Byrnes Blames Russia for Conference Failures

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
ASSOCIATED PRESS DIPLOMATIC REPORTER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes last night warned Russia that she is creating "doubts and suspicions" by objecting to a German disarmament treaty and announced that the United States is acting immediately to break down economic barriers in Germany—with or without Moscow.

"Our military representative in Germany," Byrnes disclosed in a radio address, "will this week be instructed to cooperate with any one or all of the three governments (Britain, Russia, France) in essential administrative matters like finance, transportation, communication, trade and industry. We will either secure economic cooperation between the (German occupation) zones or place the responsibility for the violation of the Potsdam agreement."

The American chief in Germany is General Joseph T. McNarney. Byrnes prepared a radio report to the nation on the work of the Paris foreign ministers conference. Earlier in the day he had reported personally to President Truman.

Throughout the speech Byrnes repeatedly blamed Russia for failure of the conference to reach agreement on critical issues—particularly the German disarmament treaty, the centralization of German economy and the draft of a peace treaty for Austria.

On the issue of the German disarmament treaty Byrnes openly acknowledged the split between Russia and the western powers and asked:

"Is German militarism going to be used as a pawn in a struggle between the east and the west and is German militarism again to be given the chance to divide and conquer?"

"To that question," he continued, "there must be an unequivocal answer, for equivocation will increase unbearably the tensions and strains which men of good will everywhere are striving to relieve."

"Hard-Pressed for Real Objection"

He said the Soviet statement to the foreign ministers meeting against the disarmament treaty proposal "reveals how hard-pressed the Soviets were to find real objection to a treaty which gives them the assurance that Germany should never again become a threat to their security or to the security of Europe."

Then he added:

"I do not believe that the Soviets realize the doubts and suspicions which they have raised in the minds of those in other countries who want to be their friends by the aloofness, coolness and hostility with which they have received America's offer to guarantee jointly the continued disarmament of Germany."

Had such a treaty been in existence after World War One, Byrnes argued, World War Two never would have occurred.

Byrnes traced in considerable detail each of the major issues which had occupied the foreign ministers—himself, Molotov, Bevin of Britain and Bidault of France—during the 28-day session.

Costs Americans $200 Billion a Year

He said that because Germany is "threatened with inflation and economic paralysis" and the American zone is costing American taxpayers $200,000,000 a year, he had urged that the Allied control commission be instructed to administer Germany as an economic unit.

The British agreed to this and the French reversed their previous position of opposition to accept. But the Russians said they could not agree without further study of the Saar question, involving exclusion of that area from the centralization.

"I made clear," Byrnes said, "that we were unwilling to share responsibility for the economic paralysis and suffering we felt certain would follow a continuance of present conditions in Germany."

"I then announced that as a last resort we were prepared to administer our zone in conjunction with any one or more of the other zones as an economic unit."

"I stated that whatever arrangements were made with one government would be open on equal terms to the governments of the other zones at any time they were prepared to participate."

"The British stated that they would consider our proposal and indicated they hoped to agree. Neither the Soviets nor the French expressed any view."

It was then that Byrnes declared instructions would be sent to McNarney this week to secure such cooperation as he could with one or more of the other three zones in Germany.

Molotov blocked immediate steps toward writing an Austrian peace treaty which would provide for withdrawal of occupation troops, making two arguments, Byrnes reported. The Russian foreign minister contended that Austria should be further de-Nazified and that a large number of displaced persons should be withdrawn from the country before a treaty is completed.

Byrnes said that the United States recognizes "the seriousness of these problems" but he declared, "It would be a tragedy to hold up the peace treaty with Austria because she is obliged to offer temporary refuge to these people until homes can be found for them in other countries."

In summarizing his policies, Byrnes said that "we do not believe in a peace based on a desire for vengeance. We believe in justice, charity and mercy. If we act with charity and mercy, those who fear as enemies may become our friends."

One Positive Accomplished

On the single positive accomplishment of the conference—the drafting of peace treaties for Italy, the Balkan states and Finland—Byrnes expressed some dissatisfaction.

"The drafts of treaties agreed upon are not the best human wit could devise," the secretary said. "But they are the best which human wit could get the four principal Allies to agree upon. They represent a satisfactory approach to the return of peace as we could hope for in this imperfect and war-weary world."

To Be Submitted at Peace Conference

The treaties are to be submitted for criticism and recommendation to a 21-nation peace conference at Paris July 29. Byrnes expressed hope that the foreign ministers will be able to agree upon final texts before the end of the conference so that the treaties could be signed by the time it ends.

He disclosed that he had opposed plans for secret subcommittee meetings at the peace conference and said he gave notice that the United States "will use its influence to open to the press the meetings of the conference and of its committees."

House Set for OPA Showdown

Voorhis Offers Bill to Aid Buyers' Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to facilitate buyers' strikes on any goods which jump high above OPA ceilings was plumped into the legislative hopper yesterday amid signs that some of the price agency's friends are giving up hope for its revival with the powers they want.

Meanwhile, Philip Murray, CIO president, climbed Capitol Hill to speak of a "danger of widespread unrest if prices get out of hand."

He told a congressional committee that if effective controls are not restored there will be repercussions at the polls in November.

A showdown occurs in the house today, on the new senate bill. That is the measure President Truman says "couldn't be worse" unless the legislation is revised considerably before it reaches his desk.

The tension of price control was heightened further when Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky broadly indicated that the next bill congress sends to the president will be the last and that if Mr. Truman vetoes it, OPA will be dead permanently.

Barkley said he hopes congress will adjourn by July 27. That would leave little time to get the pending measure to the White House and back, and pass something else.

Rep. Voorhis (D., Calif.) offered the buyers' strike guide bill. It would provide consumers with official price data on important commodities and services. The weekly reports would come out of the bureau of labor statistics.

CIO Leader Murray told the house labor committee that congress had better remain in session until an effective OPA bill is passed.

