GOP Begins Charting Congressional Plans Idea of Truman Quitting Termed 'Fantastic'

McNarney Opens Reich To Business

FRANKFURT (AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney yesterday threw open the doors of the United States zone in Germany to American businessmen and others with the necessary dollar credits to purchase industrial products now coming out of German factories.

Visualizing an export business of between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000 from the American zone for the current fiscal year, the American commander in Europe held a news conference.

"The need for building up dollar balances in Germany to offset the cost of occupation to the American taxpayer is as great as ever. One way of lessening the burden on U.S. citizens, and at the same time give them something in return, is through exports of the limited but increasing supply of goods now being turned out by German factories in the U.S. zone."

Cameras, optical goods, toys, ceramics and furniture such as radio cabinets are among products available for export, he said.

While his statement was addressed primarily to U.S. businessmen, he said foreign buyers were also welcome "as long as they deal in dollar credits."

Arrangements for purchase will have to be made "through military government channels," for the time being because of regulations prohibiting German businessmen from engaging directly in export trade," he said.

Italian Government Rejects Tito's Offer For Trieste Deal

ROME (AP)—Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Communist leader, brought from Marshal Tito yesterday a conciliatory offer to bargain on Trieste. The Italian government at once rejected Tito's specific offer—as gently as possible.

Togliatti said the Yugoslav chief was ready to let Italy keep Trieste—the first such willingness he has shown—provided Yugoslavia could have Gorizia, a smaller city to the north which is slated in the peace treaty to go to Italy, and provided a "democratic" autonomous rule was set up in Trieste.

A few hours later the Italian cabinet announced "Italy cannot consider the cession to Yugoslavia of Gorizia, an integral part of Italian territory and as such recognized unanimously by the Big Four."

The communique expressed willingness to negotiate on other proposals brought from Tito, however, and Foreign Minister Pietro Nenni issued this clarifying statement: "Obviously (the government) could not take as a point of departure for direct negotiations with Yugoslavia the giving up of an Italian city which the Big Four had already decided ought to remain Italian."

However, the statement added, "The government has noted with the liveliest satisfaction the positive elements which stand out in the news brought by Togliatti which refer to Yugoslavia's renunciation of all claim to Trieste, the repatriation of prisoners and the rapid reestablishment of commercial relations between the two countries."

15-Year-Old Arsonist Committed to Eldora

WATERLOO (AP)—Richard Hall, 15, who admitted starting five fires in Waterloo and Cedar Falls that resulted in a total loss of $280,224, yesterday was committed to the state training school for boys at Eldora following a hearing in municipal court.

Eugene Fike, 14, who admitted being with Hall when the latter started a $10,000 fire at a warehouse owned by the city of Cedar Falls, also was committed to the training school but was paroled.

U.S. May Retain Mandated Islands

Limited Supervision Offered UN Group As Alternate Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States served notice yesterday that it would retain control of mandated Pacific islands taken from Japan in the recent war if the United Nations finally rejects an American plan for limited U.N. supervision of those vast island areas.

John Foster Dulles, a United States alternate delegate to the U.N. assembly, informed the 51-member trusteeship committee of the United States offer of limited supervision which was announced Wednesday night in Washington and later told newsmen in effect that this country would keep its hands on the islands.

"If the proposal fails, the administration continues in de facto status under the control of the present administering authority," Dulles said. Some newsmen suggested that this might be termed a "take-it-or-leave-it" condition but Dulles did not agree with that interpretation.

In the committee Dulles asked the United Nations to set up a trusteeship council immediately. He coupled this with a warning against bringing the veto into the trusteeship picture at this time.

Russia has not tipped her hand on trusteeships but there have been reports that she might seek to declare herself a state "directly concerned" and by that interpretation exercise a sort of veto on trusteeships.

Striking at the possibility that any state might seek an "interested" status to invoke a veto, Dulles said:

"The United States is willing to join with others in accepting a system of equality and not asserting a special position in relation to the agreements now before us. We do not want an interpretation of 'states directly concerned' which might import the veto system into the work of the assembly.

"We believe that history will not judge kindly any who take a position which would in fact block the establishment of the trusteeship system and its grant to dependent peoples of the right to eventual self-government or independence."

Meanwhile, preparations went ahead for two plenary meetings of the assembly today (10 a.m. CST and 3 p.m. CST) at the Flushing Meadow auditorium.

Russians Celebrate 29th Year of USSR

MOSCOW (AP)—Thousands of Russians who packed into Red square yesterday for the 29th anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik revolution saw one of their smallest military displays in years and heard Marshal Leonid A. Govorov portray the Soviet Union as a nation striving to insure peace for all the world.

