GOOD MORNING, IOWA CITY!

That promised break in the heat wave is due today. Predictions call for fair and cooler weather. Yesterday's high temperature reading was 94 degrees.

Report Sees Record Crops For This Year

Production Forecast Surpassed Only Once During Seven Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record corn crop and near record crops of wheat, oats, potatoes and rice were indicated by a government report yesterday which said this year's farm production outlook has seldom been surpassed. The condition of all crops on July 1 was the best in seven years except for 1942. The combined acreage of all crops has been exceeded since 1932 only in the past three years. Further, the indicated yields per acre of most crops are above average.

Feed Grain Production
The department said the production of feed grains may be the largest on record. Should final production turn out as now indicated, production of livestock products could be maintained near last year's levels through 1947.

The corn crop was forecast at 3,416,646,000 bushels, compared with the previous record of 3,228,000,000 in 1944. Last year's crop was 3,018,410,000 and production for the ten year (1935-44) average was 2,608,499,000.

The wheat crop was indicated at 1,090,092,000 bushels, compared with 1,033,000,000 forecast in mid-June a record of 1,123,143,000 produced last year, and a ten-year average of 843,692,000. Despite the bumper crop, wheat will be insufficient to meet both unrestricted domestic demands and foreign commitments for the year ahead.

Low Oil Seed Crops
One of the least favorable parts of the report was a forecast that production of oil seed crops—soybeans, peanuts and flax seed—will be below high wartime levels. The oil seeds provide materials for margarine, shortening, salad oils and paints. Supplies of food fats and oils are now far short of domestic demands.

The report said production of milk and eggs is being maintained at near record levels. The department said sugar production in this country should be about 25 percent more than in 1945.

Iowa's 1946 Corn Yield To Exceed All Records

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa's 1946 corn yield is expected to exceed all previous records with production of 651,242,000 bushels, the Iowa crop and livestock reporting service said yesterday. The all-time high to date was set in 1943 when 605,454,000 bushels were produced.

The service forecast an average yield of 59 bushels an acre for the 11,038,000 acres of corn to be harvested in Iowa on the basis of July 1 conditions.

Seven 'Chute to Safety In Second Air Mishap Near Holyoke, Mass.

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Seven men parachuted to safety from a navy experimental plane late yesterday only a short distance from Mount Tom, where 25 persons died Tuesday night in the mountain-side crash of a converted Flying Fortress.

The seven men aboard the navy craft took to their chutes as the plane caught fire and crashed in nearby Palmer.

Investigators were still examining the charred remnants of the B-17 when the navy two-engine plane crashed on a flight from the Pratt and Whitney plant at East Hartford, Conn., to Westover field.

The dead in the crash on the side of Mount Tom included home-ward-bound army, navy and coast guard men.

Pitiful personal belongings, scattered over a fire blackened quarter-mile-square area, led Westover Army Air field officers to estimate that the dead included 11 coast guard enlisted men, two coast guard officers, two army enlisted men, four army crewmen, a navy yeoman and five civilians.

The passenger carrying B-17 believed loaded to capacity, roared through a fog and slammed into the 1,200-foot mountain 200 feet from its summit at about 9:20 p. m. (CDT) Tuesday night.

Salvage crews recovered the last of 25 mangled and burned bodies late yesterday and transferred them to a Holyoke funeral home.

Cattle Prices Hit All-Time High at Chicago Expected to Go Even Higher

CHICAGO (AP)—Prime beef cattle sold at the highest price yesterday in the 81 years of the union stockyards' existence — at $23.00 a hundred pounds, but traders declared, however, that prices might soon go to $30.00.

"There is nothing in sight to stop it," one said. "These current high receipts will peter out before long. Mostly they're stock which has been held back for the last couple of months in expectation of higher prices. When they're gone—hang onto your hats."

The new peak price went for a load of Iowa fed steers. Earlier the former record level of $22.50 had been broken at $22.75 and $22.60. When the market reached $22.50 last Tuesday it broke a 27-year record, but the Tuesday mark was matched almost daily since it was set. Under OPA price control the top of the market was $18.00.

Hogs also climbed higher on the livestock market, stopping at $17.75 a hundred pounds, or 50 cents higher than Tuesday's high. OPA ceilings were $14.85 on this quality pork animal.

Another market analyst asserted many of the animals in the current market were "unfinished" and "shouldn't be reaching market for some weeks yet. Producers want to get what prices they can, apparently."

The department of agriculture advised consumers to "eat meat while you can get it. There will be plenty now for a few weeks, but it won't last."

Observers estimated that when the present bulge in number ends, scarcity will cause prices to rise still higher. Then, with the prospect of even bigger profits to come, farmers would resume withholding of supplies, causing a false scarcity which probably would not break through the dam before late in the fall.

Her Mercy Saves 3 Thugs From Chair

NEW YORK (AP)—A widow's mercy yesterday saved three convicted murderers from the electric chair.

Preparing to sentence three gunmen for killing Al (Bummy) Davis, famous Brooklyn boxer, Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz looked toward the fighter's widow.

"Mrs. Davis, I have the power to send these men to the chair," the judge said quietly. "What are your wishes?"

