JUDGE DISMISSES MT. CLEMENS PORTAL PAY CASE

CIO to Push Suits, Anyway

DETROIT (AP)—The momentous Mt. Clemens Pottery company case was thrown out of a federal court yesterday but the $4,800,000,000 portal-to-portal pay battle still continued. U.S. District Judge Frank A. Picard, ruling against portal time for the pottery workers, dismissed the Mt. Clemens case with a denial of damages. Industry hailed the verdict. But the immediate reaction of CIO labor, mainly responsible for the avalanche of portal suits across the nation, was that the fight wouldn't stop here. Ahead also was a likely final determination from the supreme court, itself responsible for the federal court's attention to the portal theory in the Mt. Clemens dispute.

Judge Picard held the pottery workers' portal time was too trifling for damages.

The court said further industry should not be held liable for portal claims prior to last June 10. That was the day the supreme court set forth portal theory in the Mt. Clemens case.

The National Association of Manufacturers, through President Earl Bunting, said Judge Picard's verdict presumably meant the "vast majority" of portal suits "no longer have any standing."

At the same time Bunting called on congress for clarification of the fair labor standards act to avoid further confusion.

Similar remarks also were heard in congress.

On the other hand the CIO's United Auto Workers union, which alone has filed nearly $1,000,000,000 in portal suits, held its ground.

Union Attorney Maurice Sugar said the auto union would not withdraw any of its suits.

Sugar said Judge Picard's decision "wouldn't necessarily apply to other cases." He also called attention to the likelihood of a supreme court test.

There was no immediate comment from the auto industry's "Big Three"—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—from whom more than a half billion dollars in portal pay has been asked.

The government, in entering the Mt. Clemens case, said the suit would be carried to the supreme court no matter what Picard ruled.

Attorney Edward Lamb, who brought the Mt. Clemens suit originally, warned industry the issue was not settled. He said the Mt. Clemens case was not a "truly portal-to-portal case" in view of "limiting facts."

The Mt. Clemens case, Lamb said, was not comparable in the portal theory with instances in steel, autos and other industry.

Yesterday's court decision was described as "far-reaching" by Frank E. Cooper, a pottery company attorney.

Cooper said it "clearly points out" that last June's supreme court verdict "furnishes no basis for the many fantastic claims" by labor in portal suits.

"Judge Picard's decision makes it plain," Cooper added, "that the judgment of the supreme court did not hold what some people were led to think had been decided."

Judge Picard held that workers are not entitled to any portal time except when they are going to their jobs. This time in the Mt. Clemens case, his opinion continued, never amounted to more than eight minutes and he held this amount "de minimis," or too trifling to merit damages.

The court did not attempt in his decision to define how much time must accrue before the "de minimis" doctrine becomes ineffective. However, he said that if the supreme court ever sets such a figure industry should not be liable before June 10, 1946.

Judge Picard suggested furthermore that any portal time under "20 to 25" minutes is customarily considered trifling in industry and should not require compensation. He added:

"Let us not be understood as holding that all portal to portal suits should be dismissed. There may be, and perhaps are, many instances where walking and the preliminary activity time consumed is of such an amount as to call for compensation that the worker is not now receiving. But this is not one."

The court gave as examples un-be required to stand inspection before beginning work.

The pottery workers sued for overtime in 1941. A master in chancery found that the employees were not entitled to any compensation.

Judge Picard in 1943 overruled the master and awarded the employees nominal damages for overtime. In so doing, he discounted all portal time.

The U.S. circuit court of appeals in Cincinnati reversed Judge Picard and held with the master that the employees were not entitled to overtime.

The supreme court held similarly but added that Judge Picard must consider the portal time in computing overtime. They sent the case back to him last June with instructions to compute the portal time, if any,

and to assess it as "de minimis" or otherwise "in the light of the realities of the industrial world."

Yesterday's 29-page opinion followed public hearings in which the national CIO fought for portal pay while the U.S. government and the National Association of Manufacturers opposed it.

Judge Picard held that industry, attempting to abide by the fair labor standards act of 1938 in regard to overtime, had little to guide them except administrative bulletins and vague court decisions, not necessarily directly related to their own industry.

Therefore, he reasoned, it was not until the supreme court enunciated the portal theory in the Mt. Clemens case last June that industry could be liable for portal time.

IOWA DUMPED FOR FIFTH STRAIGHT

Taft Opposes Tax Reduction Before July 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) tossed a monkey wrench into the plans of house Republicans for a quick cutback in income taxes with an announcement yesterday he will oppose making any reduction effective before July 1.

This would have the $3,500,000,000 reduction which a 20 percent cut would make over a full calendar year.

Taft told a reporter that while he remains convinced income taxes can be slashed a net of 20 percent, he thinks individuals ought to continue paying at the present rate until the new government fiscal year begins next July.

Taft said he would keep payroll withholding taxes at their present level for the first half of 1947. After July 1 they would drop by whatever percentage Congress decides.

For persons who pay their year's taxes in advance March 15, the senator proposes rebates later covering the last six months of the year.

This stand by Taft, chairman of the senate Republican policy committee and a member of the finance committee, collided directly with the announced intention of Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the house ways and means committee to rush through a tax bill making reductions retroactive to Jan. 1. Knutson's committee has ordered brief hearings beginning Feb. 19.

The Ohio senator said he does not look for any final action by congress until late in May or June. He apparently foresaw the possibility of a presidential veto which might slow up, if not defeat, any tax reduction.

Plenty of Potential Chops from This Pig

WINNSBORO, S.C. (AP)—Pork is plentiful in these parts. Here's one reason why: A spotted Poland China sow on the farm of J.B. Wingard farrowed 11 pigs Jan. 9, 1946, rearing all of them.

She farrowed another dozen last July and all of them survived. Then Jan. 17 she came along with another litter of 13 and at last reports everyone concerned was doing fine.

When You Don't Have The Wings of an Angel

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Sangamon county jail prisoners have proven their ineptitude (1) as choristers, (2) as paperhangers and (3) as jailbreakers.

Sheriff Meredith Rhule announced yesterday that he had foiled a second mass jailbreak attempt in three weeks.

The first attempt, thwarted Jan. 17, was made to the accompaniment of lusty singing sessions by the jail's 16 occupants, Rhule said. The songs were used to drown out the sound of sawing on bars of the jail's bullpen, but a jail official heard the discordant overtone of sawing and the plot was ended.

Yesterday, Rhule said, while making a casual inspection of the jail, he noticed that a section of the plaster wall of the large cell near the ceiling was wrinkled. Closer examination showed that the wrinkled area was composed of paper which had been rubbed on the plaster until it absorbed the general color scheme of the wall.

Beneath the papered section, the sheriff said he found the plaster had been removed and a number of bricks loosened. Further search turned up lengths of pipe, which Rhule said had been used as makeshift crowbars, and coils of rope. The sheriff said another two days of work would have effected an opening to the jail roof.

Sheriff Rhule said he had given orders that the jail's present complement of 12 prisoners be kept in the smaller cells and watched more closely in the future.

Crime Wave Sweeping Mannheim

By RICHARD O'REGAN
MANNHEIM, Germany (AP)—Tossing their victims into the Rhine in a year-long reign of murder, smuggling and sex crime, lawless gangs of international hoodlums have turned this ruined city into post-war Germany's "crime capital."

Violence and robbery rivaling Chicago's bootleg era, American and German police said, hold Mannheim in terror—although at least 12 gangs operating amid the rubble have been smashed.

