NEW YORK SITE ACCEPTED AS U.N. HOME

THE DIAGRAMMED area on New York's midtown east side, bounded by 42nd street on the south; 48th street on the north; Franklin D. Roosevelt drive and the East river on the east, and First avenue on the west has been accepted as the U.N. permanent headquarters from John D. Rockefeller Jr., by a 33 to 7 vote. The $8,500,000 site offered by Rockefeller will be augmented by parcels of property to be supplied by New York City. At the extreme right in photograph is the Chrysler building. Beyond the Chrysler building and to its left can be seen part of the Empire State building. In the far distance is the Hudson river and the New Jersey shore. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Soviets Ruin Industry In Manchuria--Pauley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley reported yesterday that "long range strategic reasons" motivated Russia in wrecking Manchuria's industrial economy.

Pauley made the report to President Truman as the president's personal representative on reparations. His findings were based on a mission to Manchuria last summer and were submitted to a small group of congressmen.

Pauley estimated at $2,000,-000,000 in American money the damage to Manchuria resulting from Soviet occupation. This estimate, he explained, "is considered to be conservative" and includes the wrecking of the major productive capacity of Manchurian industry.

"How much of the wreck condition is a direct result of the Soviet removal and how much may be ascribed to pillage, civil war, and other indirect consequences of the soviet occupation cannot be accurately determined," he reported. "In any case, the Soviet government must bear the major responsibility."

What the long-range strategic reasons may have been, Pauley did not say, but he noted that Manchuria would have been the logical place to begin the rehabilitation of China because of its productive capacity.

Not only did the Soviets wreck the area industrially, he said, but even "encouraged Chinese mobs to pillage, taking official movies of the process in some instances."

He said the Soviets took from Manchuria much of the functioning power generating and transforming equipment, electric motors, experimental plants, laboratories, hospitals and the newest and best machine tools.

Paraguay Smothers Anarchists' Attempts To Seize Capital

ASUNCION, PARAGUAY (AP)—The government said yesterday it had put down an attempt last night by "anarchists elements" to wrest control of the capital from the regime of President Higinio Morinigo and that he was conferring with political leaders in an attempt to resolve a government crisis.

A communiqué declared that order reigned throughout the country after an abortive attempt here by "groups of anarchist elements" to seize control of police headquarters, the military school, and the national prison.

The government said it was unable to identify persons responsible for the disorders, in which some persons suffered injuries from gunfire and knives.

Russia still was pressing to have the whole troop inventory wrapped up within the general framework of the disarmament pro-

Byrnes Sets Total Abroad About 550,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States disclosed to the world last night the disposition of all troops outside American borders, setting the figure at "less than 550,000," and thus became the first major power to meet Russia's original demands for such data.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, making his first platform appearance before the United Nations assembly in New York, named the countries where every American soldier was billeted and then set down the exact figures on all units outside former Axis territory.

Byrnes made the statement in the midst of an address giving full support to a basic program for arms reduction.

He announced first that most of the American troops were in enemy territory—Germany, Japan, Japanese islands, Korea, Austria and Trieste. He then gave these figures on others:

Philippines, 96,000 military personnel, including 30,000 combat troops; China, 19,000 troops with 15,000 of them combat men; Panama, 1,500, including 1,000 combat troops; less than 600 non-combat personnel in Iceland.

Bevin Follows Suit

In a later speech, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said his nation's forces at home and abroad had been cut below a million. Bevin also accepted the general arms limitation program laid down by the United Nations.

Bevin said that Britain was ready to supply any information desirable and noted that his country had slashed its forces from "over 6,000,000 to well below a million," and after occupation commitments would go down even further.

Calling attention to Britain's heavy financial burden in the last war, Bevin added that "it is obvious that we cannot afford to support great forces."

gram, unanimously passed by the 54-nation political committee before submission to the floor.

Following up its unanimous vote on armaments, the political committee balloted 29 to 4, with Russia dissenting, to recommend that the troop-arms inventory issue should be tossed into the hands of the security council.

Resolution on Veto

After long debate the assembly did little more than call to the attention of the big five the opposition of small nations to the exercise of the special voting privilege and asked the major powers to seek some agreement among themselves on conditions under which the veto should be applied.

The program also included provisions for the outlawing of atomic bombs and other weapons of mass destruction and the control of atomic energy used for peaceful purposes.

vakia, Poland, the Soviet Ukraine and Yugoslavia.

