Ninety Killed In India Riots

Over 900 Injured As Moslems Protest Independence Plan

BOMBAY, SATURDAY (AP)—Ninety persons were reported killed and more than 900 injured in Calcutta Friday in a wild outbreak of violence between Hindus and Moslems during the Moslem league's "direct action day" demonstration against the British plan for Indian independence.

A curfew was invoked from 9 p. m. to 4 a. m. to clear the streets and troops were sent to the widely scattered battle scenes.

Demonstrators set fire to houses and shops during the height of the demonstration and looting was reported in various localities.

The home of Dr. B. C. Roy, former member of the All-India Congress party's working committee and widely known physician who has attended Mohandas K. Gandhi on several occasions, was attacked and fired.

Furniture and property of the Congress party's medical mission to Malaya also were damaged. Dispatches from Calcutta said the Bengal provincial congress committee office and two Hindu newspaper offices and a Hindu temple were repeatedly attacked and damaged.

Police opened fire several times during the day which had been declared a public holiday with all government offices and business houses closed down.

In Patna, a clash resulted when the Moslem league flag was raised over the Anglo-Sanskrit college, and seven were injured. The observance of "direct action day" in the rest of India was generally peaceful.

A delayed dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Don Huth in Calcutta said blood spattered the streets in the northern and eastern parts of the city and bodies of the dead and injured littered the pavements. He said the bloody clashes went on despite efforts of political leaders to maintain peace during the day's observance.

British troops were called out for picket duty and armed civilian police wearing steel helmets patrolled the streets in the attempt to maintain order. Peace squads from all parties, including the Communist and the All-India Congress, chief rival of the Moslem league, aided the authorities.

Meanwhile in Bombay Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, president of the predominantly Hindu All-India Congress party, told newsmen he was going ahead with formation of an interim India government without the cooperation of the Moslem league. He added that the congress was willing at any time to discuss cooperation with the league.

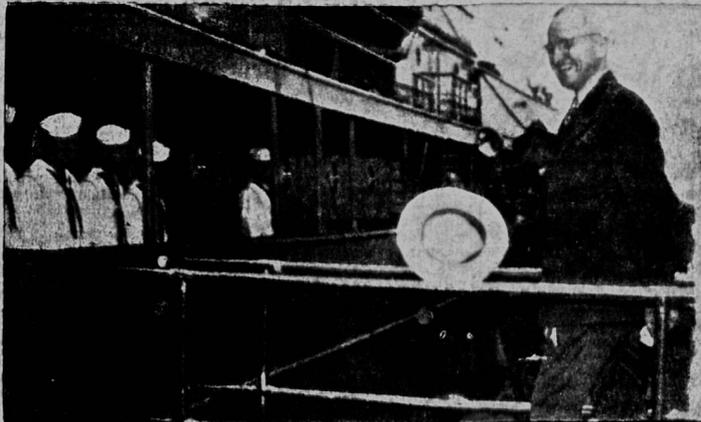

Chinese Communists Drive Against Tatung

PEIPING (AP)—An all-out Communist assault on the besieged city of Tatung in Shansi province and new government attacks on Communist-held villages around Peiping were reported yesterday.

Government dispatches said the Communists had moved up 20,000 reinforcements for the drive against Tatung, 175 miles west of Peiping, but that nine consecutive assaults had been beaten off by the small government garrison in the outpost village of Shaling, east of Tatung's outer defenses.

Communist accounts, ignoring this battle, said government reinforcements were being brought up after an unsuccessful attack on Shiangho, Communist-occupied village 30 miles southeast of Peiping. They also reported the government's 94th division, with four tanks and 12 pieces of artillery, was moving on Sanho, 30 miles northeast of Peiping.

'Tired' President Leaves on Yacht Trip

PRESIDENT TRUMAN boards the U.S.S. Williamsburg yesterday bound for an 18-day vacation cruise in the Narragansett Bay area and along the coast of Maine. (AP WIREPHOTO)

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "tired" President Truman moved down the Potomac river last night in search of rest and relaxation on his first official vacation since entering the White House.

His physician, Col. Wallace Graham, prescribed a continuation of the rigid diet which has brought the chief executive's weight down from above 178 to 172 pounds.

Colonel Graham told a reporter Mr. Truman was "feeling physically fit" but that he looked "a little tired" after the strain of 16 months in the presidency.

The presidential yacht, U.S.S. Williamsburg, in which the president and his staff will cruise in the Narragansett bay area and along the coast of Maine, left Washington yesterday afternoon.

Boarding the Williamsburg with the president were Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder; the president's secretaries, Charles G. Ross and Matthew J. Connelly; Colonel Graham; Clark Clifford, presidential special counsel; Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, military aide; Capt. James H. Foskett; Ted Marks, an old friend from Kansas City, and George E. Allen, an RFC director and intimate friend.

The Williamsburg will return to Washington Sept. 2, Labor Day.