The widow, blonde and pretty in a neat yellow frock, bowed her head for a moment. The quality of mercy gleamed in the dusty Brooklyn court when her answer came:

"I don't believe in capital punishment. Whatever you decide to do will be all right with me."

Senate's Decontrols Exempt More Items From Price Ceilings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Risking another presidential veto, the senate last night piled more items into a class which the OPA, if revived, may not touch—milk and dairy products, petroleum, cottonseed, soy beans and anything made from them.

Of four additional test votes to exempt specific commodities from revived price ceilings, following the exemption of meat and poultry Tuesday, only one went the way the administration wanted. That was a proposal to remove grains from the control list, breathe 32 to 40.

On the house side, Rep. Wolcott, (R., Mich.) of the banking committee expressed the opinion that, the way the senate is going, its bill in the end may provide for less price control than the measure President Truman vetoed. He told reporters an effort may be made to substitute that bill when the senate's legislation reached the house, and send it back to Mr. Truman.

WILSON VOTES
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George Wilson (R., Ia.) voted for the OPA extension bill amendments which would have forbidden price ceilings on grain, on cottonseed, soybeans and their processed products and on petroleum and its products. The first amendment was defeated; the other two were adopted. Sen. Hickenlooper (R., Ia.) was not recorded as voting.

40-30 Vote
The petroleum amendment was adopted on a rollcall vote of 40 to 30, shortly after a proposal to exempt grains had been defeated.

The amendment exempting gasoline, oil and all other petroleum products from revived price ceilings was sponsored by Senator Moore (R., Okla.). It forbids the imposition of price controls unless a decontrol board to be set up under the bill finds the supply insufficient to meet the domestic demand.

Democratic leader Barkley (Ky.) pleaded with the senate to let the proposed decontrol board handle the petroleum question along with other matters.

Grain Amendment
Barkley led the successful battle against the grains amendment last night by asserting that it would affect the price of bread and other foods on every American table.

But other attempts to write exemptions into the measure were in the offing. A number of senators wanted specific decontrols on tobacco, gasoline and petroleum.

Barkley declined to express an opinion as to whether President Truman would reject a measure loaded down with specific decontrols.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican whip, sponsored both the meat and dairy decontrol amendments.

Labor Leader Sidney Hillman Dies; PAC to Continue Active

POINT LOOKOUT, N. Y. (AP)—Sidney Hillman, 59, who from a humble beginning as an immigrant garment worker became a $15,000-a-year union executive and a symbol of labor's rising influence in national political affairs, died yesterday.

Hillman, vice-president and one of the founders of CIO, head of the CIO political action committee and president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, suffered an acute heart attack at his Long Island summer home and died at 7:30 a. m. (CDT).

From the White House came one of the first expressions of regret. "Sidney Hillman was more than a distinguished labor leader," said President Truman. "He was a great humanitarian and an outstanding statesman in the field of labor-management relations."

Hillman was a close personal friend and labor adviser to President Roosevelt. During the New Deal days, the White House door was always open to him.

In 1942 Hillman was named head of the labor division of the war production board. In 1935 Hillman teamed with John L. Lewis and Philip Murray to form the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

General Says May Exerted 'Influence' For Illinois Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brig. Gen. Roswell Hardy testified yesterday that Chairman May (D., Ky.) of the house military committee exerted "influence" on behalf of an Illinois munitions combine but that the congressmen sought only an "equal opportunity" for it with other war contractors.

Hardy, wartime chief of the ordnance department's ammunition division, told the senate war investigating committee that May had intervened on several occasions on behalf of Batavia Metal Products company.

In response to a question from Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.), Hardy said he knew of no occasion when May had sought more than an "equal opportunity."

Earlier in the day, Chairman Mead (D., N.Y.) of the senate committee announced that Benjamin Fields, a former convict, had informed the committee he is speeding to Washington to testify after "just returning from a business trip overseas." Senator Mitchell (D., Wash.), a committee member, said previously that Fields had offered him a $5,000 campaign contribution if he could persuade his colleagues to "lay off" the inquiry. Fields, in a statement in Los Angeles, called Mitchell's allegation "asinine."

Molotov Demands 4-Power Control Of Reich Industry

U.S. Needs 800,000 In Army, Says Ike

Gen. Eisenhower Asks Passage of Measure Doubling Officer Quota

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower believes the United States must maintain an army of approximately 800,000 men for the next 15 to 20 years, compared with 188,000 in 1939.

He expressed that belief yesterday to the house military committee as he pleaded for prompt approval of legislation permitting a doubling of the officer personnel of the regular army from 25,000 to 50,000.

The committee approved the bill, already passed by the senate.

"I can see no possibility in the next 15 to 20 years of the army's going below 800,000 men," the chief of staff told the committee. That figure, he explained, would result from a gradual tapering off from the 1,070,000 officers and men expected to be in uniform on July 1, 1947.

Half of the 800,000, he estimated, would be in the air forces. To direct such an army, Eisenhower estimated, will require 80,000 officers, of whom 50,000 would be regular officers and the others temporary officers on active duty. Of the 50,000 regulars, 27,500 would be assigned to the air forces, 11,000 to ground forces and 11,500 to the service forces.

