Belgian Leader Assails Big 4 For Ignoring Smaller Nations

By LYNN HEINZERLING

PARIS (AP)—Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium assailed the Big Four yesterday for ignoring the smaller nations in preparing Europe's peace and for asking the smaller powers for recommendations only after severely handicapping them.

The outburst from the president of the United Nations General Assembly highlighted yesterday's proceedings in the peace conference.

In another phase of the battle between the big and small powers, the big four won out by a vote of 12 to 8 when the all-powerful rules committee approved a decision to rotate the conference chairmanship.

Meanwhile, Greece demanded slices of Bulgarian and Albanian territory and served notice on the peace conference that she expects reparations for the "material damage inflicted upon the country" by Italy and other invaders.

Spaak Attacks Big Powers

Spaak, in a bitter attack on the big powers, said:

"The great powers meet together among themselves. They prepare treaties without consulting us; they attempt to impose upon us rules of voting which, in practice, prevent us from securing acceptance for our points of view; they place us before the painful dilemma of accepting—sometimes against our own judgment—what they have drawn up or else destroying an agreement that has been achieved only with difficulty, and then, finally, having thus handicapped us, they ask us to make them a few recommendations."

The new territorial claims against Hitler's former southeast European empire highlighted yesterday's activities which included these developments:

British Backs Agreement

1. A British spokesman, declaring that a united front was expected by the Big Four on all matters of agreement in the five treaty drafts, expressed the opinion there would be no reopening of the Trieste settlement despite outspoken criticism by the Yugoslav peace delegation.

2. Britain announced she would join the United States in unqualified support of the agreed portions of all texts of treaties, but made it clear she would maintain freedom to press for her own views on those sections on which no agreement was reached.

3. In an effort to determine future British policy regarding disputed sections of the five treaty drafts, Prime Minister Attlee prepared to fly today to London for talks with his ailing Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin.

4. The Canadian delegation disclosed it would "closely question" the award of $1,000,000,000 in reparations to Russia and would ask for a complete review of the situation. Australia previously had indicated she would make a similar move.

Secret Service Holds Would-Be Assassin Of President Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—A self-styled "executioner" who threatened the life of President Truman awaits grand jury action, the secret service disclosed yesterday.

It did not identify the individual nor furnish any clues as to his whereabouts.

The information about the would-be assassin of the chief executive was incorporated in a report on the secret service activities during the past fiscal year.

While reticent as to further details about the man who is under arrest, the secret service classed his detention as "the most significant" of its activities.

Sees Increase In Revenue

President Pins Hopes On Prosperity, High Level of Employment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman forecast last night that a boom-time flood of tax collections he hadn't counted on before would wash out much of the deficit for the current fiscal year.

Thus he pinned his hopes on business prosperity and high level employment—which automatically bring higher tax collections—to better the heavily indebted government's position.

He bolstered those hopes with economy orders to federal agencies that could tighten the strings of the federal purse to the point of affecting veterans and the 48 states.

Linked with the efforts to cut spending was a presidential assumption that "taxes will be maintained at their present level" and a repeated declaration that

THE BUDGET IN BRIEF

Here are box-score figures in President Truman's revised budget estimate for fiscal 1947 and comparisons with the estimates he made in January:

Expenditures	$41,500,000,000, up from $5,500,000,000 from January.
Receipts	$39,600,000,000, up $8,100,000,000.
Deficit	$1,900,000,000, down $2,600,000,000.

"no further tax reductions should be made until the present inflationary situation has passed."

Mr. Truman, in a comment upon the relationship of the government's budget to the national economy, declared that inflation is "our greatest immediate domestic problem" and remarked:

"This situation requires that the federal government, as well as state and local governments, reduce expenditures and keep taxes at a high level."

Record Peacetime Budget

Boosting both revenue and spending estimates above the peacetime record figures he issued seven months ago, the President said it now appears the government will go into the red by $1,900,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947. That is less than half the $4,500,000,000 deficit he foresaw last January.

The jump in the prospective take, he added, would have balanced the fiscal 1947 budget and provided a surplus, too, if congress hadn't voted—with some degree of presidential approval measures adding $4,400,000,000 to earlier expenditure estimates.

Cost of Legislation

The President set out the cost of that legislation, expressed in billions of dollars, as: terminal leave pay, $2.4; increased pay for military personnel, $0.6; Philippine war damage and rehabilitation loan, $0.1; Philippine loan, $0.1; increased veterans pensions and liberalized benefits, $0.8; housing, excluding defense housing, net of receipts, $0.2; post office department pay increase, $0.2.

Of those measures, the President recommended only the two Philippine items. But he did not make any fight on others, and he put no blame on Congress for up-setting his budget program by passing them.

The President's statement indicated he had already headed off or directed cutbacks in spending, mostly by the war and navy departments and the maritime commission, that would have piled at least $4,200,000,000 more onto the spending total.

Army-Navy Cut Back

The army, specifically directed to cut back its program this year by $1,000,000,000, carried the big load in those orders. The navy drew a $650,000,000 curtailment and the maritime commission shipbuilding program one of $60,000,000 or an even 50 percent, for a total of $1,710,000,000.

The veterans administrator was told to "review and tighten certain standards for (pension and benefit) payments in order to protect the rights of deserving veterans and the national pocket-book."

"I believe that tightening of standards for veterans' programs, especially for readjustment allowances and on-the-job training, can bring considerable economies."

President Truman Arrives in Missouri To Vote Tuesday

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—A White House spokesman declared last night that President Truman will take no further part in Missouri's fifth district turbulent congressional campaign beyond his endorsement of Enos A. Axtell.

The President told a recent Washington news conference that he was opposed to the renomination of Roger C. Slaughter, Democratic fifth district representative, because of the latter's opposition to administration proposals. At that time he said he favored the nomination of Axtell, a former lieutenant commander in the navy.

Presidential press secretary Charles G. Ross, in a brief conference with newspaper men, told them that the president did not come home to campaign.

No Speeches

He said Mr. Truman planned no speeches and no "political huddles."

He came primarily to vote Tuesday in the neighboring fourth district in which Slaughter is not a candidate and to attend a birthday party today for his mother-in-law, Mrs. David K. Wallace, who will be 84, Ross said.

The campaign touch, however, was provided by the presence in the homecoming crowd of James Pendergast, head of the Kansas City political faction, who has teamed up with the president in an effort to defeat Representative Roger C. Slaughter in next Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Mr. Truman told a recent news conference he favored Axtell, that he had talked with Pendergast in his behalf, and that Slaughter had opposed his program as a member of the house rules committee.

The third candidate is Jerome Walsh, who has joined Slaughter in expressing resentment over presidential intervention in the campaign.

A line formed on the lawn in front of his old home and the president found himself shaking hands with scores of men, women and children. He called most of the men by their first names.

Ireland, Portugal Take Action To Obtain UN Membership

NEW YORK (AP)—Ireland and Portugal, neutrals in World War Two, have applied for membership in the United Nations, becoming the fifth and sixth countries to take such action since the United Nations got under way with 51 charter members.

The Irish application came last night in a terse cable from Prime Minister Eamon De Valera, who said "Ireland is prepared to accept the obligations contained in the charter of the United Nations."

In Washington Dr. Joao De Banchi, Portugal's ambassador, said last night his country's formal application had been sent to the United Nations acting secretary general. "We are ready," he said, "to accept full obligations of the United Nations charter."

Another request was expected momentarily from Iceland. Bids from Albania, Outer Mongolia, Afghanistan and Trans-Jordan already are under consideration by a security council committee.

De Valera acted under a recent unanimous vote in the Irish parliament and said at the time that Great Britain would support the bid. A British spokesman here last night confirmed that fact and there was no indication of any opposition to the request.

The prime minister said he believed Ireland would have a better chance of avoiding future war by joining the U.N., which he described as "not so valuable as it might be, but the best that can be got at the moment."

Ireland did not take part in World War II.

The Irish application came in the midst of considerable wrangling in the membership committee over procedure in handling the requests. Several delegations, including the U.S. and Great Britain, indicated they would oppose a final vote on the first applicant—Albania—pending study of all the others. Some delegates expressed belief that Russia might insist on an early ballot.

News Agency Says Chiang Has Peace Formula for China

NANKING (AP)—Government agencies boasted yesterday that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had suddenly found a solution for China's civil strife while government and Communist quarters quarreled over the circumstances of yesterday's aerial bombing of Yenan, Communist headquarters.

The government acknowledged the bombing but said it was directed solely at a grounded government plane which the Communists refused to return. The Communists admitted the plane was destroyed but said their military headquarters also was attacked.

The nature of Chiang's last-minute formula for peace was not disclosed by the government central news agency, which announced it. However, General Marshall, special United States envoy, flew hurriedly to the summer capital of Kuling to confer with the Generalissimo.

"I know President Chiang has found a ready solution, a political solution, at that—not one based on force, the government agency quoted Minister of Information Peng Hsueh-pei as saying at Kuling.

"If Chiang had a solution, it was in the nick of time, because the Communist reaction to the Yenan bombing was quick and angry.

Arabs Tell Pope Pius 'Fighting Men' Imported To Holy Land by Jews

ROME (AP)—The Jews are importing "fighting men" into the Holy Land, a five-man delegation told Pope Pius XII yesterday.

