Sight Plane Lost 13 Days In Antarctic

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
ABOARD THE U. S. S. MOUNT OLYMPUS (AP)—The burned wreckage of a missing Martin Mariner, with six of its crew of nine alive, was found in the Antarctic yesterday and a search plane is circling the scene.

A second Mariner was en route to the area, equipped to land in the sea near the party, and bring them out.

The weather was good, promising speedy rescue. The first plane to spot the survivors, missing since Dec. 30, dropped supplies to the men, who were 10 miles in from the coast.

(Capt. Henry Howard Caldwell, Loomis, Calif., commander of the navy Tender Pine Island from which the missing plane was launched, was one of the survivors, relatives in Loomis were advised by the navy.)

The second PBM from the Tender Pine Island took off at 1:58 p.m., central standard time, for the three-hour flight to the scene.

It carried two pharmacist's mates in case some of the survivors were injured.

The first rescue plane found the wreckage at 11:29 p.m. (CST) four and a half hours after it left the Pine Island.

The first plane has been in communication with the grounded survivors by visual signals only. A request was made to send in signaling equipment.

Dispatches from the first plane did not say whether the pharmacist's mate aboard had parachuted to the scene.

The first plane carried 20 hours of fuel and will be able to stay at the scene for several hours.

Capt. Robert Quackenbush, chief of staff, said the second plane probably would be able to take the six survivors aboard since their additional weight would be partly offset by gasoline consumed.

The names of the three casualties had not been announced.

Emergency equipment was dropped, including additional dye markers and trail flags to spot the area thoroughly. There always is the possibility of fog closing in quickly.

Quackenbush reported that the men apparently had recovered some of their emergency equipment from the wrecked mariner, since the men must have had some food and equipment in order to survive the 12 days in that cold and desolate region.

Gov. Arnall Resigns; Calls Lt. Governor 'Legal' Successor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Ellis Arnall resigned yesterday as governor of Georgia, "effective immediately after the qualification of the lieutenant-governor," in a maneuver apparently aimed at blocking succession of Herman Talmadge to the office won by his late father.

The 39-year-old governor, who unseated Gene Talmadge in 1942 and who was ineligible to seek re-election when Talmadge won a fourth non-consecutive term in 1946, dramatically removed himself from the controversy which has torn Georgia since death claimed the defender of "white supremacy." His resignation automatically makes M. E. Thompson a claimant to the governorship the moment he is sworn in as Georgia's first lieutenant-governor. It will be effective regardless whether the legislature sustains Herman's claims to office based on a few hundred write-in votes acknowledged to have been engineered on election day as "insurance" in case Gene Talmadge died.

R. V. Leo, Gus Kuester Chosen To Lead New Iowa Legislature

DES MOINES (AP)—Two farmers will be given the highest honors the Iowa legislature can bestow upon its members when the 52nd general assembly opens tomorrow morning.

Senator R. V. Leo, 57, Dysart farmer, was chosen president pro-tem of the upper house in a surprise move at a senate Republican caucus yesterday. Meanwhile, Rep. G. T. (Gus) Kuester, 58, Griswold farmer, was named speaker of the house of representatives in a clock-work, separate session of house Republicans.

The choices are certain to be made formal tomorrow because 98 of the 108 representatives are Republicans, and 46 of the 50 senators are Republicans. Kuester will wield the gavel in the house.

Democratic Leader McCormack Concedes House Passage of 20 Percent Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, house Democratic whip, conceded yesterday probable house passage of a 20 percent reduction in income taxes, "because the Republicans have got the votes."

But he denounced the cut—fostered by Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the house ways and means committee and endorsed by Senator Taft (R-Ohio)—as an "unsound" approach to fiscal problems.

McCormack, himself a former member of the tax-writing ways and means committee, suggested instead a study of methods designed to ease the tax burden on "the little fellow"—possibly by boosting exemptions on earned income.

President Truman's estimate of the necessary spending in the fiscal year starting July 1 is $37, 500,000,000. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and an announced candidate for president, joined fellow Republicans yesterday in attacking this figure as too high.

"Sharply padded," said Stassen of Mr. Truman's budget. "Wasteful and extravagant."

Stassen told a news conference he is laying before individual members of congress a proposal to cut $5,000,000,000 out of the president's budget.

He suggested continuing enough of the wartime excise (luxury) taxes to raise another billion dollars to make the total income $38,500,000,000. There then would be $6,000,000,000 to work with on his calculations, he said.

Stassen would handle this as follows:

- 1. Reduce the national debt by $3,000,000,000.
- 2. Cut personal income taxes by 12 1/2 percent, a total of $2,500,000,000.
- 3. Reduce taxes on small businesses by $500,000,000 by eliminating duplicate taxation on earnings and dividends drawn from such enterprises.

NUMEROLOGY FANATIC

ERNEST WRIGHT (above), 42, who told police at Columbus, Ohio, that he charted his life by calculus, yesterday confessed the slaying of his mother, Mrs. Lavinia Wright, 75, there Friday night. He said he was prompted to kill his mother when he learned the significance of the number "709." Wright, who describes himself as a minister, was charged with first-degree murder. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Leo will take over in the senate when Lt. Gov. Kenneth A. Evans desires a rest.

The choice of Senator Leo was made unanimous after a secret ballot showed he was far ahead of Senator Stanley L. Hart, Keokuk manufacturer, up for re-election. Kuester's unanimous selection by voice vote came on the motion of Rep. Albert Steinberg, Ames attorney, who withdrew as the only other candidate.