Present only in pictures was Generalissimo Joseph Stalin, who years ago viewed the parade while German armies were hammering at the approaches to Moscow. His pictures were hung against the great backdrop of the ancient square, but he made no personal appearance.

(It was the second year in a row that Stalin, who was taking a needed Black sea vacation at this time last year, did not attend the Red square ceremonies. Last night Gen. Andrei Zhdanov delivered the annual policy declaration given by Stalin. A year ago the declaration was made by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who is now in New York.

(The Times of London speculated that it was "perhaps on medical advice" that Stalin stayed away this year. The order of the day for the celebration was signed by Deputy Minister of Defense Nikolai Buganin, and not by Stalin.)

A light icy rain fell as the Russians, beginning a three-day holiday, massed into the historic square,

Possible Break Seen In Soft Coal Dispute

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A possible break in the soft coal dispute was foreshadowed last night when John L. Lewis summoned to Washington the 30 union district presidents who would have to approve any settlement plan.

The union-government wage talks were recessed until Monday without any report on progress, but the call to the union's district officers indicated the negotiations had reached the stage where an important decision was to be made.

Lewis plans to end his present contract with the government on behalf of his 400,000 United Mine workers Nov. 20 although Secretary of Interior Krug has questioned the legality of such a move. Neither Lewis nor Krug has attended the Washington wage talks, which have been conducted by their lieutenants, but both may be present Monday.

Meanwhile, striking Trans World Airline Pilots studied a new government arbitration plan for ending their 17-day-old strike and the CIO United Farm Equipment workers opened new wage talks in Chicago on behalf of 30,000 International Harvester company employees.

TWA officials in Washington have promised that airline operations would be resumed as soon as the union's 11 councils ratify the proposal, but David L. Behncke, union president, said the strikers' decision might not be known "for several days."

The farm equipment workers union made no specific wage demands in their opening conference, which a company spokesman described as "exploratory." The company's 30,000 production workers were granted an 18 cents hourly pay boost last April after an 80 day strike.

Their new general demands included an unspecified wage increase, elimination of inequities in some classifications, guaranteed annual wages, elimination of piece work systems and company payment of group insurance premiums.

At Uniontown, Pa., a strike of 110 teachers which had left 3,200 students idle for 27 days tentatively settled when the school board pledged to grant any day raises possible immediately and to put a $400 boost for each teacher in the 1947 school budget.

DECIDING TO give his wife a scare, Herbert L. Wagner turned on all the gas jets in his Hynes, Cal., home and sat down to await his wife's momentary arrival home. While waiting, he decided to light a cigarette. Seconds later, the four walls of the house were blown out, the roof collapsed, and a badly burned prankster—Wagner—was carried from the wreckage top. Treated for first, second and third degree burns from head to his waist, Wagner, right, again lights a cigarette (International)

Ohio Town Pastors Ask Sledgehammers To Clean Up City

STUEBENVILLE, O., (AP)—Plans for formation of a city-wide citizens league "to clean up the city" were announced yesterday after City Solicitor William J. Weinman maintained the city council is without authority to allow 12 Protestant pastors to form a "sledgehammer vice patrol" acting independently of police officials.

Calvin Cook, church member and head of a local printing company, invited "all straight-thinking and decent citizens" to join the league to give "any kind of support the ministers may need to clean up the city."

Asked by a newsmen if the league would carry guns if requested to do so by the pastors, Cook declared: "We will supply armed patrols packing guns if the ministers request them."

Cook said the organization would be a permanent one "to further establishment of good government in Steubenville. The ministers have thrown the ball," Cook said, "and we as members of the league will carry it for them. We plan to look into misconduct in public office."

Weinman asserted existing local ordinances would compel the city council's special session Thursday night to reject the pastor's petition to carry sledgehammers to "smash the city's vice centers" and to select 20 armed World War II veterans for a "special vice squad to clean out the underworld."

Falling Pipe Kills 2 Des Moines Men

DES MOINES (AP)—Two Des Moines men were crushed to death and another was seriously injured yesterday when a cable on a heavy crane pulled out of a socket dropping a three-ton section of gas pipe into a ditch.

The men, all workmen for the Iowa Light and Power company, were laying a new 14-inch high pressure gas pipe in southwest Des Moines.

J. W. Clark, 64, foreman of the ditching and pipe laying gang, and Max Metheny, 32, a welder's helper were in the ditch when the crane boom fell.

They were trapped and crushed in a sitting position as about three ton of pipe fell on their backs.

Raymond Stiver 26, was standing on the edge of the ditch. The falling crane boom struck him across the head and body knocking him unconscious. He was reported in serious condition at Broadlawn's general hospital.