Joseph Sahyoun, spokesman for the delegation sent to place the Arab case in Palestine before the pontiff, said a memorandum given to the Pope by the delegation charged that the investigation of the recent sabotage of the Haifa railway shops proved it to have been the work of "refugees" who had arrived in Palestine three or four days earlier.

This led to the conclusion, Sahyoun said, that the Jews were importing fighting men.

Vet Waits 47 Years For Government Check

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—All things come to those who wait—and Robert E. McCann, a 66-year-old Spanish-American war veteran, waited 47 years for a government travel check.

McCann, a resident of the state soldiers' home, received a check in yesterday's mail for $378, reimbursing him for a trip home from the Philippines in 1899.

A member of Lafayette's company C, 23rd Infantry, McCann came home on his own from the Philippines rather than wait for government transportation.

He applied for reimbursement when he found he was due the expenses.

Congressmen Think Special Session Likely

WASHINGTON (AP)—Weary members of the adjourned 75th congress streamed homeward yesterday, almost all of them hopeful they will not be called back for a special session but with a few urging another meeting and a somewhat larger number fearing it will come.

One well-placed administrationist who would not permit use of his name, however, said he was sure the president is glad the lawmakers are gone and that the White House had no notion of calling them back unless something of great urgency arises.

Both the senate and house shut up shop last night on a sine die basis.

This means the end of the 79th, with no sessions until the 80th begins Jan. 3, unless President Truman summons the lawmakers back.

House speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told newsmen he had no indication from the White House that the chief executive will do that.

But several other key legislators declared they are afraid he will. In a typical comment to a reporter, Chairman Colmer (D-Miss.) of the house economic policy and planning committee said: "I'd be willing to bet we'll be back here by November, if not before, although I hope not."

Mr. Truman said, when he signed the OPA bill, that if economic problems get out of hand he will insist on a special session.

Colmer commented that he thinks some "emergency" is likely to develop which will prompt another meeting before January.

He also stated that many members believe the administration will insist on a special session "if by some chance the Republicans should gain control of the house" in the November elections.

Tennessee Vets Block Road to Prevent Return of Ousted McMinn County Officers

BULLETIN

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP)—A man identified by a spokesman at the McMinn county jail as a "member of the other crowd" was shot in the leg last night by a patrol of a law and order committee set up after county officers were routed in an election dispute gun battle.

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP)—Some 200 McMinn county men, mostly former GI's, armed with rifles and shotguns, set up a roadblock near the Polk county line last night, acting, they said, on rumors that ousted officers might try to fight their way back into the county.

The veterans were members of a group that routed sheriff Pat Mansfield and his backers from the county jail Thursday night in a rousing six-hour gun battle to back up what they claimed was a victory for their candidates in a bitter election contest.

The former soldiers asserted they expected no trouble but, before they blocked the highway, they had converted the county jail into a miniature arsenal "to be ready" for any eventuality.

An automobile was parked half way across the road about five miles from the county line on the direct route to Benton, Polk county seat, 15 miles distant.

The ex-GI's picked a strategic spot between high embankments for the barricade. All passing vehicles were slowed to allow scrutiny of their occupants.

Centennial, Brother, That's My Name!

OTTUMWA (AP)—C. T. McVey, Ottumwa farmer, feels right in line with the times as communities throughout the state celebrate Iowa's centennial as a state this year.

McVey's first name is "Centennial." He was so named by his parents when he was born in 1876, the 100th year after the outbreak of the Revolutionary war.

The Blast Heard Around the World

WASHINGTON (AP)—The mile high waterspout that the underwater atomic bomb created at Bikini made the target ships appear like a toy battle fleet sailing around old faithful geyser in full eruption. This spectacular scene was captured in two photos taken by automatic cameras. Apparently they caught the water column at its most magnificent point. The photographs, released yesterday to newspapers, were transmitted over the associated press wirephoto network. Experts who studied the pictures aboard the task force ship Appalachian near Bikini a short while after they were developed and printed speculated whether the battleship Arkansas may have been inside the giant waterspout.

U.S. Army Claims Two Russian Soldiers Involved in Delivery of Secret Documents

By RICHARD A. O'REGAN

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The United States army announced last night that two of the three Russian soldiers recently released by United States authorities in Berlin had forced German employees of the army to deliver secret American documents and had engaged in "clandestine activities" in the United States sector of Berlin.

"Forcing German employees of the United States army to deliver classified documents and information about the United States army and its policies.

"Possessing inadequate documents authorizing their stay in the United States sector of Berlin."

At the same time in Berlin, the three soldiers in question charged that they were "treated like criminals" during their detention in the American zone.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 4, 1946

Of Cabbages and Kings

By LAWRENCE DENNIS

Here's a story that has been going on since the round ever since Frank Miles' appearance in Iowa City last Tuesday evening. Whether or not the Democratic candidate for governor was the person who told it first is uncertain. But it does make Republicans blush.

It seems that Robert Hannegan, the Democratic national chairman, and Carroll Reece, his GOP counterpart, were having lunch together in Washington. Reece began needling Hannegan about the Presidential campaign, two years hence.

DENNIS

"Bob, who are you going to run in '48?" queried the Republican chief.

"We're not sure yet, Carroll," came the reply.

Reece, however, kept pounding away with the same question, insisting that Hannegan reveal the likely 1948 Democratic residential nominee. For a long while, Hannegan refused to commit himself.

Finally, though, after Reece had quizzed him for the umpteenth time, Hannegan answered in exasperation:

"Oh, don't worry, Carroll, we'll dig someone up."

Seized with sudden terror, Reece screamed:

"No, Bob, no—not that!"

President Truman's veto of the tidelands oil bill demonstrates once again that our chief executive is not lacking in administrative wisdom and political courage.

In refusing to sign the bill, which had the support of his friend, Edwin W. Pauley, the president alienated the oil company lobbyists who succeeded in pushing it through congress. As the onetime nominee for the navy undersecretaryship, Pauley had favored state, rather than federal control of the underwater property containing rich petroleum deposits. The vetoed measure would have given the states clear title to lands beneath international and navigable waters, as well as those off the continent's shores.

Outstanding opponents of the legislation were former Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes, who resigned last spring when the president failed to withdraw Pauley's name from nomination, and Senator Charles W. Tobey, Republican of New Hampshire, whose thorough conduct of committee hearings eventually forced Pauley to bow out as the nominee.

Together with Democratic majority leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, Tobey strenuously fought the bill in senate debate last week, but it squeaked through by a narrow ten-vote margin. The progressive New Englander charged that the oil lobby had "cajoled" senators into voting for the bill, while Barkley pointed out that it would permit private operators to "exploit" the valuable oil resources in the tidelands.

The president's veto thus sustained Ickes' original position and Mr. Truman's message to congress called attention to the fact that the supreme court had before it the question of ownership of the disputed tidelands, claimed by both the state and federal governments. He contended that the "jurisdiction of the supreme court should not be interfered with while it is arriving at its decision in the pending case."

It would not have been too difficult for the president to have signed the tidelands bill. By so doing, he would have sided with Pauley and other influential oilmen capable of giving the Democratic cause a financial shot in the arm. His veto probably cost him politically, because Pauley, as former treasurer of the Democratic national committee, carries lots of weight in high party circles.

While not as widely publicized as the Case bill or the first OPA, extension measure, the tidelands oil bill was nevertheless an equally strategic piece of legislation. When he vetoed the anti-labor and pseudo price control bills, the President showed that he was capable of alert, forthright statesmanship. He did not misjudge public opinion then and, from all indications, he has not done so now.

The tidelands veto was in the public interest. President Truman has shown considerable growth in stature since the unfortunate Pauley episode. It is to be hoped that the national welfare will continue to take precedence over personal loyalties and political ineffectiveness.

Later Hours Needed To Attain Maturity

TO THE EDITOR:

This is my first experience at writing to the editor of a newspaper. I have always felt that this type of writing was confined to neurotics of some type, but an "alarmed student" writing in your column has indeed shocked me into some neurosis.

What a bigoted mind to have compiled such thoughts, always there exists an undermath of suggestion. Could not those accusations of immaturity have been reflected in the author of that article? His passages concerning "juvenile faces peeping over the bottles of hard liquor." What was he doing in these night clubs? Was his role that of a juvenile "Peeping Tom?"

Veto Looms as Issue for Next UN Session

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
 NEW YORK (AP)—The veto right of the five great powers will be the big issue in the September session of the United Nations general assembly. It seems almost certain that the veto power will emerge unchanged.

This same veto power was the principal issue at San Francisco last year when the United Nations organization was set up. The United States delegation staunchly supported it. The little nations were told, in effect, that it was "veto or nothing."

No change can be made in the United Nations charter without the assent of all of the five big powers: China, France, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States. On the basis of present attitudes of those powers, the prospect is the veto will stand.

The line-up of the Big Five is roughly this: Russia—it is reported reliably in Soviet circles that Russia has the firm, definite and final conviction that the veto should stand without change.

The United States—Strong for the veto but favoring its use only on grave and serious occasions, such as the possibility of resorting to force to maintain the peace.