Two German Political Parties—Seek End of Capitalism in Reich

—Reports General McNarney

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

BERLIN (AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney said yesterday that both the Communist and the Russian-sponsored Socialist Unity parties in Germany sought the destruction of the capitalist system of free enterprise and establishment of a socialist state with a classless society.

The American military government, assessing the objectives of the German political parties in his monthly report, said that the Communist program contains a threat to resort to revolutionary means "if the capitalist class forsakes the grounds of democracy."

McNarney added that the Social Democrats outside the Soviet-occupied territory stood for "the parliamentary Republic of the western type," and opposed combination or close cooperation with the Communist or Social Unity parties.

He added that the Christian Democrats "sharply reject marxian socialism" and the liberal democrats "stress the sanctity of private property and private enterprise."

In the American zone, the Communists ran third in the last elections on July 1 to approve constitutions for parliaments in Bavaria, Greater Hesse and Wurttemberg-Baden.

McNarney said the Communists had a "minimum program" calling for an "anti-Fascist parliamentary democratic republic" and a "maximum program" to be enacted after the attainment of political supremacy.

He added that from the Marxist point of view the attainment of the Communist goals would mean "a virtual social and economic revolution aimed at destroying the economic basis of the capitalist system of freedom of enterprise and of private ownership of the means of production. In Marxist ideology a capitalist or a big landowner is ipso facto a 'Fascist' or 'Reactionary.'"

"The destruction of the capitalist system naturally entails its replacement by planned economy," McNarney said.

First court action against the NMU was brought in Detroit where the Automotive Trades Steamship company and the T. J. McCarthy Steamship company, operators of three auto-carriers, petitioned for an injunction against picketing of their premises. Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms set a hearing for Monday.

According to Curran's estimates, there are from 12,000 to 15,000 Great Lakes seamen aboard 370 vessels.

18 Jews Face Death Penalty

Haifa Military Court Declares Group Guilty Of Railway Bomb Raid

JERUSALEM (AP)—Singing loudly in defiance, 18 young Jewish men were sentenced to death and four young Jewish women to life imprisonment yesterday for a bomb raid on Haifa railway shops, and rumors instantly started that the underground would strike back.

The 22, allegedly members of the underground Stern gang, were found guilty by a Haifa military court of staging the night raid several weeks ago.

Fear Reprisals

Some Jews declared "the Stern gang won't let it pass," and expressed fear the underground might strike in attempts to free the condemned men or avenge them if they were hanged. Their sentence still must be reviewed by the British high command.

Another rumor said thousands of Jews might stage a hunger strike in protest.

The sentencing, plus a Jewish non-cooperation strike scheduled for tomorrow, and reports that hundreds more illegal immigrants had reached the Palestine coast, with some escaping ashore, heightened general nervousness in Palestine.

However, the country was expected to be quieter today—the Jewish Sabbath.

One highly-placed Jew asserted that "hundreds, perhaps thousands, of lives will be saved if these unjust sentences are commuted to life imprisonment within the next few hours."

Jump Ship

Meanwhile, a government announcement said two Jews had jumped the refugee ship "23" in Haifa harbor but were picked up ashore, and that this may have "gotten rumor-mill treatment and grown into a boatload."

Some 650 passengers aboard another ship, the "Fenice," also awaiting deportation to Cyprus, sent a letter to the Palestine government reviewing conditions in European displaced persons camps, their 16-day voyage, and reiterating pleas to enter Palestine.

Ike Calls on Camacho

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower called formally yesterday on President Avila Camacho, the first of the day's ceremonial visits and social functions. The general was accompanied by Ambassador Walter Thurston and military aides.

Canned Food Going to the Hogs

THESE WORKERS at the Smith Cove, Wash., naval station are dumping for hog feed canned foods which the navy said were condemned for human use. When the Seattle Times reported samples of the food were palatable, the naval commandant ordered an investigation. (AP WIREPHOTO)

SEATTLE (AP)—The Seattle Times said yesterday that "hundreds of cans of vegetables, fruits, ice cream mix, vienna sausages and other items, including 100-pound sacks of pure cane sugar," were being opened at the Smith Cove naval station and sold for hog food.

The 13th naval district headquarters more information of been condemned for human consumption but that the commandant had ordered an investigation. The Times said it investigated Thursday, on complaint of naval station personnel, and that workers on the hog food "assembly line," and a reporter sampled the sugar and canned food and found them fit to eat.

The Times article acknowledged that some of the cans were dented and showed some rust. K. E. Monfore, chief of the federal food and drug administration here, said that a "so-called dented can can be dangerous, and rust on the sides is, perhaps, even more dangerous because a pin-hole could spoil the food."

Truman Suggests Method for Bringing More Jewish Refugees into United States

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman put the United States in a somewhat improved position to bargain with Britain on the Palestine issue yesterday by suggesting a method for bringing more Jewish refugees into this country.

He made no formal commitment. But he said he was "contemplating" asking congress for "special legislation" authorizing entry into the United States of a "fixed number" of displaced persons from Europe, including Jews.

At the same time, a White House policy statement said that while Mr. Truman had been exchanging views on the explosive Palestine question with Prime Minister Attlee of Britain, "this government has not presented any plan of its own for the solution of the problems."

