Iran Launches Heavy Attack On Azerbaijan

Government Troops Use Mortars, Artillery In Fresh Offensive

LONDON (AP)—A broadcast from Tabriz, capital of separatist Azerbaijan province, declared last night that Iranian government troops had mounted a new, heavy attack on Azerbaijan forces near the Kurdistan-Azerbaijan border.

Government troops used mortars and artillery in the new assault, the radio said, opening the attack at 10 a. m. (12:30 a. m., CDT) on Sainkaleh (Shahindaj), 100 miles south of Tabriz.

Earlier an Iranian war ministry spokesman confirmed that some clashes had occurred in the border area, but said they were minor. Tabriz dispatches quoted separatist Premier Jafar Pishavari as saying "our country is on a war footing."

Fighting Continues

The exchange telegraph agency quoted the Tabriz radio as saying the fierce fighting continued late into the evening, and that government troops shelled Azerbaijan positions but were repelled by "Azerbaijan patriots."

The statement of the war ministry spokesman in Tehran that "some small clashes" of "no real importance" had broken out was the first official indication from the Iranian capital that fighting had erupted along the Azerbaijan border. Tabriz radio Sunday night announced that the government troops had attacked from Kurdistan.

Confirms Clash

Reuters quoted Prime Minister Ahmed Qavam in Tehran as confirming that a clash had occurred on the border, and as saying it was not serious and he did not know how it started.

However, Prince Mozaffar Firouz, propaganda minister and spokesman for Qavam, told Iranian newsmen that "even the soul of Iran cannot tell if the reports are true."

The Iranian government has ordered an investigation of Sunday night's Tabriz radio report, a Reuters dispatch from Tehran said.

Associated Press Correspondent Joseph C. Goodwin, reporting from Tabriz, capital of Azerbaijan, said that Robert Rossow Jr., the United States consul there, considered that his own personal safety had been threatened by a denial from Pishavari of a request for a travel permit.

Own Responsibility

The consul declared that the premier had warned him that "any incident which might occur should I travel would be my own responsibility." The consul said he is "again warning the American colony here to leave the district."

Goodwin said American correspondents who arrived Friday were also denied travel permits by Pishavari, who explained that travel "might be dangerous because the army and irregulars are new at their jobs" and might resent the presence of strangers, particularly "in areas where fortifications are being constructed."

No Information

Last night the Tabriz radio, heard in Tehran, said a telegram had been received from Qavam declaring "I have no information concerning any attack by government troops against Azerbaijan." The Tabriz announcer commented "we pity Qavam and would like to believe his innocence." He added that "our warriors have their orders. The central government forces are digging their own graves. Our motto stands, there is death but no turning back."

Iran Government Unable To Investigate Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala notified the United States security council last night that his government had been unable to investigate reports that "Soviet soldiers have been left in Azerbaijan in civilian clothes and that military equipment has been placed at the disposal" of the separatist Azerbaijan provincial government.

Largest Post-War Air Bombardment Test Being Held in Europe

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—B-29 Superfortresses, which never flew in combat over Europe, are being used with B-17 flying fortresses and RAF Lancasters in what is described as the largest experimental air bombardment in Europe since the war's end, an official announcement said yesterday.

The attacks are being carried out with British-developed 22,000-pound bombs and other British bombs, and American 4,500-pound "rocket assisted" armor piercing bombs, with the $50,000,000 German submarine pens near Bremen as the target.

Marshall Hits Chinese Propaganda Drive

Both Factions Receive General's Criticism For Fomenting War

NANKING (AP)—General Marshall charged warring Chinese factions today with fomenting hate campaigns that threaten "a general conflagration" and disaster to the nation.

Urgency was lent to the special American envoy's unprecedented statement by announcement that government troops had captured the Manchurian railway stronghold of Szepeingai from the Communists, and by press dispatches describing extensive conflicts in the north China provinces of Jehol, Hopeh and Shantung.

The Communist New China news agency said five transport planes a day were taking troops of the government 12th and 96th armies to Tsinan, and that the government had launched an offensive south of the city.

Marshall's statement, issued to the press, declared he was deeply concerned "over the critical situation in north China," and that he was striving "by every means" to avoid the spread of fighting.

Both sides, he said, were conducting "reckless propaganda of hate and suspicion which seriously aggravates the present grave situation and can lead to disastrous results for the people of China."

BULLETINS

ATLANTA (AP)—South-eastern area headquarters of the Red Cross reported a tornado hit Kinston, N. C., last night and that one person was killed and 50 were hospitalized. Advances said about 15 homes were destroyed.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A man, pinned beneath a window, burned to death last night in an apartment house fire as hundreds of spectators looked on.

LONDON (AP)—The house of commons passed last night by a vote of 324 to 143 a labor government bill to nationalize Britain's coal mines.

Herb Olson Named Student Council Head

President Hancher, C. Woody Thompson Speak at Banquet

Herb Olson, A2 of Winfield, was announced as the new president of Student Council at the first annual Council banquet last night. He will serve out the term of Gordon Christensen, A2 of Iowa City, who resigned so that a president might be elected by the new members to be in office during the summer.

The regular Council election will take place next fall. Council power was formally transferred from old to new members last night.

Promote Strong Alumni

President Virgil M. Hancher told Council members and guests that he hoped one of the Council's activities in the coming year would be to help develop a student body well-informed about the university's traditions, activities and standing so that they might leave the university to form a strong and active alumni body.

Declaring that one of the difficulties in the work of the Council has been the existence of other established governing bodies on campus, President Hancher praised Council members for their quiet, unrecognized work during the past year. He added that although unpublicized work is not so immediately gratifying to the Council members, it is through such projects that a strong, enduring Council will be built.

Dean C. Woody Thompson of the office of student affairs told the group that the Council has been an invaluable aid to him as dean of students during the past year by serving as an advisory body and interpreting student opinion.

Beyond Written Authority

Citing the Supreme court as a body exercising power beyond that granted in written law, Dean Thompson advised the students that they should look beyond written authority for their area of power and by their activities establish the Council to its proper place as a governing body on campus.

Before handing the Council gavel over to Olson, Christensen recognized Council members and other students for outstanding service to the Council.