Hundreds of criminals are in jail. Hundreds more are sought by American and German authorities. Mannheim's crime, American officials said, centers around a smoky, dirty harbor area known as Rheinau and dubbed "little Cicero" by Americans.

Gangs which kill, carouse and clash among themselves in Rheinau use the area as a base to plunder Mannheim's dozens of American supply depots—the most concentrated in Germany.

In the last few months, American and German police, together with French gendarmes across the Rhine, have:

Found 10 bodies nude and bound in the Rhine—apparent victims of the gangs;

Handled four reported murders in a month, including axe slayings and street killings and investigated a number of assaults of German police and depot guards;

Fought gun battles on the Rhine with armed smugglers shipping U.S. goods across the stream to the French zone, and broken up a mob hijacking carloads of army supplies, smashed dope rings, black market gangs and organized prostitution rackets.

Up to 1,280 criminal cases a month—more than a third of all the cases for the state of Wuerttemberg—Baden—have passed through the Mannheim courts, busiest in the U.S. occupation zone.

Last month more than 1,900 girls were picked up for prostitution. Of these 638 had venereal disease.

The trials showed, American officials said, that criminals were found in every group in Mannheim's melting-pot—among the city's 205,000 German population, its 8,000 Polish guards, its 4,000 American troops and its uncounted "renegades"—people without nationality and without registration.

E. G. Croft Found Guilty On Polk County Charge

DES MOINES (AP)—A jury of nine women and two men, after deliberating for slightly over three hours, late yesterday afternoon found Elmer G. Croft, garage operator, guilty of a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses from Polk county.

District Judge John M. Schuapp of Ft. Dodge said sentence will be pronounced Tuesday.

Walter F. Maley, defense attorney, said the verdict would be appealed to the supreme court.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois kept its feeble Big Nine basketball title hopes alive last night by pulling away from Iowa in the second half for a 45 to 36 victory.

The score was deadlocked, 17-17, after a sluggish first half, but excellent rebound work by 6-foot, 7-inch Center Fred Green in the second half enabled the Illini to keep 10 points ahead almost all the way for their fifth conference win against three defeats.

Green led both teams with 13 points on six field goals and a free throw. Murray Wier, Iowa's sharp-shooting little forward, was high for Iowa with nine markers.

Wier was guarded by husky Jack Smiley and collected his four baskets on sensational shots or when Smiley was switched to another Hawkeye. Andy Phillip was replaced by Dwight Humphrey, 5-foot, 8-inch sophomore from Moline, Ill., at the outset, but later entered the game to score five baskets and a charity toss for 11 points and runner-up honors.

After 10 minutes of play, Illinois held a slim 8 to 7 margin and with five minutes to the intermission led only 17-14.

The Illini gradually picked up momentum in the second half and with seven minutes remaining held their largest advantage, 40-29, an 11-point bulge.

The Hawkeyes, committing 22 personals, lost Forward Dick Ives on fouls, while Smiley went out via the same route with five of the Illini's 15 infractions. Ken Menke of Illinois missed seven of nine free throws.

It was Iowa's sixth reversal in eight league starts.

Jack Smiley opened the scoring with a free throw to give Illinois a 1-0 lead. Floyd Magnusson sank a free toss for Iowa to tie the count. Green's rebound shot and Smiley's charity toss pushed the score to 4-1 for the Illini. Dick Ives counted a free throw to make it 4-2, but Humphrey's goal from the corner and Smiley's free throw pushed the score to 7-2 for Illinois.

With nine minutes of the first half elapsed Murray Wier scored Iowa's first field goal on a long pass from Spencer. Herb Wilkinson contributed two free throws and Jack Spencer made one to tie the score at 7-7. Dick Ives then fouled out of the game just 10 minutes after the opening whistle.

Vance nailed a free throw to put Illinois ahead 8-7, but Dave Danner, who replaced Ives, hit a one-hander to give the Hawks a 9-8 edge. Andy Phillip hit a free throw and Gene Vance hit a goal from the side to gain put Illinois ahead 11-9.

Dave Danner scored again to square the score at 11-11. Green hit a pivot shot and Clay Wilkinson retaliated with a rebound shot to make the score 13-13. Murray (See IOWA GAME page 4).

House Republicans To Aid in 'Red' Purge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker Martin pledged house Republicans yesterday to a drive to "remove the Red menace from America."

Martin said in an interview his party will cooperate fully with the house committee on un-American activities in its campaign against what Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.) called a Communist "conspiracy."

Martin reiterated his belief, expressed in a speech last week, that "A powerful and strategically-placed minority has set out to destroy the American system and replace it with Communism."

Thomas said his committee's encounter Thursday with Gerhard Eisler was "only the first chapter in the committee's drive to unmask a Communist conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States."

He termed Eisler the directing head of the Communist organization in this country and said Eisler's refusal to be sworn and testify before the committee "is far from the end of this case."

Nickel-Fare Battle To Rage in New York City Hall

NEW YORK (AP)—Traditionally free-spending New Yorkers are arguing over a nickel.

Into city hall tomorrow swirls "The Battle of the Subways" when public hearings will get under way to determine whether subway fares should be raised from five to ten cents.

At stake is a long-standing fact that in New York City you can ride farther and faster for a nickel than anywhere else in the world.

A nickel subway fare has been a political ghost to city administrations for years as it carried a growing deficit. When the first subway rolled in 1904 the fare was a nickel and no administration since has wanted to make the unpopular move of raising it.

Iowa City Drawn Into Schick Hospital Controversy

VA's Plan To Build Here Draws Fire

By BILL ZIMA
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Announcement last month of architect's plans for a veterans administration hospital to be built in Iowa City beginning this summer has brought an active, though belated, response from various quarters in the state.

From the state capitol it was announced that the legislature requested the VA to make use of the Schick General Hospital in Clinton.

Senator O. H. Henningsen (R., Clinton), who introduced the resolution, stated that the use of the installation at Clinton "would not interfere with the efforts of Iowa City to obtain a veteran's hospital

PROPOSED VETERANS HOSPITAL to be located here in Iowa City. The veterans administration will spend some $6-million to build the 12-story, 500-bed, general medical hospital here. Construction is scheduled to begin probably in June of this year.

SCHICK HOSPITAL FROM THE AIR. Civic and veterans groups in Clinton, where Schick is located, are campaigning to get the veterans administration to locate its proposed hospital there. (AP WIREPHOTO)

In Clinton a veterans' committee—the United Veterans Hospital organization—working with the Clinton Herald and other civic groups has been vigorously campaigning to reopen the ex-army hospital.

By means of petitions and pamphlets circulated widely in Iowa and western Illinois, the UVHO is bitterly assailing any action that will keep Schick closed. They plan to lay their petitions on the desk of President Truman.

The UVHO, according to its circulars, consists of the United Spanish War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Disabled American Veterans and American Veterans of World War II of Iowa and Western Illinois, with headquarters in Clinton.

In Iowa City two veterans' groups have voiced strong opposition to any action that would keep a vet hospital from this city. They are the Roy L. Chopek, Post 17, American Legion and Johnson county Post 2581, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Neither post, however has launched a mail campaign.

Lt. Col. Sam P. Graham, acting district army engineer of the Omaha district, told the Daily Iowan, Friday, that his office had "no knowledge of any change of plans" for the proposed VA hospital here.

The hospital here would be situated on the south side of highway 6, on a 13-acre site. Including the 500-bed hospital, which in itself will contain all the general hospital facilities as well as special veterans' facilities, the area will have quarters for doctors, nurses and hospital attendants plus regular auxiliary buildings.

