Gromyko Agrees to Strict Inspection in Atomic Control

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (AP)—control of the atom from the mine Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, agreed last night to an important feature of atomic energy control.

Find Langley Collyer Dead in Own Trap

NEW YORK (AP)—Langley Collyer, 61-year-old recluse, was found dead yesterday under the debris in his fantastic Fifth avenue home—victim of one of the booby traps he set to shield himself and his brother from the world.

Perhaps the most baffling mystery about the brothers was their motive in accumulating an extraordinary collection of junk which literally filled every room of their home from floor to ceiling. The items ranged from grand pianos — more than a dozen of them—to an antique auto and the jawbone of a horse.

Vandenberg Says Greek Aid Will Halt World Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R, Mich.) opened the drive for approval of $400,000,000 in aid to Greece and Turkey by telling the senate yesterday that rejection of the program would "give the green light to aggression everywhere."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The veterans administration estimated yesterday that "a great majority" of the 15,000,000 men and women who took out national life insurance policies during World War II will share in its dividends once they are computed.

first time a detailed study of Russia's plan for controlling the atom. The committee decided to continue work next Monday.

Gromyko laid down 13 propositions before the United Nations security council on February 18 but the council referred the whole atomic issue back to the atomic energy commission without acceding to Gromyko's suggestion that his proposals be discussed in the council.

The major points of Gromyko's plan are: 1. An immediate convention banning the atomic bomb and providing for the destruction of existing stocks of bombs. 2. An international system of control established by another convention and administered "within the frame work of the security council."

Plane Crash Fatal to 27

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—An aeropostal Venezolana two-engine plane crashed in a mountainous region 25 miles east of here yesterday, killing all 27 persons aboard including 21 high school students and three professors.

Police officials from the town of Guatire, near the scene, located the wreckage about seven hours after the crash and reported the bodies of the three crew members and the 24 passengers had been destroyed by fire.

The students, returning to Caracas from a Holy Week vacation at Cumana, included five girls and 16 boys ranging in age from 14 to 18 years. The DC-3 air liner left Cumana this morning, and was scheduled to land at Caracas' La Carlota airport at 9:30 a.m. When it failed to arrive, 60 military and commercial planes began a search.

To Pay Dividends On GI Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The veterans administration estimated yesterday that "a great majority" of the 15,000,000 men and women who took out national life insurance policies during World War II will share in its dividends once they are computed.

A spokesman for the agency told a reporter that as many as 10,000,000 veterans who no longer hold policies may be among the dividend recipients.

"The dividend, when declared, will be payable in cash," the spokesman said. "The amounts will be based upon the age of the insured, the type of policy and the period of insurance."

government errors in telephone strike deadlock continued past midnight last night with an air of hopefulness that the basis for settlement was within reach.

Efforts centered here on talks with officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and of the Long Distance Workers' union.

Agreement in the long lines negotiations could touch off settlements by the more than 20 other units in the Bell system.

Trenton, N. J. (AP)—The New Jersey legislature last night approved and sent to Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll legislation sending the New Jersey Bell Telephone company strike to compulsory arbitration and imposing stiff penalties for non-compliance.

These calls have been the hardest hit in this second day of the first cross-country strike of telephone workers.

Moran commented that anything that happened in the negotiation on the long lines angle "would have to go back to the policy committee of the National Federation of Telephone Workers for approval. This committee called a 1 p.m. (CST) meeting.

fruitless arguments, the foreign ministers agreed last night to shelve the stalemated questions of reparations and the makeup of the German government, and to proceed to the discussions of German boundaries.

The deadlock finally was broken by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who previously had blocked all moves by the United States and Britain to take up the next item on the agenda.

United States sources had said before yesterday's meeting that if Molotov persisted in what the Americans called "obstructionist tactics," the four-power council might end very soon.

By Order of Lewis, the Industry Was Shut Down for a Six-Day 'Mourning' Period

Government officials were still non-committal on the attitude they will take tomorrow when the UMW goes into Judge Goldsborough's court to ask for return of all but $700,000 of the $3,510,000 fines levied against Lewis and the union in connection with last fall's 17-day strike.

Lewis and the union were convicted of contempt for disregarding a court order against the walkout. The supreme court subsequently upheld the contempt conviction, but ordered $2,800,000 of the fine returned if Lewis and the union obeyed the court order.

American Industrial World Mourns Ford's Death

DETROIT (AP)—A nation yesterday mourned the passing of Henry Ford, to all the world a genius.

Hailed by his cohorts as the father of mass production, he died quietly of a cerebral hemorrhage late Monday at the age of 83. By chance, a flood had converted his modern home at the time of his death into a fireplace heated, kerosene lamp-lit building, strangely reminiscent of the quiet world of his birth.

As news of his death flashed around the world, speculation arose as to its effect on the $800,000,000 industry he founded with a $28,000 investment in 1903.

Industrial circles concede that his passing will have little effect on the Ford Motor Co., since it has been firmly managed by 29-year-old Henry Ford II who took the reins from his aging grandfather in 1945.

They were to have celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary and her 80th birthday Friday.

It was assumed that the elder Ford's personal fortune of upwards of $200,000,000 will go on to his widow, Clara Bryant Ford, who was with him when he died.

assumed to have been in the hands of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edsel Ford, and her four children, including Henry II, Benson, William and Josephine Ford.

The auto industry which for years feared Ford as a keen competitor while respecting him as a genius in his field, was quick to send its condolences on his death.

Born on a farm near Dearborn on July 30, 1863, Henry Ford became one of the world's best known figures.

At 16, he left the farm and trudged a dusty road to the sleepy city of Detroit where the horse and buggy were the mode of the times. His first job in a machine shop paid him $2.50 a week, less than his room and board. So he augmented it by working nights.

