Drastic Alternatives Face SUI if Coal Strike Continues

If the coal strike does not end within two weeks, the university is faced with two drastic alternatives, reported yesterday by President Virgil M. Hancher:

1. To make plans to complete the first semester as soon as possible by speeding up academic work and eliminating Christmas vacation or

2. To dismiss classes as planned Dec. 21 and not complete the first semester until the strike ends.

President Hancher emphasized that the university is making every possible effort to get coal and that either of these steps will be taken only as a last resort. He added that the university doesn't want to extend school through the holidays.

"The real problem," he said, "is to formulate a policy to go into effect after Dec. 21 so that students will get more than three-fourths of a semester credit and so that veterans attending school under the GI bill will not be left without a means of subsistence."

School will not be dismissed before Dec. 21, he added.

With an estimated 6,000 tons of coal on hand as of Dec. 1, the university can purchase no more coal according to a solid fuels administration ruling, until reserve supplies are reduced to a 10-day supply of about 1,800 tons. President Hancher estimated that this danger point will be reached about Dec. 20.

If the strike continues until Dec. 20, any additional purchase of coal can be made by the university only with SFA approval. Advance coal orders have already been submitted, and President Hancher indicated that if SFA approval is obtained, there is every reason to believe the university could depend on a quick delivery.

The mine from which the university purchases coal is operating, he said, but coal produced there is now under SFA restrictions and cannot be shipped here until the university supply is depleted.

As an educational institution, however, the university, with the exception of University hospital, is not included on the SFA's list of eligible consumers.

Very little coal would be saved by closing school for the holidays, President Hancher stated, unless all the buildings were completely shutdown, with all steam cut off and the pipes drained. Such a move would be impractical for a two-week period.

If classes were continued through Jan. 1, the University would give semester credit arbitrarily to whatever extent permitted by official accrediting agencies. President Hancher explained, however, that this might be impossible in the case of professional schools whose graduates must meet time requirements set by their accrediting agencies.

If the university should close at any time because of the strike, veterans forced to interrupt their education can be advanced full leave time subsistence for a year, according to Dr. William Coder, university veterans service office director.

This leave time would be 30 days for veterans enrolled under public law 346 (GI bill) and 60 days for men enrolled under public law 16 (rehabilitation).

No veteran would have to take his leave time during a forced vacation — a dismissal over which he has no control — unless he needed the money.

Dr. Coder said that the veterans administration ruling would probably apply even if the forced vacation occurred between semesters.

In case Christmas vacation is held as scheduled and an extended vacation is forced after Jan. 8, the veteran could get subsistence for both the holiday vacation and full leave time for the forced vacation.

If school continues through the holiday, the VA would probably rule that leave time pay should (See SUI COAL, page 5)

Baruch Makes Plea For Russian Approval Of Atom Control Plan

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch, declaring emphatically that the "time has come for action," appealed directly to Soviet Russia last night to approve the United States plan for harnessing the atom for peace.

Speaking at one of the most important meetings yet held by the United Nations atomic energy commission, Baruch, as the U.S. representative urged the commission—including Russia—to adopt the American plan as its basic recommendation for controlling atomic energy.

Baruch thus lost no time in acting on major Russian concessions which were clearly enunciated only Wednesday by V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, to the United Nations political committee.

Baruch formally presented a resolution by which the commission would report the American plan, first presented last June 14, to the United Nations security council on Dec. 31 as its decision on the best way to control the atom.

The United States resolution immediately raised one potential stumbling-block in the form of a renewed demand that the punishment of violations of a proposed treaty regulating atomic energy must not be subject to the veto of the five permanent members of the security council. Russia has yielded the point of no veto on inspections and control but has stood adamant against any of the numerous proposals from small nations to alter or discard the veto power in the security council.

The United States resolution, in effect re-stating the essentials of the United States plan, called for a "strong and comprehensive international system of control of atomic energy" to be set up by treaty which shall be effective "only when those members of the United Nations necessary to assure its success" agree to accept and support it.

The treaty would:

1. Establish in the U.N. an international authority clothed with complete powers and responsibility for administration of the treaty and for carrying out its "day-to-day" duties.
2. Afford representatives of the authority complete freedom to move in and out of nations in performing their inspections and other duties.
3. Prohibit the manufacture, possession, and use of atomic weapons by all nations signing the treaty and by all of their nationals.
4. Provide for disposal of any existing stocks of atomic bombs.
5. Specify the means and methods of determining violations of the treaty, "stigmatizing such violations as international crimes, and establishing the nature of the measures of enforcement and punishment to be imposed upon individuals and upon nations guilty of violating its provisions."
6. Provide for the prompt reporting of violations to the nations signing the treaty and to the security council.
7. Provide that in dealing with such violations the permanent members of the security council should agree not to use the veto to protect a violator.

FREIGHT EMBARGO FORCES FORD LAY-OFF

War Office Report Urges Coordinator Of Veterans Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new top federal coordinator for veterans affairs with "authority to cut red tape and act" was urged in a war department report released last night by Secretary Patterson.

The report was submitted by Lt. Col. Winthrop Rockefeller. In a six-month survey for the war secretary, Rockefeller found that among the nearly 14,000,000 war veterans "disillusionment is rampant and unemployment and under-employment has reached distressing proportions."

The report was submitted July 18. There was no explanation why it was not released sooner.

Rockefeller proposed also creation of a citizens' group "to conduct a far-reaching employment drive designed to correct injustices and hardships that have been the lot of far too many deserving men."

A third major recommendation was to amend certain administrative portions of the GI Bill of Rights "which currently does not provide for either effective or efficient operation."

The Veterans administration, Rockefeller said, has done a "spectacular" job.

The Negro veteran, he asserted, has encountered the most difficulties in reverting to civilian life "because his color nullifies the fact that he is a veteran."

Iowa Girl Found Dead, 2 Men Students Injured Near Boulder, Colo.

BOULDER, COLO. (AP)—A University of Colorado co-ed was found dead and two men students were found seriously injured late yesterday west of Brainerd lake along the snow-covered continental divide where they had been missing since Tuesday.

Sheriff Arthur Everson said Hazel Jeanette Martin, 27, of New Providence, Iowa, was dead, David Waddington, 22, of Westcliffe, Colo., had a broken arm and collarbone, and DeForest W. Meehlieb, 20, of Peoria, Ill., was half frozen and semi-conscious with a broken leg.

