Bilbo Leads In Mississippi Primary Test

May Avoid Runoff; Negro Vote Small Factor in Election

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Political Editor

Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, bidding for a third term in an unprecedented mixed Democratic primary, outstripped four opponents in yesterday's Mississippi voting and looked like a winner without a run-off.

Negroes voted for the first time, but in relatively small numbers.

Unofficial returns from 1329 out of the 1,701 precincts gave Bilbo 86,704; Ross Collins 16,654; Tom Q. Ellis 54,270; Frank Harper 1-295 and Nelson T. Levings 13,714.

In Mississippi, a candidate must win a majority of the total vote to avoid a second primary test.

In the first congressional district, Rep. John E. Rankin, a leading member of the house committee on un-American affairs, won re-nomination which is equivalent to election in one-party Mississippi. Three other congressmen held leads over their opponents. The remaining three had no opposition.

Opposing Rankin were Claude F. Clayton, war veteran and former circuit judge, and Charles G. Hamilton, Episcopal minister.

Oklahoma Results

In Oklahoma's two-party primary, initial returns gave Roy J. Turner, oil man-rancher, a lead in an eight-man race for the Democratic nomination for governor, but he was far short of a majority.

Olin F. Flynn, former Tulsa mayor, shot into a good lead over two opponents in the Republican gubernatorial race.

All incumbent congressmen running for re-nominations were ahead on the basis of fragmentary returns.

Seeks Third Term

Bilbo was seeking his third term in a primary in which Negroes were allowed to vote for the first time. A few were challenged at the polls, but for the most part those who could qualify were permitted to cast their ballots peacefully.

Victory in the Mississippi primary is the same as election although a run-off is set for Aug. 27 for those not getting a majority in yesterday's tests.

A two-party primary was held simultaneously in Oklahoma where eight democrats and three Republicans sought nominations for governor. The state's two GOP congressmen and five of its six Democratic house incumbents sought re-nomination. Rep. Paul Stewart, Democrat, retired in the third district because of ill health.

Among the eight Democrats seeking Oklahoma gubernatorial nomination to succeed Gov. Robert S. Kerr, barred from a successive term by state law, were Turner, H. C. Jones, former collector of internal revenue for the state; Dixie Gilmer, Tulsa county prosecutor, and William O. Coe, attorney and war veteran.

Film Workers Settle Strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Settlement was announced last night of the studio film workers strike.

The announcement followed a joint conference between Byron Price, board chairman of the Motion Picture Association of America, Herbert K. Sorrell, head of the AFL Conference of Studio unions, which called the strike, and Roy Brewer, representative of a rival AFL union, the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage employees.

Terms of the settlement were not announced by the conferees who said a statement outlining them would be issued later.

Earlier, rival AFL unionists engaged in bloody clashes at two movie studios. Many were bruised, two required hospitalization and four were arrested.

Production was slowed generally.

'No Basis for US-Russian War' Claims New Soviet Ambassador

By GRAHAM HOVEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Nikolai V. Novikov expressed belief yesterday that "there is no basis whatever for war" between his country and the United States, and declared he was confident all differences between them will be "ironed out."

In his first interview with an American reporter since he presented his credentials to President Truman a month ago, Novikov said with feeling:

"I know this—that the people of the United States do not want to wage a war against the Soviet Union or any other country. I know the Soviet Union will never start a war against the United States or anyone else."

"Thus, any differences between us must be ironed out. I believe they will be ironed out."

"To that extent, you might say I am an optimist," Novikov added with a grin. He had been asked if he were optimistic about the world situation and particularly about American-Soviet relations.

Requires Time

However, the ambassador emphasized his belief that solutions for all existing world problems would not be hammered out overnight. Many would require time and patience, he said.

"Europe is now in its most difficult period—the transition from war to peace," he said. "Problems inevitably will be difficult."

Asked how the United States could best assist the Soviet Union in rebuilding areas devastated by German aggression, Novikov said: "First of all, we wish the allies, including the United States, would carry out the agreements on reparations from Germany, especially in respect to deliveries from western areas of Germany to the U.S.S.R. It would facilitate our reconstruction of the devastated territories of the U.S.S.R."

Little Help

He said deliveries of industrial reparations from the western occupation zones to Russia—now halted entirely—had amounted to little, so far as Soviet rehabilitation purposes were concerned.

Some devastated Soviet areas, particularly the Ukraine, could make good use of equipment from plants in the western zones having to do with manufacture of iron, steel and related products, he added.

In reply to a question, the ambassador said he believed the Soviet fear that the western allies did not actually intend to destroy Germany's war-making capacity would continue until the plants actually were dismantled or made available as reparations.

Novikov did not mention the talked-about billion-dollar American loan for Russia, but said a "more intensive trade" between the two nations could be "of great importance" in the Soviet rehabilitation program. This, he said, would be "of no less advantage for the U. S. A., itself."

When asked to amplify that answer, Novikov said current difficulties should never be permitted to destroy the unity, understanding and confidence built up between the two nations through their wartime bonds and especially through the conferences at Tehran, Yalta and Potsdam.

