GOOD MORNING, IOWA CITY!

Little change is forecast for today and tomorrow. Today's high is predicted at 50 to 60, tonight's low at 35 to 40.

CANDLE FLAME THEIR ONLY HEAT

CHARLES MAXWELL, 62, and his wife, Katherine, 72, told police today that a candle's flame was their only heat for nine days. They accused their landlord of shutting off the gas in their Cleveland quarters. He said the lines required repairs. Both are crippled. (AP WIREPHOTO)

OTC Grants Rent Increase To 'Hardship Case' Landlords

WASHINGTON (AP)—Landlords suffering hardship can get a rent increase under a policy announced yesterday by Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, director of the office of temporary controls. Fleming told reporters, after a call on President Truman, that his office has directed regional OPA offices to "liberalize" rents in "hardship cases."

Talmadge Assails Arnall, Newspaper In Radio Address

ATLANTA (AP)—Herman Talmadge assailed his opponents yesterday as creator of "planned confusion" and appealed by radio to his father's old-line followers to back up his claims to the disputed governorship of Georgia. Talmadge bought radio time with personal funds to attack former Governor Ellis Arnall and the Atlanta Journal, and to urge public pressure on legislators during the week-end recess of Georgia's general assembly. He also appealed for contributions from the Talmadge faithful "to aid me in carrying this fight to the people."

Said Talmadge: "The Atlanta Journal tries to make the news. They are trying to create anarchy in Georgia by drumming up the little meetings of the people who are opposed to the Democratic white primary and who are opposed to the county unit (electoral) system in Georgia. They want to break down the functions of government."

Hickenlooper Elected Atom Group Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bourke E. Hickenlooper (R., Ia.) was elected chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy at a reorganization meeting yesterday. Hickenlooper succeeds Senator Brien McMahon (D., Conn.), who remains a member of the 18-man committee. Half the members are from the house, half from the senate.

line of rent controls, Fleming said: 1. Any doubts as to the need of raising rents in a hardship case must be resolved in favor of the landlord. 2. Local costs will be the measuring rod as to whether rents are too low. 3. The new order is designed to correct local situations where rents of some properties are lower than those of similar properties in the same area.

President Truman as late as yesterday re-affirmed that he favors continued rent control. In congress, such Republican leaders as Senator Taft of Ohio have said they favor continuing control in some form past the present termination date of June 30. The real estate industry has called for a 15 percent increase in all ceilings, rent decontrol on all new dwelling units and progressive decontrol of all rents when landlords offer leases carrying increases of not more than 15 percent.

OPA has resisted decontrol, saying that return of veterans, war workers and their families to former homes have made the housing shortage worse than during the war. It said it had allowed hundreds of thousands of individual rent adjustments. Last October 30, in the midst of OPA's headlong retreat on most price controls, the agency slapped rent ceilings on additional areas with a population of 3,500,000.

Capone Suffers Relapse

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Scarface Al Capone was fighting for his life last night and his attending physician said the former Chicago gang leader was "definitely worse." Dr. Kenneth Phillips, who has been attending the ex-Chicago gangster, said Capone, once thought to be out of danger, had suffered a relapse.

Registrar Revises Today's Schedule For Registration

Today's registration schedule at Iowa Union has been revised so that all registration can be completed by 1 p.m. The announcement was made yesterday afternoon by Registrar Paul J. Blommers. Blommers said the new registration system can accommodate approximately twice the 250-300 students an hour as originally planned. He asked cooperation from all students to finish registration as quickly as possible. The new schedule for today is: 8-8:30 a.m. Numbers 1-249 8:30-9 a.m. 250-499 9-9:30 a.m. 500-749 9:30-10 a.m. 750-999 10-10:30 a.m. 1000-1249 10:30-11 a.m. 1250-1499 11-11:30 a.m. 1500-1749 11:30 a.m.-12 noon 1750-1999 12 noon-12:30 p.m. 2000-2249 12:30-1 p.m. 2250-2499

Four Men Held In Kidnaping

BENTON HARBOR, MICH. (AP)—Four Chicago Negroes were in custody here yesterday, undergoing questioning in the brutal kidnaping and slaying of a 19-year-old gasoline station attendant early Friday. The victim, Richard Hillhouse, flung himself from a speeding car six miles east of here after a quartet robbed his airport station of $40, abducted him, slashed his throat and flung him bleeding into the rear seat of their automobile. At Mercy hospital his condition was reported favorable despite loss of blood and a brain concussion. Hillhouse managed to reach a farmhouse where help was summoned. The four men were arrested in Kalamazoo, Mich., an hour later as they pulled into a filling station. Held without charge in the Berrien county jail in neighboring St. Joseph, Mich., the men are McKinley Allen, 23, and three brothers, Eldridge Brown, 24, Stonewall Brown, 23, and Ben Junior Brown, 22.

Von Papen Trial Opens NUERNBERG (AP)—The trial of Franz Von Papen on charges of playing Hitler's game and bringing Germany to destruction opened yesterday in a Bavarian deNazification court only a mile from the building where the international military tribunal acquitted him of war crimes charges.

U.S. Steel, Unions Extend Present Pacts to April 30

Anglo-Russian Treaty Still Good; Stalin Suggests Changes to Bevin

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin has agreed with Foreign Secretary Bevin that the 20-year British-Russian alliance has not been "repudiated" but has suggested that it will have to be revised and strengthened if it is to be extended to 50 years, an exchange of notes disclosed last night. Whether Britain would be willing to negotiate a revised pact was not clear. A foreign office spokesman this week, said, "As I understand it, the offer implied that the word 'twenty' would be substituted by the word 'fifty'."

The exchange of notes appeared to have settled the tempest which began Dec. 22 with Bevin's radio review of foreign affairs which contained the statement that Britain "does not tie herself to anyone."

