CIO Sponsors National Meat Buying Strike

Reuther Organizes United Auto Workers To Fight Price Rises

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The CIO United Auto workers, sponsoring a national "people's rally" against the upswing in living costs, called last night for a week-long meat buying "strike" by the American public.

Before a cheering, shirt-sleeved Detroit crowd, President Walter P. Reuther of the big union urged a meat buying strike as a means to "terrorize profiteers" and restore "reasonable prices." The proposed strike would start today.

The auto union, marshaling its forces in a protest against the expiration of OPA, also had organized demonstrations in other cities in which it invited the participation of all organized labor and civic and veterans groups.

Reuther's proposal for the meat strike was made first at Flint, Mich., where he addressed another rally before flying to Detroit.

Leaders of the UAW-CIO had called on workers to leave their jobs if necessary to attend rallies. In Detroit production was upset in at least one major auto company—Chrysler—when an estimated 20,000 to 30,000 men left their jobs.

Declaring "reactionary elements" were "hell-bent for the good old days," Reuther said the auto union would make meat prices only its first target. Next, he said, the union will concentrate on rents and other items to "drive them into line."

With his appeal for a meat buyers' strike Reuther linked a plea to farmers to ship no livestock to market during the seven days.

Truman May Sign OPA Bill With Few Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reports circulated on Capitol Hill late yesterday that President Truman has advised he will sign the new senate-approved OPA bill if congress will remove its ban on price controls for meat, eggs, butter, milk and other living cost items.

This word went around, although not immediately confirmed by Democratic leaders, shortly after the house, by a 211 to 84 vote, declined to accept the senate's bill and directed that a senate-house committee write a compromise measure.

The house vote came after Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) told his colleagues the people "will remember next November" what congress does with OPA. He voiced confidence the conference committee will write a one-year OPA restoration bill that the house, senate and the president will approve.

A key Republican, Representative Wolcott (Mich.) of the banking committee, joined administration leaders in urging that the senate version be rewritten in a committee representing the two chambers.

Fireworks at Bikini

A HUGE SMOKE column rises shortly after the atom bomb explosion at Bikini July 1, with the islands of Bikini showing clearly, curving from side to side in center background. The Joint Task Force One caption with this picture said it was made by a service photographer from an airplane flying as near the scene of the blast as safety permitted, and that a retoucher had obliterated all traces of target ships showing in original photo.

Senate Committee Investigates Questionable 'Gift Liquor' Found in Washington Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—A description of packages addressed to generals and cases of gift liquor in the Washington office of a munitions combine, and of a contact man who habitually carried a roll of $1,000 bills, was given yesterday to the senate war investigating committee.

The picture, with some details lacking, came from husky, mellow voiced Louis Sarelas, who was manager of the companies' Washington office.

In connection with the monied contact man, Joseph Freeman, Sarelas related an incident that occurred when Chairman May (D., Ky.) of the house military committee once telephoned to inquire about Freeman's whereabouts.

"In a facetious moment," Sarelas said, "I replied that he was in New York making money for us. I realized I had overstepped the bounds of propriety. I was stunned at my own term. Congressman May chastised me in no uncertain terms."

Committee members pressed the blushing witness for an explanation as to why he was so disturbed over the remark, and the degree to which May had "chastised" him. The implication of the incident, however, was not made clear.

Sarelas, saying he was "completely covered with embarrassment" and "red all over" because of his reply to May, testified that the congressman retorted at the time: "That isn't what I asked you."

Sarelas, under questioning about the affairs of the office, disclosed that Freeman made a practice of carrying his money around with him in $1,000 bills because he had no bank account.

Sarelas said he had seen cases of liquor in the Washington office, but testified that he did not know for whom they were intended.

nee, hammered at 'Gerald L. K. Smith-endorsed congressmen,' asserting "Iowans will not tolerate" such a congressional delegation. Smith recently said his America First organization was supporting Republican Representatives Jensen, Gwynne, Martin and Talle.

"The Republican party leadership has made its choice," Allen cried. "The lines have been drawn."

Criticizes State Government
Frank Miles, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, castigated the "foggily operated" state government of Gov. Robert D. Blue, Miles opponent, but promised "I shall not throw mud at my opponent." He outlined a vigorous campaign.

In short, simple phrases the resolutions adopted outlined the Democratic program which they hope will land them back in the statehouse for the first time since 1938 and break up Iowa's solidly Republican eight-man congressional delegation.

What kind of a state bonus for veterans should be passed, and when, the convention left to a committee of veterans and civic leaders to be named by Miles. On school aid the platform advocated the state pay up to 25 per-

Byrnes, Treaty Experts To Represent U.S. At Peace Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States delegation to the Paris peace conference beginning July 29 seemed certain last night to consist of Secretary of State Byrnes and a group of experts on the projected peace treaties with Italy, Finland and the Balkan countries.

Plans being formulated at the state department, it was learned, do not contemplate making up a delegation of "big names" such as is sometimes sent to such international gatherings.

Senators Connally (D., Tex.) and Vandenberg (R., Mich.), who attended the foreign ministers' sessions with Byrnes, are not expected to go to the peace conference.

Wheeler Trails In Montana

Fifth Term Hopes Fade as Erickson's Lead Nears 2,500

By HAROLD D. OLIVER
Associated Press Political Reporter

Democratic Senator Burton K. Wheeler trailed Lief Erickson, his opponent in a bitter Montana primary election contest, by nearly 2,500 votes last night on early returns.

The first 133 of the state's 1,156 precincts to report gave Erickson 11,891 votes, Wheeler 9,395.

Wheeler, seeking his fifth term, had support from President Truman who, late in the campaign, wrote a letter upholding the Montana senator's labor record. Erickson, 40-year-old former state supreme court justice, attacked Wheeler's 24-year record as "isolationist."

Arkansas, Wyoming and Arizona also had primary elections yesterday but the few contests were lukewarm. Georgia votes today.

A total vote of about 125,000 was forecast for Montana, which is moderately heavy for a primary in that state. Wheeler's manager, Bailey Stortz, predicted a winning margin of 15,000 for his candidate. Erickson said he would defeat the 64 year-old senator by 20,000.

Wheeler received support from President Truman and such labor leaders as John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine workers (AFL). Erickson was backed by James Roosevelt, who attacked Wheeler's voting record preceding and during the war. Certain railroad brotherhoods, CIO unions, and Senator Murray, Wheeler's Democratic colleague, also supported Erickson.

UN Group to Draft Plan for Atom Control Despite Soviet Stand

NEW YORK (AP)—A newly-created atomic committee will hold its first meeting today to begin drafting an atomic control plan, despite Russian insistence that no control system be set up until the atom bomb has been outlawed.

This committee was created last Friday by the working committee of the United Nations atomic energy commission after a month of discussions in which the 12 member nations outlined their general views on the atomic question.

Designated as committee No. 2, the group was charged with making specific recommendations on questions dealing with atomic control, including possible conventions, sanctions and enforcement.

Today's meeting marks the opening of a new phase of the atomic commission's work—the actual drafting of definite proposals. Two other committees, the legal and the scientific and technical, will start work later in the week.

Although discussions during the last month have disclosed that a majority of the atomic experts were agreed that any atomic control plan should follow the general line laid down by the United States, there were no indications that Russia would alter her stand.

It was pointed out, if any control plan is adopted over Russian opposition, the Russians have the power either to veto it in the security council or to refuse to ratify the treaty making the plan effective.