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Seven British Royal Air Force fliers were killed early yesterday when their plane, en route from Germany to Scotland, struck a mine chimney near Hamm.

President Has No Thought Of Resigning

By ERNEST R. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman brushed aside as fantastic yesterday even the possibility that he will resign to turn over the presidency to the victorious Republicans.

It can be said unqualifiedly that he not only intends to stay on the job, but that he is making plans for his administration under the changes brought by Republican control of congress.

That he has not even toyed with the idea of quitting is confirmed by everyone who has talked with the president since Tuesday's Republican landslide.

This is the firm view expressed by everyone who knows the president, including newspapermen who have followed him since he entered the White House upon the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Sen. Fulbright's Idea

The idea of resignation was voiced by Senator Fulbright (D., Ark.).

It would involve the appointment of a Republican secretary of state immediately preceding the resignation, enabling the appointee to succeed to the presidency.

Fulbright himself stuck by his idea yesterday but said he did not intend to do anything about it—that he had merely advanced it as an observation.

He repeated, however, that he will introduce in the new congress a constitutional amendment to permit a quick change in the event of another such power split.

The resignation plan, the Arkansas told reporters, was merely a suggestion for a quick way to deal with the current situation. He said there is no question as to its legality in view of the constitution's mention of "resignation" of the chief executive. As to procedure, he said the logical person to receive a resignation would be the president of the senate.

"The country has spoken so decisively in the election that it is entitled to have the Republican party in power and see what it can do," Fulbright said.

Officially, the White House takes an attitude that the idea should not be dignified by comment.

Mr. Truman has made it clear to intimates that he has not even considered resigning.

His chief concern, it is said, is that the Democratic defeat be not misunderstood abroad and that there be no deviation from the present bi-partisan foreign policy.

In the latter view, he is known to be counting on support from former Republican Sen. Warren Austin of Vermont, United States representative to the United Nations; Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) and other Republican leaders who have collaborated with Secretary of State Byrnes in formulating this country's course in international relations.

No Reprisal Plans
Despite his disappointment over the election results and the defeat of many close friends, Mr. Truman was said to have had no thought of anything in the nature of a reprisal.

While he realizes some conflict is inevitable when the Republicans move into congress, he intends—as he puts it to friends—to take it in his stride.

Definitely, he tells them, he is not downhearted and is planning to do from day to day "what seems to me to be the right thing."

In the future, as he sees it, he will be in a position to fix responsibility on the Republicans for the defeat of his administrative proposals and for the passage of legislation he does not wish.

As one follower put it, "He won't have to pull any punches."

This man, who talked at some length with the president, said Mr. Truman is going to conduct himself without heed to his own personal political future.

GOP May Reopen Pearl Harbor Case

Sen. Brewster Asks Further Investigation Of Nazi-Russian Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me) said yesterday that Republicans, now in the majority, may insist on reopening the Pearl Harbor investigation with emphasis on pre-war diplomatic developments including the Russo-German non-aggression pact.

As another possibility he discussed a broadened inquiry by the senate war investigating committee into war profits; military government in Germany, and delays in the housing program at home. As senior Republican, Brewster would be in line for chairman of that committee if the senate decides to keep it in existence.

Referring to the Russo-German agreement as a protocol for the division of Europe, Brewster complained at a news conference that it never had been made public in its entirety. He declared that parts were "suppressed" at the Nuerberg war guilt trials.

The Maine senator was a member of the joint senate-house Pearl Harbor investigating committee which heard months of evidence before formulating its bulky report.

He said he thought the committee covered actual military angles of the surprise Japanese blow with fair thoroughness, but did not dip deeply enough into the diplomatic record.

"Knowing how the last war developed might help us prevent another one," he said.

Election Results Got the Votes, Now Needs a House

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Several homeless St. Louisians followed returns from Tuesday's election with a special interest.

Republican Claude I. Bakewell, elected to congress from Missouri's 11th district, reported today he had received telephone calls from several persons hoping to buy or rent his St. Louis house.

"The first one came almost before the votes had been counted," Bakewell said. He added that first he must solve his own housing problem and find a place to live crowded Washington.

YOUNGEST STATE REPRESENTATIVE

ROBERT LEROY BOCK, 21, a University of Kansas sophomore, was elected to the Kansas house of representatives in the complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's election. Bock, not old enough to vote in the August primaries, became 21 Sept. 5. A war veteran, he will be the youngest member of the Kansas legislature. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Republicans Turn Attention To '47 Issues

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Victorious senate Republicans yesterday ordered a head start on whipping together a party program and policy for the first GOP-dominated congress in a decade and a half. Their steering committee goes into a huddle next Thursday.