"We have national unrest, national chaos and a congress that is derelict in its duties," he declared. "There is only one kind of sound (OPA) bill and that is one that will keep prices down."

If congress fails to revive controls, he said, the "greatest economist in America, the American housewife" will see that a congress is elected in November which will serve them."

Congress Kills Order Consolidating Bureaus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress last night killed off President Truman's order consolidating all housing bureaus into a single, permanent national housing agency.

The other two plans—one of them strengthening the Federal Security agency, the other making several minor consolidations of government agencies—became law at midnight last night.

A housing consolidation still may become law, however, for a plan is provided in the Wagner-Ellender-Taft long-range housing bill, a measure which already has gained sweeping senate approval.

Senator Taft (R., Ohio), a co-sponsor of the Wagner-Ellender-Taft measure, led the opposition to the president's plan. He said it went farther than, and "completely disregarded," the senate-approved bill which bears his name.

United Auto Workers Plan Buyers' Strike Against High Prices

CHICAGO (AP)—A nationwide demonstration against increased living cost by its 800,000 members has been called for today by the CIO-United Automobile workers—a demonstration which Walter P. Reuther, union president, says "will herald a buyers' strike such as this country has never known."

The scheduled demonstration is the first nation-wide protest against soaring costs since the OPA expired July 1.

Reuther said UAW members throughout the country would walk off the job during the afternoon to attend anti-inflation rallies.

"This nation-wide demonstration will herald a buyers' strike such as this country has never known," Reuther told a meeting of union members here yesterday.

"Our objective," he added, "is the organization in every American city of a central consumers' committee, with UAW leadership, of religious, civic, community and other labor groups."

Reuther said the UAW strategy would be to single out "certain inflationary priced commodities and strike against them." He predicted "unless inflation is beaten there will come a collapse and depression such as the world has never known and it, in turn, will be followed by another war."

The UAW president asserted that unless "exorbitant living costs" drop, labor would retaliate with demands for increased wages. This step, he said, would be the last resort.

Most Animals Still Alive

ABOARD U. S. S. MC. KINLEY, Tuesday (AP)—Vice Adm. William H. P. Blandy announced today that 84.7 percent of the animals exposed during the atomic bomb test were still alive.

Unidentified Chinese Kidnap 7 Marines; Civil War Nears

TIENTSIN, China (AP)—Seven United States marines, kidnapped by unidentified Chinese, were sought by air and ground forces yesterday as fighting between Chinese communist and government forces was renewed at numerous points in Manchuria and North China.

(In Shanghai the middle course democratic league declared that China was heading towards civil war on a gigantic scale which would certainly cause her final collapse.)

Marine headquarters in Tientsin disclosed that marines were taken prisoner Saturday at the village of Hsinanchuang, 22 miles northeast of Chinwangtao, on the railroad that leads to Mukden.

80 Armed Chinese

Chinese papers here said the abductors were Communists, but the announcement merely described them as a band of about 80 armed Chinese not otherwise identified.

The marines, members of a detachment guarding a railroad bridge, had gone to the village to buy ice, according to an eighth member of the party who hid in the ice house and escaped capture. The marines' jeep and trailer were recovered in the village.

Strong marine patrols immediately began a search, which is continuing. An aerial spotting hunt was pressed Sunday but was hampered Monday by bad weather. Chinese government troops were assisting.

Communists Active

Other dispatches said 10,000 Communists had encircled Chieng Chang in Northern Manchuria and had captured the town of Hung-fantu on the north bank of the Sungari river.

From Kaigan, Communist-controlled capital of Chahar in inner Mongolia, came word that the Communists were digging air raid shelters and erecting sandbag barricades in expectation of large-scale hostilities. Appearance almost daily of unidentified aircraft was given as the reason.

(Amid these reports of war and preparation for war, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek moved from sweltering Nanking to Kuling for the summer. Chinese sources in Nanking said the Communists deeply resented the government leader's departure at this stage.

Siam Appeals For UN Help

NEW YORK (AP)—Siam appealed to the United Nations security council last night to settle her frontier disputes with Indo-China which threaten the preservation of peace between the republic of France and the kingdom of Siam.

The formal complaint, asking council mediation and agreeing to abide by the council's proposals for solution, said the border troubles continued to "cause grave concern" to the government of Siam.

The request from the Bangkok government, dated July 11, was circulated immediately among the council delegations and will be placed on the agenda within three days for consideration at the next meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Munitions Maker Allen B. Gellman, describing himself as "deeply humiliated," testified yesterday that he had cut loose from his wartime associations a few days ago upon learning of their past, "so that I could fight my own battle."

"I'd rather be dead," he cried out when Chairman Mead (D., N.Y.) of the senate war investigating committee asked him whether he would have embarked upon a war contract association with Henry and Murray Garsson had he known their background.

Agreeing to waive constitutional protection against being forced to testify, Gellman denied any knowledge that Representative May (D., Ky.) had gone to the aid of the midwest industrial combine of which he and the Garssons were officials.

He said that he had "left the selling end of the business" to the Garsson brothers while he concentrated on production, working hard "for every dollar."

He denied, too, any knowledge of the activities of press agent Benjamin Franklin Fields, a former convict, on behalf of the combine. Senator Mitchell (D., Wash.) has charged that Fields linked an offer of a $5,000 "campaign contribution" to a plea that he persuade his colleagues to "lay off" the inquiry.

Gellman said that upon hearing of the testimony concerning Fields and the Garssons he decided to "cut loose" and consult his own attorney. Previously he had been represented by the same lawyer as the Garssons.

Committee Counsel George Meader has put into the record FBI reports identifying Henry Garsson as a dismissed internal revenue agent.

Australian Minister Herbert Evatt Makes Attack Upon Use of Veto in UN Council

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian minister for external affairs, yesterday attacked use of the veto in the United Nations security council and warned that the veto might be used indirectly to nullify decisions of the forthcoming Paris peace conference.