The United States repeatedly has urged Britain to let more Jewish refugees into Palestine. Diplomatic authorities said this position now can be reinforced by pointing to a White House inclination to admit more Jews into America.

Whether Mr. Truman's reference to "special legislation" implied that he might summon the 79th congress to a special session after the November election was not clear. The possibility of a special session had been considered by some legislators before congress adjourned Aug. 2.

Despite the formal disavowal of any American plan for settling the Palestine controversy, it was learned that Mr. Truman has put a measure of administration support behind suggestions of the Jewish agency for Palestine that separate Arab and Jewish states be created in Palestine, with a large degree of autonomy for the Jews.

Peace Parley Strikes New Procedure Snag

PARIS (AP)—A Soviet demand that only nations actually at war with former enemy states should vote in commissions drafting treaty recommendations plunged the peace conference into a new struggle yesterday, and one angry delegate protested delays and hours of "listening to quack, quack quack."

The Russians presented their demands at the organizational meetings of the Romanian political and territorial commission, the Finnish commission and the economic commission from the three Balkan countries. They bumped into immediate opposition from Britain and France, and some of the smaller countries.

No decision was taken on the Russian proposal in any of the commissions, and conference sources said the matter probably would be thrashed out in the general commission.

The only one of the eight commissions meeting yesterday to get down to any actual work on a draft treaty was the Italian political and territorial commission. It heard suggestions for procedure.

When Soviet Delegate Andrei I. Vishinsky first presented the Soviet proposal in the Romanian commission meeting, W. J. Jordan, the New Zealand delegate, shouted angrily:

"Let's do something. Here we sit listening to quack quack quack hour after hour. We are sick of it. Let's get on with the blasted conference. Let's do something. Get a president in the chair and quit!"

Sen. Connally Leaves For Paris Conference

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) boarded the liner Queen Mary en route to the Paris peace conference yesterday with the assertion that Russia has "maintained an unreasonable position" in the deliberations thus far.

"We cannot settle international difficulties like a bunch of fussy schoolboys," said the senate foreign relations committee chairman, expressing a hope "that the conference can proceed with its business without too much debate."

Connally and Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who will fly to Paris later, plan to assist Secretary of State James F. Byrnes by attending treaty committee meetings.

War Assets Chief Tells of Black List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph Carroll, chief of the war assets administration compliance enforcement division, said yesterday that 75 percent of the bidders for one lot of surplus war goods gave false information concerning their qualifications.

As a result, he told the house surplus property committee, the WAA has set up a black list to curb "speculators and profiteers." Carroll, a former FBI agent, said the misrepresentations turned up in a sale of millions of yards of surplus cloth. He acknowledged that "some veterans" were using their special status to aid war goods brokers.

He said veterans on the list were checked first because they held top priority, with the discovery that only eight of the 62 veteran-bidders were actually engaged in manufacturing wearing apparel. A further check, he said, showed that 75 percent of the remaining 500 bidders were unqualified as purchasers.

Carroll said that once a bidder had been blacklisted, his only recourse was an appeal to the war assets administrator.

Iowan Knocks Military Policy

Arabs, Jews Capable Of Self Government, Says Former Senator

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Senator Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, president of the American League for a Free Palestine, said last night "there's no doubt that Great Britain is entrenching herself in Palestine as a military power."

At a news conference after his return yesterday by airplane from a survey of Palestine, Gillette said the British apparently were transforming temporary military establishments into permanent strongholds.

He said he talked to contractors who told him they were building cement strongholds "all based on a five-year occupancy."

Gillette said he and his party moved freely through Palestine—but they were "covered" all the time by British intelligence agents. They failed to get permission to visit a prison camp, he said.

British troops, he said, locked suspects in jail for as long as a year without trial, painted out Jewish handbills with black paint where they were posted on walls and swore at persons who showed their heads out of windows during curfews.

He said the British were guilty of exercising "arbitrary control over a people capable of self government," and added: "To wrap a cloak of self-righteousness around manifest injustice is hypocrisy."

He said he saw little evidence of Arab hostility to the Jews. The British have engaged well-equipped Trans-Jordanian mercenary troops "all with mobile equipment," Gillette said, adding that he had told Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin the United States did not enter the war to "underwrite any imperialist status quo."

Gillette said Jews were herded aboard ships under conditions such that "no self-respecting Iowa farmer would ship his cattle."

Responsibility for the present stalemate in Palestine rests upon British policy, he said, adding: "The British in Palestine evince an apologetic attitude—we've here to implement the policies; we didn't make them."

Gillette said his tour was "a first-hand survey of social and political conditions because of the conviction that censorship was preventing the real story from coming to America."

He said he had seen numerous Arabs being given treatment in Jewish hospitals, and added that the bulk of the Arabs in desert areas "know nothing of the situation and care less."

Storm in Des Moines

DES MOINES (AP)—A heavy downpour flooded some Des Moines streets last night during an electrical storm in which gusts of as high as 58 miles per hour were reported by the weather bureau.

