognized the value of fun in his living.

Is Iowa Union today such a place? Is it truly serving, in the fullest measure, the student or the administration?

If the administration's objective and the student's goal are so similar, why isn't the Union the kind of student center where fun and culture intermingle without effort and become indivisible?

Could we have more companionship if durable but less luxuriant furnishings were used in a corner quarter of the Union lounge so students could smoke, drink cokes, eat ice cream there?

Could the River room be enlarged and provided with tables and upholstered booths so students would have refreshments while they dined? Could campus musicians hold their "jam sessions" there?

Would a larger library with more books, a larger music room with a collection of popular records as complete as the present collection of classics and a larger bridge room—would these things bring students closer to fun? And to culture?

Would financial aid from the administration in sponsoring more "name band" dances lead to more student associations which are fun and cultural?

A student forever seeks enjoyment, especially with his culture. It remains only for the university administration to point the way and to bridge the gap which now stretches between Iowa Union's and an Iowa student's acceptance of that culture.

If the administration points the way; the student will follow. He doesn't need or want a relaxation of rules or a delegation of authority to him.

He wants only a coach who is liberal and youthful—and fun!

Needed: More Realism in Our Foreign Policy

In the face of testimony by Secretary of the Treasury Vinson that the $4 billion loan to Britain is likely to range the two English speaking powers against Russia in two opposing economic blocs, a member of the house banking committee predicted Wednesday that the loan legislation would pass the house by an "overwhelming majority."

In his statement, Secretary Vinson has tacitly denied that these two blocs exist now, but a survey of postwar international politics certainly shows that they do exist in fact.

In most of the important controversies, the Anglo-Americans have taken their stand squarely in opposition to Soviet aims, and the rift between the two factions seems to be growing wider.

The fact that we are willing to lend money to the British in itself is not a barrier to more friendly cooperation with the Russians, but coupled with the refusal to aid the Soviet Union in its reconstruction, it takes on a sinister aspect.

The old battle for spheres of influence and control of the world's resources is upon us again. Apparently, we refuse to heed the signs of the times and are not willing to make basic concessions that are necessary to world peace and closer cooperation between the nations.

This does not mean that we should yield to every Russian desire, but it certainly means that we must make greater effort to cooperate with her, to try to better understand her problems and to give her the aid necessary to the well-being of her people.

In our efforts to destroy the Communist bogey, we have embarked upon a policy of reaction and have tacitly endorsed the British imperial policy, which anyone steeped in the ideals of democratic life must abhor.

Instead of circulating our doctrines among the peoples of the world and encouraging democratic thought and action, we are aligned with the elements which desire only to suppress democracy or make it the prerogative of the "superior" white race.

At least, in this department, the Russians are consistent. Wherever they go, they encourage their type of system and endorse the aims of Communist groups.

It is time we put a little more realism in our foreign policy and gave some active support to democratic groups wherever they may be found. In the economic field, it would be well if our system gave a little more attention to the welfare of peoples than to private profit.

If we are to believe the statements of the world leaders, all nations sincerely desire peace. But by their actions, the nations appear to be headed toward the third world war.

Let us begin to suit our actions to our

Possibility Bob Hannegan May Resign Due to Health

WASHINGTON—Capital notes in passing: If those Democratic party insurgents who'd "druther" see National Committee Chairman Robert E. Hannegan out of that office would just hush up about it, they might get their druthers.

Friends say Hannegan has been on the verge of resigning several times. His health hasn't been the best and the pace is killing. But each time some party irreconcilables have loosed verbal thunderbolts at Hannegan for this, that or the other. If Hannegan does resign, it won't be under any conditions that would make it appear that he walked out because the heat was turned on.

Add 1946 candidacy possibilities (very bare): Treasury Secretary Vinson for Baseball Czar Happy Chandler's former senate seat from Kentucky; and Agriculture Secretary Anderson for the governorship of New Mexico.

Of all the cabinet domestic hot spots, Anderson and Labor Secretary Schwelb fell on the hottest. Except for Secretary of State Byrnes, most other cabinet members are enjoying comparative peace this spring.

President Truman's return from a week's cruising on Chesapeake bay and reviewing fleet maneuvers brought his travel total close to 24,000 miles.

