Truman Asks Aid for Greece, Turkey

Rising Prices Major Factor In Rent Raise, Says Hancher

While declining to give a financial breakdown of costs and receipts within the dormitory system, President Virgil M. Hancher yesterday explained that increases in board and room costs are necessary because of:

1. The need to apply sums to the university debt retirement in order to uphold university credit and
2. Rises in costs of food, commodities, equipment and labor for the dormitories.

In a meeting with dormitory representatives in Old Capitol, Hancher also announced that there would be a "modification" of the new deposit requirements.

Renewal applicants for rooms must now pay a total of $32.50;—a $7.50 deposit and the remainder on contract—instead of the $50 announced previously.

Hancher maintained that the "principle of prepayment must be held to this year," and that the adjustment had been made because of the need to eliminate "hardship in some cases."

Molotov to Disclose Number of POW's Held by Russians

By WES GALLAGHER
MOSCOW (AP) — A spirited counter-attack by Ernest Bevin evoked surprisingly conciliatory concessions tonight from V. M. Molotov in the council of foreign ministers, just as news of President Truman's declaration of support to Greece and Turkey reached Moscow.

It was not believed that the softening of the Russian foreign minister's position was due to Mr. Truman's statement of policy on the two Mediterranean countries. However, the return of the Russian ambassadors from Washington and London was taken as an indication that the Russians knew that the President's move was in the offing.

There was no official Russian explanation on the return of the ambassadors. American correspondents who have lived in Russia for several years pointed out, however, that since the foreign secretaries of Britain and the United States already were in Moscow, it might only be natural for the ambassadors to those countries to be summoned home.

The third session of the ministers, at which Molotov agreed to disclose the number of German prisoners of war held in Russia and to fix a date for the destruction of certain Russian-held German ships, reflected no increase in tension, despite the new United States policy and the recall of the ambassadors.

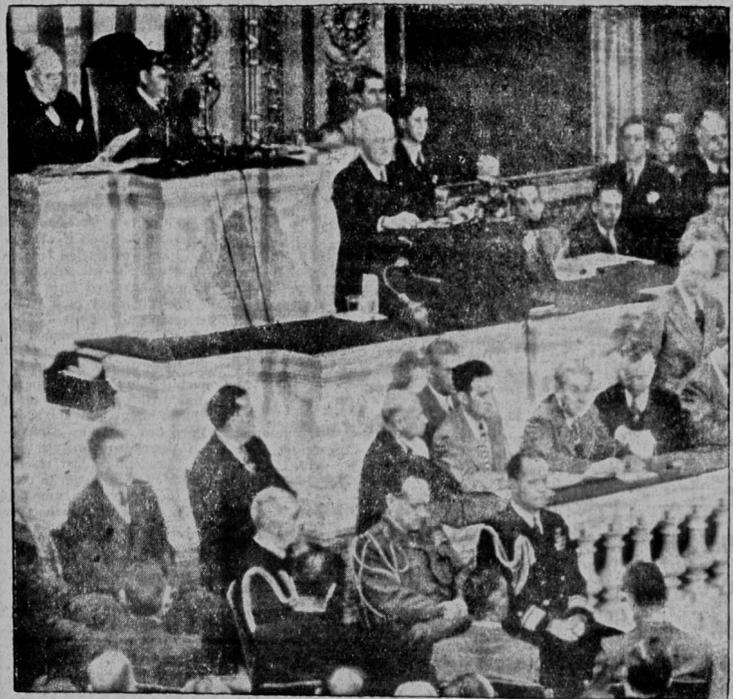

There seemed to be no doubt, however, that the development of a much tougher United States policy would influence future sessions.

Bevin, in an hour and a half long statement, answered Molotov's charges of Tuesday concerning Britain's alleged failure to demilitarize her zone of occupied Germany, and then launched the attack of his own.

The British secretary accused Russia of failure to report the number of prisoners of war which she holds; failure to give information about the destruction of German ships; and failure to carry out agreements on the level of German industry.

Referring to "poor" living conditions in the Quadrangle cottages, Jensen said that students are not receiving services they are paying for.

To this, Hancher replied that (See RENT, Page 2)

Capitol Hill Views Truman Proposal With Mixed Emotions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capitol Hill reacted with mixed emotions yesterday to President Truman's appeal for aid to Communist-plagued nations, but Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) told reporters congress should be able "to do what the President wants by March 31."

Vandenberg, presiding officer of the senate and chairman of its foreign relations committee, declared: "The President's hands must be upheld."

While other lawmakers divided on the wisdom of the President's proposal and some talked flatly of the danger of a war with Russia, Vandenberg commented in a statement: "The plain truth is that Soviet-American relationships are at the core of the whole problem."

"The President's message faces facts and so must congress. The independence of Greece and Turkey must be preserved not only for their own sakes but also in defense of peace and security for all of us."

As a starter, Vandenberg called a special meeting of the foreign relations committee for today to hear Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state.

A few hours after Mr. Truman's speech, more than half the Republican members of the house foreign affairs committee went into a private huddle.

"The general world situation," they replied when asked what they were studying.

Rep. Eaton (R-N.J.), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, said:

"We are now face to face with the necessity of choosing—and accepting the responsibilities that go with that choice—between slavery and freedom as the foundation of the new world civilization."

Eaton said "I certainly am going to support the loan proposal," but he predicted "the most violent opposition."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), reserving judgment, said: "I do not want a war with Russia. Whether our intervention in Greece tends to make such a war more probable or less probable depends on many circumstances."