Atomic Energy Demonstration Planned By Local Committee

AEC Representative To Attend Student Peace Conference

An atomic energy demonstration and lecture was scheduled tentatively for Oct. 1 by members of the Atomic Energy Control Committee who met last night.

The program will be one of a series by which the newly organized AEC plans to disseminate information and knowledge that will promote international control of atomic energy.

The Association of Eastern Iowa Scientists representatives on the AEC—Prof. J. I. Routh of the biochemistry department and Prof. C. J. Lapp of the physics department—will plan and present the atomic energy demonstration.

AEC members meeting last night also made plans to send a representative to a convention, "Students Examine Peace," to be sponsored in Chicago Sept. 1 to 7 by the Student Federalists organization.

Convention plans now call for guest speakers to include former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota; Cord Meyer Jr., Harvard university graduate student and Atlantic Monthly writer; Chancellor Robert Hutchins of the University of Chicago.

Charles Bolte, chairman of AVC; atomic scientists Harold Urey and J. R. Oppenheimer; Merle Miller, former University of Iowa student now working on a new magazine to be published by Marshall Field, and Michael Straight, editor of the New Republic.

Formulating preliminary plans for their 1946-47 program schedule, AEC members decided to contact outstanding atomic scientists, congressmen and journalists as possible lecturers here under AEC sponsorship.

Formal ratification of the AEC charter by member organizations—the Iowa City Veterans Committee, Association of Eastern Iowa Scientists, the Johnson County League of Women Voters and the University of Iowa World Affairs forum—will take place when the organizations reconvene at their first fall meetings.

The next AEC meeting has been scheduled for Friday, Aug. 30.

27 Housing Units Arrive

Six carloads, or about 27 of the 143 emergency barracks to be located on Finkbine golf course, arrived in Iowa City yesterday morning, according to J. J. Denninger, Rock Island railroad freight agent.

There should be a regular run of the units arriving here starting next week, Denninger said.

R. J. Sharp, construction manager for the Metcalf-Hamilton construction company, said that he expected the 27 houses to arrive at the construction site Monday.

Explaining that weather and difficulty in getting construction equipment has been delaying work on the project, Leo Coleman, superintendent at the Finkbine job, said yesterday that he had about 30 men on the payroll. He expects to add approximately 10 more a day starting Monday.

Rites for Ernest Kehrer To Be Held Monday

Funeral services for Ernest W. Kehrer, 46, lifetime resident of Iowa City, will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the McGovern funeral home with the Rev. V. V. Goff officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Kehrer died at his home at 329 N. Lucas street Thursday night of a heart attack.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Rosalind Jean, at home; one brother, Arthur, Vancouver, Wash., and three sisters, Mrs. George Kasper, Mrs. John Hogan and Mrs. May Cooney, all of Iowa City.

Col. Jenna Reports 700 to 800 Students To Take R.O.T.C.

Approximately 700 or 800 R.O.T.C. students will be taking military courses here during the coming academic year, Col. W. W. Jenna, head of the university military department, said yesterday.

Swinging into almost complete operation with the beginning of the 1946-47 year, the R.O.T.C. department will open five courses this fall: first year elementary; second year elementary; first year advanced, infantry; first year advanced, engineer, and medical unit.

The army air forces plan to activate several air R.O.T.C. units, Colonel Jenna said. The activation plan includes air units only at institutions now having R.O.T.C. of the ground arms and services, and whether such activation will take place in time to open an air unit this fall is not yet known.

Dr. Barnes Reports Services of SUI Health Department

During the last five years, a total of 198,387 services have been given by the university health department, according to Dr. M. E. Barnes, director of the health service.

Of the services, 146,851 have been connected with student health, including office calls and consultations, room calls and health examinations, he said.

"With the return of war veterans, certain problems and diseases have come to the fore. Malaria, a rare disease during pre-war times here, has become a rather common entity, the cases being either relapses or showing for the first time since suppressive doses have been withdrawn," Dr. Barnes said.

For the 1945-46 academic year ending June 30, the department gave 35,021 services, 30,123 of which were student health and outpatient. Office calls and consultations totaled 25,763.

In areas such as water supply and swimming pools, milk supply and building and food-handling establishments, the inspection division rendered 4,709 services.

Twenty-one different diseases, ranging from mumps to acute anterior polio, were investigated last year by the epidemiology division. X-rays totaled 1,710, of which 1,119 were of the lungs. Tuberculin tests totalling 1,790 were made on students.

With provisions made to care for the health of the increased number of students, the department will function in the same areas in 1946-47.

Union Announces New Summer Closing Hours

New closing hours effective today for Iowa Union were announced yesterday by Ted Rehder, assistant director of the Union.

Until Sept. 13, the Union soda fountain will be closed, and the Union will be open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 12 midnight Saturday and closed Sunday.

Dorothy Walton Files Divorce Suit in Court

Dorothy V. Walton filed suit in district court yesterday for a divorce from James W. Walton. They were married in Des Moines on April 9, 1945. Mrs. Walton asks $100 a month alimony and support for herself and one child. She further requests that the defendant pay suit costs and attorney's fees.

