Ball Changes Hands 7 Times Via Fumbles; Iowa Forced to Come From Behind to Win

By CHAD BROOKS
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Iowa's Hawkeyes and the visiting Nebraska Cornhuskers played a game of give-away at Iowa stadium yesterday afternoon, with the Huskers proving the most generous as they handed Iowa a 21-7 decision.

As an estimated 30,500 fans rocked with laughter, the traditional cornbelt rivals made every mistake in the books with a showing that would have done credit to any two good junior high school teams.

The honors, if there were any in this game, would have to go to a pair of Iowa reserves, tackle Bill Kay and right half Duke Curran. Kay, trying to win back the starting berth he lost at Michigan a week ago, was once again invincible on defense, while Curran, the seat back star of the '42 Hawkeyes turned in a beautiful fourth period running exhibition to set up the Hawks' final touchdown.

Iowa did things the hard way, handing Nebraska a first quarter touchdown when right halfback Dell Bartells fumbled on his own 29 yard line. Eight plays later Husker Fullback Tom Novak plunged over from the six.

Mid-way in the second period, however, the Hawks struck twice within a minute and a half for their victory margin.

A sixteen yard Nebraska punt went out on their own 32. Emlen Tunnell and reserve Fullback Ron Headington moved to the eleven and Tunnell exploded through the Husker right guard for Iowa touchdown number one. Bob Sullivan's placement tied the score.

Then, on the first play after the following kick-off, Lou King, Iowa quarterback, grabbed a pop fumble by Husker Bill Moomey and dashed 17 yards into the end zone. Sullivan again converted.

Finally, King fell on another Moomey fumble on the Husker 38 early in the final period. Seven plays moved to the visitor's six and Sullivan went on a solo stroll around the left side of the Nebraska line to score standing up. And the same Mr. Sullivan made it a perfect conversion day with extra point number three.

In all, the ball changed hands seven times via the fumble route—with the home-town backs giving it away four times. Then there were three intercepted passes, two of them by Iowa, and no less than 13 penalties, six against the Hawks, all in critical spots.

Second Stringers Start
The Hawks, with a second string backfield of Jim McKinstry, Sullivan, Dell Bartells and Russ Fechter in the game, signalled the day's pattern the first time they got hold of the ball. Sullivan and Fechter moved to the Husker 30 with ease—but a mixed up signal and a McKinstry pass, knocked down by a lineman, put Nebraska back in the game.

Then the fumbles, missed signals and ill-timed penalties took over with a vengeance. The Hawks picked up a first down on the visitor's 14 early in the second half—but Bob Smith fumbled on the ten.

Nebraska had a first and goal to go on the Iowa three—but a backfield-in-motion penalty set them back to the eight, a too-many-times-out ditto moved the ball to the 13, and Sam Vacanti tossed a perfect pass to Iowa's Ron Headington on the Hawk five.

Iowa's turn. Tunnell passed to Smith, but he fell down breaking into the clear at mid-field. And that was only the first half.

Which is probably a good way to sum up the entire game—the whole thing was useless. If the Hawks wanted an excuse for their poor showing today, however, they could point to the fact that big Dick Hoerner, key man in their attack and a strong candidate for all-American honors, saw only brief action. Hoerner carried the ball only twice, early in the opening period, before being forced out of the line-up with an injured arm.

Smith, the hard-running right halfback, took over the heavy duty assignment for the Hawks and did alright for himself, picking up an even 80 yards in nine attempts. Another bright spot on the Iowa ledger was the passing of Emlen Tunnell. The Gremlin connected on four of his seven tosses and, with a little more luck on the part of the receivers, could have had a perfect day.

Things Really Moved
Headington, in the clear on the Husker 15, dropped a perfect fourth down pass from Tunnell as the third quarter ended.

Roy Long took over the kicking duties for the Huskers and Kay blocked his fourth down attempt on the Nebraska 19 early in the final period.

Finally showing some offensive punch, the Hawks moved to the Husker nine—but Sullivan tossed a perfect pass to Husker Joe Partington, a good ten feet short of the Iowa receiver. Partington ran it out to the Nebraska 38.

But the visitors really didn't want the ball; Moomey fumbled on the first play and King recovered.

Here Duke Curran stepped in, picking up seven yards on the first play, resting while King passed to Hal Shoener on the Hus-

U.S. Asks Soviets To Pay $11-Billion Lend-Lease Debt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has sent a note to Moscow requesting Russia to wind up its $11,000,000,000 lend-lease account, informed government officials disclosed last night.

Russia was asked to send a financial mission to Washington to begin discussions as soon as convenient, these officials said.

The American note was reported to have been sent several weeks ago but no reply has been received.

The United States furnished Russia $11,141,000,000 in lend-lease as of Dec. 31, 1945. Russia's reverse lend-lease contributions for the same period totaled $2,213,000.

Russia presumably will be asked during the conversations to pay the United States a percentage of the cost of the guns, tanks, warplanes and other material furnished her under the wartime agreement.

In previous similar post-lend-lease negotiations with other countries, however, the United States has not sought full-scale compensation. Factors like war losses, and casualties are taken into consideration before arriving at a figure and writing "closed" to the account.

The American note asked a Soviet financial mission to come to Washington to begin the discussions as soon as convenient.

The American note to Moscow divorces the lend-lease discussions from the suggested negotiations for a $1,000,000,000 loan to Russia. This change of procedure reflects the American government's growing belief that the Soviet would not accept the conditions for the credit laid down by the United States.

Russia requested the loan nearly a year ago but has not agreed to American suggestions for an agenda which would include examination of economic conditions in eastern Europe.

Further negotiations are stalled because of Soviet failure to answer a third American note on the subject sent about three months ago.

Truman to Broadcast Verdict On Meat Question Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman last night prepared a decision on the meat control question for broadcast to the nation Monday night while the GOP commented "better late than never."

Mr. Truman will deliver his solution to the meat-hungry voters in a broadcast at 9 p.m. (CST) Monday over all networks.

Scarcely had this been disclosed when Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, issued a statement that "it will not suffice to pull a political rabbit out of the hat. One rabbit is a rather scanty diet for 140,000,000 people."

"Mr. Truman has in the past demonstrated an ability to do the right thing too late," Reece continued.

"It is, however, to be hoped that in attempts to solve this problem Mr. Truman and his administration will approach it from the viewpoint of what is best from the long-range viewpoint. To provide a feast now at the expense of an inevitable famine later would be an exhibition of cheap politics which would inevitably be repudiated by the American people."

"The American people are not willing to sell their votes on Nov. 5 for steaks and chops if they know they will be able to get only horse meat to eat in January or February."

In announcing the arrangements,

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman will discuss meat as part of "the stabilization program."

That generated new speculation on how far the chief executive might be willing to go in adjusting the administration's line against inflation to get rib roasts back onto dinner tables—and nudge Democratic candidates off political hot-spots.

The decision was the President's alone. His advisers had laid before him their arguments for one line of action or another. The problem had been threshed over thoroughly in cabinet meeting and other high-level conferences.

Yesterday Mr. Truman weighed the case for and against complete control, modified control, or no control. He worked all day in his study, with no outside callers.

Price Administrator Paul Porter, who said last Saturday the choice was between steaks and stabilization, was silent on the meat question in his weekly broadcast yesterday. He discussed housing.

One thing appeared certain—that Mr. Truman would announce some kind of action and not confine himself to mere discussions of the scarcity of meat and the dangers of inflation.

'Vinegar Joe' Stilwell Dies At Age of 63

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—General Joseph W. Stilwell, 63, commander of the sixth army affectionately known as "Vinegar Joe" by his former American and Chinese command in Burma, died yesterday in his sleep of a liver ailment believed contracted in the jungle.

Officials of Letterman General hospital, which General Stilwell entered Sept. 27 for a check-up, announced that death came quietly to the veteran campaigner at 2:48 p.m. (CST).

Immediately following his death, it was revealed that General Stilwell expressed a wish that there be no funeral services—that he be cremated and his ashes spread from an airplane over the Pacific near his home in Carmel, Calif. No date for the rite was announced.

Death was attributed to adenocarcinoma (cancer) of the liver, which was discovered during the treatment of an amoebic abscess of the liver.

Stilwell's life and talents were given to soldiering. He was born at Palatka, Fla., in 1883, and was graduated from the United States Military academy at West Point, where he established a record as an athlete.

Henry Wallace Slated to Edit 'New Republic'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, fired from President Truman's cabinet for his foreign policy views, accepted yesterday the editorship of the New Republic, a weekly magazine in which he can express them as he pleases.

His appointment is effective in December. Wallace said it will not interfere with his plans for a Democratic campaign tour.