Many of the new officers, Eisenhower said, would be products of the ROTC and officer candidate schools. He asserted his belief that every opportunity should be given to men to rise from the ranks and become officers. Only in that way, he declared, can the army be truly democratic.

The general said he does not believe the West Point Military academy should be enlarged to provide all the additional officers.

Soviet Minister Flatly Opposes Plans to Federalize Germany

PARIS (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov flatly opposed last night any plan for Germany's future which would dismember, federalize or reduce the Reich to the status of an agricultural state.

He called for the setting up at once of a central German administration "as a transitional step toward the establishment of a future German government" with which the Allies could sign a peace treaty.

In a lengthy speech to the four-power foreign ministers council on Russia's views on the fundamental problems of Germany, Molotov demanded:

Establishment of a system of four-power inter-Allied control over all German industries and over the key Ruhr plants in particular. The Ruhr now is administered exclusively by the British.

Drafting of a plan to assure German reparations deliveries to the Allies as a means of furthering the "complete military and economic disarmament" of the Reich.

Molotov's statement on the need for German centralization placed him squarely at odds with Georges Bidault, French president and foreign minister. Bidault declared that France would discuss centralization of the Reich only after Germany's western boundaries have been fixed. The French have asked that the Ruhr, Rhineland and the Saar be separated from Germany.

Molotov declared it was "easy to understand that without the Ruhr, Germany cannot exist as an independent and stable state."

Proposals to federalize Germany have been discussed as a method of lessening the centralizing power of a future German government. Discussing these proposals Molotov said:

"There have been not a few instances in which Allied authorities in the western zones of occupation of Germany have encouraged the idea of a federal structure for Germany. The attitude of Allied authorities is one thing, whereas, a real desire of the German people, or at least a desire of the population of some part of German territory is another thing.

"We, the Soviet people, hold that it is incorrect to impose upon the German people a solution of this question. Such an imposition would not in any case produce any good if only for the reason that it will be precarious."

He explained that naturally Russia would not object to federalization of Germany or the separation of former German states from the Reich if plebiscites revealed that such changes conformed to the expressed wishes of the Germans themselves.

Bidault said the disarmament proposal, advanced by United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, would be studied sympathetically by French officials, and he expressed the view that it could "promote the solidarity of the Allies with regard to the ever-possible danger of a German military rebirth."

On the matter of a central administration for a unified German economy, however, Bidault reiterated French insistence that German boundaries should be settled before such matters were discussed. He recalled the Potsdam agreement providing that the Allies would seek decentralization and a development of local autonomy in Germany, and he urged that the Reich's future political life begin on the plane of states.

U.S., Britain Oppose Soviet Grab in Austria

VIENNA (AP)—The United States offered yesterday to renounce all claims to German assets in Austria, and declared it would not recognize Russian seizure of German properties in that country classified by the Allies as "forced transfers" to the Germans.

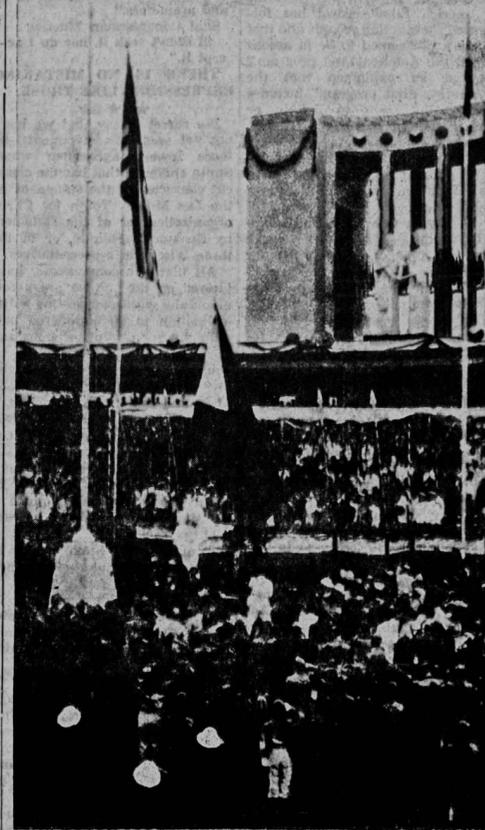

(In London, the British foreign office said Britain was supporting the United States' stand against the Russian seizure.) A spokesman said Britain feared that Austria's economy and even the fulfillment of the promise that Austria would become an independent nation again were threatened by the Soviet action.

Return of America's World War II Dead To Begin Next Year

CHICAGO (AP)—Return to the United States of the remains of America's World War II dead will begin early next year and will be completed by 1949, Brig. Gen. George A. Horkan said yesterday.

Horkan, director of the memorial division in the army quartermaster general's office, said return of the first dead from Hawaii and Belgium had been scheduled to start this month but was delayed because of lack of steel for the required 258,000 caskets.

Colonel Jenna to Head ROTC

Officer Takes Unit Command Here July 24

Col. William W. Jenna, formerly commander of the 34th Infantry regiment, has been appointed professor of military science and tactics and head of the military department, President Virgil M. Hancher announced yesterday.