Ambulances were dispatched to the rugged mountain country to return the girl's body and the injured students to Boulder.

Searchers on dogsleds, snowshoes and skis fought their way along the 13,000-foot peaks of the Rockies yesterday to find the students who had been missing since they left a mountain camp to climb a nearby peak, carrying only a light lunch in addition to their ski equipment.

West Coast Strike Ends After 2½ Days

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The two-and-a-half day AFL general strike ended yesterday, lifting a business and industrial paralysis which affected 1,000,000 East bay residents.

A spokesman for the United Employers, Inc., estimated the strike cost $1,000,000 a day in wages alone.

The strike was concluded officially shortly before 11 a.m.

By afternoon, transportation wheels were turning again. Such necessities and essential services as food, milk, laundry newspapers, ice and gasoline were, for the most part, making their first appearance since 5 a.m. Tuesday.

The crippling, sporadically violent walkout was touched off Sunday when city police conveyed non-union trucks through picket lines before two Oakland retail stores where the AFL department store employees had been on strike a month previous.

Committee to Combat 'Hatred, Intolerance' Created by Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman, condemning organized groups which fan "hatred and intolerance" that cause mob violence, yesterday set up a Civil Rights committee to combat them.

It was directed to study and recommend new civil rights legislation and other measures to protect "all parts of our population."

In an executive order, the president declared that the action of those who take the law into their own hand "gravely threatens our form of government."

He added in a statement, "in some places, from time to time, the local enforcement of law and order has broken down."

As chairman, the president named Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric company.

He said the federal government is hampered by inadequate civil rights laws, and added that they should be expanded and improved to provide the justice department "with tools to do the job."

The committee is to prepare a report containing recommendations for legislation and for more effective procedure for the protection of civil rights.

The 15 committee members are to serve without pay.

Bilbo Denies Urging Anti-Negro Violence

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, "the man" of Mississippi, stood pat on his advocacy of "white supremacy and white control" but denied flatly to investigating senators yesterday that he had advocated violence or illegal acts against Negroes during his primary campaign.

Bilbo told the senate committee, that he had violated no laws when he asserted Negroes should be kept from voting in the primary. He complained that newspapers misquoted him by omitting the phrase "by any lawful means" Mississippi Negroes are Republicans, Bilbo asserted, and therefore ineligible to vote in Democratic primaries.

The senator's personal appearance, in a federal courtroom packed to the last inch of standing space by both white persons and Negroes, climaxed the closing session of the four-day hearing.

Another hearing, on Bilbo's alleged relations with war contractors, is scheduled by a different group in Washington, Dec. 12.

Pan-American Director Killed by Automobile

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American union, was killed last night when struck by an automobile as he was crossing the street in front of the Bolivian embassy.

Rowe was the chief officer of the union, which is the official international organization of the 21 republics of the western hemisphere.

Dr. Rowe, 75, was a native of McGregor, Ia. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, he won his Ph.D. degree at the University of Halle in Germany and held honorary degrees from universities in Argentina, Peru and Chile.

He was assistant secretary of the treasury in 1917-19 and served as head of the state department's Latin American division from then until 1920, when he became head of the union.

Predict More Stringent Controls on Use of Coal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civilian Production Chief John D. Small forecast yesterday that even more stringent controls over the use of coal will be issued "within a few days." He predicted that some people will be "cold within a week" because of the coal strike.

A pre-Christmas curb on parcel post and a general embargo on rail freight and express which threatens the jobs of millions went into effect at 12:01 a.m. local time.

The solid fuels administration proposed that no coal be burned in places of amusement, schools or other buildings where this would not endanger health.

One of the new orders, Small said, will make available for essential users the stocks of coal at plants already shut down.

Other orders, he continued, will tighten restrictions which brought a dimout more severe than during the war for 21 states and the District of Columbia on Nov. 25.

Small said the other new restrictions will be of "cooperative or permissive" nature and that state authorities will be called upon to help enforce them.

The situation already was as follows:

Mall — Parcel post, except for vital food and medicine, will be limited to five pounds. Packages can not be more than 18 inches long nor more than 60 inches in length and girth combined. There will be no overseas parcel service except to servicemen who send home a written request.

Rail freight and express — the trains may now carry only food, fuel, livestock, poultry, medicines, news publications, newspaper, printing ink, products needed for health purposes and a few other commodities deemed essential.

Buildings — Deputy Solid Fuels Administrator Dan H. Wheeler said the coal situation "clearly calls for such action" as eliminating "the use of solid fuels in places of amusements, such as theaters, bowling alleys, night clubs, educational institutions such as libraries, museums and schools, and in other buildings, public or private, where it could be done without endangering the health of the community."

Post offices across the nation were jammed with Yule boxes in advance of the parcel post deadline.

Factory shutdowns and vast unemployment are expected from the embargo on rail freight and express shipments.

The association of American railroads estimated that about 150,000 railroad men—more than 10 percent of the full working force—will be laid off when the freight embargo takes full effect. It said this might be next Monday or Tuesday.

There have been estimates that 500,000 men in the Detroit automobile industry might be laid off if the embargo continues long. The New York City Commerce and Industry association said 20,000 industrial plants there might be paralyzed and "a high percentage" of New York's 2,500,000 workers laid off.

Still another train restriction is set for 11:59 p.m. Sunday—a further 25 percent cut in passenger service on coal-burning trains to reduce such traffic to 50 percent of normal.

Small estimated it would take "at least 45 days and probably 60 to get back anywhere near normal after the coal strike ends."

AFL President Urges Direct Negotiations Between UMW, Owners to Settle Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis' camp put out a peace feeler in the soft coal strike yesterday even as the CIO rushed to join him in his appeal against his contempt conviction.

Meanwhile, President Truman went to work on a major Sunday night broadcast, in which he is expected to appeal to the 400,000 striking miners over the heads of their leader.

William Green, president of the AFL, with which Lewis' United Mine workers is affiliated, urged the government to arrange for negotiations between the union and the private owners for a settlement which would end the walk-out.

His overture was delivered amid these prime developments:

1. The White House announced the president will speak to the country on the coal crisis at 8:30 p. m. (central standard time), Sunday. It seemed certain he will urge the miners to return to work on patriotic grounds. And he might have something to say on the negotiations Green proposed.

