Sub-Zero Cold Wave Spreads Over Midwest

Mercury Hits 40 Below In Minnesota; Snow Covers Most of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A sub-zero cold wave began spreading over the midwest yesterday as the most severe and widespread storms of the winter continued unabated in vast sections of the country.

The cold moving south and east from central Canada brought temperatures as low as 34 degrees below zero.

Grain analysts said the heavy snow blanket already on the ground had assured at least temporary safety of the winter wheat crop.

Lowest readings included: Bemidji, Minn., 40 below; West Yellowstone, Mont., 34 below; Glasgow, Mont., 23 below; Bryce, Utah, 23 below; and Idaho Falls, Idaho, 12 below.

Abnormally cold weather also prevailed in the far west. Temperatures dropped to near freezing at Bakersfield, Calif.

A wide snow belt, ranging in depth to 24 inches at Alpena, Mich., stretched from New Mexico to western Pennsylvania. Snow also covered many parts of New England. A freezing rain glazed highways in northwestern Ohio, northern Pennsylvania and western New York.

The heavy precipitation snarled traffic in more than a score of states, and Kentucky faced the threat of floods as rain and melting snow caused some rivers to rise to near flood stage.

Texas experienced the coldest winter in several years. A four to 10-inch snow blanket in the north-west and western parts of the state disrupted communications and endangered livestock.

Schools at Clovis, Portales and Tucuman, N. M., were closed as a gas conservation measure.

Congress Gets Bill to Cut Taxes; Labor Legislation Drive Begins

Knutson's Measure Meets Opposition From Both Sides

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans offered as house bill No. 1 of the new congress yesterday a measure to cut individual income taxes a total of $3,350,000,000.

For most taxpayers it would mean a 20 percent cut. Controversy broke out immediately. Some Republicans as well as Democrats criticized the measure. The opposition cried for government economy, budget balancing and debt reduction, ahead of tax slashing.

The bill was offered by Chairman Knutson (R., Minn.) of the tax-drafting house ways and means committee. It proposes a slash by 20 percent in the tax load of all individual income less than $300,000 annually, effective Jan. 1, 1947.

But, declaring that "in general, incomes above $300,000 are unearned," Knutson wrote into the measure a stipulation that on incomes above that amount the reduction would be held to 10.5 percent.

Additionally, the bill sets out: 1. The income of no person, however high it might be, shall be taxed over 76.5 percent.

2. On April 1 all the withholdings from pay envelopes and salary checks shall be reduced to meet the tax reduction.

3. An added advantage to taxpayers over 65 years old is granted, with each person in that age group being allowed an additional exemption of $500, making a total of $1,000 of income exempt from taxes.

Senator Byrd (D., Va.) told newsmen:

"Before we reduce taxes we must reduce government expenditures, eliminating many thousands of federal employees, remove duplicating federal activities and make other economies. We must balance the budget and pay something on the debt. Then, when we can, cut taxes."

Forgive Price Violators, House Bill Asks

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Forgiveness" of all pending charges of violating price control regulations was proposed yesterday in a bill by Rep. William Cole (R., Mo.) to repeal the price control act.

Other house bills introduced at the opening session of the 80th congress included:

Patman (D., Tex.)—To provide that bonds issued under the armed forces leave act may be cashed immediately.

Scrivner (R., Kas.)—To repeal provision for $200 a month ceiling for on-the-job training, pending study of "a reasonable" higher ceiling.

Scrivner (R., Kas.)—Resolution declaring all war hostilities at end.

Delegate Bartlett of Alaska—To provide admission of Alaska to the union as a new state.

Powell (D., N.Y.)—Anti-lynching bill, providing fines or imprisonment for officers or employees failing to protect persons in their custody and authorizing payments of from $2,000 to $10,000 to survivors of lynching victims.

Engel (R., Mich.)—To raise income tax exemption of single persons from $500 to $1,000 and of married couples from $1,000 to $2,000.

Southerners Stall Efforts To Oust Bilbo

Debate Enables Only One of 37 Senators To Take Official Oath

WASHINGTON (AP)—Balked in their efforts to seat Senator (D., Miss.), Southerners struck back yesterday with a filibuster which prevented the organization of the new senate.

After hours of tumultuous debate and parliamentary skirmishing, the chamber recessed early this evening until 11 a. m., CST, today.

No final decision had been reached on whether the Mississippi senator, accused of intimidating Negroes from voting and violating the law in his dealings with war contractors, should be barred or not.

But for the time being at least, he was prevented from taking the oath.

Raising the banner of states' rights, a group of Southerners began a talkfest which delayed the swearing in of 36 new and re-elected senators and the formal Republican accession to power which the November voters decreed.

But Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.), in the forefront of the movement to bar Bilbo, told a reporter that Republicans are "determined to break this filibuster."

After today's session, he said, advocates of seating Bilbo, will be given "time to think it over Sunday."

"If they still are filibustering Monday," he said, "we are going to keep the senate in session night and day until they give up."

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Democratic leader, told reporters after the senate quit for the day that he is offering the Republicans a compromise under which Bilbo would be seated for the time being and his case called up for senate action Jan. 17.

The Barkley proposal would include a provision setting out that the senate should decide Bilbo's fate by a majority vote. But Senator Taft (R., Ohio), an anti-Bilbo leader, told reporters he doubts that the senate could bind itself in that matter. He expressed belief a two-thirds vote would be needed to oust Bilbo once he was seated, even temporarily.

The Ohio senator said the Republicans would discuss the Barkley proposal and other angles of the Bilbo case at a conference this morning.

Anti-Bilbo forces demonstrated their strength in two test votes—one went 38 to 20, the other 30 to 19—but Bilbo's supporters picked up the debate each time and went right on.

Sharp words flew in the senate chamber and in the office where the Southerners organized for the defense of Bilbo.

"Simply rotten, putrid politics on the part of the Republican leadership," was the way Senator Ellender (D., La.) described to reporters the GOP decision to challenge Bilbo's right to take the oath.

But it was a Democrat, Senator Taylor of Idaho, who offered the first motion against seating Bilbo, and he used even more pointed language himself.

Charging that Bilbo tried to intimidate Negroes from voting in last summer's Mississippi primary, Taylor said that Bilbo made his campaign speeches "in an atmosphere redolent of the odors of hate, of burning flesh, of tar, of feathers and gunpowder," and "has taken the solemn, midnight pledge of membership" in the Ku Klux Klan.

Hours after noon, when the session convened, the senate found itself with only one new member sworn in out of 37 elected or re-elected, and with Leslie L. Biffle, the outgoing Democratic secretary of the senate, still presiding.

He instructed the clerk to call the roll of senators-elect in alphabetical order, and former Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut took the oath as a Republican member.