Mrs. Walton is represented by Atty. E. P. Korab.

For Quick Relief

from the heat and fatigue of summer

NOTHING can take the place of a refreshing shower or bath when the thermometer soars into the 90's. It picks you up. It starts you on your way again. It provides a form of heat relief that can't be equalled—particularly when followed by a cleansing shampoo and change to fresh, crisp clothing. Necessary for summer comfort—hot water is also the number one requirement for keeping the home immaculate and dishes germ-free and sparkling. That's why an automatic supply of gas heated water represents one of the greatest of today's conveniences in the home.

Vacanti Enrolls at University of Nebraska

Quarterback Here in 1942

Mike DiBiase, NCAA Wrestling Champion, To Enter Nebraska

Sam Vacanti, letterman Iowa quarterback in 1942, last night confirmed a report that he has enrolled in the University of Nebraska for the 1946-47 school year. Since Vacanti's discharge from the navy late last month, a series of rumors have had him returning to Purdue, where he played in 1943 while in the navy V-12 program, to Iowa and to Nebraska.

However, in a telephone conversation with a Daily Iowan sports reporter last night Vacanti announced his transfer to Nebraska and said that he would report to coach Bernie Masterson's Cornhusker eleven with the opening of football practice September 1.

Vacanti held down the number two quarterback spot, behind Tommy Farmer, as a sophomore on the Hawkeye eleven in 1942, and went on to lead Purdue to an undefeated season and a share of the Big Ten championship the following season.

He has been on overseas duty since shortly after the end of the 1943 season and, during his tour in Japan, wrote repeatedly to the Iowa athletic officials, emphasizing his plans to return to the Hawkeye school after his discharge.

In his conversation with the Daily Iowan reporter last night, Vacanti said that he was "very sorry to have to leave the University of Iowa" and that he had been "very well treated in Iowa City." However, he added that "quite a bit of pressure" had been put on him to enroll at Nebraska.

Vacanti's home is in Omaha, Neb., and he hopes to be a coach in the Cornhusker state after he graduates from college.

At the same time, Vacanti said that Mike DiBiase, NCAA heavy-weight wrestling champion and an experienced football tackle, had enrolled with him at Nebraska. DiBiase, who also lives in Omaha, applied for admittance at Iowa last spring.

When notified of Vacanti's decision last night, Dr. Eddie Anderson, Iowa football coach, and that the Hawkeyes had expected Vacanti to return to Iowa and that he had been included in their plans for the 1946 season.

Vacanti's announcement came just two days after George Terlep, another promising quarterback candidate, left the Iowa campus and signed to play with the Buffalo Bisons professional eleven.

The loss of both Terlep and Vacanti leaves the Hawkeyes without an experienced quarterback candidate. The present quarterback list includes Art O'Neill, a Council Bluffs former serviceman with high school experience; Daryl Annis, a Hawkeye letterman in 1943; Louis King, a former Seahawk reserve, and Jim McKinstry, an all-state high school player at Waterloo last year.

McMillin Sinks Babe Zaharias

CLEVELAND (AP)—An unheralded 19-year-old stenographer from Green Bay, Wis., moved into the finals of the Women's Western Amateur golf championship at the country club yesterday with a brilliant 2 and 1 upset triumph over the veteran Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Didrickson Zaharias of Denver.

Unleashing a sizzling putter that had Mrs. Zaharias on the defensive all day, Mary McMillin moved in to a two-up advantage at the end of the first three holes and never was headed.

At one time Miss McMillin hiked her margin to three up on the 10th and again on the 12th—but she never had less than a one-hole lead on the Babe after halving the opening hole.

The pretty Wisconsin miss turned in four birdies during her round and sank four long putts ranging from 12 to 35 feet.

Her opponent in today's 36-hole final will be Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., the poker-faced swinger who is angling for her seventh major title of the year.

Miss Suggs reached the finals with a 4 and 2 victory over Jean Hopkins, Cleveland city champion.

Miss McMillin's triumph over Mrs. Zaharias was her second major upset of the tournament. She ousted defending champion Phyllis Otto in the opening match play round Tuesday.

Mary played the out nine in a one-under-par 37, compiling birdies on the 467-yard second and the 148-yard ninth. Miss McMillin went two-up with a birdie on the second and a par four on the third. Mrs. Zaharias had five for each.

With Miss McMillin needing only to halve the 17th for a victory, both were on in two. A 25 foot putt by Mrs. Zaharias was short and a 20-footer by Miss McMillin was off to the side of the pin but about three feet away. Mrs. Zaharias cupped a five-footer and Miss McMillin eased hers in to halve the hole and win.

Miss Suggs breezed into a four-up lead over Miss Hopkins at the end of the first four holes but the latter, who experienced some bad breaks on two holes, rallied to be only one-down at the end of the first nine.

Miss Suggs regained a three-up lead after the 15th and the match ended after the 16th when Miss Suggs had a par five against Miss Hopkins' six.