Great Britain—Also back of the veto, with the feeling that it must not be used lightly.

France—Sees the veto as a good insurance policy. Sitting between

Seven State Primaries Scheduled—Politics This Week

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's attempt to defeat Democratic Rep. Roger C. Slaughter in his home state of Missouri—and his risk of prestige should Slaughter win—holds top interest in seven state primaries this coming week.

Six of the primaries come off Tuesday—in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, New Hampshire, Virginia and West Virginia. Delaware Republicans have a primary next Saturday. Four senate seats are involved in the seven primaries.

Other highlights of the week will be:

1. Senator Harry F. Byrd's try for a third Democratic nomination in Virginia against the opposition of the CIO-PAC and his first primary challenger since he went to the senate in 1933.

2. A Kansas prohibition repeal scrap. Harry H. Woodring, former secretary of war under Franklin D. Roosevelt, seeks the Democratic nomination for governor. He favors repeal of the state's 65-year-old dry law.

Here is a summary of the outstanding fights in each state:

Missouri

President Truman is in Independence, Mo., his home, this weekend to cast his vote Tuesday in the 4th district, adjacent to the 5th, Representative Slaughter's district.

The president contends the 41-year-old congressman opposed nearly all of the presidential legislative recommendations as a member of the house rules committee.

Mr. Truman said he asked the Pendergast organization to back Enos A. Axtell, a former navy lieutenant who also is supported by the CIO-PAC. Labor is divided however, as most of the railroad brotherhoods are favoring a third man in the race, Jerome Walsh.

Senator Frank P. Briggs (D), who succeeded to Mr. Truman's senate seat, faces three opponents for the Democratic senatorial nomination. One is B. Marvin Casteel, St. Joseph, a lieutenant colonel in the recent war and former superintendent of the state highway

Kansas

The principal contests here are for nomination for governor.

Rep. Frank Carlson, now a Republican member of the house ways and means committee, is given the edge by state party leaders.

He has two opponents, William L. White, an engineer, and H. W. Turner, a former section hand.

Former Governor Woodring is favored to capture the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. His opponents are Fred Hinkle of Wichita, militant prohibitionist; Ewell Stewart of Topeka, another prohibitionist, and Worden R. Howat, a former county clerk.

Woodring has called for sale of liquor through state-operated stores. Carlson is a bone dry but says the people should have the right to vote again on repeal if they like.

New Hampshire

Here is another two-party gubernatorial scrap. On the Republican side is incumbent Gov. Charles M. Dale seeking renomination. His chief opponent is U. S. Rep. Sherman Adams. A third man in the race is Elmer E. Bussey, unknown to politics before.

There's a pitched battle on the Democratic side. Harry Carlson, a former New York businessman who recently resigned as an assistant to Commerce Secretary Wallace, is running against F. Clyde Keefe.

West Virginia

Senator Harley M. Kilgore's bid for a second Democratic nomination gets top billing.

He is the only candidate in either party having the public endorsement of the state CIO-PAC. Candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination are Thomas Sweeney, Wheeling insurance executive and former navy officer, and Claude R. Hill, ten-term mayor of the southern coal mining town of Oak Hill, a PAC critic.

Arkansas

Holds second Democratic primary for congress in five districts.

Delaware

Republicans hold a primary to name delegates to a state convention Aug. 14. The convention will pick a senatorial nominee.

Looking Ahead

Senators, Representatives Battle for Positions In Wake of Congressional Reorganization

BY THE WORLD STAFF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Intense behind-the-scenes fights for key committee posts are being waged by senators and representatives who are being displaced from their committee seats. The congressional reorganization bill drastically cut the number of committees.

Feature bout in the senate is between Senators Walsh (D, Mass.) and Thomas (D, Utah). They are chairmen, respectively, of the naval affairs and military affairs committees. These units will be absorbed into one committee on armed forces. Walsh is senior to Thomas, but Walsh is up for reelection. This leaves the issue in doubt at least until November.

Both house and senate usually elect members to committee posts according to recommendations. In the house these come from the house ways and means committee (who control that committee). The Republicans' own committee on committees makes Republican recommendations. In the senate, party conferences make the recommendations.

Look for a continual drive in the eightieth congress to restore some of the abolished committees and provide more committee jobs.

SMOOTH SAILING

ROME—Turbulent Trieste will quiet down, say on-the-spot observers, once the peace conference confirms the Big Four decision to internationalize the city. The proposed internationalization has flattered the inhabitants of Trieste, they say, because of the world importance the city thereby acquires; and if the economy is not hard hit, everybody there will be relatively happy.

PERSONALS

WASHINGTON—David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority (TVA), is rated by some insiders as the likeliest selection for chairman of the atomic energy commission. Through TVA he has been in touch with atomic work, and he is reputed to have the ardent support of Secretary of the Interior Krug.

CAPITAL ITEMS

WASHINGTON—The veterans administration expects much of the terminal leave pay for enlisted personnel to be spent on converting national service life insurance and paying premiums in advance. Watch for the justice department to expand its seven-state probe of the Ku Klux Klan to at least two other states. Several of those holding permits to build FM radio stations probably will lose them; the FCC thinks they've been too slow getting started.

POLITICAL CALENDAR

Tuesday

Arkansas—Democratic primaries in five congressional districts.

KANSAS AND NEW HAMPSHIRE—Primaries for governor and U. S. house.

MISSOURI, VIRGINIA AND WEST VIRGINIA—Primaries for senator and representative.

Saturday

DELAWARE—Republican primary to name delegates to convention Aug. 14, which picks senate and house nominees.

Tennessee Vets Take Politics Seriously

Trouble has flared in Athens, Tennessee, where veterans took the law into their own hands to oust the Democratic machine and install their own candidates. In the gun battle that raged around the county jail where deputies had retreated to count the ballots unmolested, 23 were injured, three of them seriously.

Election time violence is usually to be condemned. But was the outrage entirely unprovoked? In every instance the law, as represented by machine appointed deputies, seems to have used violence first.

The main election issue was a contest between State Senator Paul Cantrell and ex-GI Knox Henry for the position of county sheriff. The veterans' slate of candidates, known as the ex-GI Non-Partisan association, was pledged to political reform in a country that had been machine ridden for 10 years.

In the election Sheriff Mansfield had deputized over 300 men to "protect" the polls. (Mansfield and Cantrell are bosses of the local political machine and for years have been swapping the offices of state senator and county sheriff.) When veterans who were watching the ballots being counted complained of fraud they were forced out of the booths at gun point. Sheriff Mansfield then ordered the ballot boxes removed to the county jail around 9 p. m.

It was not exactly a quiet election. Up until 9 p. m. numerous fist fights had taken place between unarmed ex-GI watchers and Mansfield's deputies.

When the ballot boxes were taken to the jail an angry crowd formed. In the jail were 75 deputies and 20 ex-GI prisoners. One of the deputies yelled out that unless the crowd dispersed three of the veterans would be killed as hostages. This marked the beginning of a gun fight that ended when the ex-GI's had taken over the jail and appointed a committee to keep the peace, since all county officials had fled.

When the battle was over the campaign manager of the ex-GI Non-Partisan association issued the following statement:

"The GI election officials went to the polls unarmed to have a fair election as Pat Mansfield promised. They were met with blackjacks, and pistols. Several GI officials were beaten and the ballot boxes were moved to the jail. The GI supporters who went to the jail to get these ballot boxes were met with gun fire.

"The GI candidates had promised that the vote would be counted as cast. They had no choice but to meet fire with fire. In the precincts where the GI candidates were allowed watchers they led by a 3-1 majority."

When the veterans took over the jail they found the ballots thrown around the floor, many of them unmarked, evidence that the deputies had moved the ballot boxes to win the election by fraud.

The veterans were convinced that an ordinary recourse to "legal" means in a state dominated by Boss Crump's machine would have gotten them no place. This is not the first time the McMinn county machine has been accused of fraud. Several years ago charges of election irregularities led to the indictment of many Cantrell henchmen on federal charges. When the case came up in court the men were fined one cent each by the judge.

McMinn county's election was purely a local affair. It had nothing to do with the election of Boss Crump's Senator McKellar to the United States senate. Nevertheless it is an instance of rebellion from machine dominated rule that makes liberals take heart.

The means the veterans had to use are to be deplored. But how else are honest men to be protected in a machine dominated district? Returning violence for violence is not the best way but perhaps out of the courageous exploits of a few veterans may come a state law that will assure all citizens of honest handling of the balloting procedure.

Earlier to Bed—Earlier to Rise

The problem of how to handle the largest enrollment in the history of the University of Iowa this fall was brought home yesterday by the announcement from President Haneher that the class hour system will be drastically changed.

In order to make fuller use of the available classroom space, classes next fall will begin at 7:30 in the morning and will extend to 5:30 p. m. In addition, night classes may be scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

This means that possibly 12 classroom hours will be included in each day.

In taking this action, SUI is following the example set by other universities and some high schools throughout the country. There is no reason to believe that it will not work out successfully.

Probably the biggest achievement that such an adjustment will make is that of staggering the luncheon hour. University and city dining rooms and restaurants should find their job much simpler with the lunch period for most students extending from 11:30 to 1:30 instead of just 12 to 1.