Problems in Census

The major problem in the troop census question was Russian insistence that a full report on armaments, including the atomic bomb, should accompany any data on troops stationed at home. In its resolution the Soviet union called only for figures on forces stationed abroad. Also complicating the problem was a British demand for verification of the reports by on-the-spot audit.

The arms resolution recommended that the security council formulate plans for armament limitations and set up inspection and control machinery to be presented to a special session of the assembly and then go to member states for ratification. This machinery would be free from the veto.

N.Y. Tenement Toll Hits 30

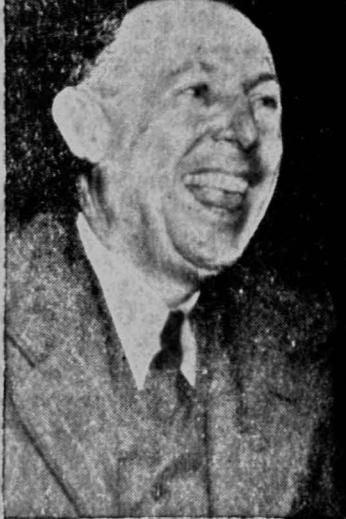

NEW YORK (AP)—The 30th body was pulled from the ruins of a six-story upper Manhattan tenement last night and more than 200 firemen and police toiled on searching for six more persons believed buried in the debris.

Hope was abandoned that anyone still lived in the collapsed building, half of which was smashed into rubble early Thursday, but the rescue work proceeded in the glare of floodlights.

More than 30 persons were injured in the disaster, with many of them still in hospitals. Scores who had lived in the smashed building or adjoining tenements were made homeless.

Assistant Fire Chief Timothy T. Guineen, in charge of the rescue operations, said he was convinced there were no survivors.

N.Y. Tenement Toll Hits 30

NEW YORK (AP)—The 30th body was pulled from the ruins of a six-story upper Manhattan tenement last night and more than 200 firemen and police toiled on searching for six more persons believed buried in the debris.

Hope was abandoned that anyone still lived in the collapsed building, half of which was smashed into rubble early Thursday, but the rescue work proceeded in the glare of floodlights.

More than 30 persons were injured in the disaster, with many of them still in hospitals. Scores who had lived in the smashed building or adjoining tenements were made homeless.

Assistant Fire Chief Timothy T. Guineen, in charge of the rescue operations, said he was convinced there were no survivors.

Gandy said the second or run-off primary was coming up, there were some candidates eliminated in the first primary to be dealt with and some "manipulating" had to be done.

"You mean you had to pay off the defeated candidates?" Ferguson asked.

The audience rocked with laughter as Gandy rejoined: "Senator, you haven't been down in Mississippi in an election, have you?"

Gandy then attempted to explain that in Mississippi primary winners usually help losers meet "election deficits" in return for support in run-off elections.

Ferguson then wanted to know if Gandy had agreed to pay Ross Colins any money.

Gandy said that he, Bilbo, and Jackson met Collins and three Collins supporters for a "conference" about an "operating deficit."

Collins on the Scene

It was at this point that Collins came from the rear of the big committee room. He seated himself near Gandy.

Gandy noticed his presence and said: "Hello, Ross."

Collins muttered "I wouldn't speak to a damn liar like you."

A little later, he leaped at Gandy, knocked over his chair and began pummeling and kicking at him.

In earlier in the hearing Felix T. Newton, a Mississippi war contractor, testified that he paid $25,000 to Bilbo, Mississippi senator, as a contribution to the unsuccessful senate campaign of Wall Doxey in 1942. Doxey is now senate sergeant-at-arms.

Gandy said that he cashed the checks for the $25,000 after endorsing his name below Bilbo's.

Gandy testified that he was treasurer of an "informal committee" trying to elect Doxey. He said Bilbo was a member of the committee.

Gandy explained that he and others were "working day and night on the campaign" and that the $25,000 was badly needed in a run-off election.

Ferguson insisted that Gandy explain exactly what was done with the money.

Gandy said he delivered it to Bilbo in the hotel suite which served as headquarters for the informal Doxey campaign group.

Ferguson asked what Bilbo did with it.

"He disbursed it," Gandy said. "He started disbursing it right there."

'Missing' Bilbo Witness In Mississippi Hospital

QUITMAN, MISS. (AP)—Edward P. Terry, the "missing" witness who had pleaded with the senate war investigating committee that it not require him to testify in the Bilbo hearings for fear harm would come to his wife and child, is a patient in Watkins memorial hospital here.

