

GOOD MORNING, IOWA CITY!
 Clearing and colder today with the highest temperature about 60 degrees, Strong northwesterly winds. Low tonight should be below 30.

Anderson Promises Action on Meat Petition

Mayor Teeters Honored on 80th Birthday

Friends Establish SUI Scholarship In Dean's Name

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters, dean emeritus of the college of pharmacy, was honored on his 80th birthday by 130 university, alumni and city friends at a banquet in the River room of Iowa Union last night.

A $2,069.23 scholarship commemorating the Iowa City mayor's distinguished service to the college of pharmacy, the university and the community was presented to the university by Dean Rudolph A. Kuever of the college of pharmacy, Administrative Dean Allin W. Dakin accepted the scholarship for the university.

Alumni from all over the United States contributed to the scholarship, which will grow through the years so that each year some worthy student can benefit by it.

Dean Kuever presented a bound volume of several hundred letters of appreciation from alumni to Dean Teeters.

Four of Dean Teeters' colleagues spoke briefly on their associations with him as a citizen, associate, golf friend and teacher.

Addressing the group on "Dean Teeters as a Citizen," Mrs. Carl E. Seashore, wife of the dean emeritus of the graduate college, said, "Our mayor has had experience in big business, and it is big business to manage Iowa City."

Praising Dean Teeters for his personal integrity, Prof. Robert B. Wylie of the botany department declared that through the years, the mayor has become a sort of "Father Confessor" to everyone who knows him.

Prof. G. W. Stewart, retired head of the physics department, said that in his experiences with Dean Teeters as a golf friend, he has learned that "it's not so much what Teeters does, it's his influence on others that has made him so successful."

Edward S. Rose, local pharmacist and a graduate of the class of 1904, spoke on the dean as a teacher. "Not only was he a good teacher, but he took an interest in the student's life," Rose said. "He is a man whose deeds will always be remembered."

In a speech of gratitude to his friends and colleagues, Dean Teeters said, "It's the easiest thing in the world to be some one average. What you want to do is to be above average. If you love humanity — get to know people."

Mayor Teeters came to the university in 1895 as an instructor and became dean of the college of pharmacy in 1902. Retired in 1937 with the title of dean emeritus, he was elected mayor of Iowa City in 1943.

Special guests at the banquet, introduced by the toastmaster, Dean Kuever, included Miss Zada F. Cooper of Villisca, former staff member of the college of pharmacy; W. L. Waters of West Liberty, who was a freshman student the year Dean Teeters first came to the university; F. W. Miller of Ames, who graduated the first year Dean Teeters taught; Lauren Henderson of Muscatine, a member of the Iowa board of pharmacy, and William Teeters, the mayor's son.

College of pharmacy faculty members who comprised the general committee in charge of the banquet were Prof. and Mrs. James W. Jones, Prof. and Mrs. Louis C. Zopf and Dean and Mrs. Kuever.

MAYOR WILBER J. TEETERS of Iowa City is shown here receiving a birthday cake presented to him last night for his 80th birthday at a banquet given in the River room at the Iowa Union. Seated at the table from left to right are: Mrs. R. B. Wylie, wife of Professor Wylie of the botany department; Prof. G. W. Stewart, retired head of the physics department; Mrs. Carl E. Seashore, wife of the dean emeritus of the graduate college; Mayor Teeters; and Dean Rudolph A. Kuever of the college of pharmacy.

Republicans Gain In Alaska Voting

JUNEAU, ALASKA (AP)—Incomplete returns yesterday indicated the Republicans scored a victory—their first in 16 years—by capturing the lower house of the territorial legislature, gaining five senate seats (one short of an even break with the Democrats) and nabbing one territorial office, commissioner of labor.

The advisory vote was almost two to one in favor of statehood for Alaska.

Unofficial returns from all the territory's judicial divisions indicated the next house of representatives will consist of 14 Republicans and 10 Democrats, and that the senate will consist of nine Democrats and seven Republicans.

Territorial delegate, E. L. (Bob) Bartell's overwhelming victory for return to congress was the one bright spot for the Democratic party in Alaska. He was opposed by Almer J. Peterson, Anchorage.

Stilwell Suffers Relapse

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, United States sixth army commander who suffered a relapse after an operation Oct. 3, remained in a critical condition at Letterman general hospital yesterday.

Peace Conference Approves U.S.-British Danube Proposal

PARIS, Friday (AP)—The Paris peace conference approved yesterday a joint American and British proposal for free navigation on the Danube river and completed work on the terms of the peace treaty with Romania.

The vote on the Danube issue was 15 to six—the division being along the usual east-west lines. Earlier the American and British pleas for free navigation on this key European river and unhampered trade in the Balkans were met by Soviet accusations that "dollar democracies" were seeking to further their "imperialistic" ambitions.

By a 14-to-seven vote the conference also provided that Romania, all other Danubian states and the Big Four would have a conference within six months after the Romanian treaty goes into effect for the purpose of establishing the river's "new international regime."

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov presided at the session which opened yesterday and continued until 1:50 a.m. today.

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes will preside when the conference convenes again at 9:30 a.m. today to take up the provisions of the Bulgarian treaty.

The conference already has put its final stamp on the Italian treaty and still has before it the treaties with Hungary and Finland as well as the Bulgarian pact.

The delegates began voting on the Romanian treaty at the start of last night's plenary session, completing the political articles in 45 minutes with little difficulty.

They agreed also to reduce Romania's armed forces to 125,000 men for the army, 5,000 men and 15,000 tons of shipping for the navy and 100 combat and 50 transport planes and 8,000 men for the air force. Then the delegates went on to vote on the disputed Danubian and commercial clauses.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told the conference that a free Danube is "indispensable to the economic health and therefore to the peace of central Europe." British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, in full support, charged that Soviet opposition "gives rise to a good deal of suspicion to the designs of the Soviet Union in this part of the world."

In respect to equal trade privileges Bevin asserted that it "will be very difficult for us to accept the final treaty unless Great Britain is given precisely the same treatment as others are given."

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov responded with the statement that if equal trade privileges were permitted in the Balkans the "power of the American dollar" would overwhelm the weak, local industries and "take everything."

He added that "we must take care that no post-war difficulties be exploited by 'dollar democracies.' It is not because a country has many dollars that it can impose its rule on others."

Molotov declared that the principle of internationalization could be applied as well to the Panama and Suez canals, taking a stand similar to that of Edward Kardelj of Yugoslavia, who told the conference earlier that "power politics" and a fight for "spheres of influence" were evident in the stand of the western powers.

Final approval of the Romanian treaty will leave only three of the 10 most disputed treaty problems still before the delegates. All are involved in the Bulgarian, Hungarian and Finnish treaties.

These are the Greek-Bulgarian frontier; an American demand for a reduction of $100,000,000 in the $300,000,000 in reparations which the Slav states want from Hungary; a Czechoslovak demand for transfer of 200,000 Hungarians from Czech territory to Hungary.

THIS STUNT WASN'T ON PROGRAM

CROWD at the Fisherman's Fiesta in Los Angeles got a thrill not on the program when Parachutist Phil Eastman missed his mark and landed on high tension wires, left. Although knocked unconscious when spun around the pole, right, he held tight to a package of frozen tuna while rescuers maneuvered him to the ground. (International)

FOOTBALL TICKETS
 University students are reminded by Paul Brechler, business manager of athletics, that student tickets are to be used in the student section only at football games and reserved seat tickets in the reserved section only. Students must enter the stadium at Gates 15, 17, 21 and 25.

Beef Industry Asks Removal Of Ceilings

GENEVA, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson would be taken on a request by the OPA beef industry son said yesterday that "prompt advisory committee for removal of meat price ceilings."

He did not say, however, what that action would be.

Speaking at a Rotary-sponsored meeting of 500 agricultural leaders, Anderson departed from his prepared text to acknowledge that there was an "outrage for measures" to bring meat to consumers "at a price they can afford to pay."

Anderson, referring to yesterday's beef industry advisory committee petition as a possible measure, declared:

"We are not dealing with 'beef before election.' We are in this for the long pull and the action of the department of agriculture must be taken in the knowledge that we are still living in an upset world."

Truman, Aides Confer On Meat Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the question of easing meat controls to the fore, President Truman went into a huddle yesterday with key advisers.

The decontrol issue was placed squarely up to the administration in a formal petition of the beef packers, backed by sworn statements that livestock on the hoof is plentiful.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, to whom the petition was made, promised a speedy answer. He presumably will be governed by the president's position.

That was emphatically against removing ceilings two weeks ago. But a question mark appeared yesterday when the president at his news conference declined to comment when asked whether he still holds that view.

The session at the White House reached no decision, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross reported, and the full cabinet will review the meat shortage today.

Beef packers formally petitioned for decontrol yesterday with sworn statements that there are 34 percent more cattle on the hoof now than before the war.

The packer's chairman, R. G. Haynie of Chicago, offered plenty of meat "very soon"—perhaps before the November elections—if the price controls are removed.

Hull Shows Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cordell Hull showed considerable improvement yesterday, the naval hospital reported.

Mr. Truman Says No...

No Action on Two WSB Resignations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman left the future of pay controls in doubt yesterday by making no decision on whether to accept or reject resignations of the wage stabilization board's industry members.

Mr. Truman told his news conference he has not made up his mind yet about the resignations submitted by A. Colman Barrett and Earle Cannon.

Some clue as to the board's future and as to whether there will be any change in the government's wage control program may be found in a statement to be issued by W. Willard Wirtz, chairman of the board. The president said he understood that Wirtz would make a statement later.

Pressed for some indication of when he will make a decision on the resignations, the chief executive replied that he is going to be deliberate about it. He recalled that he had rejected the resignations of the same two officials in July, and added, he may do this again.

Labor and industry leaders already are on record with demands that the board and wage controls be scrapped.

Chairman Wirtz told a reporter that "we are assuming" there will be no meetings of the panel's regional units until the status of the national board is clarified.

Barrett, in a formal statement, said that "Mr. Cannon and I are of the opinion that all wage controls should be ended. We hope that the president will not deliberate too long in accepting our resignation and ending all wage controls."

No Atomic Bombs In Great Britain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The British have no atom bombs, President Truman declared flatly yesterday—and diplomats expressed belief his statement might help relieve tension abroad.

Answering two direct questions inspired by published reports that a supply of the devastating missiles had been turned over to Britain, Mr. Truman told his news conference without qualification:

1. The British have none of the bombs.

2. There are no atomic bombs stockpiled in Britain.

He did not elaborate on his terse responses but apparently they meant that the United States continues to exercise, so far as responsible government officials know, a complete monopoly on possession of the bombs.

The president also said there had been no decision yet on the army air forces' proposal for a round-the-world flight of B-29 bombers. These are the planes capable of carrying atomic bombs and their mass flight would dramatize the striking power of the American air arm.

At the same time the president reported that he had determined to use a section of the nation's armed strength in helping celebrate the inauguration of a new president in Chile Nov. 3. He has directed Secretary of the Navy Forrestal to send a small squadron of warships and has designated Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy as his special representative at the ceremony.

Asked about the Palestine situation, he said he had answered Prime Minister Attlee's note to him but that the answer would not be made public.

No Political Talks In N.Y. Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said yesterday he has no plans to make a political speech in New York during the state and congressional election campaign.

At a news conference, Mr. Truman said, however, that he is considering a trip to Lake Success, N. Y., Oct. 23 to address the opening session of the United Nations assembly.

The president declined to discuss differences between Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York over the Nuernberg trial verdict. Taft was critical of the trial procedure and death sentences.

Smiling broadly when asked about the controversy between the two Republican leaders, Mr. Truman said he thought that was a matter between Taft and Dewey, and that they could settle it themselves.

Nazis Lose In Appeals To Council

BERLIN (AP)—Hermann Goering and three arch Nazis lost an appeal last night to die a soldier's death before a firing squad and the Allied control council confirmed that Hitler's once-designated successor and ten of his associates will die on the gallows next Wednesday.

After five and one-half hours of deliberation the four-power council rejected clemency appeals for 16 high Nazis convicted for crimes against the world and humanity.

In confirming the death sentences, the council rejected appeals by Goering, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel and Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl to be executed by a firing squad instead of a soldier's disgrace by hanging. It also refused the plea of Grand Admiral Erich Raeder to be shot instead of given life imprisonment.

Thus Goering, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Keitel, Jodl, Alfred Rosenberg, Hans Frank, Wilhelm Frick, Fritz Sauckel, Julius Streicher and Arthur Seyss-Inquart lost their last chance to escape the hangman's noose.

Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Hitler's former chief of secret police who also was sentenced to die, made no petition for clemency.

The council also rejected the plea for clemency on behalf of Martin Bormann, the 12th Nazi sentenced to die at Nuernberg although he was tried in absentia. The council said his plea was "premature" but that a new petition could be submitted within four days of his apprehension, should this occur.

The official statement "did not announce when the seven sentenced to prison terms ranging from life down to 10 years would be transferred from the Nuernberg jail to a prison in Berlin, reportedly Spandau in the British sector.

U.S. Army Lifts Order Halting Flights Over Czechoslovak, Hungarian Territory

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—An unexplained suspension of American plane flights over Czechoslovakia and Russian controlled Hungary was lifted suddenly late yesterday but a United States military ban still remained on flights by either civil or military aircraft over Romania.

Officials in headquarters of United States forces in the European theater steadfastly refused to give any reason either for Wednesday's original suspension order or for the confusing removal of the Czech and Hungarian bans.

(Military officials in Washington expressed the private belief that the temporary ban was due to maneuvers or other troop movements. They said a similar order was in effect for a short time earlier this year and was ascribed at that time to a Russian request.)

A Pan-American pilot whose plane was turned back at Prague Wednesday said in London that the ban may have been invoked "because the Russians are believed to be holding army maneuvers between Oct. 9 and 14."

The pilot said he understood "the Czechs have received similar orders from the Russians not to permit any civil flights over the area between Prague and Vienna between Oct. 9 and 14."

Pan-American said it had been informed of the order by the United States embassy.

