GOOD MORNING, IOWA CITY!

Watch for it! It's coming! Relief, that is. Thunder-showers this morning and considerably COOLER all day. Yesterday's high was a sizzling 97.

President Discloses No Loan to Russia Planned This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday made it clear that the matter of a $1,000,000,000 loan to Russia is dead for this year.

Mr. Truman opened his session with reporters by announcing the American delegation to the next session of the United Nations assembly in New York — Senators Austin (R., Vt.), Connally (D., Tex.) and Vandenberg (R., Mich.), Representative Bloom (D., N.Y.) and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Alternates will be Representative Eaton (R., N.J.), Representative Helen Douglas (D., Calif.), John Foster Dulles and Adlai Stevenson.

Two Representatives Volunteer to Testify in Munitions Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate war investigating committee will reopen its hearings on the Garsson munitions combine today to hear from Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, the house democratic leader, and Rep. Sabath (D., Ill.), chairman of the rules committee.

House Votes to Seat Military Representatives on Atom Board

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house voted yesterday to seat military representatives on a five-man commission for domestic atomic energy controls, overriding the administration's wishes and the senate's decision.

Georgia Democrats Put Gene Talmadge Back as Governor

ATLANTA (AP)—Repudiating a new southern liberalism espoused by Ellis Arnall, Georgia has reverted to tradition and sent 61-year-old Gene Talmadge back to the governor's office.

Attorneys Prepare for Heirens Trial

CHICAGO (AP)—With reports of a "deal" still lacking official verification, the defense and prosecution went ahead yesterday with preparations for a possible trial of William Heirens in the kidnap-slaying of Suzanne Degnan.

MISSOURI BACK IN CAPITAL LIMELIGHT

MISSOURI AVENUE RETURNED to Washington, D. C., yesterday after an absence of several years when a District of Columbia employe (shown above) placed a "Missouri Avenue" street sign in position at the intersection of the former Concord avenue and Jefferson street in the northwest section of the city. The avenue was renamed by the district commissioners. A previous "Missouri Avenue" near the heart of the city was abolished several years ago. (AP WIREPHOTO)

World Government Of Cabbages and Kings

By LAWRENCE DENNIS

We're likely to get a new slant on Harry Truman within the next three months.

DENNIS

Yesterday's announcement by the president that he plans a political swing around the country on behalf of Democratic candidates in the fall elections was welcome news to a lot of voters who are anxious to become better acquainted with the Man from Missouri. The American people haven't tasted an old-fashioned political brawl since 1938 and, from all indications, both sides are itching for a knock-down, drag-out campaign this year.

The shadow of the European war hung over the 1940 campaign charged with the provision of a uniform currency, the regulation of its rate of exchange with foreign currencies.

Section 2: Congress shall be empowered to fix uniform standards of weights and measures and to provide patents and copyrights for the protection of individual initiative.

Section 3: Congress shall direct the taking of the census each ten years.

Section 1: Congress shall be empowered to regulate commerce between States of the Union of the Nations and between the States, but no export tax or duty may be levied on the articles or goods of any State. It shall further be the duty of Congress to prevent conspiracy or combination in restraint of trade or illegal attempts of persons or groups of persons to destroy the industries of others. Monopolies, trusts, the use of cartels and the dumping of commodities shall be illegal.

Section 2: Congress shall administer the post, all railroads and all communications in interstate commerce.

Section 3: Congress shall have supervisory power over all manufacture and research of fissionable materials and of all armaments of war. Such manufacture shall be licensed and inspected regularly by the Congress.

Section 4: Congress shall have the right to regulate the labor of minors, the hours of adult labor, and to protect workers against dangerous and unsanitary working conditions in industries whose products flow in interstate commerce.

Section 1: Congress shall direct the government of all federal districts, territories and possessions, and the issuance of all passports and visas.

Section 2: Territories and possessions of the Union of the Nations shall be admitted to the Union of the Nations as full member States upon petition, and approval by an absolute majority of the membership of both chambers of Congress.

Section 1: Congress shall direct the government of all federal districts, territories and possessions, and the issuance of all passports and visas.

Section 2: Territories and possessions of the Union of the Nations shall be admitted to the Union of the Nations as full member States upon petition, and approval by an absolute majority of the membership of both chambers of Congress.

Section 3: Congress shall have the right to regulate the labor of minors, the hours of adult labor, and to protect workers against dangerous and unsanitary working conditions in industries whose products flow in interstate commerce.

By ALEXANDER G. PARK (Continued from Thursday) PART IV THE JUDICIAL BRANCH Article 18

Section 1: The Judicial Branch of Government shall consist of a Supreme Court of the Union of the Nations, which shall be the court of final appeal in the Union of the Nations, and such other courts as Congress may establish.

Section 2: The Supreme Court of the Union of the Nations shall consist of fifteen Justices, no more than two of whom may be a resident of the same State, appointed for life tenure by the President with the approval of the Senate.

Section 3: Eleven Justices shall constitute a quorum. No business may be transacted by the court in the absence of a quorum of Justices. Majority opinion shall be necessary to the rendition of decisions and the decisions shall uphold the rulings of lower courts.

Section 4: The Supreme Court of the Union of the Nations is charged with the supervision of the judicial activities of all federal courts.

Section 1: The Supreme Court of the Union of the Nations shall have original jurisdiction over all disputes concerning the constitutionality of laws and acts of the Union of the Nations. It shall decide all cases which concern treaties of the Union of the Nations, ambassadors, public ministers, consuls, judges of inferior federal courts, members of the President's cabinet, and members of inferior boards of examination.

Section 2: The Judicial Branch shall have jurisdiction over maritime and admiralty cases, all cases to which the Union of the Nations is a party, all crimes occurring on or concerning federal property and all cases which concern federal officials in the lawful execution of their office.