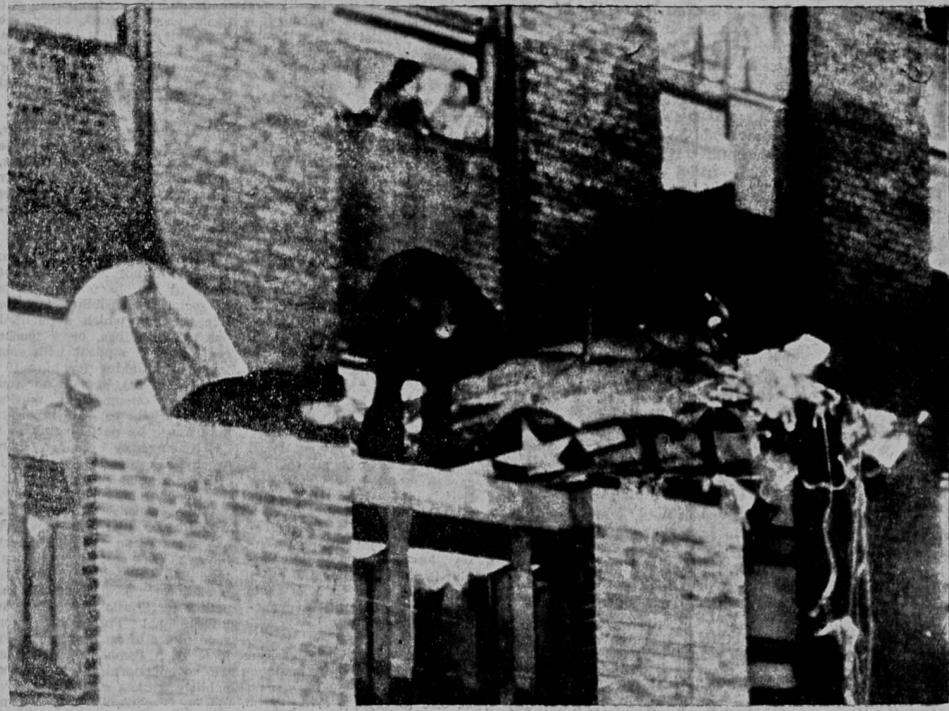

Council members cited were Mary Osborne, A4 of Ottumwa, Council secretary, Everett Phillips, E4 of Iowa City, chairman of the sportsmanship committee, and Dean Thompson, Council adviser.

Merit Awards

Christensen announced the following non-Council members as recipients of Council merit awards: Gil Gillespie, U of Akron; Dick Yoakam, G of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Bob Ray, G of Davenport; Howard Hensleigh, L2 of Iowa City, and Beverly Benson, A1 of Omaha, Neb.

Also attending the banquet were students and former students instrumental in establishing the Council on campus whom Christensen introduced to the group. They were Dorothy Klein, in. (See STUDENT COUNCIL page 5)

Plane Hits 72-Story New York Building; Five Die

THE WRECKAGE of an army C-45 transport plane lies on the ninth floor ledge of the Bank of Manhattan company building in New York's downtown financial district after crashing into the 58th floor of the skyscraper last night, killing its five occupants, four army men and a WAC. The plane tore a 15-foot square hole in the brick wall of the building. When the plane struck it exploded and started fires in various offices as parts were sheared off and tumbled into the street. The office where the plane crashed was a shambles, according to firemen who went to the 58th floor to extinguish the flames. Last July an army B-25 bomber plied into the 79th floor of the Empire State building, killing three fliers and 11 office workers. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Rail Compromise Offered

U.S. Seizure Of Coal Mines 'Last Hope'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials appeared convinced yesterday that federal seizure provides the last hope of keeping the coal mines operating after Saturday, but they lacked assurance from John L. Lewis that the miners would stay on the job.

Both Lewis and Charles O'Neill, chief spokesman for the operators, have emphasized to President Truman the futility of further negotiations, say officials who cannot be named.

One top government man concerned with labor indicated that he believed seizure was coming but said an exact date was not yet decided. Another agreed he could see no other alternative open to the government which could keep the mines open.

Lewis, at a conference with President Truman Sunday, was reported to have informed the president he lacked authority to commit the miners to work for the government.

War Department Typist Dies in Germany After Fall From Army Officer's Apartment

FRANKFURT (AP)—The United States provost marshal's office announced yesterday that a 38-year-old war department typist was injured fatally Sunday night in what "appears to have been a purely accidental" fall from the second floor of an American army captain's apartment.

The marshal, Lt. Col. Redmond J. Connelly of New York, identified the woman as Miss Dorothy Knapp of Port Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y. He said she died in a hospital 12 hours after she was found, nude and unconscious, by a German charwoman in the back yard of the headquarters compound apartment.

Boyington Charges Woman With Theft

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Lt. Col. Gregory "Pappy" Boyington, famed marine flyer, yesterday swore to a criminal complaint charging Lucille Rogers Malcolmson, who once said in Reno he had jilted her, with grand theft of more than $9,000.

Boyington signed the complaint before Municipal Judge A. F. Molina, who then issued a warrant for Mrs. Malcolmson's arrest and set bail at $25,000.

Hoover Recommends Food Administration With Single Head

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Hoover yesterday recommended a new United Nations food administration with a single administrator at its head and with a mandate to take the world's food business out of governmental hands and into normal commercial channels as swiftly as possible.

Calling for "drastic reorganization" in international efforts to fight hunger, he said: "Commerce will secure more economical distribution. It will serve with far more assurance and efficiency to farmers, merchants and consumers than governments."

Hoover delivered the recommendation to the opening session of a food conference under the auspices of the United Nations food and agriculture organization.

George Olmsted Talks On Poor Education At Saylor Center

DES MOINES (AP)—George Olmsted, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said last night it is a sad commentary that in Iowa's centennial year the state has not taken the affirmative steps necessary to give its children the best of modern school facilities.

He said also in remarks prepared for an address at Saylor Center school near Des Moines, that the schools should have adequate teaching personnel at a time when millions of idle dollars are piling up in the state treasury.

Union Officials Present Plan To Mediators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hope for a compromise that would avert a nation-wide railroad tie-up rose last night as A. F. Whitney, president of the Trainmen's brotherhood, presented a new "proposition" and other rail labor sources said prospects of a settlement "look good."

Whitney told reporters he made his proposition to government conciliators seeking to settle the wage dispute before a five-day truce expires Thursday. The conciliators, including John R. Steelman, presidential adviser, kept busy in separate negotiations with union and carrier representatives.

New Wage Offer?

Whitney was asked if his "proposition" meant a new wage offer by the union.

"Well, it was a proposition we made today," Whitney replied. "I think Mr. Steelman may have something to say after he talks it over with the carriers."

Steelman met for two hours early last night with the carrier negotiating committee, after which a spokesman for the railroads told reporters: "We made some progress but not too much."

The spokesman declined comment on Whitney's statement that a new offer had been made, and referred reporters to Steelman for any comment on this or on the progress of the government mediation efforts.

No Meeting Arranged

The railroad spokesman said that the government had not arranged a joint session of the disputing parties as yet, and added that there definitely would not be a major development in the case last night.

Steelman met with Whitney and Alvanley Johnston, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, for more than an hour at midday. He was reported talking with the carriers' negotiating committee during the afternoon, and presumably the union "proposition" was taken up then with the carriers.

At Cleveland, another person familiar with labor matters but who declined to permit use of his name said, "things look good in Washington."

No One Nation Should Veto Peace Treaties

Secretary Threatens To Transfer Problem To U.N. Assembly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes, aiming his words straight at Russia, declared last night that no one of the great powers had a right to veto the making of peace in Europe.

He said that if a general peace conference is not called this summer, the United States will appeal to the United Nations assembly to make peace recommendations.

In a fighting speech in which he repeatedly expressed confidence that peace, though difficult, can be built, Byrnes declared that the United States at the Paris foreign ministers conference started an "offensive for peace" and will not halt the drive until it wins its objective — "not a peace founded upon vengeance or greed, but a just peace, the only peace that can endure."