According to Colonel Graham it will take roughly two building seasons to complete. Unofficial cost of the 12-story limestone building will be $6,000,000. The land will cost the VA about $190,000.

University officials have recognized that placing a VA hospital here would create a considerable labor market competition for University hospital. State hospitals generally do not pay as high wage scales for nurses and hospital help as the VA.

They point out, however, that the same situation would exist if Schick were opened in Clinton only 85 miles away.

Schick is a typical army reservation. Buildings are of cinder block construction with brick veneer in the fashion of two story barracks. Each building, unless designated for administrative, recreational or maintenance purpose, is a ward. Wards are interconnected by passageways so that the entire compound can be traveled under shelter. It also has a theater, swimming pool, gymnasium and chapel.

The UVHO states, in its pamphlets, that at one time the army housed 2,500 patients there.

Its cost to the government was $12,000,000. Iowa at one time considered buying Schick for something over $2,000,000 to use as a mental institution.

Immediate use of Schick is urged by UVHO spokesmen. They declare there are 2,200 applications for hospitalization by veterans in Iowa, and that hospitals at Des Moines and Hines, Ill., are filled to overflowing with lists mounting daily.

They further state, "The VA plans for hospitals to be built over a 5-year period will not solve our problem now. The materials used in the erection of these hospitals should be used in the building of homes for veterans now."

Informed sources, however, say it is the VA's policy to place vet hospitals near established medical centers.

Moreover, a consultation service between established hospitals and vet hospitals is maintained by the VA. Dean Ewen M. MacEwen, of the SUI college of medicine is chairman of the "Dean's Committee for Resident Training at Veterans Hospital," and with this committee will recommend doctors in residence and consultant doctors for the VA. Officials appointments, however, are made by the VA.

Interested persons in Iowa City were solicited for their views. In some cases they were unwilling to be quoted. All felt sure the hospital would be built here, however. They dismissed the Schick business as "politics."

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters said, "The veterans administration has said these hospitals must be at medical centers. This Clinton thing doesn't cut any ice at all."

The mayor further stated that it would make absolutely no difference to the proposed hospital if Schick is reopened. The city is not worried about it, and makes no official opposition to it, he said.

(However the chamber of commerce has a committee that is keeping a watchful eye on developments.)

In reference to the hospital itself, the mayor said, "It will make Iowa City one of the greatest medical centers in the country and will be a great thing for the community."

An Editorial:

Not a Question of Civic Interests

Much sound and fury is being raised by the good citizens of Clinton because the veterans administration is to build a permanent veterans' hospital here in Iowa City while the Schick army hospital on the outskirts of their city stands idle.

Various civic and veterans' groups in Clinton have launched an extensive campaign designed to point out to the taxpayers the apparent lack of good business logic in the VA's plans to erect a new $6-million hospital here in Iowa City while Schick, built during the war at a cost of $12 million, is casually thrown into the discard.

But the most telling argument the Clinton people have for the immediate re-opening of Schick is the fact that present hospital facilities in the eastern Iowa and western Illinois area are wholly inadequate. Their United Veterans Hospital organization points out that 2200 veterans in need of hospitalization cannot be taken care of by the overcrowded hospitals now serving the area.

We heartily agree with our Clinton friends that Schick should be re-opened at once to take care of these veterans who are unable to gain admission to a regular VA hospital. We agree that there is a need right now for additional hospital facilities in the eastern Iowa area.

However, in their attacks on the proposed erection of a permanent veterans' hospital here in Iowa City we suspect they are confusing civic interests and veterans interests. We hold little brief with either Clinton or Iowa City when they use the community benefit arguments in connection with the hospital issue. We're not interested in the civic advantages either city hopes to gain. We're only interested in how the VA can best serve the veteran.

The choice of Iowa City as a site for a permanent hospital is in line with one of the first reforms General Bradley instigated when he took over as head of the VA. He announced at that time that all veterans' hospitals would be located near an established medical center and not scattered around the country by political pressure as had been the case after World War I.

The arguments for building a hospital near an established medical center seem obvious and irrefutable. There can be little doubt that both the University hospital and the VA hospital will mutually profit by the intimate liaison which will only be possible if the veterans' hospital is built and operated in close connection with the state institution.

We wish the Clinton groups luck in their fight to get the VA to re-open Schick hospital to at least temporarily ease the shortage of beds available to veterans.

But we cannot go along with them when they use the argument that the VA is all wrong in planning to build a new permanent hospital here in Iowa City which will have the advantage of joint consultation with the University hospital staff. We'd feel a lot better about their motives if they'd plug for both.

THE WORLD WATCH—

France Has a Plan for the Ruhr

By STEVE PARK
Daily Iowan Columnist

In what is probably the most ambitious plan for international economic control of an important industrial area ever endorsed by a government, France last week proposed to the Big Three that the Ruhr area, which provided the industrial base for Germany's rapid rise to power and made that nation the base of Europe's prewar economy, be internationalized and that its industries be owned and operated jointly by the powers which waged war against Germany.

PARK

As justification for this startling approach to the German problem, France points out that the Ruhr areas made possible repeated German aggression and, as such, constitutes a continuing international menace in German hands. However, deindustrialization of the area is termed "unthinkable" by the French, who recognize that it is vital to a speedy reconstruction of Europe's economy.

The purpose of the plan, according to the French, is to assure security against future German aggression, and to assure future exploitation of Ruhr resources for the common good of the "pacific nations" of Europe.

In operation, it would convert Germany into a second rate power without the strength to wage modern warfare, and would reverse the Franco-German situation which has obtained since the unification of Germany by Bismarck.

Basically, the story of French and German inter-relations since the industrial revolution of the last century has been the story of the possession and exploitation of natural resources. Before the industrial revolution and the revolution in communications brought about by the utilization of steam-power, modern Germany was a loose confederation of independent principalities.

France, because of its centralizing landscape, was a unified state during this period. But Germany had both coal and iron; France had no coal. Thus Germany was able to build a strong stable capital industry, while France, lacking enough coal, turned to the production of consumer goods.

However well the French may have been able to support themselves in peacetime, they were doomed in time of war, for the prosecution of modern war depends upon a strong capital goods industry; it depends upon coal and iron.

The sharp French realization of this condition prompted the French to clothe in black the status representing Alsace and Lorraine after the Franco-Prussian war, for these were coal and iron producing provinces; after World War I it prompted the French to demand autonomy of the Saar and the Rhineland; it was the moving force behind the recent French action in sealing off the Saar and attaching this area to the French economy, and it is the basis for the present plan to internationalize the Ruhr basin.

According to the French figures, the Ruhr basin represents 90 percent of the steel, 72 percent of the cast iron and 69 percent of the rolling mill products remaining in German-territory after account is taken of French control of the Saar and the territorial reductions in the east. Nothing could illustrate more clearly the importance of the Ruhr to future German war potential.

The French plan foresees the administration and inspection of the Ruhr industries under direct control of Allied nationals, while individual enterprises would be operated by Germans under Allied supervision.

The proposal envisions sharp limitations upon the production of steel, mechanical apparatus and chemicals while the coal resources of the Ruhr will be exploited to the maximum. France needs coal; furthermore she wishes to expand the steel industries of France, Belgium and Luxembourg at the expense of Ruhr production. Thus, while de-industrialization of the area may be "unthinkable," limitation of its production is of positive value.