For half an hour, the ambassador—who has seemed reluctant to talk to newsmen during his state department visits—chatted easily in a soft, high-pitched voice on a variety of subjects. He seemed eager to answer all questions completely and to make his position absolutely clear.

He said he presumed it would be possible for Americans to travel in all parts of the Soviet Union as soon as facilities "essential for the normal service of tourists" are restored.

Novikov added he hoped to travel widely in the United States, but said this would depend on circumstances of his work as ambassador and as Soviet representative on the far eastern commission. He mentioned his recent trip to Detroit.

'Careful Hand'

Asked what was needed most to build greater understanding between Russia and the United States, Novikov in his written answers listed "a careful handling of that which has already been achieved by both countries as the result of their mutual cooperation during the war and of the victory over the common enemy."

Farmers Rush Livestock Sale

Retailers Hold Line As Rentals Mount During OPA Holiday

By the Associated Press

Record-high cattle prices and above-ceiling premiums for hogs brought farmers to the nation's livestock markets in droves Monday as buyers and sellers groped uncertainly in the confusion left by OPA's end.

This was the situation: Loss of subsidies was blamed for increases in milk, butter, cheese, flour and meat prices in some parts of the country, while others chose to wait and see if congress would make payments retroactive in the hoped-for resurrection of price controls.

Retail outlets for food, clothing and other staples generally stuck to their pledge to hold prices at the OPA level until congress has a chance to do something.

Legislation for a substitute system of price control was stalled indefinitely in the senate. The White House summoned administration leaders for an "anti-inflation" conference.

Ask Rent Control

Increasing pressure came from the tenant population for emergency relief from rising rent prices through state and civil restrictions in the absence of federal action.

Just how long retailers would be able to hold the OPA line if markets continued to rise was an unanswered question but one which gave anti-inflation forces considerable worry.

Cattle prices at Chicago, for instance, had zoomed 25 percent above the $18 OPA ceiling in two days of unrestrained trading.

Cattle closed at a $22.50 top—50 cents above Monday's all time record high—but the glutted hog market ended at $17 and $17.50 compared to Monday's $18.50 limit, best since 1919.

Disrupts Traffic

In Omaha, the rush to take advantage of top prices was so great that traffic was disrupted by a three-mile long parade of cattle trucks, loaded with 10,000 animals for sale.

At Chicago, Wilson and Co., one of the larger packers, said they were offering meat on hand at ceiling prices.

Ultimately, Wilson predicted, meat "will be little if any higher on the average than ceiling prices plus the consumer subsidies which were eliminated with the end of price control."

New York, Massachusetts, Alabama, New Jersey, Iowa and Washington, D. C., already had taken steps to control rents, and some municipal authorities contemplated similar action.

CATTLE AND HOG TRUCKS were lined up three abreast yesterday waiting to deliver the animals at the Chicago stockyards. At the right, railroad cars, including stock cars, wait to be unloaded. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Rent Control Bill Stymied

Administration Seeks To Include Provision In General Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators O'Daniel (D., Tex.) and Wherry (R., Neb.) stalled all congressional action on price controls yesterday but administration leaders got busy behind the scenes, seeking to clear the way for a compromise bill.

Objections by O'Daniel and Wherry stymied an attempt to start OPA extension legislation through the senate banking committee.

Meanwhile the administration leadership blocked consideration of a separate rent control bill in the senate as it had done Monday in the house, seeking to tie in this generally approved provision with other curbs which face opposition, all in a single measure.

Capelhart Seeks Action

Senator Capelhart (R., Ind.) sought to get the banking committee to act immediately on a rent control bill which Senator Byrd (D., Va.) introduced Monday. But Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) hastened from the floor to the committee room to oppose it and Capelhart held off.

Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson told newsmen that price increases here will cause economic difficulties abroad. He also reiterated that the end of OPA meat and grain price controls will hamper the famine relief program.

William Green, president of the AFL, made public a telegram to senators asserting that "labor unrest, discontent and perhaps strikes will take place throughout the nation in event prices continue to mount." He urged immediate "temporary price control legislation, at least."

Stabilization Director Chester Bowles forecast last night that the cost of living will double within 20 days if commodity prices continue their present rise.

Senator Moore (R., Okla.), foe of a continued OPA in any form, upheld the nation at the same time to "wait and see" whether "the price we are called upon to pay are as bad or at least any worse, than the black markets under which we have suffered so long," and whether inflation will develop. He added that "congress is always available for emergency legislation."

Bowles qualified his prediction of a 100 percent cost of living hike by saying that he doubts that the prime commodities could continue "under any circumstances" their jump of Monday.

Treasury May Boost Next Year's Taxes To Help Stop Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—An increase in tax rates may be asked by the administration next year if there is sharp inflation in prices, suddenly cut loose from control Monday by expiration of the OPA.

This was disclosed yesterday by the new secretary of the treasury, John W. Snyder, who told his first news conference that consideration was being given to using taxes to "break inflation."