He will assume his duties here July 24. President Hancher also announced the assignment of Maj. Irvin M. Parsons, air corps officer, to the university R.O.T.C. unit as observer of R.O.T.C. instruction and administration.

A 1917 graduate of West Point, military academy, Colonel Jenna was also graduated from the signal school, company officers' course, infantry school, and the command and general staff school, War Service.

During World War II his service included assistant chief of staff of G-2 (intelligence), battalion commander with the 27th infantry regiment, and regimental commander of the 34th infantry regiment.

He was associate professor of modern languages at West Point from 1929 to 1940.

In 1919, Colonel Jenna was assistant military attaché in Greece, and in 1920 he served at a similar post in Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

His decorations include Silver Star with two clusters, Legion of Merit with one cluster, Bronze Star, French Legion of Honor (Chevalier), Serbian Order of St. Sava (4th class), Greek Medal of Military Merit, Combat Infantryman's badge and Victory medal with clasp.

Major Parsons is a 1939 graduate of the University of Iowa who served overseas more than two years. His decorations include the

Missionary to Talk On Present, Future Of Japanese Tonight

Dr. A. J. Stirewalt, veteran missionary to Japan since 1905, will discuss the present and the future of the Japanese people at 7:30 tonight at the English Lutheran church.

Dr. Stirewalt was one of the last missionaries of the Lutheran church to leave Japan in 1941.

Members of the congregation and friends are urged to attend this meeting and meet Dr. Stirewalt in a fellowship meeting following his talk.

Educational Director To Give Talk Today

Ray Graham, assistant superintendent of public instruction in Illinois and director of Education for exceptional children, will lecture on "The Responsibility of the State for the Education of its Handicapped Children" this afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Graham will be on the campus for two weeks as a special feature of the college of education's course on the education of handicapped children. He will also participate in the special education laboratory. This is one of the Iowa laboratories which opened for a two-week period Monday.

Stamp Club to Hold Meeting Here Tonight

A special meeting of the Iowa City Stamp club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in room 402, Chemistry, to discuss issue of the 3-cent Centennial stamp on August 3. Dr. Edward Bartow, president, announced yesterday.

Members and interested parties are invited to attend this meeting.

Knowledge of South American Customs Can Improve Relations, Says Teresita Osta

TERESITA OSTA, the terpsichorean half of the brother-sister team of Teresita and Emilio Osta (Emilio at the piano) does an intricate step while doing a native dance. Miss Osta has joined the women's physical education departmental staff for four weeks. She will instruct South American dancing in the dances of one world class.

"By increasing our knowledge of folklore and native dances of the South American countries," stated Teresita Osta, the terpsichorean half of the brother-sister team of Teresita and Emilio Osta.

Miss Osta has joined the women's physical education departmental staff as a visiting instructor for four weeks. The Ostas have just completed a course at Mills college, Berkeley, Calif., where they were guest artists and consultants of Latin American dances and music.

TO WED IN FALL

MR. AND MRS. R. E. PEWE of Rock Island, Ill., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Maureen J. Rahman, to Richard Kidd Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mercer of Muscatine. The wedding will be an event of early September in the Evangelical church of Peace in Rock Island. The bride-to-be attended high school in Rock Island, and Augustana college there. She is now a junior in the school of liberal arts at the University of Iowa and is affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Kidd attended Muscatine Junior college prior to entering the Navy air corps. He was discharged as a Lieut. i.g. and is now a sophomore in the school of engineering at the university.

vacation. The eight-week course is in two sections; the first, dances of North America, has been completed, the second, dances of South America began Monday and will continue for four weeks.

Dancing Experience Credited with having the largest repertoire of authentic Latin American and Spanish dances, Miss Osta who is a descendant of the Basques of Navarre and said her extensive knowledge is the result of her first hand experience with the actual dances.

She has studied the South American dances in their native habitats, living with the people, eating their food and studying their music first hand.

Her dances include: The Sandoga, La Viejeta (the old one) Joropo of Venezuela, Cueca, Chile and Li Gato native to Argentina.

12 Veteran Families Move Into Trailers At Riverdale Village

Twelve veterans and their families are now living in Riverdale trailer village, eight in trailers provided by the university and four families in their own trailers parked in space provided by the university.

Now ready for occupancy are eight more of the trailers which will be filled as soon as the couples on the waiting list are notified.

The village, operated much the same as the Hawkeye trailer village, has a total of 78 trailers, besides space provided for families with their own trailers.

New Reading Course In Scientific Russian To Be Offered Here

A reading course in scientific Russian will be offered during the 1946-47 academic year, Prof. Erich Funke, head of the German department, announced yesterday. The course will offer a total of eight semester hours credit.

Conducted by Prof. Alexandre Aspel, who has recently been appointed to the French department faculty, the classes in Russian will be taught on an experimental basis for a selected number of graduate students.

Total enrollment will be limited to 25 students. Providing this quota is not filled by graduate students, a few undergraduates may be permitted to enroll by special permission. Graduate students may optionally take the course without credit.