Evatt, who plans to leave shortly to attend the peace parley, made his declaration in a broadcast as he ended his one-month term as chairman of the UN atomic energy commission.

He served notice that he would not only fight any attempt at big power "dictation" of peace terms but that he would take the leadership before the UN general assembly in September to have the whole veto question brought under review.

He also reiterated his intention to make every effort to prevent the veto from being injected into any atomic control plan which may eventually be approved by the atomic commission.

Shortly after Evatt spoke the UN secretariat announced that the Australian delegate had met with Capt. Alvaro Alberto Da Motta Silva of Brazil, his successor as chairman of the commission, and agreed on a series of meetings this week to press on with work of drafting an atomic control plan.

Evatt devoted most of his speech to the veto, which he described as "undemocratic" and "unjust." He did not mention Soviet Russia in connection with his criticism of veto "abuses," but it was obvious that he referred to Andrei A. Gromyko is the only delegate who has invoked the veto.

Officer, Wife Entered Zone Without Permit

BERLIN, Tuesday (AP)—A United States army warrant officer and his wife, Helen, told newspapermen at an army press conference that following their detention when they went to the Russian zone on July 1 to visit a dog kennel, they were kept apart for two days—Harrison in a dungeon-like cellar and his wife in a bare room.

Got "Passable" Food

Reunited, they were not treated roughly, Harrison said, and received "passable" food, although they were questioned constantly as to the reason for their presence in the Russian zone.

The couple was handed over to Maj. Gen. Frank A. Keating United States Berlin commander, at Russian headquarters here at 1:45 a. m.

Although the Russians gave no reason for the couple's long detention, army officials intimated it was in retaliation for the detention of two Russian military personnel by the Americans. Harrison said his Russian questioners told him repeatedly the Americans were holding Russians.

Hold 2 Others

Apparently the Russians still held in custody the two other Americans—Capt. Harold Cobin of Newark, N. J., and Lt. George Wyatt of Oklahoma City—who last were seen boarding a train for Oranienburg in the Russian zone.

American military officials said they had received no word concerning Cobin and Wyatt, but said that the Russians had promised to investigate the case.

Promised Sunday Release

Originally the Russians promised to release the Harrisons by Sunday and when they failed to do so, a high-ranking American officer said the Russians were guilty of a breach of faith.

United States officials told newspapermen they had advised the Russians, in answer to Soviet inquiries, that the Americans had in custody two Red army personnel seized in the United States occupation zone. The Russians were wearing civilian clothes, the officials said.

Mihailovic to Die as Traitor

GENERAL DRAJA MIHAILOVIC

BELGRADE (AP)—Gen. Draja Mihailovic and 10 of his wartime followers were sentenced yesterday to die before firing squads for treason and collaboration with the Nazi invaders of Yugoslavia, and the 13 other defendants similarly charged were given prison sentences ranging down to 18 months.

The 50-year-old leader of the Chetniks, first organized resistance to the Nazis in his country, received the verdict of the Yugoslav military court with outward calm. But the crowd, including many uniformed Partisans who fought under Marshal Tito, cheered when the court president announced the findings.

The bearded Chetnik chieftain and his co-defendants were given eight and one-half hours in which to appeal the death sentences to the presidium of the Yugoslav parliament. If the sentences are upheld the penalties will be exacted privately and swiftly, unconfirmed reports said.

Mihailovic's sentence was announced at 10:20 a. m., and newsreel cameras, grinding away under glaring lights, were focused upon his calm face. A battery of photographer's bulbs flashed in an instant.

The word of the verdict was speeded to tense crowds outside the courtroom, and by loudspeaker to crowds gathered in the center of Belgrade.

The verdict climaxed a spectacular trial which began June 10 and was marked by the court's refusal to permit testimony by American fliers shot down in Yugoslavia during the war.

Mihailovic admitted having contacts with the Germans, but denied he ever actively collaborated or intended to collaborate with the Nazis. The testimony brought into sharp focus the wartime conflict between the Chetniks and the Partisans organized later by Gen. Josip Broz (Tito), now premier of Yugoslavia.

Warrant Officer Samuel L. Harrison and his wife, Helen, told newspapermen at an army press conference that following their detention when they went to the Russian zone on July 1 to visit a dog kennel, they were kept apart for two days—Harrison in a dungeon-like cellar and his wife in a bare room.

Although the Russians gave no reason for the couple's long detention, army officials intimated it was in retaliation for the detention of two Russian military personnel by the Americans. Harrison said his Russian questioners told him repeatedly the Americans were holding Russians.

Canadian Commission Reports—

Soviet Spies in U.S.

By HARRY T. MONTGOMERY

OTTAWA (AP)—Two members of Canada's seven-man supreme court, sitting as a royal commission probing Soviet espionage operations, reported officially yesterday that Moscow had sought and obtained "top secret" political information relating to policies of the United States and British governments as well as the Canadian, and that they were after information concerning postwar defenses of the three countries.

In a dramatically worded 250,000 word final report on four months of work, the commissioners said that the Russians were operating not only the military espionage network first disclosed last February, but also "several parallel undercover systems," and added that agents of those rings "may still be at work."

This is the picture they drew, observing that their findings "are as authoritative as those of any court."

Through secret chambers of the Soviet embassy in Ottawa, the Russians directed a "fifth column" in Canada through three principal networks: military espionage, the NKVD (Soviet secret police) and a "political system" section.

These networks had ramifications in the United States, Great Britain, and on the continent of Europe, but the commission was able to learn details only of the military espionage operations, directed by military intelligence headquarters in Moscow through the former military attaché in Ottawa, Col. Nicolai Zazotin.

The work was directed not only at gaining atomic energy, radar, and other secret wartime scientific data, but at getting information "related to research developments which would play an important part in the postwar defenses of Canada, the United Kingdom and the United States."

"It is obvious," the commission said, "that there was intended to be a large-scale, postwar expansion of the network of Canadians in the military espionage system."

