Vets' Group To Protest Tuition Ruling

The newly-formed Iowa City Veterans' organization council announced yesterday it is preparing the "strongest possible protest" to a recent Iowa attorney general decision that it is legal for state schools to charge out-of-state tuition for all veteran students even though many are Iowa residents.

The council, composed of all eight Iowa City veterans organizations, unanimously decided Monday that the ruling is discrimination against veterans and offered two objections to the higher tuition:

1. If the state charges out-of-state tuition, some veterans, particularly those in medical school, will be forced to buy books and equipment with their own money.
2. Since the new ruling, a budget revision will be necessary to cut down expenses elsewhere in the veterans administration, particularly in grants for on-the-job training and subsidization of students.

An outgrowth of the central veterans committee, formed in the summer to protest lifting of price control, the council reviewed the attorney general's ruling and formulated objections at an organization meeting held at Iowa Union Monday night.

The council stated its purpose is "to take united stand and action on common veterans' problems."

Representatives of all eight Iowa City veterans organizations attended the meeting.

They were Carl Redenbaugh of the American Legion, Bob Cotter of VFW 2349, Sam Shulman of VFW 2381, Cliff Richards of the American Veterans committee, Paul Helmer of the University Veterans association, Bob Brown of the AmVets, Harry Crosby of the Reserve Officers' Association and Les Norton of the Disabled American Veterans.

To prohibit domination of the council by one organization, a system of revolving chairmanship has been set up, according to Crosby.

Actions of the council must meet with unanimous consent of all eight organization representatives or no action will be taken, Crosby said.

Hickenlooper Talks to Young Republicans

U.S. at Crossroads, Says Iowa Senator

By WAYNE SCHAKEL

United States Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper, unscheduled speaker at the first meeting of the university's Young Republican league at Macbride auditorium last night, said that the nation is now at the crossroads of public opinion and must choose a course either to greater government control or to a greater freedom which we have always believed to be our heritage.

We are now at the place where we may easily "become servants of our government and mastered by it, or we may continue to use the government as our servant as we have in the past," he told approximately 100 league members and their guests.

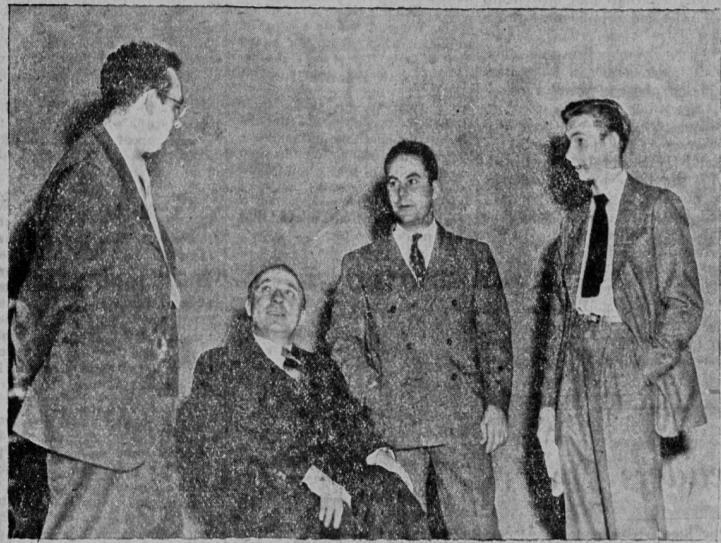

The senator cited Russia as an example of the "tremendous" power a government can hold over its people and said that the Republican party now points the way to a greater security and an eventual greater freedom than we can have if we allow the government to exercise more and more control in our lives.

"We have confused the theory of security with freedom in the last 14 years of Democratic government in this country," the senator said, "and have now reached a point where the average man attempting to set up a business is beset by so many government boards and regulations that he can scarcely be expected to conduct his business without running afoul of some regulation of which he has not heard."

"The Republican party of today offers for the future," he asserted, "a philosophy of freedom and development of genius, as opposed to a philosophy of control and reduction of individual power."

Stressing the necessity for clear political thinking for the welfare of our future, Senator Hickenlooper said that, "we have an obligation to our heirs as we have to our predecessors to maintain a progressive growing system of free government."

The senator charged the Democratic administration with bureaucratic, arbitrary and regimetary (See HICKENLOOPER, page 4)

Rigorous Schedule Prepared for UN General Assembly

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

NEW YORK (AP) — Key diplomats of the United Nations agreed last night upon fast working schedule for the general assembly which will hold its first meeting in the new world at Flushing Meadows this afternoon.

While the delegates of 51 nations, gathered here from all sections of the globe, awaited the address of President Truman today with keen interest, the general assembly steering committee decided upon a work program that will keep the delegates at a vigorous pace for the six and one-half weeks of the assembly.

The steering committee, approved the program for today which calls for a reception for the delegates by New York City at the city hall, a luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, and the historic opening session of the old World's Fair site.

The delegates will meet President Truman at a reception in Manhattan this evening.

The spirit of speedy work for the assembly quickly became evident in the steering committee which is composed of President Paul-Henri Spaak, foreign minister of Belgium, the chief delegates of China, France, Russia, South Africa, United Kingdom, United States and Venezuela, and the chairmen of the six main committees.

The steering committee decided to recommend to the assembly that the reports of the security council and the economic and social council not be presented orally and that general debate begin on Thursday after Secretary General Trygve Lie has made his report.

The committee also decided that the assembly should hold Saturday afternoon sessions whenever possible.

Meanwhile, the various delegations held last minute caucuses in New York City hotels and committee rooms to chart their courses during the assembly.

Some of the major issues before the assembly are: the veto; what to do about refugees of the world UNRRA expires next year; the site of the permanent home of the United Nations; trusteeships over mandated territories; Russia's question on the disposition of Allied troops in alien, non-enemy countries, and a host of other issues.

The United Nations secretariat hopes that the assembly will be over by Dec. 7 but admits there is a possibility that date might have to be extended.

Justice Official Reveals—Nazi Oust-Roosevelt Plan

—Devised by Ribbentrop

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — O. John Rogge, special assistant to the United States attorney general, described in detail last night what he called Nazi "schemes to prevent the reelection of President Roosevelt" in 1936, 1940 and 1944.

Rogge based his statements on information obtained in interviews with high German officials and captured Nazi documents. He spent more than a month abroad gathering evidence for the department of justice.

He made his disclosures in an address delivered at Swarthmore college.