That statement, construed at the time as an effort to answer criticisms that Britain's policy was too closely bound with the United States and as an effort to approach to easier relations with Russia, was picked up by Pravda, and interpreted by that Communist party organ in Moscow as a renunciation of Britain's Soviet alliance.

The British at once issued a public statement that the treaty was neither "superseded or suspended," and then last Saturday sent the Moscow government a note declaring the Pravda article "misleading" and "reaffirming the treaty."

The treaty provides: 1. Mutual aid against Germany and her European allies "until the reestablishment of peace." 2. Agreement not to negotiate with any German government, for a period of 20 years from 1942 except for German governments which "clearly renounce all aggressive intentions." 3. Agreement on a desire to join other states "for common action to preserve peace and resist aggression in the postwar period." 4. Agreement to give each other military and other support against revival of axis aggression in the postwar period until more permanent peace keeping methods could be worked out with other states, this agreement to remain in force for 20 years and "thereafter until terminated."

5. An agreement to "work together in close and friendly collaboration after the reestablishment of peace for the organization of security and economic prosperity in Europe" and to "take into account the interests of the United Nations in these objects." 6. Agreement to "render one another all possible economic assistance after the war." 7. Agreement "not to conclude any alliance and not to take part in any coalition directed against the other."

Soviets Name Flaws In Atom Control Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet magazine New Times declared yesterday three basic flaws existed in Bernard Baruch's plan for atomic energy control and exclaimed that his recommendation for continued U. S. production of atom bombs disclosed "where the dog lies buried!" The Soviet publication said that the three flaws were:

1. The proposed international atomic energy authority would be independent of the United Nations security council in its activities and would be dominated by the United States as has been the U. N.
2. Atomic energy as envisaged by Baruch would operate like a "real world atomic trust" which could dispose of all resources and run all the work on atomic energy in all countries.
3. Baruch proposed to delay indefinitely the transfer to the atomic authority control of work being done in the United States in the sphere of atomic energy.

Picketing Outlawed, Unions Made Liable Under 2 Bills Filed in State Legislature

DES MOINES (AP)—Picketing would be outlawed and labor unions would be liable for judgments to enforce collective bargaining agreements under two bills filed yesterday for introduction in the house of representatives Monday. They were the first labor bills to make their appearance in the house, and followed by one day the introduction of a measure in the senate to prevent the filing of portal-to-portal pay suits in state courts.

Beer, Liquor Options Meanwhile, there were developments in a move for local option on beer and liquor, and an effort to solve the individual income tax controversy by a temporary compromise calling for half rate payments this year.

Rep. David G. Ainsworth (R., Spirit Lake) and several others filed the anti-picketing measure. It would prohibit picketing "by force, threats, violence and intimidation" and such picketing as would interfere with the operation of a business not involved in a labor dispute.

It also would prohibit destruction and seizure of property in connection with a labor dispute and subject violators to a fine of not more than $100 or a sentence of not more than 30 days. Each violation would constitute a separate offense.

Outlaws Picketing The measure would outlaw such picketing "as prevents persons from entering or leaving any particular place or from using the public ways." It would be enforceable against those who picket and those who induce others to picket. It also would protect "supplies or delivery vehicles." The section concerning destruc-

Two Local Bills

Two local option bills very much similar to the pair introduced in the house in 1945 were being circulated in the house. One would call for local option on beer, the other local option on hard liquor. Copies of the proposed measures were given to some house members by outside dry leaders, who asked the members to study the bills and introduce them next week.

The bill for local option on beer would provide for elections on the matter either on a township, city or town, or county-wide basis. Such elections could be called upon the filing of a petition signed by 25 percent or more of the eligible voters in the area. The question could be submitted either at a special election or a general election.

Iowa School Boards Ask $8 Million More

DES MOINES (AP)—Directors of the Iowa Association of School Boards called upon the state legislature in a resolution yesterday to appropriate not less than $8,000,000 a year to school districts in addition to $3,530,000 now allotted by law.

The association, describing the financial position of the schools as "desperate," proposed that the funds asked be appropriated from the state special tax revenue and be pro-rated among the schools on the basis of per-pupil average daily attendance.

NEW GREEK PREMIER

KING GEORGE II yesterday administered the oath of office to a new Greek cabinet headed by Premier Demetrios Maximos (above), 74-year-old financier and member of the Royalist Populist party that parliament adjourned to permit preparation of a new government program. Constantin Tsaldaris, the Maximos requested immediately retiring premier and also a Populist, was given the foreign ministry in the new cabinet. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Time Needed To Work Out '47 Agreement

Murray, Fairless Move to Ensure Continued Production

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The U. S. Steel corporation and the CIO-United Steelworkers agreed last night to extend present contracts of all "Big Steel" subsidiaries until April 30 to gain additional time to work out a 1947 agreement for some 170,000 workers.

News of the extension came after both sides decided to adjourn contract discussions until Monday. A two hour morning meeting, first to be held on a new contract, ended with the union presenting its 15-point program to the steel representatives headed by John A. Stephens, vice-president in charge of industrial relations for U. S. Steel of Delaware. The present contract expires Feb. 15.

A year ago, the steel union had begun a month-long strike, involving 150,000 steelworkers throughout the nation to enforce demands for a $2-a-day wage increase. That strike was settled by an 18 1/2 cent hourly boost which was adopted by industry generally. The steel union now claims a membership of 850,000.

Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the United Steelworkers, announced the extension, saying it was proposed by management. He added that similar extensions with other steel companies probably would be made early next week.

"The union agreed to this course of action," declared Murray, "because we believe that real collective bargaining requires complete discussion of all points. During such discussions the public should not be kept in a state of apprehension. We likewise understand some of the problems confronting management, such as their uncertainty as to their liability in portal-to-portal suits."