McKellar---Evil Son of the System

By LAWRENCE E. DENNIS
Daily Iowan Columnist

Last week I had the good fortune to be in the U.S. Senate press gallery during the final two days of debate on the motion to recommit the names of David E. Lilienthal and the other atomic energy commission nominees "back to committee with instructions."

The motion to recommit had been sponsored by Republican John Bricker of Ohio and was supported by those legislators opposing Lilienthal as the best method to delay—and possibly postpone indefinitely—final senate confirmation of the nominations. "Instructions" to the senate atomic energy committee, which, by an 8-1 vote (Bricker dissenting), had approved the president's selections, would have entailed a long, drawn-out FBI investigation of each of the nominees at a time when the nation's atomic energy program has been slowed almost to a standstill due to the prolonged hearings and debate.

DENNIS

Fortunately, the Bricker motion was defeated, 52-38, and final confirmation of Lilienthal and the other commission members is expected to be given when the senate votes today at 5 p.m.

When I arrived, shortly after noon on Wednesday, Senator McKellar, the Tennessee Democrat who has been fighting Lilienthal ever since the latter refused to allow the TVA to become involved in political patronage, was climaxing his campaign of hate with a series of "indisputable proofs" that Lilienthal and the other atomic energy commission appointees were either "communists or communist-dominated."

McKellar speaks and acts like a demagogue. He quoted various committee witnesses out of context to substantiate his charges; he twisted and falsified several points in the committee testimony to suit his own devices; he alleged that Lilienthal and the many atomic scientists who support President Truman's nominations were trying to "give the atom bomb" to Russia; he called TVA a "communist-infested" governmental activity; he denounced the eight senators on the committee who had voted for confirmation as having turned their backs on the facts in the case.

For nearly two hours (he had previously spoken most of Tuesday afternoon), McKellar indulged in his disgraceful program of name-calling and vilification. Certainly, I thought as I listened to his venomous address, the people of Tennessee must be ashamed of such a man. But then I remembered that McKellar is not beholden primarily to the voters of Tennessee, but, rather, of the powerful and corrupt political machine of Memphis' "Boss" E. H. Crump. It is Crump to whom McKellar and his colleague from Tennessee, Senator Tom Stewart, owe their political allegiance.

They are the evil products of the south's vicious one-party system. They, and others like them, will continue to sit in the congress of the United States as long as the one-party system is allowed to grow and fester below the Mason-Dixon line.

Because of his demagogic tactics in the past, I was prejudiced against McKellar before I ever saw him in action. After I heard him speak last week, I knew that I had just witnessed one reason why the peoples in the rest of the world are beginning to think that our brand of democracy is not quite as perfect as some of our leaders would have them believe.

Will Want UN

so strong and so deep, is now stronger than the impulse toward international cooperation. This is the content of that struggle with each other in which we now so unexpectedly find ourselves involved.

The tentative triumph of the Vandenberg amendments, for all their possible shortcomings, is a sign that the impulse toward international collaboration is still strong in American life; that it has not yet been entirely swamped by bitter anti-communist feeling, and that a great and valid battle between these two ideas, as leading motives in our policy-making, still goes on.

Stick With UN
To put it another way, the question is whether we are going to let anti-communism carry us, or whether we are going to carry it. The flash of pride that comes to us, even if momentarily, with the Vandenberg amendments is an indication of the decision ought to be: a determination to stick with international action, to have that impulse go so deep that it never even occurs to us to think in other than international terms, so that if and when it comes, will not be ours, but will truly be a failure of foreign origin, foreign to us in habits of thought, as well as merely in speech.

That is the only proudful American mission, and the genuinely shocking thing about those days when the president's plan was first presented is that the curtains parted, and we saw the spectacle of disintegration, and that there were cheers.

Declares Time Ripe for . . .

Streamlining Local Governments

Local government throughout the United States is ripe for a drastic structural reorganization which, if carried to a feasible conclusion, could reduce from 155,000 to a mere 2,500 the number of local government units and slash the local tax bill by nearly two billion dollars, Frederick G. Brownell declares in an article in the May American magazine.

The report of a nationwide investigation recently completed by the council of state governments leads to the conclusion, states Brownell, that "the country as a whole would be better off if 61 out of 62 of our present counties, cities, villages, townships, school districts, and special districts were wiped off the map."

Based on the findings of experts in governmental affairs, Brownell says there are only two logical units of government — (1) the city for urban areas, and (2) the county for rural areas — and each should be sufficiently populous and rich in taxable resources to provide for efficient operation.

"All school and special districts ought to be abolished and their duties turned over to the county," he states. "Townships, too, have outlived their usefulness and should be tossed onto the trash heap. This doesn't apply to New England towns, which function more like cities.

"Cities over 25,000, but not part of a metropolitan area, should have the choice of combining with their counties or setting up as separate city-counties of their own. Finally, one-fourth of all the counties in the country have too few inhabitants, and should be merged with others.

"After such a reorganization there would be: 140 metropolitan city-counties, ranging from New York City (11,690,000) to Pueblo, Colorado, (62,000); 260 other city-counties of more than 25,000 population; 2,100 rural counties ranging in size from 10,000 to 75,000 — or a total of 2,500 local government units.

"There would be just one level of local government throughout the United States; and the average state would have 52 units to look after instead of 3,200 as at present."

Brownell points out that while the government "setup is so complex in thousands of communities that the average citizen can't make head or tail of it" the need for pruning is considerably less in the New England, southern and far western states.

For example, in respect to government units Illinois leads the list with 15,854 as against 54 in Rhode Island. Population-wise South Dakota heads the parade with one local government unit for every 131 inhabitants, compared with one for every 10,554 people in Massachusetts.

Obviously, says Brownell, the reorganization he outlines is a goal to shoot at rather than a program for immediate adoption. He recognizes that some states, notably Virginia and New Hampshire, already are helping local governments to streamline themselves.