No Iron Curtain

"There is no iron curtain that the aggregate sentiments of mankind cannot penetrate," he said in a report on the Paris conference prepared for broadcast to the nation.

He declared that the results of his negotiations with Foreign Ministers Molotov of Russia, Bidault of France and Bevin of Britain at Paris had been disappointingly small in comparison with what might have been accomplished. But he said they exceeded his expectations at the time he suggested this spring that the council convene. At that time the great powers appeared hopelessly deadlocked.

In discussion of problems still in disagreement, Byrnes stressed especially his determination to put through his proposal for a 25-year German control treaty, his insistence on the prompt withdrawal of Allied armies from Austria, and his demand that a peace conference of all the nations which helped win the European war, be called either July 1 or July 15.

Demand Blocked

This demand, he declared, was blocked at Paris by the Soviet delegation which relied on the requirement for unanimous agreement among the four ministers to insist that no invitations to a peace conference be sent until all fundamental questions of the proposed peace treaties have been settled.

The purpose of the conference would be to make treaties with Italy, the Balkan states and Finland. The foreign ministers failed to agree on any major issue of those treaties, but Byrnes said he believes that if a solution agreeable to the western powers and Russia could be formed on the problem of Trieste, then other problems would be solved quite readily.

Coalition Raps Union Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of senate Republicans and southern Democrats, loosely organized as a coalition, began framing a labor program yesterday and united behind a ban on sole union control of welfare funds to which employers contribute.

This is a proposal Senator Byrd (D., Va.), previously had advanced. With Byrd as one of their number, the group rewrote his proposal and offered it to the senate.

As revised, it would require joint employer-employee administration of such funds with an "impartial umpire" to be appointed in event of a deadlock. Unions having control of such funds on May 15 could continue their control for the duration of their existing contracts.

Jailed Conscientious Objectors on Hunger Strike

'Thanks' to the Members of the Student Council

A new Student Council took office last night. For it, there is every assurance of success.

The new Council is composed of representatives who have the capabilities which can not fail. The members are all clear-thinkers, foresighted and, above all, sincere.

They, personally, have what it takes to be successful student governors.

All of the new members are eager to contribute what they can to the betterment of the university and of the student body. They were given the opportunity to make that contribution last night when the retiring council formally delegated its powers.

Much of what the new Student Council will accomplish next year will be the result of the Council's own merit. But just as much will be the result of the merits of the retiring Council.

Probably no Council will be more successful or more significant than the past Council. The retiring representatives contributed the sound foundation upon which future Councils will build. Nothing could be more important than that foundation.

This was the crucial year for the Student Council. Upon the performance of the men and women who accepted the responsibility of a new-born organization rested the future of all Councils.

The performance of the Council measured up to the hopes of all. In many cases it surpassed those hopes.

In situations in which the Council could have erred with fatal consequences, the error was avoided. To questions which touched on the whole fate of student government here, the right answers were given.

The Council made some mistakes, of course. If the members had not made mistakes, they should not have been leaders of the student body. They should have been leading the world.

Much criticism was directed at the Council and at its members. But criticism is never directed at the insignificant. Usually the more successful an organization or a person is, the more he is open to criticism.

Much praise was directed to the Council. But never enough. Perhaps it is a shortcoming of everyone to slight the showing of appreciation.

A great deal could be said and written in tribute to the members of the Council. Perhaps most expressive of all the vocabulary is the simple "Thanks."

Kitchen Leisure

Ladies of the kitchen will soon be ladies of leisure. When some of the items that are on display at the housewares show in Atlantic City arrive on the market, a housewife may well fix a four-course dinner with her right hand and play a round of bridge with her left.

One-handed egg-beaters, self-sharpening knives and liners for frying pans, which are thrown away when cooking is finished, are only a few of the time-saving devices on display.

The egg-beater inventor claims that the lady of the kitchen can now whip those yolks with one hand while talking to her neighbor on the telephone. A more practical advantage, however, is that the housewife can add extra ingredients while she continues to mix.

A rack, in which knives are placed for safe-keeping, also does the sharpening each time the utensil is removed or replaced.

The liner for the frying pan is made in various sizes to fit any pan. Made of aluminum foil, it is placed in the pan before the food is cooked. Prices will range from 14 to 24 for $1, depending on the size.

If we want to look far enough into the future, perhaps we can foresee the disappearance of the kitchen sink—long a required facility in the American home.

The housewife no longer needs to wet her hands when she wrings out the mop. When the floor mopping is completed the water is wrung from the mop simply by a quick pull of a button.

These are just a few of the items on display at the exhibition. We suppose that some day the family kitchen will have the leisurely appearance of a restful living room. And the new facilities may put an end to the housewife's old "working my fingers to the bone" routine.

Booth Tarkington

The most famous resident of Kennebunkport, Maine, has died, and there will be millions of Americans who will mourn the loss. No one in the world is more loved by people everywhere—young or old, rich or poor—than a good story-teller, and Booth Tarkington was one of the best.

Tarkington told the stories of Alice Adams, Penrod, Gentle Julia, Willie Baxter and the Magnificent Amberson in such an inimitable way that they became real people. How could any author do better?

It has become the fashion of late years to poke fun at some of Tarkington's books as being too sweet and simple, lacking modern "realism." Perhaps they do seem a bit quaint today. But it was his belief that the first purpose of a novel is to entertain, and leaving some things to the imagination was not inconsistent with that theory.

In one of his books, a girl restrains a young fellow who is trying to apologize for derogatory remarks about her father. "No one could possibly make a fool of my father," she says, in substance. "Anyone who tried would only make a fool of himself."

So it is with Booth Tarkington. Fashions in fiction change, but the world he created, filled with love-stick youth and romantic girls, impatient fathers and obnoxious little sisters, insufferable poodles and haughty old

Continuity Important Factor—

Iowa's Creative Music

—Anniversary Concert Notes Progress

September, 1921, is not the date when choral and orchestral music began to be studied by officially approved groups of students and faculty in the university, but the 1921-22 season was the first of 25 consecutive seasons during which such groups have not been interrupted in following a continuous and therefore cumulative program of development.

The importance of continuity cannot be overestimated. No matter how expert the faculty and how responsive the students in a particular project at a particular time, university personnel is impermanent, and no producing group can profit by the experience of earlier groups unless some of the members have shared them.

Cumulative Improvement With continuity of program the freshman apprentice in time becomes the senior or graduate veteran and cumulative improvement becomes possible. One can from time to time buy cut flowers from a florist, and even plow through their existence slightly by stimulating them with aspirin, but for more abundant life one must substitute aspiration for aspirin, and have a garden in which the flowers can get their roots down into the soil and keep them there for a while.

On the whole, middle western institutions have been earlier than eastern to recognize that, in the fine arts at least, flowers have to be grown in a garden somewhere, even by florists, and what at first sight might seem to be the hopeless disadvantage of physical remoteness from "great art centers" has actually proved a stimulus to our university and many another to grow some of their own flowers in their own gardens.

Fifty years ago most Americans who craved artistic stimulation assumed that they must pay someone else to provide it for them.