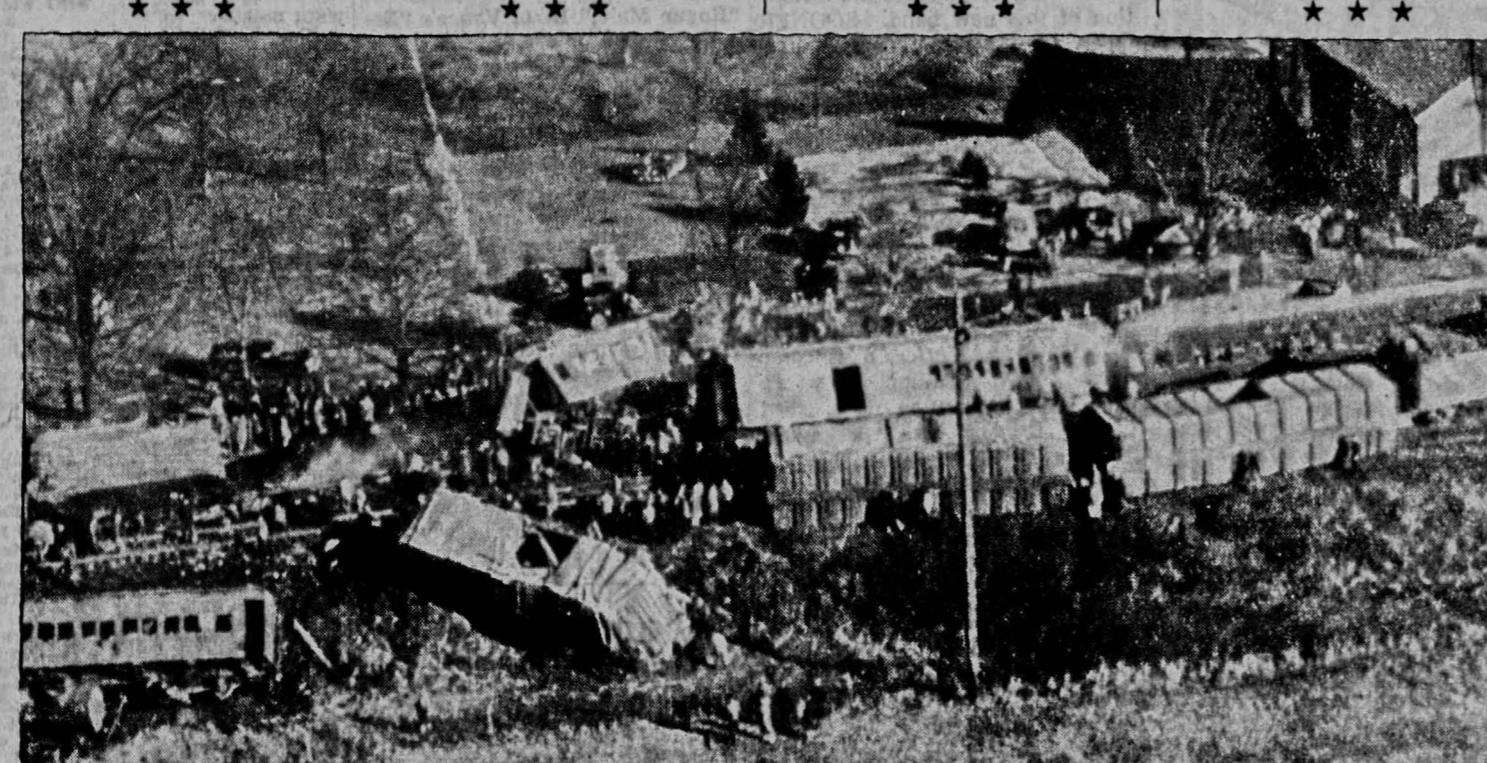

Officials at the hospital said Terry arrived here last night in a "highly nervous state."

They said Terry had authorized a statement that he was ready to "go back to Washington and cooperate with the senate war investigating committee just as soon as my health will permit."

Rangers Seek Lost Plane

SEATTLE (AP)—A blizzard at Paradise valley at the 5,500-foot elevation at Mt. Rainier turned into driving rain yesterday but two rangers worked in heavy snow along the ridge overlooking Nisqually glacier in search of a marine corps transport plane missing with 31 or 32 men aboard.