Vandenberg Calls for Dependable—

Russian-U.S. Friendship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) called on Russia yesterday to understand the "simple truth" that there can be no lasting world peace unless the Russians and Americans develop a dependable friendship instead of the distrust and suspicion he said now exist.

The Michigan senator painted for his colleagues a dark picture of conflicting viewpoints at the Paris meeting of United States, British, Soviet and French foreign ministers, which he attended as adviser.

But he brightened the canvas with the prediction that "patience, fair play, tenacity and firmness"—qualities which he said had been displayed by Secretary of State Byrnes—would make it possible "for eastern communism and western democracy to find friendly, common ground."

Vandenberg, who heads the Republican senatorial conference, outlined in a lengthy speech delivered three factors on which he said peace hinges. They are:

"1. The dependable and effective operation of the United Nations in behalf of justice courageously sustained by collective security.

"2. The successful outlawry of atomic bombs and kindred instruments of sudden, overwhelming destruction, under a tight system of total discipline which makes bad faith impossible.

"3. The development of dependable and warranted friendship between big and little nations and particularly between the great Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the great United States of America."

To accomplish these aims, the Michigan senator said the Russians ought to understand that the United States respects the rights of the Soviets to "rule themselves to suit themselves, precisely as we insist on this right for ourselves and others."

Moscow should understand, he continued, that the United States has enlisted "for keeps" in the effort to make sure that military aggression "shall never curse the earth again."

Further, he said, the Russians must come to know that Americans are prepared for "enlightened, progressive cooperation" with other nations but that they "cannot be driven, coerced or pressured" into decisions and "will not bargain in human rights and fundamental liberties anywhere on earth."

Connally to Review Conference

Vandenberg, whose report to the senate will be supplemented Friday by a similar review by Chairman Connally (D., Tex.) of the foreign relations committee, said at Paris there was "appalling disagreement" among the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France over the future of Germany.

He said that on the one hand France declares it "unthinkable" to contemplate a central government for the new Germany for many years to come and then only on a basis of confederation rather than federalization.

"On the other hand," he said, "Mr. Molotov discourages all talk of decentralization in the final German government lest it destroy German development."

Criticizes Potsdam Agreement

He criticized the Potsdam agreement for splitting Germany into four military zones which had proved to be "air-tight compartments preventing the exchange of goods or communications or even ideas."

Vandenberg said the Soviets constructed with "microscopic literalism" a requirement of the 1945 Moscow agreement that the Big Four must reach accord on the fundamentals of peace treaties to be considered by the 21 Allied nations beginning July 29.

"In support of their contention," he said, "it is fair to say they were building upon the accepted theory that big power unity is indispensable to world peace in the San Francisco pattern."

"In opposition to their contention, however, it is equally fair to say that their intention would carry this so-called unity to the point of monopoly and dictatorship in the big powers . . ."

It was this rock that nearly split the Paris conference, the Michigan senator said. But he said the settlement of the disputes over details—a settlement which led to the calling of the peace conference—demonstrated that "given patience, fair play, tenacity and firmness in the American attitudes, it is possible for eastern communism and western democracy to find friendly common ground."

Committee to Report On Pearl Harbor

Indicate Commanders, Officials to Be Blamed For Japanese Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—A majority of the Pearl Harbor committee was reported yesterday to have decided that commanders on the spot and military officials in Washington were to blame for failure to anticipate the Japanese attack.

The commanders, Maj. Gen. Walter Short and Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, did not receive from Washington specific information they should have been given, the committee was reported to have found.

Eight of the ten senators and representatives conducting the inquiry were said to have signed the report finding that President Roosevelt and Cordell Hull were free of any direct responsibility for the Japanese blast at the Hawaiian base.

In the 112,000-word document to be made public this week, the committee was said to have expressed belief that the late president and the former secretary of state had taken reasonable steps to inform the Pearl Harbor commanders to war danger in the Pacific.

While official secrecy covered the committee's report, members who asked not to be named discussed it with newsmen. It was understood to include 25 recommendations for changes in army and navy procedure as a result of the evidence turned up by the group.

The two Republican senators, Brewster of Maine and Ferguson of Michigan, did not sign with the other three senators and five house members. Ferguson already has written a minority report.

In this document, Ferguson is expected to go into diplomatic negotiations preceding war and to emphasize a contention that this country had a Pacific defense arrangement with Britain, Holland and Canada long before Pearl Harbor.

Senate OK's UNRRA Bill; Bans Censorship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate yesterday passed a $2,700,000,000 money bill containing a modified ban against censorship of American news reports of UNRRA activities in foreign countries.

It carries $465,000,000 for UNRRA but provides that no funds may be used in countries which refuse to admit a "reasonable number" of American correspondents and permit their UNRRA dispatches to go through without deletions.

The measure now returns to the house, which passed the appropriation bill with a stronger free-press amendment. The house provided in effect that none of the funds could be used in countries where censorship prevails.

Report Degan Suspect Talked Under Influence of Truth Drug

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Sun said last night it had learned that William Heirens "talked" while under the influence of sodium pentothal, sometimes referred to as a "truth serum," and "admitted the Suzanne Degan kidnap-killing."

Earlier, State's Attorney William J. Tuohy said that George Subgrunski, 24, a former soldier, had identified Heirens as the youth he saw carrying a paper bag one block from the Degan home at about the time the six-year-old girl was kidnapped the night of Jan. 6.

Tuohy said also he would seek murder indictments against Heirens in the brutal Degan killing and dismemberment and in the "lipstick" killing of Frances Brown, 33-year-old ex-WAVE who was shot and stabbed to death Dec. 10, 1945, less than a month before the Degan crime.

The Sun said that while under the influence of sodium pentothal "Heirens admitted the Suzanne Degan kidnap-murder when he was given the drug at the Bridewell hospital June 29, blaming 'George Murman,' his other self, for the crime."

The Sun added this was "the first time that the drug was used in a major criminal case."

Questioned by reporters July 1, after three psychiatrists had examined the 17-year-old University of Chicago youth at the Bridewell on June 29, Tuohy said:

"I don't know anything about what those psychiatrists did. I will neither confirm nor deny use of the drug because I do not know."

John P. Coghlan, one of Heirens' attorneys, termed use of the drug "illegal and a violation of the boy's constitutional rights."

He said that his client told him that when the psychiatrists saw him at the Bridewell "I was put to sleep."

Coghlan said Heirens told him he remembered nothing that took place after he was "put to sleep," but that when he "woke up" he found a bandaged patch at the base of his spine. Coghlan said he, himself, saw this patch and described it as about two inches by nine inches in area.

Coghlan reiterated that Heirens had made no statement to him admitting any connection with any of the slayings. Heirens has not been charged by police with any of the killings.

The Sun story said "that Heirens talked freely after he was given the sodium pentothal."

"He shocked the attending physicians and Tuohy by disclosing for the first time the 'existence' of George Murman. It was Murman—his other self—upon whom (See HEIRENS, Page 5)

Housing?— It Takes Planning!

It just takes a little planning to beat the housing priorities list these days, one young veteran and his wife proved recently.

Last spring the veteran walked into the housing office in Old Capitol to find out the housing prospects for next fall. The young man wanted a large trailer.

"Are you a veteran?" he was asked. He replied that he was. "Are you married?" they inquired further. He was.

"Have you children?" the questions pursued him. "No," he said, "but" and then he was told that the highest priority was given to married veterans with two or more children.