HORSEMEAT FOR FOOTBALL PLAYERS

THREE IOWA STATE CO-EDS are shown unloading a 180-pound hind quarter of horsemeat which will be used to feed the Cyclone football team at Ames. The college has been unable to obtain beef for the team. The girls are Nancy Gilbride, Des Moines; Frances Cosmos, Hastings, Nebr., and Marilyn Nuss, Sutton, Nebr. (AP WIREPHOTO)

AFL President Rejects British Invitation to Aid World Union Group

CHICAGO (AP)—AFL President William Green yesterday flatly turned down a British bid to cooperate with the World Federation of Trade Unions, a group including the CIO in its membership but tagged by Green as communist-dominated.

Green told the American Federation of Labor convention he thought the British labor movement's position was "contradictory" because it cooperated with Soviet Russia in the WFTU yet refused to accept the Communist party in the British Labor party.

The AFL leader spoke in reply to a speech delivered to the convention by Thomas O'Brien, a fraternal delegate representing the British Trade Union congress and a member of parliament. O'Brien had asked the AFL, regardless of whether it agreed with all WFTU policies, to cooperate in the interest of a unified worldwide trade unionism.

The Daily Iowan

(The University Reporter established 1862, The Daily Iowan since 1921)

FRED M. POWNALL, Publisher
Loren L. Hickerson, Assistant to the Publisher
Gene Goodwin, Editor
William A. Miller, Managing Editor
Wally Stringham, Business Manager
Herb Olson, Circulation Manager

TELEPHONE 4191
Business Office 4192
Editorial Office 4192
Subscription Office 4192

Published daily except Monday. Entered as second class mail matter at the postoffice at Iowa City, Iowa, under the act of congress of March 2, 1879.

Subscription rates—By mail, $3 per year; by carrier, 15 cents weekly, $5 per year.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1946

Cabbages and Kings

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS

Leading Democratic political strategists will be keeping close watch on at least three members of the United States supreme court, which resumed its deliberations last Monday.

The three jurists in whose future careers high administration officials are evincing such unusual interest are Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Associate Justices Robert Jackson and William Douglas. Each is regarded, in his own right, as potential vice-presidential material, and each has built up throughout the past six years a sizeable personal following both in Washington and other parts of the country.

After Vinson had left the federal bench to take over important wartime administrative duties in our nation's capital, President Roosevelt elevated him from the directorship of the office of economic stabilization to the so-called "assistant president's" post, head of the office of war mobilization and reconversion. From there, President Truman later brought him into the cabinet as secretary of the treasury, the job which he held until the death of the late chief justice, Harlan Stone. During the early days of the New Deal, Vinson was a member of the Kentucky delegation of the house of representatives. His popularity among congressmen in both parties has always marked him as a man to watch when national convention time approaches.

Jackson, whose home is in New York, still has not been able to "shake off" the bad publicity which accompanied his blast at his liberal supreme court colleague, Associate Justice Hugo Black, several months ago. However, he has been commended by Republicans and Democrats alike for the excellent job he did as United States prosecutor at the Nuremberg war crimes trials. Conservative Democrats have speculated that he might be a logical running mate for the President in 1948, provided, of course, that he continues to increase in favor with the eastern Democratic "faction," led by James Forrestal, Averell Harriman and John Winant.

Originally from Washington, Douglas is regarded as one of the A-1 New Dealers left in Washington. Many correspondents have reported, with some authority, that he was F.D.R.'s first choice for vice-president in 1944. He is known to have turned down the interior secretaryship when Harold Ickes resigned last spring, but, nevertheless, he is constantly being mentioned by the so-called "moderate" liberals within the Democratic party as being the best available vice-presidential candidate in 1948. His record as head of the securities exchange commission was one of the best jobs ever turned in by a Roosevelt-appointed administrator.

DENNIS

Keep Two Guards Up

The Democratic candidate for governor of Iowa, Frank Miles, made a worthy point in one of his campaign speeches the other night. Mr. Miles, an ardent American Legion member, had a word of criticism for action taken by that organization at its recent San Francisco convention.

After applauding the legion for appointing a committee to combat communism in America, Mr. Miles deplored their lack of judgment in not assigning a committee to combat fascism.

Like all predominantly conservative organizations and individuals, the legion has been, and apparently still is, inclined to overlook the danger of fascism in America. It has given much of its effort in recent years to putting down the "communistic menace" in order to preserve "Americanism," but has paid little attention to the other danger—a danger which many thoughtful citizens consider to be the most imminent.

Liberals and leftist organizations, on the other hand, are hesitant on the whole to denounce the American communists, but are extremely zealous in their opposition to native fascism.

This is, of course, folly on the part of those on both sides of the fence. We believe it can be explained, however, by the fact that liberals find themselves in agreement with many communistic ends (although they are sharply disagreed as to means to these ends), and conservatives find more in common with fascism than they do with communism.

A simpler way to look at it may be to visualize a line-up of political ideologies running from far left to far right, which would read as follows: communists (far left)—radicals—liberals—middle-of-the-roads—conservatives—reactionaries—fascists (far right). Looking at it this way, it is easy to see why liberals are more sympathetic toward the left extreme and the conservatives more sympathetic toward the right extreme.

It must be said, however, that liberals are seemingly more cognizant of the danger from the far left than conservatives are of the danger from the far right.

Labor unions, one of the chief communist targets, have been fighting infiltration in secret for many years, but each day the fight is becoming more and more open. Many labor leaders, outstanding among which is United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther, have publicly denounced communism, and are working to rid unions of ultra left wing members. The CIO also has a "Committee of 34" to combat the movement.

Charles Bolte, chairman of the American Veterans Committee, liberal veterans group which fended off alleged Communist attempts to seize control at its convention in Des Moines last June, also lashed out at American communists in a recent speech.

It may rightfully be concluded, we believe, that the nation as a whole is pretty well aware of the "communistic menace." The Hearst, McCormick, Scripps-Howard and similar newspapers, along with many "baiting" organizations and individuals, have made certain of that.

But are we as aware of the danger from the far right? We believe not. There are too many people who refuse to admit that this danger is a reality—refuse to admit it despite lynchings, racism, Gerald L. K. Smith, American Action, Inc., and all the other manifestations of native fascism cropping up all across our land.

The spotlight is on the communists, thereby minimizing their threat. Fascism is more subtle; it comes wrapped in all types of labels. Another important consideration that can't be denied is that our system of government and economy could be more readily perverted toward fascism than communism.

Thanks to the alertness of the intelligent liberal and the bigotry of the "red baiting" reactionary, our left flank is adequately guarded. But who's watching our right flank?

Army to Call 15,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army has cut its November draft call to 15,000 men, the smallest since selective service started before Pearl Harbor.

Veal Prices Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—Retail prices on veal cuts will go up from three to nine cents a pound Monday, the OPA announced yesterday.

Politics Watching McCarthy, Wisconsin Wonder Boy

By JOHN WYNGAARD
Central Press Correspondent

MADISON, Wis.—The politicians laughed in 1939 when a 29-year-old lawyer announced that he was running for the circuit judgeship against a popular incumbent who had held the office for 20 years.

Some of them laughed again early this year when the same ambitious young fellow, now a judge, announced that he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator. They no longer laugh today.

Today there is scarcely any reaction save respect when the name of Joe McCarthy occurs in political conversation. For the 36-year-old judge, ex-Marine combat veteran, ex-boxing coach, indefatigable political worker and the state's most ambitious campaigner, has convinced even the most skeptical of his political skill and vote-catching personality.

"Smiling Joe" McCarthy is the youngest who defeated Senator Robert M. LaFollette, for 21 years a giant among Wisconsin politicians and one of the best known members of the national congress, in a primary election race which political observers almost without exception had conceded to LaFollette.

Restless, energetic Joe McCarthy is the young man who has smashed the famous Wisconsin Progressive Party so badly that there is today strong doubt that the historic political movement of the Wisconsin LaFollette family will ever make a significant recovery.

So unexpected was McCarthy's triumph over LaFollette in the primary, so universal was the expectation that the Progressives would succeed in taking over Wisconsin's Republican party's machinery by LaFollette's capture of the Republican nomination, that relatively few political observers in his own state had paid much attention to McCarthy and his political methods.

Today they are paying respectful attention, and acknowledging that the youthful jurist and World War II marine corps officer has developed some wrinkles in the are of vote-getting that other candidates in the future will probably be glad to copy.

McCarthy has proved again the efficacy of the personal touch in politics. As in his upset "judicial" campaign seven years earlier, McCarthy concentrated upon personal vote solicitation, walking up and down Main street of hundreds of Wisconsin villages and towns during a six months itinerary.

McCarthy also perfected, to a degree most politicians had not believed possible, the direct mail technique of vote seeking which has become popular in recent years.

Instead of stuffing urban and rural mail boxes with the orthodox literature and broadsides uniformly used by other politicians, McCarthy enlisted his friends for the writing of half a million handwritten and hand-stamped personal postcards containing his handsome service uniform and judicial bench photographs. Partly because of his assiduous Main street hand-shaking, partly because the unprecedented flow of personal cards, a substantial proportion of the Wisconsin population now knows him familiarly as "Joe."

McCarthy's spectacular rise to

Soviets See Harriman As Next American Secretary of State

By EDDY GILMORE
STOCKHOLM—The appointment of W. Averell Harriman as secretary of commerce in place of Henry Wallace, lends emphasis to a belief widely expressed in Moscow as long as six months ago that Harriman was headed eventually for the post of secretary of state.

This belief is shared by a number of Russians and I found some basis for it in Washington late in the summer.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Leading Democratic political strategists will be keeping close watch on at least three members of the United States supreme court, which resumed its deliberations last Monday.

The three jurists in whose future careers high administration officials are evincing such unusual interest are Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Associate Justices Robert Jackson and William Douglas. Each is regarded, in his own right, as potential vice-presidential material, and each has built up throughout the past six years a sizeable personal following both in Washington and other parts of the country.

After Vinson had left the federal bench to take over important wartime administrative duties in our nation's capital, President Roosevelt elevated him from the directorship of the office of economic stabilization to the so-called "assistant president's" post, head of the office of war mobilization and reconversion. From there, President Truman later brought him into the cabinet as secretary of the treasury, the job which he held until the death of the late chief justice, Harlan Stone. During the early days of the New Deal, Vinson was a member of the Kentucky delegation of the house of representatives. His popularity among congressmen in both parties has always marked him as a man to watch when national convention time approaches.

Jackson, whose home is in New York, still has not been able to "shake off" the bad publicity which accompanied his blast at his liberal supreme court colleague, Associate Justice Hugo Black, several months ago. However, he has been commended by Republicans and Democrats alike for the excellent job he did as United States prosecutor at the Nuremberg war crimes trials. Conservative Democrats have speculated that he might be a logical running mate for the President in 1948, provided, of course, that he continues to increase in favor with the eastern Democratic "faction," led by James Forrestal, Averell Harriman and John Winant.

Originally from Washington, Douglas is regarded as one of the A-1 New Dealers left in Washington. Many correspondents have reported, with some authority, that he was F.D.R.'s first choice for vice-president in 1944. He is known to have turned down the interior secretaryship when Harold Ickes resigned last spring, but, nevertheless, he is constantly being mentioned by the so-called "moderate" liberals within the Democratic party as being the best available vice-presidential candidate in 1948. His record as head of the securities exchange commission was one of the best jobs ever turned in by a Roosevelt-appointed administrator.

With the European peace conference at Paris scheduled to adjourn within the next fortnight, the spotlight of international politics will soon shift to the second formal session of the United Nations general assembly, which convenes in New York on Oct. 23. Although it has solved several of the minor problems with which it was confronted when the first plenary meeting got underway last July, the Paris conference has not made any major contribution toward reconciling the differences between the Slavic nations and the western democracies. The many sharp areas of disagreement between the Soviet-led and American-led blocs still continue to plague committee sessions and full-dress plenary gatherings. After seventeen months of truce, Europe's trouble spots remain as constant threats to a durable, effective postwar international structure.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign govern-

HORN OF PLENTY

Coleman Has Proof— Fern Isn't Dead Yet

Fern Gravel isn't dead yet! Fern, for the benefit of the un-informed, is the teen-age author of the collection of poems, "Oh Millersville," which was published in 1940 and received so many excellent reviews, among which was one by Paul Engle of SU's writers' workshop.

But most folks thought Fern was a dead duck when author James N. Hall revealed in the August ATLANTIC MONTHLY that he had actually written the poetry, that there was no such person as Fern Gravel and that he and Carrol Coleman, now lecturer of typography here at the university, who published "Oh Millersville," had done it as a hoax.

Last Saturday, however, Fern turned up in Iowa City, apparently none the worse from her recent "elimination." Proof of her reappearance may be found in the following letter she sent to her publisher, Mr. Coleman:

DEAR MR. COLEMAN: Imagine my dismay when I called at your office last Saturday. Only to find you were not there! Then I looked for you everywhere.

My private secretary, James N. Hall, searched through the directory, but he couldn't find your name at all. There was one Coleman listed, but it wasn't you. So we didn't know what to do. I said to my secretary, "I simply yearn to see my publisher," and he said, "Fern, don't you know where he is? Can't you even guess?" I thought for a minute, and then I said, "Yes." He is helping the people who want to travel. To see the home of the famous Fern Gravel; And maybe he's putting up a sign so they won't go to somebody else's house instead of mine." "I don't think so," my secretary said, "I'll bet he's hiding under a bed: Or I wouldn't be surprised if he's been shot—"

By the poet Paul Engle, as like as not, Or it might be the critic, Joseph Henry Jackson, Or maybe the St. Paul Dispatch is bringing an action. Wherever he is, it won't be Iowa City.

"Well," I said, "I think it is a pity." My secretary said, "If he's in jail, We ought to go there and go his bail."

So we went to the jail, but the man said, "No, He hadn't any publishers there for a week or so."

Then we got in our car and drove away, And we kept on driving until today. My secretary thought we had better travel A long ways off, your friend

FERN GRAVEL

ment official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador had caught on with Truman, Byrnes & Co.

Perhaps no foreign government official has enjoyed the personal relationship with Stalin which Harriman built up during the war, or has seen the Russian leader so often.