Today some still do so, particularly in and near the "great art centers," but more and more of us are to an increasing extent "rolling our own" and thriving artistically and spiritually thereby.

Intimacy Encourages —In music the sincere amateur performer whose reverence for masterpieces encourages rather than discourages intimacy with them, and whose familiarity with them, once attained, breeds not contempt but understanding and honor, has already established his competence and even a certain measure of respect among his fellows.

But the American composer, though everybody claims to be anxiously awaiting his coming, still usually finds himself under attack as soon as he ventures to emerge from decorous concealment.

Probably the public and profession are not really hostile to him but merely feel an excess of social responsibility for him, like the hen which accidentally hatched ducklings, or a teacher confronting a student with some kind of thinking for himself.

At all events, here in our university, development in musical students of the capacity to assimilate music by participating in it has concurrently been accompanied by a comparable growth in creative urge and skill.

Good Compositions Here While nobody in his senses would aver that the university has produced an "American Beethoven" (as certain periodicals shuddered to discover "American Shakespeares") or even a competitor for Shostakovich in some international Pravdaviad, more good pieces of musical expression have been completed here than we have opportunity to produce publicly without making ourselves musical isolationists by letting alone all music except our own—a program as undesirable as the opposite one of recognizing only the music of composers dead or foreign.

At least we may appropriately, on an anniversary, present a program of music composed here which cannot be sufficiently inclusive, but which can be and is representative, and a word about these pieces and their composers is timely.

First, the composers — Leon Karel and Marshall Barnes are native Iowans in their twenties, and most of their musical study has been at the university. Wendell Schroeder is an Iowan in his thirties. He has studied in other institutions, but completed his musical training here. Maurits Kesar was born in Holland and is in his forties. He was extensively trained in Europe before coming to this country as a violinist and teacher, but completed his education as a composer in this institution. Dr. Philip Greeley Clapp, now in his fifties, was born in Boston and trained in Harvard and Europe. His Iowa studies, which he has carried on as a teacher rather than a formally enrolled student, seem to him of the utmost value.

Of the five compositions performed, three are choral-orchestral and two are orchestral. All have a poetic basis. Kesar's "St. Nicholas Treasure Ship" is a whimsical set of variations on a folk-melody which Dutch children sing and dance at Christmas time. Karel's "Israel" is an impressionistic setting of the familiar poem by Edgar Allan Poe. Barnes' "Dirge of Four Cities" is a very modernistic setting of poems by William Sharp based upon Celtic legend and tradition. Schroeder's "Perfect Prayer" combines Gregorian and modern modes in a dramatic setting of several churchly prayers for humanity, including the Lord's Prayer. Clapp's "Summer" is a tonal response to outdoor nature in the most glowing season of the year.

For completeness one should mention the weekly composition seminar to which our composers bring instalments of their works while in process, there to be discussed and torn up in the friendliest manner.

Apparently this procedure not only stimulates everyone to keep composing, but also to find and develop his own individuality rather than get caught padding out his pieces with imitative material. Some unconscious "influence" can of course and even should not always be avoided, but at least our composers are not as interchangeable as "standard products." And there are many more besides these five.

People Responsible For Peace—Dr. Page

"God can prevent a third world war only if the people, God's agents, say no to the ways of war," said Dr. Kirby Page, lecturer-author, at the First Methodist church Sunday morning.

God has endowed His people with faculties capable of maintaining peace, Dr. Page explained, and He expects the people, as "free, moral agents," to use their powers rightly.

"God's way is the way of peace" he stated. "If the people of the United States endorse massive preparation for the massacre of God's people, they are living in rebellion to God."

Dr. Page said that the manufacture of atom bombs and the military training program must be discontinued by the will of the American people if they want to build a peaceful world.

"God is giving us the power to say yes to brotherhood, human dignity, to live with compassion, to believe that goodness is strong enough to overcome evil," asserted Dr. Page. "As free moral agents of God we can build up agencies of peace. We can commit ourselves to law and order."

"At the same time we must say no to war, to this military preparedness, to the whole iniquity, in order to be able to say yes to peace."

"God will prevent a third world war only if we give Him the opportunity."

Commerce Students' Interviews Planned

Ray Noble of the Aetna Insurance company, Des Moines, and M. A. Neighbor and R. T. Kinneman, both of the Standard Oil company, in Des Moines, will be in Iowa City today to interview students interested in becoming salesmen. Commerce students may sign for appointments in the commerce office.

Leonard Howell of General Motors, Detroit, Mich., will be here May 31 for interviews for general types of jobs.

Covering The Capital

By FRANK I. WELLER

Iowan in the Glove Fist Of White House Police

WASHINGTON—If a thin jasper with a look full of sharp edges puts the wrist on you at the White House, go quietly... because you're going anyway.

He'll be Hobart W. Francis, new inspector of White House police uniformed forces.

He will say, "Please accompany me, sir," but he is "all cop." He has had 31 months as captain of military police in the Pacific battle zone, 12 years on the White House force and four years on the Washington metropolitan force.

White House policemen (106 of them) guard the Mansion, the buildings and grounds. They probably are the most patient and polite law officers anywhere in the world. They are trained to a gnat's eyebrow. Their pistol team holds the police national range record of 1,165 bullseyes out of a possible 1,200 with the .45 automatic. Francis has been among the top marksmen for six years and has the distinguished expert citation.

When Francis was a farm boy around Sioux City, Iowa, he could pick a squirrel out of the tallest hickory with a .22 rifle.

The inspector is about two axe-handles tall and weighs 160. He combs his full, graying black hair straight back, looks rimless 'spees on his long nose and talks with his teeth hard together if you mislead and can make his lean face as tight as the skin on a snare drum.

Once when he was a motorcycle cop around here a streetcar motorman hooked onto his bike and dragged him 50 feet before he said he was sorry. Hobart came up with a handful of tickets and a broken toe.

Francis has always been tough and alert. He was under fire six months in France with the coast artillery during the old war and never got a scratch. During the last war he commanded 500 MPs among 8,000 in Manila when the Japs were chased out. Everybody was in an uproar, catching Jap spies and soldiers. Allied troops tore into one another, and when Francis tried to break it up they ganged together on the American MPs. He restored order with only one MP shot to death.

His wife says he is the easiest man in the world to please with "any kind of table titles," and they always go on vacation to visit his 17 brothers and sisters in Iowa, where he pitches horseshoes and whittles.

The police are separate from the White House secret service detail, but on occasion picked crews shucked their harness and went along in civilian clothes when FDR motored to Hyde Park during the dangerous days just before and during the war.

Francis was a private then, guarding the Pennsylvania avenue entrance to the mansion. He spent stiff-backed and courteous hours telling women, mostly, that his hobby was tennis and that he used to play first base on semipro baseball teams.

Such questions, he says, were just bait to fish around for answers to some of the most hair-raising questions about the private lives of White House occupants.

Alfred B. Nobel, founder of the Nobel prize, stipulated in his will that "no consideration whatever shall be paid to the nationality of the candidates, that is to say, that the most deserving be awarded the prize whether of Scandinavian origin or not."