One drawback of the change—and it can hardly be called a drawback since it is the natural reaction of any change—is the confusion which will probably result the opening day of the fall semester. The new plan calls for moving all the previously scheduled morning classes up one half hour and all the afternoon classes back a half hour.

Add this to the fact that many students registered for the fall semester way last May and will have probably forgotten what classes they are signed up for—and it's easy to see that generally things maybe a trifle tense along about the 23rd of September.

But the important thing is that fuller use will be made of the classroom space available and that this action is a step toward more individual attention for all students.

Flying Farmer Officials Return From Convention

Thomas Meade of Oxford, and Alec and Robert Young of North Liberty arrived at the Iowa City airport yesterday morning on their return trip from a Flying Farmer convention in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

Meade, president of the Johnson county Flying Farmers, flew his Taylorcraft both ways. Robert Young, vice president of the Iowa City club, and his father, Alec, also made the round trip in their Taylorcraft.

Police Court Assesses Overtime Parking Fines

Overtime parking fines of $1 were paid by J. J. Swanner, Vince Clear, Dorothy Darling, J. K. Pettit and Henry Kruse, in police court yesterday.

Walter Bennett paid a $2 fine for double parking.

Joseph Nolan had his bicycle impounded for three days for riding a bike without a headlight.

The owner of the first Pennsylvania oil well was George Washington.

Wedding Ceremony Unites Marie Noe, Eugene T. Larew

In a double ring ceremony, Marie Noe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Noe of Amana, became the bride of Eugene T. Larew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Telford Larew, 215 Woolf avenue, last night at 7 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church.

The service was read by the Rev. Mr. Pollock. Mrs. Thomas Muir was organist and Emaline Noe, cousin of the bride, sang. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown with a sweetheart neckline and long tight-fitting sleeves. The gown was fashioned in a lace bodice and net over tulle skirt, which fell into a senior train. Her fingertip-length veil, edged in lace, was caught to a tiara of white stephanotis. She carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Emma Hertel of Amana. She wore a pink lace and net gown and pink sequin cap and carried white gladioli and blue delphiniums.

The bride's mother was attired in a black sheer, white embroidered dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Larew wore a black eyelet dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

Richard Larew, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Robert Jeans of Iowa City, Billy Noe and Reynold Hertel of Amana.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors, with approximately 200 guests present.

The bride was graduated from Amana high school and from the college of pharmacy at the University. She was employed at the Paramount Pharmacy in Cedar Rapids prior to her marriage.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Missouri Military Academy at Mexico, Mo., and attended the university of Iowa before entering the service. After serving in both the European and Pacific theatres, he received his discharge in June. Mr. Larew will resume his engineering course at the university this fall.

The couple will make their home in Iowa City.

4-H Club to Hold Annual Exhibit Day

The annual achievement exhibit day of the Scott Lassies 4-H club will be held Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 4 at the home of their club leader, Mrs. Louis Lord, route 6. Mrs. Lord will be assisted by Mrs. Leonard Dohrer.

Sixty home efficiency projects made by the girls during the year will be judged during the morning and will be on display during the afternoon.

A pageant, "Centennial Fashion Flashbacks," will be featured during the afternoon. Club members will model 21 old costumes worn by their pioneer relatives and centennial music will provide a pioneer setting. This pageant will also be given at the county 4-H show August 14.

Also on the program will be a demonstration, cleaners carry-all, which will be given by Marjorie Hills and Esther Sladek. Alice Lord will play patriotic music and Joan Palus will give a reading.

Judges for the event will be Mrs. Arthur Schuessler of Lincoln township and Vlasta Frus of Iowa City.

Visitors, friends and mothers are invited to the event.

Vets Have No Trouble Getting Jobs Back

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark said yesterday that a justice department survey indicates 999 of every 1,000 veterans with reemployment rights "have had no difficulty concerning restoration to their old jobs."

Of about 4,000,000 servicemen with reemployment rights, only 4,531 applied to the department for assistance in obtaining their old jobs between July 1, 1944, and July 1, 1946, Clark told a reporter.

And of 4,511 cases, 1,123 "were settled by amicable adjustment" between United States attorneys and the veterans' employers, Clark said.

Figures compiled by the veterans affairs section indicate that New York state and Ohio lead the nation in the number of veterans who have sought the assistance of U. S. attorneys in reemployment matters.

Centennial Stamp Sales Total Over 900,000 on First Day

Governor, Admiral Get First Sheets At 11 a.m. Ceremony

Iowa City's Centennial stamp observance yesterday was termed a success by all concerned as the only chance to obtain copies of these stamps, cancelled on the first day of issue, swept into the past.

Dealers, collectors and interested friends purchased approximately 903,400 stamps by 6 p.m.

Officials stated that the total stamp sale here was one of the highest of recent stamp history.

The total of stamps sold here exceeded the sale of the Tennessee Sesqui-Centennial stamp in Nashville, June 1, where 864,700 were sold. The success of the Tennessee sale has been highly regarded in stamp circles.

At an 11 a.m. ceremony at Old Capitol the first sheet of stamps were "sold" by Joseph E. Lawler, third assistant postmaster general, to both Governor Robert D. Blue and Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, presidential chief of staff and Mr. Truman's representative at the ceremony.

Other participants in the program were: Postmaster Walter J. Barrow, presiding; Mayor Wilber J. Teeters; Dr. M. Willard Lampe; President Virgil M. Hancher; and President D. C. Nolan of the Chamber of Commerce.

Sitting near the speaker's place were members of the state centennial committee's stamp group, including William J. Petersen, Iowa City; Mrs. Dwight S. Humeston, Albia; Ralph Evans, Davenport; in addition to Mrs. Edith M. McElroy, executive secretary of the centennial committee.

The stamps went on sale at 7 a.m. at the postoffice and at the sub-post office in the Community building, as well as the Quadrangle, the Union and Whetstone's drug store.

The first private purchaser was Paul Stoner, G of Lawrence, Kan. Stoner bought 108 stamps.

Lawler explained the general feeling about the local issue, saying, "There is as much enthusiasm in Iowa City as I have ever seen in respect to a first day issue. The number sold has surpassed the territorial stamp sales in Des Moines in 1938."

The number of envelopes that passed through the cancellation machine at the postoffice totalled 259,000 by 10 p.m. last night. A total of 400,000 has been predicted. Robert Schnurr, cashier of the philatelic agency in Washington, said, "We expect to work steadily until about six p.m. Sunday to get the covers processed."

At the community building, sales center for covers and cachets, 15 professional stamp and cover dealers, who set up booths there, said they did a "normal first day's business."

No estimates were made on the number of people that visited the building, but dealers said that it looked like an average crowd of such events.

Nearly 120,000 covers were serviced at the building yesterday and last night. Dealers said that they will probably not finish processing customers' covers until Monday.

A postoffice sub-station set up at the Community building for emergency stamp sales to dealers sold 10,000 stamps in the morning and an amount estimated to equal that in the afternoon.

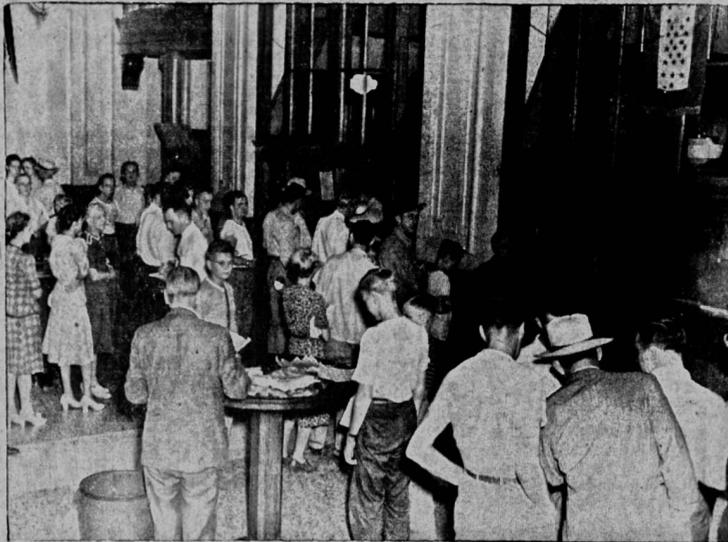

The Iowa City Stamp club's booth was out of cachets at 4:30, and L. W. Sweeney of the university college of commerce, club secretary, estimated that they had sold 10,000 cachets, including reserves.

Arrangements for the dealers were made by the Chamber of Commerce and the Iowa City Stamp club. Robert L. Gage, chamber secretary, was personally thanked by dealers for the facilities provided.

They drew a sharp contrast between the large, central room with spacious booths provided for them and the crowded hotel rooms in which they do business on other similar occasions.

Stamp Collecting Is 'Big Business' Philatelists Have Fun At First Day Sale

By KEN EBLE
Except for the signs on the tables in the Community building you couldn't tell the professional stamp dealers from the amateur collectors during yesterday's first day issuance of Iowa's Centennial stamps.

Palm-beach suits mingled with print dresses and denim overalls in the postoffice and community building as almost everyone seemed to gain a sudden interest in the philatelic world.