At a very ticklish period in Soviet relations with the United States it was Harriman, not Truman, who suggested Harry Hopkins' last visit to Moscow.

Harriman's friends—and he has many of them in many places—point out that no potential U. S. secretary of state possesses the tremendous advantage of having been ambassador to both the Soviet Union and Great Britain, and of knowing personally the government leaders of both countries.

Persons most convinced of its likelihood concede that the change would come about only after Secretary of State James Byrnes relinquished the post. The former ambassador to the Soviet Union and the Court of St. James is a close friend of Byrnes and is in no way seeking his job.

Supporters of the theory that Harriman may some day get the post are quick to stress the way he fitted himself into the Truman-Byrnes team after the Roosevelt-Hopkins combinations passed from the scene.

In Harriman's early months in Moscow he was not much more than an errand boy for President Roosevelt, but as time went on he commenced making more decisions for himself.

It can never be said that Harriman, on his own, ever "appeared" the Russians. I know of several long and spirited sessions to reach some understanding.

When Roosevelt died, Harriman's friends knew that he was ready to resign if requested. But he went to London for the foreign ministers' meeting and when he returned home persons close to him realized that he was not gloomy about his prospects.

The Potsdam conference and the Moscow Christmas conference followed — at which he saw both Byrnes and Truman frequently. Edwin Pauley came to Moscow and Harriman got on well with the President's aide.

Harriman's appointment to the Court of St. James indicated that the ambassador

AAUW Announces Roster of Officers, Committee Chairmen

Officers and committee chairmen of the American Association of University Women were announced yesterday by Luella Wright, publicity chairman for the organization.

Heading the 1946-47 officers is Mrs. Homer R. Dill, president, with Mrs. John Russ, vice-president; Mrs. E. K. Mapes, secretary; Mrs. Eunice Beardsley, treasurer; Catherine Mullin, historian; Mrs. Gordon Frange, co-ordinating officer, and Ethyl Martin, national and state co-ordinating officer.

The committee chairmen include Mrs. Louis Penningroth, creative writing; Mrs. Prange, drama; Margaret Pahlman, economic and legal status of women; Ann Nugent, education.

Mrs. Alexander Kern, fellowship; Mrs. Gustav Bergmann, hospitality; Mrs. Otto Bowling, international relations; Mrs. Ralph Ojemann, legislative; Mrs. John Russ, membership; Mrs. M. L. Albertson and Mrs. Scott Swisher, radio; Grace Cochran, recent graduates, and Mrs. Paul Huston, social studies.

Members of the program committee are: Mrs. William Petersen, Mrs. Theodore Jahn, Mrs. H. Dabney Kerr, Lola Hughes and Mrs. Otto Bowling.

The Party Line

Alpha Delta Pi
An exchange meeting and informal party was held last night by Alpha Delta Pi sorority, 222 N. Clinton street, with members of Delta Upsilon fraternity as guests from 8 to 9:30 p. m.

Delta Chi
Members of Delta Chi fraternity and their dates will go on a hay-rack ride tonight at 7:30.

Kappa Alpha Theta
Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will hold a barn party tonight from 8 until 12 at the Country club. Betsy Blaise, A3, of Cedar Rapids, will be in charge of the social committee.

Delta Upsilon
Delta Upsilon fraternity will have a pledge party at the chapter house tomorrow night from 8:30 to 12. Sunday afternoon they will entertain their house mother, Mrs. Curry F. Potter, with a tea from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Phi Delta Theta
Phi Delta Theta fraternity will hold a buffet supper tomorrow at 6 p. m. in the chapter house following the Iowa-Nebraska game.

Phi Epsilon Pi
Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity will hold a "Victory" house-party tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the chapter house. Chaperones will be Mrs. Viola Hindrich, Mrs. Sonja Sands and Mrs. Dora Chapman. About eighteen guests from the Zeta Beta Tau house in Nebraska are expected to attend.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity will hold a buffet supper at the chapter house after the Iowa-Nebraska game tomorrow at 5:30 p. m. There will be dancing after the supper.

Sigma Chi
Sigma Chi fraternity will hold a "Sweater" dance tomorrow night in honor of the pledge class. The dance will be held at the Country club, with Burt Rose and his orchestra providing the music from 8:30 to 12. Chaperones will be

Mrs. Leonore McLellan, house-mother; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osmondson, Mrs. Hazel Folley, and Mr. Richard Feddersen.

Alpha Chi Omega
An open house Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at which they will entertain several fraternities will be held by Alpha Chi Omega sorority at their house, 828 E. Washington street. The fraternities who will be their guests will be Psi Omega, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Sigma Delta, Sigma Nu, Delta Chi and Phi Kappa Psi.

Chi Omega
Chi Omega sorority will entertain 12 fraternities at an open house Sunday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock. The schedule for fraternities attending is as follows: all professional fraternities, 2 to 3 p. m.; Sigma Phi Epsilon and Delta Upsilon, 3 to 4 p. m.; Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 4 to 5 p. m., and Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Epsilon Pi, 5 to 6 p. m.

Currier
A program of both classical and popular numbers will be played on the piano by Shirley Holmes, A1 of Newton, Sunday during the Mints and Music hour at Currier hall. The program will take place following dinner.

Hostesses who will serve mints will be Delores Giraldi, A2 of Davenport and Alice Adair, A4 of Redding. Jean Dawson, A3 of Des Moines, is in charge of Currier's musicals.

Quadrangle
A tea dance will be held at the Quadrangle Sunday afternoon. This will be the first in the series of tea-dances to be sponsored this year.

Woofing in Class Gains 8 Pup "Credits" For Mandy Lou

Mandy Lou Putnam, a little black cocker spaniel, has eight hours credit at the university, according to her owner, the Rev. Fred W. Putnam, whom Mandy

Lou has accompanied to classes for over a year.

Last year Mandy Lou took a course in "Little known religions," trotting along to class twice a week with Father Putnam, who is the rector of the Trinity Episcopal church. This year the little spaniel and her master, a familiar couple on campus, are taking a news photography course.

Mandy Lou answers to roll whenever her name is called, even "woof"ing over WSUI when religion class was broadcast.

Her usual place in class is on the floor beside or under Father Putnam's chair. In photography class, however, when talk comes up about shutters and things on which Mandy Lou is a little hazy, she snoozes outside the door.

Mandy Lou's college education is not very extensive so far, but she's well-trained to make her living, anyway. For a substantial reward in the way of cookies, candy or meat, she will sit up, roll over, play dead, go around in circles and hold—who wouldn't for a piece of meat!

In Choni, China, butter, mixed with powdered colors, is molded into figures of gods which rule for a night each year.

Story Hour Saturday

The weekly story hour, sponsored by the Story Teller's club will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the children's room at the Public library for children up to the fourth grade. Mrs. O. E. Nybakken will be story teller during October.

JUDY BOND BLOUSES ARE SOLD AT BETTER STORES EVERYWHERE

Free booklet: "WARDROBE TRICKS". Write Judy Bond, Inc., Dept. D, 1375 B'way, N. Y. 18

STRUB'S DEPARTMENT STORE

DESIGNED with INDIVIDUALITY TO PLUS YOUR Personality

Eloquent accent for your winter wardrobe... the rich subtle beauty of genuine Iguana Lizard. This distinctive sandal comes in brown lizard only

$15.95

Shoemakers Since 1874
Tweedie's
Alluring Footwear
Strub's
Iowa City's Quality Dep't Store

Iowa vs. Nebraska
Saturday, Oct. 12

Gay plaid jackets in pre-dominant shades of black, green or red. 100% wool. $7.98 and 9.98

Smart drawstring top forms unpressed pleats and fashion-notes this colorful plaid. Sizes 9-15. $5.40

Stunning pullovers in every shade imaginable. $3.49 to $9.98

For belted beauty resort to this nailhead studded type. $5.98

Splashed floral patterns enhance these sheer crepe scarfs at $2.98. Or try attractive plain-colored wools at $1.98.

Leather shoulder bags in colors to accent every costume... navy, luggage, red, kelly green, brown and black. $9.50.

Crocheted and knitted gloves in shades of brown, yellow, wine, navy blue, black and white. $2.98 to $3.98.

Pretty gold bowknot pin with clever case which encloses picture of your "steady." $1.98 plus tax.

Link chokers and matching bracelets in gold or silver. Chokers $1.98 plus tax. Bracelets $1.00 plus tax.

YEA IOWA!

Gridiron Favorites

You'll be in for your share of stadium applause in our thrilling new football wearables destined for "Big Game" success. Team up these smart accessories for Saturday's game and you'll rate a high popularity score!

Strub's
Iowa City's Department Store—Est. 1867

FILTERED AIR CLEANING
3 Better Ways

1. Crystal clear cleaning fluid is used.
2. Drying process is done with "filtered" air.
3. Your satisfaction is guaranteed.

AND YOU SAVE MONEY TOO!

PLAIN DRESS SUIT or COAT 59¢ ea.

CASH & CARRY

DDT MOTH PROOFING AT NO EXTRA COST

1 S. DUBUQUE ST.
PHONE 3033

DAVIS CLEANER

New AYD Group Organizes; Hears Grosser Outline Aims

Sixty persons attended the American Youth for Democracy meeting at Iowa Union last night, to organize a local chapter and to hear Charles Grosser, A1 of New York City.

In an open forum preceding the election of temporary officers, Grosser re-stated that the aims of the national organization, as shown in the constitution, is to "cooperate with any movement or organization that advances the interests of American young people.

According to the preamble to the constitution, "AYD is an independent progressive organization of youth, united irrespective of sex, national origin, religious or political belief," which seeks "lasting answers to the constant threat of wars, national and racial oppression and economic insecurity thru the continued expansion of democracy in the economic, social and political life of our country."

Grosser stated that AYD was formed in New York City in October, 1943, by "progressive civic groups" who felt the need for action to bring about greater equality for the peoples of the nation.

He added that the local chapter have autonomy in policy within the provisions of the constitution, and that it will seek to eliminate displays of racial prejudice and un-democratic practices in Iowa City.

Byron Broderick, A1 of Grundy Center, was chosen president for an interim period of two months.

Other temporary officers are Richard Podol, A2 of Oskaloosa, vice-president; Carol Kisner, A3 of Clear Lake, secretary; Thelma Edis, A1 of New York City, treasurer; Elaine Glasser, A3 of Brooklyn, N.Y., publicity chairman; Barbara-Ann Berse, A3 of Woodbridge, N.J., social chairman and Charles Grosser, A1 of New York City, political action chairman.

Next meeting for the chapter is scheduled for next Thursday night. The time and place will be announced at a later date.

Plans to apply for a charter from the national organization will be discussed then, and the executive committee will report on its application to the office of student affairs for a university charter.

Astronomer Says— Meteors Vanish

Meteors which blazed across northern skies Wednesday night had disappeared almost entirely from the heavens by dusk yesterday. Giacobini's comet had continued in the path that brings it hurtling past the earth every 13 years.

Prof. C. C. Wylie of the astronomy department said yesterday that the calculated time for the end of the meteor display was about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

"Estimated time of the display maximum was 9:10 p. m. Wednesday," he said, "and observations indicate the actual time of the maximum was about a half hour later than the latest calculations. Considering the uncertainty of meteor orbits, that isn't bad at all," he added.

Reports coming in yesterday indicated that the display of meteors, small stones from the tail of Giacobini's comet, would have equalled or surpassed the display 13 years ago. Professor Wylie said.

Clouds hampered observations over most of the country, but reports from Wittenberg college in Springfield, Ohio, gave 704 meteors as the total observed between 9 and 10 p. m.

Observations conducted by Augustana college and the Moline Astronomical society at Moline, Ill., during the same hour produced counts of 39 meteors per minute for a total of 1,258.

AVC Elects R.W. Iversen Chapter Head

Robert W. Iversen of Iowa City, instructor in the history department of the Johnson county chapter of the American Veterans committee, to succeed Lawrence Dennis, G of Mason City.

Other officers elected were: Cliff Richards of Iowa City, vice-chairman; Betty Boulton of Iowa City, secretary, and S. J. Williamson, G of Palestine, Tex., treasurer.

Supporting Gen. Omar N. Bradley for his vigorous, non-partisan administration of the Veterans administration," the AVC group last night voted to send a letter to Bradley assuring him of the backing of the Johnson county chapter of AVC.

Gen. Bradley has been under the attack of John Stelle, former national commander of the American Legion, who has accused Bradley of inefficiencies in the organization of VA.

A proposed central veterans committee to act as liaison group between all veterans organizations in Iowa City received the support of the AVC group last night. It was proposed that the committee support a "get out the vote campaign" this fall.

AVC last night agreed to support the Atomic Energy Control committee. The veterans will join the League of Women Voters, the World Affairs Forum and the Association of Eastern Iowa Scientists as a part of the nuclear organization of the AECC. The atomic control committee describes itself as organized to keep the public informed about atomic energy.

Lew Gleekman, with the permission of the AVC executive council, asked the group for contributions to the CIO-PAC, of which he is a member. Dennis pointed out the Gleekman's talk was in accord with AVC's policy to let representatives of any accredited political group speak at its meetings.

A committee for housing investigation and a committee to promote voting in the November elections were also appointed.

Sellers Case Goes To Grand Jury After Preliminary Hearing

Kenneth Sellers, 24, 336 S. Governor street, yesterday was bound over to the grand jury after a preliminary hearing in police court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Police Judge John Knox ordered Sellers held for the next jury session when he failed to furnish $200 bond.

The state charge, involving a 12-year-old girl, was presented by County Attorney Jack C. White.

Bauer Wins Presidency Of A.S.E.

Bill Bauer, E4 of Iowa City, was chosen president of Associated Students of Engineering in a special election yesterday that represented a complete victory for the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

All four officers elected were members of the "Civils." Bill Sangster, E4 of Iowa City, was elected vice-president; Bob Bell, E4 of Council Bluffs, became secretary and Ed Swanson, E4 of Sioux City, became treasurer of the student organization.

Only 140 votes were cast in yesterday's election, although more than 600 students are registered in the college of engineering.

Clear-Cut Victory
Winners carried the election by considerable margins, the most clear cut victory going to Swanson, who received 79 of the 140 votes cast in the balloting.