The next name was Bilbo's. When the reading clerk pronounced it, the chamber rattled (See BILBO, page 5)

Terror on Speeding Bus

Two Drink-Crazed Brothers Beat Driver, Fire 14 Shots Among Passengers

PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP)—An hour of terror on a speeding Greyhound bus, in which two brothers went berserk, beat the driver and fired 14 shots among the 23 passengers was described here yesterday.

Women prayed and men cringed as the vehicle roared through rain and mist in the darkness of midnight with a drink-crazed man directing the driver.

To enforce his demands for more speed or less speed, the shouting, laughing figure temporarily in command held a jagged whisky bottle to the driver's throat and banged him on the head with a pistol.

The nightmare ended when passengers overpowered the men at Wheelersburg, a Portsmouth suburb, about 1 a. m. yesterday.

Maybe the Tenor Didn't Like the Tone Of Her Glance

By JOHN P. MCKNIGHT
ROME (AP)—The soprano wept the director pleaded, the management cajoled, but fiery Giacoma Lauri-Volpi refused to sing his tenor role in "Manon" last night, because his artistic temperament had been ruffled.

Rome's opera house, sold out for the Jules Massenot work, stood to lose a million lire ($4,445), but to the begging musicians, the former Metropolitan Opera star replied, simply but firmly: "I won't sing."

It all began at the final dress rehearsal. Nobody is sure what happened, but the usually accurate music critic of the newspaper Il Messagero said the 25-year-old blonde soprano, Giuliana Fontanelli, inadvertently turned her back on the tenor during a tender, romantic scene.

Whatever it was, it was too much. Signora Fontanelli pleaded for forgiveness in a cascade of tears. It was no use. Aluri-Volpi's wrath could not be assuaged by mere words. The performance was off Thursday night and was cancelled again last night.

"Boy, I was scared to death all the time," Driver C.L. Stillwell, 36, of Charleston, W. Va., declared last night as he recounted the 30-mile trip along the Ohio river from Ironton, O., to Wheelersburg.

Stillwell was weak from loss of blood as he rested in a hospital, but otherwise was in good condition. Lawrence Steele of Cincinnati, a passenger, was treated for a broken nose.

In jail were Hobart Griffith, 26, an ex-soldier released from a veterans hospital a month ago, and Ray Griffith, 20. From Wheelwright, Ky.

Hobart, described by Deputy Sheriff Burt Justice as the man who beat the driver with a pistol, was charged with shooting with intent to kill. Ray was charged with assault.

Attacked by Citizens
The brothers were attacked by a crowd of Wheelersburg citizens, aroused by the passengers' harrowing accounts, and sheriff's deputies had to rescue them and rush them to jail.

The pair boarded the bus at Huntington over the objection of Stillwell, who said they had been drinking. The excitement began after the bus left Ironton when Stillwell remonstrated with the men because of their language.

Hobart, said Deputy Justice, fired shots through the floor of the bus and into the driver's seat. Then he took command of the bus and operated the accelerator while the driver strove desperately to steer.

Going to Shoot Veterans
The climax came. Officer Justice said, when Hobart announced he was going to shoot all the war veterans and then drive the bus and the others into the Ohio river.

"You're first," Justice said Hobart told the driver; "But I don't want to shoot you sitting down. You must stand up."

Stillwell had to stop the bus to stand up. Then the passengers jumped Griffith and his brother. The Griffith brothers were tossed out of the bus and walked down the highway to a garage, where they surrendered meekly.

Nine Flying Explorers Lost at South Pole

Navy Scout Plane Four Days Overdue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy disclosed yesterday that nine naval air explorers are missing in the desolate region of the South Polar ice belt, four days overdue on a scouting flight from the navy's seaborne Antarctic expedition.

Garbled radio communication blacked out reports on a widespread and developing search for the lost aircraft.

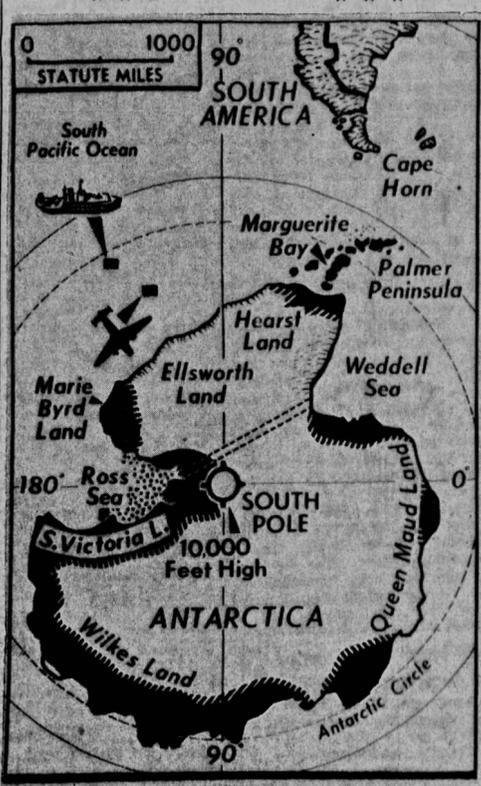

First messages reaching the navy here said the missing plane took off from the seaplane tender U. S. S. Pine Island at 4:45 a. m. (CST) Dec. 30 and was due to return at 2:45 p. m. the same day. The plane is a two-engine PBM Mariner seaplane.

The navy said the last report from the big patrol bomber—one of three sent out on a reconnaissance flight over the Roosevelt and Bellingshausen seas near the great polar ice belt—was received at 6:25 a. m., Dec. 30. Then it was about 250 miles south of the U. S. S. Pine Island. Earlier flights had reported open water in the area.

Rescuers Reach Twelve Trapped by Snowside

TIMARU, South Island, New Zealand (AP)—Rescuers picking their way over treacherous icy ridges of New Zealand's southern Alps yesterday brought 12 survivors of an ill-fated collegiate mountain climbing expedition to a temporary haven after two days and two nights of entrapment by a snowslide.

Three of the survivors were described as "stretcher" cases.

Mysterious Message Starts Plane Search

LA GRANDE, Ore. (AP)—A figure busily sweeping away a snow-written appeal for help dimmed belief in a plane crash yesterday, but state police started for the isolated mountain site nevertheless.

A person who tramped a series of conflicting messages in deep snow while planes hovered overhead this morning was observed later yesterday frantically sweeping the lettering out of sight with a broom.

Looking for Marine Plane
The first mysterious lettering, spotted at a time when a search was still underway for a marine transport plane missing since Dec. 10 with 32 aboard last heard of 200 miles northeast of here, said "herookplain," with an arrow pointing southward. A figure, visible in a mountain clearing seven or eight miles from here, waved frantically beside it.