Taft also said that if the United States takes "this special position in Greece and Turkey, we can hardly longer reasonably object to the Russians continuing their domination in Poland, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria."

Several senators and representatives agreed with Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) that so "grave a step as the President proposes" should be an emergency matter for the United Nations.

Wants $400-Million to Halt Communism in Mediterranean

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman, in a fateful speech to congress, grimly called on America yesterday to halt the world march of communism with money, materials and military skill.

Proposing a new and historic foreign policy, the President specifically asked $400,000,000 to aid Greece and Turkey, hard-pressed Mediterranean bulwarks against the totalitarian tide.

Moreover, he served notice he would not hesitate to ask additional sums if necessary "to help free peoples to maintain their free institutions and their national integrity against aggressive movements that seek to impose upon them totalitarian regimes."

Speaking to a joint session of senate and house, he said: "If we falter in our leadership, we may endanger the peace of the world—and we shall surely endanger the welfare of our own nation."

Before his taut-faced, tense and anxious audience, he laid a request for:

1. Permission to spend $400,000,000 in Greece and Turkey for the period ending June 30, 1948.
2. The right to send civilian personnel and military men to the two countries to assist in reconstruction and to supervise use of the aid.
3. Legislation giving the administration scope in making the "speediest and most effective use" of the funds in terms of "needed commodities, supplies and equipment."
4. Authority to provide for the instruction and training of "selected" Greek and Turkish personnel. In the absence of more specific information, this could mean military training in the United States such as was provided during the war for British aviators.

Not once did Mr. Truman refer to Russia by name. But this meaning was obvious.

He said that the United States has made "frequent protests against coercion and intimidation, in violation of the Yalta agreement, in Poland, Romania, and Bulgaria."

These are the countries which, since war's end, have fallen within the spheres of Russian influence — examples of what Mr. Truman, by his move today, would seek to prevent.

And he added: "I must also state that in a number of other countries there have been similar developments." He did not identify them.

He did, however, refer to Yugoslavia, which under Marshal (Tito) Broz — protégé of Premier Stalin—is working in close collaboration with Russia.

"The very existence of the Greek state," he said, "is today threatened by the terrorist activities of several thousand armed men, led by communists, who defy the government's authority at a number of points, particularly along its northern borders."

"A commission appointed by the United Nations security council is at present investigating disturbed conditions in northern Greece and alleged border violations along the frontier between Greece on the one hand and Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia on the other."

"Totalitarian regimes imposed upon free peoples, by direct or indirect aggression, undermine the foundations of international peace and hence the security of the United States."

"Should we fail to aid Greece and Turkey in this fateful hour," he warned, "the effect will be far reaching to the west as well as to the east."

He declared that the world situation posed a choice between two ways of life—one based on the will of the majority, the other based upon the will of a minority, relying upon "terror and oppression, a controlled press and radio, fixed elections and the suppression of personal freedoms."

He emphasized that the sum he sought amounted to little more than one tenth of one percent of the $341,000,000,000 it cost the nation to prosecute World War II.

"This," he said, "is an investment in world freedom and world peace. It is only common sense that we should safeguard this investment and make sure that it was not in vain."

British Slap Curfew On Jerusalem After Underground Raids

JERUSALEM (AP) — Britain's Palestine government reimposed a dusk-to-dawn curfew on Jewish quarters of Jerusalem last night in swift reaction to a new series of commando-like attacks attributed to the Jewish underground.

With more than half of the Holy Land's 700,000 Jews already under modified martial law, the new regulation placed some 50,000 others under nightly house arrest, and banned all vehicular traffic in the predominantly Jewish north coastal plain.

The British action came after a series of events which included a daring pre-dawn bombing of a military depot in Jerusalem by "commando" raiders in which one soldier was killed and eight others injured.

Developments included the beaching on the southern coast near Gaa of the illegal immigration ship, Susanna, 400 tons, largest vessel ever to run the British blockade successfully.

Eluding a pursuing British destroyer in the darkness, the Susanna ran straight for the beach and about 700 of the nearly 1,000 passengers apparently got ashore, said Associated Press dispatches, but 500 were rounded up.

Besiege City In Paraguay

ASCUNION, Paraguay (AP) — The Paraguayan government announced last night that the rebel stronghold of Concepcion had been placed under siege and that loyal troops pushed from other paths of the country had ringed the city.

Civilians supporting the government were asked to form irregular battalions to aid the loyal forces in forming road blocks to prevent the flight of the rebel leaders.

The 600 to 700 rebellious soldiers in the city on the banks of the Paraguay river still were appealing by radio to other military units to join them, the government said, but the rest of the forces in the country were remaining loyal.

There still was no official announcement that fighting actually had begun. The government said that "in an effort to avoid useless bloodshed it was doing all possible to persuade the rebels to surrender but at the same time was taking all security measures necessary."

The national committee of the Colorado party, which is supporting the government, broadcast a manifesto to party members in northern cities telling them to form partisan groups to fight the rebels.

Ascunon was quiet, with police patrols in the streets and an 8 p.m. curfew for vehicles and a 9 p.m. curfew for pedestrians.

Earlier government sources said they had received information that armed Communist bands aiding insurgent soldiers had sacked numerous business houses in Concepcion and arrested some citizens including priests and nuns.