"We're going to have twins, though," he predicted confidently. This didn't cut any ice with the housing office; so he was listed as a married veteran with no children. Recently the morning mail gave him this information.

"We now have twins—how about that priority," the same young man wrote. He is now well up on the priority list.

Truman Signs Draft Extension to Include Men 19 Through 29

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday authorized extension of the draft to include men 19 through 29 and selective service quickly tightened up on deferments.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, instructed local boards that occupational deferments must be allowed only "to those few registrants" whom they find to be "indispensable and irreplaceable to the national existence."

Farmers and farm workers will continue to get special consideration, however, and fathers are exempt.

The army's two-month draft holiday will end in September and Hershey said it had asked for 25,000 men that month. The June call was for 50,000.

Postponement of induction will be provided only for registrants still in high school. Undergraduate college students no longer will be permitted to finish out a quarter or semester when they are called.

Men in the 26-29 age group previously found unfit for general military service will have their cases reviewed.

Local boards also were directed to consider men discharged from the armed forces who were not on active duty overseas or whose service was less than six months.

Meanwhile, the war department suspended the enlistment of Negroes in the regular army except in specialist classes, explaining there had been an "overwhelming response" to the recruiting campaign.

STATE'S ATTORNEY William J. Tuohy yesterday said George Subgrunski, here pointing to a picture of William Heirens, said he saw Heirens carrying a paper bag near the Suzanne Degan home at about the time the child was kidnapped and slain. Tuohy said identification was made after Heirens appeared in criminal court yesterday and Subgrunski saw him there. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Iowa Democratic Platform—

Asks Bonus, Sales Tax Repeal

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa Democrats laid down a campaign platform yesterday including a bonus for World War II veterans, repeal of the state 2 percent sales tax on food, clothing and medicine, and bigger and better state aid for public schools.

Only on the liquor issue did the Democratic state convention straddle the fence as by voice vote the delegates without opposition approved a 14-plank platform drawn up by its resolutions committee.

The action followed talks by party leaders who lambasted their Republican opponents and emphasized and reiterated their determination to win the November election in traditionally-Republican Iowa.

Jake More, Harlan, was re-elected chairman of the state central committee at a meeting immediately after the close of the convention. WILLIAM R. HART, IOWA CITY, first district committeeman, was named treasurer to succeed Max H. Jenk, Dyersville, who was defeated for committeeman. Other committee officers were re-elected.

Keynoting the session, Sewell E. Allen, lieutenant governor nom-

World Government Now

By ALEXANDER G. PARK (Continued from Tuesday)

So far I have dealt in trends and concepts which are peculiar to the age in which we live. To do this is not enough. We must delve deeper and find means by which to solve our problems.

This will necessitate a search into the past and the rediscovery, not only of those principles which have made our own nation so powerful, but those which operate to make the Soviet Union such an important factor in world affairs.

The best which each system offers as well as additions from many other sources must be incorporated into a charter by which the peoples of the world may progress toward greater civilization.

The proposed constitution which follows is the incorporation of many of the principles which we cherish as well as some of the principles which have strengthened Russia.

Its structure is of the semi-rigid type and it is based largely upon the American constitution, with the exception that a fourth branch of government, the examinary branch, is added.

Originally, the examinary function is an outgrowth of the famous Chinese civil service system. I incorporate it in the hope that it will encourage the highest type of citizen to seek public office and to weed out such individuals which might prove incompetent.

Any plan, of itself, is useless unless there is a method of bringing it to the attention of authorities who are competent to measure its reliability and, if it is worthy, to adopt it.

These lads are hot, by the way. Given proper support from the N. A. M. bleachers and the American First Knot-hole club and they can beat anything the people's opposition throws against them.

by the very selfish standards of our own well-being. To bring the problem of immediate federal world government before the many nations and peoples belongs rightly to the congress of the United States.

WHEREAS, the safety and welfare of the people of the United States and of the world are constantly jeopardized by the conflicting national interests and aspirations of the nations of the world;

WHEREAS, the congress of the United States deems it necessary to the continued peace of the world, to the granting of increased prosperity to the peoples of the world, and to the promotion of justice in the far corners of the globe;

WHEREAS, it is necessary to achieve, for the peoples of the earth, a world government, based upon law and acting upon individuals, in place of many governments, relying on force and acting against whole peoples in the pursuance of their aims;

RESOLVED, that the president of the United States, acting in the name of the congress and the people of the United States, shall direct the representatives of the United States to the United Nations to propose to the assembly of the United Nations that a constitutional convention be called for the purpose of establishing a Union of the Nations, based upon the principle of federalism and designed to assure the peoples of the world a greater measure of freedom, equality, peace and security.

Should the assembly of the United Nations reject this proposal, RESOLVED, that the President of the United States call a constitutional convention of all nations which desire to participate in such a Union of the Nations for the purpose of establishing its basic law.

In this resolution there may be flaws. However, I trust to the judgment of the better qualified to propose a more adequate one. Before presenting the proposed constitution, it would be wise to provide an outline of the stages which will be needed in the transition from national to world government.

These I divide into three: the preliminary stage, the transition stage and the final complete emergence of world government.

Briefly, the preliminary stage would encompass the period between the adoption of a world constitution and the ratification of it by ten or more nations. It would require a provisional government which would function as a clearing house for the various questions that might arise as well as an arbitration board for disputes between nations.

which separate us one from another. In accordance with these objectives, we do hereby unite in the Union of the Nations and do bind ourselves to adhere to this Constitution and to the laws of the Union of the Nations.

Article 1: Upon ratification and acceptance of this Constitution by the governments of ten States, the Constitution shall be promulgated. Those States which have ratified and accepted the Constitution at this time, and all States, which later ratify and accept this Constitution, shall be bound fully by its provisions from the date of promulgation or ratification, whichever shall be later.

Article 2: States which do not ratify and accept this Constitution within twenty years of the date of promulgation, or which have not been represented in the convention at which this Constitution was adopted, shall have the right to petition for membership into the Union of the Nations.

Section 1: Upon admittance to the Union of Nations, each State shall cede to the Union of the Nations title to all non-self-governing possessions and territories, except those which form an integral or contiguous part of said State.

A Plea for a Better Tomorrow

Yesterday it was war. The day before it was depression. Today it's inflation. What about tomorrow? These tools of destruction, fear and hardship, aren't pre-ordained. They aren't the result of inevitable "natural laws."

Nobody in his right mind wants war. Yet twice within two decades, we found ourselves embroiled in just such a futile mess. What did we do about it? Not much the first time.

We here in America craved back into the protective curve of the dollar sign back there in 1919 and 1920 while several other nations made a feeble attempt to create a structure that might end wars.

This time we're playing it smarter. As is fitting of the most powerful nation in the world, we've now taken the lead in erecting an organization through which international frictions may be funneled toward a peaceful settlement.

And what about war's offspring—inflation? Serious and conscientious men in Great Britain and Canada are keeping this bogey-man under the leash. We had it corralled here in this country for a time. It wasn't an easy task.

But there's an unhealthy complexion to this prosperity. Already there are warning murmurs. What goes up must come down. After every boom there's a bust. But must there be?

Isn't there something we can do about it? Must we go on paying for a year of good times with a year of bad times as we've done in the past? Must we—the people who, under the pressure of war, turned out 100,000 planes in one year, 20 million tons of shipping bottoms and pushed our industrial index up to the theretofore unbelievable figure of 138, at the same time raising the average American families' living standard—must we slither back to the unhappy days when 15 million of us were unable to find a job, when 30,000 of our business firms went to the wall and when 75 percent of our corporations were in the red.