Section 1: An Examinatory Branch of Government consisting of a High Board of Examiners and such other boards of examination that Congress may establish shall be established in the Union of the Nations. The High Board of Examiners shall consist of nine associate Examiners, no more than two of whom are residents of the same State, appointed by the President with the approval of the Senate. Citizens, who shall qualify to hold the office of Senator, shall qualify for membership in the High Board of Examiners. Members of such other boards of examination as Congress may establish shall be qualified to hold the office of Deputy to the Congress. Members of boards of examination shall have life tenure in their offices.

Section 2: The definition of life tenure to any office in the Government of the Union of the Nations shall be such age as the Congress may determine to be proper for the retirement of persons, holding office of public trust, in the Union of the Nations.

Section 1: The High Board of Examiners shall provide public examinations of three varieties—to be classified as the Examination for Deputy and Lower Non-Judicial Office, the Examination for Senator and Higher Non-Judicial Office and the Examination for Judicial Office, and such other examinations as Congress may direct.

All civil service examination functions of the Union of the Nations and all institutions of learning under the control of the Union of the Nations shall be supervised by the High Board of Examiners.

The High Board of Examiners shall prescribe such examinations as may be necessary to insure an intelligent electorate.

All examinations shall be prepared and executed in every written language and dialect used in the Union of the Nations, and no person, excepting as a qualification for certain diplomatic posts, shall be required to take any examination in a language which is not his own. All examinations, over which the Examinatory Branch has control, shall be made available to all persons at least thrice annually.

The Constitution, all laws, and all treaties, made or to be made, in the Union of the Nations shall be the Supreme law of the Union of the Nations, provisions of State laws and constitutions notwithstanding, and the judicial authorities of all States shall be bound by them.

Section 1: The Congress of the Union of the Nations shall be empowered to levy and collect uniform taxes on property, private income and goods imported into the Union of the Nations. Congress shall be empowered to borrow monies with which to provide for the general welfare and the common defense; it shall raise, train and support armed forces of the Union of the Nations, regulate their organization, arming and discipline; it shall protect member States and the possessions and territories of the Union of the Nations from invasions, and upon request of the Government of such States, territories or possessions, shall protect them from internal violence.

Section 2: Congress shall have the sole power to make or levy war and to make peace with nations, with which the Union of the Nations is at war. A two-thirds vote of the full membership of both chambers of Congress shall be required to declare a state of war or peace.

All laws, passed in Congress, and all decrees, statutes and public official business of the Union of the Nations shall be published and disseminated widely in all the States, territories and possessions of the Union of the Nations and in all languages and dialects in use in the Union of the Nations.

It shall be the duty of Congress, or such organizations as Congress may establish for the purpose, to plan and organize such public works and projects as are needful to the public welfare and to insure employment for all persons who desire it. State programs of this nature which Congress deems acceptable shall be considered to have fulfilled the requirement.

Section 1: Congress shall be empowered to regulate commerce between States of the Union of the Nations and between the States, but no export tax or duty may be levied on the articles or goods of any State. It shall further be the duty of Congress to prevent conspiracy or combination in restraint of trade or illegal attempts of persons or groups of persons to destroy the industries of others. Monopolies, trusts, the use of cartels and the dumping of commodities shall be illegal.

Iceland and Our Friendship With Russia

Iceland served the United States well during the war. Bases there were used for radar and weather stations. It was a naval refueling and anti-submarine base to protect our convoys moving across the North Atlantic. Iceland was also on the air ferry route and a stopping place for transport planes on their way to Britain. Iceland was so important to hemisphere defense that the United States took over the responsibility to defend the island before we entered the war officially.

But with the end of the war, Iceland has become another era of friction between the United States and Russia.

From Iceland to Moscow it is only 2,000 miles, but from Iceland to New York is a distance of 2,600 miles. The Russians think of our facilities in Iceland as potential bases from which to attack the Soviet union.

The conflict was highlighted last October when the state department announced that it was seeking a 99-year lease on certain war-time American properties on the island.

Molotov bluntly challenged the United States by saying, "Evidently what matters here is by no means the security of the United States, but entirely different aspirations."

Just what is the importance of Icelandic bases to the United States? At the present time their major importance to us is for use as weather stations. The United States still has an airfield for fighters and one for bombers, but less than one thousand men remain on the island to man all American facilities.

It is hard to escape the conclusion that Iceland is far from "vital" to the United States. The weather stations on nearby Greenland are almost as useful and more could be built. Iceland's importance as a base for military purposes in an atomic age cannot be nearly as important as it was in the last war.

Perhaps the best use of the radar, weather stations, airfields and other facilities developed by the United States during the war would be as a base under the United Nations, with equal access to use by all nations. Russia could no longer look upon our interest in Iceland as a "dagger" pointed at Moscow.

A string of such bases all over the world could do much to remove the suspicions of the powers against each other and give strength to the fledgling organization.

Unfortunately, the designs of the United States are not the sole hindrance to such a plan. Mr. Molotov is well aware that the behavior of Russia has done little to make other nations believe convincingly in a brave new postwar world. But the United States would have little to lose by taking the lead in urging such a system of bases.

Big Job Ahead for Nation's Housewives

The American woman has been called upon to perform another miracle. Yes, she's being asked to do her utmost to hold prices down, after the bungling and filibustering of a "representative" government have failed.

Perhaps the "little woman," who reputedly spends 85 percent of her husband's hard-earned money, has never before had a very clearly defined idea of the intrinsic value of the things she bought with that money. But now, after four long war years of double-checking her grocer's posted price list to see that he held the line on each commodity—after keeping an eagle eye out for that little price ceiling tag on every article of clothing, she has an almost irreproachable precedent to quote when she complains about high prices.