Congressman Tells Of Getting Threat After McNear Killing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aroused and alarmed, the house labor committee asked FBI investigations yesterday of a telephoned threat against one of its members and the killing of George P. McNear, Jr., who was a witness before the committee 10 days ago.

Chairman Hartley (R-N.J.) laid both cases before the justice department in a letter to Attorney General Clark.

The threat was reported by Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.). He told the committee it came last night in an anonymous telephone call.

"The caller," Kearns related, "said I'd been seen dining with McNear and I'd better change my ideas about labor."

McNear, president of the Struck Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad, was shot to death from ambush Monday night as he strolled near his home in Peoria, Ill.

As a witness before the house committee, McNear had urged that congress restrict union activities.

Hartley declared he is "thoroughly convinced there is a direct connection between McNear's slaying and his appearance before this committee."

Gov. Walter Goodland Of Wisconsin Dies at 85

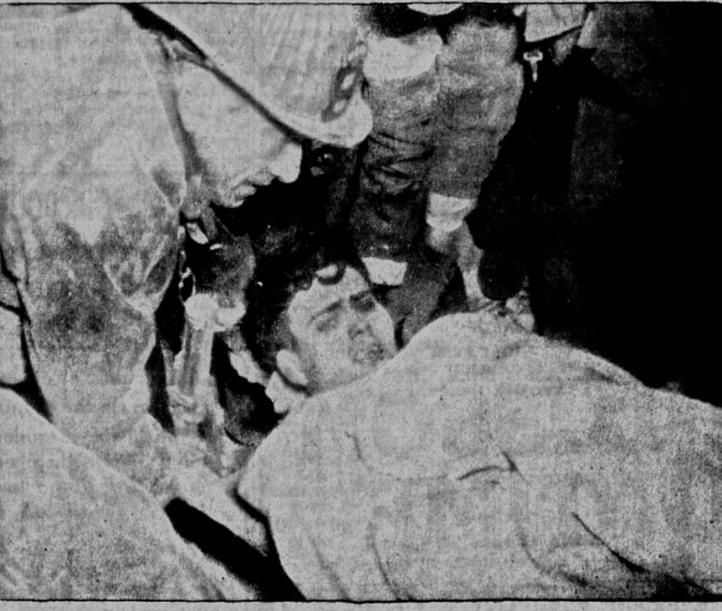

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Governor Walter S. Goodland, 85, the nation's oldest state chief executive, died last night.

Gov. Goodland was stricken with a heart attack after dinner and died at his home at 10:15 p.m.

A Republican, Goodland became governor of Wisconsin in 1944 at the age of 82 when he was elevated from the post of lieutenant governor by the death of Governor-Elect Orlando S. Loomis.

Goodland appeared to be in good spirits after his dinner at the executive mansion yesterday, but retired early. He was in bed when he suffered the heart attack.

Merle D. Miller Will Speak At 'Information First' Today

Former 'Yank' Editor Predicted War in 1936 In Daily Iowan Column

Merle D. Miller, a former University of Iowa student who from 1936 to 1940 constantly predicted war in his Daily Iowan column "Around the Corner," will speak at an Information First lecture today.

An outstanding journalist and former editor of Yank, Miller's topic will be "The Influence of the Press on Public Opinion." The lecture will be in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

In one of Miller's columns in January, 1940, he compared the navy grant of unlimited power requested by President Franklin D. Roosevelt with that of the grant made to Woodrow Wilson in 1917. A month after Wilson's request, the United States declared war.

Miller founded and edited the Pacific edition of Yank. He was also founder and first editor of Yank's continental edition, published in Paris. Before his discharge from the service, he served as executive editor of all Yank's 14 editions. He was also a part-time combat correspondent in both the Pacific and European theaters of war.

Miller, city editor of The Daily Iowan from 1938 to 1940, did not receive a degree from the university because he refused to take a military class.

Miller's attitude toward military training was displayed in his column of Jan. 10, 1940, when he said, "That wonderful man from the United States army who was recruiting here is gone... his name, I smirk to report, was Major Drafts."

The last article he wrote for his column before going to the Cedar Rapids Gazette ended on this note... "or maybe it isn't worth bothering about... maybe this is the best of all possible worlds. And the Hitler's shall inherit the earth... huh?"

Elaine Lenney, A3 of Cleveland, Ohio, will interview Miller this morning at 11:45 over WSUI.

This lecture will be the last to be presented this year by the University Women's association.

Scientists to Discuss Research Aid Bills

The Association of Eastern Iowa Scientists will meet Monday at 8:30 p.m., in room 502, chemistry building, to discuss senate bills on establishment of a national science foundation.

The bills propose such a foundation to stimulate basic scientific research by means of grants and loans to institutions like the University of Iowa.

Prof. J. I. Routh, president of the Association of Eastern Iowa Scientists, explained that at present the army and navy still have control of scientific research through war contracts and that the pending bills are designed to turn that control over to a civil board. Routh feels that the patent clauses of the two bills practically demand that patents and patent rights stemming from government-supported research be given to the government.

"It is up to the scientists to evaluate the bills critically and, if changes are necessary, suggest the changes," Routh said. The meeting is open to the public.

City Council Approves Increases in Fire Force

Four new firemen were authorized for the department here in an ordinance passed Monday by the city council.

Bringing the legal total to 17 men, the measure makes possible an increase of four over present strength. Councilmen passed the ordinance unanimously after suspending rules to permit three required readings at one session instead of at separate meetings.

