Approval Seen For 10 Percent Rent Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate approval was predicted Saturday for a plan to allow a general ten percent increase in rents now and to remove all controls in 10 months.

Senator Wherry (Neb.), the Republican whip, told a reporter that if this plan is approved by the banking committee "I think it will carry in the congress."

The author of the proposal is Senator Buck (R-Del.). He is chairman of a banking subcommittee which was directed to draft rent control legislation after the full committee heard more than two weeks of highly conflicting testimony.

Senator Taylor (D-Idaho), a member of the subcommittee and advocate of a full year's extension of rent ceilings without any general increase, agreed that Buck proposal probably would be approved.

Taylor also denied reports that President Truman threatened to veto any flat across-the-board increase. The senator reported Mr. Truman merely reaffirmed his opposition to blanket increases or removal of controls, now scheduled to expire June 30.

The Buck proposal would remove all rental controls from the jurisdiction of OPA and vest enforcement in federal courts.

All new housing or that not previously under control would be free from ceilings, as would all hotel quarters.

Owners of housing that was rented at the start of this year could increase rents up to 10 percent. If they went above that figure they could be prosecuted in federal courts, with a fine of $1,000 possible.

Next Thursday the entire banking committee will consider rental legislation. A bill may reach the senate the following Monday.

Shooting Showgirls 'Unfortunately' Illegal, Producer Regrets

NEW YORK (AP) — John Murray Anderson, an otherwise rational show producer, says he would rather work with elephants than with showgirls.

Anderson, who for many years has staged spectacles ranging from Broadway and night club shows to circuses, will leave tomorrow for Sarasota, Fla., to rehearse the 1947 production of the Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey circus.

"For weeks I've been telling the girls," he said in an interview yesterday, "how much I am looking forward to working with the elephants.

"Elephants never forget, showgirls always do."

Among the many reasons Anderson listed for preferring the ponderous pachyderms were punctuality, discipline, a perfect sense of rhythm, no jealousy, and no trouble with the elephant's feet.

"And," he added with a flourish, "when an elephant gets temperamental they shoot it. Civilization, unfortunately, has not yet reached the stage where one can shoot a showgirl."

Landlord 'Quiets' Tenants With Shotgun

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two murder charges were filed yesterday against 63-year-old Jacob Watson, apartment house owner—outgrowth of the slaying of two of his tenants who he said were too noisy.

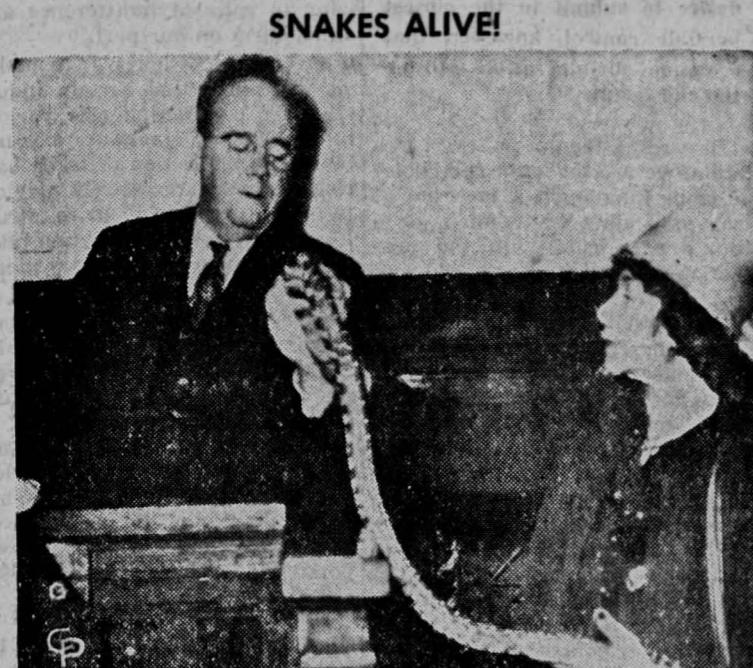

In jail Watson said he slept well last night, after the double shooting, for the first time in a week.

While funeral plans were made for the victims, Harold Collins, 40, a busboy, and Estelle Lincoln, 32, Watson talked freely to reporters.

"I made up my mind to kill them a couple of weeks ago," he said.

"I was waiting for them since 10 o'clock yesterday morning." Asked if he had any regrets, he said:

"They're quiet now, aren't they? Now my wife can get some sleep."

Will Senate Confirm or Reject Lilienthal? Answer May Hinge on 3 Senators' Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Republicans and a Democrat appeared yesterday to hold the key to senate confirmation or rejection of David E. Lilienthal and his associates on the new atomic energy commission.

How Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Russell (D-Ga.) finally decide to vote after the senate atomic committee concludes hearings, possibly late next week, may have a determining influence on enough of their colleagues to be decisive.

If Vandenberg and Hickenlooper should come out in support of the nomination, their colleagues said, Republican opposition which has been snowballed into formidable size by Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP whip, might be split wide open.

Similarly, if Russell elects to support Lilienthal, his judgment may influence strongly many of the Democrats who are unenthusiastic about President Truman's selection for the commission chairmanship but would be willing to string along with the Georgia senator.

Emphasizing the split among Republicans, Senator Bushfield (SD) announced yesterday he is opposed to Lilienthal and Senator Aiken (Vt.) told a reporter he will support the nominee unless some new and startling disclosures are made.

On the Democratic side, Senator Ellender (La.) said he will vote for Lilienthal "unless some proof is produced that hasn't been shown yet to substantiate the charges against him."

Earlier, Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) said in a statement he intends to support Lilienthal and the other nominees "unquestionably."

It has been the tacit understanding for some time that the whole commission stands or falls on the Lilienthal vote, since other nominees probably would refuse to serve if he were defeated.

Talmadge Wins Second Court Victory

McDONOUGH, Ga. (AP) — Herman Talmadge won a second consecutive victory in the courts yesterday in litigation over the governorship of Georgia, but the judge who sustained him criticized his election by the legislature as a relic of the "stage-coach era."

