Brecheen Stops Red Sox With Four Hits

Card Victory Evens Series

By GAYLE TALBOT ST. LOUIS (P)—With Harry (The Cat) Brecheen turning in a masterful four-hit pitching job against the vaunted Boston Red Sox sluggers, the St. Louis Cardinals bounced back with a 3 to 0 triumph in the second game of the World Series yesterday before another packed crowd of 35,815.

In squaring the play-off for the national league champs, Brecheen not only hamstrung the Sox with his left-handed shoots, but knocked across what proved to be the winning run with a single off Mickey Harris in the third inning and himself scored the game's third run in the fifth frame.

Nobody Gets to Third Not a Boston player reached third base and only twice did the Sox move a man as far as second. Each time it was Rudy York, whose 10th inning homer broke up Sunday's opening game. He drew two of the three walks given up by Brecheen.

Ted Williams, greatest of the Sox sluggers, did not get a hit and was the victim of one of the four strikeouts registered by the slim, 160-pounder from Broken Bow, Okla., once Williams swung so viciously at a curve that his bat left his hands and sailed into the Boston dugout, barely missing a couple of his teammates.

While Brecheen was shackling the American leaguers with one of the superb performances of World Series history, his opponent, Harris, found hard going in the seven innings he worked before being lifted for a pinch-hitter.

Del Rice, the Cardinal catcher, opened up on Harris with a fence-rattling double in the third inning, and Brecheen, after making no attempt to sacrifice, dumped a single into right field to drive his battery mate across with the day's big run.

Rice also sparked the Cards' two-run clincher in the fifth, which he led off with a single to left. This time Brecheen tried to move him along to second, but Pinky Higgins, Sox third baseman, grabbed his bunt and threw wildly past second. Rice raced clear to third and Brecheen to second on the bobble.

Moore Singles Red Schoendienst was an infield out, both runners holding up, but Captain Terry Moore slapped a single through Bobby Doerr at second to count Rice, and Brecheen romped in a few minutes later as Stan Musial hit into a forceout at second and beat the relay to first.

That was all Brecheen needed, and then some. The little lefty was exceptionally fast, his curves and screwball were baffling, and his control almost perfect. The two walks he gave to York resulted from the extreme caution with which he pitched to the big fellow rather than to any hint of wildness.

Tom McBride, the first Boston batter to face Brecheen, tapped the opening pitch through the right side of the infield just out of the reach of Schoendienst for a single. He got no farther as Brecheen unwound himself and struck out Johnny Pesky and forced Don DiMaggio to smack into the first double play of the series.

That was the last Sox batter to knock a ball past the infield into the fourth frame. With two out in that inning, York drew his second walk and advanced on Bobby Doerr's single to right, but Brecheen got the dangerous Pinky Higgins on an infield roller to retire the side.

Harris, himself, nicked the Cat for his club's third hit in the fifth, a dinky looper just over second base, and he remained right at first base. For the next three innings Brecheen appeared to grow stronger as he went along, knocking the Sox off in order.

Alaska Votes Today On Whether to Ask U.S. for Statehood

By C. D. WATKINS Associated Press Staff Writer Alaskans will vote today to choose territorial officials, a delegate to congress and decide whether they want Alaska to become a state.

If the outcome of the statehood vote is favorable, bills to put it into effect will be introduced in the next congress. Alaska would become the 49th or 50th state if congress finally approves the bills, for Hawaii already has voted to ask for statehood, and bills will be introduced in the next congress to give it to her.

As things stand now, no matter what the territorial legislatures of Hawaii or Alaska do, congress has the right to revoke the law. It also has the right to take away territorial status.

"Hat in Hand" In the words of former Delegate Anthony Dimond, now a federal judge in Alaska, that territory has had to come to congress "with our hat in our hand" for everything it wished. Residents have charged time and time again the territory was neglected and have frequently used a phrase common when Russia owned Alaska.

"God is high and the czar far away," they said in those days. Later the Nome newspaper, the Nugget, changed it to read: "God is far off and it is a long ways to Washington."

The residents say it is fantastic to expect good local government in the territory to stem from the national capital.

The territory has an elected delegate in the house to speak for it, but he has no vote. If the vote is favorable to statehood today, Alaska will have two senators and one representative to speak and fight on equal terms with other members of congress for the things Alaska wants.

Two or Three Years Even if the vote is favorable, it will take three or four years for Alaska to get statehood. That is about the time it would require to enact statehood legislation, call a constitutional convention and submit the constitution to the people for approval.

If Alaska is admitted to the union as a state, it will be the nation's largest state. It has 586,000 square miles of land as compared with 267,339 in Texas. It has 26,000 miles of coast line compared with 400 along the Texas coast.

The territorial voters today will go to the polls from Ketchikan in the southeast to Dutch Harbor, far out in the Aleutians and to the naval oil reserves that border the Arctic ocean in the north. Booths open at 7 a.m. Pacific time in eastern Alaska and continue to open an hour later in each of the three zones to the west.

Government Orders Ban on Construction Of Swimming Pools

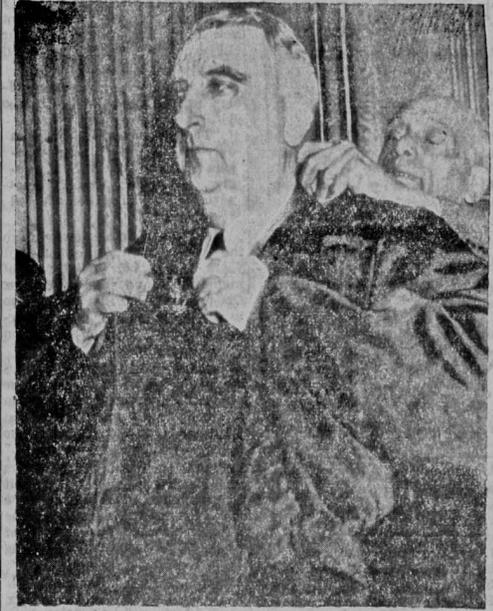

WASHINGTON (P)—The government last night banned the construction of swimming pools, boardwalks, roller-coasters, drices in theaters, parking lots, cement tennis courts, and walls and fences of wood, brick or concrete when any of these projects costs more than $200.