The White House boys who have had a look at his "prospective trip book" for the months to come, are willing to bet that he will just about maintain that clip during his second year in office.

Time was when a White House correspondent didn't get to go anywhere. The boys there today keep their bags packed all the time and are getting so they can live out of them about as comfortably as they can out of a bureau drawer.

The battleship Texas was earmarked for the atomic bomb tests at Bikini. It isn't any more. Legislation has been introduced by Rep. Luther Johnson (D., Tex.) to transfer the battleship to the state of Texas. If this starts a trend for states to take over obsolete battleships with a record, it will raise some neat problems—in New Mexico, Colorado, the Dakotas and such.

Ed Panley must like it where the going is hottest. Few men would have recovered yet from the burns inflicted by the senate when it turned the heat on the president's effort to get him confirmed as undersecretary of the navy.

But Panley has gone off to see if the Russians took anything out of Manchuria they shouldn't have. Many think that's just stepping out of the frying pan into the furnace.

With Africa and Canada enjoying gold rushes simultaneously, the modern source has a choice—he can do his prospecting in either shorts or an overcoat.

Ban on Drafting Teen-Agers Rapped

TO THE EDITOR: The congress of the United States, in a rather frantic greed for votes, has dealt special privilege to a segment of the population, once again at the expense of another group. The draft extension just passed has forbidden induction of teen-age boys into the army.

This is a noble deed with which I would have no argument if there were no teen-aged soldiers and sailors in the services today whose prospects for release have been diminished in converse ratio with the number of youths thus exempted. If we are acknowledging a need for a strong army by retaining drafted men in the services, then it appears to me that we also acknowledge a responsibility of a nature that warrants sharing.

I do not feel that the task of threatening other nations in lieu of a distinguished foreign policy is necessarily a special duty of mine and not anyone else's. In this time there is no logical reason for the retention in service of any man beyond 18 months.

By General Eisenhower's own statement, however, this bill just passed by congress will mean that I and others like me who should now be able to consider the job done must remain in service until we have completed two years' service. This is the cost of pampering teen-agers—or congressmen, as the case may be—and I strenuously object.

I appeal to the conscience of any teen-ager deferred under the present law or any other individual who supported the bill to tell me why I must now remain away from the University of Denver, where I had hoped to take work this summer, and from the University of Iowa, where I had hoped this fall to recommence the work I began in 1944.

Criticizes Iowa Union Policy

TO THE EDITOR: "Harper Calls Union Educational Building." Dr. Harper settles this quickly and easily with a wave of the hand. When the director of fine arts begins speaking about "basic traditions," he is off the beam. When the Iowa Memorial Union was conceived and finally started, it was most clearly announced by all that it was to be a city and student enterprise—a meeting place where all were to be most welcome at all times for any large events sponsored by the citizens and the university.

This of course was done to raise the necessary memorial funds to build the building. After a most intensive campaign for funds, this was finally accomplished, and I may state here that a store-to-store, dwelling-to-dwelling, office-to-office, the faculty and the student body and alumni were solicited amid the ringing of the bell on Old Capitol as each $1,000 was subscribed.

That was about 25 years ago and naturally all this hubbalooboo is forgotten. It is now just another university building and the "memorial" feature has been practically forgotten. As I don't smoke, I don't care about this rule of Dr. Harper's, but really I think the student body, faculty and interested citizens could vote on it. Why not? They furnished the money. I wonder if the fine arts feature is not over-emphasized in this building. Maybe it's a museum now.

The Famed E. P. Butler

TO THE EDITOR: In your column of Tuesday, May 6, you employed a quotation which was very intriguing. Under the caption "Culture With the Corn," you quoted:

"Millions yearly for manure, But not one cent for literature." At times a very apt statement. Would it be possible for you to give me the author of this statement, the time and place it was uttered? I am engaged in research for the history department covering the history of the college of liberal arts from 1916 to 1934.

Frederick G. Davies (Those words are by Ellis Parker Butler, Muscatine, Ia., author. They were quoted by Upton Sinclair in "Goose Step," a satire of American universities. Sinclair devotes a chapter to midwestern universities and about a page to the University of Iowa. It was in his discussion of Iowa that Sinclair quoted Butler. What About Unions?

Do you believe congress should pass legislation "curbing" the power of labor leaders such as John L. Lewis?