2. With Lewis back in seclusion, union attorneys filed formal notice of an appeal from the civil and criminal contempt convictions. One said steps will be taken to get the appeal promptly before the supreme court, but yesterday's action was a petition to the intermediate federal circuit court of appeals. There was no word from judge, clerk or counsel on the status of the bond the union was ordered to post for payment of its $3,500 fine.

3. Philip Murray, president of the CIO, who broke with Lewis four years ago, announced that "we intend to take whatever steps are necessary to participate in the appeal." This might be done by entering the case and filing a supporting brief with the court's permission or by assigning counsel to join the defense staff, or both.

Murray, once a vice president of the UMW but later Lewis' foe, declared the court action "a shocking attempt to force American citizens to work against their will through economic coercion."

Amid the talk of peace, Gov. Ralph E. Gates of Indiana reported the interior department has given its go-ahead for an attempt to get mining resumed in that state. Indiana officials propose to seek a meeting of mine operators and union representatives to work out a truce. It calls for Indiana miners to return to work under an agreement that any national settlement subsequently reached will be applied to them on a retroactive basis.

Small's resignations comes at a time when administration attorneys are whipping into shape a formula for setting up one over-all liquidation agency to carry on the remaining functions of CPA, OPA and other emergency agencies.

President Truman, accepting Small's resignation, praised him for exercising "rare skill and discretion" in carrying out a board grant of authority.

Airplane Manufacturers In Favorable Position Despite Freight Embargo

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The airplane industry found itself in an enviable position yesterday as the nation's industrial leaders sought to adjust business operations to fit the freight embargo brought on by the two-week-old soft coal strike.

Airplane manufacturing companies, for the most part, figured they would be able to continue for 30 or more days.

Aircraft plants in the Los Angeles area, employing 50,000 hoped to maintain production for as long as 60 days by flying in supplies.

Meanwhile, the number of unemployed, excluding the miners, increased to around 175,000 with the big jump slated for the end of this week and additional thousands to be added within 30 days if the coal strike has not ended.

Schools throughout Ohio continued to close.

Small Quits as Head Of Civilian Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—John D. Small turned in his resignation yesterday as civilian production administrator with the assertion that industrial transition from war to peace "is largely behind us."

Small's resignations comes at a time when administration attorneys are whipping into shape a formula for setting up one over-all liquidation agency to carry on the remaining functions of CPA, OPA and other emergency agencies.

President Truman, accepting Small's resignation, praised him for exercising "rare skill and discretion" in carrying out a board grant of authority.

Big, Little Inch Begin Moving Natural Gas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Natural gas began flowing yesterday through the warbuilt pipe line system at the rate of 50,000,000 cubic feet a day, headed from Louisiana northeastward to help relieve the fuel emergency resulting from the coal strike.

A government expert said it would take five days to two weeks for the gas to flow 850 miles through the lines to consumers in the Ohio Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia area.

Within a short time, he said, the "Big" and "Little Inch" lines built to transport oil in wartime at a cost of $145,000,000, will be moving up to 155,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily.

Two Killed, Six Injured In Gas Company Blast

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEX. (AP)—A terrific gas company explosion battered a quarter mile area of businesses and residences here yesterday killed two persons and injured six others. Damage was estimated unofficially at $250,000.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, rocked the whole of this densely populated port city, was heard 30 miles away, and utterly demolished the brick building and four sheet iron structures that housed the Hydro Gas Fuel company.

Five hours after the jarring explosion at 7:32 a. m., firemen extinguished flames that spurted from broken safety valves on two 12,000 gallon gas tanks at the scene.

Students Oppose Strike Curbs More Than Rest of the Nation

By RICHARD WALK

Fortune devoted its entire November poll to questions on labor. A few of the questions were used on The Daily Iowan survey to find out how opinion on the SUI campus compared with national opinion. The first question used for fortune concerned anti-strike legislation:

"Suppose you were a member of congress. Would you vote for or against a bill to prohibit all strikes for any reason whatsoever?"

Fortune Campus

Against 62 90

... Would you vote for or against a bill to prohibit strikes in companies that have been taken over by the government?"

Fortune Campus
For 59% 63%

Fortune notes that people with college training are much more opposed to prohibiting all strikes and strikes in the automobile industry but take the lead in favoring other types of anti-strike legislation. The Daily Iowan poll substantiates the first part of Fortune's findings but not the second, as SUI students are more anti-strike conscious than the nation only as concerns "strikes against the government." This is all the more surprising in that the Fortune poll was taken several months ago and the Iowan's in the midst of the unpleasantness with John L. Lewis.

Fortune also asked questions that The Daily Iowan used to find out the role the people think of congress as playing with the three large pressure groups—labor, business and farmers.

The questions were:
"Which group do you think tries to put the most pressure on Congress to get what it wants, labor unions, businessmen or farmers?"

Fortune Campus
Labor unions 44% 44%
Businessmen 24 47
Farmers 6 1

Daily Iowan Poll Of Student Opinion

Fortune Campus
Labor unions 15% 21%
Businessmen 10 21
Farmers 22 9

Don't know and "all equal" 53 49

On neither The Daily Iowan's nor on Fortune's was a space called "all equal" or an equivalent to show the supposed non-partisan nature of congress made known to the respondent as it was afraid that this would provide too much "bandwagon" vote, particularly on the last question. However, Fortune interviewers were told to record those answers while Daily Iowan interviewers were not so "don't know" and "all equal" (volunteered) were combined in our tabulating.

SUI opinion is a bit confusing, when compared with some breakdowns of national opinion on these questions. Almost as many SUI students (47%) as union members (48%) think business puts the most pressure on congress. No more than 23 percent of any other group (owners of business, salaried executives or farmers) thinks this suspiciously of business. The same identical situation prevailed in the thinking on which group congress DOES pay the most attention to with 53 percent of union members and 49 percent of students giving business as their choice. The next largest group which felt business gets most attention from congress were the salaried executives (22%). On the other hand, the group with the largest feeling that business SHOULD get the most attention from congress were the business owners (17%), while 21 percent of SUI students think business should get the most attention.

Also confusing is the SUI opinion on congress and farmers. Here we are in the heart of the middle west, the "benighted corn belt" as someone referred to it. Yet only nine percent of SUI's students thought farmers should get most of congress' attention. The smallest national group opinion measured by Fortune on this was union members and about 13 percent of them thought congress should pay most attention to farmers.