Father can't blame the state of Mama's checkbook on her ignorance anymore.

With talk and action on a nationwide buyer's strike promoted by the CIO United Auto Workers comes the reaction that perhaps this IS the only way to force the boys in Washington to believe we mean what we say when we ask for the return of price controls. The trouble is that a half-hearted attempt won't help the situation at all. Some of us will be doing without while the fellow who has "denied" himself "long enough" continues to buy.

So it's up to the woman to figure out a more nutritious diet without dollar-a-pound steak. She'll have to stop paying through the nose for "high fashion" and get a tan so she can pass up the pure silk hose at two dollars per leg. She'll have to be content to ride in the old bus a few miles further. What's more, she'll probably have to do some fast talking at every social gathering or sign an "I Will Not Buy" pledge to make the movement fashionable enough to get very wide approval.

But never underestimate the power of a woman.

Socialized Medicine Democracy in Action

TO THE EDITOR: It is undeniable that our nation today is badly in need of one of the several types of socialized medicine. Marshall Field, in his book, "Freedom Is More Than a Word," points out that we have a choice of socialized medicine under either consumer-cooperative control, government control, or an insurance plan controlled by the medical profession. He denounces our present type of "crisis" practice—calling the physician after you're taken sick and then paying him what he thinks the traffic will bear to return you to health. This results in lack of proper preventive medicine for our lower and lower-middle class groups and causes untold ills and hardships to these people. This is borne out by the experience of selective service where more than one third of our nation's youth was rejected as unfit because of medical reasons.

Too many people today fear "socialized" medicine because of the very connotation to them of the word "socialized" implies government control. For this reason it is perhaps unfortunate that the sponsors of this type of medical practice chose this word to represent their new concept of medicine. Perhaps it might have been wiser to use a term such as "progressive" medicine or "preventive" medicine. Because, in truth, the best plans for so called "socialized" medicine contain no element of governmental supervision. The best plans are consumer-cooperative control or an insurance plan controlled by the medical profession. On paper, perhaps, the latter may seem the better of the two, but there is opportunity inherent in it for many evil practices to spring up. In the first place, the profession might be inclined to promote itself to the detriment of the people. If they were allowed too tight a grip on medicine they might use it as a medical monopoly and wield it for their own ends. But on the other hand, if this plan is used, the taint of corrupt politics is eliminated and medicine will remain in the hands of those who know the most about it. In all fairness to the insurance plan, let me say that it depends on the men in control of the medical organizations, and that they have generally proved themselves to be honest and dependable men. Furthermore, this plan is in force in many communities and has worked well in almost all instances.

Typical Coeds Make Him Sick

TO THE EDITOR: The so called "typical" college girl makes me sick—her bloodshot swollen eyes, her Rye bread complexion, her unpredictable hair style, her ungraced wearing apparel, her flat feet, her sad, nonchalant look, her smeared-up mouth, and her ego that at least 20 men would gladly bow down before her imaginary queenhip. These tramps you see around the campus are not the pin-up girls that the soldier boys were hoping to find when they got back—unless you consider the fact that a pin couldn't make these creatures stir they're so dead and lifeless, and then maybe the pin wouldn't be long enough.

This so called "fair sex" has developed now to the point where a man can't tell what he's looking at. You see two creatures approaching, walking just like they've been carrying two heavy milk pails all their lives—one is wearing a pair of overalls with her shirt tails trailing, the other has a very fancy hair style, but what she's wearing reminds me of a combination bathing suit and English style riding pants. This is when I started feeling sick, so I walk immediately to a water fountain and took a good drink of cold water. Then I paused and looked around. They were gone. My health returned and I walked on my way to history class. . . . If husbands would rather play cards, pool, golf or just sit and chat rather than be at home with one of these creatures, I don't blame them. I would do the same myself even if I don't usually play cards, pool, golf or chat. The only thing that could be wrong is that they compromised and married one of these.

Dr. B. I. Bell to Talk Tonight

To Consider Current Living

Speaker Recognized For Work on Trends In American Culture

"On Living in the Mid-Twentieth Century" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. Bernard Iddings Bell, noted author and lecturer on current trends in American culture, at the seventh of the university lecture series tonight.

Dr. Bell will speak on the west approach of Old Capitol at 8 p. m. His subject is the same as that of a baccalaureate address he gave at the University of Indiana, which was described by President Herman B. Wells as "the finest address heard on the campus in several years."

Lectured in England

A graduate of the University of Chicago, Dr. Bell has lectured at

DR. BERNARD IDDINGS BELL

Oxford, Harvard, Yale, Columbia and Princeton universities. He has spoken in Westminster Abbey and in almost every cathedral in England.

Chief among the 18 books he has written are "Beyond Agnosticism," "The Church in Disrepute" and "God Is Not Dead." Dr. Bell also has contributed 21 articles to the Atlantic Monthly, written for Harper's, Collier's, The New York Times, Scribner's and other magazines.

At the University of Chicago, Dr. Bell was interested primarily in the field of history. History led him to political theory and then to philosophy and education.

Ordained a priest at the age of 26, he became dean of the cathedral of Fond du Lac, Wis. He was organizing aide to the senior chaplain at Great Lakes naval station during the first World war, and at 33, the war over, he became head of St. Stephen's college in Columbia university. At St. Stephen's, Dr. Bell also was professor of religion.

Free-Lance Author

Since resigning this position in 1933, he has been a consultant in religious education and a free-lance author and lecturer on the significance of developments in American culture.

Dr. Bell, whom Time magazine calls "that brilliant maverick," was William Vaughn Moody lecturer at the University of Chicago in 1921. He has served as preaching canon at St. Johns cathedral, Providence, R. I., and in 1935 was Coleman lecturer at Lafayette college.

An Independent in politics, he was editor of Affirmations in 1938 and of the St. James Sessions in Religion from 1940 to 1943.