The civilian production administration also took two other steps designed to aid the housing program:

1. It reduced from $15,000 to $1,000 the amount of repair and other work that may be done in industrial, utility and transportation buildings without a permit, unless the buildings have a floor area of 10,000 square feet or more.

2. It proposed a $20 a ton subsidy to wire nail manufacturers to increase their output. The industry advisory committee took the plan under consideration.

VINSON ENDS FIRST DAY ON SUPREME COURT

THE NEW CHIEF JUSTICE, Fred M. Vinson, is helped from his robes by Robert H. Marshall yesterday, after completing his first day as presiding judge of the nation's highest court. During this term, the court is expected to pass on many important questions. Among them are the tidesland oil dispute, validity of Georgia's unit voting system and Oklahoma's challenge to the Hatch "clean politics" act.

Schacht Arrested in Stuttgart; Held for Denazification Trial

STUTTGART (P)—Hjalmar Schacht, Adolf Hitler's former minister of economics, was arrested by German police last night and locked up in jail here to await trial before a German denazification court on charges of being a "leading" Nazi.

The one-time financial wizard of the third Reich was arrested in the nearby village of Backnang within an hour after he arrived here from Nuernberg, despite suggestions by the United States military government that he and the other two Hitler satellites acquitted last Tuesday by the international military tribunal should not be re-arrested until convicted by a German court.

His arrest was ordered by the German ministry of state of Wuerttemberg-Baden after the ministry for denazification classified him as a "leading" Nazi—one who held a major position in Hitler's government and rendered it extraordinary service.

Conviction would carry a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment, confiscation of his property, and debarment from political office or administrative positions in industry.

Admiral Raeder Asks For Death Sentence

NUERNBERG, Germany (P)—Grand Adm. Erich Raeder yesterday petitioned the Allied control council to change his war crimes sentence from life imprisonment to death.

Raeder, 70, who was largely responsible for the building of the Nazi fleet, said in his petition that the appeal should not be interpreted to mean that he was pleading guilty to war crimes.

"The resistance of my body is very low, and the imprisonment would not last very long," he added.

However, Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy American military governor, said at a news conference in Berlin that the council had no power to increase the severity of the sentence.

Clay said Raeder's petition still had not been received in Berlin and added that the council had no official knowledge of reports that Pope Pius XII had requested clemency for Hans Frank, Nazi governor of Poland, who is among

William Green Lists Welfare Fund Plan As AFL Objective

CHICAGO (P)—AFL President William Green yesterday cited John L. Lewis' miners welfare fund as an "objective" for all American Federation of Labor unions as a means of providing security for the organization's 7,150,000 members.

Green insisted, too, in his keynote address opening the federation's 65th annual convention, upon an end to price controls, except rent ceilings. He said that workers must share by fresh wage boosts in greater profits which he said better production efficiency learned in wartime is bringing to American industry.

Green's statement charted new AFL policy because the federation, together with the CIO, strongly supported a firm price control law before congress this summer. However, Green said the present law was much weaker than the "fairly decent government control exercised by the government up to June 30th."

"With the exception of perhaps continued control of rent and some other items comparable to that," he said, "we believe the time has come when price control, along with wage control, should be lifted by the government of the United States."

The Lewis welfare fund, granted by government contract after White House seizure of the mines to end a long strike last spring, costs private mine owners a nickel for every ton of coal produced. The money goes to provide miners pensions and medical and hospital care when they need it.

"That objective," Green said, "will be the objective now of organizations affiliated with the AFL."

"We must establish in this nation security in every condition of life—old age, illness and infirmity—and in addition we must provide hospitalization and nursing facilities and medical care for every man and woman in United States."

"For human life is above material welfare in this nation." The AFL chief predicted the nation could achieve full production in two years and avoid a depression if "management will cooperate with labor, if the government will stop breaking down the morale of workers by threatening to enact and impose slave legislation upon the workers of the nation."

"We are students of economics enough to know that there is but one remedy for inflation, a great evil. And that is full production," Green declared.

"We are going to fight on for higher wages, because we cannot render consistently more efficient service without sharing the rewards of that efficiency. We have not reached the limit."

Saying some people complain that wages already are too high, Green asserted that it was necessary to keep wages up to provide purchasing power "to consume the goods which industry produces."

Green warned the 650 delegates to be wary of those who would "lead us into the bypaths of ideological experimentation" and said "there is little difference, if any, between the totalitarianism of communism and the nazism and fascism of Hitler and Mussolini."

Stunt Flying Brings Death to 14 Persons

APELDOORN, Holland (P)—Twelve school boys were killed yesterday when a Netherlands military pilot stunting over his mother's home crashed into a school, turning the gymnasium into an inferno. The pilot was killed and his horror-stricken mother died of a heart attack as she witnessed the tragedy.

Thirteen other boys and their gymnasium instructor were injured. The instructor and four of the boys were critically hurt.

Sen. Connally States Policy

Field Marshal Smuts Pleads for Tolerance In Writing of Peace

PARIS (P)—The United States served notice on the European peace conference yesterday that it will make no further concessions in the east-west struggle over the Trieste free zone as the delegates began final consideration of peace pacts for the five former satellites of Nazi Germany.

As the conference argued the treaties, Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts of South Africa, white-haired veteran of Versailles, pleaded for "unity and tolerance" between the eastern and western powers and urged delegates of the 21 nations not to turn their peace-writing efforts into "an overture to bigger struggles to come."

America's stand-pat policy on Trieste was made by Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.), who, in urging conference approval of the report drawn up by the Italian political commission, declared that "a just solution" of the Trieste and Yugoslav - Italian frontier problem was the "key-stone of a peace settlement with Italy."

The white-haired Texan repeated previous American warnings that the United States considers the Italo-Yugoslav frontier and Trieste as "one decision, one agreement" in which "no part can be separated from the whole."

He denied Slav assertions that the zone's governor, representing the United Nations security council, could be regarded "as a dictator or as the agent for any one foreign group of powers striving to use Trieste for their own ends."

The zone's governor, Connally said, "must have sufficient powers to fulfill his responsibilities." The Slavic bloc has maintained that the popular legislative assembly of the free zone must be supreme, with the governor a mere security council observer there.