"But," he adds "the motive power for reorganization must come from the local community itself. Government, in the last analysis, is largely local government."

FORD--

Among many high points in his life were his successful battle in the Selden patent suit in 1911 which thrust the shackles from the auto industry; his introduction in 1914 of the unheard of minimum wage of $5 per day; his 1915 peace ship to Europe in a futile attempt to halt World War I; and his post-war battles with Wall street for outright control of the Ford company. Associates described him as in seemingly perfect health Monday when he rode to Greenfield Village in inspect damage caused by the same flood that darkened his home. Later he went to the huge Rouge plant nearby to inspect a new ore boat.

He returned home after planning a 100-mile trip yesterday for further inspection of flood damage. He said he would be ready to start at 8 a.m.

Ford retired about 9 p.m. Two hours and 15 minutes later, Mrs. Ford came to his side after hearing him call. He told her his head ached, his throat was dry and he felt "bad."

She gave him a glass of water, then sent the family chauffeur to a telephone at Ford engineering laboratories half a mile away. The house phones, operated privately, were dead because of the flood.

Dr. John G. Mateer of Henry Ford hospital in Detroit, responded to the chauffeur's call and drove the few miles west of Detroit to Dearborn, arriving at 11:40 p.m.

He found Henry Ford dead.

'Merger' Is Just a Headline Word

The much acclaimed army-navy merger is not receiving the favorable attention from congress that might have been expected after Mr. Truman's triumphant announcement last January of the agreement.

On closer examination the senate armed services committee is finding that the plan will not eliminate duplication of services and that there will not be any great economies resulting from it. Instead of combining the army and navy into a single department, the plan calls for the creation of a new cabinet officer to act as coordinator. As secretary of national defense, the new cabinet member would preside over three completely independent services, the army, navy and air forces, each with its own cabinet representative.

The unification plan is also supposed to stop rivalries and dissunity between the services in order to prevent the recurrence of anything like Pearl Harbor. Yet the airforce, looking toward its new status, is busy planning new uniforms, new titles of rank and getting ready for a declaration of independence that will create three rival services instead of two.

'Civilized' War Is Nonsense

Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson said the other day that what the world needs is a new set of rules for waging war. "It is perfectly obvious," he said, "these rules are obsolete as they stand."

Then the associate justice points out all the changes in warfare that have occurred since the last time the rules were amended in 1929. What he failed to point out is that these changes have rendered ridiculous any attempt to set up rules for unlimited mass murder.

Justice Jackson apparently belongs to that very large group of people who view

Although the plan proposes that the secretary of national defense establish policies for, and exercise control over all three services, he can be easily bypassed. The secretaries of army, navy or air can appeal directly to the president at any time, on any matter. The only requirement is that they keep the defense secretary informed on what they are doing.

Economies which would be achieved by the merger are largely nebulous. Secretary of the Navy Forrestal has admitted to the senate committee that he expected no great economies under the new set-up. New agencies that would be needed to coordinate the work of the three services and their supervisory office would undoubtedly increase costs.

This unification plan is the result of army-navy collaboration. The two services realized they had better bring out a program satisfactory to themselves or they would have a not-so-satisfactory one shoved down their throats. What they have proposed gives the appearance of unity for window-dressing, but little is changed behind the scenes except for the addition of the airforces as another contender for power and prestige.

war as inevitable and devote their energies to making it as "civilized" as possible. May we suggest, Justice Jackson, that the day of chivalrous warfare is over, that man has now developed the art of destruction to such a fine point that once unleashed even Hoyle couldn't control it.

No, gentlemen, it is not the rules of war that are obsolete. It is war itself. Let's key our rules to that fact.

My greatest support goes to Prof. Louis Turner for saying that "The public is apathetic about the danger of atomic energy, and relatively, so are universities." To the list of categories I would like to add the name of the movie industry, an effective propaganda weapon, for turning out such a chest-thumping, nationalistic, commercial venture as "The Beginning—Or the End?" Nowhere did the film reveal the power of the atomic bomb and the damage it could cause. The film said only, "WE were the ones who made the discovery."

A course explaining the fundamentals of atomic fission and the control and manufacture of atomic energy is very necessary, I believe. I discovered that again today when I visited the electrostatic generator, or atom-smasher on this campus. Without comprehension of the processes involved in smashing the atom or creating atomic energy, the equipment becomes simply a metal tank, rather like a boiler-coils, wire, glass tubes, fuses and switches.

I would like a purely scientific course, and I think the students with the help of teachers would be able to integrate such a course with their other individual lectures. But whatever decision the administration of the university should make, I hope they will fill the void in my education for living in some way.

"If it had either the funds or the force," he went on, "their use would depend upon the security council. In the security council this would face a veto.

"Any frank assessment of realities, in the light of experience to date, must concede that the veto would be used by the Soviet Union in any phase of conflict between Communism and Democracy.

Counterfeit $5 Bill Reported in Circulation

The U. S. secret service has announced discovery of a new counterfeit $5 silver certificate in circulation. The bill has been termed "deceptive."

It bears a blue treasury seal the check letter "A," face plate No. 1771, back late No. 1541 and is marked series 1934B.

In the treasury seal, the "u" in "Theasaur" is narrow and distorted. The serial number, K564-65985A, is unlike the general design. On the back retouching has resulted in a dark green patch between the "E" and "D" in "Five Dollars."

Trash Problem Presented to Health Board

Sanitation Inspector Reports Killing 70 Rodents in City Alley

Rats thriving on trash in downtown Iowa City alleys drew city council attention Monday night and brought to light the recent clubbing to death of 70 rodents behind a local restaurant.

City Restaurant Inspector Charles Schindler told the mayor and council, meeting as a board of health, that two university students and a cafe proprietor had clubbed the rats among trash containers in a littered alley. Even with 70 killed, he added, "some got away."