The commissioners quoted frequently the oral testimony of Igor Gouzenko, former code clerk for

Colonel Zabolin who fled the Soviet embassy last September with documents exposing the network, saying they accepted his evidence as true.

They quoted Gouzenko as telling them that Zabolin some time before last September 5 called in his staff and said to them of the western Allies: "Yesterday they were allies, today they are neighbors, tomorrow they will be our enemies."

"In Russia," Gouzenko told the commissioners, "there is a great deal of propaganda carried on by conversation of the propagandists and even in press. It is all done to train people to think that they must fight another war, that maybe it will be our final war."

The commissioners went into great detail to substantiate their charges that "the Communist movement was the principal base within which the espionage network was recruited, and that it not only supplied personnel with adequately developed motivation, but provided the organizational framework wherein recruiting

Wheeler Runs For 5th Term

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MONTANANS decide today the matter of a fifth term nomination for Democratic Senator Burton K. Wheeler who, in the final days of a sizzling campaign, drew support in a letter from President Truman and opposition by James Roosevelt, son of the late president.

Wheeler's contest with 40-year-old Leif Erickson, former state supreme court justice, far overshadows in national interest other primary election races this week.

Wyoming, Arizona and Arkansas also are having primary elections today while Georgia, where a torrid race for the Democratic governorship nomination is winding up, votes Wednesday.

200 Representatives Expected to Attend Conference at Hospital

Approximately 200 representatives from 101 Iowa chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will hold their first annual meeting at University hospital today, John V. McCarthy, state representative of the foundation, said yesterday.

The meeting will help prepare chapter personnel for the polio epidemic season which usually extends from July to October.

Dean McEwen, director of state services for crippled children, will review the services available to polio victims at the opening of the afternoon session at 1:50.

A demonstration of hot pack patients will be given at 11:45 by Mrs. Olive Farr, physical therapist at University hospital.

Morning Session
J. W. Allen, regional director for the foundation, will preside at the morning session of the meeting, and Mr. McCarthy will preside during the afternoon.

Law Students Start New Term Thursday

A three-day registration period opened yesterday for the second summer term in law which begins Thursday, according to Dean Mason Ladd of the college of law.

Law students also took first final examinations ending the first five and one-half week summer term in law yesterday. Registration and final examinations end Wednesday, the last day of the term.

Most law students now in school enrolled for both terms at the beginning of the summer session, Dean Ladd explained, so registration is expected to be light.

First-year law students will not be allowed to enroll for the second summer term, so registration will be confined almost wholly to veterans who had training in law before they entered the service.

Prof. Gillette Links Artist With Designer In Final Art Lecture

Prof. Arnold Gillette of the dramatic arts department, delivering the fourth and last lecture of the current series on modern art yesterday, analyzed the relationship between the artist as a scenic designer and the artist whose field lies in the graphic and plastic arts.

Though both artists use the same tools and both "attempt to express an ideal and to arouse an emotional response" there, according to Professor Gillette, the parallel dies. The graphic artist chooses his own subject and is limited only by his "medium of expression and his own imagination."

The scenic designer, on the other hand, not only has his subject chosen for him but is "extremely limited" by architectural restrictions, consideration of color and lighting, the business manager and a budget, and construction of the theater he is working in. Even his style, scene, and time of action are determined for him by the playwright.

Scenic Design Work

The work of the scenic designer is not, Professor Gillette said, evaluated on its own merits but must always be considered as "an integral part of a still larger work of art." His setting is regarded only as it is employed in the construction of a complete play, requiring actors, plot, lighting and costumes for fulfillment.

Professor Gillette considered modern scenic design in two opposed aspects of theatre production—the "realistic" or "representational" production in which the content of the play is presented in "the manner and sequence of life" and the "non-realistic" or "presentational" which takes frank theatrical liberties (chorus, soliloquy, audience participation) and makes no effort to reproduce actual life.

University Productions
In considering these aspects as related to recent university productions, Professor Gillette chose Moliere's "The Miser" and the current "Julius Caesar" as being presentational and Patrick's "The Hasty Heart" as completely representational.

Van Druten's "I Remember Mama," he said, combined characteristics of both. Though largely realistic, Kathryn's speaking directly to the audience and the abbreviated settings placed it in the non-realistic group.

To illustrate his lecture, Professor Gillette employed several sketches he made of theatrical productions on a tour of Europe. He concentrated particularly upon settings used in non-realistic, Russian children's production of the American classic "Tom Sawyer."

All veterans, students and residents of Iowa City interested in living in a cooperative trailer camp will meet at 7:30 tonight at the Fleege Brothers Trailer Sales company, 141 S. Riverside drive, across from the hydroelectric laboratory.

Temporary plans are to form a cooperative camp with each family owning their own trailer and building their own plumbing facilities. The monthly rent would be approximately $10 a month operating cooperatively.

The location of the camp will be just east of First avenue at the city limits.

To Our Friends and Patrons

We extend our sincere appreciation for their confidence and goodwill, and we bespeak a continuance of this same fine favor for the new manager Mr. D. R. Davidson.

Hank Wyse Stops Giants

CHICAGO (AP)—The onrushing Chicago Cubs, playing heads up ball all the way, whipped the New York Giants, 3-1, yesterday in a battle of singles to score their sixth triumph in their last eight contests.

Outthrew nine to seven with all safeties strictly one-basers, the champion Cubs made three of their blows count for two runs in the second inning off lefty Dave Koslo and put two together in the seventh off reliever Ken Trinkle for their final tally.

The Giants, although they touched veteran Hank Wyse freely, were unable to score until the eighth frame when three successive hits with none out by Bill Rigney, Willard Marshall and Mickey Witke produced their sole marker. Wyse, a 22 game winner last season, clinched his tenth victory this year by getting big Johnny Mize to fly out and forcing Walker Cooper to ground into a double play.