"If prices get too far out of hand," Snyder said, the administration may ask an increase in taxes on individuals and corporations when congress meets after the first of next year.

The anti-inflationary effect would be expected to follow from the sharper tax bite into the spending funds available to individuals and business concerns.

He expressed hope, however, that the senate would follow the house's lead in voting for a temporary extension of OPA with its former powers until congress can act on a new price control bill.

As an immediate anti-inflationary step, it was learned, the treasury has temporarily halted its program of retiring the public debt through cash redemption of maturing securities.

The halt keeps money in the treasury's $14,238,000,000 cash balance out of the hands of government securities holders, where it would add to buying pressures.

US, Britain Ask UN Rule Over Trieste

PARIS (AP)—The United States and Great Britain agreed "in principle" yesterday to the internationalization of uneasy Trieste and its environs but held out for United Nations control of this strategic area at the head of the Adriatic.

Both American and British informants said United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin maintained that the United Nations should have responsibility for the integrity and administration of the proposed international zone.

Under a Russian and French proposal, the Trieste area would be placed under the Big Four.

Byrnes and Bevin also sought to have the Trieste statute drawn by the 21-nation General European Peace conference instead of by the foreign ministers council.

Ministers Arjourn

After a four-hour session in sultry summer weather the foreign ministers adjourned without reaching a definite agreement on the future structure of Trieste.

The ministers were to consider later a French proposal requiring the council to submit a Trieste statute to both the peace conference and to the United Nations security council in New York for approval. Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of the American delegation said the ministers did not fix a date for the peace conference at yesterday's session. Byrnes wants the peace conference to open this month.

Italo-Yugoslav Claims

Informants said both Byrnes and Bevin argued that the four-power ministers council should not attempt to draw the future constitution for the international zone, but should leave this work to the peace conference where, among others, both Italy and Yugoslavia could be heard. Italy and Yugoslavia have made conflicting claims for sovereignty over Trieste.

The foreign ministers also agreed, Vandenberg added, on the area to be included in the international zone, foreshadowing eventual acceptance of the French compromise proposal on the Italo-Yugoslav frontier.

Palestine Jewish Agency Accuses Police Of 'Medieval Tortures' in Detention Camp

LONDON (AP)—The Jewish agency for Palestine accused Palestine police last night of using "medieval tortures" against Jews in the Athlit detention camp near Haifa and assisted Jews were "beaten, given enemas, and pulled by the sexual organs."

The agency declared some victims "probably will remain crippled for life."

A spokesman for the British colonial office said the office had received no reports of mistreatment, and that "the allegations seem absolutely unfounded."

Athlit houses Jews detained on charges of illegal immigration. There have been no reports that Jews arrested in Saturday's operations were taken there.

In Jerusalem an emergency office of the Jewish agency, charged by the British with involvement in recent violence, was opened in Jerusalem yesterday by the only two officials of the local agency who were not arrested over the weekend.

British tommies, meanwhile, still occupied the regular headquarters of the agency, in another section of the city. The headquarters was seized Saturday in a joint police and military operation resulting in the arrest of 2,659 Jewish men and 59 women.

Miles Urges Repeal Of State Sales Tax

SPENCER (AP)—Frank Miles, Democratic nominee for governor, asserting he saw "no sense in taxing the people of Iowa for the bread and milk needed to sustain life," urged repeal of the state sales tax on food, clothing and medicine at a Democratic rally here last night.

In an address prepared for delivery at the rally, Miles said he was author of a plan to be presented to the state convention at Des Moines July 16 calling for repeal of the tax on food, clothing and medicine.

G.L.K. Smith Backs Martin

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith's American First organization yesterday endorsed four Iowa Republican congressmen.

Following are the names of the men endorsed: Thomas E. Martin, Benton F. Jensen, John W. Gwynne and Henry O. Talle.

"I have never met Smith or heard of him," Martin declared. "Why he is rushing me for his fraternity now I don't know."

"I don't know why he is interested in me," Jensen commented. "I never belonged to any of his organizations. However, I always considered him a christian gentleman. If he is opposed to ungodly and un-American groups, he has my blessing, and if he sees fit to support me that is his business. I certainly would rather have his support than that of his enemies."

Gwynne and Talle said they had no comment to make on the endorsement.

Smith said he would leave last night for Des Moines where he would spend three days contacting political leaders and supporting the four congressmen.

Suspect in Degnan Case Faces 25 Counts Of Assault, Robbery

CHICAGO (AP)—Police filed 25 charges of assault and robbery yesterday against William Heirens, 17-year-old University of Chicago student whose finger and palm prints, the FBI said, were "identical" to prints on the Suzanne Degnan ransom note.

Assistant State's Attorney James Cunningham told a reporter that the state would ask that bond of $15,000 to $25,000 be set on each charge when the youth is arraigned today in felony court. This would mean a minimum of $375,000 total bond.

State's Attorney William J. Tuohy had said previously he would request bond sufficiently high to detain Heirens for further investigation of the kidnap-slaying of the six-year old girl last Jan. 7.