Three candidates for each office had been nominated by a special committee composed of members of each of the four societies representing the mechanical, electrical, civil and chemical divisions of engineering.

The election was held under the supervision of the nominating committee and a member of the student council.

Special Election
Results of the regular election held last April were protested this summer by members of the society of civil engineering and the dispute was carried to the Student council, resulting in the special election held yesterday.

The new officers will serve the remainder of the 1946-47 school year, and the regular election will be held in April as usual.

Sugar production in Queensland, Australia, is a $32,000,000 a year industry.

Storm Overloads—

SUI Power Plant

—Blacks Out East Hall

Yesterdays afternoon's rainfall and sudden darkness threw university power plant workers into unexpected action.

So many lights were suddenly switched on throughout the university that a transformer was burned out in East hall, and electrical equipment at the power plant was handling maximum critical loads.

Roy McGinnis, in charge of the electric shop, said that the load being carried during the afternoon darkness yesterday was the absolute maximum. Any further increase would have necessitated cutting off the power supply to some university buildings to decrease the load.

Yesterday's incident brought into the open what McGinnis called "an ever-increasing problem" of the university power plant.

He went on to explain that with the greatly increased enrollment at the university this year the power plant has been confronted many times with the problem of meeting excessive electric power demands.

On several occasions electricity has had to be bought from the Iowa City power plant, he said.

The peculiar thing about the university plant, McGinnis said, is that it handles peak loads in the morning and late afternoon, instead of in the evening. This is due to the fact that students are liable to be in their rooms before lunch and during the late afternoon, they usually do not stay in their rooms during the evening.

Yesterday's sudden afternoon darkness was a surprise for everyone concerned, according to McGinnis.

The university has ordered new electrical equipment including a new generator, but installation is not expected for at least another year.

STUDENTS

Free tickets will be available Beginning Monday, October 14 Iowa Memorial Union for

MONA PAULEE

CONCERTS
8:00 P. M.
Iowa Memorial Union
WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY
OCTOBER 16 and 17, 1946

Concert tickets available without cost to University students upon advance presentation, in person, of Identification cards. Iowa Memorial Union

A Message for Every Veteran in College

October 1946

Dear Sir:

Now that you are back from doing a good job, your concern is to get a good education quickly—to make up for the war-spent years.

The world is still in bad shape; each new day finds fresh trouble. Old values are changing. Your cost of living has zoomed since 1941.

We should like to point out some values which haven't changed. They will interest you.

1. Most Arrow shirts (including whites) still sell for less than $3.50.
2. Most Arrow neckties still sell for $1 and $1.50.
3. Arrow shorts, sports shirts and handkerchiefs are still reasonably priced.
4. Every Arrow product retains its pre-war quality and workmanship.
5. All Arrow shirts and shorts and most Arrow sports shirts are Sanforized-labeled—can be washed with less than 1% shrinkage.

Because of the demand, Arrow shirts are still darn scarce. But if you find one—and we hope you do—we guarantee you and your wallet will be completely satisfied.

Sincerely yours,

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO., INC.
Makers of Arrow products

ARROW SHIRTS & TIES

You can't miss with an ARROW

If your aims are AUTHENTIC COLLEGE STYLING
LONG-WEARING FABRICS
SHEER COMFORT
REAL VALUE ...

you'll hit the bullseye every time with Arrow. Come in and see us.

BREMERS
ARROW SHIRTS

Interfraternity Council To Reorganize Pledges

Plans to reorganize a pledge interfraternity council were begun at an Interfraternity council meeting yesterday, Don McDowell, C3 of Davenport, council president announced.

Committee members for the council Christmas dance to be held Dec. 14 in the Iowa Union lounge, include Bob Lochrie, A3 of Osceola, chairman; Darryl Annis, A3 of Waterloo, and Miles Nesbitt, E4 of Mt. Pleasant.

Law Commons Elects Parker New President

Paul Parker, L1 of Des Moines, was elected president of Law Commons at a dormitory meeting there last night.

Other officers include Ed Schmidt, L3 of Davenport, vice-president, and William Fuerste, L3 of Dubuque, secretary.

Ellsworth to Chicago

Prof. Ralph E. Ellsworth, director of university libraries left Wednesday for Chicago, where he is attending the annual meeting of the executive committee of the American Library association yesterday, today and tomorrow.

SEARS ROEBUCK AND CO.

Kerrybrooke Sweaters

Fresh, stimulating autumn colors! Soft, supple, superb pure wool! Important, perfect styling. That's what you'll find in Kerrybrooke sweaters ... the top favorites everywhere!

Pullover 3⁹⁸ Cardigan 4²⁵

SEARS

111 E. College, Iowa City, Phone 2187

Seniors Notice

HAWKEYE REQUIREMENTS

Size 4x6

Print Glossy

Background Dark Medium

Head Size 2 3/4" from top of hair to tip of chin

Dress Informal

Bawden Studio Requirements

Modernistic pose—Hollywood lighting—Glamour portraiture

SENIORS—add the two together and you'll have an outstanding Hawkeye picture for 1947.

Call Today for Appointment 4603

Studio Open 1:00-9:00 27 1/2 Washington St.

IN THE HAND OF LAURITZ MELCHIOR
Famous tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company

"51" the world's most wanted pen.

"Writes dry with wet ink!"

• With people of note Parker "51" is the preferred writing instrument. And only recently, American pen dealers, by a margin of 3.37 to 1, named Parker the most-wanted pen. More-wanted than all other leading makes combined. • Yet more 51's are now being shipped than ever before. So see your dealer soon. • Created painstakingly, the "51" cannot be hurriedly turned out. Its point starts writing instantly, smoothly. For the tip is a ball of micro-smooth Osmiridium. • Only the "51" is designed to write satisfactorily with Parker "51" Ink that dries as it writes! • Three colors. $12.50; $15.00. Pencils, $5.00; $7.50. Sets, $17.50 to $80.00. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wis., and Toronto, Canada.

Parker "51"

Pep Rally Set For Tonight

Evening Meeting To Boost Hawkeyes With Cheers, Speeches

The first outdoor pep rally this season will be held tonight at 7:30 in the band shell on the Iowa Union campus, it was announced at a pep club meeting yesterday. Backfield Coach Frank Carideo, Harold and Herbert Shoener, Iowa co-captains for tomorrow's game with Nebraska, and Red Frye, who played center on the 1939 Hawkeye team, will be among the featured speakers at the rally.

Plan "Honker"

Students, in automobiles, will meet at the Union parking lot at 6:45 tonight to start a "honker" to get as many students as possible out for the rally. The cars will form a procession and drive around campus to the various housing units, winding up the trip back at the site of the rally.

Pep club members will perform a stunt at the rally, featuring a Nebraska wagon pulled by a trick horse. Part of the football team will be guests at the rally. The university football band will play and cheers will be led by the university cheerleaders.

Council Sponsors

The Student council, sponsors of the pep club, are underwriting tonight's rally.

WEARING THE SAME red and green plaid uniforms that were made for them five years ago. Buddy (left) and Buster Hart, both of Williston, N. D., will give a special demonstration with their batons when they appear with the Scottish Highlanders during the half-time intermission of the Iowa-Nebraska game tomorrow. The Hart twins were members of the Highlanders in 1941-42 when it was a male organization. The performance will be a salute to men students the women replaced in the fall of 1943. Both men served with the 42nd Rainbow division in Europe.

Campus, City— Personal Notes

University
Ruth Ann Kegley of Anamosa will visit her sister, Betty, U of Anamosa, at Currier this weekend.

Visiting Ann Koons, Currier, C3 of Bloomfield, this weekend will be her parents, and her brother, Donald, of Bloomfield.

Marjorie Miller, Currier, A3 of Hillsboro, will have her mother, Mrs. Ellis Miller, as a guest tomorrow for the Iowa-Nebraska game.

Maxine Davidson of Des Moines will visit Eliene Gotsdiner, A1 of Council Bluffs, at Currier this weekend.

John Abramson of Des Moines will visit Marilyn Freyer, Currier, A1 of Des Moines, this weekend.

Sue Smith of Quincy, Ill. will visit Mary Jane Neilson, A2 of Quincy, at the Tri Delt house this weekend.

Betsy and Marily Seible of Princeton, Ill. will be the guests of Barbara Anderson, A2 of Princeton, at the Tri Delt house this weekend.

Joyce Bailer of MacMurray college will visit Barbara Clinton, A4 of Menasha, Wis. Tri Delt, this weekend.

Tri Delt alumnae, Carol McConaha Rhodes of Centerville, Ind. will visit the chapter house this weekend.

Prudence Wheeler, Alpha Chi Omega, A4 of Rock Island, will spend the weekend at her home.

Dorothea Davidson, A3 of Kirkwood, Kappa Alpha Theta, will entertain her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Davidson this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Bridge will visit their daughter, Phyllis, A2 of Sioux City, Kappa Alpha Theta, this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Brown of Ottumwa, were guests of their son, Jerry, at the Phi Epsilon Pi house last weekend.

A weekend guest of Maxine Holler, A3 of Davenport, Zeta Tau Alpha, will be Roberta Harter, A3 of Centerville.

Sallie Phillipson, A2 of Manchester, Zeta Tau Alpha, will spend the weekend with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Tolbert, Manse house, will spend the weekend in Fort Madison.

Helen Pappas, A3 of Mason

City, and Helen Cambell, A1 of Davenport, Fairchild house, will spend the weekend in their respective homes.

Buelah Jaster, A4 of Fort Madison, Fairchild house, will have a weekend guest, her mother, Mrs. Katherine Jaster of Fort Madison.

Mrs. Jack Hamilton of Hawkeye Village, visited relatives in Muscatine yesterday.

Wanda Graver, of Evanston, Ill., chapter counsellor of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, is spending the week at the chapter house here.

Kenny Auwaerter of Ft. Madison will come to Iowa City today to visit Marge Barr, A3 of Ft. Madison, Zeta Tau Alpha, who will accompany him home for the weekend.

Spending the weekend with Peggy Green, A4. Zeta Tau Alpha, at her home in Louisiana, Mo., will be her fiancée, Roger Grupp, C4 of Mason City.

City

Fifty women will be entertained at a tea this afternoon by Mrs. Francis M. Dawson at her home, 723 Bayard street, in honor of the wives of new faculty members in the college of engineering. Serving will be between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Mr. John Eidl, 648 Lucas street, returned yesterday from Des Moines after spending the weekend with his son, Paul A. Eidl of Des Moines.

Pearson Farm Sells For Highest Land Price In Iowa City Area

More than $462 an acre, the highest recorded sale price for land in the Iowa City area, was paid yesterday for the 71.4-acre farm of James W. Pearson. The total sale amounted to $33,000.

John Dwyer, Johnson county farmer, bought the land located one mile east of the Iowa City limits on highway 6, adjoining the west limits of Fairview golf course. Dwyer plans to divide the Pearson farm into separate acreages.

S. Lysle Duncan and the Welt Agency of Iowa City handled the sale.

Union Board Deadline
Applications for membership on a Union board subcommittee should be turned in tonight by 10 p. m. at the union desk.

Winston Lowe, C3 Cedar Rapids, Union board president, said that students living in unorganized housing units as well as those recommended by such units may submit applications.

Student Church Groups

CANTERBURY CLUB
Sunday, 4:30 p. m. Choir practices

Sunday, 5 p. m. Evensong in the Trinity Episcopal church. Supper following meeting will be 35c.

CONGREGATIONAL UNITED STUDENT FELLOWSHIP
Friday, 3:30 to 5 p. m. Coffee hour with Guen Wolsted in charge. All students invited to come.

Saturday, 7:30 p. m. Meet at church for hayrack ride. All members of United Student Fellowship and their friends welcome.

Sunday, 5:30 p. m. Fellowship supper. Students bringing guests are asked to make reservations by calling 7220. James Ralston will conduct social hour at the close of supper. The group will attend University Vespers at Macbride auditorium.

CONGREGATIONAL CONGENTIAL COUPLES CLUB
Saturday, 8 p. m. Reception for new couples on campus at the Congregational church parlors. Robert F. Erickson, program chairman, will preside.

UNIVERSITY OF LIFE
Sunday, 7:30 p. m. All senior high school students will hold out-of-doors communion service with the Rev. Fernando Laxamana officiating. This special service will take place in the valley southeast of Kellogg house and the Botany building. A student choir will sing the communion ritual and lead the students in the hymns. Those attending are asked to bring blankets and flashlights.

ROGER WILLIAMS FELLOWSHIP
Saturday, 8:30 p. m. Meet at Roger Williams house, 230 N. Clinton street, for hayride. Tickets will be 75c per person and $1.25 a couple. Refreshments will be served on a campfire site in the woods.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION
Saturday, 5:30 p. m. After-the-game supper and scavenger hunt at First Lutheran church, Market and Dubuque streets.

WESLEY FOUNDATION
Sunday, 6:15 p. m. Supper will be served in fellowship hall for 35c. Dr. L. L. Dunnington will conduct a student vesper-forum in which students will discuss questions turned in during the week. Brief worship service entitled "A New Affirmation of Faith" after Forum. No social hour because of university vesper service in Macbride auditorium.

Sunday, 6:30 p. m. Sunday Evening Supper club at the Wesley Foundation annex for graduate, married students, young business and professional people. Discussion following supper. Social hour planned for those not attending the university vesper service.

Thursday, 2-5 p. m. Friendly Newcomers will meet at the annex, 213 E. Market street. Student wives, and wives of young business and professional men meet for an afternoon of crafts and hobbies.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP
Friday, 4-5:30 p. m. Friday Fun in the student lounge. Refreshments to be served.

Saturday, 8 p. m. Open house for all Presbyterian students in social rooms of Presbyterian church. Informal recreation and refreshments.

Sunday, 4:30 p. m. Dr. Earl E. Harper will be the speaker at Westminster fellowship vespers. His topic is "The Poetry of Worship." The service will be under the leadership of Dr. Kenneth Kinnard. Supper served following meeting with Thelma Rapp in charge. Recreational period after supper.

