WSB Considers Pay Raise to End Strike

WAGE STABILIZATION BOARD HEARING UNDERWAY

MEMBERS OF THE wage stabilization board are shown on the crucial hearing in connection with the AFL maritime strike. Members of the board, which started sessions yesterday, are, left to right, Earl N. Cannon and A. Colman Barrett, industry; W. Willard Wirtz, chairman, and Phillips L. Garman, public members. Carl J. ### Shipping Tieup Hinges on New Wage Ceilings

Board Meets Today To Study Reversal Of Disputed Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bombarded with pleas to relax its wage curbs and thus end America's greatest shipping strike, the wage stabilization board last night scheduled a meeting for 10:30 this morning to chart its course.

The board can: 1. Vote to reconsider, or not to reconsider, its order limiting AFL maritime unionists to a raise of $17.50 a month. 2. Decide if it votes to reconsider whether to reverse the order which so angered AFL members that they have tied up every ocean port in the country since Thursday.

As time passed the strike threatened to become greater still, with warnings that firemen, cooks and stewards may join the striking seamen.

Ship operators pleaded in a day-long session that the board let them meet union demands. The unions on strike, all of the American Federation of Labor, boycotted the meeting and let their picket lines take the place of argument.

Willard Wirtz, board chairman, told reporters that it is possible the board may decide today. At any rate, it will consider the whole picture in executive session beginning at 10:30 a. m. (CDT), he said.

The pressure being applied apparently did not include any from President Truman. Wirtz said in reply to questions that the board has had no communication from the White House.

Warnings that the marine firemen, cooks and stewards may swiftly join the striking seamen were served on the board. From all sides, the board was told that the price of settling the strike is a ruling okaying the union's demands.

First the AFL seamen's unions, whose leaders boycotted yesterday's hearings, stood flat on their stand that no ship shall sail from any ocean port until the demands are met.

Second, President J. B. Bryan of the Pacific American Shipowners association, pleaded with the board to grant the demands, saying: "Before we know it we're going to have two more strikes on our hands, possibly the marine firemen and the marine cooks and stewards."

Finally, an assistant secretary of labor, Philip Hannah, reported that his personal negotiations have convinced him that "unless there is a complete reversal, Lundeberg won't send his men back to work."

Hannah was referring to Harry Lundeberg, leader of the west coast AFL strike. Lundeberg stayed pointedly away from yesterday's hearing.

A letter from the strike committee of the sailors union of the Pacific explained to Hannah that Lundeberg "is vitally needed at headquarters" in San Francisco. It said this is true because "outside political forces are injecting themselves into the strike picture."

The letter did not name these forces, but Hannah told reporters that the CIO committee for maritime unity was moving to put pickets out in support of the AFL strike and that Lundeberg's union was opposing this.

Ship owner Bryan pleaded at the wage board's meeting that it reverse the August 23 decision which led to the strike.

This decision enraged the AFL unions because it disapproved all wage increases of more than $17.50 a month. It disallowed an agreement by the unions and operators for raises of $22.50 on the west coast and $27.50 on the east coast. Last June the CIO maritime unions won a $17.50 raise. They are supporting the AFL members on the theory that they thereby could get more too.

Manuilsky Says Soviets Target Of Propaganda

Ukrainian Defends Charge That Greece Is Threat To Peace

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (AP)—Dmitri Manuilsky, Soviet Ukrainian foreign minister, told the United Nations security council yesterday that a war of nerves is being conducted against the Soviet Union.

Furthermore, Manuilsky said, Communists hold government positions in many countries and it was "time to put a stop" to actions against them.

The Ukrainian representative thus gave answer to what he said was an attempt by Vassili Dendramis, Greek representative to the United Nations, to blame Communists for aggressive acts in Greece.

Manuilsky gave scant notice to Australia's demand that the council throw his case against Greece and Great Britain out of court because, in the Australian view, it had not been substantiated. He said he did not need a lecture from the Australian delegate and that it was not worth while to return to the Australian remarks.

Dr. Pedro Leao Vessolo of Brazil formally moved that the council pass on to the next item on its calendar but the council adjourned until 2 p. m. CDT, today without acting on the motion. Vessolo called Manuilsky's talk a "long political statement" and "expressed agreement with the Australian position."

Dendramis spoke briefly to enter a denial to most of Manuilsky's charges reiterated yesterday. It was expected in UN circles that Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, would make a statement today.

Manuilsky attempted in a two-hour speech to the council to answer everyone who had differed with him in the council debate on charges he filed Aug. 24 alleging that the Greek government, aided by British troops in Greece, was a menace to peace in the Balkans. He urged the council to take measures without delay to ally the threat to peace he said resulted from Greek policy.

The Ukrainian declared that Communists had contributed heavily toward victory in the World War II. He said that Spain, Portugal and Greece were the only countries in Europe carrying on what he called the Hitlerite policy against Communists.

Manuilsky took up the attacks on his charges made by Dendramis, Paul Hasluck of Australia, Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, and Herschel V. Johnson, United States representative. As he mentioned their answers he looked directly at the delegate concerned.

He said that Cadogan had denied everything in general and did not give any answers to the Ukrainian charge.

Of Johnson's question why Russia did not send observers to Greece to watch the elections last spring and the plebiscite Sept. 1, Manuilsky said the Soviet had taken that stand because it felt that to send observers would interfere in the internal affairs of a country.

On the charge that he had presented propaganda to the council, Manuilsky said he had given facts. He said that the United Nations had achieved the cooperation of the great powers and that "to pull out the moth eaten bogey of Soviet propaganda" would hinder such cooperation.

He declared that Soviet wanted friendly neighbors on her borders and that this was not any expansion move.

Backers for Truman JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Missouri democrats yesterday adopted a special resolution to draft President Truman for reelection in 1948 while the state republican platform warned that communism is the greatest peril of the nation and said the president was the leader of an administration that permitted the growth of "this ungodly ideological monster."

PALESTINE CONFERENCE OPENS

Clement Attlee, British prime minister, is shown above appealing to the Arab delegates at the Palestine conference, which opened in London yesterday, to join with the Jews to "make concessions necessary for peace."

Attlee Urges End To Palestine Riots

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee told the London conference on Palestine yesterday that disturbances in the Holy Land must cease, and said Britain was open to proposals other than her announced federalization plan for solving the Palestine problem.

Only representatives of Britain and the seven Arab league states attended the opening session, but Attlee's statement raised some hopes that Jews might decide to participate. The Jewish agency has been insisting on discussion of a Jewish state.

Arab appeasement Later yesterday an authoritative Jewish source, who insisted upon anonymity, declared Britain had adopted "a policy of appeasement toward the Arabs" because of Arab threats to turn to Russia if their demands were not satisfied.

One Arab leader immediately commented that "there is likely to be a general swing away from Britain and America and toward the Soviet Union" if the British did not grant Arab demands. He also would not permit use of his name.

The Jewish informant said Jewish agency leaders had discussed Russian influence in the Middle East with Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, and that Bevin "takes a serious view of Arab threats."

Attlee said only in Palestine "has there been a conflict in principle between British policy and Arab aspirations." He promised Arabs all possible British aid "to help you in promoting economic expansion and social progress."

101 Arrested Meanwhile British troops arrested 101 Jews and wounded two yesterday during an intensive hunt through Tel Aviv and nearby Ramat Gan for saboteurs responsible for killing three persons and injuring at least 12.

More than one-third of Palestine's Jews were under house arrest through a strict curfew for most of the day.

Fifty-four of the detainees were arrested in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, where two men were wounded in "active resistance to the searchers," a communique said.

Forty-seven persons were arrested in the search among Ramat Gan's 5,000 inhabitants, the announcement said, and the hunt there unearthed illegal pamphlets, a Sten gun and magazine and some "war department training manuals."

The announcement also said that troops who searched the Sedot Yam settlement south of Haifa detained four women "for refusing to give particulars about themselves."