Charles R. Leabhart, A3 of Tip-ton: "In that case, they should. The labor leaders have gone too far and have assumed so much power that the public is turning against them. They seem to be more interested in winning power for themselves than winning rights and privileges for their union. Since the public is the government, labor is defeating its own purpose."

CHARLES LEABHART MRS. SNIDER

Mrs. S. C. Snider, West Liberty: "Oh, yes, indeed. Their actions are slowing down production which, in turn, is causing inflation because the highest bidder gets the scarce materials. In some cases the government should take over industries—mainly the coal industry. If not, the public will rebel."

Mrs. R. E. Gehrke, West Liberty: "I feel that labor has to be represented but the actions of labor leaders should be controlled and all questions fairly arbitrated. Labor has a fair wage now. Strikes will cause higher wages which will cause higher prices. If labor was represented by educationally-qualified men and trained as thoroughly as diplomats and politicians, we would have much less trouble and labor would have better representation."

MRS. GEHRKE FRANK BARRETT

Frank Barrett, A1 of Boone: "Labor in general should have restrictions because they're getting in a little too deep now. There should be restrictions on manufacturers, too. I don't believe labor as a unit is fully behind Lewis because many of his interests seem to be selfish."

J. B. Vanhorn, 213 S. Capitol: "I believe they should but I don't think they can. They can't constitutionally make anyone work if they do curb the labor leaders' power. I don't see any solution we can take over industry but that doesn't guarantee the laborers will return to work."

J. B. VANHORN CLAIRE LAUGHLIN

Claire Laughlin, A2 of Rock Island: "Yes, these leaders are disrupting industry. It's especially bad now when industry is trying to get back on its feet. Everyone wants production—that means prosperity—but Lewis and others are preventing it."

Betsy Blaise, A3 of Cedar Rapids: "I certainly do. No one man should have as much power as John L. Lewis in a democratic government. If these leaders persist in their power-grabbing demands, the public will demand the government take action. The government will then take over industry and we'll have socialism—all because of men like Lewis. Why not have a national election (See FOTOGRAFER Page 7)"

Plans Laid for Quonset Huts

In anticipation of the arrival of 25 Quonset huts to house married student-veterans, R. H. Wise, construction superintendent of the Kucharo Construction Co., Des Moines, arrived in Iowa City yesterday to lay plans for the erection of the units. The huts, granted in a recent allocation by the federal public housing authority, were shipped from Spokane, Wash., Monday and are expected here within ten days.

Wise expects to begin grading and foundation work Monday, using as much Iowa City labor and sub-contracting as possible. The construction is expected to be completed by June 27.

Shortage May Lead to Noon, Evening Classes

SUI Superintendent Reports on Possible Solutions

"Classroom space has become such a problem that many classes may have to meet during the noon hour and at night next year," R. J. Phillips, superintendent of the university physical plant, said yesterday. Phillips returned Wednesday from a conference of university and college superintendents of building and grounds at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln. Representatives from more than 60 colleges and universities over the nation attended the conference.

"The use of classroom and office space was discussed at great length," Phillips explained. "The FPFA has allocated temporary housing units to the colleges, but officials are baffled as to where to teach the steadily increasing number of students. The University of Wisconsin has already scheduled many night and noon classes to provide an outlet. The University of Nebraska, however, has begun construction of dormitories for men and women. "One of the biggest problems is housing married couples," Phillips continued. A family occupies enough space for six or eight single students. Superintendents at the conference reported that 30 percent of their veterans were married and 30 percent of that number had children.

"The situation isn't getting any better," he concluded. "Guesses at the conference were that the situation would last from two to five years, but all schools are hoping their plans for dormitories will become reality before too long."

WSUI Salutes Iowa Publisher Tonight at 7

The history of the Meredith Publishing company of Des Moines from its beginning with the Populist Farmers' Tribune in 1896 to its present status as publisher of Better Homes and Gardens and Successful Farming will be dramatized on a Salute to Iowa Journalism program over WSUI at 7 p. m. today.

A pony contest for subscription sellers and a trip to New York to bring eastern advertisers to Iowa marked the progress of E. T. Meredith and his wife, Edna, up the success ladder of the publishing business.

The first issue of Fruit, Garden and Home, later called Better Homes and Gardens, was published in 1922.