To give this proposal a juridical basis, France now seeks to have its provisions incorporated into the peace treaty for Germany; it seeks to have protection of the area placed under the purview of the United Nations Security Council, so that a United Nations force will be available to quell disturbances "in exceptional cases that would be clearly defined."

To further implement the legality of the new situation, France also proposes to reimburse owners of property to be confiscated with stocks and bonds. Further, the plan calls for the establishment of special tribunals to handle all cases affecting the internationalized property.

What the reaction of the Big Three to this proposal will be is not known at this time, but it can be expected that the French plan will become the center of sharp controversies in Moscow this March. Essentially, the French proposal is in no manner altruistic; it is designed to make France once again the great power in western Europe, to usurp for the French, the pre-eminent place in European economy which Germany recently enjoyed.

Certainly, certain nations will contest this proposal, particularly those parts of it which benefit France at the expense of the rest of Europe. This is particularly true in the phases which suggest a limitation of steel production.

Actually, such a plan, to work truly for the benefit of all, should be under direct operation of the United Nations, probably through the economic and social council, not under the control of a small coterie of powers. In one sense, this would boost the prestige of the world organization and would give it in this particular area a real function.

Looking Over GOP '48 Hopefuls

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS
Daily Iowan Columnist

Next Wednesday being Feb. 12, the day when the Republican party annually steps forward to sing its own praises at a coast-to-coast round of Lincoln Day dinners, it might be in order for us to take another glance at the crop of 1948 GOP presidential hopefuls.

DENNIS

Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who won reelection last fall by a sweeping margin, has greeted all press conference queries concerning his White House ambitions with a terse, smiling "no comment." Because he is a strong political leader in the nation's key electoral state, however, Dewey continues to hold the commanding position he assumed when he broke the back of New York's Democratic party with his resounding Nov. 5 victory. Irving Ives, who, it is said, "represents" Dewey in the United States senate, is a member of the powerful labor committee and may soon clarify the governor's position with regard to pending union-management legislation.

With regard to foreign affairs, Dewey's ideas were recently made known in an address delivered by John Foster Dulles, his close friend and advisor on international relations. Although Dulles paid tribute to retiring Secretary of State James Byrnes and his successor, General George Marshall, the speech was critical of American policies for Germany and China.

In Albany, where he heads up a smooth-running, efficient state Republican administrative machine, Dewey is at liberty to pick and choose the national issues on which he will make detailed public statements. Public opinion surveys show that his popularity has remained steady among GOP voters around the country. He is still very much the man to beat for the presidential nomination when the 1948 Republican convention rolls around.

It won't be long before Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, whose stature among GOP voters seems to have grown since last fall, will be committed to a series of Republican-sponsored measures dealing with health, education, housing and labor. As the recognized leader of the senate majority, Taft will thus, in effect, put before the country the program on which he will stand when his name is placed before the national convention some 18 months hence. Political analysts are generally agreed that, barring unforeseen developments, Taft will be Dewey's closest rival for the presidential nomination, although the Ohio Senator, too, has so far declined to allow his name to be officially entered in the contest.

Washington correspondents are already forecasting a Dewey-Taft deadlock at the 1948 convention, somewhat comparable to the situation in which the two candidates found themselves in 1940, when Wendell Willkie stole the show at Philadelphia. Another neck-and-neck race between them might conceivably swing the 1948 nomination to one of the other four men who are still being widely mentioned as White House possibilities.

Ohio's junior senator, ex-vice presidential candidate John Bricker, continues to be looked upon with great favor throughout the country by the Republican county chairmen, recent public opinion polls indicate. He has been overshadowed in the senate, though, by Taft and political observers now speculate that Bricker's only chance in 1948 will come if, in the event of a Dewey-Taft deadlock, the latter withdraws in favor of his fellow Ohioan.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan said yesterday that he is "not a candidate for the Republican nomination" (see DENNIS page 9)

English Church Head Declares Religion Is 24-Hour Task

By CAROLYN ANDERSON

An Englishman who was drinking coffee (it should have been tea, of course) had an answer yesterday to why Americans are afraid of Christianity.

Byran Green, Vicar of Holy Trinity, Brompton, London, England, told an Iowa reporter that Americans and Englishmen "have an idea that real Christianity can be a costly business." Green, who arrived in Iowa City yesterday for Religion in Life week, pointed out that Christianity is a 24-hour-a-day job and not an easy one at that.

He glanced at Prof. Gonzalo Baez-Camargo of Mexico for confirmation and got it. They had never met until last week, but agree, they say, on practically everything.

"You know, I think confusion is the basic trouble with American students," added Green thoughtfully. "There is need for a definitive statement of Christianity."

His blue eyes twinkled then and he said, "By the way, you might say that I don't want any Christians at my meetings. They already have what they need." Green is delivering the convocation address tonight in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

He was quite serious again as he said, "Moral standards are slipping for students the world over, but far more serious (his cigarette lighter jabbed the air for emphasis) students don't know why they are living at all."

Then he brightened and added that he loved good arguments over religion. "Maybe I'll get them this week," he said.

In addition to tonight's convocation address, Green will speak at a faculty luncheon tomorrow at 12:30 in the River room, and will lead a seminar on "Fundamentals of Christian Faith" throughout the week.

WSUI Will Interview Two Religious Leaders

Two prominent religious men will be interviewed over WSUI Monday and Tuesday in observance of Religion in Life week.

The Rev. Henry D. Jones, director of the Dodge Christian Community house in Detroit, will be interviewed by Dorothy Kottemann Monday at 12:45 p.m.

A special interview will feature Dean Sidney E. Sweet of the Christ Church cathedral in St. Louis at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Only about 460 million acres of high grade crop land are left in the United States, according to one authority.

Wolverine Swimmers Submerge Iowa Hopes, 58-26

Iowa Chances Hurt By Loss Of Wally Ris

By BUCK TURNBULL
Staff Sports Writer

Swimming without their star free styler, Wally Ris, National A.A.U. champion in the 100 and 200-yard free style events last year, Iowa's tank team suffered their first Big Nine dual meet loss of the season to Michigan last night, 58-26.

Ris' ineligibility was announced yesterday afternoon by the Iowa athletic office following a decision received from the Western Conference offices in Chicago. The report stated that he is ineligible due to scholastic deficiencies incurred at the University of Illinois.

The powerful Michigan swimmers proved a little too much for the Hawkeyes. In addition to taking eight of nine first places, the Wolverines broke four national intercollegiate records for the long course pool. Two national freshman records were also broken, one by Michigan and one by Iowa.

Two of the national records fell before the back-stroking of Michigan's Harry Holiday. Swimming the first leg of the 300-yard medley relay team, Holiday established a new mark of 1:0.6 for the 100-yard back stroke. This broke the old record set by Al VanDeWeighe of Princeton by .14.

Holiday's record-breaking feat came in the 150-yard back stroke. His winning time was 1:37 bettering North Carolina's Denham Hammond's mark set in 1942 by .45.

Dick Weinberg, Wolve free styler, made a new collegiate record for the 100-yard free style by one-tenth of a second. Weinberg came in with the time of :53.0, beating Charles Barker's old mark of 53.1. Barker swam for Michigan in 1941.

The last senior intercollegiate record established by the Wolverines came in the 300-yard medley relay. Michigan also held the old record set in 1941 of 3:04.5. Their time last night was 2:58.8.

The two freshmen records came in the 220-yard free style and the 150-yard back stroke. Gus Steger, Michigan free styler, won the 220 free style with time of 2:16.7 eclipsing Jack Medina's old record set in 1936 by .97.