The rigid curfew which had been clamped on Tel Aviv was lifted after 16 hours, and in Ramat Gan, which had been completely cordoned off, the search was believed to have been ended. Tension eased somewhat last night.

Votes to End Discrimination In Romania

By MEL MOST

PARIS (AP)—A peace conference commission adopted seven-to-five yesterday over Russian, French and Slavic states' objections a Romanian treaty clause designed to protect Jews and other minorities in the former enemy country from future discrimination.

Offered by Lord Hood of Great Britain, to the Romanian political and territorial commission, the amendment was supported by the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, and Britain, and opposed by Russia, France, White Russia, the Ukraine and Yugoslavia on grounds that it was unnecessary. This was the first division among the big four on an actual treaty text.

Articles 3-A The amendment, which Lord Hood said would be offered for all the other four treaties before this conference, is designated as article 3-A, and reads:

"Romania further undertakes that the laws in force in Romania shall not either in their content or in their application discriminate between persons of Romanian nationality on the ground of their race, sex, language, or religion, whether in reference to their persons, property, business, professional or financial status, in political or civic rights or any other matters."

A half dozen commissions were at work yesterday, among them the Italian political and territorial commission which voted a full debate on the thorny problem of Trieste's boundaries as a free zone.

Statute Draft The commission voted unanimously to name an eight-national sub-commission to draft a statute for the projected free zone of the Adriatic port, but the group may not begin its work until the entire commission debates the Trieste situation. This stipulation was laid down in an amendment by Yugoslavia, opposed only by Britain in a roll call vote.

The commission, which heard Yugoslav delegate Ales Bebler resume his long argument against the "french line" boundary for Venezia Giulia adopted by the Big Four, raised the membership of the sub-commission from seven to eight after Bebler said the lesser number would give the Big Four a majority.

Expect Top Corn Crop DES MOINES (AP)—There probably is nothing now that could keep Iowa from producing a record corn crop this year, Leslie M. Carl of the Iowa crop and livestock reporting service said yesterday. This would be both as to total production and yield per acre.

At the same time he forecast as of Sept. 1 a yield of 673,318, 000 bushels at the rate of 61 bushels per acre, the same as he predicted in the last three reports.

GOP Chiefs Say— Maine's reelection by big majorities of a full Republican ticket was interpreted by GOP chiefs yesterday as a continuation of what they called a "national trend," while Democrats said they were not disturbed.

Candidate-picking proceeded in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Louisiana and Colorado.

Chester Bowles, former OPA and economic stabilization director, threw his hat into the Democratic gubernatorial ring in Connecticut. Bowles issued a statement assailing what he termed a Republican "campaign to destroy the effectiveness of price controls."

Connecticut Democrats will choose candidates for governor and senator next week. Two others have announced for governor — Lieut. Gov. Wilbert Snow, a Wesleyan university professor, and Thomas J. Dodd, U. S. prosecutor in the Nuernberg war crime trials.

Connecticut Republicans in convention yesterday nominated Dr. James L. McConaughy, a former Wesleyan president, for governor, and three-term Governor Raymond E. Baldwin for the U. S. senate. Rep. Joseph E. Talbot withdrew from the gubernatorial race before the convention opened.

Rhode Island Republicans in another convention picked Gurnee Dyer of Portsmouth, a former lieutenant colonel of the airforce, for their senatorial candidate, and John G. Murphy, former state legislator, for governor. Democrats hold their convention tomorrow. They are expected to choose between U. S. Solicitor General J. Howard McGrath and Superior Court Judge Robert E. Quinn, both former governors, for the senate.

Reelected in Maine were U. S. Senator Owen Brewster and Gov. Horace Hildreth for second terms. Reps. Robert Hale, Margaret Chase Smith and Frank Fellows also were returned for third, fourth and fifth terms, respectively. All are Republicans. Carroll Reece, Republican na-

O'Dwyer Predicts Violence in Strike

New York Mayor Assails AFL Union For Citywide Tieup

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer predicted last night "it is very likely that bloodshed and injury will result" unless teamsters negotiate a settlement of the crippling New York trucking strike which brought shortages in essential commodities and forced job layoffs in businesses unable to get supplies.

In a telegram to Daniel Tobin, international president of the teamsters union (AFL), in Indianapolis, O'Dwyer said that local 807 which called the strike is "completely out of the hands of its officers" and that "failure of the international to act will lay all future consequences at your doorstep."

Later, O'Dwyer, speaking to reporters, accused communists of dominating local 807.

Additional hardship was brought to New York City's millions yesterday when the railway express agency embargoed all express shipments into the city. The agency explained that "complete congestion of New York City facilities" and the "unprecedented" amount of shipments arriving by express necessitated the move.

The striking truckmen are clinging to their original demand for a 30 percent wage increase, and intensified their picketing at city entrances in new efforts to get all trucks off the streets. O'Dwyer suggested a compromise of 18 1/2 cents an hour.

A buying spree seized the city as supplies went lower daily, and many food stores were threatened with complete shutdown.

O'Dwyer, renewing his promise that food and medicine supplies would remain adequate, told Tobin he understood there were 26 local teamster unions in New York City that "desired work" and that "I will not permit teamsters who desire to work to be intimidated and prevented from so doing."

Packers Say Meat Shortage to Continue

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Meat went back under retail price ceilings yesterday but most cities faced a severe shortage which packers and wholesalers predicted would grow progressively worse for the next few weeks.

Recent record livestock marketings, before price controls were reinstated, brought a temporary abundance in meat in the butcher shops but heavy retail buying over the week end left little but cold cuts, fish and poultry in the coolers.

The OPA meanwhile vowed to "break the back of the meat black market" and shook up its entire food enforcement division.

George Moncharsh, in charge of enforcement, announced that the initial attack on meat price violations will start at retail counters because this "is the only level where over-ceiling prices cannot be hidden."

Administrator Paul Porter and other officials concerned with food supplies adopted a "wait and see" policy on increasing complaints that fresh meats have disappeared from most butcher counters following the restoration of price lids.

Porter's aides said he has decided this is a good time to keep quiet about supplies and see whether the shortages adjust themselves.

The agriculture department reported that meat production for the week ending Sept. 7, following the restoration of livestock ceilings, was the lowest for any week this year—74,000,000 pounds, compared with 249,000,000 for the corresponding week in 1945.

These figures were for federally-inspected slaughterers. A corresponding decline was indicated in other plants.

George Dressler, secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said many butcher shops were planning to close for a week at a time to accumulate supplies for a few days operations. When these are gone, he added, the shops will close again until new supplies are accumulated.

In a prepared press release the board also said: "An enlarged program for the political action committee (PAC) was drafted, with the council to sponsor PAC schools in all areas requested by local unions."

"Authorized the calling of a statewide veterans committee meeting to be held Sept. 29. An overall council committee was set up to handle veterans' problems."

"Plans were completed to intensify farm-labor relations work. In charge of directing this activity will be a committee consisting of Orvel Champ, as chairman; Russell Lasley, Waterloo; Ray Teeple, Bettendorf; James McDonnell, Des Moines, and William McAndrews, Omaha."

The press release also said the board went on record as opposing "any tampering" with the teaching job of Miss Harriette Curley, a Negro kindergarten teacher at Perkins school in Des Moines. Some 20 persons protested her employment last week at a meeting of the board of education, but no action was taken by the board.

Army-Navy Unification Pushed by President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman pushed for army-navy unification yesterday in a major conference with heads of the United States armed forces.

He called Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, to an hour-long discussion of the matter, along with Secretary of War Patterson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The navy has been reluctant to agree to merger proposals.

"I am not greatly surprised. I can remember not long ago the saying that 'As Maine goes so goes the nation' but I haven't found that a very effective argument in the last 10 or 15 years."

"I see nothing unusual in the figures. They just show that in the last 10 or 15 years Maine has been out of step with the rest of the country."