The new arrangement embodies changes recommended in a survey of the fire department last year.

STILL A GOOD CONCERT

Because of space limitations, it was impossible to present a review of last night's university symphony orchestra concert in this morning's Daily Iowan. But our music critic attended and said the concert measured up to the usual high university symphony standards.

Judy Shop Display Wins C of C Award

Mrs. Margaret Shaeffer of the Judy shop won first prize, a $25 savings bond, last night in the spring-opening window display contest, sponsored by the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce.

Second prize of $10 was awarded to M. J. Meyer of Bremer's. Allen Smith of Strub's placed third among the 16 contestants, winning a $5 prize.

Contest judges, Mr. Hans Luber of Killian's in Cedar Rapids, Mr. Edward Hiten of Craemer's in Cedar Rapids and Prof. H. James Avery of the art department, gave honorable mentions to Rongner's Cleaners and Giftland.

Winning window decorations were judged on the basis of sales appeal, originality, artistry and drawing power. Window size was not considered.

City High Girl Reported Missing Since Tuesday

Betty Vevera, 16-year-old daughter of Albert Vevera, has been reported missing from her 1006 N. Dodge street home since Tuesday morning.

The City high student left school at the time and a girl answering her general description has been traced to the Union bus station, according to a close family friend.

Psychiatry Professor To Discuss Institution Bill

Mrs. John Bradbury will interview Dr. Jacques Gottlieb, professor of psychiatry at the Psychopathic hospital on the regular radio program of the League of Women Voters, at 2:15 p.m., today on WSUI.

Dr. Gottlieb will discuss the state institution bill, which proposes a change from the old seven-man board to a three-man board of specialists in charge of the mental institutions in Iowa. The bill is coming up in the state senate.

Sororities Pledge Six

Three sororities have pledged six women during their informal rush period, Helen Focht, sponsor of Women's Panhellenic association, announced yesterday.

Pi Beta Phi has pledged Helen M. Hart, A3 of Spencer. Marjorie E. Donnellson, A1 of Logan, pledged Zeta Tau Alpha. Gamma Phi Beta's new pledges include Joan Boswell, A2, Mary M. Balkema, A2, and Marlon Warnholtz, A3, all of Sioux City, and Betty J. Janssen, A1 of Champaign, Ill. Informal pledging will continue throughout the school semester.

Norene Schlesselman New Iowa Union Hostess

Mrs. Norene Schlesselman was appointed hostess at Iowa Union yesterday.

She will replace Mrs. Phyllis Curnes who is leaving the Union staff tomorrow. Mrs. Curnes' husband receives a D.D.S. degree Saturday.

Mrs. Schlesselman formerly managed The Kennel, student union at Drake university and attended Iowa State Teachers college. Her husband is working on his Ph. D. in the school of fine arts and was a member of the Drake faculty.

RENTS—

cottage rates were based on initial costs of setting them up and cost of operations. He said that at the present rate the university's debt on these cottages would be paid in "five or six years."

Hancher promised consideration would be given to a suggestion by Jensen that a permanent committee be established of representatives of all large dormitories to discuss dormitory policy with SUU authorities.

"Present increases in rates," Hancher concluded, "are the minimum essential to balancing costs."

AYD Enters Picture
American Youth for Democracy added its voice to these protests last night by deciding to petition the state legislature to investigate the reasons for raising dorm rents.

The petition, which will be circulated next week, urges the legislature to appropriate sufficient funds to cover university needs if it finds the rent increases justified.

AYD also will petition the Johnson county representative in the state legislature to support the fair employment practices committee bill (HF 329) now pending in the house. This bill proposes a state committee to take action against the discriminatory practices of both employers and labor unions.

Both petitions may be signed at the AYD table to be set up outside of Bremer's store from March 17 to 21, according to Elaine Glasser, president.

Girl For Errol Flynn

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—It's another daughter for the Errol Flynn. The girl, weighing eight pounds, two ounces, was born yesterday at St. Joseph's hospital.

Board To Check Co-Op Book Plan For City Schools

The Iowa City school board last night appointed a committee of three members to investigate the advisability of establishing either a rental or a free book system for the city schools, upon request of PTA organizations of Henry Sabin and Longfellow schools and endorsed by Horace Mann school.

The three members appointed to the investigating committee were John P. Kelly, Mrs. Charles Mott, and Mrs. Howard L. Beye.

Supt. Iver A. Opstad reported that the initial cost under a rental system (without clerical cost) would be about $13,352. On an average, he said, books may be used four to five years, with some depreciation during that time.

Under the present system, Opstad said, a "non-profit book exchange" is carried on for the benefit of the students. The student buys his books and the school resells them for him at the end of the year for the amount he specifies.

The readers and workbooks in the first three grades in the city schools are now furnished by the school. The arithmetic books are purchased by the individual students.

Mention was also made at the meeting of a "scholarship in aviation" given to two high school pupils and financed by the merchants of the city.

BERGER HEADS AKB

David Berger, M3 of Cedar Rapids, was recently elected president of Alpha Kappa Kappa medical fraternity. Other officers elected include: Ray Scholl, M1 of Cedar Rapids, secretary; Donald Werner, M2 of Scranton, Pa., treasurer, and Donald Howie, M3 of Monticello, social chairman. Installation of officers will be tonight at the chapter house.