Today the Meredith plant in Des Moines covers almost 222,000 square feet of floor ground. Included in the six story building are a complete library, 18 presses, a five-color rotary press, a plastic mat-molding machine (the only one of its kind in the world), a testing kitchen for all recipes in Better Homes and Gardens, resting rooms and a block-long lounge including a juke box, bridge tables, a ping ping table and comfortable chairs for the employees' use.

Advertising Lecturer

Townsend to Speak To Evaluation Class On Use of Method

W. S. Townsend, originator of the Townsend plan of evaluating advertising prior to publication, will be on campus Monday as a visiting lecturer.

Developed by Townsend and his brother in 1935, the Townsend plan has been used by the Wrigley company, the Quaker Oats company and Bristol-Meyers company. Last year an experimental course, the only one of its kind, was organized at the university to teach students the Townsend method.

Townsend will lecture to the class, taught by Harold J. Rowe, president of the Ambrose advertising company in Cedar Rapids, Monday from 3 to 5 p. m. After being interviewed over WSUI at 10:15 a. m. by Edna Herbst, A4 of Newton, Townsend will be guest of honor at a faculty luncheon at 12:15 p. m. at Hotel Jefferson. The luncheon will be given for Townsend by Prof. Wilbur Schramm, director of the school of journalism.

Because of the success of the experiment here and the resulting interest aroused at other universities, the course will be taught next year at Northwestern Illinois and Texas universities, according to Rowe.

SUI Student Declares U.S. 'Hunting Ground' For Racial Prejudice

"America today is a happy hunting ground for racial superiority as a result of stereotyped ideas about minority groups," stated Tony Fontello-Nanton, graduate student from Latin America, at a United Youth Fellowship luncheon yesterday noon.

"People listen to what they hear without examining the statements constructively," he explained. "As a result, they form stereotyped conclusions about groups of people that they know little about."

Giving special attention to the Negroes as a minority group in America, Fontello-Nanton said, "For 75 years Negroes have enjoyed the position of second class citizens of the United States. If I could play God for a day, I would turn color-prejudiced persons to Negroes so they would know how it feels to be discriminated against as a minority group."

Two Records Fall Senior Women Win Track Meet

Two local track records were broken in the women's physical education class track meet yesterday morning, with the senior team accumulating 32 points to win the meet.

The baseball throw event was won by June Macabee, A3 of Decatur, Ill., who beat the 1930 record with a 200 feet, 5 inch throw.

3. Demand acquisition by public agencies of the basic enterprises to stem the trend of monopolies in big business destroying free enterprise.
4. Demand the establishment of national research councils to investigate such things as wasteful practices and modern industrial techniques.
5. Demand the establishment of a federal banking and insurance system.
6. Demand a program of gradual tariff reduction to provide for free trade.

SMOKE EATER IN ACTION

DANGEROUSLY CLOSE to flames that yesterday morning destroyed the attic and third floor of the center section of East hall, Fireman Gilbert Capps directs a stream of water into the burning attic wall of the building. The ceiling was almost completely burned out, and Fireman Capps is standing on charred rafters, with a rope tied around his waist for safety. The fire, first noticed about 5:30 a. m., was put out after three hours of action by the entire fire department of 11 men. Policemen and volunteers also assisted in combating the fire which caused $15,000 in structural damage and as yet undetermined damage to the contents of the building which may amount to many thousands of dollars. ### Cash, Food Donations Continue Piling Up As Many City, County Groups Back Drive

Scouts Plan Canvass Of Iowa City Homes Tomorrow Morning

Several hundred more cans of food, and cash donations totaling $84.91, rolled into the Emergency Food Collection as the fifth day of the drive ended yesterday.

Contributing food at the central collection depot, 416 E. Burlington street, were the Sigma Delta Tau, Zeta Tau Alpha, Old Gold Theta Rho club 1, Tiffin Methodist church and four individuals.

Money donations were received from St. Mary's P. T. A., League of Women Voters, Degree of Pochantas, Mennonite church and the Tiffin Methodist church, Chairman E. G. Trott reported.

The World Affairs forum, a student organization, reported that every meat and grocery market in Iowa City is receiving food for the collection. The World Affairs forum arranged for the receiving containers at downtown stores.