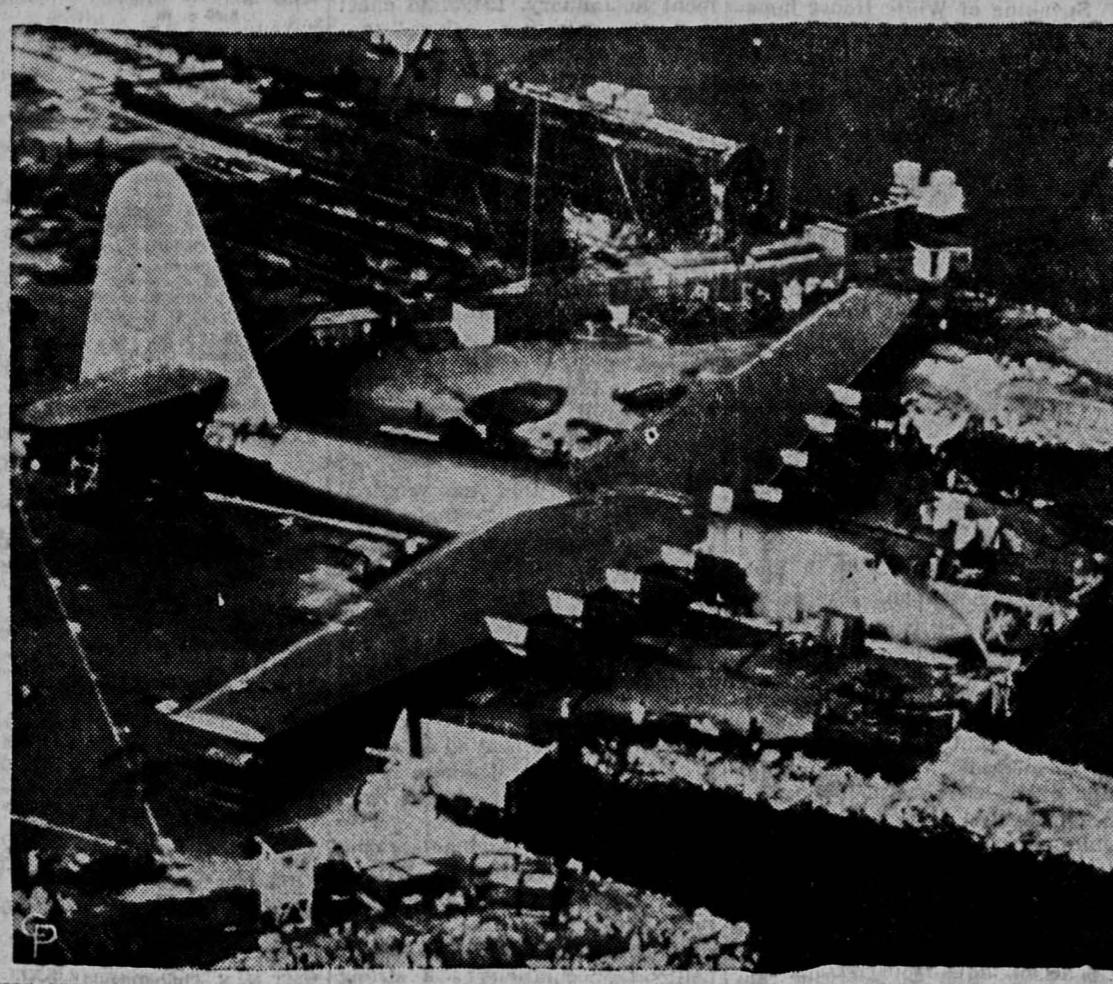

Superior Judge Bond Almand, concurring in an earlier decision by a colleague, Judge Walter Hendrix, held the legislature was constitutionally correct when it named Talmadge to the four-year term of his late father, Eugene Talmadge. The ruling came three days after Hendrix had dismissed the suit of Talmadge's rival, Lieut. Gov. M. E. Thompson, who sought to oust Talmadge from office.

Almand's decision yesterday was on a petition by the Fulton National Bank of Atlanta, asking which claimant was entitled to draw on $95,682 which remained in the executive department fund when Gov. Ellis Arnall resigned.

R. H. Daniel, clerk of the Henry county superior court, said both appeals would be in the supreme court Monday, where they will be set for argument the week of March 10.

Plan to End 'Emergency' By July 31

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman plans to declare the national emergency ended before July 31, a high official disclosed yesterday, erasing most of 105 wartime laws then or six months later.

In preparation for this declaration, the official said, Mr. Truman expects to send to Congress within the next fortnight a message recommending permanent extension of such laws as he deems necessary.

This legislative job can be completed during the present session, the official said. Thereupon Mr. Truman "can seriously consider ending the emergency before the adjournment this summer."

White House advisers have decided that the "state of emergency" can be terminated before the war itself is officially ended. An additional 250 or more laws based on "the duration of the war," or some limited period thereafter, would remain in force.