Connally denied Yugoslav charges that Britain and the United States wanted to make a joint military base out of Trieste for their future operations, adding: "Our proposal is that the territory shall be and shall remain demilitarized, and that no military, naval or air forces, installations or equipment will be maintained, built or manufactured in the free territory."

At one point, Connally warned: "Unless this statute becomes operative, our obligations toward the population of Trieste cannot be discharged. . . the city must be founded on democratic principles."

Smuts Aims 'Cleavage' Then Smuts brought into the open a problem which few delegates had mentioned publicly in the peace talks previously—"cleavage" between the Slavic bloc and the western Allies.

"One feature of this conference has been both disappointing and discouraging," declared the ramrod-straight, white-bearded marshal who remembers Versailles so vividly. "A cleavage has been revealed which may bode ill for the future of world peace. This cleavage may, in time, overshadow the work of the conference, itself."

Smuts said he had been "struck" by the "consistency with which the Slav group and the western group voted against one another" in commission ballots. He explained he was "deliberately bringing this up" so it could be "ventilated" and cleared up.

Florida's West Coast Braces for Hurricane

EVACUATION OF FLORIDA'S west coast (shaded area) was urged yesterday by storm forecasters who said a tropical hurricane is expected to strike inland in the Tampa Bay area. Hurricane warnings have been posted from Key Largo north to Cedar Keys. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

TAMPA, Fla. Tuesday (P)—Roaring directly towards the state's citrus area, where most of an estimated 102,000,000 boxes of oranges, grapefruit and tangerines were approaching maturity. The value of the 1946 crop has been estimated at between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000.

Winds of full hurricane force and abnormal high tides were forecast for the Florida west coast northward to Cedar Keys and winds of gale to hurricane force elsewhere over north and central Florida.

Hurricane warnings fluttered along the Florida west coast north to Cedar Keys and along the east coast from Melbourne to Fernandina. Storm warnings were up elsewhere along the coast from Apalachicola to Cape Hatteras. The hurricane apparently was roaring along its charted path.

The coast guard warned residents of Davis island, a rich residential section in Tampa bay, and those along Bayshore drive, paralleling the bay, to evacuate. The coast guard said the danger was from high tides rather than winds.

Some residents, however, remained in their homes despite the warning. Lieut. A.W. Byrd of the navy's weather group flew through the eye of the storm at 1 p.m. and reported 130 mile winds.

An army B-29 flew on a history-making mission over the top of the swirling hurricane, to make observations, recordings and photographs for the first time from above its 30,000-foot or higher peak. The plan, flown by Major Paul Fackler of Tolona, Ill., was to land at 9 p.m. at Patterson field, near Dayton, Ohio.

Thus the last night winds were

Adolf Hitler Had Son by Frau Goebbels, Claims Wife of Ex-Nazi State Official

MUNICH, Germany (P)—Mrs. Goebbels' attractive, ash-blond wife, Magda, while both were vacationing on the Baltic sea in the summer of 1934, Mrs. Meissner said.

"Mrs. Goebbels loved Hitler's child especially. Hitler, too, maintained an active interest in his son, remembered his birthdays, gave him presents, and invited him to parties. Even when his interest turned to other women he did not lose interest in the child," she added.

Hitler was not faithful to women, she said. "Even during his long affairs with Eva Braun, he had relations with other women," Mrs. Meissner said.

Balloting Hours for Election To Be From 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The votes of citizens of Iowa City will decide today whether or not the franchise of the Iowa Water Service company is to be renewed.

The ballot lists the complete water franchise renewal ordinance beneath the question "Shall The Following Public Measure Be adopted?"

Two small boxes marked "Yes" and "No" are provided in the ballot. A voter must mark an "X" in pencil within the box of his choice.

An "X" placed in the "Yes" box indicates the voter wants the franchise of the water company renewed for 20 years beyond Aug. 7, 1948, its present expiration date.

An "X" placed in the "No" box means the voter does not want the water company's franchise to be renewed at this time.

The outcome of the special election today will not affect the supply of water to Iowa City homes. The company is required by law to furnish water to the city beyond the Aug. 7, 1948, expiration date even if a franchise has not been granted before that time.

The nine regular Iowa City precinct voting places will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. today. Total tabulation of the votes will be made at the city hall after individual counts are made in each precinct.

Iowa Citizens will be voting on the renewal of the same franchise which has been in operation since Aug. 27, 1923, with the following exceptions:

1. The name of the water company has been changed from the Iowa City Water company to the Iowa Water Service company.

2. A clause has been inserted which allows the fire chief to regulate the water pressure up to but not exceeding 100 pounds in time of emergency.

The franchise proposed for renewal at a recent city council meeting did not contain an option clause allowing the city to buy the company. The clause had been a part of the former franchise.

At the city council meeting where the franchise ordinance, was finally approved for presentation to the voters, the franchise was amended to include the option provision.

The option clause permits Iowa City to buy the company any time during the month of October, 1961.

Should the city decide to buy the water company during that month, the price would be set by a five member appraisal board. Two members of the board are to be appointed by the water company, two by the city. The fifth member is to be chosen by the other four members.

The Iowa Water Service company's desire for renewal of the franchise at this time is based on the claim that it cannot obtain credit for new construction unless the franchise extends for more than the present two-year period.

The new construction being considered by the water company includes a pipeline crossing of the Iowa River and the extension of existing water mains to handle the anticipated increase of water customers as Iowa City expands.

Opposition to the water franchise renewal has been voiced by the Citizen's committee. It claims the franchise now existing is an improper contract and should not be renewed.

The committee also contends that the water rate of $1.28 per 300 cubic feet is too high and that a definite valuation of the water company's property should be made and written into the franchise.

WSUI will broadcast unofficial returns of the election. Incomplete returns will be aired at 8:45 p.m. again at 9:30 p.m. when the station goes off the air.

'Bad Check' Cashier Seen in Oskaloosa

A man who used the name Edward B. Saunders in cashing eight worthless checks in seven Iowa cities against the Iowa City Bank and Trusts company recently, was reported by the Oskaloosa Daily Herald in its Sept. 30 issue as "about 50 years of age, grey-haired, fast-talking and well dressed."

Description of the man was obtained by the Oskaloosa newspaper from a furniture store clerk in that city. After writing a worthless check in a large amount for an alleged purchase of a parlor suite on Sept. 28, the man received $111 in change, the clerk said.