The petrel is so called because the name comes from the Latin Petrus, or Peter, in allusion to the Apostle Peter who walked on the water, as does the bird.

The light-gathering power of a telescope is proportional to the area of its lens or mirror. The 40-inch Yerkes refractor increases the amount of light 40,000 times that received by the eye.

A method was developed in 1945 for making wide strips of thin, flexible glass which can be used instead of mica for most purposes.

He was in the marines for three and one-half years and is now enrolled as a freshman at the University of Iowa.

Nona Jean Wanberg Weds H. W. Woodke In Double-Ring Ceremony Friday Evening

Repeating nuptial vows before an altar decked with yellow sweetpeas and carnations Friday were Nona Jean Wanberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Wanberg of Schaller, and H. Wyman Woodke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Woodke also of Schaller. The double ring ceremony took place at 7 p. m. in the Methodist church in Schaller with the Rev. B. R. Brown officiating.

Preceding the ceremony Clarence Brown, baritone, sang "Because." Dixie Nelle Molloy of Iowa City served as maid of honor and Judy Brown of Schaller was flower girl. Best man was Bernard Woodke, brother of the bridegroom and ushers were Lt. Carl Oelrich, Robert Smith, Earl Johnson and Jim Bernhardt, all of Schaller.

Wore White Brocade
Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of white brocade satin designed with a sweetheart neckline and bridal-point sleeves. Her veil was Victorian style finger-tip length. She wore a strand of pearls and carried white roses.

Miss Molloy chose a blue taffeta floor-length gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. She wore flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of sweet-peas centered with a yellow rose. The flower girl wore a floor-length dress of yellow.

Mrs. Wanberg selected for her daughter's wedding a gray dress with rose accessories. Mrs. Woodke chose a black and white ensemble and white accessories. Both mothers had gardenia corsages.

Reception at Home
Presiding at the reception held in the bride's home at 7:30 were Mrs. Dana Briggs and Mrs. Leonard Woodke. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table.

The couple took a wedding trip to Sioux City. For traveling the bride wore a black gabardine suit with red accessories.

Mrs. Woodke was graduated from Schaller public school and is a student at the University of Iowa where she is affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Mr. Woodke is a graduate of Schaller public high school and attended Cornell college at Mt. Vernon. He is now a student at the University of Iowa.

The couple is living in Hawkeye Village.

Court Blasts Mexican Plea On 'Monopoly'

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK—(AP)—Asserting that attempts of the Mexican league to induce American baseball players to break their contracts were "wrongful and illegal," Supreme Court Justice Julius Miller yesterday granted the New York Yankees a temporary restraining injunction against the Mexicans and set May 28 as the date for trial to make the injunction permanent.

In what apparently amounted to a clean-cut victory for the Yankees, Justice Miller declared in a five-page opinion that "no real proof that organized baseball is an illegal monopoly is submitted on behalf of the defendants."

In a hearing before Justice Miller last week, counsel for the Mexican leaguers blasted player contracts as instruments that held athletes "in peonage for life" and demanded that their legality be placed on trial along with the Yankee suit.

Tribe Trips Yanks in 9th

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland beat the New York Yankees at their own game yesterday as Ken Keltner belted his sixth home run of the year in the ninth inning for a 4-3 victory after Nick Etten and Bill Dickey had bashed round trippers to tie the score in their half of the final frame.

All three Yankee scores resulted from homers. Etten also had smashed one of Steve Gromek's pitches over the right field barrier in the second inning.

Mario Russo, making his first start since the 1943 World Series, blanked the Tribe for five innings before he retired. Clarence Marshall took over in the sixth and walked Dutch Meyer and gave pinchhitter Hank Edwards a single before Jake Wade came in to pinch-hit for Gene Woodling, logging the bases. Manager Lou Boudreau bounced a single off the glove of Al Gettel, scoring Meyer and Mickey Rocco walked to force in a second tally.

The Indians picked up another score on Bill Zuber who relieved in the eighth, on a walk to Gromek; Boudreau's sacrifice and Buster Mills' single.

After Etten and Dickey hit successive homers over the right field wall to tie in the ninth, Keltner connected with a Zuber pitch to break it up in the home half.

Monday's Results
Quad E 17, Quad A 16; Batteries: Quad E, Harlan Rabe and Chuck Eicher; Quad A, Andy Novas and Logstead. The winning run was scored by McCartney in the seventh.

Triangles 19, Gables 6; Batteries: Triangles, Leon George and Art Johnson; Gables, Warren Van Eschen and Tom Berry. Triangles made a double play, Hook to Olson to Tucker.

West Lambert 11, Whetstone 10; Batteries: W. Lambert, Wayne Grant and George Loerzel; Whetstone, Don Wright and Don Schweizer. The winning run was scored in the seventh inning when Evans came into home on a hit by Grant. Quad F won a 1-0 victory over Law C for forfeit as did Pi Kappa Alpha over Grover. The game between Quad D and Quad B was postponed.

Last Saturday, Quad E, with Don Meyer and Chuck Eicher the batter, topped Quad B by an 8-5 margin. Andy Novas and Logstead pitched and caught for the losers. Vatt and Bob Bell poled homers for Quad E. The next scheduled games are Thursday.

DiMag Misses First Start This Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—An injury benched the Yankees' Joe DiMaggio yesterday for the first time this season.

The New York slugger, who had played in 43 pre-season exhibition games as well as the club's 31 league contests, pulled a muscle in his left leg Sunday. Johnny Lindell took his place at center field yesterday. DiMaggio grounded out in a pinch-hit attempt in the ninth.

DiMaggio is leading the majors in home runs with eight although his batting average is "way down to .236."

Moose Baseball Nine Organizes

A smooth working baseball team is taking shape in Iowa City under the guidance of Ray Greshner and Charlie Gaeta. Greshner is manager and Gaeta field manager of the team which plays under the banner of the local Moose lodge.

Plans are under way to get a Moose league started in eastern Iowa but no definite results have been announced as yet. Meanwhile, the local team is getting in some action by scheduling contests with other teams in the vicinity.

The Iowa City Moose dropped a 1-0 decision to Davenport's Moose nine at the City high school field Sunday. The visitors put together a walk, an error and a single to score their slim margin of victory. Don Cerney and Charlie Blackman combined to hold the Davenport team to six strikeouts.

Next Sunday the local nine will tangle with a Riverside team on the City high school diamond. The following Sunday, June 2, they will meet a Muscatine squad.

Monday's Results
Quad E 17, Quad A 16; Batteries: Quad E, Harlan Rabe and Chuck Eicher; Quad A, Andy Novas and Logstead. The winning run was scored by McCartney in the seventh.

Dodgers Beat Reds' Walters, 4-3; Trail Cards by Half-Game

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers combined Vic Lombardi's steady pitching with extra base hitting and Cincinnati errors last night to defeat the Reds and Bucky Walters, 4-3. It was Lombardi's fifth victory. He has lost two.

The Dodgers broke a 1-1 tie in the second inning when Ed Stevens clouted Walters for a home run. The Brooks clinched the contest with two tallies in the fourth.