GATTO GIVEN JUDGMENT

Wency Gatto, Cedar Rapids, was given a $27.33 judgment yesterday against Carl and Edna Turkal in Johnson county district court.

The judgment was for groceries purchased at Gatto's store by the defendants and not paid for, according to Gatto's petition. Gatto was represented by M. W. O'Riely, Cedar Rapids.

Iowa UWF Chapters To Urge State Passage Of World Federation Bill

United World Federalists last night announced an all out effort to urge the state legislature to pass the Humber resolution, passage of which declares the legislature in favor of world federation.

The Iowa chapters of UWF will hold a conference at Drake university in Des Moines, March 16. They will try to have the resolution passed before the legislature adjourns in late April.

Five thousand letters will be sent by the local chapter to important workers for world federation, editors, organizations, and attention-getting sponsors. Gov. Robert D. Blue and Albert Einstein will be sent letters.

David Stanley, chapter president, and Harlan Hockenberger, public relations chairman, were chosen delegates to attend the conference in Des Moines.

1946 Christmas Seals Net $8,132.85 Total

A total of $8,132.85 was received by the Johnson County Tuberculosis association during its 1946 Christmas seal sale, Publicity Chairman Robert L. Ballantyne announced yesterday.

He also stated that the following officers had been re-elected in a Tuesday night meeting: Dr. George C. Albright, president; Mrs. Sadie Seagrave, secretary; William J. Parizek, treasurer, and James H. Schmidt, Christmas seal chairman.

Issue Building Permits

Norman Hobbs received a permit yesterday to build a $3,500 residence and garage at 914 Dearborn street.

Two additional building permits have been issued this week. C. A. Giblin will remodel a house at 117 N. Governor street at a cost of $6,000. H. Dale Slaymaker received a permit to construct an addition to his present residence, 1103 Third avenue, costing $1,500.

TAVERNS RAIDED AT DEDHAM

CARROLL (AP)—Sheriff Tom J. Finegan said yesterday that law enforcement agents from three counties raided three taverns at Dedham, Iowa, near here late Tuesday.

Finegan said seven slot machines, 27 quarts of whiskey, and 33 punchboards were seized.

City Politicos To Draw Up Platforms

Two city conventions will attract 112 party delegates tomorrow when local Democrats and Republicans meet to organize for the March 31 city election.

With both delegations convening at 10 a.m., Democrats will use the courthouse as their meeting place and Republicans the city hall. Indications yesterday were that post-convention city central committee meetings may produce changes in party leadership.

Fred V. Johnson, GOP city and county chairman, disclosed he will not seek reelection to the city post.

"I'm not in the race at all," he said. "I'd like to be relieved because I think the job should be passed around more among other party members."

Action of the Democratic central committee is expected to give Atty. Edward W. Lucas the chairmanship. He was elected temporarily last week to fill out James A. Meade's unexpired term after Meade and Treasurer Sam Whiting Jr. resigned.

W. Fred Roberson, named to succeed Whiting, also is expected to continue in office.

Convention business ordinarily is routine, with possible formation of platforms highlighting the agenda. Delegates make up committees on permanent organization, on rules, credentials and resolutions, their purpose being to consolidate the party for campaign action, and to transact whatever business arises.

In an informal gathering last week, Democratic candidates set up a tentative platform which will be recommended at the convention tomorrow. GOP spokesmen said yesterday that they "doubt" a formal platform will be presented.

The March 31 election here will be for a new mayor, city councilmen, police judge, park commissioner, city assessor and city treasurer.

Ask Faculty to Help Find Technical Books For Chinese Students

Following up its recent "Books for China" campaign, Alpha Phi Omega National Service fraternity, is sending a letter to University of Iowa professors requesting their aid in procuring technical books badly needed by Chinese college students.

The "Books" campaign resulted in collection of 150 to 200 books from university students, Milo C. Brandt, G of Panora, stated, but they were mainly general reading rather than technical volumes.

Faculty members are also being asked to recommend those textbooks in their respective fields which they consider most valuable.

Hawkeye Village Fire Causes Small Damage

A kerosene stove fire provoked alarm in Hawkeye village last night but resulted in negligible damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wick were driven from their dinner table and out of doors when smoke started pouring from their stove. But fast-responding firemen nipped the blaze almost before it started.

The reason for the fire's start was not determined.

His genius gave wings to words

It was an historic moment. Alexander Graham Bell's telephone had just spoken its first words—"Mr. Watson, come here, I want you!"

That evening in Boston—March 10, 1876—Dr. Bell's crude instrument transmitted his voice only to the next room. But out of it was destined to come a whole new era—the era of quick, easy nation-wide telephony, of radio telephony in all its varied forms, of talking pictures, voice and music reproduction systems and electrical aids for the hard of hearing. Few inventions have played a greater part in shaping the world we live in!

Since 1877—just one year after Bell's long experimentation was crowned with success—it has been Western Electric's privilege to help carry forward his great idea which gave wings to words. In that year Western Electric made its first telephone. More than 45,000,000 have followed it—over 4,000,000 of them in 1946 alone.

Today, from coast to coast, in factories, offices, distributing houses and central office installation crews, there are more than 110,000 Western Electric workers. Imbued with the Bell System spirit of service, they are helping to provide equipment in record quantities to meet telephone needs far beyond any envisioned by the inventor.