Schindler also revealed that another downtown eating place now has an especially large number of rats in its basement. He expected little trouble, however, in exterminating most of them.

Asserting that most restaurants here have made improvements and in general are doing "a good job," the inspector emphasized that the problem of refuse in alleys requires attention. Schindler said negligence by employes in replacing the lids of trash receptacles is partly to blame for the prevalence of rats.

Although the situation needs improvement, he said yesterday, no serious menace to health exists at present because of the rodents.

A check of the city code failed to produce an ordinance relating to rats and to disposal of boxes and paper but did yield the following general refuse provisions: "No person shall leave any garbage or other offensive substance exposed to flies or other insects."

According to law, violations are punishable by up to a $100 fine or 30 days in jail.

Another ordinance on garbage stipulated: "It shall be the duty of the occupant or lessee of such buildings (including restaurants) . . . to furnish a water tight can large enough to hold the kitchen slops of any such building or apartment for at least three days . . . and the same must be kept completely covered at all times."

The additional problem of trash being scattered while in transit to the city dump prompted a request from Alderman Charles T. Smith that City Atty. Edward Lucas check the city code to see if an adequate ordinance applies. If not, Smith suggested, code amendment should be passed requiring trash haulers to cover their loads enroute to the dump so that litter cannot blow off and scatter on city streets. Riverside drive, he said, is especially bad in this respect.

Site West of City Scene of 2 Wrecks

Two accidents occurring an hour apart Monday night and both taking place 300 feet west of the city limits on highway 6 were reported to police yesterday.

In the first accident at 10:55 p.m., cars driven by Ivan J. Ball, 16, route 1, and Kenneth E. Nevins, 521 Park road, collided damaging the left sides of both cars.

Richard Ball, 8, a passenger in Ball's car, received a bruised nose, police said. Nevins estimated $100 damage to his car.

An hour later the parked car of Leona M. Conklin, route 2, was struck by an automobile driven by James F. Duffy, 1321 Rochester avenue. Duffy told police his vision was obscured by car lights near the scene of the first accident.

Duffy reported $40 damage to the right front of his car and Leona Conklin said her car received $150 damage.

Urge Quick Passage For Bill Establishing Science Foundation

Prof. J. I. Routh, president of the Association of Eastern Iowa Scientists, announced yesterday that his organization is determined to press for quick passage of a senate bill for establishment of a national science foundation.

Association members proposed such a step March 17 but later postponed action to see what course would be taken by the Inter-Society committee, representing many local and national scientific groups.

The Inter-Society committee recently decided that speedy passage of a bill was of greater importance than lengthy debate on the merits of the two national science foundation bills now pending in congress.

Routh said he will send a mimeographed statement of the committee's conclusions to Iowa Citizens whom he believes are interested in the matter, urging that they write individual letters to their congressmen requesting passage of one of the pending bills.

An officer of the Federation of American Scientists wrote Routh that the main objection congress may have to such a bill is the cost, "in view of the present attempts to cut down the budget."

37 File for Publications Board And Student Council Positions Consider Extension Of Representation Voting April 22 To Decide Posts

Student council last night (1) read a motion which if carried would give South quadrangle a councilman, (2) decided town men may elect council representatives, and (3) made more election plans.

The motion before the council would permit council representation for a housing unit when that unit can show inadequate representation. The housing unit would have to be a resident group large enough to merit representation and would have to be active in campus activities for one year.

The group must be able to show relative permanent existence, or if temporary, that there is need for representation while the groups exist.

Extend Deadline
A two day extension of time was granted for town men to file their candidacy petitions in the office of student affairs. Deadline is 5 p.m. tomorrow. Any delegate-at-large candidate, if a town man, may withdraw his delegate-at-large petition and submit with platform a town man petition signed by 20 town men.

The names of delegate-at-large candidacy petitioners were unofficially accepted. Kathryn Larson, council secretary, said the official okaying will be finished today at 4 p.m.

Campaign Meeting
A meeting is planned for 7:30 tomorrow for all council candidates and campaign managers at a place to be announced later, Dick Yoakam, G of Pittsburgh, Pa., said.

It was decided to have three polling booths on election day, April 22, one in the Quadrangle, another in Iowa Union and a third in East hall.

Hiatt Pleads Innocent; Trial to Be April 28

JEFFERSON (AP)—Robert Hiatt, 28-year-old University of Iowa graduate from Pocahontas, pleaded innocent when arraigned in district court yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Hiatt's bond was set at $20,000 and an attempt to furnish it was being made.

Hiatt waived preliminary hearing and trial was set for April 28 before District Judge R. L. McCord.

Charges were filed against Hiatt in connection with the wounding of Delmar Van Horn Jr., 22, on March 23.

Hiatt was removed from the Greene county hospital to the county jail yesterday following his recovery from what County Attorney L. E. Wilcox has called "an apparent overdose of sleeping tablets."

Wilcox has described Hiatt as a disappointed suitor for the hand of Mrs. Delmar Van Horn Jr., whom he knew last year at the University of Iowa. The Van Horns were married a few weeks ago.

Getting Closer To End of C. R. Trades Strike

A possible break in week-old negotiations between AFL buildings and trades unions and Allied Construction interests in Cedar Rapids, was indicated yesterday.

The negotiations brought a work-stoppage April 1 on the Iowa City 880-unit project for married students. Painters, laborers and ironworkers left their jobs after their contracts with employers expired at midnight, March 31.

A scheduled meeting in Cedar Rapids yesterday failed to bring a statement from either side as to when workmen would return to their jobs, according to The Associated Press.

However, R. W. Rinderknecht, contractors' president said, "I think we are getting closer to agreement all the time."

John Evans, buildings and trades council chairman, stated his belief that they were "making progress."

Wage discussions are thought to be involved in negotiations although neither side states specific union requests.