Hawkeye Gridmen Report by Monday

Invited athletes in numbers not determined until they actually arrive will appear Monday morning for the first of thirteen weeks of practice for the University of Iowa's 58th football season.

On nine successive Saturdays opening Sept. 21 and closing Nov. 16, the Iowans will play six conference teams, Notre Dame, Nebraska, and North Dakota State.

Dr. Eddie Anderson asked 75 players to report for the first five weeks of drill before the opener. On Sept. 16, additional candidates will arrive, including some high school stars of last season.

Backbone of the squad to start Monday is a dozen letter men, former service men, and others. Many of them participated in the February-to-May practice sessions. Some, however, have been out of football for three or four years and will require time to get in playing condition.

Among the candidates may be players who at one time were members of the Iowa Seahawk squad at Iowa City when they were navy pre-flight trainees. They are Bob Smith, Bob Reynolds, and Marston Flanders, right halfbacks; John J. Smith, left halfback; Louis King, quarterback; Ray Carlson, guard; and Bob Phillips, end.

Some of the other men who played ball of varying degrees of importance while in service include: Harold Shoener, end; Herb Spoener, fullback; Jim Hudson, fullback; Sherman Howard, end; Bob Liddy, guard; Jim Shoaf, tackle; and Arthur O'Neill, quarterback.

Assisting Dr. Anderson will be Frank Carideo, who served with him from 1939 through 1942 before entering the navy; and Joe Sheeketski, line coach, formerly associated with Dr. Anderson at Holy Cross college. It is the first year on the Iowa staff for Sheeketski, who last fall was a Notre Dame assistant.

Whitney Steals an Idea
Diamond Stars With 10 Years Service Would Become Free Agents

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Pete Reiser believes if you steal something you might as well make it something worth while so he has stolen six times for the Brooklyn Dodgers this year.

We think he has a pretty good theory there, so we are going to do a little stealing ourselves. It's an idea this time, and we think it is worth while. Besides, we are just stealing it to pass along to those it might help, as it would do us no good whatsoever.

Bill Brandt, who used to handle the National league service bureau and now is on the radio, is the papa of the idea, which would seem to solve, partially at least, an unsolvable problem.

That may sound a little like pouring water out of an empty bottle, but what we mean is that Bill has evolved a plan to give the players a little more of a break in the baseball reserve clause, at the same time admitting that the reserve clause is absolutely necessary to the perpetuation of the game as we now know it.

In brief, Brandt proposes that when a player has completed 10 years in professional baseball he is free from the reserve clause and can go out and make the best bargain for his services that he can.

Brandt feels this would be only a just reward for loyalty, ability and hard work, and would be an added incentive to the player to put forth his best effort, knowing that eventually he could peddle his services, with his record over the 10-year period determining his market value.

Bill estimates that only about 30 players in each major league today are 10-year men, which means only about 15 percent of the men would become free agents at the end of their current contracts. Thus it would not undermine the baseball structure.

That the reserve clause is absolutely essential to professional baseball as it now is operated there can be no argument. Without it, the players automatically would become free agents at the end of a season, with the result there would be a scramble for talent every year that would make the college scramble for football players seem like an Easter egg hunt.

The net result would be that the rich would get richer and the poor would get poorer and the five-inning pitchers, that is, the wealthy clubs would corner the good players while the other clubs would take the leavings, making the leagues unbalanced and virtually killing competition.

The players themselves realize this and that elimination of the reserve clause would be killing the goose that laid the golden egg. We thought they were very moderate in their requests when their committees met to draw up a list of proposals which might be to their benefit. They left the reserve clause pretty much alone.

Bo Sox Blast Yanks Behind Harris, 4-1

BOSTON (AP)—Southpaw Mickey Harris gained his 15th triumph of the season yesterday by hurling the American league-leading Boston Red Sox to a 4-1 eight hit victory over the New York Yankees.

Harris and the Yanks' Spud Chandler duelled on even terms until the fourth inning, when the Sox pushed a run home to break a scoreless deadlock. The Carmine Hose sewed up the game in the next frame by scoring twice on successive singles by Johnny Pesky, Ted Williams, Bobby Dorem and Rudy York.

Joe DiMaggio accounted for the lone Yankee run when he slammed his 19th homer of the year in the sixth inning. DiMaggio left the game in the bottom half of the sixth inning complaining of a strained right arm he injured in the fifth when returning a ball to the infield.

The star ballhawk of the Yanks said it was "the sorest arm I ever had." DiMaggio may miss both today's game and tomorrow's doubleheader with the Sox.

Reds Slap Bruins To Take Series

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, beloved cousins of the Chicago Cubs last season when they lost 21 out of 22, continued to prove tough customers yesterday by gaining a 3-2 victory to chalk up their seventh win in 17 games.

Chicago scored both of its runs in the ninth as veteran Harry Gumbert successfully put out the fire the Cubs had started against rookie Johnny Hetki. Going into the last inning, Hetki possessed a 3-0 lead via a four hit performance.