CATHOLIC STUDENT CENTER
Sunday, 8 a. m. Communion breakfast after 8 o'clock mass at the Catholic student center chapel. All Catholic students are invited.

Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. Newman club meeting at the Catholic Student center. Social hour following the meeting. All Catholic students are invited to become members of this organization.

Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Seminar for law students at the Catholic Student center. The subject matter will be taken from that part of Canon law which would be of use and of interest to the civil lawyer.

HILLEL FOUNDATION
Friday, 7:30 p. m. Sabbath services in the Community building, 204 S. Gilbert street.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Friday, 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Young people's zone rally at the church. Speaker for afternoon and evening service is Reverend Ulmet, the district president.

Sunday, 7 p. m. Young people's service led by Dale Cronk.

Home Ec Group To Sponsor Tea

Staff members and students of the home economics department will attend a Home Economics club tea Monday afternoon. Eunice McLaughlin, A3 of Iowa City, tea chairman, announced yesterday. New transfer students and freshmen women are especially invited, she said.

The tea, which is to take place from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. in the home economics department dining room in Macbride hall, will be followed by a short program and a tour through departmental rooms.

Serving tea will be Sally Crumbit, A3 of Ottumwa; Shirley Trowbridge, A3 of Charles City; Margaret Sutherland, A3 of Iowa City; Marian Goetz, A3 of Harvey, N. D., and Lois Billings, A4 of Red Oak.

On the hostess committee are Doris Snow, A4 of Bartlesville, Okla., Lenore Braw, A2 of Davenport; Beatrice Schilling, A4 of Jamaica; Jean Heder, U of Livonia, Mo.; Virginia Bell, A4 of Duncombe, and Nadine Lindeman, A3 of Dysart.

About one in ten of the falls causing death or injury takes place in the kitchen.

Monument Designs Due on October 14

Monday Oct. 14, is the deadline for all plans for the Homecoming corn monument. Prof. Thomas G. Caywood of the college of engineering announced that plans should be turned in at the engineering library by 5 p. m.

Winner of the contest, open to all students, will be announced at the pep rally Friday evening preceding the Iowa-Illinois football game Saturday, Nov. 2.

Students of the college of engineering will construct the monument. It will probably be in place by Thursday, Oct. 31. Professor Caywood, faculty director, said.

Committee members include Bob Bell, E4 of Council Bluffs, student chapter of American Society of Civil Engineers; Ken Franceson, E4 of Clinton, student chapter of American Society Mechanical Engineers; Don Meyer, E4 of Madison, student chapter of American Society Chemical Engineers; and John Goetz, E4 of Riverside, student chapter of American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Engineers to Attend Kansas City Meeting

Prof. C. J. Posey of the hydraulic and structural engineering department and four members of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers will attend a conference held by the national society in Kansas City Oct. 17.

Robert Bannice, E of West Liberty, was elected to represent the Iowa chapter of the society at the conference in a chapter meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Ed Swanson, E4 of Sioux City, secretary-treasurer of the Iowa chapter; Florian G. Schmalz, E4 of Dickinson, N. D., and Everett A. Phillips, E4 of Iowa City, will also attend the conference.

The Iowa chapter of the society was invited to attend the student chapter conference scheduled for second day of a three day conference in which more than 600 leading civil engineers will take part.

CBS News Director To Be Consultant On Journalism Staff

Paul White, for 12 years director of news and public affairs for the Columbia Broadcasting system, will join the staff of the University of Iowa school of journalism this month for a period of several months. Prof. Wilbur Schramm, director of the school, announced yesterday.

White will lecture on radio news coverage, writing and editing. He will also act as a consultant in the planning of radio journalism laboratories for the university's projected communication center and in planning radio studies to be done by the new university bureau of audience research.

As head of the CBS news service White was instrumental in developing and bringing to the air such widely known newscasters as Edward R. Murrow, Robert Trout and Elmer Davis. It was under his direction also that H. V. Kaltenborn became world-famous for his interpretation of the Munich crisis.

White was a pioneer in world-wide radio news coverage, and in the use of dramatized news. Among news dramatizations he produced was the Report of the Nation program. For CBS's outstanding coverage of war news, he received the 1946 Peabody radio award.

Before he went into radio, White attended Kansas and Columbia universities, worked for newspapers in Kansas and Missouri, for the New York World and the United Press. In 1930 he organized the Columbia news service to cover the news of the world in competition with the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service. When the dispute between radio and press services was settled, he became the network's director of news and public affairs.

When he assumed that position, few news newscasts consisted of a few men reading bulletins in the studio. White had the responsibility for developing radio reporters across the nation and in all-important news spots of the world, who were able to report to the network audience on important news developments in their areas.

University Club Meets

The University club will meet at 6:30 p. m. Sunday at the Iowa Union. Members are asked to call the Union desk for reservations, extension 327, not later than 9 p. m. Friday.

Andrew Johnson, 17th president of the United States, was apprenticed to a tailor at the age of 10.

Apples are the All-American favorite fruit—and we have the pick of the new crop . . . rosy red . . . juicy . . . luscious. Eat them daily for the good health that's in every bite. Enjoy them in pies and sauces. Bake them for a deliciously different dessert. Yes, indeed—apples are tops for down-right good eating. And apples are our top fruit value of the week. Buy several pounds at our low prices.

MICHIGAN JONATHANS bushel basket $2.98
GRIMES GOLDENS bushel basket $2.98
DELICIOUS APPLES bushel basket $3.98

POTATOES
NORTHER POTATOES 100 lbs. $2.29
COLORADO McCLURES 100 lbs. $2.79

ROCK CANDY SYRUP AVAILABLE WHILE IT LASTS
GRAPES 2 lbs. 25c
COFFEE (Butternut) lb. 45c
HONEY (Pure Clover) AVAILABLE WHILE IT LASTS
GRAPEFRUIT (Florida, large) 5 for 49c
GRAPEFRUIT (Calif. seedless) 10 for 34c
ONIONS 10 lbs. 28c

ECONOMY SUPER FOOD MARKET and ECONOMY CASH CROCCERY
Phone 6215 2 S. Dubuque

Brenneman's suggest

CANNING PEARS $1.50 bushel
COOKING and EATING APPLES
FRESH APPLE CIDER 95c gallon
FEW WATERMELONS LEFT VEGETABLES
FRESH LIMA BEANS SQUASH
SWEET POTATOES PUMPKIN
START OF CRANBERRY SEASON

To Solve Your Meat Problem
PERCH FILET CARP
HADDOCK FILET CATFISH
TROUT FILET FRESH OYSTERS

Fall Decorations
Bittersweet Gourds

BRENNEMAN'S FISH & VEGETABLE MKT
Phone 6215 2 S. Dubuque

TODAY'S SPECIALS at IOWA CITY RESTAURANTS

Sportsman's Grill
½ Block South of Campus on Clinton
DROP IN THIS AFTERNOON AND LISTEN TO THE WORLD SERIES
Open 7 A.M.—8 P.M.

Just South
The Maid-Rite
Of Campus
Our Specialties
Steak Dinner and Homecooked
Pies Cakes

Reich's Cafe
Luncheons Dinners
Fountain Service
Private Dinner Parties
At the PINE ROOM

THE ROSE ROOM
IOWA CITY'S MOST EXCLUSIVE DINING ROOM

TODAY . . . AND EVERYDAY
11 A.M. to 8 P.M.
GOOD FOOD GOOD SERVICE
WHY NOT EAT WITH THE OTHERS and "DINE" WITH DOUG & LOLA

SMITHS RESTAURANT
Always Good Food FOR YOUR ENJOYMENT
Our Own Deep Well Water FOR YOUR HEALTH
Open 11 A.M.—8 P.M.
11 S. Dubuque

D&L Grill
"It's Royal"
CREAMED SALMON
ROAST PRIME RIB OF BEEF
BONELESS PERCH
Baked Macaroni & Cheese
Panned Minute Steak
ROYAL CAFE
223 S. Dubuque St.

MEET AT THE Mad Hatters
For LUNCHEON AND DINNER
11 A.M.—2 P.M. 5—7:30 P.M.
124½ E. Washington

NEW OWNERSHIP!
"THE DELLS"
137 So. Riverside Drive
NOONS:
Hot luncheon service plus excellent sandwiches and salads.
Try the bacon and tomato on toast!
NIGHTS:
Steaks, fillet mignon; hamburgers and cheeseburgers.
SUNDAY NOONS:
Especially complete and delicious dinners.
Open daily from 11 'til 8 except Monday
Plenty of Parking Space and No Waiting!
Call anytime for menu information
E. V. B. (Jack) BRACKNEY — — — Dial 80186

Cards Unleash Power; Smash Red Sox, 12-3

By GAYLE TALBOT

BOSTON (AP)—Bashing six Boston pitchers, or reasonable facsimiles thereof, for a record-equaling total of 20 solid hits, the St. Louis Cardinals slugged out a one-sided 12 to 3 victory over the Red Sox yesterday to again deadlock the World Series at two wins apiece.

An amazed crowd of 35,645 loyal Sox rooters, who had been given to understand that their own boys packed the heavy artillery, sat for the most part in morose silence as the rampant Red Birds tied the previous record for hits set by the New York Giants in the 1921 series against the Yankees.

Every man in the Cardinal lineup, including pitcher George Mungler, joined in the thunderous outburst of bingles. Three of them, Enos Slaughter, Whitey Kurowski and Joe Garagiola, tied another series mark by slugging four safeties apiece. Bostonians hadn't seen anything quite like it since the battle of Bunker Hill.

Calm in the midst of the carnage, Mungler, who only two months ago still was sweating it out with the army of occupation in Germany, moved the Sox hitting array down with nine scattered hits and permitted only one earned run as he made certain the play-off would return to St. Louis.

The lone honest tally made off the big righthander was knocked in, naturally, by Rudy York, the balding papoose from Georgia, who slapped a double into right-center field in the fourth inning after Ted Williams had lined a single.

The other two resulted from Schandl's 2b 6 1 1; Moses, rf 5 0 0; Moore, cf 4 1 1; Pesky, lf 5 0 0; Musial, 1b 5 1 1; DiMaggio, cf 4 1 0; Slaughter, rf 6 4 4; Williams, lf 3 1 1; Kuroski, 2b 5 2 4; York, 1b 3 0 1; Garagiola, c 5 1 4; Doerr, 2b 3 1 2; Walker, lf 2 1 1; Cullen, 2b 0 0 0; Munger, ss 5 1 3; Higgins, 3b 4 0 1; Macioni, p 4 0 1; H. Wagner, c 4 0 0; Hugheson, p 0 0 0; Bagby, p 1 0 0; Metkovich, 1 0 0; Zuber, p 0 0 0; McBride, 1 0 0; Brown, p 0 0 0; Ryba, p 0 0 0; Dreisewerd, p 0 0 0; Cullbertson, 1 0 0.

Totals 41 12 20. Batted for Bagby in 5th; Batted for Zuber in 7th; Batted for Dreisewerd in 9th.

St. Louis 102-12 Boston 100-102-3

ERROS—Pesky, Hugheson, Marion, Higgins, Ryba. RUNS BATTED IN—Slaughter, Walker, Marion 3; Musial 2; Garagiola 3; York, Kurowski, Doerr 2. TWO BASE HITS—Kurowski 3; Musial, York, Slaughter, Garagiola, Marion. HOME RUNS—Slaughter, Doerr, SACRIFICES—Marion, Moore, Mungler, Walker. DOUBLE PLAYS—Slaughter and Garagiola; Doerr, Pesky and York; Schoendienst and Musial, Pesky and Doerr. LEFT ON BASES—St. Louis 10; Boston 8.

BASES ON BALLS—off Mungler 3, off Bagby 1, off Zuber 1, off Brown 1, off Ryba 1. STRIKEOUTS—by Mungler 3, by Bagby 1, by Zuber 1, by Brown 2. PITCHING SUMMARY: Hugheson 5 hits 6 runs in 2 innings (none out in 3rd); Bagby 6 hits 1 run in 3; Zuber 3 hits 1 run in 2; Brown 4 hits 3 runs in 1 (none out in 9th); Ryba 2 hits 1 run in 2; Dreisewerd 0 hits 0 runs in 1-3. LOSING PITCHER—Hughson.

KWEL AT THE TOP OF YOUR DIAL 1540 50,000 WATTS WATERLOO

Fresh Dressed Poultry Phone your order! We Deliver JOHNSON HATCHERY 7194

LAST DAY! 2 First Run Hits—"The French Key"—Dark Alibi—"Doors open 1:15 — 9:45"

2 STRAND 32 Starting Saturday Request Showing

Mystery Action Alan LADD Veronica LAKE The Blue Dahlia CO-HITS First Time — First Run

Butler CRABBE KING OF THE WILD WEST TERRORS ON HORSEBACK ALL OVER ST. JOHN

Bobby Doerr's home run in the eighth after Don DiMaggio had reached base on a flagrant error by shortstop Marty Marion. They never should have scored, and Mungler, whose employment by manager Eddie Dyer had been regarded as a considerable gamble, should have been credited with a one runner.

By knocking tall Tex Hughson from the mound in the third inning with a concentrated assault and continuing to belabor his five honest but inept successors, the Birds from the banks of the Mississippi made it a brand new World Series, and the stunning blow they administered to the American league champions might still be felt in the fifth game here today.

Munger's unexpectedly brilliant performance "set up" the Cardinal hurling staff and made it certain the Bostonians would have to look once again at both Howie Pollet and Harry Brecheen, the two crack left-handers who gave them so much trouble in the games at St. Louis.

Manager Dyer said Pollet, who lost the opener at St. Louis on Rudy York's 10th inning homer, would sizzle them across again today. Either Mickey Harris, who was beaten by Brecheen in the second game, or Joe Dobson was expected to go for the Red Sox, though manager Joe Cronin, still somewhat dazed by what he had just seen with his very own eyes, was none too certain about anything.

Bobby Doerr, the Sox second baseman, was spared at least part of his manager's travail through the fortuitous fact that he was stricken with a headache toward the close and sought, with Cronin's full permission, the sanctuary of the clubhouse. He was expected to be okay by today.