A message was dropped to the man who came running out of a cabin at the edge of a clearing where the letters were tramped. It told him to cross out certain letters to indicate whether a plane was down, whether help was needed and whether all aboard were dead.

Someone Injured
The man trampled over the letters H, E and R, which indicated, of the request was followed correctly by him, that someone was injured, that a plane was down and that help was needed.

He then added letters in the snow to spell out "All O. K."

The man on the ground did not cross out letters which would have indicated many injured.

See Increase in Newsprint

WASHINGTON (AP)—The commerce department estimated yesterday that 1947 production of newsprint in this country will increase 150,000 tons above last year's output of 750,000 tons. This country, dependent principally upon foreign supplies, consumed 4,000,000 tons during 1946, the department said.

There's a Blot on the Record

Near the top of the list of the things which happened in 1946 for which Uncle Sam can hang his head in shame is the lynching of six American citizens.

This number, say the Institute people, is five more than 1945, four more than 1944, three more than 1943 and one more than 1942.

The Tuskegee people reported also that there were at least 17 instances in the last year when lynchings were prevented.

All of the six persons lynched were Negroes, one in Mississippi, one in Louisiana and three in Georgia.

There it is. And when the historians write in the chapter labeled 1946 that in this great and glorious year American civilization moved another step forward...

Long-Winded Statesmanship

The national council for a permanent fair employment practice commission has announced that it will make another attempt at getting a permanent FEPC law through congress.

You don't have to be in favor of FEPC to be disgusted with the possibility of a few long-winded senators preventing an issue from coming to a fair vote.

Washington observers report considerable sentiment in favor of abolishing the two thirds rule on cloture and permitting limitation of debate by a simple majority.

A Fable of Birds and Species

"And the nests in heaven" Mama Sparrow told Junior, "are all made of celephane and tinfoil and colored beads...

"But where do they get the worms, Mama? Who pulls them for us?"

"Nobdly silly. Lord High Most Almighty Sparrow just flaps his wings and everything any Sparrow could ever want is provided."

"But, Mama," complained Junior, "I don't want a celephane nest. And I want to hunt my worms. I don't want to eat out of a silver dish..."

"Don't talk like a birdling," Mama said crossly. "Of course you'd like heaven. Everybody does. You wouldn't have to work anymore..."

"Junior stared sulkily at his toes and clamped his beak tight."

"What I'm getting at," Mama said, "is that you have to be a very good little sparrow, and lately I've been worried about you. Every time I see you're playing with Sandy and Sue Robin and Bobby Bluebird and Eddie Meadowlark..."

"Why, Junior," Mama said in horror, "it was a lovely fat worm and you know it. That's just exactly what I mean. You're young and impressionable and those other birds are indoctrinating you with their ideas..."

(Reprinted From The Daily Iowan of June 13, 1946)

of the Sparrows my age. And Eddie Meadowlark's singing makes our family sound croaky. Why just because I'm a Sparrow do all my friends have to be Sparrows?"

"That's a lousy set-up, Mama," Junior protested. "You're all wrong. Heaven's not like that at all. Sandy and Eddie say heaven is for all birds regardless of voice, color or species. They say..."

"I knew we shouldn't have sent him to that public bird school," she muttered. "He's been mingling with all kinds of birds and he's just full of crazy ideas."

Ogden Reid, Publisher of Herald-Tribune, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Ogden Reid, president-publisher of the New York Herald Tribune, died last night.

Reid, 64, had been ill for some time. Staunchly Republican, Reid once said that his editorial policy was founded on a phrase from an editorial written by his father at the close of the Grant-Greeley presidential campaign.

The phrase read: "The honest presentation of the news—whether it hinders or helps the side we favor—we believe to be the duty of a great newspaper which means to deal fairly with its readers."

"But, Mama," Junior protested, "Heavenly Savior was a Wren. If heaven is just one kind of birds, why isn't it Wrens instead of Sparrows?"

"What color are Wrens?" Mama asked. "Brown." "What color are you?" "Brown."

James D. White's Interpreting the News...

More and more will be heard of a movement to standardize arms in various parts of the world.

Limited Anglo-American cooperation along this line already is under way, but the allegation by a Paris paper that this foreshadows an Anglo-American military alliance apparently ignores the fact that such an alliance would have to be approved by the American senate.

The last congress let the U. S. proposal to standardize arms in this hemisphere die in committee, and it remains to be seen what the new congress will do about it.

The long-range importance of standardizing arms could be very great if and when the police force of the United Nations comes into existence it seems almost a foregone conclusion if United Nations security forces are to achieve real effectiveness.

Bowles Calls Upon Liberals to Form Progressive Front Divorced From Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chester Bowles last night called on American liberals to organize a progressive front, divorced from Communist influence, to work through the Democratic party with all its faults.

"We should not harbor any illusions about a third party," the wartime price administrator declared in a speech delivered at a dinner meeting of the Union for Democratic Action.

Two Roosevelts—the president's widow and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.—heard Bowles denounce the "reactionary tub-thumping leadership of the Republican party in whose hands, he said, repose 'our political, economic and social destiny for the next two years at least.'"

Leaders of the UDA, which ruled out Communist participation by a "non-totalitarian" platform, made little effort to disguise their hope of capturing leadership of this country's "liberal" element.

If it rejects the third-party idea, as Bowles recommended, it will distinguish itself from the "Progressive Citizens of America," which came into being in New York last Monday by the merger of 10 groups including the National Citizens Political Action Committee (NC-PAC) and the independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions.

Reid, 64, had been ill for some time. Staunchly Republican, Reid once said that his editorial policy was founded on a phrase from an editorial written by his father at the close of the Grant-Greeley presidential campaign.

PARTY LINEUP AS 80th CONGRESS CONVENES

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS FOR 99 YEARS have struggled for control of the government, and with the opening of the 80th Congress, a new shift again takes place.

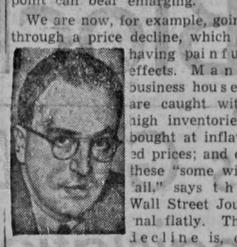

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

Government Becomes a Referee

By SAMUEL GRAFTON, New York Post Syndicate

There will be great changes in our ways of thinking this year, and I do not refer merely to such obvious predictables as the arrival of a buyers' market, with shoppers holding merchandise up to the light once more, and pinching it before buying.

I passed a remark the other day to the effect that political conservatism, which has been on the offensive for so many years, must now take the defensive, and the point can bear enlarging.

GRAFTON

Up to now if things went badly, you could blame the government, because the government, in New Deal years, had accepted responsibility for seeing that things went well.