He said Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister recently hanged for war crimes, set up an "American committee" in the German foreign office with the special task of trying to defeat Roosevelt and added:

"In the 1940 election, the Nazis had a fantastic scheme to get John L. Lewis, the labor leader, to come out against the election of President Roosevelt. This scheme involved Herman Goering, a Nazi agent by the name of Joachim Hertslet and William R. Davis, a promoter in the oil business."

"In our 1936, 1940, and 1944 presidential elections," Rogge said, "the Nazis always preferred the one who opposed President Roosevelt. They preferred in turn Landon, Wilkie, and Dewey."

Rogge quoted an order of Oct. 29, 1936, by Fritz Kuhn, then head of the German-American Bund, in which Kuhn recommended that Bund members vote for Landon "because it can absolutely be assumed that under his administration more favorable commercial relations with Germany would be effected."

As for the 1940 election he quoted Paul K. Schmidt, head of the information department of the German foreign office, as telling him:

"Both Ribbentrop and Hitler were of the opinion that any president would be better than Roosevelt . . ."

"Reports stated that Wilkie would not be friendly to Germany, out would not be as energetically opposed, and also that Wilkie would not be capable of as sweeping political decisions as Roosevelt. Ribbentrop stated, and I believe that he was quoting Hitler, that if the United States would go to war it would be only with Roosevelt."

Rogge quoted Goering and Hertslet at length on the alleged Davis-Lewis tie-up preceding the 1940 election. Hertslet recalled the substance of what Goering had to say on these subjects:

Bevin Urges Give-and-Take Among Nations

By ED CREAM

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, calling earnestly for a new give-and take spirit of internationalism among the great powers, declared yesterday he was "not unhopeful" of an understanding on the problems of peace.

But he warned that Britain would insist that the Potsdam agreement on Germany either be observed in its entirety or completely rewritten, that "outside interference with Greece must stop," and that a cease-fire order in the "war of nerves" is necessary for international negotiation on the Dardanelles.

In an hour and 50 minute review of world affairs that seemed to skim rather than probe many of the issues he had been expected to discuss, Bevin told a jam-packed house of commons:

"If we are to achieve lasting peace and economic recovery, all at the forthcoming meetings at New York must show a readiness to recognize the legitimate interests of others and to subordinate national interest to the common good."

Bevin's speech opened a two-day debate on the Labor government's foreign policy. Prime Minister Attlee and his predecessor, Winston Churchill, opposition leader, are scheduled to speak today.

In an around-the-world review, Bevin touched briefly on the following countries:

Germany—Britain agrees "almost" completely with the Stuttgart speech of U.S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, which favored a self-supporting Germany.

"We wish to see established political conditions which will secure the world against any German reversion to dictatorship or any revival of German aggressive policy."

Greece—"We will not desert Greece," but British troops will be withdrawn from that country as "early as possible." Agitation originating outside of Greece has hindered British efforts to rebuild the country.

Turkey—Russian demands on the Dardanelles, if granted, would constitute "unwarranted interference with the sovereignty of Turkey."

Indonesia—British troops will be (See BEVIN, page 4)

Byrnes Sets Policy On Foreign Loans

No Credit to Nations That Charge 'Dollar Imperialism' by U.S.

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a sarcastic dig at Russia and Czechoslovakia, Secretary of State Byrnes laid down the policy yesterday that the United States won't grant loans to nations which fear the money will make them slaves of dollar imperialism.

The United States recently suspended $90,000,000 loans and credits to Czechoslovakia after that nation's delegation at the Paris peace conference applauded Russian charges that American dollars were being used to reduce European to "economic slavery."

Byrnes denied at a news conference that a general policy of refusing loans to Russia and her neighbors has been adopted.

But he said the determining factors in future loans would be (A) need and (B) friendship.

After all, he said, it was only human to resent charges of economic slavery — and the state department is run by human beings. This country, he said, would want to be very certain that a borrower doesn't feel we are trying to enslave him.

The money available for foreign loans is not limitless, he emphasized, adding that this country has no funds to lend except those provided by American taxpayers.

Part of the credit to Czechoslovakia was to finance purchase of American surplus property. Byrnes said he concluded it was necessary because Czechoslovakia had entered into an agreement to extend a $10,000,000 credit to Romania to buy surplus property on the basis of seven percent handling charge and six percent interest.

Drily, Byrnes observed that if Czechoslovakia was in a position to make loans, then it wasn't as bad off as had been believed.

He said the state department was investigating a Czechoslovakian report that a United States treasury official had said it would be all right to make the loan to Romania. The treasury official, he said, has asserted that he was misquoted.

Agreement Nil If Krug Avoids Nov. 1 Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis last night warned in effect that his 400,000 soft coal miners would walk out Nov. 1—twenty days earlier than the deadline set Monday—if Secretary of Interior Krug fails to show up promptly for a conference here on new wage demands and other issues.

With the government, as operator of the seized coal mines, balking at his demand that the present contract be reopened, Lewis quickly served an ultimatum declaring that unless the conference is held the existing agreement will be "void."

Traditionally, members of the United Mine workers have refused to work without a contract.

Charges Contract Breach

Charging the government with breaching the contract, Lewis called Monday for a conference Nov. 1 to reopen wages and a host of other issues. Under the procedure outlined Monday, the walkout could start Nov. 20.

Yesterday Secretary Krug, government mine boss now traveling in the southwest, messaged Lewis that he couldn't be in Washington Nov. 1. He said he could meet Lewis Nov. 1 at Tule Lake, Calif., or in Washington on Nov. 6.

Lewis swiftly replied:

"The existing Krug-Lewis agreement expressly provides that both parties to the agreement are bound to meet within a 10-day period upon formal request of either party.

"Such formal request was filed yesterday by the United Mine workers of America. Failure on your part to honor this meeting will constitute another breach of the contract and will void the Krug-Lewis agreement."

Calls Demand Unwarranted

"Clearly unwarranted" was the description applied by Naval Captain N. H. Collisson, the federal coal mines administrator, to the UMW chief's demand for new contract negotiations.

Collisson also replied to two complaints of Lewis that the government has "breached" the contract.

On one of these, involving interpretation of vacation clauses, Collisson said the administration is willing to make nationwide an Illinois arbitrator award which favored the miners.

This award held that workers who had served any time between June 1, 1945 and May 31, 1946 were entitled to a proportionate share of the $100-a-year vacation payment granted in the Krug-Lewis agreement.

The government previously has held that miners who gave up their jobs prior to government seizure last May 22 were not eligible.

A group of operator representatives who said they were speaking for producers of "over 70 percent of the tonnage mined in this country" protested yesterday against the Illinois award.