House Republican leaders already had picked the same day to start things humming in a steering committee of their own.

Democrats, too, switched from election post mortems to asking in earnest: "Where do we go from here?" They found no easy answer.

With the Democrats, it was a question of crawling out of their election bomb shelters, taping up their wounds, and trying to close ranks around those of their number who were not casualties.

Whatever hopes for the future they held were based largely on the idea that perhaps the Republicans might mess things up so badly that the people will turn once again to the Democrats, if not in 1948, then in 1950 or 1952.

GOP Has Big Plans
The GOP, determined that nothing like that shall happen, have a big organizing and planning job to do.

This is how they are going about it:

The steering committees—compact groups of a few key leaders—meet next week to start figuring out the exact position the Republicans should take on taxes, economic controls, war powers and other legislative issues sure to come up in 1947.

In addition they are going to look into the problem of distributing major congressional posts, available to the GOP for the first time since the early 30s. They have to work out committee assignments and committee chairmanships, and determine whether to stick by a decision of the 79th congress to abolish some committees and bunch others together.

Whatever their recommendations, these will have to be ratified later on. A conference of all house Republicans has been set for Dec. 2. None has been called yet for GOP senators.

Probable Campaign
On the basis of campaign promises and statements and post-election comments from party leaders, the Republicans appear to be ready to move in the direction of:

1. Sharply trimming taxes and government spending.
2. Junking as swiftly as possible all remaining wartime controls. These are the basis of many of the pricing, allocation and rationing programs, also scrapping the president's power to seize struck industries in an emergency.
3. Continuing a bipartisan foreign policy.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) spoke in Chicago of trimming to $25,000,000,000 or $30,000,000,000 the budget for the year beginning next July 1. President Truman's revised budget for the current year is around $41,500,000,000.

Latest Election Standings
Latest standings in the political league, with most of the tabulations from Tuesday's elections conclusive, show:

Senate—With two races undecided (West Virginia and Maryland) and Democrats leading in both, Republicans have elected 23 and have a total of 51. Democrats have elected 11 and have a total of 43. A majority is 49.

House—With one contest (1st Utah) in doubt, Republicans have elected 246, Democrats 187, American Labor one. A majority is 218.

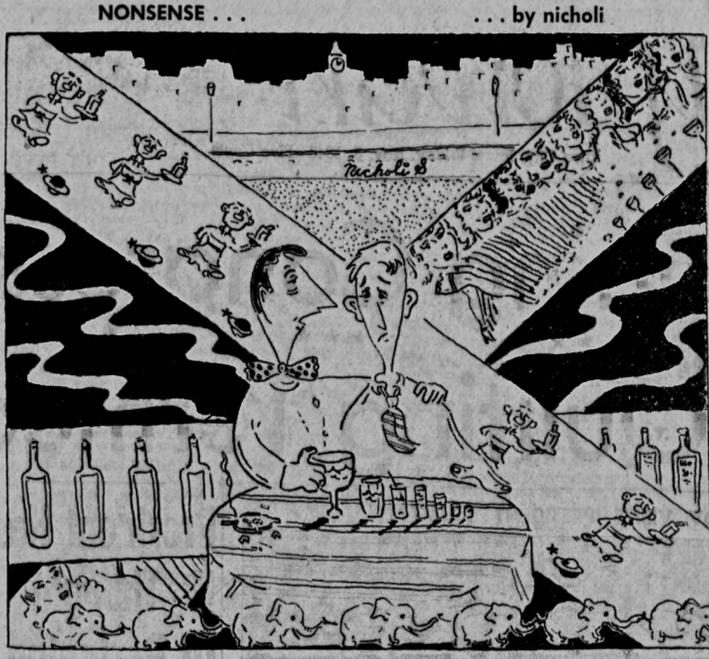

Preliminary tabulations of the total vote indicated it may pass the 36,000,000 record set in 1938 for an off-year election.

An Associated Press tabulation of the major party vote, with returns missing from three southern states and incomplete in most others, added up to 32,708,200. The Republicans got 17,914,073 and the Democrats 14,194,127.

OF CABBAGES AND KINGS—

Republican Unity Myth

And so begins the struggle for control of the Republican party. Tuesday's sweeping GOP congressional victory served to culminate an intensive campaign in which internal Democratic friction was successfully exploited by Republican candidates who presented a supposedly unified party front.

Think it Over, Mr. President

Mr. Truman would do well to take into careful consideration the rather amazing suggestion from several well respected sources that he appoint a Republican secretary of state and then himself resign.

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT—

Depression No Joke

By SAMUEL GRAFTON
(New York Post Syndicate)
There is a note of glee in certain conservative discussions of the coming recession which is newsworthy, both as a trend and a mood.