First baseman Eddie Waitkus was the Cubs' run producer yesterday driving in two runs with a pair of hits. After Stan Hack walked in the third, Don Johnson singled and Waitkus followed with another to send Hack home. Phil Cavarretta's long fly scored Johnson.

The Cubs' last run was socked in by Waitkus' single after the sacks were loaded by Trinkle on a walk, and error, Johnson's third single.

Hank Borowy Still Cub Fans' Favorite

CHICAGO (AP)—You'd think Hank Borowy, who has failed to finish 13 of 14 pitching starts for the Chicago Cubs, would have to slip in and out of Wrigley field disguised as a peanut vendor or a program hawk.

On the contrary, the blonde right-hander is something akin to a baseball Frank Sinatra, whose failure to muscle through opposing batters has engendered deep sympathy among the Bruin flock.

He is a bit of a hero, albeit with a reverse spin. Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs found this out with burning ears today when he removed harassed Hank with just one put-out between him and his first complete game since May 5.

Hopp, Vernon Lead Hit Parade

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Hopp, speedy outfielder of the Boston Braves continued his torrid batting pace during the past week to lift his average eight points to .371 and vault over Dixie Walker of the Brooklyn Dodgers into first place in the National league's individual batting tournament.

Including games of Sunday, Hopp collected nine hits in 19 trips to the plate while Walker picked up only five safeties in 15 times at bat to drop from .368 to .366.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, who fell to third place last week, added ten points to his mark to boost his average to .360, 20 figures higher than possessed by Johnny Mize of the New York Giants.

Rounding out the loop's top ten hitters are Pete Reiser, Brooklyn, .321; Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn, .315; Phil Cavarretta, Chicago and Frank Gustine, Pittsburgh, .305; Enos Slaughter, St. Louis, .304, and Tommy Holmes, Boston, .301.

Musial paces the circuit in four vital departments, leading in runs scored, 64; hits, 117; doubles, 26 and triples, eight.

Slaughter and Walker are battling neck and neck for the runs batted in honors with the Cardinal ball hawk out in front, 68-67. Clouting one homer during the week, Mize increased his pace-setting count to 18, three more than rookie outfielder Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh has belted.

Reiser retained his grip on base stealing honors with 20 steals and Ted Wilks of the Cardinals took over the leadership in the pitching department from Emil Kush of Chicago.

Wilks, a husky right-hander, has won six games, all in relief, without suffering a setback. Kush trails with a six and one record.

Tops Chandler in 2-0 Battle; Tigers Climb

NEW YORK (AP) — Freddie Hutchinson pitched the Detroit Tigers to within one-and-one-half games of the second place New York Yankees last night by blanking the Yanks, 2-0, on two hits.

Hutchinson, in hanging up his fifth triumph and second white-wash job before a crowd of 39,893, pounded out two hits himself, one of which figured in the scoring, thus collecting as many safeties as the Yanks were able to garner off his hurling.

Detroit scored both its runs in the third off Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler who worked the first eight innings and was tagged with his fifth setback. Successive singles by Jimmy Outlaw, George Tebbetts and Hutchinson filled the bases, Outlaw crossing the plate as Eddie Lake slapped into a double play and George Kell singled to score Tebbetts with the other tally.

Only four Yanks reached base against Hutchinson, who struck out nine. Phil Rizuto singled in the third and Charley Keller got a one-bagger in the seventh but was erased in a double play.

Hutchinson's only base on balls and an error by Pat Mullin put the other runners aboard but were marooned.

Marchildon Blanks Sox on Two-Hitter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics last night blasted the Chicago White Sox 12 to 0 in an airtight game in which Phil Marchildon limited the Sox to two hits. A cool-weather crowd estimated at 5,000 saw the Mackmen collect 13 hits.

The A's Canadian right-hander, who lost his last game to the St. Louis Browns because of wildness, didn't allow a base on balls and struck out six men.

Second baseman Don Kolloway singled in the fifth inning for the first Chicago hit and White Platt singled in the sixth for the second. The only other visitor to reach up to that time. With two out, a walk, a single and Jim Tabor's double scored the Phil's first run.

Charley Keller of New York, .319; Bobby Doerr of Boston, .313; Vern Stephens of St. Louis, .309; manager-shortstop Lou Boudreau of Cleveland, a newcomer, .307; and Luke Appling of Chicago, .302.

Doerr still leads in hits with 104, while Vernon retained the two-bagger leadership with 30 and George Case of Cleveland kept ahead in stolen bases with 16. Washington's John Lewis grabbed the lead in triples at nine.

Southpaw Hal Newhouser of Detroit added another victory to continue as the pitching leader with a 17-3 record. Bobby Feller of Cleveland failed to finish his only start of the week, but struck out five to fatten his whiff total to 195.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three runs scored in the first inning gave the Boston Braves a 3-2 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night. The victory enabled the Braves to remain in a fourth place tie with Cincinnati.

Cards Pound Bums, 10-4

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals subdued the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers for the third straight time last night, 10-4, to move within one and one-half games of the National league pacemakers.

A crowd of 26,476 paying customers saw the Cardinals rake five Dodger pitchers for 13 assorted blows in a wild game marked by the banishing of Manager Leo Durocher and outfielder Pete Reiser during a five-minute third inning argument with Umpire Al Barlick.

The dispute arose over a diving play Reiser made on a line drive by Slaughter which was declared a single by Barlick who ruled the Dodger outfielder trapped the ball. The blow scored Harry Walker from third and gave the Cards a 3-1 lead.

The Red Birds teed off in the first inning with two runs against Hugh Casey, making his initial appearance of the season as a starting pitcher after compiling a 6-3 record in relief roles, and continued the assault without let-up.

Harry Brecheen was credited with his sixth victory against nine losses although he was relieved by Red Barrett in the ninth when the Dodgers scored three times.

The turnout last night boosted the Cardinals' attendance for 42 home games to 503,793 as compared with the record of 778,417 for the full 1928 season.