Their message to Collisson said "we protest the use of a decision to compel payment of a large sum of money we do not owe and ask to be consulted about personnel to be used as an umpire in the future."

The second Lewis allegation of a breach of contract revolved around the issue of whether tonnage royalty payments to a miners' welfare fund shall be based on the weight of coal as it leaves the mine or on the weight of cleaned fuel loaded in railroad cars.

Lewis contended that the administration's insistence on the latter basis has cost the miners millions of dollars. Collisson suggested yesterday that this weight question be left to settlement by "an eminent jurist" acceptable to the government and Lewis alike.

Lewis made no direct mention of any possible strike call, an illegal act under the Smith-Connally act. However, if the union should consider the agreement ended, it might fall back on its traditional position of "no contract—no work."

Martin Assails Daily Iowan Editorial Policy as 'Unfair'

By BOB McHUGH

Rep. Thomas E. Martin last night charged that The Daily Iowan was guilty of unfair editorial policies "that frequently follow the CIO-PAC political line." Representative Martin also defended his voting record, attacked last week by Sewell E. Allen, Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor.

Martin made the statements in an informal talk and interview at the Jefferson hotel where he was guest speaker at a dinner party given by the Johnson county Republican women's club.

"It is more than coincidence that The Daily Iowan should denounce me on issues that follow closely the CIO-PAC line of thought," said Martin.

"Why don't the Iowan editors look up the rest of my record?" he queried.

Martin went on to assert that The Daily Iowan editors seemed to disregard totally the bulk of his voting record and concentrate only on issues he said the PAC was interested in. He added that he welcomed PAC opposition.

"The CIO-PAC rated me eleven bad to one good on their political test and I'm sure I don't know how that one good one got in there," continued Martin.

"It is interesting to note that the other labor organization (AFL) rated me 26 good to 32 bad on a similar test," he remarked.

Martin further claimed that his record in AFI (University of Iowa honorary society) and his work in past years in Iowa City community chest programs seemed to escape entirely notice by The Daily Iowan editors.

Dr. Decroly Here on a Special Grant

By a Society Staff Writer

Interest in a modern clinic for problem children in Belgium made it possible for Dr. Jeanne Decroly, G of Brussels, Belgium, to study child guidance at the University of Iowa, under a special scholarship awarded by the American Association of University Women.

Prior to coming to the University of Iowa, Dr. Decroly owned and operated a school for handicapped children in Brussels. The school, the first of its kind, now has some 90 enrollees. It was founded by Dr. Decroly's father in 1901.

Since the school's founding, the "Decroly Method" has become a prominent influence on the educational system in Belgium, and has led to the establishment of similar schools and clinics.

The Decroly school, which is co-educational, gives preference to children that have defects that may prevent them from entering or advancing in regular schools. Nine instructors are employed, who work with the children daily until their handicaps are corrected.

A child may be there only a few weeks, or several years, depending upon the extent of the defect. Dr. Decroly explained. Each individual case is discussed in regular staff meetings, and through these poolled suggestions of the faculty, a child is often helped, she stated.

Belgium's provinces, in collaboration with the municipal and national governments, finance the education of those children unable to pay their own way.

International Study Grant
Dr. Decroly is one of 39 women to enter colleges and universities in the United States, under the special International Study Grants of the American Association of University Women.

University women throughout the United States have contributed to the study grants, which provide a year of study in this country to women whose education was interrupted by German occupation of their homelands. Federations of University Women in these countries recommend the applicants, and final choice is determined by the A.A.U.W. committee on fellowship awards.

Dr. Decroly received her M.D. at the University of Brussels and did graduate work in pediatrics in Strasbourg, Paris.

Dr. Decroly arrived in the United States in September and plans to return to her native country in April. She is the mother of two children, who are now living with relatives in Brussels.

Bradley Warns Against Using Up All Unemployment Benefits

VA Head Concerned at Rate Which Vets Expend Federal Readjustment Allowance

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans Administrator Omar Bradley warned yesterday there is tough sledding ahead for servicemen who are exhausting unemployment benefits recklessly. "I am greatly concerned over the rate at which many veterans are expending their readjustment allowances," General Bradley said in an interview.

"A veteran who lies idle for a year, living on unemployment checks in a period when jobs are more plentiful than they may be later, might find it hard to get work and to get to work when his readjustment allowance ends," Bradley warned.

"That veteran is losing seniority and experience leading to a better job.

"He is forfeiting the cushion of his deferred unemployment payments—a cushion that is like money in the bank, assuring him of an income should he lose his job any time within the two-year limit after the war has been officially declared ended."

Unemployment veterans are allowed $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks, or $100 a month for 10 2/5 months if they are self-employed but without income.

Puerto Rico veterans lead in the rapidity of consumption of disability allowances. In Texas, which has 681,000 veterans 6,338 are no longer able to qualify for payments.

In Mississippi, where 193,000 veterans are listed, 3,429 already have exhausted unemployment payments—more than in New York, where 2,228 of the 1,407,000 veterans have used up theirs.

In Alabama, with its 284,000 veterans, 1,417 have exhausted their payments or 265 more than in Pennsylvania, which has 1,103,000 veterans.

Veterans administration officials observed that living costs and wage scales are lower in Texas and the southern states than in areas where veterans are using their benefits more cautiously.

"In Puerto Rico," Bradley said, "where a working scale of $8 or $10 a week prevails, it is a real temptation to the veteran to remain idle and draw $20 a week. I think I would be tempted myself."

The general also remarked that he wished to remain veterans administrator—an assignment he accepted in August, 1945, for a period of 18 months or two years—long enough to get the programs of hospital construction, insurance decentralization and on-the-job training programs well underway. In Illinois, where 1,424 veterans have run through their $1,040, the unemployment payments in the last period on record here total $1,423,275 to 55,793 veterans.

Iowa—540 exhausted; $1,377,103 paid to 17,534, last period.

Only Michigan and Ohio State hold margins over Minnesota in all-time Big Ten series.

said, "That was a fine editorial. It sensibly warned of the dangers of flirting with radicalism. We would all do well to heed such advice as that."

"When people over on that campus start smearing me as a fascist they needn't think I'll take it laying down," declared Martin. Referring to the highly publicized endorsement given him by Gerald L. K. Smith, leader of the American First party, Martin said it was simply a dead herring that my opponents try to drag across my trail."

In a vigorous reply to Sewell E. Allen's criticism of his voting record, Martin charged that lend lease, peacetime conscription and the lifting of embargo on ammunition ships to neutrals were declarations of war."