The senate caucus followed up by selecting Leo Elthon of Fertile, also a farmer, as majority party floor leader in preference to J.G. Lucas, Madrid publisher. Lucas was reported to have been approved by Gov. Robert D. Blue and Willis York of Madrid, Republican state chairman.

Rep. Edward J. Morrissey, Valeria farmer, was re-elected speaker pro tem of the house, and Rep. Arch W. McFarlane, Waterloo business man, was named house majority floor leader.

All are veteran lawmakers. McFarlane, dean of the legislature, will be serving his 14th session. Kuester is back for his seventh consecutive session, and Morrissey for his fifth. Leo will be serving his fifth consecutive session, and Elthon his eighth.

Kuester, a big, kindly dirt farmer with a characteristic drawling voice, said after his selection he had but one request—and no political aspirations. The request was that the members "hew to the line for good government for the people of the state as a whole."

Senator Leo, husky and balding, was chosen in a closed session. He won a bachelor's degree from the University of Iowa in 1913, lettered in basketball there and was a fraternity man. Before starting his present farming operations he served from 1915 to 1917 as superintendent and athletic coach of the Blairtown school.

Another matter laid before the legislators was the recommendations of the legislative interim committee, announced yesterday. The committee of 1945 session members urged retention of the present board of control set-up, which has been criticized and a replacement plan suggested.

It also praised the board for its accomplishments under what it called trying circumstances. The committee defended the board's decision to erect a "security" building for incorrigibles at the Eldora state training school for boys, and opposed transfer of the boys and girls training schools and juvenile homes from the board to the state department of social welfare.

Interim Committee Asks $366,926 for University Hospital, State Teachers

DES MOINES (AP)—The state legislative interim committee yesterday recommended that the 1947 legislature which opens tomorrow make deficiency appropriations totaling $366,926 to the University of Iowa hospital and to Iowa State Teachers college.

The sum is in addition to an aggregate of $70,738 which the committee advanced to the institutions last year.

Score at halftime: Iowa 30, Ohio State 16

By BOB COLLINS
Daily Iowan Sports Editor
Last year's Big Nine Champions, Ohio State, might just as well have been any junior college team last night as the Iowa Hawkeyes hammered out a convincing 61-35 win for their first conference victory of the season against one defeat.

But while the cheers for the Buckeye capitulation were still ringing through the fieldhouse, the Hawks were forced to put aside the win and focus their attention upon the Monday night invasion of Minnesota's Golden Gophers. The Minnesota game will give the Hawks a chance to improve their tied-for-third place position in the Big Nine race.

The Buckeyes presented a team which was built like medium tanks and played like them. In Iowa they hit a team which bore little resemblance to the one which staggered through a bad first half against Wisconsin. The Hawks played an alert, aggressive, and inspired game as they hit the Buckeyes hard in the opening minutes to build up a commanding 40-16 halftime lead which they maintained through a slow second half.

Murray Wier and Herb Wilkinson split scoring honors for Iowa with 14 points apiece while Noble Jorgensen accounted for 13 markers. All of the Hawkeyes turned in stellar games but none showed the sellout crowd of 14,400 more improvement than 6-9 Jorgensen.

The giant Hawk pivot man, battling hard to keep his starting position, teamed with Spencer to completely control the rebounds and turned in a sweet offensive game. His pivot shots were hitting and he was leaving his feet and going high on tip-in efforts.

In fairness to the Buckeyes it should be mentioned that they played the entire game with hard luck on their side. The Bucks simply couldn't hit the basket and their high-point man, Center Jack Pfeiffer, accumulated only nine points.

The Hawks started fast as Jorgensen, who went on to score six points in two minutes, hit on a neat pivot. Wier netted his first long one-handed push shot and Jorgensen obligingly tipped in a missed free throw for two more points. Spencer, the play-maker, hit Wier with a long pass and the Hawks were eight points to the good.

Donham opened the Buckeyes' scoring with a free throw which was offset by another pivot strike by Jorgensen. Donham hit a backhand push but Wier and Wilkinson hit long push shots to give Iowa a 14-3 edge.