Hatton Beats Phils
CINCINNATI (AP) — Grady Hatton's three-run homer and John Hetki's seven-hit pitching yesterday were the deciding factors in a game between the Cincinnati Reds and Philadelphia Phils, which the Reds took, 4-2.

Hetki encountered trouble in the fourth inning after setting the Phils down in perfect order up to that time. With two out, a walk, a single and Jim Tabor's double scored the Phil's first run.

Charley Stancu, the loser, was touched for a run in the first, and then in the fifth, with two out, the Philadelphia hurler walked two prior to Hatton's slam into the rightfield bleachers.

Philadelphia Manager Ben Chapman, in the same inning, raised such strenuous objection to Umpire Dusty Boggess' ruling on whether Hetki attempted to bunt a third time, that he was ejected from the contest.

Moose Plays Vets Sunday

Iowa City Moose baseball nine, winners over Muscatine Moose 3-2 last Sunday, face a stiff test next Sunday at City Park when they play host to a star-studded Cedar Rapids team headed by four former Iowa Hawkeyes.

Big Bill Diehl, famous center on the Iowa '39 Ironmen, plays first base for the visitors while Claude Cypra covers an outfield spot. Diehl was a Hawk regular this spring while Cypra was a reserve.

Two former Hawk chucks listed on the Vets squad are lanky Red Kenney and Bob Stastny. Kenney, a fastball artist, re-entered Iowa late last semester but did not see action with the Hawkeye nine.

The Vet pitching staff is rounded out by Red Hibben, a M and J league veteran, and Verne Fleagle who saw considerable service with service teams. The Vet team is well balanced and many of its players have had a good deal of M and J league experience.

At Muscatine last Sunday the local's victory was sweet revenge as they racked up 13 hits to edge the team who defeated them earlier in the year. Iowa City drew first blood in the opening frame when Clayton Colbert, lead off man, singled and was driven in by a single by Warren Conrad.

Two more runs were garnered by the local nine in the sixth frame. Don Sehr, Colbert and Roy Easterwood all hit safely to drive in the tallies.

Muscatine gathered a total of six hits off Charley Blackman's pitching, scoring one run in the third and one run in the seventh.

Charley Blackman, left handed chucker for the local Moose, struck out 9 men while allowing one walk. Sehr, lead his teammates with 3 for 3 at the plate, while two hits each were registered by Colbert, Easterwood, and Conrad.

Pass the Hash
The former Seahawk football players are beginning to drift back to the Iowa campus now that they have gotten rid of their navy blues. Bob Smith, Bob Phillips, Lon King, Ray Carlson and Bob Reynolds are already here, and we have heard rumors that Bob Sullivan, Jimmy Smith and, possibly, T. S. Ary will be around next fall. . . . Stories out of New York city that George Terlep, former Great Lakes quarterback, had left Iowa for Illinois was denied by the little round man when we talked to him over at the fieldhouse yesterday. And he should know. . . . Fats and Peeewe Day, Mason City's outstanding football and basketball brother combination of the pre-war days have ended up at Northwestern this summer. We lose more good athletes some way or another. . . . Bob Hendren, a giant tackle from southwestern Iowa and an out-standing star in service competition, is another boy who could do Dr. Eddie Anderson a lot of good next fall, but he has found his way to Southern California. . . . Larry Gernuska, reserve outfielder on the 1946 Iowa baseball team broke a leg sliding into second base in a game back in New Jersey the other day. . . . Walt Koehnke, an all-state cage center around the time Dave Danmer was a ball-of-fire at Iowa City high and Dick Ives was the Diagonal star, has been discharged from the service and will probably be wearing the Old Gold next winter. One top cage expert was saying the other day that Koehnke, as a high school player, was one of the five best pivot men he had ever seen—including college and pro stars. Well, let's hope so!

Iowan Carriers Rally To Win Over Pirates

Increasing their hold on first place in the Junior softball league, the Daily Iowan Wildcats came from behind in the last of the seventh to down the Pirates, 13-12 yesterday.

The Pirates, belittling their tail-end position in the league standings, jumped on the Wildcats for two runs in the second, six in the third and four in the sixth to lead, 12-11, going into the last of the seventh. The Wildcats tied the game on White's triple with Schnoebelen on base and White scored the winning run on a fielder's choice.

Loney led the Iowan Carriers with three safeties in five at-tempts.

Lyons Happy to Get Hayes From Indians
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ted Lyons, manager of the Chicago White Sox, yesterday said that catcher Frankie Hayes, whom the Sox had obtained from the Cleveland Indians via the waiver route, would probably report to the team in Boston or New York.

Lyons said Hayes had called from his Medford, N. J., home. The Sox leave here for Boston today and then go on to New York on Saturday.

"I was awfully glad to get him," Lyons declared. "He will help the team a lot. He's a long ball hitter and that's one thing we can use."

Earlier in the day, Sox general manager Leslie M. O'Connor announced that the Tribe had accepted the Chicago team's waiver bid. O'Connor said his team was the only American league club to claim Hayes for the $7,500 waiver price.

FIRST ADD SPORTS

Boost Tommy Farmer
The Los Angeles pro football Rams are looking to Iowa's Tommy Farmer to give them two of the best quarterbacks in the conference next fall. Coach Adam Walsh of the Rams says that Farmer will have just as good a chance as Bob Waterfield to become the team's regular quarterback.

Farmer, a Hawkeye star in 1941 and 1942, hopes to play in the same backfield combination as the famed Waterfield, however. Tommy is one of the country's hardest runners as well as an excellent passer and hopes to fit into the Rams' left half back spot.

The former Cedar Rapids star, who was twice wounded in the Pacific as a marine officer, will have Bill Parker, one of his best receivers at Iowa, as a long pass target.

