GOOD MORNING, IOWA CITY!

It will be a little warmer today, but the weatherman just won't let a Saturday go by without some clouds and brief light showers.

Republican Convention Nominates Bergeson

Sioux City Attorney Defeats Wayne Ropes

Secretary of State Candidate Succeeds Miller on GOP Ticket

DES MOINES (AP)—Rollo H. Bergeson, 35, Sioux City attorney and World War II veteran, received the Republican nomination for secretary of state at the party's convention yesterday.

Bergeson was nominated on the second ballot, receiving 2,109 of the convention's 3,027 delegate votes, while Secretary of State Wayne M. Ropes, who led Bergeson by 252 votes on the first ballot, received 905. The other 13 votes were scattered among other candidates.

Second Defeat for Ropes
It was Ropes' second defeat for the nomination to succeed himself. The Onawa man lost the nomination in the June primary to Earl G. Miller of Des Moines, former secretary of state, whose death last Sunday night left the nomination vacant and in the hands of the convention.

Bergeson will oppose M. P. Hogan, Dubuque, Democratic nominee, in the November election.

Bergeson served as deputy secretary under Miller from 1939 until the Sioux City man entered naval service. He recently returned to civilian life and private law practice.

Early Ryan, Des Moines, Hughes Bryant, Mason City, and Jack Pinta, Manly, also were nominated for the post. On the first ballot Bergeson received 1,200 votes, Ropes 1,452, Bryant 200, Pinta 98 and Ryan 72, while the other five ballots were for persons whose names had not been placed formally in nomination.

Woodbury county, Bergeson's home county, put him over the 1,514 votes required for nomination when it cast its 90 votes for him on the second ballot. Completion of the second ballot gave Bergeson 1,622, Ropes 1,371. Then the switch of numerous counties began, to give Bergeson the final tally of 2,109 votes.

Bryant Withdraws
Following the first ballot, Bryant announced his withdrawal, but Polk county gave him two of its 181 votes anyway. On the second ballot Ryan got 10 votes and Pinta one.

Those counties which swung heavily to Bergeson on the second ballot were Allamakee, Butler, Clark, Clay, Clinton, Des Moines, Floyd, Hamilton, Jasper, Kosciusko, Lee, Marion, Muscatine, Polk, Washington, Wayne and Wright.

Delegate S. F. Wadden of Sioux City placed Bergeson in nomination. Wadden described Bergeson as a world war veteran, experienced in the affairs of the office of secretary of state, and one who holds high ideals.

"Now is the time to start at the bottom to look for young and vigorous leadership," he said in appealing for a place on the major office ticket for a young Republican.

Adopt Resolutions
Amid the confusion of tabulating the votes, the convention accepted without reading, the recommendations of the resolutions committee. Highlight of the resolutions which form the party's platform for the general election campaign, was a recommendation for payment of a bonus to World War II veterans.

The recommendation was almost verbatim the same as one adopted by the Democratic state convention. Both read:
"We recommend the payment of a bonus to World War II veterans in such amount and at such time . . . the Republican recommendation added, 'at such time as shall be decided by the state legislature, guided by the recommendations of the various veterans' organizations and approved by the citizens of Iowa.' The Democratic recommendation added 'at such time as shall be advised by a committee appointed by our candidate for governor (Frank Miles), composed of representatives of the various armed service organizations and civic groups.'"

High Command Inspects A-Bomb Survivors, Reports Battleship Nagato May Sink Soon

ABOARD USS APPALACHIAN, BIKINI (AP)—The high command of the atomic bomb test took a quick, perilous ride through the target fleet yesterday and found that the Japanese battleship Nagato might soon be added to the toll of major warships sunk by Thursday's underwater explosion.

Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, commander of the joint crossroads task force, toured the fleet in a gunboat with top members of his staff and a small group of correspondents. He found these results apparent:
No trace whatever of the battleship Arkansas and an oil tender, both of which were sunk almost instantly;

Oil and air bubbling up from the grave of the aircraft carrier Saratoga, which sank seven and one-half hours after the blast;
An increasing list to the 32,720-ton Nagato, which was tilted only two degrees Thursday but had increased to eight by noon yesterday, and was at a much sharper angle by sundown;

Transport Fallon, 15-degree list; one tank-landing craft, found floating bottom up, another found adrift;

Congress OK's All-Civilian Atom Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress finally sent a bill for all-civilian domestic control of atomic energy to President Truman yesterday and the White House said it was "one hundred percent in line" with the president's views.

The house put its final stamp of approval on the bill yesterday after a fight in which critics cried in vain that it represented "appeasement" of "potential aggressors." The senate ratified it a short time later.

The "appeasement" cry was raised in protest against the all-civilian character of the bill. The house had voted for at least one military member, and not more than two.

It set up a five-member civilian control commission; gives the government, through the commission, a virtual monopoly on inventions and patents in the field of atomic energy; provides the death penalty for major violations of security with intent to injure the United States, and directs that a member of the armed forces head the division of military application under the commission.

The vote came after Rep. Thomason (D., Tex.), one of the McMahon bill's supporters, told the house General Dwight D. Eisenhower had approved the compromise version.

Rep. Thomas Martin (R., Iowa), heatedly assailed the compromise. "Foreigners are laughing up their sleeves at you for appeasing them," Martin told his colleagues. "This is no time to set the stage for the first Munich of World War III. This is what you're doing."

Destroyer Hughes, beached to prevent sinking;
No survey of submerged submarines, five of which were previously reported on the bottom but about which Blandy later expressed doubts.

Nor was there any trace of the weapons craft below which the bomb had been suspended.
The Blandy party was able to stay only a half-hour in the violently radioactive area, and even then it was announced that every member of the party had been exposed to five percent more rays than was considered safe.

Elton C. Fay, Associated Press correspondent who made the trip, said it was evident that the deadly contamination of air, sea and solid objects was one of the major characteristics of the atomic bomb, quite aside from the instantaneous effects of its heat and blast.

Admiral Blandy told a news conference aboard the Appalachian that he considered the radioactive effects on crews aboard target ships would have been extremely serious.

Hazardous, he said, "It is probable that personnel on deck would have been goners—if not immediately, at least later on."

Reorganization Bill Boosting Solons' Pay Reaches White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A raise in pay for the nation's lawmakers and sweeping changes in their methods of working became virtually assured last night as a congressional reorganization bill was sent to President Truman.

The bill, on which the senate completed congressional action this afternoon, would raise pay of senators and house members from $10,000 a year to $12,500, plus a $2,500 tax-free expense allowance.

The senate had originally voted for a straight $5,000 salary increase, but accepted the house plan for a $2,500 raise plus the allowance. The latter plan will net the legislators some $480 more than the original senate proposal, because of the tax-free feature.

Mr. Truman is expected to sign the bill since he has suggested that congress members had a raise coming to them.

The measure also makes the legislators eligible for pensions by allowing them to make contributions to the federal retirement system.

It reduces the number of senate committees from 33 to 15, house committees from 48 to 19. Each chamber would have a single committee on armed forces, instead of separate military and naval committees.

U.S. Says Russia Created Hungarian Economic Crisis

OPA Restores Some Ceilings To June 30 Level, Eases Others

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reborn OPA yesterday poured out price orders in large batches, raising or removing ceilings on thousands of items and making its first day of new life the busiest of its turbulent career.

Most goods simply reverted to the ceilings of June 30, under the OPA revival act signed "with reluctance" by President Truman Thursday night.

But OPA celebrated the end of its 25-day lapse of activity by wielding its congressionally-shorn powers in a tremendous show of vitality.

Prices were raised on shoes, coal, oil burners, rubber heels, cotton rugs, chinaware, galoshes, and a long list of building materials.

Ceilings Swept Away
Ceilings were swept away completely from major types of industrial machinery, the output of which amounts to $2,000,000,000 annually; from a wide range of household items like awnings, fruit jar rings, medicine droppers, rubber floor mats and some clocks; from nearly all the furs not previously exempted; and from thousands of building hardware and equipment items.

For other manufacturers—such as those making staplers, razor blades, glass light shades and automatic pencils—the way was open to apply for higher prices on their lowest-cost lines.

All these actions were pending when OPA expired. Still to come are a flood of increases authorized under the OPA act now in force.