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, also issued a statement in which he said:

"The proposal was made and accepted because of the desire on the part of both parties to make a contribution to the national welfare. This action assures continuity of our steel operations until April 30, 1947. During the period of extension there may be clarification of matters now constituting issues between the parties which affect wage and other costs."

He city the half-billion dollar suits filed against the giant producer for "alleged past portal-to-portal liability" and said: "Had the union not agreed to the contract extension we would have found ourselves facing an immediate demand to raise wages without knowing how long an individual employe works each day and how much he is entitled to receive at the end of the day—if the portal-to-portal pay theory is to be imposed."

Government officials at Washington generally considered it a smart move by Murray and the steel companies.

Seek Revision Of Potsdam Agreement

LONDON (AP)—The Union of South Africa joined Australia yesterday in demanding a quick revision of the Potsdam agreement to improve Germany's war-blighted economy, which it described as a dangerous potential menace to peace.

E.K. Scallan, the union's acting high commissioner in London, in addressing the four-power deputy foreign ministers now preparing the groundwork for the German peace treaty, asked that the rate of current German coal exports, reparations deliveries and plant dismantling be "reconsidered," official American sources said.

Scallan opposed large scale territorial demands on Germany and advocated a decentralized German government.

The tenth day of German-Austrian peace making brought these other developments, as reported by American diplomats:

1. South Africa and Australia pressed their demand for fuller participation by smaller powers in all treaty deliberations and again were rebuffed by Russian deputy Feodor I. Gousev, with no final decision reached on the issue.

2. Australia asked for an early, separate peace conference on Austria and said that Austrian peace should impose no unjustifiable burdens or humiliations.

3. The deputies in the German treaty section scheduled a meeting tomorrow to hear the Canadian representative and agreed that the meeting would be cancelled if Canada carried out its threat to "boycott" the deliberations.

Meanwhile, Dr. Karl Gruber, Austrian foreign minister, told newsmen his nation would be unable to pay reparations to anyone.

McCarthy Bill Would Halt Strikes Over Closed Shop; Give Employers 'Freedom'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) yesterday introduced a bill to "eliminate the closed shop issue as a source of strikes" and "restore" to employers complete freedom of speech. His statement said complete freedom of speech had been "lost" under the Wagner Labor Relations act.

McCarthy's bill would allow an employer to make "any statement of views or arguments" concerning any labor question, if the statement "contains no threat of force or violence."

It also would outlaw the closed shop or union shop unless two-thirds of the employees of a plant voted for it by secret ballot.

The McCarthy bill was sent to the senate labor committee which resumes hearings Tuesday.

Hearings on bills to outlaw portal pay suits will be resumed today with Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) as the witness.

Also in the senate a resolution calling for a complete audit by congress of all government accounts since 1933 was introduced by Senator Robertson (R-Wyo.). A fund of $10,000,000 was proposed for the investigation.

Republicans won their fight to continue the senate small business committee. The senate voted 46 to 42 to extend it for another eight months over protests of Senator Tobey (R-NH).

Controlling Sugar Through '47

Public clamor for an end to government controls on sugar has caused many congressmen to start thinking in terms of votes instead of national welfare.
Housewives, naturally irked because they are unable to obtain sugar in a supply to which they were accustomed before the war, and other uniformed interests have been penning letters to congressmen and newspapers and generally letting the world know that they are unhappy with the situation.

Professor, You Get a D

(From an editorial by Dwight Ink in the Iowa State Daily Student)
Possibly no student has ever been more critical of the quality of education he receives than today's student veteran. He has waited a long time to finish school and now that he is back he wants to make every minute count. It is quite natural that he should be quick to object to those things which he feels are holding him back.

Book Views

By G. M. White

This column got lost last week. What was intended to be a discussion of the atomic bomb as a "social force" broke out in a rash of rhyme and was so printed without reference to the books which inspired it.

The books under consideration last week were in fact "Hiroshima" by John Hershey "Modern Man is Obsolete" by Norman Cousins, "Shall Destruction Be Our Destiny?" by Harrison Brown, and "Mr. Adam" by Pat Frank.

"Hiroshima" is the dramatic account of six survivors, to which the New Yorker magazine devoted its entire issue of August 31, 1946. "Mr. Adam" is cheap literature but a beguiling idea—due to atomic radiation only one fertile male human is left on the earth.

Evidently more thought is currently being given to the dissolution of the human race than at any other time since Noah. Perhaps some one will fashion an ark in the form of a space-ship and begin collecting animals in pairs.

Universal brotherhood! What macabre humor inspired that symbol! Mephistopheles must be roaring with laughter. The end of the world begins, not in the laboratories of the nuclear physicists, but in the death of the heart.

To Attend DAV Conclave
Earle Benson and William Jelly will leave this afternoon for Ames to attend a convention of the Disabled American Veterans tomorrow.

Since we have received several letters to the editor of late which have been too long to fit our space requirements, we find it necessary to announce a policy of giving preference of less than 200 words in length.

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT Quality of Products

By SAMUEL GRAFTON
New York Post Syndicate

A bit of debate crops up again as to how successfully we are spreading "the American idea" around the world. For a while we had looked to American movies to keep the world in love with the United States.

As for the baseball program, it appears to be going well, but Mr. Clark reports a feeling among "thoughtful" observers that baseball is a perhaps roundabout approach to democracy, and that it might be better just to kick all the Nazis out of high places instead.

There remains, for spreading the American idea, the field of trade, which offers a perhaps more realistic approach to the problem than do some of the more obvious and superficial attacks outlined above.