"I voted against those bills because the country was not prepared for war," Martin declared.

Martin said that in November, 1941, the country's ammunition supply was only six percent .30 calibre and one-tenth of one percent 90 mm. anti-aircraft and generally in scant supply for an army of one and a half million men.

"The general staff understands the reasons for my votes on those measures," said Martin, "even if Sewell Allen doesn't."

Martin predicted the official end of the war would come in January and charged that the Democratic administration was against an official ending of the war because he said that would mean the end of the war powers act.

He further pledged himself to putting an end to governmental borrowing of money, the elimination of communistic elements in federal departments and a reduction of the federal payroll.

Martin challenged his Democratic opponent, Claire Williams, to state his position in the Democratic party.

"I'm wondering if he's a state's right Democrat or a CIO-PAC Democrat," said Martin.

"The country's ills can be summed up in one sentence—the New Deal is still in power," concluded Martin.

procedure in conducting the government of today. He maintained that the Republican party offers a solution to this situation and is the hope of the future and our chance to attain the freedom we need rather than the "security" which we have come to accept from a bureaucratic government.

Condemning the sort of thinking which considers politics an unimportant and inferior vocation, Senator Hickenlooper emphasized to the young Republicans "that there is no more important field of endeavor today because of the way in which politics can control our freedom, our economy and our lives in every way."

"It is the duty of young people to take a vital and enthusiastic part in the politics of government," he declared, and added that it is essential for people everywhere to think through political issues and form political opinions.

He emphasized that political affiliation must not be a result of family heredity, but must come from individual thinking.

The senator recalled his affiliation with the first Young Republican group to be formed in the state at the beginning of his career and said that he considers his political views to be essentially those of the young Republican today.

He told the group that he has found young men and women of today more mature in their thinking than they have ever been before, and that these thinking groups will provide the progressive leadership this country needs.

Senator Hickenlooper was originally to have met with the university's Young Republicans Nov. 7, but has been called to Washington immediately and agreed to come to Iowa City last night instead. He leaves by plane from Cedar Rapids tomorrow.

State Chairman Speaks—Henry A. Grant of Des Moines, state chairman of the Young Republican League, who was scheduled to address the league last night, spoke briefly before introducing Senator Hickenlooper.

Offumwa Man Gets 40-Year Sentence On Murder Charge

OTTUMWA (AP)—Edward J. Longnecker, 51, one-armed former packinghouse worker, yesterday was sentenced to 40 years in the state penitentiary by District Judge Edward L. Simmons for the murder of his wife.

Longnecker had been found guilty by a jury last month of the second degree murder of his wife who died last June 5 of a blow on the head with a hammer.

Asked before sentencing if he had anything to say, Longnecker told the court, "I am not guilty of murdering my wife."

The murder sentence is to run consecutively with a 20-year sentence Longnecker now is serving for arson.

Longnecker was convicted on the arson charge following the burning of his home last March 12. He was found outside the flaming two-room home from which his wife, her head bloody, and their two sons escaped.

The murder charge was placed against Longnecker after the death of his wife.

Women's Table-Tennis To Begin Tomorrow

University women's singles table-tennis tournaments will begin tomorrow night in the large gym in the women's gymnasium, Anna Gay, A3 of Iowa City, intramurals chairman, announced yesterday.

Registration begins at 7:15 p. m., and all university women students must turn in their names by 7:30. Playing will begin on 10 tables immediately after the tournament is drawn up.

Republican organizations are being formed in every county and at many colleges in the state, and that the University of Iowa meeting last night was the first university meeting to be held.

Dean M. Lierle Jr., A1 of Iowa City, temporary chairman of the league, delivered the opening address of the meeting and said that he is currently attempting to bring Harold E. Stassen to the campus for one of the forums planned for the league.

He also stated that Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon and Representative Marion Bennett of Missouri will be asked to attend one of these meetings.

Young men have not had a voice in Republican party affairs previously, Lierle said, because:

- 1. The party itself has not welcomed such membership.
- 2. Young people have not been vigorous enough in seeking the opportunity to lead.

He said that, "by asserting a strong and prudent will we can make it necessary for the Republican party to accept us."

Says GOP Slurs Vets

DES MOINES (AP)—Frank Miles, Democratic nominee for governor, yesterday asserted that "veterans who for various good reasons never had any real estate other than homes we bought or tried to buy and have had tax exemptions are being slurred by some reactionary republicans."

Miles made the assertion in a radio broadcast campaign address. "Some reactionary Republicans . . . actually are against any kind of tax exemption for veterans of any war and if in authority may be expected to try to knock out that now in effect," Miles contended.

The Democratic nominee described the present veterans housing situation as "appalling."

Group Meets to Settle Grievances of Ft. Dodge High School Students

FORT DODGE (AP)—A grievance committee of a dozen high school students was selected here yesterday to meet with school officials in an attempt to iron out troubles after some 125-150 students demonstrated outside the building against the reported disciplining of one of the school's cheerleaders.

Principal C. T. Feelhaver, calling a special assembly asked for volunteers to represent the students and a dozen boys and girls offered to be members of the grievance group that met with the principal and Superintendent of Schools H. J. Williams.

After dismissal of the assembly, the other students returned to their classes and staged no further demonstration.

Hitchcock Explains Radio Show to Club

"Town Meeting of the Air" is a radio program that faces up squarely against the issues of the day," Prof. Orville Hitchcock of the university speech department said in an address before a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in the Hotel Jefferson yesterday. The program's major contribution is that it gives people an opportunity to hear both sides of controversial questions, according to Professor Hitchcock who was associated with the program for two years.

In describing the structure and organization behind the weekly radio debate, Professor Hitchcock explained that it keeps on "top of the news" by planning its topics only three weeks in advance. There are four sets of brothers on the football squad at Tulane University this year.

Council Sets Campus Chest Drive Date

Xavier Cugat Concert Tickets On Sale Today

Jan. 13-16 were set as dates for the annual Student council-sponsored Campus Chest drive at a council meeting last night.

Originated last year by Student council, Campus Chest, incorporates into one contributing drive all requests for money which would ordinarily be solicited from students at various times throughout the school year.

A motion was made and carried to send a letter of explanation to the Iowa City Community Fund chairman that Campus Chest is the central fund to which university students contribute, and that Campus Chest, rather than students as individuals should be approached for contributions.

One thousand general admission tickets for the Nov. 4 Xavier Cugat concert will go on sale at Whetstone's drug store today, it was reported. Council members will have a booth at Bremer's from 11:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday to Saturday of next week. Tickets will be available at the Bremer booth all morning, Nov. 2.