Cincinnati scored two runs on three infield hits, an error and a long fly in the second. The Reds pushed over what proved the winning run in the seventh when Benny Zientara opened with a single and scored on Ray Mueller's double.

Heintzelman Blanks Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ken Heintzelman turned in a two-hit pitching performance last night to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-0 shut-out over the St. Louis Cardinals for their sixth consecutive triumph.

Heintzelman was working for a no-hitter when Erv Dusak bounced a single off the southpaw's glove in the eighth inning for the first Cardinal safety. The only other Redbird hit was another scratch single off Heintzelman's glove by Buster Adams in the ninth.

Elbert Fletcher drove in two of the Pirates' runs with a double in the third inning, and scored the third run himself after tripping to left center in the eighth.

Judd Stops Bums For 4-2 Victory

BROOKLYN (AP)—Southpaw Oscar Judd set the National league pace by pitching Brooklyn Dodgers down on four hits yesterday as he pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-2 triumph. It was Philadelphia's first victory over the Dodgers at Ebbets field this season.

Kelly Oilers Bid for Title

Seek Share of City Loop Crown Tonight Against Tiffin Nine

Kelly Oilers tonight make their bid for a post in the City League softball playoffs when they tangle with the Tiffin Merchants at the Benton street diamond. The game was originally scheduled for last Wednesday but was postponed due to rain.

The Oilers need a win tonight to earn a place in the playoff for the City League championship. Complete Auto and VFW 2581 have already completed their schedule with nine and two records while the Oilers have eight wins and two losses going into tonight's tussle. A defeat would drop the Kellymen into a third place tie with Iowa City Plumbers.

Should the Oilers win tonight's tilt, the championship will be decided in a three-way double elimination tournament next week.

For the game, manager Kenny Moss of the Oilers is counting on Mel Greazel to handle the pitching chores with Virgil Burnett on the receiving end. For relief duty Moss has Ray Sullivan and Eldon Kelly available if needed.

Dean Bowman has been the regular hurler for the Tiffin aggregation all season and should get the nod tonight. Clarence Shera leads an impressive parade of batters that have the potential power to knock off the Oilers.

Two Portland Girls Crack National Swimming Records

SHAKAMAK STATE PARK, Oakland, Calif., are tied for third with six points.

The record-smashing performance of the Portland girls overshadowed other fine contests. Brenda Helsler of the Los Angeles Athletic club set a new meet record of 1:07.2 in the senior 100-meter free style. Ann Curtis of Crystal Plunge, who holds 30 American records, withdrew from the event to try for a world record in the 1500-meter free style.

The statuesque Miss Curtis failed in her world record attempt but won the 1500-meter event with ease in 22 minutes 8.1 seconds. She finished third yesterday behind Miss Merki and Clare Lamore of Olneyville Boys' Club auxiliary, Providence, R. I.

Victoria Manalo Draves, unattached, of Los Angeles, gave a fine performance to win the senior platform diving with 103.83 points. Greatly improved since she lost the 1945 contest to Helen Orlenkevich Morgan, San Francisco, Mrs. Draves picked the hardest optional dives in the book and performed them beautifully.

She elected to make the running full twist forward one and a half

Miss Woodin suffered a possible fracture of the left wrist late yesterday in a practice dive from the 10-meter platform.

Marie Coridon of the New York Women's Swimming association gave Miss Helsler a good race to take second place. Joyce Mac Crae of Crystal Plunge was third and Marilyn (Sugar) Sahner of the same club finished fourth.

The 300-meter individual medley was a disappointment to 18-year-old Joan Fogle of the Indianapolis Riviera club, who had won it in the last four outdoor A.A.U. meets. She finished third yesterday behind Miss Merki and Clare Lamore of Olneyville Boys' Club auxiliary, Providence, R. I.

The proposal, in effect, would exclude France from voting in all the commissions save those involving Italy, and the United States from those concerned with Finland.

Contestants Exhibit 86 Calves In Final Day of Stock Show

Nearly 300 persons watched yesterday in the Iowa City sale barn as 58 Johnson county 4-H contestants exhibited a total of 86 purebred baby beef calves.

Eileen Burns, 12, of Iowa City won grand champion baby beef with her junior angus yearling. This is Eileen's first year in 4-H livestock competitions.

Keith Hemingway, 15, route 7, took reserve champion with his senior class Angus calf. Keith was also winner Wednesday of first in the yearling Holstein dairy heifer class.

Both winners will sell their calves at the baby beef auction to be held in the sale barn at 1 p. m. today. Auction bids are expected to top 50 cents a pound. Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus calves were shown. Champions in the three breeds were:

Herefords: Dean Steckly, Oakdale, champion; Esther Hemingway, route 7, reserve champion. Shorthorns: Margaret Ann Burr, Lone Tree, champion; Lloyd Burr Jr., her brother, reserve champion.

Angus: Eileen Burns, champion, and Keith Hemingway, reserve champion.