The ousted secretary of commerce said in a statement issued through the Washington office of the magazine:

"I shall have the opportunity of saying exactly what I think at a time when a bi-partisan bloc mouthing the phrase 'one world' is really driving the world into two armed camps.

"As editor of the New Republic, I shall do everything I can to arouse the American people, the British people, the French people, and, in fact, the liberally-minded people of the whole world of stopping this dangerous armament race."

The magazine now lists four editors. One of them, Bruce Bliven, also is president of the company publishing the magazine. Bliven said in New York there would be no change in policies, that Wallace would have the title of "editor," and that present editors probably would be listed as associate editors. The others are George Soule, Michael Straight and Stark Young.

The magazine offered Wallace the editorship immediately after he was dismissed from the cabinet. It said Wallace's views and those of the magazine coincide on national and international issues.

"Since 1914," it added, "the New Republic has fought in the tradition of true progressivism.

"No other figure in American life is better qualified to carry on this tradition than Henry Wallace.

"We are proud to say that with Mr. Wallace as the editor of the New Republic the American people need no longer fear that his voice has been silenced."

The disclosure of the new position for the man who served eight years as secretary of agriculture and four as vice-president came shortly before Wallace gave his daughter, Jean, in marriage.

He told a reporter just before the ceremony there would be no change in his plans to stump the country for Democratic candidates during the current congressional campaign.

Wallace plans to leave here next week and to speak in Michigan, Indiana, California, Washington, Minnesota and perhaps Ohio and Illinois.

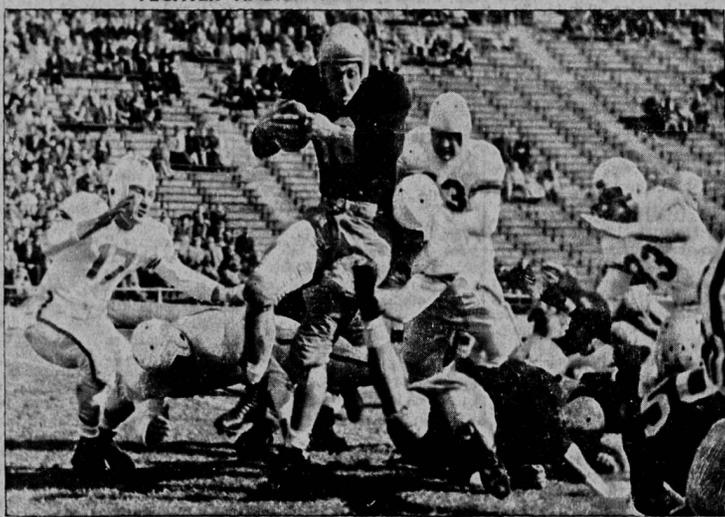

Editing a magazine will be no new profession for the Iowan whose views on economics, government and foreign affairs have stirred up a multitude of controversies in the past.

Before coming to Washington as the late President Roosevelt's agriculture secretary, he was editor of Wallace's Farmer and Iowa Homestead at Des Moines. He took a leave of absence to work for the government.

The first word of the new connection came from Des Moines. Dante M. Pierce, publisher of the farm papers, had wired Wallace that "your desk is waiting for you here." Wallace replied that he was going to the New Republic. Pierce made the exchange of messages public.

In his statement here, Wallace said he is taking on his new task with the greatest enthusiasm "because I know there are millions of progressive-minded Americans who want to cooperate to usher in the peaceful century of the common man."

FECHTER HALTED AFTER SEVEN-YARD GAIN

RUSS FECHTER, Iowa's starting fullback, smashed through for seven yards before being halted by the Nebraskans in the second quarter yesterday. No. 17 is Ed Schwartzkopf and the man making the tackle is Fred Lorenz, Nebraska guard. Sam Vacanti, Husker quarterback, is diving in from the side.

Chamber of Commerce Joins the Fight

The national chamber of commerce has added its voice to the list of those individuals and organizations concerned over Communist infiltration in the United States.

- 1. Communist infiltration into government had driven many faithful servants out of it.
2. Communist influence in the labor department is "increasing." It is also evident in the treasury department.
3. Communists have influenced United States foreign policy, particularly through pro-Soviet groups in the Far Eastern division of the state department.
4. Communist pressures influenced United States policy in Germany, Argentina and China.

There were also more detailed charges such as:
1. A highly respected metropolitan newspaper is conscientiously following the Communist line.
2. A widely-known conservative magazine and a certain book firm are doing the same thing.
3. An attractive magazine digest never deviates from Soviet policy.

The chamber's report for the most part refrains from mentioning any specific names or organizations. This puts it a little above the usual "baiting" technique. But, on the other hand, we wonder at just whom and what the chamber is pointing its big finger, since in the past it has thrown the "communist" charge with something like careless abandon.

To organizations such as the chamber of commerce, most liberals are Communists, which is, of course, very far from the truth.

The chamber's report was obviously aimed at Attorney General Tom Clark. Clark declared the other night that he "knew the American Communists are, what they are doing and what they plan to do." He does not feel, however, that he has to share this knowledge with the American people, nor that the Communists are a menace to this country.

At the risk of seeming to defend the American Communists, this newspaper is of the opinion that the nation need have little fear of Communists seizing control. The justice department and the FBI have shown in the past that they are well aware of ultra-leftist activities and we think it is correct to assume that they have matters well in hand.

Sooner or later, the people of this country are going to have to get used to the American Communists, because it seems obvious that they will be with us for a long time to come. Most of the Communist ideals are attractive enough to some people to guarantee the party fairly good sized membership for the immediate future at least.

This, we think, is unfortunate—now of all times—because the American Communist party belongs in that category of organizations that have contributed least to Soviet-U. S. relations. But the fact remains that the Communists will be active in America for some time to come and they can be controlled. And we might just as well get used to them.

What bothers us most, as we have stated in these columns before, is that everyone seems so perturbed about Communist activity in the U. S. and no one seems to get very excited about the Klanners, America Firsters and other Fascists who each day sink their fangs of hatred deeper and deeper into our American democracy.

Eddy's Back and We've Got Him

Yesterday morning's Iowan carried a front page dispatch from the Associated Press. Eddy Gilmore, back in Moscow after a vacation here in the United States. The Iowan is very proud to be carrying Mr. Gilmore's stories again, since we consider him to be one of the day's outstanding newspaper correspondents.

Eddy Gilmore is one Russian correspondent who seems able to present unbiased facts on the Soviet Union to his readers here at home. His long associations with the Russian government and people have made him an authority on several important aspects of Soviet-U. S. relations.

Whenever we think about news from Russia, we recall the words of one American journalist in Moscow who felt that "you couldn't be unbiased in Russia; you either had to be for 'em or against 'em." We think Eddy Gilmore is living repudiation of that statement.

His dispatch yesterday pointed out that there is little or no talk of war in Russia. There is instead, great talk of peace, gigantic plans for the future, better living conditions, new jobs, new clothes, apartments and furniture and above all football.

We haven't heard news like that since Mr. Gilmore left Russia. And if Mr. Gilmore's previous record of accuracy is any criteria, then perhaps there's still hope for this fearful world.

Bach Writes of Little Known Religions

The result of six years of research into little known religious groups has been incorporated into "They Have Found a Faith" the most recently published book by Dr. Marcus Bach of the school of religion.

The study explains the faiths of the followers of Jehovah's Witnesses, Spiritualism, the Kingdoms of Father Divine, Unity, the Four-square Gospel, Oxford, the Bahai faith and Psychiana. In "Hometown," the first chapter of the book, Dr. Bach relates how he followed his father in a study of numerous small religious groups, and how the unforgettable memory of their devotion and their facial expressions as they worshipped led him to a desire to understand the movements more thoroughly.

Cabbages and Kings

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS

There are indications that a healthy, progressive political movement is slowly beginning to develop within the ranks of the Republican party in Iowa.

Local observers who believe, as did Wendell L. Willkie, that the GOP is potentially more liberal than the odd alliance of Bilbos, Hagues and Peppers which has thus far held together under the Democratic banner, will be heartened at today's announcement of the formation of a Young Republican league at the University of Iowa.

DENNIS

The Young Republican leagues in Iowa can and undoubtedly will put an end to the district-by-district domination of the conservative, old-guard element within the party. It has been said, with some accuracy, that a "liberal in Iowa is anyone who stands to the left of Harrison Spangler."

Nationally, the Young Republican league can take its cue from the Republican open forums, which have met with such great success in other parts of the country. Under the original sponsorship of ex-governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon and Governor Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut, the forums have led the way in progressive GOP thinking, much the same as the Young Willkie clubs helped free the party from its Harding-Hoover tradition back in 1940.

The newly-formed Young Republican league here in Iowa City might well give heed to Willkie's words of September, 1944, as they appeared in the forward to his monumental book, "An American Program."