Shirley Ferrell, A3 of Benton Harbor, Mich., reported that university women attending the concert may sign the regulation late leave allowed for all university functions.

In a report made on the exchange of advance receipts for the concert tickets, it was brought out that approximately 1,800 receipts have not been exchanged. Today is the last day to exchange receipts for tickets, in the basement of University hall. Arrangements were made to continue the exchange at Iowa Union from 3 to 5 p. m. tomorrow and Friday.

Extend Reserve Seat Sales

The council decided to extend reserved seat sales to 500 and to take out insurance for the concert covering at least $100,000. It was decided not to allow refunds on Cugat concert tickets.

Don Hall, E4 of Tama, was appointed to contact Tailfeathers, university pep club, about handling pledge cards for the student train trip to the Minnesota-Iowa game Nov. 16.

A campus booth will be manned from 9 to 4:30 each day, Oct. 29 through 31, it was decided. Students will sign pledge cards at that time and will pay $18 for railroad and game tickets in the basement of University hall Nov. 6 through 8.

Journalism Fraternity To Choose Delegates

Delegates to the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity for men, to be held in Chicago, Nov. 22 through 24, will be selected tonight at 5:30 when the local chapter meets in the Blue room of the D/L grill.

Harvey Ingham, A4 of Iowa City, president of the local chapter, said that about four or five members, other than the delegates, will attend the convention.

The fall semester pledge list will also be announced at the meeting.

Union Board Discusses Plans for New Student Activities at Iowa Union

Plans for new student activities at Iowa Union were discussed at a Union board meeting last night, according to Winston Lowe, L3 of Cedar Rapids, Union board president.

The committee appointed to investigate the plans includes Jim Cook, D3 of Williamsburg, chairman; Gwen Oppenheimer, A3 of Marshalltown, and John McDowell, C3 of Searsboro.

Bob Ray, G of Davenport was appointed by the graduate college as its representative on Union board, Secretary Holly Baker, A3 of Highland Park, Ill., said last night.

All Union board members and sub-committee members will meet together next Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Union River room, when the sub-committee members will be assigned to permanent committees.

Artists' Society Plans First Dance In Monthly Series

The Blue Door ball, first in a series of monthly dances to be sponsored by the Blue Door artists' society, will be held Friday from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight in the community building.

The Blue Door club consists of 11 male members of the University art department who have organized as an independent group to carry on their own individual work in the arts.

The group was started last year when the artists acquired their own studio at 106 S. Gilbert street. Most of the members are married, veterans and graduate students.

Although the group is non-departmental and has no affiliation with the university art department, it has the personal sanction of Dr. Lester D. Longmann, head of the art department, according to Malcolm Myers, graduate assistant in the art department.

The dances were planned to help alleviate the need for social activities on the crowded University campus, Myers said, and are open to the public. The orchestra, which consists mainly of art students, is under the direction of Byron Burford, G of Dubuque, and Raymond Parker, G of Iowa City.

Tickets, $1 a couple and $75 single admission, will be available at the door.

Dr. Tomas Gan Studies Student Health Service For Philippine Islands

Dr. Tomas M. Gan, assistant director of the Institute of Hygiene in Manila, P. I., is visiting the hygiene and preventive medicine department at the University of Iowa.

Sponsored by the Rockefeller foundation in New York, Dr. Gan, is visiting a number of universities in America where student health services have been developed, to plan for a similar type of service in the Philippines.

Dr. Gan said he would be glad to meet Philippine students on campus either at Hotel Jefferson where he is staying or at the hygiene department office in the medical laboratories.

She Traveled From— Beaches to Jungles

—As Red Cross Helper

*** LORELLA PETREHN ***
 By SOCIETY STAFF WRITER

"From the sparkling white sand beaches of Rio de Janeiro's famed Copacabana in Brazil to the black volcanic waters surrounding Mindanao Island in the Philippines," sums up the range of experiences of Margaret Mordy, Santa Barbara, Calif., while serving with the Red Cross in Brazil and the Philippines during the war.

Miss Mordy is a former faculty member in the women's physical education department at the university and is visiting Dr. Lois Boulware, 1027 East Court street.

While serving as assistant Red Cross program director for six months with the Air Transport command in Natal, Brazil, Miss Mordy was connected with the "Green Project" plan to redeploy key military personnel from the European theater of operations to the Pacific.

"However, living on the island was like being in a transplanted portion of the United States," she added, "for we still adhered to American customs and manners. Philippine traditions, such as the ancient fear of the natives toward the fierce and warlike Mores tribes, were discussed on the base but didn't frighten us."

While stationed overseas, Miss Mordy contracted malaria and was hospitalized for 25 days in the fourth general hospital in Manila. She returned to the United States in July for further treatment on the west coast. She is now on inactive duty from the Red Cross.

1,000 Transits a Day

"There were over 1,000 transits arriving at Natal each day," stated Miss Mordy, "so the Red Cross club was usually filled with men seeking recreation in their off-duty hours. Besides entertaining on the base, we also served coffee and doughnuts to the men working on the line at night."

The Natal air base was originally held by the Germans before American occupancy. With the closing of the "Green Project" after VJ day, Miss Mordy was transferred from this base to Mindanao Island in the Philippines. Here she acted as club director of the 342nd Infantry regiment.

Pineapple Plantation

"Our Red Cross group of four reached the assigned base, a deserted Del Monte pineapple plantation, a week before the Infantry arrived, which was an unusual feat for the Red Cross," commented Miss Mordy with a wry smile.

"Immediately we set up a temporary club with snack bar, reading rooms and craft shop to accommodate the 2,000 men soon to be stationed on the island."

Can-Can Dances

Among the entertainments sponsored by the Red Cross during the American occupation of Mindanao, according to Miss Mordy, were rodeos, mimic state fairs, gay nineties parties and can-can dances.

"Our attempts at holding dances for the men were curtailed to a considerable extent," continued the former Red Cross director, "because of the difficulties of importing Philippine girls from the

Dr. Harper to Talk To Federal Church Council in St. Louis

Dr. Earl E. Harper, head of the school of fine arts, left Iowa City last night for St. Louis, Mo., where he will speak today before the Federal Council of Churches commission on worship.

Dr. Harper will discuss a proposal and program for the organization of a national commission on drama in religion. Details for the proposal and program were worked out by Dr. Harper; Prof. E. Mable, Prof. George R. Kernodle, both of the dramatic arts department, Prof. Marcus Bach of the school of religion and the Rev. James Waery of the Congregational church.