Five building and craft unions representing bricklayers, cement finishers, ironworkers, laborers and painters are taking part in the negotiations with the contractors' organization. Approximately 280 men were involved in the Iowa City work stoppage.

Work on the university's 25 barracks classrooms, scheduled for completion in June, has also come to a halt.

Iowa Citizens Attend Geological Conclave

Fourteen Iowa City delegates are in Lincoln, Nebr., today attending a conference sponsored by the west central water resources branch of the U. S. Geological Survey.

L. C. Crawford of Iowa City, district engineer of the U. S. Geological Survey, will be toastmaster at a dinner tonight honoring Brig. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, principal speaker at the conference. General Pick is co-author of the Pick-Sloan plan for Missouri valley development.

H. G. Hershey, acting director of the Iowa Geological Survey, will speak at the conference on water resources activities in Iowa. He will also preside at the Friday afternoon session of the four-day conference. Hershey said yesterday that the delegates will discuss stream flow records, silt carrying, the availability of well water for industries and other water resource problems of the Missouri valley area.

In addition to Crawford, staff members of the U. S. Geological Survey attending the meeting are Ambrose E. Cooper, Miss Claire E. Putz, R. E. Myers, Samuel Mummy, Kirk Lindholm, and Robert D. Schmickle.

The Iowa Geological Survey staff is being represented by Hershey, W. E. Hale, D. A. Morris, J. B. Cooper, and D. A. Barton.

Dean F. M. Dawson and M. C. Boyer of the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research are also attending the meeting.

George Rezabek of Mason City and Dorothy Ennis of Detroit; 15 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Ennis moved to Iowa City from Fort Dodge two years ago.

Iowa Academy of Science to Convene At Cedar Falls April 18; Bodine to Speak

The 59th session of the Iowa Academy of Science will convene Friday, April 18, at Iowa State Teachers college in Cedar Falls, it was announced yesterday by Prof. Joseph H. Bodine, head of the zoology department.

Bodine is president of the academy. Professors Walter Edgell and Stanley Wawzonek of the chemistry department are academy section chairmen.

The two-day meeting will be marked by section meetings in the fields of botany, chemistry, geology, mathematics, physics, psychology and science teaching.

An academy dinner in the evening will climax the first day's activities.

Bodine to Open Meeting
Bodine will make the initial speech of the conference when he addresses the academy's general meeting on the topic "The Normal Cell."

Prof. Theodore L. Jahn of the zoology department will speak on "Some Fundamental Problems of Vision."

Professors J. T. Bradbury, R. G. Janes, W. O. Nelson and E. Witschi and Iowa Medical society members will participate in a symposium on the subject of the ovary, Friday afternoon.

Prof. Arthur C. Trowbridge of the geology department will address an open meeting Friday evening. His subject will be "A Geological Expedition to Norway."

Business Boom Auto, Appliance Sales Show Big Gain

The automobile and electrical appliance businesses in Iowa are still picking up.

According to figures released yesterday by the university's bureau of business research, car dealers and radio and household appliance dealers showed the biggest percentage of gain in retail sales last February as compared with a corresponding period in 1946.

It was the eighth straight month in which these lines of merchandise led all others in percentage increase of sales volume. Prof. George R. Davies of the business research bureau yesterday attributed the steady gain to the fact that postwar production increases are being swallowed up by a long-growing public demand for those products.

The boost in car sales represented a 150 percent increase over January, with the electrical goods gaining 62 percent.

Other notable increases were shown by liquor stores, with a 45 percent hike to go from 18th

Betz, Cooke Banned From Amateur Tennis Scene

Letter Hinting Tour Brings Severe Action

NEW YORK (AP)—Pauline Betz, the world's reigning tennis queen, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, twice former national title-holder, were suspended from amateur play by the United States Lawn Tennis association yesterday in a crack-down without precedent in the game.

The two stars, first women ever to receive such drastic treatment from the American body, were deprived of their amateur status because of a letter sent by Mrs. Cooke's husband, Elwood Sooke, to clubs here and abroad offering to display the pair in exhibition matches at fees ranging from $350 to $500.

Miss Betz, holder both of the United States and all-England championships, was notified by cable at Monte Carlo of her suspension, pending final action by the executive committee of the U.S.L.T.A.

As the latter body is not scheduled to meet here until September, Miss Betz will be unable to compete either in the Wightman cup matches against England this summer or to defend her national title at Forest Hills late in August. There is certain to be a new champion.

The official suspension of Mrs. Cooke came as something of a surprise. After winning her second national title in 1945, the former Boston girl announced her "retirement" from amateur play and did not defend her crown last year. President Holcombe Ward of the Tennis association said yesterday, however, that the body had never removed her name from the amateur rolls.

"Until the present incident arose, there had been no complaints to us that she had violated the amateur rules," he said.

In its cable to Miss Betz yesterday, the U.S.L.T.A. said:

On April 2 we cabled you regarding letter from Elwood Cooke of sports tours dated March 21 soliciting professional tennis engagements for you. We requested your prompt reply. Not having received any reply we have no alternative but to suspend you from all amateur competition pending final action by the executive committee."

Miss Betz told The Associated Press in Monte Carlo Monday that she had "not yet made up her mind" whether she would turn professional, and she would not, in any case, reach a decision until she returned to this country. She said she planned to take a 10-day vacation in Switzerland.

Sarah Palfrey Cooke, said yesterday that no decision on a possible appeal of the suspension handed her and Pauline Betz by the association would be made until word came from Miss Betz, now in Europe.

"I'm anxious to hear from Miss Betz because I don't know how she feels about this thing," Mrs. Cooke continued when reached at her New York apartment.

"I'm sure she didn't realize that just contemplating a tour would be enough to cause her suspension. In fact, it didn't occur to any of us. It's hard for me to understand because the association has known about the tour ever since we started planning it at the National Indoor tournament a month ago."