For we now have a government consisting of a conservative legislature, and of an executive branch which, in spite of its liberal protestations, no longer takes an actionist approach to economic problems; it is a government which will, in all likelihood, be found busily examining its fingernails should unemployment, late this year, increase to four or five millions, as has been suggested.

If we can't blame government, who can we blame? Perhaps those who believe in, and have set into operation, an anti-government government? That is the sort of thing I had in mind when pluses develop, and when we may see the farmer dropping his temporary faith in the law of supply and demand, and approaching a (conservative) government to ask for relief measures, perhaps even for such recently hated liberalistic devices as crop control.

Time, in other words, has already begun to run against political conservatism. The famous swing of the pendulum from left to right, which conservatism fought so eagerly, has been completed; now the pendulum is, perhaps, in the first wobble of its backward trip, and there is ground for feeling that the time which will be consumed from now to 1948 will be conservative time.

That will become clearer later this year, when agricultural sur-

pluses develop, and when we may see the farmer dropping his temporary faith in the law of supply and demand, and approaching a (conservative) government to ask for relief measures, perhaps even for such recently hated liberalistic devices as crop control.

Or when a rise in unemployment again raises the issue of public works and pump priming, with conservatism, in charge of the government, having to meet this issue defensively. Conservatism, in power, will find it harder to utter the familiar arguments against these devices when it was in the minority; the glee and the zest and the jokes will not be there.

For the Really Jobless

(The Christian Science Monitor)

Payment of unemployment compensation to strikers was asked by the recent national CIO convention. Four states now give jobless insurance to strikers after certain periods of disqualification.

The funds which finance unemployment insurance for men and women out of work are furnished almost exclusively by employers. They pay a special tax for the purpose. Thus an employer, in a sense, may finance a strike against himself when a strike runs long enough.

State payments to strikers, it seems certain, have helped to prolong what is now, according to records of the United States Department of Labor, the second longest strike in the country.

In certain of the industrial states, unemployment compensation has risen to two-thirds of the former wages of many workers. Jobless insurance should be preserved for its original purpose: compensation for involuntary, voluntary, unemployment.

Record Review

TOPS IN WAX — Stan Kenton and Harry James both share honors for the current outstanding albums.

KENTON: "Artistry in Rhythm." JAMES: "All Time Favorites." In Stan's album of four 10-inch discs, he climaxes over five years of effort to all-bumize his distinctive and original music.

Eddie Safrancki, original music. He offers eight stirring sides, all originals, never before recorded and each based upon his "Artistry Theme." Among the titles he features famous Kenton sidemen—Safrancki, written for the bassist and rhythmic spark-plug of the band, Eddie Safrancki; "Artistry in Percussion," features his new drumming sensation, Shelby Manne (of the prewar Bobby Byrde band); "Fantasy"—with solos by Vido Musso, tenor, and Boots Mussulli, alto; and a bit of Debussy in "Willow Weep For Me"—some choice warbling by June Christy and tromboning by Kai Winding (Capitol). The James album includes those scarce collector's items—"Concerto For Trumpet," "Flight of the Bumble Bee," and "One and Two o'Clock Jumps." The balance of the eight sides include such as "Sleepy Lagoon" and "You Made Me Love You." All discs are selected from the great James productions that stand as milestones marking his climb to fame (Columbia).

DANCE — Dance records this month fall into a relaxed vein with Tex Beneke and the Miller band leading off with the immortal Carmichael opus—"Stardust," and backing it with "Falling Leaves." Both instrumentals receive the same arranging care that Tex consistently uses to capture the attention of audiences and record buyers, and retain the same high standards he has set and maintained since the inception of the organized band (RCA Victor). Another Victor offering is their dynamic star, Desi Arnez, who with band plays a bolero—"I'll Never Love Again" (with Elsa Miranda vocal), and an instrumental, "Tia Juana." Gene Krupa, of the frantic stick-lips, has a highly listenable pairing in "There Is No Breeze" and "Are't You Kind of Glad We Did?" Carolyn Grey sings on both, and on the latter she is joined by Buddy Stewart (Columbia) Capitol's great staff band, Paul Weston, pair Matt Dennis in vocals of "So Would I" and "At Sundown," a favorite of the '20's. Charlie Spivak leaves his Sweetest Trumpet in the case except for a short warm-up, and the band makes an instrumental pairing of "Stomping Room Only" and "Let's Go Home" (RCA Victor).

VOCAL STANDOUTS — Bing Crosby, with backing supplied by John Scott Trotter and band, sings "Anniversary Waltz" and "You're In My Heart Alone" (Decca). In a lighter vein, the King Cole Trio, with Nat Cole at piano and vocals, make one of their typical—"It's The Beginning of The End" and "But, She's My Buddy's Chick" (Capitol). Dinah Shore has one of the best of "A Rainy Night in Rio," reversed with "Through A Thousand Dreams" (Columbia).

JAZZ FOR COLLECTORS — Blue Note, the famous label of the Chicago and New Orleans styles, makes an entry into frantic modernism with Tiny Grimes and Swinglet. Tiny, always a great guitarist, finds some excellent show-casing in the two-sided 10-inch "Flying Home," and in another 10-inch released at the same time, "Tiny's Boogie Woogie" backed with "C Jam Blues." He uses Trummie Young, trom; John Hardee, tenor; Marjorie Morris, piano; Jimmy Butts, bass and Eddie Nicholson, drums. Trummie's trom stands out, so does the Grimes guitar. Hardee's tenor gets raucous in its exhibitionism and several ragged spots in the ensemble appear during the excitement. The tempo on all four sides is fundamentally the same, it still gets, a lashing into pressure which causes bobbles and rushing, noticeable at the drums and piano— which disconcerts. Those who like rhythm and licks from melodic instruments instead of great tone production, may enjoy these.

NEW and Worthy Impressions in Wax LIFE CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—Vaughn Monroe, dance (RCA Victor) THAT'S MY DESIRE—Frankie Lane and Manny Klein Orch., vocal (Mercury) OH, BUT I DO—Harry James, dance (Columbia) HADDA BROOKS BOOGIE—Piano Boogie Album (Modern Music)

Want Pay Boost NEW YORK (AP)—The CIO United Electrical workers will seek wage increases of approximately 2 1/2 cents an hour from four large electrical companies with 225,000 employees, union officials said yesterday on the eve of a conference to formulate demands. During World War I not more than a million yards of airplane material was produced in the United States.

Hospital Drive For Expansion Hits $140,734

The inventory season, university vacation, recent heavy snowfall and holidays in general were blamed for the small turnout of campaign workers which yesterday added just $10,144 to Mercy hospital expansion contributions at the first report meeting since Dec. 20 in Hotel Jefferson.