SUI Students Feel Marshall Will Do as Well as Byrnes
By Richard Walk
Most University of Iowa students feel that Gen. George C. Marshall will do as good a job as James F. Byrnes as United States secretary of state, according to results of The Daily Iowan poll of student opinion.

Students were about evenly divided when asked whether they were satisfied with the progress of the United Nations. Students were asked: "Are you satisfied or dissatisfied with the progress that the United Nations has made to date?"

Some of the comments students made were:
"Too high a position for a military man."
"Has brilliant mind as organizer."
"Marshall may have too much 'army idea.'"
"He should be very effective with Russia."

Who Says Ours Is An Age of Reaction?
(The Christian Science Monitor)
Some left-wing critics have dolefully dubbed the present time an "ice age of reaction." For their comfort we should like to point out a warm freshet of liberalism bubbling out in regions which should, under their interpretation, be politically polar.

The United States junior chamber of commerce has chosen the nation's ten outstanding young men of the year and there isn't an incipient fascist among them. Instead there are men like Charles G. Bolte, chairman of the American Veterans Committee and no favorite with conservatives; Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., liberal historian with eyes toward the future; Bill Mauldin, cartoonist, who moves among the common problems of wartime and peacetime buddies; Joe Louis, clean fighter and promoter of good will; Dan Duke, assistant attorney general of Georgia and campaigner against "the revived Ku Klux Klan and the fascist hate group, Columboians."

The junior businessmen have even chosen a labor leader, Joseph A. Beirne of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, as one of the ten. No, the ice cap hasn't covered America yet!

All tuition must be paid before 5 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 12.

National Youth Week Drives To Stress Delinquency Control

'46 County Figures Reveal Decreases In Juvenile Cases

National Youth Week will begin tomorrow night with campaigns throughout the United States emphasizing homes, churches, schools and recreation as important phases in the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

The campaign is being promoted by the United States justice department, which has immediate responsibility for children who come into conflict with federal laws. The department, which is basing its campaign on more prevention rather than more law, is stressing the point that their work with delinquency directly reflects what local communities are doing.

In Iowa City, community prevention is handled through recreation under the supervision of J. Edgar Frame, superintendent of city recreation: Control of delinquent children is the problem of Mrs. Mable Evans, county probation officer and Mrs. V. A. Gunnette, police matron and truancy officer.

Delinquency in Johnson county has decreased during the last year, according to Mrs. Evans. There have been only 19 delinquent cases tried in juvenile court compared to 35 for 1945.

The number of cases of neglected and dependent children who have been placed in institutions throughout Iowa has dropped from 44 in 1945 to 14 for the entire year of 1946.

Johnson county sent one child to the boys' training school in Eldora this past year and no one to the girls' training school in Mitchellville.

However, those figures don't mean Mrs. Evans hasn't had to handle problem children.

Delinquency cases which aren't serious enough to be taken to juvenile court are listed as service cases and are given the same investigation as a court case. In addition to the desk work, the probation officer must keep a record of the child's activities and behavior and be more or less responsible for that child's actions.

Mrs. Evans handled 730 of these cases last year and 874 in 1945. Children listed as service cases are brought to Mrs. Evans' attention by parents who can't control their children or by teachers, ministers, neighbors or police officers.

Purpose of the work done with these service cases is to correct a child's misbehavior before he becomes delinquent and must be taken to juvenile court.

In compiling a yearly record, Mrs. Gunnette also found the number of delinquency cases in Iowa City alone were more than in 1945.

She had 21 delinquency complaints of parental complaints of shoplifting cases, 32 school truancy. She referred her cases to juvenile court.

Recreation facilities in Iowa City may be largely responsible for the comparatively small numbers of delinquents handled by the juvenile court.

During winter months, recreation for youth centers in the community building where are available for after-school participation in ping pong, basketball and volleyball.

Weekend attractions are at the Paper Doll, "night club" where music is usually furnished by a juke box. At various points throughout the year, however, a club, which is operated by the teen-age members, sponsors formal dances and hires an orchestra.

Attendance began with 1,300 in September and has steadily increased. The month of October alone numbered 495 more than attended during the same period in 1945.

During summer months the recreational program is transferred to outside playgrounds where competition in softball, badminton, horse shoes and tennis is open to Iowa City youth under the direction of Ralph Tucker.

When Prof. John H. Haefner of the history department leaves Iowa City this weekend, he will be a member of a six-man commission sponsored by the war department to survey secondary schools in Germany.

Haefner is under 60-day war department orders for a three-phase survey which includes an instructional conference in Washington before the flight to Berlin, the survey in Germany and a final meeting in the nation's capital to report conclusions and recommendations of the committee.

"We (the commission) will be under the direction of the civil affairs division of the war department while in this country and will be working for the office of military government in Germany," Haefner said.

The commission will conduct a critical survey of history, international relations, geography and social studies textbooks as used and taught in Germany, according to Haefner.

"This is pure conjecture," Haefner added, "but I imagine our work will be confined to the American zone and will include visits to German schools."

Haefner, head of the social studies department of University high school, is a member of the nominating committee for the national council of social studies.

On his return to this country about May 1, Haefner will resume his duties with the university and University high school.

Like chauvinistic plays about the power and glory of nations and their armed forces (even our own) and plays about the noble struggles of historical characters (whether they discovered radium, a cure for poliomyelitis or wrote "Ol' Black Joe"), institutional plays seem to be dying a slow, three-act death.

Either from over-indulgence in saccharine or from inhaling too much of their own dust, they have the breath of death about them and, like all dying things, they take themselves too seriously.

But if this material is treated lightly, if the audience is allowed to laugh and to relax in an awareness that they aren't expected to take all this too seriously, they are noticeably more responsive and the play is noticeably more successful.