Tito Tentatively Agrees to Pay Claim of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Yugoslavia has tentatively agreed to pay damages for the loss of five lives in the forced crashes of two unarmed American transport planes, the state department disclosed yesterday.

Thus far, however, Marshal Tito's government has not consented to pay an additional indemnity for the loss of the planes which were attacked by Yugoslav fighters, Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton told a news conference.

Clayton has said several times that the United States is willing to end the dispute over the crashes if the indemnity issue is settled satisfactorily. He emphasized yesterday, however, that the negotiations, being carried on in Belgrade by Ambassador Richard C. Patterson Jr., are far from conclusive to date.

The tentative agreement to pay damages for the lives and the question over the additional payment for the property loss constitute only the first official Yugoslav reaction to Patterson's preliminary presentation of the matter, Clayton said.

Clayton reiterated the earlier statement by a state department press officer that the government has no intention of intervening to prevent UNRRA shipments to Yugoslavia because of the dispute.

It is a matter for UNRRA to determine, Clayton said. He added the government is sorry the AFL longshoremen's union had attempted to take matters into its own hands by refusing to load ships with UNRRA supplies for Yugoslavia.

Any such action, he said, should be determined by UNRRA or the state department and not by a union.

Violence Flares Anew Near Athens, Tenn.

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP)—A reign of terror in McMinn county, which culminated in the resignations of Athens Mayor Paul Walker and his board of aldermen last Friday, flared up again yesterday when bullets splintered the Etowah, Tenn., residence of former county clerk Clyde Rodgers.

Rodgers, who broke through the Paul Cantrell Democratic organization shortly before the Aug. 1 county election and supported the victorious GI bi-partisans said "at least 19 shots were fired through the front door." No one was injured.

Connecticut Republicans in convention yesterday nominated Dr.

Look Back to 1928, Then Look Ahead

The present administration has come in for a great deal of criticism from, among other things, its recent policy of granting wage increases without corresponding raises in prices. Critics point out that such a policy, narrowing as it does the margin of profit, was bound to stifle production.

It did. Manufacturers who had become accustomed to wartime cost-plus contracts were not overly eager to produce at maximum capacity without the usual wide margin of profit. Successful reconversion must demand—in addition to wholehearted cooperation from labor and government—sincere, all-out effort by management. The lack of such effort during the past year has seriously hindered our progress toward successful reconversion.

According to the National Association of Manufacturers and many others, the government's wage raising policy is to blame for the fact that the nation is so far from achieving full production. Whether or not we agree with this placing of the blame, we must all realize that the government's policy in this matter was not without reason and forethought.

Chester Bowles, who as OPA chief and economic stabilization director played a decisive role in granting the disputed wage boosts, felt that his policy was supported by sound economic theory. He defends his position in his recent book, "Tomorrow Without Fear," and his wise observations on American economy are certainly worthy of consideration.

It may be stated generally that Mr. Bowles in striving to effect wage increases without price increases was attempting to drain off idle manufacturer's profits. Only by raising the national purchasing power being distributed to wage earners did the former OPA chief feel that another big crash could be averted.

In his book, he asks us to look back to 1928 before we look ahead. "The Hoover administration at Washington," Mr. Bowles states, "newly elected in 1928 to continue established policies, was as well disposed toward business as were its predecessors during the previous eight years, as well disposed as any administration ever has been. Business could not have asked for a more favorable political climate."

"Nor can high taxes be blamed for the catastrophe. Taxes were not only low; they had been steadily lowered throughout the period and no increase had even been proposed. The budget was balanced. Indeed, the national debt was being rapidly reduced."

"There was no harsh 'regimentation or onerous government control. There was no bureaucratic 'snooping' into the finances of corporations which might make them hesitate to expand their facilities."

"Clearly the cause of the crash and of the continuing depression must be sought elsewhere. Beneath the surface prosperity which most of us enjoyed in the twenties, behind the surging investment in new plants and facilities, and behind the booming stock market, the forces of depression had been gathering year by year."

Mr. Bowles then proceeds to point out that throughout the twenties the output of each factory worker per hour of effort rose steadily. Between 1923 and 1929, output per man-hour in the manufacturing industries increased by approximately one quarter—24 percent to be exact. Wages, on the other hand, increased at an average hourly rate of only three and a half percent!

All across the nation the purchasing power being distributed to wage earners, who with their families constitute the great majority of the nation, was falling further and further behind the incomes that were necessary to buy the steadily increasing amount of goods we were capable of producing. At the same time the cost of living over those years remained roughly the same.

Mr. Bowles observes that very little of the fruits of our increased productivity of those years went to our millions of wage earners. While industrial production increased 25 percent between 1923 and 1929, corporation profits before taxes in our manufacturing industries increased by 57 percent. For the railroads and for the utilities, the increase in profits was even greater, coming to 59 and 156 percent, respectively.

"If our wage earners had received a higher share of the growing national income to spend for additional goods and services, and if our stockholders had received a lesser share, everyone, including our stockholders, would have been vastly better off," Mr. Bowles concludes.

As long as the profits were actually flowing into new construction, and into loans to pay for goods shipped overseas, high employment was maintained. But because of the low purchasing power of our workers and the high prices resulting from antiquated building methods, the market for new homes began to dry up as early as 1926. By 1928 new factory construction had clearly run ahead of our ability to buy the increased supply of goods which the new factories produced.

Starting in 1928, the buying in American markets, financed by our own loans to nations overseas, diminished as our bankers became fearful of European instability.

"It was these slowly accumulating forces in the investment markets which finally tipped the scales toward depression," Mr. Bowles states. "But it was lack of sufficient money in the pockets of Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen which underlay our whole basic problem."

He continues "If ever it has been demonstrated that prosperity cannot continue unless enough income is being distributed to all of us—farmers and workers as well as businessmen—to buy the increasing products of our increasingly efficient system, it was demonstrated in the twenties. If we need any demonstration on too many profits, the twenties provide the demonstration."

"Even with the most business-minded administration in our history, even with falling taxes and a government surplus, even with everything that businessmen thought they needed to insure continued prosperity, we could not duck that basic issue for more than a few short tinsel-decorated years."

When he authorized wage boosts without price increases, Mr. Bowles obviously knew what he was doing. He is no dreamer; he is a practical economist who tried unsuccessfully to control what is probably the greatest single factor in America's vicious business cycle—excess profits. But business in this country isn't yet ready to sacrifice short range profits for long range prosperity—the realization of which can come only from economic planning.

Mr. Bowles will have to wait until the country catches up to him; for his plan of abundance, as well as others, will prove ineffective for the most part unless full-fledged cooperation is forthcoming from all factions—business, consumers, labor, government, etc. Planning means sacrifices which unfortunately our nation is not yet ready to make.

Veterans Laws—

Training Pay

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.
 AP News Features Writer
 (Last of Four Articles)

WASHINGTON—One of the many important veterans laws congress passed just before adjourning has resulted in squawks galore from some ex-GI's. It's the law authorizing veterans administration (VA) to reimburse states for expenses incurred in approving and watching training on the job programs.

That part of the law is okay, veterans say, but the same law limits the combination of salary plus subsistence allowance a veteran in job training may receive each month. Veterans without dependents may total $175, with dependents $200.

These amounts, claim some ex-service people, won't meet the costs of living. There is little indication, however, that congress will do anything more about training on the job.

Free Cars for Amputees

Another law, approved by the president after congress had gone home, will allow many of the 17,000 World War II amputees to acquire specially built automobiles at no cost to themselves. To be eligible for one of the cars a veteran must have lost, or lost the use of, one or both legs at or above the ankle.

Thirty million dollars has been appropriated to carry out the act. The price of each automobile cannot exceed $1,600. That doesn't include the cost of "repair, maintenance or replacement" of the vehicles.

VA says amputee veterans will do business with car manufacturers and dealers to get hold of their car, and the dealer will bill VA. But first the amputee must be able to pass his state's driving test.