Cincinnati peeked away at Lombardi for single runs in the fifth and eighth innings but the little southpaw bore down in the pinches and kept the Reds from tying up the game.

The victory moved the Dodgers to within a half-game of the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals who were idle.

Chisox Hit-But Lose

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox outthrew the Washington Senators yesterday but lost 10-2, for their tenth loss in the last 12 games.

Dutch Leonard, who beat the Sox six times last season, won his fourth game of the season while the Senators were making ten hits off Edgar Smith, Frank Papias and Ralph Hamner.

Fox Puts 39th KO on Harris

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rallying in the face of defeat, Philadelphia's Billy Fox kept his knockout string intact last night by belting Ossie (Bulldog) Harris, of Pittsburgh, into dreamland in 57 seconds of the tenth and last round. It was the 39th consecutive kayo for Fox who hopes to meet champion Gus Lesnevich in a light heavyweight title match this summer.

A crowd of 9,927 that paid a gross of $28,789 at Convention hall saw Fox duplicate his tenth round knockout of Harris in their first meeting at Pittsburgh several weeks ago.

The knockout came with startling suddenness since Harris had piled up a wide lead on points in the first nine rounds. He had closed Fox's left eye, bloodied his nose and cut his cheek and chin and had Fox out on his feet when the bell rang to end the fifth round.

'32 Derby King Dies
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Burgoo King, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness in 1932, died Sunday night at the Darby Dan farm of his owner, John W. Galbreath, at the age of 17.

There's just one little old chance that Iowa's baseball team can chip off a chunk of the Big Ten crown this season. That chance comes to Iowa City Friday in the form of Illinois' explosive nine for a final two-game series with the Hawkeyes.

Of course loop-leading Wisconsin (7-2) and third-place Michigan (4-2) must cooperate by losing in their games, this week against Northwestern and Purdue, respectively. If the Badgers beat the Wildcats in a two-game card, they're in solid.

Right now the Hawks are hugging a corner of fourth place with Minnesota, and they aren't too optimistic about this weekend's action against the Illini, who will be coming here for the first time since 1940. Sophomore-senior exams this week will rob Coach Vogel of valuable practice time.

The portside hurling arm of Jack Bruner is another important question mark. The former sailor injured an elbow muscle against Chicago and may not be ready by this weekend. He threw some in practice last night, however. Bob Faber, winner of four games while losing three, will start Friday's game, and Bill Martin may begin Saturday.

The team has batted .245 in sixteen games, 10 of which were won. Catcher Lyle Ebner still leads the hitters with 17 blows in 38 trips for a .354 mark. Bill Diehl hit twice against Northwestern to boost his mark to .302, and shortstop "Doc" Dunagan climbed back to .293.

Illinois had the highest team batting mark in the Big Ten according to last week's statistics, and boasts pitching that is at least as good as Iowa's.

Little Hawk Thinclads Prep for State Meet

Iowa City high school will be represented in one individual event and four relay events in the state outdoor track and field meet which is to be held Saturday at Ames. Coach Wally Schwank said that the squad would probably leave Friday noon.

Don Fryauf will enter the 220-yard dash. He won that event at the Davenport district meet. In the Mississippi Valley conference meet last Saturday Don covered the distance in :22.6, which is one of the best times in the state.

Little Hawk relay teams qualified were the 440-yard quartet, composed of Wayne Fliss, Char Coulter, Chug Wilson and Fryauf; the 880-yard team of Fliss, Coulter, Virgil Troyer and Fryauf; the mile team of Tom Nickols, Fliss, Coulter and Taylor; and the mile medley foursome of Bill Olson, Wilson, Troyer and Jack Davis.

The state meet is held annually at Clyde Williams field in Ames. In order to qualify, the individual or relay team had to place first or second at one of the district meets. However, if a third-place time at one district site was faster than a first at another district, the third is qualified to run at the state meet.

Hawket Nine Plays Knights Tomorrow

The long delayed baseball game between City high and St. Ambrose of Davenport will be played tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 p. m., at the City high diamond, Little Hawk coach Gil Wilson announced last night.

Twice postponed by rain the contest will mark the end of the spring diamond schedule at City high.

Gil Wilson indicated last night that Sonny Dean would be his mound choice against the Knights.

Golfers Slate Practice In C.R.; Diehl to Join

Iowa's unbeaten golf team, now busy with preparations for its final triangular meet May 30 and the Big Ten championships May 31 and June 1, will stage a practice match with the Country Club team of Cedar Rapids Thursday. Coach Charles Kennett said he planned to take six golfers to Cedar Rapids.

Bill Diehl, regular first baseman on Iowa's baseball nine, is expected to join the golf squad as soon as his diamond duties are finished this weekend. Diehl is a veteran golfer, and Coach Kennett expects him to make a strong bid for a place on the team.

Iowa will take a six-man team to Minneapolis for the final two events on the schedule. May 30 the Hawks will meet Northwestern and Minnesota on the Gopher course, and take part in the Big Ten championships May 30 and June 1.

Kennett said he probably will select his team from among these prominent squads: John Jacobs, Leo Gaulocher, Charles Udeggraf, Tom Chapman, Bob Gramham, Charles Honhold, James Burgess, F. J. Harter and Diehl.

Moose Pin Tournay Ends; Buffets 2nd

The fourth annual Moose state bowling tournament came to a close Sunday on the local alleys with Harold Roberts at the top of the standings in the all-events. The singles championship went to Dick Kail of Des Moines on a 687 total, rolled on the first weekend of play.

Team honors went to Oelwein Moose on a 2880 series. The George's Buffet five of Iowa City captured runnerup honors with a 2834 total. Close behind came Moose Legion of Iowa City with 2826, rolled in the final weekend of play.

Cub Pitcher Whacks Homer To Cinch Win

BOSTON (AP)—A one-on-homer by Claude Passeau, veteran Chicago Cub righthander, last night clinched a 6-4 victory over the Boston Braves before a 20,713 paid crowd. Passeau, who gave seven hits, had to retire when the Tribesmen threatened in the ninth inning.

While getting underway to take the odd tilt of the three-game series, the Cubs whaled Mort Cooper out of the box by blasting him for five runs on six hits during the first inning and a third.

Cooper was yanked for Ed Wright after the 37-year-old Passeau poled a homer over the left field wall with Billy Jorges on base. The latter had singled in Mickey Livingston with the Cubs' third run.

'Father Was President'—

Good Entertainment

By MARILYN HADE

Daily Iowan Campus Editor

Eleanor Roosevelt portrayed by Ann Burditt had the last word in last night's university theater production of "Father Was President," but the Oyster Bay Roosevelt had the upper hand during the play's six scenes.

Presented by the local players for the first time anywhere, the production was enthusiastically received by the audience. The conflict between political and family problems in the White House provided humor coupled with Teddy Roosevelt's concern for "the people."

Aby, carrying the weight of the play was Henderson Forsythe as the bustling Rough Rider. On stage most of the time, he successfully presented his long, philosophical speeches and gave a very human and understanding interpretation of the Roosevelt personality.