Gasoline Prices Increase
Gasoline price increases were signalled while OPA's mimeograph machines chattered. In New York Socony-vacuum Oil company announced an increase of nine-tenths of one cent a gallon on gasoline and solvents, effective today in New York and New England.

Kerosene and distillate fuels will rise seven-tenths of one cent and industrial fuel oils 30 cents a barrel, the company added.

Petroleum is exempt from price control indefinitely—along with eggs, poultry and tobacco—unless the three-man decontrol board provided by the act orders a restoration of ceilings.

The Standard Oil company of Indiana announced a 25-cent-a-barrel increase on all grades of crude oil purchased in the mid-continent and rocky mountain fields. Four other companies followed suit.

Automobiles May Go Up
OPA meanwhile buckled into the job of figuring higher prices demanded under the new law. Automobiles may be among the first to go up. Officials said that popular-priced cars may rise an average of about $100, rather than $75 as predicted earlier by the agency. The regulation may be ready in a day or so, to meet requirements that dealers' pre-war profit margins be restored.

Price Administrator Paul A. Porter warned, however, that OPA will in general "not rush to the rescue of sellers who paid high prices in anticipation of unloading at still higher prices."

Porter said in a statement that congress has expressed its view that price and rent levels should be restored to those of June 30, and in general this is the case, he added.

Despite the exemptions of many foods from ceilings "approximately 40 percent of all foods remain under control," he said.

All agricultural products now under ceilings will remain under them until at least Sept. 1, when the Secretary of Agriculture certifies which items are in short supply.

A prediction that food price rises which have occurred in the 25 OPA-less days are likely to become permanent was voiced by Sen. Taft (R., Ohio). He termed the new bill "far more inflationary" than the one Mr. Truman vetoed on June 29.

"The net result of the President's action has been to bring about the very inflation he pretends to abhor," said the Republican author of one of the original OPA amendments to which Mr. Truman objected.

Taft also demanded an "immediate announcement that beef and grain ceilings will not be restored. These, along with dairy products, cottonseed and soy beans, are to go back under control Aug. 21 (See OPA, Page 5)

Porter said in a statement that congress has expressed its view that price and rent levels should be restored to those of June 30, and in general this is the case, he added.

Austrian Parliament Defies USSR Claims

Votes to Nationalize Many Key Industries Sought by Russians

VIENNA (AP)—The Austrian parliament defied a Russian warning yesterday by voting to include some Soviet-claimed industries in an Austrian nationalization program, and decided to seek United Nations aid to uphold the Potsdam-promised integrity of Austria as a nation.

The parliament unanimously approved nationalization of 81 key industries, including some claimed by Russia as German reparations. A Russian note had warned the government against interfering with these, among them the Zisterstorf oil fields in Soviet-occupied territory.

It also voted to ask the U. N. for permission to send a delegation to its next meeting to put the country's case before that body.

At stake, Austrian sources said, was whether the Russians will leave enough of Eastern Austria to make a nation, and whether the drain of steadily increasing claims will enable her ever to achieve industrial recovery or actual independence, as promised at Potsdam.

The vote repudiating the Soviet claims came three hours after Chancellor Leopold Figl had read a Russian note which declared: "The German properties in Eastern Austria are at the disposal of the Soviet military command, and any infringement of its (the command's) orders and regulations in connection with these properties will be prosecuted vigorously by the same."

The Russians had claimed 13 industries in that area, including the great Zisterstorf oil fields, the Danube Shipping company, and banking, mining and manufacturing companies.

The Russian note said that these 13 among the list of 81 earmarked for nationalization were considered Russian property.

The Soviet has claimed them on the grounds they were taken forcibly from the Austrians by the Germans after the Anschluss in 1938 and should not be considered German assets.

There was no immediate reaction here to the vote by the one-chamber parliament. But under the Allied control agreement, any Austrian legislation is subject to approval of the Allied Control Council.

The bill was supported by the four Communist members of parliament. All Austrian parties were agreed on the general principle of nationalization, but the Communists wished to nationalize hundreds of firms.

Byrnes Lists Aims of Future Foreign Policy

Troops to Leave Italy Following Treaty; Plan Offered for Palestine

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—On the eve of Secretary Byrnes' departure for the Paris peace conference, the United States last night sharply accused Russia of creating economic chaos in Hungary by stripping her of vital food and industrial materials.

It disclosed also a direct appeal to Foreign Minister Molotov for Soviet cooperation with America and Britain in rehabilitating the former satellite of Germany.

The state department made public a letter which Ambassador W. Bedell Smith delivered to Molotov Tuesday containing the appeal. The letter also declared that the Red army had been stripping Hungary of foodstuffs while the Russian government had removed $124,000,000 worth of manufacturing equipment and is currently absorbing 50 percent of Hungary's industrial production.

The strong protest may overshadow a fight over Hungarian reparations at the peace conference.

The blast at Russia was given out by the department shortly after Byrnes held a news conference at which he made these major points on American foreign policy operations:

1. The United States intends to pull its troops out of Italy within the specified 90-day period after final signing of the Italian peace treaty. Byrnes does not consider the necessity of maintaining supply lines to Austria is any excuse for keeping Allied forces (American and British) in Italy once the treaty is effective. Presumably, Byrnes will apply the same reasoning to try to get Russian forces removed from Bulgaria after the signing of a Bulgarian treaty.

2. The Anglo-American cabinet meeting on Palestine has recommended a plan for the partition of Palestine. Presumably, this means settling Jews and Arabs in different zones under a federalized British control administration. Byrnes, Secretary of War Patterson, and Secretary of Treasury Snyder conferred with President Truman late yesterday afternoon (See BYRNES, Page 5)

Georgia Mob Slays 4 Negroes

SHEET IS PLACED OVER BODY of one of four Negro mob victims in a Monroe, Ga., funeral home by Coroner W. T. Brown. The four Negroes, two men and two women, were seized while riding with a white farmer, and were taken into the woods and shot. (AP WIREPHOTO)

MONROE, Ga. (AP)—The mob spirit has flared among a group of armed but unmasked white men here resulting in bloody massacre of two Negro farm hands and their wives.

The grotesquely sprawled bodies of the victims—the coroner said at least 60 bullets were pumped into them—were found in a clump of bushes beside a little used side-road.

The hands of the two men were bound behind them. The hands of the women were free. The upper part of the bodies were scarcely recognizable from the mass of bullet holes.

The women were sisters. The stark rural tragedy—first of its kind in Georgia since long before the war—occurred about eight miles from here late Thursday, but the story did not "leak out" until yesterday. Monroe is 40 miles northeast of metropolitan Atlanta.

A few hours later Attorney General Tom Clark's office in Washington announced that a "complete investigation" had been ordered into the multiple lynching.

The announcement from Washington said that the federal bureau of investigation would carry out the inquiry for the civil rights section of the department of justice.

The Negroes were shot by the mob which waylaid them while a white man, driving the farm hands to his farm in an adjoining county, was held at gun point but unharmed.

The slaughter came as the aftermath of the stabbing of a white man, Barney Hester, 22, a farmer, on July 15. Hester is still in a hospital here.

The cold, deliberate fury of the mob were the young Negro farm hand's wife, and another young Negro couple, George Dorsey and his wife.

The details of the killings came from the white man, Loy Harrison, who was taking them to his farm. Harrison said that the women nearly escaped the purpose of the mob.

The Negro men were taken out of the car first and led down the sidewalk. The women were held at the automobile. Then a member of the mob said one of the Negro women had recognized him.

"Get those damned women, too," the mob leader shouted. Several of the men then came back and dragged the shrieking women from the automobile. Then, a few moments later, Harrison heard the shots—many of them. The mob dispersed.

Jackson Asks Nazis' Conviction At Nuernberg Trial Summation

By G. K. HODENFIELD
NUERNBERG (AP)—U. S. prosecutor Robert H. Jackson demanded yesterday the conviction of 22 top Nazis as ruthless conspirators to wage aggressive war, and charged they were just as guilty as Hitler because they "put a loaded gun in his eager hands."

The British prosecutor, following Jackson in a summation to the international military tribunal, demanded that the Nazi leaders be put to death as "common murderers."

Jackson opened the prosecution's summation for the Allied nations against Hermann Goering and his 21-co-defendants after eight months of trial.