"Believing that the influence of an aroused, informed public opinion is of incalculable value in a democracy, I once more urge that Republicans demand now, while there is still time, meaningful statements from those who would be our leaders; and that in the future we continue watchful and alert that our purposes may be made effective."

"FOR OUR ATTITUDE ON OUR RACIAL MINORITIES AND ON OUR INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS WILL CONSTITUTE A TEST OF OUR SINCERITY AT HOME AND ABROAD AND OF OUR ABILITY TO BRING ABOUT, WITH OTHER NATIONS, A WORLD OF PEACE AND SECURITY."

Judging by their voting records, our senators and representatives have apparently felt that—particularly since 1939—any legislation backed by the national Democratic administration is automatically to be condemned as unsound. This attitude of voting consistently against, rather than constructively for all liberal social and economic measures has gained for the Iowa delegation the rather dubious distinction of being the least progressive group of legislators in our nation's capital.

Senators Wilson and Hickenlooper and their eight Iowa colleagues in the house of representatives have been able to "coast in" to victory, so to speak, because of what one political scientist has referred to as "the deserted primary."

Biennial springtime apathy on the part of the electorate has meant that the incumbents have had no primary opposition at all or that their opponents were clay pigeons whose names were placed on the ballot largely for target purposes.

Since the position of the Republican party in Iowa closely resembles that of the Democratic party in Alabama, the outcome of the GOP primary every two years is tantamount to election. Thus it has been that Iowa's conservative Republican machine has never shown too much enthusiasm for "get-out-the-vote" campaigns prior to the primaries. A comparative handful of votes will turn the trick and, if there's no opposition within the party to the machine endorsed candidate, so much the better.

Aside from those two, few are making the usual campaign speeches, however, almost all nominees of both parties are out. The Republican state headquarters, which arranges schedules for its nominees, prefers to call it "field work" rather than hand-shaking or back-slapping.

The Democratic state headquarters, which arranges schedules for its candidates' schedules, but among those who are making speeches along with personal visits are Sewell E. Allen of Onawa, for lieutenant governor; F. J. McMahon of Manning, for secretary of agriculture; Upton B. Kefford of Waterloo, for attorney general, and Dr. Laura M. Manes of Ottumwa, for state superintendent of public instruction.

These facts had been known to the Russians for many years. As early as 1919, the Soviet Union had established Arctic outposts, which were engaged in weather mapping and in attempting to develop agricultural products which would thrive in the tundra. The Russians were the first to use planes in mapping the weather in the Arctic and this work was done in connection with the operation of the northern sea route.

It was the Russians, too, who first demonstrated the feasibility of transpolar air routes by sending two flights from Moscow across the pole to the United States in 1937.

Yet, it took a war to get the United States government interested in the northern route and even now continental security is the prime mover of American activity there. As the pilot of the "Dreamboat" pointed out, "What his plane did, stripped down, the new B-36 can do with a full bombard."

Last year, the army and navy engaged in two maneuvers in the polar regions, operations "Musk-Ox" and "Frostbite." Russian troops had been engaged in Arctic maneuvers for many years and proved their ability in cold weather fighting against the Finns in 1940.

Now the United States plans to build permanent bases in the Aleutians. The Russians main Pacific fleet base since 1850 has been Petropavlovsk, on Kamchatka, and they gained title to the Kuriles at the close of this war.

Iowans See 'Mudless' Campaign

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS

DES MOINES (AP)—Except for the stumping by the heads of the tickets, Republican and Democratic nominees in the Nov. 5 general election are confining their vote seeking to a hand-shaking campaign.

Although the election is only three weeks from next Tuesday, Gov. Robert D. Blue did not take to the field officially until this week, when he went into southeast Iowa, where Frank Miles, his Democratic opponent for governor, was campaigning. Miles has been busy daily for months.

Blue, seeking a second term, has been concentrating on criticism of the Democratic national administration, has been talking state issues and not stressing his party too much.

State auditor: Chet B. Akers (R), Ottumwa, incumbent; and W. A. Yager (D), Spirit Lake. State treasurer: J. M. Grimes (R), Osceola, incumbent; and Clarence E. Smith (D), Davenport. Secretary of agriculture: Harry D. Linn (R), Des Moines, incumbent; and F. J. McMahon (D), Manning.

Attorney general: John M. Rankin (R), Keokuk, incumbent; and Upton B. Kefford (D), Waterloo. Commerce commissioner (two to be elected): David B. Long, Des Moines, and B. M. Richardson, Cedar Rapids, Republican incumbents; and Isaac Snyder, Centerville, and Ray Walsh, Varina, Democrats.

State superintendent of public instruction: Jessie M. Parker (R), Lake Mills, incumbent; and Dr. Laura M. Manes (D), Ottumwa. Supreme court (four to be elected): Theodore G. Garfield, Ames, Ralph A. Oliver, Sioux City, and Charles F. Wennerstrum, Chariton.

Incumbent Republicans, and District Judge Norman R. Hays, Knoxville, Republican, John Anderson, Sioux City, Richard F. Mitchell, Fort Dodge, Paul W. Richards, Red Oak, and Frank F. Judd to Talk At University Vesper Service

Address to Be Given At Macbride Hall, No Tickets Needed

Dr. Walter H. Judd, Minnesota congressman and former medical missionary in China, will speak tonight at 8 o'clock in Macbride auditorium on the first of the 1946-47 University Vesper programs. His subject will be "What Can We Do in a Time of Confusion?"

Dr. Judd has appeared here many times, both as a Vesper speaker and on the summer session lecture series. According to Dr. M. Willard Lampe, director of the Vesper series, Dr. Judd has aroused more interest in round-table discussions than anyone to visit this campus.

Called Turn on Japs

Dr. Judd came to prominence in national life in the years immediately preceding World War II when he stumped the country advocating a cessation of the shipment of scrap iron to Japan. He called attention to the fact that this iron was turned by the Japanese into bullets to use against the Chinese.

His health prevented Dr. Judd from remaining in China and upon returning to America, he began the practice of medicine. Persuaded to run for congress, Dr. Judd has completed two terms and is now seeking his third.

Music on Program

The musical part of the Vesper program will consist of an instrumental prelude, Haydn's "Adagio" from Quartet No. 7 played by William Hoppe, first violinist; Celia Ecker, second violinist; George Gaugel, viola; and Eugene Hilligoss, cello.

Miss Bette Johnson, soprano, will sing "Hear Us, Oh Father" by Rosewig, and the Rev. James E. Waery, pastor of the Congregational church, will serve as chaplain.

No tickets are required for admission to the address, but because of the wide interest in hearing Dr. Judd, the meeting will be broadcast over WSUI, Dr. Lampe said.

Student Trip Report Scheduled Monday

Reports on all aspects of the proposed student train trip to the Minnesota-Towa football game Nov. 16 will be given at a meeting of the committee on band and student trips tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Statements will be made by members of the committee on student transportation, methods of financing the trip, meal and board accommodations available in Minnesota, and the possibility of the band and Scottish Highlanders making the trip.

Col. W. W. Jenna, head of the military department and chairman of the committee, will preside at the meeting.

Lambs Arrive by Train, But Don't Line Up; They Hafta Eat First

Meat prospects for Iowa City suddenly brightened Friday night, and then dimmed just as rapidly. Seven double-deck cars filled with lambs were unloaded at the Iowa City sale barns Friday, but they were unloaded for feeding, not slaughtering.

Anyhow, not much meat would have gone onto Iowa City tables. Edward J. Gaten of the sale barn estimated that each lamb would have yielded only about 30 pounds of meat.

The lambs were consigned to C. E. Bower of South English who will fatten the lambs for slaughter.

'On Iowa' Rescaled; Now, Everybody Sing!

If Iowa fans at the Iowa-Nebraska football game yesterday were able for the first time to sing "On Iowa," the university rouser song, without straining their vocal cords, there is a reason. Prof. C. B. Righter, director of university bands has rescaled it.

At the request of members of the university pep club who complained that the song was too high for the average person to sing, Professor Righter recently rearranged it about a key lower than the published arrangement. "Now anybody who can carry a tune at all should be able to sing 'On Iowa,'" Professor Righter commented.

'Letter-Writing Week'

The first annual "Letter Writing Week" since the war years will be sponsored by the postoffice department from Oct. 13 to 19, according to Walter J. Barrow, Iowa City postmaster.

TO PLAY AT DOLPHIN SHOW

LARRY BARRETT and his 17-piece band will add a musical background to swimming events at the three night Dolphin club show, Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2. Besides accompanying the show, the band will stage a musical interlude during the evenings. The swimming event, which will feature 15 acts by 50 Dolphin club members, will be held at 8 p.m. at the fieldhouse pool Oct. 31 and Nov. 2. The Homecoming shows will be at 7 and 9 p.m. Tickets are now being sold for 75 cents each by Dolphin club members, at Whetstone's drug store, at Bremers and at Iowa Union desk.