Saturday morning at 9, Boy and Cub scouts will make a house-to-house canvass of Iowa City, soliciting canned food for the drive. Iowa City housewives are urged to have donations on their porches where they can conveniently be picked up by the scouts.

City schools have been "very successful" in their contributions for the first days of the drive, Otis Walker, chairman of the school collection, reported.

Cracks National Rifle Record

CHARLES ROGLER, Puerto Rican freshman, shows the form he used last week in firing 292, a score which bettered the present national intercollegiate mark by four points. A University of Pittsburgh student set the record in 1942.

Washington May Miss Meet

Iowa track hopes brightened temporarily this week as the Hawk thinclads prepared for their fifth and final triangular meet of the season. Dick Washington, dusky sprint star who injured a muscle in the Drake Relays three weeks ago, apparently has recovered, but there is considerable doubt that he will accompany the squad this Saturday.

The Hawks, 13-strong, will meet Wisconsin and Northwestern at Madison.

If Washington does not go, Iowa will depend heavily on Rex Ploen for power in the sprints against the speedy Lloyd LaBeach of the Badgers.

The latter has a .93 hundred to his credit this season in Big Ten action—giving him a tie with Illinois' Pierce for the best time among conference dash men.

Iowa's mile relay team composed of Ploen, John Hunter, Otis Finney and Eric Wilson Jr. won the triangular title last week and are strong favorites to cop the event Saturday.

Schneider Takes Early Lead in Colonial Open

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Able George Schneider, a nervous young man from Ogden, Utah, clipped par by three strokes yesterday to shoot a 32-35—67 and lead the $15,000 Colonial National invitation golf tournament first round.

In second place was gay little Toney Penna of Cincinnati with a 69, who has won one tournament along the PGA trail this year—the Richmond, Calif., open.

PELLA (AP)—In an 11-inning baseball game, Central today defeated Penn 4 to 3 for the Dutchmen's fifth straight triumph. It was the last game of the season for Central.

Faber, Martin Draw Hurling Jobs for Iowa

Clarence (Doc) Dunagan, Iowa's clever little shortstop, rejoined his mates yesterday afternoon as an 18-man Hawkeye baseball squad shoved off for the final road series of the season. Called to Des Moines by the sudden, serious illness of one of his twin baby daughters, Dunagan returned here yesterday morning in time to make the trip.

Doctors attending the case in Des Moines said there is a possibility that Dunagan's daughter is suffering from a brain tumor.

Otherwise, Iowa's plans against Northwestern's Wildcats were about set. Big Bob Faber will toe the rubber in today's battle and Bill Martin, called into the breach by the injury to Lefty Jack Bruner, will leave his medical studies to go to Evanston tomorrow morning to hurl the second game.

The Hawks, with a 4-3 record, need a twin win over the Wildcats (2-3) to keep up the tightening pace of the Big Ten campaign. In other games, Minnesota (4-2) tests Illinois (4-2) at Champaign; Ohio State (2-3) visits loop leader Wisconsin (6-1) and Bradley Tech plays a non-conference game at Purdue.

Lyle Ebner, Iowa's catcher, is expected to return to his back-stopping chores today. Bothered by a sore elbow for several weeks, Ebner returned to the lineup in the Chicago series to whack out three hits and hike himself into sixth place among conference hitters.

Ebner is hitting .417 and two other receivers—Eilbracht of Illinois and Swanson of Michigan—top the league with respective averages of .545 and .462. Iowa is third in team batting with .244, topped only by Illinois (.318) and Michigan (.288).

Second Sacker Don Thompson heads the Big Ten in stolen bases with seven thefts, and shares the home run lead with a pair of circuit clouts. Only other Hawkeye first is the number of double plays executed so far—seven. No other Iowa batter ranks among the first 25 hitters in league games.

Gables, West Lambert Win

Byington 19, Triangle 2—Batteries: Byington, Omar Lett and Wayne Smith; Triangle, Clay Wilkinson and Art Johnson.

Theta Xi 4, Sigma Phi Epsilon 3—Batteries: Theta Xi, Deane Hiserodt and Ted Beard; Sig Ep's, Duane Francies and Duane McKenzie. The winning run for the Theta Xi's was a homer hit by Curt Layton.