Patients in VA hospitals have yelled long and loud at the high cost of incidentals, such as candy, cigarettes, etc., sold by concessionaires in some VA hospitals. VA now has been voted $4,000,000 to set up its own canteen service, which will operate on the order of army and marine PXs and navy ships service. VA expects to get the canteen service under way within four months.

Burial Allowance Raised

Many dependents and families of veterans are unaware they are entitled to a flat sum for burial expenses of the veteran. Only provision is that the veteran was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

One of the new laws raised this sum from $100 to $150. Burial can take place anywhere the family designates, and VA will pay the transportation costs of the body.

Interpreting The News...

There's an interesting story back of the recent raids by Filipino military police on Chinese newspaper offices in Manila.

The story, from Chinese sources in Manila, is this:

About 1940 a young man named Huang Chieh, the son of a Manila merchant from Fukien, went to China to join the Communists. He returned to Manila in 1941 and organized a Chinese guerrilla group called the Wha Chi to fight the Japanese. In the summer of 1942 he signed an anti-Japanese alliance with the Hukbalahap guerrillas, Filipino peasants. Huang taught them Chinese angles on guerrilla warfare.

Today the influence of this group lingers on in the Chinese community in the Philippines. What, if any, connection it may have with the Hukbalahaps is not clear. However, the Filipino government which has been raiding the Huk guerrillas in the provinces has turned its attention to Chinese newspapers in Manila.

The newspapers raided in Manila this week were the Manila Guide, which some say is Communist but which anyway is critical of the Chinese government, and the Commercial Bulletin, which is liberal and somewhat critical.

The Filipino MP's who did the raiding were accompanied by Chinese who pointed out those to be arrested.

The Chinese consul general said that all he knew about it was what the MP's told him—that they were looking for lawless elements who had been hanging around the newspaper office.

President Roxas now has ordered an end of such raids, and the arrested Chinese have been released. But today another newspaper, the Chinese Commercial News left blank the space where local news normally would have been.

Earlier it had printed a story that the Chinese, who had guided the MP's on the raids, were agents of the Kuomintang, the party which controls the Chinese government.

Today it said it was withhold-

Non-Voters Weaken Government---Root

The following letter of the editor appeared recently in The New York Herald Tribune. Its author, Oren Root Jr., headed the Young Willkie clubs during the 1940 presidential elections.

—The Editor.

IF, AS HAS BEEN SAID, a nation in the long run gets the system of government it deserves, it is high time we in the United States began to worry about how long we will keep our present system of freely elected popular government. On the record there is considerable doubt whether as a people we deserve the right to vote. Indeed, the contrast in this country between our assertions of belief in the democratic process and our neglect of its most essential function—the ballot—is striking.

It is a rare election in the United States where the number of potential voters who fail to vote is not greater than the majority by which the election is won. Sometimes the result is dramatic, as in 1916 when the Hughes-Wilson contest was decided by a few thousand votes in California. But even in less close elections, such as the Presidential elections in 1940 and 1944, the principle holds. In 1940 there were 80,000,000 potential voters, of whom 49,800,000 voted and 30,200,000 did not. Since Roosevelt's total popular majority was only five million, it is apparent, even allowing for the divergences between popular and electoral vote, that the non-voting millions were potentially decisive. In 1944, of the 88,000,000 persons eligible to vote, nearly 40,000,000 failed to do so—many times more than the Roosevelt popularity of 3,500,000.

THE RATIO of voters to potential voters, bad everywhere, is lowest in the South. In 1944, for example, only 95,148 persons voted in the general election in the state of South Carolina out of a potential voting population of about one million—less than one in ten. In the same year Representative Cox, of Georgia, one of the senior members of the house rules committee, and thereby one of the most powerful members of Congress, was elected by 21,000 votes out of a potential 160,000.

Votes are lost in three ways. The first and most important way is by potential voters failing to register and thus to become eligible to vote. Even among those who do register, however, there are many who fail actually to

Claims Catholics Put Church Before Country

To the Editor:

On June 30th, 1912, Father Phelan L. D. of Our Lady of Mount Carmel parish in St. Louis said: "If the government of the United States were at war with the Catholic church we would say 'To hell with the government of the United States.' We are Catholics first, of course we are." Father Phelan got away with it and was never rebuked by his church for making that statement. I wonder what the Catholic church would say if some Communist was accused of saying: "We are Communists first, to hell with the U. S. A." The Catholic church would demand that the Commie be buried at the stake.

Communists Build Administration for—

Manchurian Democracy

NANKING—While Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has been working in the mountain coolness of the summer capital of Kuling—planning to broaden the base of the National Government—the Communists have done some administration building of their own in Manchuria.

They have produced a "Provincial Supreme Administration for Democratic Manchuria." It will base its headquarters in the Communist-held Harbin.

The 386 delegates who drew up the common administration program for the first body of this kind in the history of Manchuria established a "joint administration office" for the provinces and cities in the northeast.

According to information from the Communist headquarters here, 27 executive members from the office were elected by secret ballot and they include "Communists, members of the Kuomintang (National Party), Democratic League, Liberals, Central Government officials, commanders of the Manchurian Peoples Volunteers and Joint Democratic Army, Mongolians and Koreans."

It is declared that the "office is established in compliance with the requests of the people of the northeast who, since their liberation, hoped for the establishment of a local coalition government. The office is temporary in nature which shows that the northeastern people are still looking forward to the establishment of a local coalition government of a self-governing nature."

Meanwhile, the Communists refuse to discuss the formation for China as a whole of a national coalition government as outlined by the Political Consultative conference until a nation-wide cease-fire order has been agreed to by the generalissimo.

Agrarian Program

An over-all agrarian program adopted by the new Manchurian administration is "to carry out thoroughly a reduction of rent and interest, and distribution of Japanese, puppets, and traitors' lands to landless peasants and those with little land in order to achieve Dr. Sun Yat-sen's goal of 'land to the tiller' while at the same time safeguarding the livelihood of the landlord." Six items of the common program are specified.

"1. To build a new peaceful democratic and prosperous Manchuria by uniting all strata and all democratic parties and groups in Manchuria in support of Political Consultative conference decisions and implementation of a peaceful reconstruction program in place of dictatorship and civil war. To support the Potsdam declaration about the Sino-Soviet treaty and thoroughly eliminate the aggressive remnants of Manchuria and mete out severe punishment to traitors, puppets, secret agents, and bandits collaborating with the Japanese."

"2. To establish a democratic government and a people's congress from top to bottom according to decisions of the Political Consultative conference, and to form a peaceful reconstruction program fulfilling the aspirations of the northeastern people. Each province can frame its own provincial constitution. Government functionaries should be honest servants of the people and government, and should safeguard the livelihood of functionaries."

"3. To protect, encourage, and foster privately-operated industrial and commercial enterprise and develop publicly-operated enterprises and co-operative undertakings; to welcome investments for exploiting the resources of Manchuria; improve the livelihood of workers and employees, and provide relief for the unemployed."

"4. To strengthen the Popular Army and People's Volunteers."

"5. To substitute democratic education for fascist and Slavish education."

"6. Safeguard freedom of person, speech, press, assembly, association, thought, religion, election, immigration, and professions. Women and men of all nationalities have equal legal status in Manchuria."

It is reported that when the delegates assembled in Harbin from the various provinces and cities of Manchuria, the Mongolian representatives offered to give a part of Mongolian land in Kirin—where nearly 300,000 acres are owned by 30,000 Mongolians—to Chinese in need of land.

Before the new administration in Manchuria made it known it was reported that the Chinese Communists had entered into a military agreement with the Soviet Union and the Mongolian Peoples republic, but this is denied by the Tass news agency and Communist headquarters.

The Manchurian setup is held to indicate what the Communists desire in the way of a local coalition government. At all places they hold they have refused to forfeit political control, although agreeing to withdraw troops pending demobilization or absorption in one Chinese national army.