Heirens' attorney, Roland Towle, said no effort would be made to furnish bond on the charges. Earlier yesterday, Chief Justice Harold G. Ward dismissed the youth's petition for freedom on a writ of habeas corpus.

Towle said that Heirens would plead innocent in felony court today to the 21 charges.

None of the charges involve the Degnan case. Police asserted the boy had been linked to two robberies by war bonds or other loot found in his living quarters at the University of Chicago.

Blue's Rent Control Request Ruled Invalid By Attorney General

DES MOINES (AP)—The governor of Iowa does not have the power to effect rent and price control in Iowa, Attorney General John M. Rankin said yesterday in an opinion requested by Gov. Robert D. Blue.

Blue, who Monday proclaimed a state of emergency in Iowa and asked citizens to observe former OPA rent ceilings, said he acted under general police powers of his office.

In his request to Rankin for the opinion, Blue cited the old war powers act and asked: "Does the governor, acting either alone or in concert with other state agencies, presently have the power and authority to effect rent control in Iowa?"

Rankin's reply, in part, said: "I will advise you that there is neither express nor implied power in you as governor, or in you as governor in concert with other agencies, to effect rent and price control in Iowa."

Rankin said the opinion dealt only with the war powers question. The opinion did not rule on the validity of using general police powers; the attorney general added.

The Iowa war emergency act of 1943 granted the governor some extra powers, most of them hedged with substantial restrictions. Those powers expired June 30, 1945.

Meanwhile, 52 30-day notices to terminate tenancy were filed in Des Moines.

Both Municipal Bailiff B. Harry Wright and Sheriff Vane B. Overturff said they had no recourse but to serve the notices.

H. F. Shaller, executive secretary of the Iowa hotel association issued a statement yesterday declaring, "Members of the association are in accord with the spirit of OPA and will hold the line on hotel rents until some definite action has been taken by congress."

Shaller's statement added that "there may be a breakdown here and there but the majority of the hotel owners want to hold hotel rents where they are."

Despite Shaller's statement however at least one Des Moines hotel, the Savery did increase its room rentals.

"We merely put back the schedules OPA took off," said the manager.

Prisoners Burn Huts

WATSONVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Unruly prisoners in the army's Camp McQuaide disciplinary barracks set fire to huts in one compound Monday night and then attempted to keep out firemen summoned to fight the blaze, the Sixth Army provost marshals office reported.

Thirty-six barracks were destroyed but Col. E. A. Everitt, camp commander, said no prisoners escaped and no one was injured.

Daily Iowan's Advice to Merchants:

- 1. Don't buy any more high priced commodities than absolutely necessary.
2. Don't increase prices more than necessary to guarantee a fair profit.
3. Ration scarce high priced items to your customers.
4. Write or wire Representative Thomas Martin, Congressional Office Building, Washington, D.C.; and Senator George Wilson, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C., urging that they work for immediate passage of effective, workable price and rent controls.

Since the death—either permanent or temporary—of OPA last Sunday at midnight, Iowa City food and clothing prices have remained relatively unchanged. Our local merchants and retailers should be commended for refraining from following the example of some landlords who have gone hog wild with new-found power.

Mail Order Houses in a Dilemma

Mail sacks will bulge and mailmen will sweat this week when thousands of farmers receive their new fall and winter Sears, Roebuck and Company catalog. This big, colorful book from the world's largest mail order house may end up as paper dolls, a prop for a kid's seat at the table, a door-stop, a handy guide to compare prices in other stores, or in a very functional capacity in unmentionable places.

Editorial Comment on OPA

Des Moines Register "Senator Taft and President Truman both blame the other for plunging the national economy into chaos by letting price control legislation expire. Each makes a case of sorts, although Taft has been knifing price control from away back and Truman has been trying to bolster it vainly and too late."

Attacks AVC Stand For Buyer's Strike

TO THE EDITOR: To quote from yesterday morning's paper: "Iowa City retailers expressed a sincere desire to avoid price rises until forced to do so by increased manufacturer or producer costs."

Can the retailer be blamed if the producer raises costs? There are many items, which under the OPA, as it stood, made little or no profit for the retailer but which were handled merely for consumer convenience.

I, perhaps alone, am irked by the second part of a headline in this morning's paper: "Local AVC Urges Buyers' Strike."

Has not the Daily Iowan headline an opinion of the local AVC? The local AVC contains about 100 members. Probably more than 80 percent of them did not know they "urged" a buyers' strike.

Raymond F. Stewart "Concerning your charges against The Daily Iowan, Mr. Stewart, we do not deny that our policy resembles that of the AVC. Our policy also resembles that of several other publications and organizations. Are we to change our beliefs because they agree with somebody else's?"

The Chicago Sun "Mr. Truman, in vetoing the impossible price-control measure passed by congress, rose to his greatest stature in national leadership. His veto message was detailed and convincing, Mr. Truman drew the basic issue plainly."

The Baltimore Sun "Let us keep this straight in our heads. It was the enemies of price control, not President Truman, who brought this about. This corpse is still warm and it congress chooses to act, the breath of life can be restored..."