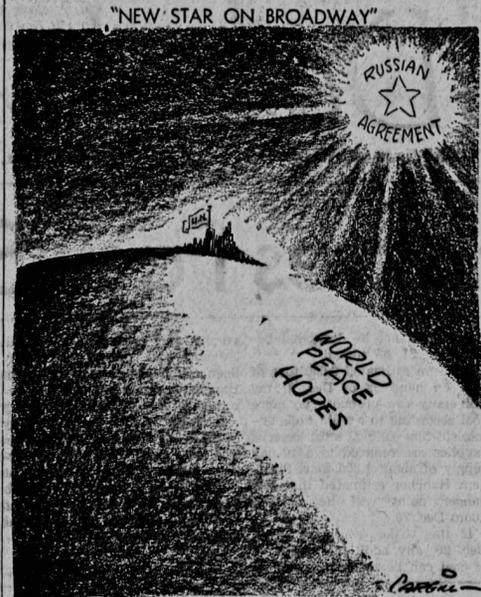

Campus opinion, on the whole, seems to align itself more with union opinion, except for a sizeable minority that feels very strongly that business is the most important group.

It is heartening, however, to note the large proportion of people on both The Daily Iowan and Fortune polls who think congress should play a non-partisan role. It is unfortunate however, that so few feel congress lives up to expectations, but that is more of a reflection on congress than on the people.

(Polling results on local issues will be reported tomorrow.)

He will succeed Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the Methodist church, who has served as president for the past two years.

Mexicans Fear Direct Political Showdowns

By SAMUEL GRAFTON
New York Post Syndicate

MEXICO CITY—Mexico is self-conscious about its problems. Strings of electric bulbs outline the roofs, cornices and arches of the cathedral, the National Palace, and the municipal buildings on the great square. At night during this inauguration week, on the cathedral facade, lights spell out the word "trabajo." On the other buildings the words "industrialization" and "progreso." One can hardly imagine the words "work," "industrialization" and "progress" set up in lights on American government buildings during an inauguration, but where one does not have the reality, one perhaps needs the words in hot light. And the Indians in the Zocalo can look up at the slogans in the intervals between selling each other plastic combs. The gayety of the poor fills the square under the bright words and the sparks from the firecrackers of the fiesta shoot up towards the slogans in shining, easy ascent.

GRAFTON

Perhaps it is a sign of wisdom on both sides that the social controversy does take such off-center forms as the dispute about the bones of Cortes. The social quarrel here is so naked that there is something like a tendency to turn away from it, as from an immodest, and to have it out in allegorical and oblique terms. There is a kind of worried discretion, a hanging on by the finger tips, as in this poor undeveloped country, a left which believes it has had its revolution confronts an increasingly confident right which seeks to reopen the old questions. And they jab at each other sideways as they stare ahead at the industrialization program and wonder what it means.

And near the Avenue of the Fifth of May there is a newstand, run by an Indian family, selling newspapers in which the Indian vendors could read, if they could read, the details of the controversy. On the night I passed, the little old Indian man and the little old Indian woman were having their dinner on the stand, a dinner which consisted, so far as I could see, of plates of beans. Above their heads, tacked to the wall, were calendars with nude pictures, which they were selling and both the candid nudes, flapping above, and the oblique Cortes controversy in the papers beside them seemed oddly remote from the two little bent figures merchants of more than they knew in the cold and dark night.

Clergy May Station Chaplain at Hospitals

Representatives of the Iowa City and Cedar Rapids Ministerial associations considered yesterday the possibility of establishing a permanent chaplain at University hospital and Oakdale Sanatorium.

The Rev. H. H. Kalas, executive secretary of Iowa Inter-church council, met with the group and will recommend appointment of a chaplain to both places Tuesday at the council meeting in Des Moines.

The Iowa City association passed two resolutions at the meeting: (1) Because patients at Oakdale come from the entire state, religious work there should be the state's rather than Iowa City's responsibility. (2) That Iowa City ministers continue to support religious work at Oakdale.

At the present time, there is part-time chaplain service at the hospital and none at Oakdale.

Mr. Molotov Comes Through

The United Nations took another stride toward world peace Wednesday when the Russian delegation removed the main stumbling block to the proposed disarmament pact. That stumbling block was the Russian insistence that the veto should be retained in matters of disarmament, particularly as pertaining to inspection of arms in individual nations.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov made it clear to the political and security committee Wednesday that his nation felt the organization to be set up within the framework of the security council for the inspection and control of arms limitations should be autonomous and should be clothed with full authority.

This does not mean, of course, that Russia is surrendering her right to veto on the security council, but it does mean that inspectors and control officials can act without veto and presumably be free to go anywhere in the world and then report their findings to the security council.

Molotov's significant statement, which certainly represented a switch in Russian policy, read in part: "... Unanimous action is necessary in adopting regulations on control commissions. It is wrong to say that any state which has the veto has the power to prevent control and inspection. Any attempt to prevent the implementation of control and inspection would be a violation of the decision of the security council. Talk of the veto can be interpreted as an attempt to evade direct answer to the question of reduction of arms."

As a result of the new Soviet policy, the political and security committee is now free to proceed with disarmament plans. It has already named a sub-committee to write a resolution calling for general reduction of arms and for the outlawing of atomic weapons and other implements of mass destruction. The resolution will, of course, be subject to approval by the general assembly.

There are some people who will not be encouraged by Russia's action in this matter because they consider the question of disarmament somewhat meaningless. There are others who will say that Russia is insincere, that she is giving in on this to take advantage of us later.

We disagree with both of these contentions. We are definitely encouraged by Russia's actions since the opening of the general assembly session, and this most recent concession is indeed hopeful.

This, coupled with the fact that the United States delegation too has adopted a more reasonable attitude, gives the American people reason to breathe easier.

Easy There, Representative Taber

(St. Louis Star-Times)
Now Representative Taber has gone too far. The New York Republican, who is slated to be chairman of the next house appropriations committee, took occasion to blunder badly as he blasted government public-relations men and their publicity handouts. He said, gratuitously, that the Washington press corps has become "so lazy that reporters want a handout on anything they put in the paper."

Even now the boys at the national press club bar, or up in the second-floor pool room, are probably dissecting the Representative. He has struck too close to the expense account and the salary check. The Representative is likely now to find all the correspondents rallying as a single man to whittle him to size.