He received a D.D. degree from the Western Theological seminary, Chicago, in 1912, a Litt. D. degree at Columbia university in 1929 and an LL.D. degree at Colorado college in 1931. For his administration of St. Stephen's college Dr. Bell was awarded the degree of doctor of pedagogy by the state education department of New York.

University Family Relaxes

STUDENTS, TOWNSPEOPLE, veterans' wives, their children and faculty members are crowding the air-conditioned Iowa Union again this summer to escape from the summer heat. There were 107 persons in the Union lounge yesterday afternoon, eight of whom were asleep, two listening to the radio and three looking at the art exhibition pictures. Of 73 persons interviewed yesterday in a Daily Iowan survey, 70 were there to avoid the outdoor heat. All 70 said they were there because it is "cool, the coolest place to study, the coolest place on campus, the only place on the campus where you can breathe." One of the students commented that he was in the Union because he is "a member of the happy university family."

Tyson Cites Bell Act As Indication of 'Good Faith' in Philippines

Pointing to the Bell act passed by congress as an indication of our good faith in granting independence to the Philippines, Prof. J. D. Tyson last night emphasized the splendid job the United States did in its 40 years in the islands. "The fact that we propose to negotiate with the Philippines as one independent nation to another about the cost and position of bases for United States armed forces there," he said, "shows our sincerity in granting them independence."

Discusses Tariff Issue

In the islands since 1931, three years a Japanese prisoner, Professor Tyson lauded our handling of the tariff question. For eight years there will be no tariff at all; for the next 20 years there will be an annual five percent increase in tariff walls, so that at the end of 28 years the Philippines will be on the same basis with the United States as any other nation, he said.

He said that the limitation imposed upon the importation of Philippine sugar was a very weak link in our chain of friendly relations with the new state. Terminating this concession to Cuban sugar interests, duty free, he expressed the hope this limitation would be lifted in the near future.

The system of schools, sanitation and agriculture advances and the wiping out of cholera, smallpox and bubonic plague are but a few of the many accomplishments Americans should feel proud of, for all of these were "accomplished from scratch" in our 40 years in the islands, he explained.

Berates Business Rights

Professor Tyson berated the preferential rights granted to United States businessmen by the Philippines in order to receive a $625 million rehabilitation gift from us. "American businessmen do not need preference through treaties," he declared. "They are able to take care of themselves."

Chairman Announces Floor Show Program For Dance Tonight

A floor show program for the dance under the supervision of Currier hall to be held for all summer school students Friday night at Iowa Union was announced yesterday by Polly Coen, A4 of Washington, D. C., Currier social chairman.

Joanne Turner, A2 of Montezuma, Wash., will be mistress of ceremonies, and Sheryl Zalesky, A2 of Cedar Rapids, will present a slapstick number. Phyllis Finkelnstein, A1 of University Heights, Ohio, will give a reading; Lucille Bartozek, A1 of South Bend, Ind., will sing, and a dance will be presented by Marcia Kuyper, A1 of Pella.

There will be no admission charge to the dance, which is a no-date affair. The dance will be held from 8 to 11 in the River room at Iowa Union.

Tryouts for Drama To Be Held Today

Tryouts for a special broadcast, a dramatization of "John Henry—A Steel Drivin' Man," will be held today at 1 p. m. in the basement lounge of WSUI.

The drama, written for radio by Robert T. Holland from a folk legend, will be broadcast Thursday at 9 p. m.

Filomena Rohner Weds W.A. Nockunas

The marriage of Filomena Rohner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank James Rohner, 718 S. Summit street, to William Anthony Nockunas of Milwaukee, Wis., took place yesterday at 10 a. m. at St. Patrick's church.

Mrs. Nockunas is a graduate of St. Patrick's high school and attended the University of Iowa. She has been employed by the University Mailing service.

Mr. Nockunas was graduated from Affton high school in St. Louis, Mo., and attended Southwest Missouri Teachers college.

The couple will reside in Milwaukee.

University Club Plans Partner Bridge Party

The University club will sponsor a partner bridge Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the University club rooms at Iowa Union.

The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Chester L. Miller, chairman, Catharine Mullin and Mrs. I. A. Opstad. This is the organization's final party of the summer season.

Laxamana to Speak

The Friday luncheon club of the Masonic lodge will hear the Rev. Fernando A. Laxamana, minister to students at the Iowa City Congregational church, speak on "Problems Facing the New Philippine Republic," tomorrow noon.

Vets Endorse Student Labor on 680 Units

Members of the Veterans Emergency Housing league agreed to promote student labor on the planned 680 barrack-apartments when construction begins. The league met last night in the Parish house of the Episcopal church.

John Kenyon, G of Council Bluffs, chairman of the housing league, will meet tonight with representatives from Hawkeye and Riverdale trailer villages to consider a constitution for a married veterans organization of the university.

Lt. Col. Allen Tester To Return to Geology Department This Fall

Lt. Col. Allen C. Tester, now on terminal leave, will return this fall to his post as professor in geology, it was learned yesterday. He has been on military leave of absence from the university since Nov. 1, 1942.

Serving with the corps of engineers, Lieutenant Colonel Tester has been in all south Pacific theaters of operation. For the last nine months, he has been in Japan, with Eighth army headquarters.

It is expected that Professor Tester will teach general courses and sedimentation in the geology department.

Music Recital Tonight To Feature Numbers Of Three Composers

Numbers from Handel, Brahms and Mozart will be featured tonight in the 57th recital of the 1945-46 student series to be given in the north music hall at 7:30 p. m.

Lois Barrigar, G of Cedar Falls, will play the viola; Robert Titus, G of Marion, the clarinet, and Mitchell Andrews, University High school student, will be the piano accompanist.