Students interested in registering for the course in Russian should be recommended, by their major departments, to Professor Funke, room 106, Schaeffer hall, for an interview. The recommendation should be made not later than July 30.

The course in scientific Russian will be designated at 41:101 and 41:102.

Hawkeye Distribution Starts This Morning

Distribution of the Hawkeye, senior yearbook, will begin at 9 o'clock this morning at the south entrance of the west basement wing of East hall. The distribution schedule is from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. today and tomorrow, and from 9 a. m. until 12 noon Saturday.

This year's Hawkeye, the 56th in the yearbook series, is actually the second 1946 Hawkeye to be published, according to Loren Hickerson, assistant to the publisher, Student Publications, Inc. Formerly the junior yearbook was edited by the senior class, but this year the seniors took it over, so that the same class published both last year's book and this year's, he explained.

Edited by Mary Osborne, with Anita Beattie as business manager, the Hawkeye is divided into four sections, separated by four-color photographs from the campus and campus life.

The introductory section, including the dedication "To you, the students of SUI," is composed of candid shots and pictures of university scenes.

Book I, the second section, is entitled "The University." It is made up of divisions dealing with liberal arts and commerce, medicine, dentistry, engineering law, pharmacy and nursing.

"Athletics" is the title of Book II, including pictorial records of football, basketball, minor sports, women's sports and military.

Ten sub-divisions—candid, sororities, fraternities, dormitories, honoraries organizations publications, fine arts and speech, beauties and parties—compose Book III: "Activities."

The senior yearbook is more than 15 percent larger than last year. Despite the introductory statement that "the campus has returned to peacetime activities—gone are the khaki and the blue," the air of the military prevades the book, with nearly all graduates of the colleges of medicine and dentistry pictured in uniform.

Jacobs Breezes into Third Round of Amateur

Meets Stoltz In Des Moines Tourney Today

DES MOINES (AP)—Johnny Jacobs of Cedar Rapids rushed through two rounds in sub-par fashion yesterday to pace a field of 16 contenders into the third round of the Iowa Amateur golf tournament.

Jacobs, seeking his fourth straight championship, topped Cal Manning of Des Moines, former Stanford university star, 5 and 3 in the second round after stopping Vic Siegle of Davenport, 6 and 5 in his first match.

Belting Johnny was two-under par against both foes to make him seven under for 46 holes, including his medalist winning 69, three under Hyperion's par 72.

"Jake's" twin victories shot him into a third round engagement with slender Johnny Stoltz of Ottumwa, like Jacobs a navy veteran. The Ottumwa shooter, one over par, moved along with a 3 and 2 win over young Bill Loder of Spencer in the second round.

Meanwhile the other top names of Iowa golf hustled into the third round. They included Denmar Miller of Des Moines, a three time Amateur winner; John Kraft, of Oelwein, the Colorado schoolmaster; Phil Donohue of Sioux City, and Pete Jordan of Des Moines, former state Open king.

Miller, firing a sub-par 70, nipped Al Howard, Davenport ace, 1 up in a sizzling second round duel that saw Denny win No. 11 and then halve the remaining seven holes.

Kraft, who lost to Jacobs in the 1941 final, staged a rousing comeback to oust Sergio Fontanini of Des Moines, 1 up. Johnny lost four of the first five holes, then birdied the next three to get back in the match.

Donohue turned back the late challenge of John Keyser of Marshalltown to win 1 up. Jordan eliminated Dick Lynch of Cedar Rapids 4 and 2.

Sonny Dean, Iowa City, was defeated by John Goode, Des Moines, 1 up in 20 holes in a second flight bracket, while Gerri Cannon, Iowa City, lost his third flight match to Doyle Anderson, Des Moines, two up.

Odd Fellows Defeat V.F.W. 3949, 14-4

The Odd Fellows took advantage of some erratic fielding on the part of V.F.W. post 3949 nine last night to swamp the Vets, 14-4, in a City league soft ball game on the Benton street diamond.

Poor baserunning and three Odd Fellows double plays held down the Vets' scoring.

Don Gutteridge Will Add Spark to Team

By WHITNEY MARTIN NEW YORK (AP)—When it was announced at the All-Star game that the Boston Red Sox had purchased Don Gutteridge from the Toledo Mudhens to pad out the infield someone remarked dryly:

"Well, it looks like the panic is on."

What he meant, of course, was that the Red Sox are a little apprehensive concerning their pennant chances, and are casting about frantically for reinforcements, although in view of their performance to date it does seem a little like Joe Louis calling for help to fight Billy Conn.

We don't think Tom Yawkey and Joe Cronin are unduly apprehensive. Just cautious, that's all, as they realize all too well that anything can happen in baseball and sometimes the team that looks like a dead clinch turns out to be just dead.

They know that on paper, on the field too, for that matter, their team is the class of the American league and the fact that the New York Yankees are only seven and one-half games behind it is something of a miracle, as nobody can see just what is holding the Yankees up there.

The Red Sox have two of the first three batting leaders, the first three men in runs batted in, the leading home run hitter and a couple of pitchers who rate among the best. Those factors would seem to be the visible means of support of that team.