Whether Hughson and the other five Sox throwers ever would recover completely from the knocking around they took was entirely problematical. The other five—it is only fair to Hughson to name them, too—were in the order of their appearance, Jim Bagby, Bill Zuber, Mace Brown, Mike Ryba and Clem Dreisewerd.

Ryba, at 41, was the oldest of the lot, and he didn't do any worse than the others. They all looked about alike to the Cards. No other team, incidentally, ever has used more fingers in a world series game.

While everyone on the St. Louis team got in on the act, Slaughter swung the biggest bat. Starting with a lead-off homer in the second that greased the skids for Hughson, the fleet Card right-fielder followed with a double and two singles and scored for of his team's runs.

Kurowski slammed two doubles and two singles. Garagiola, the 20-year-old rookie catcher, hit a two-bagger and three singles in succession and powered three runs across the plate. Marty Marion weighed in with a double and two singles and knocked in three.

It was not until two were out in the ninth that captain Terry Moore finally got his hit, a single into center, but it proved the one that tied the record.

The Cards changed their defense against Williams since his successful bunt of the previous game. They shifted Marion over to the right of second, alongside Red Schoendienst and Musial, and left Kurowski to guard the third-base territory.

Renew Ancient Gridiron Rivalry Hawkeyes Plan Passing Attack

Iowa and Nebraska, wartime "have nots" who kept football alive with youngsters and 4-Ps, now qualify as peacetime "haves" and are ready for the renewal of the ancient inter-state and inter-conference grid series here tomorrow.

Fifty-five years ago, Hawkeyes and Huskers started their series to help boost the new game of football in the midwest. In 1943 through "survival" seasons when Nebraska won eight and Iowa took four and tied one during 25-game schedules.

It's considerably different now. Before an expected 25,000 persons, Iowa will attempt to win its third 1946 game in four starts, while Nebraska will seek win No. 2 in three games.

Dr. Eddie Anderson, who wants to square his record with the Huskers after losing two close ones in three games, has made his Hawkeyes more offense-minded in drills this week, doing out new plays and smoothing the passing attack which is potential dynamite.

Emlen Tunnell probably will do a lot of the hurling for he has a record of 7 completions in 16 attempts but Lou King may throw some from the quarterback position. Tunnell, Dick Hoerner, and Bob Smith will handle the bulk of the running attack, each having averaged 5 yards or better per play. The team average is 4.5 yards per rush, compared with opponents' 2.7.

Iowa's line has been somewhat shuffled this week, the changes putting giant Jim Shoaf, 240 pounds, at left tackle; and Harold Shoener at left end. Harold's twin, Herb, may start at right end. These three men were leaders in the Iowa uprising in the second half which nearly brought a tie with Michigan.

Nebraska has a light but mobile line, averaging about 187 per man, the average being reduced by three men under 175 pounds. Therefore, Iowa, whose men range from 200 to 240, will outweigh the Husker starters about 22 pounds to the man, with an average of 209. Iowa starting backs will have an 11-pound average margin.

Husker speed in the backfield, headed by Dick Hutton, a 10 dash star, and Cletus Fischer, is respected by the Iowans. So are the passes of Sam Vacanti, who played for Iowa in 1942 and for Purdue in 1943. Same was a passing star for Purdue's co-champions in 1943. He was pretty well stopped (4 completions in 14 attempts) by the youthful '43 Hawks and the '46 Iowans are primed to break up his efforts Saturday in his first appearance at Iowa City since he played here.

The series which opened in 1891 now reaches its 35th game. Nebraska has the edge, 21 wins to Iowa's 10, with 3 ties. Iowa won three of the past four games, the 1945 score at Lincoln being 13-6 for the Huskers. Dr. Anderson's 1942 team, last he coached before entering war service, won 27-0, to break a Nebraska streak of eight wins.

A muddy practice field prevented much more than last-minute checking of signals yesterday as the Hawks tapered off the week's drills.

But head coach Dr. Eddie Anderson hadn't planned much work for his gridlers, anyway, and said he was highly pleased with their condition.

Sam Vacanti, Nebraska's quarterback, who earlier in the season was enrolled at Iowa before switching to the Cornhuskers, was the subject of conversation among many of the squad members.

For the Hawkeyes, this will be Sam's homecoming—and they intend to give him a warm welcome.

Husker Coach Fears Hawkeye Grid Power

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Driven indoors by rain the Nebraska Cornhuskers yesterday worked on defense against the expected power of the Iowa football club which they meet at Iowa City tomorrow, but had to forego aerial drill.

Frankly pessimistic about the 21 pound per man weight advantage in favor of the Hawkeyes, coach Bernie Masterson complained that "we haven't been able to find a spark necessary to touch off a sustained offensive."

"You'll have to be quick to unseat the Hawkeyes," Masterson warned his charges.

The Nebraska coach also hinted that his varsity squad may be trimmed still farther and there may be further lineup changes by another week.

Hawklet Homecoming Tonight

It shouldn't even be a ball game, but—

The Iowa City high gridlers take the field as top-heavy favorites against McKinley high of Cedar Rapids in the annual City high homecoming tilt at Shrader field at 8 o'clock tonight, but they will know better than to take any game for granted, especially against the Golden Bears.

Last year the Hawklets were riding high and mighty with only a loss to Clinton to mar their record when the Golden Bears rose to new heights and forced the Little Hawks to settle for a 7 to 7 tie.

This year again the Hawklets have their sights set on the Mississippi Valley crown and the McKinley tussle might look like a breather before the tough non-conference encounter next week against Dowling high of Des Moines.

The Cormackmen are leading the conference with three wins in as many starts while the Golden Bears have been playing the part of doormat in their two Valley starts. Last week they lost the

PROBABLE LINEUPS (C. R.)

Iowa City	McKinley (C. R.)
Cleek	Locatell
Zeitamel	LT
Scannell	LT
Aronow	LT
Troyer	LT
Evens	LT
Seydel	LT
Cannon	LT
Sangster	LT
Fryauf (gc)	LT
Wilson	LT
Miller	LT
Time: 8 o'clock tonight	Place: Shrader field battle for third place in the Cedar Rapids series to Roosevelt.

But—don't give up on the Bears yet. They aren't as bad as it might seem. McKinley opened the season with a win over Decorah and tied Grinnell before they ran into a brick wall in the form of the Parlor City champs, Wilson. Last week they outgout Roosevelt in the first half before the Roughriders won on a late rally.

On the other hand the Little Hawks will be without the services of the star left end and punter, Bill Reichardt. Bob "Chugger" Wilson is still hampered with an ankle injury. And the Hawklets have plenty to remember from last year. In addition they should have had their overconfidence shattered in last week's scare at Dubuque.

Joe Cleek will probably start in Reichardt's vacated end position with the rest of the lineup the same as in the Dubuque tilt.

—"DOORS OPEN 1:15 - 10:00 P. M."—

Englert TODAY "ENDS TUESDAY"

IOWA Last Times Tonite 2 Request Hits

Starting on the stage! Sensational on the screen! Fredric MARCH Betty FIELD in TOMORROW THE WORLD Skippy HOMEIER Joan CARROLL

SHE TRIED TO BUILD A WALL AROUND HER HEART! DOROTHY MCGUIRE GUY MADISON in Till the End of Time with ROBERT MITCHUM BILL WILLIAMS Tom Tully - William Gargan Jean Porter - Johnny Sands

DU "Discover" These Three New Stars! ROBERT MITCHUM in "The Story of G. I. Joe" BILL WILLIAMS in "Three Bad Men and Young Charles" GUY MADISON in "The Color in 'I'ma You Want Away" XTRA! EAGER BEAVER "Color Cartoon" - Late News -

PASTIME Positively Last Day

Out of Your Request Box TAYLOR LEIGH His greatest Her greatest role of all! since "Gone With M G-M's The Wind"

WATERLOO BRIDGE Plus Your Request

M-G-M's Musical Splash Bathing Beauty

with RED SKELTON ESTER WILLIAMS Plus Color Cartoon

Ends THE CAT AND THE CANARY Plus 'Her Adventurous Night'

VARSVITY 4 DAYS STARTING SATURDAY!

ALL AMERICA HAS BEEN WAITING TO SEE... JANE RUSSELL LOUIS HAYWARD

Young Widower with FAITH DOMERGUE - KENT TAYLOR and His Orchestra ENRIC MADRIGUERA -Plus- Worlds Late News Events

Football Coast to Coast

10 PAGE PEACH sports section

Diagrammed Pictures Scores

Des Moines Sunday Register

Wirephoto Pictures Top Staff Writers Howitzer Camera

See Your Nearest News Dealer or Call 2289 for Home Delivery

Highlight Games This Saturday: Iowa vs. Nebraska, Iowa State vs. Kansas, Notre Dame vs. Purdue, Northwestern vs. Minnesota, Wisconsin vs. Ohio State, Michigan vs. Army

The Daily Iowan Want Ads Get Results

CLASSIFIED RATE CARD

CASH RATE

1 or 2 days—
10¢ per line per day
3 consecutive days—
7¢ per line per day
6 consecutive days—
5¢ per line per day
1 month—
4¢ per line per day
—Figure 5 words to line—
Minimum Ad—2 lines

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
50¢ col. inch
Or $5.00 per month

All Want Ads Cash in Advance
Payable at Daily Iowan Business office daily until 5 p. m.

Cancellations must be called in before 5 p. m.
Responsible for one incorrect insertion only.

DIAL 4191

FOR SALE

FOR SALE: Tuxedo, nearly new. Size 37. Call 9716.

FOR SALE: Physician's microscope, triple eyepiece with four objectives, three eyepieces. Microscope adjustment. Many mounted objects and other objects. A high power instrument. Call Horton Smith, Muscatine, Iowa.

FOR SALE: Two lounge chairs, good condition. Dial 6613.

FOR SALE: Hot water, 40 gallon tank, gas arm heater. Hock-Eye Loan Co.

Lamps to Brighten Your Room

Pin-up Lamps . . . $3.10
Ivory or Bronze finish.
Choice of shade.

Study Lamps . . . $3.95
Adjustable—Bronze finish.
Hideaway Chest . . . $2.95
Fibre construction, fits under bed to hold extra clothing.

Kirwan Furniture
6 S. Dubuque

FOR SALE: 2-burner Master Deluxe electric plates. Bottle Gas Sales and Service. Blue Flame Appliance Shop, 219 So. Capitol St. Dial 3313.

— BUY —

CIGARETTES

Buy the Carton
$1.65 All Popular Brands

Superior Oil Co.
Coralville, Iowa

WORK WANTED

WORK WANTED: Typing — speedy service. $10 a page. Call 5794.

Two Lettermen Head Hawk Golf Candidates

Four returning squadmen from last spring's Hawkeye golf team, probably the greatest link squad in Iowa history, headed a list of 20-candidates reporting to Hawk coach Charley Kennett this week for the opening of fall golf drills.

Bob Graham and Charley Uppgraft, both lettermen last spring, and squadmen Bob Clem and Morris Wilson were the experienced candidates returning.

Others on the list include Bob Burns, Iowa City; Bill Charlton, Manchester; Pete Dickinson, Des Moines; Lester Fields, Cresco; Howard Goodyear, Pocahontas; Otto Karsten, Newton; Ralph McKirahan, Wayland; Bob Kuhlman, Iowa City; Rich Lamb, Davenport; Everett Montgomery, Chicago; Ernest Purcell, Anamosa.

Erling Odgaard, Iowa City; James Rosley, Iowa City; William Smith, Iowa City; Ed Tabor, Independence, and Don Taylor, Wellman.

Cadets Stress Defense

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Apparently satisfied with the Army offensive now that Doc Blanchard is back in the lineup, coach Earl (Red) Blaik continued to stress defensive formations yesterday in the final workout before entraining for Ann Arbor last night for Saturday's game with Michigan.

Medwick Released

BROOKLYN (AP)—Joe Medwick, veteran outfielder, was given his outright release by the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

SAE Wins, 20-18

Sigma Alpha Epsilon squeezed out a thrilling 20-18 decision over Delta Upsilon Wednesday in an intramural football game.

WANTED TO RENT

TEACHER wants permanent room or apartment. Mimi Youde Wuriu. Write P-85.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST: No. 7 Golf Iron at University Golf Course Sunday. Reward. Dial 5217.

LOST: Satchel and laundry case in cardboard box. Railway express address R. J. Hunt, Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. Call 4186.

FOUND: Sheaffer Lifetime pen left on desk at Union during registration. Call 5798.

LOST: In the vicinity of the Physics Building Thursday a Log Log Duplex Slide Rule. Reward. Dial 3462.

FOUND: Pair glasses. 214 North Capitol. No telephone.

LOST: Pair of shell-rimmed glasses in green alligator leather case. Owner may claim them by paying for ad in Daily Iowan Business Office—East Hall.

RADIO SERVICE

FOR EXPERT REPAIRING AT MINIMUM CHARGE

call

CAMPUS RADIO

2856
Student-Veteran owned and operated
Pick up and delivery
26 West Court

RADIOS

We have radios, record players, small appliances. Guaranteed Service.

B & K Radio Shop
Phone 3595 Burkley Hotel Bldg.

Sutton Radio Service

All Makes Home and Auto Radios Repaired
Pick-Up & Delivery
331 E. Market Dial 2239

Let Us Repair Your RADIO

*3 Day Service
*Work Guaranteed
Pickup & Delivery

Woodburn Sound Service

8 East College
Dial 3265

Co-op Members

Turn in cash register receipts at the Co-Op Grocery, 210 S. Clinton by Oct. 15 for fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1946

Consumers Co-op Society

It's the LITTLE Things That Count . . .
Don't Forget Those Small Details About Your Automobile—
See "DON" and Let Him Check Your Car for

Greasing Gas Battery Service
Tires

COFFEY'S STANDARD SERVICE
Burlington & Clinton Sts.

All Men's Tickets Gone For Open House Mixer

All men's tickets for the "Off the Record Open House" mixer were gone at 10 a. m. yesterday, but about 150 women's tickets are still available at the Iowa Union desk.

The mixer will be held tomorrow at the Iowa Union lounge and river room from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight.