"If the commission is accepted as proposed, the development in America of national festivals like the Canterbury and Tewkesbury festivals now held in England may result," Dr. Harper said. "If the plan is accepted, drama would be affected in two fields: first, in the professional theater in evaluation, interpretation, moral and social significance, and in development of plays and technique of production for churches all over the nation," he added.

Prof. Kirk Porter, head of the political science department, will speak on the Nuernberg war trials at a luncheon meeting of the economic department's Order of Artus tomorrow at 12:05 p. m. in the public dining room at Iowa Union.

Prof. Porter has also announced that he will attend a junior chamber of commerce dinner at Cedar Rapids at 6:15 tomorrow evening and will speak there on "Liberalism in American Politics Today."

'Eligible Bachelor' To Be Nominated By University Men

Candidates for the "most eligible bachelor" who will reign at the Spinners' Spree, Nov. 23, will be nominated this week by university men students.

Nomination blanks will be sent to all men's housing units tomorrow. The bachelor and his two attendants will be chosen by all university women early in November, and their names announced the evening of the informal dance.

The 36 nominations have been divided among the housing units, according to Phyllis Oltman, A3 of Oak Park, Ill., co-chairman of the girl-take-boy dance. Each unit may choose its candidate by whatever method it wishes, she said.

The applications and pictures of the candidates must be left at the reception desk at the office of student affairs in Old Capitol by Thursday, Nov. 7. After the candidates' names are revealed on Nov. 10, the pictures will be on display in Premier's store window.

Ballots listing the candidates will be sent to all university women later that week and their votes will be counted separately, not by housing units, Miss Oltman said.

Spinners' Spree was inaugurated by University Women's association. In past years the women have invited their dates, called for them and given them corsages made of miscellaneous materials from radishes to elaborate flowers.

Chairman of the dance this year is Holly Baker, A4 of Highland Park, Ill.

Pittsburgh, Pa., will act as master of ceremonies.

Immediately after the pep rally a large bonfire will be started on the gravel road at the south of Iowa Union. The Interfraternity Pledge council will prepare the fire.

Tailfeathers' next meeting will be next Tuesday evening at 7:15 in conference room 1, Iowa Union.

Junior High PTA Plans Meeting Tomorrow

The first fall meeting of the Junior high school parent-teachers' association tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium will feature a "back-to-school" theme. Registration will begin promptly at 7:30, and a business meeting and a tour of the school building will follow.

At the close of the evening a social hour will be held and refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Fire Inspection

Iowa City firemen this week are conducting their annual inspection of all buildings in the business area, in an effort to eliminate fire hazards, Chief J. J. Clark said yesterday.

The purpose of the inspection is to eliminate any inflammable refuse or other combustible materials that may have been allowed to accumulate in basements and store rooms.

Pep Club to Show Iowa-Indiana Game Movies Tomorrow

Movies of the entire Iowa-Indiana football game will be shown tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in Macbride auditorium.

Sponsor of the show will be Tailfeathers, the newly organized pep club, Porter Burrets, C2 of Mason City, chairman of the organization, announced at their meeting yesterday afternoon.

Tickets are priced at 16 cents, including tax.

Plans were announced at the Tailfeathers' meeting to have an outstanding football hero of former years as the guest speaker at a pep rally Friday night at 7:30 on the west front of Old Capitol.

Included on the program will be an original skit presented by members of Tailfeathers, a short talk by E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, head of the university athletic department, and music by the university band. Dick Yoakum, G of

Hawks Plan to 'Open Up' Against Notre Dame

Hawk Passers In Long Drill

Anderson Promises All-Out Iowa Attack Against Fighting Irish

Dr. Eddie Anderson, one of football's leading strategists, opened his bag of tricks yesterday, giving his Hawkeye gridiron charges a green light on the tricky stuff for their up-coming crucial battle with the powerful Irish from Notre Dame.

Along with the general "opening up" of the Iowa offense, a straight power affair so far this season, Dr. Eddie took the lid off the Hawks' passing attack—and indicated that some of the plays, never seen before outside the enclosed practice field, will be tossed against the Irish.

Emlien Tunnell, the flashy left half, threw completion after completion to a variety of receivers. And, just to cross the "Notre Dame" defensive squad of Iowa reserves, occasionally quarterback Lou King and halfback Bob Smith would step into the huriling role. Smith was Tulsa's passing back last season.

"Sure we'll pass a lot. We haven't done much lately—did not have to against Indiana. But this week there probably will be plenty of throwing," Dr. Eddie said.

"And we are working on some new plays, too," he added. "I think the boys will have them ready to uncover against Notre Dame. We'll need everything we can round up if we are to make a good showing against that great team."

So far, no special lineup changes have been made and the doctor wasn't ready yesterday to announce any. It's certain, of course, that the Shoener twins will be at the ends. Others hard to dislodge from the starting lineup are Bill Kay and Bruno Niedziela; and Earl Banks, right guard.

It's a toss-up among Russ Benda, Roger Kane and Ray Carlson for the left guard job and Jim Lawrence, Dick Laster and possibly Dick Woodard will await the call at center.

Today the Hawkeyes will get more lessons on defense, with Notre Dame stuff executed by the "B" squad. The passes of Johnny Lujack and the running of Emil Sikko, Terry Brennan, and Jim Mello, operating behind a 210-pound line, are chief concerns.

Drill Michigan Defense

ANN ARBOR, Mich., (AP)—University of Michigan gridmen got another long drill on pass defense yesterday as they prepared for their homecoming game with Illinois Saturday.

23 Teams Unbeaten

NEW YORK (AP)—The first check of the nation yesterday showed that 23 college football teams have managed to go through the first half of the grid campaign with unbeaten and untied records on the basis of three or more games played.

Hawks Among Top Runners

CHICAGO (AP)—A trio of smashing backs, who have averaged better than five yards a crack, is what makes undefeated Northwestern's "T" attack tick.

Official Big Nine statistics, listing Michigan's Bob Chappuis as the league's individual offensive leader with 338 yards in three games, ranked Northwestern's Vic Schwall, Art Murakowski and Frank Aschenbrenner among the top eight gainers.

The remarkable thing about the Wildcat ball-carrying trio is that their yardage mainly has resulted from rushing, a department in which coach Lynn Waldorf's explosive Purple excelled in Big Nine wins over Wisconsin and Minnesota and a 14-14 deadlock with co-leading Michigan.