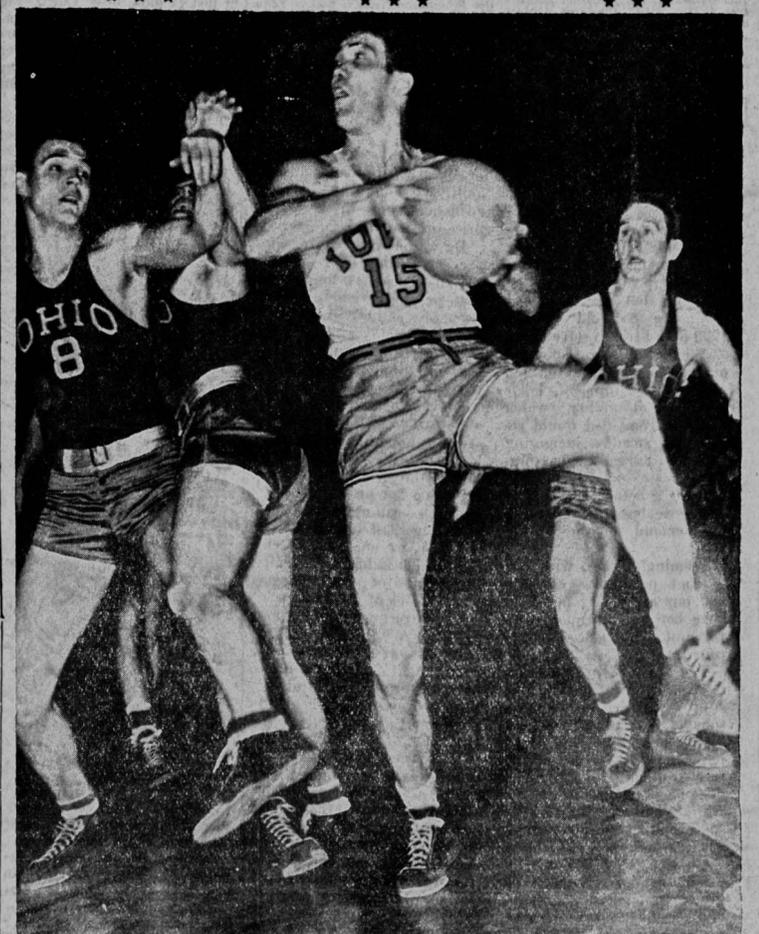

Huston cashed in on a charity toss and that was the extent of the Buckeyes' scoring for six long minutes. Meanwhile, Herb Wilkinson, Magnusson, Wier and Jorgensen got together 12 points to put Iowa ahead 26-4 with eight minutes played.

The bewildered Ohio State crew finally stopped the rout momentarily as Underman, Huston and Bowen managed three baskets but then the Hawks were off to the races again.

Spencer started the big push with a long set shot and Wier added a free throw to match Campbell's effort before Herb Wilkinson scored on a tip in shot. Huston made a free throw only to have Metcalfe, reserve Hawk center, pull one of the sweetest feints of the night to outfox Underman and score on a short push shot.

Ohio State, trying to make up in roughness what they lacked in finesse, fouled four consecutive times and Herb Wilkinson, Magnusson and Metcalfe added a simultaneous basket.

LET 'ER GO!—Noble Jorgensen, Iowa's giant center, takes a sight for two points and he didn't need a Norden bombsight to do it. The tall one banged in the first four shots he attempted in last night's battle against Ohio State. When the dust had settled after the game, Murray Wier and Herb Wilkinson had a total of 14 points each and Jorgensen followed with 13. (Daily Iowan Photos by Don Padilla)

Vandenberg Urges Policy Shift To Support Chinese Constitution

CLEVELAND (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) urged last night that the United States shift its China policy to encourage the non-Communist coalition backing the new constitution there.

Secretary of State Byrnes at the same time said he is more confident than ever before that "we can achieve a just peace by cooperative effort" by persisting with "firmness."

Vandenberg, in his first speech as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, served notice that adherence to a bi-partisan foreign policy does not preclude the fullest controversy over foreign affairs.

He differed with Byrnes on at least one point by insisting that a Pan-American conference on defense problems be called without delay.

John L. Lewis Claims 'Public Hysteria' Caused UMW Contempt Convictions, Fine

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers told the supreme court yesterday that "public hysteria and political expediency" led to their contempt convictions and $3,510,000 fines in the soft coal strike.

Both the union and the government filed briefs outlining arguments they are to present orally Tuesday.

In the briefs, Lewis' counsel asked the supreme court to cancel the contempt findings as well as the fines, while Attorney General Clark argued they should be sustained.

The union's brief said the government and Judge T. Alan Goldsborough had "disregarded completely the plain, unequivocal language of the federal anti-injunction statutes, their indisputable purpose and scope, and controlling decisions of this honorable court."

This was "so much so," the Lewis brief said, "as reluctantly to compel the suggestion that public hysteria and political expediency, rather than dispassionate and judicial application of established legal principles, have thus far dominated and determined these proceedings."

Clark's brief argued that the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction act, especially when viewed in the light of the later Smith-Connally plant seizure act, left the way clear for the government to obtain court orders to "prohibit interference with the sovereign functions of the United States."

The Lewis brief maintained that the $3,510,000 fines are "excessive." "A diligent search of the authorities fails to disclose that a fine of the tremendous magnitude here involved has ever been imposed by any court for any contempt, civil or criminal," the union brief said.

The government countered that "under the circumstances and evidence of damage to the United States," the amount is "appropriate and within the ability of the defendants to pay."

Vandenberg also called for tighter relations with Latin America and drastic revision of the great power veto in the United Nations. Russia has opposed any change of the veto power.

On disarmament, he said this country will go as far as the "other titans will dependably agree" to go. But he added that "we shall take no 'sweetness and light' for granted in a world where there is still too much 'iron curtain.'"

He expressed belief that "we shall continue the device of reciprocal trade agreements, in one form or another." Many of his fellow-Republicans in congress are clamoring against tariff reductions by this means.

Vandenberg's views were set forth in a speech for the Cleveland foreign affairs forum. Secretary of State Byrnes was on the same program.

Byrnes made these main points: 1. No compromise with basic principle. The United States can achieve "a just peace by cooperative effort if we persist 'with firmness in the right as God gives us the power to see the right'—a quotation from Lincoln.

2. Continued airing of differences among nations in full public debate.

3. Maintenance of military strength adequate to discharge American obligations. Byrnes declared present power relationships cannot be substantially altered by any one nation without disturbing the whole united nations.

4. Development of international law. Law among nations has concerned itself in the past, Byrnes said, "too much with the rules of war and too little with the rules of peace."

5. Assistance to countries in distress. The United States, Byrnes said, must give relief to nations which are not yet ready to look after themselves.

6. Breakdown of barriers to the exchange of ideas and goods so that freedom of interchange will help remove conditions that contribute to distress and the development of blocs.