He assailed their defense pleas as "Nazi double talk" and declared: "If you were to say of these men that they are not guilty, it would be as true as say there had been no war, there are no slain, there has been no crime."

The chief British prosecutor, Sir Hartley W. Shawcross, asserted the prisoners were guilty of "12-000,000 murders—a band of men who participated in and directed 'the cold calculated, deliberate attempt to destroy nations and races through murder conducted like some mass production industry in the gas chambers and ovens" of horror camps.

Letting his eyes rove over the hierarchy of the Nazi regime that Hitler boasted would last a thousand years—Goering, Von Ribbentrop, Streicher, Schacht, Keitel, Jodl and the rest—the American prosecutor declared:

"What these men have overlooked is that Adolf Hitler's acts are their acts. It was these men among millions of others. And it was these men leading millions of others, who built up Adolf Hitler."

Jackson told the tribunal that "the pillars which uphold the conspiracy charge may be found in five groups of overt acts."

1. Seizure of power and subjugation of Germany to a police state.
2. Preparation for and actual waging of wars of aggression.
3. Warfare in disregard of international law.
4. Enslavement and plunder of populations in occupied countries.
5. Persecution and extermination of Jews and Christians.

The Choice Is Easy

The great strides taken in the field of medicine within the past ten years—the introduction and use of the sulfa drugs, penicillin and streptomycin, to name one phase—will certainly make life in the future happier and healthier.

To visualize a world just around the corner where disease holds no terror is not fantastic. Even universal application of the present knowledge of therapeutics and preventive medicine, to say nothing of the future advances which are inevitable, will bring us much nearer this millennium of health.

Another discovery whose future application will add comfort to all of our lives is the wonder insecticide, DDT. Consider a vacation in Alaska or Minnesota without mosquitoes. Consider a summer at home without a single fly to annoy you from dawn until time to get up, and all this without flypaper, swatters or screens.

Look at the revolution in transportation which has taken place since 1900, and imagine the advances in the next ten years. The rise of air transportation will put the entire continent within weekend reach.

The release of nuclear energy has laid before us the possibilities of a life so full of innovations that the most visionary of last decade's cartoonists can now be considered unimaginative.

We have seen so much scientific advancement at such an accelerated rate for the past five years that we have subconsciously adopted the attitude that "anything is possible with science." It is not a tax on our imaginations to foresee rocket trips to the moon, which science had reached out and touched with radar, and to the planets, and beyond.

What a beautiful heritage for our generation to leave the next! A life without the sorrow of premature death; a life with the annoying discomforts removed; a life of experiences bounded only by the experiences of the universe; a life of unlimited knowledge!

But science has done more for us. It has given us the "Buck Rogers," or proximity fuse, which detonates only when it is within lethal range of the target, thus eliminating the "near miss."

We now have Loran, a system of navigation with accuracy limited only to the accuracy of a map and the width of a pencil mark, making location of the target a certainty.

At the disposal of man are rockets that travel faster than sound and farther above the earth than man has ever penetrated. And to guide them we have the versatile radar.

There is the atomic bomb. The vast destructive power of this weapon is familiar to anyone who looked at pictures and read of Hiroshima and Nagasaki and Bikini.

We have not been acquainted with the potentialities of bacteriological warfare—methods of eliminating populations of entire continents by exposing them to uncontrollable plagues. But there have been indications in congress that such possibilities are being experimented with in our own laboratories.

This, too, is the heritage that we of World War II leave mankind. Shall we pass it off with a cliché about taking the bitter with the sweet?

No, for if civilization is to state the sweet there can be no bitter. When we recognize the alternatives of our choice for the future we understand that there can be but one choice.

The difficulty of our task is not to choose; it is to make our choice a reality—to prevent the alternative of chaos from being thrust upon us on the eve of attaining Utopia.

How best to face this task has been the common property of mankind since the first philosopher spoke of a selfless life. The remedy has been prescribed for ages, but we have ignored it because we said we were not ill.

For humanity to recognize its grave condition, then, is the pressing need of this late hour, for only then will humanity accept the remedy.

What can we do in this crisis of the world's ills?
 We can lay down this paper, and sit for five minutes and think; think of a mad world with atomic rockets crashing as fast as the clock ticks; think of a ravaged world whose only maimed survivors are doomed to death in a few hours from radio activity; think of a once verdant world turned to a cinder overnight.

If we can loose our imaginations for five minutes until we actually feel terror from what we know can happen here, then we can answer the question:
 Are we ready now to partake of the remedy?

UN and the League—Have We Progressed?

There is a growing feeling that the United Nations organization is merely a re-establishment of the old League of Nations. Some say we are playing at peace and that we have no chance to succeed.

Such attitudes are dangerous. They lead us back to nationalism and isolationism and away from world cooperation.

To understand the real value of UN, consider this:
 For the first time, we recognize that there is not a fundamental equality of nations. UN is founded on the historical fact that such organizations depend on the great powers for their very existence. Small nations will not or cannot enforce the decisions of a world organization, even when they want to.

That is not to say that we have merely legalized power politics. Rather, we have approached the problem realistically. We have power to enforce. We have attacked the balance of power politics directly and avoided the old system of "balances of power."

UN does have a weakness: it depends on unanimity of the several great nations. That weakness is justifiable, however. It is one we cannot avoid. No matter how we disguise it, world cooperation cannot exist unless world powers agree. By stating this and facing it squarely, we have come a long way. There is good reason to take heart in the fact that the organization recognizes world problems and puts them on a table to be dissected and discussed.

The realization of these problems, the objective study of them, is the first step toward understanding and correcting them. It is foolish to become discouraged because there are differences of opinion and method. Face it; that is the democratic way.

That is not to say UN is the solution to all our problems or that we should glow with rosy optimism. If we do, it shall surely peter out and die. As a nation of thinking people, we must back UN actively, with an eye to strengthening it and expanding it to meet our needs. We must make the organization dynamic and thereby pave the way for world government.

Whatever the weakness of the United Nations organization, the fact must not be minimized that it is a greater step toward world peace than we have ever taken.

Britain's KO Policy in Palestine

By BETTY KAUFMANN
 The Anglo-American committee of inquiry into the repatriation of displaced persons, has completed its task in Washington and has returned to England. The holding of the first meetings in the United States served to bring to the committee the impact of American public opinion and an indication of the strong support which Americans of all creeds give to Zionist aspirations.

The case was developed by Zionist witnesses, who laid down two major tenets:
 1. while the problem encompasses the homelessness of the displaced persons, it is wider and deeper than this one aspect.

2. the Balfour Declaration, (for the establishment of Palestine as the national home of the Jewish people) and the Mandate (which commissioned Palestine as a mandate territory) constitute directives in the consideration of the problem.

The need was established; the legal rights were affirmed. With every session a broader canvas was unfolded.

What have the Jews done to meet need and advance opportunity? More than a half million had come into Palestine.

How had they dealt with land and people? Had they built or destroyed? Had they harnessed the gifts of nature for the good of man, garnered from the earth? The story was told of how the Jews had gone to a backward, pestilential land and labored to lift it out of the sloth of mediocrity and into health and prosperity.

Men of vision and skill, experts in the conservation of water, in the reclamation of soil—bold planners of large development schemes—presented a program for the extension of absorptive capacity and the development of agriculture and industry. They stated categorically that their schemes were practicable and realizable and would bring blessings to all the inhabitants of the land and, indeed, to adjacent lands.

The testimony moved forward. Accomplishments were described, a better future was shadowed. The hearings in London, next stopping point of the committee of inquiry, will take place against a different background. They will be held on the home soil of a government charged with violating the mandate through the continued application of a White Paper which has curtailed immigration into Palestine to a mere trickle. If Mr. Bevin is, indeed, the true exponent of his government's Palestine policy, there is ground for the further charge that that policy is guilty of having already prejudged the case on Palestine despite the current investigation.

Mr. Bevin's statements to the house of commons and to a group of American correspondents, made several months ago, were shocking enough. He retreated from the public promise that pending the receipt of the recommendations which the committee of inquiry will make in the matter, there would be no interruption of Jewish immigration at the then present monthly rate. This drew mass criticism and protest from those who demand integrity in public relations.