World Almanac's on Our Side—

SO YOU thought the campaign to rename Iowa's football stadium was in vain last fall—the name wouldn't stick, they said. Well, both on pages 816 of the 1946 World's Almanac... It lists the name of the stadium at the University of Iowa as KIN-... M... stadium.

11-inch Neck on Iowa's Wrestling Mat—

WHAT SIZE shirt collar do ya' wear? ... Mike DiBiase, the much discussed wrestler-footballer who has already enrolled for the fall semester here, needs a 21-inch collar to fit his muscular neck, according to wrestling coach Mike Howard... The Iowa mat tutor is mighty enthused about DiBiase's coming here after watching the 1946 National AU champ work out in the wrestling loft last Tuesday... "I've never seen a big man (he weighs 230) move so fast," grins the happy Mr. Howard, "and he is a great fellow to work with because wrestling is his chief interest in athletics"... DiBiase is gunning for a shot at the 1948 Olympic wrestling team; football is secondary, but he's a tornado at either guard or tackle... Howard said DiBiase told him: "I've still got a lot to learn about wrestling"... That comes from a national champ!

MORE GOOD NEWS for Iowa's 1946-47 wrestling team springs from the other returning servicemen and former lettermen... Dick Geppert of Council Bluffs, 1942 team member, was back last week to enroll for fall... He weighs 195 now, but expects to make 175 when the season starts... He'll have to battle to get the berth away from Bob Johnson of Ft. Dodge, last season's light-heavy, and Dale Nelson of Eagle Grove, high school star who finished second in NAAU this year... Of course, DiBiase will get some competition from this year's heavy, Leon George of Waterloo, and Bob Geigle, the footballer from Algona.

THE WELTER of returning stars continues, but not so heavily, in the lighter weights... Capt. Lynn Gray, the Rockwell City ex-sailor, will be back in the 165-pound class... Ed Kemp of Waterloo, another 1942 veteran, will return to test Jimmy Knowles of Oelwein for the 155-pound slot... The 145-pound division will see Roy Pickett of Waterloo, and Dick Barker and Virgil Counsel, both of Osage, struggling for the nod... Rummy Macias has another year to get his Big Ten title back; and Bill Quinlan of Clinton and John Nyberg of Omaha will be returning for competition... Also expected are several good prep athletes... Hey, wait, don't crate up that Big Ten trophy and send it to Mike Howard yet!... It's a long time till next February.

Little Hawks Oppose Knights Here Today

Using the same team that dropped a 3-0 decision to Wilson Cedar Rapids Monday, Iowa City high's Little Hawks will attempt to close the spring baseball season with a win this afternoon against St. Ambrose of Davenport. Game time is 4:00 p. m. on the Hawkleet field.

Sonny Dean who hurled a six hitter in the Wilson game will again take the mound in a bid for his third win of the year. Leland Schindler will handle the receiving duties.

Jim Sangster will occupy the initial sack with Bob Krall holding second. Charlie Snook will be at third, and Bill Reichardt short.

MT. PLEASANT (AP)—Parsons won a 9-5 baseball victory over Iowa Wesleyan here yesterday.

Kansas, a disappointment in the indoor meet, is figured the likely team champion, especially with Johnny Johnson, who has not lost a 440 race this season, and Hal Moore, a crack miler, ready to go. Both were sidelined in the indoor meet.

From the standpoint of returning point winners in last year's meet, Nebraska is the best off. The Huskers have Dean Kratz, who won the mile and 880 a year ago; Dick Miller, vault champion, and Norval Barker, who took both hurdle races.

Schwank Announces Track List

Coach Wally Schwank announced the names of 15 boys who will represent Iowa City high school in the Mississippi Valley conference track and field meet tomorrow. The meet will be held at the university track.

The Little Hawks will be represented in every event except the 120 yard high hurdles and the pole vault. In the matter of relays the Hawkleets are strongest in the 440, 880 and mile, but expect to be in the thick of the battle in the mile, medley and 2 mile events.