Of Cabbages and Kings

By LAWRENCE DENNIS

"I'll take a dozen Taft eggs, please." That's the technique being employed by several organizations in various parts of the country to point up congressional negligence on effective price control legislation.

Locally it would go something like this: when the consumer notices that certain articles have risen in price since June 30, he would immediately identify the mark-up with Iowa's national legislators.

From the first district viewpoint, however—especially with the fall elections so close at hand—the most prophetic phrase has already been coined. Apparently familiar with the technique described above, a local housewife approached the meat counter Tuesday morning and said:

"I'll take a pound of Martin-burger, please." At the very moment when our diplomats are trying to reinforce America's "reservoir of good will" abroad, our highest legislative body is busy bungling the job of economic reconversion.

Election Dispute Compromised

Council to Continue Hearings Next Fall

A compromise was accepted by the Student council at a meeting last night regarding the petition of the Associated Students of Civil Engineering contesting the May election of officers of the Associated Students of Engineering.

Don Hall, E4 of Tama, moved for a continuation of the dispute next fall. The present officers will continue in office until fall when new officers will be elected. Weekly reports will be submitted to the council by A. S. of E. until the election takes place.

Allocate Chest Funds

The council officially allocated the Campus Chest funds to the chest units. The World Student Service fund received $2,000; American Red Cross, $250; Cancer Prevention fund $650; and the Nile Kinnick Scholarship fund, $750. A balance of more than $100 will remain in the business office to start the drive rolling next year.

New Appointee

Herb Olson, A3 of Winfield, council president, appointed Walter Newport L1 of Davenport to the summer executive council.

Ground work for the fall Campus Chest drive was assigned to the executive committee. One Chest drive will be conducted for 1946-1947. Tentatively, the first week in November was set for the drive.

A motion to appoint a representative to report the council's activities to the University Women's association was tabled for the fall meetings when all the council members will be present. Such a report, according to the discussion, would enable the two organizations to maintain a closer liaison.

A movement was passed to order Student council keys for the members.

Election Supervision

Some discussion was devoted to appointing a special election committee to supervise all campus elections in the future. No final decision was reached on the subject.

The student guide service for orientation will be handled by the executive committee until next fall.

The next council meeting will be Tuesday, July 30.

Eleven County Men Enlisted in Regular Army Last Month

Of the 29 Johnson county men who signed up for the army last month 11 were accepted and sworn in, according to Sgt. Robert Rowen, head of the local army recruiting station.

The other men either changed their minds, or failed to pass the physical examination.

Of the men who entered the army in June all but one were 17 or 18 year olds.

Men who re-enlist in the army in the future will not retain their old ratings unless they have been discharged less than 90 days, Rowen said.

Stoddard to Head U. of Illinois

Dr. George Stoddard, 1936-42 dean of the university graduate college and former head of the psychology department, has assumed his duties as president of the University of Illinois.

After 17 years of association with the university, Dr. Stoddard left here in 1942 to become commissioner of education of New York state.

Born October 8, 1897 in Carbondale, Pa., Dr. Stoddard received a B.A. degree from Pennsylvania State college in 1921. He attended the University of Paris in 1921-23 and was awarded a Ph.D. degree here in 1925.

Doctor Stoddard, ranked as one of the nation's leading educators, succeeded Arthur Cutts Willard, to become the 10th Illinois president.

He was chairman of a group of 25 educators which went to Japan to advise Gen. MacArthur on changes in the Japanese education system. In 1945 he helped prepare the United Nations scientific and cultural organization constitution in London.

Dr. Stoddard has also been director of the Iowa child welfare research station (1928-41), secretary of the American Council on Education (1940-41), trustee of the Society for the Advancement of Education and advisory editor of Parents-Teachers magazine.

Dr. and Mrs. Stoddard, the former Margaret Trautwein of Carbondale, Pa., have five children, 3 boys and 2 girls.

Prof. Lane Accepts Engineering Position With Denver Bureau

Prof. E. W. Lane of the hydraulic engineering staff will leave Iowa City for Denver, Col., soon to accept a position as special consulting engineer in the office of the chief engineer, bureau of reclamation.

Except for two years during the war when he served with the T. V. A., Professor Lane has been a staff member of the college of engineering for the last 11 years. He was with the bureau of reclamation in Denver from 1929-1935, before taking his position here.

His work during that period included hydraulic investigations for the designing of Boulder, Grand Coulee, Norris, Wheeler and Madden dams. For his work on Boulder dam he received special recognition.

Professor Lane, one of the leading authorities on silt and sediment, is especially recognized for his ability to estimate depths of rivers and lakes which fluctuate due to sediment deposits.

From 1920 to 1923 he was manager of the Morgan engineering branch in China, engaged in flood control and canal work. He has served on the St. Lawrence Waterways board, the Mississippi Spillway board, the U. S. Rivers and Harbors board, and was formerly the associate director of the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research.

Prof. Davies Reports Business Improving

Prof. George R. Davies of the university bureau of business research reports a trend towards substantial gains in Iowa business as contrasted with a year ago.