While we watch in dismay, the appeasement like a hydra-headed serpent raises yet another head. Mr. Bevin's recent announcement of his government's recommendation that Transjordan become a sovereign independent state was coupled with the statement that under these circumstances, the question of placing Transjordan under the trusteeship does not arise. With regard to Palestine, which is under the same mandate as Transjordan, the British foreign secretary declared that it was necessary to await the Anglo-American committee's report before putting forward any proposals.

Since the Palestine mandate covers Transjordan, it would seem only proper that no decision be taken on the future status of one part before the recommendation for both sections can be considered. To those familiar with the appalling illiteracy and backwardness of Transjordan, and its dependence upon British financial support even for the maintenance of its primitive economy, the inevitable question arises, Why the rush?

The boldness of the game which is being played so soon after the costliest war in history is frightening. So-called independent Transjordan will have a seat in the United Nations. Does Great Britain hope by jumping the Arab gun to gain another supporting vote?

In the meantime, while the Near East game is played on an old and familiar chess board, despair nubs the bodies of those who are housed in the Displaced Persons camps, and a lack of certificates dulls the hope of the survivors. Death and chess—are they really the mood of our world?

the reclamation of soil—bold planners of large development schemes—presented a program for the extension of absorptive capacity and the development of agriculture and industry. They stated categorically that their schemes were practicable and realizable and would bring blessings to all the inhabitants of the land and, indeed, to adjacent lands.

The testimony moved forward. Accomplishments were described, a better future was shadowed. The hearings in London, next stopping point of the committee of inquiry, will take place against a different background. They will be held on the home soil of a government charged with violating the mandate through the continued application of a White Paper which has curtailed immigration into Palestine to a mere trickle. If Mr. Bevin is, indeed, the true exponent of his government's Palestine policy, there is ground for the further charge that that policy is guilty of having already prejudged the case on Palestine despite the current investigation.

Mr. Bevin's statements to the house of commons and to a group of American correspondents, made several months ago, were shocking enough. He retreated from the public promise that pending the receipt of the recommendations which the committee of inquiry will make in the matter, there would be no interruption of Jewish immigration at the then present monthly rate. This drew mass criticism and protest from those who demand integrity in public relations.

While we watch in dismay, the appeasement like a hydra-headed serpent raises yet another head. Mr. Bevin's recent announcement of his government's recommendation that Transjordan become a sovereign independent state was coupled with the statement that under these circumstances, the question of placing Transjordan under the trusteeship does not arise. With regard to Palestine, which is under the same mandate as Transjordan, the British foreign secretary declared that it was necessary to await the Anglo-American committee's report before putting forward any proposals.

Since the Palestine mandate covers Transjordan, it would seem only proper that no decision be taken on the future status of one part before the recommendation for both sections can be considered. Coeds Should Dress For Comfort

TO THE EDITOR:
 A journalistic crusade is currently in progress with hopes of supervising the coed's appearance and behavior. These qualities should not be considered peculiar to the female species alone. If it is assumed to play an important part in a woman's social contacts, it should play an equally important part in a gentleman's.

But why dress to please the masculine intelligentsia? Is not personal comfort and satisfaction far more important? The woman that dresses and behaves for the benefit of others can not at the same time be true to herself. If it's blue jeans that suits mid-lady's fancy, then blue jeans it should be. Let the male population groan... they would do well to concentrate on mental capabilities rather than directing the femme fatale department.

On the other hand there's the appearance of "Joe College." So what if he does look like he stepped right out of Esquire and fell flat on his face? He's being more honest with himself than the preening coed whose main concern is masculine approval.

Let the lad who has such a squeamish abdominal system wrap himself around the drinking fountain all day if he wishes; we refuse to trip daintily to class undressed as a G.I. pin-up!

James D. White's Interpreting the News...

Some United States marines in North China are thinking about their "face."

They figure Chinese Communists kidnaped seven of them to make the whole corps lose face. The seven now have been released.

Leathernecks are trained to land, get a situation in hand, and keep it there. The fact that members of this rugged outfit are concerned about their face raises two questions: What is face anyway, and how can the proud devildog permit it under his skin?

Face in the Orient is perhaps an acute sense of what we think of as pride, self-respect, prestige. It's acute because Orientals are (1) more mannered than we, (2) poor and crowded.

The complex manners of the east are pitfalls into which the unwary can stumble and lose face. The poverty and crowding are more important, as they shove sensitive people together with few of the good things of life to be-muse them.

A man's self-respect becomes precious, the only shred of individuality he has left.

This may have nothing to do with the real worth of a man, or of the United States marine corps. It has everything to do with the way anyone becomes face-conscious in a face-conscious world.

The marines are out on a limb. Marines coming back from North China say so. They keep a railway line open, and some of the towns along that line are held by Nationalist troops, some by Communists.

The Communists badger the marines to leave. The Nationalists want them to stay, because if they leave the Communists might attack.

The marines are on such a ticklish spot that they can't even hunt for kidnaped members of the corps with their usual verve.

That's because they're supposed to be neutral in a situation where few other elements around them even know what neutrality means, and where doing their assigned job obviously helps one side.

Gromyko Reiterates Demand for Outlaw Of Atomic Weapons

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia yesterday reiterated its demand that the production and use of atomic weapons should be outlawed almost immediately by an international convention as a first step toward setting up world control of atomic energy.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate to the United Nations atomic energy commission, told a committee of the group in explaining his plan that "one of the first steps toward realization of control over atomic energy is the prohibition of the production of atomic weapons."

This viewpoint clashed with the Baruch plan which calls for such outlawing only after adequate safeguards have been set up.

"We ask why nations should produce stockpiles of atomic weapons if we all agree that atomic energy should be used only for the benefit of mankind," Gromyko said.

The Soviet delegate said he could see no serious obstacles to his suggestion "for the destruction within three months after its conclusion (the international convention) of all stockpiles of atomic weapons and of unfinished weapons."

He then added: "The only obstacle could be the wish not to place all discussions on a practical basis with the purpose of finding a practical solution to the problems."

John M. Hancock, who represented the United States at the closed meeting of the committee, commented that all delegates were agreed on the outlawing of the weapon but that apparently "we still disagree" as to whether there should be a separate treaty providing only for the outlawing of the weapon and ending of production.

Unions to Decide Student Labor Issue in Housing Construction

Company OK's Student Help

Manager of Project To Confer at Once With Local Officials

Local unions will decide the question of whether or not student labor will be used in the building of the 680 emergency housing units to be constructed here for married veterans, according to R. D. Sharp, project manager of Metcalfe-Hamilton Construction company, who arrived here yesterday.

Sharp said that as far as the company was concerned, employment of student labor would be "all right." He will contact the local union officials either today or Monday.

He arrived here with a representative of the federal public housing administration, J. W. James, and two other company men—Jack Zeigler of the Omaha branch and Nelson C. Martin, project auditor.

FPHA Prediction 'Optimistic'

A prediction released by the Chicago FPHA office that the barrack-apartments would be completed by Oct. 29 Sharp described as "a little optimistic." He said that it is a little too early to estimate just when work on the barracks will be finished, but that the company's official notice to proceed won't be effective until next Wednesday.

After the construction work on the barracks is completed, utilities for the units will still have to be installed by other companies working under university contracts.

Foundation work for the barracks will be started about a week from Monday, Sharp said. The first area to be worked on will be on Finkbine golf course, where 143 barracks, or 286 units will be erected. Next, the area below the Finkbine site, where 11 barracks will be located, will be cleared.

To Use New Barracks

Sharp said that the barracks, to be shipped from Baton Rouge, La., will be of new, packaged material never used before. Sharp and Martin will remain in Iowa City until the project is completed.

Contracts for the utilities of the 680 units were awarded yesterday to Carstens Brothers of Ackley for construction of water and sewer lines and to W. P. Russell of Iowa City for installation of electrical lines.

Approval of the bids, the only ones submitted, was made by a representative of the state board of education.

The Carstens Brothers bids totaled $97,001 and that of Russell was $8,122.

Special Enrollment Ends at Noon Today

Students planning to enroll for the special four-week session beginning Aug. 8 must do so by noon today, according to Prof. Walter R. Goetsch of the liberal arts advisory office.

No new courses had been added to the four-week curriculum yesterday, and Professor Goetsch said he believed the session would open with 19 courses offered, as planned.