Children clutching handfuls of pennies to buy as many as a dozen stamps and a few cachets vied with out-of-town buyers laying down $20 bills for a dozen or more blocks of stamps and full boxes of cachets.

Lines were orderly and even the less-zealous collectors didn't mind the 10 to 15 minute wait to buy stamps.

Postoffice employees accustomed to selling stamps in blocks of 50 each, embarrassed one buyer who asked for "one" by automatically shoving a sheet of 50 across the counter. The man just wanted to mail one letter.

Cigarette Burns Stamps
At the community building, activity centered around the professional stamp collectors. Hard-luck prize fell to the small-town collector who watched as a carelessly-placed cigarette burned up two blocks of just-purchased centennial stamps.

Aside from selling of stamps, cachets and other collectors items, the dealers were busy sticking hundreds of stamps to first day covers for distribution to collectors from every state and abroad. The most definite impression that one gained from a visit to the Community building was that stamp collecting is big business.

Collectors and dealers behind the tables at the Community building were from all over Iowa and many places outside the state. As varied in character as stamp purchasers, there were dealers who had world-wide businesses and others who were dabbling in the business with only small capital and in a restricted area.

George Richardson
Stamp-men termed George Richardson, a government employee from Washington, as one of the biggest collectors at the exhibit. Richardson made the trip to Iowa as a part of his vacation just to be here for the first day event. He said, "The business pays for the trip." And he added that it was a nice trip, anyway.

The Lawrence twins, Ray and Roy, of Anamosa, Iowa, said they had been in the business 36 years. Editors of a monthly stamp collectors' newspaper, "The Philately News," the brothers were getting a lot of fun out of the event.

Ray went so far as to say, "Why, I'd give $10 an hour just to be here." Business at their table, as well as at other tables, was brisk enough easily to meet such an expense.

E. P. Haworth, Kansas City, Mo., a retired business-man now devoting most of his time to stamps, estimated that he would service 10,000 first day covers.

Assisting Mr. Haworth was Wesley Smith, Jefferson City, Mo., a county employee, who has been collecting both stamps and covers for 15 years.

Haworth said that he was dealing in first-day covers only. First-day covers are cancelled envelopes from the place where a new stamp is issued.

Stamp Collectors 'Mecca'
First-days are relatively rare and, therefore, one of the big events for collectors and dealers. Smith said that first-days averaged about 12 a year. The first great emphasis on cachets and covers began in 1936, and now first days have become the "Meccas" for collectors.

An army sergeant, M. H. Keeler, now stationed at Camp Atterbury, Indiana, was at one table. Keeler is taking his furlough to service first-day covers for a stamp company in Indianapolis, Ind.

A collector himself since 1932, Keeler will travel from Iowa City to Washington, D. C., to be present at the first-day issuance of the Smithsonian institute 100th anniversary stamp August 10.

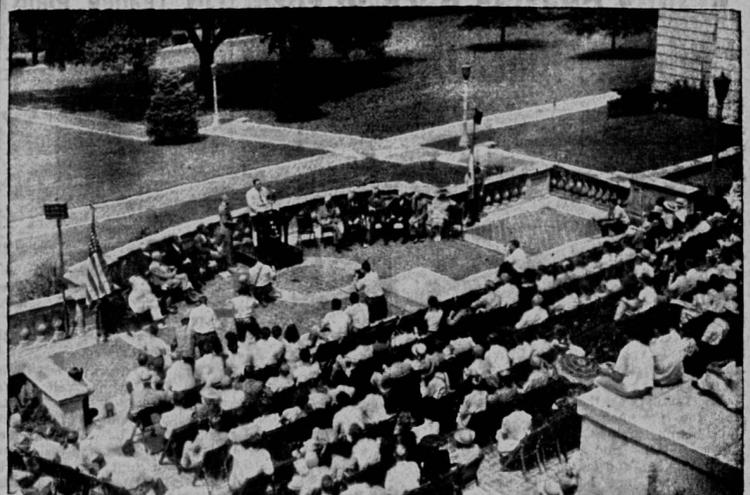

Other collectors at the community building were from St. Paul, Minn., Omaha, Nebr., Burlington, Cedar Rapids, Council Bluffs, Fairfield and Grinnell. Many collectors had spent hours of work making their own hand-designed for a few private cachets. Highest individual count on the total number of different cachets was 54.

'Sioux City Sue'
An elusive "Sioux City Sue" cachet, a cartoon of said lady on a first-day cover, caused many questions from interested collectors. The cachet turned out to be a private design of which only a few had been printed.

Most professional collectors had solved the problem of licking the stamps. Dealers in hundreds of stamps were using sponges or machines designed for the purpose. Know-how amateurs were getting around the taste of mucilage by licking the envelope corner.

One ingenious lad was trying to get his collie dog to do the task. The dog failed to cooperate.

CENTENNIAL STAMP CEREMONY

Stevens to Speak At Commencement

President Samuel N. Stevens of Grinnell college, will speak at the summer session Commencement Wednesday at 3 p.m. at the Iowa Union lounge. Prof. F. G. Higbee, director of convocations, said yesterday.

President of Grinnell since 1940, Dr. Stevens received a B.A. degree from Wesleyan college, Middletown, Conn., in 1921. Northwestern university awarded him both M.A. and Ph.D. degrees.

After completing his graduate work there, Dr. Stevens remained as a professor, and was assistant of the liberal arts college when he accepted the presidency of Grinnell.

Dr. William D. Coder, director of veterans service, will be master of ceremonies, and Dr. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, will act as chaplain.

The university orchestra, under the director of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, will play the processional and recessional, as well as the selection, "Jubilee," by Chadwick.

The 292 candidates for degrees are being issued tickets for the exercises to accommodate their guests. Admission to the lounge before 7:30 will be by ticket only.

To Celebrate V-J Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans will celebrate the first anniversary of Japan's surrender, Wednesday, August 4, as "victory day."

President Truman proclaimed the day as one "for solemn commemoration of the devotion of men and women by whose sacrifices victory was achieved."

Johnny Beazley Back in Form With One-Hitter Over Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Slim Johnny Beazley, in his best pitching form since he helped the St. Louis Cardinals into the 1942 world series, limited the Philadelphia Phillies to a lone hit yesterday as the Cards won 3-1 in a game ended by rain after five innings.

John Beazley

The victory pulled the Redbirds back to within one and one-half games of the Brooklyn Dodgers, beaten 3-2 by Cincinnati. Frank McCormick spoiled Beazley's bid for a perfect game with a fifth inning home run, his eleventh of the season.

Irv Dusak was the top hitter for the Cardinals, singling in both his appearances at the plate. He scored the first tally in the second inning, and another in the fourth when one base hits by Enos Slaughter, Dusak, Marty Marion and Beazley accounted for the winning two runs.

Michigan Cage Coach Changed

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Athletic director H. O. (Fritz) Crisler announced yesterday he would recommend to the board of regents that Osborne B. (Ozzie) Cowles of Dartmouth college be hired as the University of Michigan's head basketball coach.

Cowles, who produced seven Ivy league championships and one second place in eight years at Dartmouth, would succeed Bennie G. Oosterbaan, head basketball coach at Michigan since 1938 and recently named Crisler's No. 1 football aide as backfield mentor.

Oosterbaan said he believed the added responsibility of his new job would make it impossible to do justice to the basketball post and asked to be relieved of his duties.

"In recommending Mr. Cowles, I feel that we are extremely fortunate. He is absolutely, in my estimation, the best possible man for the position we could select," Crisler declared.

At Dartmouth Cowles compiled an .804 percentage record in eight seasons, with his teams capturing 74 out of 92 games.

Cowles was born at Brown's Valley, Minn., 46 years ago and attended Carleton college, Northfield, Minn., where he starred as a football halfback; basketball captain two years and baseball infielder.

His coaching career included tours of duty at Rochester, Minn., high school, Iowa State Teachers college and Carleton college where in six years he turned out three midwest conference championship squads.

VFW 2949	0	6	.000

In a move to aid the teams with predominantly student membership, the City league schedule has been revised. Tomorrow night a doubleheader will be played at the Hills lighted diamond.