A May survey conducted by Professor Davies, comparing April, 1946, and May, 1945, is being published in the current issue of the Iowa Business Digest.

"Scarcity of consumer goods and rising prices are in evidence here, as in the rest of the nation, but figures for the cost of living, however, do not reflect the real incidence of inflation since they exclude black markets and all luxuries," stated Professor Davies.

Gains in the April comparison included building contracts, 49 percent; railroad carloadings, eight percent; life insurance sales, four percent; farm products' prices, three percent; and industrial payrolls, two percent.

Losses were indicated in both building permits and residential building permits, each 18 percent. Only employment and prices paid by farmers remained the same.

Age: 106 Years Old Capitol Observes Anniversary

The 106th anniversary of Old Capitol will be observed tomorrow. Older than the state of Iowa, the building was originally the statehouse for the first Iowa state government. It now houses university administrative offices.

When the state capital was moved to Des Moines in 1857, the building was presented to the university.

Historically, the past of Old Capitol is intermingled with the state of Iowa, for it was there that territorial assemblies met, three constitutional conventions were held, and six state legislatures convened.

Constructed to outlast its builders, the foundation walls were made six feet thick, and most of the walls of the first and second story are three feet thick.

Limestone from the banks of the Iowa river was used in the construction, some of the stones weighing 8,000 pounds.

Cost of the building was $125,000, and it took 15 years to be completed. A restoration and preservation job was done on the Old Capitol in 1924 preserving the original plan.

The last of the university academic departments to occupy the building was the college of law.

Reviewer Commends Summer Concert

By TOM HOUGLAND

Under the direction of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, the university summer session symphony orchestra gave an outstanding performance last night.

Featured as cello soloist in Haydn's "Concerto in D Major," Prof. Hans Koebel so delighted his audience with his superb playing that popular demand called him back for three encores.

Opening the concert with Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," the orchestra, consisting of nearly 100 players, captured the attention of its audience with the excellence of its performance.

Following a brief intermission, Brahms' "Symphony Number 3, in F Major," opus 90, gave the orchestra full chance to demonstrate its ability to play a major symphony. And full credit must be given to its able conductor Professor Clapp.

"The Pioneers," Professor Clapp's own symphony No. 9, concluded the concert. "The Pioneers" is a colossal composition, taking into its full scope the spirit of those hardy valiant men for whom it is so aptly named. It is possibly so colossal that it dwarfs its listeners with its transcending volume.

Played in this centennial year, "The Pioneers" pictures the life of those people, driving fearlessly into the unknown, founding Iowa, the west and the nation we have today.

For his encores Professor Koebel played Prokofieff's opus 65, "Music for Children;" Weber's "Landler;" and Saint-Saens' "The Swan." He was accompanied by Professor Clapp during the latter two selections.

The construction contract for the expansion of the university power plant was awarded to J. E. Pritchard and company of Kansas City at a state board of education meeting in Ames yesterday. The award is subject to the approval of the state interim committee which meets Friday.

The Pritchard and company bid, $344,626, was the highest of three submitted to the university at a hearing June 21.

Construction of the plant additions probably won't start for approximately a year because it will take 18 months for the turbines to be constructed after they are ordered according to George L. Horner, university architect.

Herb McKenley Sets Record in 300-Yard Dash

Hits Tape in 29.8 Seconds; Swedish Entry Wins Mile Run

NEW YORK (AP)—A few minutes after Herb McKenley of the University of Illinois had bettered the world record for 300 yards, Lennart Strand of Sweden ended his present United States campaign by winning the invitation mile at a streamlined twilight track meet yesterday evening at Ransalls Island stadium.

Strand finished sixty yards in front of Thomas Quinn of the New York A. C., who was celebrating his discharge yesterday from the United States Navy. The time was 4:09.

McKenley burst from his holes in the 300 a full stride ahead of his main rival, Elmore Harris and hit the tape six feet in front of the Shore A. C. runner in 29.8 seconds, shaving four tenths of a second off the mark the late Charles Paddock set at Redlands, Calif., on April 23, 1941.

The Illini runner established a world mark for the 448 yard run at the Big Ten last month but was defeated by Harris at last week's National A.A.U. festival in San Antonio at 400 meters.

Leslie MacMitchell, one-time New York university great, led through the first quarter of the mile and then turned the pace-making duties over to Ed Walsh Jr., who held it until Strand bounded in front 668 yards from home as the 2,500 spectators cheered.

Fractional times for the mile, fastest on American cinders this year, were: 3:38.3, 2:06.2, 3:08.9.

Walsh was a full 30 yards behind Quinn while MacMitchell pounded home another 30 yards in the rear. A nasal condition interfered with his breathing in the latter half of the jaunt.

Thomas Carey of the New York A. C. won all three parts of the sprint series, finishing a foot in front of Bill Martinson of Baylor in a :07.5 clocking for the 75 yard dash.

He had the same margin in the 100 over Ed Conwell of Jersey City, N. J., in :09.8, and then finished in front of Barney Ewell, now of the Shanahan Catholic club of Philadelphia in a 150-yard effort that was clocked in :14.4.