The other freshmen mark went to Duane Draves, Hawkeye back-stroker. Draves took second in the 150-yard back stroke but his time of 1:44.1 was good enough to beat the old mark of 1:45.6 set by George Hammond of North Carolina in 1941. Dick Maine took third in the same event for Iowa.

The only event won by the Iowa tankmen came in the 50-yard free style. Vito Lopin and Irv Straub placed one-two for the Hawks, Lopin's winning time being :24.3.

Bob Sohl, the last of Michigan's big three, took his individual

De Paul Stops Kentucky

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—De Paul's hustling Blue Demons handed mighty Kentucky its second defeat in 23 starts last night by a score of 53-47 before a sell-out crowd of 18,364 in Chicago Stadium.

The confident Kentucky team set up play after play which failed to materialize in points as the inspired Blue Demons matched their rivals in speed and defensive prowess to collect their 12th victory in 18 games.

"Whitey" Kachan, 6 foot 2 inch DePaul guard, turned in a tremendous job of ball-rustling and rebound hounding in addition to adding 18 points. His two baskets in the last 90 seconds pushed the Demons out of reach after Kentucky's great center, Al Groza, who led all scoring with 21 points, had pulled the Wildcats up to 49-47 on four tip-ins in the final wild five minutes.

Herb Wilkinson's free throw made it 24-20, but Green hit again and Phillips went the length of the court to score making the count 28-20. Clay Wilkinson scored on a short shot for the Hawks and Weir stole the ball from Phillip to score.

Phillip rebounded Vance's shot to pick up a basket and Vance looped one in to again give Illinois an eight point edge. With about eight minutes to play Jack

Jack Smiley Holds Wier To Nine Points; Center Fred Green Leads Scorers With 13

Wier's free throw put Iowa ahead momentarily. All-American Andy Phillip got loose to rack up two more baskets and shove the Illini ahead 17-14. Len Metcalfe took a long pass from Spencer and scored for the Hawkeyes. He added a free throw to run the halftime score to 17-17.

Weir opened the last half with a field goal to give Iowa a 19-17 lead. Ken Menke dropped in a free throw and Junior Kirk lifted a basket from the right side of the court to again shove Illinois ahead 20-19. Smiley and Erickson picked up charity pitches and Fred Green dropped in a long shot from 10 feet back of the free throw circle to widen the gap 24-19.

Herb Wilkinson's free throw made it 24-20, but Green hit again and Phillips went the length of the court to score making the count 28-20. Clay Wilkinson scored on a short shot for the Hawks and Weir stole the ball from Phillip to score.

Phillip rebounded Vance's shot to pick up a basket and Vance looped one in to again give Illinois an eight point edge. With about eight minutes to play Jack Spencer, Iowa's big rebounder, was waved out on fouls.

Green, Illinois center notched a goal and the Illini were 10 points ahead. Len Metcalfe picked up a free throw and Daner rebounded Weir's shot to make it 34-27. Green again tipped one in to counterbalance Weir's circus shot and the score was 36-29.

Vance and Green both scored before Bill Hall sank a long shot. Smiley's only field goal of the game gave Illinois a 42-31 lead. Hall picked up two more free throws for Iowa but Menke and Smiley matched them with one apiece.

A pivot shot by Metcalfe made it 44-35. Smiley and Metcalfe then traded free throws to post the final score at 45-36.

Hawklets Drop Newton, 37-34

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY IOWAN
Iowa City high's battling cagers came through once again when the chips were down to eke out a 37-34 win over an inspired Newton five last night at Newton in a non-conference tilt.

The victory was the fourteenth for the Hawklets in 17 starts including seven straight wins over Mississippi Valley foes but the Little Hawks were pressed to the limit before turning the trick.

Big Gene Hettrick broke a 34-34 deadlock in the final minute with a neat pivot shot to sink the Cardinals who kept the game even all the way.

Newton overcame a 10-6 deficit to hold a 22-21 lead at halftime. Hettrick and Reichardt found the range in the third period, however and boosted the Hawklets into a 28-24 margin at the three quarter mark.

Badgers Keep Top Spot 60-51

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin, top ranking team in the Western conference basketball race, was handed a scare last night but overcame a first half deficit to defeat Minnesota, 60 to 51.

The Badgers couldn't stop big Jim McIntyre in the first half when the Gopher center bagged 17 points but bottled him up in the second half when he was held to five points.

Don Rehfeldt, 6 foot 8 inch center who was declared eligible by the Big Nine faculty committee a few hours before the game, came on McIntyre after the intermission and helped the Badgers to overtake Minnesota's 31-22 halftime lead.

The Gophers started fast in the second half and grabbed a 38-26 lead only to have it eclipsed by a rally which the Badgers poured in 15 points during the second half. Jack King's push shot put the Gophers back into the lead for the last time as Wisconsin poured in a series of baskets to win going away.

Free throw accuracy again aided the Badgers so they sank 18 of 23 tries while Minnesota hit 15 out of 28. Bob Cook, leading Big Nine scorer, collected 15 points to pace the Badgers while McIntyre's 22 was high for Minnesota.

Depending on load, temperature and wind velocity, the possible rise and fall of Brooklyn Bridge is 18 feet.

Wolves Back In Loop Race

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan snapped out of a two-game losing streak and got back into the thick of the Western conference basketball title battle Saturday by beating Ohio State 56-53 in a closely fought tilt before 4,300 spectators at Yost field house.

The lead changed hands several times and the score was tied three times in a wild second half.

Within the final minute three Buckeyes, Bob Donham, Jack Underman and Paul Huston, were banished with five personal fouls, and Michigan, anxious to hold the ball, declined all the free throws.

The Wolverines had difficulty finding the range from the field and the free throw line throughout the first half and at intermission were trailing 25-26. Only the long shots of Bob Harrison and Mack Suprunowicz kept the Wol-

Harrison took high-point honors with seven goals and three free throws while Warren Amling, another long shot specialist led the Buckeyes with six baskets and three charity tosses.

The win was Michigan's 11th straight on its home court since December 22, 1945, when Indiana won an overtime victory.

'Cats Derail Purdue, 54-53

CHICAGO (AP)—Northwestern, tailend club in the Western conference, derailed Purdue last night 54-53 before a packed crowd of some 17,500 in Chicago stadium. The defeat tumbled Purdue from a third-place tie with Michigan which downed Ohio State, 56-53, last night, to a fifth-spot deadlock with Minnesota which bowed to league-leading Wisconsin, 60-51.

Purdue, dropping its third game of the season on the road after compiling three straight conference wins at home, had the score knotted with 4½ minutes to play and forged ahead 51-50 with 2½ minutes remaining on a shot by Andy Butchko. But Northwestern's Chuck Tourek came to the rescue with a basket and a free throw and George Felt added another charity to give the Wildcats their victory tally of 54 points and their second Big Nine win in seven starts.

Wes Fesler Named To Guide Buckeye Gridiron Fortunes

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Wes Fesler, who lifted University of Pittsburgh's football out of the doldrums last fall, yesterday was officially offered the job as head gridiron coach at Ohio State, where he won all-America honors at end in 1929 and '30.

L. W. St. John, retiring athletic director at Ohio State, and his successor, Richard C. Larkins, came here to invite the famous Buckeye alumnus to take the position left vacant this week when Paul Bixler resigned to accept the head coaching job at Colgate.

Larkins, tackle alongside Fesler at Ohio State, said Wes was their first and only candidate for the job.

Asked if Ohio State was ready to offer Fesler more money than he is receiving at Pitt, Larkins replied:

"Money is no object, we want Wes."