The two, Assistant Chief Ranger William Butler and Gordon Patterson, Paradise valley ranger, were investigating a theory that the plane may have crashed into the 14,408-foot peak late Tuesday near the end of a San Diego-Seattle flight in heavy weather.

THIS IS A GENERAL VIEW of the wreckage of the Pennsylvania R.R. train, Golden Triangle, which was derailed early yesterday at Coulter, Ohio, 12 miles southeast of Mansfield. The passenger train, westbound from Pittsburgh to Chicago, crashed into wreckage piled up when two eastbound freights were involved in a rear-end collision. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Week of Christmas Festivities Begins at Iowa Union Today

A week of Christmas festivities will start this afternoon at Iowa Union with the erection of a giant 18-foot Christmas tree in the southwest corner of the main lounge. Members of the Union board house and library committee will decorate the tree.

Starting tomorrow and continuing through Friday, wood fires will burn every day in the five fire places of the main lounge.

An hour of recorded Christmas music will be played from the balcony by a Union hostess Monday through Friday, from 12 noon to 1 p.m.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. the music department will furnish either instrumental or vocal Christmas music from the balcony. Prof. Hans Koelsel, Prof. William Gower and Prof. Herald L. Stark of the music department will conduct the balcony music those days.

A candle-lighting service will be sponsored by the YWCA at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in the River room.

Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 p.m., a tea dance sponsored by the Union board tea dance committee will be given in the River room. One of the highlights of the week's program will be the presentation of Handel's "Messiah," by the university chorus, soloists and symphony orchestra at 8 o'clock that night.

The annual all-university party will be held Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in the main lounge. Carol-singing, a nativity play, refreshments, dancing in the River room and refreshments will be featured.

The week's program will end Friday after the 4:30 p.m. recorded Christmas music from the balcony.

The Party Line

Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity will entertain at an informal Christmas dance at the chapter house tonight from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

DELTA SIGMA DELTA Delta Sigma Delta fraternity will hold an informal Christmas party for all pledges and actives at the chapter house tonight from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

COUPLE EXCHANGE WEDDING VOWS

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD G. MERRILL

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon before a small assemblage of friends and relatives, Dorothy May Pownall and Richard G. Merrill exchanged wedding vows in the Little Chapel of the Congregational church. The Rev. James Waery officiated at the single ring ceremony.

Wearing a gray wool dressmaker suit, with a matching hat, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her ensemble was accented by a corsage of white carnellias and mistletoe.

The bride's sister, Eleanor Powell, A4 of Iowa City, was maid of honor. She wore a gray wool suit and green hat, complimented with red roses.

The bridegroom's father served as best man, and John Simmons of Iowa City acted as usher.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception for friends and relatives was held at the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house. The table decorations were white and silver, with branched silver candelabra flanking the tiered wedding cake.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Pownall, 1802 N. Dubuque street. She attended Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., and the University of Iowa, where she was affiliated with the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Mr. Merrill is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Merrill of Oskaloosa. He attended Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., and is now a senior at the university.

The wedding will take place Dec. 20 at the St. Thomas More chapel. A reception will be held in the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

The week's program will end Friday after the 4:30 p.m. recorded Christmas music from the balcony.

Seven Music Pupils To Present Rental

Seven grade and high school pupils studying in the university music department will present a recital this morning at 11 o'clock in north music hall.

The recital will be the first of the 1946-47 music department young people's series, according to Prof. P.G. Clapp, head of the music department.

Participating in the program will be Annette Trachsel, pianist and flutist; Ann Andrews and Mary Ladd, violinists; Don Brice-land and Charles Keisler, clarinetists; James Andrews, flutist, and Don Howard, pianist.

Composers represented on the program will be Chopin, Massenet, Weber, Borowski, Grassi, Donon, and Guilhaud.

Home Ec Club to Give Party for Children

Approximately 20 Iowa City youngsters will be entertained at a Christmas party given by Home Economics club members this afternoon from 2-5 o'clock.

Carols, a Christmas tree, popcorn, gingerbread men, candy, and stories read by Pat Grothaus, A4 of Iowa City, will be featured in the part of the program in Home Economics department rooms.

A puppet show by several students of the women's physical education department will be given for the children in the women's gymnasium.

Begins Eviction Action

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Budreau started eviction action in district court yesterday against Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hogan for possession of the Budreau property at 211 E. Church street.

The Budreus purchased the lot April 1, 1946, and claim Mr. and Mrs. Hogan have refused to move after they were given six months' notice. E. P. Korab is attorney for the plaintiffs.