Lettermen in Service
Four Hawkeye major "I" football players from the 1945 team have been called into the service since the fall season so won't be available to the 1946 squad. They include Carl Bowen, Wayne Spurbeck, Wendell Weller and Ralph Woodard. Ira Lund, a center, will not return to the university and Jerry Niles, quarterback, will play pro football with the New York Giants.

Another veteran of Clem Crowe's hapless eleven, quarterback Clayton Colbert, plans to play elsewhere next fall. The pint sized Colbert, an Iowa City boy, expects to go to a smaller school where he can play regularly.

How's Your Backhand, Bub?
Forehands, backhands, aces, errors. . . seems that the Iowa City sporting fraternity has gone tennis minded since the highly successful net tournament here last weekend. Speaking as strictly a spectator and a long way from an expert on the subject, we'd like to say that we got a big kick out of the junior finals that had "everything"—including the hometown boy that upset the dope sheet to beat a favored opponent.

The men's singles left something to be desired, however. Not trying to take anything away from Lt. Comm. Warren Angstadt, the singles champion, but the good Commander was just too tough for his opposition and his steady, backhand game got to be pretty dull stuff after the first set.

We did enjoy the spectator reaction to the underdog Nelson all the way. Such conduct would never be acceptable to the Emily Post's of the tennis world but, then, who the devil wants to sit through any sports event with an occasional, reserved, "Well done old chappie."

Prices Rise 30 Percent Since July 1

Milk Increase Starts Today

I.C. Board Reports Rents up 35 Percent, All Food Costs Climb

Reports of price increases received by the Iowa City board of price control since the end of OPA July 1, average 30 percent above OPA prices, it was disclosed yesterday. Most of the increases reported were on meat and dairy products.

The shopper who two weeks ago paid 40c a pound for steak now pays around 60c; and the man who paid 45c for the blue-plate special in a local restaurant two weeks ago now pays 50 to 60 cents for the same meal.

Latest increase is the rise in milk prices effective today. Pasteurized milk is up 1 1/2c a quart to 15c. Homogenized milk has risen from 14c to 16c a quart.

Dairymen said the increase in milk prices was a result of the recent increase in butterfat prices. They said they are forced to pay more for whole milk so that farmers will sell whole milk rather than sell only cream at the higher prices paid for butterfat.

Waldo Geiger, rent control director, stated increases reported to his office averaged 35 percent above OPA ceilings. One case of a 300 percent increase in rent to force eviction of tenants was reported.

Individual price increases on pound quantities of commodities reported to the board include the following: bacon from 42c to 54c, hamburger from 27c to 40c, round steak from 41c to 64c.

A fried chicken dinner has increased from 85c to $1.00, spare ribs from 23c to 39c, butter from 65c to 79c, ready-to-eat ham 53c to 68c.

T-bone steak once selling at 50c a pound has increased to 75c, a creamed chicken dinner from 35c to 50c, ham and eggs from 50c to 70c, grilled pork chops from 65c to 75c.

The price increases on meat sandwiches run from five to 15 cents, ice cream increased 15c per gallon, roast beef dinners from 55c to 65c, hamburger steak from 50c to 75c.

Twenty-five pounds of flour increased from $1.49 to $1.98, canned milk from 12c to 14c, canned peas, from 15c to 18c, canned peaches from 30c to 34c and beef chuck roast from 26c to 39c.

UVA Adopts Speaker Plan

Plans for a guest speaker program were discussed at a meeting of the University Veterans association last night. It was decided to invite university professors and officials to speak to the student veterans on courses they may take in the university which would best aid them after graduation.

The executive assented to full cooperation with other veterans' organizations in Iowa City in taking steps for a "better OPA." It was proposed that a meeting of all town veterans be held Wednesday night to discuss plans for future action in regard to OPA.

The group planned a picnic for veterans' children to be held in City park July 23.

A letter from Representative Thomas Martin was read to the organization. In it Martin discussed the housing situation when he attended the university in 1921, and commented on the present OPA legislation. He further wished the veterans all success in completing their education.

Coleman to Address Journalism Fraternity

Carroll Coleman, lecturer in typography at the University of Iowa, will speak Wednesday night at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity.

Second in the series of outstanding Iowa journalists to speak at the group's meetings, Coleman will discuss page layouts and makeup.

Air Forces Training Exhibit Opens 3-Day Showing at East Hall

The army air forces training aids exhibit opened a three-day showing yesterday in room E205, East hall. A team of four AAF officers and enlisted men conducted a display and demonstration for several groups of visitors.

The purpose of the exhibit is to interest civilian educators in the use of air corps training aids for instructional purposes. The emphasis throughout is placed on visual education.

As a lieutenant pointed out in one demonstration, visual training combines education with entertainment, and results in the student remembering and understanding better than from merely reading from a textbook.

Demonstrators tried to show visual aids generally, as well as specific AAF training aids, could be of value in civilian education.

Among other devices demonstrated was the portable daylight projector with translucent ground glass screen and a glass mirror reflector. The projector makes it possible to show motion pictures without making the room dark. One advantage of this, it was explained, is that the instructor may more easily ascertain which students need to be persuaded to stay awake.

The exhibit will be open to all interested persons or groups to-day and tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and from 3 to 5 p. m. It is presented in cooperation with the University bureau of visual instruction.

Condition of Injured Racer Reported Good

The condition of Lawrence (Jack) Crock, Stanwood garage man, who was injured in midweek auto races Sunday at Tipton, was reported "good" late yesterday.

Examination in Mercy hospital indicated Crock suffered a fractured shoulder blade, several fractured ribs, head injuries and general abdominal and chest bruises.

Crock's car hit a soft spot high on the track as he was coming out of the first turn, careened into some protective hay bales at the outer edge of the dirt oval and then rolled, pinning him underneath.

Group Posts Notices To Married Veterans Outside SUI Units

Married veterans living outside of university housing units may express willingness to join an organization of married veterans by signing any one of 10 notices posted throughout the campus, according to Max Callen, E3 of Centerville.