Fortunately, our economic system is still sufficiently flexible that we can make it do our bidding. Our production miracles during the war showed us that. In addition we have the raw materials from which abundance is derived.

Why then as late as 1940 were three of every four persons eating improper diets? Why was one of every three not eating enough? Why was one person of every four living in slums? Why was it that there were no hospitals for those living in 1,200 of our 3,100 counties? Why did two of every five young Americans fail to pass army and navy physicals? Why is it that fewer than half of our children never finished high school and only one in 14 finished college.

Will things be different tomorrow? Not unless we put first things first. We must never again allow our productive machine to feed unhealthily upon itself as it did in the '20's. We must not allow profits to be diverted back to increased productive facilities while wages—the measure of consuming power—lag far behind. A balance must be struck.

As we must end wars and as we should have prevented inflation, we must end depressions. If things aren't improved by tomorrow, there may be drastic changes the day after tomorrow.

'Oh, Ain't He and Bilbo a Pair!

Dan Williams, scribe for The Washington Post, recently let his readers in on a little inside information on one W. Lee O'Daniel, junior senator from Texas.

"Senator 'Pappy' O'Daniel," William comments, "who when Governor of Texas, preached sermons of hate before the church hour every Sunday over a statewide hookup, to the accompaniment of a hillbilly band and a sultry contralto, is the theme of a new ballad. A cowboy wrote the music, a Texas statesman the words."

Then The Washington Post writer quoted from the ballad which has "nearly as many verses as the 'Ballad of Sam Bass'." "Oh, way down in Texas, Where the bluebonnets grow, They have a great senator, For he has told us so. He starts off with singing 'And winds up with a prayer— He's 'Pappy' O'Daniel, The King of Hot Air!'"

Chorus: "Oh, slap-happy Pappy, He makes it seem happy, For he is the King of Hot Air. Oh, slap-happy Pappy Makes Texas look sappy; Oh, ain't he and old Bilbo a pair!"

Of Cabbages and Kings

By LAWRENCE DENNIS

Chad Brooks, the sports scribe, back there behind the plate, tells me that it's quite in order for a columnist to select an all-star team during the closing weeks of any particular season.

The present congress, which American Federation of Labor President William Green this week claimed is the worst he has ever seen or known, will close shop and go home within the near future.

Why? Because except during four years of war we've lacked the courage and intelligence to make our economic device really work for us at top efficiency.

Will things be different tomorrow? Not unless we put first things first. We must never again allow our productive machine to feed unhealthily upon itself as it did in the '20's.

James D. White's Interpreting The News...

The news of the day reminds Americans of what happened to their small Japanese-American minority after Pearl Harbor.

Some 70,000 American citizens were "relocated" in special camps. Some 4,000 of their alien parents went along. Some 26,000 Nisei sons went to war.

Monday President Truman waded through mud and rain to deflecters from attacks of color blindness every so often.

If, perchance, the ball-club needed an occasional time out, I've got a dandy bunch of second stringers that could fill in as replacements. They weren't hard to locate, incidentally. Just run your finger down the "no" column on your British loan scorecard (Iowa division) and you'll spot them easily: Wilson, Martin, Talle, Jensen, LeCompte, Gwynne, Cunningham, Doliver and Hoeven.

SUI to Establish New School of Physical Therapy

Dr. W.D. Paul Named Head

Dean MacEwen Tells Delegates to Meeting Of University's Plans

Classes in a new school of physical therapy will open for graduate students next September, Dean Ewen D. MacEwen of the college of medicine told Iowa chapter representatives of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis yesterday.

Meeting here yesterday, 110 chapter representatives heard faculty members, state officials, and officers of the foundation discuss treatment of poliomyelitis and its victims.

Dr. W. D. Paul, professor of theory and practice in medicine, will head the new school as medical director. Mrs. Olive Farr, physical therapist, will be technical director of the school, which will be a part of the college of medicine. Other faculty members will teach courses related to the science of physical therapy.

Essentially still in the creative stage, the school has no students enrolled this summer. Students with degrees of B.A. or B.S. with credit in biology, chemistry, and related fields may register as graduate students in the school next fall.

Work will include hot-pack methods of treating muscle spasm in infantile paralysis and will provide technicians trained in treating polio and other similar diseases.

Four hot-pack machines were presented to the hospital by Iowa chapters of the foundation. Henry Achter of the Linn county chapter made the presentation to Harold Smith, assistant hospital administrator. A similar machine was presented by the Iowa City American Legion auxiliary.

Dr. Paul used the machines later in a demonstration, assisted by Mrs. Farr and two other physical therapists. Patients in various stages of treatment were brought into the auditorium during the demonstration.

Speaking on diagnosis and treatment of infantile paralysis, Dr. Paul declared that virus causing the disease is probably spread all over the United States in July. Most people escape through immunity or resistance, but others develop the disease.

Symptoms are much like those of the common cold, Dr. Paul said. Headache, fever, nausea, painful back and pains in the neck are common symptoms. Temperature of the victim usually drops after a few days, when paralysis is noticed. The critical time in poliomyelitis occurs during a secondary period temperature rise, Dr. Paul explained, the paralysis spreads to its fullest extent and muscle spasm occurs during this period.

Hot Packs Not Answer "Hot packing is not the answer in the treatment of infantile paralysis," he said. "It is just the beginning. We feel it is not the heat itself but a reflex from skin and muscles which benefits the patient."

Presiding as chairman during the meeting was Jack W. Allen, regional director of the national foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He was assisted by John V. McCarthy, state representative of the foundation.

Dean MacEwen, director of state services for crippled children, traced the development of the services from their beginnings in 1915 and told how funds are obtained for the care of crippled and indigent children.

D.R. Davidson Buys Local Grocery Store

D. R. Davidson, former Des Moines merchandiser for General Mills, has bought the stock and fixtures of the Hummer Grocery company and plans to remodel and expand the 803 S. Clinton store for both wholesale and retail sales.

Davidson and his family plan to occupy their new home at 1322 Muscatine avenue in the near future.

H. J. Achter (left) chairman of the Linn county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, presented the University hospital with four hot pack machines to be used in the treatment of polio patients. The presentation was made yesterday morning on behalf of the Iowa Chapters of the foundation, and was accepted by Harold Smith, acting administrator of the University hospital. Achter is shown here handing Smith a check which the Linn county chapter contributed to pay for the services of a physical therapist during the polio epidemic season.

Iowa Mountaineers Announce Complete Schedule for Outing

Complete plans were announced last night for the seventh annual summer outing of the Iowa Mountaineers. The group will visit the Selkirk range, Glacier national park, British Columbia, and Canada. At least 44 members will make the trip, the longest in the club's history.

Traveling by truck and auto, the hikers will leave Iowa City Aug. 9 and arrive at the basecamp at the foot of Mt. Abbot Aug. 14. Aug. 25 camp will be broken, and after visiting the Columbia ice fields, Jasper, Kobo and Banff national parks, Lake O'Hara, Louise and Calgary, the campers will return to Iowa City Sept. 1.

Each person will be allowed to carry 50 pounds of baggage. All meals at the basecamp will be furnished by the club, but on trips to and from the camp, members will buy their own food. The fee for the entire trip is $85 plus any personal expenses members may have. This includes transportation, photographs and a log book of the trip for each participant. Work will be divided evenly among the members of the tour.

