YOU may be able to help a veteran attend school.

In too many prospective Iowa City apartments, the only things lacking are the pipe-fittings and pipe of all kinds. It is ONLY the lack of these plumbing supplies that prevents completion of many apartments for veterans.

If you will look around your house, the chances are you will find some pipe or fittings that can be used to complete an apartment.

So if you find these vital materials please call your local plumber. If they are usable at all, he will gladly come to get them and pay you for them. And you will have the satisfaction of knowing you have helped a veteran to go to school!

Cedar Rapids Man Killed In Auto Crash

Howard C. Brown, 42, Cedar Rapids taxicab driver, was killed Sunday night in a three-car accident four miles north of Iowa City on highway 218. No others were injured.

Sheriff Preston Koser said Brown was returning to Cedar Rapids after bringing passengers to Iowa City at the time of the accident.

He apparently had been blinded by lights on a curve near North Liberty and swerved into the ditch at the side of the road.

After having the cab towed back onto the road by a passing taxi also headed for Cedar Rapids, Brown went to the left side of his car near the highway centerline.

As he started to enter the cab, a car driven by James Connell, 23, 420 S. Van Buren street, sideswiped the cab, crushing Brown between the two cars.

Connell's car swerved to the right and caught the rear of a car driven by Glen Cocking, 122 Iowa avenue, which had slowed down to pass the stalled car.

The Cocking car went into the ditch, caught fire and burned. Cocking described it as a total loss.

Brown was thrown about 10 feet behind the cab, crushed badly and with both legs broken. He died about 30 minutes later after receiving first aid treatment from a passing physician.

His body was taken to the Beatty mortuary in Cedar Rapids where funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery in Cedar Rapids.

According to an Associated Press dispatch, Brown's death brought Iowa's traffic fatality toll to 372—the same number recorded during all of 1945. At this time a year ago, 220 persons had lost their lives in traffic accidents.

Parking Violations Up Over Last Year

A total of 206 parking violations so far this month as compared with 194 last year during the same period of September were reported yesterday by Police Chief O. A. White.

The average number of parking violations per month is from 70 to 90, with 91 recorded for August of this year, according to White.

He emphasized that parking and traffic problems for Iowa City are more critical during the month of September when university students are returning for the fall semester, and asked for cooperation of students in observing parking signs and yellow-marked prohibited zones.

For the safety of some 3,000 students who live on the west side of the Iowa River, traffic regulations for the Iowa avenue-Riverside drive intersection have been changed to allow right turns only on a green light.

Parking violation fines yesterday included 17 for overtime parking, seven for double parking, three for parking in a prohibited zone and three for parking with the car's left wheel against the curb.

Jack Talbot Named Executive Secretary In Alumni Office

President Virgil M. Hancher announced yesterday the appointment of Jack V. Talbot, former army major with combat service in Europe as executive assistant in alumni service at the university.

A native of Cedar Rapids, Talbot is 27 years old. At the University of Iowa, he was business manager of the 1943 Hawkeye; member of A.F.I., senior men's honorary society, and president of the central student party committee.

Included in his war service record is service as personnel officer with the 84th division at Camp Howze, Tex.; and personnel officer and adjutant during 20 months of European combat.

Later he was transferred to theater headquarters in Frankfurt, Germany, as assistant executive officer of G-3 division, ultimately rising to the rank of major. Talbot was separated from the service Aug. 14.

Local Wesley Official 'Stranded' in London

Mildred Romedahl, co-counselor at the Wesley Foundation here, and one of two Iowa delegates to the World Student Christian Federation conference in Geneva, Switzerland, has written to the Rev. Victor Goff that she is "stranded" in London, England, where she is awaiting passage home.

Miss Romedahl had just left Germany where she visited Frankfurt, Marburg and Heidelberg. In Marburg she lectured at an "International Seminar" and conducted a two-hour discussion group.

She writes that she is convinced of the "hunger of German youth for contacts from beyond her nation," and reported that colleges in Germany are crowded beyond their ability to meet the demand.

Upon her return, Miss Romedahl will write articles for several periodicals and will report on her travels in European countries to various religious groups.

Her priority as a religious worker is expected to gain her passage to New York within about two weeks.

Eleven Cubs Stranded As Brecheen Protects Cards' Half Game Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry (The Cat) Brecheen protected the St. Louis Cardinals' half game lead over Brooklyn yesterday with a brilliant nine-hit shutout, 1-0, over his "cousins" from Chicago driving home the winning run with a third-inning single.

Chicago had men on base in every inning except the third and seventh and moved a base runner to third with only one out on two occasions but never could break through Brecheen's string of zeros. Eleven Bruins were left on base.