New Concert Master Expected To Arrive in I.C. Next Week

Prof. Imre Waldbauer has arrived in this country from Hungary to assume his duties as concert master of the university symphony orchestra. Now in Mexico City, Professor Waldbauer is expected in Iowa City sometime next week, according to Prof. P. G. Clappin, head of the music department.

Beside his duties as concert master, Professor Waldbauer will fill the first violin position in the faculty quartet and will be head of the music department's violin department.

Appointed in August, Professor Waldbauer replaces as concert master Prof. Arnold Small, who resigned to accept a position in California.

Graduated from the Franz Liszt Academy of Music in his native Budapest in 1909, Professor Waldbauer the next year organized the Waldbauer-Kerpely string quartet, which presented the first public performance of Bela Bartok's "First String Quartet." Debussy travelled to Budapest to hear their performance of his own "String Quartet" and in 1911 invited the quartet to come to Paris to give a series of concerts of modern French and Hungarian compositions. From 1910 to 1914, the quartet gave more than 600 concerts in Hungary, Austria, Germany, France and Holland.

The Waldbauer-Kerpely-Bartok trio was another organization existing contemporaneously with the quartet, which concertized in the performance of chamber of music for violin, cello and piano.

In 1919, Professor Waldbauer was appointed to a professorship of violin and chamber music in the Franz Liszt Academy of Music in Budapest.

The Dohnanyi-Waldbauer-Kerpely trio replaced the activities of the Waldbauer-Kerpely-Bartok trio in 1920 and also paralleled the activities of the Waldbauer-Kerpely quartet. These organizations have delivered a total of 3,000 concerts.

Engineers Reactivate Honorary Fraternity

The local chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, national honorary electrical engineering fraternity, has been reactivated by pre-war members returning to the campus.

Present officers and former members of the fraternity are John L. Goetz, E4 of Riverside, president; Ralph M. Rotty, E4 of Kirkwood, Mo., recording secretary, and Richard M. Ringoen, E3 of Iowa Falls, correspondence secretary.

Two graduate members also hold office: Bruce Phillips, G of Marion is vice-president and Thomas M. Shoemaker, G of Ottumwa, is treasurer.

Six candidates for membership were elected last week and will be formally initiated into the fraternity shortly after Christmas vacation, according to Rotty, publicity chairman.

They are John C. Lattimer, E4 of Randolph; Thomas N. Mortimore, E4 of Lamoni; Duane A. Nollsch, E4 of Marion; Irving Brown, E4 of Camden, N. J.; Robert B. Whitley, E4 of Muscatine, and Howard S. Patterson, E4 of Reynolds, Neb.

Faculty members of the newly reorganized fraternity are Prof. E. B. Kurtz and Prof. Lawrence A. Ware of the electrical engineering department.

Prep Speech Students To Compete at U. High

University high school today will play host to approximately 125 high school speech students from eastern Iowa.

This morning's activities include extemporaneous speaking, oratory and discussions. The afternoon program will be confined to debating.

The festival is under the direction of Dr. C. W. Edney, head of University high school speech department. Members of his senior and graduate classes will judge the speaking and furnish criticisms of the speeches.

Betty Erickson is general manager of the festival.

Co-op Store Charter Gets State Approval

The charter for a co-op grocery store for all married students and for faculty members living in emergency housing units was approved this week by Iowa Secretary of State Wayne M. Ropes.

The store will be established in the stone shelter house on the west bank of the river near Rivendale village.

Volunteers from Rivendale and Hawkeye trailer villages will probably start work on shelving in the building next week, according to Robert Riggs, A4 of Ames, chairman of the temporary board of directors.

The first official co-op meeting will be held Monday at 7 p.m. in 221A Schaeffer hall. Shareholders will elect seven members to the permanent board of directors.

The co-op store was authorized by university officials Nov. 22 for establishment at Rivendale. Cost for membership is $25 a share.

Iowan Editors Talk Way to Second Win In WSUI News Quiz

Representatives of The Daily Iowan last night talked their way to victory for the second time on WSUI's current events quiz "It's News to Me."

By a score of 59 to 55, Gene Goodwin, G of Nashua, editor, and Bill Miller, A3 of Baltimore, Md., managing editor, defeated Betty Ann Erickson, A4 of Spencer, and Jean Collier, A4 of Freeport, Ill.

The men previously had won a contest with representatives of university radio and the women had beaten university men.