Abraham, young Quentin's little colored friend played by John Gamble, stole scenes merely by appearing on stage. He was plainly the audience's favorite. Robert Moore Jr. as Quentin also proved himself a real trooper. Portraying Archie and Ethel Roosevelt, Coleman Burns and Mary Petersen provided the charm of young helions.

Alice Roosevelt, enacted by pretty-as-a-picture Bertha B. Black, was a coy foil for her humbling suitor, Nicholas Longworth.

Longworth, played by Ernest G. Gabbard, gave his usual more-than-satisfactory performance.

Providing a shot in the arm for the first act was Jim Blodson, a former Rough Rider portrayed by bow-legged and bouncing Otto F. Schlaak. Effective pompous and buck-passing congressmen were Jack Yocum, Carlson Thomas and Louis Gardemal. Robert Moore Sr. as Mark Hanna warmed up to his role as the political picture grew darker and the play progressed. By the third act he was properly obnoxious as the key man in the GOP machine.

Ellen Larson was the all-understanding First Lady, and Robert L. Fredericks in the role of a mine owner denounced labor in bitter tones that had a timely ring. "Father Was President" had everything—a convincing cast, excellent direction by Prof. E. C. Mable and Lawrence Tucker and an authentic setting by Prof. Arnold Gillette.

During the course of action Alice gets engaged, an Iowa farm family presents the President with an ear of corn and the cat has kittens. But the final scene left the audience up in the air.

William Dozier was a docile FDR compared to the dynamic Eleanor. Vocally, Ann Burditt's portrayal of Eleanor was accurate, but there the resemblance ceased.

Community Parking Committee Recommends Installation of Parking Meters in Iowa City

Group to Investigate Two Parking Locations Near Business District

Members of the Community Parking committee voted unanimously last night a recommendation to the city council favoring the early installation of parking meters in the Iowa City business district at a meeting in the council chamber of the city hall.

The recommendation proposes the installation of parking meters "not as a means of solving Iowa City's parking problems, but as a method of raising funds for the purchase of off-street parking property and for other traffic improvements."

The long range policy envisioned by the committee was to determine "what should be done toward solving the parking situation of 1950."

The early installation of parking meters, the committee believed, would help raise funds for the purchase of property parking areas, which will be greatly needed during the expansion of Iowa City.

Parking meters in Iowa City, a committee spokesman said, could pay for themselves after one year of operation. Profits realized from the meters after a year could go into a fund for purchasing parking property. It was pointed out at the meeting that meters could collect $2.30 per week, and would discourage all-day parkers from monopolizing parking spaces.

At present it is estimated that the main business loop of Iowa City has parking space for 400 automobiles. With the expected expansion which the committee deemed inevitable, 750 more parking spaces will be needed to fulfill parking needs.

Two locations which will be investigated for possibilities of acquiring for parking areas were the 300 by 600 foot area, bounded by Jefferson, Iowa and Dubuque streets on which the present Electrical Engineering building of the university is located, and the 300 by 80 foot strip at Burlington, Clinton and College streets, bordering the First Baptist church property. The committee which will investigate the possibility of acquiring this property from university officials is composed of I. J. Barron, chairman; Vernon Capen, Ray Smalley, D. C. Nolan, Richard Homcombe and Ray Phillips.

Another investigation committee which will investigate other sites and possibilities of procurement consists of Roland Smith, chairman, and B. E. Vandecar, James Callahan and Dean Jones.

The committee elected Dan C. Dutcher, chairman and Robert L. Gage secretary. Thirteen members were present including Mayor Wilber J. Teeters who attended because "he was interested." At the next meeting June 2, reports of investigations will be considered.

Merle J. Sanger Gets Naval Ordnance Award for Service

Merle J. Sanger, SUI graduate, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sanger, 416 Reno street, has received the naval ordnance development award for "Distinguished service on Technical Committee A of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the American Society for testing materials during the war."

Sanger has also been invited to join the Iowa chapter of Sigma Xi, honorary science fraternity.

Now chief chemist at the General Tire and Rubber company plant in Wabash, Ind., Sanger was graduated from West Liberty high school in 1925. He received his B.S. degree from the university in 1930 and his M.S. in 1931. He is a member of Alpha Chi Sigma, chemistry fraternity.

High Schools Announce Graduation Plans; 200 Students Will Be Awarded Diplomas

Plans for graduation exercises at Iowa City's four high schools have been completed and will soon get underway. Approximately 200 students will receive high school diplomas within the next three weeks.

The graduation activities are as follows:

Iowa City High School
May 26, Baccalaureate. Services for the 132 graduates will be at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. The Rev. P. Hewison Pollock will be the principal speaker, and the Rev. F. W. Putnam will give the benediction and invocation.

May 31, Commencement. Exercises will be at 8 p. m. in the auditorium. C. H. McCloy, an instructor in the university's physical education department, will deliver the address.

St. Patrick's High School
June 2, Baccalaureate. Mass will be at 8:30 a. m. with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. P. J. O'Reilly as the principal speaker.

Townsend Uses Personal Appeal

Hotel reservations, scarce white shirts and quick-order lunches in crowded hotel dining rooms can be yours with the use of the Townsend method of mass persuasion, according to its originator, William Townsend. In a talk yesterday to a class in evaluation of advertising he declared that the method is as useful in everyday life as in advertising.

Using the class as subjects for demonstration, Townsend, who hails from Georgia, started his talk with a drawled, "Good afternoon, ad-valuationers. The blessings of this university and your approval mean a great deal to your old pappy."

With this greeting he illustrated what the system has classified as one of the main appeals to mankind, personal importance.

"Every human wants personal importance, admiration and respect," he declared.

A bit of advice to women was also given by Townsend. "This is treason to your man, but girls, if you want to capture your man, just tell him he's wonderful. That's the old key-word. Ask him a question about himself, and as he stops for a breath, say 'How Wonderful!' It always works.

As an example of the benefits of the methods, he cited the case of one young man just out of college who, with little experience, and the use of the method, became advertising manager for Pepsodent.

There are not more than 500 people in the world who know or use this method, and so the field is relatively new and undeveloped, stated Townsend. The method is not perfect, and must always be used with the good judgment of the evaluator, he continued, "for no information is worth more than the ability of the person who uses it."

"The United States is geared to mass production and must have mass selling," Townsend said. The method is being made available to students on a large scale "in order to keep free enterprise, sell merchandise and make more jobs for people."

Iowa City Democrats Discuss Atom Control

Iowa City Democrats held a public forum last night in the Community building on the subject of atomic energy and its control.

The forum was preceded by a talk by Prof. James A. Jacobs of the SUI physics department on nuclear energy and what it means. Professor Jacobs said that the future control of the bomb was the responsibility of the people and should be decided by them.

No refreshments were served and the money saved was donated to the Emergency Food drive.

Two Women Students Receive Key Awards

Violet Hamwi, A4 of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Marybeth Hartman, P4 of Vinton, received key awards as the outstanding students in the Cooperative Dormitory association at a tea Sunday afternoon at Fairchild house. The awards were presented by Harold E. Franklin, cooperative dormitory director.

Fairchild house was named as having the highest scholarship average among the cooperative dormitories for the 1945-46 school year.