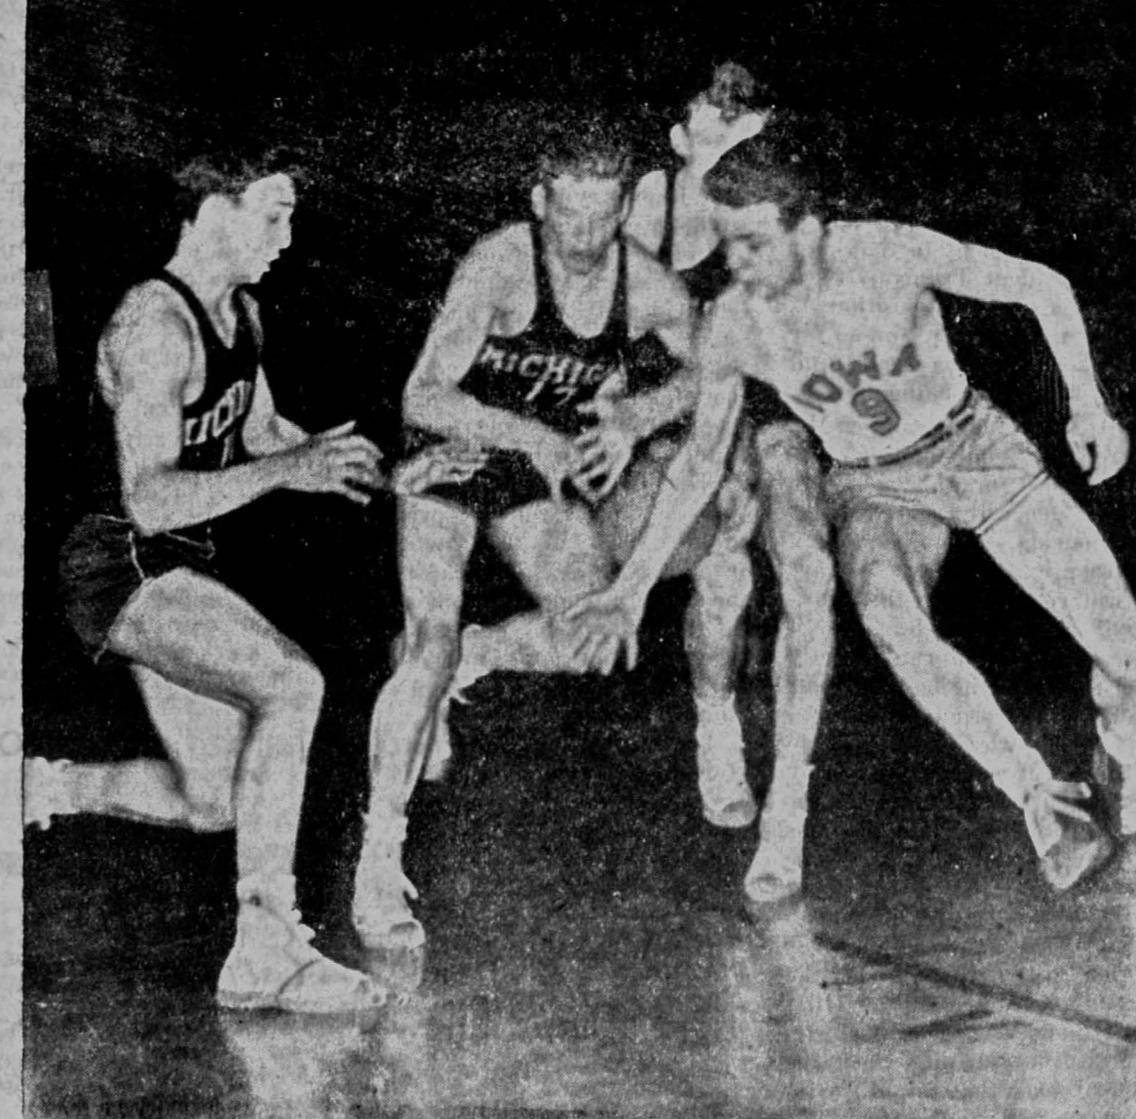

It was not disclosed which powers Mrs. Truman will ask to have extended. Those which would otherwise expire upon the termination of the emergency—many of them already dormant or nearly so—include:

The requisitioning of ships; lease of vessels to friendly nations; arming of merchant vessels; authority to transfer the coast guard to the navy; purchase of military supplies by "streamlined" methods, without advertising; hiring of dollar-a-year men; suspension of duties on scrap iron imports; tax-free withdrawal of alcohol from distilleries for industrial use; appointment of an undersecretary of the navy; and certain relaxations of ship manning and operating standards.

On the Democratic side, Senator Ellender (La.) said he will vote for Lilienthal "unless some proof is produced that hasn't been shown yet to substantiate the charges against him."

Earlier, Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) said in a statement he intends to support Lilienthal and the other nominees "unquestionably."

Wendell Berge Quits Federal Trust-Busting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wendell Berge is quitting as the government's No. 1 man in its campaign against monopolies to resume private law practice "in justice to my family."

Berge's resignation from his $10,000 a year post as assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division of the justice department was announced last night by Attorney General Clark. It is effective May 1.

In charge of the anti-trust division of the department of justice since Aug. 28, 1943, Berge joined the department in 1930.

An out-spoken foe of Cartels, or international industrial and trade agreements, Berge also has been active in pushing anti-trust suits against various branches of the domestic economy.

He has urged vigorous enforcement of the anti-trust laws as an aid to postwar economic welfare.

With Vandenberg coming out against any cuts that would force this country to "disarm alone," indications mounted that the senate will reject the $6,000,000,000 cut in favor of a smaller one.

Chairman Bridges (R-N.H.) of the appropriations committee, in fact, conceded as much.

The house Democrats declared their intentions of fighting the reduction on the floor.

The Democrats promised to "press for and cooperate in the reduction of appropriations in every consistent and practical way" but said they could not approve the flat slash of President Truman's $37,500,000,000 estimates for the fiscal year starting July 1 which the committee voted.

He was so cheered after calling for a 39-year-old Mrs. Martha Truman at her farm home that he told reporters in an informal small-town restaurant interview that he will fly back to Washington tomorrow afternoon if everything is all right.

Vandenberg, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, told a reporter he fears a projected $1,750,000 reduction in army and navy funds may upset

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nineteen house Democrats blasted the proposed $6,000,000,000 budget slash yesterday on the ground it might hamstring Secretary of State Marshall at Moscow, and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) expressed "fear" it would mean disarmament.

"But I shall never vote to disarm alone and I fear this is the result of the pending budget recommendations. I await the facts."

Even an Elephant Forgets Sometimes

Remember November, the month of the Republican "landslide"? Remember the celebrations all over the land when the "elephant" got to its feet for the first time in 16 years and marched on Washington singing zippity doo da, zippity ay.

The party was all set to do great things then. They pledged themselves to 1) reduce taxes, 2) balance the budget and 3) reduce government expenditures. Economists said the three things couldn't possibly work together, but the GOP was undismayed by these reports. They went ahead with the wide open.

Something happened after that first burst of speed. The party found the old bandwagon weak in its platform.

On the matter of reducing taxes, Mr. Harold Knutson, chairman of the ways and means committee, hit the first snag with his plan for cutting income taxes 20 percent across the board. Party members, interested in job security, detected politically unwise consequences in his plan. It promised great savings for the rich, very little for the poor.

The second pledge was to balance the budget. This appeared easy to do until the government opened its books. The Republicans found, like everything else, federal costs were on the increase. How then could the bills be paid when less was coming into the treasury? Frustrating situation!

The only hope seemed to be in the third pledge the party made to the American people — reducing government expenditures. But this too held a blind spot. The arms of government were many. Each had its hand out for money. In order to cut these costs the Republicans decided to weed out unessential departments — a job which turned out to be like trying to separate brown eggs from white eggs after dark.

Ultimately they shifted this last problem to the joint committee on the reduction of non-essential federal expenditures. Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, a Democrat, has been chairman of this committee since its inception. He has chosen because he has long been considered the "old watchdog" of federal funds.

Senator Byrd realized in November he would have to give up his king seat to a Republican. And last week in a secret meeting he offered the chairmanship to a member of the opposite team. To his surprise there were no takers.

Not a hand went up to take the job which makes more enemies than friends.

As things now stand, Senator Byrd, a Democrat, heads one of the key committees for carrying out a Republican party pledge.

Could it be the "elephant" has forgotten? Or is he merely spreading the sawdust to cover his tracks?

A Chance to Make Common Cause

We note that three local organizations, the American Veterans Committee, Americans for Democratic Action and the Iowa City League of Women Voters, have publicly supported David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the has probably bothered college students for many years.

Given a good lecture by a good lecturer, most students who take meticulous notes end up with just that — meticulous notes, but little comprehension of what they mean. If the student slacks off on his note taking and tries to listen to the lecturer he gets a good idea of what's going on but at the end of the semester he doesn't have those relatively obscure little facts that are worth a couple of points each.

If you've ever taken one of those rare courses where the professor distributes mimeographed notes for the semester so that you can sit back and really try to absorb the lecture, you know what we mean.