Such an organization was discussed last week by the Hawkeye trailer village council.

The notice reads "We, the undersigned, married veterans residing outside the university housing units, are desirous of joining the organization being formed by the married veterans living in university housing units. Inasmuch as our interests are similar, we feel that by having a larger, more inclusive group, we could do more to promote our common interests."

The notices were posted by Callen and will be presented at the meeting of the Hawkeye village council meeting Wednesday at 7 p. m.

Cloyce Campbell, G of Iowa City, chairman of the Hawkeye village council, said that he believed that university housed married veterans would be very willing to cooperate with other married veterans where their interests were mutual.

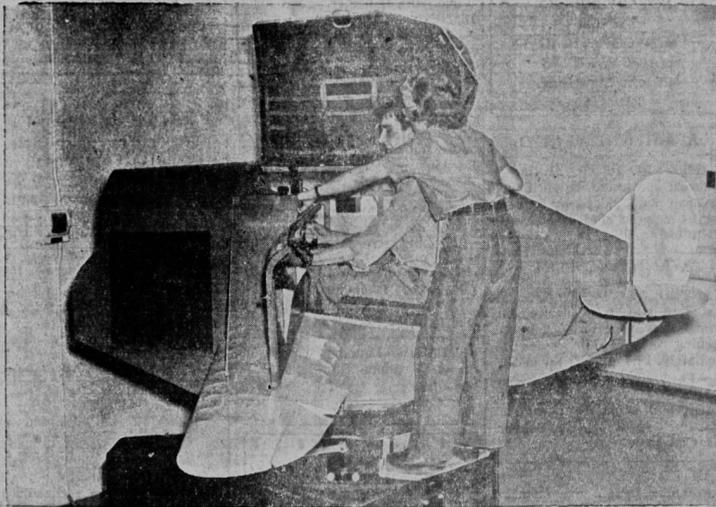

Married Vets to Hold Meeting on Housing

A second meeting of married veterans interested in alleviating the housing shortage will be held at 7 o'clock tonight at the Parish house of the Episcopal church, 320 E. College street.

Nineteen veterans and their wives met Friday night and formed committees to investigate the housing possibilities in Iowa City.

All other married veterans interested in devoting some time and energy in the organization are urged to attend.

Test Flight for SUI Link Trainer

UP IN THE AIR about the whole thing, but getting absolutely nowhere Dick Gage, A3 of Storm Lake, former air corps pilot and Daily Iowan staff reporter, takes a spin for old time's sake under the watchful eye of Jean McKee, A3 of Oberlin, Ohio, former Wave technician. Dick is "getting nowhere" because the plane he is flying is the university's Link trainer, purchased three months ago from the war assets administration for use in connection with aeronautics courses offered by the college of engineering. Miss McKee was a Link technician with the navy for 20 months during the war and offered her services to the college to help get the trainer in "flying" condition.

Gain Reported In Telephones

An increase of 1,279 telephones in Iowa City during the six month period from December 1, 1945, to June 1, 1946, was reported yesterday, by H. L. Young, manager of the Iowa City branch of the Bell Telephone company.

More telephones were installed during that six month period than during the combined pre-war years 1939 and 1940. The six-month total is only 72 phones less than the combined total for the years 1939, 1940 and 1941.

Young reported the three main bottlenecks now holding up regular service include shortages of instruments, switching equipment and distribution cable.

The local Bell Telephone manager estimated that a normal operating reserve pool in all three of the above items of equipment could probably not be built up before 1948. A reserve pool of telephone equipment is usually kept to carry on the normal operation of the company.

The expansion in the university and consequent demand for telephones keeps the problem of shortages in an acute stage, Young said, but orders for new main phones are filled within a few days.

Orders for extension phones in a residence where a main phone already is in operation, cannot be filled yet without delay.

The hostesses will be Mrs. R. W. Armine, chairman; Mrs. Fred Chensky, Mrs. George Mocha,

To Hold Potluck Picnic

The Mortar Board alumni will have a potluck picnic Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. in upper City park. Reservations should be made by calling Mrs. John Taylor, 7298, or Barbara Kent Greenleaf, 9407.

More telephones were installed during that six month period than during the combined pre-war years 1939 and 1940.

Vets Asked to Report Interrupted Training

All veterans attending the university under Public Law 346 who are interrupting their training Aug. 7, should report to the guidance office in room E-114 of East hall at their earliest convenience.

Men attending school under the provisions of Public Law 16 may file the interruption form at their monthly interview. The guidance office is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday.

On the form, each veteran will indicate if he wishes to be paid for his accumulated leave time at the rate of two and one-half days per month for time he has attended school under the G. I. bill. The leave time is provided as a protection to allow for a possible loss of time due to personal illness or unexpected emergencies at home.

Between regular sessions during a school year, subsistence checks continue for each veteran, but during summer interruptions when the veteran is not in school, he does not receive subsistence. However, any amount of the two and one-half days per month not used by the veteran may accumulate for use at the end of the semester.

Veterans may accumulate leave time, not to exceed 30 days per year, and may add this amount of accumulated time to the days of entitlement thereby receiving a proportionate amount of tuition, books and supplies as well as subsistence.

Education Meet Ends

Intensive work on school problems begun July 8 in six laboratories of the college of education will end Friday.

School administrative and supervisory officers have done laboratory work in elementary education, community libraries, physical education, school building planning, secondary education, and speech and dramatic art.

13,000 Drivers Get Renewal of Licenses

Over 13,000 drivers licenses were renewed in Johnson county before the deadline yesterday, according to Sheriff Preston Koser.

The license renewals commenced June 5, and continued through July 15. Originally scheduled to end July 5, the deadline was extended because of the large number of persons still seeking to renew their licenses.

Anyone whose license has not been renewed will be required to take an examination from the state highway patrolman before a new one can be issued. The patrolman is available in the basement of the courthouse on Wednesdays from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.