OF CABBAGES AND KINGS

ADA, Gen. Marshall and Taft

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS. Let's join in the chase. Grist for our mill comes from three rather unexpected developments: the formation of a progressive, anti-communist pressure group by former new dealers, labor leaders and assorted intellectuals; the appointment of General of the Army George C. Marshall as secretary of state, and the apparent acquisition of a "liberal" halo by Republican Senator Robert Taft of Ohio.

DENNIS

such popular labor leaders as Walter Reuther and David Dubinsky were growing increasingly nettled at the many charges of "communist" and "fellow traveler" hurled their way by certain of the more conservative members of the Republican party. Hence together with Charles Bolte of the American Veterans Committee, Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis and several other nationally prominent figures, they have formed the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA).

The ADA organizational committee wasted no time in issuing a most important statement regarding ADA's membership policy. It is opposed to the communist ideology and bars Communists from joining its ranks. The new group apparently means business and has set out to recruit support for a program of economic, social and political action which is quite similar in outlook to the aims and purposes of the New Deal. ADA hopes to spearhead a progressive movement in the United States which will unite the "non-communist left" sympathizers under one banner.

Depression Is Not Inevitable

Will we prevent another depression? President Truman in his recent message on the conditions and trends of the national economy has laid the question squarely before us. But a mere recognition of the problems that must be solved if we are to avoid another 1929 does little to solve them. As the president pointed out, we have the resources, plant and equipment, labor supply and ability which properly combined would result in a steadily increasing supply of agricultural and industrial products. In our desire for a better standard of living we have a never ending demand for these products.

High Tariffs and Free Trade

By STEVE PARK. American foreign relations suffered another in a series of rapidly culminating blows Friday when Republican opposition developed in congress to President Truman's proposed reduction of the tariff barriers which prevent in large measure the flow of products from the world markets into the United States.

able to produce more goods of a better quality at cheaper prices than any other single nation. Naturally, a general tariff reduction would be injurious to certain businesses—marginal concerns which can operate at a profit only so long as they do not have to face competition—but the efficient American business still will be able to out-produce and undersell any competition, both at home and on the world market.

Looking at It From the Other Side

News Item: This particular committee report is dynamite. It's the type of thing that makes the United Nations out as little more than a debating society. The disposition of the Pacific islands which we have occupied since the war is rightfully the responsibility of the UN trusteeship council. To refuse the council that responsibility is to admit lack of confidence in the United Nations.

Most Iowa City Merchants Approve of Parking Meters

By CAROL RACKER (Third in a Series). Approximately three out of five Iowa City merchants favor the recently installed parking meters. This arbitrary figure was established yesterday after a spot check of businessmen both in the meter area and in areas where meters were not installed.

are doing this. However, after one car has been in the metered area a couple of days, the policeman spot it and investigate. Biggest antagonistic attitude against the meters seems to come from people in the rural area. Their chief complaint is that they can't get all their shopping done in an hour, so it costs them a $1 traffic fine. Before the meters, the limit was also an hour, but Police Chief O.A. White estimates that "apprehensions of traffic violators has increased 50 percent since the installation of parking meters."

Piatigorsky Not a Hide-Bound Classicist; Declares Music Is More Than Pleasure

Gregor Piatigorsky, eminent cellist, will perform before an audience that is expected to pack the main lounge of Iowa Union next Wednesday evening. But Piatigorsky himself is more impressed by the quality of an audience than by its quantity.

"To most people," he has said, "it is merely enjoyment—the music. It is a luxury. They come, go and then forget. But I always think that in each hall there may be 10 men or women who cannot live unless they have music. It is a part of their life. It is not just pleasure, diversion. So I play to them."

But Piatigorsky's reception by American audiences for the last 17 seasons proves he is not a musician's musician alone, nor is he a hide-bound classicist.

He has done more to popularize cello music in America than any other performer, and he feels a duty to interest both the public and the composer in his instrument by playing the works of contemporary composers.

Piatigorsky contributes to what he thinks is a need for more cello music by compositions and transcriptions of his own. Two of his compositions and four of his arrangements are included in the program for Wednesday's concert, announced yesterday by Prof. C. B. Righter, manager of the university concert course.

A Piatigorsky arrangement of the Haydn "Divertimento", in four movements, will open the concert. Brahms' "Sonata in F major," opus 99, in four movements, is the second number, to be followed by the cellist's arrangement of Schubert's "Introduction, Theme, and Variations," opus 92.

After intermission the program will continue with "Pieces in Folk Style," by Schumann; Weber's "Largo and Rondo," arranged by Piatigorsky; "Capriccio," by Lukas Foss; "Syrinx" and "Procession," both by the performer himself, and his arrangement of

GREGOR PIATIGORSKY

Paganini's "La Campanella." Prof. Hans Koebel, the university's solo cellist—who shares with Piatigorsky the distinction of having studied under the eminent Julius Klengel in Leipzig—says of Piatigorsky's transcriptions that they "have great value to the performing cellist."

Of Piatigorsky's playing, Koebel commented that despite his superb technique, "Piatigorsky puts technique secondary to musicianship." Koebel joins the rest of the musical world in acclaiming the Russian-American artist "the foremost cellist on the concert stage."

Wednesday's concert will probably be played either on the Stradivari cello which Piatigorsky played last summer or on his Montagnana cello, made in 1739, which also is one of the finest in existence.