Without trying to drive the student note-taking service out of business, we would like to suggest that it might be a good idea if some of our instructors would consider ways to minimize student note-taking so that the student could really get something out of the lecture.

The obvious objection to this is that students who didn't have to take notes would either cut their classes or sleep through them. Some of them would, of course, but after all you can't cram an education down a person's throat, so why try?

But until the teaching staff forms the same opinion, all we can say is "More power to student note-taking services."

Democracy in Action Here in Iowa City

We regret we didn't have the foresight to send a photographer to the American Veterans committee's dance Friday night. Real social democracy in action is a pretty wonderful sight and we're sorry we didn't get a picture of the phenomenon for The Daily Iowan.

It seems important that the AVC which admits to its ranks any veteran of World War II "regardless of race, color or creed" runs its social affairs in the same democratic manner.

The students, townspeople, members and non-members at the AVC party weren't merely being "tolerant." They weren't merely paying lip service to social equality. They were actually practicing it.

And if you're not a member of any of these organizations (and even if you are), don't think that you can't make your individual voice heard. Drop a line to Senator Hickenlooper or one of the other senators today, for the time grows short.

Note Selling Idea Hits Sore Spot Here

"College boys" have achieved recognition through the years for gadgets that turn on radiators and close windows, for wearing raccoon coats, swallowing goldfish, dancing in their stocking feet and, of course, for selling magazine subscriptions.

Newest angle on this "I'm working my way through college" idea is the Student Associates here at SUI.

The associates are a group of students who take lengthy notes in large core course classes, mimeograph them and then sell them for ten cents a copy. There seems to be nothing amateurish about the set-up. Notes that have appeared already cover both sides of an 8 by 12 sheet of paper with single space typewriting, and are complete even to tables and diagrams.

Student reception to the idea appears to be fairly good. Most students can't quite see paying a dime per lecture but as a supplementary fee in the hole the ready made notes seem to have a lot to offer.

It appears that the Student Associates have hit on a remedy for something that four Republican senators have joined with three of their Democratic colleagues in the 80th Congress to sponsor legislation which would authorize a thorough investigation of monopolistic practices in United States business and industry.

The measure, introduced last Friday, was drafted by Senators Wayne Morse of Oregon, George Aiken of Vermont, Milton Young and William Langer of North Dakota, all Republicans, and Harley Kilgore of West Virginia, Glen Taylor of Idaho and James Murray of Montana, Democrats.

Dangerous Trend

In a statement outlining the purpose of the bill, Morse held that the present trend toward monopoly in this country might conceivably threaten the very existence of the American system of free private enterprise. Thus, the seven senators backing the legislation favor vesting in the Senate judiciary committee the authority to make a comprehensive analysis of the situation, with the

THE WORLD WATCH

Stable U.S. Economy, Isolation Don't Mix

By STEVE PARK
Daily Iowan Columnist

Although the United States has now reached a high water mark of prosperity and that happy condition called full employment is practically a reality these days, we hear, in increasing frequency and volume, warnings both from economists and from businessmen that prosperity, like the success of certain voluntary

Hollywood comedies, is likely to be of short and uncertain duration.

Already, in certain fields, the haunting spectre of over-production and unmarketable surpluses is beginning to dog the footsteps of producers, who have grown used to an economy of plenty during the war years.

This is particularly true in certain agricultural areas. Even now we read of the dumping of large quantities of surplus potatoes. And the coming year promises a large wheat and corn surplus, which can be avoided only by finding new markets or by restriction of production. Producers in many other consumer goods areas also face the problem of decreasing markets.

Generally speaking, only in the durable goods areas does demand continue unabated and even this will dwindle as the reconversion problem is solved. Thus America faces anew the difficult problem of preventing another depression—a problem which threatens to become more acute as demand dwindles, as old markets dry up and new ones are found.

The end result of this seemingly endless chain of prosperity and depression can only be measured in human suffering and privation, in mass unemployment, in poverty in a land of plenty and all that it implies.

In a sense it is fruitless to say that all this need not be, because it must be apparent that there are groups, powerful enough to prevent change, who desire it to be. Yet, one cannot help but feel that the mass of people in this country want a more stable economy, want assured employment, want an increasing standard of living, but are unsure how it can be attained.

That it can be attained there is no doubt, for we have seen it attained and maintained. What matters is how it shall be attained, providing we are agreed in desiring it.

OF CABBAGES AND KINGS

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS
Daily Iowan Columnist

Four Republican senators have joined with three of their Democratic colleagues in the 80th Congress to sponsor legislation which would authorize a thorough investigation of monopolistic practices in United States business and industry.

The measure, introduced last Friday, was drafted by Senators Wayne Morse of Oregon, George Aiken of Vermont, Milton Young and William Langer of North Dakota, all Republicans, and Harley Kilgore of West Virginia, Glen Taylor of Idaho and James Murray of Montana, Democrats.

Findings Being Passed On to the 1946 Congressional Elections

Justice department for governmental anti-trust action.

One is tempted to wonder how long it will be before the six leading candidates for the 1948 GOP presidential nomination — Taft, Bricker, Stassen, Warren, Dewey and Vandenberg — deem it politically wise to line up behind the bi-partisan, anti-monopoly measure. All of them have issued public statements of one type or another concerning labor legislation, but the trust-investigation bill is quite a different matter.

He called upon GOP leadership also to "root out corruption, eliminate waste, abolish overlapping and plan for a complete overhauling of the government in January, 1949;" to enact protective measures against "stoppages in essential industries"; to guarantee to the needy sick "free distribution" of the more expensive medicines; and to acquire abroad certain minerals, the "shortage of which now makes us a have-not nation."

It is a close friend of Harold Stassen and was backed for the national Republican chairmanship by the former Minnesota governor when the position opened up last spring.

Plugs Merger

Saltonstall, in his speech, primarily emphasized three points:

first, unification of the armed forces, providing that the required legislation "preserves their individuality, integrity and ability" so that each may operate to the best possible advantage; second, universal military training, "if it is necessary and advisable for future security;" and third, national protection of United States atomic energy "secrets" until the United Nations organization is strengthened to the point where it can "supervise these problems and maintain peace."

One of the New Englanders who first brought Wendell L. Willkie to the attention of Republican party leaders, Saltonstall has been prominently mentioned in recent political speculation as a strong contender for the 1948 GOP vice-presidential nomination, should a westerner or midwesterner land the top spot on the ticket.

The amount of our income that we spend on education in Iowa has dropped from the much-quoted figure of 4.64 percent in 1940 to a scant 2.1 percent today.

Since then the number of these temporary permits has climbed until last year Iowa had 6,380 teachers working under emergency certificates out of a total of 21,254 teachers, or about 30 PERCENT of the entire number!