Without the insult, Representative Taber might have found a sympathetic audience—within limits. No one who has ever worked in a newspaper bureau in the nation's capital can quite persuade himself there is need for the reams of pandouts that inform an uninterested world of the latest developments in the hickory-pick-er-stick market or the linter situation. As it is, however, Mr. Taber is likely to find himself friendless.

OF CABBAGES AND KINGS— Here Today, Gone Tomorrow

The changing of the White House guard continues. Paul Porter has resigned as director of OPA. Wilson Wyatt has stepped down as housing administrator. And before many weeks have passed, say the columnists, Robert Hannegan can be expected to check out as post-master general and chairman of the Democratic National committee.

Harry Truman, faced with a Republican congress during his next two years as president, is consolidating his forces. He has publicly stated that he intends to strive sincerely for close cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of our government in the crucial months to come. The position in which he now finds himself has much in common with that of a general, who, having lost a battle, knows that he must stabilize his lines and reorganize his command before again seeking a head-on clash with the opposition.

With the GOP in control of a clear-cut majority in both the senate and the house, the president apparently realizes that men closely identified with Roosevelt-inspired legislative measures will be of little or no value to him in the period just ahead. Both Porter and Wyatt sponsored and backed bills which, judging from the voting record of the 79th congress, dent Roosevelt's death in April, 1945. Stettinius, Morgenthau, Rosenman, Hopkins, Biddle, Walker, Ickes, Fortas, Nathan, Wickard, Wallace, Perkins, Bowles and now Porter and Wyatt—those names were all front-page headlines but a short time ago. But they did not seem to fit into President Truman's "inner circle." It was not that they lacked ability—rather, that they belonged to a different era, a different president. At one time in our recent history, they could, singly or collectively, give number one priority to a piece of legislation by exercising their influence either through congressmen or the president himself. But they lost stature and, in their final days as public officials, it was sometimes possible to effectively condemn worthwhile legislation merely by associating it with them or the offices which they headed.

Front page pictures and headlines give us the new names, the new faces, the men who will be closest to Harry Truman as he submits his program to the 80th congress. Allen, Snyder, Collett, Steelman—some of the names are familiar, but during the past few weeks they have evidently assumed roles of much greater importance with reference to White House policy and Democratic political strategy.

SUI Latin Students Tell Native Customs At Luncheon Meet

Touching on the highlights of Latin American customs, seven students from countries "south of the Rio Grande" participated in a round table discussion of their habits and practices at a Pan American league luncheon yesterday in the private dining rooms of Iowa Union.

Speaking about courtship and marriage, in Uruguay, Rosa Igarzabal, G of Uruguay explained that couples usually become acquainted in church, in city parks, at movies, dances or social clubs.

"After they have known each other several months," commented Miss Igarzabal, "the gentleman is allowed to go to the girl's home." She said the period of courtship extended over a period of three or four years and the divorce rate is very low.

Josephina Chaves, A4 of Columbia, offered a brief discussion about sports, emphasizing that their sports are very similar to American athletics. Basketball, volleyball, tennis, soccer and track are the most common sports in Columbia according to Miss Chaves.

"Serenades are very popular in Cuba, especially serenades to girls," commented Augusto Fernandes, G of Cuba who gave a short summary of Cuban music.

Mr. Fernandes said music societies in Havana provide two concerts in the public square every week, one for the society members and the other for the public. The concerts are of both popular and classical music.

Felipe Seleme, G of Bolivia, contradicted the criticism that Latin American people seldom work, by giving an extensive outline of what the average person does each day.

Prejudice among classes in Peru is very slight, stated Jorge Jaramillo, E3 of Peru. He gave a resume of the various social classes in Peru, dividing society into three classes, namely family background, economic position and racial status.

"Most of our holidays are related to our religion," remarked Saul Mendez, P1 of Panama, in leading a discussion on holidays in Panama. He said the most important holidays were Patron Saints Day, Easter, New Year's day and Christmas.

BLUE SKY, BLUE JEANS—'NUFF SAID

SPRING FEVER and mild weather came to Iowa City yesterday in the midst of its December coal shortage worries, and this carefree couple played hooky. Sauntering down the highway are Betty Lou Hanson and Phyllis Torrance, both A1 of Oskaloosa.

Two Jurists Accept Invitations to Hear Junior Arguments

Two Iowa district judges have accepted invitations from the law college to hear the junior arguments, Dec. 10, 12, 16 and 17.

Arthur O. Leff, law college lecturer, said yesterday that Judge Heinrich C. Taylor of Bloomfield, in the Iowa second judicial district will preside in the first case, Dec. 10.

Judge George B. Richter of Waukon, in the 13th judicial district, will preside on the second case, Dec. 12, Leff said.

Judges asked to hear the other two cases had not responded to the invitation yesterday.

Winners of the junior arguments will argue before the Iowa Supreme Court on Supreme Court day next semester. One winner will be chosen from each case by the presiding judge, Leff explained.

The cases, involving fictitious persons and situations, have been "appealed" and briefs will be filed and arguments presented as in actual appellate cases.

Concert Band To Perform

The university concert band will present its first program of the 1946-47 season Wednesday evening in Iowa Union. The 85-piece organization will be conducted by Prof. C. B. Righter.

According to Professor Righter, the program will include compositions by a variety of classical and semi-classical composers. Following a plan introduced last year, the band will play an encore group of novelties and popular favorites.

The concert band is composed of players selected by individual audition of 200 bandsmen. This band is not to be confused with the varsity or "second" band which plays at university basketball games, Professor Righter emphasized.

Masha to Appear In Student Recital

Helen Masha, G of Cedar Rapids, will present a violin recital tonight at 7:30 in the north music hall. She will be accompanied on the piano by Norma Cross, music department instructor, in the 10th of the 1946-47 music department student series.

Tonight's program is as follows: "Sonata in E major", in four movements, by Handel; Brahms' "Sonata in A major" for violin and piano, opus 100, in three movements; Dvorak's "Slavonic Dance No. 2 in E minor", arranged by Kreisler; "La Fille Aux Cheveux de Lin", by Debussy; and "Spanish Dance No. 8", opus 26, by Sarasate.

AVC Censures Lewis' Action

After prolonged debate, the Johnson county chapter of the American Veterans committee adopted a resolution last night to censure John L. Lewis for his actions in the current coal crisis.