Students, Faculty Asked To Conserve Electricity

An appeal to university students and staff members to reduce the use of electricity on campus, especially during the period from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., was made yesterday by R. J. Phillips of the university physical plant.

The heavy use of electricity during the last week has reached the capacity of the powerplant, reducing the line voltage and placing an excessive load on the university equipment, Phillips said.

"If the heavy load cannot be controlled and the peak load exceeds the capacity of our power plant, it will be necessary to turn off some of the electrical circuits and some of the buildings will be without electricity," he declared.

Explaining that in past years it has been possible to purchase electricity from the local city plant, Phillips said that the city plant this year is operating at maximum capacity and is not always able to supply the university with extra voltage.

"Whenever possible the city plant will continue to help us," Phillips added, "but the cooperation of students and staff members will ease the situation and will be greatly appreciated. We hope stoppage of electricity for some buildings will be unnecessary and will make every effort to avoid such a measure."

Trailer Residents to Get Rent Forms Thursday

Rent contract forms for university trailer village residents will be available at the Hawkeye and Riverdale village offices Thursday, according to Richard Sweitzer of the office of student affairs.

Villagers may apply for new rent reduction rates on these triplicate forms, Sweitzer said.

Col. W. W. Jenna, head of the military department and chairman of the committee, will preside at the meeting.

MAYOR—

he had done nothing definite about appointing a committee to study the water problem but that he would act upon it as soon as possible.

The mayor stated that he believed the committee should consist of three members—"an expert on franchises, a man who understands engineering problems, and a man with just plain, ordinary, good common sense."

Such a committee would be difficult to select, the mayor said, because as well as the required qualifications the men would have to be unbiased and desirous only of finding the best solution to the water problem.

Trachsel's View

Prof. Herman H. Trachsel, member of the citizens committee in opposition to the proposed franchise, when asked to comment on the water study committee, said that it was simply a matter of appointing a group of men to look into the entire situation.

Prof. Trachsel added that "The mayor will, of course, have full power to use his own discretion in selecting the committee."

June Schmidt Crowned City High Homecoming Queen by Don Fryauf

June Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Schmidt, 1111 Sheridan, was crowned City high school homecoming queen at the homecoming dance in the school gymnasium last night.

Miss Schmidt was crowned by Don Fryauf, game captain of the homecoming football game last night.

Her attendants were Lora Mae Ham, Norma Gerard, Sue Funk, Virginia Williamson, Joyce Meyers and Sarah Records.

Eleven Traffic Offenders Fined; Three Pay $50 For Speed Violations

Three persons yesterday were fined a total of $50 and costs in police court for speeding, and eight other persons paid fines for traffic violations.

Fined for speeding were Richard W. Burger, $20 and Lester A. Walker and George I. Norton, $15 each.

David G. Walton pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving 45 mph in a 25 mph zone on Riverside drive. Police Judge John Knox ordered Walton's hearing continued at police court Wednesday.

Fined $3 and costs on charges of ignoring stop signs were Raymond E. Frank, Robert D. Musger and Maynard Whitebrook. Lehan K. Tunks paid a $3 fine for driving through a red light.

Joseph Scrapelle was fined $3 and costs for carrying two persons on the running board of his car and James L. Slater paid $2 and costs for driving without lights.

Bob Henderson's bicycle was impounded for nine days after Henderson pleaded guilty to charge of riding without a light and riding double. Paul Bowers lost use of his bicycle for three days for riding double.

Righter Lists Paulee Concert Program

The program for two concerts to be presented Wednesday and Thursday in Iowa Union by Mona Paulee, Metropolitan opera mezzo-soprano, was announced yesterday by Prof. C. B. Righter, director of the university concert course.

Identical for both concerts, the program is as follows: "She Never Told Her Love" by Haydn, "Vieni, che poi sereno" ("Come, for Thy Love Is Waiting") from Semiramide" by Gluck, "Ballata" by Respighi, Aria: "Una voce poea fa" from the Barber of Seville by Rossini.

"Die Mahnacht" ("May Night") by Brahms, "Vergleichliches Standchen" ("Unrequited Love") by Brahms, "Das Wirthaus" ("The Inn") by Schubert, "Der Erikonig" ("The Erl-King") by Schubert aria: "Pleurez, Mes Yeux" from "Le Cid" by Massenet.

"Poeme de l'Amour et de la Mer" by Chausson, "L'Intruse" ("The Intruder") by Fevrier, "Chanson Norvegiene" (Norwegian Ballad) by Fourdrain, "Nicolette" by Ravel, "Avant que tu ne t'en Alles" by Faure.

"Willow River" by Nordoff, "The Wind" by Chanler, "I Bet You" by Embody, "No More Trouble" (Negro spiritual) by Pinckney and Bunt and "This Day Is Mine" by Ware.

Tickets for the concert will be available at the Iowa Union ticket desk beginning tomorrow for both students and the general public. Students must present their identification cards in person.

SUI Professors Speak On General Education At Grinnell Conference

Dean Earl D. McGrath, of the college of liberal arts, Prof. Austin Warren and Prof. Victor Harris, both of the English department, lectured at Grinnell College Friday and Saturday before the Iowa Conference on English.

The conference was held in connection with the Grinnell centennial, Prof. Baldwin Maxwell, head of the university English department, said yesterday.

Dean McGrath participated in a Friday discussion of definitions of liberal education. Yesterday Professor Warren lectured on the relation of contemporary literature to general education. Professor Harris spoke yesterday on the place of freshman English and communication skills in general education.

Anderson Evens Private Feud With Huskers

Curran Under Observation With Slight Brain Concussion

By DON SULHOFF
Daily Iowan Assistant Sports Editor

Dr. Eddie Anderson evened up his series with Nebraska yesterday but by the look on his face when he left the playing field he wasn't too impressed with the Iowa win.

Before yesterday, Nebraska held a two game to one edge on Anderson coached teams, and the Doctor had warned his boys that Nebraska is always tough against Iowa.

Evidently the warning wasn't heeded and Nebraska had that first touchdown before the Hawkeyes knew what hit them.

From our observation point in the press box we couldn't figure out why three members of the second string backfield started the game.

Maybe Dr. Eddie didn't believe in his own warning.

However, once we were told never to question anything Dr. Eddie did while coaching a football team, because he is one of the best strategists in the game.

Then again, placing blame on the second string backfield for that first touchdown would be like the pot calling the kettle black because it was the line that was being ripped to shreds in that first quarter.

As far as personnel goes, it was the same line that stopped Michigan cold in the last half a week before, but they didn't seem to have it against the Cornhuskers.

But, then again, it may have been that Nebraska was underrated.

They certainly threw a strong running attack at the Hawk line and Tommy Novak, the fullback, just wouldn't go down.

Jim Cozad, Hawkeye tackle, brought out that under-rated idea when he said after the game, "that guy that played across from me (meaning Carl Samuelson) was really tough," and Jim had a banged up nose to prove it.

To clear up that interception, double lateral play — Jack Legg, reserve right half, first got ahold of the ball and then lateralled to Jim Lawrence the center.

Lawrence threw to Bill Kay who went about 60 yards to a touchdown, which was called back because Lawrence tossed an illegal pass.

Lawrence also threw one of the best blocks of the game when Quarterback Lou King grabbed Bill Moomey's fumble out of the air and went 17 yards to a touchdown.

Lawrence cut down two men near the goal and line coach near the end of the game, wouldn't comment much but just gave out with that infectious grin which told the story better than words.

Duke Curran suffered a slight brain concussion and after the game could only remember that he was married and had two children.

However, he did take a look at Hoerner and said, "I know who you are because you are the only guy on the team who wears long underwear under his moleskins." When Dick started to take off his togs, Duke's point was proved.

Team doctors have advised Curran to spend today under observation in the University hospital.

Emlen Tunnel, the classy left halfback, suffered a slightly sprained ankle but will be ready to go next week.

The sports desk last night got a very unusual phone call. Some gentlemen asked, "When do youse guys go on out there." We asked what he meant, "What time did the game start?" We told him and he politely thanked us and hung up. The only catch was—it was a long distance call from New York City. Some gents have all the money.

Notre Dame romps over Purdue, 49-6

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Undeclared Notre Dame, employing a total of 44 players, romped to its third straight football victory yesterday by crushing injury-riddled Purdue, 49 to 6, before a sellout crowd of 55,452 overcoated spectators.