The Yankees have little to offer to match this, but they have potentialities, a dormant power which might assert itself abruptly and change the pennant situation considerably, for if the New Yorkers can stay up there as close as they are in their present more or less inoffensive condition, there is no telling what they might do if fellows such as Joe DiMaggio, Joe Gordon, Tommy Henrich and some others start hitting in the style they used to be accustomed to hit. ley Keller has been playing as he always played.

We think Yawkey and Cronin couldn't have picked a better man than Gutteridge as insurance against a slump. Not that the little guy, who has been managing the Mudhens, is a might hitter, or even a better than average fielder.

But he has a contagious spirit, a fight-to-the-finish style about him that makes him a valuable asset to any club. He's always been one of our favorite ball players, and we've followed his fortunes from the Cardinals to Sacramento to the Browns to Toledo.

He's the type of guy you just can't keep down very long, as witness his double bounce back to the majors. If the Red Sox have a tendency to sag a little during the dog days of August, he's the gent to put firecrackers under them.

All in all, it seems a wise move on the part of the Red Sox, and shows they aren't smug and self-satisfied because to date they have made something of a travesty of the American league race. They could sit back with a superior air and say "nobody can catch us," and incidentally save a little money, although that factor has never concerned the generous Yawkey.

But baseball history is filled with astonishing upsets and form reversals, with today's champ tomorrow's chump. On paper the Cardinals were a surer bet in the National league before the season started than the Red Sox were in the American, and that isn't the Cardinals leading the National race right now.

Babe Meets Casey Today

DENVER (AP) — Capt. Pat Grant, first round sensation, and the terrific tyke, 12-year-old Marlene Bauer of Long Beach, Calif., fell by the wayside yesterday as the going got tough in the women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament.

The buxom WAC officer from Cushing, Okla., and Fort Lewis, Wash., a favorite after her unofficial record-busting 32 on the front nine in Monday's opening round of match play, was ousted 2 and 1 by sturdy Betty Haermer, St. Louis city champion, in the first upset of the tournament.

Wiry little "Babe" tripped a pig-tailed Rosann Shaffer of Toledo, O., representing Rollins college, Winter Park, Fla., 4 and 3, in the process and sent the deponents into a tailspin.

Nevertheless, Miss Germain, of Beaver college came through with some of the best golf of her career.

Out in an unspectacular 40, even par, yesterday, Dorothy came in with a 34 for a four-under-par 74, tying the course record she set last Monday.

She was two under men's par and four under women's par on that last nine and collected a 3 and 2 victory from game little Shirley Spork of Detroit, a Michigan State Normal entrant.

By her triumph, little "Babe" won the right to battle Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Ia., the Northwestern university sharper, in today's semifinals.

Miss Otto, who began her tournament career in Iowa seven years ago, easily defeated Louise Herou of the University of Minnesota yesterday, 5 and 4.

The upper bracket semi-final match will feature Miss Germain and Patricia O'Sullivan of Bradford junior college, Boston. The Irish girl smoothly stroked her way to a 3 and 2 win over Mary Beth Johnson of Ohio State in the second round.

Phyllis Otto Tangles With New Favorite In Golf Tournament

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — A freckled little tyke who weighs in at 110 pounds with a No. 2 iron in each hand broke the National Women's Collegiate golf tournament wide open yesterday.

With one blazing round of 36-37-73—a new competitive course record—Carol "Babe" Freese of Reed college, Portland, Ore., made the tournament no longer the apparent exclusive property of Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia.

Legion Team Takes Opener To Split Burlington Twin Bill

For the second time this season, Iowa City American Legion baseballers split a doubleheader with the Burlington legion team. The locals came from behind to win the opener 3 to 2 and then lost a nine inning 5 to 4 tilt to the host team in the nightcap.

The Greyhounds jumped into the lead in the initial game with scores in the first and second innings. Iowa City tallied once in the third frame. In the top half of the seventh Snook was hit by a pitched ball and advanced to second on Doran's single. Stahle forced Snook and Beals drew a walk to lead the bases. Lyle Fox smashed a two run single to give the locals the victory as the tying run died on first in the Greyhound half of the seventh.

Iowa City was able to garner only four hits from the offerings of Duke and Schutz while Burlington hit Fox and Oldis for five safeties. Stahle, local rightfielder, and James, Greyhound left fielder, led the batters with two singles each.

In the nightcap, the situation was reversed as the locals took an early lead and had Burlington down four runs going into the last half of the seventh. The hosts suddenly came to life and tied the count at four apiece and forced the tilt into extra innings.

Burges, Burlington rightfielder, led off in the last of the ninth with a single. Ringbloom struck out but Almqdinger scored Burges to give the home team the win.

Both teams drove out eight hits with Burich, Iowa City second baseman, slapping out three singles to lead the hitters. Burges and Penrose of the Greyhounds and Beals each collected two hits.

Junior Golf Tourney Scheduled for 1947

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa Golf association, in a move to develop the state's young players, voted yesterday to inaugurate a Junior tournament next year.

The meet will be an annual affair and will be restricted to boys 17 and under. Tentative plans call for the tournament early in the season and the Association will seek the cooperation of the State High School athletic association in promoting the project.