The new unofficial total is $140,734—93.8 percent of the $150,000 needed to secure a Sisters of Mercy grant for additions to the hospital costing a total of $600,000.

With $9,266 still needed to reach the goal, section heads said much of that amount is probably now in the hands of campaign workers but has not been officially turned in. L. D. Wareham, general chairman of the drive, urged all workers to complete solicitations and to report their totals at the next meeting, which will be announced later.

"I don't think we need to be discouraged," he said. "We've run into this storm and the holidays, and if everyone gets busy and contacts the people not heard from, I'm sure we can bring the drive to a successful completion."

Announcement was made that expansion headquarters has been moved from 15 1/2 S. Dubuque street to Mercy hospital. Workers may contact the office by dialing 4131 and asking for expansion drive headquarters or by calling in person at the first-floor room in Mercy hospital's old wing near the Van Buren street entrance.

Notices of pledges becoming due are to be sent to contributors starting today. The money may be paid at either of Iowa City's banks.

Harry Murrison, professional consultant who organized the campaign, returned from Des Moines for yesterday's meeting and expressed optimism that the goal will soon be not only reached but exceeded.

He urged workers to "go over the top, because Mercy hospital is going to need more than the $600,000 with building conditions what they are."

Marion Whinery, Jackson Casey Plan Candlelight Wedding

The home where her parents were married will be the scene of Marion Whinery's wedding today, when she will become the bride of Jackson Casey of Dallas, Tex.

Dr. M. Willard Lampe will perform the candlelight ceremony this evening at 8 o'clock in the presence of Miss Whinery's parents and the couple's close friends, at the home of Mrs. Graham Bradley, 305 S. Summit street.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Whinery, 1023 Kirkwood avenue, are the parents of the bride-to-be, and Mr. Casey's parents are Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Casey of Dallas.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father. She will wear her mother's bridal gown of ivory satin brocade with rosepoint lace and pearl trimming and will carry a bouquet of cream roses. Her veil will be one of floor-length tulle and one of silk lace falling to her waist.

Matron of honor will be Mrs. Ingalls Bradley of Rochester, N. Y., wearing an aqua crepe floor-length dress and carrying red roses.

Miss Whinery's mother will wear a gold crepe floor-length gown trimmed in sequins and complemented with green orchids.

A reception will be held in the Bradley home after the ceremony.

After a short wedding trip to Chicago the couple will go to Rochester where they will make their home.

Miss Whinery was graduated from Iowa City high school and the University of Iowa.

Mr. Casey is a graduate of Texas A & M university at College Station.

Glenn Shalla Injures Wrist as Ladder Falls

Glenn Shalla, 301 Chapman street, Coralville, was reported "resting easily" in University hospital last night after an accident which seriously injured his wrist Thursday afternoon while he was working as a painter in the chemistry building.

When the ladder on which he was standing slipped, Shalla fell and smashed his right elbow through a glass window, cutting the wrist deeply. Quick application of a tourniquet by Henry Bowman and Wendell Kerr, pharmacists, and Ray Englert, painter foreman, was credited with averting more serious consequences.

Shalla was expected to remain in the hospital two weeks.

A GOOD SNOWJOB

SHOVELING SNOW may have been a trial for many yesterday but it wasn't for those of the young high school set who solved the problem by working in twosomes, as these two did. Doing a little friendly heckling with a snowball is Mary Ladd, daughter of Dean and Mrs. Mason Ladd, 330 S. Summit street, who looks as if pal Bob Ojemann has just given her a "snowjob." Ojemann is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Ojemann, 819 N. Linn street.

Grad Student Knows the Ropes of Writing

By KEN KEW

"He knows enough to fill a book." That statement can be applied aptly to Don Jackson, G of Glenwood.

Since 1936 when he enrolled at Iowa State college at Ames, Don has had one book published, was the author of a history of naval research activities and now is in the process of completing his second novel.

In the span of years from 1936 to 1942, Jackson attended Iowa State college. During this time his extra-curricular activities included: columnist for the Iowa State Daily Student, college newspaper; editor of The Green Guard, college humor magazine; news editor of WOJ, college radio station, and correspondent to the Des Moines Register for 18 months.

Beside all this, he wrote a novel. In his free moments, Jackson also succeeded in earning his bachelor of arts degree.

In 1942 Jackson's first novel, "Archer Pilgrim," was published. It was the story of a young farm boy and his struggle to return to the soil. Included in the many favorable reviews of the book was one by Margaret Walla, book critic for The New York Times.

Jackson, who will receive an M.A. degree in February, says he has no immediate plans for the future. That may be, but don't be surprised to read of him some day as the author of a best-seller.

Among Iowa Citizens

Mrs. B.J. Lambert, 4 Melrose street, is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F.B. Forward, at their home in Harrisonburg, Virginia. Mrs. Lambert is expected home about Feb. 1.

Prof. L.D. Longman and his sons, Stanley and Richard, 934 Highwood drive, will spend the weekend with Prof. Longman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Longman of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Edgar of Morning Sun, and sons, Sam, Bruce, Robert and David, will be dinner guests tonight in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Hensley, 117 Richards street. After dinner the group will attend the Iowa-Wisconsin basketball game.

Holiday guests of Mrs. B. M. Ricketts, 1602 Wilson street, were her sisters, Edith Sunderlin of Ames and Gertrude Sunderlin of Lafayette, Ind. Edith Sunderlin returned home Thursday and Gertrude will leave Iowa City tomorrow.

Ray J. Slezak, Iowa City, and Lois A. Woodcock, Davenport, were issued a marriage license yesterday by R. Neilson Miller, clerk of the district court.

A 6-pound, 7-ounce girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Campbell, 627 First avenue, yesterday in Mercy hospital.

Speech Associate Elects O.C. Irwin to Fellowship

Prof. Orvis C. Irwin of the child welfare department was elected an honorary fellow by the American Speech Correction association on the basis of his presentation Monday of a short course at their annual convention in Chicago.

Professor Irwin's course was on the mastery of speech sounds during infancy. The award was made in recognition of the fundamental importance of his research findings for speech pathologists and of the excellence of his presentation, according to Prof. Wendell Johnson, head of the speech clinic.

Italian Premier to Ask U.S. for $1-Billion Loan

PARIS (AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi of Italy flew toward the Azores last night enroute to the United States where it was reported he hoped to find for his cold and hungry people a loan of $1,000,000,000.

It was understood that none of the funds which might be forthcoming from the United States could be used for paying Italy's war reparations bill of $380,000,000.

The body will be at the Oath-out funeral home until Monday at 1 p.m.