Five of the seven touchdowns were scored by reserves as the Irish steamrollered 408 yards by rushing to Purdue's 77 and accumulated 18 first downs to 9.

The Western conference Boiler-makers, suffering their third consecutive defeat and the worst in their 18 games with Notre Dame, lost the ball five times on fumbles, two of which were converted into tallies.

Although its passing ace, Bob DeMoss, was among six key back field men on the cripple list, Purdue completed 10 out of 23 tosses for a gain of 136 yards. Substitute halfback John Galvis of Chicago scored the Boiler-maker's only touchdown on a 52-yard ramble at the start of the last quarter.

Fred Earley, from Parkersburg, W. Va., made seven conversions in a row as the Irish rumbled to one touchdown in the first quarter and two each in the next three. Four of the scores were at the end of sustained marches.

Lujack completed three out of six passes for a gain of 56 yards, Notre Dame's total through the air.

It was a costly victory for Notre Dame. Its climax runner, Bob Livingston, was helped from the field midway in the first quarter with a badly twisted knee, and back Paul White with him to roll into the end zone.

Michigan falls before Army power, 20-13

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Army's mighty football team, invading the west for the first time in 12 years, ran into a pack of trouble against Michigan here yesterday but powered 76 yards for a fourth period touchdown to edge the Wolverines, 20 to 13. It was the 22nd straight victory for the Cadets since they lost to Navy in their last game of 1943.

Army's seemingly endless victory parade seemed destined to fall before a determined Michigan eleven that led at one time, 7 to 0, and after dropping back again pulled into a 13-all tie with an 82-yard touchdown march the first time the Wolverines got the ball in the second half.

But Army's touchdown twins, halfback Glenn Davis and fullback Felix (Doc) Blanchard, powered the Cadets to their winning touchdown with 11 minutes of playing time remaining.

Michigan, battling all the way, connected twice in a last minute desperation air attack and pushed to the Army 10-yard line before a pair of holding penalties smashed the Wolverines' threat to tie it up again.

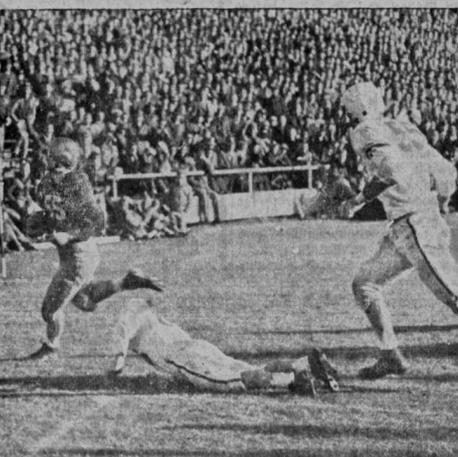

Davis, who played every second of the game, and Blanchard, who missed only a few minutes, gave the packed house of 85,938 fans a spectacular show but it was Davis' slingshot arm and pedalling legs that hogged the individual glory.

Davis, combining the terrific speed with an amazing change of pace, ran 58 yards for Army's first score in the opening stanza and flipped a 31-yard pass to Bob Folsom for the score that put Army on top, 13 to 7, just 29 seconds before half time.

Either Davis or Blanchard handled the ball on all but one play as the West Pointers plowed 76 yards on 11 plays at the outset of the final period for their all-important touchdown. Blanchard skidded off Michigan's right end from the seven-yard line for the big score, carrying Michigan halfback Paul White with him to roll into the end zone.

THIS IS IT. Lou King (12), Hawkeye quarterback, camps under a Nebraska pop fumble just before grabbing the ball for a 17-yard touchdown jaunt in the second quarter of yesterday's game. Bill Moomey, Husker fullback, going down in the foreground, had just lost control of the ball.

SULLIVAN RAMBLES. Bob Sullivan (55) dashes six yards down the east sidelines for Hawkeye touchdown number three. Dick Hutton, Nebraska speedster, has just missed a tackle attempt and Carl Samuelson (55), rugged Husker tackle, is running a poor second to the Iowa star.

ONE OF MANY. Bob Smith (22), Iowa right half, fumbles as he's hit by Nebraska fullback Tom Novak—one of the eight fumbles that marked yesterday's game.

OUTTA MY WAY. Jim McKinistry, Hawkeye quarterback reserve, rocks back from a stiff-arm by Nebraska's Cletus Fischer in the first quarter.

Score Twice In 4th Period

By JACK BURKE
MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's football team, clearly outplayed in the first half, smashed back to a 20 to 7 victory over Ohio State before 45,000 fans at Camp Randall yesterday.

Trailing 7 to 0 at intermission, the Badgers powered to a touchdown in the third quarter but failed to convert. Two more touchdowns in the fourth period settled the issue.

The triumph, following Wisconsin's 28 to 0 setback at Northwestern last week, was the victor's first in Big Nine conference play while it left the Bucks with a defeat in their only league encounter this season.

Bursting into flame midway in the third period, the Badgers journeyed 77 yards for a score. A pass, Wally Dreyer to Don Kindt, picked up 18 yards, and then Dreyer scampered to the invaders' 36. Here fullback Earl Maves, the "Stanley (Wis.) Steamer," charged through a wide hole to the goal line. Lisle Backbourn's place kick attempt was wide and the Ohioans led, 7-6.

In the fourth quarter the Badgers hit the trail for their winning touchdown, and went 80 yards to turn the trick. A roughing penalty pushed the Buckeyes back to their own nine, where Maves slashed for 8, and Kindt scored.

An Ohio fumble set the stage for the last counter. A pass from Blackbourn to end Dale Bowers of Rockford, Ill. brought 34 yards, putting the ball on Ohio's nine yard line. Ben Bendrick hit the line twice, scoring on the second attempt, to make it 19 to 7. Blackbourn's second conversion followed.

Ohio State, a heavy favorite to topple the Badgers, scored in the second quarter after travelling 83 yards. Gaining position on the Badger eight yard line, fullback Joe Whistler drove for five yards and halfback Tommy James carted it over a play later. Max Schmitter, reserve tackle, booted the extra point.

Clinton tops Prep Cross Country Run

Clinton, Franklin of Cedar Rapids, Marion and Central City were the victors in their respective classes, in the state high school mile team race held at the university track yesterday.

In the class A section Jack Davis of Iowa City high finished in front. However, his teammates trailed far behind as Franklin high placed men in the second, third and fifth spots to cop first place.

The best mile was turned in by Dean Pieper of Clinton in the AA section. Pieper churned the distance in 4:30. In class B, Marion ended on top with Ray Peterson of that school winning the individual honors. Ronald Stratton of Collins broke the tape in the lead in the class C division, but Central City won the team title.

Results—Class C—Central City 10, Stanley 15, Collins 26, Charlotte 39, Milford 40, Ollie 71.

Class B—Marion 7, Nevada 22, Mechanicville 25, Iowa City (University high) 55, Red Oak 84.

Iowa Tutors Swamp Hamlin Eleven, 46-6

CEDAR FALLS (AP)—Scoring with reckless regularity after seeing four potential touchdown drives bog down in the first period, a snarling Iowa State Teachers college eleven swamped Hamline university, 46-6, in the Tutors opening home football game here yesterday.

The Teachers' bruising fullback, Pudge Camarata, scored the first two touchdowns in the second quarter and added another in the third before coach Buck Starbeck called on his reserves. Bob Lee with one, Dave Williams with two in the fourth and Dutch Goodwin on a 47-yard run in the third accounted for the rest of the Teachers' touchdowns.

Sam Ritchie plunged from the five for the only Hamline touchdown in the fourth quarter after a pass interference penalty had set the play up.

Cleveland Wins, 7-0

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Browns exploded for a 33-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter last night to down the New York Yankees 7 to 0 in a pouring rain and remain undefeated in the All-America professional conference gridiron play this season.

Raimondi Leads Indiana In Upset Of Illinois, 14-7

Cats Tip Gophers

EVANSTON, Ill. (P)—Frank Aschenbrenner's two touchdowns, including one on the opening play after a 67-yard run, gave Northwestern University a 14-7 victory yesterday over Minnesota for its third straight win.

The Wildcats' two markers and Minnesota's lone score on fullback Ken Beiersdorf's seven-yard smash all came in the first half.

In the fourth period the Gophers struck to Northwestern's six on a 51-yard pass from Herman Frickey to Herb Hein and a roughing penalty was called against the Cats on the same play.

But the threat died on the one-yard stripe after four stabs.

Aschenbrenner streaked off for his first touchdown almost before a throng of 40,000 was seated at Dyche stadium. With the ball on the Wildcat 33 after Minnesota's opening kick-off, Aschenbrenner darted through his right tackle 67 yards for a touchdown.

Halfback Vic Schwall converted the first of his two placement tries for point and Northwestern led 7-0.