Each camper is to provide a sleeping bag and an adequate wardrobe suitable for hiking, climbing and inclement weather. Two professional guides will supervise all mountain climbing.

Members of other climbing groups from this country and Canada will join the group at the basecamp. John Ebert is chairman of the summer outing committee; Martha Ann Isaacs, chief cook; Mrs. John Ebert, registered nurse, and Eugene Burmeister, chairman of the outdoors activity committee.

The group will stage a warm-up hike Aug. 2 at which all equipment to be used on the journey will be tested. The Mountaineers are having an evening horseback ride Friday.

Dean McGrath Attends Meet

President's Commission On Higher Education To Confer July 29-30

Dean Earl J. McGrath of the college of liberal arts will attend the first meeting of the 30 member national commission on higher education July 29 and 30, it was announced yesterday.

The commission, appointed Saturday by President Truman, will begin study of ways and means of expanding the nation's system of higher education to meet the demands that lie ahead as hundreds of thousands of veterans return to college.

Two former deans of University of Iowa colleges will attend the two-day meeting of the presidential commission at Washington. They are President Harry K. Newburn of the University of Oregon, formerly dean of the college of liberal arts here and President George Stoddard of the University of Illinois, formerly dean of the university graduate college.

Dean McGrath will leave Saturday for Baltimore, Md., where he will attend a meeting of the American Council of Pharmaceutical Education at the University of Maryland. He is the only layman on the council, which includes three representatives of schools of pharmacy, two practicing pharmacists and three representatives of state boards of examiners. The council considers all problems connected with the education of pharmacists and accredits all schools of pharmacy in the nation.

Other members of the presidential commission include: General Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff; Sarah Blanding, president of Vassar college; Oliver C. Carmichael, president of the Carnegie foundation; Chancellor Arthur Compton, Washington university, St. Louis; President Harold Willis Dods of Princeton university, Alvin C. Kurich, vice-president of Stanford university, and Douglas Freeman, editor and widely known author of works on the life of Robert E. Lee.

The Red Cross has been active in Equador for over 24 years, Dr. Wandenberg said. The chapter has very little money but there are many excellent workers who are always prepared to aid in disaster or other public purposes.

The work of the Red Cross in Equador, as in all Latin American countries includes first aid, nurses' aide, Junior Red Cross, child welfare and, now, blood bank service.

The junior branches in South America are very active and the young people usually begin their work in the organization during the last three years of the primary grades.

The young people stress international friendship by exchanging letters, stamps and other items with children of foreign lands. They sponsor programs and drives to aid children of other countries. In Equador the Junior Red Cross has its own relief drive.

Gertrude Judy gave a report on the Red Cross national convention held in June at Philadelphia.

James R. Williams, F 1/e, 412 Melrose avenue, was discharged from the navy July 13, at Great Lakes, Ill.

Political Efforts Now Cannot Curb Inflation, Prof. Davies Says

In a statement yesterday, Prof. George R. Davies of the university bureau of business research, said that political efforts to curb inflation apparently can have very little effect in the future.

Professor Davies indicated that government price control becomes ineffective, if not entirely inoperative, during peacetime and organized business naturally resents political interference.

"Many business and agricultural interests apparently are expecting further inflation, as evidenced by goods withheld from the market in anticipation of price advances. If strikes recur with rising prices, inflation may go far before depression finally checks it," he said.

Inflation may be checked to some extent by increased production, according to Professor Davies, but past experience teaches that increasing production goes with rising prices in periods of a few years, while, over the space of decades, there is no decisive relation.

Professor Davies added, "Generally speaking, the control of the price level is a responsibility, or at least a consequence, of organized business. If organized business should lose confidence, a contraction of credit might precipitate a depression."

Beneficiaries of the fund are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, recreational center, city room at the City hall, and the P. T. A. milk fund.

Benton street diamond was the scene of a wild softball game last night as the league leading Vets' team, post No. 2581, came from behind to defeat the Tiffin Merchants, 15-6.

The Merchants piled up five runs off Black, starting Vet pitcher, before big Joe McGinnis took over the mound chores for the Vets. The Vets racked up four runs in the third inning, nine in the fourth and two in the fifth for their total of 15.

Shera drew first blood for the Merchants with a long home run over the left fielder's head in the first frame. In the second inning, E. Madden walked and advanced to third on a single by Doskocil. Madden scored on a passed ball.

Doskocil scored following an overthrow at second by the Vet catcher. Bowman got on after being hit by the pitcher and Allen followed with a walk. Brown singled, scoring Bowman and Allen. J. Madden and Randshaw walked filling the bases.

Reeve knocked a slow roller which went between the legs of Kerlin, Vet first baseman. Only Brown scored officially as J. Madden missed third base and was called out retiring the side.

In the Vet half of the third, Kerlin got on by way of an error and McGinnis drew a walk. The Vets filled the bases when Lepic got on by an error. Kerlin scored and McGinnis advanced as Cole drove out a long fly to center. Cole slashed out a single between short and third and finally scored after Stahle's long fly to the outfield.

The Vets' nine run spurge in the fourth came when the Vets combined singles by Kerlin, and McGinnis and a home run by Miller with five walks from Bowman. Lepic singled for the Vets in the fifth and Queck drew a walk. Both advanced a base on an infield roller by Cole and scored on two errors by the Merchants.

Doskocil singled for the Merchants with two away in the fifth, but Bowman popped up retiring the side. The game was then called because of darkness.

Last night's win gives the Vets a clean slate with six wins and leaves them in first place in the league standings.

Tonight the second place Kelly Oilers tangle with third place Bremers.

Voiselle Tops Cubs' Schmitz

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Bill Voiselle, the Giants' in-and-out right-hander, had one of his good days yesterday as he set the Chicago Cubs down with six hits to lead the New Yorkers to a 1-0 victory.

Voiselle had to turn in one of his better jobs for Johnny Schmitz, husky Chicago southpaw, matched him goose-egg for goose-egg for eight frames in spinning a five hitter.

The Cub chucker had the edge in the mound duel over the first eight innings as he gave up only three safeties, fanned seven, and didn't allow a Giant to get to third base.

Smith's Five Hitter Tops Athletics, 6-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Edgar Smith, Chicago White Sox southpaw, held the Philadelphia Athletics to five hits and Chicago won the final game of the series yesterday, 6-2.

It was Smith's fifth victory. Taft Wright hit his fifth home run of the year in the sixth.

The Sox put over their winning rally in the fourth when they scored four runs to break a 1-1 tie. Wright opened the session with his home run over the right field fence and after Hal Trosky flied out Don Kolloway, Leo Wells and Mike Tresh hit safely to score Kolloway. Smith beat out an infield hit to load the bases and Wells scored as Tucker forced Smith. Applying then hit safely to score Tresh with the fourth run.

Birds Capture Four Straight From Dodgers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Pinch batter Erv Dusak hit a three-run ninth inning home run last night to give the second place St. Louis Cardinals a 6-4 victory and a clean sweep of their four-game series with the Brooklyn Dodgers whose leading margin was cut to a half game.

Joe Hatten who had pitched out of holes before, twice quieting Stan Musial's big bat with men in scoring position, started the ninth by hitting Marty Marion with a pitched ball. Clyde Klutz ramed a single to left and was relieved by Joffre Cross as a runner as Dusak came in to bat for pitcher Howard Pollet. The substitute outfielder took a called strike and then hit into the left field stands.