Communist Stand
 Since negotiations broke down

(Ronald Staed in The Christian Science Monitor)

on this local government issue and the basic disagreement behind it, the Communists have reiterated they will not consider participation in a coalition administration, for the establishment of which the Generalissimo's government has convened the national assembly Nov. 12—unless discussions are preceded by a nationwide cease-fire order. Even then they are prepared to discuss reorganization only under the terms of the Political Consultative conference.

The Communists insist they have no plans to overthrow the national government or foment uprisings in areas it controls. But they say they are resolved to end "fascist bureaucracy" and wish to do so by reform administration.

Unless they feel they have a guarantee in advance, the National assembly is going to bring this about and not going to perpetuate a one-party domination of Kuomintang under a cloak of an alleged coalition, the Communists declare they will not participate in the Assembly.

Democratic League
 The Democratic League says the same thing. The league is the largest party, composed of Liberals who disassociate themselves from the Communists. However, they feel they have no alternative but to follow the Communist line in this matter.

The government's policy is to "institute a constitutional government without delay in spite of all 'obstacles.' It points out that the ministries of agriculture, communications, and economy already have been given to non-Kuomintang members of the government and declares its intention to continue the process of liberalization as necessary according to P. C. C. agreements. This would mean the inclusion of Communists if they would co-operate, it is declared, but so far they have declined all invitations.

So the Generalissimo, who dominates the National government and the Kuomintang party, is going ahead with his own plans for broadening the base of government in view of the National assembly.

However, hope is not entirely lost that a way may be found to bring about Communist participation after all, and some observers still believe the Communists may nominate delegates to the state council.

SUI Registration Gets Underway Monday

New Students Of 4 Colleges To Register

Liberal Arts, Graduate, Commerce, Education To Issue Materials

Registration for the 1946-47 academic year at the University of Iowa will get underway Monday at 8 a. m., Paul J. Blommers, university registrar announced yesterday.

Students entering the college of liberal arts for the first time will report in Macbride auditorium at that time, Blommers said, and registration materials for students in the colleges of liberal arts, commerce, education and the graduate college will be available in the office of the registrar that day.

Materials will be issued only to: (1) former students in good standing; (2) new students who present an official admission statement; and (3) students with a clearance slip from the university's examination service.

Graduates, Upperclassmen

Registration for upperclassmen in the colleges of liberal arts and commerce who have not already registered will be completed in Iowa Union Sept. 19 from 8:30 p. m. to 12:30 p. m. Liberal arts freshmen will complete registration at the Union Sept. 20 from 12:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. and Sept. 21 from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Engineering—Freshmen will report to room 103, Engineering building, Sept. 18. Materials will then be available and registration for freshmen and upperclassmen will be completed in room 103 Sept. 20 from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and Sept. 21 from 8 a. m. to 12 noon.

Pharmacy—Freshmen and new students are to report to the office of the dean of the college of pharmacy Sept. 18. Upperclassmen may obtain registration materials and complete their registration in the office of the dean of the college of pharmacy Sept. 20 from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and Sept. 21 from 8 a. m. to 12 noon.

Law students are to obtain materials and complete registration in the office of the dean of the College of Law during the week of Sept. 16th.

Medicine—Freshmen are to obtain their materials and complete registration in the office of the dean of the college of medicine Sept. 20 from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Dentistry—Freshmen and sophomore students may obtain their registration materials and complete registration in the office of the dean of the college of dentistry Sept. 19 from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Juniors and seniors in the college will register Sept. 20 from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Nursing—Freshmen in the school of nursing will report to Westlawn Friday, Sept. 20, to obtain registration materials and complete registration. Registration begins at 7 a. m. and will continue all day.

Prisoner Presents Papers

In registering, students in the colleges of liberal arts, commerce, education and the graduate college must secure the approval of each department offering a class the student intends to take. Upperclassmen who have already registered but wish to make a change in their schedules must also secure the department's approval.

This change from the former registering methods, in which only certain courses required the department's approval, was made to aid the departments in controlling the size of the class sections.

Tickets to the North Dakota State-Iowa football game Sept. 21 and the Purdue-Iowa game Sept. 28 may be obtained at the football ticket desk at Iowa Union, as the completed registration materials are handed in.

Students who registered before June 26 must return to the office of the registrar between Sept. 16 and Sept. 23 to check registration materials. Tuition cards for students failing to do this will not be sent to the office of the treasurer.

If no changes are made in the schedules, the materials may be turned at the office of the registrar and tickets to the North Dakota State-Iowa and Purdue-Iowa games may be obtained.

Tuition Payment Tuition must be paid in full at the office of the treasurer between Wednesday, Oct. 2, and Friday, Oct. 11, according to the following schedule:

Students whose last names begin with A-B will pay on Oct. 2; C-D, Oct. 3; E-F-G; Oct. 4; H, Oct. 5; I-J-K-L, Oct. 7; M-N, Oct. 8; O-P-Q-R, Oct. 9; S, Oct. 10; T-U-V-W-X-Y-Z, Oct. 11.

All holders of tuition exemptions, including graduate students and World War II veterans, must go to the office of the treasurer on the days indicated above to sign their tuition vouchers.

Those who fail to pay tuition by 5 p. m., Oct. 11, are subject to a late registration fine of two dollars for the first day and one dollar for each additional day.

Student Identification Cards may be obtained following the payment of tuition. Students paying tuition after 5 p. m., Oct. 11, will not receive a card in time to be admitted to the Iowa-Nebraska football game Saturday, Oct. 12.

6 Pay Fines in Court For Traffic Violations

Leo Shonka, Iowa City, was fined $4.50 in police court yesterday for failing to stop at an arterial highway.

For failing to stop at a school crossing sign, Charles R. Butler, Solon, was fined $6.50. Fred Johnson, A. C. Harmon, John Kinney and Mrs. John Thompson were each fined $1 for overtime parking.

SUI Band to Play For Purdue Game

A quick job of band organization and rehearsal for playing and marching maneuvers will enable Prof. Charles B. Righter to put a University of Iowa band on the field for the Purdue Dad's day game Sept. 28, it was announced here yesterday.

The game, to be played only five days after the opening of the fall term, is the earliest major contest ever scheduled at the stadium.

Former members of the band will be the nucleus around which Professor Righter and his assistant, Arnold Oehlson, will build the group. Later new recruits will be added and intensive drill started for half-time performances during the Nebraska, Notre Dame, and Illinois home games.

Because the North Dakota State opener Sept. 21 is scheduled before the opening of the term, it will be impossible to have a university band at the event, Professor Righter said.

The Iowa City Saddle club had three entries in the Rock Island horse show Saturday and Sunday.

The three men, whose entries all placed in the money, were Wayne Davis, Hal Knowling and Gil Ayers.

The Iowa City entries came in ahead of last year's international stock horse champion.

Auto Thefts, Accidents Rise

Accidents and auto thefts in Iowa City during August were almost twice as many as were reported in August of last year, according to police.

A total of 12 accidents were reported to the police department during August, bringing the total to 140 for the year. In the first eight months of last year there were only 77 accidents reported.

Three cars stolen in August brought the year's total to 23. There were 14 stolen by this time last year. All three stolen in August were recovered.

Of 218 arrests made during the month, three were for larceny, one for forgery, 19 for intoxication, 17 for disorderly conduct, and 154 for traffic and parking violations.

The police department also made 22 juvenile reports, 74 investigations, 103 non-criminal investigations and 14 lost and found reports. Eight bicycles reported stolen were recovered.

VISITS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bireline of Greenville, Tex., are visiting for two weeks at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bireline, 1132 E. Burlington street, and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Mattes, 838 Dearborn street.

Housing Units to Open To New Students For Fall Term Sunday

Freshmen and new students entering the University of Iowa for the fall term with dormitory reservations will be able to move into housing units Sunday, it was announced yesterday by the office of student affairs.