The Gophers marched 89 yards for their touchdown in the second period. Beiersdorf battled across from the seven and after Halfback Everette Faunce streaked 38 yards on a lateral from Quarterback Bob Sandberg, Merlin Kispert booted the point.

Minutes later in the same period, Northwestern punched across the deciding touchdown to climax an 88 yard drive, sparked by freshman halfback Art Murakowski's 58 yard sprint to Minnesota's 30.

Six plays later, Aschenbrenner sailed around his right end from the six to score without a hand touching him and Schwall again converted.

Aschenbrenner also averaged 40 yards punting to keep the Gophers at bay most of the time.

INDIANA'S Bobby Cowan (10) is stopped by Illinois end Sam Zatkoff after he caught Ben Raimondi's pass for a short gain in the first quarter of yesterday's game at Bloomington, won by the Hoosiers 14-7.

Hoosier Line Great in Win

By DALE BURGESS

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (P)—Indiana's Hoosiers pocketed Buddy Young and built a wall around Perry Moss yesterday and then knocked over a favored Illinois eleven, 14 to 7.

Ben Raimondi, the Brooklyn Bombardier, provided the push that toppled the Illini while the Hoosier line cut the ground under the Blue and Gold.

Bouncing Ben flipped the ball 15 times and completed 10 passes for 119 yards. Moss was effective in the first quarter, but the Hoosier pass defense sealed him off thereafter and he wound up with three completions in 15 pass attempts for 36 yards.

Buddy Young, the Illini's break-away threat, tried four times and wound up with 15 yards net. The entire Indiana line out-charged the Illinois forwards but ends Lou Mihajlovich and Abe Addams were standouts.

Illini attempts to sweep the flanks got nowhere.

Indiana staved off an Illinois drive at its own two-yard line early in the first quarter after a 43-yard run by Halfback Paul Patterson for Illinois' single touchdown, the play covering 30 yards. End Don Maechtle kicked added point.

The Hoosiers struck back before the initial period ended.

Tackle Russel Deal, who played a bang-up defensive game, recovered an Illinois fumble on the Indiana 38. Fullback Pete Pihos and Halfback Bob Cowan alternated at carrying the ball to the Illinois 37 and zig-zagged down the left sideline to score. Charley Armstrong placekicked the extra point.

Indiana, troubled by fumbles in its early games, scored its winning touchdown in the last quarter in spite of a bobble. The Raimondi-Mihajlovich passing combination clicked for two first downs, the second on Illinois' four-yard stripe. Coach Bo McMillin had two fullbacks in the Indiana lineup and they battered the rest of the way, Harry Jugade carrying to the one-yard line, and Pete Pihos going over. Pihos dropped the ball as he went into the end zone and Mihajlovich fell on it.

Mihajlovich first was credited with the score but officials ruled that Pihos had crossed the line before he fumbled. Charley Armstrong converted again.

Cards Rely on Brecheen Today

Ferriss Sox Choice To Hurl Crucial Battle of Series

ST. LOUIS (P)—Only the speed and the cunning in the left arm of Harry (The Cat) Brecheen stands today between the Cardinals and sudden death in the 1946 World Series.

Trailing two games to three to the revived Boston Red Sox in the big autumn play-off, the National league champions must win here today behind their acrobatic little southpaw start or accept second money.

Seldom in series history has there been a more dramatic build-up for one of the final, crucial contests. Facing Brecheen, will be the burly Dave (Boo) Ferriss, the 25-game winner, out to throttle the Cards for the second time and bring the Red Sox their first championship since 1918.

Both pitched shutouts in their previous series starts, Brecheen, the little fellow with the big screwball, baffled the Sox sluggers in the second game, setting them down with four widely spaced hits to square the play-off at a victory a piece.

Ferriss, not to be outdone, came right back in the third game at Boston to handcuff the Red Birds with six blows and again put the American leaguers out in front. The meeting of the two shutout artists at Sportsman's park today is a natural.

Manager Joe Cronin of the Sox, who made the long jump from Boston by train while most of his players flew in Friday night in a chartered plane, declined to say for certain that Ferriss would be his nominee, but most series observers considered the choice a foregone conclusion. The other possibility, Cronin said, was Mickey Harris, the lefthander whom the Cards climbed aboard and beat in the second game.

It is highly improbable that any team ever went into the end of a World Series with as many crippling injuries as the Cardinals have today as they prepare to meet the Boston Red Sox in the sixth and what may be the final game of the current classic.

At least six regular members of the team—Enos (Country) Slaughter, Terry Moore, Howie Pollet, Marty Marion, Al Schoendienst and Whitey Kurowski—are on the semi-invalid list.

Probably the most serious injury is the one suffered by Slaughter, the rightfielder, who has been finding the range of late with his booming bat.

Clark Sparks Duke To 21-6 Victory Over Midshipmen

BALTIMORE (P)—Led by brilliant George Clark, Duke's Blue Devils steamed into the winners' circle yesterday for the first time this season with a 21-6 decision over a Navy team that was superior in most all departments but touchdowns.

The Midshipmen, as green and uncertain yesterday afternoon as they were in their first two games with Villanova and Columbia, ripped through the Dukes consistently, but when they got into scoring territory the tars just couldn't produce.

Meanwhile, Clark, Leo Long, Howard (Rabbit) Hartley and their Duke mates didn't waste chances when they were offered.

To illustrate, Duke failed to complete any of its pass attempts, while Navy clicked with four out of 14 for 64 yards. Navy gained 192 yards by rushing to Duke's 128.

Three minutes after the crowd of 38,704—including the Midshipmen brigade of 2,700 men—settled in its seats, Clark broke loose with a 55-yard touchdown gallop behind superb blocking. Right there Duke went out in front to stay.

Navy, which looked like it meant business most of the cloudy afternoon, put on its sole scoring drive two minutes later. Bill Hawkins scampered 59 yards to the Devils' 13, where Hartley hauled him down from behind.

A Duke offense set the Blue Devils back to the eight where Pistol Pete Williams took a lateral from Bill Bartlett to run across the goal.

City High Sophs Top Franklin, 6-0

The City high sophomore team tipped Franklin soph's 6-0 yesterday. Clayton Yoder rammed over in the third quarter to give the locals the win.

Dick Doran, City high quarterback, received a double leg fracture and Jack Cooper, Hawklet tackle, was benched with a leg injury.

Texas Beats Sooners, 20-13

DALLAS, Tex. (P)—Bobby Layne's passing arm pitched Texas to a 20-13 victory over Oklahoma yesterday but the hard-bitten Sooners traded blow for blow with the mighty Longhorns and gave them many anxious moments in the forty-first renewal of this Southwestern football rivalry.

The rugged, battering line Oklahoma threw at Texas was all it was cracked up to be and a state fair crowd of 50,000 that overflowed the Cotton Bowl saw why the Sooners gave Army's great team such a tough game at the start of the season.

The Longhorns were superior, but nothing like the pre-game forecasts that gave Texas, the team that has been rated No. 1 in the nation, a margin of four touchdowns or more.

It was a battle of passes and pass interceptions. Oklahoma gathered in six Longhorn throws and one of them brought a sensational touchdown when Joe Golding, whose runs kept Texas in hot water all afternoon, caught one of Layne's throws and sprinted 99 yards untouched to the score.

Iowa State Bows To Kansas, 24-8

AMES (P)—Iowa State was strong in the air but weak on the ground yesterday and Kansas' well balanced team turned in a 24 to 8 triumph in the season's first Big Six conference football game for both schools.

The Jayhawkers, in keeping their 1946 record unblemished, scored in every period although the best they could do in the final quarter was a 21-yard place kick by Paul Turner, substitute end.

Who Wants a Winter Cold?

The answer is obvious. Yet, many a person who is susceptible to winter colds does not realize that this agony and inconvenience could, to a large extent, be eliminated by taking the proper vitamins.

You may be a sceptic about vitamins. Maybe you are one who ridicules them as "the bunk". The fact still remains that each year more and more people are immunizing themselves against the ravages of the common cold and then wondering why they didn't take the precaution sooner.

The important thing to remember is this. Unless you take the ones needed for your specific case and are sure you get top quality IT IS POSSIBLE that you are wasting your money.

We do not claim to know all that is to be known about vitamins so we buy the products and take the advice of the world's leading pharmaceutical houses who accurately assay every product they market.

NEW ORLEANS (P)—Rice's fast flowing T-formation and the passing of Virgil "Ike" Eikenberg proved too much for the Tulane football team yesterday and the Owls won 25 to 6 before a crowd of 40,000.

After a scoreless first quarter Eikenberg and company began rolling, running 11 plays to score only five seconds before half-time. The payoff play was a flat 10-yard pass from Eikenberg to Huey Keeney.