It was the only extra base hit of the game for the Cards, five of whose nine safeties were of the infield variety.

Dixie Walker put the Dodgers out in front in the fifth when Pete Reiser walked, stole his 21st base of the season and came home on Dixie's double. Walker scored a moment later on Furillo's single.

It was Dixie again in the eighth as he singled, advanced on a sacrifice, stole third and came home on Bob Ramazotti's one-baser.

A crowd of 26,591 saw the game.

Braves Blast Bucs Behind Mori Cooper

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Boston scored four runs in rapid order yesterday in a weird first inning and went on to shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-0 before a sparse crowd of 2,387.

The Braves combined three walks, one intentional pass, a double steal and four singles—one of them a pinch hit—to start a scoring spree at the expense of hapless pitcher Ed Albosta, who was replaced in the middle of the first by Al Gerheuser.

Mori Cooper pitched the entire game for Boston, giving up only seven scattered hits.

Buc Diamond Guild Is Still Pitching

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Examiner Conrad H. Checco ruled yesterday that Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board has jurisdiction in the American baseball guild's petition for a collective bargaining election among the Pittsburgh Pirates.

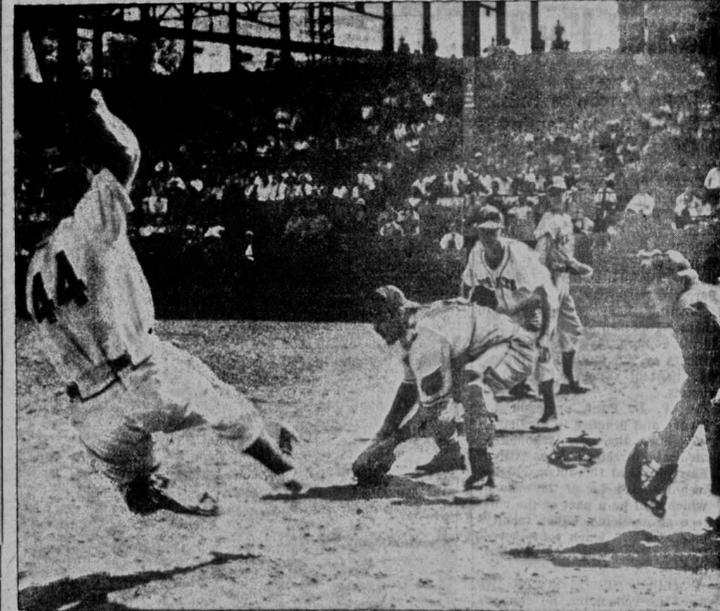

The action of the state examiner was the reverse of the stand taken several weeks ago by the National Labor Relations Board, which said it lacked jurisdiction. Checco made the ruling in denying a motion by Seward French, counsel for the Pittsburgh baseball club, to dismiss the guild's petition. French contended baseball was not commerce and was not covered by the state's "Little Wagner Act."

"This means the board has accepted jurisdiction," Checco commented. "We're going to hear this case on its merits." He explained his decision was subject to affirmation by the three-man State Labor Relations Board.

Checco adjourned the three-hour hearing after granting the Pittsburgh baseball club 10 days in which to file a brief on its contention baseball was not commerce.

Guild organizer Robert Murphy's objection to the 10-day extension was overruled by the examiner. Murphy contended any delay favored the club owners because the baseball season ends in September and the players then would scatter to their homes.

Rowe Pitches Phils To Win Over Reds; Adds Ninth Victory

CINCINNATI (AP)—Schoolboy Rowe was most of the show yesterday as the Philadelphia Phils shutout the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0.

In marking up his ninth victory against four defeats, Rowe led the Redlegs down with five hits.

The contest, lacking in fireworks at the plate, was enlivened in the ninth when catcher Andy Seminick pushed umpire Dusty Boggess at second base and was ejected from the game.

Seminick was safe on a fielder's choice after he had successfully stolen second, but he moved off the bag and Lonnie Frey tagged him out. Angered with the decision, Seminick pushed the umpire on the chest.

Ewell Blackwell, the loser, went eight innings and allowed five hits. Charlie Gilbert started the game off with a single and, after Johnny Wyrostek fanned, Ronnie Northey singled him to third. Gilbert scored on Frank McCormick's long fly. In the eighth, Frey fumbled Rowe's grounder, Charlie Gilbert walked, and, after Rowe was forced, Gilbert scored on Ronnie Northey's second single of the game.

Rapid Robert Halts Red Sox To Rack Up Sixteenth Win

BOSTON (AP)—Bobby Feller blazed his fast ball by seven Red Sox batters yesterday to raise his season's streakout total to 202 as the Indians trounced the Red Sox 6-3 before 33,142 paid fans.

Three home runs, two by Ken Keltner and one by Pat (Muscles) Seerey, provided the margin for Feller's 16th victory of the year against six defeats.

The Sox rallied for two runs in the ninth inning, but the Cleveland shift (six men packed in right field) got Ted Williams on a high, short fly with two men on base and manager Lou Boudreaux stared a line drive by Bobby Doerr to end the game.

The loss was only the second suffered this year at home by the Sox against the American league's western clubs and both have been inflicted by blazing Bobby. His season's record against the Sox now stands at two successes and two defeats.

Feller also walked six of the Hose as he completed 198 innings of pitching in this first post-war baseball season.

He used 160 pitches in hurling his 20th complete game.

Army Names Tokyo Stadium for Kinnick

Nile Kinnick Stadium is the new name of the football and track site in Tokyo, Japan, formerly known as Meiji stadium, University of Iowa officials have been informed.

The stadium, with a seating capacity of 25,000 persons, was re-named by the Eighth Army occupation forces in Japan in honor of the University of Iowa's all-American halfback of 1939 who died in a crash of his fighter plane in the Caribbean Sea June 2, 1943.

Constructed in honor of Emperor Meiji, the stadium before the war was the site of Japan's national Olympic competition and other track events. It was used this spring and summer for a series of track meets for army occupation forces. The stadium, now being prepared for football, will be the center of sports events in Japan for as long as the American occupation forces are present.

Jack Meagher Opens Grid Training Camp

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Head coach Jack Meagher of the Miami Seahawks of the All-America Football conference left yesterday for Asheville, N. C., to open training camp on Monday when more than 50 candidates will report.

Meagher, formerly of Rice, Auburn and the Iowa Pre-Flighters, will have as his assistants, Hank Crisp, veteran of 25 years of coaching lines at Alabama; Ralph Jordan, Auburn coach since 1931, and Hamp Loop, former Stanford and Chicago Bears player. Jordan also will serve as chief scout.

The player roster signed by President Harvey Hester includes 51 names with the probability that several more will be added. The squad will be cut to 33 when the season begins.

Browns Tip Senators After 3-Game Slump

WASHINGTON (AP)—The St. Louis Browns finally regained their old mastery over Washington last night and routed the Senators, 7-1, after dropping the first three games of a four-game series.

The Browns hammered three Washington pitchers for 17 hits and had men on base in every inning but the seventh.

Vernon Stephens and Al Zarilla caused the most trouble. Stephens got three singles and a triple while Zarilla got four singles.

Favorites Play In Semi-Finals

CHICAGO (AP)—Top-seeded Herbert (Buddy) Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and three other seeded players advanced yesterday to the semifinal round with quarter-final triumphs in the Junior division of the 10th annual River Forest Open tennis tournament.