Every pitch was thrown with all the deliberation and cool calculation Brecheen would use in a world series game, for this was a "big one" and the center field scoreboard showed the Dodgers were all tied up with the Phils in Brooklyn during most of the game.

Once again manager Eddie Dyer's spring training theory of giving his pitchers an extra batting lick paid off in a decisive game. Brecheen's bounce over second base in the third driving home the winning run.

Joe Garagiola had opened the St. Louis second with a single to right, the first hit off starter Hank Wyse. Marty Marion's sacrifice bunt moved the rookie catcher to second, setting the stage for Brecheen's game-winning sock, a ball that bounced over the second base and took an inspired hop away from Billy Jurges' glove.

The cat-like St. Louis left-hander, whose fielding ability has saved him more than one game, was in real trouble in the second when Bob Sturgeon's single, Bill Nicholson's double and a walk to Jurges loaded the sacks with one out. Fast fielding by Enos Slaughter in recovering Nicholson's smash off the right field wall saved a run.

Wyse, attempting the squeeze play, bunted in front of the plate and Sturgeon was forced easily at home. Brecheen got out of the jam by making Stan Hack follow a fly ball over the drawn-in infield to register Furillo with the tie-breaking run.

The third Dodger run crossed on Ed Stanky's safe squeeze bunt and Cookie Lavagetto followed with a single to drive in two more. Stanky scammed home with Brooklyn's last run when Augie Galan flew out to left fielder Del Ennis.

Philadelphia took a 1-0 lead in the third inning on Emil Verban's single and Skeeter Newsome's double but the Dodgers evened matters in the fourth when Dixie Walker doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on Edwards' infield hit.

Raffensberger worked himself out of another hole in the fifth before the roof fell in on him in the eighth. With two down, Ducky Medwick and Walker singled but Furillo bounced to the veteran lefty to retire the side.

Organization Meeting Today—Intramural Program

Organization of intramural activities begins this afternoon at 4 o'clock when representatives of the interfraternity council league meet with Frederic S. Beebe, director of men's intramurals. Organization of the teams and playing schedules will be set up and the protest and eligibility council for that league will be selected.

On Thursday, the professional fraternity league will organize, with the Quadrangle and Hillcrest leagues meeting on Monday, Sept. 30. A tentative league for organized groups of married students is scheduled to meet Monday, Sept. 30.

Every man in the university is a member of the intramural association, but, for purposes of competition, are divided according to interests and groups. Those who qualify as members of several groups can compete in any sport but for only one organization.

One of the largest intramural programs in the university is being planned this year with over 25 different activities being offered. The program may be limited somewhat by the lack of equipment and space, particularly for outdoor activities. Fields previously used for football, the largest fall activity, have been taken over for emergency housing units. University officials hope that grounds near the armory and in City park can be used.

Touch football will start off the season with 50 to 70 squads expected to enter competition. As in all events with a large number of team entries, the double elimination system will be used instead of the round robin system used previously.

In double elimination, a team is dropped from competition automatically when they have lost two games.

Cross country will be revived this year after a war time lapse. The two mile race will be run over a course set out on Finkbine field. Track, tennis and golf will be revived.

McMillin adds title of Athletic Director

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Indiana university's board of trustees yesterday appointed A. N. (Bo) McMillin, head football coach, as Athletic Director to succeed Z. G. Clevenger.

Dr. Herman B. Wells, university president, has served as acting athletic director at Indiana since last Aug. 16, when Clevenger retired.

Dr. Wells said McMillin will continue as Indiana's head football coach by order of the board of trustees, which granted him the privilege of naming his own assistant athletic director.

McMillin, who was brought to the campus by Clevenger, is Indiana's ninth athletic director since the post was created in 1894. Clevenger had served 23 years.

The appointment came to McMillin, a native Texan, at the peak of a colorful career and just two days after he launched his silver anniversary season in coaching.

McMillin was at the football practice field yesterday preparing his squad for Saturday's game with Michigan when Dr. Wells sent for him this afternoon to tell him of the appointment.

Yank Rookie Raschi Tips Athletics, 9-6

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees ended their home season yesterday by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-6. It was the Yanks' 47th win as against 30 losses in the stadium this season.

The third placers wasted little time in clinching the game, scoring seven runs in the first two innings off Bob Savage and Everett Fagan.

Vic Raschi, recent importation from the Yanks' Newark International league farm club, went the route in his first major league start and scattered nine athletic hits.

Brooks Smash Phillies, 6-1

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers remained hot on the heels of the National league's pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals yesterday by smashing the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-1 while the Red Birds protected their slim half game lead by downing the Chicago Cubs, 1-0.

For seven innings Rube Melton of the Dodgers and southpaw Ken Raffensberger of the Phils were locked in a 1-1 hurling duel but the Brooks broke the game wide open in the bottom half of the eighth by scoring five runs to clinch the game.