Four such checks, amounting to an estimated $1,200, had been presented at firms in four towns; local bank officials said.

The amounts of the other checks have not yet been disclosed.

To the People of Iowa City

In 1942 we purchased the Iowa Water Service Company after the people of Iowa City had voted 2072 to 372 against Municipal ownership of the plant. The Company was brought on the open market under the supervision of the Federal Security and Exchange Commission regulations.

Since buying the plant we have conscientiously tried to give the people of Iowa City the best possible water service, water and fire protection at the lowest possible rates. We take pride in the improvements already made.

It just hasn't been possible for us to talk to each of you personally as we would like to do and assure you of our sincerity and desire to co-operate with you in the future development of our city.

Therefore we have taken this means to give you our assurance and to request your support.

Respectfully
Dr. George H. Scanlon

Local Atomic Energy Group To Split Atoms Tomorrow

A new local organization—the Atomic Energy Control committee—will get its first test tomorrow night with the presentation of "Test Able," an atomic energy demonstration to be held at 8 o'clock in Macbride auditorium.

The AECC was organized in August by representatives of the Johnson county chapter of the American Veterans Committee, the Iowa City League of Women Voters, the Johnson county chapter of the Association of Eastern Iowa Scientists and the University of Iowa World Affairs Forum.

First of Series
Tomorrow night's program will be the first in a series planned by the AECC to promote its aims of urging creation of an effective and workable international control of atomic energy and of establishing a program for disseminating information to promote international control of atomic energy.

The entire series of lectures, forums and meetings have been named "Operation Macbride" by AECC members.

The actual splitting of the atom will be made audible to those attending the demonstration by the use of special physical and amplifying equipment and a loud speaker.

Atom Splitting Demonstration
"It will be a demonstration of atoms breaking up," Prof. C. J. Lapp of the physics department, an AECC member, explained. "We will split the atom, although we will not produce fission, which is the dividing of the atom nucleus into two equal parts."

Through the use of amplifying apparatus, equipment used in Test Able will pick up a particle emitted by radioactive material and record it as a noise. Decomposition of the atoms in radioactive material will produce a continuous roar, comparable except in volume to the sound of an atomic bomb explosion.

The March of Time film, "Manhattan Project," will also be featured on tomorrow evening's program. A portrayal of the development of the atomic bomb, the film presents men instrumental in the development of the project and re-enacts the New Mexico atomic test.

Council to Discuss Student Trip Plans

Detailed arrangements will be made for the student train trip to the Iowa-Minnesota football game Nov. 16 at a regular meeting of the Student Council at 7:30 tonight in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Herb Olson, A4 of Winfield; council president, will announce the price of game and train tickets and where they can be purchased. He will also give the departure and returning time for the student train.

A report will be made on the possibility of getting a roped-off section in the stadium for the pep club for the remaining home games.

Howard Hensleigh, L3 of Iowa City, will give a first reading of proposed constitutional amendments.

Also included on the agenda for tonight will be the formulation of plans for the second ticket sale drive on the Xavier Cugat concert. Plans will be completed for exchanging tickets for the receipts given out during the advance ticket sales. A committee will be named to make arrangements for draping the fieldhouse, taking tickets and ushering at the concert.

SUI Pershing Rifles To Plan Reactivation

Plans for reactivating company B of Pershing Rifles national honor society, active on campus for many years before the war, will be discussed at a meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in conference room 1, Iowa Union.

Sidney Guthrie, C3 of Pittsburgh, Pa., one of the students planning the reorganization, urged yesterday that all former members attend the meeting.

Before the local company B was deactivated in 1943, its members participated in competitions in drill formations and military arts and its crack drill platoon competed with other schools.

Recognized for their blue and white uniforms with blue and white shoulder cords, Pershing Rifles members participated in halftime ceremonies at football games and formed the traditional honor guard on Governor's day.

The French Ph.D. reading examination will be given Saturday from 10 a. m. to 12 noon in room 314, Shaeffer hall. Applications are to be made by signing your name to the list posted on the bulletin board outside room 307, Shaeffer hall. No applications will be accepted after Thursday.

The next examination will be given at the end of the first semester.

ENGINEERING RECEPTION

The annual engineering reception will be held at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the main lounge of Iowa Union. All engineering students, alumni and faculty members are invited to attend. A short program will be presented and refreshments will be served.

Opera Star To Initiate Concert Series

Mona Paulee, distinguished young mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan opera company, will open the 1946-47 University concert course with two concerts Wednesday and Thursday evening, Oct. 16 and 17, at Iowa Union.

In announcing the concert, Prof. C. B. Righter, course manager, explained for the first time in the history of the concert course, two identical programs will be given. This is necessary, Prof. Righter said, because of the unprecedented number of students in the university.

Fifth Season at Met
Miss Paulee, now in her fifth season at the Metropolitan, has appeared in such operas as "Carmen," "Mignon," and "Rigoletto." She has served as soloist with the major symphony orchestras and has toured extensively as a recitalist.

Miss Paulee is a Canadian by birth but received her training in this country.

After singing minor roles with the San Francisco opera company, she entered the Metropolitan auditions of the air in 1941 and won the first prize, a Metropolitan contract.

Success Assured
Her success never was in question after her first appearance in a major role at the Metropolitan, Professor Righter said.

Student tickets will be distributed beginning Monday, Oct. 14, at Iowa union desk, when a limited number of tickets will also be available to the general public.

Seals Club to Hold Tryouts Tomorrow

Tryouts will be held for the Seals, women's honorary swimming organization, at 7:30 tomorrow night in the women's gymnasium pool.

Mrs. Gladys B. Ashton, instructor in the women's physical education department said university women will be admitted to the Seals, one of the oldest organizations on campus, on points given in performance tests. A candidate must be able to swim 100 yards under two minutes, and will be judged on form in a 20-yard speed test, three strokes and also on the running front dive and back dive.

With an average membership of 35 women, the Seals club presents a water show each spring featuring ballet and synchronization.

Elks Home to Sponsor Three Events This Week

Three social events will be held this week in the Elks home, according to Keith Wilson, entertainment chairman.

The monthly Elks frolic will be held at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. Glenn Hope is chairman of the evening.