Johnny Fulton of San Francisco's Olympic club had matters strictly his own way in the 600 when Harris scratched and left only David Smith of Camp Dix, N. J., and Sol McCants of the New York Pioneer club in the field.

The west coast athlete loafed to the tape in 1:11.4 after having a 30-yard lead at the half-way mark.

Barnard Mayer of the New York Pioneer club, triumphed in a shot put derby in which a trio of contestants fired a 16-pound shot with one hand and then with two before trying their muscles with a 12-pound and an eight-pound ball.

In the latter event Mayer surpassed the listed American record with a toss of 71 feet 7 1/2 inches. The old mark, 70 feet, 3/4 inch, was set July 17, 1938 by William Watson of Michigan.

A half-mile relay in which stars of last Saturday's National A.A.U. meet in San Antonio competed against the New York Pioneer club foursome became a walkover when Ed Greedidge of the New Yorkers pulled a muscle in the second round. McKenley, Robert Hylton of New York, Conwell and Harris carried the baton a half mile in 1:28.4.

Frank Parker Bids For Fourth Crown In Clay Court Meet

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Only three of the sixteen domestic seeded players in the 36th annual National Clay Court Tennis tournament failed to reach the fourth round of 16 yesterday as play moved along at a fast clip in both the men's and women's singles and men's doubles at the River Forest tennis club.

Heading the select class into the round of 16 was the No. 1 national ranking player and top seeded star Frankie Parker of Los Angeles. Parker, making a bid for his fourth crown, raced through a 6-2, 6-1 decision over Tom Molloy of New Orleans, La.

Following Parker, was the defending titleholder and second seeded star, Billy Talbert of Wilmington, Del., who heads the lower half of the bracket. Talbert also failed to get much opposition from Lt. Charlie Samson of Sunflower, Kansas, as he chalked up a 6-1, 6-3 victory. Samson, stationed at Glenview Naval Training station is a former Notre Dame ace.

Third seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., beat Norman Brooks of San Francisco, 6-4, 7-5, and Seymour Greenberg of Chicago who is fourth in the select class turned back Harry Likas Jr. of San Francisco, 7-5, 6-2.

The three seeded players who were forced to the sidelines were Nick Carter of San Francisco, No. 9, Bruce Thomas of West Palm Beach, No. 12, and Herbert "Buddy" Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., No. 14. In the women's division, Virginia Wolfenden Kovacs of Oakland, Cal., seeded No. 3, dropped only one game in winning a third round tussle from Doris Jensen of Des Moines, Ia., by scores of 6-1, 6-0. Mrs. Kovacs has won three titles this year in bidding for national recognition. She won an invitational meet at Houston, Tex., the Heart of America title at Kansas City, and the Tri-state at Cincinnati.

US Net Team In Semi-Finals

WIMBLEDON (AP)—Tom Brown of San Francisco and Jack Kramer yesterday battled their way into the semi-final doubles of the All England tournament.

First the No. 2 seeded Americans overwhelmed a young British pair Tony Mottram and Bob Nicol, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4, and then battled down Sweden's crack Davis Cup doubles combination of Lennart Bergelin and Torsten Johansson, 6-1, 3-5, 6-4 6-0 to enter the semi-finals.

Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica scored perhaps the day's outstanding victory in the women's division when she rallied from a losing first set to eliminate Mrs. Kay Stammers Menzies, veteran British star, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

White Sox Outslug Detroit Tigers, 8-7

DETROIT (AP)—The Chicago White Sox cracked a Briggs Stadium jinx yesterday by slugging out 16 hits off four Detroit pitchers to nose out the Tigers 8-7 for their first victory here this season.

Hank Greenberg clouted his 20th home run with a man on base in the first inning and drove in four runs with three hits but committed a costly error that led to what ultimately was Chicago's winning run in the seventh.

The Sox piled up a 7-2 margin in the first four innings with the aid of Taft Wright's two-run homer off Tommy Bridges and counted an unearned run off Johnny Gorsica in the seventh on Greenberg's error and successive hits by Wally Moses and Luke Appling.

Jimmy Bloodworth homered in the fourth for Detroit with the bases empty.

Boston Beats Giants, 5-4

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Braves strengthened their hold on fifth place and sent the Giants deeper into the National league cellar yesterday whipping the New Yorkers 5-4 with a ninth inning run.

After the Giants had scored once in their half of the last frame to deadlock the game at 1-1, pinchhitter Bama Rowell opened the Braves' half with a triple off relief hurler Rube Fischer. Phil Masi then beat out a hit and when third baseman Bill Rigney threw low to first baseman Johnny Mize, Rowell scampered home with the deciding tally.

Dodgers Win 7th Straight

BROOKLYN (AP)—The red hot Brooklyn Dodgers rolled up their seventh straight victory yesterday and their tenth in a row over the Philadelphia Phillies when Cookie Lavagetto singled home Art Herring in the ninth inning to break a 2-2 tie and give the league leading Dodgers a 3-2 triumph over the Phils.