Each class was divided into several classes according to weight. Winners placing in each class were as follows:

Junior Herefords, (710 to 930 pounds): Edwin Hunter, Iowa City, first; Donald K. Johnson, Oxford, second; Earl Johnson, Oxford, third; and Dale Riggie, route 1, fourth.

Intermediate Herefords, (940 to 1,000 pounds): Esther Hemingway, first; Dean Steckly, Oakdale, second; Earl Johnson, third; and Fred Sharbon, route 1, fourth.

Senior Herefords, (1010 pounds and up): Dean Steckly, first; Al Donovan, route 3, second; Keith Hemingway, third; and Esther Hemingway, fourth.

Junior Shorthorns, (610 to 900 pounds): Margaret Ann Burr, first; Lloyd Burr Jr., second; Lloyd Burr Jr., (his second entry in this class), third; and Rosella Yeggy, Solon, fourth.

Senior Shorthorns, (910 pounds and up): Lloyd Burr Jr., first; Arcell Yeggy, Solon, second; Margaret Ann Burr, third; and Marjeda Hansen, route 4, fourth.

Lightweight Angus, (700 to 850 pounds): Robert Jensen, route 6, first; Don Robertson, Oxford, second; James Rohret, Oxford, third; and Evelyn Robertson, Oxford, fourth.

Junior Angus, (860 to 920 pounds): Eileen Burns, first; James Neuzil, Tiffin, second; Jack Hofmann, Tiffin, third; and Robert Jensen, route 6, fourth.

Dr. John Voss Rites To Be Held Monday

Funeral services for Dr. John Voss, 66, Iowa City resident for 45 years, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at Beckman's, with the Rev. Evans Worthley officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Dr. Voss died at University hospital yesterday morning. He entered the hospital Aug. 6, following a heart attack.

Survivors of Dr. Voss include his wife, 625 E. Burlington Street, one daughter, one brother and four sisters.

Dr. Voss was born at Orange City, July 23, 1880. He graduated from the University of Iowa college of dentistry in 1904.

The dentist was a member of Iowa City Lodge No. 4, A. F. and A. M., the Davenport Consistory and Kaaba Shrine, the American Legion, the Elks lodge, the local Rotary lodge, Psi Omega dental fraternity, and one of the organizers of I. club.

He was a lieutenant colonel in the dental corps in World War I. He served in France and was supervising dental surgeon of the base hospital at Saveny, France.

He was state chairman of dental procurement during World War II.

Navy Reveals Openings For Supply Officers

St. Patrick's and St. Mary's parochial schools will open Monday, Sept. 9. Iowa City high school and other city schools will start Sept. 9.

Report for Physicals

Seven Johnson county men left for Ft. Snelling Thursday to take pre-induction physical examinations. They were Robert W. Konasek, Joseph Sweeney, Joseph Shquist, Thomas M. McGillin, Scott H. Swisher, Bernard L. Holoubek and Edwin B. Knauft.

Testify in Trials

Two Iowa City veterans, Carl E. Redenbaugh and Donald C. Reagan, both former prisoners of the Japanese, will be contacted by the army for evidence in the Tokyo war crimes trials.

A total of 2,261 former prisoners will be asked to furnish written testimony for the trials.

Navy Offers 1600 Ratings to Ex-Waves

Sixteen hundred former WAVES can reenlist now provided they held certain ratings when discharged.

The women may reenlist in the rating and pay grade held at discharge.

The ratings in which such reenlistments can be made are: seamen, telegraphers, parachute riggers, aerographers' mates, aviation machinists' mates (instrument), aviation storekeepers, hospital apprentices and pharmacists' mates.

Specialists invited to reenlist include teachers (link trainer instructors and link celestial navigation trainers), transport airmen, and control tower operators.

WAVES who served during the war on active duty and who have been honorably discharged are eligible for reenlistment if they are under 35 years of age, not married to a naval officer, have no children under 18 years of age, and meet certain physical standards.

Reenlistments are being accepted at the office of naval officer procurement, 321 S. Plymouth court, Chicago 4, Ill.

District OPA Asks for State Rent Control

DES MOINES (AP)—The Des Moines district office of price administration yesterday announced its labor advisory committee has petitioned national OPA Administrator Paul Porter to place rent control in all 99 Iowa counties instead of 17, the number which now have it.

The labor committee, composed of a representative group of the local and state unions, adopted a nine-point resolution recommending residential rent control to cover the entire state and also asked that commercial rental rates in the state be studied.

The committee said that OPA county price boards in the areas not now under rent control could, with a nominal cost, handle the additional duties.

In a letter to Porter, which accompanied the resolution, the committee said:

"The volunteer price board members are faced each day with the problems of tenants victimized by cruel and unnecessary evictions and rent increases."

The resolution said a majority of the housing units in Iowa are not under rent control and many of them are occupied by veterans and their families, including student veterans attending state colleges, war widows, old age pensioners and families earning less than $2,000 per year.

Building Permits

W. N. Becker was given a permit yesterday by the city engineer to build a new $10,000 house at 708 Kirkwood avenue. Bernice Larkin, 445 Clark street, was granted permission to add one room to her house at a cost of $1,200.