Well, maybe these are jokes; but the feeling is there, the emotion is there, and it shows up on a higher level, too.

Nobody seems very anxious to stop the coming recession. Perhaps bitterness in current labor-management relations is one reason for the strange, but unmistakable joy with which the approaching shakedown is being greeted by some who ought to know better.

I have, in a previous essay in this space, quoted from an editorial in one important financial daily which actually seemed to hail the coming economic disturbance with satisfaction, because of the help it would offer in cutting "prices and costs," meaning, among other things, wages.

Actually, the coming recession would seem to offer the best of opportunities for management and labor to get together on a common program for avoiding it, or averting it.

Can't we stop it, instead? It won't be good, really. But the ameliorative work breaks against the private smile; and one has the feeling that one is intruding into a room in which passions have risen too distortingly high to be easily mollified.

'Bachelors' Nominated by Men's Houses; 'Most Eligible' to Reign at Spinster's Spree;

Nominations from men's housing units for the most "eligible bachelor" on campus to reign at the Spinster's Spree, were filed last night at the office of student affairs.

University men chosen for the bachelor contest include: Bob Graham, A2 of Kewanee, Ill., Phi Delta Theta; Melvin Kadesky, A2 of Dubuque, Phi Epsilon Pi; William McDonald, A3 of Chicago, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Harold Larson, E3 of Niota, Ill., Alpha Chi Sigma.

Roscoe Thoen, D3 of Iowa City, Phi Omega; John Ford, A3 of Des Moines, Phi Gamma Delta; Daryl Annis, C1 of Waterloo, Phi Kappa Psi; Ernest Pence, A4 of South Bend, Ind., Sigma Chi; John Thompson, M1 of Mason City, Alpha Kappa Kappa; Bill Munsell, A3 of Boone, Beta Theta Pi.

Walter Reno, A2 of Des Moines, Alpha Tau Omega; Charles Uknes, A4 of Sioux City, Sigma Nu; Milford Sterry, M1 of Greene, Phi Beta Pi; Robert Feller, A4 of Victor, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Buddy Hart, A4 of Wilisett, N. D., Delta Upsilon; Robert Mellen, L2 of Cedar Rapids, and Norman Gould, A1 of Oskaloosa, Law Commons; Milford Donnellson, A1 of Logan, Hillcrest; Ken Slack, A1 of Oskaloosa, Kelllogg house, and Bill Bergman, L1 of Ft. Madison, Delta Tau Delta.

Pictures of the candidates will be placed on display in Bremer's window Monday, and women's housing units will receive ballots that day. Women's units must turn in their final votes at the U.W.A. desk in Old Capitol by Nov. 19.

A new system of voting will be employed this year, according to Holly Baker, A4 of Highland Park, Ill., chairman of the dance committee. Instead of a majority vote in one housing unit counting as one popular vote, all individual votes will be totaled to insure a fair election.

The most eligible bachelor will be presented at the traditional girl-take-boy dance, to be held at Iowa Union Saturday, Nov. 23. The two runner-up will act as attendants to the winner.

Improper Refrigeration Cited as Chief Cause Of Most Food Poisoning

Dr. I. H. Borts, director of the state hygienic laboratory, who spoke on food poisoning at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club yesterday, stated that most food poisoning cases are due to insufficient refrigeration.

Pastries and custards lead the list of individual foods responsible for cases of poisoning, with ham and beef next in line, according to lists compiled by the hygienic laboratory.

Dr. Borts warned of the danger of botulism toxin poisoning, which proves fatal in a great percentage of cases. Botulism occurs from improper home canning of non-acid vegetables.

Never taste canned foods having an odd smell or coming from swollen jars or cans, he warned.

Plan Square Dance, Baton Twirling Acts For Half Time Show

To the tune of "Hi Neighbor!", the University of Iowa band will march into Camp Randall stadium in Madison, Wis., tomorrow to help the University of Wisconsin celebrate its homecoming, at the Iowa-Wisconsin football game.

Features of the band's half-time show, according to Prof. C. B. Righter, director of university bands, will be a baton-twirling exhibition by Joanne Huss, A4 of Davenport, and a square-dance by band members, who will play the "Irish Washerwoman" as they dance.

As another half-time act, the band will form the word,

"Howdy" and face the Wisconsin stands to play the familiar "Howdy" song.

In its pregame appearance, the band will face the Iowa stands in the shape of the word, HAWKS. Then, facing the Wisconsin stands, they will play and sing a special "Salute to Wisconsin," with Arnold Oehlsen, assistant director of bands, directing.