Oakdale, U-Hospital Integration Favored

The Iowa legislative interim committee report leased in Des Moines yesterday includes a recommendation that Oakdale tuberculosis sanatorium be transferred to the jurisdiction of the state board of education.

The sanatorium is now directed by the state board of control. Purpose of such a transfer would be to integrate the sanatorium with the University hospitals, which are under the board of education's jurisdiction.

University and hospital officials have indicated they would welcome such a move, since it would enable them to coordinate the state services of both institutions. They could then interchange use of equipment and services of specialists at the sanatorium, University hospitals and the proposed veterans administration hospital.

Income Tax Reports Bring to Light New 'Charity' Graft Here

Contrary to information given two Johnson county farmers, there is no such thing as a "Mercy hospital wheel chair fund," officials of the hospital revealed yesterday.

Three months ago the farmers paid an agent $6 each in advance for books on the understanding that half the money would go to the "wheel chair fund," but as yet no books have been received.

This was brought to light when Atty. E. P. Korab was assisting the men to prepare an income tax report. Claiming exemption for donations to charity, the farmers reported that a man who said he lived in North Liberty told them his company had an arrangement with Mercy hospital for putting $3 of each advance subscription into a fund to buy wheel chairs. He even displayed pictures of the chairs. According to the agent, if a purchaser became sick he would be entitled to have a wheel chair sent from the hospital for his use. When the farmers disclosed that no books had been received and that all they had were a receipt and cancelled check, Korab investigated.

Sister Mary Rita declared the hospital has no such arrangement with anyone and that the current Mercy expansion drive has nothing to do with wheel chairs specifically.

Korab said the farmers have promised to send him their cancelled checks, which was cashed in Cedar Rapids, and that a further investigation will be made. It was found that the name given by the agent does not appear on a list of persons living in North Liberty.

Didi done did it!... 'Twas a warm Wednesday in winter, Dec. 11, 1946, to be exact, when Gamma Phi's Didi Stratton was pinned and chained to Jerry Niles, Sigma Ep, formerly of SUI and now a pro-football player for the New York Giants. His favorite fan tackled him and he fell for her. From the sidelines we send our congratulations.

Apples, Apples... Delicious Apples... Giant Apples! That's what you'll find at the FRUIT BASKET. For it's at the FRUIT BASKET that quality and quantity are yours. Down from the hills of Dartmouth came her man, Bob Katherman. He grabbed her, pulled out his Alpha Delta Phi pin, and hung. "My hero!" Kappa Carolyn Voss sighed.

Stop in at WHEATSTONE'S often!

This DG gal now wears the pin Of Dave Arnold, one of the Phi Psi kin
The name she bears is Joanie Young
On Friday night the pin was hung.

There is a certain pledge of Sigma Chi,
Who has a cheery way of saying "hi"
Lyman Bennett is his name
Perhaps from this he gets his fame.

This week the following incident occurred
And thru underground sources it was heard
Seems this "gent" gave his home town girl a rock
Upon learning this the Gamma Phis suffered a shock
And immediately sent him a special delivery note
Informing him he would no longer be goat
The twenty-eight co-signees assured him any rate
That no longer would any of them call him for a date.

Beau, as you know, means good or fine in French.
McDowell's "Beau" deal puts that one on the bench.
From Beau Fancis, Don McDowell bought a tiny tick tock,
But something went wrong with this wonderful clock!
We could say it went coo-coo, got wound up just for fun,
But one thing, the spring, broke down. It won't run.
Our comment: quote Tough Luck, ole man unquote.

Where to Go...

"Hi, Ruth, what are you doing?" asked Mrs. Herb Olson one afternoon in front of Willard's.

"Well, Dixie, I just came out to admire this attractive dress in the window, but I think I'll take this darling Nardis Sportswear outfit," answered Mrs. Charles Gross. "See, it's wool jersey with a jacket, skirt, gay striped jersey blouse and slacks to match."

"I'd buy it," replies Mrs. Olson. "I bought this Duchess Royal suit here too. It's grey menswear flannel and its lipstick red blouse just matches the lining of the jacket."

Dashing and daring are those Phi Gams, dazzling the damsels with diamonds. The lovely lucky ladies and their Phi Gam fellas are: Jack Simmons, Ellie Pownall, Theta; Ben Fischer, Yvonne Livingston, Tri Delt; Jim Buckroyd, Leota Hartsock, Currier; and John Merkel, Sue Smith.

There are all kinds of rocks and stones but none do dare compare with the diamond. Just ask Barbara Moorhead or Jo Harriman of Currier, who each recently received one. The former from the Quad's Pete Kladrup and the latter from Lloyd King, DU.

One December 29th the Phi Gams made the news
It pictured them drinking cider and...
The "Apache" party was unfolded again
Showing all those dashing Phi Gam men
President Bob Lockery was there with the mass
With his aid Jim in his usual "French" class
The pictures were grand, the story was sharp
So let's relax while the Phi Gams play the harp.

A living space called Clinton Place
Is noisy with news of the heart
As dazzling rocks from future "docs"
On their fingers they cart.
Florence Pitz puts on the Ritz
Also Mirian Gitman, they say.
Dick Wilson's Flo's, a good Phi Rho,
And John Maxwell, AKK.

A boy whom we call "Ack-Ack," (Phi Psi Dick Ackley to you, Mack),
Had a big date; was a half-hour late,
"Tie tying trouble," he sighed.

Joan Lerch looked simply woo-woo.
She really knocked him coo-coo
When down she came, saying his name.
Then to the dear she cried.