Carl Furillo walked to start the Brooks big frame and advanced to second when Pee Wee Reese's bunt hopped over Raffensberger's head for a single. Bruce Edwards moved the runners along with a sacrifice and after Howie Schultz was purposely passed to load the bases, pinch hitter Stan Rojek dropped a fly ball over the drawn-in infield to register Furillo with the tie-breaking run.

The third Dodger run crossed on Ed Stanky's safe squeeze bunt and Cookie Lavagetto followed with a single to drive in two more. Stanky scammed home with Brooklyn's last run when Augie Galan flew out to left fielder Del Ennis.

Philadelphia took a 1-0 lead in the third inning on Emil Verban's single and Skeeter Newsome's double but the Dodgers evened matters in the fourth when Dixie Walker doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on Edwards' infield hit.

Raffensberger worked himself out of another hole in the fifth before the roof fell in on him in the eighth. With two down, Ducky Medwick and Walker singled but Furillo bounced to the veteran lefty to retire the side.

Hawks Stress Passing Attack For Purdue Game Saturday

On the same turf where his first University of Iowa football team made its successful debut in the conference race seven years ago, Dr. Eddie Anderson will send his 1946 Hawkeyes against Purdue's Boilermakers Saturday in the earliest home league opener in history.

Realizing the tremendous amount of work to be done in preparation for the power-laden Boilermakers, Anderson has mapped plans for a strenuous week of drills.

"On the whole, the showing of the squad in the opener was good," Anderson said yesterday. "Of course, there was that early season raggedness to be overcome."

"We will have heavy workouts on offense and defense Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Our injured men will be OK for the Purdue game."

The injured regulars, Bob Liddy, Jim Cozad, Jim Lawrence, Lou King, Ray Carlson, Bob Sullivan, Duke Curran and Tony Guzowski, all were in action yesterday as the Hawks ran through a light passing drill, although King was wearing a guard to protect his broken nose.

New players, mainly high school graduates of last spring who are reporting to the Hawks this week will be handled by Kent, Glenn Devine and "Waddy" Davis.

One of the individual stand-outs of the North Dakota State game, pass grabbing Jack Dittmer, worked with the first string during the day's drill, sharing receiving honors with Bob Phillips, Hal Shoener, Bob Smith and Curran as King, Sullivan and Ermen Tunnell did most of the passing.

Another shift found the giant Jerry Kubal, starting tackle Saturday, working with the number three line as Jim Cozad moved back into his regular berth. Kubal suffered a minor chest injury against the Bison and may be sidelined this weekend.

Anderson and his assistants went over the Purdue scouting report as submitted by Maury Kent, chief scout. Kent reported that the Boilermakers have a lot of stuff and are playing better football than usual at this stage of the season.

Kent described the line as "big and strong, with numerous experienced men," and said that Bob DeMoss, the tall quarterback, looks to be even a better forward passer

City Council Rejects Bid For Sewers

The city council, concerned during the summer with numerous items of vital importance to Iowa City, took a "breather" last night to cleanup odds and ends of city business.

A single bid for sewer installation, submitted by Gjellefeld Concrete Construction company of Forest City, Iowa, was rejected. The sewer committee reported that the $11,813.20 bid was 5 1/2 percent above the city engineer's estimate.

The project, including sewers for First, Third, Fourth and Fifth avenues and Court, Bloomington, Reno, Gilbert and Webster streets, was abandoned until next spring. Payment of $1,734.17 to Joseph Strahl for completion of the East Iowa City relief sewer was approved.

The council granted a 30-day extension of time to the Fieseler and Keppler construction company for completing sidewalks on the south side of Muscatine avenue near Fourth avenue.

Grant Keppler, who petitioned for the extension, said shortage of cement made it impossible to complete the sidewalks before Oct. 1 as specified in the contract.

Petitions asking that street lights be installed on N. Dodge street, Clark street and E. Burlington street, and a petition asking for resurfacing of part of McLean street, were referred to committee.

The problem of inspecting Benton street bridge, which is closed daily at 5 p. m. because it was declared unsafe for traffic some years ago, was turned over to the bridge committee.

Police Chief O. A. White and members of the parking committee were directed to draw up an ordinance governing use of the parking meters to be installed shortly.

Upon recommendation of the claims committee, the council rejected the claim of Harold Blecha for damages to his car allegedly caused by unsafe conditions of an alley.

Ralph Makin Dies After Heart Attack

The body has been taken to the Oathout funeral home. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Makin, a farmer, lived on the IOW county road one-quarter mile southwest of Iowa City.