"It's News to Me" is broadcast every Friday at 7 p.m. under the direction of Prof. Arthur M. Barnes of the school of journalism, and is announced by Dick Yoakam, G of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Two Hurt in City High Chemistry Laboratory

Nancy Whitver, 16, 1921 F street and John Walker, 8 Melrose circle, were treated yesterday at University hospital for minor facial burns after a test tube of bromine gas exploded at City high school.

Walker, chemistry instructor, and Miss Whitver, student, were preparing the bromine in the school chemistry laboratory yesterday morning when the accident occurred.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana was endorsed yesterday by the powerful 28-man Pennsylvania Republican delegation for GOP floor leader in the new congress.

Come to think of it, by 1949

Miss Sherman will have traveled more than the distance between New York and London. It just shows what Miss Sherman can do with figures.

NEW METER GETS TEST

Work Gives Girl Lift Despite Ups and Downs

Work has its ups and downs for Norman Sherman of Coralville. She's the pretty brown-haired elevator operator in the Iowa State Bank and Trust building—if you haven't already noticed.

On an average day, Miss Sherman estimates, she makes about 25 to 30 trips an hour between the first and sixth floors of the building. Figured roughly, this adds up to about 35 miles of travel a week—all up and down.

By Christmas, at this rate, she will have traveled as far as the distance between Iowa City and Omaha.

Front and rear end damages to Vanderham's car were estimated at $200. Damages to the second auto totaled $190.

The accident occurred on Iowa avenue between the bridge and Madison street.

Truck Delivers Fire To Firemen — Service

After answering two false alarms Thursday, firemen were agreeably surprised yesterday morning when a fire was delivered to them to be extinguished.

The fire was under the chassis of a delivery truck driven by George Albrecht. Albrecht decided that the easiest way to handle the situation was simply to drive the truck over to the fire station, where firemen promptly put out the fire.

$114,926 Pledged In Hospital Drive—77 Percent of Goal

Over three-fourths of the Mercy hospital expansion movement's $150,000 subscription goal was realized yesterday with workers reporting a total of $114,926 in pledges.

This is 77 percent of the amount needed to secure a grant of $450,000 from the Sisters of Mercy at Chicago for an addition to the hospital. It exceeded last week's total by $45,549.

Leading contributors were doctors on the Mercy hospital staff. They have pledged $45,450—114 percent of their $40,000 sub-goal.

With several more physicians still to be contacted, Dr. Paul A. Reed, president of the staff, said, "I think we'll hit the $50,000 mark before we're finished."

Harry Morrison, professional consultant for the campaign, who has handled many such hospital drives, commented that this is the highest total from doctors in his experience, the previous record being $27,000.

Other sections reported sizable gains since last week. The advance gifts section had $45,572—three-fourths of its goal. The small town and rural area section reached 32 percent of its aim with pledges of $12,673.

The women's section reported $2,824, and the classified group came through with $8,313. Rather than make a partial report after getting under way just this week, the university section withheld its figures pending a later meeting.

Urging Iowa City business employees to follow the example of one local store, H.S. Ivie, head of a classified sub-section, reported that employees of a clothing store had contributed $340—an average of $20 per person.

L.D. Wareham, general chairman of the drive, complimented workers on progress to date and urged further efforts toward a successful completion of the campaign. He said a third report luncheon will be held Friday in Reich's pine room.

Junior Farm Bureau To Observe Chartering

Johnson county junior Farm Bureau members will celebrate tenth annual writing of the club charter at their holiday dinner dance Monday night in Hotel Jefferson.

The group has recognized writing of the charter each year since 1936 when it was inscribed.

Ten former junior Farm Bureau presidents will speak. Leslie Milder, president, West Branch, will be toastmaster.

Officers for the 1947 year will be introduced. They are Kenneth Smalley, president, and Philip Hotka, vice-president, both route 3; Mary Ann Thuerau, secretary, Solon, and Matt Eckermann, treasurer, Oxford.

Election of three Iowa City men to offices in the sixteenth district group of the Iowa Pharmaceutical association was announced yesterday.

Edward S. Rose, 227 Person avenue, was elected president, and George W. Miller, 702 Iowa avenue and Robert H. Gibbs, 529 S. Lucas street, were elected vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Dean R.A. Kuever, who made the announcement, and Mayor Wilber J. Teeters canvassed the election.

The pharmaceutical group is made up of pharmacists in Johnson, Cedar, Washington, Iowa and Muscatine counties.