A few of the emergency teachers are individuals who formerly have held standard certificates, but the great bulk of them do not have such qualifications. And the great majority of our Iowa teachers have only two years of college or less.

A few of the common problems is to raise salaries to the point where we can keep our present teachers and attract new young people into the profession.

The fate of education in Iowa depends upon many things. In the larger cities it depends upon our removing or increasing the statutory limit on the amount that may be spent per pupil, and upon state aid. In the rural districts it depends upon wise consolidation and changes in the county school administration set-up, and upon state aid. Routh, president of the chapter.

The Association of Eastern Iowa Scientists is one of the groups forming the local Atomic Energy Control committee.

Lack of Labor Slows Down Housing Work

The apparent bogging down of the barracks-apartment housing project was attributed to a shortage of labor in a statement issued yesterday by Dean C. Woody Thompson.

"According to the best information that I can obtain," Dean Thompson said, "one of the major causes of the delay in release and assignment of the 60 barracks-apartments scheduled for occupancy the first week in February, has been the inability to secure sufficient help to install and connect gas equipment."

Dean Thompson listed two further causes of the delay:

1. The spell of extreme cold which hindered work immediately after the units were turned over to the university.

2. The time required for testing and retesting of the plumbing heating and gas units.

In view of these circumstances, the university housing office has requested families "not to make plans to move into the barracks until they have been officially notified by the university."

Twenty-seven families have already moved into the Riverside housing area in which work on plumbing and gas installations is still under way.

After completion of the work there, bottle gas units will be installed in the Newton Park area west of the University hospital.

Expect Construction Of 25 New Barracks To Start Next Month

Construction probably will begin "sometime the latter part of next month" on 25 barracks for unmarried university students, University Architect George Hoerner said Friday.

Earlier in the week, the state board of education approved bids totaling $73,492 to three contractors for the project scheduled for completion by Sept. 1.

Bids approved by the state board were $39,941 by Iowa City contractor M. D. McCready for erection work; $28,401 by Reubel L. Anderson, St. Paul, for plumbing and heating, and $5,150 by Oids Electrical Co., Davenport, for electrical installations.

The units, housing about 370 students, will be located north of Iowa Union (12 units), and southeast of South Quadrangle (10 units). Two barracks will be built behind Dean house opposite the chemistry building and one will stand behind Hutchinson house in the block south of Currier hall.

24 Barracks Apartments Ready by Tomorrow

Another 24 units of barracks-apartments are ready to be released to the university tomorrow, according to F. W. James, Public Housing authority. Twelve of the units are in area 3, known as Riverdale park. Twenty-eight units have already been taken over by the university in this area, which lies south of Riverdale trailer camp.

The other 12 are in area 1, known as North park, which is just south of City park.

The amount turned over to the university is limited by the number of oil heaters on hand, James stated.

Shipment of the heaters from the factory has been delayed due to a shortage of freight cars resulting from last week's storm.

A shipment by truck is reported on its way to Iowa City, James indicated. Shipment by rail will continue as freight cars are made available to the factory.

Second Dancing Class To Be Given Tomorrow

Free Band Concert Tickets Available At Union Monday

Free tickets will be available beginning tomorrow for next Wednesday evening's Iowa Union performance by the university concert band. The tickets may be obtained either at Iowa Union or at Whetstone's drug store.

Another work of especial interest will be "Hiawatha" ballet suite by Coleridge-Taylor, British born composer of mixed South-African descent. The "Hiawatha" music was written when the composer was but 19 years old and still a student, yet it has been acclaimed one of his best works.

The complete program is as follows:

We've solved the problem of how to eat, drink and be merry all at the same time . . . the answer lies at the MAID-RITE. 'Cause at the MAID-RITE the food is good, the beverages are swell and the company is mighty sharp. Why don't YOU make the MAID-RITE your favorite hangout!

Thank gosh it's Sunday . . . 'Cause Sunday means DOC AND BETTY'S and some of that luscious home made pie BETTY delights in whipping up just for us. Of course, I always start with a bowl of delicious piping hot chili (home made, match), a hamburger that literally melts in my mouth, and THEN top it off with a piece or two of that luscious home made pie that tastes just like Mom's. Beside good food the TWO MILE INN offers you laughs and gab with DOC AND BETTY.

Saddles are back at STRUB'S SHOE DEPARTMENT! Those wonderful WHITE SOLED saddles we've all been waiting for! STRUB'S have these saddles in both white and brown and white and black. Drop in at STRUB'S tomorrow and get your pair of WHITE SOLED saddles.

Rickey Wilson, SAE, thought he was having delusions when he walked by the Alpha Zi house and saw DU Keith Nelson looking out the third floor window. Take it easy, Rickey . . . your interests are safe . . . Keith was only helping in "P.K." Bently move!

Ummmmmm! Do I love SWEITZER'S chicken in the basket! And those hot, crispy french fries simply melt in my mouth! Their sea food is mighty deeeelicious, too! In fact, what I really mean is that the food at SWEITZER'S INN is plenty GOOD!!

There were no words spared when Bob Phinney, Phi Psi, told a Currier flame what he thought of girls who posed for cheese-cake pictures for the IOWAN. But Phinny kinda crossed himself up when he asked for a glossy print of said picture. Get yourself out of that one, Phinny!

If the shoe fits . . . put it on! If it's from DOMBY'S . . . IT FITS!!

For DOMBY'S shoes fit not only the foot but the occasion. Such well known shoes as I. MILLER and JOHANSEN and among their large selection. When you are looking for distinctive shoes for ANY occasion, Remember DOMBY'S BOOT SHOP.

"Hold it!" . . . I want YOUR picture! And furthermore I want KRITZ STUDIO to take it. 'Cause pictures by KRITZ STUDIO are so natural I'll never be able to forget that amiable smile or those two precious dimples. Make your appointment at KRITZ STUDIO tomorrow for that picture I want!

Crime doesn't pay! Just ask a little brown haired Currier gal they call "Jeannie". She has 37 nights of social probation—in at 8:00 every nite, that is. Was it worth it, Jeannie—the extra time I mean!

It is the wise man who said, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away!" But it is the wiser man who needs this proverb with apples from the FRUIT BASKET. For apples from the FRUIT BASKET are chuck full of vitamins so necessary for health and energy. Get some today to keep the doctor away.....the FRUIT BASKET way!

Hurry, hurry, hurry! Only one dozen jars left! Put in your order immediately. Don't hesitate; Don't procrastinate!

Haven't you heard? Dick Baxter, Phi Delta, has twelve jars of Clovevin white salve, and a beautifully colored art picture to give away with each purchase. All this is due to the skull-duggery of Tom Murphy, one of the Phi Delta brothers, who sent a coupon with Dick's name on it to the main office. So now Dick has a chance to practice his marketing technique. We wish him well!