Upperclassmen are not expected to return before Tuesday. Deadline date for checking in at a dormitory has been designated by the office of student affairs as noon, Sept. 23.

Dean C. Woody Thompson of the office said that each student with such a reservation must check in, make his first payment and present his certified assignment card to secure his key from the head of the dormitory.

If impossible for the students to handle this payment in person, the reservation may be held by sending the first payment to the cashier's office in University hall before noon Sept. 23, Dean Thompson said.

Ojemann Lists Nine As Community Chest Division Chairmen

Names of nine divisional chairmen to direct solicitation in the three-week community chest campaign beginning Oct. 1 were revealed yesterday by Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann, general chairman of the drive.

Russell Mann was named for employers and professional men, Mrs. George Petsel for residential districts, A. O. Kelley for employees and J. K. Schaaf for national firms.

Prof. C. P. Berg will head the University of Iowa division; Harold Smith, the University hospital; Dr. Kenneth McDonald, the university medical building; Dale Welt, lodges; and Raymond J. Schlichter, schools.

Professor Ojemann commented that he selected these persons for their ability, public spirit and willingness to serve. He expressed the hope that Iowa Citizens and civic organizations will respond generously and that the goal of $21,019.92 will be reached "in a reasonable time."

Purpose of the Community Chest is to give assistance to such Iowa City projects as the Recreation center, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, P.T.A. milk fund and the City hall restroom.

Professor Ojemann pointed out that the city has turned its efforts to war relief for some time and that now is the time to assist local projects.

SET YOUR SIGHTS

It takes a lot of planning to hit a target . . . even more to achieve a goal.

There are two kinds of young men. One knows what he wants to do and goes after it. The other is still looking for his niche. The new Regular Army can help both of them.

Suppose, for example, that you're the first kind. You want to go to college but don't have the money. If you enlist in the new Regular Army, you'll have a chance to earn while you learn. Honorably discharged at the end of a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The U. S. Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, and you'll get $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

Or maybe you're the man who hasn't found his spot. An enlistment in the Army will put you in touch with the widest selection of jobs. Army schools offer special training in over 200 trades and skills. When you leave the service you can continue your training at the school best equipped to help you.

Set your sights! Enlist in the new Regular Army. You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

- Enlistments for 1 1/2, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
- Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may enlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
- A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
- A furlough for men who enlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
- Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
- Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
- GI Bill of Rights benefits assured for men who enlist on or before October 5, 1946.
- Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistment.

Eddie's Release Expected Thursday

Head Coach Not Able To Join Squad For Week

Dr. Eddie Anderson, head Hawkeye football coach, said today that his physicians have told him he may be released from the university hospital "within a few days."

Dr. Eddie's physician, Willis M. Fowler, substantiated the statement and set a specific date of Thursday for his release providing, "If everything goes right."

Dr. Fowler was still in doubt as to when the head coach could return to take over the direction of the squad but said it normally would be about a week.

Dr. Eddie went into the hospital on Aug. 23 and underwent surgery for the removal of his appendix and later developed amoebic dysentery.

While in the hospital Anderson kept in constant touch with the proceedings on the football field through assistant coaches Frank Carideo and Joe Sheeketski who have been in charge of the practice sessions.

The assistant coaches kept up more of the same yesterday for the squad, but had some information on North Dakota State, the Hawks opponent in the opening game a week from Saturday, to mull over.

They learned that the Bisons, 78 strong, are performing in scrimmages in ways pleasing to Coach Stan Kostka, although drill just started Sept. 4.

The Dakotans have 29 backfield candidates, best of whom are Bert Level, Don Bredell, Dennis Drew, Bob Heer, and Ed Boe. The big linemen, many of whom played service ball, include Bill Dietz, tackle; Nick Vujovich, end; and Cliff Rothrock, center.

"They may be getting together a pretty good team up in Fargo. We'll have to be set for them, although we don't yet know what to expect as to style of play," Sheeketski declared.

Hawkleys Prep For Moline

In preparation for the opening tilt of the new grid season Friday night at Moline, coach Herb Cormack sent his City high footballers through a brisk drill yesterday afternoon.

Defense drew most attention from the coaches as the Hawkleys second team ran through plays from the single wing that the varsity stopped cold.

On offense, the first team ran through the scrubs consistently for long gains. Bob (Chug) Wilson and Corky Fryauf reeled off several distance jaunts with Jim Sangster and Tom Miller also gaining ground.

The regulars kept their passing attack under wraps during most of the drill, but Sangster's passes hit the target to Bill Reichardt in the later part of the practice. Reichardt also ran well on end around plays.

With the start of school, the Hawkleys are working out once a day after two weeks on the twice daily schedule. The squad will have another tough practice this afternoon and then a light workout tomorrow to prepare for Friday's game.

NEW YORK (AP)—Pittsburgh opened its last eastern trip of the season last night with a 7-1 victory over New York that dropped the Giants to within four points of the last place Pirates.

Redbirds Clout Phillies, 4-1, Hold 2 Game Edge on Bums

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals opened their final eastern trip of the season last night with a 4 to 1 win over the Philadelphia Phillies. The victory gave the Cards a two-game edge over the pursuing Brooklyn Dodgers.

A crowd of 30,085 watched the Cards decide the game in the opening inning.

Behind Harry Brecheen's six-hit pitching the Red Birds rapped their former teammate, Blix Donnelly, for four hits and three runs in the first. Red Schoendienst singled to center, took third on Harry Walker's single to right and scored on Stan Musial's fly to left. Enos Slaughter forced Walker at second but Whitey Kurovski tripped to right, sending Slaughter across. Kurovski tallied on Dick Sisler's single.

The Cards added a final run in the eighth on a walk, a single and a sacrifice.

Donnelly scored the only Phil run in the third. He singled, went to second on Skeeter Newsome's one bagger and scored on Charley Gilbert's single.

Dodgers Whip Cincinnati, 8-0

BROOKLYN (AP)—Behind the three hit pitching of Rube Melton and a ten-hit attack on four Cincinnati hurlers, the Brooklyn Dodgers trounced the Reds, 8-0 yesterday for their sixth straight victory.

Melton had little difficulty in handcuffing the weak hitting Reds. Dain Clay was the only Rhinelander to solve the Carolinian's offerings. Clay collected two of his teams' hits, a double in the first and a single in the sixth.

Brooklyn sewed up the game in the initial inning, jumping on starter Ed Heusser for three runs with Ed Stevens knocking in all three tallies by doubling with the sacks jammed.

The Dodgers drove Heusser to cover with a two run sortie in the second on singles by Bruce Edwards, Ed Stanky and a triple by Augie Galan off relief pitcher Ewell Blackwell.

Blackwell yielded another run in the third before holding the Dodgers hitless and scoreless in the next two frames. The Brooks picked up their final two runs off Clyde Shoun, third Redie moundman, in the sixth. Edwards' single, Stanky's triple and a ground out accounted for the Brooks last two runs.

U. High Drills For Marion Tilt

With their sights trained on the Marion game Friday, September 20, University high gridgers are continuing their practices twice daily.

Few changes are expected in the first team before the opening tilt. Gus Helm and Craig Harper, each seeking their fourth letter, and Nick Anderson seem to have the inside paths to the starting backfield positions. Doug Dierks and Louis Turkal are engaged in a battle for the other ball lugging spot.

Coach Don Barnhart's charges meet five Eastern Iowa conference foes on successive weeks after the Marion and Bloomfield encounters in the first two games of the season. The Bluehaws are defending their loop title.

Purdue Backfield Injury Riddled

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—With Purdue's backfield material riddled by injuries, Coach Cecil Isbell eased up on contact work yesterday.

Ed Ehlers was added to a hospital list that already included Bill Canfield, Bill Barnard and Harry Sgulborski. Isbell devoted the morning to a "skull session" and the afternoon to a light workout on fundamentals.