Bill Meardon's orchestra will play at the home Saturday at 8 p.m. for a dance after the Iowa-Nebraska football game.

A dinner dance is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday. Mal Dunn and his orchestra of Omaha, Nebr., will furnish the music.

Psychiana Founder to Visit Campus Religion Classes to Hear Dr. Robinson

Dr. Frank B. Robinson, the man who started a movement called Psychiana through advertisement 20 years ago and now has a following in over a million American homes, will speak today in three university religious classes.

"No creeds, no doctrines, no articles of faith but a direct relation to the power of Almighty God in human lives is the principle behind the movement," said Dr. Robinson.

Explaining why he started the movement, Dr. Robinson said, "I was dissatisfied with my religious experiences as minister in the Canadian Baptist denomination and one day had a talk with God about it and have followed his instructions ever since. That was 20 years ago."

Receives 23,000 Replies
Starting with $400 and spending it all on advertising, Dr. Robinson received 23,000 replies through the mails. Now he uses mail exclusively and sends literature to about 1,250,000 persons each month. The mail travels to over 13,000 cities and towns of the United States.

Living in Moscow, Idaho, which has a population of only 6,000 persons, Dr. Robinson employs over 100 persons to handle the mail alone. The Moscow postoffice does $160,000 worth of business yearly. Robinson's postage bill last year was $100,000.

Author of 19 books, Dr. Robinson's most popular book was "The Garden Nobody Knows," which sold over one-half million copies. "Your God-Power" was also written by him and its sales nearly equaled those of his best seller.

Owns Newspaper
The story of how Dr. Robinson started by advertising in countless papers and building up his movement to over a million in 20 years has appeared in Readers Digest, Collier's and 153 other publications. Dr. Robinson owns a newspaper himself — The Daily Idahoan.

Engineering College To Hold Reception At Union Tomorrow

Engineering students, alumni and faculty members will meet in the main lounge of Iowa Union tomorrow night for the first engineering faculty-student reception since 1941.

Prof. C. J. Posey of the engineering department, co-chairman of the reception committee, said yesterday that the reception was an annual event designed to allow new students to become better acquainted with the college of engineering.

An estimated 450 persons will attend the reception, which will include talks by faculty members and students, music, yells led by university cheer leaders and a technicolor movie.

Dean Francis M. Dawson will introduce engineering faculty members to the students, and Lyle Fuller, E4 of Cedar Rapids, president of Associated Students of Engineering, will introduce officers of the various engineering societies.

A summary of activities and qualifications for membership in Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, will be presented by Bill Bauer, E4 of Iowa City, president of the chapter.

An outdoor color movie, "Big Five," recently completed by the state conservation commission, will be shown during the evening.

The Story of Water Rates in Cedar Rapids, Dubuque and Ottumwa

As we have explained before, many Iowa Cities have industrial users of water of which Iowa City has practically none.

For comparison purposes, we will show you how these cities have lower rates for residential consumers.

—CEDAR RAPIDS—

350 Industrial Consumers out of 17,000 total. 2% of their users are industrial.

These 2% consumers use 44 1/2% of the total water consumption and contribute 32 1/2% of the total revenue.

Iowa City Does Not Have These Industrial Users

—DUBUQUE—

33 1/3% of the total revenue from the sale of water comes from the industrial users.

Iowa City Gets Only a Fraction of 1%

—OTTUMWA—

The Ottumwa Water Works' published annual report for 1945 shows receipts in income from power sales of $68,781.42.

(The power sales are made by the Water Works and the revenue derived therefrom amounts to one-third of the total income.)

Profits from power sales amount to $55,586.50 or approximately 80% of the power sales revenue is operating profit.

IS IT FAIR TO COMPARE THESE CITIES WITH IOWA CITY? WE BELIEVE NOT!

'Harry Brecheen A Great Little Pitcher'--Eddie Dyer

Cardinals Relieved With Series Tied At One Game Each

By BOB SUITS
ST. LOUIS (P)—Eddie Dyer's warm Texas grin spread as he began unbuttoning his shirt.

"He's a great little pitcher, isn't he?" said the Cardinal manager—meaning, naturally Harry (The Cat) Brecheen. Sometimes Dyer pronounces it Breken and sometimes Breheen.

Dyer had a kind of suppressed enthusiasm, tempered to fit the superb pithing job the little left-hander had done, and the rest of the usual clubhouse clatter and confusion that usually come with a victory were not there. It was an atmosphere of general relief that the Cardinals no longer trailed their American league rivals.

There was very little shouting, no singing and trainer Doc Weaver's usual noisy phonograph was silent.

Brecheen, whose nickname "The Cat" originated with Manager Dyer as fitting his lithe, loping gait around the infield, wiped his perspiring face and said he wasn't tired.

"My control got better as the game went along," he confided. "That Rice caught a swell game."

Brecheen and Del Rice were the objects of the most attention. Brecheen for his masterful four-hit pitching, his run-scoring single in the fifth inning, and the control by which he held slugger Ted Williams in the palm of his hand; Rice for his two hits, one a double, in three times at the plate.

Dickson to Pitch
Elated at Brecheen's great game, Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals announced he would start his crack righthander, Murry Dickson, against the Red Sox in the opener at Fenway Park. Dickson is the former relief pitcher who held Brooklyn to a pair of scratch hits for eight innings of the second game of the National league play-off.

Manager Joe Cronin of the Sox, having discovered that portinders hold no terrors for the Cardinals, said he would throw his star sophomore, Dave (Boo) Ferriss, a righthander, against the flock on Wednesday. Ferriss won 25 games while losing only six during the season, while Dickson wound up with a 15-6 record, counting his play-off victory.

Feller's All Stars Meet Davenport Cubs
Bob Feller's touring all-stars will play a double header in the Davenport municipal stadium Thursday night.

First to face the Feller aggregation will be the Davenport Cubs, winners of the Three I league, and then Satchel Paige and the Chicago Negro All Stars will be served up in the second game.

The first tilt is scheduled for 7 p.m. and if bad weather forces a cancellation the games will be played the following Saturday night.