The question that puzzles Miranda's mind — "Is what dress should I wear to be refined?" The answer is simple as she should see . . . the dress cleaned by DAVIS CLEANERS it should be. For clothes cleaned the DAVIS CLEANER way you are always assured of a smart and refined appearance.

Hate to keep harping on Baxter, but now that the snow has melted a little, the top of his Crosley convertible sedan is visible above the drifts. If the snow level goes down another 10 inches, the whole car will be out in the open.

"Hold it!" . . . I want YOUR picture! And furthermore I want KRITZ STUDIO to take it. 'Cause pictures by KRITZ STUDIO are so natural I'll never be able to forget that amiable smile or those two precious dimples. Make your appointment at KRITZ STUDIO tomorrow for that picture I want!

By the by, that salve of Baxter's is good for any number of things. It will positively cure goiter, falling hair, falling arches, or rings around the bathtub. Also good for automobile lubricant, waterproofing shoes, killing cockroaches, and can be used in hunting the wild sea-ox.

Start the day out right with breakfast at BOERNER'S! Delicious Danish pastry rolls with butter and a cup of hot coffee can do wonders for your morale....we know....we eat breakfast at BOERNER'S everyday. Join the "breakfast gang" at BOERNER'S tomorrow!

Brighten and enlighten your barracks home with lamps from MULFORD'S ELECTRIC CO. From MULFORD'S large selection you can chose a table or pin-up lamp that will give new brightness to your home. These lamps are priced to suit your budget; however, there are still a few remaining lamps on sale at a special discount. Come in to MULFORD'S tomorrow to make your selection.

Hungry already? . . . so am I! That's why I'm trottin' right down to the B and N SANDWICH SHOP. Has everything to check that hunger pang — doughnuts, malts, sundries, pies and sandwiches.. It has been said of the B and N SANDWICH SHOP, "If it's good food, they've got it, and if they've got it, it's good food!" . . .

It may look like a barracks now—but KIRWAN'S can help you make it HOME! Minneapolis Symphony To Play Here

Mitropoulos to Conduct Four Concerts at Union On Nation-wide Tour

Two ancient rivals will be united here next week by the magic of great music.

The Minneapolis symphony orchestra, in a sense the University of Minnesota's orchestra because it plays most of its concerts in Northrup Memorial auditorium, on the Minnesota campus, will become the University of Iowa's orchestra for two days, when it presents four concerts in Iowa Union, Sunday and Monday, Feb. 23 and 24.

The concerts will begin at 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. on both days.

Among compositions the orchestra will play here will be the Schumann's "Rhenish symphony," Sibelius Second symphony, Beethoven's second symphony, Rachmaninoff's second symphony, Richard Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration," Prokofieff's "Classical Symphony" and the prelude and final air from Purcell's "Dido and Aeneas."

With its conductor, Dimitri Mitropoulos, the Minneapolis orchestra will be here on a 15,000-mile nation-wide tour, during which it is to give 81 concerts.

At home, the orchestra plays to the largest average audiences in the nation. More than 4,000 persons come to Northrup auditorium for each concert and frequently a sell-out crowd of 4,841 is present.

The orchestra came to the Minnesota campus in 1930, under an arrangement whereby it became an integral part of the university's life. The university thus brought within its educational orbit the chief cultural attraction of the northwest, with the orchestra given sympathetic surroundings and an auditorium large enough to accommodate a steadily increasing number of concert goers.

A good portion of this growing audience is made up of university students, and understanding and appreciation of great music is said to grow yearly, among both students and faculty. Minnesota students are given special season ticket rates for the concerts.

Both these Minneapolis audiences and the far-spread tour audiences have much to say about the orchestra's choice of programs. Mitropoulos believes that one of the chief functions of a touring orchestra is to stimulate wider appreciation of music.

Each year, before the orchestra goes on tour, a list of its repertory is sent to cities where concerts are scheduled.

"We let the audiences decide what they want to hear," Mitropoulos has explained, "and I build our programs around the choice of the people." He believes the important thing is to give as honest a performance as possible, whether the music is by Beethoven or by Johann Strauss.

With Koussevitsky of Boston, Mitropoulos is one of the leading conductors who do most to promote contemporary music. "The framework of a truly American musical culture rests on contemporary American music," Mitropoulos has asserted.

He slips a contemporary piece into every program, an example of which is "Minstrel Show," by Morton Gould, to be played here next week.

Tickets for the concerts will go on sale Wednesday at Iowa Union.

Higher Living Costs, Emergencies Cause Most U. S. Bond Redemptions

Nearly four out of every five persons who redeem U. S. savings bonds do so to meet emergencies and to pay for higher living expenses.

This statement was issued yesterday by the United States treasury department, in a report of statistics gathered in a nationwide survey during the first seven months of 1946.

One-fifth of savings bond holders, somewhat more than 7 million in number, redeemed some bonds in that period. Of this number about 2½ million cashed all the E-bonds they owned.

The survey found that the majority of savings bond holders still have all the bonds they bought.

Mrs. I. P. Wilson, 94, of Beverly Hills, Calif., has assumed the distinction of being the University of Iowa's oldest living graduate.

Re search in the alumni office records by Loren Hickerson, executive assistant, has revealed that Mrs. Wilson received the degree of bachelor of didactics in 1870.

This month's "Palimpsest" also contains editorial comment by Miss Gallaher on Mrs. Schaeffer, who wrote a novel at the age of 79.

Edited by Ruth A. Gallaher, "Palimpsest" is devoted to dissemination of Iowa history.

In "A State University Is Born," Thornton writes about the formative years of the university when the Mechanics Academy was part of the campus. Thornton's article is mainly concerned with the first 10 years of the university's growth.

Swisher's article is a biographical sketch of Charles Ashmead Schaeffer who was president of the university from 1887 to 1898. Schaeffer hall is named in his honor.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Edgar Slemmons of Iowa City; four sons, Loraine of Oxford, and Meredith, Albert and John of Iowa City; five sisters and one brother. Her husband, Samuel Miller, preceded her in death in 1936.

Mrs. Miller was born January 20, 1876, in Johnson county.

Sally Henry Breaks 2 Swimming Records In National Meet

A slim, dark-haired swimmer yesterday broke two university pool records and swam with a team which broke a third.

Swimming in the National Tele- graphic meet, Sally Henry, A2 of Cedar Rapids, broke the 60-yard individual medley record of .52.1 with a time of .45.6. She swam the 40-yard back stroke in .27.9. The previous record was .28.1.

The university star swam with Carol Janutto, A4 of Davenport, and Lucille Dean, A2 of Valparaiso, Ind., in the 60-yard medley relay. Their time of .37.9 broke the former record of .40.3.