After a performance by the Wisconsin band, the two groups will unite, and the combined unit, 250 strong, will play the national anthem, directed by Professor Righter.

The 125 member band party will leave Iowa City tonight at midnight by special train. After spending Saturday evening in Madison, the group will entrain for Iowa City at 1 a. m. Sunday, arriving here at 9 a. m.

'Legislation Cannot Solve U.S. Labor Problems'—Daykin

University Professor, Arbitrator, Addresses 'Information First'

Maintaining that the United States can never solve labor problems by legislation, Prof. Walter L. Daykin of the college of commerce declared yesterday at Information First that the weakness of such legislation lies in the fact that it is either strictly pro or strictly con.

"America is at the cross-roads as far as labor-management relations are concerned," Professor Daykin asserted. "I hope we don't pass any too drastic legislation against the labor group." He predicted that if such legislation is passed, it will be ignored.

Professor Daykin advocated instead an objective attitude toward all labor problems, which he defined as essentially human problems.

Interested In Causes

"Our trouble in industry has been that we haven't been interested in the cause but just in the results," Professor Daykin declared. "To effect cures, however, we must understand the causes. The solution to these problems can come only through thorough understanding of the problems."

Neither can labor be controlled by being told it is better off than workers in some foreign countries, he insisted.

Predicting bigger Political Action committee activities in the future, Professor Daykin cautioned that "bigger" does not necessarily mean "better." "Whatever action we take will strengthen their position," he declared.

Listing demands labor will probably make in the future, Professor Daykin included wages as the most fundamental issue. He suggested that improvement of workers' living standards will be another of labor's goals.

Bigger Voice

"Labor will want a bigger voice in the internal operation of industrial plants—in wages, hours and working conditions," Professor Daykin said, "but labor won't be very concerned with some of management's present functions such as prices."

He added that labor will continue to request more voice in the installation of machines that threaten their jobs—especially when they are introduced at a time that would cause unemployment.

The diversity between the labor price scale and the standard of living gives rise to many labor problems, according to Professor Daykin.

"As the big industries assume the nature of public utilities," Professor Daykin pointed out, "it will become difficult to do away with politics in labor groups."

Whata ya know, we've got company.

Iowa football fans, including yours truly, have been walking around town like a bunch of zombies ever since the Hawks lost to Illinois last Saturday, but for the past two days I've noticed a lot of newcomers to our "long faced" brigade—members of the Democratic party that got taken into camp Tuesday night worse than Notre Dame took the Hawks.

And personally, I'm for letting these guys take over complete control of the gloom field. Iowa football isn't anywhere near as bad off as the Democrats are.

For that matter, even though Iowa's conference title and Rose Bowl hopes have gone up in smoke, the boys are really doing quite well for themselves.

Before the season started we were supposed to fight it out with Minnesota for eighth place, we weren't given a chance against Michigan, Notre Dame or Illinois and very little chance against Purdue, Indiana and Wisconsin.

But Dr. Eddie Anderson's boys beat both the Boilermakers and the Hoosiers and threw terrific scares into Michigan and Illinois. With three weeks left in the season they were very much in the middle of the conference battle and even now have an excellent chance to roll up one of Iowa's best league records in history.

If they beat both Wisconsin and Minnesota in their two remaining games—and they should do this—the 1946 outfit will join the teams of '21, '22 and '39 as the only eleven in school history to win at least four conference games. Not bad for a "cellar" team.

We'd also like to take this opportunity to straighten out a couple of stories that have been going the rounds this week.

First—Emlen Tunnell and Earl Banks will be wearing Iowa uniforms next year, despite rumors that have the two Hawkeye stars taking off for everywhere from Toledo U. to Mississippi State after this season ends. For that matter, don't be too surprised if they show up next fall with a couple ball playing buddies in tow.

And—Dick Hoerner has been warned that any more football this season might end his career. Large Richard has hurt his right three different times in three different places and hopes to give it a complete rest until the 1948 season rolls around.

Time: 8 o'clock tonight
Place: Hill Park, Cedar Rapids

By DON SCANNELL
Staff Reporter

Iowa City high's rampaging Little Hawk gridgers meet the Wilson high track team tonight at Hill Park, Cedar Rapids, to settle the question of who will wear the Mississippi Valley crown for the 1946 football season. A victory tonight will also make the Hawklets chief claimants of the mythical state championship.

Coach Herb Cormack will send his charges onto the field seeking their ninth straight win of the season and an undisputed claim to the Valley title. The Hawklets are leading the conference with five wins while Wilson is in the runnerup spot with four wins and one loss.

The only black mark on the record of the Ramblers is a 7-0 defeat at the hands of East Waterloo in their opener. Since then Wilson has captured the Cedar Rapids city championship for the second straight year and rolled over four league foes with comparative ease.