Hospital to Raise Funds for Addition

Mercy Hospital Drive to Open Tomorrow

Proposed Construction To Expand Hospital To 200-Bed Capacity

An eight-week campaign to raise $150,000 to apply toward construction of a $600,000 addition to Mercy hospital will officially open tomorrow with establishment of campaign headquarters, according to hospital officials.

Dr. Paul Reed, spokesman for the hospital board, said yesterday that Harry Murison, Des Moines, representative of Howard T. Beaver and associates, fund-raising consultants of Chicago, will arrive in Iowa City today.

Murison will open the campaign headquarters at 15 1/2 S. Duquesne street tomorrow morning, and will coordinate the local campaign.

Planned to meet the intense need for more hospital accommodations for Iowa City and vicinity, the addition will provide room for 100 more beds, which will give Mercy hospital an approximate 200-bed capacity.

The expansion also will mean more operating room, a more modern x-ray department, improved delivery facilities for the obstetrics section as well as the addition of a hydrotherapy department and more extensive laboratory equipment.

New Six-Story Wing
The projected expansion of Mercy hospital will include a complete six-story wing running north and south along Van Buren street, plus a six-story corridor connecting the present main hospital and the new wing.

Dr. Reed said Mercy hospital still is crowded far beyond its normal capacity of 110, caring for 130 to 160 bed-ridden cases, necessitating the use of beds in the halls.

Combined facilities of University hospital and Mercy hospital here ordinarily provide a total of 155 beds for private cases in the Iowa City area.

The increase in births handled in the hospital now compared with several years ago was cited by Dr. Reed as an indication of the added pressure on local facilities.

In 1932, Mercy hospital handled 200 births. In 1945, 609 birth cases utilized the hospital's facilities.

Has Waiting List
Mercy hospital regularly maintains a waiting list for bed space of over 20 patients, Dr. Reed declared.

Another improvement will be the establishment of an emergency ward in the corner of the present building to the right of the main entrance on Market street to provide more prompt handling of emergency cases.

At a meeting July 18, 35 representatives of local and Johnson county civic and fraternal organizations agreed to support the campaign to raise $150,000 of the total through donations from individuals and groups in the hospital area.

Solicitations will be made throughout Johnson county, as well as in Iowa City.

The remaining $450,000 necessary for the addition has been furnished by the Chicago province of Sisters of Mercy, Catholic church order which maintains Mercy hospital here and several other hospitals throughout the midwest.

Schmidt-Gardner and Erikson, architects and engineers, of Chicago, have prepared plans for the hospital addition.

The eight-week fund campaign will end Dec. 7.

Postoffice Employees Buy Savings Bonds

A large percentage of Iowa City postoffice employees are now registered under the U.S. savings bonds payroll savings plan, Postmaster Walter J. Barrow said yesterday.

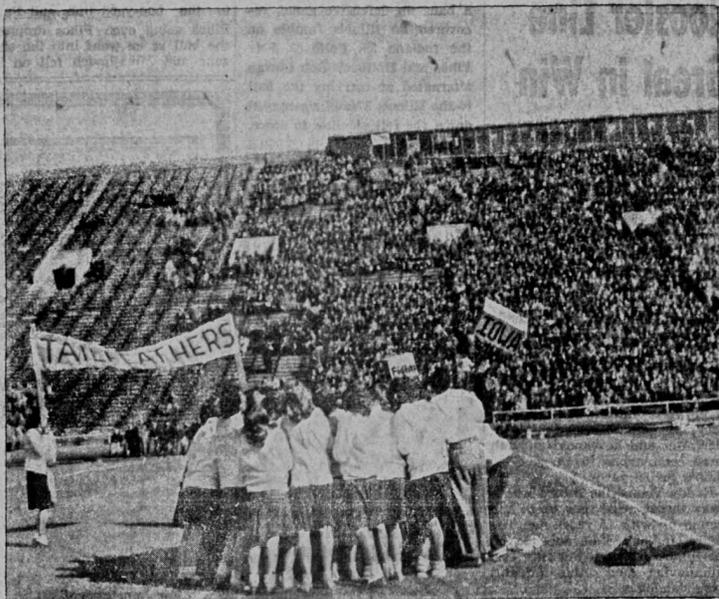

Statistics from the postmaster-general's office reveal 63 percent of the nation's postal officials and employees have signed for payroll savings.

Barrow said the postoffice department here is cooperating with other federal agencies in re-canvassing prospective registrants. The savings plan has been in operation since April 1, 1945.

Amphibious Thieves

DES MOINES (AP)—Thieves used a boat on the Des Moines river Thursday night to get away with a 200-pound hog stolen from the Carl Temple farm two miles north of Camp Dodge, the sheriff's office reported yesterday.

WHAT'S COMING OFF HERE?

IT RAINED CLOTHES on Iowa field yesterday as the "Tailfeathers," members of the new university pep club, put a stop to Nebraska pennant-waving on the field. About 25 of the Tailfeathers converged on one "Nebraska rooter" who was waving a Cornhusker pennant as she walked across the gridiron. Two of the club members held a standard announcing the new club's name to Iowans attending the game.

AAA Director Says Building Materials Shortage More Acute

Need for cement and building materials was never more acute than it is now in Johnson county, according to Raymond E. Smalley, AAA extension director here.

Vital to construction of corn cribs, cement and lumber are high on priority lists, Smalley said. Sufficient crib materials would help farmers protect a bumper corn crop this fall, he added.

Shortages, particularly cement, have forced dozens of farmers to set up temporary cribs, Smalley said. Due to the number of calls for crib building materials, Smalley has contacted state AAA officials to ask relief for the situation.

New Air Mail Rates To Foreign Countries Announced by Barrow

New foreign service air mail rates to 158 countries were announced yesterday by Postmaster Walter J. Barrow.

The air mail rate overseas, effective Nov. 1, ranges from five cents to 25 cents per half ounce, depending on distance, Barrow said.

Postal rates on packages will begin at 10 cents from Guam to the Philippines and vary to 25 cents for widely scattered foreign areas, Barrow added.

Young Republican Group Formed at SUJ; League Officially Sanctioned by Stassen

Formation of a young Republicans' organization open only to students was announced last night by Dean M. Lierle Jr., A1 of Iowa City, temporary chairman of the group.

The political group, named the Young Republican League of the State University of Iowa, is affiliated with the Young Republican League of Iowa. The organization is under the direct sponsorship of the college activities committee of the state organization of which Lierle is also chairman.

Lierle said the group has been "fully accredited" as a campus organization by Dean C. Woody Thompson and will receive its university charter at the first of next week.

Purpose of the group, according to Lierle, is to "furnish leaders to the Republican party." He also said the group will attempt to "be the voice of political ideas of young people on the campus."

The league intends to use the Republican open forums, to bring outstanding Republican speakers

A supply of 80,000 five-cent air mail stamps to supplant an original 10,000 exhausted three days after opening sales Oct. 1, was received Friday by the local postoffice.

to the campus and to take an active part in Republican politics. Official sanction of the group by Harold E. Stassen was indicated by a statement received by Lierle which said: "I look to the Young Republican League of the State University of Iowa for leadership in the Republican party in days ahead."

In describing the planned activities of the league, Lierle remarked that "it will in no way be Old Guard," and said the group plans to hold its first general meeting at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 22, in Macbride auditorium.

He also said the group will support the League of Women Voters and various veterans groups in Iowa City in a "get out the vote" campaign expected to be started soon.

Temporary officers of the group chosen in a conclave recently, are Lierle, chairman; K. Everett McCullough, G of Morrison, Ill., vice-chairman; Lawrence Dennis, G of Mason City, secretary, and Virginia Rosenberg, A4 of Burlington, treasurer.

Faculty advisors will be Prof. Wilbur Schramm of the school of journalism and Prof. Jack T. Johnson of the political science department.

820 Persons Apply At Employment Office, Director Kline Says

Facilities of Iowa City's United States Employment Service office were used by 820 persons during September, according to the monthly statistical labor report issued by director E. E. Kline yesterday.

Kline said an increased number of World War II veterans applied during the month for employment and unemployment claims. A total of 584 veterans and 201 women contacted USES, Kline revealed. There were 152 new applicants for employment during the month. Of these, 79 were veterans and 80 were women. All nine physically handicapped applicants were veterans, Kline said.

Since there is a vital need for more labor now in Iowa City, 128 persons were referred to local employers. Of these, 66 were veterans; 52 women were given job openings.

Many men have been referred to construction projects which stress use of carpenters and laborers, Kline said. Additional job seekers have been referred to service occupations. While labor

Student Fellowship Announces Officers

Officers of the Congregation United Student fellowship have been announced for the coming year.