"Ack-Ack, you dumb do-do,
Your tie is only so-so!"
She tied it again, but then by then
The fellow was fit to be tied!

Like so many others she's just dashing down for breakfast at BOERNER'S. Campus Chest Starts Drive Tomorrow

With the four-day Campus Chest drive slated to start tomorrow, university, city and student leaders yesterday urged students to give the drive their full support.

Funds received will be apportioned among the World Student Service fund, American Cancer society, Nile Kinnick Scholarship fund and other charitable organizations that would ordinarily merit individual solicitation.

President Virgil M. Hancher said he was very glad to endorse the drive and commented that he strongly believes in unified solicitation.

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters also urged students to support the drive. The mayor especially recommended the American Cancer society as a "very worthy cause."

Student Council President Herb Olson added his endorsement and pointed out that the chest drive saves students from being solicited by numerous charities throughout the school year.

Students may, if they desire, specify any particular worthy cause to which they want their contributions sent.

Thompson began moving fixtures into the building Jan. 2 and plans extensive remodeling of the shop's front. He will be assisted by A. D. Austin of Cedar Rapids.

A large, full-front slanting window and an indoor stairway to second floor apartments will be installed.

Army Buddies Became—

Modern Damon and Pythias

—Got Together Again Here

OUT AT THE BETA Theta Pi house they have a good cook in Ralph (Tiny) Tines (right) and Atty. William Morrison has an old army buddy. The two talk over old and new times in the Beta kitchen.

Damon wields a skillet in the kitchen of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house and Pythias is a local attorney.

The Damon and Pythias of Greek mythology fame who became the classic example of strong friendship have not been resurrected, of course. But their modern counterparts are Attorney William F. Morrison and Ralph (Tiny) Tines, a 350-pound former mess sergeant who cooks for the men at the Beta house.

The bond that exists between these men is as strong as the GI coffee they so often shared when Tiny was mess sergeant and Attorney Morrison, an orderly room clerk in the third cavalry regiment at Fort Riley, Kas.

"We were together for over two and a half years," says Morrison. "I often told Tiny to come to Iowa City when he got out of the army and I'd get him a job. One day last September the office door opened and he just walked in—completely unannounced."

Tiny went home with his friend that night and Mrs. Morrison was relieved of kitchen duty for a week or more as Cook Tines "completely took over."

The good natured heavy-weight went to work in a local restaurant but was soon lured away by the prospects of a more congenial but less lucrative job as cook at the Beta house. Of course it's more than coincidence that Beta Theta Pi happens to be Bill Morrison's old fraternity.

Kentucky-born Tiny is 36 years old and he likes the fraternity way of living. Tiny thinks the men whose home he shares are a "swell bunch" and the Betas call Tiny the "best cook in Iowa City."

Housemother Mrs. T.B. Hammill admits she's become accustomed to the picturesque language Tiny sometimes employs when he's out of salt at a crucial moment or when he discovers the roast is more bone than meat. Five years as an army mess sergeant has given a definite flavor to Tiny's vocabulary.

With the boys all at home, Tiny got a little lonesome over the Christmas holidays so he moved in with the Morrisons.

Mrs. Morrison was delighted. Tiny again took over the cooking chores and added to his other duties the care of three-months-old Billy Morrison Jr. In spite of Tiny's Falstaff-like proportions he's a pretty handy guy with a safety pin. At least Billy has no complaints to offer.

The Morrisons went to Moline over the Christmas season to spend a few days with Mrs. Morrison's mother and of course Tiny went along. He did the cooking there too but not, as Morrison explains "because anyone asked him to or because he felt obliged to. It's just the natural thing for him to walk in and take over."

Tiny is anything but quarrelsome, but when he does take over a kitchen, there's never any doubt about who's in charge. The system he developed in the army for dealing with inspecting officers who meddled too much is as unique as it is foolproof. He simply went to bed and stayed there.

"I think he had them all about half scared of him," says Morrison. "In no time at all they'd be over at the barracks begging him to get out of bed."

Tiny always went back to work—but on his own terms and not until he was ready. Even a second lieutenant is smart enough not to argue with the huge Kentucky-bred individualist.

In spite of the fact Tiny hasn't yet found civilian clothes big enough to fit him, he heartily denies the 350 pounds Bill Morrison attributes to him.

"I'm just a little heavier than you are," Tiny always chuckles. The clothes he's wearing now are army issue, dyed a more appropriate civilian shade.

Bill Morrison still likes to duck away from his law books and slip over to the Beta kitchen to mooch a cup of coffee and pass the time of day with his old friend.

"I used to get over to the mess hall about eight times a day," says Bill. "I can't get away nearly as often now but when I do I certainly enjoy it."

Funeral Services For J.O. Emmons To Be Held Tomorrow

Graveside services for J. O. Emmons, 96, will be held tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. at Oakland cemetery, the Rev. L.L. Dunnington officiating. Emmons died yesterday afternoon in Beaumont, Tex., at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, J.W. Coffey. The body will arrive at the Hohen-schuh mortuary tomorrow afternoon.

A pioneer groceryman in Iowa City, leaving here in 1920, Emmons is survived by three sons: W.W. Emmons, Huntington Park, Calif.; C.O. Emmons, Akron, Ohio, and Dr. R.A. Emmons, Clinton. His wife and one son, Olin, preceded him in death.

He was a member of K.P. lodge for over 50 years.