Badgers Drill Offenses

Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Indiana worked on defensive fundamentals yesterday as Coach A. N. (Bo) McMillin expressed dissatisfaction with the squad's work against University of Cincinnati formation plays.

McMillin also worked on polishing the Hoosiers' aerial attack, with Ben Raimondi, Bob Cowan, Del Russell and Jim DeWar doing the passing.

Nebraska

LINCOLN, Nebr. (AP)—Depending on "how the squad comes along," Nebraska football coach Bernie Masterson is hoping for a two-team system this year.

"It would be swell to have two clubs to alternate and set a fast pace the full 60 minutes," he said yesterday after putting the Huskers through a brisk workout.

Drake Lists Injuries

DES MOINES (AP)—Five members of the Drake football squad were out with injuries today.

The "casualty list": Perry Harris, bad knee; Ralph Gruben, sprained back; Art Vogel and Burt Adkins, shoulder separations, and Maynard Allber, knee injury.

Joe in Shape For Title Go

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (AP)—The same official medical man who viewed with alarm all over the place when he examined Joe Louis before his June fight with Billy Conn, looked the Brown Bomber over again yesterday, and seemed to have a hard time believing it was the same man.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, New physician gave Joe the usual pre-fight going over for his September 18 get-together with Tom

Hotter Than a Bar Room in July—

Riegel Sets New Course Record in Amateur

By GAYLE TALBOT
SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP)—The crowd banked around Baltusrol's 18th green sent up a sizable cheer yesterday when Robert "Skee" Riegel, 31-year-old pilot-instructor from Upper Darby, Pa., chipped one from about 40 feet, and the ball rolled up and appeared to stop on the edge of the cup, and then dropped lazily in.

The real cheer, mingled with whistles of amazement, came a moment later when it was announced that the slight, mustached airman had shot himself a new record 67 for the "lower course" and had spread-eagled the field in the 36-hole qualifying round of the national amateur championship with successive rounds of 69-67-136.

Not only did Riegel's brilliant 67-35 out and 32 back—supplant the competitive course mark of 68 set jointly only yesterday by Capt. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Howard Everitt of Philadelphia, but his two-round total also far eclipsed the previous qualifying record of 139 set in the 1939 amateur by Tom Sheehan, Jr., of Chicago.

The two great rounds, which clipped eight strokes off Baltusrol's fairly exacting par, won the medal for Riegel by the wide margin of five blows and established him firmly as the man they all will have to beat in the match play starting tomorrow.

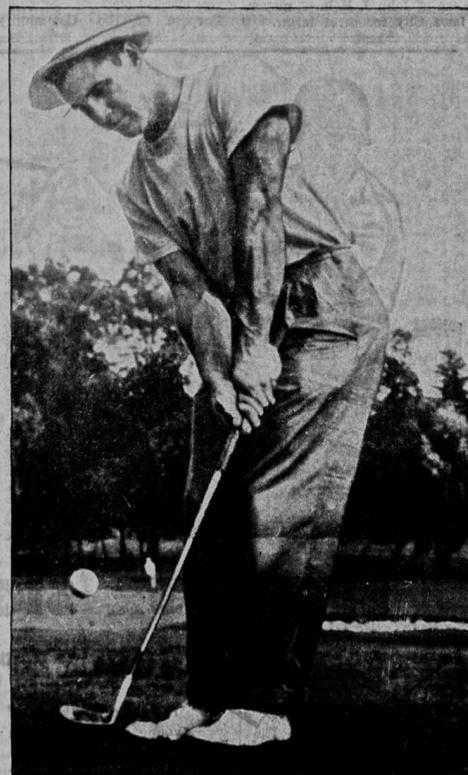

Runner-up to the flying leader, each at 141, were Smiley Quick, the National Public Links champion from Inglewood, Calif., with 70-71, and George Babish of Royal Oak, Mich., who put yesterday's second best score, a 68, with his 73. Tied at 143 were Dick Chapman, the 1940 champion, with 71-72, and Ray Billows, twice runner-up for the amateur title, with 72-71.

All the "name" amateurs who figured in pre-tournament speculation passed the entrance test with something to spare and will be in there slugging in the first of today's two 18-hole rounds of match play, at least. Some of them might not be around for the afternoon round.

Mauriello, and, discovered (A) that the heavyweight champion is "in far better shape now" than he was for Conn and (B) that "it is remarkable how Louis' blood pressure went down during his sparring drill instead of up."

"He's in far better shape than he was before," Nardiello pronounced. "And his blood pressure shows no evidence that he will tire along the route."

The general impression of this fight is that if Joe tires, he'll have to do it in the first few rounds, because that's as far as this one is expected to go.

SKEE RIEGEL, hotter than a day in July, shot a 67 over the Baltusrol Golf Club course yesterday to set a new National Amateur qualifying record of 136 total for the 36 holes.

Nats Trip Chisox, 4-2

CHICAGO (AP)—Tony Pieretti, making his first start of the season last night held the Chicago White Sox to four hits while the Washington Senators won, 4 to 2, before a crowd of 15,435.

Cleveland Browns Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—Before the largest crowd ever to see a regularly-scheduled professional football game — 60,135 paid — the Cleveland Browns launched the All-America football conference campaign last night by smothering Miami 44 to 0.

Adopt Schedule

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Basketball league adopted a 1946-1947 schedule yesterday in which each of its 12 member clubs will play 22 games at home and 22 on the road.

Tigers Take Fourth Straight From Sox

DETROIT (AP)—The runaway Boston Red Sox, needing only one victory over the Detroit Tigers to clinch the American league flag, were stalled again yesterday as the Tigers handed them their fourth straight licking, 9 to 1.

Dick Wakefield's three-run homer in the first inning off Mickey Harris sent the Tigers off to a flying start and they coasted in back of Freddie Hutchinson's seven-hit pitching to grab second place from the New York Yankees who lost at Cleveland.

Chapman Signs New Contract

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ben Chapman, baseball's cinderella man of 1946, yesterday received his prize—a two-year contract as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Ben donned the managerial shoe last year with instructions to hoist the Phils from their annual berth, the National League cellar. Replacing Fred Fitzsimmons in mid-season, however, he went to bat with two strikes against him. The Phils were too far behind to catch up.

But owner Bob Carpenter opened his purse strings during the winter and gave Ben some players to work with.

It didn't take Chapman long to get used to that shoe this year as he led the Phils from eighth to seventh to sixth place and his club was only one and a half games behind fifth place Cincinnati at the signing of the contract.

There was a clause in the contract whereby Ben received a substantial bonus for increased Phil attendance. The new, colorful Blue Jays have now drawn nearly 900,000 and that adds to Chapman's salary.

McWilliams Out of West Point, May Not Enter Mississippi

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—His resignation accepted by the war department, halfback Thomas E. (Shorty) McWilliams prepared last night to leave the U. S. Military Academy for his home in Meridian, Miss.

He told the Associated Press that he was undecided, however, about going back to Mississippi State College, where he was a second-team All-America selection in 1944, the year before he entered West Point.

"I'm going home today, but I haven't yet definitely made up my mind about returning to school," McWilliams said.

McWilliams, first of the cadets' famed wartime football squad to resign from the academy, was reached at the post hospital, where he was going through the process of being checked out.

Earlier, McWilliams' former mentor at Mississippi State, Coach Allyn McKeen said he had received word that "Shorty" would return to his alma mater to play with the Maroon team.

War department acceptance of McWilliams' resignation was announced earlier last night by Col. Ned D. Moore, public relations officer at the Point. Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of the academy, had recommended acceptance of the resignation which McWilliams submitted to him last week.

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP)—Coach Allyn McKeen of Mississippi state said last night he had received definite word that Thomas "Shorty" McWilliams will return to his alma mater here and play tailback with the Maroon team.