Miss Henry led in the 40-yard free style event, with a time of .23.6.

Other high ratings were made by Doris Ducharme, A2 of Spencer, 80-yard relay in .47.3; Miss Dean, 100-yard free style in 1.19.5; and Miss Zanutto, 40-yard breast stroke in .35.3.

High timings in each event will be sent to a committee at Michigan state university, which will select national winners and telegraph results to participating colleges.

Miss Henry is probate sponsor of Seals. She will train probate Seals for tests for full membership in the club.

Minnie May Miller Rites To Be Held Tomorrow

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Edgar Slemmons of Iowa City; four sons, Loraine of Oxford, and Meredith, Albert and John of Iowa City; five sisters and one brother. Her husband, Samuel Miller, preceded her in death in 1936.

Swimmers Host To Purdue Monday; Track Team Loses

Purdue Team Potent Foe For Hawkeyes

Iowa's swimming team will play host to Purdue tomorrow afternoon at the fieldhouse pool marking the last home appearance for the Hawkeyes this season. The meet will begin at 4 o'clock.

Coch Dave Armbruster and his men received quite a jolt last week-end by suffering their first loss of the season to Michigan, 56-28. Losing Wally Ris, Bob Korte, and Dave Brockway prior to the Michigan meet was a hard blow for the team to take. But tomorrow is another day and another meet.

Although the local tankmen are quite confident of a victory over the Boilmakers, they also have a lot of respect for the invaders. Purdue's record, not overly impressive, shows a victory over Northwestern, 44-40, and defeats to three of the nation's top swim teams, Ohio State, Michigan State, and Michigan.

The Boilmakers have strength in every department. Their three mainstays are John Diley, back stroker; Keith Carter, breast stroker; and Ted Salmon, sprint free style. They combine to make a fast medley relay team and are all dangerous in their individual events.

Purdue also has one of the best divers in the Big Nine, Major Willis. Willis beat both of Michigan's top divers and will be hard to beat from the high board. Some of the Riveters stronger free stylers include Dick Hennigan, Bill Darley, Fred Kahns, and Brant Newsom.

The Hawk line-up will be much the same as that which swam against the Wolverines. Dick Main and Duane Draves are both set to go in the back stroke. Draves, who had trouble with his appendix last week, is back better than ever.

Bob Matters and Dick Lake are the probable breast stroke starters. However, Lake has been troubled with a slight cold and may not be able to compete.

Vito Lopin, Irv Straub, Kenney Marsh, Ed Armbruster, Dick Zakrajewski, and Art Van Haven will all be ready to go in the different free style events. Van Haven has been named as the acting captain for the meet.

Two of three divers will compete for Hawkeyes against Willis and probably George Wasson of Purdue. The three lowans include Nick Connell, Bill McDonald, and Pete Latona. As was the case in the Michigan meet,

Marian Rally Nips Loras Five, 43-42

(Special to the Daily Iowan)
DUBUQUE — "Buzz" Mottet dropped in a last second basket for the Ramblers of St. Mary's last night to put the climax on a fourth quarter rally that upset the Loras Gubs 43-42.

A smooth working fast break and fine team work enabled the Marian to overcome a 37-25 deficit at the end of the third period. Danny Maher led the Ramblers scoring with twenty points followed by Paul Flannery with 12. High man for the Gubs was Gallardo with 13 points.

With 12 seconds left in the ball game the Marian were trailing by one point. The Squeepmen got the ball out of bounds at this point. A long shot by Rocca failed to connect but Boyd came down with the rebound and fed the ball to Mottet in the corner and he dropped in the game-winning bucket from 15 feet.

In the very final second of the game Loras missed a free throw which would have forced the game into an overtime.

Minnesota Swamps Purdue Five, 81-69

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota walloped Purdue in a high scoring Big Nine basketball game here last night 81 to 69. Jim McIntyre, lanky Minnesota center, counted 31 points to bring his season's total for all games to 280.

McIntyre, in chalking up 31 points, thus set a new all-time Minnesota scoring record. The former individual scoring mark of 262 was set by Clarence Herren in 1944-45.

The 31 points also are a Big Nine conference high for any game this season.

McIntyre led the Gophers to a flying start, 11 to 2 shortly after the opening whistle, but Purdue soon pulled up to a 17 to 18 count.

Minnesota had a 35 to 28 half-time lead but then Purdue got seven straight points to threaten. Halfway through the last stanza two Gophers, Bud Grant, who had been doing a big job on the rebounds, and Louis Brewster, went to nudge the Illini ahead, 22-21.

Most of the second half, Illinois was ahead by between nine and 11 points, but with seven minutes left Indiana shaved its deficit to six points, 51-45.

Illinois went into an effective stall game the closing minutes.

Illinois Wins

Illinois Tips Indiana, 59-50

CHAMPAIGN, ILL (AP)—Illinois climbed over Indiana into the runner-up spot in the Big Nine basketball race with a well-paced 59 to 50 triumph over the Hoosiers here last night.

Forward Ken Menke, with 17 points, paced the Illini to their sixth league victory against three defeats to keep them within striking distance of first-place Wisconsin.

Illinois held a 34 to 24 half-time margin.

It was the third conference setback in seven starts for the Hoosiers whose Ralph Hamilton out-pointed Illini Jack Smiley, 16 to 15, in an individual duel in which the two stars guarded each other.

Illinois led all the way, but the Hoosiers threatened midway in the opening period, moving to within a single point, 14-13. At this point, Smiley took personal charge of the game flipping four successive long one-handers to nudge the Illini ahead, 22-21.

Most of the second half, Illinois was ahead by between nine and 11 points, but with seven minutes left Indiana shaved its deficit to six points, 51-45.

Illinois went into an effective stall game the closing minutes.

Ricker Trial Will Open Tomorrow

The trial of Mauric Ricker, indicted for assault with intent to commit murder, will begin at the Johnson county courthouse tomorrow.

County Attorney Jack C. White and defense attorneys Edward L. O'Connor and the firm of Swisher and Swisher will begin at 10 a.m. to select a trial jury to hear the case.

Indicted Sept. 20, 1945

Ricker was indicted September 20, 1945, by the Johnson county grand jury for assault with intent to murder Mrs. Irene Venzke at her home in Fyftown. He pleaded "not guilty" at the arraignment.

His attorneys asked that he be committed to Psychopathic hospital for examination. Doctors at the hospital recommended that Ricker be placed in a mental hospital, so the hospital's commission on insanity issued a warrant committing him to the state hospital for insane at Mt. Pleasant.

Last April, County Attorney White and Robert Larson, first Iowa assistant attorney general, filed a motion asking that Ricker be tried on the grand jury indictment. After Judge Gaffney overruled the motion, Larson took the case to the supreme court.