Charlotte Thompson Weds W.D. Otterman

Yellow chrysanthemums, palms and candelabra provided the setting for a double-ring ceremony as Charlotte Marie Thompson of Mason City became the bride of William D. Otterman of Traer Dec. 14 at 7 p.m. at the Immanuel Lutheran church in Mason City. The Rev. Alvin Rogness performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a satin broad-cloth gown with a net skirt and a sweetheart neckline. She carried pink roses and white carnations. Her jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Otterman was graduated from the Mason City high school and from the school of nursing at the university. Mr. Otterman is a graduate of Traer high school and served two and one-half years in the navy. He is now attending the university.

Wisconsin Smashes Indiana, 70-49; 'Whizzers' Win

Cook Hits 24, Badgers Have Loop Lead

MADISON, WIS. (AP)—Wisconsin's Badgers boosted their stock as the major Western conference title contender last night by trouncing Indiana, 70-49, for their third straight loop victory.

The Badgers' alertness and marksmanship paid off against the speed of the Hoosiers, previously unbeaten in conference play. Wisconsin connected on 37 percent of its shots while Indiana was able to hit on only 27 percent.

The Hoosiers started out by grabbing a 6-1 lead but at the end of six minutes Wisconsin pulled ahead, 14-13, and never was headed.

Wisconsin's starting quintet, Bob Cook, Exner Menzel, Ed Mills, Walt Lautenbach and Glen Selbo, played all but the final minute and a half. Cook and Menzel each contributed nine points in the first half while Mills scored 11.

At halftime, Wisconsin led 33 to 21.

Cook, who tallied a total of 42 points against Iowa and Minnesota, poured in 15 points in the second half to take scoring honors with 24 points.

Everybody Wants Trippi; Pro Offers Total 90,000 Skins

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Trippi, Georgia's all-American halfback, arrived here yesterday and found an offer of $60,000 awaiting him to play football for the next four years for the New York Yankees of the All-America conference.

Trippi went immediately into a huddle with owner Dan Topping and Coach Ray Flaherty of the football Yankees and Larry MacPhail, president of the baseball Yankees, who are trying to land him for both clubs.

The Georgia ace told newsmen that Charles Bidwill, owner of the Chicago Cardinals in the National football league, had agreed to match Topping's offer of a four-year contract at $15,000 a year, plus a bonus.

He also has been offered $30,000 to sign a baseball contract with the Boston Red Sox, Trippi disclosed.

Trippi is expected to sign with the Cardinals.

Minnesota Takes Second Western Loop Win From Wolves, 48-37; Purdue Wins

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota remained a contender in the young Western conference basketball race by defeating Michigan 48 to 37 here last night before 15,364 fans.

Notre Dame came back to melt the Purdue advantage to five points at the half, 29 to 24, but the Riveters expanded their advantage to 11 points in the second period.

The loss of O'Shea, who had played every minute of four previous games, halted a Notre Dame comeback that had whittled Purdue's lead to two points at 51 to 49 with five minutes to go.

Notre Dame Rally Falls Short, 60-56

LAFAYETTE, IND. (AP)—Purdue university's basketball team defeated Notre Dame, 60 to 56, last night as a late Irish rally faded when freshman star Kevin O'Shea fouled out of the game.

It was the Purdue Boilermakers' last test before starting their Western conference schedule and their fifth victory in six pre-league starts.

Purdue, holding a two-game edge over Notre Dame in their 18 previous meetings, set an early pace last night that the Irish couldn't match and ran up a 17 to 3 lead in the first five minutes.

McINTYRE—GIANT FROM THE NORTH

Iowa-Minnesota Meet Monday

The probable starting lineups:

Iowa		Minnesota
Player	Position	Player	Position
Magnuson or Danner	F	Young	F
Wier	F	Grant	F
Jorgensen	C	McIntyre	C
Spencer	C	Kernan	C
Wilkinson	G	Brewster	G

BEDLAM WAS PREDOMINANT in the Iowa fieldhouse last season when Iowa's pint sized edition of a whiz kid—Murray Wier—hooked one of those crazy shots to tie Minnesota's Gophers 59-59 with a scant five seconds remaining. Iowa went on to win in an overtime, 63-61. One of the big guns in the Minnesota attack that night was JIM MCINTYRE (pictured here). A 6-9 center McIntyre had scored 117 points in ten games this season before the Michigan-Minnesota game last night. The Gophers with this giant sophomore center will be back on the Iowa court Monday night to do battle with the Hawkeyes.