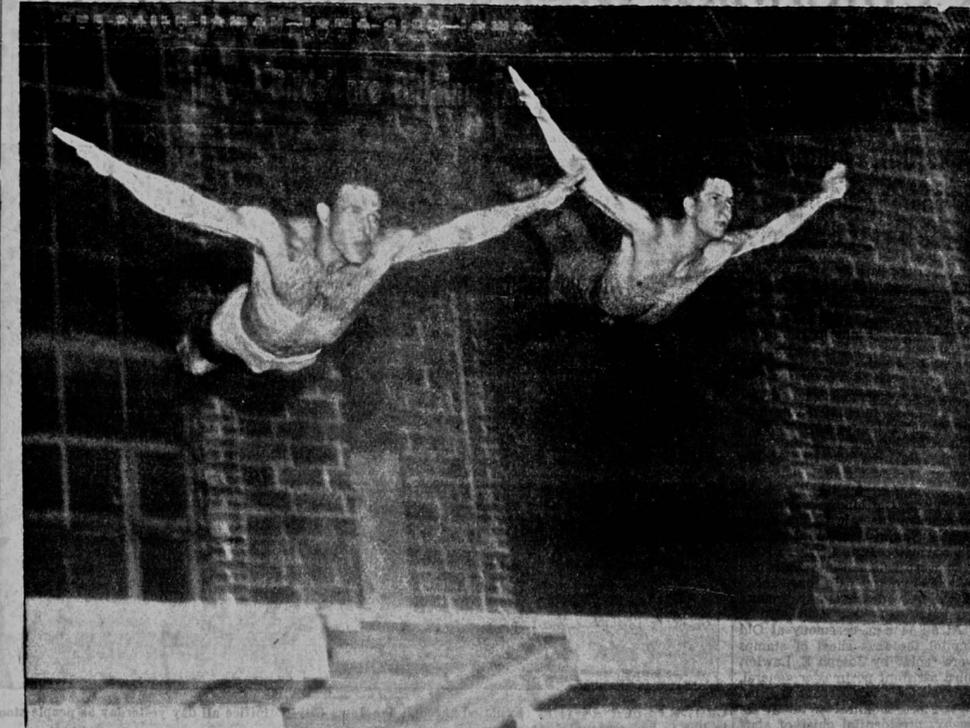

Complete Auto will face Bremers at 7:30 while Yellow Cab tangles with VFW 2581. Tuesday the league leading Vets play the Odd Fellows to wind up their schedule. The Veterans can clinch undisputed first place with victories in the Monday and Tuesday starts.

Last night the battle for the cellar between Smith's Cafe and VFW post 3949 ended in a 7-7 tie. Smitties drew first blood in the second frame on an error and hits by Blake and Lind.

The 49'ers tallied three in the third on a walk, doubles by Lett and Brogla and a triple by Stamp. They increased their lead in the fourth on two walks, a fielder's choice and two hits.

In the last half of the fifth, Smith's evened the score on an error, a hit and Bob Lund's home run. Doc Lind drove in the tieing run with a double but the Cafemen were unable to push across the winning run before the game was called on account of darkness.

These 'Birds' are Bidding For National Diving Honors

DAVE BROCKWAY (left) and Bill McDonald go through the paces that promise to give the University of Iowa two of the best divers in the country next season. Both were outstanding in armed forces competition during the war, with Brockway capturing the diving crown in the E.T.O. olympics in Europe last summer. The two are expected to put in a strong bid for the Big Nine and national diving honors that were dominated by Miller Anderson of Ohio State last year. At the present time, the two are working out in the fieldhouse pool under the direction of Coach Dave Armbruster.

Ransom Holds St. Paul Lead

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Henry Ransom of Houston, Texas, retained his leadership of the St. Paul $10,000 open yesterday by turning back a scoring drive by Lawson Little, burly Monterey, Calif., pro that produced the tourney's best score so far, a 65.

Once again it was a battle of sub-par rounds as Ransom finished yesterday with a five-under-par 67 for a 54-hole total of 202. Little's 65, combined with a 138 previously counted, put him just one stroke away from Ransom.

Ransom and Little ended the day with a fourstroke or better lead over their nearest competitors—Clayton Haefner of Charlotte, N.C., Dick Metz of Chicago and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C. Metz carded a 70 yesterday for a 207 total, matched by Abner with a 70, while Palmer had a 71.

Thus Palmer, the virtually unknown pro who previously had turned in the best score of the meet—a 66 in the opening round—remained very much in the running for the $2,000 first prize money which will go to the low scorer at the end of Sunday's 18 holes of play.

Sub-par rounds again were numerous as touring the "name" pros and the top amateurs assaulted regulation figures. In all, 25 scores better than 72 were recorded.

Ransom played consistent golf on all holes to snatch the lead from the reaching hands of Little. Little, former U. S. amateur and open and British amateur champion, got terrific distance with his shots despite the 20-mile an hour wind that plagued most of the field.

U.S. Thinclads Win Canadian Track Meet

MONTREAL (AP)—A fast travelling band of eastern seaboard United States trackmen overwhelmed an eastern Canadian squad at McGill university's Molson stadium yesterday by 121 to 20. The Canadian team failed to win a single first in the initial postwar international track and field meet, and their points came from the odd second and third place spots.

Two Canadian records tumbled to the visiting athletes. The women's 440-yard relay mark was lowered by 1.8 seconds as the winsome American foursome of Alice Coachman, Tuskegee, Ala., Kay Gevey, Philadelphia, Eleanor Millheiser, New York and Nancy Cowperthwaite, New York, passed the baton flawlessly to lower the old mark of 51.8 to 50.2 seconds.

Bernie Mayer of New York, heaved the shot a distance of 51 feet 5 1/2 inches for a new mark that eclipsed the former record of 49 feet, 7 1/2 inches.

Braves Beat Chicago As Spahn Wins 4th

BOSTON (AP)—Warren Spahn, slight left hander discharged from the army less than two months ago, won his fourth game last night as the Boston Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-1 before 24,535 fans.

Spahn, who has lost but one game since returning from combat, was found for only six hits and struck out a like number. He walked but one Chicago batter and that free trip did not figure in the scoring.

The lone run for the visitors came in the sixth inning which Peanuts Lowrey opened by doubling off the left field fence. The Cubs' left fielder advanced to third as Billy Herman threw out Phil Cavarretta and scored on a center field single by Andy Pafko.

The Braves scored twice in the second. Bama Rowell, on first after a fielder's choice which erased Masi who had singled, went to third as Sturgeon booted Carden Gillenwater's grounder. Nanny Fernandez doubled to score Rowell, Gillenwater going to third.

Spahn struck out, but here Dick Culler crossed up the Cubs by bunting safely, scoring Gilly.

Dodgers Slip, Lose to Reds

League Lead Cut By Cincinnati Rally

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers blew yesterday's game with Cincinnati 3-2 with two out in the ninth inning and saw their National league lead once again cut to a game and a half as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Philadelphia Phillies.

Ahead 2-1 with nobody on the basepaths and only one more man to retire, Kirby Higbe walked Benny Zientara. The next batter, Ed Lukon, lifted a fly in short right field. Ed Stanky faded back for it, collided with Dixie Walker and the ball bounced out of his glove for a two-base error scoring Zientara.

Bob Usher, running for Lukon, then tallied the winning run on Al Libke's sharp single after Grady Hatton had been intentionally passed.

Dave Ferriss Tames Detroit's Bengals

DETROIT (AP)—The slugging of tall Ted Williams and the effective hurling of Dave (Boo) Ferriss, who won his 18th game of the season, put the Boston Red Sox back on the victory trail yesterday as they beat the Detroit Tigers 5-3 to crack a three-game losing streak.

Williams, batting in the first inning after Wally Moses had singled and Johnny Pesky who doubled, poked his 29th homer of the year to put the Sox out front 3-0 before Freddie Hutchinson had retired a man.

Walks to Williams and Rudy York and Don Guttridge's two-bagger made it 4-0 in the fifth before the Tigers made their bid. The Tigers batted around for three unearned runs in the seventh on a pair of walks, Roy Culenbine's single, doubles by Hoot Evers and Pat Mullin and Johnny Pesky's costly error.

Two-baggers by Dom DiMaggio and Wally Moses scored Boston's fifth run in the eighth inning.

Flam Captures Tennis Crown

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Herbie Flam, wiry Beverly Hills, Calif. juvenile ace, swept to his second successive National Junior tennis title yesterday by defeating blond Herbert (Buddie) Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. 6-3, 9-7, 6-2.

Flam, moving swiftly and flawlessly across the court to counter Behren's strategy, kept intact his two year record of never having lost a set in the tournament by winning the first three out of five.

He was national junior title holder in 1945 and won the national boys' title in 1943.

Second seeded Gilbert Bogley of Chevy Chase, Md., captured the National Boys' singles tennis championship by downing Jerry Dewitts of San Francisco, 7-5, 5-7, 6-1.

Dewitts, third seeded, won his way into the finals with a sensational 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 victory Friday over the favorite, Keston Deimling, Jr., of River Forest, Ill., at the same time Bogley was handuffing Ernest Durbay of San Francisco 6-3, 6-0.

Bogley and Deimling teamed up to win the boys' doubles crown 6-3, 6-4 from two Texans, Jack Turpin of Dallas, and Julian Oates, of Waco.

Run Hambletonian Wednesday

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—The buggy whip "Man O' Wars" get together Wednesday in the 21st running of the corn-fassel derby—trotting's $50,000 Hambletonian stakes—and if history repeats, Chesterton should come bouncing home the winner.

The first chapter in this history was written when Bill Cane, who owns the triangular track on which this derby is trotted, sold a little number named McLin Hanover practically on the eve of the 1938 running, and McLin Hanover came trotting home in front with a winner's $37,962 paycheck.

Last week, Cane sent Chesterton out to victory in the national stakes at Old Orchard, Me., and off that win the Son of Volomite, who never got to the post last season as a two-year-old skyrocketed to the top of the pack as the Hambletonian favorite.

best-two-of-three heat trotting classic, it's no sure pop that Chesterton will be first to the paying teller when they cut up the $50,000 pot.