The high court in a decision handed down last December, ordered Ricker tried on the charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Temporary Insanity Defense

O'Connor and the Swishers filed notice last week, as required by Iowa statute in this type of case, that Ricker would use temporary insanity as a defense if attempting to prove his plea of "not guilty."

Penalty in Iowa for conviction on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder is imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding 30 years.

SCHEDULE DAY OF PRAYER

On Friday morning, women all over the world will be called to a day of prayer. In Iowa City, women will congregate at 11 o'clock in the Presbyterian church to observe the traditional litany.

1947 SLAX . . . PERFECT FOR PEDALING

PEDAL PUSHERS are the rage for cycling these days and they give your figure that smart appearance when your bicycle is "eating up the miles" around Iowa City. Virginia Jessen, A3 of Exira, models a pair of brown and white hounds tooth check pedal pushers which look equally well with sweaters or jackets.

Clinical Discussions For Iowa Doctors Resume in March

Medical education service for Iowa physicians will be resumed on an expanded scale beginning in March, according to Dr. J. T. McClinton, who is in charge of the post graduate program.

The week-long clinical conferences held each month at the university have been suspended since December because of winter driving conditions.

Each of the clinical departments participates for one day providing clinics, ward walks and discussions. Visiting physicians are encouraged to present their particular problems.

A second part of the general program consists of one or two-day clinics at hospitals throughout the state. Teams from university medical college units participate.

These teams study referred patients with local physicians in attendance. Charles City, Jefferson and Decorah were visited in the fall and other meetings are being scheduled beginning in March.

Much financial support for these activities is furnished by a Kellogg foundation grant.

800 Scouts To Attend Appreciation Dinner Set For Monday

The Iowa River Valley council of the Boy Scouts of America will hold their annual appreciation dinner next Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Community building.

The event, which will wind up local celebration of Boy Scout week and the 37th anniversary of scouting, will have an attendance of about 800 cub scouts, scouts, their parents and friends. Representatives of every pack, boy scout troop and senior scout unit in Johnson, Iowa and Washington counties are expected to be present.

Police Chief Ollie White will address the gathering after the dinner, speaking on "Scouting and Citizenship."

Den No. 1, Pack 13, of Horace Mann school will conduct a cubbing Webleos ceremony. This will illustrate the program theme, "Advancement in Scouting."

Troop 23 of the Amanas will further this theme by conducting a tenderfoot investiture ceremony.

Johnson district scout Chairman A. J. Carmean will be narrator for the cubs. M/Sgt. Willis A.

Hintz, Johnson district advancement chairman, will be scouting for the Iowa City VA office.

Immediate attention to these claims was ordered by the veterans administration as a result of a study of the effects of malnutrition on former war prisoners.

Nervous disorders and impairment of internal organs has resulted from the near-starvation diets to which some prisoners were subjected, the study revealed.

Doherty said the VA is processing all claims filed by those men who have reason to believe they are suffering from a disability resulting from enemy confinement.

Cases will be reopened for former prisoners who have filed disability claims which have been denied.

A comprehensive physical examination will be given all claimants so that the degree of disability may be evaluated properly.

The effects of malnutrition would escape detection in ordinary physical examinations, in many cases, because some symptoms are not as apparent as those resulting from beriberi and pellagra, Doherty said.

The Iowa City contact office is located in room 205, Iowa State Bank and Trust building.

The Student council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the house chamber of the Old Capitol, President Herb Olson, A4 of Winfield, announced yesterday.

Preliminary plans will be discussed for the all-campus elections to be held early this spring.

A detailed report on the receipts of the Campus Chest drive will also be made.

Couple Hurt When Car Collides With Truck

Two persons were injured Friday when the car in which they were riding collided with a gas truck driven by Glenn Marple, 610 E. Jefferson, at the intersection of Riverside drive and highway 1.

The injured were Manley O. Stevens, driver of the car, and Mrs. Ruth W. Stevens, both of Ottumwa. They were treated at University Hospital for cuts and bruises and released.

Marple reported $20 damage to his truck and damage to the Stevens' car was estimated at $275.

Claims of Disability From Former POWs To Receive Priority

Priority will be given to claims of disability resulting from the interment of former prisoners of war by the veterans administration.

According to William J. Doherty, contact representative in the Iowa City VA office.

Immediate attention to these claims was ordered by the veterans administration as a result of a study of the effects of malnutrition on former war prisoners.

Nervous disorders and impairment of internal organs has resulted from the near-starvation diets to which some prisoners were subjected, the study revealed.

Doherty said the VA is processing all claims filed by those men who have reason to believe they are suffering from a disability resulting from enemy confinement.

Cases will be reopened for former prisoners who have filed disability claims which have been denied.

A comprehensive physical examination will be given all claimants so that the degree of disability may be evaluated properly.

The effects of malnutrition would escape detection in ordinary physical examinations, in many cases, because some symptoms are not as apparent as those resulting from beriberi and pellagra, Doherty said.

The Iowa City contact office is located in room 205, Iowa State Bank and Trust building.

The Student council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the house chamber of the Old Capitol, President Herb Olson, A4 of Winfield, announced yesterday.

Preliminary plans will be discussed for the all-campus elections to be held early this spring.

A detailed report on the receipts of the Campus Chest drive will also be made.

O'Connor Files Suit For Attorney Fees From Patton Trial

Attorney Edward L. O'Connor filed suit yesterday against Johnson county for $1,283.13 in attorney fees for his work as special assistant county attorney at the trial of William W. Patton.

O'Connor filed a claim in January for $1,221.13 with the county board of supervisors and was granted only $407.04.

In his petition O'Connor says he refused to accept the supervisors' allowance at $2.50 per "was not a reasonable compensation for the legal services rendered."

O'Connor further stated in his petition that according to the Iowa code, the legal services he performed would exceed the original sum he asked. He also said he asked the board of supervisors twice to reconsider their allowance and they refused.

O'Connor's petition showed that he based his services on 67 3/4 hours of office work at $7.50 per hour; 6 days before the grand jury at $50 per day; and 1 day at the arraignment, 1 day of transcriptions at the courthouse, and 5 approval of the resolution.

days before the trial jury at $75 per day.

The petition listed the supervisors' allowance at $2.50 per hour for office work, $16.67 per day for grand jury work, and $25 per day for the trial.

O'Connor asked that he be given the $1,283.13 sum with interest since Feb. 3 and costs of this action.

AVC Did Not Pass Snow Removal Motion

A resolution criticizing the city for inefficient removal of snow from the streets was not passed by the American Veterans Committee Thursday night, as reported to committee.

Nightclub Manager Pleads Not Guilty To Students' Charge