Cooks' Caprice

By MARY HUISKAMP

Husbands, and maybe wives too; must have been pretty hungry yesterday after clearing their walks of that heavy snow. There are sure to be more snowfalls like it this month, so why not have good hot johnny cake ready to eat after that cold hour of shoveling snow?

More than 50 years ago Mrs. W. C. Shepard of Allison was given the following advice:

"Then mix and bake the johnny cake. And beat the omelet white; The surest plan to please a man Is through his appetite."

This week the Iowa woman sent the poem to the Iowa Development commission along with her recommended recipe for corn bread, which will be included in the Iowa Cook book the state promotion agency will publish this year. Her instructions for making corn bread are as follows:

- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 3/4 cup Iowa corn meal
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten.
- 1 tablespoon melted lard
- 1 1/4 cups milk

Add the milk and lard to the egg, and combine with the dry ingredients. Bake one half hour at 375 degrees. This recipe makes 12 generous servings.

Speaking of recent snowfalls, I know a lot of you are making good use of your rubber boots to plow through drifts. And if many of you are getting raw red marks around your legs where the tops of the boots rub, as I have been, here's my solution.

Cut a wide elastic band to fit the calf of your leg at the top of the boot, making the band long enough to stay put but not bind.

Then take two pretty scraps of cloth, perhaps a plaid, line them with cotton and sew the little pads to the elastic.

Pesto — leg-protectors! Just slip them on your legs and adjust to the tops of your boots.

Unitarian Church Plans Late Afternoon Vespers

The Rev. Evans Worthley of the Unitarian church announced yesterday that a series of late afternoon vespers services would be substituted for regular morning services during January.

It has been customary to make this substitution for several years, he said, in order to provide a candlelight setting for the music and theme of the service.

The theme for tomorrow will be "A Community of Freedom." The services are held from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

University Nurses Alumnae association will hold its January meeting in Westlawn parlors at 7:45 Monday evening.

Iowa City Women's Club

"Sew Easy Secrets" will be the answer to roll call Tuesday at the meeting of the home department of the Iowa City Women's club. Mrs. Marjorie Scott will demonstrate how to pin-fit a slipcover to a chair at this meeting at 2:30 p. m. in the clubrooms in the Community building.

P. T. A. Council

The winter series of study programs sponsored by the P. T. A. council will be opened Tuesday with a talk on "Emotional Development" by Mrs. May Pardee, associate professor of parent education, Iowa Child Welfare Research station.

The six meetings will be held weekly in the clubrooms of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company from 2 to 3 p. m.

Mrs. Maude Broadfoot, county child welfare worker, will speak at the second meeting, Jan. 14, on "Parental Responsibilities."

Recruiter Warns Automatic Weapons Should Be Registered

If you have a fully automatic weapon that is not registered with the treasury department, you're liable to a fine of $2,000 and imprisonment for five years.

Marine T/Sgt. S.J. Mihalak of the Cedar Rapids recruiting office said yesterday that this is the penalty provided by the national firearms act of 1934.

The act applies to all weapons that fire more than one round with a single pull of the trigger.

A large number of these weapons were brought home as souvenirs by service men, Sergeant Mihalak said. Failure to have the guns registered, he added, is probably due to most people's unfamiliarity with the firearms act.

All persons having a fully automatic weapon that is not registered should register them at once with any office of the alcohol tax unit, bureau of internal revenue.

The alcohol tax unit office in Cedar Rapids is located in the post-office building.

Rita Ann Randall, Solon, Wins Citizenship Contest

Rita Ann Randall, Solon high school senior, is the winner of the Johnson county good citizenship contest sponsored by the Daughters of the American Republic.

Mary Lou Kelo of Lone Tree, runner-up, will be Miss Randall's alternate for the state elimination.

The national DAR sponsors this contest each year, in which senior girls in public high schools may compete through county and district contests. The final award is a four-day sightseeing tour in Washington, D. C.

Miss Randall's paper was judged best by a committee including Grace Long, county chairman for the contest, Mrs. H. J. Mayer of Pilgrim chapter and Frank Snider, county superintendent of schools.

The winning paper will be sent to a state committee to be judged with winners from 99 Iowa counties. The Iowa representative will be announced at the state DAR conference in March.

The Johnson county contest was sponsored by Pilgrim and Nathaniel chapters of the DAR.

Barrow said Herman Carlton, present mail messenger, has terminated his contract.

Boy, 15, Shot While Hunting

Accidentally shot through the head with a .22 caliber rifle while rabbit hunting early yesterday afternoon, Charles Sorenson, 15, was reported in "good condition" last night at Mercy hospital.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Sorenson, 1035 E. College street, the youth was with two companions, Joe Fisher, 14, his cousin, and Holland Scharf, his uncle, when the shooting occurred near the farm of Scharf's father three miles northeast of Solon.

According to Scharf, Fisher slipped and his gun discharged as its hammer caught on his coat, wounding the Sorenson lad in the temple. Traveling through a sinus canal, the bullet emerged from his forehead near the eye, his mother said.

The youth received first aid from a doctor in Solon before being brought to the hospital in Iowa City. He was conscious and able to walk when he arrived.

Mrs. Sorenson also reported that doctors had said "there was just a hair between life and death" from the wound. Charles is a sophomore student at Iowa City high school.

J.J. Wildman Wins Temporary Order

Judge Harold D. Evans yesterday issued a temporary injunction against Paul and Leonard Fuhrmeister, enjoining them to permit J.J. Wildman to water his stock on land the Fuhrmeisters have in their possession.

Wildman claims the defendants have closed the gates to land containing the water and that one of his sheep has died because of this. He also claims the Fuhrmeisters have refused the use of buildings on the land for his stock, in violation of a lease agreement.

The land in question is a 200-acre grassland plot in Newport township, owned by Charles Maruth, Wildman says the lease granted him the use of water and buildings on the land, and denied the defendants the right to pasture their hogs except in a corn stubble area.

Wildman says the Fuhrmeisters have allowed their hogs to forage in the pasture, to the detriment of that grassland.

The plaintiff asks judgment for $20 damage for the sheep that died and other damages to the extent of $200. Fred L. Stevens is his attorney.

Twins Born

Twins—a girl weighing 3 pounds 15 ounces and a boy weighing 3 pounds 11 ounces—were born yesterday morning in Mercy hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stockman of Oxford. The babies were placed in incubators because of their unusually small size.

Iowa Tackles Powerful Wisconsin Quintet Tonight

Hawkeyes Face Badgers Paced By Bobby Cook

Time and Place: Tonight, 8 p. m., fieldhouse.

Tickets: General admission tickets on sale at fieldhouse now and at booths before game. Reserved seats sold out. Broadcasts: WSUI, WIBA.