Anyone who fails to register today but wishes to attend the special session may see Professor Goetsch on Aug. 6 and Aug. 7 for additional instructions.

Enrollment is for a maximum of four hours credit, and students must be available anytime during the day for instruction. Designed originally for veterans only, the session was later opened to all students.

Dewey Named To D.A. Staff

Walter S. Dewey, former chief technician for Producer's Theatre Inc., at New York City, has been appointed to the staff of the dramatic arts department, Prof. Edward C. Mabie, speech department director, announced yesterday. He replaces Prof. Hunton D. Sellman who has resigned.

Dewey attended the University of Iowa from 1940 to 1942, studying for an M.F.A. degree in theatre technical studies. Before completing his work here he left to enter the signal corps where he served as a captain in New Guinea and the Philippine islands.

During two seasons at the Yellow Springs summer theatre, Yellow Springs, Ohio, in 1940 and 1941, Dewey was chief technician for 14 productions including "The Male Animal," "George Washington Slept Here," "Anna Christie" and "Peer Gynt."

He held posts as technical assistant at the Coach House theatre, Oconomowoc, Wis., and with the Shorewood players at the Shorewood Opportunity school, Shorewood, Wis.

In addition he served as technical director for the Wisconsin players, Milwaukee, Wis., and was active while a student at the university here in the production of many plays, including "Margin for Error," "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" and "Quality Street."

Dewey was graduated from Antioch college, Yellow Springs, Ohio, in 1938 and did graduate work at the University of Wisconsin in Madison the following year.

Gold Star Parents Select War Memorial For Johnson County

About 40 Johnson County Gold Star parents and interested persons met last night in the assembly room of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company, and selected a war memorial to be erected on the courtyard.

The meeting was sponsored by the American War Dads and was directed by Ernest C. Jacobs, president of the local organization.

Three monuments were selected and rated first, second and third. Jacobs reported that the purchasing committee of five will make the final selection after bids are received from monument companies.

It was decided that the monument should be made from pink granite, and should be dedicated to those who lost their lives serving their country in all wars. Names will not be inscribed on the monument.

The American War Dads have set $10,000 as the goal for subscription of funds for the monument.

University Announces Stenographic Openings For Qualified Workers

More stenographic job openings in the university are becoming available each day, with the supply of such workers now inadequate, Arlyn Marks, director of the office of nonacademic personnel, said yesterday.

Calls for workers with ability in shorthand and typing are in excess of the supply.

Marks indicated that the work was full-time and recommended that wives of veteran students and others qualified should make application at the employment office in the old dental building.

Final selection of applicants will still be made by department heads and administrative officers, but only persons whose qualifications have been approved by the office of nonacademic personnel will be eligible.

Ava Marie Van Duzer, daughter of W. H. Van Duzer of Ames and Arthur A. Lambert, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Lambert of Iowa City, were united in marriage at 4 p. m. yesterday at the First Congregational church with the Rev. James E. Waery and the Rev. F. A. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of pale yellow sheer material, designed with a V-neckline, cap sleeves and white lace trimming. This was accompanied by a small white feather hat and a single strand of pearls which had belonged to her deceased mother. Her bouquet was of yellow roses and white gladioli petals.

The bridesmaids wore street-length dresses of sheer material and corsages of pink roses. The bride's grandmother chose a black and white dress for the wedding and a corsage of pink carnations. The bride-groom's mother selected a brown and white sheer print and also had a corsage of pink carnations.

Redbirds One Game Behind as Dodgers' Winning Streak Ends

BROOKLYN (AP)—Fritz Ostermueller, veteran Pittsburgh southpaw, limited his former Brooklyn mates to seven hits last night in pitching the Pirates to a 5-0 shutout victory over the Dodgers. The defeat ended a six game winning streak for the National league leaders and trimmed their margin over the idle second place St. Louis Cardinals to one game.

Vic Lombardi, who started for the Dodgers, received poor support, errors by Bruce Edwards and Eddie Stanky helping the Bucs to four tallies.

The Pirates picked up their first run in the second when Ralph Kiner singled and rode over the plate on Maurice Van Robays' triple. In the fifth they chalked up four unearned markets and drove Lombardi off the slab.

Al Lopez who led off, was awarded first base on interference by Edwards, the Dodger catcher drawing an error. Ostermueller sacrificed and after Bill Cox fled out Elbie Fletcher beat out a hit to Stanky and, when the latter made a high peg to first, Lopez scored. Frankie Gustine walked and a double by Bob Elliott produced two runs. Kiner singled Elliott over the plate.

A paid attendance of 26,918 saw the Pirates gain their fifth victory in 14 meetings with the Dodgers.

Barron Leads All-American Golf

Mangrum Eliminated As Favorites Falter

By JERRY LISKA CHICAGO (AP)—Chunky Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., yesterday shot a second-round 71 to hold a one-stroke lead at the 36-hole mark in the $45,000 All-American Open golf tournament from which United States Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum was eliminated with a feeble 155 aggregate.

Barron, playing before a crowd estimated by Promoter George S. May at 32,285 was five-under-par for Tam O'Shanter's festooned course with 139, a notch ahead of plugging Ellsworth Vines, former national tennis star, who stroked a sparkling 69 for a half way total of 140.

Mangrum, who started Thursday with a 79, seven over par, took a 76 yesterday, and was automatically excluded from the 103 low-scoring pros assembled for the final 36 holes, 18 of which will be played today and 18 Sunday.

Professional stars eliminated besides Mangrum, included Craig Wood, Mike Turnesa, Johnny Gibson, George Schneider, Willie Goggin, Joe Esar, and Ky Laffoon.

Four strokes off Barron's pace with 143's were a quartet of lightly-reckoned pros including Henry Ransom of Dallas, Tex., and slender Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., who had 73's yesterday; Lewis Worsham Jr., of Bethesda, Md., who rapped a 70; and Otey Crisman of Miami Beach, Fla., with 72.

Defending Champion Byron Nelson was seven strokes off the pace with 146 as he took a par-matching 72 yesterday after opening Thursday with a weak 74.

A three-way tie for third-place at 142 resulted between Chick Harbert, hard-driving Northville, Mich., pro., and Chicago's Dick Metz who exploded five-under-par 67's yesterday, and Claude

Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., who had a 70.

Barron, whose last triumph this year was the Philadelphia Inquirer Invitational, started with a 34, two under par, and then slowed to a 37 on the return trip as he failed to better par and went one over on the 500-yard 15th.

Barron banged three birdies on his first nine, sinking a 10-footer on the 445-yard fourth, hitting the pin on a chip shot to drop inches from the cup on the fifth, and holing a seven-footer for a bird on the par five ninth.

The 6,760-yard Tam O'Shanter course continued to plague such favorites as Ben Hogan, nation's leading money winner, who had 76-70-146, in the same bracket with Johnny Bulla, Ed. (Porky) Oliver, Gene Kunes, Tony Penna, Fred Haas Jr., and Art Doering, winner of the 1945 All-American Amateur.

A stroke ahead with 145, six behind Barron, were Sam Byrd, Jim Ferrier and Jimmie De Maret, Sam Snead, British Open champion, limped along with 75-72-147, while Herman Keiser, the Masters' Open champion, was a stroke behind in the equally-crowded 148 bracket with a pair of 74's.

Earl Stewart Tops Amateur Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Sandy-haired Earl Stewart of Dallas, Texas, 1941 National collegiate champion, uncocked a two-under-par 70 to grab the 36-hole leadership in the All-American Amateur tournament yesterday with a 146 aggregate.

Walter J. Hodge, Dubuque, Ia., scored a 74 for a 36-hole total of 153.

Stewart, who won top collegiate laurels when he was at Louisiana State, assembled 34 and 36 for a three-stroke lead over four other simon-pure, including favored Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O.

Romping Through City League

OLD-TIME BASEBALL players played their annual game in Detroit yesterday and proved that a man is just as old as he feels. At left catcher Connie Lane, 76, the oldest player in uniform, sits under an umbrella between his grandsons. At the right Bob Rowland, 52, takes a cut at a fast ball. Catcher is Hubert Johnson, 64, and the umpire is Bill Byron, 74, formerly of the majors. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Iowa City Golf Opens Today

Two of Illinois' top amateurs will feature the opening day's play as Iowa City's Invitational golf tournament swings into action over the 2,810-yard Country club course at 8:30 this morning.