"Oh yes it is," Fesler retorted, "especially, when one has three kiddies to clothe and feed."

Fesler came to Pitt on a two-year verbal agreement at a reported salary of $8,000 annually. After the team won three and tied one of its 10 games last fall the agreement was said to have been extended another year and the salary boosted to $10,000. Bixler's salary at Ohio State was $9,500 plus another $1,000 for radio broadcasts.

By DON PADILLA Staff Sports Writer

Iowa's grapplers smashed Northwestern university 28-0 here yesterday afternoon taking every match as the Wildcats succumbed to devastating Hawkeye power.

Although Iowa scored only two falls the margin was much wider. In fact four sure falls were stopped by the timekeepers whistle.

The game Wildcats made a show of the meet by fighting back with all they had, but it wasn't enough. They had counted on their ace heavyweight, Dick Eggers to come through, but Iowa's Bob Geigel tossed his husky foe in the second period.

That squashed the hopes of Northwestern and gave them a blank for the afternoon.

In winning their second consecutive conference victory the Hawks stamped themselves as a real title threat. Ahead of them are two dual meets, Minnesota, and Illinois, the defending Big Nine champs.

Six decisions were scored yesterday, the first six matches on the program. Vern McCoy, hampered by a headguard protecting an injured ear wrapped up long-legged George Halas of the visiting team to win the first match. Red haired Duane Hanson zeroed Frank Hussey in the 128-pound feature. It was a case of wrestling against former teammates for Hanson, who was a conference champ at Northwestern in 1945.

Following Hanson, Iowa's Roy Pickett won his third match of the season by defeating Myles Taylor, and newcomer Don Rodenburg, wearing old gold colors for the first time, scored a lopsided win over Don Guier. Rodenburg displayed a wealth of power and constantly had his man in serious trouble.

In the 155-pound class Ed Kemp appeared to have a rugged opponent in Andy Ivy, but the Wildcat matman didn't reckon with Kemp's vicious style. At one time in the match he had to take a two minute rest before returning to the canvas.

Dick Geppert kept the pace by easily defeating Dick Waitley, substiting for Bud Ivy of the Wildcat aggregation. Geppert was the fifth Iowan to be foiled by a stopwatch as he inched Waitley's shoulders towards the mat when the whistle blew.

and Kemp received the same treatment, working their opposition into pinning holds as time ran out. Rodenburg and Kemp scored near falls.

Iowa's ace 172 pounder didn't work up a sweat yesterday afternoon. Taking just one look at Walter Sherman, "Handyman" Joe Scarpello moved in behind and scored a fast fall in one minute and 52 seconds. It was victory number three for the former national A.A.U. champ who has yet to face tough competition this season.

The heavyweight bout, real thriller of the show, concluded the overwhelming defeat of the Evanston team, and excited Iowa hopes of a heavyweight win in the Minnesota dual-meet, next on the home schedule. Geigel will face the Gopher ace Vern Gagne, who like Bob is a gridiron star.

Predict Slack In Iowa's Cold Wave

Although most of the nation was locked in the grip of a spreading cold wave last night, train, bus and highway travel throughout northern Iowa was gradually improving and was expected to be almost back to normal today.

Temperatures in the state yesterday afternoon generally were about 10 degrees higher than at the same time Friday and included highs of 10 above at Iowa City, Council Bluffs, Ottumwa and Burlington.

Iowa City's low yesterday was 3 above at 7:30 a.m. The weatherman predicts that winds in this vicinity will diminish by today and that Iowa City can expect somewhat warmer temperatures starting this afternoon.

Highways 30, 65 and 75 were opened yesterday, and buses from Des Moines to Mason City, Minneapolis and Sioux City resumed their runs over that route. Bus runs to Estherville and Spencer were expected to be open before today.

But with temperatures below normal from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast, freezing weather was bearing down again on the tobacco growing regions of Georgia and the citrus and vegetable belt of Florida.

Shortage of natural gas supplies continued in Kentucky, Missouri and Ohio, with thousands of persons in gas-using industries taking enforced layoffs from work.

A moderating trend started on the east slopes of the Rockies, and forecasters said the midwest in general could expect slowly rising temperatures tomorrow. But no relief for the eastern sections was in prospect until Tuesday or later.

Meanwhile, western Europe dug out of a long blizzard last night, but in Britain the paralyzing storms continued with new snow and in Moscow sub-zero temperatures prevailed.

In Germany an industrial shutdown because of fuel shortages left 250,000 jobless in the American-occupied Wuerttemberg-Baden state. The cold wave apparently was broken in northern France,

It is estimated that 9,243,000 Americans work on cotton farms.

Ashby Urges Feeding Of Local Wild Birds

Wes Ashby, state conservation officer for this area, reports that pheasants, quail, and other wild birds are starving because recent snows have covered feeding sources.

Ashby appealed to all farmers and sportsmen to feed wild birds wherever possible. Feed may be obtained by calling Ron Tallman, president of the local Izaak Walton league.

Bird lovers report that smaller birds also have been affected by the snow. They suggest that townspeople place bread-crumbs and scraps in sheltered areas where birds can feed.

28 Students Merit University Scholarships For Academic, Citizenship Attainments

Scholarships totaling $2,700 have been granted 28 students ranking high in "academics and citizenship," Dean C. Woody Thompson said yesterday.

The awards are designed to benefit students who are working all or part of their way through school, are engaged in extra-curricular activities and have a high grade point average.

The "citizenship" clause prohibited the selection of students solely on the basis of academic achievement, Dean Thompson pointed out.

Explaining the qualifications for the scholarships, Dean Thompson said:

- (1) "The scholarships are worth $100 a year.
- (2) "They are granted to undergraduate students in the colleges of liberal arts, engineering, commerce and pharmacy who are Iowa residents.
- (3) "Eligibility is based on a minimum of one school year at the University of Iowa.
- (4) "The scholarships are administered by the committee on student aid and representatives of the four colleges named above." Provisions for the grant of 150 university merit scholarships was made by the state board of education Dec. 10, 1945. The awards made yesterday are retroactive to cover the first and second semesters, 1946-47.

Students receiving the $100 awards are Joseph Frank Albin, Virginia May Anderson, Robert T. Bell, H. Kathleen Burke, John Jean Carter, Harold V. Caudle, Mary Jean Falk, Gerald Gilbert.

Doris Goodman, Mary Weber Goss, LaVonne Fay Holm, Delmar Charles Homan, James R. Jorgensrud, Louise L. Koth, Ruth Koele, Jane Lord, Marjorie K. Lowry, Margaret Jeanne Marshall, Wayne Nowack, Eleanor H. Pownall, Gordon Ramsey, L. LaVonne Stock, Mary Louise Strohmeyer, Normal Zierold, Dorothy Zvacek and Alice Elaine Froyd.

Two $50 scholarships were granted for the first semester only to Janette James Jeans and Betty Miller Storer. These students graduated at the close of the last semester.

Baby Knows Best

Every baby knows that SWANER'S MELLO D MILK is best. He knows MELLO D MILK is best 'cause it's homogenized and is just chucked full of that sunshine vitamin—vitamin D... not to mention the fact that it gives him energy plus. What's good for baby is good for you! It's MELLO D HOMOGENIZED MILK from SWANER'S FARMS DAIRY!

Cold as it may be, the Phi Gams seem to be quite optimistic that spring is just around the corner. At least why else could they be buying up all the grass seed in Iowa City. 'Course it could be for grass skirts for their Figi Island party. You know home-grown skirts.