Say U.S. Planes in Raid

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Communist radio at Yenan reported yesterday in a broadcast monitored by the Associated Press that 16 American-made planes of the Chinese central government bombed Communist-held Kalgan the other day.

The unconfirmed report said the planes dropped about 100 bombs causing "considerable civilian casualties and damages."

Illini Refuse Bid

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Football coach Ray Eliot of Illinois yesterday declined an invitation extended by the Illini to meet Texas in a January game in Mexico City, explaining that the Big Nine code bans post-season competition.

HELP WANTED

WANTED: Man to help drive to Central Florida October 15th. References exchanged. Dial 5755.

WANTED: Maid for Fraternity House. Phone 9675 or 9533.

WANTED: Student's wife for part time care of baby. Dial 5794.

WANTED: Full or part time man for evening work in Service Station. Dial 9965.

Students!

Make $5 to $15 for three hours work at the remaining home games. Sell pop, peanuts, etc. See Alex Fidler in the east side concession stand Saturday, Oct. 12 at 10:30 A. M.

WANTED TO EXCHANGE

NEW, unused electric washing machine at cost price for satisfactory rental of furnished apt. Call Bob Bunz at Delta Tau Delta, 9676 after 5:00 p. m.

$50 REWARD OR apt. in Dallas, Texas, for suitable apt. or house in Iowa City, Veteran and wife. Write Box 0-80, Daily Iowan.

SALE of 1938 Century Buick in exchange for furnished apt. Write Box K60, Daily Iowan.

ROOMS FOR RENT

ROOM for quiet, respectable graduate student or senior student girl or business or banking man. Phone 4479.

FOR RENT: Room for student girl Call 9498.

LOANS

Loans of All Types COMPLETED IN A FEW MINUTES AT

MISSISSIPPI INVESTMENT CORP.
(Owned and Operated by Veterans)
MICHAEL D. MAHER
Manager
20-21 Schneider Bldg. Dial 5662

Money $ $ $ $ Money loaned on jewelry, and most articles of value.

RELIABLE LOAN & JEWELRY CO.
(Licensed pawnbrokers)
(Registered Watchmaker)
110 S. Linn St.

HOCK-EYE LOAN CO.

buys - sells and trades
All types of merchandise
Guns, pens, pencils, Watches, rings, typewriters, adding machines.
111½ E. Washington St.

Dance to Recorded Music

We have the latest records

Woodburn Sound Service

8 East College Dial 6731

INSURANCE

Automobile Insurance
Fire Coverage on Household Goods

Consult Dorr Hudson
H. I. JENNINGS AGENCY
214 L.S.B. & T. Bld. Dial 2525

Iowa City Plumbing and Heating

Norge Appliances
Plumbing Heating
114 S. Linn Phone 5870

Typewriters are Valuable

keep them
CLEAN and in REPAIR
Frohwein Supply Co.
6 S. Clinton Phone 3474

BUMPER CROP

WHEN IT'S YELLOW, I'M OFF!
I'LL SAY YOU'RE OFF, BROTHER!

YELLOW-FEVER IN TRAFFIC CAN BE FATAL, TOO!

WHO DOES IT

THE FIRETENDER AUTOMATIC STOKER

Immediate Delivery

Larew Co.
Plumbing & Heating
Across from city hall
Dial 9681

Complete Insurance Service

Auto Fire Bonds
Health & Accident

G. W. BUXTON AGENCY
Paul-Helen Bldg. Tel. 3223

Kritz Studio

24 Hour Service on Applications
3 S. Dubuque St. — Dial 7332

HALL'S is the headquarters for personalized items for personal use and gift giving

Stationery - Bookmatches
Bridge Sets - Party Sets

Hall's Novelties & Gifts
304 N. Linn

Typing Service. By appointments only. Write R. Newburger, Apt. 24, 130 E. Jefferson or dial 80266.

PIANO Tuning and Repairing. Dial 3214.

For Walking Comfort

have your shoes expertly repaired at

BLACK'S SHOE REPAIR
(next to city hall)
226 E. Washington

Griff Offers You Efficiency in Car Painting, Tire Repair Greasing

GRIFFS TEXACO SERVICE
Corner Linn and College

FOR CLOGGED drains or sewers call electric Roto-Rooter service. No muss and no digging. Work guaranteed. Free estimate. Dian 7166.

ELECTRICAL SERVICE

JACKSON ELECTRIC CO.: Electrical wiring, appliances, and repairing. 108 S. Dubuque. Dial 5465.

FOR RENT

NICKELODIANS on commission. Dial 3265.

FOR RENT: Large double room. Dial 3047.

TYPING—MIMEOGRAPHING

PUBLIC STENOGRAPHER, Typing-Mimeographing, College Typewriter Service, 122 Iowa Ave., Dial 2571.

WANTED TO BUY!

WANTED: Baby bed. Call University Ext. 8929 or Hawkeye Village No. 49.

CASH

FOR SECOND HAND UNIVERSITY TEXT BOOKS that are in current use

Ries Iowa Book Store
30 So. Clinton St.

POPEYE

POPEYE: TELL ME WHAT TO DO??
I THINKS THEY DRINKS CONTAMINAKED WATER!! IT'S POLLUKID!!
NO!! IT'S THE PUREST WATER ON EARTH SEZ YOU!!
DIGGING SOMETHING, POPEYE??
YAS, DIGGIN' A WELL!!

BLONDIE

HERE COMES DADDY HOME FROM WORK!
HELLO, DEAR
WHAT'S THE MATTER POP?
YUCKLE YUCKLE
DID YOU EVER KISS AN OIL MOP?

HENRY

HERE'S A SOILED BIRD YOU CAN HAVE FOR A NICKEL—SON!
BIRD ON A STICK 10¢
BIRD ON A STICK 10¢

ETTA KETT

I SURE DREW A BLANK. CAN'T REMEMBER A THING.
DON'T WORRY, YOU'LL BE OKAY SEE YOU TO-NIGHT?
IF A GUY GOT KICKED IN THE KINK BY A COW, WOULD HE GET REET?
NOW'S MY CHANCE TO SNAKE HIM AWAY FROM ETTA BEFORE HIS MEMORY COMES BACK!
HI-YA, IRRESISTIBLE!
GULP! MEANING ME!

OLD HOME TOWN by STANLEY

OTEE, TH' STUFF THAT CHARACTER HAS BEEN DRINKING FOR TWENTY YEARS WILL COUNTER ACT A DOZEN DOG BITES LIKE THAT LITTLE NIP—
I KNOW—BUT WHAT WILL IT DO TO THIS POOR LITTLE POOCH.
HELP HE BIT ME OW!
MARSHAL OTEE WALKER IS ALWAYS WORRYING ABOUT THE UNDER DOG

ROOM AND BOARD by GENE

WHO TAKES THE ROOM RENT WHILE MRS. PUFFLE IS AWAY?—YOU, OR UNCLE BERT?—HMM—GUESS I'LL PAY IT TO UNK— HE WONT GIVE ME A RECEIPT WRITTEN IN TRICK FADE-OUT INK!
AW—KAT—BUT BUY THE MONEY OUT IN THAT OLD CRACKED TRACT IN THE PANTRY, AW SOY!— THE SLIMS IS SO TRIMAL IT'LL JUST BE USED FOR SMALL KITCHEN ACCOUNTS!

SHOE REPAIR

EXPERT SHOE REPAIRING

ROGERS RITE-WAY
Shoe Repairing
Your worn shoes made like new by our workmanship. Orthopedic Service . . . our specialty.
126 E. College

INSTRUCTION

CONTRACT bridge. Dial 8-0401.

ENROLL NOW!

Special Classes
Starting in Shorthand, Typing and Bookkeeping
DAY and NIGHT Classes

Ja. City Commercial College
203½ E. Wash. Phone 7644

NOTARY PUBLIC TYPING

MIMEOGRAPHING
MARY V. BURNS
601 Iowa State Bldg.
Dial 2656

FURNITURE MOVING

MAHER BROS. TRANSFER
For Efficient Furniture Moving Ask About Our WARDROBE SERVICE
DIAL — 9696 — DIAL

C. O. D. CLEANERS

106 South Capital
Cleaning — Pressing and Blocking Hats —
Our Speciality
Free Pickup and Delivery Service

DIAL 4433
48 HOUR SERVICE
—We pay 2c each for hangers—
DIAL 4433

Our service is "TOPS" for moving day
Call us now . . . don't delay!
Dial 2161

Thompson
Transfer & Storage Co.
DIAL 2161
509 South Gilbert Street

FOR SALE

FOR SALE: 2-burner Master Deluxe electric plates. Bottle Gas Sales and Service. Blue Flame Appliance Shop, 219 So. Capitol St. Dial 3313.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE: Tuxedo, nearly new. Size 37. Call 9716.

FOR SALE: Physician's microscope, triple eyepiece with four objectives, three eyepieces. Microscope adjustment. Many mounted objects and other objects. A high power instrument. Call Horton Smith, Muscatine, Iowa.

FOR SALE: Two lounge chairs, good condition. Dial 6613.

FOR SALE: Hot water, 40 gallon tank, gas arm heater. Hock-Eye Loan Co.

Lamps to Brighten Your Room

Pin-up Lamps . . . $3.10
Ivory or Bronze finish.
Choice of shade.

Study Lamps . . . $3.95
Adjustable—Bronze finish.
Hideaway Chest . . . $2.95
Fibre construction, fits under bed to hold extra clothing.

Kirwan Furniture
6 S. Dubuque

FOR SALE: 2-burner Master Deluxe electric plates. Bottle Gas Sales and Service. Blue Flame Appliance Shop, 219 So. Capitol St. Dial 3313.

— BUY —

CIGARETTES

Buy the Carton
$1.65 All Popular Brands

Superior Oil Co.
Coralville, Iowa

WORK WANTED

WORK WANTED: Typing — speedy service. $10 a page. Call 5794.

Two Lettermen Head Hawk Golf Candidates

Four returning squadmen from last spring's Hawkeye golf team, probably the greatest link squad in Iowa history, headed a list of 20-candidates reporting to Hawk coach Charley Kennett this week for the opening of fall golf drills.

Bob Graham and Charley Uppgraft, both lettermen last spring, and squadmen Bob Clem and Morris Wilson were the experienced candidates returning.

Others on the list include Bob Burns, Iowa City; Bill Charlton, Manchester; Pete Dickinson, Des Moines; Lester Fields, Cresco; Howard Goodyear, Pocahontas; Otto Karsten, Newton; Ralph McKirahan, Wayland; Bob Kuhlman, Iowa City; Rich Lamb, Davenport; Everett Montgomery, Chicago; Ernest Purcell, Anamosa.

Erling Odgaard, Iowa City; James Rosley, Iowa City; William Smith, Iowa City; Ed Tabor, Independence, and Don Taylor, Wellman.

Cadets Stress Defense

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Apparently satisfied with the Army offensive now that Doc Blanchard is back in the lineup, coach Earl (Red) Blaik continued to stress defensive formations yesterday in the final workout before entraining for Ann Arbor last night for Saturday's game with Michigan.

Medwick Released

BROOKLYN (AP)—Joe Medwick, veteran outfielder, was given his outright release by the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

SAE Wins, 20-18

Sigma Alpha Epsilon squeezed out a thrilling 20-18 decision over Delta Upsilon Wednesday in an intramural football game.

WANTED TO RENT

TEACHER wants permanent room or apartment. Mimi Youde Wuriu. Write P-85.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST: No. 7 Golf Iron at University Golf Course Sunday. Reward. Dial 5217.

LOST: Satchel and laundry case in cardboard box. Railway express address R. J. Hunt, Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. Call 4186.

FOUND: Sheaffer Lifetime pen left on desk at Union during registration. Call 5798.

LOST: In the vicinity of the Physics Building Thursday a Log Log Duplex Slide Rule. Reward. Dial 3462.

FOUND: Pair glasses. 214 North Capitol. No telephone.

LOST: Pair of shell-rimmed glasses in green alligator leather case. Owner may claim them by paying for ad in Daily Iowan Business Office—East Hall.

RADIO SERVICE

FOR EXPERT REPAIRING AT MINIMUM CHARGE

call

CAMPUS RADIO

2856
Student-Veteran owned and operated
Pick up and delivery
26 West Court

RADIOS

We have radios, record players, small appliances. Guaranteed Service.

B & K Radio Shop
Phone 3595 Burkley Hotel Bldg.

Sutton Radio Service

All Makes Home and Auto Radios Repaired
Pick-Up & Delivery
331 E. Market Dial 2239

Let Us Repair Your RADIO

*3 Day Service
*Work Guaranteed
Pickup & Delivery

Woodburn Sound Service

8 East College
Dial 3265

Co-op Members

Turn in cash register receipts at the Co-Op Grocery, 210 S. Clinton by Oct. 15 for fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1946

Consumers Co-op Society

It's the LITTLE Things That Count . . .
Don't Forget Those Small Details About Your Automobile—
See "DON" and Let Him Check Your Car for

Greasing Gas Battery Service
Tires

COFFEY'S STANDARD SERVICE
Burlington & Clinton Sts.

All Men's Tickets Gone For Open House Mixer

All men's tickets for the "Off the Record Open House" mixer were gone at 10 a. m. yesterday, but about 150 women's tickets are still available at the Iowa Union desk.

The mixer will be held tomorrow at the Iowa Union lounge and river room from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight.

Say U.S. Planes in Raid

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Communist radio at Yenan reported yesterday in a broadcast monitored by the Associated Press that 16 American-made planes of the Chinese central government bombed Communist-held Kalgan the other day.

The unconfirmed report said the planes dropped about 100 bombs causing "considerable civilian casualties and damages."

Illini Refuse Bid

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Football coach Ray Eliot of Illinois yesterday declined an invitation extended by the Illini to meet Texas in a January game in Mexico City, explaining that the Big Nine code bans post-season competition.

POPEYE

POPEYE: TELL ME WHAT TO DO??
I THINKS THEY DRINKS CONTAMINAKED WATER!! IT'S POLLUKID!!
NO!! IT'S THE PUREST WATER ON EARTH SEZ YOU!!
DIGGING SOMETHING, POPEYE??
YAS, DIGGIN' A WELL!!