An entry list including an expected 125 of the leading golfers from four states will tour a 27-hole route today and tomorrow in pursuit of $100 in first prize money.

The opening day fireworks are expected to come from a foursome including Earl Wilde, 1946 Illinois state champion; Bob Reagan, winner of the Duquesne Invitational, and Johnny Hobart, king of the Illinois amateurs in 1945.

This group is expected to tee-off at 12:30 this afternoon.

The rest of the opening day schedule will be made up largely of local golfers, leaving the course free for an estimated 100 additional out-of-town entries tomorrow.

Wilde, Hobart and Reagan are expected to set a steep goal for Sunday's big guns to fire at. Wilde, in particular, will probably make a strong bid to crack the 110-stroke total that lanky Jack Purdum of St. Louis piled up in grabbing the Iowa City title last year.

Tomorrow's invasion will be headed by Johnny Jacobs, star of the University of Iowa links team and winner of the Big Nine and Iowa amateur titles earlier this summer. Jacobs, who has completely dominated Iowa golf this year, will be looking for new honors by matching strokes with Wilde and Hobart.

Others in the Sunday field will include Purdum, the defending champion; Walt Hodge, Tam O'Shanter qualifier, and Marc Stewart, 1946 Iowa City handicap champion.

Reveal Fine, Pardon In Bredon Dealings With Mexican Loop

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sam Bredon, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, was fined $5,000 by Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler for refusing to report personally on his June visit with the Pasquel brothers of the Mexican baseball league, but the penalty later was rescinded.

Bredon said he harbored no hard feelings. "As far as I am concerned it is a closed incident," he said, "and I have only the most friendly feeling for Commissioner Chandler."

The white-haired President of the Cardinals said a reconciliation was effected in Boston at a dinner given July 7 by Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey just before the annual All-Star game.

The rescinded penalty also was reported to have included a suspension of all rights of the St. Louis club for 30 days.

When asked if the fine actually had been paid, the Cardinal owner replied: "I do not care to comment on that."

Bredon explained in a statement yesterday that Chandler summoned him to a meeting with the commissioner and President Ford Frick of the National league in Cincinnati the Monday following his return from Mexico Saturday, June 22.

"I explained to Mr. Frick that after telling Jorge Pasquel (President of the Mexican Baseball league) that I came to Mexico City representing no one but myself that it seemed to me, were I to attend such a meeting, Mr. Pasquel would have the right to disbelieve my statement and think I went to Mexico representing baseball and the Commissioner's office," Bredon said.

"I did not attend the meeting on Monday, and the Commissioner called me on the phone and told me that I had to be there Tuesday morning. I told him that for the reason I explained to Mr. Frick I could not attend a meeting in Cincinnati before the joint meeting (of the Major leagues) in Boston."

"I did not attend the Tuesday meeting and on Wednesday I received a letter from the Commissioner fining me $5,000 and stating he would refuse me admission to the joint meeting in Boston."

VFW's Break Fifth Inning Tie To Defeat Smith's Cafe, 10-5

IOWA CITY SOFTBALL LEAGUE Standings: VFW 2581, Complete Auto, L. C. Plumbers, Kelly Oilers, Bremers, Yellow Cab, Wagon Wheel, Odd Fellows, Thirn, Merchants, Smith's Cafe, VFW 3949.

Smiths forged ahead in the fifth on singles by Brack and King and one Vet error.

Hora singled for the Vets in the fifth and advanced to third after an overthrow by King at first. Cole lined out a long fly to right and Hora scored after the catch, tying the ball game up again.

Then came the storm. Miller walked and advanced around on Kerlin's infield hit. McGinnis walked, filling the bases and Lepic drew a pass scoring Miller. Kerlin scored after Queck's long fly to center and McGinnis scored when Cole's fly was dropped by Walters. Lepic and Hora came across on Stahl's single.

With the score of five all going into the last of the sixth, the Vets combined two hits, four walks and two errors for a five run victory margin.

Joe McGinnis pitched five hit ball for the Vets, but Smiths scored a four run lead in the initial frame.

McGinnis issued three walks in a row, putting Verne Brack, Bob King and Bucky Walters on base. Brack scored on Doc Lind's long fly and three more runs came across on singles by Bob Lund and Bob Engleman.

Lepic led off for the Vets with a single and stole second. Queck got on by way of an error advancing Lepic who scored following Hora's long fly to center. Larry Cole singled, scoring Dal Queck.

In the last of the second, Merle Miller led off with a single for the Vets and he advanced to second on an overthrow at first. He scored by stealing home. The Vets scored one more in the fourth on fast base running and singles by Rudi and Miller.

Quick vs. Stafford In Publinks Finals

DENVER (AP)—Smiley Quick, stocky Los Angeles contractor, and 22-year-old Louis Stafford of Portland, Ore., a former tank corps machine gunner, will meet in the finals of the 1946 Public Links golf tournament today.

Quick took Robert Gajda, Detroit, Mich., 7 and 5, and the tactician Oregon State college student downed Robert (Pete) Doll, Louisville, Ky., 4 and 3.

THE BASEBALL SCOREBOARD

AMERICAN LEAGUE: Boston 6, New York 5, Detroit 3, Washington 4, Cleveland 4, St. Louis 3, Chicago 3, Philadelphia 3. NATIONAL LEAGUE: Brooklyn 5, St. Louis 2, Chicago 1, Cincinnati 1, Philadelphia 1, Pittsburgh 1. Today's Results: Philadelphia at Chicago—Bevens (10-6) vs. Hayes (3-7) or Hammer (3-4). Philadelphia at Detroit—Marchildon (5-9) or Harris (2-6) vs. Newhouse (19-3). Washington at Cleveland—Wynn (1-0) vs. Embree (6-7). Boston at St. Louis (night)—Harris (13-4) vs. Zoladak (7-8).

Phillies Edge Chicago, 2-1

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A single by first baseman Frank McCormick with the bases loaded and two out in the sixth inning gave the Philadelphia Phils two runs and a 2 to 1 victory over the Chicago Cubs last night before an estimated 25,000 spectators.

It was a pitching duel between Paul Erickson and Frank Hoerst until the sixth when Jim Tabor and Ron Northey singled and Del Ennis walked, filling the bases. McCormick then dropped a single in short center, sending Tabor and Northey home.

The Cubs scored their only tally in the fifth on a single by Bill Jurgens, a sacrifice by Erickson and a double by Stan Hack.

Giants' Late Rally Beats Pirates, 3-2

NEW YORK (AP)—Singles by Sid Gordon, Babe Young and Johnny Rigney brought the New York Giants two runs in the ninth inning yesterday and gave them a 3-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and also gave pitcher Johnny Gee his second consecutive triumph over the western club. Gee went the distance and allowed seven hits.

Charley Grimm Sees Bruins Still in Race

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The National league race is far from decided and the Chicago Cubs, winners of the 1945 pennant, figure to have a lot to say about it.

"It's still anybody's pennant," Charley Grimm, the banjo-strumming manager of the Cubs said before a night game last night with the Philadelphia Phillies. "We're seven full games back of the first-place Brooklyn Dodgers and 5 1/2 back of St. Louis but I'm not worried—yet."

Grimm refused to give an opinion on the comparative qualities of the Cardinals and Dodgers, adding a little bit ruefully: "Both of those teams are tough. For that matter, it used to be a fairly soft touch to come to Philadelphia but look at the way those Phillies are playing. Ben Chapman has them pepped up and we have a real battle every time we meet. For that matter, the entire league is well balanced and that's the reason anything can happen before they hand out pennants."

Pickets Withdraw

BROOKLYN (AP)—A union picket line thrown around Ebbets field yesterday in a dispute with Harry M. Stevens, Inc., ball park concessionaire, was withdrawn last night.

Bosox Wallop Browns, 8-5

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Boston Red Sox who had but one victory to show for five previous outings at Sportsman's park shelled their old jinx with a 15-hit barrage last night to wallop the St. Louis Browns 8 to 6 and make it nine out of 14 for the match to date.