Plans for the tour are continuing, Mrs. Cooke said, adding that "we are getting good responses from several cities, including some in foreign countries."

Intramural Sports
The fieldhouse gym will be open tonight for badminton practice, according to Dr. Frederick Beebe, intramural director. At the same time, equipment for squash can be checked out. Badminton competition is slated to start Thursday night.

Entries for the town league handball, badminton and softball loops will be received at the fieldhouse office through Saturday.

Knockouts Feature A.A.U. Tournament

BOSTON (AP)—The sluggers returned to the National A.A.U. boxing championship tournament in its quarter finals round tonight and Joe Brown, from nearby Abington, thrilled 7,000 fans with his courageous uphill victory over Willie Champion, 208 pound Cleveland star at the Boston Garden.

Brown, who gave away a tremendous advantage in height plus 13 pounds to his opponent, lasted through the first round on stark courageousness. Then Brown took the next two frames and a unanimous decision by jabbing with his left and crossing his right to the head as Champion battered his body with both hands.

As impressive a trip into the semi-finals was taken by Willie Clemmons, experienced Indianapolis heavyweight, who blasted out Bill Bangert of St. Louis, the University of Missouri's towering weight star, in one minute, 47 seconds of the first round. Clemmons' furious attack to the head dropped Bangert three times.

Light heavyweight William Lewis of Baltimore, needed only 57 seconds for a technical knockout verdict over Pvt. Libert Alderson, U.S.M.C. of Cherry Point, N. C., but Grant Butcher of San Francisco, who also went to the semi-finals last year, appeared to be the outstanding 175 pounder in the show on his spectacular showing against Floyd Richardson of Salt Lake City.

Among the other pre-tourney favorites to reach its second-last stage were Wallace Smith of Cincinnati, and Johnny Consaves, stylish 135 pounder from Oakland, Calif.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A two-run eighth inning rally sent the Pittsburgh Pirates out in front of the St. Louis Browns for a 4-3 victory yesterday in the first of three on-the-road games between the two clubs.

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics came from behind yesterday to take a 6-4 victory over Savannah of the Sally league in a game which lasted two hours and 27 minutes.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Rebels of the Texas league backed up the six-hit pitching of hurler Tom Pullig to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 yesterday. The Rebels pounded three Redbird hurlers for 11 hits.

SHEFFIELD, Ala. (AP)—The New York Giants defeated the Cleveland Indians yesterday, 4-0 bringing their 17-game, cross-country baseball series to a 6-6 deadlock.

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers concluded their long distance exhibition schedule prior to their return to Ebbets field by downing the Charleston club of the Sally league 9-2 yesterday.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The New York Yankees wound up their southern tour yesterday by whipping the Baltimore Orioles, 7-3, behind the smooth three-hit pitching of rookie Don Johnson.

Jackie Robinson May Get Historic Dodger Bid Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to break into modern organized baseball, may know before the end of this week, whether he also will become the first Negro to reach the Major leagues since Moses Fleetwood Walker played for the Toledo club of the American association in 1884.

Still the property of Montreal in the International league, Robinson will wear the uniform of the Royals when the Brooklyn Dodgers engage their farm club in a two-game series at Ebbets field today and tomorrow.

It is conceivable that the decision may come within the next two days as President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers has pointed out on more than one occasion that Robinson's advancement to the majors depended upon what he showed in competition against the Dodgers in the 11-game meetings between Brooklyn and Montreal. Today and tomorrow's game mark the end of the series between the two clubs.

Thus far, Robinson has done everything expected of him. In addition to being the best batter in the Royal's camp, the batting king of the International league last season has walloped Brooklyn pitching for an average around .400. That despite several minor injuries and an upset stomach which sidelined him for several days.

Clint Hartung Earns Respect Of Managers

DALLAS (AP)—Clint Hartung, the fabulous rookie with the Dallas Rebels of the Texas league, was much preferred the Dodger skipper when he is talking at 200 words a minute instead of a word every 200 minutes.

He discoursed freely on the prospects of his team, and the gist of his remarks was to the effect he is conceding nothing to anybody, including the St. Louis Cardinals.

"We'll battle them right down to the wire again," he said forcefully, and went into a man-for-man comparison of the speed of the two clubs as if he were a track coach sizing up the chances of his sprinters. Leo is imbued with the same desire for speed as that drives his boss, Branch Rickey, in search of rabbit-footed athletes.

He conceded that Enos Slaughter, Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial were faster than Dodgers playing similar positions, but that's as far as he would go. He's not ordinarily a concession man, so admitting the Cards are faster at three positions was quite an admission.

Rickey himself is conceding nothing to the St. Louis club. From the standpoint of the pennant, that is. He does admit, however, that it's a little early to expect too much of the team. His program does not call for a pennant until next year.

"I set a definite program when I came to Brooklyn," Rickey says. "The war set it back, naturally."

Rox Shain on the mound, Lee Schindler will catch. The infield will have Jim Sangster, first; Bob Burich, second; Bill Reichardt, shortstop, and Keith Hemingway, third.

A Homer For Tommy

A SPECIAL HOMER was blasted by Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox slugger, in yesterday's game with Cincinnati to keep a promise made to nine-year-old Tommy Seel. Little Tommy was down in bed with influenza when the Red Sox ace proved just what the doctor ordered by his Ruth-like performance.

'Lippy' Leo Sheds Gloom Sounds Off

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—After a first, distressing experience with the new, silent-model Leo Durocher at Havana, we are happy to report that during the second meeting he was his old, garrulous self, and we much prefer the Dodger skipper when he is talking at 200 words a minute instead of a word every 200 minutes.

He discoursed freely on the prospects of his team, and the gist of his remarks was to the effect he is conceding nothing to anybody, including the St. Louis Cardinals.