Alexander Graham Bell

This year marks the 100th Anniversary of Bell's birth in Edinburgh, Scotland, on March 3, 1847. From early youth, he was keenly interested in aiding the hard of hearing. He became a teacher of "visible speech" when 18 years old. This work led to experiments with "telegraphing" sound, out of which, in 1876, came his greatest invention—the telephone.
Dr. Bell was a great humanitarian as well as a great scientist. His accomplishments—in aiding the deaf, in communications, in aviation and other fields—were outstanding. His rich life—which had an incalculably great influence on the world—came to an end on August 2, 1922.

By DON SULHOFF
For 14 minutes and 58 seconds during the first half the scoring drought was on Muscatine and that tells the story of Davenport's 52-26 victory in the first round of the sub-state tournament played before 10,200 fans in the field-house last night.

Looking like eventual state champions the Blue Devils threw up a defensive barrier that allowed mostly long shots, passed brilliantly and generally looked very good in winning the right to meet Franklin of Cedar Rapids in the finals Friday night.

The win established Coach Paul Moon's crew as THE team to whip and stamped them as strong favorites to move far in the finals which brings a 16-team field to Iowa City next Wednesday.

Skip Greene was the lad who made the Blue Devil attack click last night and he poured 14 points through, 12 in the first half. The last one came on a half the floor pass to big Center Jim Stange that missed its mark and fell through the hoop instead.

But those first 12 came when they were needed. Muscatine was having trouble getting in under for shots and the ones they tried from far out wouldn't drop. However, Greene was just the opposite. He threw them in from past the free throw circle and when his mates opened a lane down the center he obliged with some of the best high school drive-ins seen this year.

Davenport's bid for all-state honors—Fred Ruck—was recuperating from an attack of the flu but still he was the steady influence that kept the Blue Devils from making many mistakes. It was apparent that Ruck was loafing but his passes and defensive play were still the best on the floor.

Despite the top heavy loss Muscatine must be given a nod of approval and if a few of its long shots had dropped to force Davenport's defense out in the open the scoring might have been different.

The Muskies scoring drought started after one minute had been played in the first quarter and ended when Durwood Phillips flipped in a free toss with a scant two seconds remaining in the half.

Butch McCleary gave Muscatine a 4-0 lead in the first minute when he hit two nifties from the corner but Greene, Paul Strathman and Ruck hit in succession to move Davenport out in front 8-4 with 5 1/2 minutes left.

From then on to the half it was organized murder with Greene holding the gun. Stange hit first with a free throw, then grabbed a rebound, rifled it the length of the floor and Greene took it in. Ruck came back with a good two pointer and Stang hit another charity throw and it was 11-4 at the first quarter.

Except for a looper by Strathman, Greene took care of all the scoring in the third period when three times he went in under and once potted one from far out to give Davenport its 21-4 halftime advantage.

Muscatine made a game of it in the second half and outscored Davenport but the lead was too much to overcome.

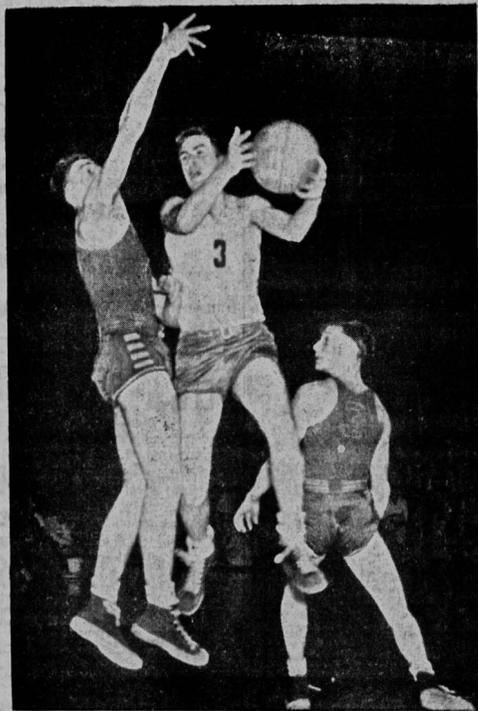

Jim Proffit started it off for the Muskies when he hit from the corner and then Valett repeated the feat. Don Keyoth matched this one for Davenport and the score was 23-9.

Stang took over the rest of the period for the Blue Devils and his two baskets and a free throw were good for a 28-13 lead until Phillips, Proffit and Paetz combined for five straight points to pull Muscatine up to a 30-18 deficit at the third quarter pole.

Strathman and Valett matched baskets when the fourth quarter opened but four quick Davenport goals by Ruck, Haupt and two by Stange iced the game at 38-20.

At the automatic time out the score was 39-26 and both teams were ineffective after that.

High Flying Demon Takes Off

DAVENPORT'S SKIP GREENE (3) is stopped on this attempted shot in last night's Muscatine-Davenport battle which the Blue Devils copped, 42-26. However, Greene tallied 14 points to lead Davenport into the class A sub-state finals. Jim Proffit of Muscatine (3) is awaiting action in the background.

Danny Maher Nets 17 Points

St. Mary's (32)	Wellman (21)
Mottet, f 4 0 1	Wilson, f 0 1 2
Sueppel, f 0 0 0	Miller, f 2 0 0

	W. Miller, f 0 0 4
	Yoder, g 0 0 0
Totals 14 4 12	Totals 6 9 6

By DON HARRER
St. Mary's moved into the finals of the sub-state tournament last night by beating off a last quarter rally to defeat Wellman 32-21 as Danny Maher hit for 17 points.