Open to the general public, there will be no admission charge.

Lt. Sumner L. Beck, Former SUI Student, Listed Lost in Action

Lt. Sumner L. Beck, who was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1938, has now been listed by the war department as probably lost in action. Lieutenant Beck was reported missing in the Rabaul-New Britain area after flying a mission there June 26, 1943.

Memorial services honoring Lieutenant Beck will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. from the First Congregational church at Danville, his home. After the ceremonies, his memorial at Fairview cemetery, five miles south of Denmark, Iowa, will be unveiled.

A member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, Lieutenant Beck was graduated from the university with a B.A. degree and a certificate in journalism.

Illinois School Superintendents 'Got What They Came After' at Iowa Education Lab

"We got what we came after," was the comment of Illinois School superintendents Leon J. Lundahl and George E. Thompson at the close of the Iowa laboratories of the college of education yesterday.

After two weeks of concentrated study of their own special problems, primarily related to building projects and to determining adequate standards in building and in education, Lundahl and Thompson will leave the university today with answers to "every problem brought to the laboratories for study."

Superintendent Lundahl of the Crystal Lake, Ill., elementary schools was particularly concerned with study of the latest in classrooms and auditoriums to incorporate into the new elementary school building for which he has drawn plans.

After his work in the laboratories here, Lundahl said, he is ready to begin construction on the building as soon as materials are available.

Superintendent Thompson of the St. Charles, Ill., schools brought to the laboratories "20 specific problems" related to his plan for a new gymnasium and a 30-acre school and community recreation center at St. Charles.

Of the 20 problems, including location and arrangement of buildings and facilities of the recreation center, Thompson said not one remained. In voicing enthusiasm for the course, both men spoke of sending members of their teaching staffs to the university next summer for special studies.

"Instructors here are not afraid to commit themselves on the high quality of work they stand for and demand," Thompson said.

Dean P. C. Packer and Prof. Elmer T. Peterson of the college of education were cited as particularly generous with their personal time in conducting special problem studies. Described as "excellent" were lectures by Prof. Ernest Horn of the college of education on the subject of elementary school curriculums.

UVA to Hold Party Tuesday at City Park

Cardinals Grab National League Lead

Stop Phillies 5-4 to Return To 1st Place

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals returned to first place in the National league last night by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-4, in a ding-dong battle after Cincinnati had run the Brooklyn Dodgers' losing streak to six straight.

Regaining sole possession of the lead for the first time since May 21, the Cardinals virtually clinched the decision, their 12th in their last 15 games, with a four-run outburst in the fourth inning, touched off by Whitey Kurovski's ninth homer of the season.

After Kurovski's drive into the left field seats, Enos Slaughter doubled to the left field wall. Buster Adams was hit by a pitched ball and the two runners advanced on Marty Marion's infield out. Clyde Klutzz was passed purposely. Terry Moore batted for Red Barrett, the Card's starting hurler, and singled in Slaughter and Al Schoendienst drove two more with a one baser.

Braves Blast Bruins, 9-3

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Bill Lee had a lot of help here yesterday as he pitched the Boston Braves to a 9-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs in evening up the current series at a game apiece.

Big Bill was a six hit performer as he gained his No. 7 triumph of the season against his one-time associates.

The Braves shelled five Chicago pitchers for 13 hits, chasing starter Claude Passeau before anybody was out in the second.

Baseball Committee Studies Contracts

CHICAGO (AP)—A major league baseball committee studying revision of the uniform players' contract at a closed meeting yesterday invited suggestions from the players themselves.

The joint committee was appointed at the time of the all-star game in Boston, in a move considered as an effort to counteract "jumping" of players to the Mexican league and the dissatisfaction of players which led to a threatened strike by members of the Pittsburgh club.

At yesterday's meeting, the six-man committee asked Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler "to ascertain the views of the players either by written suggestions, or through a players' committee selected to confer with the joint Major league committee."

Although no announcement was made at yesterday's meeting as to what changes were being considered by the committee, most likely revisions were a change in the rule regarding sale prices whereby players might receive part of the sale price, a revision in the 10-day release clause and allowing the players themselves a voice in rules and procedure of the game.

Reds Hand Dodgers Sixth Straight Loss Behind Ed Huesser

CINCINNATI (AP)—Brooklyn's slumping Dodgers dropped their sixth straight and their eighth in nine Western starts yesterday.

Kirby Higbe, one of the top pitchers in the league, failed to last through the third inning when the Reds added three runs on three hits and an error to a first inning 1-0 advantage.

A walk to Bobby Adams, singles by Bert Haas, Ed Lukon and Eddie Miller sandwiched around a boot by Pee Wee Reese accounted for the three Cincy scores in the third.

FIRST ADD SPORTS

Grid Outlook Bright

The temperature hit 97 in Iowa City yesterday—which makes this a fine time of year for a few words about football. That is, any time is going to be all right for a few words on the football situation that is coming up next fall.

Anyway, we wandered into Racine's yesterday afternoon to listen to the broadcast of the Cub-Boston diamond engagement. It was about the time that Russ Bauer, the Bruins' new curver, handed out an intentional pass to load the bases and get at Bill Lee. The aging "General" spoiled the strategy with a long double that cleared the sacks, wrapped up the Braves' victory—and turned our attention to football.

A belligerent looking little guy over in the corner was talking to a friend. "Yeh, well I'll just lay a small bet that Eddie'll have those boys up on top of the heap next fall. Why, they've got Terlep, this Bob Smith and a lot of other guys already here. And my brother-in-law tells me that..."

It's pretty apparent that the little guy is all ready to wrap up the Big Nine football championship and hand it to Dr. Eddie Anderson and his Iowa Hawkeyes. This is certainly no time to step way out on a limb and try to predict the outcome of football games when a lot of key college men are still in the service. Not even Anderson himself could give you a complete list of those who will be around when drills start August 19th.