"We'll battle them right down to the wire again," he said forcefully, and went into a man-for-man comparison of the speed of the two clubs as if he were a track coach sizing up the chances of his sprinters. Leo is imbued with the same desire for speed as that drives his boss, Branch Rickey, in search of rabbit-footed athletes.

He conceded that Enos Slaughter, Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial were faster than Dodgers playing similar positions, but that's as far as he would go. He's not ordinarily a concession man, so admitting the Cards are faster at three positions was quite an admission.

Rickey himself is conceding nothing to the St. Louis club. From the standpoint of the pennant, that is. He does admit, however, that it's a little early to expect too much of the team. His program does not call for a pennant until next year.

"I set a definite program when I came to Brooklyn," Rickey says. "The war set it back, naturally."

If we should win the pennant this year, well and good. However, according to the program I announced we should be ready in 1948. Next year we will have no excuses to offer if we don't win."

Rickey still is hoping his pitching staff will acquire poise, the confidence which enables a hurler to shoot across his best pitch when the count is three and two.

The Dodger lineup is by no means set as yet. First base remains a problem, and it is just a personal idea that some deal is cooking which will bring a first sacker to the club.

Just as a hunch we have the idea Dixie Walker might be offered as bait, although the very thought of Dixie leaving Brooklyn would fill Dodger fans with alarm, and if such a deal were made Rickey probably would have to go into hiding for a spell.

Dixie still is "the people's choice" in Flatbush, but the fact remains he is 36 years old, with not too much playing time ahead of him, and Rickey likes young players who can run like thieves.

The club played a game the other day with what possibly might be their opening day lineup, if a deal is not made in the meantime, going the route.

It consisted of Gene Hermanski, Pete Reiser and Walker in the outfield, Arky Vaughan, Peeewe Reese, Ed Stanky and Ed Stevens in the infield, and Bruce Edwards catching.

That team is more than a little reminiscent of last year's surprising team, and combines youth and experience. We think Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals summed up last year's Dodger team pretty well when he said:

"They'd like to have you believe they did it with mirrors, but you'll notice there were men of experience at the key positions. It wasn't a hodge-podge team by any means. It was a sound ball club." We think Leo Durocher will have another sound ball club this year.

Sports Shots

Southern hospitality doesn't extend into the realms of baseball. At least that was the impression received from talking with members of the Iowa baseball team. The teams down in Louisiana get up battles that made the Civil War live again as they threw everything from bean balls to spikes against the Hawks in last week's games.

Chief offender when it came to wandering spikes was the Louisiana Tech nine which trimmed Iowa two games, 4-1 and 9-4. The Tech boys played rough and Hawkeye freshman star, Jack Dittmer, was the major casualty. Dittmer, who batted a neat .400 on the trip, was sliced up like a prize roast when the Hawks worked a force play in the second Tech game. He may be out of action for another week nursing his wounds.

It is interesting to note that the southern game-cocks come north for a return series with Iowa on May 13 and 14. They will be the first Louisiana team to ever play at Iowa and the debut may be a rough one. Of course, there is the possibility that the Tech team may be depleted by then. You see, they also showed a knack of getting on base by intentionally stepping in front of pitches. We've been led to believe that in time such conduct results in said players either getting buried or becoming, as they say in the street, "punchy."

Coach Vogel celebrated his team's first day back in town yesterday with a couple inter-squad games. And the results were encouraging in that it showed the influence of the printed word. Yesterday the column stated that Don Martin possessed a brutal swing that belied his low batting average on the southern trip. He must have been convinced because in the forementioned game the Cedar Rapids boy utilized his talents and bashed out a 350-foot plus home run. The harassed pitcher, who is my best friend and worst enemy, promptly went AWOL and hasn't been heard from since.

There've only been two swimmers in the world to beat .51 in the 100-yard free style in a 75-foot course—and one of them is Iowa's Wally Ris. Ris set the mark with a terrific finish to win the event in the National A.A.U. meet at Columbus last weekend. Second place went to Olsson of Sweden who pressed Ris all the way. That little business of being pressed to win seems to be the key to Iowa's swimming results. Several times this year in various events the Hawk's performers won handsily only to find that their times were too slow to qualify them for final competition.

It's good news that Babe Ruth is back in baseball even if it is only in an advisory capacity for the American Legion baseball program. It will be working with kids for Ruth and the job may provide the spark of interest which will rebuild the health of the great one more than all the sun in Florida. Somehow it always has seemed a shame that the game which owed so much of its popularity and success to the Babe, couldn't find a place for him. Ruth, of course, made his mistakes in the same manner in which he made his successes—big and often. But somewhere in the machine there should have been a place for him.

Perhaps it is in the line of working with the nation's youth that Ruth belongs. The problems of juvenile delinquency are often solved to a large extent by properly directed recreation programs as Legion baseball. Ruth accepted the job as a great personal responsibility and with such an attitude he may go on to do as much good for baseball in his "consultant's" position as he did with his prodigious feat on the diamonds of yesterday.

The value of athletic programs to combat juvenile delinquency is gaining more attention. Yesterday the War Assets Administration "froze" all surplus athletic equipment for possible use in this connection. The interested organizations which hope to obtain the property for use in the field are the National Sports Writer's association and the U.S. Department of Justice, sponsors of a new youth program. If the program moves from the planning board to execution and the equipment from dusty warehouses to the kids of America, a problem of immense proportion will be attacked from its most vulnerable angle.

Information from Des Moines reveals that fifty teams have already filed entry blanks for the Drake relays scheduled for April 25 and 26. Meanwhile, Hawkeye tracksters are hoping for warmer, dryer weather so they can get in shape for the Drake show and the Kansas Relays slated for April 19. Hawkeye entrants will be named at a later date.