Rudy York drove in four runs with a pair of singles and a double and Johnny Pesky collected three singles and a two bagger in the assault on Nelson Potter and his immediate successor, Cliff Fannin. Dave (Boo) Ferriss went the route for his 16th triumph against four losses although rapped for 10 blows.

York put the Red Sox away in front by singling with the bases loaded in the third, driving in two tallies, and his one-baser sent another runner home in the fourth after Pesky's single had driven in a tally. He drove in his four run in the eighth.

Iowan Carriers Lose

Pounding out 12 hits and taking advantage of five miscues, the Bears pulled the biggest upset of the Junior league baseball race yesterday afternoon when they trounced the league leading Daily Iowan Wildcats by a 17-4 margin.

Yanks Blast Lopat To Sink White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Yankees scored four runs in the sixth inning last night to beat the Chicago White Sox, 6-2, before a crowd of 34,118.

The Yanks knocked out Eddie Lopat during their four-run outburst after the Sox lefty had held them to but one hit in five innings. A hit batsman, two walks, and singles by Joe Gordon, Snuffy Stirrweiss and Tommy Henrich figured in the scoring.

The Yanks got their other two runs in the eighth when Souchock doubled and Aaron Robinson hit his ninth homer of the season into the right field stand. Floyd Bevens won his eleventh victory of the season with a five-hit performance.

Virg Trucks Rolls Over Philadelphia

DETROIT (AP)—Virgil (Fire) Trucks rode out a three-run Philadelphia storm in the first inning, stopped the A's with six hits and batted in the winning run yesterday as the Detroit Tigers nosed out the Athletics, 4 to 3.

Dean Clarifies Status Of Eastlawn Residents

After appealing to President Virgil M. Hancher Wednesday afternoon for an exact statement as to what university housing would be available to them after Eastlawn dormitory is turned back to women in September, married veterans and their wives now living at Eastlawn yesterday received a letter from Dean C. Woody Thompson of the office of student affairs clarifying their status.

Twenty-five of the couples who had been assigned to Eastlawn for the fall term or who lived in the dormitory all during second semester are given the choice between living in trailers or cooperative dormitories. Since the trailers are not ready for occupancy, assignments will not be made until near the time of the closing of Eastlawn, early in September. The remainder of the residents will be offered assignments to university housing facilities in accordance with the date of their first application to the housing service, subject to regular schedule of priorities as it affects couples with and without children.

on the plan, which Byrnes said Britain already has approved.

3. The United States will dispatch a special mission to Spain and Portugal on Aug. 7 to negotiate for recovery by the Allies of German assets in those countries.

4. Byrnes has no present plans for discussing German and Austrian problems during the Paris peace conference which opens Monday but may later decide to take up those problems with foreign ministers Molotov, Bevin and Bidault in separate, informal meetings of the Big Four.

5. Byrnes has promised Reparations Commissioner Edwin W. Pauley that he will consider Pauley's proposal to withhold German reparations from Russia as compensation for Russian removals of industrial equipment from Manchuria.

Byrnes is scheduled to take off for the Paris peace conference about noon today. In response to a suggestion from the Washington Post that the capital stage a demonstration as Byrnes departs on the historic mission, President Truman will lead a parade to the airport.

Byrnes said that one of his first actions in Paris will be to confer with the American members of the joint committee on Palestine and make final decisions about American policy on the partition plan.

The peace conference is slated to review Big Four proposals for treaties for Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Italy and Finland.

The Bedell Smith letter to Molotov flatly rejected a whole series of Soviet claims that Russia was not interfering with economic conditions in Hungary.

The letter, presented on direct instructions from Washington, sharply reminded Molotov that Premier Stalin, Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt had agreed at the Yalta conference to work together to help their "pressing political and economic problems." Smith frankly implied that the Russians were not living up to this agreement.

Russian reparations demands and the Red army's policy of living off the country were blamed as the causes of Russia's removals of materials from Hungary.

Mercer Explains State Committee to Masons

University building plans have to be approved by the state interim committee, State Senator LeRoy S. Mercer told Masons yesterday noon at the Masonic temple in pointing out the workings of the state interim committee.

Mercer, vice president of the Economy advertising company, cited as an example of an emergency measure the recent appropriation of $31,726 to take care of the rehabilitation of East Hall damaged by fire last spring.

Buildings erected with appropriated funds do not carry fire insurance, Mercer reported.

All building plans of state institutions have to be approved by the interim committee.

The group is composed of the house and senate chairman of the ways and means, appropriations, and judiciary committees plus 4 minority party members.

Senator Mercer has been serving on the state interim committee longer than any other present day member.

Each year the group inspects every state institution.

According to the code of Iowa the committee has the powers of a district court, and has the responsibility of reviewing the acts of the executive council as well as taking care of all emergency matters which arise between sessions of the legislature.

2 I.C. Boys Fined $5 in Police Court

Two Iowa City boys will pay $5 apiece to the city recreation commission today for burning a base bag on the Benson street playground baseball diamond, Police Judge John Knox said yesterday.

The boys are charged with setting fire to the bag and throwing it on electric-light wires to let it burn.

Upon payment of the $10, the charges against the boys will be dropped.

Fred Danico to Open New Sandwich Shop

Fred L. Danico of Davenport will open a new sandwich shop at 125 S. Clinton street Aug. 5, in the building which formerly housed the Marathon cafe.

Danico, who was discharged from the navy 17 months ago, said he has named the shop, which will seat about 50 people, "The Teakettle."

Danico will bring his wife and two children to Iowa City as soon as suitable living accommodations can be found.

To Broadcast Tournament

WSUI will present a broadcast from the Iowa City Country club golf course, scene of the Iowa City open golf tournament, at 2:30 p. m. today.

Bob Brooks, WSUI sportscaster, will handle the half hour program.

OPA—

unless the decontrol board rules otherwise.

Other senators cracked back sharply at the President's warning last night that the bill may prove inadequate and that he may later call congress into session to write sterner price rules and boost taxes to combat inflation.

If legislators are recalled to Washington after visiting with their constituents, predicted Senator Wherry (R., Neb.), they will wipe OPA off the map.

APL 'Disappointed'

President William Green of the AFL issued a statement saying his organization is "deeply disappointed" by the new OPA law.

"Unless industry and business exercise more self control than they have to date and voluntarily hold the line on prices, conditions may become insupportable to labor," he said. "Unrest will spread and a new strike wave may hit the nation."

The next major move is up to the White House, and Mr. Truman has stated it will come in a day or so. This is the naming of the decontrol board with power to overrule OPA on ceilings and to decide on restoration of those ceilings eliminated by congress at least until Aug. 21.

Increases Affecting Consumers

Directly affecting consumers were these increases, all effective at once:

Five cents a pair on rubber heels in shoe repair shops.

Five and one half percent on household oil burners.

Ten percent in retail ceilings on rubbers, galoshes and other rubber footwear.

Six or eight cents a ton on coal for household use, to cover freight rate increases.

Eight percent on certain shoes. Since these types account for 30

OPA Renews Rent Controls In Iowa City

New Rulings Strand Meat, Dairy Products At No-Ceiling Levels

By KEN EBLE

A tearful voice called Waldo Geiger, head of the Iowa City rent control office, yesterday, and told him how happy she was the revival of OPA would prevent the eviction of her family of four for refusal to pay a rent increase.

Some time later an irate man's voice bitterly assailed the renewal of OPA and tenancy regulations. He had just bought a house.

In the middle path, Iowa City retailers generally noted little change in the return of a revised OPA and took the attitude that things were right back where they started before OPA took an involuntary three-week holiday.

Busy OPA Office

Busiest place in town was the rent control office where Geiger personally talked to 56 persons wondering about OPA. Employees were swamped with calls wanting to know how the new OPA would affect rental prices.

In the office of the price control board, employees prepared to start anew the administration of price controls after 25 days without OPA and without pay. Checks for their work from July 1 to July 19, were just received yesterday.

Most of the inquiries regarding OPA came from tenants wondering about the restoration of rent controls. Foremost among the questioning tenants were those with eviction notices threatening them.

They wanted to know if eviction notices filed during the period without OPA could force them out in 30 days.

Geiger said that most tenants who received eviction notices but did not vacate their dwellings before today, would have six months to leave.

One local realtor said he had served notices for tenants to vacate by September 1, and had sold the houses now occupied. He said he would do all in his power to carry out the eviction plans.