SOFT WATER pays... and pays you... in real savings! Statistics prove that a PERMITTIT SOFT WATER unit, now available at the LAREW CO., can save you hundreds of dollars. For a Permittit SOFT WATER unit cuts soap bills, saves washable fabrics, cuts plumbing costs and reduces fuel bills. Why not investigate the possibilities of a Permittit SOFT WATER unit at the LAREW CO. tomorrow! The LAREW CO. will be glad to show you how you can save with a Permittit SOFT WATER unit.

Barrack apartment tenants... Major in budgeting! KIRWAN FURNITURE STORE is your faculty. Your text book is "economic furniture buying" and the class meets at 6 S. DUBUQUE. Class lectures will feature painted and unpainted furniture, lamps, studio couches and added household essentials. Our "faculty" will quote costs and help you furnish your barracks "palace" the penny-wise way. KIRWAN FURNITURE STORE assures you of a Grade A — home.

—What some people won't do for publicity! At least why else would Bob Bordner, Sigma Chi, don his bathing trunks to have his picture taken shoveling snow. By the way his side-kick Bob Lander, Beta, is no longer seen on campus. What happened, Bob, did he catch pneumonia taking the picture?

Have you had your picture taken at KRITZ STUDIO? I have, and now I'm shouting praises for KRITZ'S superb photography. Even when beauty just isn't there KRITZ STUDIO can give you beauty through naturalness in a portrait that will please your family and your friends. A portrait of yourself is always an ideal gift and one that is a natural likeness of you will be warmly received. Drop in at KRITZ STUDIO tomorrow and make your appointment.

How's your 7:30 class? . . . Dry? How was last night's blind date? . . . Dry? How's your skin?

Well, not even WHETSTONE'S can do much about the first two, but the skin secret is done up in a Dubarry bottle and sitting on a shelf marked HALF-PRICE at Iowa City's favorite corner drug store. For only $1, a $2 jar of Derma-Sec dry skin cream can be yours to soften your skin and smooth out your troubles. Dubarry was a lovely lady. You can be, too.

But beauty is only skin deep. For an inside job just ask Ray, George, or Eddie at WHET'S fountain for this week's special, a cold fudge sundae.

Draped on divans and over stuffed chairs, Silent Phi Delt bodies are strewn DOWNSTAIRS, Hanging from the chandeliers, lying on the floor. . . . There's a dead quiet . . . But, hark, I hear a snore!

"Tell me, snoring Phi Delt, what's happened to this hall . . . Actives on the davenport, pink elephants on the walls?" "The winds broke the dorm windows," said he a trifle bored, "Don't forget to mention that our pledges were FLOORED!"

Foo racky sacky wants some sea food . . . How about you? If so, all you old salts should sail down to the B and N SANDWICH SHOP . . . the new spot everyone's batin' the breeze about . . . and sight their luscious lobsters and dshrimp. If you're a little on the land-lubbin' side try taking a stand with a frog leg. For those who harbor any thoughts of delicacies from the deep, the B and N SANDWICH SHOP presents the delicious products of their fountain, bubbling over with sandwiches, salads and sundries. Deep sea diver or land-lubber, the B and N SANDWICH SHOP is sure to please.

Say it with music...Woo her with records from SPENCER'S HARMONY HALL. Whether she's a classic hound, a ballad lover or a jazz fiend SPENCER'S will have music to suit her taste. Who wouldn't want Paul Whitman's album of Gershwin or Frankie's rendition of "Soliloquy"? The newest records are always available at SPENCER'S HARMONY HALL. Come in tomorrow and browse around.

Just a hop and a jump across campus and you're at BOERNER'S DRUG STORE. Here the gang gathers daily to delight in BOERNER'S fountain specials and enjoy the companionship of friends. BOERNER'S fountain special for this week is the super-deluxe hot fudge sundae—Sidewell's quality checked ice cream literally smothered with Senness' hot fudge syrup make this sundae tops in eating pleasure. For that afternoon pick-up stop in at BOERNER'S and delight in a hot fudge sundae.

Any libel suits should be addressed to Phi Gamma Delta to Jim French, our GUEST CONSULTANT. Being as this column is edited by the "week" we have asked this Greek French man to give out with his slant on love 'n' stuff. Jim, as he is seen on campus, is always clad in a pointed parka . . . no doubt to cover his fuller brush haircut. We hope you will enjoy this he-man's added humor.

It's like putting money in your hand when you eat at the MAID-RITE 'Cause at the MAID-RITE prices are so low you can save money on every meal. Not only does MAID-RITE excel in low prices but in delicious food—excellently served to add to your eating pleasure. Try eating at the MAID-RITE where food prices are just right for your budget.

Nutty! Nutty over nuts . . . that's one of our favorite profs. The nut of this hull situation, in a nut shell, is the discovery that pecans are P. W. (Prisoner of War) 's purple passion. It is yet to be proved if a "nut" can snag an "A". But if an apple does the trick, why not?

Here we have the buy of buys . . .anklets for HALF PRICE! The H & H HOSIERY has a large assortment of anklets they are clearing out at this drastic reduction. These anklets are all nylon, half nylon-half wool, part wool-part cotton, and all cotton. You can choose anklets, from a selection of different colors, to match your favorite skirts and sweaters. Take advantage of this HALF PRICE anklet sale at the H & H HOSIERY tomorrow.

"Who's punishin' who?" the Alpha Chi actives cried after receiving a dirty dish deal from their pledges. To punish these naughty pledges, who skipped Tuesday night, they sent them to the SAE house at 6:00 the next morning to cook breakfast for the SAEs and the Alpha Chi actives. When every morsel of food had been devoured and dishes were piled sky high, the "cooks" washed their hands of the whole thing . . . 7:30 classes, you know!

Do you clamour for glamour? Of course you do, but who doesn't? New glamour and new beauty are yours at the FASHION BEAUTY SHOP. For the FASHION BEAUTY SHOP can find a coiffure to captivate your feminine fancy and give a fascinating lift to your personal appearance. Be wise, be modern, be in fashion! Dail 7404, the FASHION BEAUTY SHOP, tomorrow for your appointment.

Casual sportswear from BREMERS is the campus mode! Here Carolyn Cook, Theta, and Walt Fieseler, Beta, are modeling matching cardigan sport jackets from BREMERS.

Their loose and boxy fit make them the student's favorite for campus wear the year-around. Accented by a hand-stitched edge, simplicity adds to their casualness. In aqua, teal, cocoa, dark brown and camel these cardigan sport jackets are 100% pure Shetland.

Look to BREMERS for casual campus sportswear!

Why not stay in bed a half hour longer! How . . . you ask? Well, it's really quite simple. Just stock your room with fruit from the FRUIT BASKET and there's no need to get up for breakfast. In such fruits as oranges, tangerines, bananas and apples you can get that energy and those vitamins you need. The FRUIT BASKET excels in giving you quality fruit . . . their apples and oranges are such g-a-a-n-t-s you will marvel at the size. Fruit from the FRUIT BASKET is always good to curb that mid-afternoon or evening hunger. Why not keep fruit from the FRUIT BASKET in your room!

It's easy! Just let the whistling winds swish you down icy Iowa Avenue to JOE'S PLACE. Then step into an atmosphere hopping with hot rhythm and warm friendships. 'Cause JOE'S is where all the gang goes for entertainment and refreshment — you know that amber-colored beverage that's a college favorite. Blow into JOE'S PLACE and see what's brewin'!