Behrens eliminated Irwin Busick of Springfield, Ill., in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3, to earn the right to meet Dick Mouldous of New Orleans in one of today's semifinals. Mouldous, eighth-seeded, defeated Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, O., 6-3, 6-2.

Fifth-seeded Gilbert Shea of Los Angeles, was forced to go three sets before eliminating a fellow-Californian, Dick Yaeger, 2-6, 7-5, 7-5. Today Shea meets third-seeded Ed Chew of El Paso, Tex., who eliminated Lew Mcmasters of St. Petersburg, Fla., in a quarterfinal match.

In the Boys' division Jerry DeWitt of San Francisco defeated James Orwin of Kalamazoo, Mich., 6-0, 5-7, 6-2, and Keston Deimling Jr. of River Forest, Ill., eliminated Jim Farrell of Kalamazoo, 6-2, 6-1.

Among the seeded stars being sidelined were second-seeded Sidney Schwartz of Brooklyn who failed to appear for a second round match with Park Taylor of Glenocoe, Ill., moving Taylor to the third round on a default. Taylor then was eliminated by Dick Yaeger of Los Angeles, 6-1, 8-6.

Plans Made for Tam O'Shanter

World's Best Golfers Try for Rich Prizes

CHICAGO (AP)—Featuring the world's best golfers competing for the highest stakes ever offered, the 1946 All-American golf tournament at Tam O'Shanter July 25-28.

Other outstanding women golfers entered are Patty Berg, Betty Hicks, Dorothy Germain, and Betty Jameson.

fit of the spectator, will have a cash value to pro players. For example, first prize will be $10,500 if the winner wears a number—$9,082.50 if he does not.

When George May broached the idea to Byron Nelson, four out of five times the winner of the Tam O'Shanter golf classic, Byron asked what he'd get if he wore a number and won. "$10,500," said May. "And if I don't wear a number?" Nelson asked. "About 16 percent less," May told him. "That's all I want to know," said Nelson.

Second innovation by George S. May this year is the elimination of the Men's Open tournament as an Open. Instead, this year pros and amateurs will play in separate tournaments. As in previous years, the Women's tournament will be an Open.

Third innovation of 1946 is reducing the field for the final 36 holes of the tournament. The low 100 professional players and ties, the low 40 amateurs and ties, and the low 30 women and ties will play the final two rounds.

Prizes offered professional players who wear numbers are:

Judge Harold Evans Nominated Candidate

Judge Harold D. Evans was unanimously nominated as Republican candidate for judge of the eighth judicial district at the party's judicial convention in the Johnson county courthouse yesterday morning.

Judge Evans has served in his present position since Mar. 9, 1928, when he was appointed by the governor to replace Judge Ralph Otto who had died.

Chairman of the convention was Attorney Edward F. Rate of Iowa City and Byron Goldthwaite of Marengo was secretary.

HEIRENS—

he laid the blame for his crimes . . . "The drug disclosed strong evidence, the doctors said, that there are two entirely different personalities in Heirens. One of them is the Heirens personality—the quiet, normal student.

"The other, it was explained, is the more aggressive, more primitive man who committed the crimes of which Heirens is accused and suspected . . .

"If it is most emphatically true that the Heirens personality is totally unaware of the acts performed by the Murman personality," one psychiatrist declared. "Conversely, the Heirens personality completely, or almost completely, disappears when the Murman personality takes over."

Heirens previously has related that stolen articles found in his University of Chicago dormitory room were placed there by a George Murman whom he met on the street one day. He could give no other details.

The Chicago Tribune said yesterday in a copyright story it had learned "from unimpeachable sources" that "Heirens has told" of kidnaping and killing Suzanne Degnan. The Chicago Daily News, in a copyright story, said "authoritative sources" had disclosed the youth hoped to make an open confession with a plea of guilty if the state would agree "not to demand death in the electric chair."

The Tribune said Heirens went to the Degnan neighborhood by elevated train from the south side, entered her room by a ladder he found in a neighboring yard, gagged the girl with a handkerchief and carried her, still sleeping, down a ladder. The story added:

"Suzanne awakened, Heirens laid her on the ground and strangled her with his bare hands. When she ceased to move he carried her to a basement of a building at 5901 Winthrop avenue, where he worked, until nearly daylight cutting up her body.

"Then he carried the pieces of the body to various sewer openings in the neighborhood and dropped them in, believing they would be washed away."

After disposing of the body, the Tribune said, he returned to the Degnan home and dropped a ransom note into the girl's bedroom window.

The story said he shot and killed Miss Brown when she emerged from her bath room and found he had entered her apartment from a fire escape. And that he stabbed Mrs. Josephine Ross to death when she awakened from a fire escape to steal her purse.

Action on Cooperative Trailer Camp Delayed Until 100 Couples Join

Twelve persons met last night at the Fleege Brothers Trailer company to consider plans for a cooperative trailer camp to be located east of First avenue at the city limits.

Because members of the proposed camp will have to have their own trailers, the group decided to postpone immediate action until approximately 100 couples have expressed an interest in the plan.

Another meeting is planned in the first week in August.

Students for World Government Plan to Establish Local Chapter

4 University Students To Discuss Operation At Meeting Tomorrow

Plans were underway here yesterday for the establishment of a local commission of the Students for Federal World Government. Two representatives of the organization came to Iowa City yesterday.

Gordon Shull, a graduate of Manchester college, Indiana, and Dana Kurfman, graduated from Beloit college, Wisconsin, made up the two-man team, one of 14 which will be contacting colleges and universities all over the United States to establish local commissions of the SFWG.

Four university students are meeting tomorrow in room 306, Schaffer hall, to begin discussion of the operation of such a commission in Iowa City. They are Alexander Park, G of Iowa City, author of "World Government Now," a series of articles now appearing in The Daily Iowan; Lawrence Dennis, G of Mason City, chairman of the Johnson county American Veterans Committee; William Cupp, A1 of Tipton, and Charles Mehl, A1 of Englewood, Col., chairman of the world affairs forum.

The organization, now incorporated without profit, was started four months ago by seven Northwestern university students who believe "that the action of international youth through education and discussion can bring about world government."

Biggest project of the organization so far was the peace rally in the Chicago stadium May 29, with Dr. Albert Einstein on a coast-to-coast radio hook-up speaking from Princeton, N. J. Clifton Fadiman, Norman Thomas, Senator Glen Taylor and Ely Culbertson also addressed the rally, attended by 7,000 people.

Contacts have been established for cooperation in nine foreign countries—India, Argentina, Costa Rica, Venezuela, Italy, Germany, Poland, France and England.

SFWG headquarters are in Evanston, Ill., with offices in a triple garage. The work is done by 15 young people working full-time with approximately 100 others contributing part-time labor.

Members are encouraged to contribute time rather than money, although the group does solicit and accept contributions for the work of the movement, Kurfman said.

A world youth peace conference is being planned for November in Washington, D. C., or Chicago which delegates from all local commissions will attend.

The SFWG platform calls for an international constitutional convention, through the United Nations, to establish a world government with universal membership and multilateral transfer of national war sovereignty to federal world sovereignty. This government would have control of atomic energy and all weapons of destruction.

The proposed world government would also have power to create laws, interpret and enforce them, controlling the actions among the people of the nation states.

BAND CONCERT

The 60-piece university band will present its second concert of the summer tonight at 7:30 at the Iowa Union campus bandstand.