Chancellor's Party For 60-Day Survey Of German Schools

Liljenquist's Centennial Comedy Highlights SUI's Babyhood

By JACK O'BRIEN

When Prof. John H. Haefner of the history department leaves Iowa City this weekend, he will be a member of a six-man commission sponsored by the war department to survey secondary schools in Germany.

Haefner is under 60-day war department orders for a three-phase survey which includes an instructional conference in Washington before the flight to Berlin, the survey in Germany and a final meeting in the nation's capital to report conclusions and recommendations of the committee.

"We (the commission) will be under the direction of the civil affairs division of the war department while in this country and will be working for the office of military government in Germany," Haefner said.

The commission will conduct a critical survey of history, international relations, geography and social studies textbooks as used and taught in Germany, according to Haefner.

"This is pure conjecture," Haefner added, "but I imagine our work will be confined to the American zone and will include visits to German schools."

Haefner, head of the social studies department of University high school, is a member of the nominating committee for the national council of social studies.

On his return to this country about May 1, Haefner will resume his duties with the university and University high school.

Like chauvinistic plays about the power and glory of nations and their armed forces (even our own) and plays about the noble struggles of historical characters (whether they discovered radium, a cure for poliomyelitis or wrote "Ol' Black Joe"), institutional plays seem to be dying a slow, three-act death.

Either from over-indulgence in saccharine or from inhaling too much of their own dust, they have the breath of death about them and, like all dying things, they take themselves too seriously.

But if this material is treated lightly, if the audience is allowed to laugh and to relax in an awareness that they aren't expected to take all this too seriously, they are noticeably more responsive and the play is noticeably more successful.

Secondly, he has confined his play. The action is limited to one day and his story of SUI is presented through the story of a few men associated with the embryonic university and their families. He hasn't tried to present a "Cavalcade" of the last 100 years.

There are two advantages in this. First, so far as production is concerned, things are much simpler. Fewer settings are required. The audience isn't thrown into confusion by having an army of the same actors reappearing for several different generations. And the wear and tear spared the make-up department is considerable.

Also, since our university on its centennial is taking a narcissistic view of itself and its accomplishments, this technique provides a more complimentary reflection.

Presented with a view of what the university was like at its earliest stage of existence—struggling for survival in the Iowa wilderness—the audience is liable to say . . . "Ye Gods, was it really like that! We've gone places, haven't we?"

But, with a cavalcade or panorama, wherein we see the gradual development over a period of years—most of which is slow and painful—we're not so jarringly impressed and ask ourselves why the . . . we haven't gone any further.

Liljenquist's play has touches of the ingredients usually regarded as essential to an effective piece of theater—comedy, drama and romance.

In most instances the comedy is pretty earthy. The sort that amuses some and embarrasses others. But these are pretty earthy people he's writing about. The sort of people who amuse some and embarrass others.

The drama lies in the struggle between the good (those who want the university to survive) and the bad (those who don't care).

The romance between 18-year-old Gus and a girl named Martha takes place in a river-bank scene.

This impresses us with the thought that here at least is one thing in the vicinity that hasn't changed in the last 100 years—the river bank and its summer night activities—and for that we can be grateful.

However, it isn't the summer

HARD TO STUDY? Semester exams beginning today make it necessary to hit the books as Helen (Toby) Frank, and Joe Carroll realize. But the weather man presents a problem with his springtime temperatures. Such high readings as yesterday's 50's are fine for walking, riding, picnicking and playing, but for final week there's too much "spring fever." Better studying weather is expected after next Tuesday as cold weather and snow are predicted. (DAILY IOWAN PHOTO BY SYLVIA LAGER.)

Hawk Mermen Break Records

By BUCKY TURNBULL
Staff Sports Writer

Four University of Iowa records and one NCAA freshman record were broken at the fieldhouse yesterday afternoon as the Hawk-eye mermen won their second Western conference dual meet of the season, defeating Wisconsin, 53-31.

Dick Malne of Des Moines set the new national inter-collegiate freshman record in the 150-yard backstroke with the backstroke with the winning time of 1:35.8. This time bettered the old mark of 1:37.9 set by Paul Herron of Stanford University in 1939, and also broke the old Iowa record of 1:36 set in 1937.

Another NCAA freshman record was broken in the 200-yard breast stroke by Dick Lake of Iowa. However, since Lake is a first semester freshman, his winning time of 2:26.7, which beat the freshman mark by nearly five seconds, is still ineligible for national rating. Second semester freshmen are the only swimmers able to establish new records under the NCAA rules.

Two other records of long standing also fell to the Hawkeye tankmen. In the 220-yard free style, Wally Ris, A.A.U. champion in both middle distance free style events at Great Lakes last year, cracked the old Iowa mark set in 1940 by 4.8. Ris won the event in 2:12.

Iowa's medley relay team, Duane Draves in the back, Bob Matters in the breast, and Kenny Marsh in the style came in with the record-breaking time won by 3:45.3 was good enough for the Hawk team of Hofnagle, Cramer, Katz and Zakrzewski by two seconds.

The issue was never in doubt after the stylish Hawkeyes won the opening medley relay. They took eight out of nine points in the 60 and 220-yard free styles, the low board diving, and led at the midway point of the meet 30-6.

The meet, as was expected, was comparatively easy for the Hawkeyes, and Coach Dave Armbruster used the opportu-

Hawk Cagers Meet Wildcats Tonight

Iowa Expects Close Contest

The University of Iowa basketball squad, 15 strong, leaves this morning for Chicago where they will meet Northwestern in the first half of a double-header program tonight at the Chicago stadium. The Iowa-Northwestern game starts at 8:15 p.m. and will be followed by the DePaul-Michigan State game.

The Hawkeyes, still smarting under the double setback at Indiana and Purdue, hope to de-claw the Wildcats and get back into the conference race. In Northwestern the Hawks hit a team which has lost all four of its conference games thus far this season.