The Association accepted an invitation to hold the 1947 state Amateur tournament at the Davenport Country club. The tournament was last held there in 1927.

In another action the group voted to sponsor the 1946 Iowa Open tournament and favorably considered an invitation from the greater Sioux City Athletic club to hold the meet in Sioux City pending the working out of details.

City High to Build Football Stadium

Board Votes $10,000 Costs

Superintendent Opstad Submits New $352,700 Budget for Approval

The Iowa City school board last night voted to construct a City High school football field, and added $10,000 to a submitted 1946-47 proposed budget to cover the expense.

The $352,700 budget was submitted by Iver A. Opstad, superintendent of schools, for approval by the board.

The budget will not be approved until July 22, when the board will officially adopt the budget in the absence of valid objections.

The stadium which will be built at the City High school grounds, will seat 3,400, according to present plans.

Construction of the field will release Shrader field at Longfellow school to junior high athletics.

The $10,000 appropriation is the estimated expense of supply and installation of lighting equipment, the major building cost.

Lighting equipment will consist of six metal towers, mounted with lights, reflectors and transformers. The 75-foot towers will be erected behind the field bleachers, an improvement over Shrader field where light poles in front of the bleachers obstruct vision.

Bleachers for the new stadium are to be those now used at Shrader field in addition to new sections if available. It is anticipated that when seating is needed at Shrader field, bleachers will be moved to the field from the baseball diamond.

The board's legal right to spend the fund for the football field was questioned at the meeting, but no prohibiting law was found last night, and the board voted to include the amount in the budget pending legal objection.

This week V. R. Miller, superintendent of grounds and buildings, will ask manufacturing companies for bids on the erection of equipment.

The Revery Manufacturing company of Chicago has offered immediate installation of equipment, Miller said. Moving the bleachers and making other preparations will be started at once, since it is necessary to complete the field as soon as possible in order to have it ready for the season.

The board empowered the building and grounds and the athletic committees to take any further action necessary to complete the field.

The application of Mrs. William B. Fagan Jr., of Chicago, was accepted by the board. Mrs. Fagan will teach first and second grades. A 1942 graduate of Iowa State Teachers college, she has taught kindergarten, first and second grades at Pella, Marshalltown and Shell Rock.

Air Force Exhibit Army to Demonstrate Training Aids

Army air forces officers and enlisted men will exhibit and demonstrate types of air forces training aids available to non-profit institutions for instructional ground training here July 15-17, the bureau of visual instruction announced yesterday. The exhibit will be held in room E-205 East hall.

Sponsored by the army air forces training command, the exhibit tour is being made in a traveling conveyance containing aircraft equipment which has been made into various types of training aids. The showing is one of a number of exhibits which have been requested by various educational institutions.

The army men will explain the use and method of procuring equipment. Superintendents, principals, teachers and college representatives are invited to attend.

The exhibit will be open from 10 a. m. to noon and from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Monday, and from 9 a. m. to noon and 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Tuesday and Wednesday.

Individuals and small groups may attend at any hour during the demonstration. Arrangements will be made for large groups or classes to attend the demonstration by calling the bureau of visual instruction.

Officials to Inspect Cities' Fire Equipment

Mayor Wilbur J. Teeters and the fire and water committee of the city council will visit three other Iowa cities today to examine their fire departments.

The group will visit Clinton, Davenport and Muscatine. All have recently installed new fire fighting equipment, according to Mayor Teeters.

The council committee consists of M. Dean Jones, I. J. Barron and Vernon I. Capen.

House Party Planned By Methodist Students For Saturday Night

Methodist students will clean the student center and hold a house party Saturday at 7:30 p. m. The group will picnic and hold evening at the stone quarries, about 20 miles from Iowa City, after meeting at the center at 5 p. m. Sunday. Swimming will also be included on the program.

The forum leaders will report on the regional Methodist student leadership training conference which they attended from June 10 to 15 at Epworth Forest, Ind.

Supper chairmen are: Jean Clausen, A3 of Walnut, and Don Schmit, A3 of Brighton, Ill. All Methodist students are invited to attend both events.

Rebekah Lodge to Meet

The Iowa City Rebekah lodge No. 416 will meet today at 8 p. m. at the I.O.O.F. hall. Mrs. J. P. Clark will preside over the installation of newly elected officers.

Mrs. Kenneth Vincent will be in charge of refreshments and the social hour after the meeting.

Ringling Bros. Circus To Play in Iowa City

Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey circus will give a one day show in Iowa City, August 28.

A license was issued to the circus yesterday by Major Wilbur J. Teeters.

This show is reported to be the one which has played in Madison Square Garden, and travels in 85 railroad cars.

The circus will be located on the Lucas lot at the south end of Gilbert street. It performed in Iowa City the last time in 1935.

Army Engages SUI as Food Study Center

The University of Iowa will be one of four midwest schools that will engage in food research and study for the army, according to a war department announcement received in an Associated Press dispatch yesterday.

Outstanding graduate students and reserve corps officers will study at the schools, which will work out the program with the quartermaster corps.