"To be or not to be"—on time—"that is the question." But if you dial YELLOW CAB there is no question . . . you'll be on time wherever you want to go. Always DIAL 3131 and rely on the quick safe and efficient YELLOW CAB driver to take to your destination. Save on steps and save on cash . . . 'Cause remember in a YELLOW CAB five can ride for the cost of one.

Are you planning on redecorating? MULFORD'S ELECTRIC CO. can be your guide to beauty through better lighting. CONFESSION: I've never had much luck in love, It's always seemed a shame, I know the reason, too, I do— But don't know who's to blame.

The main thing is that men and I We never do agree— That it, I always like the most The ones who don't like me!

Scoop! Scoop! It has been reported through reliable Beta Theta Pi spy channel that Orville Renny has hung his PLEDGE pin. In our frenzy the unimportant details—who, why, where and when—were overlooked.

We'll "steak" our reputations that you'll like the STEAKS at the MELODY MILL! Their luscious jumbo STEAKS served with all the trimmings—french fries, salad, rolls, and beverage — are tops in eating pleasure. In addition to STEAKS the MELODY MILL offers you entertainment galore . . . whirl wind gaiety . . . hilarious fun 'n' frolic and dancing to your heart's content. Plan to come out to the MELODY MILL tonight and every night!

We know now the DUs are tight . . . but which way? Their exploits with Bob Arzberger's 1928 Whippet . . . by the way the only DU vehicle in the running last week . . . should make them feel like two cents. But then if they had two cents perhaps they wouldn't have to PUSH the 1928 Whippet from one parking meter to another trying to park on borrowed time.

Do you ever get that craving to just put your teeth into some of Mom's homemade pie? I did . . . then I found out about DOC AND BETTY'S. 'Cause every Sunday at the TWO-MILE INN BETTY whips up some delicious homemade pies for people just like us. Her pies have that tender flaky crust that is so like Mom's . . . and furthermore, she always picks out the kind everyone likes. While you sit and feed your face on pie, DOC, a congenial friend, is apt to tell you about his running for ALDERMAN-AT-LARGE. But all-in-all it's just one happy "family" at the TWO-MILE INN. Why not drop out today for a piece, or more, of that luscious homemade pie and chat with DOC AND BETTY!

"But I don't know how to blow!" was the profound hypocritical statement Larry Driscoll, Phi Psi, made as his reason for not taking glass blowing. Frankly . . . censored . . .

I merely said, "Let's have a spread tonight!", and the house is in an uproar. No time could be wasted so I hiked down to 2 S. DUBUQUE and BRENNEMAN'S to pick up the essentials. What a selection of eatables BRENNEMAN'S had! After great deliberation I finally chose several kinds of cheese spread, crackers, chocolate marshmallow cookies and, to make the spread complete, apples and tangerines. To say the least the spread was a success. Why don't you plan a spread? But remember it's BRENNEMAN'S FISH AND VEGETABLE MARKET for all the goodies.

It is the conscientious person who keeps his medicine cabinet up to date. And it is the knowing person who relies on the DRUG SHOP for first aid, comfort and sick room supplies. At the DRUG SHOP, under the capable management of Mr. Edward S. Rose, you will find those medical necessities to bring your medicine cabinet up to date.

Pi Phi please note: Neal Casey, the DUS' gift to women, is back on campus.

The best way to win friends and influence people is the DAVIS CLEANER way. In clothes cleaned by DAVIS CLEANER you are assured of good grooming and a neat and smart appearance . . . both prerequisites to friendship and prestige. ### Second Local Group Seeks FCC Permit To Operate Station

Another broadcasting company has filed with the federal communications commission for permission to operate a radio station in Iowa City, it was announced yesterday.

The Iowa City Broadcasting company applied for a standard broadcast license to operate a 250-watt station from sunrise to sunset. The application requests the use of the 1170-kilocycle wave length.

The corporation is capitalized at $50,000. Phillip Dusenberg of Muscatine is president of the company; Robert T. Davis, vice-president; Louis Shulman, secretary and Carl Strub, treasurer, Sam Saltzman is also a member of the board of directors.

The Johnson County Broadcasting corporation, which announced the filing of a similar application Friday, is capitalized at $25,000. It is seeking permission to use a wave length in the 800-kilocycle range on a sunrise-to-sunset basis.

If You Understand New Art Not 'Greek'

Modern art isn't "Greek" to everyone. Those who understand it can see real artistic progress in the works.

"Just as the scientist must keep up with current developments, so must the artist," explains Prof. Mary Holmes of the art department. "Art must be as constantly changing as atomic research to adequately reflect the times in which we live."

When asked to comment on the current exhibition in the main gallery of the art building, Professor Holmes said, "Certainly it is modern art. We wouldn't permit it to be on exhibition if it were not."

While giving no specific comments on the individual works, she did promise further explanation in her gallery talk at 4:15 this afternoon.

The current exhibition is the first showing of James Lechay's "Triptych" and the etching, "An Eye for an Eye," by Mauricio Lanskay.

The showing includes paintings by Ben-Zion, Stuart Edie, Joseph Cox and Virginia Bansk. Etchings by Malcolm Myers and sculpture by Humbert Albrizio are also on exhibition.

All works are by members of the art staff except those of Ben-Zion, a New York painter.

Refreshments will be served by the Student Art guild following today's lecture.

During World War II, U. S. manufacture of steel ingots averaged 85 million tons annually.

Music Department Recital Tomorrow

Variety will be the keynote in the north music hall tomorrow, when seven students will present a music department recital at 4:10 p.m.

The program is as follows: "Lungi dal caro bene," by Sarti, Barthus Prien, baritone; two movements of "Sonata," Opus 5, by Kornauth, played by clarinetist Elbert Masnar and pianist Mary Beth Maloff; "Lascia ch'io pianga," by Handel, Shirley Lewis, contralto; "Wie Melodien zieht es mir," by Brahms, Laura Reed, soprano; "Fiocca la neve," by Cimara, Marilyn Jens, soprano, and "Sonata in G minor," in four movements, by Handel, Eugene Hillgoss, cellist.

Gas Hawks to Fly Controlled Craft

The Gas Hawks, local model airplane club will meet this afternoon in the fieldhouse for "control line" flying.

By this method the gas-powered models speed around the operator who stands in the center of the floor. Wires leading from his hands to the plane's elevators cause the craft to dive and climb at the "pilot's" will.

The meeting will not be open to the public since it will be the initial experiment in this type of flying in Iowa City.

L. R. Johnson, local machine shop owner, is Gas Hawk president. The club has 18 members. "About six planes will fly today," he revealed. "I hope to break 100 miles an hour with my model, but someone else will have to fly it. It makes me dizzy."

Johnson explained the craft are small with wing span of about two feet. They are built for speed rather than sustained flight and cost upwards of $50.

The Gas Hawks have an open membership. Johnson said "we would like to have at least 20 members so we can get an Academy of Model Aeronautics license." "Then AMA will send us a representative and sponsor a contest here next summer."

A majority of the members are students who were formerly air corps men.

Need Polish Reader To Solve Mystery

Five students have a problem in linguistics which they feel would be a challenge to the lady of the limerick who "with one pair of lungs spoke 32 tongues."

About a month ago the group undertook the care of a child through the Foster Parents' plan for European relief. A short time later they received a picture and biographical sketch of the child, a Polish boy called Hieronim Kozicki.

Friday a letter came from Hieronim. But its contents are an unsolved mystery to the five foster parents. No one they know reads Polish.