As a matter of fact, two fillies, Deanna, last year's two year old champion, and Westfield Girl, a stablemate of the great Greyhound from the barn of E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., are drawing as much attention as a couple of movie glamor gals. And Victory Song, a $37,000 yearling buy owned by Mrs. James B. Johnson of Rochester, Mich., who has long been known for her show horses rather than her trotters, has considerable backing off his stunt of winning one of the heats of the national at Old Orchard. He is a kid brother of Volo Sing, the 1943 Hambletonian champion.

In the dark-horse set are Walter Spencer, stablemate of last year's winner (Titan Hanover) from the barn of E. Roland Harriman, boss-man of the Hambletonian society; Onolee Hanover, a filly owned by C. M. Saunders of Toledo, Ohio, who won the National Stallion at Saratoga Thursday night, and Don Scott as "unknown quantity" from the barn of Will N. Reynolds, the Winston-Salem (N. C.) tobacco man.

Taft Wright Homers To Beat Senators

CHICAGO (AP)—Orval Groves' three hit pitching and Taft Wright's sixth home run of the season combined to give the White Sox a 1-0 victory over the Washington Senators before 4,082 fans.

Every Senator who reached base was cut down in a double play as the Sox executed five twin killings to move into the league lead in that department with 119.

Grove, in compiling his fifth win of the season, did not allow a hit until seventh. His mates were able to collect eight hits off Ray Scarborough. Wright added two singles to his home run in the fourth inning into the right field stands for a perfect day at bat.

The game was completed in one hour and 27 minutes.

Historian Ties Record HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Historian tied Man 'O War's world record for the mile and five eighths yesterday as he won the $50,000 Sunset handicap, closing day feature of the Hollywood park meeting. The big five year old gelding travelled the distance in 2:40.4 to win going away from Paperboy and Triplicate.

Historian was always right on the pace, even though he allowed War Valor to open up a five-length lead as the field turned into the back stretch.

A's Beat Browns In 10th Inning Rally

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sam Chapman's second home run of the evening put the Philadelphia Athletics back in the ball game last night and Buddy Rosar's second double in the tenth drove in two runs which were more than enough to win, the A's taking their second straight from the St. Louis Browns, 7-4.

Pete Suder singled Rosar home to give the Mackmen a third tenth-inning counter, but it wasn't needed as Dick Fowler, pitching in relief, didn't allow a Brownie to reach first after he took over in the seventh.

Chapman's homers, which accounted for three of the Philadelphia runs, were his tenth and eleventh of the season.

Mann Grabs Lead

SPENCER (AP)—Bob Mann, Spencer, took a three-hol lead yesterday in the 72-hole Northwest Iowa amateur golf tournament as he fashioned a pair of 34s for a first round 68.

In the 71 slot were Tom Hoak, Des Moines; Jack Krone, Sioux City; Curtis Reade, Webster City and Loyal Martin, Cherokee.

Harold Skow, Newton, defending champion and winner last week of the Iowa Masters championship, was off to a bad start with a 39 for his opening nine.

Peters Leads Golf Meet

OTTUMWA (AP)—John Peters, Ottumwa, shot a one-under-par 70 yesterday for medal honors as 162 players fired qualifying rounds in the southeast Iowa golf tournament.

Fall Term Classes To Be Scheduled On The Half Hour

Classes for the fall semester will be scheduled on the half hour instead of the hour and will run from 7:30 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. and from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. President Virgil M. Hancher announced yesterday.

Under the new arrangement, established to meet the need for additional classroom space, all classes in the morning will be moved up a half hour from that previously announced and all afternoon classes, including those scheduled for 12 noon, will begin on the half-hour after the hour announced.

New Classes at 11:30

For example, all 8 a. m. classes will begin at 7:30 and all 12 noon and 1 p. m. classes will begin at 12:30 and 1 p. m. respectively. This will leave an extra hour at 11:30 a. m. during which other classes may be scheduled. Late afternoon and evening hours in addition will be used where necessary, the president said.

The change in hours, which followed consultation with the board of deans, will be in effect for the coming year.

"Even with this adjustment," President Hancher said, "the problem of classroom space will not be completely solved."

The new schedule will tend to alleviate the job of university and city dining and restaurant facilities in serving the student body during the 12 noon to 1 p. m. period. The new arrangement makes possible a two-hour luncheon period from 11:30 to 1:30 p. m., President Hancher said.

Dining Problem Helped

The noon dining problem, in the face of prospects for a greatly enlarged student body this fall, was listed by the president as an additional factor calling for the new adjustment in classroom hours.

In utilizing the late afternoon and evening hours, every effort will be made to protect essential, special and extra-curricular activities, he said.

Final Rites to Be Held Tomorrow Afternoon For Mrs. A.S. Ruppert

Funeral services for Mrs. Augusta Strub Ruppert, 99, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Zion Lutheran church with the Rev. A. C. Proehl officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Ruppert died Friday at Morning Sun.

Mrs. Ruppert was born August 1, 1847, and came to Iowa City when she was eight years old. She remained in Iowa City until about eight months ago when she moved to her daughter's home in Morning Sun.

The body is at the Oathout funeral chapel.

Fire at Callahan Home

A radio fire at the home of Dr. George Callahan, 407 S. Summit street, called firemen to the scene at 3:05 a. m. Saturday.

University Forensic Association Announces Prospective Schedule

Prospective schedule and plans of the University Forensic association for 1946-47 were announced yesterday by Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department, director of the university student discussion, debate and public speaking activities.

The program will include discussion and debate within the classroom and on the campus, and student broadcasts over WSUI, both through the student roundtable and the student radio forum; the student speakers' bureau; intercollegiate oratory and extempore speaking; intercollegiate discussion congresses and conferences; intercollegiate debate tournaments of the Western Conference University League and several other similar speaking activities.

Intercollegiate Debate

During December, 1946, the sixteenth Intercollegiate Debate, Discussion, Extempore Speaking and Original Oratory tournament, sponsored by this university, will be held. Twelve neighboring colleges and universities will be invited to participate. This year's meet will be adapted to the immediate problems of the nation and will include the principles and methods of a student conference.

In March, 1947, the Intercollegiate Student senate, in which the university will participate, will be held. In a similar senate held on the Iowa campus in March, 1946, about 100 students participated in a two-day deliberation on American foreign policy and framed a constructive reconversion policy for the United States.

The Women's Annual Discussion tournament of the Western Conference League, has been arranged for December, 1946, and the winner of the local contest. The bate tournament of the same league, open to both men and women, will take place in March, 1947. The league was organized in 1928 and included the Universities of Chicago, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Purdue, Ohio and Minnesota.

To Encourage Original Oratory

During the next year, the University Forensic association will continue to encourage original oratory and persuasive speaking through its courses which include intercollegiate oratorical activities. The association will be represented in the Northern Oratorical League. The first place winner in the intercollegiate competition receives the Lowden prize of $100, and the winner of second place, $50.

President Virgil M. Hancher awards a prize of $25.00 to the Hancher prize this year went to Ruth Koch, A4 of Rock Island, Ill., who won the $50.00 Lowden prize at Indiana university.

Program Schedule

The program for the Student Forum of the Air is broadcast weekly over WSUI and operates as a typical forum including public participants and representatives of other colleges.

The forum schedule is as follows for the first semester of 1946-47: Oct. 4, Shall a system of federal courts be established for the adjudication of labor disputes? Oct. 11, What program should be followed by the United States and Russia to insure the peace?

Oct. 18, To what extent is the G.I. Bill of Rights proving satisfactory? Oct. 25, To what extent are federal economic controls necessary? Nov. 1, What are the issues in the congressional elections? Nov. 18, Is a political trend discernible in the congressional and state elections? Nov. 15, What program should be followed to lessen racial tension in the United States? Nov. 22, To what extent have American occupation policies proved successful?

Nov. 29, What should be our foreign policy related to Latin America? Dec. 6, Are European peace settlements satisfactory at this time? Dec. 13, Has the veto power crippled the United Nations? Dec. 20, Should the social security program be revised by the next congress?

These prospective titles are tentative and liable to change as more timely and vital subjects present themselves.

The program in which the Forensic association debaters hold a one-month intramural debate tournament on the national question will be held as usual in February, 1947.

Each Tuesday night throughout the school year the discussion debate squad will meet for consideration of particular and timely problems to determine questions and subjects for discussion and debate.

New State Estimate Increases Iowa City Gas Tax Share $5000

Iowa City will receive approximately $23,190 instead of $18,000, as previously reported, for the improvement and maintenance of streets if the extra cent a gallon state gasoline tax retains its present constitutional status.

Each of the approximately 938 incorporated cities and towns in Iowa will receive about $1.35 per resident per year, based on the 1940 census, for the street improvement program, according to state officials.

The Iowa Supreme court last week upheld the validity of the extra cent of tax imposed by the 1945 legislature. L. V. Carlton, Iowa City real estate dealer, previously challenged the legality of the increase on technical grounds.

Carlton's lawyer said last night a petition for a rehearing was being planned. It must be submitted before August 29.

If Carlton asks for a rehearing, State Treasurer John M. Grimes will delay figuring the apportionment of the $5,141,415.42.

The act further provides that counties will share in the fund for the improvement of farm-to-market roads. Sixty percent of the revenue will go to counties and 40 percent to incorporated cities and towns.