Coach Bill Barnard of the Ramblers boasts six lettermen in the backfield although Wilbur Miller is slated to start the contest at end instead of his normal left half position. Four of them, Bob Anderson, Tom Gaines, Miller and Dick Flikejs, formed the 440 yard relay team that placed fourth in the state track meet last spring. A fifth man on the team, right end Keith Brown, anchored the state championship mile relay team.

Farni Quits Squad

AMES, Ia. (AP)—Ed Farni, Iowa State quarterback, who was injured in the Oklahoma game and the injury aggravated in last Saturday's game with Kansas State, has turned in his suit and will see no more action this year, Coach Mike Michalske said yesterday.

Hoosiers Shift Groomes

Cats Sharpen Claws

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The Northwestern football squad went through a light workout yesterday, with the varsity concentrating on defense against Indiana plays.

Conway, an all-state tackle, the kicking and pass catching of Bob Vrbicek and it appears that the Hawklets are due for a very busy evening.

Tom Gaines runs the Ramblers "T" formation from the quarterback position and is dangerous on wide end sweeps. His short passes into the flat have pulled Wilson out of many a hole and spread the defense for Flikejs to break loose on his power slants.

In the line Brown and Miller form a pair of swift rangy ends that are sure to trouble the Hawks tonight. Don Gaines brother of quarterback Tom, teams with Conway to give the Ramblers a tackle combination that has stopped opponents thrusts into the line with repeated regularity.

Bob Mayfield is a fixture at one guard with 180 pound sophomore LaVern Dostal sure to draw the starting nod at the other. Ken Charipar at center completes the probable lineup at game time.

Against this array of talent, Cormack will start an eleven that compares favorably to the Ramblers in speed and outweighs the Parlor City boys 13 pounds per man. And the Hawklets have one of the best signal callers and finest passer in the state in the person of quarterback Jim Sangster.

In addition Cormack will throw at the Ramblers two of the best breakaway men in the conference, halfbacks Don Fryauf and Bob Wilson. Wilson, apparently fully recovered from the ankle injury that has bothered him since early in the season, is prepared to wind his high school career the way he started it, with a bang. He and Sangster will share the captain's duties tonight.

Fryauf, the Hawklets leading candidate for all-state honors, will be trying to add to his scoring total of 90 points in eight games. Tom Miller, blocking back superb, may be called on to take over some of the ball carrying to add variety to the Hawklet attack.

At ends Bill Reichardt and Gerri Cannon will start but Joe Cilek and Kirk Carson are also sure to see action. Leo Zeithamel and Don Seydel will be at the tackle posts with Chick Evans and Dale Spennell at guards and versatile Virgil Troyer at center. Rox Shain will enter the lineup to kickoff while Harold Brauner and Francis Beasley should see plenty of duty on defense.

Mud at Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Rain turned the Buckeye gridiron into a quagmire yesterday before Saturday's encounter with Pittsburgh. Witnesses of the Ohio State-Pitt game in 1945 recall the Bucks, favored to win by 20 points, had a rough time on a muddy field overcoming the Panthers 14-0.

Barwegan, DeMoss Out

HOERNER SIDELINED

Dick Hoerner, Iowa's hard running fullback, said yesterday that he "probably won't see any more grid action this season" due to a badly injured knee.

The announcement left Dr. Eddie Anderson without the starting services of two of his ace backs as Emlen Tunnell, the Hawkeye passer, has been bothered with a swollen leg and is scheduled for light duty against Wisconsin tomorrow in Camp Randall stadium.

Hoerner was first injured against Nebraska when he twisted his right knee—then against Indiana he aggravated the injury and in the Illinois game suffered a new injury to the same knee when he pulled several ligaments.

The Iowa ground gaining star said that his personal physician had advised him against playing any more football this season if he wanted to play again next fall. However Hoerner will make the trip to Madison but Anderson said he "probably will not be used."

Ron Headington will be in Hoerner's fullback spot and Bob Sullivan will take over for Tunnell at left half back.

On the bright side of the injury list, Herb Shoener, regular right end, will be ready for action after watching the Illinois game from the sidelines with a pulled knee ligament that benched him the week before.

Bob Phillips will start in the position but Shoener is slated to see action.

The rest of the Hawkeye lineup will remain the same with Hal Shoener manning the other end spot, Bill Kay and Bruno Niedziela at tackles, game captain Ray Carlson and Earl Banks at guards, Jim Lawrence at center, Lou King at quarterback and Bob Smith at right half.