While condemning "the use of injunctions in dealing with labor problems," the resolution stated that the veterans' group could not condone Lewis' behavior because it showed disregard for the public welfare, hurt the American economy and did great harm to the American labor movement.

The resolution also calls for "greater democracy" within the United Mine Workers union.

A letter was drafted to be sent to Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper commending his action in the Senate investigation of Senator Theodore Bilbo's election campaign.

The letter offers the organization's support and appreciation for Senator Hickenlooper's "striving to displace Theodore Bilbo who, as an advocate of extreme racist and totalitarian principles" has violated the true concept of democracy.

Members also approved a program for sounding out the opinion of local and state officials on the questions of rent control and prefabricated houses.

A statement of housing policy in regard to priorities, status of faculty veterans and the question of racial and religious prejudice in the allocation of living quarters will be asked of the university.

Candidates Named For Military Ball Honorary Colonel

Twenty candidates, one of whom will reign as Honorary Cadet Colonel of the Military Ball, Jan. 17, have been selected by university women's housing units.

A faculty committee has been chosen by the Reserve Officers Training corps to select five finalists from the senior women nominees. The Honorary Cadet Colonel will be chosen on a basis of character, campus activities, scholastic standing and appearance.

Among the candidates are: Betty Ann Erickson of Spencer; Alph Delta Pi; Norma Snyder of Rock Island; Sigma Delta Tau; Harriet Arnold of Valparaiso, Ind.; Chi Omega; Joan Holt of Highland Park, Ill.; Pi Beta Phi; Kathy Larson of Sioux Falls, S.D.; Currier; Beulah Jaster of Fort Madison; Fairchild house; Holly Baker of Highland Park, Ill.; Currier; Barbara Kemmerer of Independence; Gamma Phi Beta; Mary Nelle White of Seymour, Mo.; Zeta Tau Alpha; Julianne Freund of Cedar Rapids; Currier; Beverly Van Buskirk of Hawarden; Alpha Xi Delta; Charlotte Penningroth of Cedar Rapids; Delta Gamma; Fran Pederson of Sioux Falls, S.D.; Clinton Place; Betty Ann Neal, of Pierre, S.D.; Alpha Chi Omega, and Kay Knowles of Kirwin, Kan., East-lawn.

A cadet colonel will be chosen by the military department under the direction of Col. William W. Jenna, professor of military science and tactics.

SUI COAL—

start immediately after the end of the semester and that no holiday subsistence would be allowed, according to Dr. Coder.

Planning on the assumption that no more coal for schools will be forthcoming, university officials are considering the following steam and electricity conservation measures to make present supplies last as long as possible:

1. Shift night classes to day periods.
2. Limit extra-curricular activities to such as can be operated without adjustment to heating.
3. Furnish no hot water to academic buildings except gymnasiums.
4. Close steam valves on a possible 40 instructional buildings each afternoon and open them again beginning at 4 a. m. No heat on Sundays.
5. Eliminate heating of swimming pools.
6. Reduce temperatures in all buildings to minimum possible.
7. Reduce use of electricity to minimum.
8. Appeal to all staff members and students to conserve steam and electricity wherever possible.

President Hancher said he is asking all deans and directors to contact their staffs to help effect these measures. The physical plant will start a survey today to determine which buildings can be shut off at night.

Steam conservation measures as specified above will be started tomorrow at Old Capitol, the president reported.

These measures might save a week's supply of coal, if all put into effect, according to President Hancher.

'New Moon' a Hit

Mildred Musser, head of the City high school voice department, last night brought a number one hit to Iowa City with her production of Sigmund Romberg's operetta, "The New Moon."

As producer-director, she moulded a group of 14- to 17-year-old youngsters into a superb company of singers.

Patsy Kelley and Dick Williams teamed up to present the romantic leads of Romberg's famous operetta. Kitty Kelly and Francis Spencer made the comedy team of Julie and Alexander a role parallel to the lead roles of Marianne and Robert.

The "Stouthearted Men" number will be long remembered by all members of the audience. First in one act one, and then at the finale of act two, the entire ensemble combined in a stirring presentation of the number.

Patsy Kelley aroused the sympathies of every person in the high school auditorium with her singing of "Lover, Come Back to Me." Miss Kelley came into her own with that number, and finished the show in the manner of an experienced performer.

Audience response to the various songs and dances of "The New Moon" was in many cases enthusiastic enough to stop the show temporarily. Many times, the young singers were ill at ease because of the ovations.

Music for the operetta was played by the City high school orchestra, under the joint direction of Miss Musser and Robert A. Titus.

The production will be presented again tonight.

VFW Gets Facts On Social Security Amendment for Vets

Advantages to veterans of World War II under a veterans amendment added this year to the Social Security act were explained last night by John Donnelly of the social security field office, Cedar Rapids, at a meeting of post 2581, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Under the new amendment dependents of a veteran who dies within 3 years after honorable discharge from the service may file a claim for monthly payments figured on a salary of $165 a month.

Under the new amendment dependents of a veteran who dies within 3 years after honorable discharge from the service may file a claim for monthly payments figured on a salary of $165 a month.

This means that a widow with one child under 18 may receive $40 a month Donnelly said.

Most veterans would not have met former requirements, which stated that a death benefit could not be paid unless the deceased had worked half of the time since the original bill was passed, in 1937, or half of the three years preceding his death, he added.

The new procedure may set up a social security account for persons who never had one before, Donnelly stated. The amendment will be in effect for four years after the end of hostilities.

The amendment does not apply to men now in the service, veterans of the first world war or disabled veterans of World War II. Dependents of disabled veterans of World War II in most cases receive death benefits through the veterans administration.

Post 3949 Inspected By District Commander

Hugh Sheridan, Cedar Rapids, commander of the second district, Veterans of Foreign Wars, conducted an inspection for information of national headquarters at a meeting of Leroy E. Weekes post 3949, VFW, at the post meeting last night.

Assisting him were Charles Smith, Iowa City, and Bob Johnson, Fairfield, commander and senior vice commander of the first district.

Troutman Elected President, Proposes Clean Up Campaign

By RUSS NEWLAND
 LOS ANGELES (AP)—Minor league baseball reached into the Majors yesterday and came up with a fighting new president, George Troutman, whose first act was to declare ruthless war on gambling in the sport.