Prof. Boot to Broadcast Series of Chapel Talks

Prof. Estalla M. Boot of the English department will present a series of devotional talks on the WSUI morning chapel program tomorrow through Saturday at 8 o'clock.

Professor Boot will speak on the following topics: Tomorrow, "This is My Father's World"; Tuesday, "The Tragedy of the Lost Opportunity"; Wednesday, "Highways in Life"; Thursday, "Going Your Way"; Friday, "Building with Hewn Stones"; and Saturday, "The Vision Which He Saw."

The Roman Catholic order, Sisters of Mercy, was founded in 1830.

PRESCRIPTION SPECIALISTS

Graduation is just around the corner for many of S.U.I.'s students. Before they take that well-deserved rest after a long year of studies, graduates would be wise to have a summer check-up from their physicians. And, if the physician prescribes a medicine, the place to bring that prescription is the DRUG SHOP, where the owner, Mr. Edward S. Rose, is an expert in the filling of doctor's prescriptions. Those who find that they have vitamin deficiencies will find all types of vitamins at the DRUG SHOP. Among the vitamins found there are multiple vitamins, all purpose vitamins especially adapted to those with vitamin deficiencies. Other vitamins for specific needs also may be found at the DRUG SHOP.

For a gay summer, make it a musical summer! SPENCER'S HARMONY HALL has plenty of new records that you'll want to add to your collection. For yourself or for gifts, select an album by Bing Crosby, James Melton, The Ink Spots, or others. There are albums keyed to every music lover's taste from swing and jazz to the soft and romantic of classical symphonic selections. When you want records, go to SPENCER'S HARMONY HALL, 15 S. Dubuque.

What would she like and what can I give??? Questions that run through your mind when you've been packing and cramming deserve an easy answer and H AND H HOSIERY SHOP has some mighty attractive suggestions. Sheer nighties in lovely pastel shades and oodles of beguiling lace. There are also some in seductive black, and some more good news for you is that once again nighties are full length. H AND H also has some beautiful slips. Some are lace trimmed, others tailored, knits and spun rayons. These would be a welcome gift. Last but not least see the nice selection of panties. Some of them are plain and some are as girly as can be and are in soft pastel colors and are trimmed in beautiful lace. Do that graduation shopping at H AND H DEPARTMENT STORE.

Cupid may have had good hunting in June, but via my grape vine it appears there is nothing wrong in choosing August to middle-ale-it. All within the next week bells ring for: Lorraine Lucas and Capt. Jim Marberry; Abby Morrison and Steve Drifmeyer; L'Louise Smith and Bob DeButts.

In a dither?? Need suggestions on what to give the sheepskin receivers? BREMER'S have several nice answers, so listen! Their selection includes a wide variety of nationally known makers, such as Arrow, Botany, and McGarrach. The ties are wools, gabardines, twills and crepes in many patterns and priced from $1 to $5. Toilet articles such as aftershave lotion, colognes, powders and hair dressing by Courley, Kings Men, Merens, and L'Orlee, come in individual pieces or sets and are priced from $1 to $15. Or jewelry by Hickok. There are belts, chains and bars, key chains and collar bars and cuff links. Rolf billfolds in the finest of calf, pigskin and imported leathers are priced from $2 to $15. Then, of course, there are socks. Gold Toe, Hole Proof and Westminster socks in many weaves and colors and in sizes from 10 to 13 are priced from $.50 to $1.95.

Icebox-cool yet rich in the sunshine vitamin... that's what makes SWANER'S Mello-D Milk well-nigh irresistible this mercury-zooming weather. It's an energy pickup—a tall glass of this frosty, rich milk—that knows no age limit in its appeal. No refrigerator, and no picnic lunch, for that matter, should be without its bottle of this summer-scrumptious beverage. Vitamin-D filled Mello-D boasts a special homogenized process which breaks down the cream evenly throughout the bottle, so no sticky residue is left to float on top. To make sure your family enjoys this refreshing and healthful pick-me-up call SWANER'S DAIRY, 4175 for delivery service tomorrow.

Didja know that when all the doors are open in the two buildings this hot weather, you can stand at the north entrance of MacBride Hall and look clear through to see what your roommate's doing at the south entrance of Schaeffer Hall?

A gift that only you can give is a KRITZ portrait. KRITZ will capture your natural beauty and make a picture you'll be thrilled and pleased to give to others. Some of you may need application pictures as well as portraits and KRITZ will be glad to handle those for you too. Your portrait can be finished in lovely like color, black and white, or brown and white, whichever you prefer. See the window display and the stop in at KRITZ studio for a picture that really expresses individuality.

You can solve that Sunday night bewilderment regarding "When we gonna eat tonight?" by making tracks to GORDON'S SANDWICH SHOP. Here are some suggestions for a Sunday night menu that will make you hungry in spite of soaring temperatures. A steak sandwich with french fries, salad, and a beverage for only 70 cents. Or chops with slaw, fries and a beverage for 65 cents. Hot pork and beef sandwiches are 55 cents and mighty good. Top off these meals with GORDON'S home made pies and cakes and SIDWELL'S QUALITY CHECKED ICE CREAM. If it's only a snack you're interested in, how about home made chili or a salad bowl?

Ya Never Know Department Lou Hutchinson and Fran Pederson got themselves elected president and vice-president of Hillcrest last spring, thinking "Aha! Just let them try to keep us out of school!" We-e-ll, here they are on campus this weekend—room hunting! Happy hunting, good luck, and all stuff like that there, kids. You'll need it!

Hungry? Head for the KARMEL KORN SHOP and find out what delicious things their fountain can whip up for you. They feature all kinds of sandwiches, soft drinks to quench your thirst, ice cream sundaes and sodas and the thickest malts in town. They also have ice cream to take out, so when it's a party get the ice cream from KARMEL KORN. There's that hot buttered popcorn too, that made KARMEL KORN famous in the first place. They butter and salt it to your individual taste and all that's left for you to do is to enjoy it. Remember the salted nut counter too for the meal treats.

Hot stuff is the news from MULFORD ELECTRICAL COMPANY. And we mean this literally... in the form of Heller Ware, the sparkling aluminum ware that goes straight from the oven to the table, which means that no troublesome extra serving dishes are needed. MULFORD'S is showing this magic ware in Bun Warmers, Covered Casseroles and Hostess Cake dishes with aluminum covers. Heller Ware is so attractive that it's a delight to serve favorite concoctions from its highly polished pieces. Need we say that Heller Ware keeps the food ovent-hot for serving. Heller Ware is just too good to keep from your own kitchen or that of the new bride on your list! See it at MULFORD'S tomorrow.

We read the other day in an out-of-town sheet that house-hungry citizens had set up housekeeping in abandoned filling stations. Well, we don't know if Iowa City boasts any such dwellings, but it's an idea, anyway.

Hey there! For quick reliable service DAVIS CLEANERS on the corner of Dubuque street and Iowa avenue will have those summer clothes looking like a band box. DAVIS features filter air cleaning. Bring those formals, plain dresses, suits, tuxes and summer dresses to DAVIS CLEANERS. They're campus headquarters for really fine dry cleaning, and Leo J. Wall, the manager, will understand when you just "gotta" have that favorite dress for a big date and do the very best he can to assure you of quality cleaning and promptness.

For the graduate, FIRESTONE'S have a complete line of luggage that will make an ideal gift. Stop in and see these handsome pieces. There are ensembles, or individual pieces. In a variety of leathers and simulated leathers, these pieces come in tans and browns, stripes and monotones. In sizes of 18, 21 and 26 inches these men's and women's pieces are priced from $11.95 to $29.95 plus federal and state taxes. See FIRESTONE'S luggage today.

The old pioneering spirit "ain't" dead yet, so say dozens of senior women who face the prospect of camping out this winter in barracks.

Summertime means good eating. BRENNEMAN'S have a store full of choice garden vegetables and fruits that will add goodness to every summer meal. Summer squash are in, green peppers, beets, onions, cabbage, and cucumbers. Now if you like cucumbers like we do and want to try something new with the lowly animal... Scoop out the center—unhuh, the part with all seeds and mix it with cream cheese. Then restuff the pepper, cool in the refrigerator and slice in medium slices, along with sliced tomatoes on a lettuce leaf. Use either a mayonnaise or French dressing. You can have yummy salads too from watermelons and cantaloupe which are at their season's best at BRENNEMAN'S FISH AND VEGETABLE MARKET.

There's a place where the college kids go. The name of it you all should know. You bet, it's MAID-RITE. And this is the site. To go to on a date with your beau— for those excellent hamburgers deluxe smothered with onions—if you like 'em—and catsup, mustard, or lettuce. Top this favorite off with a coke, pepsi, root beer, or fragrant cup of coffee. Or, if you and your date happen into the MAID-RITE on one of those sweltering nights, take a real "cooler" with a creamy, ice-cold malt, soda, or melting-good banana split with "everything."

Rain, rain, come or stay, YELLOW CAB is on its way; So wipe away that frown When the rain is coming down. Reach and dial 3131. Quick as a flash it will come. What? Why you all know It's YELLOW CAB that is so Dependable and speedy, that is, son; And 'member five ride cheaply as one.