McWilliams, whose resignation has been accepted from the United States Military Academy, was tailback for Mississippi State in 1944 before he left his home state to enter the academy.

NBA Says Servo Still Champion

CLEVELAND (AP)—The National Boxing Association yesterday ruled that Marty Servo of Schenectady, N. Y., is still N. B. A. welterweight champion.

The association resolved, however, that Servo must defend his title against Sugar Ray Robinson by Dec 1 or—"should Robinson decline to box Servo"—against a logical contender as proclaimed by the N. B. A.

Abe Green, N. B. A. president, said the group "took outstanding medical authorities at their word" when they decided Servo's bruised nose would have prevented him from defending his title against the Harlem clouter.

Iowa State Plans Scrimmage Saturday

AMES (AP)—Coach Mike Michalske eased off the hard work for a day or two as he made plans yesterday for a regulation scrimmage session of his Iowa State football squad Saturday afternoon.

Less than two hours of work was handed out yesterday and Michalske said he would have no scrimmage today. Yesterday's workout was devoted entirely to offense against the fourth team. Results were unsatisfactory to the Cyclone coaching staff.

50 At Cornell

MT. VERNON (AP)—More than 50 men, including 21 lettermen of previous years, reported yesterday to Coach Walton Koch for the first football practice session of the Cornell College squad. Most of the men were war veterans.

Commission Grants Power to Condemn Land on 21 Farms
Authority to condemn land belonging to 21 Johnson county farmers who have objected to the erection of a power line across their property has been given to the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company by the state commerce commission in Des Moines.
A total of 32 landowners have objected to the line. Public hearings for the remaining 11 objects is scheduled for Sept. 17 in Des Moines.
Dan C. Dutcher, Iowa City, attorney for the company, said yesterday that Sheriff Preston Koser would appoint a jury to inspect the premises and set the amount of money the company must pay to each farmer for the privilege of erecting the lines.
The power line would pass through the southern half of the county crossing a total of 94 farms. The company has paid approximately $25 an acre to those who voluntarily agreed to the construction, depending on circumstances in each case.
The power line is planned to extend from Davenport to Seasboro, a distance of 161 miles.
Decision by the commission on condemnation of the first 21 objects' land was delayed following the first hearing Aug. 14 while company officials negotiated with H. L. Hartzler, Kalona, who finally agreed to let the sheriff's jury determine the amount of damages.

High Line to Run Through Iowa City
Properties are now being surveyed in Iowa and Missouri for erection of a $14,000,000 high line which will run from Davenport to Kansas City, Mo., through Iowa City, the Iowa Power and Light company announced yesterday.
D. A. Powell, executive vice-president of the Iowa Power and Light company, said the 270-mile long line will carry a voltage considerably higher than any now in Iowa.
He said the line would be beneficial to companies being connected in that it would enable them to "cool" their reserves and thus increase their capacities. He said that no new plants will be necessary, although new units will continually be installed at various power plants along the route.
Powell said the line was expected to be in operation by the end of 1947.

Riverside Man Waives Hearing on Charge Of Drunken Driving
Stanley Johnson, 34, Riverside, charged by highway patrolmen with drunken driving, waived preliminary hearing in police court yesterday and posted $500 bond.
The charges were brought against Johnson after he was arrested by police officers at 10 p. m. Monday for intoxication. He had been involved in an accident south of Iowa City in which he received a slight cut on his forehead.
He was fined $8.50 in police court for intoxication. His case on the drunken driving charge will be held over to the grand jury.

Collision at Highway 6, Lincoln Avenue Monday Causes $408 Damages
A car driven by Leland D. Cornwall, 1824 G street, received $200 damages at 10 p. m. Monday when it collided with a car driven by John Soukup, Riverside, at the intersection of Lincoln avenue and highway 6.
Robert Gilson, Chicago, Ill., passenger in the Soukup car, received minor injuries. Damage to Soukup's car was estimated at $208.

Shortage of Labor To Increase Here, USES Office Says
The labor shortage now felt by Iowa City and Johnson county employers is expected to become increasingly acute when the fall semester of the university begins, according to the United States employment service office here.
The office released information yesterday to show that a shortage of carpenters needed on the quonset hut project on the city continued throughout the month of August.
Carpenters from outlying areas were not available because the shortage exists in "practically every community where construction is under way."
Applications for work received in the local USES office increased approximately 200 over usual numbers during the month of August, the office said, because a number of veterans remained in Iowa City after the close of the summer session expecting to work on the barracks construction job.
"However, progress on the project was not as rapid as expected and only a few men were hired. Many of these workers accepted employment in other lines so that by the end of the month the supply of workers had decreased to approximately 100."
The office predicts that the labor supply will be extremely limited when the fall semester opens. It is also predicted that labor will continue to be scarce as work progresses on the barracks project.
"At the present time, there are not enough men available on a permanent basis to meet the needs of local employers," according to USES office spokesmen.
Thirty or forty workers, most of them on a temporary basis, were placed in the Muscatine and Cedar Rapids areas, where they were urgently needed.

public health insurance are only a few of the questions which will arise. How many of us will trouble to participate in the selection of the men who will decide these questions?
Freedom was born in the hearts and minds of men who valued it above all things material, in some instances even above life itself. We in the United States will keep it only if we so value it. It is not long since men died in this country to obtain for themselves and for us the right to vote. In the other areas of the world men and women are dying for that right today. That is something it would be well for us to remember each year as election day rolls around.

Agree They're in Love

RICHARD CROMWELL, 21, and his wife, Marguerite, 21, make up in circuit court in Chicago after telling Judge Leonard G. Reid they were still in love and asking him to dismiss a divorce suit filed by her. In preliminary hearing Cromwell suggested more than $20 weekly for the support of his wife and Mrs. Cromwell suggested less. Cromwell is employed as a grocery clerk in Chicago. (AP Wirephoto)

Planes Get Tails Clipped

Morgan Line Guard

Gets Test Flight

TO INSURE that surplus planes sold to foreign countries will be used for scrap instead of combat, Uncle Sam renders them unflyable, such as these Mitchell bombers at Shanghai that are having their tails clipped before sale to the Chinese Central Air Transport Corporation. (International)

PFC. A. AKIYAMA (left), Clovis, Calif., and Pfc. John R. Ishu, Denver, guard an American outpost on the Isonzo River at Sago in Venezia Giulia. Both are Japanese-Americans serving with the 88th Division. The bridge marks the limit of the British-American occupation zone. The Morgan Line lies atop the mountain in the background.

THE U. S. NAVY'S XHJD-1, world's largest and first twin-engine helicopter, flies over Lambert-St. Louis, Mo., municipal airport in its first test. The twin engines give the plane greater reliability for safety over rough terrain, populated areas or water. The new machine will cruise at 100 m.p.h. with a load of 3,000 pounds.

Honeymoon in A Hospital

Gets Haircut

Strikes Cripple New York City

MR. AND MRS. ORRIS J. HUBER (above) console each other as they honeymoon in a Council Bluffs hospital where they were recuperating yesterday from injuries received in an auto accident shortly after their marriage Saturday. Both suffered head injuries when the car in which they were riding overturned soon after setting out on their honeymoon. (AP WIREPHOTO)

JAMES KAY, prison barber, uses clippers to remove the hair from the head of William Heitens after he arrived at the Illinois state penitentiary, Joliet, Ill., to begin serving three life terms for the slaying of Suzanne Degnan and two women. The 17-year-old University of Chicago student said that he was "not beaten," and that he planned to study journalism "from here on out." (AP Wirephoto)

EFFECT OF TRUCK STRIKE on N. Y. C. housewives is bare shelves to would-be customers as shown above. Bottom picture shows one of eleven navy landing craft which removed 887 passengers from the strike-bound S. S. Marine Victory upon its arrival from San Juan. The army and navy stepped into the maritime crisis today for the first time to meet emergencies arising from seamen's strike. (International Soundphotos)