Nevertheless, Coach Harrison fears that the 'Cats may be due for a reversal of form and break loose against his Hawkeyes. Northwestern is only average height with their Center George Felt topping the list at 6-4 but has plenty of speed.

Ben Schadler, guard, has led the Wildcats in scoring but the overall offensive picture has not been good. Northwestern recently lost two regular forwards by ineptitude and now posts a 215 percent accuracy.

Iowa, now in a tie for sixth place in the Big Nine, hopes to improve its standing providing some of the other conference games result in upsets. Illinois holds one of the keys in its game with Wisconsin and a Minnesota defeat at the hands of Indiana would help.

But first of all the Hawks must come through. Coach Harrison has indicated that he will start the veteran combination which includes Dick Ives at one forward post.

The Iowa and Northwestern series is one of the closest on record. Since the first game in 1905, the Hawkeyes have taken 26 games while the Wildcats have taken 25. No games have been played between the two schools since 1944 when two games resulted in an even break.

In the final game the Wildcats won a 42-41 decision when Duane Sicksel sifted through for a basket in the last 70 seconds.

Oxford Five Drops Shamrocks, 25-20

St. Patrick's high school bowed to Oxford 25-20 last night, but the highly touted visitors knew they were really in a ball game.

For three quarters the Shamrocks' battled away on even terms with the Pirates. The big break in the game came when Bill Seemuth, Irish center, fouled out just before the close of the third period. He left the game with the score tied and without his fine rebounding St. Patrick's couldn't keep up the pace.

The score was tied eight times before Oxford could break out and hold a lead. The first quarter ended with Oxford leading 9-7 due to two beautiful long shots by guard Chuck Roushar who was the nemesis for St. Patrick's all night. Megan and McMahon did all the point getting for the Shamrocks in the first eight minutes.

St. Patrick's tied the score 12-12 at halftime and it was tied again in the third quarter at 16-16 when Seemuth was waved out.

Then Schetz, Schmidt and Roushar took over under the baskets and controlled the rebounds. The third period ended 18-16 with Oxford ahead and in the final period they rolled on to their sixteenth win of the season. St. Patrick's record now stands at 8-5.

In the final game the Wildcats won a 42-41 decision when Duane Sicksel sifted through for a basket in the last 70 seconds.

U-High Five Rout West Liberty, 40-19

WEST LIBERTY — University high's rejuvenated Bluehaws put on a defensive show in the first quarter last night and then roared to an easy 40-19 Eastern Iowa victory over West Liberty—their second of the season.

The West Liberty team experienced an 11-minute scoring drought at the outset as the potent 'Hawks clung to the losers' like plaster on a wall. It was the winners' best performance of the campaign and lifted them to fourth spot.

Paced by Gussy Helm and Nick Anderson the 'Hawks barreled into an 11-0 first quarter lead. James who led Comet scoring with 10 points, finally bucketed one, but U-high spurred to an 18-7 half margin. They led at three-quarters, 29-14. The rest was a walk.

Hawklets Hit Ottumwa Five

Seeking revenge for a 37-27 defeat inflicted on them at Ottumwa, the Iowa City high cagers play host to the powerful Bulldog five tonight at the City high gym.

The Little Six second place squad has walked over all competition except the conference leading Muscatine quintet and sports the league's scoring ace in Center Verle Burgason. Forwards Zip Clayton and Jim Erland were the Hawklet big headaches in the earlier game at Ottumwa as they tallied over half of the Bulldog scores.

Tonight's encounter will be the last appearance in a little Hawk uniform for versatile Kirk Carson and game captain Dick Drake. Both are mid-year seniors who have completed their eight semesters of eligibility allowed by the state athletic association. Drake will start at his usual forward post while Carson moves back from his forecourt spot to the guard position vacated by Sonny Dean.

Probable lineups for Hawklets vs Ottumwa Five basketball game.

Play Final Game Tonight

FINISHING THEIR high school competition against Ottumwa tonight are City high star cagers Dick Drake (left) and Kirk Carson. Drake has been a fixture in the Hawklet forecourt while Carson has alternated at forward and guard.

Dean will miss the non-conference game for the Mississippi Valley leaders to rest his ailing leg for later loop contests as the Hawklets move into the stretch in the tight league race. Bill Reichardt will get the nod at the starting forward position opposite Drake while Center Gene Hettrick and Guard Jim Sangster will be at their usual spots.

Illini Lose End Huber Plus Young, Mike Kasap

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP)— Bill Huber, University of Illinois junior end, said yesterday he had signed a contract with the Cleveland Browns of the all-America football conference.

Star Halfback Claude "Buddy" Young quit school after the Illinois-UCLA game in the Rose Bowl and announced Wednesday that he was open to pro football offers.

Mike Kasap, 260-pound senior tackle, signed a contract with the Browns Monday night. Kasap's salary was reported unofficially to be $6,000, plus a bonus for signing.

Immaculate Conception

Ramblers from St. Mary's off a determined fourth rally by the Immaculate Conception quintet last night in Cedar Rapids, and took home a 31-27 victory.

Johnny Suplee and Maher collected two field goals in the opening quarter for the Ramblers, while Callan hit two charity tosses and Stramel swished a one handed shot from the corner, leaving the Marians in front, 8-6.

The Greyhounds tried to slow the game down in the second quarter, but the Marians were hot and emerged with a half-time lead of 17-10. In the third quarter the Ramblers kept their poise and controlled the game.

Mercy Hospital Drive Ends With Final Tally at $204,071

Exceeding their $150,000 goal by over $54,000, workers and leaders in the Mercy hospital expansion drive reported pledges totaling $204,071 at a "victory luncheon" yesterday at Hotel Jefferson.