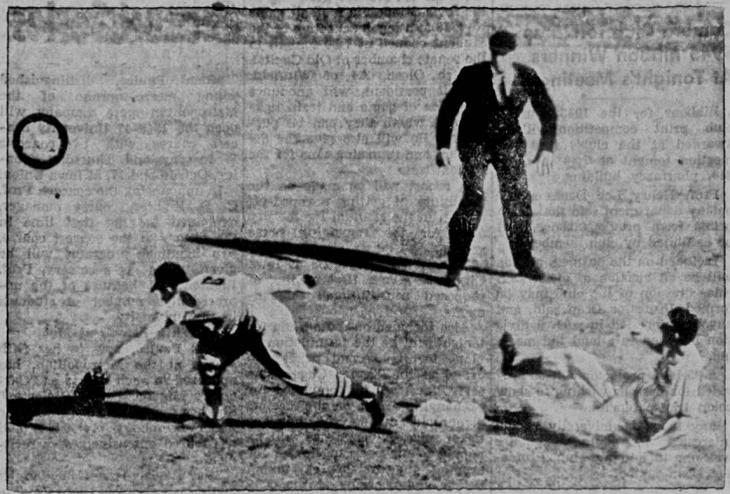

Feller's traveling club will use such major league stars as Mickey Vernon, American league leading clubber, and Charlie Keller of the New York Yankees.

Tickets may be obtained by writing to the Davenport Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Huskers Polish Attack
LINCOLN, Nebr. (P)—Nebraska's Huskers had a light drill yesterday as they began polishing their offense for their Saturday meeting with the Hawkeye football club at Iowa City.

Hawks Plan Air Attack

Dr. Eddie Anderson's Hawkeyes will hold "homecoming" day for Sam Vacanti, passing artist of the Nebraska football team, in the Iowa stadium Saturday.

Vacanti lettered at Iowa in 1942 and returned the next season wearing a marine uniform but dragging Purdue university mole-skins.

This year Sam is at the head of the Cornhusker "brain trust" and Dr. Eddie Anderson is laying plans not only to stop his accurate throwing but also to gear the Iowa offense into a first class scoring machine.

In the three games Iowa has played to date the Hawkeyes have averaged 4.5 yards through the line and 10.6 through the air.

This week Dr. Eddie says the emphasis will be placed on improving the passing average with Ermlen Tunnell, Bob Sullivan and Lou King doing most of the tossing.

Wholesale lineup changes—indicated after the Hawk starting line folded up in the first half of the Michigan game—are doubtful. Anderson has said that some will come about but only one was apparent in Monday's signal drill.

Jim Shoaf was running at left tackle instead of Bill Kay—otherwise the lineup was the same as that which started the Michigan game.

Tunnell, after playing three quarters against the Wolverines and throwing the touchdown pass to Herb Shoener, was running in the second string backfield.

Already This Season—Six Football Deaths

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (P)—With football back to its prewar footing, the reported deaths from the sport already have neared the 1945 mark and may reach the highest figure since 1938.

In that year 29 fatal injuries were reported although only 16 of them were found to have been caused directly by the sport, according to an analysis of reports by Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Purdue university.

Six direct fatalities have been reported this year, with one other death considered caused by other circumstances.

The most recent fatal accident was that of 17-year-old Henry Frnka, of a brain injury suffered Friday night.

Other high school victims were 16-year-old Robert Hannum of Franklin, O., who died three days after suffering head injuries; Willie Stieff, 17, Osseo, Wis., who died of a brain hemorrhage; Joseph Jeffries, 17, Downingtown, Pa., who died following an operation for a kidney injury suffered in a scrimmage; and James Clark, 17, Ligonier, Pa., who collapsed in the locker room after practice and died an hour later. The coroner declared the death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Richard Lithgow, 16, of Elmhurst, Ill., a halfback at York high school, died of a ruptured spleen suffered in a game with Des Plaines, Ill., high school last Saturday.

The sole death in collegiate football was reported last week when Billy Joe Whitehead, reserve fullback for Texas Tech., died after being injured in fall practice.

Richard Lithgow, 16, of Elmhurst, Ill., a halfback at York high school, died of a ruptured spleen suffered in a game with Des Plaines, Ill., high school last Saturday.

Already This Season—Six Football Deaths

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (P)—With football back to its prewar footing, the reported deaths from the sport already have neared the 1945 mark and may reach the highest figure since 1938.

In that year 29 fatal injuries were reported although only 16 of them were found to have been caused directly by the sport, according to an analysis of reports by Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Purdue university.

Six direct fatalities have been reported this year, with one other death considered caused by other circumstances.

The most recent fatal accident was that of 17-year-old Henry Frnka, of a brain injury suffered Friday night.

Other high school victims were 16-year-old Robert Hannum of Franklin, O., who died three days after suffering head injuries; Willie Stieff, 17, Osseo, Wis., who died of a brain hemorrhage; Joseph Jeffries, 17, Downingtown, Pa., who died following an operation for a kidney injury suffered in a scrimmage; and James Clark, 17, Ligonier, Pa., who collapsed in the locker room after practice and died an hour later. The coroner declared the death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Richard Lithgow, 16, of Elmhurst, Ill., a halfback at York high school, died of a ruptured spleen suffered in a game with Des Plaines, Ill., high school last Saturday.

The sole death in collegiate football was reported last week when Billy Joe Whitehead, reserve fullback for Texas Tech., died after being injured in fall practice.

Tourneys Feature Fall Golf Program

BULLETIN
All candidates for the University of Iowa golf team have been asked to report to coach Charley Kennett tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 at the Finkbine Country club.

Marc Stewart of Iowa City was winner of the grand championship flight of the 27-hole medal play golf tournament sponsored Saturday and Sunday by Roy L. Chopek post 17 of the American Legion, according to Carl Redenbaugh, post commander. Stewart's score was 109.

Second place went to Ralph Bolin whose score was 112. Dick Federson placed third with 114.

Plans are being made to make the tournament an annual event to take place in June, Redenbaugh said.

Winner of the annual Knights of Columbus golf tournament as announced by C. A. Boyle, tournament chairman, yesterday, are Francis (Buz) Graham, grand champion, and D. C. Nolan and Harold Roberts, tied for second place.

Other prizes were awarded to Peter Rocco, handicap champion; Albert Ve Depo, handicap runner-up; and Charles Ve Depo and Joe Meyers, close ball on the green.