Only candidate proposed and unanimously elected, the 52-year-old executive vice-president of the Detroit Tigers leaves a position at a reported yearly salary of $60,000 to head the 49-league National association, a position paying $25,000 annually.

Troutman succeeds Judge William G. Bramham, voluntarily retired. Taking cognizance of Judge Bramham's recent warning that gambling had crept into the affairs of at least one minor league club and was being investigated in others, President-elect Troutman promised swift and drastic crackdowns on any cases brought to his attention of players associating with gamblers or betting on games and said every effort would be made to keep all known gamblers from the parks.

The two big leagues convened to tackle business calendars heavy with proposed amendments. Representatives of the baseball players were on hand to press for legislation that would give them old age security—signs of modern times that would bug out the eyes of diamond hardies of a half-century back who rode freight trains to spring training camps to save transportation expenses for their own use.

U-High Team Hunts Second Win, Meets Roosevelt Tonight

Spurred on by their opening cage win, University High's basketball quintet is set to make it two in a row when the Blue-Hawks invade the Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids lair tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Realizing his proteges needed further polishing in the shooting and ball handling departments, Coach Louis Alley has drove home that theme in drills all week. The Bluehaws opened the 1946-47 season with a 29-18 victory over Williamsburg in a wild skirmish last week.

Coach Alley cited Don "Gus" Helm for a stellar performance in the opener, but emphasized his cohorts must show a well-balanced basket offensive to throw back the Cedar Rapids five.

The Parlor city contingent dropped an early-season tilt by two points to perennially strong Marshalltown of the Central Iowa loop.

Return this week of Nick Anderson, senior forward, and co-captain will aid the Blue-Hawk cause. Anderson has been sidelined with a pulled leg muscle sustained during the gridiron grind.

Bobby Ojemann, another prospect, who had been waylaid with a broken hand, is expected to see part-time action from a guard slot.

Coach Alley gave as a probable starting lineup Anderson and Helm, forwards; Jack Hady, center, and Chuck Lenthe operating with Bob Daykin in rear court.

College Grid Coaches—Praise Ex-GI's Talents

By AUSTIN BEALMEAL
 NEW YORK (AP)—College football coaches who welcomed returning war veterans with open arms early last September looked back over the 1946 season yesterday and assayed the gridiron talents of the ex-GI's with mixed feelings of unbounded praise and constructive criticism.

Most common of the faults to be found with GI-gridsters by coaches participating in a national-wide poll conducted by the Associated Press was the discovery that many who liked to mix it on Saturday didn't care for the week-long practices and balked at riding the bench.

Despite the difficulty of readjustment on the part of some ex-GI's, the records show that as a group they virtually dominated the play throughout the season and were largely responsible for making it the best year of them all from the standpoint of interest.

Perhaps the best memorial to their achievements is the fact that every player selected on the 1946 All-American team by the Associated Press was either a former member of the armed forces or a student at the U. S. Military Academy. They also were in the majority on conference and sectional All-Star teams.

Typical among the comments from coaches who found the GI something of a problem was that

University Mat Tourney Finals Today

There will be plenty of interest in the outcome of the all-university wrestling finals to be held this afternoon at 4:15 p. m. in the fieldhouse.

With three matches winding up the semifinals yesterday, fans are looking for a bang-up show today as the boys go to the mat in what should be a fair indication of who will be in the starting line-up next January when the Big Nine season gets underway.

Coach Mike Howard is well pleased with the showing of his varsity men in competition for the first time this fall, and with several more hopefuls due to report in, he expects to be deep in material at every weight.

In second leg bouts yesterday, Tom Hancock pinned Dean Mayberry in 3:17. He will tangle with the veteran Ed Kemp in the finals of the 155-pound class.

What was expected to be a close battle in the heavyweight division turned out to be just that as Dick Geppert won a decision over Jack Hancock. Geppert, sophomore stand-out on the 1942 Hawk varsity along with Kemp and Roy Pickett, was in command of the situation throughout, but was severely tested by his rugged opponent.

Final bout of the program saw Bob Geigel ease into the finals with an easy victory over Jim Gilchrist.

Finals:
 121-pound class—Vern McCoy vs. Subby Colanino (postponed).
 128-pound class—Rummy Macias vs. Earl Thorpe.
 136-pound class—Duane Hanson vs. Gordon Larson.
 145-pound class—Roy Pickett vs. Don Rodenborn.
 155-pound class—Ed Kemp vs. Tom Hancock.
 165-pound class—Ken Keith vs. Dave Walton.
 175 pound class—Joe Scarpello vs. Art Clark.
 Heavyweight class—Bob Geigel vs. Dick Geppert.

Riverside Marians Meet St. Patrick's Irish Here Tonight

St. Patrick's rangy Big Green quintet will put their basketball talents on display before the home town fans for the first time this season when they entertain St. Mary's of Riverside tonight at 8:15 o'clock on the south side court.

And if Coach Cliff Kritta's team can turn loose even a part of the scoring punch they showed in their season's opener a week ago, the Iowa City fans will get more than their money's worth.

Tuesday night the Big Green five buried St. Wenceslaus of Cedar Rapids under a 70-point City court. The big St. Patrick's team, averaging almost six foot one, showed enough cage poise in that game to rank them with the top Class B teams in the state.

Jerry Megan, who led the point making at Cedar Rapids with 15 baskets and a pair of gift tosses, will be back in action tonight at one forward berth, teamed with hard driving Bill McMahan who tossed in 14 points against St. Wenceslaus.

Bill Seemuth, the smooth working pivot man, will probably start at center against the Riverside invaders, with veteran Mert Herdeliska and big John Meade in the backcourt.

This Big Green quintet will rate as top heavy favorites against Riverside, a team that lost to St. Mary's of Iowa City, 35-19, earlier in the season.

Sports Shots

By Bob Collins
 The most ballyhooed basketball team in the Big Nine, Illinois, goes into action tonight meeting Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Iowa. The Illini aren't reported as worried about the outcome, and probably they shouldn't be with four of the Whiz Kids back in action. The Kids who are still around to plague the league are, of course, Menke, Phillip, Smiley and Vance. But, as one more example of the short life of sports fame, try to remember the name of the fifth member of the combination. Most fans can't but if you're one of the exceptions you'll recall the center Mathisen, who was All-Big-Ten in 1943.