Other schools in the program are the University of Chicago, Northwestern university and the Illinois Institute of Technology.

No information regarding the food study has been received at the office of the R.O.T.C. unit here, according to Capt. N. B. Wright, acting commander.

Eureka Lodge Installs Wolfe as Noble Grand

Members of the new finance committee appointed and named were Roy Engleman, Lloyd Rogers and Mr. Douglas.

Married Vets May Organize

Consideration of the organization of married veterans living in university housing units was the main business of the Hawkeye village council in their weekly meeting last night.

The council has contacted residents in the Riverdale trailer village and other married veterans groups in an effort to begin organization of the group by the fall semester.

Cloyce Campbell, G of Iowa City, chairman of the Hawkeye village council, said that C. Woody Thompson, dean of students, had approved organization of married veterans.

The purpose of an organized group would be to promote the collective interests of all married veterans living in university units, the council agreed.

Present at the meeting were two residents of Riverdale village, James King, A3 of Mt. Vernon, and Mrs. Ruth Moon. King brought the immediate problem of ice delivery to the residents of Riverdale before the council.

King said that temporary organization of Riverdale residents will probably take place this week.

The council also discussed the possibility of cooperation in a buyers' strike in the event that prices go up on essential foods. The action of the council on this matter would be subject to the consent of the residents of the village, the council decided.

Further discussion of the problems before the council will take place next Wednesday night when representatives from Riverdale village will be present at the meeting.

Local Markets Expect Fresh Meat in Abundance Next Week

An abundance of fresh meat in Iowa City next week was predicted yesterday by local meat market operators.

They believe the average price increase will be a 5c a pound over the OPA ceiling to compensate for subsidies paid formerly to packers.

One butcher thought pork would be back in volume first since it does not require a week's aging for tenderness like beef.

Meat sold for many prices yesterday. Twenty seven cent hamburger was listed for 35, 38, and 40c a pound, depending on the store. Lack of competition was the reason for price variations, retailers said.

The fact that large packers are now buying and killing a lot of beef and pork will bring meat prices lower than last week, retailers believe.

Steaks and chops on counters now come mainly from small packers who are taking a chance on no OPA and the demand of a meat hungry public, meat dealers report.

The Senate rejection of meat ceilings will encourage larger packers to get back to work, local men believed.

One retailer who visited Wilson's in Cedar Rapids Monday said they were killing 45 head of cattle an hour with a 54 head capacity.

Ice cream prices today for the first time reflected the increase in the cost of cream, and creameries say milk soon will be higher.

Nickle cones have gone up a penny, and bulk ice cream shows an average addition of 5c for pints and quarts. One store selling nickle double-dip cones are now giving only one dip.

Restaurants are being forced into markups as a direct result of meat and dairy product increases.

One local inn pushed the price of hamburgers from 15 to 20c. Pork and steak dinners have increased 10 to 15c per meal, but general restaurant prices won't go much higher if meat levels off in price.

Iowa City clothing stores have been receiving numerous letters and telegrams from their wholesalers saying clothing prices will remain much the same.

Clothing coming in now includes pre-ticketed garments purchased prior to the death of OPA.

The only way manufacturers could raise prices would be by cancelling orders and re-instating them for different styles or fabrics, clothing store men say.

U.S. 'Fascist' Groups Threaten Democracy, Dean Thurman Says

Commenting upon "the degree to which the common garden variety of men in our country are devoted" to the contemporary manifestations of the fascist philosophy of basic inequality, Dean Howard Thurman in a speech yesterday warned that "our democracy will turn to ashes . . . and our last state will be worse than our first."

Endeavoring to make his audience aware of particular aspects of the native "fascist problem" which "exists all around us," Dean Thurman, visiting instructor in the school of religion, referred specifically to "three powerful fascist groups in America"—the Christian-Americans, the Nationalist groups and the Ku Klux Klan.

By allying themselves to Christianity and the "righteousness of the church" and by playing upon the average citizen's "pride in being Americans," the Christian-Americans endeavor to be "a little less than angels," he said. This group, which originated in Houston, Tex., seeks to destroy unionism and is concerned with "control of production by a select few who determine priority of production."

He said the Ku Klux Klan regards true Christianity as essentially Protestant, claims that "discrimination among races is not accidental but designed . . . not temporary but eternal."

In explaining the appeal of these organizations to so many Americans, Dean Thurman said it is due in part, psychologically, "to the fact they give to large masses of non-descript, unanchored people . . . a point of force . . . they inspire integrated action and dramatize crises situations. And out of the urgency of these situations, inspire fears and rigid forms of loyalty."

They give specific job assignments (little jobs to little men) so the individual feels he is an integral and important part of the organization, he said and added that they provide a "collective destiny" which "breaks the isolation of the individual . . . he no longer is alone and ignored . . . he overcomes his sense of inferiority and futility."

Child Struck by Car Receives Cut, Bruises

Craig M. Wright, 2½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright, 20 E. Market street, received a cut lip and bruises on his back when he was struck by a car while crossing Market street to his home.

The child was returning home after receiving doctor's treatment. Frank Comfort Jr., of Des Moines, was driver of the car.