Rulings in Effect

OPA rulings now in effect say that landlords must file eviction applications with the local rent control office. Main grounds for OPA approval of the applications are:

- (1) The dwelling is to be occupied by the owner.
- (2) The dwelling is to be occupied by a close relative of the owner.
- (3) The owner plans extensive remodeling or alteration to provide additional total housing.

If the eviction petition is approved, the tenant ordinarily will not have to move for six months after the filing of the petition. However, if the new occupant is to be a World War II veteran, the period may be as little as three months.

Eviction proceedings may continue for nuisance or non-payment of rent. Landlords must file notice with the OPA within 24 hours of the time the tenant is notified.

During the period without OPA about 110 eviction notices were served on local tenants by the sheriff's office and two constables. Other eviction notices have been filed through other channels.

Evicted Tenants

Tenants who have been evicted during the period without OPA will not be able to regain occupancy now. From now on, however, OPA rent regulations are in effect and violations will be federal offenses.

Geiger also pointed out that while rentals would now return to OPA ceiling prices, tenants could not reclaim increased rentals charged during absence of OPA.

During period without OPA, rental increases reported to the local OPA office averaged 40 percent above rent ceilings.

Other than rent, most pronounced price increases were made on meat and dairy products, items on which ceilings have not been restored.

Lard yesterday had climbed from 16 cents to 35 cents a pound. One merchant blamed the increase on shortages of fats and oils.

Meat and Dairy

High prices of meat and dairy commodities have caused a decrease in sales. One merchant said meat purchases were down 35 percent. Butter sales at a local creamery have dropped 50 percent since July 1.

Though butter reached a peak price of 78 cents a pound, 12 cents above ceiling, decreasing demand has forced it back down to about 69 cents, or just 3 cents above ceiling.

OPA ceiling prices on meat, poultry, fish, eggs, dairy products and tobacco will be restored August 20 unless the

Ronnie's Racer's Ready

Twelve-year-old Ronald Cochran, 426 N. Dodge street, will be one of about 40 Iowa City boys to line up Sunday on Riverside drive hill in the first local Soap Box derby since 1941.

The eager youngsters will coast their racers down the 800-foot hill to the finish line at 2 p. m.

The renewal of this annual event is as important to the boys as the Indianapolis speedway classic is to veteran auto racers. The winner of the race Sunday will go to Akron, Ohio, to compete in the national contest August 18.

Ronnie is too modest to make any predictions, but like the rest, he has his "sights set" on the national race.

One Month's Work
Ronnie worked on his car for about a month—from 10 to 12 in the morning and from 3 to 5 in the afternoon, every day except Saturday and Sunday.

He was one of 15 or 18 boys who built their cars at the Recreation center under the supervision of director Walter Smith.

Ronnie's car has an all-wood frame, and is covered with light rubber sheeting material. Most of the construction is of half-inch white pine, but the two axles are 2 x 4's about 30 inches long.

Steering and Brakes
An old sewing machine wheel serves for a steering wheel, and the shaft is set at about 30 degrees from the horizontal. The shaft has a wooden drum attached about half way down from the wheel, and a steel cable is wrapped around the drum. The ends of the cable are attached to the right and left ends of the front axle.

There is a hole cut in the floorboard so the brake lever can be on the inside. The lever is a strip of half-inch lumber with a handle formed on one end, and a rubber-covered block of wood on the bottom end. The rubber has a high friction coefficient, and makes a good drag brake. The center of the lever is attached to the floor board.

Cost $9.35
Ronnie's car is painted blue with white trimming. Total cost was about $9.35. The largest factor was the wheels which cost $4.95, and are made especially for the Soap Box Derby.

His sponsor, the Dombly Boot Shop, will pay the expenses connected with the race.

Cars Inspected
All the cars were completed and brought to the Nall Motors, Inc., garage yesterday for inspection. The cars had to meet qualifications of the national Soap Box Derby committee on all points, including length, height, weight, brakes, steering mechanism and general construction.

The derby is an original nationwide program of the Chevrolet Motor company.

Orchestra, Chorus To Present Verdi's 'Requiem'

Under the direction of Dr. Thompson Stone, visiting lecturer from Boston, Mass., the university summer session chorus and symphony orchestra will give the Manzoni "Requiem" by Verdi Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Iowa Union lounge.

Shortly after Rossini's death in 1868, Verdi suggested that his memory should be honored with the composition of a requiem in which all the most eminent Italian composers of the time should contribute one number.

The scheme seemed at first acceptable, but when all the numbers were assembled, the faults of the scheme, the inevitable lack of homogeneity and the clash of different styles were too evident. The idea was then dropped.

However, when Alessandro Manzoni died in Milan in 1873, Verdi, who had always admired the poet most deeply and sincerely, thought again of the "Liberia me" which he had composed for the Rossini requiem and decided to complete the requiem and dedicate it to Manzoni.

Soloists for Wednesday's performance will be Vera Scammon of Iowa City, soprano; Faye Von Draska, assistant in the music department, mezzo-soprano; Prof. Herald Stark, tenor, and Douglas Biddison, of New York City, baritone.

Free tickets for the concert are available to the public at the Union desk.

Durst to Head Art School in Arkansas

David Durst, instructor in the art department, has accepted a position as head of the art department at the University of Arkansas. He will assume his new post this fall with the beginning of the 1946-47 academic year.

In the fall of 1942, he entered the navy. Returning to his post here after being separated from the service in January, with the rank of lieutenant, he has been teaching during the current summer session and the second semester of last year.

Dr. Stone Appointed To Tufts College Staff

Dr. Thompson Stone, guest instructor in the music department, has recently been appointed head of the music department at Tufts college, Medford, Mass. Dr. Stone is also conductor of the Handel and Haydn Society in Boston, Mass., the oldest choral society in the United States.

In the capacity of guest instructor, Dr. Stone has been here at the university 11 times during the last 15 years. He has the highest praise for the university symphony orchestra.

"It is the best university orchestra in the country today, and that is due to the work of Prof. Philip Clapp," Dr. Stone said, when speaking of the orchestra. Professor Clapp is head of the university department of music.

Dr. Stone has studied in Vienna, Paris, London and Berlin. His daughter, Margaret, is a student here and a member of the symphony orchestra.

At the university chorus and symphony orchestra concert next Wednesday night, Dr. Stone will be the conductor.

three-man decontrol board rules an item exempt.

One merchant said that he did not think meat prices would decrease voluntarily to OPA ceilings by that date. Another said the August 20 deadline was too early to show a noticeable decline in purchases.

Most merchants have tried to hold the line on other items until increased wholesale prices forced a raise.

Exceptions are: an 11 percent mark up of some models of shoes of the first shipment received by one store here since the death of OPA; an increase of $6.54 for the first gas range received since price control lapsed; a rise in cleaning charges from the 65 cent ceiling to the 75 cent pre-war charge.

Post Office Receives Cancelling Machine For Centennial Stamp

The machine which will cancel the 3-cent Iowa Centennial postage stamp arrived at the Iowa City post office yesterday. The machine is capable of cancelling 500 envelopes a minute, and each cancellation will be carefully placed on the stamp on the first day cover.

An inventory of the 30 bundles of 100 thousand stamps each, which arrived in the post office two days ago, will be made before they go on sale Aug. 3.

The Chamber of Commerce is now preparing a souvenir program that will be circulated at the ceremony at 11 a. m. Aug. 3, at Old Capitol. Governor Robert D. Blue will receive the first sheet of the commemorative stamps.

Ralph Kennedy Dies In Tucson, Arizona

Report of the death of Ralph Kennedy, 44, at his home in Tucson, Ariz., was received here yesterday.

Mr. Kennedy had been a resident of Iowa City for 20 years before moving to Arizona a year ago. He was employed by Sidwell's dairy while here.

On July 25, 1925, he married Margaret Loving, who survives, along with three children, Ruth, Kathryn and Richard, all living at home.

Also surviving are: three brothers, William, Glenn and Dale, all of Iowa City; two sisters, Mrs. E. D. Perrin and Mrs. M. C. Swales, both of Corvallis; and his stepmother, Mrs. Pearl Kennedy, Conesville.

Funeral services will be held here. Details await the arrival of the family and the body from Arizona.