But we'd at least like to say that we can't quite see things the same way as the little guy—AND THE REST OF THE IOWA FANS THAT SEEM TO HAVE GONE A LITTLE OVERBOARD.

We'd like nothing better than to see the Hawks come out on top of the heap. We'd get a whale of a bang if they could really kick Notre Dame and Minnesota around. We'd love to see them puncture the Illinois balloon and work Michigan over just a little. But we'd like to have a brief glimpse of what the other schools have got before we go way out on that shaky limb.

It's pretty apparent that the Hawks are going to have one of their best teams since 1939. The backs are fast and experienced, George Terlep and Sam Vacanti are two of the country's best quarterbacks and there are SOME good linemen. Yes, the Hawks will be very good. BUT SO WILL THE REST OF THE CONFERENCE.

The Hawk's line will be one of the league's smallest—Ray Carl-Kennedy, lead off batters in the fourth and sixth innings.

Caniglia Turns Pro

The Hawks lost one football player during the past week and added another. Al Caniglia, the little ape man who was a first stringer in the spring drills, has signed a pro contract with the Green Bay Packers. But, in the meantime, speedster Bud Flanders, regular centerfielder on the 1942 Hawk nine, showed up asking for a pair of cleated shoes. If Bud can move around in football pads like he can on the diamond Duke Curran will have a real running-mate for his scat back role.

Diving Exhibition

Getting back to the summer sports... two of the nation's outstanding divers: Dave Brockway of Marshalltown and Bill McDonald from Chicago, will run through their high and low board performances in the fieldhouse pool Saturday night at 8:30. The two boys are expected to star for the Hawkeye swimming team next winter. The exhibition is open to the public.

Doris Poppel Defeated

NEENAH, Wis. (AP)—Doris Poppel, Des Moines, was defeated 6-3, 6-3 by Marta Barnett, Miami, Fla., yesterday in the quarter-finals of the Women's singles of the Western Hard Courts tennis tournament.

In May, 1972, an Iowa baseball team "gained" two out of three games from an Iowa City nine.

Cards' System Is Unorthodox

By WHITNEY MARTIN

Neither the Cardinals, Dodgers nor Cubs, the three teams generally conceded to be in the running for the National league pennant, are following the "easy lesson" script in their drives to finish at the top in the current campaign.

The old adage supposed to assure success is to the effect that a team should hold its own in games with the other dangerous contenders while whaling the far out of the little fellows, the teams toward the bottom of the standings that have no chance.

The Cards are doing better than all right with the big fellows. They have taken nine out of 12 from the Dodgers and seven out of 11 from the Cubs, but have been having their troubles with some of the little guys, notably the Giants and Reds. The Red Birds have won only five of 13 with the Giants, and five of 11 with Cincinnati.

The Dodgers have been slaughtering the Phils, winning all 10 starts, and are ahead in there with the Cubs, each team having won seven games, and of course are far behind in their affairs with St. Louis.

The Cubs, oddly enough, are only even with the Phils at three victories each, but they are following the script in spanking the other also-rans. The Cubs' difficulty this year is that they don't have the Reds to play dead for them. Last year the Bruins won 21 of 22 from Cincinnati.

Leo Durocher probably is wandering around muttering "Why don't I keep my big mouth shut?" The suspension of the Dodger manager could not have come at a more inopportune time.

Bulla Romps in Chicago Golf

Captures Pro Crown In Warm-up Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Towering Johnny Bulla of Chicago fashioning a five-under-par 137, yesterday was top money winner in a complicated 36-hole warm-up for the $10,000 Victory National Open golf tournament which starts today at Medinah country club.

Bulla, who yesterday added a one-under-par 70 to his 67 of Wednesday, failed to figure in any of the three preliminary championships—for pro-amateur, pro-lady, and pro-senior titles—but as low professional, Johnny walked off with the top prize, a $1,000 war bond.

The pro-amateur title went to a unheralded teen, Jim Ferrer of San Francisco, who finished yesterday with a sizzling 67, also equalling the course competitive record, and Simon-Pure Mike Stefanek of Hobart, Ind., with a 36-hole aggregate of 291.

The nation's leading money-winner, Ben Hogan, and Georgian Louise Suggs, winner of the recent Women's Western open, teamed to take the pro-lady crown with 301. The pro-senior title went to Harold (Jug) McSpaden, who fired a 68 yesterday for a 138 total, a stroke behind Bulla, and Arnold Minkley of Chicago with 301.

Each of the team conquests paid the pro-$400 in war bonds. The low foursome with 617 included U. S. Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum (144), Betty Hicks of Chicago (159), amateur Earl Stewart of Dallas, Tex. (149), and senior Art Sweet of Chicago (165).

Although Toledo's Frank Stranahan came fresh from an impressive triumph in the Kansas City Invitational, the top amateur was George Dawson of Glen Ellyn, Ill., with a 70-72-142, six strokes better than Stranahan.

Ed Furgol, Detroit pro, fired a 147 and Paul Barton, Davenport, Ia., amateur, shot a 161 for a 308 total.

Tony Zale Predicts Victory

POMPTON LAKES, N.J. (AP)—Tony Zale, the middleweight champion who is noted for being practically speechless around the fight business, created what amounted to a sensation in his training camp yesterday by announcing loudly and firmly that he would flatten Rocky Graziano inside of six rounds in their title tussle next Thursday.

This amounted to a political oration from the quiet ex-steel mill hand from Gary, Ind., inasmuch as any time he has put together as many as three words at once in the past, the boys would want to know why he was monopolizing the conversation.

"Well, all I want to know is who did Graziano ever kill?" Zale inquired as he wound up a four-round workout which brought his training chores to 103 rounds since he set up camp here.