BLONDIE

HERE COMES DADDY HOME FROM WORK!
HELLO, DEAR
WHAT'S THE MATTER POP?
YUCKLE YUCKLE
DID YOU EVER KISS AN OIL MOP?

HENRY

HERE'S A SOILED BIRD YOU CAN HAVE FOR A NICKEL—SON!
BIRD ON A STICK 10¢
BIRD ON A STICK 10¢

ETTA KETT

I SURE DREW A BLANK. CAN'T REMEMBER A THING.
DON'T WORRY, YOU'LL BE OKAY SEE YOU TO-NIGHT?
IF A GUY GOT KICKED IN THE KINK BY A COW, WOULD HE GET REET?
NOW'S MY CHANCE TO SNAKE HIM AWAY FROM ETTA BEFORE HIS MEMORY COMES BACK!
HI-YA, IRRESISTIBLE!
GULP! MEANING ME!

OLD HOME TOWN by STANLEY

OTEE, TH' STUFF THAT CHARACTER HAS BEEN DRINKING FOR TWENTY YEARS WILL COUNTER ACT A DOZEN DOG BITES LIKE THAT LITTLE NIP—
I KNOW—BUT WHAT WILL IT DO TO THIS POOR LITTLE POOCH.
HELP HE BIT ME OW!
MARSHAL OTEE WALKER IS ALWAYS WORRYING ABOUT THE UNDER DOG

ROOM AND BOARD by GENE

WHO TAKES THE ROOM RENT WHILE MRS. PUFFLE IS AWAY?—YOU, OR UNCLE BERT?—HMM—GUESS I'LL PAY IT TO UNK— HE WONT GIVE ME A RECEIPT WRITTEN IN TRICK FADE-OUT INK!
AW—KAT—BUT BUY THE MONEY OUT IN THAT OLD CRACKED TRACT IN THE PANTRY, AW SOY!— THE SLIMS IS SO TRIMAL IT'LL JUST BE USED FOR SMALL KITCHEN ACCOUNTS!

Martin Says U.S. Forces Are Weak in Pacific Area

Touring Congressmen See Lack of Supplies, Inexperienced Men

From a military standpoint the United States is weak in the Pacific, was the opinion expressed by Thomas E. Martin, U.S. representative from this district, at the weekly meeting of the Iowa City Rotary club yesterday at the Hotel Jefferson.

In reporting his views after a Pacific mission with the house military affairs committee, Martin referred to surprise visits the committee made to army personnel stationed in Korea and Okinawa.

Here they found a lack of supplies, inefficient training, and inexperienced personnel. Martin said that the men cannot perform difficult tasks in tactics because they are not trained regularly. Inexperienced Personnel

Concerning the inexperience of those stationed in the Pacific, Martin said, "a small fraction of the non-commissioned officers and leaders have had as much as three years' army experience. In most cases only ten men to a regiment have served that long."

Americans want to see their property protected in the Pacific but military training for this job is seriously neglected, he said. Congressman Martin said that the purpose of the trip was to see that our defenses in the Pacific are kept in practical, workable condition. He emphasized that the mission was not intended as an aggressive move by the United States.

Concerning our military leaders Martin said, "MacArthur, Eisenhower and Marshall are definitely against armed conflict." In reference to General MacArthur, Martin claimed that the military leader has not given in to Japanese views, but is dealing with them sternly and gaining their respect.

'Guinea Pigs'

While traveling in China, Martin said the committee members were used as "guinea pigs" to prove to the Chinese that members of different American political parties can travel and work together congenially.

He stressed that one of the weakest points in American foreign relations is our inability to speak in foreign languages.

According to Martin, the committee members traveled over 35,000 miles in a C-54 army transport. They stopped in Alaska, Hawaii, Japan, Kwajalein, Guam, Iwo Jima, Korea, Shanghai, Okinawa, Manila, Australia and other Pacific islands.

Y.W., Y.M. to Honor Dr. Walter Judd Sunday After Vespers Service

A reception honoring Dr. Walter Judd, who will speak at the university vespers service Sunday night, will be held immediately after vespers in the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. rooms in Iowa Union.

Everyone attending the vespers service is invited to the reception, according to Harriet Arnold, A4 of Valparaiso, Y.W.C.A. president. A special invitation to all student members of Iowa City churches has been extended through the pastors and student foundations.

The reception is being planned jointly by Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. Marian Pollitz, A3 of Cedar Rapids, is Y.W.C.A. social chairman, and David Tosh, A2 of Clinton is social chairman for Y.M.C.A.

Unlike other members of the deer tribe, both sexes of the Barren Ground caribou have horns, although the horns of the female are shorter than the male's.

Community Chest Fund Now Totals $4,592.50

The Iowa City Community Chest fund now totals $4,592.50, according to figures released yesterday at the fund headquarters.

The goal for the fund drive which ends Oct. 20 has been set at $21,010.

Donations already received have come, for the most part, from business firms. Donations from private citizens are expected to increase in the later days of the drive.

Young Demo Officers To Meet Here Saturday

Officers of the Iowa Young Democrats will meet Saturday at 10 a.m. in the offices of State President Jack C. White in the Paul-Helen building, it was announced yesterday.

Those attending the organizational meeting will be Virginia Carr, Sioux City; James Kiseben, Carroll; Jack Clark, Oskaloosa; Mrs. Louise Powers, Hubbard; Joseph Marks, Des Moines; and Mary Green, Riverside.

United Airlines Officials To Arrive Here Today For Airport Inspection

Twenty-one United Air Lines officials will stop this afternoon at the Iowa City municipal airport, the fifth stop on a day-long autumn regional survey.

The 21-passenger Mainliner, piloted by H. L. Knoop, manager of regional flight operations, is due here at 3:30 p. m.

R. E. Pfennig, regional vice president of operations, will be aboard with 20 regional officials.

During the 15-minute stops at fields between Chicago, Ill., and Denver, Colo., the officials will observe the United Air Lines airports from the passenger's viewpoint, inspecting the landing field, personnel and passenger facilities.

Travelers Club to Meet Saturday in City Library

The Travelers club for fourth, fifth and sixth grade students will meet in the children's room of the Iowa City public library at 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

Miss Jacquelin Ragnor, formerly of France, will be guest of the club. The program will feature a mythical visit to France, games and a quiz contest.

Named Administrator

Oscar P. Robinson yesterday was appointed administrator under $1,000 bond in the estate of Larena Feldman who died June 13. The law firm of Ries, Dutcher and Osmundson are the attorneys.

The Situation in Hand—

Fire Prevention Week

—Primes Iowa City

The Chicago fire of 1871, whether or not actually started by Mrs. O'Leary's cow, continues to be brought up every year in early October when cities of the country hold Fire Prevention week on the approximate anniversary of the "great fire."

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters has proclaimed Oct. 6-12 as Fire Prevention week in Iowa City. At this time the fire department is making a special effort to impress citizens with the importance of fire prevention, and to educate them in regard to the local fire situation.

The situation here is good. Fires and fire damage in Iowa City are kept to a minimum.

Damage this year has amounted to $55,000, but these figures are not significant. For example, the East hall fire in May resulted in damages amounting to some $30,000. This sum when totaled in with the yearly figures gives a distorted picture.

In general that is true in Iowa City every year. Because there are so few fires each year one fire which is particularly large distorts the yearly figures. To get a true picture of the fire situation in Iowa City the people to see are the people who fight the fires, and the people who have to pay for the fire damages.

Both firemen and the insurance companies here are encouraging. Sam T. Morrison, local insurance broker, offered the opinion that "as far as fire insurance goes, Iowa City is a good risk."

Fire Chief J. J. Clark also feels that the situation is well in hand. Chief Clark is not resting on his laurels, however. The fire department conducts a never ending campaign in educating the public in fire prevention.

Talks are given at various civic meetings and at regular intervals in the schools. Teachers hold frequent fire drills and school officials are instructed to be ready at any time for a fire drill.

Fire fighting equipment is also being continually renewed and kept up to date. Orders have been made for two new fire trucks to be delivered next spring.

Norwegian to Describe Concentration Camp Life To Lutheran Students

Odny Graf, exchange student from Oslo, Norway, will speak to the Lutheran students' association at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the Zion Lutheran church.

Miss Graf will relate her experiences during three years in a concentration camp in occupied Norway.

Blondina Steinbrink, A2 of Manson, and Hiram Ellingson, A2 of North Wood, are co-chairmen in charge of the program and supper which will precede the meeting. After the meeting the group will attend the University vespers.

S.E. Allen Speaks Here Monday Night

Sewell E. Allen, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, will address a public gathering at the Iowa City Community building Monday at 8 p.m., it was announced yesterday.

Allen, a University of Iowa graduate, served as deputy clerk of district court for Monona county from 1935 to 1937. He served one term at the 49th general assembly as a member of the lower house.

Before his discharge in October, 1945, Allen saw service in Africa, France and Italy in the 23 months he was overseas. He was discharged as a sergeant.

Emil G. Trotter, activities chairman for the Johnson county Young Democrats, announced that all Democratic candidates for Johnson county offices will be introduced from the speaker's platform.

Come Rain, Come Flood, Come Mystery Fires

Rain wasn't the only thing that forced cancellation of City High's homecoming pep rally and bonfire scheduled for last night at Schraeder field.

The City high school pep club went to great pains collecting materials for the fire, and quite a pile of boxes and lumber was assembled by Tuesday night. Persons unknown then staged their own bonfire at the football field.

The pile was rebuilt Wednesday, and that night, another mysterious fire destroyed the pep club's efforts.

Files Gasoline Tax Objection

Stanley W. Plank, Washington county resident, filed suit against John M. Grimes, state treasurer, and two Iowa City banks late Wednesday afternoon in district court here as an objection to release of over $6,000,000 collected from the extra fourth cent of Iowa's gasoline tax.

Plank supports the objection, filed Monday by L. V. Carlton of Iowa City, that the extra cent is unconstitutional.

He asks the court to restrain Grimes and the Iowa City banks from releasing the money, and to appoint a receiver to take charge of the money until a final decision in the case is made. His attorneys are Hatter and Hatter of Marengo.

The money was ordered held in the Iowa City banks when Carlton contested the constitutionality of the tax law. He lost his case in the Iowa Supreme court. His recent objection is the result of an application from Grimes for re-

Two SUI Professors Return From Conference At Princeton University

Two university faculty members, Prof. Emil Witschi of the zoology department and Prof. Warren O. Nelson of the anatomy department recently attended the conferences on the chemistry and physiology of growth at Princeton university's bicentennial program, at Princeton, N. J.

Professor Witschi and Professor Nelson attended the conference as discussants.

Taking part in the conference on the chemistry and physiology of growth between 80 and 100 of the nation's leading scientists, Professors Witschi and Nelson were the only two discussants invited from this part of the middle-west.

Professors Witschi and Nelson, along with the other discussants, received a Princeton bicentennial medal as a token to honor the scientists' work.

leave and distribution of the money. Judge Harold D. Evans has set hearing on the case for Oct. 16.

Expert Clock Repairing

PROMPT SERVICE!

HERTEEN & STOCKER Jewelers

Hotel Jefferson Bldg.

ELASTI-GLASS
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Zipper Raincoats

Completely Waterproof

Lightweight, waterproof comfort with well-tailored advance styling. Improved, self-locking, full-length zipper... hidden by smart fly-front coat closure. Two-way slash pockets. Nylon stitching... all seams guaranteed electronically sealed.

Fashioned from supple, pliant Elasti-Glass, the miracle material. Completely waterproof, it never dries out or cracks... always remains soft and pleasant to the touch. Sea Green.

$9.95

*Elasti-Glass is an organic glass of almost living elasticity. It contains no silica or rubber! Made from "Vynlon" brand rayon. Covered by U.S. Pat. No. 2,289,315. Registered Trade Mark.

Iowa City's Fashion Store

STORE OPEN: 9 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.
Monday Through Friday
Saturday: 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Towner's
10 South Clinton Street
Across from the Campus

FOR COLLEGE GIRLS

Towner's Sportswear Department

Recognized for our Quality Lines, Smart Styles and Complete Assortments

Somehow Fall brings out the Best in Sportswear so Towner's now have assembled for your choosing a great array of free-breathing—free action—freely colored Sportswear items from a select group of America's Nationally Known, Nationally Advertised Sportswear-Makers such as "Peggy Parker" ... "Bermuda" ... "Serbin" ... "Hollywood Premier" ... "Beaucraft" ... "Simmons" ... "Davenshire" and "Joan Kenley". See our Window Display of new Sportswear styles and shop Towner's this week for the Sportswear items you desire.

See Our Windows

TURTLE NECK SWEATERS $5.95

Serbin style as pictured above in fine all wool shetland Whites — Black — Kelly — Brown — Red and Gray.

COLORFUL PLAID SKIRTS $7.95

New high waisted models in dirndl, peg top and all around pleat styles as pictured above.

FINE ALL-WOOL PLAID SHIRT $9.50

Super Quality

Beautiful Blended colors in the Inner-Outer style you are wanting.

BREMERS

It's All Yours!

Mid-Morning? Afternoon?

— For all your coke-and-sandwich dates —

The new SPORTSMAN'S GRILL

125 Clinton Ave.

Iowa City's Fashion Store

Towner's
10 South Clinton Street
"Across from the Campus"

JACQUARD SWEATERS Featured At $8.95

Bermuda and Peggy Parker styles that are even more beautiful than ever. See the "Jitterbug," "Reindeer" and "Rancho" patterns in shades of brown, green, navy, beige and red. All sizes.

100% WOOL CARDIGAN SWEATERS $6.50

Beautiful Qualities in all colors — a great assortment to select from. You will want several... Buy Now.

Yug Arch of A

PA nation day peace tional ing the day in The to 6 e ratio votes and m Earl at 9:50 ferenc for E

Yug Arch of A

Z A Archb of the Yugos people organi and v impress The bishop P. Ha of the grade, receive ton, 10 In v of Sta United deep unfair of Arch that U- ceived can (c late's comm officia of civi the tri How have observ trial h He me tile str room that d App verdic out h is clea times shatec the a wor