Thirty-six strong, the squad will leave Iowa City this morning by chartered bus and will arrive in Jameville this afternoon to set up pre-game headquarters. The trip will be completed tomorrow morning with the squad scheduled to arrive at Camp Randall shortly before noon.

Right guards: Earl Banks, Dave Day, Bob Liddy

Right tackles: Bruno Niedziela, Jim Cozad, Bob Geigel

Right ends: Bob Phillips, Sherman Howard, Tony Guzowski, Herbert Shoener

Right halfbacks: Bob Smith, Duke Curran, Dell Bartells

Fullbacks: Ron Headington, Dick Hoerner, Russ Fechter, John Hunter

Johnny Lujack Joins Notre Dame Squad As Irish Head East

SOUTH BEND, IND. (AP)—Notre Dame's "let's-get-even" football squad—36 strong and full of fight—headed east Thursday for revenge on Army, with the hospital contingent all improving and sparkplug Quarterback Johnny Lujack proclaiming there was no cause to worry about him.

All three of the ailing gridgers—hustling Halfback Floyd Simmons and Ziggy Czarowski, the bruising tackle, along with Lujack—left aboard the Irish revenge special with the rest of the squad at 4 p. m. yesterday after turning out for the final two-hour home practice in the morning.

Both Lujack, much of the swelling on his ankle gone, and Czarowski, still handicapped by a torn hip muscle, actually got into the light work-out.

The quick return of Lujack enabled the Irish—from Coach Frank Leahy right down to the waterboys—to draw their first comfortable breath since late Wednesday when the keyman of the team sprained his right ankle in the final full-dress drill. Under hot compresses in the college infirmary all night, he was examined this morning by Dr. Joseph Caton, Notre Dame campus physician, who found the injury had "responded well to the treatment."

Young Republicans Say Congress Should Not Attempt to Reduce Taxes

Members of the university Young Republicans' league last night concurred generally that the 80th general session of congress should not attempt to reduce taxes by 20 percent as has been proposed in some Republican circles.

Members were for the most part favored balancing the national budget, but felt that it could be achieved more effectively through cuts in the farm subsidy program and the elimination of wartime governmental agencies still in operation.

Reduction of farm subsidies was favored by 82 percent of those who answered the opinion form prepared by national Young Republican headquarters.

Reduction of expense through eliminating government agencies necessary to the national welfare was opposed by 21 of 22 answering the question. All answered that no reduction in veterans benefits should be attempted.

Mel Baker, G of Davenport, moderated the open forum.

Temporary chairman Dean M. Lierle Jr., A1 of Iowa City, said that the local chapter will probably write Iowa congressmen concerning opinion formulated at future weekly forums.

Next meeting for the group is Nov. 21.

'Republican Landslide is Slap At Over-Zealous Liberals' --Porter

Professor Declares Victory Indicates Americans' Fears

By WINIFRED SHIELDS
Describing the Republican landslide in Tuesday's election as a "slap at over-zealous liberals, not an endorsement of Republican party principles," Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department last night declared the election was a "serious set-back to the cause of liberalism."

Porter spoke at a forum of the American Veterans committee, analyzing the domestic implications of Republican victories.
"The Republican return to power indicates a vague fear on the part of the American people," Porter said. He described the efforts of eager liberals to effect changes regardless of constitutional limitations as terrorizing the average American citizen.
Over-Zealous Liberals
"Although over-zealous liberals exist in both parties," Porter said,

"the Democrats are now taking the rap for them."
Joining Professor Porter in the analysis of election returns was Prof. J. Van der Zee, also of the political science department, who discussed the national and international implications of the vote.
"The United States has had a bi-partisan foreign policy for two years," Professor Van der Zee stated, "and I don't believe it will be altered." He said that the conscience of the Republican party has been hurting since they bungled peace plans after World War I, and that he expected the full cooperation of the two parties in foreign policy.
"If the Republican party should return to their old doctrine of high tariff barriers—and they might," Professor Van der Zee added, "our foreign relations would be considerably changed."
Commenting on opinion abroad, Professor Van der Zee declared he saw no evidence of apprehension, although the world still attaches a "depression stigma" to the Republican party.
Informal Discussion
In an informal discussion following the forum, Professor Porter termed "unfortunate" recent Republican claims that their party will "reduce taxes and balance the budget."
"It is unfortunate that some Republican conservatives would sound-off with that old song on their first day in power," Porter said.
Both Professor Porter and Professor Van der Zee expressed fear that Republicans will follow conservative patterns and enact anti-labor and high tariff legislation.
"It is easy to make promises while out of office, and equally difficult to fulfill them when given the chance," Professor Porter declared.
Lawrence Dennis, instructor in the political science department, served as moderator in the discussion.