Higley Loses In Net Match

OMAHA (AP)—Janet Tillotson of Des Moines yesterday reached the finals of the Women's singles in the Midwest tennis tournament with a 6-2, 6-0 win over Norma Jean Michaels of Omaha.

She will meet either Emily Schosberger of Lincoln, Neb., or Joan Scribner of Omaha in the final round.

The only other Iowan still in the tourney was eliminated yesterday. He was Bruce Higley of Iowa City, who with John Benson of Kansas City, took a 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 junior doubles defeat from Fred Pisadale and Larry Krell of Omaha.

The men's singles and doubles moved through the quarterfinal rounds yesterday with most of the favorites headed by top seeded John Mulaney of Omaha, still in the running.

Buddy Behrens Wins Tennis Championship

CHICAGO (AP)—Herbert (Buddy) Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., captured the 10th annual River Forest Open Junior Singles tennis championship yesterday at the River Forest tennis club with an easy 6-2, 6-2, victory over Gil Shea of Los Angeles.

The doubles title went to Ed Chew of El Paso, Tex., and Ed Davis of Baton Rouge, La., who teamed up to defeat Behrens and Dick Mouldous, of New Orleans, 7-5, 6-4.

Betty Epstein of Dayton, Ohio, and Dick Holroyd of Delray Beach, Fla., won the girls' and boys' titles in the age 13 and under division. Betty defeated Bonnie Edwards of Milwaukee, 6-4, 6-0, and Dick won from Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., 6-2, 6-3.

Keston Deimling Jr. of River Forest, and Gilbert Bogley of Chevy Chase, Md., paired to capture the doubles title for boys 15 and under by defeating Jerry Dewitt and Ernest Durbay of San Francisco, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3.

The meet will be concluded today with Deimling meeting Dewitt for the boys under 15 title. The junior girls doubles final will bring together Martha Miller, Hinsdale, Ill., and Dorothy Watan of Chicago, against Doris Jensen of Des Moines and Elizabeth Patterson of Ann Arbor, Mich.

In the Girls' Junior division singles (semi-finals) Doris Jensen, Des Moines, defeated Joan Robinson, Kalamazoo, 6-0, 6-2.

Dorothy Watan, Chicago, defeated Martha Miller, Hinsdale, 6-3, 6-0.

Leonard Outlasts Dizzy Trout, 1-0

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gil Coan, Washington's bullet-fast rookie outfielder, clouted a home run inside the park in the eighth inning last night to give the Senators a 1-0 decision over the Detroit Tigers.

Coan, who travels faster than news of a nylon sale, smacked a high fly that rolled to the centerfield fence. He whizzed around the bases so fast that the play at home was only a gesture.

Aside from Coan's hit, and running of Washington's Dutch Leonard and Detroit's Dizzy Trout.

Each gave up seven hits and both were airtight with men on bases.

Yankees' Homers Blast Browns, 3-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Gordon blasted a two-run fourth inning homer last night to pace the New York Yankees to a 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Mel Queen went the route for the Yanks, limiting the Browns to eight hits.

CHICAGO (AP)—Humoresque, owned by T. Covina, won the featured $3,500 Monmouth County purse at Monmouth park yesterday with jockey Bobby Permang in the saddle.

Major College Conferences To Discuss Amateur Spirit

CHICAGO (AP)—Representatives of sixteen major college athletic conferences will assemble in Chicago for a two-day session Monday to discuss ways and means of fostering the amateur spirit in intercollegiate athletics.

The meeting—which will be followed by a parley of the National Collegiate Athletic Association council—has been called at the invitation of K. L. Wilson, commissioner of the Western conference and secretary of the NCAA.

"There has become evident an alarming trend which could well wreck our whole purpose of amateurism if it is not checked," Wilson said. "That is the picture of college athletics seeking out the boy instead of the boy seeking out college athletics for the intrinsic benefits it can offer him. The result leads to a state of semi-professionalism which distorts our whole conception of athletics as a part of education."

"Therefore, the paramount issue before the meeting is the future of the spirit of amateurism in intercollegiate athletics. It don't think our getting together at this time signifies any state of great alarm over present conditions in intercollegiate athletics," Wilson emphasized, "but storm flags are showing and before anything does develop that can damage our system of sports we should sit down together to evaluate our policies, chart our courses and determine whether we can't make our way together on those courses."

Stressing concern for "the spirit of amateurism" rather than for any particular code of rules, the big ten commissioner said he hoped the meeting would be able to reach some agreement on uniform practices "that are in accord with the fundamental principles we share."

The Congregational group will meet in their church at 5 p. m. to work in their student room. At 5:45 p. m. they will proceed to the Baptist center and from there to the park. Devotions will be led by one of the Baptist students and the discussion will be led by Rev. Fernando A. Laxamana, minister to student at the Congregational church. His subject will be "Problems Facing the New Philippine Republic." Students planning to attend the picnic must phone their reservations by calling 4301.

Co-op Store Manager Expects OPA Return

"We are expecting the OPA back; we hope it comes back," said Ralston Kornegor, store manager of the Iowa City co-op, speaking last night to the American Veterans Committee in the basement of the Unitarian church at Iowa avenue and Gilbert street.

Kornegor stated the co-op's prices are still within OPA ceiling price. He warned AVC members to be aware of meat prices in grocery stores, but added, grocers are doing their best to cooperate with consumers in almost every case.

George Lehman, business manager of the co-op, gave a short history of cooperatives in Europe and America and explained the establishment of the Iowa City co-op in 1940.

AVC is sponsoring the appearance of Frank Miles, democratic candidate for Iowa Governor, July 30 in the community building. Lawrence Dennis, chairman of the local AVC, said the appearance of Miles in no way constitutes an endorsement by the organization.