Honors for the most "4's" went to A. W. (Bud) Ullrich and M. J. McGovern; for most "5's" D. P. (Bud) Mattes; for most "6's" Boyle; and for most "7's" Ray Manterbach.

The tournament sportsmanship prize was awarded to Joseph A. O'Leary.

Upper C Wins Grid Opener
In the first Quadrangle game of the season, Upper-C ran over Upper D by a score of 19-7 yesterday afternoon. The game between Upper A and Upper B was given to the A group by a forfeit.

The winning team took to the air as fullback Frank Rhea tossed to Mike Langer for the first score of the game. The conversion was made on a pass from Ted Cole to Leo Hester. With nine minutes gone in the first half, Rhea intercepted a pass on his own ten yard line and to get the ball out of the danger spot, kicked to the D's 5 yard line.

Again the D's failed to gain when Cole intercepted a pass on his own 30 and ran to the 10 yard line before being forced out of bounds. With time running out, Ted Cole passed to George Beno for another six points which made it 13-0 at the half.

Resembling the Iowa Hawkeyes, the D team made a futile comeback attempt in the second half when Warren Strout scored on a pass from center Lloyd Willis. George "General" Patton made the catch for the extra point.

The spectacular play of the game came when Rhea tossed a pass from deep in his own territory, to Hester on the D's 25 yard line. Weaving and turning to elude would be "tacklers," Hester went 25 yards for the last touchdown of the game.

Coach Herb Cormack of the Hawks said last night that Reichardt will not play in the McKinley tilt even if the doctors consent and that his appearance in the Dowling encounter a week from Friday is doubtful.

Reichardt was a letterman last year at halfback but was shifted to end this season to take advantage of his pass catching ability and brilliant defensive play. He has been handling all the punting for the Hawks, his booming 62 yard kick that fell dead on the two yard

L.V. Carlton Files Objection To Gas Tax Fund Release

Challenges Legality Of Fourth-Cent Tax Involving $6 Million

L. V. Carlton, Iowa City, yesterday filed objection in district court to the release from two Iowa City banks of over $6,000,000 in state gasoline tax funds to State Treasurer John M. Grimes.

Carlton stated in his objection that:

(1) The Iowa State Supreme court violated a 1942 amendment to the Iowa state constitution when it described the extra fourth-cent of tax as "revenue" at his hearing last July, and,

(2) that he is not guaranteed equal protection by law when he pays his tax because the distribution as revenue is unequal.

Carlton also asks for a $40 refund equivalent to the extra fourth-cent he has paid since the law became effective.

All the money collected was ordered held when Carlton started suit in district court here to prove the tax law unconstitutional. The court upheld the law and the Iowa supreme court also found the law constitutional when Carlton appealed to them.

In his objection Carlton stated that an amendment to the Iowa Constitution in 1942 was interpreted to mean that no type of tax law on motor vehicle fuel except license or excise can be levied.

Therefore, Carlton believes, the supreme court's decision describing the extra fourth-cent as revenue makes the law unconstitutional.

He explained that the money would go to the cities on the basis of population and to counties on an area basis, thereby making distribution unequal, because a county with average population and large area would get more benefit from the money than a small, heavily-populated county whose citizens contributed a larger share of the tax.

Carlton pointed out that he was unable to raise these questions until after the revenue interpretation was given by the Iowa Supreme court.

The state last week asked for release of the money for distribution. District Judge Harold D. Evans had given Carlton and "other interested parties" until noon, Oct. 15, to file objections and had set hearing for Oct. 16.

Carlton's attorneys are D. C. Nolan and Edward L. O'Connor.

Baum Helps Write Chemical War Book

Prof. Bernard Baum of the university English department is co-author of "Chemicals in Combat," a history of the chemical warfare service, to be published soon by the U. S. government printing office.

Working as editorial consultant for the chemical warfare service with the rank of captain, Professor Baum was instrumental in beginning the comprehensive study which resulted in the composition of the history.

"Chemicals in Combat" covers subjects such as gas and incendiary warfare, research and supply and development of the 4.2 mortar.

Baum came to the university this summer as assistant professor of English. He taught from 1936 to 1942 at the University of Michigan, where he received a Ph.D. degree in 1942.

Six Men to Ft. Snelling

Six Johnson county men left for Ft. Snelling, Minn., Sunday night to take preinduction physical examinations.

The men are Robert W. Glaspie, Daniel Sleichter, Bert J. Miller, George L. Ruppert, William C. Hubbard and Christian J. Reif.

West Branch Man Pays $20, Costs for Speeding

Edwin V. Furchtenicht, West Branch, yesterday was fined $20 and costs in police court, for speeding. Police arrested Furchtenicht Saturday night for driving 45 mph in a 25 mph zone.

Thirteen persons paid $1 fines for overtime parking.

They were James Walton, Ross W. Applegate, Ray Buschnagel, Marriam Haubrich, Elmer Pratt, C. L. Kaufman, F. W. Raltke, D. A. Crawford, Seymour M. Pletcher, Don Tay, Lawrence Huffman, G. O. Frazier and Daniel Wagner.

Auto Accidents Here Send Four Persons To SUI Hospital

One woman was hospitalized yesterday and three other persons received minor injuries resulting from auto accidents yesterday and Sunday in Iowa City.

Mrs. A. L. Bowman, 58, of Marshalltown, suffered a leg injury when the car she was driving yesterday struck a cement bridge on the road northeast of the Iowa City airport.

Police said Mrs. Bowman fell asleep and drove off the road. She was still in the hospital yesterday where her condition was described as "fair."

Also injured in the accident were Cy Thompson, 39, and Vivian Thompson, 25, both of Marshall-

Professor Predicts— Meteors to Be Visible

A display of meteors last seen in 1933 will again be visible tomorrow evening about 8:30, Prof. C. C. Wylie of the astronomy department predicted yesterday.

Appearing irregularly on Oct. 9 for many years, the meteors will be visible tomorrow unless unknown attractions have altered their path since they last appeared, Professor Wylie added.

Small stones that follow nearly in the path of Giacobini's comet, the meteors are heated to incandescence when they enter the earth's atmosphere and are consumed in less than a second.

Meteors, or shooting stars, are particularly numerous when the earth and Giacobini's comet pass closely during their revolutions about the sun, Professor Wylie explained.