Coach Dave Armbruster of the University of Iowa swimming team and three of his squad will conduct a swimming and diving clinic for school coaches and recreational instructors Saturday at St. Louis. The Hawkeys who will assist Coach Armbruster are Nick Connell, diver; Irvin Straub, sprinter, and Paul Huttinger, sprinter and distance swimmer.

Boxing is scheduled to return to Iowa City in the near future. The Junior Chamber of Commerce has appointed Danny Mulherin and Truman Slager co-chairmen of a committee to see about arranging a Golden Gloves tournament. The show will serve to fill a blank spot in the University sport program and will probably be held sometime in February.

Jack Spencer, veteran Iowa guard, has probably been called by more nicknames than 10 average men. In the days past, the Hawkey defensive ace has been labeled "Spider", "Ghost" and "The Thin Man". But now Rummy Macias, Iowa wrestler, comes up with a new one. According to Rummy, one dusky day last summer he and a friend were playing golf in Davenport and walked up over the brow of a hill to see Spencer wading in a pool in search of a golf ball. Jack's trousers were rolled high above the knee and he was bent like a right angle. The silhouette was highly unusual and the unidentified third party promptly tagged it as a "Crane."

One of the officials of the Monday night game, Bob Austin, wouldn't have felt comfortable if he hadn't received a few cat-calls from the crowd. This is off season for Austin who is a regular baseball umpire in the American Association. His rise has been rapid since the days he played for St. Ambrose college, Davenport, and in a couple of years he should be ready for Major league arbitrating.

In the final Iowa practice session before the South Dakota game, Coach Harrison announced that they'd go over tip-off and out-of-bounds plays again. Much to "Pop's" chagrin, the Hawks to a man scratched their heads and looked unusually blank. The actions were reversed, however, when it developed that the plays in question had never been given out. Needless to say, the situation was corrected and mutual faith restored before the drill was over.

Mayor's Committee Reports On Water Franchise Study

Suggests New Contract Include Nine Points To Be 'Satisfactory'

The committee appointed by Mayor Wilber J. Teeters on Oct. 19 to study the water franchise of the Iowa Water Service company reported their findings to the mayor yesterday.

The seven-man committee headed by Dr. Andrew H. Woods turned in a report which suggested that nine points be included in a "satisfactory water franchise."

- The report said in effect:
- (1) Any franchise should state the fair value of the physical plant.
 - (2) This value should be used to determine the sale-value of the plant to the city and to set water rates.
 - (3) This value should be kept up to date by yearly amendments.
 - (4) The value may be determined by negotiation or appraisal.

(The committee suggests negotiation as the better method.)

(5) The water company should furnish the city each year with a full financial statement certified by a licensed accountant.

(6) The franchise should state definitely when the city shall have the right to purchase the water plant; but in no event should the right to purchase be deferred beyond the end of the first half of the term of the franchise. After the right to purchase has begun, it should continue during the remainder of the lifetime of the franchise.

(7) The city council should have the authority to instruct the water company to install necessary additional fire hydrants.

(8) There should be no charge for rental of fire hydrants. The city should pay for water used by it, whether supplied through fire hydrants or not. The water company should rely upon sales of water for its entire revenue.

(9) The franchise should contain a provision as to the quality of water supplied to consumers, as regards hardness, organic matter, bacterial content, palatability and freedom from noxious substances.

The committee was appointed by Mayor Teeters after a proposal by the water company to extend the present franchise held by the company was voted down at a public election Oct. 8.

The franchise that the water company now holds will expire in August 1948.

The committee originally appointed by the mayor consisted of nine men. Two of these Dan C. Dutcher and Dean F. M. Dawson did not accept the appointments. Both men are members of the water company board of trustees.

The seven men on the committee which turned in the report yesterday are: Dr. Andrew H. Woods, chairman; James E. Stronks, secretary; Prof. Herman H. Trachsel, James L. Records, D. C. Nolan S. G. Winter and William R. Hart.

Mayor Teeters said he was quite satisfied with the report, and felt that a workable franchise could be

Zoning Board Gives OK to C. of C. Plan

The zoning board agreed yesterday that a petition filed by the chamber of commerce suggesting the rezoning of a large area south of Burlington street into business and industrial areas should be carried out.

The board will recommend, with one exception, that the city council carry out this action.

The zoning board will suggest in exception to the petition that the lots on which St. Patrick's church, rectory and school are located, and the property belonging to the Henry Sabin school, be excluded from the rezoning and left as "A" residential areas.

The zoning board also will recommend that a block near City high school, bounded by Third avenue, Factory and Friendship streets and the Rock Island railroad, be changed from its present industrial classification to "A" residential.

After receiving the zoning board recommendation, the city council will hold a public hearing on the matter before they come to a final decision.

Library Room Available For Local Club Use

In view of the coal shortage the library public room at the Iowa City public library is available for use by local clubs, according to Librarian Joyce Nienstedt.

Room reservations should be made in advance with Miss Nienstedt, phone 4272.

Between 40 and 50 people can be seated in the board room.

drawn up from the recommendations.

Dan C. Dutcher, attorney for the water company, said he could not comment officially on the report until after the company's board of trustees had met and discussed the matter.

Machovec Honored By Letter Carriers

For 50 years membership in the Iowa City chapter of the National Association of Letter Carriers, Frank Machovec, 618 N. Gilbert street this week was awarded a life membership plaque by the national organization.

Machovec, 76, received the small gold tablet at a stag party in his honor after the monthly meeting of the local chapter. He carried mail for the Iowa City postoffice from 1895 until his retirement in 1933.

Salvaged Fat Price Increases Six Cents

Iowa City meat dealers are paying housewives an average of 16¢ a pound for used cooking fat—6¢ more than they paid under OPA ceilings.

A survey yesterday indicated prices range from 4¢ to 13¢ per pound for kitchen grease. Meat dealers agreed, however, that the fat is slow coming from housewives. Some hadn't received any for several weeks.

An average of 25 pounds per week are brought in, the dealers said, while one merchant reported he bought 35 to 40 pounds each week.

The higher price trend here follows a country-wide tendency to pay more for used cooking fat.

Household fat is used in the manufacture of soap, electrical appliances, paint, automobiles, tires, paper and other hard-to-get items.

Great Britain first laid claim to the West Indian island of Barbados in 1605, when an English ship landed there.