For the first five frames, Charley Stanceu of the Phils and Kirby Higbe of the Dodgers were locked in a scoreless hurling duel but in the sixth, the Quakers rapped in two runs on an error, Del Ennis' single and Jim Tabbar's double to knock Higbe from the hill in favor of Hugh Casey.

However, Lippy Leo Durocher's fast-stepping Brooks bounced back with two tallies in their half to tie the count.

The Oilers scored their three runs in the third. In that inning, Burnett walked and Moss drove him around with a single. White flew out to the center fielder. Then Ancianx cleaned the bases with a long home run.

Student Housing Not Affected By Lifting of OPA Regulations

City Rents Continue Climb; Retail Prices Remain at Ceilings

Rentals in the university student housing will not be affected for the coming year by the removal of OPA regulations, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Imelda Murphy, manager of student housing.

Most of the rental contracts with the university have already been made for the coming year, she said, and no changes will be made.

Rents Climb

Rents on Iowa City homes and apartments were still climbing yesterday, with a total of 30 calls received at the OPA rent office from tenants reporting raises in rent. Rent increases listed yesterday averaged 25 percent over former rents, however, as compared with the 35 percent average rent increase reported Monday.

Many of the larger rent increases were in effect eviction notices, with a 300 percent raise reported in one case. The rent in one instance went from $75 to $300.

From 70 to 80 tenants holding leases on Moffitt houses have received eviction notices giving them until Sept. 1 to move, as these houses will be sold.

Prices Stable

Retail prices in Iowa City remained the same yesterday, with no changes planned by the merchants and restaurant owners interviewed.

In a canvass of a number of local grocery stores yesterday, there was only one food price change noted. One store was charging 14 1/3c a pound for oranges listed by the OPA to sell at 13c a pound.

In several instances prices were below OPA ceilings. At one store a five pound sack of sugar sold for 36c a pound, which is 3c below the price listed by the OPA. Other items being sold locally below OPA top prices are lard, canned pork and beans, peas and head lettuce.

The lifting of rent controls struck one OPA employee yesterday. Mrs. Edith L. Jones, chief clerk of the price control board reported receiving a 30 day eviction notice. She has lived in her present home at 613 Seventh avenue for nine years.

Man Injured Evading Train

A 77-year-old West Branch man was injured yesterday afternoon in Iowa City and returned to the hospital from which he had been discharged only a short time before.

Joseph Edmund was under examination last night for undetermined injuries in University hospital after being hurt when he jumped from in front of a freight train on the interurban tracks near the Iowa avenue viaduct.

He was on his way home from the hospital at the time of the accident.

Speech, Dramatic Arts Meet Opens Soon For High School, Junior College Leaders

A two-week speech and dramatic arts laboratory for high school and junior college principals, superintendents and supervisory officers will open here Monday.

In conjunction with the Iowa Laboratories program of the college of education, the speech course will offer a period of intensive study and research in speech instruction methods.

The study program will be suited to the individual needs and problems of educators attending the course. Study sections and projects will be assigned by Dr. C. W. Edney of the speech department, who will coordinate the curriculum of the speech laboratory.

Phases of Study Three phases of study will be included, Dr. Edney said, aimed at solving supervisory problems, setting up new curricular programs and improvement of general teaching methods. In addition to the regular work, educators attending will have the opportunity to observe latest methods now being employed in the direction of high school speech classes of the five-week summer session at University high school.

Visiting lecturer at the laboratory will be B. Iden Payne, formerly director of the Shakespeare Memorial theatre at Stratford-on-Avon, England.

University Supervisors

Members of the university staff who will supervise the study projects include: Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the speech department; Prof. A. C. Baird, Prof. Wendell

G. Sheets Accepts Central Surveys Job

Announcement was made yesterday of the resignation of George M. Sheets sales supervisor of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company.

Sheets has accepted a position with Central Surveys, and will leave Iowa City the latter part of July. The firm conducts market research, sales and advertising surveys for industries.

Kadlec Says Tenants To Get 30-Day Notice

Tenants have 30 days without fear of eviction proceedings resulting from failure to pay rental increases in excess of former OPA ceilings, according to J. M. Kadlec, local justice of the peace.

Under existing law, without OPA control, tenants should receive written notice of termination of tenancy 30 days before judgments of eviction can be filed by a landlord.

Kadlec said that during this 30 day period, Governor Blue's request to withhold service of all judgments and writs of eviction "grows out of an increased rental demanded by the landlord in violation of heretofore existing regulations," would be meaningless.

Kadlec said he felt that enforcement of the governor's request depended upon voluntary cooperation of peace officers. Whether or not the action will be effective after the 30 day period, will not be known until eviction proceedings have begun.

Johnson and Prof. Gladys Lynch, all of the speech department; Prof. H. C. Harshbarger, Prof. H. D. Sellman, Prof. Arnold S. Gillette and Prof. Vance M. Morgan, all of the dramatic arts department.

Visiting instructor of dramatic arts at the laboratory will be Mr. James L. Casaday of South Bend, Ind., high school.