Murakowski, 195-pound freshman fullback who looms as the conference rookie of the season, has battered 215 yards in three games for the league's biggest rushing total. He hasn't produced a yard by passing, yet ranks sixth in total offense.

Iowa's Bob Sullivan and Dick Hoerner, who may cause Notre Dame plenty of trouble in their meeting at Iowa City Saturday, have averaged 7.4 and 5.3 respectively in three league games. Sullivan, however, has carried the ball only 18 times for 134, while hard-hitting Hoerner has been the busiest conference back, making 40 trips for a 213 net.

Fritz Barzilauskas, 26, of Waterbury, Conn., a Nazi war prisoner for several months, is the "granddad" of the Yale football team.

Several new men have reported for practice recently. They are Allen Cutler, Waterloo; Norm Ziold, Amarna; Dave Maley, Highland Park, Ill.; Dick Boshart, Chicago.

Wives' Tickets On Sale Today

Paul Brechler, University of Iowa business manager of athletics, announced last night that students wives' tickets for Saturday's Notre Dame game will be on sale until 5 p. m. today. He has asked that all students desiring these tickets purchase them by that time.

Irish 'Trick Stuff' Planned for Hawks

SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP)—Coach Frank Leahy drilled his Notre Dame regulars on several new "secret" plays yesterday as the Irish stepped up preparations for their Saturday meeting with Iowa.

Scouting reports indicate most of the Hawkeye safety men are shifty in a broken field, so Leahy for the past two days has had his punters aiming for the sidelines.

Quarterbacks Johnny Lujack, George Ratterman and Frank Trippucka did most of the kicking. In addition to Bob Livingstone's knee injury, which may keep the halfback sidelined against Iowa, there also is some doubt whether Jack Zilly, regular right end, will have recovered from a sprained ankle by Saturday.

Hawks Ranked 17th in Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—Army, which gained added prestige by its 48-14 thumping of Columbia, was installed more firmly than ever as the nation's outstanding collegiate gridiron power yesterday by writers who voted in the Associated Press' weekly poll to select the ten top teams.

Of the 136 experts who participated, 112 of them picked Army Earl (Red) Blaik's Black Knights as the No. 1 team, followed by another split half, giving Army, Notre Dame, Texas and Pennsylvania a share in his first-place vote.

Notre Dame and Texas retained their respective second and third positions in the balloting as Alabama, stoned by Tennessee, 12-0, skidded out of the first ten to be replaced in the select circle by North Carolina, 21-14 conqueror of Navy.

Both Notre Dame and Texas lost their first-place votes to Army, the Irish winding up with 21 and the Longhorns with 13, in addition to the tie.

The Hawkeyes from Iowa, 13-0 winners over Indiana Saturday, made one of the biggest jumps of the week—moving into 17th place with a total of 42 points, 36 more than they received a week ago.

Jack Meagher Resigns Miami Coaching Job

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—Jack Meagher, head coach of the Miami Seahawks of the All-American Football conference, resigned yesterday, and the team was turned over to his two assistants, Henry G. (Hank) Crisp and Hampton J. (Hamp) Pool.

Harvey Hester, team president, said Meagher's resignation was accepted by the board of directors and that Pool, end coach, and Crisp, line coach, would serve as co-coaches for the rest of the season.

The Seahawks have won only one game in six conference starts and lost two exhibition contests. Their only victory was over Buffalo two weeks ago.

Hawk Cagers Boast—

'Iowa's Thin Man Is Back'

—And Pops Has Got Him

By BOB COLLINS
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Although Iowa's opening basketball date with South Dakota State is not slated until Dec 2, rumors persist that Hawkeye coach "Pops" Harrison is brewing a bitter batch of cage medicine to feed Big Nine opponents. From a squad of 80 aspirants, top-heavy with veteran lettermen, Harrison is conducting a daily free-for-all to compound a clicking combination.

At this stage, positions are all under severe competitive seige, the kind that produces the quality ball which any coach enjoys. But it's a fair country bet that one of the boys who will be seeing plenty of action is Jack Spencer, capable thin-man guard from Davenport.

Spencer is determined to take up this year where he left off in 1945, as guard on a conference championship Iowa basketball team. The six foot two inch ball hawk was out of competition last season and his leadership was missed especially in the closing games of the season when Iowa was edged out of the title.

For, while Spencer is a big gun in defensive control of the bankboards and a better-than-average long shot artist, his reputation has been built around his ability to set up an offense with accurate passes and his steady, cool floor play.

The sports world probably loves best the fellow who gives a game all he's got and who comes off his back to make good. Which, in a way, is just what Spencer has been doing all along his sports career. To see him covorting around the floor, one would never think that in 1939 Jack spent long months in a hospital recovering from a run-down condition attributed to his year-round strenuous activities playing basketball, football and baseball.

A lot of people thought he'd never again be able to take his place in sports. But inside of a year Spencer was back in the swim again only to take a second slap from fate while playing for Davenport high in the alumni basketball game when his brother Dave, prep star in his own right, collided with him so violently that he suffered a torn cartilage in his right knee necessitating an operation in 1940.

Playing on championship basketball teams is more or less a habit of Spencer who came out of the hospital a second time to spark the Blue Devils of Davenport to a State cage championship in 1941. Both in 1941 and 1942 he maneuvered around the court on his patched-up knee well enough to be honored by all-state selection.

Spencer confides that Iowa's Big Ten Championship aggregation of 1944-45 was a strong combination, and he suspects that the current edition of the Hawks will be tough to beat. He feels, however, that all other outfits in the conference will be similarly strengthened and that it should be a hot race down to the wire. And he's hustling in the best Iowa tradition to convince Coach Harrison that he wants to be in on the fun all the way.

Claim Harris New Yankee Manager

NEW YORK (AP)—The Daily News says it has learned that Stanley (Bucky) Harris has been selected as manager of the New York Yankees and Charley Dressen, coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been named as his No. 1 aide.

The news said the decision was made here yesterday in a "hush-hush session" attended by Larry MacPhail, president of the Yankees; Will Harridge, American league president, Harris and Dressen.

Harris, one-time "boy wonder" and former manager of the Washington Senators, was signed by the Yankees last month as an untitle administrative assistant to MacPhail.

The news said it had learned Harris was tendered a two-year contract at $40,000 a year. Reached soon after the first edition of the News had hit the street, Arthur (Red) Patterson, assistant to MacPhail, said the Yankee prey "had been sick in bed all day with a touch of the gripe."

Cross Country Meet Saturday

Iowa will open its cross country schedule on Saturday Nov. 2 against Chicago at Iowa City. The meet is set for 10:30 in the morning.