State Fire Association Lists 400 Hazards

Tabulation of June 8 Shows Half Corrected By Building Owners

One-hundred six Iowa City business and public buildings were listed as having a total of 400 uncorrected fire hazards in a report received yesterday by the Iowa City fire department from the Iowa State Fire Prevention association.

The report was tabulated from an inspection of fire hazards made by the association March 27 and 28. At that time 374 inspections were made, of which 73 percent were found defective.

Building owners were informed of the hazards and asked to correct them. A tabulation June 8, disclosed that 51 percent of the hazards had been reported corrected.

Improper wiring, which includes the use of flexible cords as permanent wiring, wires hanging on nails and over metal pipes, defective cords, improper insulation and use of spliced cords was the most frequently listed hazard.

Disorderly housekeeping was listed as the second greatest hazard, with accumulation of rubbish and improper disposal of ashes the third leading hazard.

A general recommendation to install automatic sprinklers throughout all non-fireproof buildings and at danger points in fireproof buildings was made.

Fire Chief J. J. Clark said the local department would follow up the report within the next two weeks with a request to each building owner to correct the hazards reported.

Later, a report will be sent the fire prevention bureau listing all corrections made and hazards remaining.

It is within the power of the insurance companies to cancel insurance on a building if known fire hazards remain uncorrected.

No Judicial Candidates Offered by Democrats For Eighth District

No Democratic candidate will oppose Harold E. Evans, Republican candidate for judge of the eighth judicial district, in the November elections.

The resolution was made yesterday morning at the Johnson county court house as eleven Democratic delegates from Iowa and Johnson counties met in an eight-minute convention.

Clair Hamilton, Iowa City attorney, was convention chairman, with Pauline Kelly, secretary.

Army Fires Union Officials For 'Security'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The war department announced last night that five labor union officials, among them some physicists and chemists, have been discharged "in the interest of national security" from Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds, where work is in progress on rockets, guided missiles and other weapons of the future.

The specific reason for the step was not disclosed.

The action was announced by Major General Floyd L. Parks, director of the department's bureau of public relations.

J. H. Mason, an assistant to Secretary of War Patterson in charge of industrial relations, said that the discharge of the employees had "no connection whatever with their union activities."

The five were identified as officers of local No. 250 of the United Public Workers of America (CIO).

General Parks told reporters the five were discharged effective June 26 under provisions of public law No. 808 which empowers the secretaries of war and navy to remove any employee "in the interest of national defense."

Mason said the law has been used "very sparingly."

Abram Flaxer, national president of the United Public workers, told a reporter the discharge of the five union officers was "an obvious union-busting device."

The United Public workers is a new union, organized last April by the merger of two other unions of governmental employees.

Fall-Spring Schedule Of University Parties Announced by Harper

A schedule of 10 All-University parties was announced yesterday by Dr. Earl E. Harper, director of Iowa Union.

First of the parties, scheduled for Sept. 27, will be an informal Dad's day party sponsored by the central party committee. It will be followed by a semi-formal All-University dance Oct. 19, also sponsored by the central party committee. Nov. 1, Union board will sponsor an informal Homecoming dance.

U. W. A. has scheduled a semi-formal Spinster's Spree for Nov. 23, and on Jan. 17 the formal Military ball will be held.

Union board will sponsor an informal All-University party Feb. 15. March 7, a semi-formal University Prom will be sponsored by the central party committee, who will also sponsor an informal All-University dance on April 19.

Mortar board has scheduled an informal May Frolic for May 9, and the final party of the schedule will be a semi-formal Senior Ball held by the senior committee May 23.

War Dead Inquiries

Relatives of American servicemen who died overseas during World War II should address their inquiries regarding return and final burial plans to the Quartermaster General, Washington 25, D. C., army authorities have announced.

Protest Trieste Report

ROME (AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi said yesterday that Italy was hopeful that the forthcoming Paris peace conference would veto the four-power foreign ministers council's proposal to internationalize Trieste.

Decrease in Injury Cases Reported Here

The number of injury cases and days lost from work reported by all non-academic university employees in the last fiscal year has decreased by 46, according to a report recently issued by R. J. Phillips, superintendent of the university physical plant.

Total payments under the Iowa workmen's compensation law, made by Commissioner Elmer P. Corwin of Des Moines have also decreased from last year.

There was a slight increase in the amount paid to the hospital for bills in accident cases. This increase over last year is explained by the fact that the total includes two sums paid by the university for hospital bills for non-compensation cases, Phillips explained.

Payment was made on only one death claim as against payments on three death claims last year. The waiting period before compensation payments began was decreased from 14 to seven days, and an increase from $14 to $18 a week per week maximum payment was allowed by a change in the workmen's compensation law.

A total of 1,064 days were lost for the year against 1,139 for the previous year.

The total paid by the commissioner was $2,990 and that paid by the university $1,733 for the year.

Average cost per case was $16.81.

Rev. B. E. Brugman Takes Chaplain Duty At St. Thomas More's

The Rev. Bernard E. Brugman, dean of men at St. Ambrose college in Davenport, is taking the place of the Rev. Walter J. McEleny as chaplain of the state hospital for St. Thomas More's chapel during the three weeks the Rev. Mr. McEleny is on vacation.

Father Brugman is the brother of the Rev. Leonard J. Brugman of the Catholic Student center.

Father McEleny's vacation includes spending one week at his home in Clinton, and the other two weeks on a fishing trip in Michigan. He will return to Iowa City about Aug. 3.

Disinfecting Process May Improve Water

Better tasting drinking water may result from experiments now under way at the Iowa Water Service company.

The new process, known as the chlorine dioxide method, is used for disinfecting, and for removing offensive taste and odors from the water. It will be used in conjunction with present methods, manager Dwight W. Edwards reported yesterday.