City High's track coach, Howard Moffitt, has indicated he might send a small squad to the Drake classic depending upon Little Hawk performance in the Marion and Davenport meets.

Union Bills Stalled in House Committee

...discontinued, committee members...
 ...It was the first attempt in several meetings of the committee since it took control of most bills pending in the house to bring out the two measures sent over to the house by the senate.
 ...The committee's refusal to report out the measures does not prevent later attempts to bring them out.
 ...The senate passed the liquor-by-the-drink measure by a vote of 28 to 22 Feb. 26. The bill would permit liquor-by-the-drink sales in cities and towns which approve it by local option consent election.
 ...The senate passed the anti-closed shop bill 36 to 12 March 31. It would prohibit discrimination against employment because of membership or non-membership in a labor union or requiring any employe to pay union dues.
 ...Among six house bills placed on the calendar by the committee was one to require a certificate of necessity from the state executive council for any person, firm, association or cooperative to construct and operate a hydro-electric project. The measure was introduced only today.
 ...Placed on the calendar was a measure to place regulation of telephone companies under the state commerce commission.
 ...The bill was introduced Feb. 25, far ahead of the present nationwide telephone strike.

Senate Group Adds to Institutional Grants

DES MOINES (AP)—The Senate appropriations committee yesterday added $52,000 to the House-approved appropriations bill for support of State Board of Education institutions, and reported the measure out for final action.
 ...The $52,000 was added by the Senate group to cover the cost of sewer and tunnel extensions at Cedar Falls State Teachers college.
 ...Appropriations allotted by the bill as it now stands follow:
 University of Iowa—$7,792,000, a cut of $315,000 of the amount the Board asked.
 Iowa State College—$7,500,000, a cut of $400,000 under the amount requested.
 University Hospital at Iowa City—$4,557,000, an increase of $605,000 over the amount requested by the Board.
 Iowa State Teachers college—$2,414,000, the same amount requested.
 State School for the Blind—$385,000, or $1,000 more than was requested.
 State School for the Deaf—$595,000, the amount sought.
 Psychopathic hospital at Iowa City—$520,000, the amount the Board asked.

DRIVER FINED $300
 Neville Bowman, Davenport, was fined $300 and costs yesterday by Judge Harold D. Evans for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.
 ...One-half the fine was suspended and Bowman was paroled to County Attorney Jack C. White for one year. Bowman's drivers' license was suspended for 60 days.
 Bacteriological laboratory at Iowa City—$250,000, or $40,000 under the Board's askings.

Company, Union Officials See No Settlement in Phone Strike

Emergency Service Guaranteed; Strikers Picket Day and Night

With poetic signs slung over their shoulders, telephone strikers yesterday strolled around the Iowa City Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

As the first coast-to-coast telephone strike reached into its second day, no settlement seemed in sight, according to Iowa City company and union officials.

The whole country, Iowa and Iowa City included, buckled down yesterday to what might be a long siege. Iowa Citizens began to realize what the telephone really meant to them.

Howard L. Young, manager of the Iowa City Northwestern Bell Telephone exchange, yesterday urged "Iowa Citizens to restrict long distant calls to absolute emergencies."

Young expressed the hope that "local calls will be held to the minimum of necessity." He said he knew of no progress in company and union arbitrations.

At present 12 to 16 management personnel are handling all Iowa City telephone services, which accounts for the male voices when dialing "0" or information. All emergency numbers such as police and fire stations and ambulance service are well covered by the company. If needed, other departments will be close to handle these.

University exchange, now 80511, is also being handled by the company. Young said those dialing 80511 must be patient when phoning, for only a limited service is possible.

There is at least one operator on duty at all times. It was reported that people are still asking for the old university numbers and, as a result, service has been delayed.

University extension numbers were changed at midnight last Saturday. The new numbers will be found in the new telephone book.

Iowa City strikers are picketing the telephone building day and night. From 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., five women and three men shoulder the signs. From 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. three men assume the picketing duties.

The signs are adorned with verses, stating the union's com-

Thieves Take Cigarettes, Coins from Riverside Inn

Police yesterday morning discovered a burglary at the Riverside Inn, 6 S. Riverside drive. Cigarettes and small change were taken.

The burglars, believed to have been transients, entered the inn through a side window. The break-in was discovered by police at 5 a.m.

This is the third burglary committed within two days, police said. Iowa Fruit Co. and the Maid-Rite restaurant were reported entered Monday.

plaints and demands. One sign reads: "They made some pretty promises in voices gentle and sweet. Promises are wonderful, but we have got to eat."

"We are hopeful and waiting" for a good and not-to-distant settlement, Franz Wille, American Union of Telephone Workers local steward and spokesman for all Iowa City telephone unions stated yesterday.

Wille added that if the company requests emergency services of any type from the unions, the requests will be "met wholeheartedly."

He had received no national or regional union directives yesterday.

3 Men Fined $125 For Stealing Beer

Three Cedar Rapids men were fined a total of $125 in justice of peace court Monday after they pleaded guilty to stealing a case of beer from a Solon tavern.

Roy Zimmer and Joe Zajicek, two of the group, were fined $25 and Rimmer's brother William paid $75 due to his past record, Justice J. M. Kadlec said.

The men were picked up in Cedar Rapids after the waitress in Ray's Tavern reported she recognized one of them.

The men told Justice Kadlec in court they asked for some beer but were refused because of the Sunday restriction on beer sales.

They decided to eat instead, he continued, and then one of them discovered beer cases in a cellar storage room.

One of the men went below and removed a case and a half and shoved it through a rear window into the backyard of the tavern, Justice Kadlec added.

The men testified they later drove behind the building and picked up the beer.

Explains Atom Smasher

Prof. J. A. Jacobs of the physics department explained the university's atom smasher to the Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Jefferson yesterday.

Most of the members present then adjourned to the physics building to examine the atom smasher personally.