Contributions of more than $67,000 since the last report Jan. 3 brought the campaign to its successful conclusion. Money collected will remain under control of the steering committee until the Sisters of Mercy at Chicago are ready to let a contract for $600,000 additions to the hospital.

The advance gifts section, comprised mainly of large donors, had the highest of yesterday's approximate sub-totals with pledges of $91,988. This was 153 percent of its $60,000 goal. Largest individual donation in the drive was $10,000, with several others amounting to $5,000.

The basic gifts section, consisting of Mercy hospital doctors, reported $53,305—133 percent of its $40,000 goal. The women's group also surpassed its goal of $5,000 with a $6,587 total.

Three other sections fell only a little short of reaching their goals. The classified group had an estimated $18,000, or 90 percent of the $20,000 sought. The area section, covering outlying towns and townships in Johnson county, reported $26,273—nearly two-thirds of its $40,000 objective.

The university section came through with $6,544, which was 65 percent of its $10,000 goal. An additional $1,620 came from Mercy hospital alumnae and employees and from Washington county contributors.

L. D. Wareham, general chairman of the drive, congratulated workers and section leaders on the success of their efforts. He expressed gratitude for the support of all donors in the campaign and said any persons who have not been contacted but who wish to contribute still may do so by calling expansion headquarters in Mercy hospital.

W. T. Hageboeck, publicity chairman, lauded Wareham's work in supervising the campaign. Wareham read a letter of appreciation from Sister Mary Rita, Mercy hospital superintendent.

It was announced the expansion office will remain open indefinitely under the direction of Sister Philomena and Mrs. Pat Van de Steeg. The process of receiving pledges as they become due will go on until 1950, Mrs. Van de Steeg said, although a building contract will probably be let before that time.

Cotlow to Describe Amazon Headhunters

Lewis N. Cotlow, author and explorer, will present a lecture on "Amazon Jungle Tribes," illustrated with natural color motion pictures, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the chemistry auditorium.

Scenes of jungle tribes of the Amazon country, including the Colorados, the fiber-skirted Yaguas and the Jivare headhunters, will be shown by Cotlow who will speak under the sponsorship of the Iowa Mountaineers.

To reach these tribes Cotlow traveled up rivers in dugout canoes and through dense jungle on foot. In all, he covered over 3,000 miles of the Amazon river and its tributaries.

Cotlow was graduated from George Washington and New York universities. He is a fellow member of the Royal Geographical Society of Great Britain, and a former president of the Explorers and Adventurers clubs of New York. Cotlow is a regular contributor to magazines and is the author of numerous books, among them, "Passport to Adventure" and "Adventure Is My Hobby."

The lecture is open to the public, and admittance will be by membership or ticket, obtainable at the door.

Meeting at a luncheon in Hotel Jefferson, the board gave the nod to Dean's budget which was upped because of increased organization memberships.

GAS 'PORTER' SERVICES IN A JIFFY

SERVICING HIS PLANE with a new gas "porter" is R. W. (Bud) Cochrane, co-owner of the Iowa City Flying Service. The "porter" enables aircraft to be supplied with gas and oil without moving the plane from the hangar to the ramps or gas pits. According to Cochrane, it is the first in this section of the country and services three times as many aircraft as could formerly be done in the same length of time. It pumps 20 gallons per minute and services 25 light planes without refilling. The chassis and engine were made by the Crosley Motor Car company and assembled by the Northwestern Aeronautical corporation for the Shell Oil company.

Seven Babies Raise 'Stork' Club Membership

The last time Dr. Stork had a good workout here, delivering no less than five babies in Mercy hospital, Iowa City's temperature soared above 40 degrees. That was Jan. 10. Yesterday, with thermometer again on a rampage, the good doctor outdid himself.

He rolled a seven.

Number one on the list were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas R. Williamson, 238 Quonset park, with a 7-pound, 7-ounce boy. Mr. Williamson is a senior liberal arts student.

Then there were four consecutive girls. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor, 407 N. Dubuque street, had one weighing 7 pounds, 13 ounces. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutchinson, 212 E. Washington street, weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces. A 7-pound, 10-ounce girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hahn, 213 1/2 S. Dubuque street. And a daughter weighing 8 pounds, 15 ounces was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Binggeli of Riverside.

Two more boys raised the final score to daughters 4, sons 3. One weighing 8 pounds, 6 ounces was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Farnsworth, 320 N. Lucas street. Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Brown of West Branch became the parents of an 8-pound, 11-ounce boy to conclude the spurt.

With Mercy hospital's population increased by seven—by 56 1/2 pounds, to be exact—a significant fact was noted. Yesterday also marked the end of a drive which netted over $200,000 to expand the hospital.

from Davenport; Alfred J. Hudson, special advisor for the National chamber in this area, and Summerwill are scheduled to speak.

UWA Sponsors Book On College Etiquette For Women Students

Preparation of an etiquette book for use by women students on all college campuses is being sponsored by the UWA council.

The full length illustrated book is being written by Winifred Shields, A4 of Kansas City, Mo. "to answer a demand for a college etiquette book geared to meet the needs of the postwar college campus."

Questionnaires have been sent to some of the women's dormitories and others will be sent later, asking students what particular problems in etiquette have bothered them.

Etiquette in situations ranging from the freshman woman's first college president tea to Commencement will be discussed in the book.

Mrs. Shields expects to complete her manuscript for the book later this year.

The newly formed print group of the art department has made another successful venture in the professional printmaking field.

In the latest exhibition at the San Francisco Museum of Art, 86 percent of the prints sent by University of Iowa printmaking students were accepted for showing by jury in national competition.