They are: Arthur A. Lambert, president; Gene W. Krouse, vice-president; Alta M. Farnham, secretary, and Henry Edwards, treasurer.

Chairmen of the nine special committees are: James Roalston, social; Mrs. Arthur Lambert, program; Walter McMahon, worship; Lester Jipp, social action; Barbara Martin, evangelism; Elizabeth McQuade, publicity; Arlene Antinson, supper hostess; Roberta Forest, luncheon hostess, and Guen Wolstead, coffee hour hostess.

A coffee hour for all university students is held every Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 with supply has decreased generally, a slight surplus of clerical employment exists, he added. Applications for 11 persons for whom there is no suitable work available were on file at the end of the month. These amount to 48 veterans and 20 women, including seven disabled veterans, Kline said.

Kline indicated 20 employees went to construction work, 19 to service occupations and five to private household service. Five of those employed were disabled veterans, Kline said. These were engaged in clerical, service occupations and general labor.

Kline said he hoped for an increase in employment of disabled veterans and civilians during October, due to present emphasis of "National physically handicapped week" which ended yesterday.

Statistics show 527 claims for unemployment compensation and servicemen's allowances were filed. From this total, 370 were for unemployed veterans, 63 filed by self-employed persons and 94 for unemployment compensation benefits.

Campbell's Bond Set At $500 by Judge Knox

Malcom Campbell Jr., Cedar Rapids, yesterday waived preliminary hearing in police court on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Police Judge John Knox set bond at $500 and bound Campbell over to the district court.

Henry Fidler, Iowa City, charged with disorderly conduct, was held by police when he failed to post $100 bond set by Judge Knox. Continuance of Fidler's hearing was postponed for 10 days.

Fidler was arrested Friday night for prowling near Halley street, police said.

Louise Rotter, Oxford, Dies in Mercy Hospital

Mrs. Minnie Louise Rotter, 59, Oxford, died at 11:40 a. m. yesterday at the Mercy hospital following a short illness.

The body will be taken to the Outchout funeral home in Oxford this afternoon and remain there until the services, to be announced later.

Survivors are 4 daughters, 6 sons, including Benny and William of Iowa City, 13 grandchildren, 3 sisters and 1 brother.

$100 License Fee For City Taxicabs Proposed by C of C

An annual license fee of approximately $100 for each taxicab operating in Iowa City is one of four changes in the city's taxicab ordinance recommended by the Chamber of Commerce. It will be discussed at the city council meeting tomorrow night.

Taxicab companies now pay an $11.50 fee to the city each year for one cab and $5.50 for each additional cab in operation.

The revenue from the proposed increase in taxicab licenses would cover the cost of periodical inspection of the cabs and "other necessary expense and cost of enforcement thereof," according to the Chamber of Commerce recommendation.

Other recommended changes in the taxicab ordinance follow:

1. A city driver's license to be issued only to competent and qualified drivers.

2. Permanent distinctive marking of vehicles used as carriers of passengers for hire in Iowa City.

3. Increased minimum liability insurance coverage from $5,000 to $10,000 to $25,000-$50,000.

Where to Go--

Hawkeye Iron-man Jim Cozad, Phi Psi, is showing Jean Taylor, Kappa, just where to go for leisure coats. It's BREMER'S, of course, where you'll find the smartest styles and the largest selection in town. All wool shetlands, tweeds, cashmeres, gabardines, two-tones, all-over checks and plaids, and plain colors—BREMER'S have them all, priced from $12.95 to $29.50. Jim and Jean are shown here in matching coats of an all-over check pattern—and it looks like a cute idea. BREMER'S have sizes for both "him" and "her" in both collar and collarless models . . . but you'd better hurry down to get yours right away, while their selection is still at its peak.

Just arrived And just what you've been yearning for—a smooth brown calf spectator, built on that comfy-slug Carmelle last, for good (and good-looking) walking. This walled-toe, closed-heel beauty is at STRUB'S SHOE STORE, for $7.50. In case you're strictly a "black" girl, have a look at another new arrival—a high-heeled sling pump in black patent, with an open toe. Detail on the vamp will make your foot look, oh, so small. It too is a Carmelle, price $7.50. Both at STRUB'S SHOE STORE. Better hurry down tomorrow.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy you know, so, now after three weeks of school you all probably have your studying pretty well lined up and are ready for a bit of recreation. May we suggest that you try JOE'S PLACE? For really pleasant, friendly relaxation to you and your friends. Next time you have an hour between classes, drop in at JOE'S, just a half block east of the campus. They have that white capped beverage you want and you'll find friends and friendly service there.

Want to know how to out-sparkle the other "stars" at the Harvest Ball? You just can't miss if you hurry right down to GIFTLAND and gather up some of their beautiful rhinestones. They've got a gorgeous sterling and rhinestone filigree choker, with matching earrings, that would be stunning with your elaborate 1946 formal. Or another set we looked at is a single strand of square-cut rhinestones to set off your décolleté, and a matching bracelet. And to complete your formal ensemble you'll need a bag. GIFTLAND has them—just get them—and they're exactly what you're looking for. And don't walk out until you've looked at their compacts. They're large, very formal, in sterling or gold, some finely etched, others beautifully jeweled. You'll know it's right if it's from GIFTLAND.

News from the Theta house is a bit on the sentimental side—and that's a piece of gross understatement. Witness all these romantic doings: Marilyn Browning pinned to Paul McCalaster, Phi Psi; Carolyn Porter chained to Frank Zeller, Phi Psi; and Joan Sayers, married this summer to Bob Favett, still Phi Psi. They didn't all go Phi Psi, though—Lou Waters has a diamond from Delis Sig Paul Griewe; and Carol Wellman married a Beta, Tony Zanutto, this summer.

Been missing Mom's tender flakey pie? And Dad's quizzical smile and steady good humor? Uh huh, we thought so. Well, let us put you wise to a pretty good substitute. Your new home is out at Iowa avenue, and it's called the TWO-MILE INN. "Doc 'n' Betty" are your hosts, and we could go into raptures over the food. The pie is fresh, and home made, and well worth the short walk. Well worth it too, to bandy words with "Doc." He's a lot of fun. Next time you get those "raid-the-cookie-jar" pains, amble out to the TWO MILE INN, and have yourself a snack. Besides the pie, they've got sandwiches, piping hot home made soup, short orders, and ice cream and malts. It's "the" headquarters for students living east of the campus—and you "westerners" will be definitely rewarded if you "Go East" to the TWO-MILE INN.

WILLARD'S FALL FORMAL FLASHES

The abundance of Autumn dances just ahead call for an array of distinctive formals. Starred in our exciting collection is the short front, long back, skirt. You will be a picture of slim sophistication in one of our Samuel Chapman originals—designed by Ceil Chapman, one of America's ten leading designers.

Prices Ranging from $16.95 to $39.95

Look striking at the Harvest Ball in apricot or old ivory velveteen—fashioned with dramatic new lines and created to be deliberately figure-flattering. And we have many other equally new styles in net, taffeta and crepe, from which to make your selection.

For the many dinner dances in the near future, you will want that glitter-gaze look. You'll be thrilled with our wool jersey dinner dresses with sequin trims too. Remember our formals are expensive in everything but price.

The Sigma Chi's, well at least five of them, were really knocking themselves out on that serenade last Monday night. Wonder who their song leader is?

Sure, these question marks are smiling. They know the answer to the $64 question. It's simple: just "Dial 3131." That's all you do to solve—and happily—all your transportation worries, 'cause that's the number of YELLOW CAB. Come rain or shine, early classes or late trains, courteous YELLOW CAB drivers will be right there to take you where you want to go, when you want to go. And best of all, remember that five can ride as cheaply as one in a YELLOW CAB.

Chi O's chewed on five pounds of chocolate Friday, and smiled and smiled at smiling Jan McConnee, wearer of the purple crest of Delta Bob Dom. That's the kinda stuff we like to hear!

It isn't just the accounting students who have to worry about balances, and not coming out in the red. Every student on the campus has that problem—how to eat well, and still keep that budget strictly in the black. But the answer is simpler than you'd think—and you'll find it at the MAID-RITE. They specialize in good food—both regular meals and short orders—and low prices. If you've never tried a famous MAID-RITE, don't waste another minute. Top it off with a piece of real home-made pie and a tall glass of milk, and you've had a fine lunch. The MAID-RITE's varied menu and comfortable booths, good cooking and fast courteous service will call you back again and again. Why not get the habit right away? Stop in at the MAID-RITE today, and drag your accounting out of the "red."

Don Winkler, Sig Ep, keeps the highway between Mount Pleasant and Iowa City well trodden these days. Could be 'cause Marty Young, former Alpha Zl on campus, now wears his diamond.