Postwar Air Training To Be Speech Topic

Lt. Cmdr. R. W. Fleck, USNR, will discuss the postwar naval and marine air reserve training program at 4:10 p. m. today at a meeting in room 221A, Schaeffer hall. The program provides for an immediate training period from now until July 1 when the new long range program will begin.

Dr. William D. Coder, director of the veterans' service, urges that all former navy and marine air crew members, officers or enlisted men, interested in continuing their flying experience or technical training, attend the meeting.

After explaining the program, Commander Fleck will answer any questions presented by individuals regarding their personal status in the reserve training program.

Fire Prevention Two Local Sororities Ban Candles

Use of candles in initiation ceremonies has been abolished by local chapters of Pi Beta Phi and Delta Delta Delta sororities, according to their respective presidents, Francis Marshall, A2 of Cedar Rapids and Ellen Larson, A3 of Dayton, Ohio.

The ruling was made after a Delta Delta Delta pledge at the University of Texas was burned to death when her dress caught fire from candles during a similar ceremony. Electric candles will replace wax ones beginning next year in Delta Delta Delta ceremonies. The candles, to be purchased this summer, will be dedicated to the memory of Betty Jean Loerke, a pledge of the local chapter who died recently.

National officers of the Pi Beta Phi sorority have ordered all chapters to dispense with the use of candles, Miss Marshall said. The ruling goes into effect immediately.

A suggestion to all sororities to abolish the use of candles during large ceremonies has been made by the national Panhellenic organization, according to Helen E. Focht, assistant director of the local Panhellenic association.

Yoshida Names New Cabinet

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Shigeru Yoshida last night named a coalition cabinet dominated by conservatives to govern hungry Japan.

The selections were announced by Joji Hayashi, chief cabinet secretary, in the wake of a warning from General MacArthur that mass violence and intimidation by "disorderly minorities" would not be tolerated.

Quonset Huts Arrive in City; Ready for Tenants in 60 Days

Twenty-five Quonset huts to house 50 university married couples arrived in Iowa City yesterday aboard four railroad cars from Spokane, Wash.

R. H. Wise, construction superintendent of the Kucharo Construction Co., Des Moines, contractors of the project, said that the huts will be hauled on a railroad sideline tomorrow morning to a point closest to the corner of Park and Halley streets where the units are to be located.

The huts will be taken from the railroad flatcars by crane and placed on trucks which will convey them to the building area.

Engineers from the university architect's office are now surveying and staking locations for the units. Sixteen of the huts will be located in Parkside addition facing Halley street while the other nine units will be set up north of Riverdale trailer project, near the university theater.

Start Tomorrow
Wise said as much Iowa City labor is being used as possible. He explained that most of the laborers will be used at first to peel sod, spread creosote over the ground to eliminate termites and place concrete blocks for the foundations. This work will begin tomorrow morning.

Work is expected to be completed and units ready for occupancy within 60 days.

Construction and interior work of the Quonset huts is under the supervision of the federal public housing authority. The university is responsible for the erection of electric lines and laying water and sewer lines to the individual units.

Announces Contracts
George L. Horner, university architect, announced yesterday that W. P. Russell & Co. has been contracted to erect electric lines while Carsten Brothers would lay the water and sewer lines.

Each of the 25 huts, semi-cylindrical in shape, will be divided into two apartments. The apartments will consist of two bedrooms, combination living room-kitchen and bath.

Rates for the apartments have not yet been announced by university officials.

New Constitution Town Women Change Group's Name

"Independent Town Women" was adopted as the new name for the town women's organization at a meeting last night. A new constitution was adopted, but must be approved by the office of student affairs before it is official.

Through its adoption automatic membership will be extended to all women students at the university living in private homes and not affiliated with a social fraternity order in existence on this campus.

Under the constitution elections of the executive officers of the organization will be held in conjunction with election of U. W. A., Y. W. C. A. and W. R. A. officers.

"We hope to cooperate more fully with town men, particularly in social affairs," said Gisela Meyer, A3 of Atlanta, Ga., president.

'Church Night Dinner' To Fete Dr. Dawson

A "church night supper" at the English Lutheran church Thursday at 6:30 p. m. will honor Dr. J. Hamilton Dawson who acted as supply pastor during the Rev. Ralph M. Kreuger's absence. The Rev. Mr. Kreuger, who served for a year as a navy chaplain, resumed his pastorate last week.

A film explaining the program of Lutheran world action will be shown.

The date has been cultivated by man as a food for 5,000 years. The United States date crop has grown from one to thirteen million pounds annually in the past 20 years.

Chairman Announces Extension of Deadline For Food Collection

Although the Emergency Food Collection drive ended officially Saturday, Chairman Emil G. Trott reported yesterday that canned food would continue to be accepted until Wednesday noon.

The Women of the Moose, who have been staffing the central collection depot, will accept food at the old Railway Express building, 416 E. Burlington street, until Wednesday when all food collected during the campaign will be shipped to an eastern port for an immediate overseas voyage. Local meat and grocery stores will also continue to collect.

Cash donations received yesterday boosted the total cash receipts to $484.92, Trott said.

I. H. Pierce Speaks To Humanities Group On Early Medicine

Contrasting medical thought and practice in western Europe in the 14th and 17th centuries, Prof. Ira H. Pierce of the pharmacology department described "The Effect of the Renaissance on Medical Ideas." He spoke to the Humanities society in the senate chamber of Old Capitol last night.

Medical education during the 14th century consisted mostly of reading Galen and the humoral theory of disease.

Rebelling against the authoritarian dogma of scholastic tradition using observation, the physicians of the 17th century collected exact information on anatomy and revolutionized the pathology of humors.

Prof. Golden Smith of the history department was elected president of the Humanities society for the coming year. Prof. Alexander Kern of the English department, secretary.

Yeslinek Services To Be Held Today

Funeral services for Eleanor Yeslinek, 28, 336 S. Governor street, will be at 2:30 p. m. today in the Hohenschuh mortuary with the Rev. Ralph M. Kreuger of the First English Lutheran church officiating. Miss Yeslinek died Saturday afternoon after an extended illness.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Anna Yeslinek; four brothers, John, Richard, Robert and Donald, all of Iowa City; four sisters, Mrs. Lillian Wise, Evelyn, Betty and Dorothy Yeslinek, all of Iowa City; several uncles and aunts.

Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

7 Pledges Entertain Kappa Epsilon Alumni

Alumni and actives of Kappa Epsilon, women's pharmacy fraternity, were entertained by seven pledges at a dinner party Sunday night at the home of Beth Wilson, P1 of Iowa City.

The pledges are Miss Wilson, Virginia Walsener, P2 of Parker, S. D.; Martha Seitz, P1 of Freeport, Ill.; Edna Mellick, P1 of Albion; Mary Forsberg, P1 of Sioux City; Beth Pareja, U of Lima, Peru, and Mrs. Bernard McPartland, P1 of Vinton.

To Sail for Europe

Dr. L. L. Dunnington, pastor of the local Methodist church, will sail for Europe, where he will participate in a study tour, on July 8 instead of June 18, as was previously planned. He will leave Iowa City June 30.