Though the Ramblers held the lead all the way it was still anybody's ball game up to the last four minutes. At the automatic time out the Marians held a scant 21-18 lead. Sparked by "Buzz" Mottet, however, the Ramblers held Wellman to three points in the final four minutes while they were piling up 10 for themselves.

Mottet started the spurge by intercepting a Wellman pass and going in for a lay up. Mottet was fouled on his bucket and Maher got a rebound for two more points when Mottet missed the free toss. Maher hit once more and Mottet added two more quick counters before Flannery's free toss closed the scoring for the evening.

Maher topped the Rambler scoring followed by Mottet with eight counters. Flannery added six on two field goals and two charity shots. High man for Wellman was Don Swartzendruber with two buckets and four free tosses for eight points. Next to him was Max Lewis with seven tallies.

The Marians got off to a fast start behind the accurate pitching of Danny Maher. St. Mary's was leading three to one on a free toss by Flannery and a nice one-handed swisher by Mottet when Maher went to work. Danny took over with four minutes gone and in the next four minutes he poured in five straight buckets to bring the count at the end of the first period to 13-5.

The next two and a half periods were not so easy however. From the start of the second quarter to the automatic time out the Ramblers were outscored 13-8 by a hard-charging, scrappy Wellman quintet.

In a slow second stanza St. Mary's was held to two points on a field goal by Flannery and Wellman was only able to pick up four counters on two free tosses by Redinger and a lay up by Lewis. The half ended with the count 15-9 favor of St. Mary's.

Maher, though handicapped by three quick fouls in the first period and a fourth in the second, turned in a fine defensive job on Wellman's high scoring guard Don Swartzendruber. Mottet's timely counters in the last four minutes and Rocca's fine rebounding and defensive work along with equally fine performances by Flannery and Sueppel all combined to make it a team victory and serve notice that the Ramblers are going to be tough to keep out of the state tournament.

Max Lewis and Don Swartzendruber turned in fine all-around performances for Wellman. Swartzendruber's drives for the basket with Lewis's fine rebounding work coupled with the fiery ball-stealing tactics of Willard Miller sparked the drive that almost overtook the Marians in the final period.

Modern Players Fail To Practice Hitting Declares Heilmann

By WHITNEY MARTIN
LAKELAND, Fla., (AP)—The ball is the same size and the plate is the same size, so Harry Heilmann is a little puzzled why there is such a dearth of 300 hitters in the major leagues compared with the days when he was playing.

Heilmann, one of the game's greatest right-handed hitters, says he has a theory, and although he doesn't say so he can gather that the players' heads aren't the same size. That is, they seem satisfied to be as they are, and don't work on their hitting.

"They don't get out and practice like we used to," Heilmann says. "We used to have morning practice during the regular season, and in batting practice before a game only the nine men who were to start got a chance to hit. Now everybody takes his cut."

"A man can be taught to hit. I'm a prime example of that. Ty Cobb taught me to hit. I was a .265 hitter when I came up. Cobb took me apart and made me over. Cobb never tried to make anybody else hit like him."

He would teach certain fundamentals. The first was balance, with the feet close enough together to move in any direction.

It was suggested that Joe DiMaggio used a wide stance and seemed to do all right, but Heilmann had an answer for that. "Sure," he admitted, "but he'd be a better hitter with a narrower stance. He's the bell cow, and has the younger players copying his style. Another thing Cobb would teach was quarterbacking. That's what he'd call it when a batter went up there and used his head and tried to outguess the catcher."

"Most catchers follow a certain pattern in calling for pitches. If the first pitch was a ball you could expect the next one to be right over. They didn't want the pitcher to get two and nothing on him."

"Steve O'Neill was a great catcher, because he never did what you expected him to do. He'd be liable to call for nine straight fast balls on nine straight curves. I remember one game when he was catching and Stan Coveleski was pitching. It was the 14th inning, and I was at bat. Steve called for a pitch right across the middle, and it surprised me so I just stood there."

I muttered something to Steve about him not daring to do that again, being sure he wouldn't. Zing — another in the same place. I really was boiling now, and told Steve just to try it once more. I knew absolutely it wouldn't happen again. Another one came in the same place, and I was called out without getting the bat off my shoulder."

We think there is a lot of sense in Heilmann's idea of why there are so few good batsmen today. The boys just won't work at it. The only man who does is the best hitter in the game today, which should prove something or other. That's Ted Williams, who practically carries a bat into left field with him so he can practice swinging. Most of the players seem to carry a glove to the plate, at that, judging from their averages.

Major Letters To 12 Cagers

Award of 12 major letters and seven minor letters to university of Iowa basketball players of the 1946-47 season was announced yesterday by Athletic Director E. G. "Dad" Schroeder.

Freshmen numerals were given to 18 members of the "B" basketball squad.

Those awarded major letters include Jack Spencer, Dick Ives, Herb Wilkinson, Murray Wier, Charles Mason, Noble Jorgensen, Clayton Wilkinson, Leonard Metcalfe, Floyd Magnusson, Stanley Straatsma, Eugene Hall, and Dave Daner.

Minor letters were earned by Robert Whalen, Glen Kremer, Bob Graham, Bob Freeman, Tony Guzowski, Walter Kochnoff and Leo Cabalka.

The numeral winners included Elwin Duhn, James Eversman, Roger Finley, Allan Fisher, William Gallagher, Norman Harris, Don Hays, John Hogeland, Bill Kelso, Paul Loving and John McMahon.