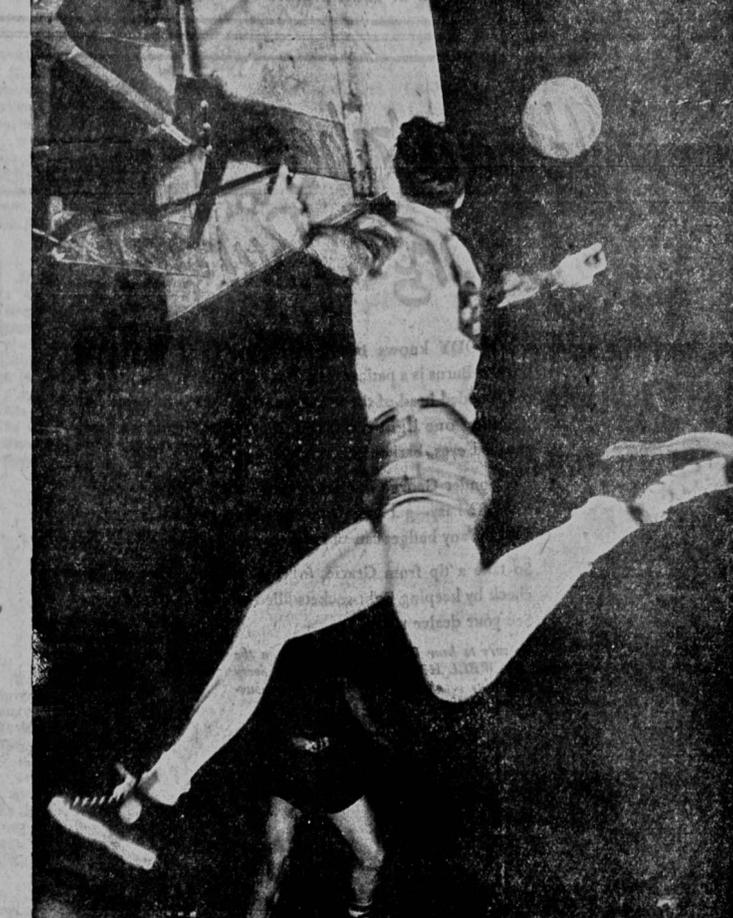

The Iowa defense in collaboration with tough luck on Ohio State's part resulted in a basket drought in which the Bucks made only one basket in the first 10 minutes of the half. Magnusson opened the scoring with a long poke and Jorgensen swished a free throw. Bowen matched it for the Bucks but Herb Wilkinson got hot and hit for two baskets and a charity toss to make the margin 48-17.

Wier's free throw concluded the one-sided scoring and Ohio State matched Iowa's points in the second half.

The game. Campbell's free throw and Pfeiffer's set shot equalled another of Wier's baskets and Jorgensen's free throw and so on down the line.

Hawk reserve Charlie Mason broke loose in the last four minutes to hit a set up and then a long set shot which, with Spencer's long one-handed push and Eugene Hall's two free throws, concluded the Hawkeye scoring.

HERB STRAINS WITH THE LONG S-T-R-E-T-C-H

HERB WILKINSON, Iowa's all-American guard, gives out with a long stretch and two points in Iowa's 61-55 victory over defending Big Nine champions Ohio State last night. Herb divided scoring honors for the evening with Murray Wier at 14.

Reason for Dave Armbruster's Big Smile . . . SUI Swimming Prospects Good

Followers of Iowa athletic teams encountering a well built gentleman with a mile wide smile would immediately know it was Coach Dave Armbruster who guides the destinies of the Hawkeye swimmers.

The reason for the smile is a host of "name" swimmers in the fold including an all-American and a Big Nine titlist.

Wally Ris, Chicago freshman, would heighten the smile of any Big Nine coach. Ris is the all-American now showing his wares in the Iowa pool after cracking A.A.U. titles in two events while swimming for Great Lakes last year.

Just a freshman, Ris splashed over the 100 yard course in :51.1 and the 220-yard free style style event was a 2:11.3 effort to take the titles.

But these are incidental to Ris' accomplishment when he helped smash the world's record in the 400-yard free style relay.

Dick Maine, sophomore from Des Moines, is a Big Nine title holder in the 150-yard backstroke. He won the event last season while a freshman and was a close second in the National Collegiate event.

Dave Brockway, Marshalltown, heads the list of eight "I" men who are back in the Iowa fold. Some date back to the season of 1942.

Brockway holds the ETO diving championship, but will not be eligible until the second semester.

Kenny Marsh and Bob Matters won places in the conference meet, Marsh, out of Cedar Rapids, took third in the 50 and fifth in the 100-yard free style last season.

WALLY RIS . . . All-American Tankman

son while Matters, a Waukesha, Wis. lad, was fourth in the 200-yard breast stroke while swimming with Michigan last year as a navy trainee. He won his spurs at Iowa in 1943.

To round out the "I" list Armbruster has Art Van Haven, Ervin Straub, Vito Lopin, Don Holmwood and Ed Armbruster. All except Van Haven, who swims in distance events, are sprinters.

Among the new-comers is Duane Draves, from the movie capital, who is pressing Maine for backstroke honors and Nick Connell, St. Louis and Bill McDonald, Chicago—both of whom are divers.

With all this material splashing around Armbruster drops his smile now and then and comments, "It looks like a well-balanced team, with capable performers in each event. But all of the other conference teams will be improved, too, so we'll have to be a lot better to keep pace with them."

The Hawkeyes have a six meet conference schedule outlined for them with the conference championships at Columbus on March 7-8, and the National Collegiate championships at Seattle on March 28-29. A tentative affair with Nebraska is scheduled for March 15.

First taste of competition for the tankmen will come on Jan. 20 when Northwestern will furnish the opposition in Chicago.

den, Columbia university, New York City.

Candidates are expected to submit the applications and supporting documents. Application blanks are available in the college of liberal arts, room 108, Schaeffer hall. Letters of recommendation should be mailed direct to the university by the writers.

These fellowships are awarded annually to persons of the Caucasian race, either sex, born in the state of Iowa, who have been graduated from a college or university located in Iowa, and selected because of their scholarship, seriousness of purpose, moral character and need of financial assistance. Incumbents are eligible for reappointment. No Roberts fellows may pursue, as majors, the studies of law, medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, or theology. Each fellowship provides an annual stipend of $1100. The fellows also receive once, and once only, the cost of transportation from Iowa to New York and return. In accepting the award the holder must state his purpose to return to the state of Iowa for a period of at least two years following the completion of his studies at Columbia University.

Immediately after March 1 the colleges will be notified of the applicants from each institution and requested to furnish comparative ratings.