Methodists Reveal Student Center Plans

THE WESLEY FOUNDATION board of Iowa yesterday announced plans for a new Methodist Student center to be constructed in Iowa City, according to the Rev. Victor Goff, minister at the First Methodist church. The new foundation building will be built next to the Methodist church and will occupy the site of the present student center and some additional property acquired for the purpose. Plans for the new center include a chapel, assembly halls, lounges, offices, a library, music room, craft rooms, nursery, recreation room, a stage, dining room, counselor's apartment, guest rooms and other facilities for student religious activities. The building will be constructed of stone and will be air-conditioned. The new Wesley foundation will be a memorial building, and gifts are being made in memory of the youth who were war casualties as well as those who returned from the war. Dr. F. C. Witzgman, Wesley foundation field director, has been chosen as state director of finances for this project as well as for two similar ones at Ames and Cedar Falls. The local Methodist church has voted to raise at least $15,000 for the project and a Wesley foundation student group has started solicitations outside of Iowa City. Parts of the building are being planned so that interested students may take part in the designing of a stained glass window, murals, sculpture and some ornamental woodcarving. The Seth J. Temple architectural firm of Davenport has drawn the plans pictured above.

and the department heads made preliminary plans for a system of putting the scarcest books on reserve so that the largest possible number of students can make use of them.

Before the first classes yesterday morning, President Virgil M. Hancher greeted students at the traditional induction ceremony.

Education is not an episode, not something to be experienced once in a few brief years and then laid away among your memories," President Hancher told the students. "It is an ingredient without which this nation cannot survive."

Pointing out that no entering group of university students has traveled in as many lands and has looked upon as diverse and distant seas, the president declared that "never has America had greater need than it has today for men and women who can look backward through the long corridors of time with knowledge; and forward through the unclear vistas of the future with understanding."

Plain living and high thinking once again are the order of the day, he said, declaring that for the present the university cannot give the comforts it would like.

"We trust that you will be patient and cooperative with the efforts that will be made to correct and improve existing imperfections. We shall do our best, but we shall work no miracles," he said.

Sunspots Seen By SUI Astronomy Classes

Several Iowa Citizens were able to observe the sunspots last weekend which were reported to be the cause of serious interference with radio and telephone communication throughout parts of the world.

Two astronomy classes at the University of Iowa studied the sunspots yesterday, according to C. C. Wylie, astronomy professor. Wylie reported being able to see five sunspots on the surface of the sun with binoculars.

The rare phenomena caused a blackout of radio communication with Europe and the Orient over the weekend. The Iowa City civil aeronautics station at the airport had a difficult time reading "dot and dash" radio reports because of interference attributed to the spots. Sunspots are portions of the sun's surface which turn dark at intervals. Their appearance is often accompanied by magnetic storms on the earth.

Big Four to Meet On Treaty Changes

U.S. Okays Partial Payment on Property Losses in Romania

By LOUIS NEVIN

PARIS (AP)—President Georges Bidault of France yesterday called a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers for this afternoon to attempt to iron out differences in proposed treaty amendments and pave the way for adjournment of the 21-nation peace conference by Oct. 15.

This was announced as the United States, in the conference itself, abandoned a stand taken in conjunction with Britain and France and aligned herself with Russia in advocating partial payment for property losses to Allied nationals in Romania. Previously the three western powers had insisted on full payment for such losses.

In other conference developments yesterday the Italians asked that Libya, Eritrea and Italian Somaliland be placed under Italian trusteeship, the United States reiterated opposition to approving in a treaty the forced transfer of 200,000 Hungarians from Czechoslovakia, and Greece demanded that the Bulgarians be compelled to destroy fortifications on the Greek-Bulgarian frontier.

Took Similar Action

The action of the United States in giving up demands for 100 percent compensation from Romania was similar to that taken last Thursday by both France and the United States in regard to Italy.

There were some indications that the United States also would agree to only partial compensation from Bulgaria and Hungary, but Britain was reported adamant in favor of 100 percent compensation.

Business interests within Allied countries have demanded compensation amounting to approximately $70,000,000 for holdings damaged within Romania.

Italians Ask Colonies

The thorny question of Italy's colonies, shelved for a year by the four foreign ministers, came unexpectedly to the fore when Ivanoe Bonomi, principal Italian delegate, requested the Italian political and territorial commission to place Libya, Eritrea and Italian Somaliland under Italian trusteeship.

Bonomi's speech touched off debate on article 17 of the proposed Italian treaty which would force Italy to renounce sovereignty and rights over the colonies, instruct a special council of Big Four deputy ministers to find a permanent solution to their future or to turn the problem over to the United Nations, and leave them for a year under the British army of occupation.

Egypt promptly demanded Eritrea and parts of Libya, and Ethiopia asked for Eritrea.