The program, including pieces by Fillmore, Dett, Herold, Buys, Smith, Borowski, Gould, Strauss, Lacombe, Rimsky-Korsakov and Victor Herbert will be interspersed with community singing.

Numbers to be sung include "Smiles" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

SUI to Decide Later On Housing Rentals

Decisions on how much rent will be charged for the quonset huts now under construction near City park and the allotted 680 veteran barracks-apartments have not been made, according to Virgil S. Copeland, of the business office of the university.

Copeland said that estimates on the cost of maintaining utilities have not been completed and submitted to the federal public housing office which will make the final approval on rents to be charged.

Some of the units will be furnished, it was revealed, and more rent would be charged for such units than for unfurnished ones.

Horton Tells Kiwanis U.S., Russia Grow Economically Similar

Economic systems of the United States and Russia are growing closer together, Prof. J. T. Horton, visiting lecturer in the history department, told Kiwanians at the Hotel Jefferson yesterday noon.

He emphasized that the United States is becoming less capitalistic, Russia less communistic, and that this trend would result in a unity of feeling tending to ease the points of friction between the two countries.

Horton cited Supreme court cases where private property linked with public interest had been government regulated, gradually changing our capitalistic economy to a more liberal form.

Vets to Plan Drafting Of OPA Resolutions At Meeting Tonight

Two members from each of seven veterans' organizations will meet tonight at 7:15 at the American Legion rooms in the Community building to discuss the drafting of OPA resolutions to be sent to Iowa congressmen.

Organizations represented will be the American Legion, University Veterans association, Johnson county chapter of the American Veterans committee, American Veterans of World War II, Disabled American Veterans, Johnson county chapter of Reserve Officers organization and two Veterans of Foreign Wars posts.

Hugh E. Kelso Named Assistant Professor Of Political Science

President Virgil M. Hancher announced yesterday the appointment of Hugh E. Kelso as an assistant professor in the political science department. Professor Kelso will begin his duties with the first semester of the 1946-47 academic year. He will teach a course in American government and a core course.

Having received a doctorate degree here in August, 1941, Professor Kelso taught for one year at Denison university, Granville, Ohio, after which time he entered the armed forces.

In the service, Professor Kelso was a captain in the infantry. During 1945 he was assigned to a school for service men at Naples, Italy, where he was in charge of the political science department.

Since the beginning of the second semester of the 1945-46 academic year, Professor Kelso has been teaching at the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Fla. He is teaching there during the current summer session.

Professor Kelso is replacing Prof. William S. Shepherd who has accepted a position at Beloit college, Beloit, Wis.

SUI Showing Latest Technicolor Release Of 'The Last Bomb'

Through special arrangement with the war department, the bureau of visual instruction is currently presenting the latest film release of the army air corps, "The Last Bomb."

The film is a photographic record in technicolor with sound of the air corps' battle against Japan, featuring bombing and strafing attacks based from Iwo Jima in the latter part of the south Pacific campaign.

It includes close-up action shots of attacks on the Jap mainland and dog-fights between Mustangs and Zeros.

Final Dance—

The Last Roundup

The "Last Roundup" will be the final dance to be sponsored by the central party committee at the air conditioned Iowa Union, Friday, July 26, from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight.

Bill Meardon and his band are scheduled to furnish music for the dance.

Because finals are to take place in the early part of August, no other dances will be held during the eight week session, according to John Phillips, C4 of Maquoketa, committee chairman.

Tickets go on sale Monday morning, July 22, and will continue on sale until the evening of July 26. The tickets are $1.50 each.

Sewer Construction Bids Taken Aug. 12

Construction of sewer improvements on nine Iowa City streets will be opened to public bids at the city clerk's office at 2 p. m. Aug. 12, it was announced yesterday.

The proposed sewer installations will be made at First, Third, Fourth and Fifth avenues, and at Court, Bloomington, Reno, Gilbert and Webster streets.

Contractors selected will be required to start work by Sept. 15 and complete it by Dec. 15. The city council will act on the bids submitted Aug. 12, at 8 p. m. that day.

Work to be done will include the following estimates: 4,591 lineal feet of 8-inch vitrified sewer pipe, 95 lineal feet of 6-inch vitrified sewer pipe, 149 feet depth of manholes and 18 extra heavy manhole rings and covers.

Bids should be made on printed blanks available at the city clerk's office.

Wesley Foundation Associate Counselor To Sail for European Religious Meeting

Mildred Romedahl, associate counselor of the Wesley foundation of the Iowa City Methodist church, will sail from New York for Europe July 26 aboard the S. S. Washington as a delegate to the World Student Christian federation conference in Gwatt, Switzerland, from Aug. 22 to 30.

Only two Methodist students in the United States will be official delegates to this international, interdenominational conference, the first since the war.

The conference will organize plans to promote mutual relations between Christian student organizations, and collect and distribute information about the physical and religious conditions in all lands.

The National Methodist Student movement of Urbana, Ill., selected Miss Romedahl on the basis of her leadership records and work with students.

From Aug. 2 to 10, Miss Romedahl will participate in a directed tour of continental relief projects in Italy. The projects are under the direction of UNRRA and the World Student Service fund which provides relief for displaced students. The group is also seeking permission to visit Germany.

Miss Romedahl will also spend one week in England, and one week in France.

During the trip color movies will be taken which Miss Romedahl will use in lectures to student groups in the west, when she returns near the end of September.

G.L. Lehman to Talk On Inflation to AVC

"How the consumer can fight inflation," will be explained by George L. Lehman, representative of the Iowa City Co-op grocery, to members of the Johnson county chapter of the American Veterans committee at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Unitarian church basement.

The group will also hear reports by James B. Morris, chairman of the anti-discriminatory practices committee, and John Bradbury, chairman of the national legislative committee.

DeGeus Seeks Divorce

A. J. DeGeus filed suit in district court yesterday for divorce from Anna S. DeGeus on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

The couple was married in Oskaloosa June 2, 1938, and separated April 15, 1945. There are two minor children.

Swisher and Swisher are attorneys for DeGeus.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday by R. Nelson Miller, clerk of district court, to Russ J. Gaskill and Leota McDonald of Mt. Pleasant; Lewis J. Grezell, Iowa City, and Sadie Lamparek, Fairfax, Iowa; John Lehman, Iowa City, and Mary Scoles, Petaluma, Calif.; and to Robert Albrecht of Iowa City and Betty Lou Mackey of West Liberty.

Your Dream House Could Become a Nightmare

Hundreds of thousands of good citizens are planning their dream houses and have the money to buy now. But with the present shortage of housing, building materials, and labor, this pent-up purchasing power could lead to inflation . . . yes, a nightmare of inflation unless every one of us cooperates in his own way to hold the line against rising housing prices. Veterans are getting priorities on materials so that they can build low and moderate cost homes. That's as it should be. Meanwhile, others are being asked to wait—to postpone buying until the critical housing shortage is over. If everyone tries to buy now, prices will skyrocket in a dizzy spiral. Even if you need a home as badly as a veteran and are forced to buy, it's common sense to make haste slowly. Don't buy beyond your means. Be sure to get sound appraisals from reputable sources. Make certain your builder has materials to finish the job before he starts. Don't pay black market prices or "bonuses"—that's a sure way to bring on inflation.

SEEK EXPERT ADVICE BEFORE YOU BUILD OR BUY!