Others were Thomas Parker, Newell Pinch, Walter Schousen, William Shuttleworth, Bob Volters, Corey Wright and Charles Zobl.

Dodgers Lose To Panama

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP)—The General Electric's Panama league champions, hung a 7-6 defeat on the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday before 10,000 fans in an exhibition contest called at the end of the seventh inning because of darkness.

With the bases full and two out in the seventh, Brooklyn shortstop Ed Miksis fumbled a grounder to permit the winning run to cross.

Sports Shots

By Bob Collins

Gentlemen, now I've seen everything. And I'm not referring to the antics of the Davenport cheer leaders. But that hook pass by Skip Greene, Blue Devil forward, which ricocheted from the board to split the net was out of this world. The crowd of 10,200 faithful who had gathered for the Blue Devil kill over Muscatine simply lost their breath and the most surprised person in the place was Greene himself.

That was one highlight of a game which for the most part failed to live up to expectations. It was just a case of the Davenport team outclassing the Muskies in every department of play. Coach Paul Moon shook off the flu long enough to enjoy the rout. Davenport's mentor still puts his faith in the good luck brought by wearing those gray spats which have weathered many a season.

The first half was a tribute to the sliding zone style of defense taught by Moon. The Muskies struck twice in the first minute of play and didn't dent the net again until the free throw at the end of the half. Meanwhile the Davenport team averaged a phenomenal 400 percent of their field attempts to post a 21-4 edge.

Before the game the question of the day was how much the flu took out of Ruck, Strathman and the Davenport team. After the game the observation could be that the wrong team was reported as being afflicted. Which isn't quite fair to Coach Schnack and his Muscatine team.

The Muskies tried everything to break the Demon's pace but their shots weren't effective. The second half was a much better game but the damage had already been done.

The Franklin of Cedar Rapids team is now placed in an ideal position to pull the trigger on Davenport hopes Friday night. The Thunderbolts were breaking very fast in their first appearance here and that seemingly is the only type of offense that can bother the Blue Devils. Once that zone is set up the only way a team can score is by long set shots.

The game was well supported by both rival camps and the difference in opinion even invaded the Iowa cage team. Murray Wier and Charlie Mason had the old crying towel out as they watched their home-town kids get swamped while Jack Spencer enjoyed the affair with his Davenport point of view.

The Class A play stole the show last night but Iowa City's entrant, St. Mary's Ramblers, continued their march through Class B ranks with a 32-21 win over Wellman. The difference between the two teams could very easily be worded just plain Danny Maher. The big Rambler center hit for 10 straight points in the first quarter and ended the game with a 17 point total. The Marians have a job on their hands disposing of Keystone on Friday's card but should survive if Maher keeps up his pace. He has netted 97 baskets and 226 points in a semester of play for St. Mary's.

Elsewhere in the state the storm warnings are up for both little and big favorites. It all started when LeMars fell early in tournament play and business kept picking up. Mighty Ames felt the scourge Tuesday when Des Moines Tech applied the 45-43 defeat. And last night Villisca polished off a dark-horse in the western section, Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs, 41-36.

The final games of the state tournament next week at the field-house are going to be sell-outs if the present trend keeps up. Reserved seats are long gone for the last games Saturday night and also for the Friday night semi-final affairs. General admission tickets, however, are still available.

Spring Games Rough

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—After losing a pair of games to their cross-town rivals, the Chicago Cubs yesterday finally chalked up a 1 to 0 victory over the Chicago White Sox at Wrigley Field. The winners were outlit, 5 to 3.

Bill Nicholson opened the Cubs' half of the third with a walk, and McCullough followed by beating out a tap in front of the plate. Parker grounded out to Kolloway, but Nicholson scored as Appling tossed out Borowy. Baker then threw out Hack.

The Cubs were held hitless in the last five innings. The Sox collected one hit in the second, fifth and sixth innings and two in the seventh.

Red Sox Whip Phils, 4-1

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Phillies got the same number of hits, seven, yesterday but the American league champions made more of their blows to take a 4 to 1 decision.

The Phillies employed the shift to the right defense against Ted Williams but the Red Sox slugger came through with a triple to left.

Indians Down Giants

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians bunched eight runs off rookie Dick Hoover in the fifth and sixth innings yesterday to club out a 12-7 victory over the New York Giants.

In scoring their third victory in five exhibition tilts with the New Yorkers, the Indians collected 11 hits including five by Jack Conway and homers by Joe Gordon and Pat Seery. Al Lopez also helped the Cleveland attack with a double with the bases full.

The Giants rapped out 13 safeties including homers by Buddy Blattner and Ernie Lombardi.

Newhouser Foils Cincy

LAKELAND, Fla., (AP)—Lefty Hal Newhouser, making his first mound appearance of the season, held Cincinnati scoreless for five innings yesterday as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Reds, 5 to 2, in an exhibition baseball game.

Newhouser limited the Reds to three scattered singles. Cincinnati defeated Detroit, 6 to 1, last Sunday at Tampa.

A's Plaster Browns, 7-3

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics downed the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 3, yesterday in the second exhibition game between the two clubs this season.

Phil Marchildon and Sam Chapman of the A's lined out home runs, Chapman's coming in the ninth with a man on base, while Vern Stephens pounded out his first circuit clout of the year for St. Louis.