Running for Iowa City in the 100 and 220 yard dashes will be Chug Wilson, Don Fryauf and Virgil Troyer, Bill Olson and Evans Smith, in the 200 yard low hurdles, Tom Nickols and Troyer, in the 440 yard dash, Jack Davis, in the 880 yard run and Lyle Lord, a newcomer, in the mile run. In the relays Wayne Fliess, Chan Coulter, Wilson and Fryauf will run the 440 yard relay;

Cards Edge Braves In 10 Innings, 9-8

BOSTON (AP)—The pinch running Joff Cross stole home to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 10-inning 9-8 victory over the Boston Braves last night before a 32,974 crowd. Much earlier Enos Slaughter had treated Mort Cooper, a bridegroom of a few hours, most harshly by clubbing him for consecutive homers with a runner on in each case.

Mexican Loop Hits At Yanks Action In Supreme Court

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The Mexican league fired back at organized baseball with both barrels yesterday, charging in the New York supreme court that American player contracts were "monopolistic, unconscionable, illegal and against public policy," and that players who signed them were held "in peonage for life."

The charge was leveled by Jerome Hess, counsel for Jorge Pasquel and the Mexican league, in opposing action by the New York Yankees to permanently restrain the Latin league and its agents from trying to induce Yankee players to repudiate their contracts and perform below the border.

In a sometimes heated exchange between counsel, Hess sought a separate trial of whether baseball contracts were monopolistic, while Mark T. Hughes, representing the Yankees, was equally insistent that Justice Julian Miller should grant the requested injunction against the Mexican leaguers irrespective of the monopoly angle.

In the end Justice Miller reserved decision on both motions, but strongly indicated that he thought the whole thing should be fought out in one trial, the earlier the better. The Yankees said they would be ready after May 27, when the team returns from its present road trip Hess said that should suit his clients fine.

District Court Jury Convicts Drunk Driver

of three men to act as labor leaders?"

BETSY BLAISE BILLIE WHITE
Billie White, Washington, Ia.: "Very definitely. Strikes are effecting economy and the welfare of all of us. They're demanding wage increases and favors which will boost prices and make it necessary for others to strike. Lewis and his colleagues are tempting the public to do something radical."

EAST HALL—

graph records in French, Spanish, German, Russian, Malay, Chinese and other languages were destroyed.

In attempting to reach the fire in this room on the northwest corner of the middle section of the building, Al Dolezal, fireman, escaped injury when two steps of a fire escape leading to the room gave way beneath him. An examination of the fire escape showed that bolts had rusted out.

Another fireman, Walter Garwood, had X-rays taken for possible fracture of his hand following the fire. A piece of tile from the roof fell on him and cut his hand. Part of the tile section struck his head but did not hurt him because of the helmet he was wearing.

Extent of damage caused by water could be indicated by the statement of Dr. Harry A. Greene, director of the bureau of educational research and service. He said a large part of his equipment, valued at $20,000, was exposed to water.

A series of art tests, numbering about 11,000, were badly damaged by the water as they lay in the basement, Dr. Greene said. Each individual booklet was valued at 90 cents and contained etchings and reproductions of paintings.

A large quantity of valuable photographic equipment stored in the basement, three floors below the fire, were removed to the lawn in front of East hall during the blaze by Dr. Bruce E. Mahan, Lee Cochran and John Hedges. This equipment included a new motion picture film printer and camera which had been brought into the building very recently.

The two wing sections of the "H" shaped building were undamaged.

Workmen are already busy constructing a temporary wooden roof. Reconstruction of the burned section will get underway as soon as materials are available.

After cleaning their equipment following the East hall fire yesterday morning, firemen were called to another university fire at 8 o'clock last night. This time it was Currier hall.

A suitcase and a desk were damaged in one of the rooms from a fire starting in a waste basket. The occupant of the room was gone and a master key had to be used to get into the locked room to put out the fire.

George Moravec Files House Eviction Suit

George Moravec filed suit in district court yesterday to have Van and Myrtle Cox removed from the house he owns at 807 S. Gilbert street.

Moravec charges the Coxes owe him rent and are breaking an oral lease for the renting of the house. W. H. Hartley is attorney for the plaintiff.

Status of 18 Local Draftees Undecided

The status of 18 teen-age men who left Iowa City Tuesday for Ft. Snelling, Minn., for pre-induction army physical examinations, was not known last night by city selective service headquarters.

Men under 20 years of age are not subject to the draft according to selective service extension legislation which became law Wednesday at midnight.

Last night none of the group had returned from Minnesota and the draft office had received no official word regarding the men.