The University of Iowa Hawkeyes with seven consecutive non-conference games safely sailed away turn their attention to bigger game tonight when they entertain the powerful Wisconsin Badgers in the opening game of the Big Nine portion of the schedule.

The game is billed as a natural with the two conference giants stacking up equal in height, scoring punch and colorful ball players. A first-rate battle is expected between the opposing Jeep-sized forwards, Murray Wier for the Hawks and Bob Cook for the Badgers.

Both Wier and Cook have shown comparable talent in games to date. Iowa's ace has averaged 16.5 points per game and hit an even one third of his shots while Cook has been just behind with 13 scores a game and 310 percent accuracy.

The Iowa defense is expected to get a severe test from the Badgers who boast a well-rounded attack centered around forementioned Cook, Ed Mills and Glen Selbo. Noble Jorgensen faces another good, big center in Mills who hits 6-6 and is reported to know how to use his height. Selbo is a guard who played at Western Michigan and Michigan as a service trainee.

The Badgers are riding high after an initial conference win over highly-regarded Illinois. In that game the Badgers showed a powerful second half drive end, inasmuch as the Hawks have a last half team so far this year, the game may go down to the wire a tossup.

Coach "Pops" Harrison has primed his veteran combination for this opening conference test. The Hawk starting lineup will be the familiar one with Jack Spencer and Herb Wilkinson, guards; Noble Jorgensen, center, and Dick Ives and Murray Wier, forwards.

U-High Quintet Hits Strong Wayland Five

U-High's Blue Hawks get back into the swing of things tonight when they meet the strong Wayland five in a preliminary game to the Iowa-Wisconsin tilt at the fieldhouse at 6 p. m.

The Wayland team boasts of nine wins against two losses this year and is striving to continue its record of 20 wins a year for every year for the last 10. In recent games the Bombers have won over Crawfordsville, Olds, New London, Denmark and Ainsworth all by comfortable margins.

U-High comes back to the cage wars after a vacation rest which returned their star forward, Gus Helm, to the lineup. Coach Louis Alley will have his team in top shape for the Bomber invasion. Veterans Helm and Nick Anderson will be at forwards; Jack Haley, center, and Chuck Lenthe and Bob Daykin, guards.

The starting Wayland five will be no strangers on the Iowa fieldhouse floor having played there last March in the Class B sub-state tournament when they lost to Springfield, 50-44.

Pacific Coast Brand of Ball Sub Par in '46

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (P)—Well, some folks probably are saying, in effect, that the old gray mare ain't what she used to be, and never was, intimating that west coast football isn't up to the standard of previous years, and that the standard of previous years wasn't too high.

That's an obviously false assumption, particularly the latter part, as the records show the coast year and year out has turned out some of the nation's finest eleven, from Washington all the way down to Southern Cal and U. C. L. A., as the Rose Bowl records will attest.

That the game out there this past fall was sub-par generally was agreed upon, and Illinois' smashing victory only offered convincing proof. The victory of Georgia Tech over St. Mary's in the Oil Bowl just provided a sort of double check, as St. Mary's is the best of the coast independents and U. C. L. A. obviously was the best of the conference members.

If the far westerners were not aware of their shortcomings in 1946 they probably would be asking right now, like the guy ensnared in a hall of mirrors, "How do we get out of this mess?" speaking of their new five-year pact with the Western conference.

As a matter of fact the coast wasn't dodging the tough ones when it affiliated itself with the Big Nine, and the criticism of the agreement wasn't based on the idea that it was, but rather on the fact that it made the bowl game purely a two-conference affair, leaving out of the picture other schools which might come up with outstanding teams. Army is a case in point. Likewise Georgia, which this past fall had one of the nation's best and certainly was worthy of consideration.

It is a pretty safe bet, though, that year after year, the Big Nine representative at Pasadena will give an excellent account of itself. As was the case with Illinois, the Big Nine team may not, even probably will not, have an unblemished record, as competition in that league isn't conducive to undefeated seasons, but one thing is certain—the team which finishes on top will always be plenty tough in any campaign.

Had Illinois been a terrific standout this year it might be assumed that coast football was normal, but Illinois was so far ahead of everything else that its Rose Bowl victory, by such a score, might be expected.

But Illinois was not a standout.

Iowa, Badger Tilt Tops List

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (P)—Iowa's veteran Hawkeyes, unbeaten in seven pre-conference starts, open their Big Nine basketball campaign against "giant-killing" Wisconsin tonight in a game which may go far toward determining the league championship.

The showdown at Iowa City is of prime importance because Wisconsin on New Year's night fashioned a surprising 53-47 victory over Illinois, ranked a co-favorite with Iowa in pre-season reckoning.

Four other teams besides Iowa will be making their loop debut, including defending Champion Ohio State and Minnesota which tangle at Columbus, and Michigan and Northwestern, colliding at Ann Arbor.

Illinois, still smarting from the trimming by the under-rated Badgers, has a non-league date with the University of Mexico at Champaign. Indiana makes its league get-away Monday night at Ohio State, while Purdue is the last Big Nine entry to leave the post, invading Indiana on Jan. 13.

The Hawkeyes, who only once were held to fewer than 53 points as they warmed up with successive victories over South Dakota State, Kansas State, Detroit, South Dakota, St. Mary's (Calif.), Montana State and Texas Christian, will be favored over the Badgers.

Wisconsin lacks Iowa's depth, but has a trio of high-powered performers in Bob Cook, Glen Selbo and Walt Lautenbach. Cook, a slender sharp-shooter with plenty of tricks, whipped in 20 points against the guarding of heralded Jack Smiley of Illinois.

Ohio State, unbeaten in 23 successive home appearances, meets Minnesota for the first time since 1942. The Buckeyes, handed four straight trimmings in a recent west coast trek, will encounter a Gopher team which won six straight before losing a pair to Washington.

By way of comparison, Washington dumped Ohio State 49-45, while the west coast quint tripped Minnesota 61-47 and 72-68.

Alamo Bowl Game Set for Try Today

SAN ANTONIO (P)—The Alamo Bowl football game, the only New Year's Day pigskin party in the land that didn't come off according to schedule, will be played today if the weatherman continues his good behavior with undefeated and untied Hardin-Simmons taking on the University of Denver, co-champion of the Big Seven conference.

Score by quarters: Iowa City 18 19 27 38; Clinton 6 45 21 33 (Special to The Daily Iowan)

Iowa City high school's rejuvenated Hawklet basketball team broke loose with a first quarter barrage of baskets and a last ditch stand last night to take undisputed first place in the Mississippi conference with a 38-33 win over Clinton on their floor.