According to Coach George Breshnahan, a captain is being chosen each week to help other squad members in their workouts. He is picked on the basis of the interest he shows in practice the preceding week. Dick McClanahan was elected captain the first week and was reelected this week.

Workouts are held daily on the track and the cross country layout. Some of the boys have experienced difficulty in rounding into shape, due mainly to long periods of track inactivity, while in the service.

Spencer intends to go out for baseball next spring and if he does he'll be a handy fellow to have around. His versatility on the diamond is acknowledged in Davenport semi-pro circles where he has been known to pitch a couple innings, then catch and finally finish the game playing either infield or outfield.

Several new men have reported for practice recently. They are Allen Cutler, Waterloo; Norm Ziold, Amarna; Dave Maley, Highland Park, Ill.; Dick Boshart, Chicago.

The coach who thinks football is a GAME!

Some coaches regard football as a serious, dollars-and-cents business. But not Southern California's Jeff Cravath! While he plays to win—and he wins his share—he has a unique theory that football is, after all, a game that should be fun for the players. Why, he's even been known to give touchdowns away to needy opponents! Football fans will be interested in the lively article This Coach is a Softie—He Says by Collie Small in today's issue of The Saturday Evening Post. If you want to keep posted on the world of sports, you can't afford to miss a single issue of the Post.

Mayor's Committee to Study Water Franchise at Meeting

The first meeting of the mayor's committee to investigate the water franchise of the Iowa Water Service company will be held Monday at 4:30 p.m., according to Dr. Andrew H. Woods, chairman of the committee.

He said yesterday the outcome of the study should be obtained "as soon as possible."

Dr. Woods said the action of the committee was being watched carefully by Iowa City water users and that the one aim of the committee would be "to serve the best interests of all concerned."

Because of the interest shown toward the committee and because of the great number of questions, Dr. Woods said he had drawn up a list of the questions most often asked him.

The question, with Dr. Woods' answers are:

Q. Do you feel hopeful about the outcome of the committee's study?

A. The eight men of the committee have the kind of brains that are good at thinking. Their one aim will be to serve the best interests of all concerned. They will supply a clear outline of the important features that ought to be covered in a franchise.

Q. But won't some of them work only to get low prices for water and others to get unreasonably big dividends for the company?

A. If the members had been selected by the mayor as "representatives" to fight for advantages for one side or the other, I would have declined the mayor's invitation to be a member.

Q. Do you actually have a lot of confidence in the committee?

A. The mayor invited them to do a public service, not to root for one side or the other. Large minded men are not confined to big cities or to working at big international jobs. We have them here in Iowa City.

Q. What influence will the recent popular vote on the franchise have on the thinking of the committee?

A. The committee will realize the people are alert, in a critical mood.

Q. Aren't many townspeople, perhaps some members of the committee, of the opinion that nothing short of municipal ownership will be satisfactory? Why not save time by working for that now?

A. To meet the present situation in Iowa City, my preference is for private ownership under far-seeing management. I believe that some members of the present company and some of their best advisors see the trend in Iowa towns and cities away from private corporations and toward public ownership.

However that maybe, the committee's job is to outline a franchise that will protect the city and supply incentive to the present company.

According to Dr. Woods all the men named to the committee have notified him of their acceptance, with the exception of Dan C. Dutcher and Dean F. M. Dawson.

Those who have accepted are Prof. Herman H. Trachsel, James L. Records, James E. Stronks, D. C. Nolan, S. G. Winter and William R. Hart.

792 Veterans Obtain VA Advice, Counsel During September

A total of 792 veterans received personal advice and counsel from the Veterans administration office in Iowa City during the month of September. The Washington, Iowa, office assisted an additional 48 veterans, William J. Doherty, VA contact representative in Iowa City reported yesterday.

Throughout the state, a record-breaking total of 30,686 veterans received guidance from VA officials last month, the largest number to be advised in any single month in the history of Iowa's Veterans administration.

Of that total, according to Doherty, 29,379 veterans went to VA offices for assistance, and 1,307 others were counseled at their homes, in hospitals, at service organization meetings, or at other away-from-office locations.

Doherty said most of the veterans in this area sought assistance in reinstating their insurance, in education rights, and in compensation benefits during the past month.

Iowa City's VA office, located in room 206, Iowa State Bank & Trust building, is one of 36 in the state that is staffed and equipped to give first hand information and assistance to all veterans.

Veterans in this area may also obtain information from contact representatives at Washington, Iowa on Thursdays.

Iowa City Stolen Car Located in Wellman

An automobile owned by Weldon G. McCall, route 1, stolen from an Iowa City street Aug. 22, was located in Wellman yesterday according to Sheriff Preston Koser.

HE SUES FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

GEORGE KOSTEGAKES, 77, Sioux City suburban gardner, Monday brought a $1,000 breach of promise suit against Mrs. Christa Simoni, 74, shown together in a recent picture. Kostegakes charged Mrs. Simoni, who has ten grandchildren, "Suddenly changed her mind and left me waiting without a bride" after he spent $185.91 preparing for the wedding set for last June.

Rec Center Features—

Varied Activities

The program at the Iowa City recreation center has been greatly expanded to meet popular interest and increased attendance, according to J. Edgar Frame, superintendent of city recreation.

Activities at the center now vary from the biweekly Paper Doll dance party for teen agers to a new business men's recreational group which will meet daily after Nov. 1.

The Paper Doll, teen-age "night club" staged in the ballroom and lounge, attracted 1,300 during September.

Frame said he was pleased with the leadership displayed by the preppers in helping organize the Paper Doll and other activities.

Credit to Kids
"The Paper Doll is popular with young people," he said. "But all credit should go to those kids. They have their own officers and run their own show."

Six other programs are under way for the fall session, Frame said. They include handball, volleyball, indoor ball, boxing club, basketball and special dancing classes.

Frame indicated teenagers' athletic interests did not slump in summer months. There were often 400 youngsters participating daily in playground sports, Ralph Tucker, athletic director said. Prep students and children took part in softball, outdoor badminton, horse shoes, tennis, and used the wading pool.

Playground Facilities
Tucker said playground facilities will be expanded next summer with the addition of the new Brown street lighted softball field.

Attendance at the recreation center during last month was generally above that of September last year, Frame said. A total of 1,644 attended, 495 above the 1945 figure of 1149 for the same month.

Preppers from outlying county areas are attending in addition to city-wide participation. Monthly report figures show that attendances for men and women were the only ones to drop this year in comparison to September, 1945.