Students and staff members with exhibits in the show are Prof. Maurice Lasansky, Malcolm Myers, Jean Harris, Virginia Banks, W. Roloff Brach, Wendell H. Black, Paul Brach, LeRoy Burkert, Frank Casa, Tom Lias, Donn Stewart, Philip Wigg and Jane Wilson.

Lasansky is the group's sponsor.

Fire Damages Storeroom Of E.S. Rose Drug Shop

Traffic on the 100 S. Dubuque block was stopped for almost an hour last night as a crowd of about 300 persons gathered to watch firemen extinguish a blaze in the storeroom of the Rose Drug shop, 109 S. Dubuque.

Neither Fire Chief J.J. Clark nor Owner Edward S. Rose could determine the source of the fire, which Rose discovered about 10 p.m., just as he prepared to close his shop.

Merchandise in the northwest of the storeroom was burned or seared, but Rose said he couldn't estimate damages. He said the stock and building are insured.

City Primaries Safe Complete

Democratic and Republican city party candidates completed filing of nomination papers yesterday as both contingents prepared to square off for respective primary elections Feb. 24.

As the 5 p.m. deadline loomed four more candidates filed with City Clerk George Dohrer.

Late Democratic filers were Preston Koser, lone party candidate for mayor, selected to run against Mayor Wilber J. Teeters, the single Republican choice for reelection; Atty. Emil G. Trott, 630 North Van Buren street, lone candidate for police judge against the Republicans' incumbent, Atty. John Knox; and Clark F. Mighell, 622 Iowa avenue, alderman-at-large choice.

E. B. Raymond, city treasurer, was the last Republican to file for office. Raymond is running unopposed for the treasurer's post.

For the city assessor post, William J. White, present Democratic office holder, will be unopposed by the GOP.

The primary fireworks center around Democratic contestants for the first ward, and Republican and Democratic battles for fifth ward aldermen.

The Democratic central committee has already endorsed Julie F. Kasper, for the first ward post, but Democrat James Callahan, filed this week independently. Callahan, incumbent council member for the first ward alderman, claims backing from friends in the city who want him to run again.

Fifth ward points up just as warm for the Democrats with Donald E. Powell, four-year marine veteran of the south Pacific and endorsed by the Democratic committee, faced with double opposition. William H. Grandrath, employe at the Means Bros. grocery and John L. Stahmer will make it a stiff three-way race.

The GOP will have a hot fight of its own in the primary as both Edwin Morley and John W. Kobes seek nomination over Earl J. Gifford, Republican committee endorsee.

All six of these candidates are contesting for the alderman's post held by Republican Roy A. Ewers for two years. Ewers is not a candidate this year.

While the forthcoming primaries promise a lively Feb. 24, both central committee chairmen last night served notice they'll not formulate platforms until that date.

GOP central committee chairman Fred W. Johnson said his party's city plank would be formed at a Republican caucus next month.

Declaring there was full harmony within GOP ranks, Johnson said the party had the local strength and backing of the local Republican Veterans league.

James A. Meade, Democratic central committee chairman, said his party's platform probably would be solidified at a convention in the county courthouse chamber about one week after the primary election.

Teacher Demand Hits 200,000 Mark

This is the second in a series of articles discussing job opportunities in various fields for February graduates of the university.

Greatest demands for teachers recently have been in the special subjects such as vocational training. Opportunities also have been especially good in music, art, speech, commerce, home economics, industrial arts and physical education.

Mathematics and science teachers have been in great demand during the last three years.

Speech correction is a rapidly developing field ready to absorb new teachers.

As for salaries, they have gone up in every teaching field.

The prospects are that they will go still higher, according to Miss Camp. Communities are just beginning to realize they must pay teachers in order to get them, she explains.

The average salary for Iowa high school teachers has risen 35 percent in the last five years. Prof. L. A. Van Dyke of the college of education predicts it will rise 10 percent more this year.

There is a difference in men's and women's teaching salaries. Salaries for men now range from $200 to $300 a year higher than women's.

The many emergency teaching certificates now being used will be withdrawn when the supply of teachers meets the demand. A number of those teachers are expected to withdraw from the profession.

In Iowa, during the last five years, 6,000, or approximately 25 percent of all certificates issued, have been emergency teaching certificates.

Just now, school administrators are rushing to complete their teaching staffs early, instead of waiting until late spring or summer as they formerly have.

Patton Files Divorce Suit; Charges Cruelty

William W. Patton filed suit for divorce from Ruth Patton late yesterday afternoon in Johnson county district court on a charge of cruelty.

The Pattons were married in 1936, divorced in 1942 and remarried Jan. 17, 1946. They have a six-year-old daughter, Lottie Ann.

Patton was acquitted Monday of a first degree murder indictment brought by a Johnson county grand jury after Ernest Brown died of knife wounds Nov. 24 following a fight at the Patton home.

PORTRAIT OF VARIETY

NO, HE'S NOT FRUSTRATED; he's just going crazy. He's breaking under the suspense. This young man is sitting in the weather bureau trying to make a head or a tail out of those conflicting reports. But it's got the better of him so he's taken to cutting out paper dolls—at least they're predictable. In case you're wondering where we get off calling him a 'young man,' he really is, but you see the whole weather situation has made him lose his hair during these last few days. But, just to show you the weather man does have a big trouble, take a look at these varying temperatures we've had here in Iowa City. Wednesday the low was a frigid four degrees above zero. Thursday the mercury shot clear up to a balmy 51.9, then slid to 21.8, and yesterday took the cake with a high of 52, as Iowa Citizens sauntered around town in light jackets and university students thought about river-banking. So that's why the weather man is losing his hair. He's not used to all this abnormality but his predictions have been hitting it, right through the crisis. The thing that's driving him crazy is whether or not the weather is going to change without any forewarning.