The loss was the first of the year for the River Kings and gives the Hawklets a conference record of four wins and no defeats. The Little Hawks were paced by Dick Drake who scored 15 points, and Gene Hettrick who added 10. Clinton was led by Dean Pieper, forward, who hit for 14 points.

The Hawklets needed this victory and it didn't take them long to assert themselves. Hettrick, who played a great game before fouling out in the last quarter, scored first with a tip in. Reichardt hit with another before Donsalla tallied a free throw for Clinton.

Drake added a push shot and then a pivot poke while Hettrick contributed a free throw. Stolk managed two gift tosses to make it 9-3, Iowa City. Drake and Hettrick added baskets and Gene swished a free throw to continue the spurt.

Pieper and Dean traded baskets and Hettrick hit again while Stolk made a free throw to make the quarter score 18-6.

The second quarter, when Iowa City scored only one point, and most of the third was all Clinton with Pieper leading the rally. Late in the third period the River Kings moved up to a 20-19 margin only to have Reichardt, Drake and Dean hit to pull the Hawklets clear, 27-20.

The final period was as hectic as they come when the fighting Clinton quintet tied up the game, 29-29, with four minutes left.

Golden Gloves Training Opens

A active training program for Golden Gloves entrants will open at 5 p. m. on Wednesday, Jan. 1 at the Community building, according to Danny Mulherin, co-chairman of the committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce who are sponsoring the boxing event.

The training will be under the supervision of a qualified trainer who will make sure the boys are given every chance to get into top shape for the mid-February tournament.

Co-chairman Mulherin indicated that the Chamber of Commerce has received numerous entries but that there is still time for anybody interested to make application.

It is hoped that there will be strong representation from University of Iowa students and several have already entered. Included in the Hawkeye contingent are Henry Allen Jr., of the Quad in the 165-pound class; Phillip E. Penningroth, 603 N. Dubuque street in the 147-pound bracket; Milton Leon Glaser, 332 Ellis street in the 185-pound class, and Jack Scanlon, 702 N. Dubuque street in the 175-pound group.

An outstanding athlete from Lone Tree, James McLean, has also entered the 126-pound class. McLean starred for the Lone Tree football team last fall and now plans to add to his laurels in the Golden Gloves.

St. Pat's Take 31-29 Victory

By DICK RILEY

In a game that started out as cold as the weather, St. Pat's eked out a 31-29 win over the Dutchmen of St. Mary's, Muscatine, in a ragged ball game here last night.

The game started out as if it were a gridiron clash instead of a hardcourt battle. Chuck Loeber dropped in a one handed shot from the corner to put the Dutchmen out in front 2-0. Later Bob Grady opened the scoring for St. Pat's with a free throw. From that point on it developed into a parade of free throws until Charlie Loeber counted on a pivot shot.

Three quick baskets by the Dutchmen followed mixed in with a driving basket by Herdlika and two free throws by Jerry Megan to make the score at the quarter, 12-6. Then both teams froze up.

The second half began like a five alarm fire with St. Pat's doing all the scoring with the exception of Brugman's one hander from far out. Seven of St. Pat's 11 points came from the free throw line, mixed in with Herdlika's one hander and Bill McMahon's drive in shot.

In the fourth quarter the Dutchmen hit for three quick baskets to make it 22-21. Seemuth countered with two quick pivot shots to put the Irish in front. Two quick baskets, one by Loeber from far out and one by Huffman from the pivot, put St. Mary's in front 26-23. From this point on it was a race with the clock.

With a chance to tie the game, Brugman missed one free throw and then elected to take it out of bounds. The pass was intercepted by McMahon who passed to Herdlika for a pivot shot which broke the hearts of the game Dutchmen.

Both teams played a ragged game. Marvin Brugman of St. Mary's rebounded with vigor for his team and kept the crowd in suspense with his one hand push shots. Seemuth was the big gun for the Irish with 13 points and his defensive work was the highlight of the local team.

BILBO—

 Bille recognized Taylor.
 Bilbo, wearing a brown tweed suit and red-and-silver necktie, moved to an adjacent seat and listened carefully. He had gone as far as the senate rostrum, ready to take the oath, but was turned back by debate on Taylor's resolution.

As the talk went on and on, the unsworn senators-elect fidgeted impatiently. The voters decided that the new senate is to have 51 Republicans and 45 Democrats. But after Baldwin took the oath, the count stood: Democrats 31, Republicans 29.

Senator Overton (D., La.) waited for Taylor to finish, then offered a substitute resolution to seat Bilbo.

Chairman of the Republican steering committee, moved to clear the senate's slate of both Taylor's and Overton's resolutions by a motion to table. It carried, 38 to 20.

Republican Floor Leader White (Maine) moved to seat his colleague, Senator Brewster (R., Maine). As a substitute, Overton moved to seat Bilbo. Taft offered another motion to table, and again it over, this time 39 to 19.

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Gems of the National basketball league yesterday announced the resignation of Coach Joel Mason, who said that he was leaving the club, effective immediately, to devote more time to his collegiate post as assistant coach at Wayne university.

Operation for DiMaggio

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, centerfielder for the New York Yankees, will enter a hospital Monday and on Tuesday will be operated upon for the removal of bone spur in his left heel, club President Larry MacPhail said yesterday. The outfielder, however, will be in shape for the spring training grind by mid-February.

Sport-Type Shirt Men's Stylists Fear 'Sloppy' Trend

Will University of Iowa women see the day when their dates attend a university party in a loud, loosefitting plaid shirt?
 Men's stylists and members of the National Association of Retail Clothiers are afraid sport shirts have hit an all time high, and are entirely replacing the dress shirt. This organization recently announced the loose fitting trend in men's sport shirts has had its climax and think something should be done about the popular loud-colored sloppy shirts many men are wearing.

Men on the university campus are complying with the clothiers' hopes that dress shirts will regain their prewar popularity. On the campus and in the classrooms the unfitted plaid shirts are seen frequently, but they serve as a utilitarian garment, and not just a substitute for "hard to get" dress shirts. On a crisp January morning there is nothing like a heavy wool shirt to resist the tingling snow flurries and bitter winds.

For the weekend date or university party the situation is entirely reversed. A starched collar shirt in a pastel or white shade is

Cubs Not Interested

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Cubs officials said yesterday they aren't interested in trying to acquire Shortstop Eddie Miller from the Cincinnati Reds.

General Manager Jim Gallagher of the Cubs said the Chicago club had permission from Cincinnati to talk to Miller about a possible deal, but that the Cubs "have not taken advantage of the invitation and have no intention of doing so."

Cotton and textile mills of the country have contributed several million dollars in the last few years to expansion of textile education in state-supported colleges.