About six and one-half years are required for one complete revolution of the comet, making it possible for the earth and the comet to reach the intersection of their orbits approximately at the same time every 13 years.

Closest Approach
Closest approach of the comet to earth will occur at 8:30 or 9 p. m. tomorrow, when it will be little more than half the distance of the moon from the earth. It is not expected to be visible to the naked eye, although it probably can be observed through binoculars, Professor Wylie said.

Some astronomers call the meteors the Giacobinis after the comet with which they are associated, although Professor Wylie prefers to call them the Draconids because they seem to fall from the head of Draco, the constellation of the dragon always visible in the northern heavens.

Draconid meteors last fell in 1933 and were especially numerous in Europe. Panic seized many people in Oporto and other towns in Portugal and hundreds joined in penitential processions carrying lighted candles and singing hymns.

May Be Disappointing
The display scheduled for tomorrow may be relatively disappointing, Professor Wylie warned. Draconid meteors are not spectacularly bright, he said, and since the nearly full moon rises only a few minutes after sunset tomorrow, the meteors will probably look dim in the lunar light.

Professor Wylie plans to make observations with the aid of his graduate students, however, and will receive reports from several people in this vicinity on the frequency of the appearance of the meteors.

R. O'Leary Waives Hearing on Charges Of Drunken Driving

Roy E. O'Leary, 28, route 1, yesterday waived police court hearing on a charge of drunken driving after the car he was driving Saturday night was involved in a collision which hospitalized five persons.

O'Leary was bound over to the grand jury by Police Judge Knox, who set bond at $500.

William G. Nusser, 20, 330 W. Park road, driver of the other car, reported O'Leary was driving on the wrong side of the road at the intersection of highway No. 6 and Riverside drive, scene of the crash.

Five of the six persons riding in the two cars received minor injuries and have been released from the hospital.

Injured in Nusser's car was Evelyn A. Hage, 19, 804 Iowa avenue, who suffered bruised ribs.

O'Leary was cut on the forehead and his passengers who suffered injuries were Esther Newyer, 24, cut near the left eye; Ralph Newyer, 2, cut nose, and Claude Stanfield, 65, injured neck.

Stanfield was fined $6.50 for intoxication and served one night in jail.

Damage was estimated at $200.50 for the O'Leary vehicle and $50 for Nusser's.

town. They were treated at University hospital and released.

Irvin Moothart, Wellman, was treated at University hospital Sunday for injuries received when his car struck a parked car at 331 S. Summit street.

John H. Capper and Calvin C. Wade were passengers in the Moothart car.

Chest Fund Now $1,096

Workers Complete Seventh Day's Drive Toward $21,000 Goal

The Community Chest fund totaled $1,096 yesterday as drive workers completed their seventh day of the drive, according to Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann, chairman of the drive.

The goal set for the drive is $22,010.00. This amount was set after considering the budgets submitted by the various agencies supported by the Community Chest funds.

Agencies Supported
These include: the Community center, the supervised playground, the FTA milk fund, Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts of America and the City hall restroom.

Workers at fund headquarters in the council chambers at City hall expressed the opinion that contributions would increase in later days of the drive.

"The funds of the Community chest will be used primarily for the health and welfare of Iowa City children," said Prof. Ojemann.

Community Affair
"Iowa Citizens have long recognized the Community chest projects as most worthwhile. This is a community affair, and we are calling on everyone to contribute generously so our plans may be carried out," he declared.

The drive is being carried on by nine general divisions of workers. Each chairman has chosen several assistants who will approach all Iowa Citizens in a house-to-house, block-to-block or department-to-department canvass.

The drive will end Oct. 20.

Cocking Sues Connell For $5,850 Damages

W. Glen Cocking yesterday started suit for $5,850 damages against J. F. Connell and requested a jury trial in district court.

Cocking charges that Connell was driving too fast, was not in control of his car and had four children in a coupe when their two cars collided southeast of North Liberty Sept. 22.

Connell, his wife and two children were in the car at the time of the accident. Connell is asking $1,500 damages for his wife's injuries and $1,500 for his own injuries.

He also asks $1,200 for damage to the car which caught fire after the accident, $1,350 because he will be deprived of the use of his car for 90 days, and $100 for loss of clothing and other articles in the car.

Will J. Hayek represents Cocking.

Hickman Questions Current Conception Of Planned Economy

Understanding of economic planning schemes has not advanced far beyond the controversy over whether a planned economy can exist along with political freedom, Prof. Addison Hickman of the college of commerce said last night.

He spoke at "Recent Trends in Economic Theory" at a Humanities society meeting.

In the field of price study, there is a new realization of the relation of prices to imperfect competition as compared to perfect competition, he said.

"The problem of under-employment as related to the business cycle has also been widely studied," he pointed out, "but from so many viewpoints that there are no concrete findings."

"War experience confirmed the belief that land, labor and capital, and not monetary assets, are the assets that carry most weight," he declared.

Professor Hickman considers Fascist economic experiences of the last decade of little value to the understanding of economic trends because the Fascist program had primarily political aims. However, he thinks their experiences substantiate the idea that

I.C. Brothers Win Prizes For Five Guerneys At Waterloo Congress

A total of five prizes were won by Charles and Eugene Jennings, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jennings, route 4, with five Guerneys heifers entered in the 4-H club division of the Waterloo dairy cattle congress, according to Emmett C. Gardner, county extension director.

In the judging which closed Sunday, Charles won first prize in the yearling heifer class and calves under one year old.

Eugene placed third in the 2-year-old heifer class for dairy calves under one year old.

The brothers combined their five entries, representing Johnson county in the county group heifer showings, and won second prize in that division, Gardner said.

Very young mussels, called glochidia, attach themselves to birds' feet and feathers and thus get a free ride to other waters.

Kunstlings Bring Suit Against Vernard Moore For $25 Court Costs

Harry and Elizabeth Kunstling brought suit against Vernard Moore yesterday in district court for $25 court costs involved in an earlier eviction action taken by Reynolds.

the Kunstlings against Edith Reynolds.

The Kunstlings charge Moore with breaking a contract for sale of a house at 928 E. Bloomington street. They say he had agreed to pay $25 of court costs if Mr. and Mrs. Kunstling had to bring court action to evict the tenant, Mrs. Reynolds.
